

RACE MEET SCHEDULED TO END WEDNESDAY NIGHT; PLANT TO UNDERGO SOME IMPROVEMENTS

The 10th annual fall harness meet of the Kent & Sussex Racing Association will end Wednesday night, barring rain. It promises to be the best in the history of the track, according to T. Brinton Holloway, general manager and secretary. The earlier meet, the new grandstand, and generally good economic condition of the nation, has resulted in increased handles at the local track, as well as at numerous other tracks. The best marks of the meet were made last week when Mt. Orab Boy and Rocky King paced the half-mile track in 2:04. Racing has been generally good here. Mr. Holloway said yesterday that the track would be widened after the meet to permit eight horses to start abreast. Details will be given later. The secretary-general manager also said mutual windows would be put on a mezzanine floor for grandstand bettors. Race results are as follows:

Advisers Help Plan New Kent County Courthouse Wing

The Levy Court has appointed a citizens' advisory committee to help with planning the addition to the Kent County Courthouse, authorized by the present General Assembly. The committee and members of the Levy Court will consult from time to time, Henry T. Price, Smyrna, president of the court, said. Members of the advisory committee are: Vernon B. Derricks, chairman, and Mrs. Derricks; Superior Court Judge Charles L. Terry Jr., Judge A. B. Magee Jr. of the Court of Common Pleas, William J. Storey, former mayor of Dover and former secretary of state; Mr. and Mrs. Max Terry, Mrs. Harold W. Horsey and Mrs. Winifred M. McCosh. Other members may be added later. The legislative act authorizes the Levy Court to expend up to $375,000 for building an addition to the courthouse to relieve the crowded conditions in county offices and courts. The Levy Court recently purchased for $20,000, from the estate of the late James M. Satterfield, a house and grounds adjoining the courthouse on the south. The property has a frontage of 77 feet on State Street and a depth of 530 feet east from State Street. The dwelling occupies a section of the tract farthest from the courthouse land, facing on State Street. It is about 45 feet south from the courthouse proper and rests on only a comparatively small corner of the land, thus leaving a sizable tract for the proposed courthouse addition.

Sulky Slants

By MRS. DAVE (PAT) SMITH

Here we are in Montreal, Canada. Gosh, what a far cry from the States. I guess it's all right, but I can't say I really like it here. As far as the grounds are concerned, they are beautiful here at Blue Bonnets. Always add the "s" on everything here. But the barns are of the old vintage, about 60 years old. Used to be running horse grounds. This place can't compare with Richelieu Raceway. They are coming out with all the latest things that make it modern. They don't even have water at the barns here. Still have the old-fashioned wooden pumps—unless you come here all the time and put your own pump in (an electric one). Dave's barn is very nice, but no water—carry and carry. Makes you want to come home for sure. And if you are stabled over here at the Bonnets, as we are, you have to ship over to Richelieu to race. It sure makes it tough on you. If you happen to be in an early race, you can't leave till after the last horse is cooled out, and that means you get back here about 2:30 in the morning. Then get to bed about 3 o'clock. Glad this is the last week for that. Dave says this is the last time for him to ever do that, even if he got out of the horse business. Thought we would try it for 10 days so we wouldn't have to move again. But we would rather move. Janet's Girl is invited to the $5,000 race for Sunday, so I hope we have some luck. Eight of the 10 best pacers in the world raced to within three lengths of each other in the thrilling first heat of the $15,000 invitational event at Richelieu Raceway this past Friday night. Guess this was the record for this track. Here are the figures Mr. Giguere gave me, 18,000 people. Diamond Hal, with Joe O'Brien, won the first heat in 2:00.2, setting the track record here. Then Cecil Champion came along to win with the old horse Meadow Rice. Meadow Rice was the same fellow who set the pace for Hil-lo's Forbes' world record at Roosevelt Raceway, losing the race by a head. Dave and Joe O'Brien were talking about Yonkers just before the big race, when Joe said, "Well I hope I can do as good here as I did my last drive." Joe just had won the $73,840 futurity at Yonkers Raceway on Thursday night. This second race was one of the finest seen up here in years. It certainly drew a tremendous roar from the fans. Diamond Hal was heavily backed, truly the favorite. Lying half-way back behind the field, O'Brien moved into contention. Once he started to the turn for home, I thought he had it again. But oh no. Once he started for home with his colors gleaming in the bright lights, he really gave Meadow Rice a time. Meadow Rice barely did bid for the second heat. Cecil Champion had to use a heavy whip to keep Meadow Rice a neck ahead of Diamond Hal. All in all, it was well worth seeing and everyone really enjoyed it. And for sure the Canadian bunch up here really like their horse racing. The crowd reminds me of Harrington. If they had big races put on down there I think they would do as good. Everywhere now they do that. People like fast horses, once in a while. Mr. Giguere stated, "Except for the few major U. S. attractions such as the Hambletonian and Yonkers Futurity, we are offering as many high stake events as any other harness track." But Mr. Giguere told me he wasn't trying to get grand circuit racing in the near future. But he is a live wire and don't let that statement fool you. There is one fellow that's never still. Always out looking his hand over. He has another big trot coming off the last of the week. Also, another big pace for big purses. "Another thing they have up here is the Quinella, same as at dog races. Last two races are but the same as you buy daily double tickets. That sure builds the crowd till it's all over. I couldn't win if they told me who was going to win. Hard luck me. Races open here next Monday and I will sure be glad. No more late races to wait on to get home. We sure do have plenty of fellows from the States coming in. (Continued on Back Page)

SCHOOL BILLS TOP LEGISLATIVE AGENDA WHEN ASSEMBLY SESSION RECONVENES IN DOVER SEPT. 26

A supplementary appropriation to provide additional teachers for public schools is expected to be a top item on the agenda when the General Assembly reconvenes on Sept. 26, legislative leaders said this week. The General Assembly provided for a contingency fund of 200 teaching units, but school authorities have contended this will not be sufficient. They estimated, on the basis of school census work in the districts, that 362, rather than 200, additional teaching units should be provided. The legislators took the attitude that September enrollment would tell the story of whether or not 200 extra units are sufficient, and the day of reckoning is coming. The State Board of Education expects to assemble the facts about the middle of this month, on how many children actually enroll in the public schools throughout the state. With these figures in hand by Sept. 26, the members of the General Assembly will know whether or not they have provided enough school money, and how much more, if any, is needed. If more is needed, and is provided, the schools may then have the problem of finding teachers to hire. But some are said to have already hired the full number of teachers to meet the anticipated need, in the expectation that the money will be forthcoming. Another important school matter due to come up again when the legislators meet is the $44,204,000 school bond issue. This item was passed once by the General Assembly but was returned by the governor after bond counsel pointed to technical defects which might interfere with the sale of the proposed school construction bonds. An amendment was prepared to eliminate the letter "e" meaning "colored"—in the designation of some of the schools. This turned out to be a large stumbling block. The bill failed to pass with the amendment. The bill provides for the state to share construction projects for 49 school districts. A third matter that may come before the General Assembly when the members return on the final Monday of this month, is the reorganization of the Highway Department. It will be recalled that the legislature threw out the Republican-controlled highway commission and created a new commission, with the Democrats in the majority. The Republican commission is testing the legality of this action in the courts. In the event a decision is handed down, and the Republican commission is ruled the legal one, the legislature is likely to make a second attempt to put a Democratic majority in control of the department, a legislative leader predicts. He said the Democrats in the General Assembly may have an opportunity to correct any legal defects that the court may find in the highway reorganization measure. Leaders think the legislative business that will face the members of the General Assembly on Sept. 26 could be handled in a few days. But, they said, previous predictions of speedy action at Dover have been completely wrong, and nobody really knows whether the legislators will be meeting for a few days or for several weeks. Other items which may come before the legislators include the Senate-approved direct primary bill, proposals to create a state department of labor, and the bill, also approved by the Senate, to form a board of electrical examiners.

Farm Talent To Bid For Fame In Local Amateur Contest Sept. 23

A farm talent round-up contest, elections of local board and farm home advisory committee members, and reports on co-operative service and operations for the 1954-55 year, will be among the features of the annual Southern States membership meeting for the Harrington area, to be held at 8 p.m., Sept. 23, at Harrington High School. Light refreshments will be served after the business meeting. Door prizes will be given. The farm talent round-up contest—which is for amateurs only who were at least 12 years of age Aug. 1—offers an opportunity for the winning act at the local meeting to try out for the Ted Mack coast-to-coast television show in New York. Members of the immediate families of all farmers and all Southern States' patrons are eligible to enter. All individual members of the 1954 talent acts who won first place at their local contests and those who participated in last year's district contests are ineligible to compete. Employees of Southern States Co-operative and its co-operative service agencies and members of their families are also ineligible. The contest will be sponsored jointly by Peck Brothers Farm Supply Company and Southern States Co-operative, with the Ted Mack organization co-operating. The winning local act will be eligible to compete with winning acts from other communities in one of the 18 district elimination contests, and will be given an expense-paid trip to the district contest. The second place winner at the local level will receive a $5 award, while the third place act will be given a $3 award. The winner at each elimination contest will be given an expense-paid trip to the Southern States annual membership meeting to be held in Richmond, Va., Nov. 17-18, to compete in the final contest. Second place winners in the eliminations will receive $25, while the third place winner will get $10. The winner at Richmond will be given an expense-paid trip to New York, plus $100 and will have the opportunity to appear on Ted Mack's television show. The second place winner will be given an expense-paid trip to Washington, D. C., or any city in Southern States' operating territory, plus a cash award of $75. The third place winner will receive a cash award of $200. Appropriate ribbons will be awarded to all members of the top three acts. Van C. Keator of Harrington will serve as chairman of the local meeting. The Rev. Milton Elliott will give the invocation. Group singing will be led by Melvin Brobst. Railroad News

End of Run
Freight Conductor Jobe Pride of Georgetown retired Aug. 31, after 45 years' service, most of which has been in the Harrington district and on the D.M.&V. branch. Jobe, who holds the No. 1 position on the trainmen's roster, entered the service May 3, 1910 as a freight brakeman and was promoted to conductor June 1, 1917. While he has served in this capacity on practically every run on the Delmarva division, his last few months has been as flagman on Train D-19 and 20, operating between Harrington and Selbyville. Other members of the crew on Jobe's last run were: Engineer Horace Shockley, Conductor Fred Sammons and Fireman Clarence Melvin. The well wishes extended to Jobe by these fellow workers, goes for all others who have had the pleasure of sharing his faithful service.

Single Track

In the interest of economy, the elimination of one track on the Delmarva division, made possible through diesel operation, was completed last October between Pocomoke and Cape Charles. Similar action on the remainder of the year, programmed as follows: New Castle to Clayton, Sept. 13. Clayton to Seaford, Oct. 15. Seaford to Delmar, Nov. 15. Delmar to Pocomoke, Dec. 15. Savings are made possible by decreased cost of maintenance and taxes and availability of materials for use on other parts of the system. Similar activity, in progress on practically every other railroad in the country, is a dominant factor in the survival of rail against water, air and highway transportation.

Stepping Stone

Mention made in last week's issue of The Journal, of the promotions effective Sept. 1, of Ed Zacharias and Bruce Miller, former Harrington supervisors, to division engineers of the Philadelphia and Chicago terminal divisions, respectively, bares out our contention that Harrington has long been referred to as the stepping stone to successful executive railroad personnel. Another recent example is the skyrocket ascent of Bernie Seims to assistant real estate agent at New York, where his activities will play an important role in the construction of the world's largest office building. It is gratifying, indeed, to know that these boys and others ahead of them who have gone on to be vice-presidents and general managers, refer to Harrington people as "Down Home Folks."

The second reunion of the Jacob and Anne Killen Welch descendants was held Aug. 28, at the J. Ben Welch farm near Wilton, Md. Carroll Welch; vice-president, Raymond Welch; historians, John T. Moore, William A. Robinson and Woodrow Welch; secretary and treasurer, Catherine W. Gottlieb; assistant, Irene Welch; registrars, Gladys Welch and Gail Welch; hostesses, Mrs. Carroll Welch, Irene Welch and Doris Welch. It was decided to meet Aug. 26, 1956, at Wheeler's Park, Harrington; if stormy, first Sunday after Labor Day. Mrs. J. Fred Welch of Baltimore and Mrs. Charles R. Welch, Burrowsville, could not attend because of illness.

MRS. KATHRYN SIMPSON NAMED CITY CLERK; CITY TO EXTEND SEWER 340 FEET SOUTH ON U.S. 13

Mrs. Kathryn Simpson was appointed city clerk Tuesday afternoon at the September meeting of the City Council. She will replace Miss Grace Wanda Quillen, who has resigned to go into business. The Council, which has been meeting in the afternoons during the summer, will revert to its usual meeting night Monday, Oct. 3. It usually meets the first Monday night in each month. Miss Quillen's resignation will take effect Friday, Sept. 16. Besides Mrs. Simpson, applicants for the post were James Thomas Carr, Grace Ellen Snyder, Martha Sneath and Doretta Konesey. The Simpson appointment was unanimous. Mrs. Simpson, presently employed at the Snack Bar, will receive $45 per week. She attended the University of Delaware two years, has worked as scrap assessor and election clerk. She is a native of Denton and the widow of Calvin Simpson. The Council had a busy agenda. It received a petition requesting buses to stop in the business district of Harrington. Mayor Killen said he would ask the Chamber of Commerce to take up the matter and that the city would support the chamber. Incidentally, the chamber has also received a petition. The Council voted to make an addition to the summons one receives when one incurs a parking "mete" violation. The addition reads, "If one ignores summons longer than three days, a warrant will be issued for their arrest." The Council voted to extend sewer pipe 340 feet south on U.S. 13 to the Bridge Bit Restaurant. Complaints have been heard for some time about a ditch, but the Council had been holding off to see what the state would do when it built the northbound lane of the dual highway. The project is on the agenda but no advertisement has been placed for bids. William Outten, president of the Harrington Fire Company, appeared before the Council with a request, which was granted, that the city clerk, after receiving fire calls, call radio station WKSB, Milford, giving the location of the fire. The station will then broadcast the location of the fire. This might aid firemen in getting to the fire sooner and, at the same time, inform the citizens so they will not have to phone city hall.

Assembly Hall At Camp Pe-Co-Meth To Be Dedicated

Wilkins, chairman of the building committee for the Methodist camp, will be presented the building by Oscar Drummer of Oscar Drummer & Son, builders, of Queenstown, Md. Mr. Wilkins will then present the building to the Rev. William Keasomel of the Richardson Park Methodist Church, chairman of the board. Dr. A. J. Jackson, chairman of the cabinet of the conference, will give the prayer of dedication. The address for the service will be given by the Rev. James Hughes of Aldersgate Methodist Church. Granville Hooper, lay leader for the conference, will read the scripture. The opening prayer will be made by the Rev. F. Douglas Milbury, executive secretary of the board of education of the conference, and the benediction by the Rev. William Hemphill of Sudlersville. An offering will be received toward the cost of the building. The building, furnished in knotty pine paneling, will seat 250 persons, Mr. Wilkins said. The stage contains a lovely altar made of matching pine. The side of the hall toward the river contains garage-type doors that swing up into the ceiling. Along the side facing the Chester River and across the front of the hall is a screened porch. The building will be used for worship, classes and recreation. In the front of the building there is an office and a supply room. Atop the building is a wooden cross. During this summer there have been 1029 campers at various age camps. Because of limited accommodations, 60 campers had to be turned away. At the end of the summer season, the United Christian Youth Movement of the Chesapeake area held its leadership training conference at the camp, with 65 in attendance.

Mare's Death Called Due To Heart Attack

T. Brinton Holloway, general manager of the Kent & Sussex Fair Grounds, this week announced that death of the mare Butternut Queen in a harness race here Saturday, Aug. 27, was "due to a heart attack." Backed by a veterinarian's signed statement, Holloway's announcement followed charges by Butternut Queen's co-owner, Stanley Bayly of Pocomoke City, Md., that the horse had been electrocuted through carelessness of the track. The other co-owner is Edgar Atkinson, also of Pocomoke City. Bayly insisted the four-year-old chestnut mare was electrocuted, falling on an uncovered wire at the hub rail, and the current killed her as the caution switch was thrown on.

PUBLIC BUSINESS NO ONE'S SECRET

"All meetings of the Council shall be public." Well, not exactly all meetings, and not exactly public.

The Town Council will decide when it has a "confidential" matter whether to permit the public to know what the Council is doing.

That is the way the new charter will look if it goes before the people in a referendum.

The Council this week gave itself the power to hold secret sessions whenever it wants to.

This is disappointing in the light of the progress Milford has made toward keeping the people informed. For the last several years, it has seemed that Milford was fighting the creeping tide of secrecy in government that has done so much to destroy self-government all the way from Washington down. The Town Council itself has achieved a creditable record of progress, limiting its own secret sessions, allowing newsmen to attend them. It has done better than the Board of Education.

But when the issue had to be faced squarely in writing a new charter after the Council's own Charter Revision Committee had spent long and thoughtful deliberation on the matter, after the Representative Town Meeting had debated and upheld it, the Councilmen showed a lack of faith in the people and lack of confidence in their own successors.

Let's get something straight here. Councilmen are the servants of the people. They were elected to perform certain duties. The people never delegated to them, or to any official of government, elected or appointed, the right to decide what the people should know.

It positively is the public's business to know, not only how a Councilman votes on every issue, but everything he does as a Councilman.

The public must be able to evaluate his performance. It must have his complete record available. It must know what he says, how he votes, how he works.

It must be remembered that the charter is not being written for this Council. It is being written, out of the experience of eight years, for the Councils that will serve 20, 30 or 50 years from now.

The people must insist on their right to know the details of what their government is doing and why.

If they do not they will be unable to make the decisions that must be made if self-government, in which final power rests in the people, is to survive. Milford (Conn.) Citizen.

ALL THE PAPER GETS READ

It's a shame that a newspaper cannot be put out with all the pages marked—front page.

It's not unusual for people to request front page space. It is of course, not possible to comply with all requests—and odd to ask for it. The entire newspaper is read carefully—especially a small paper like The Gazette.

Spot news is often better read than the story with the big headline.

For certain, a two-line ad stating—I will not be responsible for debts, etc.—is given a much better reading than the big story on the front page about the Kansas Turnpike.

It is up to the newspaper editor to say what goes on Page 1 and what on the other pages.

—The Augusta (Kans.) Daily Gazette

HOW OLD IS TOO OLD

In a Labor Day message to America, President Eisenhower turned attention to the older workers. He said discrimination against hiring them must be eliminated.

The President said that denying jobs to workers "merely because they happen to be over 45 years of age" is "an arbitrary bar to the full utilization of their abilities."

He said it causes "a waste of valuable skills and talents."

"Today when our nation needs every skilled worker available, we cannot afford to squander our manpower responsibility, and constancy found in older workers," he through a prejudice which obscures the values of maturity, said.

The President said a mouthful. It is now the duty of Congress to pass legislation preventing companies from establishing arbitrary age limits on hiring employees.

When we were 40 we were refused a job in agricultural journalism by a nation-wide concern. "We wanted a younger man," was the reply. Two degrees in journalism, 13 years on an agricultural daily, articles in all the nation's leading farm magazines meant nothing.

We know several cases where companies will not employ a man 40 or over. "What fools these mortals be."

Here in The Journal we have employed a number of printers, with ages up to 77. We had a good man who was 73. We do not pay much attention to the applicant's age. If they can do the job and are in good physical condition, that's it.

We believe the old boys are better students. We attended a university from 1925 to 1929, but did not graduate: our grades were too low. Sixteen years later we went back to the same university and earned two degrees and was made a member of an honorary society we couldn't make when we were there the first time.

The top student in 11,000 at the University of Missouri, the last year we were there, had perfect grades. She held down a part-time job with the veterans' administration and was 44. We believe she would make a good employe.

Israel, filled with its oppressed refugees, apparently is forgetting all too soon. Apparently, it has ideas of Egyptian conquest and will heed no one. We believe she has her eye on the Suez Canal and control of the lifeline from Europe to Asia. If she gets that done, the Arab states having oil had better watch out. Israel could easily start a world-wide war.

Veterans' News And Answers To Problems

Q—I am planning to go to school this fall under the Korean GI Bill. If I get a part-time job to supplement my GI training pay, will my monthly allowance be cut?

A—No. Outside earnings have no bearing whatsoever on your GI education allowance. Veterans in school will receive the full rate of allowance regardless of how much they earn. In fact, they need not even report earnings to the VA.

Q—I want to apply for disability compensation, but I do not live near enough to a VA office to pick up the right form. Could I apply by a letter to the VA?

A—Yes. Your letter will be considered an "informal application" if you specifically mention the benefit you are applying for. VA will send you a formal application to be filled out. So long as you return it within one year, the effective date of your application will be the date of your letter, rather than the date of the form itself.

Q—In my GI insurance policy, I have specified that payments be made to my beneficiary in monthly installments. If she wants, would she have the right to ask VA for a lump sum payment instead?

A—No. A beneficiary does not have the right to elect lump sum payment, if the veteran has specified payment on the installment plan.

Q—If a Korea veteran uses his GI training benefit, would he still be entitled to use his GI loan benefit?

A—Yes. Use of one benefit does not deny a veteran his right to use the other.

Chestnut Trees Again Thriving On Eastern Shore

Chestnut trees may once again thrive and bear in the United States, says Morris Nichols of the United States Soil Conservation Service.

"We have some proof that they will grow and thrive here on the Eastern Shore," Nichols said. James and Lawrence Denson of near Salisbury made plantings of chestnuts in 1947. Today, these trees have survived and are bearing.

America's great chestnut tree disaster began in 1904 in the Bronx Zoo where trees caught a blight imported on plants brought from Asia to the zoo. In a few years, chestnut trees, some of them mighty monarchs of the forest six feet across the stump, had been destroyed.

The Denson plot is planted with the native Asiatic variety, secured from the Soil Conservation Service. The objective of such plantings, Nichols said, is to restore the abundant stands of chestnut which once stood on the Eastern Shore.

Seedlings are available from commercial nurseries and the conservation service, Nichols said.

When the blight first struck in America, it peeled off the bark and killed the trees. But young shoots were sent up in following years by the dead trees' root system. Nurserymen hoped that in time these shoots would develop resistance to the fungus growth, but their hopes never materialized.

In the last 20 years, Japanese and Chinese chestnuts have been introduced in the United States. These are blight resistant. Through crossing and re-crossing with American plants, Nichols said, a blight resistant chestnut has been developed.

This lesson will be the subject for discussion in the Church School classes in the session which begins Sunday at 10 a.m. Study materials are graded to suit the needs of every age group. Now that the vacation season is over, we urge you to begin attending the sessions of the Church School in order to get the maximum good from the fall and winter program of the church. Harness Racing Throughout U.S. Sets New Records

Harness racing across the nation appears certain to set all-time records during 1955 in both attendance and pari-mutuel betting, according to data compiled by the U. S. Trotting Association, with approximately two-thirds of the season completed.

The continued upswing in the trotting and pacing sport has been especially noteworthy in California, Massachusetts, western New York state and the metropolitan areas of New York, Chicago, Detroit and Cleveland, while reports from a state and county fairs indicate attendance records also will be set at non-betting points.

The Fox Valley Trotting Club, which held a 40-night meeting at Chicago's Maywood Park, is the leader with a attendance up 3.7 per cent and betting showing a 35.3 per cent increase. Average attendance this year was 5,304 as compared to 3,936 in 1954 while an average of $278,394 was wagered each night as compared to $183,409 last season.

Crandview Oval near Cleveland also shows a marked increase with attendance up 20.6 per cent and the handle up 24.6 per cent. Buffalo (N.Y.) Raceway had a 9.7 per cent increase in attendance and 13.7 rise in betting while Batavia (N.Y.) Downs showed only a slightly higher attendance figure but was up 14.7 per cent in handle.

At Westbury near New York City, betting was up almost $70,000 nightly with an average of $1,099,730 while at Yonkers Raceway, where a meeting currently is in progress, betting and attendance are higher. For the first 17 nights, the attendance averaged 21,561 and the handle $1,283,405.

The early season meeting at Bay Meadows near San Mateo, Calif., was up 10.9 in betting and 8.7 in attendance while the Western Harness Association's session at Hollywood Park showed a 10.5 per cent tilt in betting. Figures for Bay Stat. Raceway at Foxboro, Mass., for the 64-night meeting concluded last Thursday night follow the trend with a handle up 9.8 per cent and a attendance 9.7 per cent higher.

Last year 10,147,255 spectators attended pari-mutuel tracks and the $444,845,200 of which the various states split up $31,767,463. An estimated 10,000,000 saw races at non-betting tracks.

Plans to revive "the finest breed band in Ireland," that of Roscrea, Tipperary, are under way by a tire company.
