The one-act Christmas play that occurs during the program will be presented by the Drama Club under the direction of Mrs. Kathleen Pollitt and will be "Christmas Spirit" by Earl J. Dias.

Christmas Display At Lewes Museum

Lewes—The Special Christmas display, opened to the public this week, in the Zwaanendael Museum will be continued until after New Year's Day, is announced by Mrs. Dorothy Lank G. van, Curator. Visitors are invited to view the exhibit Tuesdays through Saturdays from 10 a. m. to 5:30 p. m., Sundays from 12:30 to 5:30 p. m. The museum is closed on Mondays and will be closed on Christmas Day and New Year's Day.

This first Christmas exhibit in the Zwaanendael Museum is two-fold. It depicts the celebrations in Holland with Saint Nicholas in his bishop's robe glittering with gems and riding on a white horse; it carries us back more than half a century in America when Christmas trees were trimmed with pop corn candles, bells and paper angels bright with tinsel.

Prominent in the display is the tree, simply decorated. Beneath rests the small wooden shoe filled with hay for St. Nick's white horse, a Dutch cradle, made for Mrs. Ethel S. Prettyman of Lewes by her father.

The central cases display gifts to the museum from Hoon, Holland. The recent ones presented by Mrs. van der Grift van Veen include a lovely christening bonnet of delicate net, handmade lace and ribbon, baby's handmade sleeves of arm warmers, and a beautiful West Frisian cap of purple net trimmed with lovely handmade lace. With the Dutch cookie mold is featured a plate of cookies made from authentic Dutch recipes furnished by Mrs. van Heiden-van Selms and the Netherlands Information Service. The latter also supplied the pictures here displayed of the Saint Nicholas celebration in Holland.

Nearly a century old dolls, treasures which brought delight to little girls, hearts long ago, lent by Mrs. George H. Wooley of Lewes. They are dressed in their original costumes supplemented by clothing made by Mrs. Wooley herself from bits of material saved from family christenings and weddings.

Toys of yesteryears will interest both young and old today, as they did in the past. The dainty tea set belonged to Jane Tilgham about 1820 and is lent by Mr. Orville H. Peets, Indian River Hundred. Mrs. D. Anthony Potter of Lewes contributed a glass punch bowl set, tiny flatware, quaint doll house furniture for living room, bedroom and bath, and, for the kitchen, an iron stove with accompanying lids, pot and scuttle and tin cooking utensils. Included also are iron banks, both still and mechanical. An iron covered wagon drawn by two stalwart steeds is lent by Mrs. W. Layton Reed of Milton. Mrs. Reed presented to the museum ten lovely old tinsel decorated tree ornaments and some toy flatware.

Among the old Christmas cards on display are some lent by Mrs. Joseph L. Megginson of Lewes and two presented previously by Mr. Harold W. T. Purnell of Georgetown.

Hockey Team Unscored Upon All Season

High School Hockey Team Lauded at Civic Banquet

There is no account in the records of the United States Field Hockey Association of a team going unscored upon during a season, Nancy Savin, president of the organization, said Saturday night at a banquet honoring the girls hockey team of Harrington High School.

The dinner, sponsored by five civic groups, was held in the cafeteria of the high school. The local team won all its games, seven, and was unscored upon during the season.

After congratulating the team members, Miss Savin told something about field hockey, a game in which she has taken an active part "since she was in the fifth grade."

Field hockey got its start in this country when an English woman, Constance M. K. Appleby, still an active coach at 84, introduced the game about 1900. She coached the game at Vassar and Smith Colleges and at a Philadelphia college, Miss Savin said.

She said the United States Field Hockey Association puts out its own rulebook and that most colleges and a good many of the schools were members. "It is strictly amateur and there is no professional team in the world."

Miss Savin played on the United States team. The international organization meets every three years, throughout the world, and is represented in 18 countries. Delegates to the conferences pay their own expenses, but they are quartered in the homes in the host countries.

Miss Savin said there were five words she liked to associate with the sport—strength, stamina, savvy, spirit, and sportsmanship, and expressed the hope that the graduating members of Harrington's hockey team would continue the sport.

After her talk, Miss Savin presented pins to members of the varsity. Mrs. Doris Fry, the coach, then accepted a trophy from James O'Neal, co-chairman of the dinner committee, of which Tom Peck was chairman.

Mrs. Fry said the trophy would be placed in the school library. Credit for the success of hockey here was also given to Mrs. Mayme Percy and Mrs. Jean Miller, former coaches.

The banquet was sponsored by five civic organizations—Lions, Rotary, the American Legion, Moose, and the Home and School Association, with the groups being represented by Ralph Draper, Arthur Taylor, Mr. O'Neal, William Fleischauer, Sr., and Mrs. Kitty Hopkins, respectively.

T. Brinton Holloway was master of ceremonies, and the invocation was given by the Rev. Lorraine Ottinger, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene.

Mayo Ernest Killen gave the address of welcome. The representatives of the civic groups said a few words, as did Ellwood Gruffwell, president of the Board of Education; J. C. Messner, superintendent of Harrington schools, and Archie A. Feagan, principal.

Harry Smith, assistant state superintendent of physical education, extended congratulations from the State Board of Public Instruction and praised the Board of Education on the new field house. "It indicates the school is well aware of the need of a well-rounded athletic program. This should include gymnastics, tumbling, and rhythmic," he advised.

FORT MILES NIPS LOCAL SHORE LEAGUE ENTRANT

Rallying through the middle periods, Fort Miles' basketball Soldiers nosed out the Harrington Legionnaires, 57-56, for their first Eastern Shore League victory at Fort Miles Monday night.

Trailing by 24-15 after the first quarter, the Soldiers got in scoring step and pulled to within 36-33 at halftime. A 17-14 edge through the third period spelled victory as both teams netted seven points in the final heat.

Bob Johnson led the victory with 20 points, one of his most timely baskets being a third-quarter set shot that put the Soldiers in front to stay, 50-49. Jim Brittingham contributed 15 points to the Soldiers' first triumph in three starts.

Water Shut Off Because of Leak

Harrington's water supply is functioning again after being shut off twice to repair a break in the main at Clark and Hanley Streets.

The break was discovered when workmen were repairing a curb at the site. No one knows how long the leak has been in existence.

The water was shut off about midnight, Thurs., Dec. 8, while temporary repairs were made. It was shut off again from 11:30 p. m. Tuesday until around 2 a. m. Wednesday while Byron McKnatt and his assistants worked in the bitter cold to repair the main.

During the latter operation, two firetrucks drew water from the mains to facilitate the repair work. This assistance was needed because of a faulty valve, at the standpipe, which would not permit the water to be turned entirely off. Firemen who manned the trucks were Chief Douglas Mills, Franklin Hendricks and Benjamin Moore.

C. of C. Pledges Funds And Will Solicit Money To Purchase Armory Site

The Chamber of Commerce, at its December meeting Monday evening in The First National Bank Building, voted to support wholeheartedly the purchase of a site, by civic interests, for an armory.

Furthermore, it agreed to make a substantial contribution toward the purchase of the land. Earlier, the group had heard Arnold Gilstad, chairman of the Real Estate Committee say that the Harrington Lions Club had voted, the same evening, to pay $55.00 on the purchase of the site.

The Real Estate Committee, Gilstad said, had considered four tracts of land as possible locations for the $160,000 armory. These were as follows:

What is known as the Sapp Sisters property at Dorman and Center Streets, the E. W. Dean property on Liberty Street, the Norris Adams property on East Street, and the Ralph Smith property in the vicinity of Reese Avenue.

It was agreed at the Monday night meeting that the next step would be for the committee to meet with the City Council to discuss the locations. The City will underwrite the purchase of the armory site, with funds being solicited by civic agencies.

Federal and state funds have been allocated for the armory, but a federal stipulation says that the land, three acres, must be donated by the community.

Other business conducted at the meeting included plans for a banquet to be served to the employees of the Bell Telephone Company on Saturday evening. Reports by Mrs. O'Neal concerning Christmas gifts sent to our "adopted" children at Governor Bacon Health Center and Ferris School, and by Mrs. William Humes on the Public Card Party held in November.

Our Lions Club have pledged $500 as a minimum amount for 1956. We hope our start will create a desire among all citizens and organizations to make this building a reality in the near future.

Mr. Smith accepted Mr. Richardson's resignation with regret, and Frank R. Grier, Milford Republican submitted the motion that the resignation be approved.

The commission set the second Wednesday of each month at 2 p. m. as the time for meetings. The next meeting will be held Jan. 11.

Smith Requests Oath
Mr. Smith, at his request, was sworn in as a member of the Commission. The other continuing members were not sworn in.

The Republican members in addition to Mr. Sharp, are Mr. Grier, Dr. J. Draper Brown, Centreville, and Mr. Richardson.

The commission approved an agreement, presented by Walter B. McKendrick, Jr. chief engineer between the Town of Greenwood and the department. It provides for certain types of work to be undertaken in connection with the extension of dual Route 13. Agreements between the Department and Lewes and Smyrna also were approved.

In connection with a request for the approval of Cantwell Avenue at Odessa, Mr. McKendrick said that he had received an opinion from Samuel Arshat, attorney for the commission, that said the constitution provides that Legislature can not enact a bill requiring the Department to construct a road unless it goes through all three counties.

Status is Discussed
This resulted in a general discussion of the status of Mr. Arshat, appointed by the former five-man Democratic Commission.

Preceding the meeting of the new Commission the members and Mr. McKendrick, Thomas E. Burroughs, secretary of the Department, and Harvey Spicer, motor vehicle commissioner, were guests of Mr. Smith at lunch. The meal was marked by a cordial atmosphere and little hint of political differences.

Air service between Rangoon, Burma, and Madras, India, is under discussion.

Delaware Food Market Report

Your Christmas ham or turkey should be ordered this week. Nearly all Delaware stores are encouraging advance orders so that you will not be disappointed at the last minute. By ordering ahead you will be sure to have the kind of meat you want and the right size for that important Christmas dinner.

Turkeys continue to sell a few cents above last year's prices. Young hens are priced 5c to 6c above the toms. Large toms those weighing from 20 to 24 pounds are about 2c per pound less than toms weighing from 14 to 20 pounds. The bigger birds also yield a larger portion of meat relative to bone. This makes them a much better buy, especially for you with large families. If you have a freezer it is truly economical to buy a larger turkey and freeze the leftovers. Remember though, turkeys should not be stuffed until just before cooking.

Baked ham is an elegant meat for Christmas dinners too. With pork pieces ranging from 14% to 25% below last year, ham is an outstanding value in meat. Baking is easy since no watching or basting is necessary. Both whole and half hams can be garnished attractively with pineapple slices, tangerine wedges, canned pear slices or orange slices sprinkled with brown sugar.

Both convenience and economy are offered by other cuts of meat this week. With the Christmas rush here, you will find such meats as ground beef, lamb patties, sausage, liver, frankfurters and cold cuts quick and easy to prepare. Young chickens for broiling and frying will help pep up these hurried days ahead.

Start these cold mornings right. Hearty breakfasts help you feel better, ward off colds and work more efficiently all day. Among the "best buys" in the breakfast foods this week are fresh and canned citrus fruit, milk, cereal products, and pork, such as bacon, sausage and ham.

Fresh fruit counters offer the following items this week that are very favorably priced. Stayman and Rome apples (all purpose varieties), Delicious and McIntosh apples for dessert, Florida oranges, tangerines, bananas, cranberries, avocados, Red Emperor and white almeria grapes, winter pears and grapefruit.

Vegetable values that are tops in terms of nutrition and economy are found on these items in local stores, spinach and other leafy greens, potatoes, peppers, tomatoes, parsnips, sweet potatoes, mushrooms, artichokes and turnips.

U. of D. Names Marine Laboratory

The University of Delaware's Board of Trustees today announced that the University's Marine Laboratory at Lewes has been named the "M. Haswell Pierce Building" in honor of the man who has contributed so greatly to the development of the marine fisheries program of the State.

Mr. Pierce has been the leading spirit in the development of marine fisheries study in Delaware and was largely responsible for the establishment of the University of Delaware marine laboratory. He was chairman of the commission from Delaware at the 14th Annual Meeting of the Atlantic States Marine Fisheries Commission at Virginia Beach last month.

Pierce and other Delaware members of the commission were instrumental in securing funds for marine research in this State. After a special appropriation, the marine laboratory was established in 1951.

Present Grand Master of the Delaware Grand Lodge of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons, Pierce has been associated with his brothers in the Pierce Hardware Company of Milford since its incorporation in 1914. He is a past master of the Temple Lodge No. 9 of Milford, past president of the Milford Chamber of Commerce and a past president of the Pennsylvania and Atlantic Seaboard Hardware Association. He was born on December 25, 1892 in Milford and attended the Milford school.

In another important resolution, the trustees announced that Hugh M. Morris, Esq., president of the board, has been nominated to succeed himself as a member of the board for a six year term beginning December 12, 1955. Judge Morris has been a trustee since 1929 and has served as president since 1939, when he succeeded William H. Heald.

Other business considered by the board concerned the acceptance of a bequest of 11,857.77 of Nellie May Redmile to be used as scholarship funds for girls in need in their senior year at the University of Delaware and the acceptance of a proposal by the Committee on Admissions that in the coming academic year, all out-of-state applicants for admission be required to submit the results of the Collegiate Aptitude Section of the College Board Examinations. This plan, undertaken on a trial basis, is the policy of many better American colleges and universities. The value of these test results is that they tend to overcome the inequalities of high school grading standards and establish uniform entrance requirements.

Authority also was granted to Dean of Agriculture George M. Worrlow to enter into an agreement with the Federal Extension Service of the United States Department of Agriculture to enable the university's agricultural extension personnel to participate in the Federal Employees Group Life Insurance Act, passed in 1954.

Two faculty members were granted leaves of absence to pursue academic work.

Dr. Francis H. Squire, Dean of the University, will leave in February for England, where he will complete research on a book dealing with English social history. He will work in the Public Record Office and the British Museum in London and in other cities in Great Britain. In addition to num-

Veterans News and Answers To Questions

Q—If I apply for disability compensation as soon as I get my discharge from service, will I be required to take a VA physical examination?

A—Not necessarily. As long as you file your claim within six months from your discharge, VA may give you an initial rating based on the records of your branch of service — unless it would appear that an error would result from such a procedure.

Q—If a veteran shows a lack of progress in his Korean GI Bill studies, would he still be entitled to make his one-and-only change of course?

A—Yes, but only if he can show VA that the lack of progress was not due to his own misconduct, neglect or lack of application.

Q—I have just been discharged from service, and I am thinking of getting a Korean GI term insurance policy. I already have a $10,000 life insurance policy with a private company. Would this bar me from GI insurance?

A—No. Insurance held with a private company has no bearing on the amount of GI insurance you are permitted to carry. A veteran may get up to $10,000 worth of Korean GI term insurance, minus only whatever other forms of GI insurance he might have.

Q—I bought a house with a GI loan, a few years ago. Our family has grown and we could use a larger house. My wife is a veteran, too. Would she be entitled to use house?

A—Yes. The fact that you used her GI loan benefit for another your GI loan benefit would not serve to deny your wife the right to use hers.

erous written notes, Dean Squire will photograph important documents which he will use upon his return to this country where the book will be completed.

Assistant Professor W. H. Crittenden of the Department of Plant Pathology will leave on December 15 to complete his work leading to his Ph.D. degree at Ohio State University.

Social Security News Notes

The Wilmington social security office announces that over 70 million people are now insured under the Federal social security program. Therefore, it is important that the Social Security Administration be notified when a worker dies; retires between ages 65 and 72; and when he reaches age 72 regardless of retirement. A person does not need to retire after age 72 to collect social security payments, but he does have to file an application for these benefits. That is true also for both retirement benefits and survivor benefits. Payments do not start automatically. If a person delays more than 12 months after he could become entitled to payments, he will lose some monthly payments that might have been received.

The Wilmington social security office is located at 813 West Street, telephone 4-47776.

A representative from the Wilmington office is in the City Office Building, Milford, the 1st, 2nd and 3rd Tuesday of each month from 9:30 a.m. to 12 Noon.

Spotters Notes

I find some of our spotters are not taking their shifts at the spotters station now like they have done in the past.

Last Sunday we had a test of the strength of all the stations and with the ones that missed their shifts our station was not up to par.

As your supervisor, I am supposed to keep every spot filled to meet any emergency that might arise any time. I can't make you go or force anyone to do this but I can ask you once again to take your shifts you have been assigned to. I have just received a call from the filter center in New Jersey ordering me to have every spot filled now until further notice and I can't do it without your help. It has been found this area is one of the most vital spots that needs a GOC and it is our job to give it that protection we need to protect our future prosperity.

CIVIC CLAIRS FETE GIRLS' HOCKEY TEAM

We attended a kette Saturday night, given by various civic clubs, in honor of the high school girls' hockey team which went through the season unopposed and winning every game manfully.

We were impressed by the victors, but the thing that impressed us more was the fact that the civic organizations were aware of this impressive performance and did some thing to recognize it. The players each received a pin and the coach, Mrs. Doris Dyer, received a commemorative trophy which will be placed in the Logan, the Lions, the Rotary, and the School and Home Association book room.

We missed the school, the Lions, the Rotary, and the School and Home Association book room. Tom Cook was chairman of the dinner committee, and James O'Neal was co-chairman. Both Huggins was master of ceremonies.

STORY REORDER BY U. O. D. HISTORY PROFESSOR

The colonial story of the Delaware Bay has been re-ordered by a history professor at the University of Delaware in a new book which contains pictures and drawings of many of the events and people who made this body of water famous.

Entitled "The Bay and River Delaware, A Pictorial History," by David E. Tyler was one of 500 illustrations to portray occasions, objects and vessels on and about the river and bay of the Diamond State from the time of the earliest settlements to the present.

Dr. Tyler's account begins in 1609 when the Dutch and English first laid eyes on the "Suyler" River, as it was named by Henry Hudson. The waterway is described at a later date when Lewis de La Warre, first governor of Jamestown, gave his name to the river and bay.

According to the author, the Delaware played a vital part in the Revolution, with Philadelphia as the Colonial Capital and the birthplace of America's Navy. Also noted is the development of the herring industry and shipbuilding trade between Wilmington and Philadelphia, as well as the growth of industry and population along the river's banks.

Naval battles, blockades, privateers, Blackbeard and other pirates, marooned castles, steamships and excursionists are each treated in Tyler's story.

The pictorial history, which offers the reader a wide variety of material at a glance, reviews the many uses to which the waters of the Delaware Bay and River have been put and the ways in which these waters have affected the people who use them.

erability. It is quite possible that our children will continue to have faith for organisms that infect cultivated plants. Under these circumstances they may be more likely to be infected by infection of some of our better cultivated crops. This is usually not serious, however.

BLACK CHESEBURY
©1954 Nature Magazine, Inc.

While the flowers shown here appear from March through June no fruits are either throughout August and December. These berries may persist on the tree until the following year, providing they are not eaten by some insect or bird or mammal. The plant is a shrub which may rarely extend to 10 feet tall.

The Black Cheshbury, as the berries are called, grows in swamps or on poor, rocky hillside. It is native to western Ontario and south to Florida and Michigan. Often it thrives and produces fruit abundantly in dry or other places. It also seems to prosper both in the shade and when exposed to intense sunlight.

As the name implies, the purple shade of them, when mature, may be almost black. It varies greatly in its persistence on the plant, sometimes dropping early and sometimes remaining for months.

The berries, described in the article, are usually abundant and occasionally scarce. They are usually abundant in the fall. The plant is a shrub which may rarely extend to 10 feet tall.

State Flag to Be Blown When Nation's Flag Is

Those members of an executive order, Governor F. Campbell has decreed that beginning on Delaware Day, Wednesday, December 7, the State Flag will also be displayed at all times and at all occasions when the National State is flown or otherwise used.

For many years the State Flag has served as a symbol of pride and honor to the people of Delaware. It is the duty of every citizen to display the flag with respect and honor.

The Executive Order is in effect on the day of the State Flag and on the day of the National Flag. It is the duty of every citizen to display the flag with respect and honor.

CAP-TONS
IT WON'T BE LONG NOW
"It won't be long now," said the monkey as he backed his tail into a hammock. And... it won't be long until Christmas.

Now, almost everyone owns an automobile, and what passes for one. If you are having trouble thinking what to give for Christmas, why not give someone the automobile!

There are many things that would make ideal presents. Maybe windshield wipers, seat covers, a spare tire, a booster, a safety strap, a new battery, a paint job. Or, how about giving him for a year? Now that would be a Christmas present that was different... and useful, too.

STEVENS SAYS

In fact, reports Stevens, except for some native pines and cedars of the kind that are sold in a few of the state's southern markets, Delaware doesn't grow many commercial Christmas trees of its own.

Several kinds of spruces make good trees for Christmas use, Stevens adds, with Norway spruce probably being the one most commonly grown for holiday season customers. Spruce should be fresh cut, however.

From the standpoint of shedding needles, hemlock is one of the best desirable trees, Stevens reports. Even fresh cut, it loses its needles in a week or so if kept in a warm room. And, if it's cut early, a warm room will bring down all its needles in 2 or 3 days.

Most expensive trees of all are such imports as Colorado blue spruce, Stevens says. However, few of these are sold here.

For all kinds of Christmas trees, the best treatment is to stick the tree butt in a pail of water until Christmas Eve, Stevens advises. Once in he house, some kind of further moisture treatment also is advisable. Wet sand or stone—or even soil—in a bucket will provide this moisture. Also, some tree-holders have a water container. Such containers can add several days of indoor life for the tree and will help make it more fire resistant.

Keep all trees away from radiators or hot air registers, Stevens advises.

If you're buying a live tree in a tub of soil, and hope to plant it after Christmas, don't keep it indoors more than two weeks, says Stevens. And be sure to keep it well-watered. Such trees keep well, of course, but their cost is usually double or triple that of the cut trees.

Buy Safe Toys

With Christmas just around the corner, children and parents want to buy almost every toy they see. It is the parents' responsibility to select toys that are safe to play with, says Miss Louise Whitcomb, former Home Management Specialist for the Agricultural Extension Service, University of Delaware.

Unless chosen with care, playthings are often the cause of accidents such as lead poisoning, cuts, suffocation, explosions, fire and broken bones.

Here are a few simple rules to keep in mind as you shop for your children's toys.

1. Toys for baby or very young child should be washable, and large enough not to be put into the mouth, ear or nose. Never of breakable materials such as glass or celluloid which is flammable.

2. Eyes of an animal should be sewed not fastened with pins.

3. Wheels of wooden toys should be attached with screws, not with carpet or thumb tacks.

4. Edges of metal toys should be rolled or turned in and corners should be rounded.

5. Tea sets should be made of material which if broken, will not produce sharp edges.

6. Horns, whistles, bubble blowers, mouth harp or any other type of toy which requires the use of the mouth, should be made strong enough to prevent the user sucking parts of it into his throat.

7. All toys made of lead or colored with lead-base paints should be avoided. Read the label before buying a toy to see if a non-poisonous paint was used.

8. Electric toys should have the label of the Underwriters' Laboratories on the cord and on the toy itself to insure safe construction.

9. Kite strings should be made of non-conducting material. Wire or tinsel string such as that used for tying Christmas packages, may cause an electric shock if the kite drops across a power line. A cotton string is safest but any string will conduct electricity, if wet.

10. All chemical sets are potentially dangerous. Owner must be taught how to use chemicals and not allowed just to "mix" to see what will happen.

Balsam Fir Best For Christmas Trees

If you're still wondering which kind of Christmas tree to choose for the coming holidays, here are some tips on the subject from Robert Stevens of the University of Delaware horticultural department.

He says that balsam fir, one of the most common kinds sold around the northern part of the state, holds its needles best of all. The balsam has moderately long needles. But it's an import from the northern states and Canada and so you have to be careful that it hasn't been cut for too long.

Douglas fir is another good holiday choice. Also, it may well come from "close by"—although not likely to be grown in Delaware.

9 Women Admitted To Citizenship

Nine women were admitted to citizenship during naturalization ceremonies in Superior Court at Dover recently. Judge Charles L. Terry, Jr., was on the bench. It was one of the few times that an entire class for naturalization consisted of women.

The new citizens, their local address, and the countries of which they are natives, are:

Mrs. Huguette Jacqueline O'Brien, 92 Evergreen Drive, Dover, from France; Mrs. Euphemia Amelia Failing, Wyoming, from Canada; Mrs. Grazia Caso, 721 East Lockerman Street, Dover, from Italy; Mrs. Ruth Ida Lina Cobb, 163 Sexton Road, Dover, from Germany; Mrs. Babette Yeck, Harrington, from Germany; Mrs. Clara Frances MacLucas, Smyrna, from Canada; Mrs. Ruth Rohrbach, 30 South New Street, Dover, from Germany; Mrs. Emma Wiser, Milford, from Germany; Mrs. Anna Marie Lockwood, 1 State Circle, Capital Park, Dover, from France.

Quite a few of the new citizens are wives of Air Force personnel stationed at the Dover Air Force Base.

To stimulate sales of large wool stocks, Uruguay will subsidize shipments.

India still is Pakistan's best jute customer, Karachi reports.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

New Light on an Old Subject

Mr. Evans from the Lighting Company gave an interesting talk at the Community Hall last night—on how farmers can cut electric bills. For those who missed it, here's a short recap.

Don't try to light up the cobwebs in the rafters. Use a reflector and a smaller bulb will probably do the job. Too many farmers use naked bulbs that waste 50% of the light.

Try using moveable projector bulbs that beam light the way a searchlight does. A couple of these "spots" will often give you better illumination than a gang of juice-wasting overhead lamps.

From where I sit, it's amazing how often we misuse the things we have... like electricity. We also make a mistake if we misuse our right of personal choice—about which candidate to vote for, say, or whether beer or coffee makes the ideal mealtime drink—by trying to force our opinions on others. Respect for the other fellow's point of view should be our "guiding light."

For all kinds of Christmas trees, the best treatment is to stick the tree butt in a pail of water until Christmas Eve, Stevens advises.

If you're buying a live tree in a tub of soil, and hope to plant it after Christmas, don't keep it indoors more than two weeks, says Stevens.

Unless chosen with care, playthings are often the cause of accidents such as lead poisoning, cuts, suffocation, explosions, fire and broken bones.

Here are a few simple rules to keep in mind as you shop for your children's toys.

1. Toys for baby or very young child should be washable, and large enough not to be put into the mouth, ear or nose.

2. Eyes of an animal should be sewed not fastened with pins.

3. Wheels of wooden toys should be attached with screws, not with carpet or thumb tacks.

4. Edges of metal toys should be rolled or turned in and corners should be rounded.

5. Tea sets should be made of material which if broken, will not produce sharp edges.

6. Horns, whistles, bubble blowers, mouth harp or any other type of toy which requires the use of the mouth, should be made strong enough to prevent the user sucking parts of it into his throat.

7. All toys made of lead or colored with lead-base paints should be avoided.

8. Electric toys should have the label of the Underwriters' Laboratories on the cord and on the toy itself to insure safe construction.

9. Kite strings should be made of non-conducting material.

10. All chemical sets are potentially dangerous.

SULKY SLANTS

By Pat Smith

Seems everyone has the Xmas spirit. (Or the spirits out of the bottle), but the old fashion kind. Take Mrs. Reese Harrington, out in front of the Theatre, greeting everyone a happy hello. And as usual Carrington, with his paper under his arm, and a smile on his face hurrying to get his breakfast. No wonder the Journal is picking up in business, if you would see the mail under his arm.

Just a little reminder before I forget it. When you need something here in Harrington, just leave it to some of the Merchants to come to your rescue. Right when I needed my Television set most, or I thought so, Mr. Trotta who was repairing my set came to my Trailer with a new Zenith 21-Inch for me to use a few days. Gosh what more could you ask for, all I was sorry about, I can't use such a large set, as I have a built in place in my trailer for a set. I sure tried. Don't get me wrong all the sets are wonderful now, but I personally like the Zenith set as the screen seems larger to me.

Cahall's also have been very to me about radios. You see I can't use just every kind of a set. Takes a high-powered one out here in these trailers. Betty Cain, Cahall's bookkeeper would even go out of her way to bring a different one.

There's Mr. Wheeler and Mrs. Warrington, all have been grand. For I buy all my things right here in Harrington. You name the electrical appliance, and I have it. Dave says I can start my own store. I have something from every store. Why don't someone really put in an up to date Ladies Shop at the Shopping Center? Or Mr. Black, why don't you move us there and add something really sporty? I think Harrington would support it. Take me, I run off to Milford, to get a pair of white shoes to work in, and my face red when he tells me I could have got the same thing in Harrington at his shoe store called the air tread shoe.

I don't think there is another children store that is as complete as the Star Lite Shop. It is really out of this world. Miss Thorpe you should be proud of it. Take the two variety stores, they have about anything you want. Also the Taylor Hardware, and the Harrington Hardware Store, our Newsstand, the Banks, Stayton's Jewelry Store, and all the rest of the places. Why not Xmas shop right in your own back door?

I noticed Mrs. Marshall out visiting Mrs. Ruth Amato, Wilson Bradley out to visit Dave and I. But of all things I had him repairing my electric toaster about 1 a.m. Oh yes Mr. Trotta was here to get my G.E. set to go.

Was over to the Restaurant on the grounds here yesterday, my first time this year. Pat Hubbards sister, Lucy Moore is running it this year, and don't think she isn't giving the boys out here some to go over. That's all I heard, how good meals. That how I happened good it was. She buys her own meat and has it butchered right fresh and its really good. Just like home cooking, and what a cook she has.

Billy Meyers' little boy, Garry, has his leg in a cast, out here and I know Garry is worrying about Xmas. But he don't have to. Santa will be there just the same Garry. Billy Carter, do you remember when, you told me you were to get a pony and all you got was a toy pony in your stocking?

Another sad thing happened to little Judy Davis. Someone hit her little dog out in front of their home, but not on the road. Gosh how could anyone go out of their way to hit the dog on the side of the road. That's what happened so, Ruth tells me, and the driver didn't stop. Judy thinks everything, even a doll (and now Skippy) will go to Heaven. She is such a sweet child anyway. Hope she has another one by Xmas time. Ruth had Skippy before she and Olin were married. Really a family pet and Judy has grown up with him.

Wonder if Marie and Henry will have the same Xmas party that Helen used to have at the Wonder R? You should have seen the gifts that were exchanged at their party.

Our family are supposed to spend Xmas with us, their first trip to Harrington, but I think those coming from Buffalo won't be able to make it. Seems it keeps snowing up that way.

Dave and I took a trip this past Sunday up above Trenton and was surprised to find snow and ice on the highways. Over around Brandywine was a complete white blanket of snow. Really seemed like Xmas up there. I am not a good driver on ice so I had to turn the car over to Dave. He says I lose my head instead of using it on ice and in mud. I still don't like that kind of driving.

Going up to Mildred and Harold Cains place in Felton and see what they have new to sell for Xmas. They always have something cute in the line of toys. Also to see that darn parrot Mildred has, that talks and has such a good time when the Television is on. He's a bird alright.

Austin Turcotte, our Blacksmith has some rare birds. Guess he has them from all over the world. Oh yes, Wilson Bradley tells me he has a really cute monkey, on the small side. Those are the funniest things to me in the pet line.

Guess I will get busy and send out my Xmas cards and add to our postmaster. Mr. Dill worries about this time of the year.

Reese to Show "Desperate Hours"

The New York Times says, "There could not be a better picture made than "The Desperate Hours", starring Humphrey Bogart and Frederic March, scheduled for showing at the Reese Theatre, Thur., Fri., Sat., Dec. 15, 16, 17. As a story featured in Reader's Digest, and as a stage play, critics were held spellbound. Never such suspense; never such acting, in a picture geared to hold the audience in thrilling interest throughout its entirety. Errol Flynn and Joanne Dru are the featured stars in Allied Artists new Cinemascope presentation "The Warriors", the second feature on what is advertised as the biggest weekend show of the year.

Many have read the year's top seller as a novel, "View From Pompey's Head." Made into a sensational Cinemascope production, it plays the Reese Theatre, Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, Dec.

18, 19, 20. Half White, Half Colored — and what sensational is the theme — frank in it's telling. You'll talk about this picture for days and days.
The management of Movie Center announces that the annual Free Xmas show will be presented Friday afternoon, Dec. 23, at 2:30 p.m. Everybody is invited.

Grade 1—Mrs. Howard
Mrs. Howard's first grade is getting ready for Christmas. We have made Christmas stockings, bells, and chains—also Christmas Cards for our friends.

Gene Manges and Mary Lee Pickett have joined our first grade. Now we have twenty-nine children in our class.

We wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Grade 6—Mrs. Mann
In Social Studies, Mrs. Mann's room is studying about Greece. Many of the ancient Greeks studied about stars or constellations and were named by them. They had ten gods and goddesses. Their leaders were Zeus and Hera. The ancient Greeks built beautiful temples. We have copied the columns of the ancient Greeks. There are three kinds of columns. Their names are Doric, Ionic, and Corinthian. You can find many columns like these in Washington, D. C. We have studied about a few of the great men of Greece. Some of them were Aristotle, Plato, Socrates, Demosthenes, Hippocrates, and Homer. There are many more of them. We are very much interested in it.

Chess Club News
The exhibition for December 7 was postponed to a later date when Lt. Hudson, Delaware State Chess Champion was stranded in Iceland. Jimmy Schiff is back in first place on the club ladder. A tournament for the club championship will begin after the Christmas holidays.

Library News
Our Library shows the Christmas spirit. In a corner, is a tall cedar tree decorated for the occasion. Book covers, chains of colored paper and icicles are used for trimmings.

Many new books have been purchased with the money from the book fair. A few titles of the books are Mozart, Crazy Horse, Clara Barton, Behold your Queen, Everyday life in New Testament Times, Man of Molokai and Adventures of Robin Hood. All should prove very interesting reading.

Grade 5—Miss Long
Miss Long's Fifth Grade has an assembly last Thursday at 9:00. The program was the story of "The First Christmas." We had singing and choral reading. Our mothers and fathers came to attend the assembly and afterward they stayed to see how we are getting along with our work.

Grade 6—Mrs. Donovan
We decorated our classroom on Thursday and Friday. We have four big lights in our room so we festooned them with red and green crepe paper to add color and Reynolds Wrap to make glitter. We took construction paper and made paper bells to hang over the door. Mrs. Malek taught us how to make paper wreaths. On Monday, one of the students brought a tree for our room. On the bulletin board of our room, we have put Christmas cards. On our door, we have a piece of Christmas wrapping saying, "MERRY CHRISTMAS".

We hope everyone has a Merry Christmas.
Sandra Tatman, reporter.

Grade 6—Mrs. Mann
Mrs. Mann's room had a meeting on Monday in which we chose committees for a Christmas party. The chairman of the Refreshment Committee is Billy Parker. The chairman of the Cleanup Committee is Tommy Jones. The chairman of the Entertainment Committee is Bonita Porter. Ralph Wooters brought in a tree and we decorated part of it ourselves. Connie Biddle is bringing lights for the tree.

Girl's Basketball

The Harrington High School girls are just about ready to open their season against the Alumni next Tuesday evening, December 23. In the two practice games played thus far, there was little to choose between our girls and those of Salisbury and Sudlersville. The team is faced with the possible loss of guard and co-captain Alwilda Smith for the opener.

Alwilda is ill with pneumonia. Lack of height is the main team handicap, as it has been for the past several years. The modern game and rules are geared to aid the tall player in girls' basketball. The girls chosen for the Varsity include forwards: Co-captain Joan Shaw, Joyce Hopkins, Bettylee Wix, Barbara Payne, Mary Evelyn Harrington, Mary Ann Montague, and Patsy Jack. The guards are: Alwilda Smith, Viola Vanderwende, Barbara Edwards, Mabel Carpenter, Louise Minner, Jeanne Homewood, Adele Callaway, and Penny Graham.

The Christmas Tree
Older than Christmas itself, and most popular of all symbols, is the Christmas tree.

According to ancient legend, three trees grew near the place where Mary and Joseph spent the first night on their flight to Egypt. The olive, date, and palm tree gave fruit to honor the child. Having no fruit to offer, the pine called upon the stars to rest upon its branches to the delight of the Babe. From that night on, the pine became the favorite Christmas tree.

Early 16th century accounts mentioned Christmas decorations of all kinds and made of all sorts of materials. Centuries have passed since the first Christmas, and many decorations are the result of the Christmas story and legends about the Christ Child. The glittering stars, sweet faced angels, and candy canes come from the story of the vision of the shepherds on the hills near Bethlehem. The story of the lights on the trees has to do with Martin Luther, who saw snow crystals on evergreen trees and thought of an idea to get the same effect. He took candles and put them on the tips of the branches to represent the glittering snow crystals. Today, we use electric lights because it is safer and more convenient.
