CITY ADVERTISES FOR MANAGER AND INCREASES THE SALARY

The municipal government is advertising for a city manager. Elsewhere in this newspaper is an advertisement in which the gist of the requirements for the position are enumerated, with the salary given as $3600 per annum. The ad states that applicants must give their business experience and education in their letters of application.

The letters will be accepted until Wed., Feb. 1.

The current city manager is Norris C. Adams. He has held the position some two years and was reappointed at the annual organization meeting of the City Council earlier this month for 30 days.

Mayor Killen said the request for letters of application for a city manager, and the enumeration of the required qualifications, was being done because of the requirements of the City Charter.

It is reported that there are already two individuals interested in the post—William F. Smith and Norris C. Adams, the incumbent, who is not disqualified because of the increased salary and the additional duties.

The duties of the city manager are multitudinous. As office manager, he is responsible for collection of taxes, accounting and banking correspondence, business appointments, monthly reports and balances.

As superintendent of streets, the city manager must supervise employes (office, police, and street), handle purchases, contracts, repairs, city improvements, and parking meters.

In the water department, he must see that water rents are billed quarterly, must prepare annually a master list of water debtors, and supervise permits, connections, and improvements.

In the general, the list of qualifications for the post of city manager, emanating from the City Hall, states: "The city manager should be well-acquainted with the city attorney and hold necessary conferences. He should acquaint himself with the State Highway Department officials, also various construction companies.

"He should be familiar with legislative functions. He should familiarize himself with city indebtedness, bonds, bank loans, and interest rates, and all financial engagements.

"The city manager should delegate some authority to the office clerk, yet have direct supervision of the responsibilities at all times. He should attend City Council meetings and keep the Mayor and Council advised on all City activities, financial and physical."

MANY PLANS TO RAISE FUNDS FOR MARCH OF DIMES

The March of Dimes in Harrington and adjacent territory is in full swing and, while the receipts to date have not been normal, the local sponsors expect contributions to increase from all sources before February 10, the closing date of the 1956 campaign.

Pupils of the local school are in the process of completing their card collections. Plans for the Mothers March on Polio to be held Tuesday at 7 p.m. by members of the Auxiliary Unit of the C.K.R.T. Post No. 7, American Legion are in process of completion. The bake to be held in the ambulance room of the City Hall beginning at 10 a.m. Saturday, February 4, will be conducted by members of the local Legion Post and is probably the first all-male conducted project of the kind ever held in Harrington.

Betty Oneal Myer is handling the collections at the Kent & Sussex Fair winter training quarters and Ruth Martin is accepting donations from George Sherwin and his employes. Two hundred letters have been mailed soliciting funds from commercial operations and other citizens. The arbitrary quota for this District is $1500, the average donation for the last six years.

Contributions will be accepted at the First National or Peoples Bank. The local drive is sponsored by the C.K.R.T. Post No. 7, American Legion and the auxiliary unit of the post. Committee members are Earl Sylvester, chairman, J. Leonard Horleman, treasurer, and Mary Tucker, president of the Auxiliary Unit of the American Legion post.

Former Governor Elbert N. Carvel is state chairman and William Cavanaugh is the Kent County director.

CHARLES M. THOMAS, SR.

Charles M. Thomas, Sr., 70, died Monday at the home of his son, Walter J. Thomas of Milford.

Mr. Thomas was a carpenter. Besides Walter, he is survived by two other sons, William M., Wilmington, and Charles M., Thomas, Jr., of Newport. Ten grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Services were Thursday at 2 p.m. in the Berry Funeral Home, Milford, with the Rev. Kenneth Kepler officiating. Burial was in Odd Fellows Cemetery, Milford.

FRANCIS M. JOHNSON

Francis M. Johnson, 83, retired farmer, died Monday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Merrill Thistlewood, his only survivor, of Houston.

Mr. Johnson was a member of Houston Methodist Church.

Services will be Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Berry Funeral Home, Milford, with the Rev. J. B. Vaughn, pastor of Houston Methodist Church, and the Rev. W. S. Grant, a former pastor, officiating. Interment will be in Hollywood Cemetery, Harrington.

CHARLIE BRADLEY

Charlie Bradley of Felton, 80, died Monday evening at the Milford Memorial Hospital. Mr. Bradley was a plumber, pump driver and retired saw mill operator.

Born in Delaware, Mr. Bradley lived in Harrington before moving to Felton 60 years ago. At one time he operated a threshing machine for farmers in the area.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Eliza A. Bradley; three sons, Clarence and Ralph Bradley of Felton, and Herman Bradley of Westfield, New Jersey; a brother, Luther Bradley, Dover; a sister, Mrs. Cora Voss, Wilmington, and three grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Saturday from the Berry Funeral Home, Felton. The Rev. Lawson Jump of Denton, Md., will officiate. Friends may call at the funeral home Friday evening. Interment will be in Hollywood Cemetery, Harrington.

Barry Wix Wins Trip to Jersey

Barry Wix, Harrington High School student, has been named winner of the contest to select a title for the new Delaware Ground Observer Corps newsletter, it was announced Monday by D. Preston Lee, state Civil Defense director.

From now on the eight-page mimeographed publication, mailed regularly to over 2,000 volunteer ground observers in the state, will be known as "The Spotter's Gazette," Mr. Lee said.

For submitting the winning entry, young Wix, member of the Harrington observer post, was awarded an expense paid trip to the Air Force Aircraft Control and Warning Center in New Jersey, one of the major radar installations in the nation's air defense network.

As part of his contest award, he was permitted to take along a guest and he chose James McDonald of the Harrington post. Two other observers, both runners-up in the contest, also made the trip. They were Nancy Condon, Newark, and Douglas Calder, Wilmington.

At the New Jersey installation, the four visited the dimly lit operations room, where they watched radar operators tracking distant aircraft. After a briefing on the warning system's procedures, the visitors were shown how ground observer reports play a vital role in providing information which radar cannot obtain, including identification of aircraft types and the presence of low-flying planes.

Next, the visitors listened in on the aircraft controller at the radar site and the pilot of a jet interceptor flying over the area.

Climax of the tour came when the jet, directed by the ground controller, flew directly over the radar site. The observers watched the plane coming in on the controller's radar scope, then stepped outside the operations building to see the jet sweep overhead.

GREENWOOD PTA TO BACK MERGER WITH FARMINGTON

Faced with the alternative of cutting the $600,000 school construction program because of the school district's borrowing limit, the Greenwood Parent Teachers Association has backed up the Greenwood School Board's earlier decision to seek consolidation with the Farmington School District.

At a meeting Monday night, the parent-teacher group offered to provide a committee, including its president, William Fleischauer, to accompany the meet with the people and Board of Education of the Farmington School District to explain the advantages of consolidation.

Outlining the school construction program, which has been approved by the state legislature, H. Geiger Omwake, school principal, said that the assessed evaluation of the district is now about $2,134,000. Since the law provides that not more than 10 percent of the assessed evaluation can be bonded, the maximum amount able to be raised locally is $213,400.

However, the amount required as the local share of the $600,000 program is $240,000, with the state providing the other 60 percent.

Mr. Omwake said a cut in the program would be detrimental for the program as it now stands, does not even include an agricultural building or some of the recommendations of the committees which made surveys two years ago.

He said that at present not much can be done until it discovered what Farmington will do. All pupils in the Farmington School District above the third grade attend the Greenwood School.

The proposed construction includes six new classrooms on the elementary side of the building. Actually, a net gain of four rooms will be realized, since two present ones will then be used for other facilities. Also in the program are: Addition to

Legislature Must Approve Move to New Castle County

Pari-mutuel harness racing may be discontinued at the Kent & Sussex Raceway and the dates raced at Brandywine Raceway, it was revealed this week following a Sunday meeting in New Castle County attended by representatives of the Kent & Sussex Racing Association and the Brandywine Racing Association.

If the representatives secure the approval of their boards of directors, their next probable move would be to get the current State Legislature to approve up to 60 days of harness racing in New Castle County. If this move made, pari-mutuel harness racing will be a thing of the past here, despite the fact that last year's meet was the most successful here in the association's history.

Brandywine now races the 20 nights allotted to New Castle by the Legislature, and ten nights of 20 nights allotted to the trackless Del-Mar-Va Raceway in Sussex County.

Under the proposed plan, it has been learned, franchises would be relinquished by the racing associations in Kent and Sussex Counties and, if the necessary legislation were passed, all 60 nights would go to New Castle County.

From the fragmentary dispatches, picked up here and there, it has been rumored that the local track would be leased by Brandywine as a training track.

In return for relinquishing their franchises, the racing association in Sussex County, and the Kent & Sussex Fair Association, which owns the local racing plant, would receive certain annual amounts from Brandywine, would be represented on the board of directors of the New Castle track, and would be permitted to buy stock in Brandywine Raceway.

The State Harness Racing Commission would also have to approve the transaction but Norman Lynch, the chairman, was quoted in the Wilmington Morning News of Fri., Jan. 20, as saying that he would approve the transfer of racing dates and that he thought the other members of the commission would also approve.

It was also rumored that at the Sunday meeting the committee of Brandywine and Kent & Sussex representatives approved the employment of personnel from the local track where practicable.

Pari-mutuel harness racing started here in 1946 and has been the sparkplug in making the harness horse industry one of the area's most prominent. Last year saw the Kent & Sussex Racing Association's most profitable meet, with the fans sitting in a new all-steel grandstand costing $300,000. This stand was built by the Kent & Sussex Fair Association which rents the racing plant to the racing association.

The first pari-mutuel harness track, in Delaware or Maryland, was the Kent & Sussex Racing Association. Since Brandywine started up, however, there have been disagreements between the tracks over racing dates. Such a ruckus was created three years ago when the State Harness Racing Commission decreed that the local oval should race in May, instead of the fall when conditions were more favorable. The fall dates were allotted to Brandywine, just starting its initial season.

The outcome of this ruckus was that Harrington was also given fall dates.

It received fall dates in 1954 and in 1955 started racing in August.

Only last week, the Delaware Harness Racing Commission awarded Brandywine Raceway a 30-night meet from August 25 thru October 4, with the local track being awarded a 20-night meet from July 30 to August 24.

Because of the racing dates, the Kent & Sussex Fair was scheduled to start July 16, a week earlier than usual.

COUNCIL TO ASK STATE TO LOOK INTO CITY SHORTAGE

The City Council will ask the attorney-general's office to investigate a shortage in the City's funds, it was revealed Tuesday evening at a special meeting of the group.

The shortage was made during the fiscal year, ending Sept. 30, 1955, and was revealed at the annual Citizen's Meeting Fri., Jan. 6, by the auditing firm of Gunnip, Isaacson and Stolper as being $1207.60.

A city official said Tuesday there was no evidence what happened to the money after it got into the City office.

SCALE INACCURACIES

If every pound of meat sold in Maryland was short one-fourth an ounce, the shortage would amount to 7½ million pounds in one year.

This startling statistic was revealed recently by John E. Mahoney, superintendent of weights and measures, University of Maryland department of markets.

Mahoney also said that if every gallon of gasoline sold in Maryland in one year was short two tablepoons, the shortage would amount to nearly 6½ million gallons a year.

This has not happened, Mahoney said, but it could happen if all the scales and gasoline pumps in the state were inaccurate. The department of markets has the general supervision of weights and measures in all of Maryland's 28 counties and is directly responsible in 11 counties where the population is 35,000 or less. Those counties are Calvert, Caroline, Cecil, Dorchester, Garrett, Howard, Kent, Queen Anne's, St. Mary's, Somerset and Talbot.

Baltimore city has its own department of weights and measures but is bound by the same laws as the university's department of markets.

According to law, Mahoney said his department must check the small capacity scales and gasoline pumps in these 11 counties at least once a year. Mahoney defines a small capacity scale as those generally found in grocery and hardware stores.

At the end of 1955 11 per cent (139) of 1,259 scales checked in the 11 counties were found to be inaccurate. The year before, 1,249 scales were checked and 38 per cent (483) were found to be off. Mahoney said that if the scales and pumps could be checked every six months, the inaccuracies would probably be cut to about three per cent.

Of 2,243 pumps inspected in 1955, 14 per cent (313) were inaccurate. In 1954, 2,205 pumps were inspected and 23 per cent were found to be incorrect.

Mahoney said consumers can help cut down the inaccuracies by checking to see that store scales are set on zero. Of the 139 inaccurate scales in the 1955 check, about half were off because the scale was not set at zero. Some grocery managers in the state require their clerks to make hourly checks to see that the scales are always on zero, Mahoney said.

The polls for said election will open at one o'clock, P. M. and will remain open until eight o'clock, P. M., Eastern Standard Time. A polling place will be opened and voting facilities provided at the school building in said School District located at the intersection of U. S. Route 13 and Main Street in the Town of Felton, in Kent County.

The bonds are to be issued to finance a part of the cost of a school construction program which is estimated to cost $237,500, of which $115,000 is to be paid by the School District and $122,500 is to be paid by the State of Delaware. The State Board of Education of the State of Delaware, acting pursuant to Chapter 529 of Volume 50 of the Laws of Delaware, has determined such school construction program to be necessary in and for the School District. Said school construction program provides for the reconstruction and enlargement of the existing school building so as to provide six additional classrooms, an enlarged cafeteria and an enlarged auditorium, and the installation of equipment heating and lighting fixtures suitable for such reconstructed and enlarged building.

Every citizen, male or female, residing in said School District who would be entitled at the time of the holding of said Special School Election to register and vote at a general election, if such general election were to be held at the time of said Special School Election, shall be deemed to be a qualified voter and entitled to vote at said Special School Election, regardless of whether he or she is a registered voter at the time of said election.

At said election voters will be provided with ballots upon which are printed the words "FOR THE BOND ISSUE" and also the words "AGAINST THE BOND ISSUE", each to be separated and each followed by a blank square in which the voter shall mark his choice. By order of the Board of School Trustees of Felton School District No. 54.

Asbury Methodist Church Notes

On Sunday morning at 10:00 o'clock the church school will begin its regular meeting with a period of devotions. In the study classes a new unit of lessons, entitled "A Christian's Attitudes," will begin relating to redemption, gratitude, prayer, right choices, and stewardship will be the subjects for discussion in this field for the next few weeks.

Now would be an opportune time for you to begin attending a class in the church school and evaluate your attitude in the light of Christian teaching. Study materials are graded according to the needs of the various age groups.

Morning Worship will begin at 11:00 o'clock. Fourth Sunday after Epiphany. Music by the Junior & Cathedral Choirs. Sermon by the pastor.

Nursery is conducted during morning worship. Parents who want to attend worship may leave their young children in the Beginners Department of the Collins Building.

Methodist Youth Fellowship Meeting will be held at Trinity Church. Evening Worship will begin at 7:30. Chancel Choir will sing. Sermon by the pastor.

The fuel cards for 1956 will be distributed after the morning and evening services. Those who have not turned in last year's cards are requested to do so as soon as possible.

On Monday evening at 7:30 there will be a Zone 2 meeting of the WSCS in the Greenwood Methodist Church.

Caesar Rodney School News

The Latin II class of Caesar Rodney High School recently held a Roman banquet in the cafeteria of the school.

In accordance with Roman custom the girls wore pallas and the boys togas. Ann Simpson and William Carle acted as hostess and host for the banquet. The serving "slaves" were: Joan Bowler, Jane Draper, Lois Johnson, Lorna Freese, Rose Ann Ross, Carl Michael, Libby Emerson, Beverly Kinney.

The Roman menu consisted of egg salad, fried chicken, lima beans, beets, grape juice and gin gerale. Bowles of fruit decorated the tables and apple pie served for dessert.

Mrs. Elizabeth D. Woodrow, Home Economics instructor, had charge of the food service.

The program featured the singing of Latin songs and was led by Rose Ann Ross with Mary Ann Holland at the piano. The Latin I class also sang.

The guest list included members of the Board of Education, Latin students.

Lois Johnson of the Latin II class served as general chairman for the banquet under the supervision of Mrs. Ira Warrington, Latin instructor.

PLENTY OF PORK ON MARKET

Economical, nutritious, and delicious are the words that most adequately describe pork today. With quantities of good pork on the market and with prices still dropping a little this week, why not serve it often. Barbecued spareribs are so good and with ribs averaging 44 cents a pound, what could be better. Stuffed center cut pork chops is another idea for a week end meal.

Chops will average around 63 cents a pound. These prices and other pork prices will be even lower for the weekend as most fresh pork cuts will be on special sale in many stores.

A reminder for you who have freezer storage space -- it's a good time to buy pork and beef. Retail prices have been running considerably lower than a year ago, and with the many week end specials there are excellent buys to be had. This week look for pork loins, Boston butt and fresh hams; in beef look for round steaks, chuck roasts and rib roasts.

Citrus fruit still leads the list of "best buys" in fruit. Regardless of the recent cold weather in Florida, the quality of oranges and grapefruit is excellent and prices are very reasonable. Try broiled grapefruit for lunch as a pleasant change. Why not give the family orange syrup for their pancakes in the mornings. Now is the time to use these good citrus fruits often. Other fruits that are economical are grapes, avocados and eastern apples.

Eggs continue the downward price trend begun this week. Grade A large eggs have dropped another 4 cents. They are now selling around 60 cents a dozen. Grade A medium are around 65 cents, showing a price reduction of 7 cents in the two week period. Grade B large eggs are down to 63 cents.

STATE OFFICIAL APPOINTED

Herbert D. Cluley, Jr., chief of Delaware's motor fuel tax division in the State Highway Regional Governor of the North American Government Tax Conference, it was learned this week.

The Association membership extends from Canada to the North, Virginia to the South, and Ohio to the West, and is one of four regions comprising all of North America, according to Armand J. Salmon, Jr., of New Jersey, who is president of the group this year. Mr. Salmon appointed Mr. Cluley to the regional post.

Mr. Cluley said that among his new duties will be arranging for the annual conference of the region which will be held at Hotel DuPont, Wilmington, on May 9, 10 and 11. Some 150 government and petroleum company fuel tax experts are expected to attend. Mr. Cluley is the first Delawarean to have received an appointive office from the group.

As regional governor, the Delaware representative speaks and acts for the entire regional area on fuel tax matters, according to Mr. Salmon. He replaces Mr. Charles Briggs of Richmond, Virginia, who served as governor during the 1954-55 fiscal year.

Mr. Cluley has long been a public accountant; serves as mayor of Camden, and is also the current president of the Delaware Mayors Association.

Apprised of the appointment, Governor J. Caleb Boggs said that he was delighted that Delaware had been honored through the appointment of Mr. Cluley.

PERFORMANCE

Largest Selling "8"

in the World...

the FORD V-8

Just look at these official registration figures for the first 11 months—January through November, 1955

Here's why!

People just naturally go for 8 cylinders in the FORD package!

And to a world record extent! Just think, in the first 11 months of 1955 alone, 344,496 more people bought Ford V-8's than bought the two other low-priced competitive eights combined! They even bought 396,589 more Ford V-8's than the next competitive Six!

Of course, the reason the Ford V-8 is the largest selling eight-cylinder car in the world is that more people like its brand of performance—the kind that comes with the car!

These people aren't amateurs in judging engines. Nearly 24 years of building Ford V-8's to supply their demand is convincing proof of that.

And the Ford V-8 of today is the best yet . . . by a country mile! Smoother and quieter—you can scarcely hear it, even with the hood up! Saasier—just ask the highway patrol officer who drives one. He knows it takes a Ford to catch a Ford!

And, for the very practical question of durability—ask a Ford cab driver. He knows how Ford's take it days on end.

So, if it's performance that you want—and wrapped like a gift—the '56 Ford V-8 is your baby.

Come in . . . try it today!

WE MUST PRINT THE NEWS!

We have been assuming, all these years, that the readers of a newspaper realize that a function of the publication is to print the news.

Up until recently, we have not thought it necessary to elucidate on the subject, fearing the reader might take offense at this presumption on his lack of knowledge.

As in the case of the New York Times, we believe in printing all the news that is fit to print, though this is an impossible task.

We have been visited, recently, on two occasions by persons protesting because they figured in newsworthy events and because we printed the accounts thereof.

Had we failed to print the news, we would have been amiss of our duty and deceiving those who paid for this newspaper with the expectations of getting their money's worth.

It is not pleasant, for example, to publish the activities of the police and the courts, particularly in a small community where the writer usually knows the persons involved.

Veterans News

Q -- My daughter is receiving VA compensation payments, based on the death of my husband, a World War I veteran. She is over 18 years old, but is attending school. Will the payments continue during her vacation periods, or will they be stopped when she is not actually in school?

A -- The payments will be continued during vacations, so long as evidence is submitted to VA showing that she was attending school at the end of one term, and plans to resume her studies at the next regular term.

Q -- I want to change the beneficiaries of my GI insurance policy. Must I use a VA form for this purpose, in order for the change to be accepted by VA?

A -- It is not necessary to make the change on a VA form, although it is advisable to do so. You can change beneficiaries by writing VA a letter. Be sure to give your insurance number, full name, address and branch of service. And don't forget to sign your request.

Q -- I want to make an advance payment on my GI home loan. Is there any minimum amount I must pay?

A -- Your advance payment must be at least the amount of one monthly payment, or $100 -- whichever is the least.

Q -- Must a veteran's blindness be service-connected, in order for him to be eligible for special VA aids for the blind?

A -- Not necessarily. To be eligible, the veteran must have a compensable service-connected disability; blindness itself, however, need not be of a service-connected nature.

Sheep Raisers Discuss Lambing

The importance of good lambing practices to profitable returns from sheep raising was the highlight of the meeting of the Delaware Sheep and Wool Association on January 17.

Participating in a panel discussion of lambing practices and problems were Dr. Ernest F. Waller of the Department of Animal and Poultry Industry of the University of Delaware; Dr. W. R. Teeter, State Veterinarian of the State Board of Agriculture; John H. McQuill of Smyrna, and Floyd K. Blessing, Houston, sheep raisers. A wide range of topics beginning with feeding ewes prior to lambing to methods of docking and castrating lambs were considered.

Dr. Teeter showed two films on new sheep diseases for the information of the Association members. These diseases are causing losses to sheep owners and seriously threatening the sheep industry in this country.

At the meeting, Association members adopted changes in the constitution and by-laws among which was a reduction in dues for Association membership. Preliminary plans for the exhibit at the 1956 Kent-Sussex Fair were briefly considered and a decision reached to permit both shorn and wooled wethers to be shown in the market lamb classes.

George K. Vapaa, Kent County Agent, described the program for sheep raisers to be held February 9 during Farm and Home Week at Newark, for which experts in sheep raising from other states have been obtained.

New members attending the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Alden Keene, Middletown; Mrs. W. T. Rahling, Townsend; Mr. and Mrs. George Metz, Lincoln and Mr. Byron Livingood, Lincoln. Charles Rambo of Houston and Tommy Lvingood are the first junior members to join the Association.

Wet Litter Hurts Broilers

Wet litter in poultry houses during the winter months can cut poultry profits through disease, lower weights and by reducing the market grade of broilers and turkeys, according to Wade H. Rice, University of Maryland Extension poultryman.

Wet litter can also cause lower egg production in layers and may mean more egg washing, he said. Ammonia fumes from the litter help to spread coccidiosis infection and often cause breast blisters on the birds.

Insufficient ventilation, spilled water and thin litter are among the chief causes for poor litter conditions in poultry houses, he said. The combination of the birds' body heat and wet droppings make adequate ventilation important.

Fresh air must be brought into the house. For this, Rice recommends opening windows and vents more often. He said ventilating fans are advisable in large houses, but should be used only after the poultryman has found that windows and vents have proved insufficient.

Birds past the brooder stage can thrive and produce eggs economically at house temperatures as low as 40 degrees. Rice said many poultrymen believe poultry houses must be kept at 70 or more degrees in an effort to "keep the birds warm."

Water spillage can be cut by keeping fountain water on the same level as the bird's feet. This prevents the birds from "slinging water on the floor," Rice said.

As the weather gets colder, poultry house litter should be built up. Start gradually in the fall, Rice suggested, with ground corn cobs, wood shavings or other highly absorbent material, and build up the litter so it is at least six inches deep by the first freeze and 10 to 12 inches when steady freezing weather arrives.

James McDowell, 17, State Winner, In Field Crops

James McDowell

James McDowell, 17, of Greenwood, attended the 34th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago last fall as state winner in field crops.

James was able to achieve this recognition through careful attention to crop production practices, such as soil management, selection and treatment of seed proper tillage, and insect and disease control.

He has planted more than five acres in his field-crop project in four years. He learned to test the soil, irrigation methods, how to control insects, and the value of fertilization.

He is a member of the Greenwood Hi-Flyers of Sussex County, led by Mrs. Anne Tucker.

Social Security

Farm operators who have paid as much as $100 in cash wages to any farm employee during the year 1955 should file employer's tax and information return for agricultural employees, H. Leland Brown, District Director, Internal Revenue Service for Delaware announced today.

Mr. Brown emphasized that this annual report of wages paid for agricultural labor must be filed with the Internal Revenue Service before January 31, 1956. The return must show the name, social security number, and wages paid every employee whose wages from the same farmer amounted to $100 or more.

Tax return forms are mailed out about January 1 to those who have previously notified the District Director of having agricultural employees. Farmers, who must make these tax returns and have not yet written for the proper forms, should write the District Director of Internal Revenue in Wilmington, immediately in order to be sure of getting the report filed before the January 31 deadline, Mr. Brown urged.

112 Research Experiments at Extension Dept.

Research men at the University of Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station are engaged in a total of 112 different research projects, it was announced today by Dr. G. Fred Somers, associate dean at the College of Agriculture. Part of the work is conducted at the College farm and laboratories on the Newark campus and the rest at the Georgetown sub-station. The projects range all the way from basic studies into the effects of fertilizers and green manure crops on the molecular structure of soil particles to such marketing surveys as why a housewife will choose on particular broiler chicken in preference to others in the same grocery store display case. An even dozen of the Delaware research projects will be reported on to farmers and other visitors at Farm and Home Week next month, Dr. Somers said. In addition, the Farm and Home Week program will feature latest research developments from many other states which were felt to be of greatest information and use to Delaware farmers at this time. Somers said that the annual Farm and Home Week get-together offers Delaware farmers the best chance they will have all year to listen and ask questions about new farming and marketing methods from speakers visiting here from ten different states.

Delaware Food Notes

Pork is a good buy now -- the stores are well stocked, and the price is reasonable. To make the most of this plentiful supply of pork, use methods of cooking that give a tender texture, fine flavor, the least amount of shrinkage -- and conserve all possible nutritive value. Fresh pork needs to be cooked "done" all the way through to bring out rich flavor and as a safety measure. But thorough cooking doesn't mean overcooking or cooking at such high heat that the meat is dry and hard, and thus unappetizing. Low cooking temperatures are recommended to help save nutrients and the juiciness that makes this meat such good eating. An important point to remember is that pork is safely done when all traces of pink color have disappeared. One check on doneness is to insert a fork deep into the thickest part of the piece and make sure that the juice it draws out has no trace of pink. For roasting an oven temperature of 325 degrees is recommended. Place the roast in an uncovered shallow pan, fat side up for self basting. Add no water. Season either before or after cooking. Here's how long to allow for doneness: In an oven at 325 F., a small pork loin of 2 to 3 pounds takes about 1 1/2 to 2 hours; a 3 to 7 pound loin, 3 to 4 hours; a 6 to 8 pound fresh ham, 4 1/2 to 5 1/2 hours. If these cuts are boned and rolled, allow 10 minutes more per pound. Also allow more time if the meat is very cold. Braising and pan-frying are favorite ways of cooking such cuts as spareribs and pork chops. Here again the low-temperature rule is recommended. In braising, first brown the meat in fat to improve flavor and add color. Then add a small amount of water, cover the pan, and cook slowly until the meat is thoroughly done. In pan-frying, keep the temperature fairly low to moderate and cook long enough for thorough doneness. Cuts with a fairly high percentage of fat like bacon, sausage, and some chops need no extra fat for frying. Start these in a cold fry pan, cook slowly and fry in the fat from the meat.

4-H Crops Judging Contest Next Month The annual Delaware crops judging contest that 4-H Club members from all over the state look forward to each year will be held next month at Farm and Home Week at the University of Delaware campus, says Sam Gwinn, state 4-H Club leader. Last year, some 40 boys entered. The contest was won by William Robb of Westville with a total score of 280 out of a possible 300. Second was Richard Green of Middletown with 270 points. Another ten points down the scale was William Weber of Delmar who won third honors. Supervised by members of the Delaware Crop Improvement Association, the 4-H Crops Judging Contest has become one of the most popular features each year at Farm and Home Week. Each County winner receives a full scholarship to the University of Delaware 4-H Short Course or a trip to the State 4-H Camp. The contest will start at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, February 9 in Ag Hall and the crops to be judged by each entrant will include soybeans, wheat, barley, oats and red clover. To help brush up on their crop judging, 4-H members who plan to enter the contest can attend crop judging training meetings to be held prior to Farm and Home Week. State 4-H leader Gwinn also reminds Delaware club members that they have an opportunity to enter exhibits in the Crop Improvement Show at Farm and Home Week. They can exhibit in any class shown in the premium list but are especially urged to enter Class D, the Ten Ears of Corn Class, which is a special class for 4-H members.

Ag Officers To Train

The county agricultural extension staff has scheduled an officers' training meeting for leaders in the county agricultural groups, home demonstration clubs, 4-H clubs, and related agencies on January 30, at 7:30 P.M., in the Houston Fire Hall. According to Wesley Webb, asst. county agricultural agent, this meeting will provide an opportunity for people in the Milford, Harrington area, who missed a previous meeting at Caesar Rodney School, due to the inclement weather, to receive useful information on planning and conducting a better business meeting. Some of the points to be covered are: what a motion is, kinds of motions, how a motion should progress, methods of handling amendments, and how to present and carry out nominations and elections. Persons attending the meeting will help plan an order of business and conduct a mock meeting. A letter box has been set up on the summit of Mount Kosciuszko (7,305 feet) in New South Wales, Australia.

The Women's Society of Christian Service of Grace Church will meet at the home of Mr. & Mrs. Mart Uhler on January 31 at 8:30 p.m. All members are urged to be present.

A zone meeting of the W.S.C.S. including 18 societies of this area will be held in the Greenwood Methodist Church on the evening of January 30. All societies are invited to be present. The society having the largest percentage of members present will be recognized. The W.S.C.S. of Avenue M. E. Church in Milford will have charge of the devotions and the program, and this promises to be a fine evening.

The Greenwood Band Boosters Association will sponsor the "Miss Greenwood" Beauty Contest that will take place on April 20. On the same evening they are also having a "Miss 1970" beauty contest. This last contest will, of course, consist of our little girls from ages 3 to 6, who will be our future dream girls! The proceeds from this evening will be used only for the band and purposes of the band.

The winner of the "Miss Greenwood" contest will also participate in the "Miss Delmarva" Chicken Festival which will take place in June.

On Saturday evening Grace M.E. Church was the scene of a lovely wedding when Miss Peggy Ann Laughery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Laughery became the bride of Mr. Ronald Burton Case, son of Mr. & Mrs. J. B. Case of Harrington. The ceremony was in the form of a candlelight service and the church was beautifully decorated with candles, white carnations and snapdragons. The Rev. Sulky Slants

By MRS. DAVE (PAT) SMITH

All the talk out here at the track is, wonder when the weather will change? Sure has been terrible the past 3 weeks. But as always the horses will be ready. About this time of year the trainers all begin to get anxious to get going. That's one thing about Pinchurst, N. C. There are so many sandy roads you can jog your horses. Here when the track is bad, it's the road or nothing. Some horses you can take on the road and some you can not. Harry does best he can, but when it freezes that's it.

Dave went down to the movie center to see the short subjects on the Orlando Training Tracks. Said: "It sure looked good. We could see our barn we had a year ago, but not too many of the trainers." He expected to see a lot of Delvin Miller, but they only had a small shot of him. Mostly all were youngsters coming up in the business. But that's what keeps the sport going.

Elmer Wilson has added another horse to his stable, the horse Dave had for Dr. Huber, Richard Lynn, and what a good looking fellow he is. Hope Elmer has some luck with him. They didn't like him up around Buffalo, as he was the one that fell with Dave. But if it had been Janet's Girl, he couldn't have helped it. The horse fell in front of him. In fact, three of them went down. But that is the way it goes. When they get it in for a horse, you better stay somewhere else to race, or turn them out as Dave did.

Mr. and Mrs. Happy Gray returned from a visit to Lewiston, Me., the past week. Their report was it wasn't any worse up there than down here. Rather a dry cold up there. But this has been some winter everywhere. One thing about Harrington, you have service on everything out here at the track.

Kenny Aiken takes care of us for oil and George Tatman takes care of us for milk. Sleet and snow don't stop him. Then there is the bread man, and the cleaners. You get service without going to town unless you have to.

So what more could you ask for? It's just the same as a big city. So, let it snow!

Looks like the new dual highway really is on its way. As you ride along on down toward Greenwood you can see that they are going to town.

"Wonder if the road will be as close as it looks now, in front of Mr. Clukey's place?" "Right now it's right at his front barn door. But won't it be nice when it's finished?"

And another nice ride is the new road over to Denton. No more sharp turns. In fact, no more Burrsville, unless you have business there. If they would ever put a road where you didn't have to go thru Denton, what time you could make over to the Bay Bridge. Oh! Well! You can't have everything!

I wonder how many read the article in the Hoof Beats for January? About the wonderful old horse, "Joe Patchen!" I'm sure the readers of The Journal, unless you take this Hoof Beats you didn't. But it was such a sweet story you couldn't help thinking about it like I have. And here is just a sample of it; I quote:

"In 1954 Joe Patchen was named an immortal by the Hall of Fame of the Trotters. Thirty-six years have faded away. Three women and a little boy went out to the Midfield Farm to look at Joe Patchen's grave. It wasn't hard to find the stone. Wondering, the boy asked, 'How did you know where to find it?'"

"One of the old timers just smiled. They buried him here where he liked to stand so much, she told him. Any one going to Goshen, N. Y., will find a beautiful marker over his grave stating: "Joe Patchen, 2:01 1-4. Born 1889. Died 1917. Greatest race horse of his day!"

The gallant champion that had one more race to win — The Last Mile. But that is something we all have to pass through, even a champion old race horse.

If you can borrow a Hoof Beats somewhere, you will certainly enjoy reading this wonderful story.

Mrs. Merrill W. Thistlewood. He did not arise at his usual time, and when she went to call him to dinner she found him dead. He had passed his 83rd birthday and was the son of the late George W. and Agnes Short Johnson. His parents moved to Houston when he was a very young man and he has lived in the community ever since. He was a member of the Houston Methodist Church and was sexton for a good many years.

His survivors are: his sister, Mrs. Thistlewood, six nieces, Mrs. Agnes Webb, of Houston; Mrs. Gladys Kennedy, of Bear, Del.; Mrs. Evelyn Greenlee, Shawnee Road; Mrs. Edna McCabe and Miss Grace Johnson, Selbyville, Del., and Mrs. Lulu Beauchamp, Maitland, Florida, and one nephew, George B. Thistlewood, Houston.

Funeral services will be held on Friday afternoon at 2:00 p.m. in the Berry Funeral Home, Millford. Interment will be in the Hollywood Cemetery, Harrington.

Felton School News

Commercial Department

Robert A. Herbert has replaced Michael Regan as instructor in the business education department. Mr. Herbert has recently completed requirements for his Masters degree at Temple University, majoring in business education. He has five years experience in schools, largely in the Philadelphia area. In addition to his instructional activities, Mr. Herbert will serve as advisor to the senior class.

Home Economics

Miss Margaret L. Taylor has submitted her resignation effective at the end of this school year. She is seeking a position in the Newark area where her fiancé will be enrolled in the University of Delaware. Miss Taylor has taught Home Economics here and coached the girl's athletic teams for the past five years. The Board of School Trustees is seeking a replacement to carry out these responsibilities beginning next fall.

Betty Crocker Award

The Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow in Felton School is Loretta Hughes.

She received the highest score a written examination which tested the homemaking knowledge and attitudes of senior girls in the graduating class. She will be entered in competition to name this state's candidate for the title of All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow and will also be considered for the runner-up award in the state. She will receive a golden award pin and the school will receive a "Betty Crocker Good and Easy Cook Book."

A miller is the sponsor of the program designed to assist schools in building in young women a deeper appreciation and understanding of the American home and to emphasize through a sound scholarship award program the personal qualities and sense of values necessary to successful homemaking. More than $100,000 in scholarships will be awarded.

Music Department

The Music Department announces the following people have been selected to represent Felton School in the All-Kent County Band: Louise Henry-flute; Elmer O'Day, Richard Rosengren, Mary Ellen Hughes-Clarinet; Dorothy Lomicky, Marie Biggs, Doris Gruwell-Saxophone; Dorsey Hammond, Frank Dill, Ronnie Jester-Trumpet; Marlene Hughes-Trombone; Sarah Gardner, Edmund Bak-French Horn; Janet Sherwood-Bass; Clarence Voshell-Drums.

Rehearsals are being held on Monday evenings and the concert will be on Monday evening, February 20, at the Dover Field House.

Building Program

A brochure giving information concerning the 1956 building program for enlarging school facilities and the referendum for financing the local share of the cost has been distributed to pupils and displayed in the town of Felton. Members of the Parent Teacher Association have volunteered to supply transportation to the school for voters on referendum day, Saturday, February 4.

The building expansion program calls for construction of six additional class rooms and enlargement of both the cafeteria and the auditorium. The State Department of Public Instruction has certified the necessity for these facilities and approved a state contribution of $172,500 for the undertaking. The local district share of the project is $115,000.

Enrollment data shows that the school population has increased 50 percent during the past six years and will increase an additional 55 percent in the next five years. Failure to provide the recommended building expansion would cause a need for double sessions and a reduced program of activities or badly overcrowded classrooms and very poor teaching conditions. The Parent Teacher Association is backing the project to maintain the high standard of education program offered in Felton.

Report Cards
Report cards for the third marking period were issued January 26; the honor roll for the marking period will be published in these columns next week.
