

City to Canvass Properties Adjoining Water Mains

The City Council approved a long-discussed canvass of all property adjacent to the water mains Monday evening at its February meeting, and also approved an ordinance regarding tapping into mains and installation of taps in and outside buildings.

Pointing to discrepancies in the payment of water rentals, and the nonpayment of water rentals, the Council authorized the new city manager, William F. Smith, who takes office officially Tuesday, to request the police to make a systematic and thorough canvass of all property adjacent to water mains in the City of Harrington.

The canvass will show:

1. The building number and street. (If no number is available, then other suitable identification must be shown.)

2. The type of building.

3. In the case of a single-family dwelling, the type and number of taps therein, plus any outside taps must be shown.

4. In case of a multiple-unit dwelling, the type of units therein and the number and type of taps in each, plus any outside taps.

5. All properties adjacent to the City mains but having no connection therewith.

6. All properties adjacent to the sanitary sewer but having no connection therewith.

Under the motion, carried unanimously by the Council, the patrolman on duty must check a minimum of ten properties daily until the survey is completed. Two Councilmen will be appointed to serve as an advisory committee to the city manager.

Furthermore, it was moved that the city clerk prepare a suitable ledger listing the property owners alphabetically and showing the information derived from the canvass, and also that the clerk prepare a cross file listing the properties in Harrington by street and number and showing the owners thereof.

Installation of Taps

The Council also deemed it advisable to pass an ordinance on installation of additional taps in and outside buildings, since water rentals in based on number of taps.

The ordinance reads as follows:

"1. It shall be unlawful for any property owner or agent thereof to tap the City water mains without having first obtained a permit from the City Manager. Said permits shall be issued in duplicate with one copy retained by the owner of the property and one copy being filed in the City office. The fee for such a permit shall be $20. The tap shall not be covered until it has been inspected by the City Manager. Violation of this ordinance shall be punishable by a fine of not less than $20 nor more than $50 for each offense and shall be levied against the property owner and shall be collectible by the City Manager.

"2. It shall be unlawful for any property owner, householder, plumber, appliance dealer, or agent thereof to install a tap within or without a building or dwelling served by City water without first obtaining from the City Manager a permit to do so and stating the proposed work to be done. It shall be the duty of the City Manager to inspect the work after it is completed. Said permit shall be issued without cost. The permit shall be issued in duplicate with the applicant retaining one copy and the other copy being filed in the City office. Violation of this section of the ordinance shall be punishable by a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $20 for each offense. The fine shall be levied against the property owner and shall be collectible by the City Manager."

In response from a letter from the Chamber of Commerce, asking about the condemnation of a property at 37 Commerce Street, and similar properties, the Council voted to write the owner, Thurman Brown. If it gets no reply in 30 days, it will see the state fire marshal.

The new City manager was asked by the Council to see the railroad about improving its East Street crossing.

It was also agreed to request that the City truck use U.S. 13, on its way to the trash dump, instead of an alley running from Clark Street south between Hi-Grade Dairy and Taylor Products.

It was also agreed to improve the alley when the weather permitted.

The 11th International Fair at Ghent, Belgium, will be held next September 8-23.

South Africa has no mink, fox or chinchilla farms as yet, Pretoria notes.

Band Magazine Campaign

by Rae Smith, Band Reporter

On Friday, February 3, all band members started on their annual magazine campaign. Any students in grades 5 through 12 not in the band who wished to participate in the winning of the prizes offered, were also welcomed. This year, approximately 100 students are selling magazines. The campaign will extend from February 3 to February 20.

The purpose of the band's campaign is to purchase more uniforms, and much needed extra instruments.

This year, the goal is set at $1600 in total sales. This will give profit of about $450.00. The band receives a 50% commission on the Saturday Evening Post, Ladies Home Journal, and Holiday magazines. On all other publications, the band receives 30%. New, renewal, and gift subscriptions count alike, as do all special offers.

There are nine high salesman awards. The highest salesman receives his choice of the awards. The second highest receives his choice of the remaining awards, and so on, until all prizes have been chosen. Here are the awards that will be offered:

1. Benrus or Gruen 17-jewel wrist watch; 2. Emerson clock radio; 3. Brownie camera and flash outfit; 4. Deep sea or fresh water fishing set; 5. Wilson basketball; 6. Rhinestone jewelry set; 7. Spalding football; 8. Windsor wallet, pen and pencil set; 9. Windsor wallet, pen and pencil set.

All students selling $20.00 or more in subscriptions will receive all the ice cream they can eat. The high salesman for each day of the campaign will receive a silver dollar. The high salesman the first reporting day, Monday, February 6, was Wayne Welch, with $46.35 in subscriptions. He received an autographed Sheaffer fine-line pen and pencil set.

At the close of the campaign, each student selling $10.00 in subscriptions will receive an opportunity on the drawing award and each extra $5.00 will count toward another chance of winning the drawing award, an Argus 35 MM camera.

Rain Puddles
Rain puddles are so very dandy
For splashing 'round they are handy,
Children like to sail their boats,
On the puddles they can float.
But for cars they aren't so fine,
It's splash, and splash every time,
Mud all over pants and doors,
It seems to rain more and more.

HEALTH

We have been studying the ear and its importance to us. We have written paragraphs about what our hearing means to each of us.

Tourism is second only to sugar as an income source to the island of Barbados.

Argentina's new ambassador to India will be a woman, Buenos Aires learns.

Farm prices in India have been dropping rapidly — considered a good omen.

If we can't hear well we can not hear the instructions of the teachers and others. When we can't hear well we can't learn well. Hearing helps us tell different sounds apart. I like to hear the voices of my mother and father, the whinnies of my ponies, and the roar of the ocean.

Janie Thomas -- 5B

HEALTH

My hearing is important to me for many reasons. First of all, I am glad that I can hear people when they are speaking to me. It would be difficult for me in school if I couldn't hear. I would not be able to enjoy the many things at home as I do now. For instance, I would miss the everyday sounds such as the telephone, television, and the voices of my family. I am very thankful that I can hear.

Carol Smith -- 5B

HEALTH

Hearing is very important because if you can't hear you can't go to school and learn. You could not take part in any of the games or other activities in the school. If you can not hear you might perhaps get run over by a car. It would be hard for you to learn to talk if you couldn't hear.

Janet Darby -- 5B

HEALTH

My ears are important to me because of all the different sounds I enjoy hearing. Some of these sounds are: daddy's whistling, people's laughing, music I dance to, and sounds of the ocean.

High scorers for Harrington were Shaw, 17 points and Payne, 10 points. High scorers for Milton were Millman, 13 points and Conrad, 8 points.

Snow's Lions won a 51-33 victory over the Milton hoopsters, with Darby 18 points, and Dennis, 10 points, leading the way. High scorers for Milton's team were Reynolds, 17 points, and Jefferson, 7 points.

Audience participation and support has improved considerably, but we still urge more to come out. There are still some empty bleachers shining here and there.

Salisbury's basketball Vets staged a second half rally to upset Laurel's Eastern Shore League leaders, 92 to 86, at Laurel, Monday night and reduced Laurel's margin to a half-game over title Dover.

Another surprise was produced at Harrington, where the host Legionnaires were dealt a 78-77 set back by last-place Lewes.

Salisbury, moving into a tie for third place, trailed at halftime 33-37, went ahead, 63-62, at the three-quarter mark and clung to the one point margin through the final session. And the victory was accomplished without the services of league scoring leader Nick Scallion, who was sidelined with a foot injury.

Marv Long pelled Scallion with 23 points while Dick Long and Roland Foskey aided with 20 points each. Dick Evans salvaged game honors for Laurel with 24.

Lewes led most of the way in edging Harrington, the big difference in Lewes' favor being at the foul line, where the winners made good 20 of 23 free throws. Harrington converted only 13 of 33. One of the season's brightest performances was turned in by 6-5 Paul Wilson, the former Wesley ace, who had the night's high of 33 points for Lewes.

March of Dimes Approaches Goal

The 1956 March of Dimes for Harrington, Farmington and vicinity has received contributions totaling $1350.67 as of Wednesday. Last week's Mothers' March on Polio resulted in a collection of $342.47 and the bake held last Saturday totaled $150, despite the hard rain.

The Legion Committee expresses its sincere thanks to our residents who contributed so generously of edibles and also to those who purchased. It also recognizes the assistance given by Mrs. T. B. Holloway, Mrs. Hewitt Smith, Mrs. Theodore Harrington, Mrs. Earl Sylvester and the Harrington Volunteer Fire Company and its Ambulance Committee, in conducting the bake.

All figures indicate that $100 is needed to enable this district to meet its quota of $1500. Contributions will be received at both the First National and Peoples Bank until Feb. 15. All citizens who have not donated to this great fight against polio are urged to do so in order that the quota may be reached, and that all children will be able to "walk, run and play." Seventy thousand victims of this dreaded crippling are depending on the people for aid and millions of children and adults are depending on the people to aid in the prevention of Polio. A full report on the 1956 March of Dimes for this district will be given following the close of the drive.

TRANSFER OF RACE MEET APPROVED BY FAIR DIRECTORS

The board of directors of the Kent & Sussex County Fair, Inc., approved transfer of the 20 parimutuel harness racing days from here to Brandywine Raceway Friday night at a meeting in the Fire House.

About 50 of the 80 board members were present for the meeting, but the vote was 24 for the transfer, against 12 against the move. The remaining members either did not vote, or left the room when the voting began.

The transfer will have to be approved by a law in the legislature, now in session, before it can go into effect. Under the current law, Brandywine, north of Wilmington, has the 20 days racing allotted to New Castle County and ten days from the Del-Mar-Va Raceway at Georgetown, in Sussex County. The remaining ten days of the Sussex County allotment under present law, can be raced at the local track, but never have. Under the proposed move, Brandywine would also have the franchise for the Sussex County track.

This would give Brandywine a minimum of 50 days of harness racing, with a possibility of 60 days if the Delaware State Harness Racing Commission approves. The commission has already indicated it approves the transfer.

Last month, the commission approved 20 days of harness racing, to start here July 30. If the deal goes thru in the legislature, and if the maneuver is not stopped by court action and receives approval of the Department of Internal Revenue, this racing will be lost.

In the meantime, the dates of the Kent & Sussex Fair, at first set for the week beginning July 16, have been moved back to the last week in July.

T. Brinton Holloway, secretary and general manager of the raceway, said the transfer of the dates, which called for the parimutuel races here to be eliminated and raced on Brandywine's track in 1956 and annually thereafter, would not affect the fair schedule of the harness racing, without betting, that is usually held at the fair.

"We will continue to have four days of harness stake racing in conjunction with the fair, for both two and three-year-old, trotters and pacers. As usual, we will attract top drivers with purses upward of $40,000 that will be offered," the secretary said.

Maryland Tracks Have Potential

Holloway also said, "We figure it is in the best interests of racing in Delaware to combine the racing dates. The potential with which such Maryland tracks as Laurel, Baltimore, and Washington possess is too great. It would be impossible for us to compete successfully with them."

Opponents of the plan have been pointing out that Harrington has been competing successfully against the Maryland tracks, and that it had its most successful season last year when it earned figures from $90,000 to $96,000.

Most of the improvements, the opposition replied, including a new all-steel grandstand costing more than $300,000, has been put on the fairgrounds from the returns from harness racing.

The proponents of the move say that now is the time to make the move, when business is good.

HARRINGTON MAN ATTENDS FARM SERVICE CONCLAVE

Thomas H. Peck, of Harrington has returned from a two-day farm conference at Salisbury which was conducted by Southern States Cooperative for managers and employees of its local service agencies.

The school was especially designed to help agency personnel to become better acquainted with the products and services of the cooperative so they in turn will be better equipped to serve Southern State's 320,000 members. The conference was conducted by officials and top distribution and purchasing men from the cooperative's central offices in Richmond, Va.

The conference is one of nine meetings scheduled being held at various points throughout the six-state operating territory of the organization. The cooperative, which is one of the nation's largest owned farm organizations has agencies in Kentucky, Virginia, Tennessee, Maryland and Delaware.

Talks were presented on seed, feed, fertilizer and farm supplies at the meeting.

The Victory, Nelson's flagship, is so ravaged by the death-watch beetle that restoration will take 20 years and cost $1,400,000, it is estimated in London.

Greenwood

The Greenwood Chamber of Commerce will hold its regular meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 14th, in the Firemen's bldg., at 8:00 p.m. The guest speaker will be Dr. Thomas G. Gulton, manager of the Sussex County Experimental Farm on the highway near here. This will be an open meeting and everyone is invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Case moved to Wilmington on Saturday and are now at home to their friends at 57 Clifton Park Manor, Wilmington, and while we wish them the best of luck, we are sorry to see our young people move away from our community. However, until our little village expands enough to provide economic security for more people it is inevitable.

Here at Trail's End we are once again browsing through the seed catalogs, and it would seem that this one time we enjoy our flower garden with unmitigated bliss. The beautiful colored pages of lush flowers and robust vegetables are entirely believable at this stage of the game. No thrip flies hover over the "glads," no Japanese beetles mar the lovely perfection of the marigolds and zinnias; and, I notice, they do not picture any small bantam hens industrially digging away at the petunias either! Oh! well, we shall probably manage to salvage a few to "pretty up" the house, and every flower that blooms is a small miracle in itself.

They Torqued it up for the BEST TAKE-OFF YET

First thing you need in a car, of course, is power to its own velocity.

And you get that in a 1956 Buick in plenty—from big 322-cubic-inch V8 engines that hit new highs in horsepower and compression.

But the power under the hood must be carried to the rear driving wheels in the form of twisting force on the drive shaft.

That's torque—the end-product of your transmission.

And the higher the torque build-up—the greater the "torque multiplication" in starting and accelerating—the better the getaway and response.

So if you want to feel take-off that leaves your breath behind you, come try a '56 Buick with Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

For in this airplane-principled transmission, Buick engineers raised the ceiling on torque to give you the best getaway yet.

They did it with something they call "double regeneration"—a new way to make flowing oil add to its own velocity.

And when you use the full torque of a Buick beauty like the one pictured above, you're using the highest torque multiplication to be had in any standard-production American automobile today.

Come see for yourself what that means in new thrills and new safety.

You'll find brilliant new getaway response in the first inch of pedal travel—plus greater gas mileage to boot.

You'll find an electrifying new safety-surge of full-power acceleration when you floor the pedal and switch the pitch.

Delaware Food Market Report

by Ann Holberton, Agricultural Extension Service, University of Delaware

Best meat buys for the weekend food shopper are to be found among the specials being featured at the meat counter. Included are fresh turkeys weighing 15 pounds and up (the butcher will cut these in half), frying chickens, steaks, roast beef, plate beef, picnic hams, bacon and frankfurters.

Have you ever served miniature hamburgers? They're small ground beef patties placed in buns about one half the usual size. Order these buns from the bakery or make your own. Shape the meat into patties to fit the buns and broil as usual. Serve with favorite relishes and sauces.

You'll really appreciate the economy of ground beef when you entertain a crowd of people at a Valentine Day Party or perhaps a party to celebrate leap year. One pound of meat should make eight or ten miniature 'burgers.

Eggs continue to decline in price. Grade A large eggs, averaging 61 cents today, lost 11 cents on their price tags in January. Grade A mediums now 57 cents, lost 14 cents. With eggs tein, it is an excellent idea to use them often.

Start the day right with a of citrus fruit, eggs and bacon, all three buys this week.

Green cabbage shares the spotlight with potatoes as a good vegetable buy. Use cabbage raw in cole slaw or in crisp vegetable salads so you may benefit from the green leaves which are rich in vitamins. Combine both vegetables (potatoes and cabbage) in a New England dinner for a real tasty treat.

Other vegetables that are good buys are carrots at 17 cents a package, (average price), celery at 16 cents a bunch; lettuce at 17 cents a head rubanages at 7-8 cents a pound.

Green beans, cucumbers, peppers, tomatoes and many leafy vegetables are high in price with quality poor to good. Fresh collards and curly kale at 2 pounds for a quarter, offer the best buys among the greens.

Ten-Ton Tomato Club
Winners Announced

A Middletown tomato grower, one from Camden, and a 12-year old 4-H Club member from Smyrna were the only Delawareans to gain the charmed circle of membership in the Ten-Ton Tomato Club this year, it was announced yesterday at Farm and Home Week on the University of Delaware campus. They are William Haas, Joseph Jackewicz and 4-H'er Jimmy Staats.

Haas grew an average of 12.8 tons of tomatoes per acre on 2 1/2 acres last season on his farm near Middletown to become top winner in the senior division of the Tomato Club Contest. Jackewicz averaged 10.1 tons yield per acre on 20.9 acres near Camden for second place. Jimmy Staats of Smyrna grew a little over 11 tons on his one acre 4-H tomato project to win first prize in the junior division.

Also winning prizes in the junior contest for the excellence of their 4-H tomato projects were Michael Timko and Harvey Ivins, both of Harrington. Their yields were not revealed.

Haas, only 21, has been a first prize winner in the junior contest previously and his father captured top honors in the senior contest twice in recent years. Jackewicz is no newcomer to the 10-ton Club either, although he has never been one of the top winners before. He made the club last year. Jimmy Staats, too, is a veteran winner. Last year he came in second in the junior contest. He has only been carrying on his 4-H tomato project for 3 years.

Both he and Haas were awarded watches as first prize winners at the Farm and Home Week ceremonies. C. Fred Fifer of Wyoming, chairman of the Delaware Ten-Ton Tomato Club committee made the awards. Jackewicz and Timko were given desk pen sets for their second prize award and Harvey Ivins received a wallet for earning third place in the Junior Contest.

Commenting on the fact that only two growers in the senior division of the contest qualified for the Ten-Ton Club, Robert F. Stevens, Extension Horticulturist at the University of Delaware and a member of the Ten-Ton committee, said that poor weather made the 1955 season the worst tomato year for a long time. In 1954, 34 growers qualified as members of the club, while in 1953, no less than 66 qualified. Other neighboring states also have reported poor weather and yields for the '55 crop, he said.

Britain will have to stop the inflationary spiral in shipbuilding costs if its yards are to get the jobs, Walter C. Warwick, head of the Royal Mail Lines, said in Belfast, Northern Ireland.

London now has "smokeless zones."

Blue Cross Covers Long Illnesses

The trustees of Group Hospital Service, Inc., the Delaware Blue Cross - Blue Shield Plan, at their board meeting on January 30, 1956, authorized the offering of the new "extended benefits" contract to Blue Cross groups "as quickly as possible."

The action followed a large number of inquiries on the new plan for extended health benefits which has been tried out since December 1, 1955 with one large group of Blue Cross members -- about 60 employees of Hercules Powder Company.

The new "extended benefits" program is designed to cover many the costs, not already covered in Blue Cross Plans, that are encountered in long term illnesses like cancer, heart disease and diabetes, and in major accidents and operations with long recovery periods. It provides 730 days of coverage with all the Blue Cross - Blue Shield benefits, plus some additional ones.

Now the new plan, which is a supplement to the Blue Cross - Blue Shield Plans, will be available to other large groups, when enrollment regulations are developed. The new plan will be offered to groups larger than a minimum size. What the size must be to qualify for the plan at the outset was not yet known last night.

The membership fees for the extended coverage are $1 a month for single person and $2 a month for family contracts.

The trustees were informed yesterday at their annual meeting that the amount of hospital use by Blue Cross members last year was considerably higher than was expected. The financial result was that, while the plan did not operate in the red, it was able to put aside only 1.8% of income from members. The Blue Shield, or surgical-medical plan, on the other hand, was able to put 10.1% of its income from members into the reserves.

In the Blue Cross, or hospital plan, total income from members was $3,962,846.24 during the year. Payment of claims used up $3,592,218.02, or 90.7% of that income. Another $298,713.24 - or 7.5% - was used for operating expenses, leaving $71,914.98 out of income from members to be put in reserve.

In the Blue Shield, or surgical-medical plan, the income from members was $2,745,256.64 and payment of claims used up $2,264,855.79, which was 82.5% of that income. Operating expenses came to $202,359.71, or 7.1%. The amount left for reserves was $278,041.14.

Officers and public members of the board of trustees were reelected at the meeting. The officers are: F. A. Wardenburg, president; J. F. McCloskey, vice president; H. B. Robertson, treasurer; and Henry M. Canby, secretary.

Public members reelected are: Max Bell, Henry T. Claus, Philip Rhoads, Eugene Perry and Chas. Boyer.

COATI

Whether we read the accounts of early explorer naturalists or those of current tourists in Mexico and Central America we are likely to hear of the antics of coatis. They may be seen in zoos but they apparently are at their best in a semi-wild condition where they are frequent visitors to camps.

A male Coati may measure over four feet with half its length being a highly eloquent tail. The animal may stand a foot high at the shoulder and weigh nearly 30 pounds. Usually they are smaller however, with the males being larger than females.

Coatis walk flat footed and each foot shows five toe marks. The nail marks may or may not show. The track looks something like that of a cat only it is half again as large and the toe pads are more elongated and are usually closer together.

It is reasonable that these animals should remind one a raccoon because the two animals are closely related. Coatis like raccoons can swim, climb and are good travelers on the ground and they are more likely to be active in the day time than are the raccoons and are apparently least active around midnight or noon. Like raccoons Coatis feed upon a variety of things. They may eat birds and their eggs, insects in various stages of development, crawfish, mussels, squirrels, mice and other small animals. They also like fruits such as apples, peaches and berries.

The young are born in spring or early summer about 11 weeks after mating. There are usually from 4 to 6 young in the litter.

Coatis are found within the United States - in Texas, Arizona and New Mexico - but always rather close to the Mexican border. Apparently they are pushing their range farther to the north as seems to be the case with so many other animals.

Coatis are clowns when they want to be. They have a varied group of sounds which they produce -- grunts, screams, snorts, whistles and hisses -- with each probably signifying a different reaction of the animal to the situation which it finds itself.

This unique mammal is of interest to the student of nature who visits its range in the Southwestern United States. And despite its occasional troublesome habits where it lives near man, it has a definite place in those animal communities of which it is a part.

Dr. E. I. Robertson

Dr. E. I. Robertson, Director of Nutrition for the John W. Eshelman and Sons Mills of Lancaster, Pa., who appeared on the Poultry Day sessions at Farm and Home Week on the University of Delaware campus earlier this week.

A former professor of animal nutrition at Cornell University, and widely known to poultrymen in Delaware and elsewhere in the East for his reports on feeding poultry and livestock, Robertson concentrated at the Farm and Home Week session on problems of feeding poultry under 'stress' conditions. He outlined feeding methods that can be used as a means to keep poultry flocks in tip-top health when diseases or sickness threaten.

Social Security Notes

During the month of December 1955 close to 18,000 persons in Delaware received benefit checks under the federal old-age and survivors insurance provisions of the Social Security Act, Myron Milbourn of the Wilmington social security office reported today. These benefits were payable because these persons had protection under the social security law. This protection has now been extended to farm operators who may qualify for benefits as early as the middle of 1956, depending on their age and type of crop produced.

Thus Delaware's self-employed farm operators (including tenant farmers) may find themselves qualifying for retirement benefits under this program when they reach 65. Should they die insured under the program, their survivors may also qualify for benefits. The year 1955 will be the first time that earnings for operating a farm can be reported for this protection, Milbourn added.

Farmers who have net earnings of $400 or more from their 1955 farming operations should write the District Director of Internal Revenue, in Wilmington, for the proper tax return forms if they have not filed income tax returns in past years.

Requests for information regarding tax return forms due should be directed to the Delaware District Director of Internal Revenue, Wilmington. Questions concerning the benefits payable under social security should be directed to the social security office at 813 West Street, Wilmington.

Questions and Answers

Q - A friend of mine is drawing extra pension payments because he needs constant nursing care. Would his extra pay be stopped if a member of his family provided this care, rather than someone he hired for the purpose?

A - The extra payments would not be stopped if he receives nursing care from a member of his family.

Q - I am going to college under the Korean GI Bill. I want to change a couple of my courses without changing my goal. Would these changes be considered as my one-and-only change of program?

A - They would not be considered a change of program, so long as they did not involve (1) material loss of credits or (2) an extension of the time originally planned for completing your program.

Q - I have been told that VA will waive my GI insurance premiums because I have been totally and permanently disabled for six months. I also was advised to keep on paying my premiums in the meantime, until VA informs me that I may stop. Will those premiums be refunded to me?

A - Yes. Premiums covering the period when the waiver is effective will be refunded to you.

Q - Is there a deadline before which disabled Korean veterans must start vocational rehabilitation training?

A - There is no starting deadline for disabled Korean veterans. However, they must begin in time to finish before the completion deadline. For veterans discharged before August 20, 1954, this deadline is August 20, 1963. For those discharged after August 20, 1954, it is January 31, 1964, or nine years after separation, whichever is earlier. In some instances, these deadlines may be extended.

Kent County News Notes

Garlic in pastures is one of the most serious weed problems encountered by dairy farmers. It results in off-flavoring of milk, and, of course, financial loss to dairymen when the milk is not acceptable at the creamery.

According to Wesley Webb, assistant county agent, farmers attending the recent Dairy Feeding and Management meeting at Felton heard Bill Mitchell, University of Delaware extension agronomist advise the use of 2, 4-D in ridding pastures of this troublesome weed. The ester form of 2, 4-D should be applied in March or October at a rate of 1 lb. active ingredient in 5-10 gallons of water per acre.

Mitchell pointed out that, although some injury may occur to clovers in the pasture mixture, it is more important to concentrate on killing the garlic and place less importance on injuring the clover, since the pasture is of little value with the garlic in it. To compensate for the lowered productivity of the pasture due to the loss of clover, it is advisable to make an application of 500 lbs. per acre of 10-10-10 fertilizer along with the March application of 2, 4-D. Top dress with an additional 50 pounds of nitrogen in late May or June.

State Dairy Award Winners are Named

Five Delaware dairymen and three of the state's Dairy Herd Improvement Association supervisors were honored at Farm and Home Week ceremonies on the University of Delaware campus yesterday when they were presented with cash prizes and bronze plaques for outstanding achievement in dairy herd management and record-keeping. Dr. Roy Davenport of the Supplee-Willis-Jones Milk Company of Philadelphia, Pa., presented the awards which are sponsored by the National Dairy Products Co.

Winners among the farmers were C. D. Buck of Buena Vista Farm, New Castle, who received a bronze plaque and $50 for first place. Buena Vista's farm manager, Horace Larrowe, accepted the award.

Second prize went to Tull Brothers of Sussex Farms, Seaford; they received a plaque and $40 cash. Third was Joe Moore and Son, Dover, who won a $30 award. Fourth was R. V. Stallard of Seaford, who was given a $20 award. Fifth prize winner was H. Wallace Cook and Sons, whose postoffice address is Elkton, Md.; they won a prize of $10 cash.

Delmar Young, extension dairyman at the University of Delaware, who helped judge the contest, said that these 5 farmers were selected from a list of 21 of the outstanding herds in the state that are listed on the National Honor Roll of the National Purebred Dairy Cattle Association. He pointed out that all five farms had excellent milk production, fine herd management and excellent forage and pasture programs.

The herd on Buena Vista Farm, registered Guerneys, averaged 10114 lbs. of milk per cow and 450 lbs. of butterfat. It's best cow, a 6-year old named Roamer's Diana, became the first Guerneys cow in the United States to produce over 20,000 lbs. milk per year on a twice-a-day milking and still meet calving requirements necessary for her record to become official.

Tull brothers also own one of the nation's outstanding cows. She is a 15-year old Holstein that ranks seventh in the United States with a lifetime record of 215,770 lbs. of milk produced.

One of the main reasons why the Moore farm was honored was that their feed cost for producing milk was lowest of all. The Stallard herd led its county Dairy Herd Improvement Association last year and the Cook farm was ranked high both for its herd and its pasture and forage program.

The three Dairy Herd Improvement Association supervisors honored along with these dairymen at Farm and Home Week were David L. Mast of the New Castle DHIA who won first prize of a bronze plaque and $75 in cash; John Hartman of Georgetown who received $50 for second place; and Willis Geiser of Newark who won $25 cash for third place. Hartman previously won first place in this contest last year.

All three supervisors were selected for this honor by the board of directors of the Delaware Dairy Herd Improvement Associations, Inc.

A New Dish

Potatoes are a good buy now, so try a different way of serving them -- this is a main-dish recipe using potatoes and eggs:

-- Eggs Farmentier --
3 cups hot well seasoned mashed potatoes; 1 tsp grated onion; 3 tbsps butter; 6 eggs; 1/3 cup grated cheese; Water cress or parsley.

Be sure that the mashed potatoes are perfectly smooth, and well seasoned with butter salt and pepper and the grated onion. Divide into 6 portions and form hollowed-out nests of these on a well greased baking pan. The mixture may be placed on the pan with a spoon or passed through a party bag and tube. Put 1/2 tablespoon of butter in each nest, break in the raw eggs. Season with salt and paprika and top with the grated cheese. Bake in a low oven (350 degrees F.) 12 min., or until the eggs are set and the potato delicately browned. Transfer carefully to a platter and garnish with water cress or parsley. If large-sized paper baking cups are available the nests may be made in these, and then served right in the cups. Serves 6.

The Department of Public Welfare Is O. K. By Us

Once upon a time we had a verbal tussle with the Department of Public Welfare concerning a "relief" case in Kent County. We thought the department was too lenient in this case.

However, we believe in giving the department credit when it is due. We have often thought the state group could do a good job of public relations by giving case histories, things easily digestible by the reading public.

Recently we received a copy of "People in Need," a monthly publication of the Department of Welfare, with the signature of Edgar Hare, Jr., a director. It gave an excellent example of the department's work, viz:

"Late in the afternoon, just a few days before Christmas, a phone call was received from the Sussex County Health Unit saying that Mrs. W. and her 5 children were in desperate need of food and fuel. The workers visited that evening and found that about a week earlier Mr. W had been sentenced to the prison farm. The family was living on a marginal income, and each week Mr. W's pay check fell far short of meeting the weekly needs of the family.

"Mrs. W. had $1.07 on hand, a few beans for food, and very little wood for fuel. There were five children, the oldest of whom was seven years of age.

"The house was located in a back-woods area, 4 1-2 miles from the nearest store, and 1 1-2 miles from improved roads. There was no car, and while an emergency food order was given, Mrs. W. had no way to get to a store. The worker, although it was well past her working hours, took Mrs. W. to the store, arranged for a neighbor to stay with the children, and to pick up Mrs. W. and bring her home later. The same neighbor also arranged to bring enough wood to last until a fuel order could be used.

"Using community resources known to her, the worker arranged for Christmas presents in the form of coats and toys for each of the children. Because of the assistance available through the Department of Public Welfare, and the worker's knowledge of community resources, this family was able to have food and fuel and a few presents."

We have always advocated that drives for funds, such as the March of Dimes, the Cancer Funds, etc., could do a better job of public relations by informing the donors as to how their money is being spent, thru the medium of case histories.

Letter to the Editor Felton School News

THE PEOPLE SPEAK

Last Friday evening at the Board of Director's meeting of the Kent & Sussex Fair, Inc., it was decided by a vote of 22-12 to sell out the 422 stockholders and all of the loyal and patriotic harness race enthusiasts of lower Delaware and nearby counties of Maryland and Virginia to Brandywine Racing Association located just north of Wilmington, Del.

In order to complete this shift of racing dates it will be necessary to change the present Delaware Harness Racing Laws by an act of our State Legislature. Each of our State Senators and Representatives have been sent a letter fully explaining the people's opposition to this shift, however, I should like to suggest that every loyal harness race fan contact their local Senator and Representative and as many other State Legislators as possible expressing our opposition in hopes that they as representatives of the people of Delaware, will help us to keep the harness racing industry in Harrington and lower Delaware whereby those 22 gullible fair directors turned a deaf ear to our pleas.

Signed: A Loyal Harness Race Fan, Public Spirited Citizen and Stockholder of the Kent & Sussex County Fair, Inc.

Despite a "mystery disease" which struck down nearly 100 nursing students early in 1955 at Addington Hospital in Durban, South Africa, the hospital remains popular, with a waiting list and 271 student nurses.

School Building

At the referendum held Saturday, voters of Felton School District registered. Voters overwhelmingly approved a new bond issue to finance additional school construction. The vote was 180 for the bond issue, and 34 against. Sixty percent of the cost of the program will be borne by the state.

The Felton School Building Commission will now take the necessary steps to advertise and prepare for the sale of local bonds in the amount of $115,000 while the architects, Dollar, Bonner, and Blake of Wilmington are preparing plans and specifications for submission to prospective bidders.

It is hoped that construction can begin early in June and that the program will be completed and all new facilities ready for use in September, 1957.

Civil Defense Instruction
Harry C. Smith, State Supervisor of Health and Physical Education, is conducting a course in First Aid instruction for teachers of State Board Schools in Kent County.

Schools affected are operating on short day schedules while some forty-two teachers are receiving this special instruction for possible use in case of enemy attack, or any disaster which might threaten school pupils.

The project is under the general supervision of Charles H. Smith, Rural Elementary School Supervisor for Kent County, and Deputy Director of Civil Defense for Delaware Schools.

The course begins February 7, and will end February 14.

Sports

Next week, the Green Devils travel to Harrington on Tuesday, and Greenwood on Friday. They defeated Milton last week, but lost to a strong Selbyville combine. Their record stands at this point five wins and seven losses.

The girls will play the preliminary for both games next week. They have won four games while dropping six.

Queen Chosen

Maureen Hoffner has been elected by the student body to represent Felton School as Queen of Hearts this year. She will be escorted to the dance at Smyrna High School by Ralph Dill, president of Felton Student Council, and crowned by Dorsey Hammond, president of Kent County Student Council.

Music Department

All students in chorus and band are looking forward to their field trip to Philadelphia, Pa., February 18.

They are planning to see Cinerama Holiday at the Boyd Theater, and make tour through the Franklin Institute.

MARBLE ALTAR IN ST. BERNADETTE'S

Some sort of a record in ecclesiastical circles, no doubt, was made at St. Bernadette's during the past week when the third altar was installed in a Church that is not yet three years old. The first altar had previously been used in St. Edmond's Church in Rehoboth Beach; the second one came from St. John's Church in Milford. The present altar, while new to St. Bernadette's, has been in use elsewhere. It served as the main altar in St. Helena's Church, just north of Wilmington, from the time the parish was founded in 1936 until last year when a new church was erected.

Both other altars in St. Bernadette's were wooden ones; the present one is marble. The major portion of the newly installed altar is of Botticino marble. In contrast and serving as border panels are five inch strips of Rosso Amiato marble.

The front center panel beneath the mensa has inscribed onto it an I H S, the beginning of the Greek word for the sacred name of Jesus. A cross also forms part of this design. On the panel at the Gospel side of the altar is the first letter of the Greek alphabet, the Alpha. On the panel at the Epistle side of the altar is the last letter of the Greek alphabet, the Omega. These two letters remind us of what St. John tells us in the first chapter of his Apocalypse: "I am alpha and omega, the beginning and the end, saith the Lord God, who is and was and who is to come, the Almighty."

The base on which the altar has been erected by a group of men of the parish, including Messrs. Steve Kliment, Joseph Makovec, Robert Nelson, Alphonse Vogl, and Ernest Vogl. The work of setting the marble panels was handled by William Sipple, Jr., of Milford.
