

BILL TO TRANSFER HARNESS DATES NOT INTRODUCED AS LEGISLATURE ADJOURNS FOR RECESS OF THREE MONTHS

Chances are good that the annual pari-mutuel harness meet, scheduled here for 20 nights, beginning July 30, will take place, despite attempts to transfer the dates to Brandywine.

Legislation would be required to transfer the dates from Kent County, and this was not realized when the marathon General Assembly adjourned early Saturday morning for a three-months recess, to convene again at 8 p.m., May 28.

The bill was not introduced by the House which had its hands full as the recess neared at 2:32 a.m. In fact, it appeared for a time that the House would adjourn earlier because of difficulty in securing a quorum. As it is, the House is getting considerable criticism because it adjourned before the Senate which had two very important bills needing the signature of the Speaker of the House.

For several evenings racing fans from this area appeared in Legislative Hall to protest the bill to transfer the harness racing dates. Some persons thought it was a bad time to introduce the bill, particularly since this was an election year.

The Board of Directors voted to approve the transfer, premised on the arguments it was eliminating arguments over racing dates with Brandywine and strike out fear of competition from Maryland tracks. In return, Brandywine was to give the fair association annual monetary considerations and operate the local training track.

Candidate for Senator

Peter Nechay

Nechay Tosses Hat Into Ring for Senator

The first member of the 118 General Assembly to disclose his intentions in the November election announced recently that he will be a candidate for the State Senate.

He is State Rep. Peter Nechay, chairman of the Public Buildings and Highway Committee, and a prominent member of the hard pressed Appropriations Committee of the House of Representatives.

Mr. Nechay will seek the Democratic nomination in the Fourth Senatorial District of Kent County. The seat is now held by Senator Jehu F. Camper of Harrington, and it is understood that Mr. Nechay has Senator Camper's blessing.

Several members of the current General Assembly are considering efforts at reelection, but Mr. Nechay, a veteran of World War II and a prisoner of war for nearly six months, is the first to make public his intentions.

Mr. Nechay is in the canning business with members of his family. During World War II he was in the Army, working in communications, for approximately three years.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. George Nechay, also of Willow Grove RD, Mr. Nechay was graduated from Caesar Rodney High School in 1937. He married the former Louise Meredith, of Greensboro, Md., and they have one child, a boy.

This trip to the General Assembly marks Mr. Nechay's first public office. He has worked actively in the Sixth Representative District of Kent County for several years and is president of the Sixth District Democratic Club. He has the support of several members of the Democratic Committee.

As a member of the Appropriations Committee of the present General Assembly, Mr. Nechay has been painstaking in his efforts to ratify the needs expressed by more than 100 state agencies who have besieged the Budget Committee since January, 1955.

McDOWELL INVESTIGATES VETERAN'S HOUSING AT DOVER

U. S. Rep. Harris B. McDowell, Jr. (D-Del.) this week asked the State Board of Health to investigate conditions at Kent Acres, south of Dover, where cave-ins have occurred in the front yards of homes, apparently caused by cesspools.

Dr. Floyd I. Hudson, executive secretary of the State Board of Health, said he received the request from the Congressman in a telegram, and will have the matter looked into.

The Congressman said that the cave-ins were inspected by him last Friday, when he visited the development with the chief investigator of the Veterans Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives and with his administrative assistant. He was told the cave-ins have occurred repeatedly after being filled in.

Friday afternoon, Feb. 24, accompanied by J. Buford Jenkins, chief investigator for the Veterans Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives and Henry Winchester, Jr., my administrative assistant, I visited the development known as Kent Acres south of Dover. While there I personally inspected several properties where apparently cesspools, located in the front yards of these homes which were completed about 12 months ago, have partially caved in. I was informed by several of the home owners that the builder had filled in the holes several times with the same result.

"Because I believe this to be a matter of concern to the State Board of Health, I would ask that you have this condition investigated, and advise me of your findings. I would suggest that you particularly determine whether or not these cave-ins are being caused by the dirt falling directly into the cesspools, and if so, that some steps be taken immediately to safeguard the lives of the children who might come in contact with this condition."

"I would appreciate having a report on this condition in my Wilmington office, 401 Pennsylvania Building, by Friday morning, March 2, inasmuch as I intend to give testimony upon this condition before the public hearing of the Veterans Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives which will begin in Wilmington that day."

Mr. McDowell has previously said that the Kent Acres Development is one of the several that will figure in the hearing to be held in Wilmington Friday, by the housing subcommittee of the Veterans Affairs Committee to investigate the handling of veterans housing in Delaware by the Veterans Administration.

The representatives of the poultry industry at the show felt that they had made a host of new friends, and believe increased purchases of the Delmarva product will be chalked up in the New York area during the weeks ahead.

Cucinotta used a three and one-half pound Delmarva frying chicken, 4 tablespoons butter, flour, one whole shallot, one clove garlic, 3 ounces port wine, 2 tablespoons pure current jelly, salt and pepper and one dozen large black wing cherries.

The chef cut the chicken into serving pieces, rolling it in flour. Then he went on in this manner: melt butter in skillet and brown chicken well. Add very finely chopped shallot and finely chopped garlic. Stir quickly. Add port wine and cook about 8 minutes to reduce liquid. Add jelly and cook until jelly is dissolved, stirring constantly. Add one cup brown sauce and squeeze in juice of one-half orange. Let all cook until chicken is tender — about 20 minutes. Just before serving, add cherries.

Cucinotta made his brown sauce in this fashion: melt one-fourth pound margarine in deep pot. Add, very finely chopped, 1 onion, 2 carrots, 1 stalk celery, 2 tablespoons flour and stir until well blended. Add 1 and one-half pints chicken stock and 2 cups tomato puree. Brown 2 pounds veal bones and add to vegetables, and let mixture boil about 3 hours, or until bones are thoroughly cooked. Strain through fine sieve and serve over chicken.

Delmarva Broilers Touted in New York

Hit of the International Food Fair which ended in New York City over the weekend was Delmarva chicken as prepared and distributed by Pete Richardson, representative of the Delmarva Poultry Industry, who was kept busy passing out samples all during the week.

Held in the old Wanamaker Store building, Broadway and Eighth Street, downtown, a steady stream of people flowed through the two-floor display of exotic foods from all over the world, but it seemed to be the Delmarva broilers for which the crowds lined up and wanted to sample.

According to Frank J. Gordy, director of the Delaware State Poultry Commission, the show was one of the most successful in which the group has participated for some time. During the week, outstanding chefs gave cooking demonstrations using the Delmarva product, and according to Gordy, one of the most enjoyable was that prepared by Salvatore Cucinotta, of Teddy's Restaurant, a well-known mid-city spot.

Cucinotta used a three and one-half pound Delmarva frying chicken, 4 tablespoons butter, flour, one whole shallot, one clove garlic, 3 ounces port wine, 2 tablespoons pure current jelly, salt and pepper and one dozen large black wing cherries.

The chef cut the chicken into serving pieces, rolling it in flour. Then he went on in this manner: melt butter in skillet and brown chicken well. Minner Again Heads Democrats

Harold (Bailey Minner) was re-elected president of the Ninth District Democratic Club Tuesday night at a meeting at the American Legion Home.

Other officers elected were as follows: Vice-president, upper Ninth, John Raughley; vice-president, lower Ninth, Hyland Webb; secretary, James Simpson, and treasurer, Franklin Hendricks, incumbent.

The nominating committee was composed of Sen. Jehu Camper, Rep. Leon Donovan, Hyland Webb, Bennie Hughes, and T. Brinton Holloway. Nominations were also made from the floor.

Delegates to the convention in April in Dover of state Democratic clubs were elected as follows: Upper Ninth - Franklin Hendricks, Robert Holloway, and Lawrence Price; alternates, Norris Graham and William Minner; lower Ninth - Hyland Webb and Mr. Donovan; alternates, Harry Hanson, George Vincent, and James Coady.

The president will appoint the directors of the club at the next meeting, whenever that is.

Previous to the election, Cliff Hall, state auditor, explained the new registration form for voting.

McConnell Touted For Governor

J. H. Tyler McConnell, secretary of Hercules Powder Company, is currently the leading possibility for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Since former Gov. Elbert N. Carvel told other Democratic leaders that he does not want to run this year — and has convinced them he means it—they have been looking around for a gubernatorial candidate from New Castle County. And Mr. McConnell is the man on whom their attention had lately become centered.

Mr. Carvel called on Mr. McConnell Monday night, presumably to talk about the idea of the latter's running. Mr. McConnell has said nothing publicly about his willingness to make the run, and it is understood to be thinking it over.

Geography has a double importance in selecting the candidates for Governor this year. In the first place, the principal of rotation—under which various areas take turns at supplying candidates for elective offices — points to New Castle County as having first crack at the nomination this time. And secondly, since feeling on the segregation problem is so strong downstate, it is considered desirable to find a candidate whose feet are not in the middle of that issue.

Mr. McConnell is not new to public and political affairs. He has been a member and chairman of the State Highway Department and has been on the unofficial but potent Democratic State Policy Committee.

In civic affairs, he has been active in campaigns of the Delaware Chapter, American Red Cross, of which he is a director, and in the campaigns of the United Community Fund, the Children's Bureau, and the Travelers' Aid Society. He is a director of the Welfare Council of Delaware.

In his business career, Mr. McConnell has been with Hercules since 1941. He started in the legal department, and served in various posts, becoming assistant to the president in 1954 and secretary last September. He is a director of the Delaware Trust Company.

In private life, he is a son-in-law of William duPont, Jr. He and Mrs. McConnell and their three children live at "Crooked Billet" on Kennett Pike, near Greenville.

Mr. McConnell was graduated from the Virginia Military Institute in 1936 and received his law degree from the University of Virginia Law School in 1939. He practiced law before joining Hercules in 1941.

BLITZ IS SUCCESSFUL AS HEART CAMPAIGN FUND EXCEEDS $600

A heart drive collected $599.35 Tuesday evening in Harrington, and Felton. Funds contributed since that time will make the figure go well over $600.

L. Gooden Callaway, local chairman, said that, in Tuesday evening's door-to-door collection of envelopes containing contributions, $470.55 was realized in Harrington; $98 in Felton, and $30.50 in Farmington. Mayor William Myers had charge of the Felton campaign, and Mrs. Frances Hatfield had charge of the Farmington drive.

The local campaign, the first of its kind in this community, will serve as a pattern for county-wide solicitation of funds next year. Heretofore, there has been no Kent County chapter of the Delaware Heart Association.

THE TRACK CAN SURVIVE

Bob Kelley, writing in "The Wilmington Morning News" of Monday, has something to say about the "problems" of the Kent & Sussex Raceway which, last year, had the best year, financially, in its nine years' existence.

Says Kelley, "Harrington, smallest of the six Maryland-Delaware plants, simply cannot hope to achieve a strong position either (a) within the state in battling Brandywine for attractive dates or (b) without the state in hoping to find decent running nights when the larger Maryland tracks — Laurel, Rosecroft, Baltimore, Ocean Downs — are seeking the same. This year, Brandywine held an 'umbrella over Harrington' by warning Maryland that Brandywine would counter any attempt by a Maryland track to hurt Harrington. In other words, if Maryland set up a calendar of meet dates that would force Harrington either to run in the unprofitable chill of late autumn or run in opposition to a Maryland plant, then Brandywine — richest of all — would return the compliment by operating in conflict with Ocean Downs or, perhaps, Baltimore. Maryland yielded." Thus says Kelley.

As the "tiniest" of all tracks on the Maryland-Delaware circuit, Kent & Sussex Raceway really attracts an inordinate amount of attention. It was the first of the six tracks to organize and its operations are going into its tenth year.

At one time it raced in the spring and fall but discontinued the spring meet when it proved unprofitable. It tried 30 days in the fall but this ran it into cool weather. However, 20 days yielded a profit. The improvements at the track have been made with money from pari-mutuel harness racing. The new grandstand, opened during the past fair, cost more than $300,000. As best we can learn now, the Kent & Sussex Fair, America's largest small-town fair, owes approximately $100,000. Compare this with a bond issue of $1,800,000 for Brandywine.

Harrington never worried too much about the Maryland tracks until Brandywine came along a couple years ago.

It is our belief that in six months there should be enough racing time for six tracks. Five tracks race 20 nights and one, Brandywine, races 30 nights. What did Harrington or lower Delaware do when it didn't have an umbrella?

And as for attractive dates within the state — What do we have a harness racing commission for? The large and the small are entitled to full equality under the law.

Letter to the Editor

Last week I read in your column about a very displeased Harrington rooster, judging Harrington High on poor sportsmanship.

Now, I am about to express my opinion.

Yes, Harrington cheerleaders did cheer at the same time as Felton, I must admit. But, Mrs. Gladys Joyses, if you had only been at the Felton game, away, you would have seen why.

There are two things I dislike about our cheerleading squad, but I am not going to comment on them.

One thing I see from your letter. You judged the whole school from what a few, the cheerleaders' squad, did wrong. "That isn't the proper thing to do."

Harrington High has been a defeated team for so dog-goned long, and just now when we are becoming to come up from under, you condemn us on our poor sportsmanship. Well, I think it is high time for me to tell you that Harrington High has had several accomplishments on our GOOD sportsmanship; not from just one but several schools.

I hope from now on you judge a GROUP of people rather than taking a few and judging them on their conduct.

P. S. Did you happen to see the Selbyville girls' game with Harrington, Friday, November 24? If you did, you have NO right to condemn us. If we have had sportsmanship, God knows what their whole team, rosters, and cheerleaders have! —A Harrington High School student, rooster, and a member of the basketball team.

Veterans News and Answers To Questions

Q—If I add the total disability income provision to my National Service Life Insurance, how much will I be paid if I become totally disabled?

A—You will receive $5 a month for each $1,000 of GI insurance in force. The payments will begin after you have been totally disabled for six months.

Q—Is there any limit to the amount of the loan, under the law. The lender, however, has a right to impose a limit on the amount he is willing to lend you. The legal limit is on the amount of VA's guarantee which is 60 percent of the loan, up to a maximum guarantee of $7,500.

Q—Could I take farm training under the Korean GI Bill on a part-time basis?

A—No. Under the law, GI farm training must occupy your full time.

Q—I am a veteran drawing a VA pension, and I have just been married. Will my income ceiling for the year be the $1,400 that applies to single veterans or the $2,700 for veterans with dependents?

A—The income you received while single, will be subject on a prorated basis, to the $1,400 limit, while your income for the same year after marriage will be subject, also prorated, to the $2,700 ceiling.

The film touched such subjects as the Eisenhowers return to Gettysburg after his illness, the Geneva Conference, the up-to-date news on aviation in the United States, Dutch queen visiting her colonies, new discoveries in science, and outstanding time pieces.

In closing, the film also gave a short history of the historic Hudson River and some outstanding landmarks near it.

We made an acetylene torch by dropping carbide into water in a test tube. The acetylene burned with a hot smoky flame so we performed the experiment outdoors. Eddie Greenlee and Lester Hobbs' torches exploded and blew off the stoppers. Miss Dick-rager passed soda ash, limestone and white ash around for us to see.

Senior Personality Betty Anthony

Betty was born in Harrington on October 16, 1938. She has attended the Harrington Schools all her life.

She was in Pen Pal Club two years, took driver education in 10th grade, and was president of the 11th grade.

Her pet peeve is gossiping. Her hobby is listening to music. Her favorite subject is shorthand. She is taking the commercial course and plans to be a secretary when she graduates.

She attends Prospect Church and has had perfect attendance for three years. She is also a member of Prospect MYF of which she has been secretary.

Viola Barbara Vanderwende
Mr. and Mrs. Everett Vanderwende were blessed on July 1, 1938 with a daughter named Viola Barbara Vanderwende.

Viola Barbara, better known as "Windy" or "Vi" has attended Harrington High all 12 years with an exception of two months when she attended Avon Park High School in Avon Park, Fla.

Windy is very active in sports. In fact, the teams couldn't have done without her. This year (her first year out for hockey) she made the Varsity Team and aided its success in winning the trophy. She rated second in scoring goals. On the softball team Windy has been catcher since the eighth grade. She has been a guard on the basketball team for three years.

Not only does Windy have a natural talent for sports, but she is quite an actress. She was the student director of last year's Christmas play and participated in a number of other plays, among them the Junior Play, the and the Senior Play. Miss Vanderwende, having been in the Dramatic Club for five years, was one of the delegates to attend the Dramatic Conference. Windy's comment concerning the Dramatics Club is, "Nothing more exciting than acting."

To name a few other successes, Windy participated in the FHA for two years, filling the offices of secretary and treasurer. Windy was active in the Glee Club for a year, in the Student Council for two years, and the 4-H Club for five years. Two of these years she spent as a reporter and treasurer. Miss Vanderwende was honored by attending the United Nations Conference in Wilmington on March 14 and 15 accompanied by five other students.

In her spare time (when Vi is not serving delicious meals at baskets, ti or hA-Dot's Restaurant or practicing basketball after school) she can be found at home busily writing to her pen pals or making dates to go skating. Windy says, "There's nothing like dating a certain alumnus when I have a chance." Vi finds any job enjoyable and well worth trying.

After 12 years of "hard labor" Vi plans to major in physical education at the University of Delaware. We are sure she will be successful.

Cinderella may have looked fetching in her glass slippers, but the modern version of this enchanted miss believes in foot comfort as well as beauty. Today's Cinderella likes to tread softly in slippers that provide plenty of cushioning underfoot.

SLIPPER STYLES
For the ultimate in comfort, a slipper should have a soft, flexible sole. The woman who spends a good deal of time on her feet appreciates a slipper that conforms gently to the foot. The crocheted or knitted slipper offers foot ease because it has firm body while being light in weight; it has springy soles to add to its restful qualities, and good looks. Furthermore, slippers, such as the attractive style shown here, are completely washable. Easy to crochet, the soles are worked with a single strand of thread. The upper part is worked with a double strand. The vamp and band are sewed to the instep.

FOR ENCHANTED EVENINGS
She who takes life easy in these stunning slippers walks in glamor. These fancy slippers are crocheted entirely of black mercerized cotton interwoven with non-tarnishing gold metallic strands. An inner sole (foam rubber is ideal) is placed between the two sole sections. A perfect pair for lounging, they will complement any of your stay-at-home outfits. Complete crocheting instructions for making these GLAMOROUS SLIPPERS in small (4 1/2-5), medium (6 1/2-7) and large (8-8 1/2) sizes are available to you.

The praises of needlework have often been sung: "It's fun, relaxing and gratifying." And some have added still another phrase—"It's profitable." This statement is made by enterprising needleworkers who have given serious thought to making and selling the products of their hobbies. The pennies of profit pile high for them because they have learned how to create the kind of needlework that sells itself.

PROFIT-MAKING NEEDLEWORK
Needlework that pays is always neat. It is made of good materials though is never over-priced. Women who are successful at selling their handmade articles find that it is better to sell more at a smaller profit than to sell few items at a larger one. If you can learn to do your needlework quickly and skillfully, you will be able to offer a good selection of things to prospective buyers. Try to make each piece a distinct expression of your personality. Many needleworkers find it profitable to specialize, to become known for interesting color combinations, for particular textures or designs.

Please understand that these are only hints to help you make your needlework more salable. You will have to discover for yourself the sales potential of your articles by contacting the buyers at department stores, small shops and drug stores, by talking to your friends or running advertisements in the local newspapers. You may not succeed in marketing your needlework at first, but if you are in earnest, you will improve with each new venture.

DAINTY DOILY IN CROCHET
This crocheted doily is a favorite with women who are looking for something lovely to grace their well-polished table tops. It is done in delicate shades of pink and green cotton highlighted with shiny metallic strands. Rows of tiny bows are crocheted amid the fine mesh. Make this design for yourself or for others who appreciate nice things.

Farm News

Seventy-two Delaware lima bean farmers were recognized as doing an outstanding job in 1955 at a meeting in Milton on Thursday evening, conducted by the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.

Dr. William McDaniel, economist at the University of Delaware, gave a report on how Delaware farmers compare as bean growers with farmers in Wisconsin and California. Some 20,000 acres of "baby limas" are raised each year in this state mostly for freezing and canning, more than any other area. "Yet," says Dr. McDaniel, "unless we can maintain and increase our production per acre, we will lose our present competitive advantage in the market place."

The cultural practices carried out by these successful growers and the University were reviewed by Dr. Robert F. Stevens and E. M. Rahn, horticulturists at the University. Their recommendations are listed as follows:

1. Plow under a cover crop of rye and clover, barley and clover, or similar legume cover.
2. Use manure, if available, at five tons per acre of poultry manure, or ten tons per acre of pound manure on the cover crop only.

3. Apply lime enough to keep the soil at PH6. Have soil tested.

4. Fertilizer. Use 100 to 500 lbs. per acre of 5-10-15 in the planter plus 400 to 800 lbs. of 5-10-15 per acre, drilled deep. Exact amounts can be determined by soil tests, manures applied and legume sod turned over.

5. Seeding rate.—Try to have a stand of 3 plants per foot in 32 to 36" rows. Planter should deliver four seeds per foot or slightly more. About 40 to 45 lbs. per acre in 32 to 36" inch row is usually enough. Increase seeding rate during early May plantings or if you intend to rotary hoe one or more times.

6. Use chemical weed control if you expect trouble with weeds.

7. Irrigation at bloom is probably the most important time. Additional applications two weeks before bloom and ten days before harvest may also pay.

8. To control insects, such as the Mexican Beetle—use Rotenone 1 percent or Parathion 1 percent; for worms (such as corn ear worms and others) —use DDT up to 30 days before harvest, or Marlate if the vines are to be used for livestock feed, or if used within 30 days of harvest.

KENT COUNTY TEACHERS MEETING TO BE HELD NEXT FRIDAY

A Ray Wilkerson, Jr., of Milford, has announced that the annual meeting of the Kent County Educational Association will be held next Friday, March 9, in the Milford High School, beginning with a coffee hour in the Home Economics rooms.

The meeting this year will be in the nature of two general sessions — one in the morning when Dr. Charles S. Swope, President of the State Teacher's College, at West Chester, Pa., will speak on the "Crises in Education"; and another session in the afternoon when Ralph Reichhold, traveller and humorist from the Pittsburgh Press, will give an illustrated talk on "North Africa, Norway and other places."

Dr. Swope, referred to by his friends as a teacher of teachers, holds degrees from the institution where he is now its President, the State Teacher's College at West Chester, Penna., as well as from Dickinson College at Carlisle, Penna., the University of Pennsylvania, and was granted the Ph. D. degree from Dickinson College in 1941.

He taught in the schools of Beavertown, Penna., the Pennington School for Boys in New Jersey, and was superintendent of the Everett, Pa. Schools. He was on the instructional staff at West Chester College for some years before receiving the Presidency in 1935.

Dr. Swope has been very active in the promotion of teaching and training for many years not only in his home state of Pennsylvania, but those of surrounding states as well. He has served as a member of the Board of Directors in Chester County Council of Boy Scouts of America, is a former member of Schoolmen's Committee, Academy of Political and Social Science, American Historical Association, the NEA, Pa., State Education Association, and Phi Kappa Sigma.

He has served as a member of the Board of Directors of the West Chester Rotary Club and was Governor of the 179th (now the 265th) District of Rotary International.

Ralph Reichhold, who has arrived in "Who's Who" by following a rigid German schedule of hard work and speed in executing his fine talent and artistry as a cartoonist that has won for him the caption of the "Rembrandt of The Press" (referring here to the Pittsburgh Press), will bring an entirely different type of offering to the teachers of Kent County during the afternoon program.

Mr. Reichhold received his Mr. Reichhold received his training at Carnegie Tech and is a prolific cartoonist. He has been known to say that he prefers to do a light, feathery stuff instead of being vicious, for he doesn't like to poke fun at people because "they can poke back at you."

In 1948 Mr. Reichhold helped organize a 300-member Advertising Arts of Pittsburgh because he was tired of seeing commercial artists "getting kicked around"; and served as the club's president in 1949-1950 and gaining considerable satisfaction in seeing commercial artists advance to the point of having exhibitions in Carnegie Institute.

During the 1930's, Mr. Reichhold gave 700 talks before all sorts of groups, and still carried on a rigid schedule of work. He favors home cooking of fancy dishes, washes his own socks on trips, and leans to dapper attire. He has been wearing bow ties for many years and says that he splits his hair in the middle to sort of balance the bow tie! But aside from work, his other hobbies are painting, traveling, and reading. In 1952 he spent 5 months in 17 European countries, make 150 water sketches, wrote a magazine piece each week.

Mr. Reichhold now lives in what he terms semi-retirement at Rehoboth Beach, works about ten hours a week, and has a contract to do special features such as magazine covers for the Pittsburgh Press. He also does special work (cartoons and sketches) for the S-H chain of 19 papers as well as some commercial cartoons for advertisers.

Both sessions will be held in the Milford High School Auditorium with Mr. Wilkerson presiding. Other officers of the organization include Melvin Brobst, Vice-President, and Mrs. Grace R. Montgomery, Secretary-Treasurer. Directors are Mrs. Ruth Baldes of Milford, Kenneth C. Roper of Felton, Mrs. Bess Dill of Felton, Byron Phillips, of Houston, and George Hess of Dover.

4-H CLUB TO CELEBRATE NATIONAL 4-H CLUB WEEK

Highlight of National 4-H Club Week, March 3 to 11 will be a visit to Governor Boggs' office by a delegation of twelve Delaware 4-H Club members and leaders. The delegates will give the Governor a brief report of 4-H activities in the state and present him with an official 4-H flag.

As in previous years, the 4-H flag will fly over the state capitol building during the week.

Purpose of the annual celebration is to help inform people of the value of 4-H training, to interest other young people in enrolling in local clubs, and to enlist more public spirited, youth-minded citizens as volunteer leaders, according to Sam Gwinn, state 4-H Club Leader, at the University of Delaware.

All counties will hold window display contests during 4-H Club Week showing the many kinds of club work carried on by members. Several clubs will do radio broadcasts, hold parents nights and provide 4-H programs for their community organizations.

The theme for the week is, "Improving Family and Community Living". During 1956, greater emphasis will be placed upon the growth and development of young people; their families and neighbors as well as their farms and homes according to Gwinn.

"4-H Club work is a kind of training in which rural youths learn better ways of farming and homemaking, better ways of working together in groups and on community matters, and better ways of living," Gwinn says. "It recognizes the basic educational values of farm life. It puts the emphasis on self-reliance, character and an appreciation of things of the open country. It makes for good homes, good citizens and a cultural rural life."

Membership in 4-H Clubs is open to boys and girls from 10-21 years of age, Gwinn reminds. Any young person interested in joining a 4-H Club should contact a local 4-H leader or the County 4-H Agents in Newark, Dover and Georgetown.

Social Security Notes

If you are getting social security benefits, and are under the age of 72, it is important that you know whether you earned more than $1200 for the year 1955. If you did, you are required to make an annual report to the Social Security Administration by March 15, 1956, and you were probably ineligible for some or all of your 1955 benefit checks. All earnings when you reach age 72, but you must make the annual report for the year in which you become 72, unless your birthday is in January.

You have probably already received your annual report forms by mail if you advised the Social Security Administration at some time during 1955 that you were employed or self-employed. If not, the Wilmington District Office of the Social Security Administration will be glad to give you any information or assistance that may be needed in connection with filing your report.

If your total earnings for 1955 amounted to $1200 or less, you are eligible for all of your social security checks for that year. That is true even if your earnings were high for one or more months. In counting earnings, however, you must consider everything that you earned from any type of employment, along with your net profit from any type of self-employment. All these earnings are counted, even though some of them may have been from work not covered under social security. Rentals from real estate are not considered as earnings, however, unless you are a real estate dealer and received the rents in the course of your business. Income from investments in securities is likewise not considered as earnings unless you are a dealer in securities and receive this income in connection with that business.

The new annual earnings test (or retirement test) went into effect at the beginning of the year 1955. Here is the way you can apply it to your own situation:

1. Look first at your annual earnings. If the total is over $1200, count off one benefit check for each $80—or fraction of $80—over the $1200. Thus, if you earned from $1200.01 to $1280.00 you lose one check. From $1280.01 to $1360.00 you lose 2 checks, etc. If the total is above $2080 you would not be eligible for any checks unless paragraph 2 below applies for one or more months.

2. After you have done the figuring as indicated in paragraph 1, look at your record and see if there were any months that you did not work. This means months in which you do not work with some regularity in your own business and did not earn over $80 in working for someone else. You may receive social security checks for any such months no matter how high the amount of your annual total earnings.

Your annual report will cover all the above points, and will enable the Social Security Administration to make a final and correct decision as to the number of checks due you for 1955. Remember that it is due not later than March 15, and that there are penalties for late reporting.

temperature for 3 to 4 hours is normally suggested. However, if you are in a real hurry, the fillets or steaks may be cooked frozen if additional cooking time is allowed.

Fillets or steaks may be prepared by any of the basic cooking methods of frying, baking, broiling, and steaming, or in an endless variety of combination dishes. The important thing to remember in cooking fish, however, is that it must not be overcooked. Just enough cooking to enable the flesh to be flaked easily will leave the fish moist and tender and bring out the delicate flavor.

While there they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wharton at Daytona Beach, Mr. and Mrs. George Manlove at St. Petersburg, and had a few minutes to chat with Mr. and Mrs. Fred At Winter Park, near Orlando, they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Marvel, and at Hampton, Va., with Mr. and Mrs. Lester Jump.

Some of the most interesting places in Florida they visited were St. Augustine, the nation's oldest city, with its many attractions and places of interest, Casper's Ostrich and Alligator Farm; here also they saw Francis, the world's famous spotted mule, and one of the foremost freaks of the day, featured in Robert Ripley's Believe-It-or-Not; Ringling Brothers training grounds and circus at Sarasota, the Sunken Gardens and Webb's City in St. Petersburg. At Sunken Gardens within an area of five acres you will find not only thousands of colorful flowers and shrubs, but also trees nearly two centuries old towering a hundred feet high, clearly marked and identified, in beautiful Cypress Gardens at Winter Haven. At Lake Wales it was Bok Tower, known as The Singing Tower, with its beautiful landscape grounds on the highest point in Florida. It was given to the people of America by Edward Bok. Also at Lake Wales they saw, "The Great Masterpiece," da Vinci's beloved, "Lord's Last Supper," portrayed in a massive 300,000 piece mosaic, located in an unusual garden setting near the Singing Tower and a short drive from Cypress Gardens. Here also they saw the famous Howell Glassblowers, a truly unique exhibition of centuries old art, gallery of da Vinci's futuristic inventions; winding trail through a primeval jungle, home of Toby, the talking macaw, alligators and other jungle creatures; and also rustic Fort Clinch, a real Indian fort. Near Ocala, at Silver Springs, they enjoyed a two hours trip, a total of fourteen miles in a glass-bottom boat, through natural jungle unchanged by man, crystal clear water with its teeming life, white herons sedately fishing at the jungle's edge, monkeys cavorting naturally in tree tops, big aquatic turtles lined up in rows on rotting logs and alligators sunning themselves on secluded sections of the river bank.

Also at Silver Springs they saw the "Prince of Peace" memorial. There are seven chapels in which are shown seven episodes in the life of Christ, "The Nativity," "The Woman at The Well," "Peter Denying Christ," "The Last Supper," "Christ Before Pilate," "Bearing The Cross" and "The Crucifixion".

They visited DeLand, the home of Stetson University; made a guided tour of the Snyder packing house; drove through miles and miles of orange and grapefruit groves and picked ripe fruit fresh from the trees.

Near Ocala, at Silver Springs, they enjoyed a two hours trip, a total of fourteen miles in a glass-bottom boat, through natural jungle unchanged by man, crystal clear water with its teeming life, white herons sedately fishing at the cloth. However, if both ceiling and walls are to be papered such as a dormer room with sloping ceilings, it is better to use a small random scattered pattern so that you won't have an upside down effect overhead.

In a small, confined room you may change the mood and create an illusion of space by using a scenic paper that will carry your eye to an imaginary vista. This type of wallpaper will give a small entrance hall, or a small dining area great distinction.

A very important decorating trend is the use of matching wall-papers and fabrics. For example, windows that are badly placed, or are of awkward shape high on a wall, will blend into the background if you hang draperies that match the wallpaper. Wallpaper teamed with fabrics is used by many decorators today because one pattern on walls, draperies, chains and bedspreads will give a feeling of unity to a room and give it a very stylish appearance.

Even with eyes half-open an attractive cozy bathroom, or powder room is appreciated.

And it's just as easy to have a colorful glamorous bathroom as it is to put up with one that looks cold and bare. Begin decorating by thinking first of the walls. The right wallpaper can transform an ugly, old-fashioned box of a room into one with freshness and beauty.

Try something new in a pattern for the bathroom just for the fun of it. Wallpapers no longer declare themselves as belonging strictly to this room or that.

To give adjoining rooms pleasing unity, paper them with patterns that go well together. Use a textured paper that simulates horizontal woven reed, or grass cloth for the living area of a modern living-dining room, and a vertical design for the dining area, such as a delicate Japanese-like bamboo leaf pattern; an all-over freely brushed floral for a bedroom, and a coordinated trellis design for the bathroom.

Several new developments point to disposal of even greater quantities of surplus food this year. The Department of Agriculture has purchased more than 102 million pounds of pork products which are now being distributed. Public Law 311, of the 84th Congress, authorizes distribution of wheat flour and cornmeal as a strictly domestic relief measure, and first shipments have already been made under this law, with much more expected to follow. The Department has also announced that wheat and corn have been added to commodities available to schools and charitable institutions, and wheat, corn, rice, and dry beans are now available for foreign shipment.
