Mrs. West - Grade 2

We have done many things this month. We had an Easter party with an Easter parade. We gave Mrs. West a party on her birthday. We enjoyed these events very much.

Our new playground equipment is up. Billy was afraid to go down the slide. We are so happy he is not afraid now. We enjoy playing on the playground and we try to be careful. Mrs. Howard invited us to a very good assembly. We liked the songs, especially "Sixteen Tons." All the reading groups are in a new book. Two groups are reading "Friendly Village." One group is reading "Neighbors On The Hill." We enjoy these books very much. We are busy getting ready for May Day. We hope to see you there.

Ellis Myer, reporter

Grade 4 - Mrs. Tatman

Mrs. Tatman's fourth grade gave an assembly on Thursday morning. Grades three, four and five, and many parents and friends were in attendance for the program. The entertainment consisted of group singing, dances a solo, instrumental selections, poems and plays.

Janet Anthony, reporter

Jeannie Thomas has been ill with the gripe. The girls from the fifth grade are practicing their May Pole Dance for May 18. We had a surprise party last Thursday when Mrs. Smith treated everyone in the room in honor of Carol's eleventh birthday.

Student Council Notes

On Monday, April 9, we had our fifth Kent County Meeting which was held at Harrington. At this time we discussed a system of rotating the county and state officers.

The Harrington Student Council conducted a panel discussion on "sportsmanship." This was composed of a member from Dover, one from Felton, and one from Smyrna Student Council, with Shirley Kates as moderator. Afterwards, refreshments were served by the Harrington Student Council.

SENIOR PERSONALITY

PHILLIP ANDREW PRICE
This optimistic Senior was born March 7, 1937 in Covington, Ky. He has been a resident of Harrington since the second grade. He has been pursuing the General Course throughout his four years of high school.

Phillip has been a very active student in several extra-curricular activities. These include three years in the Press Club, with the position of sport editor, Commercial Club, and four years in the Glee Club. He has also been a member of the Chancel Choir for four years. He was manager of the boys' basketball teams for two years. He contributed greatly to making the Junior and Senior plays a success by serving as lighting technician and stage manager.

During his free time, Phillip finds plenty to do with his part-time job in the Family Shoe Store. Along with this work, Phillip enjoys books, writing, stamps, and music.

Phillip's pleasant personality and excellent manners and careful dress make him the Beau Brummell and the Lord Chesterfield of the Senior Class.

After graduation, Phillip has no future plans.

MATH CLUB

Our President, Sandra Lee Minner, called our last meeting to order. The minutes were read and approved.

Since there was no old or new business, we started to work on our triangles. We are constructing four kinds of triangles with the use of compasses. They are scalene triangle, isosceles triangle, equilateral triangle and a right triangle.

Last week we sent in a musical request to the program, Grady and Hurst of WPHH, to be played for our club.

GRADE 6 - MRS. MANN

On April 18, we had a Senior teacher. Her name was Miss Eloise Brown. We enjoyed having her very much.

The Boy Scouts went on a trip Friday, April 20. They left school on Friday at 12:00 noon.

Patsy Marvel and Jean McFarland, Reporters

CHESS CLUB NEWS

My favorite sport is basketball and my favorite pastime is skating and dancing.

I very much dislike people who gossip. After graduation I plan to work as a secretary.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

We dressed clothes pins in paper and then dipped them in cobalt chloride solution. The dresses will be pink if it is going to rain and blue if it is not.

Father Enlist Son in Marine Corps Reserve

An enlistment in the Marine Corps Reserve became a family affair last week as two Harrington residents combined to add a new member to the rolls of the 16th Rifle Company, Delaware's only organized unit of the Marine Corps Reserve.

James F. Coady, a Lieutenant Colonel in the Marine Corps Reserve, and commanding officer of a volunteer training unit that meets in Salisbury, Md., had the honor of administering the oath of enlistment to his son, Eric J. Coady, on April 19, Eric's 17th birthday. The minimum age for enlisting in the Marine Corps Reserve is 17 and Eric didn't want to lose any time following in his father's footsteps.

The elder Coady is a veteran of 23 years service with the Marine Corps Reserve. He saw action during World War II in Korea, the last as a battalion commander with the First Marine Division. Mr. Coady started his Marine Corps career as a private and rose from the ranks to Lieutenant Colonel.

Young Coady is the oldest of five children and attends Harrington High School. He hopes for an appointment to the U. S. Naval Academy following his graduation and plans to make the Marine Corps his career.

The 16th Rifle Company, of which Eric has become a member, has its headquarters and the major part of the unit in Wilmington. One of the company's rifle platoons meets in Dover, at the National Guard Armory on the Green every Tuesday evening. Young men from lower Delaware who can meet the membership requirements may become members of the Dover Platoon of the Marine Corps Reserve by contacting the unit during its weekly meeting, or by visiting the Company's training center at the foot of Madison Street in Wilmington.

Kindergarten Move Underway

Are you interested in sending your child to kindergarten starting this coming September? If so, we would like to present the following facts:

1. The school will furnish the room which includes desks, chairs, heat and light.
2. As parents of the child we will be responsible for paying the teacher's salary and the necessary kindergarten supplies.
3. If the program is offered your child will attend a morning or afternoon session. No child will be permitted to attend both sessions.
4. If twenty children can attend we estimate about five dollars a week per child.
5. Your child must have been born in 1951—that is he or she is five years old now or will be five by December 1956.
6. The program for this kindergarten will include activity—do not anticipate any child learning to read or write (at this first grade work).

If you are considering this, may we have a prompt reply in order that arrangements and materials may be made available. Contact Kitty Hopkins, president of Home and School Organization, Harrington 3681.

Legion Auxiliary Gets Ready For Poppy Day

Bright red poppies bloomed in profusion in the American Legion Auxiliary room at the American Legion Home today. They were the poppies which will be worn here on Poppy Day, May 26, to pay tribute to the memory of America's war dead. Volunteer workers will offer them on the streets on Poppy Day.

Made of crepe paper with wrapped wire stems, the poppies are the handwork of disabled veterans at hospitals. Each group of the little flowers showed slight differences, depending upon the skill of the maker, Mrs. Benjamin Hughes, Jr., Poppy Committee Chairman, pointed out, but each will have the same meaning when worn on Poppy Day—"Honor the Dead, Aid the Disabled."

Public Meeting Monday on Fish, Game Regulations

The Board of Game and Fish Commissioners will hold its 4th annual public hearing in Legislative Hall, Dover, at 8 p. m., Monday. Suggested changes in fish and game regulations will be discussed.

The 118th General Assembly amended Sec. 108, Chapt. 1, Title 7 of the Delaware Code and invested in the Board of Game and Fish Commissioners the power to "fix and regulate seasons by shortening, extending or closing seasons, and to fix and regulate the bag limit on any species of protected wildlife or fresh water fish in any specified localities whenever it finds, after investigations, and a public hearing is had, that such action is necessary to assure the conservation of such wildlife or fresh water fish, and the maintenance of an adequate supply thereof or to limit thereof when conditions warrant the same."

"The Board shall give notice of such proposed changes in two newspapers of state-wide circulation and shall hold a public hearing on such proposed changes at least 60 days prior to changing any rule or regulation."

Since the public hearing is scheduled a few days before the Atlantic Waterfowl Council meeting in Baltimore, Md., May 2nd and 3rd, it gives Delaware sportsmen an excellent opportunity to voice his opinion on next year's ducking season. The Atlantic Flyway Council is an interstate group which consults with the Fish and Wildlife Service on matters pertaining to waterfowl seasons and bag limits for states within the Atlantic Flyway.

It is expected that the group will discuss upland game regulations, the coming deer season and fresh water fishing regulations.

Rodney M. Layton, President of the Board of Game and Fish Commissioners will preside.

Chief Warden Virgil Hearn, urges all dog owners to license their animals if they have not already done so. The dog warden are making concentrated drives in all three counties. No dog shall be permitted to run at large anywhere in this state between the first day of March and the first day of October, unless accompanied by the owner or custodian and under his immediate control."

Harrington Rotary Club Beauty Contest All Set

The picture that is to be shown the night of The Rotary Club Beauty Contest, Thurs., May 3, is "The Monte Stratton Story," the moving, true, life story of a wonderful person and his wife, James Stewart and June Allison co-star in this clean family picture that is full of fun, sadness, baseball, and life itself.

Rotarians reported on Tuesday night that there were only about 30 tickets left to sell in the downstairs part of Reese Theatre for the Beauty Contest. They also reported that there were still a number of reserve seats left in the right balcony. Clendingen's Pharmacy, and Dot's Restaurant, next to the pharmacy, still have a few reserve seats remaining to be sold. The night of the Contest, the box office will have nothing to sell on the main floor and balcony except standing room only.

As the Harrington Journal went to press, the following girls signed applications to be in the Beauty Contest this year: Eleanor Baker, Gwendolyn S. Graham, Jeanne Homewood, Mary Ann Jackson, Janice Mae Minner, Janet Sherwood, Viola B. Vanderwende, Eleanor Wagner, and Lillian White.

Following the Beauty Contest, "This Was Your Life," the history of some Harringtonians, is to be given on the stage. This person has no idea that she or he will be called up and have their past life reviewed. This person's life has been a full and beneficial one to the community. After full and intensive investigation, the committee selected a subject, and there was not the least doubt as to who it should be.

The Rotary Club is giving a complete program of the evening to each person as they enter the theatre the night of the Contest. Be sure to read the program, take it home, and look it over again. It is entirely different from the average program and is well worth saving.

This year no expense has been spared and tremendous effort has been made to make Thursday night, May 3rd., 1956, the most thrilling night in the history of Harrington. It will be a night to see pretty girls, nice girls, whom we know, it will be a night of fun; and it will be a night of learning about good citizenship on the part of some person in Harrington.

Do not miss this night. Buy your tickets now.

DON'T PLAY IN THE STREETS

"It's one strike and you're out when you play ball in the street!"

In those words Francis J. Jamison, assistant manager of the Delaware Safety Council urged children to stay off the streets when they play.

"Your folks aren't trying to be spoil-sports when they tell you not to play in the street," he said. "They know that playing in the roadway is a pretty good way to get hurt, and it's not very smart to pay for an afternoon's fun with weeks or months in bed."

He pointed out that teachers, police and drivers are all trying to help keep children safe in traffic, but there's not much they can do without the help of the boys and girls themselves.

"Your safety is largely your own responsibility," Mr. Jamison reminded the children. "When you're out with the other boys and girls, you're on your own. No grown-ups can help you then, so it's up to you to follow safety rules."

He listed the following rules for children to observe in traffic:
1. Obey all traffic officers, school patrols, traffic signs, signals and pavement markings.

2. Use roller skates, tricycles, wagons and scooters on the sidewalk only.

3. Practice rules learned in school about crossing streets and playing in safe places.

4. Always take the safest route between school and home.

5. Walk on the left side of the road, facing traffic, if there are no sidewalks.

He gave these additional rules for bicycle riders:

1. Obey all traffic signs, signals and laws.

2. Ride on the far side of the street-with traffic.

3. Don't weave or stunt, and never hitch on to a passing vehicle.

4. If you must ride at night, have a good light and rear reflector.

5. Keep your bicycle in good condition.

Veterans News

Q—I recently exchanged my World War II GI permanent insurance policy for a reduced amount of paid-up insurance, on which I no longer will have to pay premiums. Will this paid-up insurance give me the same benefits as any other permanent GI policy?

A—Yes. Your paid-up insurance will have cash value, a loan provision, and will share in all GI dividends.

Q—I am eligible for Korean GI Bill training, but I am thinking of going back into active military service. Could I take a GI correspondence course while I'm in uniform?

A—No. Under the law, veterans may not receive Korean GI training while on active duty—even though they meet all the law's other basic requirements.

Q—Will I be required to pay an extra fee if I want to pay off part of my GI home loan in advance? I know that in some mortgages, a penalty must be paid for making such payments.

A—Under the GI loan program, loans may be paid off or reduced without the payment of any fee, extra charge or penalty.

Q—May I receive VA outpatient care for treatment of a nonservice-connected disability?

A—No. Under the law, outpatient care generally is limited to veterans who need it for service-connected conditions.

The results, compiled by an independent firm of certified public accountants, make Blue Sunoco the favorite by an overwhelming margin.

Jena Mathe, formerly of Hungary, and Anna Weltschen, formerly of Germany, both students at the Pierre S. duPont High School spoke on "My Impressions of American School Libraries."
Miss Mathe stressed the value of libraries, so that in view of the situation of the world, with Western civilization being in danger, and in order to maintain their freedom, people may educate themselves and have knowledge to take to all corners of the world.
Miss Weltschem said that in Germany all could not use school libraries and that she hoped the first meeting of the organization of library aides would be a foundation of an outstanding and leading activity of the state, and might some day become national.

Applicants for the G. Estelle Wheelless Scholarship offered by the Delaware Library Association are invited to get in touch with the Scholarship Committee before May first.

The Scholarship, established in 1951 in memory of Miss Wheelless, Assistant Librarian of the Du Pont Technical Library, is offered annually to a resident of Delaware who has been graduated from an accredited college and who has been accepted by, or enrolled in an accredited library school.

The money is awarded for one year but the recipient may apply for further aid in succeeding years if satisfactory scholastic work is done. The Scholarship Committee will select candidates for recommendation on the basis of their scholastic records in high school and college, as evidenced by official transcripts, and on basis of need, personality and promise, as ascertained by a personal interview.

All inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dorcas H. Cheavens, Chairman, Scholarship Committee, Delaware Library Association, c/o Du Pont Technical Library, Room 3155 Du

School Construction To Be Studied

A committee composed of lay and professional people met Wednesday night, April 18, 1956, in the State Board of Education Room, Dover, for the purpose of making a thorough study of school construction in Delaware. Careful investigation will be made of school costs covering a period of 12 years, of ways and means of getting the best use from the tax dollar in school construction, and of comparative school costs in adjoining states.

Mrs. E. W. Buchanan, President of the State Board of Education, presented facts regarding increasing school enrollments and the mounting cost of school construction in the State. She expressed the thought that it is the hope of the State Board of Education that the members of this committee might find some answers to the many complex problems that are faced by the State Board. Mrs. Buchanan reiterated the fact that the tremendous rate of growth in the State is not just a temporary phenomenon but will continue for some time. Faced with the necessity of the wise use of the State's monies, the State Board of Education will require all the expert help that is available.

The committee, appointed by Mrs. Buchanan, consists of Marvel Watson, vice-president of the State Board of Education; Byard Carman, member of the State Board of Education; George M. Reed, DuPont Company; William Manning, Architect; Robert Reed, State School Board Association; Earl Field, Wood Construction Company; Robert Mason, DuPont Company; A. J. Taylor, Delaware School Auxiliary; Dr. Kenneth Madden, Superintendent of the Seaford Schools; Dr. Harry O. Eisenberg, Principal of the Rose Hill Minquadaale Schools; Dr. R. L. Herbst, Assistant State Superintendent in Charge of Business Administration; Dr. Howard E. Row, Assistant State Superintendent in Charge of Secondary Schools, and Dr. H. B. King, Assistant State Superintendent in Charge of Elementary Schools. Mrs. E. W. Buchanan and Dr. George R. Miller, Jr., State Superintendent of Schools, will act in an advisory capacity.

The Committee was organized with Dr. Kenneth Madden as Chairman, William Manning as Vice-Chairman, and Earl Field as Secretary. Within the next few days, Dr. Madden will appoint several committees from the membership who will prepare reports which will be presented at the next meeting of the entire committee on May 10, 1956.

Kent Home Doings

by Charlotte L. Swanson, Home Demonstration Agent

April 29 to May 5 is National Home Demonstration Week and during that time Home Demonstration club members will be making a special effort to tell others about the Home Demonstration program. Next week you will probably see window displays and special news stories about club activities. Perhaps you will be invited to a special open house sponsored by a club.

If you have any questions about the Home Demonstration program in Delaware, ask your friend or neighbor who belongs to one of Kent County's twenty-three organized Home Demonstration Clubs or contact me. The address is: Home Demonstration Agent, Post Office Building, Dover, Delaware.

STATE MEETING
The State Home Demonstration meeting will be held on Tuesday, May 1, at the Capital Grange Hall, in Dover. For several years this has been a part of Delaware's Home Demonstration Week activities. Homemakers from all over the state will attend this meeting which will begin at 10:00 a.m.

The program is built around the theme: Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World. State Council chairmen will report on activities in the fields of health, safety, citizenship, international relations, family life, publicity, and music.

Britain's Fleet Air Arm will have a submarine search plane which can fly at speeds as low as 70 miles an hour.

Belfast, Northern Ireland, proposes to make an annual X-ray examination of children, for tuberculosis, compulsory.

Kent Soil District To Enter Contest

The Soil Conservation District of Kent County has entered the national Soil Conservation Awards program sponsored by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. of Akron, Ohio, it was announced today by District Chairman, L. D. Caulk, Sr., of Wyoming.

Members of the Kent County district will compete against other soil conservation districts in Delaware and New Jersey. Non-partisan judging committees, selected from New Jersey and Delaware's outstanding exponents of the soil conservation movement, will determine the state's outstanding district for the period May 1, 1955 to March 31, 1956 on a basis of total points scored in performances of regular district duties.

Grand award for one member of each winning district governing body and the top cooperating farmer or rancher named by the District will be a one-week, expense-free vacation trip to Goodyear's fabulous winter resort, the Wigwam Guest ranch on Goodyear Farms, Litchfield Park, Arizona, in December 1956.

Members of the Kent County district governing body who will compete for the Goodyear award are: L. D. Caulk, Sr., Wyoming; C. A. Taylor, Harrington; Isaac H. Thomas, Maryland; and Charles Blendt, Smyrna.

National winners of the Goodyear Soil Conservation Awards will be announced at the seven regular area meetings of the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts. Plaques will be awarded at these conventions to the hundred first and second place winning districts.

Local Wool Pool May Be Extended

An extra day will be added to the annual Wool Pool of the Delaware Sheep and Wool Association if sheep owners other than association members indicate by May 12, a desire to market their wool through the Pool.

At a meeting of the directors and officers of the association on April 17, it was decided that time could be extended only if there is advance knowledge that the volume of additional wool will be sufficient to warrant the extra expense for which a nominal handling charge will be made.

In the past two years, the association has obtained the best price for its wool offered in Delaware because quantity has attracted buyers interested only in large amounts of graded wool. Association membership has increased so much that the amount of wool from member's flocks is approaching the maximum amount that a grader can handle in one day.

Reasonably accurate forecasting of the amount of wool to be offered for sale benefits both wool growers and purchasers. The potential from Delaware and nearby adjoining Maryland counties is not fully known, because the advantage of marketing through the Pool has not been used by all Delaware sheep owners or residents of nearby Maryland.

Bids are asked on amounts that include the previous year's wool collection and an estimated amount based on known flock increases of association members and what can be anticipated from other sheep owners.

Serious over-estimates are disappointing to exceptionally large users of wool willing to pay higher prices and can limit the number of future bidders. Under-estimates that result in the successful bidder having to take an excessive amount of wool over what he can use cause hardship, as the successful bidder is obligated to take all the wool collected. Loss of interest in either case affects prices.

Participation will not be limited to Delaware Sheep owners this year. Instead, a priority system will be used, preference being given to non-member owners in the order in which their notification is received by the secretary of the association, but will be limited by the maximum amount of work that can be handled.

Communications stating the number of sheep to be shorn should be addressed to the Delaware Sheep and Wool Association, Post Office box 166, Dover, er, or by calling Mrs. Henry R. Goggin, Bedford 3741.

The State of Sao Paulo, Brazil, plans to install some $250,000,000 worth of electric generating capacity in the next 10 years.

An international exhibit of new inventions and devices is scheduled to be held in Zurich, Switzerland, early this summer.

A 50 per cent increase in capacity is planned for Holland's timber mill and plywood plant in Surinam, Parimaribo reports.

Dublin proposes a city speed limit of 30 miles an hour for motor cars.

Soup was served to people queuing for a sale in Brighton, England.

IT'S TORQUE THAT MAKES THE WHEELS GO 'ROUND!

... And the High-Torque Output of Oldsmobile's Famous Rocket Engine is Instantly Translated Into Outstanding Performance at the Rear Wheels!

LET'S TALK TORQUE! In plain language, torque is "twist." It's the force that makes the wheels go 'round.

So it follows . . . the more torque your engine has, the more go power your car has . . . the more getaway at the light . . . the more action on the open road!

That's why, when it comes to power, there's nothing like Oldsmobile's Rocket T-350 Engine — because the Rocket is torque TNT! Figures prove it: 350 pound-feet at 2800 rpm (340 pound-feet at 2400 rpm in "88" models).

OLDS CHASSIS IS ENGINEERED TO HANDLE HIGHER TORQUE!

Oldsmobile has the chassis to take Rocket torque . . . a skillfully engineered Oldsmobile chassis with an extra-sturdy, dynamically balanced drive shaft, and an extra-rigid frame that resists twisting and weaving.

What's more, the Rocket's got horsepower — to spare! And with Oldsmobile, it's high usable horsepower . . . a by-product of engine design aimed straight at the wheels — design that translates horsepower into terrific torque at normal engine rpm's.

TOP TORQUE MEANS TIP-TOP PERFORMANCE!

The result is higher torque — silken, responsive Rocket action. Touch the accelerator — ever so gently — you "go" . . . and we do mean "GO!" You thrill to smoother, swifter bursts of power for everyday use — spectacular performance, when you need it . . . when you want it.

Any way you look at it, you can't top the Rocket for thrills for the money — or for top return when it's time to trade. Stop by soon. Rocket 'round the block . . . or around the town if you like!

By MRS. DAVE (PAT) SMITH

This weeks write coming to you from Buffalo Raceway, Hamburg, N. Y. and one thing I certainly can say is it has been the most miserable weather you have ever seen. I ran into a blinding snow storm just about Wayland, N. Y. Gosh it was something. Some how or other I didn't dare to stop. Might not get any farther. So I kept going. But it snowed all the way till I reached Hamburg. Friday was bad and Saturday was worse. Why do they have to start to race so early?

All I could read in the Harness Horse was how busy it is up here. And how many head of horses was on the ground. Well believe it or not, we are the first stable down where the new barns are. In fact it was very lonesome up on the hill where the brave ones stayed to train their horses up here. But no stables except Buddy Gilmore who came in this past Saturday from Myrtle Beach. Another from Wilmington, N. C. Course this week will be a busy one. For here and there you will see the stall man assigning their stalls. And don't think they won't let you have any extra stalls. How we got two I will never know. But any day we might have to give one up.

They are really going to town on the new barns they are building for about 90 stalls. Gene Pownall, and Delvin Millers stable is right across from Dave's stable. There are several horses from there stables staked up here.

They have installed a canopy that extends over the par mutual betting sheds that is beautiful. The colors this year are in white, green and coral pink. Sure does give the grounds a sporty look. But it is still like signing your life away up here to get to race. We have signed three sets of papers already that go to the office besides registering ownership if you have a trailer, as you can't have a rented one on the grounds this year. Three sets of every thing it seems. You must present your New York State pass to get your track pass. Who says to race in this business any is for pleasure. Back in the good old days maybe yes.

The blacksmiths are not spread out like they used to be either here at the track. They have moved them all up on top of the hill and that means about a quarter of a mile walk to get to them. I'll take Harrington for mine. But guess you can't have every thing.

Dave has gone to Buffalo to a spaghetti dinner and then on to the theatre. I was invited but was too tired to start out. I'll have enough of night life in another few days.

The River Drive along the beautiful Susquehanna was out of this world. The different trees that were budding, especially on the little islands out in the river. The homes also were so pretty. I didn't expect to see the Crepe Myrtle trees in bloom. I hope I'm mistaken about those trees, but they were sure pretty.

Another thing, I have made this same trip many, many times, but this is the first time that I ever noticed the old side wheeler boat that is just about to rot away. I just happened to be going slow and through the bushes I noticed it. I pulled over to one side, and sure enough there she stood. I have an idea she once crossed where it was partly tied up. I couldn't make out the name on her side, but you could tell some time it was used to ferry you across the river. Funny thing a large old weeping willow was spreading all over the old boat, just like it was protecting it from the world.

The best of all was when I told the national convoy how to go to miss the traffic going into Harrisburg. Well was my face red when he said to me, I think you made a mistake, you forgot to tell me about route 22 off 230. Well that's nothing, I made the same mistake I went right through Harrisburg. Where my mind was I'll never know. But I sure made good time getting up to Hamburg.

At Amity Hall I found out some very interesting things about Amity Hall, Pa. All so historical. In time I will send in the best of what I got while there.

Here is something that Reese will get a kick out of. This really was on the movie marquee of the Erlanger Theater, here in downtown Buffalo. Here tis, "I Remember Mama"—And She Wore a Yellow Ribbon.

Have yo never stopped to read the double feature programs that appear on some theater marquees? Some are real funny. Just try looking and study them sometime.

Several of the press are going down to Olean, N. Y. to greet an old river pilot who has made a trip of 266 miles in and old boat with only one cylinder. More or less a home made paddle boat. They call the old captain the Mark Twain of years gone by. I was invited to go but this trip was just a little tiring this time. He started 12 miles south of Pittsburg last October on the Ohio river. Why so exciting is, the old captain is 90 years young. He will be the first to carry any cargo up the Allegheny in 119 years. The boys asked him what the worst catastrophe was on the long trip. My tobacco got wet. I know this old fellow very well, Capt. Way.

8 Million People Now Receiving Benefits

During the month of January 1956 the 8 million mark was reached in the number of people now receiving OASI benefits, according to a statement made today by Myron Milbouer, district manager of the Delaware social security office.

Included among the more than 8 million persons now on the benefit rolls are retired workers over 65 and their aged wives, widows and children and dependent parents of deceased workers. Altogether, they are now receiving monthly payments of more than 415 million dollars under this Federal insurance program administered by the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

In addition to those already receiving benefits there are approximately 70 1/2 million more employed people who are presently insured under the law—about 30 million of whom are permanently insured—they will stay insured even if they do no more work. In the event of their retirement or death they or their families will be entitled to benefits. Today nine out of ten of the mothers and children in the country would be entitled to survivors insurance payments in the event of the death of the family breadwinner.

The average monthly payment to a retired worker based on earnings after 1950 is now approximately $78 and the payments to aged couples average about $130. The average payment for an aged widow is $65 and the average payment to a young widow with two children $182 per month.

Looking to the future, Mr. Milbouer continued, it is estimated that in 1975 there will be more than 20 million persons over 65 in the United States. Four out of every five of them will be eligible for OASI payments as retired workers, aged wives, dependent husbands, widows or dependent widowers or parents.

Greenwood

Today finds it cold again in Greenwood with the wild horses of the wind galloping over the fields. Here at Trail's End we have a special way of knowing that it isn't really spring yet, no matter what the calendar or the TV man says. The barn swallows have not returned to the barn. Jake watches every day as he milks "Bossy" but shakes his head when he comes in with the pail of foaming milk. "Last year", he says plaintively, "they came back on Easter Sunday". But Easter was later I think. When they arrive it will be warm and spring will begin. They never make a mistake. And they will rush around busily repairing their old nests. They are such thrifty little folk and have been known to put on new shingles and fix up a door sill for as much as three years before they decide to rebuild from the beam up. On the other hand, the wild geese have 'gone over', so the time approaches. After they had gone, we stood in the kitchen silently for a moment savoring the event. What is it about the wild geese? I cannot describe it. I get a feeling of sweet sadness, of longing for I know not what, of mystery that is linked with the infinite.
