

NEWPORT PLAN FAILS IN LEGISLATURE BY ONE VOTE

The controversial Newport Plan for gasoline tax rebates to municipalities, up for the fifth time failed by one vote Monday night when a member of the House changed his vote at the last minute.

Rep. B. Walter Johnson (D-Glasgow) rose as the roll called to change his vote from aye to no. The measure got 26 ayes, four noes, with three not voting and two absent.

Since the plan involves amendment to the Delaware Code, it needs a three-quarters approval. The House did pass a $225,000 appropriation for mosquito control this summer, which was sent to the Senate and passed there immediately. The need for the measure was underlined by the presence in the chambers of a squadron of mosquitoes which came in the many unscreened windows of Legislative Hall.

Another controversial measure which would set monthly grants to totally blind persons at $85, was passed despite requests for a hearing by the Delaware Commission for the Blind, which opposes the bill.

The Senate adjourned at 1:09 a. m. after passing the mosquito control bill, and the House adjourned shortly afterward. The next business session is scheduled for Tuesday at 8 p. m., although skeleton sessions will be held Thursday and Monday.

The Newport Plan (HB 341) would give incorporated communities one cent per gallon of the state gasoline tax for road improvement and maintenance.

Monday night it got 22 votes the first time through, and Rep Robert P. Maclary (R-Newport Pike) moved to table the announcement of the vote. Later, several representatives who had been absent showed up and Mr. Maclary moved that their votes be recorded.

Mr. Johnson, apparently making a quick calculation, announced that he was changing his vote and the measure went down by one. After the roll call was completed, Reps. Maclary and Harry G. Lawson (R-Wilmington), changed their votes so the measure could be recalled another time.

The final count, before Maclary and Lawson changed, was: Not voting: Alexander, Bostick, Deputy.

Absent: Hicks, Keel.

No: Eskridge, B. F. Johnson, Smith, Quigley.

Aye: Livingston, Snowden, Shockley, Brogan, Wood, Wolf, Lester, Rowan, Mattford, Queen, Clark, Massey, Garton, Nechay, Wilkerson, Donovan, Mayhew, Macklin, Layton, Hastings, Pepper, Tilghman, S. Johnson, Walls, Tunnell, Maclary and Lawson.

Mosquito Testimony
The mosquito bill was passed after the legislators considered testimony by Richard A. Haber, chief engineer of the State Highway Department, and Dr. Floyd I. Hudson, executive secretary of the State Board of Health, as to the necessity for the control program.

More than 150 persons, mostly women, were on hand in Legislative Hall, urging passage of the bill.

During the discussion of the mosquito nuisance, Dr. Hudson agreed that the problem is serious and said there is evidence of the presence in the state of two strains of mosquitoes which carry serious diseases — malaria and encephalitis (sleeping sickness).

He emphasized, however, that there have been no confirmed cases of malaria in several years and none of sleeping sickness in human beings.

Just Needs Money
Mr. Haber also said that he did not believe the condition called for the creation of a state of emergency. He added that there is a problem—a serious problem—but that the mosquito control division of the State Highway Department has the technicians and the equipment to do the job if it receives sufficient funds.

Read into the record of the discussion was the following telegram from U. S. Rep. Harris B. McDowell, Jr. (D-Del.) to Dr. Hudson.

"Air Force officials, Pentagon, inform me Langley Field has adequate planes and materials for spray program for you upon request. No request for spraying pending at Langley Field from you. Informed past spray schedule has been May 14, June

CLIFFORD HALL SEEKS RE-ELECTION AS STATE AUDITOR

State Auditor Clifford Hall, of Selbyville, this week threw his hat into the ring again as a candidate for re-election in the General Election this fall. Mr. Hall, a Democrat, released the following statement:

I would like to take this opportunity to announce myself as a candidate for the Democratic nomination to the office of Auditor of Accounts. During the past year and a half I have worked in the interest of all the people in the State. I sincerely hope that it is the feeling of the citizens of Delaware in general and the Democratic Party in particular, that my term of office has been one they can point to with pride. Every effort has been made to increase the efficiency of my office, and although the work has increased considerably over the past year and a half, I am pleased to report that all invoices are processed on a day to day basis. Ways and means are being studied to cope with the ever increasing work load that is a result of the rising economy of the State. In addition, the 118th General Assembly passed legislation to revise the existing election laws to better regulate registrations and elections. To insure uniform control through out the counties, they created the office of State Election Commissioner. The duties and responsibilities of this office were delegated to the State Auditor. I visited different counties in other states and studied their systems and methods of operation. The best of these were incorporated in our system. Rules, instructions and forms were set up to activate the new laws. When the registration has been completed and the election over, only half of the job will have been done. It will take almost all of next year to finish the master file of Permanent Registration and update the records of voters who participate in the coming election. I would very much like to see the job through to completion. I would like to add that it has been a privilege and a pleasure to serve as State Auditor and State Election Commissioner. There have been so many headaches connected with the office, and times when the problems seemed insurmountable. However, it was a challenge to find the solutions, and I will frankly admit that I have enjoyed my term of office. If it is the pleasure of the Democratic Party that I represent them as the candidate for Auditor of Accounts, I promise if elected, to continue to serve the party and the people of the State in a full-time capacity, to the best of my ability.

The meeting will take place on grounds adjoining the Standard Oil Station, across from the Moose Home, on U.S. 13, north of Harrington.

Bowles has become a nationally known figure since the highly controversial issue of school integration has arisen in Delaware. At Sunday's meeting he will speak on states' rights and current issues.

Boggs Vetoes Bill to Create Labor Section

Gov. J. Caleb Boggs told a special press conference Tuesday that he vetoed the controversial bill to create a state Department of Labor and Industrial Relations because in naming the members of the proposed board, the General Assembly usurped the governor's function.

He said the bill was another part of a concerted Democratic drive to establish one-party control of the state.

In answer to a question, the Governor noted that it was the 14th measure he had vetoed on the basis that it violated the traditional governmental balance between executive, legislative, and judicial branches.

He also criticized the Senate for failing to confirm the appointment of Judge Caleb R. Layton III as president judge of the Superior Court. He said that six months since the appointment was announced, Democratic members of the Senate have done nothing about it but try to make "deals" with the Governor's office.

The Governor's statement follows:

"Gentlemen: You now have a copy of my message, vetoing Senate Substitute No. 2 for Senate Bill 470. I am sure many of you have recognized the maneuvering behind the passage of this bill for what it was—a deliberate attempt at political entrapment of the Governor and the Republican Party.

"Despite my strong and continuing desire to see a State Department of Labor and Industry established during this present administration, I have found it necessary to veto this bill for the reason given in my message—but many other reasons could have been advanced.

"The bill embodies my desirable features. But once again the Democratic-controlled General Assembly has violated sound constitutional principles by insisting on naming the members of the department. As I pointed out in the veto message, the great fundamental freedoms, rights, and privileges of our people are based upon preserving the proper balance of powers of the legislative, executive, and judicial branches of our government.

"In stripping the Governor of his authority to appoint the members of an executive department, this bill continues the headlong drive toward one-party rule, and a disregard for the proper functions of a legislature that has characterized the 118th General Assembly.

'Dangerous Action'
"This dangerous action which ignores our historic American system of checks and balances, based on a government divided into clearly distinct areas of executive, legislative, and judicial authority, has been publicly deplored by many people—including even my predecessor as Governor during his recent period of service as state chairman of the Democratic Party (Elbert N. Carvel).

"Let's look first at the record. In 1954 the Republican Party platform said, 'We propose the creation of the State Department of Labor and Industrial Relations, to administer laws pertaining to labor, and advance the interests of employee, employer, and the public.'

"In my message to the 118th General Assembly, when it first convened 18 months ago, I stated: 'The greatest inducement for full employment and prosperity comes from the mutual cooperation of industry, labor, and government in creating the type of atmosphere so necessary for a healthy economy. I have before recommended that a state Department of Labor be established—and I now do so again.'

"Labor receives fullest consideration and enjoys substantial benefits gained through this administration. My legislative program included an increase in maximum weekly benefits for unemployment compensation from $25 to $35. This is the largest single increase of this kind in the history of the state. I took a friendly view and approved readily, and with pleasure, substantial increases in the workmen's compensation schedule. Organized labor has had appropriate representation in executive appointments. It follows naturally that I have consistently wanted to be able to give my approval to a sound Department of Labor bill.

'Clearly Desirable'
"We have reached the stage in the development of the state where such a department is clearly desirable.

"Inasmuch as the General Assembly is still in session—and we may each speculate as to how long it may continue to be—it is my hope that a new bill embodying the changes I consider necessary, as well as the improvements I am suggesting, will come before me for approval.

In spite of certain weaknesses in this particular bill, and the political circumstances surrounding its passage, I would have been strongly impelled to affix my signature had it not been for the manner in which the members of the department were appointed.

"It is my firm and sincere conviction that I would be contributing to the weakening of our system of government, and acting in a manner harmful to the people of this state, if I were to acquiesce supinely in this continuing drive to strip the office of Governor of the basic right to appoint officers of the executive branch.

"The establishment of an effective department of labor and industrial relations is of great importance to the people of the State of Delaware. It is so important that, prior to enactment, there should have been full opportunity for all interested parties to have appeared at public hearings before either or both houses of the General Assembly.

Complaints of Speed
"That in a single night, such a measure was introduced, passed, and even voted upon in one chamber without time being permitted for its 11 pages to be read, strips the legislative process of its intended significance. Legislatures are frequently referred to as 'deliberative bodies.' The Democrats in our legislature have made a farce of such a descriptive term.

"The record of this administration in rejecting proposed bills in which the Governor has been denied his traditional right to name officers of the executive branch, is a familiar one.

"Therefore the insistence of the leaders of the General Assembly upon writing the names of members of the department into this bill, thereby curtailing an almost certain veto, can not help but raise the question of good faith. Was this a genuine effort to establish an important new state department at breakneck speed, or a method of going through useless motions to satisfy a political commitment, coupled with an opportunity, as the public press has stated: 'to put the Governor on the spot?'

All But First Four
"Actually the Democratic controlled General Assembly has clearly recognized the fact that members of the department should properly be appointed by the Governor. It did so by providing that, except for appointment of the initial four members of the department, such members shall be appointed by the Governor.

"Here is the exact language: 'As each term expires, a member shall be appointed by the Governor for a full term of four years' and the bill goes on to say: 'In case of a vacancy for any cause other than expiration of term, the vacancy shall be filled by appointment by the Governor for the balance of the unexpired term.'

"Therefore, to what purpose other than absolute political greed and lust for power can this present by-passing of the Governor be ascribed?

"In the matter of qualifications for the individual to fill the office of commissioner of labor and industrial relations, the bill is silent. It is actually a fact that this measure does not set forth a single requirement for this important officer, who is to be paid a salary of $9,000 a year. Certainly, great injury could be done to the public and all other parties affected by the selection of an unqualified individual to fill this position.

"The bill is silent on the matter of tenure of office. It is corrected by the attached amendment.

Brownie News

Brownie Troop No. 131 closed its meetings until fall last Wednesday night. Brownie fly-up was held at Wheeler's Park. The Big Slide was used. Committee member B. Norman Hopkins had readied the slide. Two large signs were placed at the base. The side-rails were decorated with green and yellow streamers. The top ten steps held one word each to represent each of the Girl Scout laws. At the top was a sign with the Girl Scout Motto.

The girls repeated their Brownie Promise with Leader Catherine Hopkins, at the foot of the slide stairs. Mrs. Hopkins awarded each girl their Scout Wings and membership stars, as this was done each girl climbed the slide steps and slid to the other side where their intermediate leader was waiting for them. There their new leader, Mrs. Matilda Brown, asked them to say the Girl Scout Promise and awarded them their Girl Scout Pins. The following girls were present: Nancev Blades, Joan Dean, Bobette DeVroy, Nancy Harrington, Alice Hearn, Dawn Hopkins, Michele Jack, Susan McDonald, Maureen Riley, Jackie Russum, Carol Wirick. Mrs. Robert DeVroy was awarded a pin and welcomed as a committee member for the troop.

This troop finished its tenderfoot requirements when they spent the weekend in June at Petersburg Recreation Center. Fourteen girls attended this and were chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. B. Norman Hopkins and Mrs. Clyde Tucker. Most of the girls were first introduced to window washing and peeling potatoes at this time. On Sunday they cooked hamburgers for their families out of doors on homemade stoves. The girls all say they had the most fun after they set their cots up and went to bed. That is when the laughing, talking and story telling went on.

Brownie Troops No. 131, 21, and 157 visited Washington, D. C. by bus in June. They visited the White House, Pan-American Building, toured Washington, then ate their picnic lunches on the bank of the Potomac River. Next they visited Mount Vernon. Upon return every little girl rode to the top of the Washington Monument for the view of Washington.

has freezer space may well invest in such beef cuts for future use, the U. S. Department of Agriculture suggests.

Plentiful supply plus seasonal lag in demand often adds up to bargain prices. Thus many markets at this time will be selling blade chuck or rib roast at prices favorable to consumers. Thus, it may pay to purchase for freezer storage the very items most shoppers pass up.

Another reason for buying U. S. Choice grade beef is in unusually good supply this time of year. Because of plentiful supplies, prices have dropped this week, from 1 to 6 cents a lb. on many cuts.

More Delaware grown vegetables are coming to market and a number of them make the list of "Good Buys" this week. Local snaps, priced as low as 14 cents a lb. in some stores; beets at 13 cents a bunch; cabbage, 6 cents; leafy greens at 12 cents a lb. Green onions are cheaper this week, selling around 10 cents a bunch. Corn being shipped in from the South is selling for 5 cents an ear over the week end. Tomatoes have gone up in price and quality is not so good.

New potatoes dropped a penny to 8 cents a pound this week. The freshly dug potatoes should be purchased a few at a time and kept in the refrigerator as they are perishable. Old potatoes are fast disappearing from the market.

Now is the time to can and freeze sour cherries. For those of you who like to have cherries for year round use at the lowest cost, there are two alternatives: Buy fresh cherries from nearby orchards now that they are in season and can or freeze them according to your family's likes or your facilities. Or buy a supply of processed cherries when there are sale prices marked on canned supplies in the retail markets during the present are relatively low now on processed cherries due to last year's large crop. Signs do point to higher prices for processed cherries during the coming year. Why? Because of the smaller cherry crop this year.

A general downward trend in meat prices, long awaited, appears this week.

You are missing a good bet if you haven't tried some of the lamb cuts available at the meat counter. Excellent quality lamb is coming to market in good supply. For really economical buys, look for less popular cuts as the shoulder cuts, including roasts and chops, neck slices, stew meat and ground lamb patties or meat loaf.

For those of you who like rib chops, there's good news too, they dropped about 8 cents a lb. this week, loin chops also lost 4 cents off their price tags.

Thrifty beef is available in good supply.

It's the quick-cooking or ready-cooked items at the meat counter that naturally have the most appeal to family food shoppers on hot summer days. When the mercury soars, the cuts that call for long cooking are passed by.

But the smart shopper who

Sulky Slants

Gosh, if you like excitement, you should have been up here for the 4th. I don't think I've ever seen so much traffic except in Chicago or some other large city. If you happened to be going to the beach as some of the people did at the track, they were stopped before they could get to the beaches.

In fact, all day long you could hear the radios stating that so and so road was blocked or closed to traffic. Seems all the beaches were filled. We started to drive over to Cape Cod and were stopped, so we just turned around and headed back to the race track. Even the lakes around here were so busy people looked like flies.

Here at the track Mr. Gibbons gave me these figures for attendance - 24,980 people and that was not as many as they had the night before the 4th. Haven't had that yet. The weather has been very hot and dry except at nights when it really cools off. It cools off enough to have to put stable blankets on the horses.

It seems all the small stables are moving out up here as the big stables from Westbury are coming in. We have stables with horses from Saffords, Houghton, Dancer, Del Miller, and many others. The local crowd isn't going for it too much. You do have to have pretty good stock this year.

You know, the talk around here is the Maryland circuit. I think it's about as good as any of the others, too. And look at some of their time the horses are going in. I wish we could race down there once. At least we will go to Baltimore. That helps.

Happy Gray is doing good with his horses up here. He is all smiles. The funny part of it is that his brother-in-law is doing the driving, and this is his first year, too.

It's like getting your horses all ready again when you come off the track in Vernon Downs. That track is OK if you happen to be staying all season to race on it. Boy, what a track! Your horses get used to no turns and when they hit a half mile, look out! You sure slow down to a walk.

Have a day off, so I want to take in some of the sights around here. I wanted to go over to see Plymouth Rock last year, but didn't make it, so I'm heading for it - I hope - this time. I happened to visit one of those oldtime Quaker churches last Sunday. The date on it was 1638. There were old time hewn benches, the old hanging oil lamps, and such a musty smell, even the old wooden planks about 12 inches wide for the floor.

The very small windows and the ivy all over the outside gave it such a quaint look. Along with the really old cemetery, and if you cared to stop to read, the epitaphs were something. The oddest things I've ever read! But it is still kept up and you will find several people just as I was there looking. Always something to see of days gone by up here.

Here is a little pick-me-up: "It's more blessed to give than to receive." "Yeah, especially advice."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Q—I am covered by a $10,000 Korean GI term insurance policy. I have just gone to work as a test pilot for an aircraft manufacturing company. Since this job is considered hazardous, will it have any bearing on the extent of my insurance coverage?
A—None whatsoever. GI insurance has no restriction as to type of occupation. Neither the terms of the contract nor the amount of the premium will be affected by the type of job you hold, no matter how hazardous it might be.
Q—May a veteran change his Korean GI training program if his progress in his present course has not been satisfactory?
A—He may, if he shows VA that the lack of progress was not due to his own misconduct, neglect or lack of application—and if he has not had a change of program prior to that time.
Q—If a veteran is going to school full-time under the Korean GI Bill, would he also be eligible to draw unemployment allowances, since he was not employed?
A—No. The law prohibits full-time Korean GI Bill trainees from receiving unemployment allowances at the same time.
Q—Is it true that Korea veterans have four months from discharge to apply for Korean GI term insurance?
A—It is not. Veterans have 120 days from discharge to apply and pay their first premium. The 120-day period generally is shorter than four months.

CHEMICALS KILL STUMPS AND PREVENT REGROWTH

Killing stumps and preventing stump sprouts is frequently a problem in recently cleared and cutover areas, on roadsides and under utility lines where trees may be objectionable. Harry W. Dengler, extension forester at the University of Maryland, suggests herbicide treatment for meeting this problem.

Stumps of cut trees may be effectively killed and sprouting prevented, says Forester Dengler, by using 2,4,5-T or mixtures of 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T. These should be applied at rates of 8 to 16 pounds of acid equivalent per 100 gallons of diesel oil applied to the stump so as to wet completely the top and the sides to ground level.

Ammonium sulfate will also do this job effectively. It may be applied as crystals to the surface of the stump, or the entire stump may be sprayed at the rate of 4 to 6 pounds per gallon of water.

IMPORTANT THAT BELT TENSION BE CORRECT

Belt tension or tightness is a critical factor in the life of a belt and efficient operation of the equipment, reminds G. W. Gienger, extension agricultural engineer at the University of Maryland. It may be too tight or too loose, he said.

A loose belt will wear out quickly because of slippage; too tight a belt may ruin bearings, reduce belt life and waste power. Flat belts on close coupled equipment should have a tension of approximately 40 pounds of pull per inch of width of belt.

V-belts require less tension. One should be able to depress the V-belt at least a half inch midway between pulleys. An appreciable sag on long belts is desirable because the weight creates the tension.

When belts slip, the cause may be too narrow a belt, pulleys of too small a diameter, too stiff a belt or not enough tension.

Leather belts should always be run with the hair side to the pulley and nothing should ever be used on them except neatsfoot oil applied sparingly to the flesh side.

Rubber belts can be conditioned and kept flexible by applying a light film of castor oil. A very thin mixture of red lead and raw linseed oil is recommended for canvas belts.

Use the sticky type of belt dressing only as a last resort, cautions Mr. Gienger. It usually wastes power and often gums up pulleys and peels belt surfaces.

U. of D. Prof Gets Fulbright Grant

Dr. A. Janney DeArmond, associate professor of English at the University of Delaware, has been awarded a Fulbright grant for the coming academic year.

Miss DeArmond will visit the Ludwig Maximilian University in Munich, Germany, where she will lecture on American literature.

Well known to many of the university's graduates, Miss DeArmond came to Delaware in 1935 as an instructor in English. A Phi Beta Kappa student at Swarthmore College, she pursued her graduate study at Bryn Mawr College and Columbia University where she received her master of arts degree in 1934. She completed work for her doctorate at the University of Pennsylvania in 1947.

On May 20, 1954, Miss DeArmond was the recipient of the first $500 award for excellence in teaching presented by the University of Delaware. Funds for this initial award were raised through the Alumni Development Fund campaign by the class of 1913.

A native of Philadelphia, Dr. DeArmond is a member of Phi Kappa Phi, the AAUP, the Delaware State Education Association and the Modern Language Association of America. She also participates in the activities of the Women's International League, the United World Federalists and the American Civil Liberties Union.

As an author, her most significant publication, "Andrew Bradford, Colonial Journalist," was published as a part of the University of Delaware Monograph Series in 1949.

Wheat Marketing Cards Available

Several important matters regarding conservation programs should be of interest to farmers in Kent County according to an announcement by Lister V. Hall, Jr., ASC office manager.

Wheat marketing cards are now available in the county office. A farmer is required to write in or to come in to the office for his card. The card cannot be sent out by a farmer simply telephoning in for it. There must be a written authorization before anyone else can pick up his card.

In the same connection the Wheat Referendum will be held on July 20th. This will be a time when farmers will vote nationally as to whether they want to continue marketing quotas or not. Further information will come from the county office before that time.

Farmers are also reminded that Friday, July 20th, is the deadline for signing for participation in the Soil Bank Program for 1956. You should contact the county ASC office at 313 South Governors Avenue, Dover, for further details. This applies particularly to farmers who are interested in taking out a portion of their normal acreage of wheat or corn land.

Wheat Storage Has Problems

With wheat harvest now under way, it's well to remember that there's much more to the storage of grain than just "storage"; that is, if your crop is to be adequately protected from attack by several destructive insects common in left-over grain and feed about most farm buildings. Check the following steps, essential in preventing serious losses due to stored-grain pests:

Have you eliminated all accumulations of waste grain and feed?

Have you cleaned thoroughly empty bins, or other storage facilities?

Have you treated such areas, and bags as well, with a 2.5% DDT or methoxychlor spray (2 lbs. 50% w.p. in 5 gals. water)? About 2 gallons per 1000 square feet of surface should provide an effective residual coating.

Are you planning to apply a pyrethrum-type protective powder to the grain before, or as it goes into the bin?

Are you planning to inspect your grain regularly; and fumigate, if necessary?

Contact George Vapaa, your county agricultural agent, or local supply company, for additional information on indicated materials and their use.

New CD Cards CD Plates To Be Issued

Official Civil Defense motor vehicle identification plates will soon be issued to eligible personnel throughout Delaware, D. Preston Lee, state Civil Defense director, announced today.

The red cardboard plates with lettering in white and blue will be displayed on the right hand side of the vehicle's windshield.

They will read: "Delaware Official Car" and will bear the state seal along with the official Civil Defense insignia in white, red and blue.

In an emergency, the plates will permit quick identification of Civil Defense personnel moving through police lines or into restricted zones on assigned duties.

Not all Civil Defense personnel will be eligible for the car tags, Mr. Lee said. In general, those permitted to use them are: state Civil Defense personnel, key officials of the state, county and local governments with Civil Defense responsibilities, selected county and local Civil Defense workers with jobs that will require travel in an emergency.

The plates may be used on passenger cars, buses, trucks, motorcycles and other emergency equipment not otherwise identifiable as part of Civil Defense. But vehicles such as fire apparatus, police equipment, road maintenance trucks, and other vehicles readily recognized as needed for disaster relief work will not be required to display the tags.

To obtain the plates, eligible personnel must file written applications, using official forms. These must be submitted for approval to the applicant's respective Civil Defense director.

The plates will be issued for the specific vehicle the applicant intends to operate in an emergency. A certificate of issuance will be given with each plate, and records of all issuances will be kept by the Civil Defense directors.

The plates will remain the property of the state Civil Defense and losses or damage must be reported within 10 days. The plates also must be returned if the applicant terminates his Civil Defense work.

These regulations have the effect of state law and penalties are provided for violations.

New C. D. Cards To Be Issued

New identification cards are being issued to all Civil Defense personnel in Delaware with an effective date of July 19, D. Preston Lee, state Civil Defense director, announced today. Identification cards now in the possession of Civil Defense personnel become void on the effective date of the new cards.

The cards, which will carry up-to-date information on the bearer, will be issued by the state director, the three county and the Wilmington Civil Defense directors.

Special groups, including the state division chiefs, ground observer volunteers and the governor's advisory council, will receive their cards from the state Civil Defense office.

The three county and the Wilmington directors have been urged to notify the state office as soon as possible regarding the number of cards they will need.

All Civil Defense personnel are required to carry cards under official regulations which have the effect of state law.

In an emergency, the ID cards will permit the movement of authorized personnel through police lines and into restricted zones in order to perform assigned duties.

In addition to carrying ID cards, Civil Defense personnel, especially police workers, are urged to familiarize themselves with various military and FBI identification cards.

A description of these cards is contained in Delaware Civil Defense regulation No. 1, Mr. Lee pointed out. This is available on request from the state Civil Defense office.

Law enforcement officers, he said, must be prepared to "exercise care and make positive identification before permitting individuals or groups to travel."

DAVY CROCKETT, EXPERT MARKSMAN, TO APPEAR AT FAIR

Even as a boy Davy Crockett, 3rd, wasn't much for school learning or spending much time around the house doing homework or washing dishes. He liked the great outdoors in the hills of Tennessee and is an uncanny manipulator of a gun, knife, hatchet and bull whip. Davy will appear at the great Kent and Sussex County Fair during the week of July 23rd.

Using the various lethal weapons mentioned above, this wild and wooly cowpoke puts on demonstrations calculated to keep every spectator squirming in his seat.

Using various targets, Davy shows that the days of the "Ole West" when men had to get by on the survival of the fittest creed is not completely past.

Drawing two guns from the hip, he hits minute targets. Then for a change of pace he splits bullseyes with his knife and hatchet.

Using a pretty blonde model as an aide, Davy thrills the folks by whiplashing a cigarette out of her mouth, and following up with other stunts which take iron nerves both on the part of the performer and the model.

Davy shifts from weapon to weapon rapidly, and proves master of every one.

His exciting act has been well-received on a tour during the past year that has brought him to every state in the nation. To the kids he is a living combination of Texas Tommy, the Lone Ranger, and Hopalong Cassidy, while

Christmas Trees Are Profitable, Says Pennsylvanian

There is plenty of money in Christmas trees, according to James Keith, of Indiana county, Pa., who, with his family, spent several days fishing at Bowers Beach this week.

Keith says Indiana county raises more Christmas trees than any other county.

The type used is mostly Scotch pine, a type rarely found in Delaware. The seedlings cost $25 per thousand. An acre takes 2000 seedlings. The trees are trimmed by women and are marketed at eight years.

The growers usually get about $1.75 per tree, with most being sold to Cleveland dealers.

Keith thinks Christmas trees are an ideal crop for poor land, and that they require little care, other than trimming, after they have been set out.

Seconds after this picture was taken three Harrington, Delaware men became new Marines in ceremonies held at the Marine Recruiting Station at Baltimore, June 21. Major R. K. The men were part of a 36-man contingent of new Marines, who left Friday morning for 12 weeks "Boot" camp at Paris Island, South Carolina. Upon completion of recruit training they will get a ten day leave and then be assigned to one of the many posts and stations throughout the Marine Corps.

Our Advertisers Act In Good Faith

Our advertisers act in good faith when they advertise in the Harrington Journal. Really, we never had any trouble with misleading ads from Delawareans or Marylanders.

The ads we pay attention to are the classifieds coming from distant states and not thru an advertising agency.

Agencies take only advertising from a reputable concern.

We noticed the other day where a Maryland newspaper refused to accept classified ads from out of state. We have gotten to the point where we refuse all classified ads coming from a distance.

Most of these advertisers make extravagant claims. They tell housewives they can make money addressing postcards at home, making ear-rings at home, knitting hosiery at home. Men can make up to $600 per month with vending machines.

Of course, the "gimmick" is that the reader must invest his capital for some worthless material.

The advertisers know they are skating on thin ice. Consequently, they sometimes send a check with the order. Others will send cash, as if the sight of the green stuff will make the newspaper forget caution.

We were taken once on an ad for making ear-rings at home. One reader bought the kit. She said the rings were of dime-store calibre. In this case, we refunded her money, although she said we were not liable but that she was merely telling us what had happened. Furthermore, we didn't get paid for the ad.

Another racket goes like this: The advertiser usually lives at a distance, say, on the West Coast. He sends in a classified ad to run the same week it is received. He gives banking references but knows we will not have time to check them before inserting the ad. If we checked by wire, it would cost more than we would get for the ad.

But we throw the ad in the wastebasket. In this case, the advertiser would have merely a mail drop in a West Coast city. He would flood the nation with classifieds for one or two weeks. He would take the money received therefrom and skip.

Most newspapers lean over backward to protect their readers from unscrupulous advertisers.

Greenwood

On Wednesday, June 26, five members of the Greenwood High Flyers 4-H Club went to the University of Delaware at Newark to attend the Annual 4-H Short Course which lasted three days. Those attending were James McDowell, Ronald Webb, William Finkbinder, Keith Carlisle and Lee Whitmore. The boys arrived home on Saturday about five o'clock. While there they participated in project classes corresponding to their respective projects for the year. Their evenings were well taken care of also. On Wednesday evening a Get-Acquainted party was held at the college. Thursday night the boys went roller skating at the Glasgow Rink, Friday night was the 4-H State Dress Review for the girls. There was swimming instruction in the afternoons and championship ball games for the boys. All in all, the boys report a very good time!

Lutheran Reformation Church

Milford, Delaware

Services held each Sunday in the Odd Fellows' Hall on North Walnut Street

The Service - 8:30 A.M.

The Church School - 9:45 A.M.

There is no better way to start a day with a few minutes of prayer. This is especially true for Sunday, The Lord's Day. On that day, we should never forget Him who has given us life. Before you enter into the day's fun and relaxation, this Sunday, spend an hour in church giving thanks to your Creator. Reformation Church invites you to give thanks at its early morning service at 8:30 A.M.

Each Sunday at 9:45 A.M., the Church School is held in the Odd Fellows' Hall. Take advantage of this hour set aside for Christian Education. Bring your child with you to Sunday Church School. Classes are provided for all ages.

The Rev. John Martin Scherch, Pastor

Asbury Methodist Church Notes

Church School at 10 o'clock, Fulton J. Downing, superintendent. We have classes for all age groups - from the youngest to the oldest.

The lesson is entitled "Jesus is the Son of God." It is the second in this new series on "Foundations of Faith." The first-century Christmas forged a vigorous faith and shaped it on the anvil of hard and trying circumstances.

We feel what they had to say then can be of benefit to us today as we try to apply the principles of "Christian Love" to our particular situation.

The worship service will begin at 11 o'clock. The title of the pastor's sermon will be "What About This Man?" Worship is an essential element in the recreation of body, mind and spirit. Worship with your family this week.

The concluding program of our Daily Vacation Bible School was held Friday evening in the Collins Building of Asbury Church. Rev. W.H. Miller, the director, reported that there was a total enrollment of 100. We wish to express our thanks to everyone who helped to make the school a success.

LILY BULB CROP IS PROFITABLE

Lily bulbs from Georgia are proving a profitable crop to John L. and Geraldine C. Podlesny who are currently harvesting about 200,00 of the buds on their farm near Denton.

The buds are sold to wholesale florists for funeral work. With refrigeration, they will sometimes keep a month. These lily buds are known among horticulturists as longiflorum.

Half a million lily bulbs, planted last fall, and covered with a mulch of salt hay, are being cultivated on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Podlesny.

Starting with 400 bulbs on a 15 acre farm in Babylon, Long Island, the young couple soon began to look for a larger tract, with irrigation and suitable soil.

The rock deposits and water tables of Kent County, Md., deterred the couple from settling at Chestertown, so they began flower farming on 164 acres in Tuckahoe Neck, which they purchased from Hackett Downes.

Approximately five acres of lilies, in rows of 1,500 feet, require extra labor in September, when they are dug and graded for size, before being sold or replanted. The lilies provide two crops annually, in June and in the fall.

Besides the Georgia lilies, Mr. Podlesny has many Regal lilies.

The couple agrees that "to gild refined gold, to paint the lily to throw perfume on the violet, to smooth the ice or add another hue unto the rainbow, is wasteful and ridiculous," but the lily brings gold to the coffers of the agricultural florist.

Mr. Podlesny has a large acreage of soybeans, corn and other crops, as well as lilies.

The Caroline County Soil Conservation District has solved much of the irrigation problem by the addition of a pond on the farm.

CLAIMS FOR FEDERAL GAS TAV REFUNDS SHOULD BE FILLED NOW

Farmers will find it an easy job to file for the new 2 cents a gallon federal gasoline tax refund, advises Willard T. McAllister, University of Delaware agricultural economist.

Simply get form 2240 at any of the local Internal Revenue offices or from your county agricultural agent, he says. Complete the form, stating the quantity of gasoline you used for farm work between January 1 and June 30, 1956, and mail this form to the Internal Revenue Service, Post Office Building, Wilmington, Delaware.

Any owner, tenant, or operator of a farm, who uses gasoline for farm purposes, may file for a tax refund of 2 cents per gallon. No fund is allowed on gasoline used off the farm, such as for trucking, or in the family car. Nor can custom operators of farm machinery claim a refund for gas used in doing custom work. But farmers hiring custom work done can claim a refund for the gasoline actually used by the custom operator on their farms.

McAllister says that this first claim must be filed between June 30 and October 1, 1956. Claims filed in later years will cover a 12-month period ending June 30 each year. Accordingly, McAllister advises farmers to start now and keep all invoices of gasoline purchased so that accurate reports can be made each year.

"Don't send in receipts of gasoline purchases when filing a report," he says. "Keep them as evidence in case your statement should be challenged by the Internal Revenue Service."

An informational booklet entitled "Farmers Gas Tax Refund," which gives all of the details of this program, is available from county agricultural agent's offices, McAllister says.

Farm and Home

BORROW MONEY TO MAKE MONEY IS ADVICE TO FARMERS FROM ECONOMIST

"How much money can I afford to borrow," is a question many farmers must ask themselves.

According to Willard T. McAllister, University of Delaware agricultural economist, the answer depends on several things such as the size and type of farm, the ability and character of the borrower, the source and interest rate of the loan, the use to be made of the borrowed money, and the amount of equity the farmer has in his business.

One rule of thumb used by both borrowers and lenders is to keep total debts to one-half of total assets, McAllister says. Another rule is that a farmer should own all his machinery, livestock, feed, and personal property and be able to make a 10 percent down payment before deciding to buy a farm.

A much better method of deciding on the wise use of credit, though, is by budgeting, McAllister points out. Estimate the probable income from your farm and subtract the estimated costs of farming and family living, he advises. The remainder is the amount of income that can be used to pay interest and mortgage.

Difficulty with budgeting, however, is the tendency to over-estimate income and underestimate expenses and failure to make allowances for poor crops and unusually low prices, McAllister admits. A good set of farm records, which tells you what you can expect in the way of income, expenses, yields, and prices for several years, is your best guide in budgeting, he says.

Perhaps the single most important point in deciding when and how to use credit is to determine if the credit will result in a larger net income, McAllister concludes. If not, don't borrow. A good loan should be profitable for both borrower and lender.

A clock that strikes twice now intrigues visitors to Levuka, Fiji. It was made in France and adorns a church tower, but why it strikes a couple of minutes before and a couple of minutes after each hour has not been explained.

"THE FOLKS THAT I HAVE KNOWED"

We have a small number of pamphlets of poems of the above title, written by the late J. Harvey Burgess, late owner of The Harrington Journal and self-styled "splitter of infinitives, mixer of metaphors, demon of the double negative, sorcerer of solecisms, perpetrator of the world's poorest poetry." We presume he was also a dangler of participles.

There have been several requests for this booklet, priced at 25c, but we were unable to comply with them. Fortunately, however, we uncovered a limited supply of this valuable booklet recently while looking the effects of the estate.

We also have a number of pamphlets, "Hosses, Hosses, Hosses" written by Mr. Burgess, and depicting Harrington's harness-racing life. The price is 25c.

When the above-named pamphlets have been sold there will be no reprints.

Legislature

(continued from page 1) 1, June 14, and June 19. Arrangements for permission from Dr. Stearns to spray over Bombay Hook and other wild life refuge areas, as well as abundant supply of spray materials at Langley Field should expedite all-out program for control of mosquitos in Dover Air Force Base area.

Other Bills Passed The House also passed these bills:

Senator Camper—to provide that the base salary for the secretaries of the Department of Elections in Kent and Sussex Counties shall be $2,500 per year (S-582).

Senator Pryor—to provide that spouses of members of the armed forces be included among those permitted to register and vote by absentee registration (S-581).

Senator Pryor—to decrease the number of members of the Department of Election of New Castle County from 17 to 15 (S-580).

Senator Steen—to permit an increase from 40,000 to 46,000 pounds for the maximum road load which may be carried by vehicles equipped with three axles. (S-198).

Senator Pryor—to decrease the number of sample ballots furnished to the county chairmen of each political party to 15 for each election district (S-579).

Speaker Quigley—to permit the use of state funds for improvements to the Delaware Street wharf in New Castle. (H-727).

School Salaries Reps. Tunnell and Macklin—to appropriate $24,900 for the present fiscal year to provide a uniform salary schedule for certain administrative and supervisory employees of the State Board of Education and the Wilmington Board of Public Education who are not covered in the recently enacted new salary schedule. (H-726).

Rep. B. W. Johnson—to permit the Department of Elections to locate the balloting places in primary elections. (H-725).

Senator Reilly—to amend the new escheat law to provide that transactions under the act need not be dated prior to Dec. 31, 1909 (S-576).

Senator Reilly—to make a technical change in the law relating to the police pension fund for Wilmington. (S-568).

Rep. Keel—to make supplementary appropriations totalling $555,847 to various state agencies for the rest of the current biennium. (H-724).

Defeated by the House The House killed a bill by Senators Reilly and Williams—to appropriate $27,000 to the State Park Commission as a supplementary appropriation for equipment required to open Brandywine Springs Park. (S-546).

The blind aid bill was pushed through by Senator Walter J. Hoey (D-Milford), who admitted he did not understand it and could not get its sponsor, Rep. Harry E. Mayhew (D-Milford), to come over and explain it.

The bill was opposed by Senators Reilly, (D-Wilmington), and Wilmer F. Williams (R-Roselle), who wanted to have Dr. Francis J. Cummings, executive secretary of the blind commission, testify on the bill. It passed 9 to 3, however, with Senators Reilly Williams, and Eugene Lamnot (D-Wilmington) in opposition.

Fears Loss of U. S. Aid

(Dr. Cummings said today that the commission opposes it because it relates only to the "totally blind," which he said is a meaningless phrase and makes the bill unworkable. It would also, he said, deprive the state of some $120,000 a year in federal funds unless the federal government reverses its policy of refusing to put funds into states where there are pension laws not based on need.)

The bill would not increase the monthly maximum grant of $85, but would permit it to go to totally blind persons in amounts that would put their total incomes up to but not above $1,500 a year.

(Previously, Dr. Cummings said, the grants were based strictly on need, and the establishment of a blanket income figure regardless of need, is what he feels will make the federal government withdraw its aid. He also said it cuts off all persons not "totally blind," who are now eligible for assistance.)

Senator Reilly moved to defer the vote until Dr. Cummings could attend a hearing.

Four Absent

The vote on Senator Reilly's request for deferment found only Senator Lamnot voting with the two opponents of the blind assistance bill. Four members—Senators William B. Behen (D-Dover), William O. Covey, Jr., (R-Seaford), Calvin R. McCullough (D-Holloway Terrace), and Curtis W. Steen (D-Dagsboro)—were absent.

On the roll call for passage, Senator Hoey picked up assenting votes from all the other senators except Jehu F. Camper (D-Harrington), who was recorded as not voting.

Following the roll call both Senators Reilly and Williams said they wanted to make it clear they were not voting against increasing assistance to the blind, but felt the blind commission should have been granted the courtesy of a hearing.

Other Bills Passed

SB-222—Permitting foster parents who have had custody of a child for at least one year to initiate adoption procedure in the Orphan's Court. Sponsored by Senators Elwood F. Melson (R-Claymont) and Lamnot, and approved unanimously with Senator Calvin R. McCullough (D-Holloway Terrace) not voting.

SB-583—A supplementary appropriation of $3,169.01 to the Louis L. Redding School Comprehensive School at Middletown. Sponsored by Senator John R.

Butler (D-Middletown) and approved unanimously.

SB-584—Granting the Magnolia town police authority to pursue motor vehicle violators and make arrests one mile beyond the town limits. Sponsored by Senator William C. Paradee (D-Magnolia) and approved unanimously.

HB-163—Increasing the Stanton School District share of the School Building Program Act of 1955 from $550,000 to $1,770,000. Sponsored by Rep. Robert P. Maclary and approved unanimously.

BOGGS

(continued from page 1) tional officer, has imposed employment by the department and in whose selection he has no voice and concerning whom he appears to have no authority; by removal of the ambiguity in relationship in authority between the department and the Industrial Accident Board; and by the correction of errors in draftsmanship such as reflected the Section 120 in its relationship to 102.

Prison Act Recalled

"In many respects, enactment by the current General Assembly of legislation leading to the establishment of the State Board of Corrections was one of the most significant accomplishments of the session. Here the Governor's right to appoint board members was preserved, and here we have a new agency enjoying the public respect and esteem so vital to its successful functioning as a part of the body politic.

"I urge that the General Assembly reexamine the matter of a State Department of Labor and Industrial Relations as will permit all elements of our community to be heard; designed to preserve the historic and traditional relationship between the legislative and executive branches of the state government; and creating an agency fully capable of fulfilling its function in the interest of all citizens.

"Some of you may consider it useless for me to urge the 118th General Assembly to revise and reenact a labor department bill or anything else for that matter.

Urges Action On Layton

"Be that as it may, I am also taking this opportunity to urge the Legislature to something else which, in the public interest, it should have been done months ago.

"I refer to my nomination nearly six months ago of Judge Caleb R. Layton III to be president judge of the Superior Court. This appointment, as you know, is subject to confirmation by the Senate. The Senate has taken no action during these six months on this appointment—except to attempt to make certain deals with me, in which I would not participate, concerning the appointment.

"The duty of the Senate is clear. It should act without undue delay on this appointment. As a matter of fact the Constitution contemplates that action on judicial vacancies should take place within 30 days after the vacancy occurs by requiring the Governor to call a special session of the Senate, within such time, if it is not already in session.

"Consequently, I again call upon the Senate to fulfill its duty, to act upon my appointment of Judge Layton for the position of president judge of the Superior Court.

Hails Fee Limit Repeal "Speaking of delay causes me to consider it appropriate to comment on the fact that it appears that desperately-needed new school buildings can now be constructed.

Such construction of classrooms and other educational facilities has been delayed unnecessarily for approximately a full year by the Democrats controlling the current General Assembly.

This was caused first by failure for many months to pass the 18955 School Construction Act. When that matter was finally disposed of, schools could not be built because of a restrictive clause on architects' fees which had been unnecessarily injected into that bill.

"I am pleased that the General Assembly has at long last done what I have urged in that matter, and passed the bill removing the fee restriction. I will certainly be glad to sign that bill at the earliest possible opportunity."

The grand jury returned a total of eight indictments with seven of them involving worthless check charges and six of these seven charges were filed against one individual.

Held on Larceny

Howard Edward Ellingsworth was indicted on a charge of larceny and was charged with the theft of a tractor, and a set of tractor plows, from William T. Ratchford, who resides west of Wyoming, in the same area where Ellingsworth resides.

William Brittingham, whose cases was transferred from the Juvenile Court to the Superior Court, was given a suspended sentence of three years in jail and placed on probation by Judge Charles L. Terry, Jr., who presided in court here.

Brittingham, who recently became 18, was before the Juvenile Court on various charges over a period of several years and when he was brought before that court last November his case was transferred to the Superior Court.
