

BUSINESSMEN MOST INTERESTED IN CREDIT BUREAUS

Harrington businessmen are still deeply concerned with the formation of a credit bureau, or the joining of an existing one, it was revealed Monday night at the January meeting of the Chamber of Commerce in the First National Bank Building.

Several members mentioned they had joined a bureau and that they had found some of their delinquent accounts on the list of wayward accounts furnished by the bureau. It was said the organization covers Kent and Sussex counties in Delaware, and Caroline County, Md.

The Chamber authorized William W. Shaw to investigate credit. Possibilities include the formation of a distinctly local bureau, or joining of the tri-county group where the merchant desires.

A dinner meeting, planned for Jan. 10, was postponed because of a conflict in dates, but it was voted to hold a similar gathering Wed., Feb. 13 at The Wonder R at which time a credit or industrial expert will be present. James Rash, Earl Quillen and Walter Messick were appointed to make arrangements.

In the busy meeting, William W. Shaw, chairman of the Christmas Program Committee, said total expenses were $1704.08, with present collections, $1395. Balance of expenses will be paid from the general fund. The City turned in $125.57 collected from parking meters during the Christmas season.

W. Cliff Miller showed a drawing of a highway sign to identify the community. Two signs will be placed on U. S. 13. The devices will be sponsored and paid for by the Chamber, the Lions, and Rotary Clubs. The signs will display the insignias of the clubs. Cost, including erection, will be between $70 and $80 for each sign. It is planned to erect signs on the other highways when funds are available.

After Samuel A. Short, Jr., had told of a shortage of fuel for the ground observer post, Cahall's Gas Service Company and the Chamber each agreed to give a tank of fuel oil. Fuel for the post must be paid locally.

Cub Scout News

The Cub Scouts of Pack 76 of Harrington took a very interesting trip to the Philadelphia Planetarium on Sunday. They boarded the bus at 9 a.m., arriving in Philadelphia at 1 p.m., going directly to the locomotive room where the Cub Scouts rode on a locomotive. The next room displayed airplanes from the miniature models to the Amelia Earhart plane extended from the ceiling. The instrument panel from her crashed plane was on display, also one of the early gliders. Each Scout was allowed to sit in a plane and work the flaps. At 2 p.m. they entered the dome room. There they were seated as the soft colored room changed into a very dark night. Through a machine the stars and moon were illuminated in the sky. The narrator explained the planets and their history. This was in keeping with the January theme "Eyes in the Sky."

After visiting other parts of interest at the planetarium the tired but happy Cub Scouts started home.

The next committee meeting will be held Friday evening, Jan. 18, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Hughes.

Girl Scout Troop No. 142 held its weekly meeting Monday evening at the home of Mary Ann Fair. They discussed the badges they plan to work on in the future. They decided on the types of badges to be made and also discussed the various materials needed for making them. The next meeting will be held Monday evening at 7 o'clock also at the home of Mary Ann Fair.

Raughley-Jarrell

A wedding was performed Tuesday evening by the Rev. Gibson at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Raughley when their daughter, Marlene, became the bride of Donald Jarrell, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jarrell. Their only guests were the parents of the bride and bridegroom, and Mary Lynn, sister of the bridegroom. Sandra Raughley stood with her sister and Alvin Jarrell stood with his brother. They will live in Wilmington.

Man Held on Charge of Fraud

Newton White, representing the federal government, filed information in U. S. Court in Wilmington Wed., Jan. 9, against John August Avilla, also known as Robert Christopher Hawley, now in federal custody in Mississippi.

He is accused of transporting approximately $13,000 from Wilmington to New York last April 3, "knowing the money was stolen."

The FBI information discloses that, under the name of Hawley, the accused married the former Miss Martha Case, of Wilmington, last March 15, in West Palm Beach, Fla. They went to Wilmington and later Hawley, or Avilla, left with the money which his bride had obtained by cashing stocks and bonds.

Miss Case was a native of Felton.

Legion Auxiliary Solicits Clothing For Children

The regular meeting of the C.K.R.T. American Legion Auxiliary was held at the Legion Home in Harrington on Tuesday, Jan. 15, at 8 p.m. with Mrs. William Humes presiding.

Mrs. Frank O'Neal, Jr., reported on the Child Welfare Conference held in Newark on Jan. 5. She told the unit of the projects for the year concerning child welfare. The National Child Welfare Chairman's project is Save the Children Federation in Knoxville, Tenn. All units in the state are asked to send at least one 20-pound box of used clothing, blankets, sheets, diapers, etc. Mrs. O'Neal will be very happy to accept such clothing from members of the Harrington unit to be mailed to Tennessee. The clothing is distributed by the federation to needy children all over the world.

The state president's project is to purchase of a new posture bed for Stockley. Each unit was asked to contribute $5.00 toward this project. C.K.R.T. Unit No. 7 voted to send a $5.00 donation for the project.

The national president's project is the raising of additional funds for the American Legion Child Welfare Foundation. This foundation provides money for projects which are related to children. The unit made a $5.00 donation to this project also.

Again this year the members were asked to help the migrant workers' children in some way. A suggestion for pads or blankets to be used to take naps on was made. A decision will be made at a later meeting.

The unit voted to make a contribution of $5.00 to be used for fuel at the Harrington Spotter's Post.

On Tuesday evening, Jan. 22, five members of the auxiliary will take a bingo party to the Perry Point Veteran's Hospital. Mrs. Gooden Callaway, rehabilitation chairman, will be in charge.

A group of auxiliary members will also take a party to Stockley on Saturday afternoon, Feb. 16. Mrs. O'Neal is chairman of this affair.

The Mother's March for Polio will be held on Tuesday evening, Jan. 29. Members of the auxiliary who can help are asked to call Mrs. William Humes.

The refreshment committee for February will be Mrs. Ted Layton, chairman, Mrs. Ernest Killen, Mrs. Clarence Kemp, Mrs. Hazel Langrell, Mrs. Kenneth McKnatt, and Mrs. Archie Marshall.

The newly organized Harrington Square Dance group held its first dance Saturday evening at the Century Club. Attending the dance were twenty-four couples. The group is under the capable instruction of Carl Dynes of Millsboro. Refreshments were served. Dances are held every other Saturday, the next one will be Jan. 26. Anyone interested in joining the group or wanting any information on this matter may call Mrs. Oscar Nemes 3196 or Mrs. James Coady 8478.

Council Studies Water Accounts, Tax Collections

The City Council, in a busy special meeting Wednesday evening, authorized City Manager William Smith to set up a card-filing system of the city water accounts.

Furthermore, it voted to consider collection of taxes, which might entail a revision of the City Charter, with Mayor Hewitt Smith appointing a committee as follows: John F. Apt, chairman, Charles Jerread, and the city manager.

The Council voted to attach a sign reading "City Hall" outside the building, with a sign on the inside door denoting the hours it was open. Permission will have to be secured from the Harrington Volunteer Fire Company, owner of the building, before any action can be taken.

The Council voted to renew bonds on Howard Wagner, city treasurer, and on the city manager from the Raughley Insurance Service.

The case of a shortage in city tax funds has been settled, with the bonding company paying off on no bond. Attorneys Maxon Terry and William Watson Harrington, who attended the meeting, prepared the following resolution: "Whereas, the Home Indemnity Company has offered to pay for the sum of $1207.60, the alleged shortage in taxes collected in 1954 and 1955, without suit, the attorneys for the City are directed to take no further action unless directed by Council."

Dimes Will March Here, Despite Contrary Rumor

An unfortunate "rumor" has been circulated in Harrington that there would be no 1957 March of Dimes in this District. There is no basis for such information and the faithful contributors of Harrington and vicinity have adopted the slogan "Let's finish the job." The campaign starts immediately and will be sponsored jointly by Callaway, Kemp-Raughley-Tea Post No. 7, American Legion and its Ladies Auxiliary units. Kent County's portion of the 1956 Campaign was $8700 and the Kent County 1956 expenditures for aid to the polio victims were $14,000. A 1954 Kent County case costs $5,100 and one 1955 case cost $5,748 and another $1,151. These figures indicate the necessity for continued aid to the polio fund. There are 65,000 hopeless cases having been stricken before the introduction of the Salk vaccine. With the aid of the March of Dimes fund, science has taken better than 80 percent of the chance out of polio. The job now is to take care of the other 20 percent by insisting that all eligibles take shots of Salk vaccine and to continue contributing to the Polio Fund.

The Harrington-Farmington and vicinity district has a fine record in this great work, with an average annual contribution of $1400. The 1957 project is with us and contributions can be made at both the First National and Peoples Banks. The Campaign will close Feb. 4. Join the 1957 March of Dimes, and if you are fifty years of age or less you should get the maximum protection and urge others to do the same.

Gertie Mae Allen Dies After Long Illness

Mrs. Gertie Mae Allen, aged 59, wife of William E. Allen, died Jan. 11th at her home near here after a long illness.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by a daughter, Miss Edith Ford, Wyoming, 3 sisters, Mrs. Cora Kemp, Harrington, Mrs. Pearl Killen, Dover, and Miss Ivy Jolly, Farmhurst, and three brothers, Frank, Smyrna, Edward, Marydel, and Robert Long, Wyoming, and a grandson, Willard E. Long.

Funeral services were held Tuesday from the Berry Funeral Home at Felton with the Rev. Leonard Taylor, pastor of the Church of God of Dover, officiating. Interment will be at Barrett Chapel Cemetery.

A. B. Parsons Receives 40-Year Service Pin

A. B. Parsons, division manager for Delaware Power & Light Company, received a service pin early this week in recognition of his 40 years of loyal service to company and customers. W. S. Moore, Jr., vice president, presented the pin during a safety meeting held at Harrington.

Mr. Parsons, fondly called "Googles" by his acquaintances, is widely known in the community for his connection with the Kent and Sussex Fair and his activities on the school board. Horse racing, hunting and photography are his hobbies and they, too, have brought him a measure of recognition.

Mr. Parsons started his work with the electric company in September of 1916 and was employed as a groundman in the Denton line crew. In 1923 he moved to Delaware as district manager of Harrington. Later he was made division manager for Kent and Sussex counties, the capacity in which he now serves.

At the same meeting two men received 15-year service pins: Calvin Wells, division engineer at Harrington and Thomas Edward Brown, trouble and service man. Mr. Wells served for over three years in the U. S. Coast Guard; while Mr. Brown did a hitch in the U. S. Navy.

Ten year service pins were awarded to five men as follows: Clarence Billings, tree trimmer; Leslie Simpson, tree trimmer; William D. Hopkins, tree trimmer; James Harrry Cain, groundman in tree trimming crew; Charles Calloway, engineering fieldman.

Three men have completed five years of service and were awarded pins accordingly: Charles Robert Tathan, laborer; Wilbert Layton Gourley, engineer's helper; Robert Jester, meter reader.

Fish & Game News

For the sportsman who has not had enough, there is a place in Delaware where the hunting season is extended until February 28th, for pheasant, quail, and chukar partridge, at greatly reduced rates for the last two months of the season.

The Delaware Hunting Club and Game Preserve, located 5 miles north of Smyrna and 1/4 mile east of U. S. 13 is Delaware's only "pay as you go" shooting preserve.

Regulated by the Delaware Fish and Game Commission, the preserve offers fee shooting from Oct. 15th until Feb. 28th over a total of approximately 600 acres of planted and natural cover.

Among the numerous successful hunters this season were several well known Delaware business and professional men who expressed their pleasure at being able to hunt, find and kill birds, without taking too much time off from their businesses.

For the man with a bird dog, the preserve is a welcome addition, for it allows the dogs to hunt over more birds and for a longer season.

You are invited to visit the game farm, see for yourself some beautiful birds, talk with the owner, and reserve yourself a successful day's hunting.

Charles Hopkins Re-elected to Democratic Post

Charles Hopkins was re-elected member of the Kent County Democratic Executive Committee from the upper part of the Ninth Representative District Saturday in the only contest in the district. His opponent was Clifford Raughley.

Mrs. T. Brinton Holloway was re-elected committeewoman from the upper Ninth, while Mrs. Laurabelle Wilson got the nod in the lower half of the Ninth. George Vincent was unopposed in his race for committeeman in the lower half of the Ninth, his opponent Hyland Webb dropping out at a late hour.

Armed Forces Buy Peninsula Poultry

The Armed Forces purchased 5,200,000 pounds of poultry in November, of which 1,357,385 pounds, or 26.10 per cent, were purchased on the Delmarva Peninsula, according to a report received by the Journal from U.S. Senator John J. Williams.

In October, nation-wide purchases by the Armed Forces were 5,400,000 pounds, of which 1,331,821 pounds were purchased on the peninsula. In September, 4,700,000 pounds were purchased, of which 14.54 per cent, or 683,733 pounds, were purchased on the peninsula.

Motor Fuel Tax In State Makes November Record

Receipts from motor fuel tax in December during the month of November amounted to $841,703.21, according to a report released by James J. Deputy, who as Secretary of the State Highway Department is Administrator of the Motor Fuel Tax Division.

The tax received in November, which was reported during December, was the largest amount of these taxes received for the month of November since this tax has been in effect.

The November receipts were $45,987.07 more than were received during November of last year, an increase of $106,664.33 over November of 1954 and $183,351 more than received during November of 1953.

However, the November receipts were $16,031.18 less than were received during October of this year.

The tax received during November represented the sale of 12,834,461 gallons of motor fuel over the amount sold in November of last year.

The report as released by Mr. Deputy disclosed that there was a total of 49 concerns bonded as distributors for motor fuel in the state during November, and of this number, five reported no sales for the month.

On the other hand, four concerns reported sales that accounted for $24,949.97, or more than half of the taxes received for the month. These concerns, and the amount of taxes turned in by each, were Atlantic Refining Co., $89,882.06; Diamond Ice and Coal Co., $70,624.65; Esso Standard Oil Co., $120,618.11 and the Sun Oil Co., $43,825.15.

Felton Watchmaker Robbed

Fred Outen, who operates a clock and watch repair shop on Main Street in Felton, was robbed Wednesday evening by two young men who lured him from his home nearby on pretense of making a purchase.

Details were not available, but unconfirmed reports said the robbers took between $300 and $400.

State police of the Dover station had no details on the case, other than to say detectives were working on the case.

Civil Defense Gifts Deductible

The Harrington spotting station announced last week it may have to close if no fuel oil is provided to keep the personnel warm.

Clarence Kemp, Sr., has promised the cash for a barrel of oil, which was brought out at the Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday evening when Cahall's Gas Service Company and the Chamber voted to each furnish one.

If there are others who will help out with this worthwhile project with a barrel of oil, or can give a little of their time in spotting planes, please contact Supervisor Samuel A. Short, Jr., at Harrington 8983.

A letter has been received from the United States Treasury Department stating that "actual unreimbursed expenses incurred by civil defense volunteers in the performance of their volunteer duties, such as the cost of transportation in the manning of a civil defense post and the expense of paper and postage in the fulfillment of a volunteer civil defense assignment, or other expenses directly connected with and solely attributable or gifts within the meaning of section 170 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 and are deductible in the manner and to the extent provided in such section."

Traffic Increases In December

Increases in traffic during December, in comparison with the same month of last year, were recorded at all but one of the permanent traffic counting stations maintained by the Traffic and Planning Division of the State Highway Department.

The one counting station registering a decrease was along U.S. Route 13 at a point north of Smyrna and it is thought this decrease might have been caused by the normal flow of traffic between the Delaware Memorial Bridge and the Chesapeake Bay Bridge leaving this route at Tybout's Corner or Odessa.

The decrease recorded at this counting station was 3.03 percent with the daily average of vehicles counted being 11,069, which was a decrease of 346 over December of last year. The largest single day was Saturday, December 22 when 13,751 vehicles were counted.

Along U. S. Route 202, the Concord Pike, at a point north of Talleyville, the increase was 1.07 per cent with the daily average for vehicles counted being 10,019, an increase of 795 over December of last year, and the largest single day was Friday, Dec. 28, when 11,578 vehicles were counted.

An increase of 13.71 per cent was recorded on U. S. Route 40, at a point west of Bear, with the daily average of vehicles counted being 21,056, an increase of 2,538 over December of last year, and the largest single day was Sat. Dec. 22, when 32,401 vehicles were counted.

Along U. S. Route 113, at a point north of Milford, the increase was 6.43 percent with the daily average of vehicles counted being 5,249, an increase of 301 over December of last year. The largest single day was Friday, Dec. 7, when 6,642 vehicles were counted.

The increase along U.S. Route 13, at a point south of Greenwood, was 8.73 percent with the daily average of vehicles counted being 5,419, an increase of 435 over December of last year, with the largest single day being Friday, Dec. 21, when 7,526 vehicles were counted.

Needlecraft News

by Nancy Baxter

A baby, upon his first introduction to the world, is most comfortable wrapped up like a cocoon. A diaper, shirt, gown and receiving blanket is his standard wardrobe. But when an infant experiences the joy of being able to move his arms and legs, he wants and expects more freedom in his clothing. Once a baby reaches the active stage, it is difficult, as most mothers know, to keep even a blanket on the happy cherub.

KNITTED FOR ACTION

If your baby is ready for action, he will be grateful to mom for giving him clothes to move in. Knitted garments are a treat, because each stitch gives him freedom of movement. The elasticity of a knitted garment allows an infant to develop his muscles without as much as a seam holding him back. When made of soft wool, baby's knitted outfits will be kind to his tender skin, causing no irritation during the most vigorous play. Knitwear fits baby better, too. Though you may knit a garment one size larger to keep pace with a rapidly-growing child, it will conform easily to his chubby body without having a hand-me-down look. What's more, mother will be pleased with this action-free clothing since it's also iron-free.

FOR THE ROMPER SET

Wool is wonderful for babies. It has good absorptive qualities that protect the young ones from chills when wet. Besides being practical, wool looks wonderful, especially when used in knitting a cute little suit for a junior charmer. These rompers, knitted in the stockinette stitch, are designed to benefit both baby and mother. Mom will find it easier to dress her bouncing baby in the suit that has a bib-type front panel with buttons down both sides. Knitting directions for making these ROMPERS are available in sizes 1-2-3. For your copy, simply send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper with your request for Leaflet No. C-269.

Dept. of Ed. Health & Welfare Notes

The beginning of 1957 marks an important development in the social security insurance program. About 3 million members of the uniformed services now come under the law; many totally disabled children over 18 will start getting monthly payments; self-employed lawyers, dentists, and some other professional people have completed their first year under the program, and many farm landlords will be able to report their 1956 income from farm rentals for social security purposes.

"With the start of 1957, old-age, survivors, and disability insurance becomes a significant economic factor in the future of nearly every person who works for a living," Myron Milbourn, district manager of the Wilmington social security office declared today.

Benefits at the end of 1956 were being paid to 9,200,000 persons at the rate of $485 million a month. Insurance benefit payments to women beginning at age 62 first became payable for November and already 375,000 women in the 62-65 age group have started getting monthly checks.

Members of the nation's armed forces are the largest of the groups newly covered by the 1956 changes in the law. About three million in number, they will start in January to earn old-age, survivors, and disability insurance protection on the same contributory basis as about 55 million civilian workers earn theirs. Social security taxes will be deducted from the pay of members of the armed forces, and the Government, like other employers, will pay an equal amount. Members of the armed forces received gratuitous social security credit for military service in World War II and up to Jan. 1, 1957, but they made no tax contribution for this coverage.

About 200,000 self-employed lawyers, dentists, osteopaths, veterinarians, chiropractors, naturalists, and optometrists were also brought under the law by the 1956 amendments. Since they are covered by the law in their first taxable year ending 1955, they will get social security credit for their 1956 earnings. Along with the self-employed people who were previously covered by the law, they will pay their income tax returns.

The year 1956 can count toward social security protection for about 400,000 farm owners who rent their farms to others but who participate in the farming operation. If the farm landlord has an agreement with the renter or sharecropper under which the landlord participates materially in the operation or management of the crops or livestock, the farm landlord's income from the land counts toward social security.

At the end of the year approximately 60 percent of the 10 million persons past age 65 who are without income from employment were receiving old-age and survivors insurance benefits. Over 60 percent of the paternal orphans in the country were receiving survivors insurance benefits. Money to pay these benefits comes from the old-age and survivors insurance trust fund, which is built up from social security taxes paid by employees, employers, and self-employed people covered by the law. This fund is kept separate from all other Treasury receipts and can be used only to pay social security benefits and the costs of administration of the program.

During 1956 the Trust Fund received $6.6 billion, of which $525,000,000 was interest on that part of the fund which is not needed for current benefits and is invested in Government securities.

Benefit payments for the 12-month period ending December 31, 1956, totaled $5.7 billion, or about 86¢ of each dollar received during the year. Administrative expenses for the same period were 133,000,000 or approximately 2¢ of each dollar received. $800,000,000, or about 12¢ of each dollar received in 1956, went into the Trust Fund to be held for future benefit payments.

The total assets of the Trust Fund as of December 31, 1956, were $22.5 billion. Beginning January 1 the social security tax which workers pay, and which is matched by their employers, is raised from 2 percent to 2 1/4 percent. The social security tax paid by self-employed people on their earnings in 1957 will be increased from 3 percent to 3 1/2 percent. The additional tax will be used to finance the new disability insurance program, which provides monthly social security payments to qualified disabled workers between the ages of 50 and 65.

The first of two types of benefits based on disability which were provided by the 1956 amendments will become payable in January. These are payments to the disabled sons or daughters of workers who are now receiving old-age insurance benefits, and to the disabled children of workers who died after 1939 and were insured for survivors insurance benefits at death. The disabled child may receive benefits regardless of his age if he is unmarried and has been totally disabled since before his 18th birthday. The mother also receives benefits if the son or daughter is in her care. Payments to a disabled child can continue throughout his life.

The second type of monthly disability provided by the 1956 amendments will become payable for July 1957. There payments will go to people 50 to 65 years of age who are so severely disabled that they are unable to work, and who have worked under the law for 5 out of the 10 years before they were disabled and also for 1 1/2 out of the 3 years before they became disabled.

As 1957 gets off to a start, Milbourn pointed out that disabled people, regardless of age, should not wait too long to find out about the disability provisions of the law. Those who are 50 or over should ask about disability benefits, and those not yet 50 should inquire about having their social security earnings record "frozen" to protect future benefit rights. Disabled people who wait until after June 30, 1957, to apply for disability insurance benefits or to have their earnings records "frozen" may lose their rights to benefits.

Trinity Methodist Church Notes

Today is the date of Zone 2 meeting of the W.S.C.S., to be held in Houston Methodist Church from 7:30-9:15 p.m. Members of the Trinity W.S.C.S. are in charge of the worship service and the program, and will put on a sketch.

Our program for next Sunday, begins with Sunday School at 9:45, Randall Knox, Jr., supt. For the morning worship at 11, the anthem by the Senior choir is to be "Teach All Nations" by Brougher, and the Junior Choir sings "All Praise to Thee, Eternal Lord" from a 14th century melody; the sermon is titled, "Life's Greatest Question."

In the evening, the Methodist Youth Fellowship, sponsored by Mrs. Harry Darby, meets at 6:30. The leader is Edward Wilcox; a filmstrip is to be shown, on "first steps to marriage." The evening service begins at 7:30 and last till 8:15; they feature a song service of congregation-selected hymns, and the pastor talks on the popular hymn "Peace, Be Still" by Mary Ann Baker. This is one of a series of Sunday evening talks on hymns that occupy most of January dates.

The flowers on the altar today are the gift of Mrs. Harry Boyer. Members of the Loyal Workers Class are supplying flowers for the month of January.

Each Monday at 10:30, the prayer meeting is held in the Church which is sponsored by the W.S.C.S. and led by Mrs. John Walls.

Choir rehearsals on Thursdays. Mrs. William Smith has the Junior and Vesper Choirs at 6:45 and 7:15 p.m. respectively; and Melvin Brobst has the Senior Choir at 8:00 o'clock.

Mrs. Earl Sylvester of Trinity (Conference president of the W.S.C.S.) is teaching a credit course on home missions for the W.S.C.S. in Wyoming, at which ladies from Wyoming, Camden, and eleven of ours from Trinity are in attendance.

Jan. 13, the pastor baptized Beverly Louise Wix, ten-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton L. Wix, born in Frankfurt, Germany.

The young people will have charge of the Sunday evening service on the last of the month. They are to give talks and musical selections.

Good Milk Handling Pays, Says Warrington

During the past year, a commendable quality record has been achieved by Ira Warrington of Harrington. All the bacteria tests taken on his milk have been far better than the acceptable standard. Mr. Warrington attributes his good bacteria counts to quick cooling right after milking and to sterilizing of his equipment with chlorine solution just before milking. The fact that Mrs. Warrington keeps the utensils in very clean condition also has much to do with the good quality of the milk, says Pet Dairy Chats.

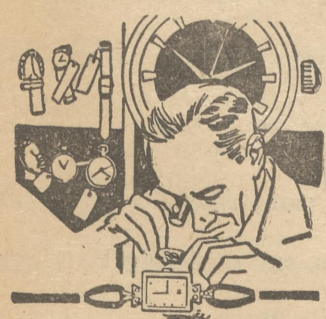

The Warringtons have shipped milk to the Pet Milk Company for the past 16 years. Their milk is now sent to the Dover plant.

Warrington grows corn, rye, soybeans and tomatoes on his 66-acre farm. His 12-cow milking herd consists of mixed Holstein and Guernsey cows.

The Warrington farm is about two miles north of Houston, on the milk route owned and operated by Odes Tatman of Felton.

Needlecraft News by Nancy Baxter

Spring is always an inspiration to poets and painters . . . and to home sewers. Women in the latter group are thinking about the coming season even now. They are creating, in their minds, the wonderful Spring outfits that their stitching will bring. Soon they will see the new collections of fabrics, patterns and sewing notions in their favorite stores. Retailers, who have anticipated the home sewers' Spring fashion fever, will display the season's best materials during the forthcoming National Sew and Save Week, February 18-25. At that time, experienced sewers and beginners alike will be invited to take part in new sewing adventures that will lead toward lovely clothes at low cost.

MAKE A BETTER BUTTONHOLE

Better mouse-traps are built, and better buttonholes are made every day by people who are striving to improve on their talents. But many home sewers who love to make their own clothes from when they come to the step of buttonhole-making. A professional-looking buttonhole is really easy to achieve if your marking is accurate. Always be sure that the marking is done right on the grain of the fabric. When marking a horizontal buttonhole, follow a crosswise thread; for a vertical buttonhole, mark on a lengthwise thread. The size of the buttonholes should be 1/4 inch longer than the buttons. A little more should be allowed for ball buttons. Mark the length of each buttonhole, on the right side, with basting stitches and then stitch around it. When making worked buttonholes, slit fabric on buttonhole marking and overcast the edges to prevent raveling. Simply work a row of buttonhole stitches around the cut edges, making a fan at the end where the button will rest, and a bar at the other. It might be wise to practice the stitches on scraps of fabric before you sew on your dress.

SIMPLE-TO-MAKE SPRINGTIME FROCK

When your Springtime wardrobe calls for a pretty, print frock, here's the right answer—and it will require very few sewing hours. This charming dress, designed for easy sewing, has a gracefully gathered skirt and a simple bodice that buttons down the front. The collar-less neckline, short sleeves (no armhole seams), and front closing are trimmed with bias binding. It's a perfect "starter" dress for the beginning sewer. Further details regarding this frock are included on a leaflet entitled, LEARNING TO SEW, which contains informative material for the new sewer. For your copy, simply send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper and ask for Leaflet No. S-1517.

tion and Conservation Committee, said today.

Marketing quotas do not apply to corn, the chairman explained. However, under the acreage allotment program, the production of corn in 1957 on a farm which has no corn acreage allotment would make all the corn produced on such farm ineligible for price support in 1957.

Application forms for a corn acreage allotment are available at the Kent County ASC office. January 31, 1957, is the last day such applications may be filed. Farmers are further advised that no allotment established for a new corn farm in 1957 will be eligible for the Acreage Reserve program.

Sulky Slants

By MRS. DAVE (PAT) SMITH

Down here at Seminole Raceway, the trainers are getting down to business now. Horses are stepping up on their time. The railbirds are clocking some. Several are going really fast miles behind us. Ralph Ayon who is helping to train Mr. Batahlor's horses that race at Maywood, has been in 2:28. Course he hopes to be ready to start up her in Jacksonville if they come out for sure with the dates.

All we know they sent out stall blanks to be filled out. Nothing as anyone can see in the Harness Horse. Some of the boys her and at Ben White's don't know what to do.

Dave says he wouldn't be ready for all our horses have been like most are in 2:52 this past week.

Our stables are all full except one barn which will hold 22 head. About 10 single stalls. Interest is sure running high here. A drunken caretaker took a little white spitz puppy this past Sunday, took him to the lake by our trailers and kept throwing him in, till he was down for the count.

He kept swimming back to shore till he couldn't make it any more. Mrs. Howard Parker who has a cottage thought it was my white Pek. Guess some of the boys gave him a good beating and have ordered him to leave. If he happens to hit Harrington he is tall, wears blue overalls, grey hat and doesn't talk good English.

The Sheriff told him he better not light at any tracks in Florida again. He has other things against him too. Every one here is sure angry.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Greenly were visitors to Seminole Raceway this past week. Fred and Betty, sure were enjoying the sunshine, for one thing it was 78 the day they were here. It was Fred's sisters mother-in-law that that saw the man drowning the pup.

Fred and Betty visited Ben Whites Raceway, also Spring Garden Ranch. They left here for St. Pete's to spend the weekend fishing over there and to take in the sights in Ybor City in Tampa, the Spanish town.

Union Sunday School 10 o'clock with Robert Collins, supt. Worship service 11 o'clock, sermon by the pastor Rev. John H. Andersen. Wesley Sunday School 10 o'clock, Norman Outten, supt.

Wesley W.S.C.S. will meet at the home of Mrs. Mary Stafford Thursday night for the Jan. meeting. We hope all members will be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Williams visited Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Baker Sunday afternoon. Mr. Baker has been confined to his bed for several days but is improving slowly.

Paul Butler is a patient in Easton Memorial Hospital where he had a kidney removed, his condition is satisfactory at this writing.

Rev. and Mrs. Andersen and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Barque and June of Houston visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Welch Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Austine Stafford and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Raughley spent the weekend in Virginia.

Mrs. Amanda Fountain is spending sometime with her son Charles Fountain and family of Dover.

Mrs. Ida Harmoning called on Mary Hobbs of Denton, Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Charley Welch visited her brother in Ridgely last Wednesday and found him some what better.

Asbury Methodist Church Notes

Church School 10 o'clock, Fulton J. Downing, supt. "Gospel Righteousness" is the title of the lesson taken from Jesus' Sermon on the Mount. The ethical teaching here calls us to the very highest moral standard. It challenges us to live as though the Kingdom were already here.

Morning worship 11 o'clock. "The Habit of Church-going" will be the title of the pastor's sermon. The Junior and Cathedral Choirs will each sing an anthem. There will be a service of Baptism at the morning worship hour. The MYF will meet in the Chapel at 6:30 o'clock with Peggy Moore in charge of the devotions.

Evening worship at 7:30. "Casting on the Lord's side" will be the title of the pastor's sermon. The Chancel Choir will sing as its anthem "Great is the Lord." The service will feature the singing of favorite hymns and a question and answer period.

The MYF sub-district meeting will be held Monday evening at the Bridgeville Methodist Church. A service of dedication of pledges for the MYF Fund will be part of the program.

The Ever-ready class will meet Thursday afternoon and evening as follows: Junior choir 3:30, Chancel choir 6:30 and Cathedral choir at 7:45. All choir members are urged to attend the rehearsals each week as special music is being rehearsed which will be used during the month of February when the service will be broadcast.

At the W.S.C.S. meeting last week it was announced that 34 women are participating in the study course on "The Letters of Paul" being taught by Mrs. W. W. Sharp at the Church School hour during this quarter. Another study course on "Youth in a Responsible Society" will be taught by Mrs. Emory Hedgcock beginning in February.

Potato Meetings To Be Held Jan. 23rd & 30th

"If you can't get Mohammed to the mountains, then you have to bring the mountains to him," says George Vapaa, Kent County Agent, recalling an old quotation in reference to two special potato grower meetings scheduled for Jan. 23rd and 30th at the Capital Grange Hall in Dover.

Speakers from the larger potato producing areas of Maine, New York, Pennsylvania and Virginia will tell Delaware growers about new developments in their areas.

Byron Bondurant, agricultural engineer at the University of Maine, will outline the research underway there on new potato harvesting, grading and packaging machinery. Increased cost for labor, which today seem to be the farmers toughest problem, are forcing him to do everything possible to cut down on the amount of hand work. The new potato combines, for example have cut down on the quantity of labor needed to dig, pick up and grade potatoes in the field.

Dr. Wayne Lee of Pennsylvania State University has been working with new washing and packaging developments in potatoes. The trend is toward consumer-size packages which are adapted to self-service markets, and which present the product in the most attractive manner. Packaging on the farm is one way that farmer can perform an additional service for the consumer, and in a sense, enlarge the size of his farm operations.

Both Dr. Lee and Mr. Bondurant will appear at the January 23rd meeting. Dr. Ora Smith of Cornell University and now serving on leave with the National Potato Chip Institute and B. S. Chronister, who is probably the most prominent worker on the use of nitrogen fertilizers in the Virginia area, will be at the meeting Jan. 30. Both sessions will start at 7:30 p.m. and will continue until all questions have been answered.

Paving the Way for Prosperity $20,000,000 Construction Program

PROSPERITY AND POWER GO HAND IN HAND. With more power it is possible to use more productive methods for farm and industry; it is possible for homes to enjoy more electric living through labor-saving appliances.

YES

In 1957 the electric company will spend this huge sum of money in Kent and Sussex counties in Delaware and in the Eastern Shore counties of Maryland and Virginia in anticipation of the region's growth. It represents capital investment and will be raised largely through the sale of securities to numerous small investors.

The 1957 construction program anticipates what future needs for electric power on Delmarva will be; it considers increased population, expansion of farming and industry, and new devices using electric current. It aims to have current available when homes and industries call for it. Since construction of lines and power plants is a long-time job, the work must get underway now.

EARL L. BUTZ

Assistant U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Farm and Home Week Speaker

Earl L. Butz, assistant U. S. secretary of agriculture, will speak at this year's Delaware Farm and Home Week. Topic of his 11:30 a.m. address in Agricultural Hall at the University of Delaware Feb. 7 will be "Farm Horizons Beyond the Line Fence."

Other general session speakers on the Feb. 5, 6, and 7 program include Gov. J. Caleb Boggs and William J. vanden Heuvel, board of directors member of the International Rescue Committee, doing Hungarian relief work.

Butz, assistant secretary of agriculture in charge of marketing and foreign agriculture since August, 1954, is on the Board of Directors of the Commodity Credit Corporation. He is widely known and active in economic fields that bear on agricultural credit, finance, and farm management.

The assistant secretary was head of the agricultural economics department at Purdue University until he took his present position. Son of an Indiana general livestock farmer, Butz was educated at Purdue and the University of Chicago.

He was a research economist on the staffs of the Federal Land Bank in Kentucky and the Brookings Institution in Washington. D. C. Butz was on the research staff of the National Bureau of Economic Research and lectured on banking at the University of Wisconsin and Rutgers University.

He holds memberships in the American Farm Economics Association, American Association of Farm Managers and Rural Appraisers, Indiana Academy of Social Sciences, and Academy of Political Science.

He is author of the book "The Production Credit System for Farmers" and various other publications dealing with agricultural economics.

Butz is a member of several professional and honorary societies is married and has two sons.

Dairy Feeding and Management Meetings Scheduled

Four dairy feeding and management meetings have been scheduled for Delaware dairymen.

Delmar J. Young, Extension dairyman at the University of Delaware, announces meetings at Midland Grange Hall, Georgetown Jan. 21; Felton Fire Hall, Jan. 22; Harmony Grange Hall, Jan. 23; and Odessa Fire Hall, Jan. 24.

University speakers on the 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. programs include W. T. McAllister, extension farm economist, discussions of the 1957 farm economic outlook and the Soil Bank; C. E. Phillips, extension agronomist, causes of poor stands of corn; W. H. Mitchell, a sound hay program and spraying to control weeds; W. E. McDaniel, farm economist, farm records; Donald MacCreary, entomologist, spraying to control insects; and D. J. Young, a cattle feeding program.

C. E. Phillips will lead a discussion of grains and silage with panel members selected from each county. General question and answer sessions are on the program.

Dr. E. Robert Teeter, veterinarian with the State Board of Agriculture, will talk about herd health.

The meetings are sponsored by the Dairy Herd Improvement Association, Delaware Crop Improvement Association, and Delaware Agricultural Extension Service as part of a series of agricultural short courses.

How safe is your home? To find out, make a top-to-bottom inspection of your home, using this survey from the National Safety Council as a guide:

Stairs—1. Do they have strong rails and are they securely fastened? 2. Sufficient headroom? 3. Well-lighted? 4. Treads in good repair; free slivers, loose boards? 5. Kept clear of toys, brooms, pails, and other articles? 6. If carpeted, is carpet securely nailed down and free of rips and tears? 7. Are trap doors leading to attic or cellar kept closed and doors in good repair? 8. Are gates installed at head or steps, of small children live in house?

Floors—1. Rugs placed on non-skid pads? 2. Floors free of holes, loose boards, splinters? 3. Floors wiped up promptly when liquids spilled?

Porches—1. Are there strong railings with palings close enough so children cannot push through? 2. Floors perfectly even; not slanting? 3. Foundation solid?

Basement—1. Are flues clean? 2. Safety valves installed in hot water tanks and steam lines? 3. Woodwork and combustibles protected from furnace heat? 4. Metal containers for ashes? 5. Is electrically operated equipment grounded? 6. Extension cords dry and off the floor?

All rooms—1. Are electrical connections, cords, plugs in perfect condition and not loose, frayed or uncovered?

Farm and home week will be held at the University of Delaware, Feb. 5, 6, and 7. Look for information about the programs next week.

Bombay State, India, will set up four cooperative spinning mills.

C. Fred Fifer, president of the State Board of Agriculture, and Dr. W. R. Teeter, head of the Animal Industry department of the same board, both spoke at the first fruitland Grange meeting of the new year held recently.

Mr. Fifer outlined the various fields of activity of the State Board and Dr. Teeter illustrated his talk with color slides.

G. Wallace Caulk, master of the grange, presided with the program being presented by Mrs. Fifer, lecturer.

During the meeting past state master, A. Bailey Thomas installed C. Fred Fifer as overseer and Paul Caulk as gatekeeper of the local grange. Other officials had been previously installed.

The meeting was preceded by a "Potluck" supper with Mrs. Allie Mae Moore in charge of the well-laden table of food, assisted by Mrs. Nettie Dawson and Mrs. Bessie Brown.

"THE FOLKS THAT I HAVE KNOWN"

We have a small number of pamphlets of poems of the above title, written by the late J. Harvey Burgess, late owner of The Harrington Journal and self-styled "splitter of infinitives, mixer of metaphors, demon of the double negative, sorcerer of solecisms, perpetrator of the world's poorest poetry."

We presume he was also a dangler of participles.

There have been several requests for this booklet, priced at 25c, but we were unable to comply with them. Fortunately, however, we uncovered a limited supply of this valuable booklet recently while looking the effects of the estate.

We also have a number of pamphlets, "Hosses, Hosses," written by Mr. Burgess, and depicting Harrington's harness-racing life. The price is 25c.

When the above-named pamphlets have been sold there will be no reprints.

Delaware 4-H'ers Have Good Year

Dolores Lloyd Barry Norton Ronald Stevens

Three Delaware 4-H Club members have completed a very satisfactory year in their major project work by winning state honors and valuable awards. Their 4-H records of accomplishment were judged by the Extension Service of the University of Delaware which directs the 4-H programs.

"Let's total the scores on our dairy feeding and management practices," suggests George Va-paa, Kent County agricultural agent. "We're utilizing the results of farm experiences and research at our short course sessions. The program for Kent County will be held at Felton Fire Hall Jan. 22 from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. The sessions are free and are designed for dairymen especially, although questions concerning the management of beef, swine and sheep will also be answered."

Each year several specialists from the staff of the University of Delaware prepare demonstrations and talks for delivery in various community meetings. Among those scheduled to appear are Claude Phillips and William Mitchell of the agronomy department, Dr. Louis Stearns, head of the department of entomology, Dr. William McDaniel and W. T. McAllister of the economic department, and Delmar J. Young, extension dairyman.

A panel of farmers is slated to describe their individual experiences with grains and silage. Much of the success of the Greener Pastures Contest program can be credited to refinements in technique or improvements made on different farms. Rotational grazing is one example not only of stretching the available roughage feeds, but also of improving the quality.

Several exhibits will also be shown highlighting the new U.S.D.A. record keeping programs and an artificial breeding. Farmers will have abundant opportunity to work out their individual problems with the specialists in conferences or during the discussion periods.

Carl Hutson Shipped Milk Since 1934

Carl Hutson began shipping milk to the Greensboro Plant of the Pet Milk Company in 1934. Recently he remarked, "Since I started selling milk 22 years ago, I have never had any desire to sell to any other market."

Hutson had a set-back in health last fall, which forced him to sell his herd, except for one cow. But after the winter months had passed and spring arrived, Hutson wanted to begin selling milk again. So last May he started selling milk from the one cow. A short time ago he purchased another herd. His herd now consists of eight cows, two heifers and a bull.

Hutson purchased his 65 tillable acre farm ten years ago. In addition to dairying, his farming enterprise consists of soybeans and corn. He stated, "I have never worked anywhere except on the farm."

Hutson's friends and neighbors respect him as a good Christian and a conscientious worker for the Lord.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutson look forward to receiving the Pet Chats. Hutson said, "We are always anxious to see who is featured in the Chats."

The Hutsons, who are Pet Milk Company patrons on Howard "Bud" Blades' 500 Route, live near Edwardsville on the Greens-boro-Hollandsville road.

Test flights from London to Sydenham Airport, Belfast, have been successful, indicating that Sydenham will replace Nutt's Corner as Northern Ireland's chief airport.

Corn Fertilizer Folder Available Delaware corn growers are urged by William H. Mitchell, extension agronomist at the University of Delaware, to read a revised extension folder on fertilizing corn.

The folder gives the latest recom-mendations for corn yields up to 100 bushels per acre an ordinary good corn year, using about $20 worth of fertilizer an acre. Cover crops, corn hybrids, planting rates, weed control, and avoiding stalk breakage are also discussed in the folder. County agricultural agents or the School of Agriculture in Newark will supply the folder free on request. Ask for Extension Folder No. 27.

PRaise FOR THE TOLL ROADS

As a boy, we remember a trip to Virginia where we first encountered toll roads. Our model would proceed down a clay road until it encountered a barrier, a pole across the road. A man would come out of a toll house, receive the fare, and lift the pole.

When the public began to pay for the roads and the toll roads, turnpikes, or pikes vanished. Fortunately, under state ownership, they came back.

We have just returned from a trip to St. Louis. On the way, we took the turnpikes of Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Indiana to the Illinois line. We proceeded some distance to U.S. 66, a dual highway, and went to St. Louis.

The time we made on these pikes is unbelievable, not to mention the saving in gasoline, the minimum of strain on the car and the saving in wear and tear on the nerves and body. No roads crossed these pikes, no stoplights. The pike went thru the mountains, not over or around them. Many miles apart were nice service areas where one could get good food for the driver and car.

On the way back, we drove on U.S. 40 from St. Louis to Washington, Pa. We went thru the business districts of Terre Haute, Indianapolis, Springfield, O., Columbus, O., Wheeling, W. Va. In Indiana, we had to slow down to 40 miles per hour for every small town.

And, of course, construction crews were working on the highway in spots. From Columbus on we had snow. On the state and federal highways, particularly since we had to go over many big hills without chains, we lost a day and considered ourselves lucky to reach the Pennsylvania Turnpike. At one spot on Pennsylvania 31, between Washington and Mahanoy City, traffic was held up for a mile on two hills.

But when we reached the turnpike, what a deliverance. A nice wide road, with road crews continually putting cinders on it. What a relief! No more winding, tortuous hills. No more ice. No tractor-trailers across the roads. It is true we had to wash off the slush and cinder dust, but it was worth it.

The turnpikes are here to stay. For motorists making long trips, or for those who want a good road in bad weather, they are the thing.

Delaware Food Market Report

Here's good news for the thrifty shopper: egg production is running well ahead of this time last year. This means high quality eggs are plentiful and prices are favorable right now. When buying eggs be sure to read the information on the carton, as well as the price, to make sure you are getting the best buy. Remember grade refers to the exterior quality of the egg, and size refers to weight per dozen. Buy either brown or white shelled eggs—they are all alike inside. Eggs pack a lot of nutrition, so serve them around the clock.

The shopper who is truly budget conscious will certainly consider buying canned corn in quantity. The present supply is at an all time high, with the largest stock of the whole kernel corn packed in 1 pound cans or No. 303 can which holds approximately 2 cups.

Time-saving, thrifty, and tasty, canned corn stands ready for all sorts of menu uses. Golden whole kernels or cream-style, corn offers flavor richness and color appeal in soups, fritters, puddings, cold vegetable salads, and vegetable combination dishes. Check your supply and buy canned corn now, (canned foods have an almost indefinite shelf life).

Other canned items for the pantry shelf are orange juice, white meat tuna and some vegetable shortenings. There will be some very good buys on other canned vegetables this weekend also.

Most meats have gone up in price this week. Definite increases on veal, pork (smoked and fresh) and chickens are seen at the meat counters in this area. Biggest price rise is on veal; cutlets are up about 6c a pound, veal rump roast up 4c a pound.

Look for weekend specials to stretch the meat dollar. These specials will include steaks, leg of lamb, ground beef, pork roasts, spareribs, chickens and turkeys.

Grapefruit is the "best buy" in the fruit line this week. The price range is from 7 to 15c, depending on size. Lemons have come up about 3c a dozen while oranges have dropped a penny a dozen. So, all in all, one balances the other, just remember to use plenty of citrus fruit while the quality is good and the price right.

HUNTERS USE BLINDS AT WOODLAND BEACH

Over 350 hunters were accommodated in the 10 blinds on the commission owned Woodland Beach Wildlife Area during the ducking season. There weren't enough Saturdays to go around, but week day requests were all accommodated. A maximum of 10 week days of hunting were awarded to those requesting them. To quote Art Graham in the January issue of Outdoor Life "When the weather is right, black ducks, mallards, pintails, and teal are plentiful, and I'd say that the shooting is just about as good as it is most places along the East Coast where you pay from $5 to $25 a day for a blind." At Woodland Beach there was no fee. A sportsman needed only a current hunting license and a federal duck stamp.

ICE FISHING

A long cold snap will bring back an old sport to many people—ice fishing. As soon as the ice becomes safe enough for activity some smart fishermen will be trying to tempt the slow moving critters below the ice. Worms are always good bait for pickerel, crappie and perch; however live minnows seem to take the biggest fish. The fish are erratic in their biting habits in winter and the fisherman's ears and feet may get cold before many are caught. If you are able to determine the depth at which they are biting, fish at that depth even though you move from one spot to another.

The tie-up trick is worth trying. When fish are biting weakly, bend the tie-up string down and attach the line directly to it.

Even a nudge of the bait will make the sensitive spring tremor. Instantly haul in the line with perhaps a two pound pickerel on it.

Weed beds are usually likely spots when oxygen is at a premium below the ice.

Small spoons and wigglers are frequently used. The theory is that the flashing lures arouse fish curiosity. However, bait is still popular for ice fishing.

Chumming helps too. For those not acquainted with this method, the idea is simply to throw some of your bait into the area being fished. This will attract fish from distant areas and has proven very successful in the past.

SPORTSMEN'S PROJECT

The January issue of the Sports Fishing Institute's Bulletin, circulation 13,000 tells of the recent project carried out by the New Castle Rod and Gun Club in cooperation with the Delaware Game and Fish Commission.

The Bulletin state "The New Castle Rod and Gun Club which picked up the tabs for materials used, and the volunteers providing manpower are to be congratulated—It shows what organized sportsmen can do whenever they can get together with their state fish and game agency on a roll-up their sleeves basis."

Working in the rain four hours, the group used 14½ tons of sand and 40 bags of cement to strengthen the outlet at Lum's Pond. The result will be stabilized water levels necessary for successful fish spawning.

Walleyes????

Reports have been received from one of our readers of the presence of walleyed pike in Noxontown pond. Any fishermen catching this species in Delaware are requested to pass the information on to the Game and Fish Commission.

Wallace Caulk, 15, Wins State Honors In Public Speaking

Wallace Caulk

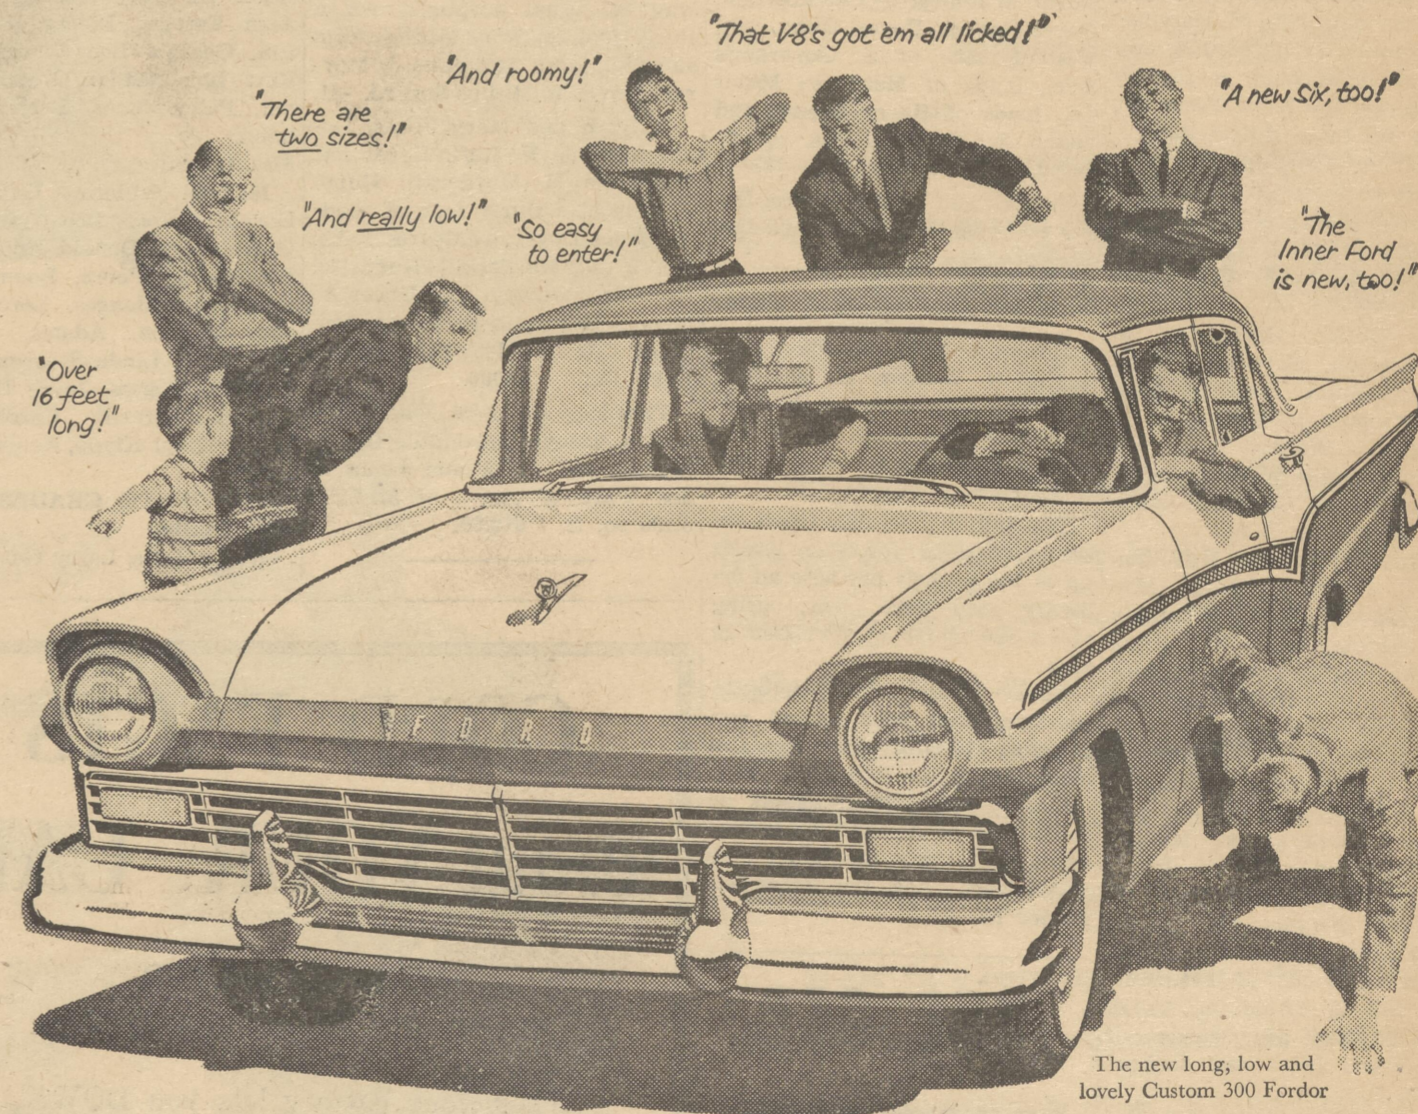

Outstanding performance in the 4-H Public Speaking program brought 1956 state honors to Wallace Caulk, 15, of Woodside. This marks the fifth year that the Pure Oil Company has supported the program and provided handsome awards. The Extension Service of the University of Delaware conducts the program.

Wallace gave his winning talk, "Dairying and Milk Promotion," several times, including one program attended by 150 persons. After the state contest, he made a tape recording of it which was used over several radio stations. As state winner, he was presented with a handsome 19-jewel wrist watch.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—I pay my GI insurance coverage on a yearly basis. What if something should happen to me shortly after I make my yearly payment? Wouldn't my beneficiaries be entitled to a refund of the advance payment?

A—Yes. The money not yet applied to your insurance coverage would be refunded to your beneficiaries at the time VA settled the insurance claim.

Q—I am a disabled Korea veteran receiving vocational rehabilitation training. Am I entitled to VA medical care while I am in training?

A—Yes. You may receive medical treatment which VA determines to be necessary to prevent interruption of your training, even though the condition is not directly connected with the military service.

Q—Is it possible to finish my high school training under the War Orphans education program?

A—NO. The law prohibits regular high school training. Courses in schools below the college level may be taken only if they fit you for specific vocational employment.

Q—I would like to study abroad under the Korean GI Bill. Would this be allowed under the law?

A—Yes. Foreign GI training is permitted so long as you take a VA-approved course in an accredited college or university.

St. Bernadette's Church Notes

copal Church. Fr. Wattson may be better known as Fr. Paul, the founder of the Friars of the Atonement at Graymoor, Garrison, N. Y.

At the time he established this octave of prayer, Fr. Paul wrote "that the see of Peter is this very day the see of Rome; and that Leo XIII (then reigning), the Roman Pontiff, sitting in the chair of Peter, is the Vicar of Christ, and by divine right the Universal Shepherd over the Flock of Christ." One year later Fr. Paul and 16 other members of the Friars of the Atonement pledged their allegiance to the Roman Pontiff. From then until his death in February, 1940, Fr. Paul labored unceasingly for the cause of unity, making the theme of his life the words of the prayer expressed by Our Divine Savior at the Last Supper: "that all may be one, even as thou, Father, in me and I in thee; that they also may be one in us, that the world may believe that thou hast sent me. And the glory that thou hast given me, I have given to them; that they may be one, even as we are one; I in them and thou in me; that they may be perfected in unity, and that the world may know that thou hast sent me and that thou hast loved them even as thou hast loved me." (John: 17, 21-23)

That all might be one is the final hallowed wish of Christ. It is the cry of all Christendom. During this octave we might all pray for unity in the words of Cardinal Newman: "O Lord Jesus, who when Thou wast about to suffer didst pray for Thy disciples to the end of time that they might all be one, as Thou art in the Father and the Father in Thee, look down in pity on the manifold divisions among those who profess Thy faith and heal the many wounds which the pride of man and the craft of Satan have inflicted on Thy people. Break down the walls of separation which divide one party and denomination of Christians from another. Look with compassion on the souls who have been born in one or other of these communions, which not Thou, but man hath made. Teach all men that the See of Peter is the foundation, the center, and instrument of Unity. Open their hearts to the long forgotten truth that the Holy Father, the Pope is Thy Vicar and Representative; and that in obeying him in matters of religion they are obeying Thee, so that as there is but one company in heaven above, so likewise there may be one communion, confessing and glorifying Thy holy Name, here below."

C.A.P.

At 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, the C.A.P. Cadets of the Felton Squadron took a flight C-54 type aircraft at the Dover Air Force Base.

The Squadron has in the making, three female possibilities.

Assembly Programs

At an assembly program, Jan. 9, students of Felton High School, grades 7-12, were guests of the Felton Civil Air Patrol Cadet Squadron. The Cadets presented a program designed to explain the activities of the Civil Air Patrol Cadets and Aviation Education Class at Felton. Guest speaker was Lt. Col. C. K. Xander. Col. Xander emphasized the rapid growth and progress of aviation both Civilian and Military.

He said in part that, "Aviation as a means of communication and transportation has shrunk the globe to a fraction of its former size." He also emphasized the great number of career opportunities that have arisen from this great growth of the aviation industry making it imperative that students be given some training in this field prior to leaving school.

After Col. Xander's address, the Cadets presented a film showing the part played by Air Force B29's in the bombing and subsequent defeat of the Japanese Empire.

Wednesday, the Junior High School English department, under the direction of Robert Erne, will present an assembly for the High School. They are going to present a film titled "Air Adventure to Europe." The film will show interesting places in Europe.

Friday, the February issue of the Magazine of the screen will be shown in special assemblance for the Elementary and the High School.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church

A group of young people comprising the St. Stephen's Supper Club met at the Parish House last Sunday at 5:00 p.m. After a spaghetti supper prepared by our vicar, there was a business meeting with many plans and future projects up for discussion. The important date on the calendar for our young people at present is the Kent County Convocation to be held this Sunday at 4:30 p.m. St. Stephen's young people will be hosts and hostesses and there will be representatives from all the Episcopal youth groups in Kent County. A buffet supper will be served, followed by the program and business session, and last the service of Evensong, with all invited, regardless of age, at 7 p.m. Officers of the Supper Club are Ronnie Correll, president; Richard Ratledge, vice-president; Janet Cluley, secretary; and Mary Ann Lyons, treasurer.

Thursday evening members of St. Stephen's enjoyed another covered dish supper at the parish house. Mrs. Granville Hill was chairman of the event.

At the Ladies' Auxiliary meeting last week an announcement was made of the Diocesan Woman's Auxiliary Epiphany meeting, Calvary Church, Wilmington, Jan. 24, 10:30 a.m. Dr. Eleanor Mason of Madras College in India, and Mrs. Angus Dun, delegate to the world council of church meeting in Hungary, will be the two speakers. A number of Harrington ladies plan to take advantage of this outstanding Epiphany event.

Mrs. Robert Baynard has been appointed acolyte mother for St. Stephen's.

George A. Thompson attended the Department of Missions meeting at the Dinner Bell Inn, Dover, Wednesday evening.

The Vicar, Vestry, and congregation of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church on Fleming St. wishes to thank those members of the community whose actions during the recent blaze at the church prevented what could have been a most destructive and disastrous fire. Through their efforts the fire was confined to the stove, stove pipe, and surrounding area.

We wish to thank especially James Sheehan and Richard Ratledge who discovered the fire, town officer Carl Miltonberger, who responded immediately to a call for assistance and who turned in the fire alarm, and the members of the Harrington Fire Department for their very prompt and effective service.

A heart warming note has been struck by the concern of our many friends and neighbors of all denominations and by their many offers of assistance in cleaning the church. We are deeply grateful.

Through a team of able workers—both men, women and children—the church was thoroughly scrubbed and the rug shampooed in time for services last Sunday. The lingering slight odor reminded us of all we have to be thankful for.

William George Thompson has been appointed acting-president of St. Stephen's Acolytes Guild. This group now numbering 18 young men is the largest in Kent County. A meeting will be held soon to complete organizational plans for the future.

Robert E. Baynard, Jr., has accepted the office of superintendent of the Church School and Director of Religious Education for the Parish. Under his supervision the church school will be revised and its work expanded. Mr. Baynard is a graduate of the University of Delaware, holding a degree of Bachelor of Arts. After graduation from the University he served with the United States Army. He currently is completing his work for his Master in Arts Degree which will be conferred upon him in June.

Classes are now held for Beginner, Primary, Junior, and Intermediate students, with plans for a senior high department nearly complete. The Vestry is now investigating the cost and quality of folding metal chairs with the view of purchasing 80 chairs and 10 tables. The next major project will be to raise funds for visual aid equipment; such as, a motion picture projector, a slide and film strip projector, and screen.

Mr. Baynard will be at home Friday through Sunday and can be contacted by telephone on Harrington 3720.

Dr. Stauffer is one of the outstanding authorities in the country on reading problems and the techniques used in the teaching of remedial reading. He is the author of several books. He is in demand as a lecturer for colleges, Parent-Teacher Associations, professional and civic organizations. At the present time he is acting director of the School of Education of the University of Delaware.

All parents of pre-school and school children should avail themselves of the opportunity to hear Dr. Stauffer. All interested persons in this and neighboring communities are invited to attend.

Teachers will be in their rooms from 7:30-8 p.m. for parent conferences.

SPORTS

Girl's Basketball

Harrington varsity girls were defeated by Bridgeville varsity girls Friday afternoon, Jan. 11, with the final score standing, Harrington 36, Bridgeville, 56.

Although the girls tried hard they were pushed behind at the beginning of the game and stayed several points behind throughout the entire game.

High scorer for Bridgeville was J. Hitchens with 16 points. Harrington high scorers were Barbara Edwards with 18 points and Mary E. Harrington with 12 points.

Coach Jacqueline Knopp coached her Harrington High varsity girls team to its second victory of the season Tuesday, turning back the Greenwood girls, 54-49. The girls pushed Greenwood behind at the beginning of the first quarter and were the queens of the court throughout the game. Greenwood girls made several attempts to even tie the game, but Harrington came out on top with a bright 5 point lead.

Freda Kemp, a new varsity player this year, surprised the spectators by sinking 8 baskets, ringing up 16 points. Barbara Edwards was high scorer with 18 points with Mary E. Harrington right behind her with 17 points. High scorer for Greenwood was B. Breeding.

This was the girl's first home game. The next game will be at Felton, Friday afternoon. Jan. 22 there will be a game with Bridgeville in the field house starting at 3:30. There will be no season tickets or admission charged.

Boy's Basketball

In a stunning upset, the Harrington Varsity literally ran Greenwood off the court winning by 63-49.

High scorer was Eugene Wright with 22 points. Also in the double-figure totals were Betts with 17 and J. Sapp with 12. Harrington forged into the lead in the 2nd quarter and was never headed thereafter.

The Jay Vee's lost 39-49 in a hard-fought struggle. Manship was high scorer with six field goals, 3 fouls for 15 points.

Jan. 8, the Harrington Varsity and J. V. Basketball teams played Milton here. Both games were played with the J. V.'s defeating Milton 24-23 and the Varsity being defeated in a tight game 38-24. Bill Manship was high-scorer for the J. V. with 12 points and Eugene Wright with 9 points for the varsity.

Jan. 11, our boy's varsity and J. V. teams played Bridgeville at Bridgeville. The scores for the J. V. game was 32-30 with Bridgeville winning. The varsity game was also won by Bridgeville with the score 46-29. High-scorer was again Bill Manship with 12 points for the J. V. and Eugene Wright with 8 points for the varsity. Two of our players were slightly injured but are all right now.

Wall Paper! Wall Paper! If it is wall paper that you want, wall paper we've got.

This cold weather makes us stay in the house and it is a good time to plan your house beautifying.

What could be better than changing the design on your wall?

Wall paper is the solution and the cost is low! We have several new patterns and they are just in time for your Spring cleaning. We carry a very large stock of paper so you can easily select a pattern for any room or rooms. Just think of getting ceiling paper at 20 cents a single roll and borders at 20 cents a yard!

We have lots of paper, one, two and three roll lots at 12 1/2 cents single. It is just the kind for a small room.

If you would rather paint the walls in preference to having paper, we have a flat paint that sells for $3.75 per gallon. One gallon will paint most any room.

We also have velvet in gold bond at five dollars per gallon, and it is scrubbable. While help is more plentiful, it would be wise for you to do these little jobs now.

It is your home you live in; even if you rent it or own it, so make it as attractive as possible, and you will love it that much more.
