

MARIA PIZZADILI, FELTON, IS NATIONAL JUNIOR CHICKEN COOKING CHAMPION AT FESTIVAL

Miss Maria Pizzadili, of Felton, was named national junior chicken cooking champion Wed., June 12, at the annual Delmarva Chicken Festival at Laurel.

The 16-year-old girl came to this country last fall from Italy. Her "chicken alla Romano," a version of the old Italian favorite, chicken cacciatore, won top place. Some 50 teenagers competed.

She split a broiler chicken down the back for the dish and gave it what the judges termed real piquancy with one-fourth cup of Romano cheese. She also scorned such American touches as canned soups in favor of traditional Italian olive oil, oregano, parsley, and minced garlic—which judges said was blended to perfection.

When Miss Pizzadili entered the contest several weeks ago, she said she wanted to win so she could buy a television set for her family, in order that they could learn more about America.

As the winner she received her choice of electric or gas range, $150 in cash, and small prizes. Second prize went to Gail Brewington, 15, of Salisbury, for her "Hawaiian Lei of Chicken." She also won second prize in last year's contest.

Third place went to Branda Whaley, 16, also of Salisbury, for "Chicken Duchess."

The Harrington Volunteer Fire Department won first prize for best appearance in a parade Thursday night. Smyrna was second, and Salisbury, third. Longest distance went to Chincoteague, Va.

Miss Elvia Rae Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Smith, of Harrington, was parade marshal.

Fire Company Will Hold Stock Car Races

The Harrington Volunteer Fire Company is now making plans for its annual stock car races. As in the past, permission has been granted by the Kent-Sussex Fair & Racing Association to use the Fairgrounds for this event.

The races will be held in August and will be conducted in the same manner this year as last. This year's event promises to be even better than past years with more money being given to the drivers. This is expected to bring the drivers from five different states to compete for top honors. The races will be NASCAR sanctioned.

Holding stock car races each year is one of the chief means of obtaining money to maintain the equipment needed to operate an active fire company.

There were 5 alarms, 3 rural; 2 city—1 woods, 1 car, 1 barn, 1 restaurant, and 1 demonstration for Cub Scouts at Fairgrounds.

Total men in service, 76. Total man hours, 58 hours and 10 minutes. Total hours in service, 4 hours and 20 minutes. Average men per fire, 15 1/5. Miles traveled, 27.

The hoses were laid 250 ft., 1 inch; 200 ft. 1 1/2 inch; 350 ft. 2 1/2 inch.

The property involved was $5,800. The loss was $450 with the loss covered by insurance, $50.

The trucks were used 5 times, No. 2; 4 times, No. 3; 4 times, No. 4.

Photos Wanted

The Journal is in need of photographs pertaining to the Kent & Sussex Fair and the fairgrounds to publish in its annual Fair edition July 20.

Lightning Hits Lumber Building; Loss Is $200,000

Fire gutted a lumber company warehouse in Bridgeville late Sunday. Five volunteer companies fought the blaze for about four hours.

The fire was caused by lightning which hit the building as a thunderstorm pounded the area. The Robert R. Layton Lumber Company is located on the west side of Bridgeville, on Delaware 404.

General Manager Donald Melson estimated the loss at $150,000 to $200,000. The warehouse contained kiln-dried lumber. Three trucks and a tractor inside also were lost.

Firemen came from Bridgeville, Seaford, Blades, Laurel and Greenwood. The fire was put out about 8:30 p.m.

A Pennsylvania Railroad cross-in watchman, Weldon Pruill, saw the lightning strike.

PVT. HARRY MCINTIRE INJURED IN MISHAP KILLING 14

Pvt. Harry McIntire, 18, of Harrington, was injured in a mishap killing 14 paratroopers Thurs., June 13, at Ft. Campbell, Ky.

An Army truck plunged off a bridge in a remote section of the sprawling military base, causing the fatalities and causing nine injured of the 101st "Pentomic" Airborne Division.

The 2 1/2-ton truck overturned and pinned most of the soldiers beneath it in the shallow waters of the creek. An H-34 helicopter sped to the scene, lifted the truck from the men and took survivors to the base hospital.

Those who could struggle free heroically propped the heads of their buddies above the water and scrambled up to the gravel roadway seeking help.

Pvt. McIntire, the son of Mrs. Mildred M. McIntire, Route 3, one of the injured, said: "We swerved and then apparently straightened out. I had time to think 'My God what would have happened if we had turned over?' Then I took a complete flip in the truck and went under water."

McIntire said he crawled and fought his way out and got to the creek bank.

"I tried to help the others but I was too weak to do anything," he added.

McIntire and his fellow survivors still appeared dazed as they talked to newsmen several hours later.

The men had been out since Monday on battle group tests of the division's new "pentomic" attack organization geared to the atomic age.

In mid-April Pvt. McIntire had completed a three-weeks' basic course at Ft. Campbell and had been awarded the silver wings of an army parachutist.

Mrs. McIntire said she had telephoned the base hospital Friday morning and had been informed that her son had suffered a cut eye, and bruises of the shoulder and hand.

Resident Fined On Two Counts

Norwood was fined $50 and costs for driving without a license and another $25 and costs for driving recklessly on Commerce Street.

Power Off 45 Minutes Saturday In Substation Fire

Residents here were without electricity for 45 minutes Saturday afternoon after an electric failure in the porcelain bushings of a 23,000 volt oil circuit breaker damaged a transformer, causing it to spew oil which caught fire.

Volunteers from the Harrington Fire Department beat out the flames before they could result in any serious damage to the substation.

E. S. Mortimer, general manager of the southern division of the Delaware Power & Light Co., said the cause of the electric failure has not been determined.

He said electricity was pumped in from a nearby substation for a few minutes in order to prevent more than a minimum of inconvenience to Harrington residents, but that an emergency transformer kept at the substation here, was put into operation "within an hour."

Power was fully restored by 3:45. The electric failure occurred at 3.

Some consumers were without power as far north as Dover.

Coming, as it did, in a heat wave, caused some damage to broilers which were without water. Charles Peck Jr., said he lost 200 '8-weeks-old birds because of the lack of water.

Youth Pinned Under Tractor

A 17-year-old youth was seriously injured when pinned underneath a heavy farm tractor when it overturned on Route 113 about two miles north of Frederica late Wednesday afternoon.

The youth, Robert Winber of Delmar, was taken to the Kent General Hospital at Dover in the Torbert ambulance. He suffered a possible fractured skull, lacerations, and possible internal injuries.

State police said the youth was operating the tractor which was pulling a cultivator. He was traveling south at the time and had been driving on the shoulder of the road so as not to hold up traffic.

One of the wheels of the cultivator hooked into a guardrail, causing the tractor to overturn.

Farm Bureau Meets With The Taylors

The final meeting of the season of the Andrewville Farm Bureau Discussion Group was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Taylor. Nine families were represented.

Benjamin Hughes Jr., chairman of the group, introduced Mr. and Mrs. George Simpson. Simpson spoke about the advantages and disadvantages of zoning. If zoning is to take place, there should be long and careful planning; good zoning must be specific and clear and must be uniformly enforced and should benefit a vast majority.

He also pointed out that we should take into consideration the economic and social conditions of the community. Airplane dusting and other uses of chemicals on farm lands must be considered in zoning if houses are to be built near fields. He mentioned that the Levy Court has the final say on zoning.

The group decided that it would hold annual family picnic at Trappe Pond, near Laurel, Wed., July 10. Each family is to bring its picnic lunch and try to be there at least by 11 o'clock.

Man Fined $150 and Given 10 Days on 3 Traffic Charges

Francis C. Williams, 19, of New Castle, was fined on three traffic charges Friday night by Magistrate L. Gooden Callaway and, in default, was sentenced to Kent County Correctional Institute.

Williams was involved in an accident June 1 when his car collided with one driven by Mary L. Sweigard, of Farmington, at Commerce Street and the Harrington-Farmington road.

Williams left the scene without stopping and his whereabouts were not ascertained until Chief of Police George Hughes had expended considerable effort.

He was fined $50 and costs and ten days on failing to stop at the scene of accident; $50 and costs of failing to report accident, and $50 and costs on a charge of reckless driving.

In addition to the ten days prescribed as part of the penalty for the first mentioned offense, he was sentenced to jail 15 days each on the three charges.

Damage to the Sweigard car approximated $71.35, while that of the Williams car was estimated at $100.

Four Injured In Auto Accident

A Milford accident, injuring four persons, happened at 3:45 p.m. Saturday at the intersection of Route 113 and North Walnut Street.

Robert Workman, 50, of Ellendale, suffered lacerations and scalp injuries. His wife, Mrs. Marian Workman, received a dislocated right hip, a fractured right arm, and multiple lacerations. Both were considered in "poor" conditions when admitted to the Milford Memorial Hospital, but were "slightly improved" Sunday night.

Grover Brown, Jr., 25, Negro, of Harrington, suffered chest injuries and lacerations; and Blanche Thomas, 23, Negro, also of Harrington, sustained injuries to the face and mouth.

Brown was driving south on Route 113, and was making a left turn into North Walnut Street, when his car collided with the vehicle driven by Workman, who was going north on 113. The cars were demolished.

Milford police investigated the accident.

It was pointed out that traffic headed south toward Rehoboth Beach turns left at the intersection, in the face of northbound traffic on Route 113. There is a blinking red light at the intersection, but no traffic control light.

Dill Accepted by Wesley J. C.

Lester F. Dill of R. D. 1, Dover, has been accepted as a member of the freshman class at Wesley Junior College, Dover.

A 1957 graduate of Felton High School, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Dill.

When Councilman Charles Jerread suggested removal of the malodorous city dump to a site where its presence would be less evident, he found sympathetic ears at a special meeting of the City Council Monday evening.

Reasons for the removal were advanced as follows: The dump, located east of U.S. 13, a short distance south of its intersection with Delaware 14, emitted smoke and a far from desirable odor; the town is growing in that direction and the presence of the dump would hurt property values; the lands, being near U.S. 13, could be used to better advantage; it was not a good advertisement to U.S. 13 traffic.

The Council made short work of the problem, agreeing to hunt for a new site. One councilman thought it should be at least two miles outside the city limits.

The main purpose of the special meeting was to discuss Charter revisions with the city solicitor, N. Maxon Terry. After the discussion, Terry said he would prepare copies to send to the Council, and that the revisions would be presented to the current session of the Legislature. In all probability, the final bill will not get to the Legislature before January, since the state body is preparing to adjourn until that time.

The busy special meeting did not adjourn until 11 p.m.

Sewer Extension
William B. Mitten & Son, Dover, was awarded a contract to extend the sewer mains 865 feet on West Milby Street on a bid of $3.00 per linear foot. Joe Richardson, Harrington, bid $3.90. Work is to start a week from date the Dover firm is notified.

The Council voted that if a second dwelling is put on a property, it must hook directly onto the sewer and water mains.

Trailers
Trailers will be taxed, regardless of whether or not they are on wheels. They will be assessed on the same basis as dwelling. However, there will be a minimum assessment of $1000 on trailers and dwellings.

The Council authorized City Manager William F. Smith to get costs of an independent outside firm of assessors for the general assessment in 1958. There was a question if this would be contrary to the Charter. If this proves to be the case, the Charter will be amended, the Council said. The motion to get in touch with outside assessors was carried unanimously.

Mrs. Frieda Eberhart requested information on enlarging a one-room dwelling, in the rear of which she resides on Harrington Avenue. The Council deemed it justifiable as long as she hooks directly into the sewer and water mains, a provision she agreed to.

Curb on Benjamin Street
The city manager was authorized to obtain bids to curb Benjamin Street from Delaware Avenue to a ditch bordering Harrington Manor. The blacktop road will be straightened and resurfaced. Curb will be about 125 feet on each side. The property owner is normally supposed to pay for curbing, but the City assumed the responsibility, in this case, because of the running of surface water from Delaware Avenue down Benjamin Street to the ditch.

A 4-inch water main will replace one, said to be smaller, from Center Street to Simmons Street. The sewer and water mains end just past the latter street. The water main may be extended if property owners will make use of it.

City Manager Smith asks the citizens to refrain from sprinkling and using excessive water during the current hot and dry weather.

4-H Agent Lists Competition Classes At K. & S. Fair

Kent County 4-H Club members will have plenty of opportunity to compete in the various events at the Kent-Sussex Fair to be held in Harrington July 22-27, reports 4-H Club Agent Marion MacDonald.

"There are 138 classes in the 4-H Club division alone, plus a number of classes in livestock and poultry which are open to club members."

There will be judging contests in poultry, livestock, vegetables, foods and clothing; exhibits in foods, clothing, crafts, home improvement and entomology; demonstrations in foods, clothing, home beautification, dairy, livestock and poultry production, soil and water conservation, vegetables, and tractor maintenance.

There will be a feeder pig roundup and a state tractor operators contest. In addition, there are junior divisions in all cattle classes, as well as in swine, poultry and sheep.

Club members who wish to compete in one or more of the various classes must send their entries to the county extension office by July 15, Mrs. MacDonald explained. Each entry must show the department, the class number, and the article or item entered. Entry blanks are available from the county extension office, along with special entry blanks for cattle classes.

Entries should state very clearly the class for which they are intended. To be in the safe side, it's best to check the official fair premium list.

The special entry blanks for the cattle classes should be sent directly to the Cattle Department, Kent-Sussex Fair, Inc., Harrington, with a copy to the 4-H Club Agent. Entry blanks for the poultry classes also should go directly to Harrington, with copies to the Club Agent.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Notes

At the 11 o'clock service, Sunday a gift from the church school staff and our vicar was presented to Robert E. Baynard, Jr., in appreciation of his generous and capable service to St. Stephen's. This winter and spring Bob has filled the role of church school superintendent at a time when he was quite busy studying at the University of Delaware. June 2 he received his Master's Degree in Agriculture. The gift, a handsome imported travel clock encased in brown leather, was also a small wedding gift from these same friends and co-workers.

We congratulate Bob on his coming wedding to Miss Patsy Billings and we wish both of these young people much happiness. The wedding will take place at Trinity Methodist Church, June 22, at 4 o'clock.

Monday evening at 8 o'clock, at the vicarage, the last regularly scheduled vestry meeting was held, before the summer recess. Plans were discussed for carrying on the church program during July and August. For the month of July, Mr. Symonds will conduct services both at St. Stephen's and at St. Mary's, Bridgeville. During August the Rev. Victor A. Kusik will conduct services at St. Stephen's while our vicar is on a much-needed vacation.

At this week's healing service held at St. Luke's of Seaford and sponsored by five Episcopal churches in this area, the Rev. John R. Symonds, Jr., delivered the sermon. A number of Harrington people attended this service of anointing and healing.

Tonight all the members of our church and many friends are participating with pleasure in the ice cream festival to be held in the parish house yard, 4:30 until dark. If the weather is not good, the ice cream, cake, and fixings, will be moved indoors. It is planned to serve dipped cones as well as dishes of ice cream.

At 8:30 tonight, following the ice cream festival, there will take place a wedding rehearsal at our church. The wedding of Miss Ena Evans and George M. VonGoerres, both of Harrington, will be solemnized at St. Stephen's June 22, two o'clock.

An important date for our Sunday school was June 16, when certificates, awards, and promotions were made at the 11 o'clock service. Superintendent Robert E. Baynard, Jr., made the presentations. For exceptional attendance the following boys and girls received certificates: Lois Keim, Gail Keim, Billy McColley, Charles McNally, Carol McNally, Viva Reed, Bill Thompson, June Thompson, John Winkler. Awards for outstanding pupils in each department, based on attention, attendance, cooperation, participation, and attitude were also made. Miss Carol McNally was presented a gift for serving as church school organizer.

Our parish picnic held Saturday at St. Andrew's School, Middletown, was enjoyed by all. Youth groups and adults participated in the swimming fun at the lake, where there was a shallow beach for the children and a diving pier for the older set. The ball games was a big success, but both sides still claim victory, and the spectators never were sure what went on at this all-star performance. The Rev. Mr. Symonds, was umpire. The following boys won prizes in the ribbon races: three-legged race, 1st, Frank Welch and Wayne Porter; 2nd, Charles McNally and his partner from Calvary Church, Wilmington; 3rd, Albert Lee Ratledge and Pat Coady; hopping race, Bill Thompson and Wayne Porter; two-legged race, 1st, Wayne Porter; 2nd, Albert

Lee Ratledge; 3rd, Pat Coady. Ronny Porter also won a ribbon in a second division of the two-legged race.

Following the 11 o'clock service Sunday, instead of the usual coffee, there were served punch and iced tea with home made cookies. This warm substitution for the coffee-hour was arranged by the young ladies of the church school. They made punch tea and cookies themselves and served them. The young ladies who undertook this social activity of our church schedule and acted as hostesses were Carol McNally, Lois Keim, June Thompson, Christy Coady, Gail Keim.

There will be no evening choir practice during the summer months unless a rehearsal is called for some unusual occasion. There will be no evening service on the Sundays in July and August. The choir will rehearse each Sunday morning at 10:15.

The schedule of services for this week and next is as follows: Sunday, 8 a.m., Holy Communion; 11 a.m., morning prayer and sermon; 7 p.m., evening prayer; Tuesday, 10 a.m., Holy Communion; Wednesday, 8 p.m., healing service at Seaford.

Acolytes for last Sunday were Ronny Porter, Frank Welch, Charles McNally, Wayne Porter, and Bill Thompson.

It's great to be part of a growing state!

Everywhere you look in Delaware, there are new homes, factories, office buildings, stores. It's great to be part of something so vital and alive. We've had a big part in this growth.

Our payroll is up $2,194,000 over 1953

The telephone system is growing right along with Delaware. We are one of the largest employers in the state—our payroll reached $7,150,000 in 1956.

This is $2,194,000 greater than the payroll figure for 1953.

In the past three years, telephone people have been paid a total of $18,788,000, all of which has helped Delaware's prosperity.

We've grown $19 million worth in the last three years

In the last three years alone, we have had to spend $19 million to expand Delaware's telephone system and to continue to make service improvements. And we estimate that $39 million more will be needed in the next five years to keep pace with Delaware's requirements.

Most of those millions must come from investors

It is the dollars of investors that build the telephone system.

People will invest in telephone expansion so long as, and only so long as, they know that their dollars will be secure and earn a fair return.

That is why it is in the public interest—why it is important to everyone in Delaware—that we be financially strong.

Delaware Jersey Breeders to Visit Outstanding Herd

Delaware Jersey breeders will visit Marlu Farm, Lincroft, N. J., June 18, according to Mrs. Martha Benson, secretary of the Delaware Jersey Cattle Club.

At Marlu Farm the breeders will inspect the Marlu Jersey herd which has been an outstanding breeding herd for Jersey type and production for many years. A picnic lunch, judging contest, and study of the excellent cow families will highlight the day's program.

Jersey breeders in Delaware, Eastern Shore of Maryland, and Pennsylvania will meet at 9 a.m., eastern daylight time, at the Greyhound bus terminal, State Road, Route 13 and 40. The group will arrive at the Marlu Farm at 11:30 a.m., Mrs. Benson said.

Delaware Jersey breeders participating in the tour are: Edward Williams (Mitchell Bros.), Hockessin; Henry C. Mitchell & Son, Hockessin; Charles Wollaston & Son, Toughkenamon, Pa.; Elwood Fox, Bear; Bailey Thomas & Sons, Wyoming; Ray Collison & Sons, Harrington; Rudolph Spinka, Hartley; Henry I. Awards Listed for June Dairy Night Banquet June 25

Awards to be presented at the June Dairy Night banquet June 25 have been announced by Wesley Dasher, Wilmington, chairman of Delaware's June Dairy Month committee. The banquet will be held in the Harmony Grange Hall of Limestone Road near Marshallton.

Dairy farmers whose cows turned in the most uniform production throughout the past year will receive savings bonds from cooperating dairy plants and from the Interstate Milk Producers Cooperative. Driver-salesmen with top sales records in cooperating plants also will receive savings bonds.

A Delaware retail grocer will receive an award for outstanding effort in June Dairy Month promotion. Cooperating dairy plants are nominating candidates for the award and the winner will be selected from this group, Dasher said.

A Delaware 4-H Club member will receive a plaque from the National Dairy Products Corporation as 4H dairy achievement winner. Certificates of recognition will be presented to Delaware newspapers and radio stations for their cooperation in the June Dairy Month promotional effort.

All awards will be presented personally by the Kent County Dairy Princess, who will be named at the June Dairy Festival, sponsored by the Houston Cardinals 4-H Club, and which will be held in Houston, the evening of June 22.

Banquet speakers on the Dairy Night program are Robert McKinley, general manager of the Philadelphia Dairy Council, who will discuss "Promoting Dairy Products in the Future", and Dean George M. Worrlow of the University of Delaware School of Agriculture, who will discuss "Teamwork in the Delaware Dairy Industry."

The Ladies of the Harmony Grange will prepare and serve the banquet. Each dairy breed association will provide decorations. Tickets for the banquet are available at county Extension offices, and from the dairy Extension office, 236 Agricultural Hall, Newark.

Wash Hogs

There's nothing like a shower for cooling pigs off in hot weather, says George Vapaa, county agricultural agent.

A fine mist spray, using a very small amount of water per pig, is enough to keep them comfortable and gaining even on the hottest days, he adds.

One effective way of keeping pigs cool is to install a shower, or sprinkler, where the pigs can move in and out of it will. A pin-point nozzle using as little as two and one-half gallons of water an hour will supply a fine mist sufficient to keep a pen of six to 10 pigs comfortably cool all day without crowding.

This is a particularly good system for pigs on concrete, since the spray cools the concrete as well as pigs.

The spray also can be used on pigs in pasture, the agent suggests. A portable sprinkler moved from one part of a field to another on successive days will prevent mud holes.

The spray idea came when it was found that livestock are more productive and gain weight more quickly if they are kept comfortable in hot weather. Pigs on hot days usually stop eating in the morning and will not eat again until sundown.

Coccidiosis Preventive Drug Will Cut Production in Laying Hens

Never use nicarbazin for controlling coccidiosis in laying hen flocks, county agent George Vapaa warns Kent County poultrymen. Tests have shown that this drug drastically reduces egg production. It also changes egg color from brown to white.

A number of drugs, used in combination with good management practices, are effective in preventing coccidiosis infection in chickens. Among them are sulfaquinoxaline, sulfaquandiuine, nitrophenide, and nitrofurazone, as well as nicarbazin. Any of these may be used for young, growing stock, but a drug other than nicarbazin should be employed for coccidiosis control in laying flocks, according to Vapaa.

Nicarbazin was fed to New Hampshire laying hens in tests at the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Research Center at Beltsville, Md., to check its effects on egg production, quality and weight, and shell color and thickness. During the second week treated hens laid only half as many eggs as similar untreated hens used for comparison. The difference continued for more than a week after nicarbazin was discontinued, but two weeks after the drug was withdrawn hens were back to normal production.

Brown eggs began to lighten within 3 days after birds were given nicarbazin. After 2 weeks they were white. When the drug was discontinued, brown color gradually began to return after 2 days and was completely normal after 14 days.

No significant differences were found in weight, quality, or shell thickness of eggs produced by treated and untreated hens. In other tests, however, some mottling of yolks has been found in eggs laid by nicarbazin treated hens.

No drug is an effective substitute for good sanitation in preventing outbreaks of coccidiosis. But a well-timed administration of a preventive drug can help to reduce its spread when signs of coccidiosis appear.

Sanitation measures include keeping chickens in clean, dry quarters, keeping feed and water in clean utensils, giving chickens enough space in which to exercise, and getting rid of disease carriers like flies, rats and mice.

Symptoms of coccidiosis are loss of appetite or weight, weakness, ruffled and soiled feathers, pale combs and wattles, and watery or bloody droppings. The disease may strike at any time of the year, but it is more likely to develop in warm, wet weather.

Egg Producers' Tour to Lancaster County June 24

Delaware egg producers have been invited to tour six different Lancaster county, Pa., farms on June 24,—farms that feature automatic feed-handling systems and other labor-saving or cost-cutting devices and practices. The educational tour is sponsored by the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service, in cooperation with the Lancaster County Extension staff.

The schedule includes stops at farms where visitors will see cage layer operations, self-driven feed cart, 'ferris wheel' egg cart, tractor driven manure pit cleaner, hammer mill for grinding and mixing feed, auger conveyor to hoist feed to bins, mechanical feeder; egg storage rooms with air conditioning, mechanical egg cooler, aluminum insulation, feed lifted by hoist to top floor of shed and which runs down to each floor through chutes, and many other features.

Sussex county egg producers are asked to meet at the post office building in Georgetown at 8:30 a.m.; Kent County producers at Marker's Hatchery on Route 13, Dover, at 7:30 a.m., and New Castle egg producers at Agricultural Hall, Newark, at 8:30 a.m.

From Newark, the group will proceed via routes 72, 7, and 41 to Gap, Pa., and then on route 741 through Strasburg to the village of Lampeter, where they will be met by the tour leader, Harry Sloat, associate county agricultural agent of Lancaster county. Families are invited, but are asked to make their own arrangements for lunch. Persons who would like to have additional information on the tour are urged to contact their county agricultural agent in the county extension office.

Social Security Notes

The working man or woman who had been building old-age and survivors insurance credits under the Social Security Act but is now unable to continue work because of a severe and long-lasting disability was reminded today that June 30, 1957 may be a very important date. Myron Milbouer, manager of the Wilmington office of the Social Security Administration says that because of recent changes in the law, disabled workers 50 to 65 years of age may be eligible for cash payments beginning with the month of July. Those under 50 may qualify to "freeze" their social security earnings records and protect their rights to future payments.

All these rights may be lost if they do not apply before June 30, Milbouer said. Applications made before that date can fully cover a long-term disability—one which could have started as long ago as 1941. In addition to other requirement, individuals must have worked at least 5 years in employment covered by the Social Security Act for the disability provisions to be considered.

Under the definition of disability in the social security law, a person must be unable to do any substantial work and the disability must be one expected to continue indefinitely. The disability may be either mental or physical. However, an individual with a partial or temporary disability will not qualify. If you believe that you are eligible, you should make application immediately if you have not done so before.

A recent booklet, "If You Are Disabled," is now available on request to the Social Security Administration district office located at 504 W. 10th St., Wilmington.

An industrial site in Accra, Ghana, is being offered to some American firm, for a branch. Ecuador's rail line between Quito and San Lorenzo, on the coast, is reported completed.

THIS BILL SHOULD NOT PASS

Senate Bill 335, introduced last week by Senator Pryor (D) in the Legislature, should not pass unless one provision is omitted, viz: "Repealing the provision which makes it mandatory to revoke a driver's license for driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and providing for imposition of this offense only on the second or subsequent conviction."

The license should be revoked on the first offense, as heretofore. The above amendment makes it possible for the defendant NEVER to be convicted. It reads: "the second or subsequent offense." There is no comma after "second." That means the judge has two choices: 1. He can convict the defendant on the second offense. 2. He can convict the defendant on ANY offense coming after the second. In sum total, it means conviction for drunken driving is no longer mandatory.

We called the Legislative Reference Bureau to see if the original bill had a comma after "second." It did not. If it had, it would have signified a noun in apposition, which would have meant that "second" and "subsequent" were the same.

However, since drunken drivers figured in a large number of Delaware's highway fatalities, we believe the law should suspend license on the first offense, as it has been.

I don't intend to get excited over the corruption of the language by advertisers, disk jockeys, and cartoonists, although my sympathy is on the side of those who insist on proper grammar. 'Nobody ain't never loved you like I love you' is a beautiful sentiment of unmistakable sincerity.

Many people are delighted and reassured when Bergen Evans, a college professor, tells his television hearers that usage has converted 'like' into a conjunction. Perhaps when the Bible is next revised, the prayer will read "Thy will be done on earth like it is in heaven."

There is no law against a man spelling words as he pleases, or pronouncing words as he pleases, or using double negatives. Nor is there any law that says a man must bathe, shave, comb his hair, or change his shirt; but failure to heed the rules of sanitation and decent grooming carries heavy business and social penalties, although unwritten.

Hence, for those who seek acceptance and wish to get ahead, it is a handicap to speak the language of a writer of popular lyrics or TV comedy. When your livelihood is at stake, why not be a conformist? — The Copperweld Magazine

Letter to the Editor

Dear Mr. Wheeler,
 The enclosed check for $200 is a contribution to your very worthy work in establishing a park in Harrington.
 I was glad to see that the citizens of Harrington realized what a great contribution you were making and showed it by giving you the publicity they did in recent issue of our Harrington Journal. After all it is not, so much what is printed about us as it is the good it really does us down deep in our hearts.
 After a busy day, nothing relaxes me more than a visit to your park to watch the children at play. One can not sit with a frown on their face, for long, when they watch the small children laughing and playing.
 I hope you will continue this worthwhile project. You have my hearty congratulations and will always have my support.
 Sincerely
 Horace Quillen

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:
 I understand that the possibility of a kindergarten school for Harrington is being considered again and that a tea is being tomorrow at 1 p.m. at Asbury Methodist Church for interested parents. The proposed school would be held in the new educational building of Asbury church. Some parents may be wondering whether a kindergarten school is worthwhile and whether their child would benefit from one. As a public school teacher, I can say this: a first-grade teacher can immediately spot a child who has been to kindergarten. He is not frightened by the presence of other children for he is already accustomed to being with a larger group of children than he encounters in his normal home and play life. He knows how to get along with other children; he is used to being away from his parents.
 It takes many children the first half of their first year in school to adjust to the new situation and become a social person. This task has already been accomplished by the kindergarten child. In the kindergarten school the child has an opportunity to develop his personality without being subject to regimentation, so he is free from tensions that often result in a fear or dislike of school. The job of actually doing the work of the first grade is also made easier for the child for he has already gone through the process of becoming ready for the first grade work.
 Every effort will be made to keep the cost of the school within the reach of every parent who wants to give his child this opportunity. There is at present no tax money available for such schools, but if there are enough schools in operation and our legislators see the need, they may in time appropriate money for this purpose as they have for schools for retarded children.
 A qualified teacher for this school is available. She is a certified kindergarten teacher with experience and a deep interest in meeting the educational needs of our children.
 I would urge every parent and civic-minded person to get behind this effort.
 Sincerely
 Mrs. R. S. Gibson

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
 Q—I have a World War II GI endowment policy which has matured, and which is paying me a monthly income. Must I pay taxes on these insurance proceeds?
 A—No. Proceeds of GI insurance policies are not subject to taxes.
 Q—I am eligible for a GI loan under the Korean GI Bill. I understand my deadline is January 31, 1957. Is that a deadline for applying? Or must the entire deal be complete by that time?
 A—You must do more than apply for your GI loan by the January 31, 1957, deadline. Under present law, the loan actually must have been made before that date, with only the VA guaranty to be accomplished.
 Q—Under the War Orphans Education program, who makes the decision whether a son or daughter of deceased war veteran needs special restorative training to overcome a handicap?
 A—VA makes the determination. Where the need for special restorative training exists, VA will prescribe a suitable course, tailored to the individual.
 Q—Is it possible to take Korean GI training while on active duty with the armed forces? I meet all the eligibility requirements.
 A—You may not take training under the Korean GI Bill while on active duty, even though you do meet eligibility requirements. The law prohibits it.

Delaware Food Market Report

The top bargain buys this week are among the fresh vegetables. Snap beans or green beans, whichever you prefer to call them, are selling as low as 10 cents a lb. The quality is good and the flavor is excellent. Be sure and get some this week. Other good buys are: fine quality greens averaging 13 cents a lb., thanks to recent rains; green onions, 10 cents a bunch; new potatoes, as low as 5 cents a lb. in some stores; cabbage, about 7 cents a lb.
 Tomatoes, beginning to come from the Carolinas, are a few pennies lower by the carton this week. An average of 32 cents a box, but it's possible to find them cheaper by doing a little shopping around. Let's hope we have good growing weather so our local tomatoes will soon be in, then we can really enjoy this delicious vegetable.
 A look at the fruit stall certainly shows it's berry-time. Local, as well as California strawberries, look good; they are big, deep red and taste so sweet—ideal for strawberry sundies, shortcakes and ice cream. Lovely blueberries, as low as 35 cents a pint, are arriving in larger quantities now. Why not surprise the family and have blueberries to top their cereal tomorrow morning. Blueberry muffins with good fresh butter, blueberry pie, blueberry cake with fluffy whipped cream—there are so many wonderful foods that are made with blueberries. Blackberries are making their appearance for the first time this year. They are selling for approximately 50c a quart.
 California is sending peaches to local markets with prices ranging from 29 to 39 cents a lb; and plums, from 29 to 39 cents. Cherries are here again, their flavor is excellent, making them ideal for a snack food. The number of cantaloupes at the fruit counter is increasing, so prices are going down. With this hot summer weather, what could start the day off better than slice of cool cantaloupe.
 That traditional hot-weather thirst-quencher, lemonade, is due for special attention. All the makings—fresh lemons, frozen lemonade concentrate and canned lemon juice—there are lots of both with prices as low as 25 cents a doz. for lemons and 30c a doz. for lemons. With shopping around, you may find them even cheaper this weekend.
 Eggs have started their long delayed seasonal price rise. Grade A large eggs are a couple of pennies higher this week with prices expected to continue up, however, they still rate good as a bargain buy.

Use 2, 4-D For Broad-Leaved Weeds In Corn

A reminder that 2,4-D can be used to control most broad-leaved weeds in corn has been issued by county agricultural agent, George Vapaa. Weeds that can be controlled include morning glory, bindweed, wild potato vine, an other troublesome broad-leaved weed pests found in the cornfield.
 The recommended rate of application is 1/2 pound of actual 2, 4-D to the acre. For standard materials, this is about one pint of 2,4-D liquid per acre. The amount of water is not particularly important, but most weed sprayers apply between five and ten gallons of solution per acre.
 It is important that the sprayer be calibrated to apply 2,4-D accurately, Vapaa warns. Too little of the material may not control the weeds, while too much may damage the corn.
 Corn should be at least five inches high before the 2,4-D spray is applied. And after it is 15 inches high, drop pipes and directional nozzles should be used in order to keep the spray out of the crowns of the corn plants.

Lancaster Area To Be Visited By Del. Poultrymen

Many interesting features concerning the production of eggs await the Delaware poultrymen that will tour Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, Monday. The first stop will be the cage layer operation of Marvin and Richard Herr. Here will be seen 5000 single-deck cages with such labor-saving features as a self-driven feed cart, a "ferris-wheel" egg cart, and a tractor driven manure pit cleaner.
 Feed lifted by hoist to the top floor in a 3-story converted tobacco barn and gravity fed to each floor is the feature attraction on Ross Huber's farm. Roy Herr has Leghorn breeders and a small hatchery with an egg storage room with air conditioning unit.
 After lunch the group will visit the Floyd Moore Farms. The Moore Farms consist of a large hatchery with 7000 vantage white breeders in a 3-story converted barn at the home place plus 13,000 breeders on another farm. They have a contract arrangement with their flock-owners that will be of interest to the Delaware producers.
 On the Raymond Stoner farm the group will see a 2-story laying house with hammer mill for grinding and mixing feed, auger conveyor to hoist it to bins, and mechanical feeder. Also community nests, exhaust fans, mechanical egg cooler, aluminum insulation, and other interesting features.
 The last visit will be to the Earl Bird Experimental Farm where 7000 Leghorn hens of three different strains are kept. Eggs are collected four times daily, force-cooled, stored at 55 degrees temperature and shipped to market the following day.

Girl Scouts See Petersburg

Intermediate Girl Scout Troop 131, under the leadership of Mrs. Norman Brown and Mrs. Walter Winkler, spent Wednesday afternoon at the Petersburg Recreation Center. After assembling their sleeping cots, the girls went on a hike with Mrs. C. Tharp Harrington and Mrs. Jefferson Larimore, who stayed overnight with the girls. Thursday night the girls invited their parents to the Court of Awards which opened with the flag ceremony. Guards were Nancy Blades and Lois Larimore. Flag bearers were Maureen Riley and Jackie Rasmus. The Scout Prayer was repeated in unison. Each girl received a World pin and her second class rank badge. Legislators Work 15 Hours But Can't Make Adjournment

Haggard and heat-wilted members of the 1957 General Assembly early Wednesday gave up work till Monday morning after a 15-hour session in which they missed their goal of a temporary adjournment that would shut down the legislative mill for six months.

At 12:37 a. m. the Senate recessed until Monday at 11 a. m.—and the House followed suit five minutes later. Earlier, members had been planning to stay on the job as long as necessary to clear the decks for adjournment of both houses till Jan. 6.

Acting Senate Majority Leader Allen J. Cook (D-Kenton) told his colleagues to prepare themselves for one more day of work Monday—and then for the temporary adjournment. He explained that leaders want time to take long, hard looks at the remaining bills and be sure that important measures aren't overlooked in the pell-mell scramble for adjournment.

Here are the legislative milestones of the days' activity in the House and Senate:

The Home Rule Amendment to the State Constitution—passed by the House and sent to the Senate.

The Cape May-Lewes Ferry Bill, authorizing a $3,000,000 bond issue for Delaware's share in the river crossing project's initial cost—passed by the Senate and sent to the House.

The $800 salary increase bill for all members of the Delaware State Police—passed by the Senate 10 days after approval by the House and sent on its way to Gov. J. Caleb Boggs.

Returned to House The School Maintenance Appropriation Bill—Approved by the Senate with an amendment boosting its total to $1,319,834 and returned to the House.

The Direct Primary Election Bill—Approved by the Senate and sent to the House.

The Senate-approved Anti-Gambling Bill—Defeated by the House.

The Senate-approved Milk Price Control Bill—Defeated in the House.

A supplementary appropriation bill restoring $487,684 cut from the General Appropriation Bill by the Joint Finance Committee—passed by the Senate and sent to the Governor.

Grogg is Bedraggled Both chambers started their work for the day about 11 a. m., and by the time the end came their members were groggy and bedraggled from the hours of argument, persuasion, confusion, defeat, and occasional triumph that intervened.

Again temperatures were in the 90s in Legislative Hall, and not a few of the members went through two or more perspiration-soaked sets of clothing.

The parliamentary device used to end it all till Monday was a recess—not an adjournment. By recessing instead of adjourning, the Assemblymen carried the 94th legislative day over till Monday. A resolution providing for temporary adjournment of both houses at the close of business on the 94th day has been approved by both houses and remains effective.

The proposed Home Rule Amendment, sponsored by Reps. Harry G. Lawson (R-Wilmington) and several others, would give incorporated towns and cities more say in the determination of their own affairs.

Quigley Pops Up Deferred by the House on June 12, it was called up during the afternoon session by Mr. Lawson. Majority Leader James R. Quigley (D-New Castle) popped up with an amendment that would prohibit Wilmington from doing anything to remove the Farmers' Market from King Street.

With Minority Leader James H. Snowden (R-Wilmington) leading the fight against it, the Quigley amendment was turned down. The angry majority leader walked out of the chamber—and stayed out for several hours. The bill itself was then approved with the 24-vote two-thirds majority needed for a proposed constitutional amendment. To become law, it must be approved by the Senate this session, and then by both houses of the 1959 Assembly.

Senate approval on the Cape May-Lewes ferry proposal came shortly after members of the Senate returned from a luncheon thrown by ferry proponents—and with New Jersey State Senator Charles W. Sandman (R-Cape May) flanking Senate President Pro Tem Curtis W. Steen (D-Dagsboro), a sponsor of the bill, on the rostrum.

Senator Sandman, a prime mover in the ferry proposal and sponsor of a bill—signed by Gov. Robert B. Meyner Tuesday—providing funds for New Jersey's participation, later pledged to do what he can to settle the controversy between New Jersey and Delaware over Delaware Memorial Bridge tolls.

'Tolls Should Stay' "I believe New Jersey owes Delaware more than it has offered thus far," he told an applauding Senate following the roll call. "I believe the tolls should stay on the bridge. I believe there should be a compact providing for a joint commission to use surplus (bridge) revenues for the development of the lower Delaware valley. I believe Delaware is entitled to priority in the use of those revenues."

The $3,000,000 bond issue measure, which provides funds for construction of a ferry terminal that would be leased to the New Jersey Highway Authority for operation of the service needed a three-quarter majority of 13 votes. It made it with one to spare.

There were 14 yeas, one nay, one not voting, and one absent. Alone in the "nay" column was Senator Peter Nachay (D-Willow Grove), who told his colleagues he couldn't vote for a ferry bill "until we get our differences with New Jersey straightened out."

Senator Calvin R. McCullough (D-Holloway Terrace), a sponsor of the bill along with Senator Steen and Senator Walter J. Hoey (D-Milford), let it be known he had reservations along the same lines. He went on record first as not voting—but later voted yes after protesting he had understood the bill would include provision for appointment of a joint commission to work out an agreement on the bridge toll controversy.

Senator Sandman's remarks about bridge tolls came in response to a direct question from Senator McCullough, who wondered aloud if the New Jersey lawmaker would be as resourceful in working for a solution to the controversy as he has been in getting Delaware lawmakers to go along with the ferry idea.

State Police Raises The Senate actually voted on two police pay measures Tuesday afternoon—spurning a $400 annual boost before it approved the $800 measure. The $400 bill was called up by Senator William B. Behen (D-Dover) in an attempt to undercut the $800 measure, which was approved by the House June 6. Senator Behen's measure (SB 15) was battered down in short order with five yeas and nine nays. Supporting Senator Behen in his bid for passage of the smaller increase were Senators Jester A. Gray (D-Frederica), Hoey, Nechay, and Steen.

A few minutes later Senator Hoey grudgingly asked for a vote on the $800 bill (HB 271), which calls for an appropriation totalling $288,000 in the coming biennium. It slipped across unanimously, proponents of the other bill having given up the battle.

The school maintenance measure, approved by the House better than a month ago, stirred up a bitter battle between Senator Wilmer F. Williams (R-Roselle) and Senators Hoey and Calvin R. McCullough (D-Holloway Terrace), proponents of an amendment which adds to the funds allotted several districts.

Senator Williams protested that the amendment, handed up by Senator McCullough, saddled the bill with costs that should be counted under school construction. He pointed with particular displeasure to funds for purchase of seven acres of land by the Christiana School district.

Senator Williams noted that the state foots the entire bill for school maintenance, but it pays only 60 per cent of the cost of items counted as school construction.

Unanimous at End Despite the Roselle law-maker's vigorous fight against the amendment, it was adopted by a vote of 10-5. He then urged the members who had supported him to vote for the bill—a "must" item—and they did. The final roll call was unanimous.

The supplementary appropriation bill, restoring many of the cuts made by the joint budget committee in the original general appropriation bill, also went through unanimously. Approved by the House last week, it is now ready for Governor Boggs's signature.

Action on the direct primary bill, which would permit candidates to get on their party's primary ballot by petition, by convention nomination, or by getting 20 per cent of the convention votes for nomination, highlighted the Senate's night session.

The measure (Senate Substitute for SB 69), a simplified version of a measure introduced last February by five co-sponsors, went through unanimously, but with Senator Cook abstaining from the vote.

The substitute bill was submitted by Senator Clifford Pryor (D-Blackbird) just before the roll call in lieu of an original co-sponsored by Senators John E. Reilly (D-Wilmington), Eugene Lamot (D-Wilmington), Williams, and Melson.

House Negative Action in the House during its night session was on the negative side, with several measures taking their lumps after hopeful sponsors had asked for a vote.

Stand-outs among the bills defeated were the Anti-Gambling Bill (SB 261) and the Milk Price Control Bill (SB 241).

Sponsored by Senator Hoey, the Anti-Gambling Bill is one of the key measures in a series of legislative charges proposed by Atty. Gen. Joseph Donald Craven and backed by the New Castle County Grand Jury and police authorities.

The Milk Price Control Bill, authorizing the State Board of Agriculture to fix wholesale and retail prices, was sponsored by Senators Earle M. Tull (D-Seaford), Cook, and Jacob A. Correl (R-Newark).

Another proposal knocked down by the lower chamber (HB-154) would have increased the salaries of upper court judges by $5,000 a year.

Also taken over the hurdles by the House was Senate Bill 91, which would have required weekly salary payments by railroads. This item, co-sponsored by Senators Reilly and Williams, was decisively defeated, attracting only five votes. It was subjected to heavy criticism by Mr. Quigley and Mr. Snowden.

Senator Lamot's bill to legalize the employment of three city solicitors by the City of Wilmington (S-324), also met defeat.

Other proposals killed included Senator Hoey's to provide that charters of all municipalities are required to contain a provision that each resident who is qualified to vote in a municipal election shall be entitled to vote in any referendum regardless of whether he is a property owner or freeholder (S-174).

Also defeated in the House: Representatives Appleford and Shockley—to increase the salary of the custodian of the State Building here including Legislative Hall from $3,000 to $5,000 a year (H-138).

Representative Lawson—to increase the penalty for late payment of Wilmington city taxes and to accelerate the date of delinquency, and to make other changes in this statute (H-57).

St. Bernadette's Church Notes

Mass Sunday morning will be at 9:30. Confession will be heard before mass. The monthly parish meeting will be held Thursday evening at the parish house at 8 o'clock. There will also be an adult catechism class that evening at the same time. At the parish meeting, Father Corrigan will show home movies to include pictures of Father Thomas Peterman's ordination and his first mass both in Milford.

Serving at mass last Sunday were Tony Perrone and Emil Girardi.

Our pastor, Rev. John A. Corrigan, celebrated the anniversary of his ordination last Tuesday. He was ordained 21 years ago by the Most Rev. Edmond J. Fitz Maurice, Bishop of Wilmington in St. Peter's Cathedral in Wilmington. Father Corrigan has been with us for five years and we hope he will be with us for many more years to come.

Thursday was the feast of Corpus Christi. It is the Solemn Feast of the most holy Body of our Lord Jesus Christ to celebrate the institution of the Blessed Sacrament of the Holy Eucharist. It has been observed by other liturgical observances. Wherever possible, public homage and adoration are paid to Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament with a colorful procession around the church on this feast.

Let us believe and love this Mystery, let us taste and see that the Lord is sweet. Let us live through and by this Heavenly Bread, which is a pledge of eternal blessedness.

Friday will be the Feast of the Sacred Heart of Jesus. It is a reminder of all that we owe to the love of our Divine Redeemer. It is an appeal to our gratitude and it should prompt us to offer to the Divine Heart satisfaction and reparation for the numerous offenses of which we and others have been guilty. Appearing to St. Margaret Mary Alacoque during the octave of Corpus Christi in the year 1675, Jesus said to her: "This is the heart which has loved men so much and in turn is so little loved by them." Let us consecrate our good will to the Sacred Heart and offer to Him the sacrifice of a holy life.

Father Corrigan was the guest speaker on the Chapel Hour on radio station WKSB in Milford this week. His topic of discussions was "Important Feasts Celebrated by Catholics."
