

VAUDEVILLE PLANS FOR K & S FAIR ARE COMPLETE

The Kent & Sussex Fair Management has completed plans for the vaudeville to be presented every afternoon and night at the annual fair, July 22-27.

One of the most novel and entertaining features will be presented is the delightful monkey-shines of Constance Chimps, an importation from the South Sea Islands. Everyone will be amazed as the four highly trained chimps assisted by a collie dog perform a series of stunts, including wire-walking, roller skating and acrobatics. Many of the stunts have never been attempted by any trained animals. They combine remarkable acting and amazing tricks that will bring joy and laughter to grown-ups and children alike.

Don Tucker, an artist of the bouncing bed springs, and his partners, Mary and Woody, will perform on the trampoline. He is a super-agile man who jumps 3 ropes at once while doing back somersaults in his trampoline. Then there is Tell Teigen, one of the greatest high pole artists, imported from Norway, who performs spectacular and daring stunts high above the spectators on an 80 foot high pole.

Also, at the fair will be one of the most entertaining musical comedy acts in the business today, Maxie and Millie, who use various musical instruments in the most unusual manner and wear comedy costumes that cannot help but produce continuous laughter from the audience.

Of special appeal to the children will be Mr. Ralph, a little eight years old boy with a teddy bear and an irritable musical talent that has won the hearts of audiences all over Europe.

And then to continue on with the show, there will be Fenis Ferroni Duo. Gaspare and Carmela Ferroni have figured out a new and exciting way of performing roly-poly acrobatics from an eight foot high pedestal. While Gaspare balances himself on a rolling cylinder, Carmela is hoisted to his shoulders where she performs an amazing assortment of tricks. It's a dangerous and unique act which this fearless duo has brought to this country from their native Spain.

Interspersed between vaudeville acts will be scenes from the "International Review" which is packed with gala tunes, exotic rhythms, and romantic interludes of song and dances.

University of Delaware Dean's List

Dean of Students John E. Houghton announced today the names of 254 University of Delaware undergraduates who attained Dean's List standing during the second semester of the 1956-57 academic year.

Requirement for Dean's List recognition at the university is a minimum 3.25 scholastic index which indicates a cumulative average of better than "B" in all courses.

Fourteen students among the 2000-plus undergraduates, including thirteen Delaware residents, received 4.00 or straight "A" records. They are: Rosemarie Battaglia, 1708 Howland St., Wilmington; Yvonne G. Miller, 301 Woodside Avenue, Hillcrest, Wilmington; Delmer W. Nicholson, 1019 Philadelphia Pike, Wilmington; Martha Jane Nuckols Garrett, 137 Hamilton Lane, Smyrna; Carol Ann Owen, 109 McMillen Avenue, New Castle; Theresa A. Sobocinski, 101 Yale Road, Lat. Estates, Wilmington; Milton Myron Sowiak, 64 East Cleveland Avenue, Newark; Perome Spivack, 1701 Pennsylvania Avenue, Wilmington; Robert H. Thompson, 44 Prospect Avenue, Newark; William H. Felton Car Stolen; Barbershop Is Entered

A Felton barbershop was entered, the window of an adjoining variety store broken, and an automobile stolen Friday night at Felton.

A wristwatch is presumed missing from the barbershop operated by James Moore and his brother, John Edward Moore.

The window was broken in the store of Mrs. Harold Cain but nothing has been reported missing.

The automobile was stolen from the feed mill of Richard Bennett and recovered in Harrington Saturday morning in a field at the end of Dickerson Street. Patrolman Louis Bowden said the vehicle, a 1946 Chevrolet, apparently hit a guy wire at the Clark Street intersection of the street, since a door handle of the car was found there.

Steam Locomotive Attracts Attention As Life Saver

A steam locomotive attracted as much attention here Tuesday morning as did the diesel engine which replaced it several years ago.

Freight engine No. 110, type LI, stopped here two hours for water. It was en route from Wilmington to Bishop, Md., where it was to serve, in an emergency, as a boiler for a fertilizer factory. Engineer was W. D. Lyons, while the fireman was L. Abbott.

This is the third similar emergency in recent years in which the railroad has lent a steam locomotive.

Boggs Backs Principle Of Open Government

A survey sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism lists Delaware's Gov. J. Caleb Boggs among state chief executives who feel government's public business should be transacted in public.

The fraternity's committee on advancement of freedom of information said 24 governors endorse without reservation the principle of open government, while "13 others go on record as generally endorsing it." It quoted six governors as defending closed-door government under certain situations, and said five others declined to take a stand.

Governor Boggs was listed in the survey report as favoring open government but not pinpointing his policy.

Building Plan Bids Sought

An architect-engineering contract for the design of a new federal office building in Denton is expected from the General Services Administration within six weeks.

This announcement was issued jointly Wednesday by John Marshall Butler and J. Glen Beall, U. S. Senators from Maryland and Congressman Edward T. Williams from Maryland's First District.

Registered architect engineers in Maryland have been contacted with 15 of them indicating interest in submitting bids, the legislators said.

Plans and specifications drawn up several years ago are apparently obsolete because, the legislators said, space requirements have more than doubled and it is "uneconomical to revise these older buildings."

Plans call for the construction of a building with about 10,000 square feet of floor space. Aside from the Post Office Department which will utilize the entire first floor, an additional 3,700 square feet of office space has been requested by the Department of Agriculture.

Following the award of a design contract "efforts will be made to enter into a construction contract at the earliest possible date," the announcement said.

No indication as to the location of the building was given. When the announcement and plans for such a building developed several years ago a controversy arose between those who opposed that site, contending it would mar the beauty of the historic spot.

Venetian Blind Cord in Crib Strangles Dover Area Infant

Debra K. Kramedas, 8-month-old baby, was accidentally strangled by a venetian blind cord which became tangled about her neck in her crib at Dover Tuesday.

The baby, daughter of John and Angela Kramedas, 541 East Loockerman Street, Eastover Hills, was in her crib for a nap. State police said the crib was close to a double window from which the cord of the blind hung so it was in the crib.

Troopers said the baby apparently was in the habit of playing with the cord. The cord got about the child's neck and the baby was strangled as she struggled with the cord.

Dr. Edward S. Dennis, deputy state medical examiner for Kent County, and Kent County Coroner Roland P. Trader assisted in the investigation.

Mr. Kramedas and a brother, Thomas Kramedas, operate the Hub Restaurant in Dover.

27 Seized As Drunk Drivers

Twenty-seven arrests were made in Delaware last week on charges of driving under the influence of liquor, it was disclosed at the office of Col. Harry S. Shew, superintendent, state police.

Capt. John P. Ferguson, head of the traffic division, gave the following tabulation: Penny Hill Troop 1, one; State Road Troop 2, nine; Newark Police, one; Delaware Memorial Bridge Police, three; Dover Troop 3, four; Wyoming Town Police, one; Georgetown Town Police, two; Milford, Rehoboth, Seaford, and Bridgeville Town Police, one each.

Captain Ferguson said an examination of accident reports shows at least 59 per cent of the drivers involved in fatal accidents throughout the state so far this year had been drinking and most of them were under the influence of liquor.

Construction Starts Tuesday On Dover Training Center

Construction on the new U. S. Army Reserve Training Center at Dover will start Tuesday and is expected to be completed within nine months, Col. Joe E. Golden, chief, Delaware Military District, announced Wednesday.

Bids for the $225,453 training center for Army Reserve units in the Dover area were opened this week.

The new building will be in the northwest section of Dover, at the southwest corner of New and Clara Streets. The present temporary leased center, now in use, is at Pear Street and Columbia Avenue.

The new center will have an exterior of concrete masonry with brick facing and will include a two-vehicle garage.

Facilities will include class rooms, offices, assembly hall, locker and shower rooms.

Construction of an additional Delaware Army reserve training center in Delaware is "indicative of the continued emphasis placed on the Army Reserve program," Colonel Golden said.

"Today, more than ever before, it is vitally important that up-to-date facilities be provided for the Army Reserve in order to insure that Army reservists may maintain a high standard of combat readiness and efficiency."

University of Delaware Personnel Aid in Developing New Fuel

University of Delaware faculty of a new and important product nificant role in the development fuels on a semi-commercial basis announced today by the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation, Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Officials of the corporation revealed that it had become the first company in the United States to produce high energy and students have played a significant role in the development of the U. S. Air Force.

The fuel now being produced is expected to be the forerunner of a $1,000,000,000 industry in the next ten years. This estimate, made by W. C. Foster, executive vice president of Olin Mathieson, is projected on the basis of the tremendous quantities of the fuel need for military aircraft and later for long-range civilian flights. At the present time, the fuel is considered to be suitable for aircraft only.

Scientists from ten American colleges and universities, including the University of Delaware, worked with Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation personnel on the research and development of the high energy fuels.

Basic work was begun in the University of Delaware's chemistry department several years ago under the supervision of Dr. Harold C. Beachell. In 1955 work was continued in the department of chemical engineering under the direction of Dr. Robert L. Pigford, department chairman. This work led to the completion of a master's degree thesis this year by H. Harvey Michels, an advisee of Dr. Pigford, entitled "Vapor-Liquid Equilibria of the System Boron Trichloride-Chlorine." The new fuel is boron compound. Work in this area is being continued by Michels, a native of Hatfield, Pa., and another graduate student, Stuart Jones of Scranton, Pa.

High-energy chemical fuel significantly increases the range of aircraft and missiles powered by air-breathing engines. It does away with engine failure problems at high altitudes.

First shipments of the fuel produced at the Olin Mathieson plant have already been delivered to the Air Force, Dr. L. K. Herndon, head of the high-energy fuels operation at Niagara Falls, reported. Shipments, which began less than a month ago, are being made in increasing quantities.

Dr. Herndon emphasized that development of the fuel was the result of working with the Air Force on a partnership basis. The company could not have come anywhere near this development without the help of the Air Force, he said.

The new fuel is completely safe to handle.

In explaining how Olin Mathieson approached development of this fuel, Dr. Herndon said, "The quality most essential in a high-energy fuel is high heat value per unit weight. In a jet engine, more heat means more power and greater thrust. The more heat that can be produced with less fuel (and therefore less fuel load), the better the performance."

"The problem was to combine boron, hydrogen and other chemical elements in proportions to give the optimum combination of b.t.u.'s per pound, safe handling characteristics and economy of manufacture."

"The break-through was made within the incredible period of two years here at Niagara Falls, and the first synthesized sample of HEF was submitted as a candidate fuel to the Air Force. Its superior qualities were obvious, but there were many who said it could not be produced on a large scale."

"Olin Mathieson, however, demonstrated feasible methods, and we have become the first company in the United States to produce high-energy fuels on a semi-commercial basis. Our fuels have been accepted by the Air Force, which is ready to use all we can make. All that remains is to produce them in much larger quantities and more economically."

6 Hurt As Guard Truck Hits Car Bound For Picnic

A 10½-ton Delaware National Guard truck and a car collided Wednesday at the intersection of Routes 62 and 20 in Sussex County resulting in injury to six persons, including three children.

In other accidents a 15-year-old boy was injured in a collision involving a tractor and trailer on U.S. Route 50, two miles east of Cambridge, Md., and an Avondale man suffered a broken leg when his car a diesel powered freight train collided north of Avondale.

Injured in the Guard truck-automobile accident were Pfc. Lloyd Jewell, 21, of Seaford, a guardsman, who suffered a fractured skull and was transferred from the Nanticoke Memorial Hospital, Seaford, to the U. S. Naval Hospital, Philadelphia.

Boy's Skull Fractured
The five injured in the car were: Harvey Gillespie, 5, of Milford, who received a fractured skull and was transferred from the Seaford hospital to the Delaware Hospital; his mother, Mrs. Margaret Gillespie, 36, possible fractured skull, fractured shoulder and five broken ribs, transferred from the Seaford to the Milford Memorial Hospital; her son, David Allen Gillespie, 10, broken wrist and deep cuts of the skull, also taken from the Seaford hospital to the Milford hospital.

Regina Tingle, 36, of Milford, driver of the car, was treated for shock and bruises and held for observation at the Seaford hospital and her son, Ronald, 9, was treated for cuts below the left eye.

State troopers said the car was going to Trappe Pond near Laurel for a picnic. They said the car ran through a stop sign at the intersection into the path of the Guard truck. Police said the truck was coming from a Bethany Beach, site of the Delaware National Guard's summer encampment.

The condition of Harvey Gillespie was reported as critical at the Delaware Hospital Wednesday night.

Mitchell-Donovan

A very quiet wedding was solemnized Wednesday evening, July 3 at 9 o'clock, when Miss Ruth Esther Donovan, daughter of Mrs. Cora E. Donovan and the late George W. Donovan of Federalsburg, became the bride of Edward Everett Mitchell, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Mitchell of Denton.

The double ring ceremony was performed in the parsonage by the Rev. T. J. Turkington, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, Denton. The bride wore a ballerina length dress of powder blue crystal silk over taffeta, featuring a fitted lace bodice, with a scoop neckline and short sleeves. She wore an orchid corsage.

Miss Edna Nuttle Hobbs witnessed the ceremony.

The bride has been employed by the Delmar Manufacturing Company, Federalsburg for several years and the bridegroom is engaged in farming. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell will reside on his farm near Denton.

Phone Company Sets Tentative Pay Boost

The Diamond State Telephone Company has the green light to put its proposed rate increase into effect July 21—at least for the time being.

The signal flashed Wednesday morning with an announcement from the State's Public Service Commission that it has issued a "suspension order" moving the date when the increase—if approved—would become permanently effective back to Oct. 17. The commission said it was taking this step to provide time for public hearings on the rate change proposals.

While the SPC action was anything but formal approval of the rate boost—which the company says will average three cents a day for home subscribers—it opened the way for Diamond State to put them into effect temporarily.

The law permits a utility to hoist its rates automatically 30 days after filing a petition with the PSC—providing the agency has come to no final decision on the proposed increase.

The law also requires the utility to post bond in an amount equal to the proposed increases' annual total. PSC officials said in this case bond totaling $1,880,000 will be required.

Diamond State officials said Wednesday morning they can make no announcement regarding plans for posting bond—or not posting it—until they have time to study the PSC suspension order.

If the bond should be posted, the rate increases would probably go into effect for the telephone company monthly billing period starting July 25.

If, after hearings to be held in Dover, the PSC refuses to approve the rate increase, Diamond State would be required to refund all extra money collected from subscribers under the increase rate schedule.

"The commission's order set Dover as the location of the public hearing or hearings on the telephone rate case, and announced that its dates will be made public later."

In announcing the commission's action, Chairman Norman B. Baylis explained that the commission was denying and refusing the Telephone Company's request as to the effective date because July 21 does not allow sufficient time to hold public hearing and to enable the commission to make a thorough investigation of the proposed increases and determine the lawfulness of the increases.

"The petition was filed on June 21," he said, "and the law requires that the proposed increases cannot go into effect for at least one month after the filing of the petition. The telephone company proposes to put the increases into effect as soon as the law permits, namely, on July 21."

"The commission cannot physically carry out the far-reaching and searching investigation which is essential to protect the public interest, and hold public hearings which are desirable in order that all interested parties may have an opportunity to hear the case of the telephone company and to offer any proper evidence in rebuttal to such case, and render a decision on the petition, all by July 21."

"Physically Impossible"
He added: "Any public utility who petitions the commission for rate increases naturally does not normally do so without having thoroughly prepared what it deems to be a good case justifying the increases. We know that frequently this preparation extends over a period of months, and it is carried on by men who devote all of their time to the business of the particular utility. If the proposed increases must be passed on by the commission within one month after the petition is filed, it would be physically impossible for the commission to render an intelligent and adequate decision, or one that would be fair either to the consuming public or to the utility. The commission and its staff are limited in number, and, of course, are daily involved in the affairs of many utilities, not just the one who wants a rate increase. The law recognizes this problem and provides that the commission may suspend the effective date of the proposed rate increases. We are acting under that law."

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Notes

A number of the men in our congregation gave up part of their Fourth of July holiday to get together at the church and install the two new air conditioners. The work was continued over the weekend and by Sunday all was completed and the congregation enjoyed comfortable cooling during the morning and evening service. The job of installation was no simple task, because there aren't any windows in our church large enough to accommodate an air conditioner. Openings had to be cut into the walls. We are thankful for this addition to St. Stephen's, a blessing for us all in the hot summer months.

Our vicar announces that his family has had a big increase. Sunday, while he was conducting the morning service, two little toy terrier puppies were added to his household. Madeline is a lovable pet, a very democratic dog, friendly with all-comers. Many well-wishers are phoning the vicarage and offering their congratulations to the proud mother and her owner. The two new pups will be named Victor and Ellen for the vicar's good friends, the Rev. and Mrs. Victor A. Kusik of Bridgeville.

A meeting was held Monday evening at the church booth on the fair grounds for the purpose of organizing and discussing the work to be accomplished during the week of July 22-27. Granville Hill is general chairman of this church project. Many volunteers have offered their services and are willing to give freely of their time and effort to make this undertaking a success. It is hoped that fellow church people from other parts of the state will visit St. Stephen's booth at the fair.

Mrs. Robert E. Baynard is in charge of the altar guild work for July.

Acolytes who served at Sunday services were Ronnie Correll, William McColley, William Thompson.

Services for this week and next are as follows: Sunday, 7:30 a.m., Holy Communion; 11 a.m., morning Prayer and sermon; 7 p.m., evening prayer; Tuesday, 10 a.m., Holy Communion; Wednesday, 8 p.m., healing service at Seaford.

Farm News

Harvesting has been a almost a standstill in the northern part of the state. The pea and asparagus crops have, both been completed. The only activity has been harvesting truck crops of beans and cabbage. The continued dry weather has cut production extensively. All reports indicate that there was only about half the normal pea crop over the state. Snap bean growers report some fields ruined by the drought and all indicate a greatly reduced crop. The heavy planting of snap beans for processing is in Southern Delaware with some large plantings for market in the north. Tomato vines are starting to show the effects of dry weather as well as cucumber acreage. Some fields of the latter will be ruined if they do not get rain soon. Tomatoes are mostly under irrigation and little damage has been reported. Harvesting on a limited scale will start this week. Market conditions, which are poor at present, will determine the rate of harvesting starting next week. Crews are moving in with little work for them until the potato harvest starts.

In Case of Emergency
Crews arriving in the area without commitments, crews stranded on the way or arriving with insufficient numbers are all conditions confronting us at this time or year. Our farm Placement Representatives will help solve any of your problems if you will get in touch with them as soon as an emergency develops. During office hours they may be reached by phone at Dover 5897 or Georgetown 2717. After hours or on week-ends, phone Bill Hudson at Georgetown 2722; Howard Nowland at Smyrna 3048; or Thomas Russell at Smyrna 3377 (if no answer call Cecilton 4124.

Coming Events
July 22-27—Kent and Sussex Fair at Harrington. An outstanding agricultural event.

August 14—Annual University of Delaware Farm Field Day at the Experimental Farms, Georgetown. A fine demonstration of growing old and new crops, labor saving methods, pest control, etc.

Seasonal Workers in Area
As of June 30, there were 2605 seasonal workers employed in Delaware. Of this number, 1297 were local workers; 1019 southern migrants and 289 Spanish speaking workers. Of this number, 1780 were employed in agriculture and 825 in food processing.

In addition, there were approximately 200 seasonal workers unemployed and waiting for the potato harvest to start.

Wife Gets Sewing Machine When Farmer Buys MM Tractor

Local farmers' wives are getting new White sewing machines in the sensational MM tractor merchandising program announced by Paul Longfellow, Minneapolis-Moline dealer at Whitelysburg.

This new "Farm and Home" summer gift offer by Minneapolis-Moline gives a brand new White electric sewing machine to the daughter, wife, or mother of every farmer who purchases a new MM 335 or 445 tractor between now and July 31.

"This is the most appealing and most practical gift offer ever made by a manufacturer," said Longfellow, "because these are the finest sewing machine made and every woman will be proud to own one just as her farmer husband will be proud to own the World's Finest Tractor-MM."

Longfellow is making this unusual offer in connection with the big summer promotion campaign of Minneapolis-Moline Company to introduce the new Model 335 tractor, and to expand distribution of the larger Model 445.

These MM tractors have dynamic streamlining and have the latest engineering developments. They have power steering and new hydraulic 3-point hitch systems.

Ten speeds forward and two reverse with MM Ampli-Torc permits the operator to switch without declutching or stopping from low range to high range as field conditions require. The tractors also have traction amplifier.

The engines are heavy-duty, with high compression ratios, high-turbulence combustion, high torque, and single-unit crankcase. The differential and the brake and rear axle housings are cast as one rigid unit for perfect alignment of shafts and gears. Rear wheels can be adjusted by tractor power. The tractors also have independent live power take-off, and auxiliary front power take-off for side mounted machines.

The overall design of the tractors provide a maximum view of the work area for the driver of the tractor.

The non-glare instrument panel has tachometer, speedometer, ammeter, oil pressure gauge, electrical fuel gauge, water temperature gauge, combination light and ignition switch—even a cigarette lighter.

The tractors in addition to their general farm use, also handle dozens of tools made by allied equipment manufacturers, such as: farm loaders, scrapers, sprayers, rear blades and scoops, ditchers, trenches, post-hole diggers, post drivers, and rotary mowers.

4-H Agent Seeks Entries For Fair

Kent County 4-H'ers who intend to enter exhibits, and judging and demonstration contests in the Kent and Sussex Fair, July 22 to 27, in Harrington, should send entries to the county extension office by July 15.

The reminder came from Marion MacDonald, county 4-H Club agent. She said the judging contests include clothing, baking, food preservation, vegetables, dairy, poultry, swine and sheep.

County winners will be judged in the demonstration contests in the areas of bread baking, clothing, dairy foods, home beautification, poultry foods, dairy production, field crops, livestock, poultry production, soil and water conservation, tractor maintenance and vegetables.

Exhibits will be judged in canning, frozen foods, baking, clothing, home improvement, craft, eggs, vegetables, entomology, home grounds beautification and farm and home electric.

Judging will be done in junior divisions of dairy cattle and poultry, a feeder pig roundup, and a tractor operator's contest.

Entry blanks in the 138 4-H classes, along with blanks for entries in the livestock and poultry classes are available at the county extension office, or from local leaders, the Agent said.

She explained that 4-H'ers can learn more details on entering when entry blanks are picked up.

Holland sold herrings to more than 35 countries in 1956.

CONTRACT AWARDED TO WIDEN AND RESURFACE HARRINGTON-WHITELYSBURG RD.

The State Highway Department opened bids in Dover Tuesday, July 2, on six contracts with several of the projects attracting a large number of bidders. Three of the contracts covered maintenance operations.

For the widening and resurfacing of the existing highway from Harrington to Whitelysburg, a distance of 7.9 miles, Standard Bitulithic Co., Newark, N. J., was the lowest of five bidders, their price being $184,522.

This project provides for the existing 9 foot highways to be widened to 22 feet and then having the entire roadway resurfaced.

Another project provided for the improvement of a series of ten dirt roads along the western border of Kent county, from Route 8, near Marydel, on the north, to Route 14, at Burrsville, Md., on the south, covering a distance of 23.9 miles.

Project in Two Sections

The project was divided into two contracts with E. Stuart Mitchell, Inc., Baltimore, submitting the low bid of $203,575 for doing the paving work, there being five bidders on this contract, while Walter Roach & Sons, Georgetown, submitted the low bid of $128,183.10 for installing the drainage and grading work.

The three maintenance contracts provided for the hot mix patching and resurfacing in each of the three counties with Standard Bitulithic Co., Newark, N. J., submitting the low bids for the work in Kent and Sussex counties, the price for Sussex being $107,045.40 while for the Kent work was $96,413.50.

Ellis Myer Wins 4 Races at Laurel

Ellis Myer, of Bridgeville, well known here as a driver of harness horses, drove home four winners Saturday night, at Laurel Raceway, to steal the get-away night show. He became the second man in Maryland's harness racing history to turn the 4-win trick.

Johnny Simpson was the other to accomplish the feat.

Myer's string Saturday included victory in the $2000 feature Class A pace, with Wicomico Tom paying $22.20 in turning back five rivals in 2:05.

Myer also won with Isola's Gal, Reggy Scott, and Billy Harris.

GOC to Observe 5th Anniversary Of 24-Hr. Hitch

The fifth anniversary of the 24-hour operation of the Ground Observer Corps will be observed Sun., July 14, it was announced today by Sam Short Jr., supervisor of the Quebeck Juliet 25 Black, Harrington, and Nilda T. LaCross, of Felton Post.

Both said the occasion would be marked with the holding of an open house at the post, located at northeast corner of Liberty Street and road leading to St. Bernadette's Church, Harrington, and at Felton. The public is invited to visit the post and inspect its facilities during the open house.

Both said the theme of the anniversary observance this year is recognition of those who have contributed their time and energies to the air defense effort. They added that the GOC at present has some 400,000 volunteers throughout the country.

"The Ground Observer Corps is as necessary today as it was when it was started," our government says. "High government officials have stated time and again that the development of nuclear weapons has made a devastating attack on the United States mainland possible for a strong aggressor nation.

"We know that Russia has more than 1000 aircraft, including new jet bombers, capable of striking at any part of the United States. We know further that the Soviet bomber, not the missile, is still the chief threat to our security.

"While it is true that the Continental Air Defense Command uses an extensive radar network for aircraft detection, it is just as true that radar can be jammed. And radar cannot provide information on types of planes, numbers or unusual maneuvers.

"Therefore, in order to fill out the radar system, the Air Force organized the GOC as an essential civilian component of air defense — volunteers manning spotting posts and air defense filter centers providing information on aircraft which helps to tighten our air defenses.

"It should be emphasized that one warning call from a volunteer spotter could give our military forces time enough to challenge hostile planes before they reached their targets. One call could send our own long-range bombers on their way to strike back at an enemy. One call could give civil defense time enough to save countless lives.

"Here in Delaware we have 21 observation posts, many of them manned only part of the time. All should be on a 24-hour a day basis. All could be if more persons would give up just a few hours a week of their spare time to man these posts.

"Think it over during this anniversary observance. The GOC needs you. For information on how to join the 'Skywatch' program, call the supervisor, Sam Short Jr., phone 8983 day or 8054 night, or call N. T. LaCross, Felton 4-4192.

Body Recovered In Bay Drowning

The body of William Bohrer, 21, of Foslom, Pa., missing since Sunday, was found Thurs., July 4, in Delaware Bay off Port Mahon.

The body was spotted by Capt. William Short, skipper of the state-owned boat, Delaware. Coroner Roland Trader of Kent County established the identification.

Bohrer and his father were thrown into the bay Sunday, June 29, when their boat capsized in choppy waters. His father, Marvin, held his son to a stake used for fish nets for hours before exhaustion forced him to let go. The younger Bohrer was pulled out by the tide.

The father was rescued early Monday, July 1.

FARM AND GARDEN QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—Something is eating the leaves on my field corn stalks and also where the tassels begin. Would like to know what it is, and what can be done to destroy the insects. Haven't seen the insect.

A—It is undoubtedly the corn borer or corn earworm which you will find if you follow down thru the damaged area. Until now we have not recommended any spraying because of costs. Some research has been done with DDT granules that you sprinkle into the whorl and nodes of the leaves about time the tassels begin to form. We can suggest on a trial basis.

Q—What is the best control for corn earworm and corn borer in sweet corn.

A—We suggest a mixture of DDT in mineral oil and water, to which is added malathion (we are sending our vegetable spray schedule for details. A minimum of three applications at tasseling time about two or three days apart will be needed.

Q—What spray should I use on dwarf fruit trees?

A—We are sending your or spray schedule for fruits. You will need a minimum of seven sprays during the growing season—and even then will not get top quality. Good commercial growers use 12 to 15 sprays a season. It's really much cheaper to buy fruit today that to grow it in home plantings.

Q—What is wrong with these soybeans? (Leaves spotted and yellowish)

A—It is undoubtedly two-spotted mite injury. Dust infested areas with sulfur, or spray with parathion to hold down the build-up of insect population.

Local ASC Office Accepts Farm Storage Loans

Delaware farmers who need more farm storage space will find storage building loans offered by the Commodity Credit Corporation, according to George Vapaa, county agricultural agent.

These loans are available through local banks or directly from the CCC, the agent said. Owner-operators, share tenants, share landlords and producer partners are all eligible.

Applications can be made at the local agricultural stabilization and conservation committee office at 313 South Governors Avenue, Dover, Telephone 3078.

The county agent said the loans can be paid off over a four-year period, beginning on the first anniversary of the loan. Interest is at four per cent a year.

Vapaa pointed out that storage structures built with these loans must meet standard for storage under the CCC price-support program.

"More storage space on the farm often means getting a better price for your crops after low harvest-time levels have passed," the agricultural agent said.

Veterans News

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—Can a Korea veteran, holding a GI term insurance policy that doesn't pay dividends, get the total disability income provision added to his policy so that he will receive monthly payments in case he becomes totally disabled?

A—No. Under the law, the total disability income provision may not be added to nonparticipating Korean GI term insurance. It is limited to participating World War II GI policies that do earn dividends.

Q—I just received a raise in salary of $25 a month. I would like to use that extra money to apply to my GI home loan each month, so that I can pay it off ahead of time. Is this possible?

A—A GI home loan may be reduced by extra payments, without penalty. But the minimum extra payment possible is one regular monthly payment, or $100, whichever is less. What you could do is save your salary raise and make an extra mortgage payment when the amount equals one monthly installment, or $100.

Q—I am more than half-way through a correspondence course under the Korean GI Bill, and my GI training entitlement has run out. Is it possible for my entitlement to be extended, so that I can complete my course?

A—Yes. So long as you have completed more than half of your correspondence course, your entitlement may be extended to the end of your particular course unit or for nine weeks—which ever is less.

Ford wins the battle of the builds

• Sure! Many people buy Fords because of their long, low, whistle-collecting looks. Do you blame them? But beauty alone isn't enough to earn for a car the No. 1 spot in America's heart. And that's just what Ford has earned. The real secrets of Ford's success are the extra values that go into building a Ford. Let's look at a few of these features. Ford shares them only with a select number of America's most expensive cars. But you get them at low Ford prices.

1. Only Ford in its field offers a frame design that lets you ride within the frame side members for greater roominess, more smoothness and increased safety.
2. Only Ford in its field gives you a modern V-8 engine with rigid, deep-block design for smoother, quieter, longer-lived operation.
3. Only Ford in its field offers automatic variable-rate rear springs that automatically adjust to give a smoother ride no matter how rough the road conditions.
4. Only Ford in its field offers new swept-back ball-joint front suspension that "rolls with the punch" on rough, bumpy roads.
5. Only Ford in its field offers as many as five strengthening roof cross members for a more rigid roof... greater quiet and safety.
6. Only Ford offers such a savingful car. A Ford Six beat all other cars in the 1957 Mobilgas Economy Run in the miles-per-gallon department.
7. Only Ford in its field offers a frame with 3 tubular cross members. There are 5 cross members in all... enabling the frame to withstand stress from all directions.
8. Only Ford, among all makes, electronically balances every V-8 engine while it's operating under its own power.
9. Only Ford in its field offers so much soundproofing for a quieter ride under all road and weather conditions.
10. Only Ford in its field offers such a well sealed body for greater freedom from dust and weather wherever you travel.
11. Only Ford in its field offers rear door assist springs and two-position front door checks for easier entrance and exit.

CITY MAKES MANY IMPROVEMENTS IN WATER AND SEWERS

The City of Harrington has made considerable improvements in its water and sewers department and plans to make even more. The list of accomplishments goes like this: A water main has been built from Delaware Avenue to the armory on Liberty Street. A water main has been constructed from Delaware Avenue across Harrington Manor to U. S. 13. A water main has been built from the southbound lane of U. S. 13 to the other side of the northbound lane. A new sewer pump has been ordered. A sanitary sewer has been built on West Milby Street from West Street to the city limits. Scheduled improvements are as follows: A sewer main will be built on West Street from West Milby Street almost to Commerce Street. The water mains will be extended on Second Avenue and Harrington Avenue. The turn at Ward and Thorpe Streets will be surveyed with the idea of eventually putting water on the latter street. The City Council, however, has attempted to improve the overall picture of municipal government. It is seeking a third policeman and is seeking an assessment firm. The City is scheduled to receive more than $25,000, in state appropriations this month, its share of the gasoline tax under a new law. With this it should do considerable work on streets and in other departments.

PAY FOR THE MAYOR AND COUNCIL

We believe the Mayor and City Council should be paid for its work as is done in some other Delaware communities. There was a time when the councilmen received $5 a meeting, but payment was dropped when the City got heavily in debt. Since its financial picture has improved, we believe it is about time payment was renewed. This may require an amendment to the Charter. It so happens the city solicitor is preparing a list of amendments to the Charter which will probably not get to the legislature before January. While the citizens are considering this list, and they should be made aware of legislation which will affect their well-being for years to come, they should consider very strongly the payment of the mayor and council. The payment years ago was $5 per councilman per meeting. The fee nowadays could be from $10 to $15 for the councilmen, and more for the mayor.

These public servants should be paid for regular and special meetings. These get-togethers last from two to three hours and a half. In addition, the members have to do considerable work at other times. They are also, at times, put to expense and inconvenience to attend the meetings. When councilmen are paid, they will attend the meetings. Furthermore, it may not be so difficult to get suitable candidates for city posts as it has been on some occasions.

In a restaurant lobby, we saw a lobster tank, with the crustaceans alive and kicking. They were probably kicking about the prices.

When our shirt was returned from the laundry, we saw it was bound with a paper strip reading: "Your finished shirt, sir." We thought it should have read: "Your shirt is finished, sir."

Cub Scout News

The Cub Scouts of Pack 76 of Harrington will hold a picnic Sunday at Lewes Beach at 1 p.m. One parent must attend with the scout, however, both are invited. Each family is asked to bring one covered dish and eating utensils for each member.

to erect a statue to Henry III, who built the city's great hall in 1232. Then somebody looked up what he said of it: "The city and district stink. I was born there, yet nowhere have I been so disgracefully treated." The statue plan has been shelved.

Delaware Food Market Report

Prices on summertime fresh fruits are beginning to go down as supplies increase. This week will mark the beginning of the blueberry peak supply season. From now until the first of August look for specials on this delicious fruit—supplies are larger this year than they were last, quality is excellent and prices will be lower during this period—low enough, in fact, to freeze plenty to use during the winter months. Looking for a real bargain—both lemons and limes are plentiful and prices are very low. The quality for the most part is good. Buy plenty to keep the family supplied with cool refreshing lemonade and limeades. Don't forget the many delicious pies, sherberts, sauces, etc. that can be made by using these two fruits. Fresh fruit prospects for the summer, as a whole, look this way to the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association: fewer apples; more avocados; fewer bananas during July and August (severe storm damages in Honduras account for this); more lemons, limes and oranges; more blueberries; much fewer honeydews; fewer cantaloupes; and more watermelons. Peaches will be plentiful this year—the crop is expected to be one of the largest in 10 years. July and August are the peak months also. This big crop will affect peach prices, so plan to can or freeze some of this fruit, too. What's happened to celery? All of a sudden its price shot up until you could pay 39c a bunch. When last heard from, celery supplies from California, a very big grower, were 19 cent above average. Home grown tomatoes are beginning to reach local stores. Prices are relatively high, but what a delicious flavor they do have. When you are out driving stop at some of the roadside stands and see if you can find some pretty good buys on tomatoes. There are lots of good summer squash now, new home grown potatoes, peppers and local cucumbers. Sweet corn is beginning to come in. With a little rain there should be a big supply of fresh vegetables this summer.

Killen's Pond Goes Dry As Gates Open

Thousands of fish, including a good supply of bass, perished late last week when the control gates at the Killen's Pond dam, two miles east of Felton, gave way spilling all of the pond's water into the Murderkill.

The 74-acre pond basin was "dry as a bone" since the mishap, but William Killen owner of the site, said he would have the gates rebuilt the first of the next week and water restored to the pond, one of the loveliest in this end of the state.

There were conflicting reports as to how the mishap occurred. Mrs. Elizabeth Caulk, head of the Information Education Division of the State Game and Fish Commission, said a check with wardens indicates the gates, which have been rotting away for some time, simply buckled under the pressure.

But residents of the area gave out a report that some fishermen who lost a motor in the pond, were ampering with the gates to lower the water depth and in so doing lost control, allowing all the water to pour out.

Whatever the reason, dead carp, sunfish, and bass lined the banks of the pond by the ton and area farmers were hauling them away by the truckload to be used as fertilizer.

The dam, which crosses the road connecting Felton with Houson, is located in a very picturesque area and the entire pond acreage is surrounded by woodland.

The pond had never been considered a major fishing spot for sportsmen, partially because of the over-abundance of the worthless carp and partially because of the relatively small number of facilities.

However, Killen is expected to restock the pond with bass and other game fish.

Mrs. Caulk said the Game and Fish Commission would definitely help with a restocking project, even though it has no jurisdiction over the privately-owned lake.

Disastrous Situation For Apple Growers

A potentially disastrous situation for apple growers, faced with a near record-breaking carryover of 3 million cases of canned apple products, especially applesauce, is being met by Acme Markets and other members of the National Association of Food Chains with an organized promotion under the Farmer-Retailer Marketing Program during June and July in a concentrated effort to move supplies into consumption.

The NAFC Agriculture Committee, responding to requests of the National Apple Institute, the American Farm Bureau Federation, and the National Grange, as well as apple growers' organizations in the Appalachian and New England areas, has approved the promotion which will reach its peak from July 3rd to July 13th.

NAFC members who have responded to over 350 special merchandising campaigns and promotions since the Farmer-Retailer Marketing Program was organized in 1936, have been authorized to employ the NAFC "Big Supply—Best Buy" seal. Use of the official seal is reserved for exceptionally serious over-supply situations.

The request of the apple growers states that members of the NAFC "have demonstrated, frequently—willingness and—high ability to help growers of apples and many other farm products, in their time of need. We know an increase of 50 per cent in movement of an item is no unusual when you folks put your shoulders to the wheel."

"At the current rate of movement," the letter states, "the carryover on August 1 will be slightly over 3 million cases of applesauce. This would be the second largest carryover on record. In August, 1952, the carryover was 3 1/2 million cases. In that year, growers 'lost their shirts.'"

It is the hope of the apple growers that consumers will respond to the good values offered and that a 50 per cent increase in applesauce sales in June and July over the movement in March and April will net a manageable 1 3/4 million-case carryover and should insure fair prices to growers for their apples.

Paul J. Cupp, President said, "The American Stores Company promotion has been in effect since the middle of May and will continue to center around merchandising of applesauce with 'resh pork, ham, bacon, sausage and cereals for breakfast; with poultry products which are in ample supply; with dairy products; and with other items as part of "cook-out" merchandising plans."

Six Fresh-Air Children Arrive from New York

Six children arrived from New York City Wednesday afternoon at 4:25 by special bus to spend a 2 weeks' vacation with families in the community. These boys and girls are sent to rural areas under sponsorship of the Herald Tribune Fresh Air Fund at no expenses to the inviting host.

The following people met their little guests at the depot: Mrs. Clyde Perry, Mrs. George Thompson, Mrs. Pauline Moseley, Mrs. Larry Simpson, Mrs. Charles Coverdale and Mrs. Frank O'Neal Jr. Mrs. Coverdale and Mrs. Perry re-invited the same youngsters that they had last summer, and are planning to keep them for a 4-week period this year.

A second group of children will be sent to Delaware July 24, and to date the only invitation received is that of Mrs. Gooden Callaway. Invitations for this date should be made through Mrs. Frank O'Neal Jr., phone 8855, by July 14.

Future Planned For Wesley Junior College

Forward-looking planning to realize a brilliant future was called for in Dover this week for Wesley Junior College.

The occasion was a meeting of a committee of the University Senate of the Methodist Church which was invited by the board of trustees of the college to assist with the planning and development of the institution. The committee met on the college campus with members of the executive committee of the trustees of the college.

Members of the committee included: Dr. Jesse P. Bogue, executive secretary of the American Association of Junior Colleges and former president of Green Mountain Junior College; Dr. Myron F. Wick, director of the Department of Secondary and Higher Education, Division of Educational Institutions of the Methodist Church; and Dr. Hurst R. Anderson, president of the American University, Washington, and former president of Hamline College and Centenary Junior College.

Speaking for the group, Dr. Bogue said: "Evaluating the progress that has been made here under the leadership of President J. Paul Slaybaugh, it is our opinion that it has been almost miraculous. As this committee views what has been accomplished so far, Wesley is certainly headed in the right direction."

Members of the executive committee of the college board of trustees attending the meeting were President Howell O. Wilkins; the Rev. John A. Tracer; the Rev. John J. Bunting Jr., vice president; Hon. Wilmer Fell Davis, and President Slaybaugh.

The committee report continued to say that the college has opportunity for great service to the Delmarva Peninsula and the Methodist Church. It advised that enrollment should be doubled so as to reach four hundred students as quickly as possible and that facilities on the Dover campus should be amplified toward that goal.

"It is our opinion that this enrollment increase cannot be stopped; plans must be adopted immediately so as not to hold it up," the report concluded.

course of events in connection with the petition, Mr. Baylis said "While a public utility is legally entitled to a fair return, the public is also legally entitled not to be charged rates which are unreasonable, unjust or discriminating. It is the Commission's duty to make certain that this public right is protected while yet allowing the utility a fair return. In order to enable the commission to carry out its duty to the public, and indeed — to the telephone company — we must thoroughly and searchingly investigate the complete financial operation of the telephone company, and its financial returns and need for additional revenue.

Involve Entire State

"The increases involve the entire State of Delaware and we will have to investigate the company's operation and need throughout the entire state. This will require an extended period of time. Moreover, we are securing the services of expert witnesses on such phases of the case as the rate of return to which the company is entitled and the value of the rate base of the company, and these expert witnesses will require extended time to study and prepare for the public hearing. We are going to schedule the dates for the hearing in the near future, and we will attempt to have the telephone company put its case in as soon as possible."

Lightning May Damage Vegetable Gardens

Lightning injury to vegetable gardens sometimes causes alarm during the summer months. If lightning strikes the ground, a tree or post in or near a garden, the results are often disastrous as far as the vegetables are concerned. Stems of plants may be scorched at the ground line. When cut open the pith inside the stem may be chambered and appears as if large bubbles of steam formed inside the stem. The injured plants may be in a roughly circular area or in an irregular line following the direction of the lightning along the ground.

"THE FOLKS THAT I HAVE KNOWED"

We have a small number of pamphlets of poems of the above title, written by the late J. Harvey Burgess, late owner of The Harrington Journal and self-styled "splitter of infinitives, mixer of metaphors, demona of the double negative, sorcerer of solecisms, penetrator of the world's poorest poetry."

We presume he was also a dangler of participles.

There have been several requests for this booklet, priced at 25c, but we were unable to comply with them. Fortunately, however, we uncovered a limited supply of this valuable booklet recently while looking the effects of the estate.

We also have a number of pamphlets, "Hosses, Hosses, Hosses" written by Mr. Burgess, and depicting Harrington's harness-racing life. The price is 25c.

When the above-named pamphlets have been sold there will be no reprints.
