STATE ORCHARDISTS MAY BITE BIGGER CHUNK OF APPLE MARKET

Delaware apple growers may be taking a bigger "bite" out of the Delicious market in a few years, as a result of research now going on at the University of Delaware Substation near Georgetown.

Dr. Vernon J. Fisher, university horticulturist, is trying to develop a better strain of Delicious, already one of the leading state apples. Dr. Fisher believes there is a bright future for Delicious apples, if present plantings can be expanded with a new strain that yields well and has an improved finish.

Right now Delicious apples grown in the state have as good a taste as in the country, the researchers pointed out, but the red blush on these apples doesn't cover the entire fruit and they are often striped with green.

"Uniform color is what sells an apple," he said, "even if the taste is perfect." Delaware can compete strongly on the Delicious market, because of its geographic position, Dr. Fisher declared. State growers pay lower freight to market than other states such as Washington, now the leading grower of Delicious apples.

The Delaware horticulturist is attempting to improve the Delicious variety with "bud sports" attached to dwarf apple trees. He explained that a bud sport is a branch or an entire tree that on occasion develops fruit unlike other trees of the same variety in the same orchard.

These sports, often called mutations, can be desirable or undesirable. He reported that 25 new good sports are now being studied in the United States with more being added constantly. All of these are more recent than the strains Richard, Shotwell, and Starking that have been so popular in recent years.

Dr. Fisher is working with six of the new sports—Royal Red, Red King, Hi-Early, Earl-Red, Hi-Red and Sterkrington. He feels the six "are most promising of all."

The reason Dr. Fisher is working with dwarf apple trees is to get information as quickly as possible that can serve as a guide to state growers. He expects some fruit in 1959. The researcher explained that plantings of standard trees would not bear fruit until 1962. Dwarf stock bears faster than standard trees.

Dr. Fisher has budded the new experimental strains onto the dwarf trees, using a budding knife to make an incision in the bark of the trees planted last year. Then he removed the buds from twigs of the new strains, inserted them in the incisions and wrapped the wounds with special rubber bands. Next spring, all growth, except from the new buds, will be cut off.

Delaware dairymen today were offered some tips on buying hay to help during the expected winter feed shortage.

Delmar J. Young, extension dairyman at the University of Delaware, suggested checking foreign matter, time of cutting, and weather and high moisture damage. He advised feeding long rather than ground hay.

Oct. 15 Is Deadline For Feed Wheat Program

Oct. 15 is an important date for farmers in Kent County who want to take part in the recently enacted 30-acre feed-wheat exemption program, Joseph Ennis, chairman, Kent County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, has announced. The legislation authorizing the program permits a farmer with a wheat acreage allotment of less than 30 acres to grow up to 30 acres of wheat for use exclusively on the farm where produced and still not be liable for marketing quota penalties.

To be eligible to grow up to the 30 acres of wheat without penalty, however, a farmer must sign an application showing the intended disposition of the wheat. This must be done before the 1958-corn planting time on the farm or Oct. 15, 1957, whichever is later. Any producer who begins seeding his 1958 wheat crop after Oct. 15, 1957, and who has not signed an application will not be eligible for this exemption. However, the farmer would be eligible to sign the application up until the time he begins seeding his wheat. The applications must be approved by the County ASC office.

Since winter wheat-seeding is about to get underway by most producers in the area, the chairman points out that Oct. 15, 1957, thus becomes the absolute filing deadline for farmers who have already started or have completed seeding of wheat.

Any producer who take part in the feed-wheat exemption provision will not be eligible to sell, barter, or exchange any of his wheat, nor will it be eligible for price support. The entire crop of wheat must be used on the farm where produced for seed, human food, or livestock and poultry fed must be owned by the producer, or subsequent owner of operator of the farm. Not more than 30 acres of wheat may be grown on the farm.

The new 30-acre feed-wheat exemption provision will apply to 1958 and future crops; it does not apply to the 1957 and prior wheat crops.

Further information about the program and applications to participate may be obtained at the county ASC office at 313 South Governors Avenue, Dover. Mount Olive Homecoming Service The Mount Olivet Methodist Church's annual homecoming service will be held Sunday at 2:30 p.m. The choir of Trinity Methodist Church, Goldsboro, will render an anthem. Ronnie Jester will render a solo, accompanying himself on the piano. The sermon will be preached by the pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, Goldsboro, the Rev. Omro Todd.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Notes

It is with great pleasure that the congregation of St. Stephen's heard the announcement of Allen Burton Hopkins' recent confirmation by the Rt. Rev. Allen J. Miller, bishop of the diocese of Eastern. Allen left Harrington in July to report for duty at the United States Naval Training Center, Bainbridge, Md. He also reported to the Episcopal chaplain there, the Rev. Matthew A. Curry, and began a course of instruction for confirmation. He was presented by Chaplain Curry to Bishop Miller as a candidate on Sept. 4 at St. George's Chapel, Bainbridge. Our vicar received a letter enclosing the record of confirmation and stating that Allen had expressed a desire to be on the communicant list of St. Stephen's, Harrington.

Mr. Symonds baptized Allen Dec. 16, 1956. He was an active member of our youth group until his entry into the armed forces. His name is still on the roll of the Acolytes' Guild, and we hope he will be home again to take part in our church worship and activities.

Coffee hour hostesses Sunday were Mrs. Robert E. Baynard and Miss Carol McNally. A big improvement in our parish house is the enclosing of the back porch for use during the winter months. Our vicar is responsible for carrying out this project and we are all thankful for so wonderful an improvement. It adds another room to the downstairs set-up. Our first covered dish supper, last Thursday evening a long table was placed on the back porch for serving the food. In this way, we found space for five large dining tables in the reception room adjoining the back porch and kitchen.

Announcement has been made that the Rev. John R. Symonds, Jr., vicar of St. Stephen's, Harrington, has been elected to fill the unexpired term of Dean Lloyd E. Gressle, Cathedral Church of St. John, Wilmington, on the executive Council of the Department of Christian Education. Dean Gressle, resigned his post on this council to assume an office on the standing committee of the Episcopal Church in Delaware.

We were happy to have as guests at our covered dish supper the Rev. and Mrs. Victor A. Kusik, of St. Mary's Church, Bridgeville, and their three children. Last Thursday the following members of St. Stephen's Women's Auxiliary attended a diocesan leaders' conference at Christ Church, Dover: Mesdames Gilbert Keim, Robert L. Nelson, Walter Winkler, and George A. Thompson.

The session began with Holy Communion at 10 a.m., celebrated by the Rev. Paul A. Kellogg of Dover, assisted by the Rev. Samuel A. Wyzong of Camden. After the church service, group meetings for chairmen of the United Thank Offering, Christian Social Relations, Church Periodical Club, Devotions, Supply Work, Altar Guild and Education departments were held in Christ Church Parish house. A special get-together was also scheduled at this time for presidents, secretaries, and treasurers of local groups. Many problems were aired and talked about as well as many successes noted.

Following the morning program, there was a box luncheon with cake and coffee served by the Dover Auxiliary. At 10:30 p.m., the ladies reconvened and Mrs. Kellogg, auxiliary president, of Delaware, turned the afternoon discussion over to the Rev. Brewster Y. Beach, director of the Department of Christian Education and Mrs. Jessie Whitten, volunteer research consultant in this department.

A number of interesting topics were discussed and highlighted as special emphasis in the church's field of Christian Education for the year. Among them were prayer, Bible study, Christian living, the church in Japan, Christian citizenship, the church in South India, our close relationship with Puerto Rico, Christ in Church and Race, the church in freedom.

A list of diocesan dates for fall 1957 and spring 1958 was given to each branch. It was noted that the fall meeting of the Women's Auxiliary will be Tuesday, Oct. 29 at All Saints' Church, Rehoboth, that Education Day will be Friday, Nov. 22, and that the Epiphany meeting will be Thursday, Jan. 23, at Calvary Church, Hillcrest.

A parish library list was also presented to each branch auxiliary. The list is compiled by the Resource Center of the Department of Christian Education to assist parishes in developing their libraries. St. Stephen's has made a small beginning toward this goal. It was a pleasant surprise to have a member of the armed forces at church, Sunday, Alan Draper, home on a fifteen day furlough from Fort Jackson, North Carolina. When Alan reports again for duty, he will be stationed at Fort Belvoir, Va. We miss him as an active member of the youth group and a faithful acolyte at St. Stephens. Acolytes who served this past Sunday, commemorating the members of St. Stephen's Women's Auxiliary and All Angels, were Charles McNally, Wayne Baker, Billy McColly, Frank Welch.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—I hold a Korean GI term insurance policy, the kind that doesn't pay dividends. May I add the special provision to this policy which would pay me a monthly income in case I am totally disabled?

A—No. The total disability income provision may not be added to Korean GI insurance policies that do not pay dividends. That's the law.

Q—I am selling my GI house. If I get relief from liability to the Government, does that mean I automatically will be entitled to another GI loan?

A—No. Relief from liability does not automatically restore your entitlement to another GI loan. Restoration of loan rights is possible only under certain conditions, such as selling your home for reasons of health, a change of job, etc.

Q—Under the Survivor Benefits Act. will the widow of a deceased peacetime veteran receive less than the widow of a war veteran? There is a difference in payments under the old death compensation program.

A—Payments under the Survivors Benefits Act will be the same whether death occurred as a result of peacetime or wartime service. There is no payment differential, as there is under the death compensation program.

Q—I am a retired peacetime veteran, and I have elected to receive disability compensation from VA. Would I be entitled to outpatient treatment for my service-connected disability?

A—Yes. You would be entitled to VA outpatient treatment.

Social Security

Notes

More than 100,000 severely disabled persons were made a little happier in August when they received the first of their monthly benefit checks from social security, Myron Milbouer, manager of the Wilmington office stated.

These checks represented disability payments for the month of July as provided by the recent amendments to the Social Security Act. The 100,000 odd figure denotes only the number of cases completed, Milbouer added, other are still being processed.

He pointed out that those who have filed an application but have not yet received notice of final action on their claim will get payments beginning with a payment for July if their claims are approved.

Milbouer also urged every disabled person in Delaware who has ever worked in employment or self-employment covered by social security to contact his local office for information as to his eligibility for payments if he has not already done so.

Plant Balled Trees and Shrubs Right Away

When you buy trees and shrubs that come with soil balled around the roots, plant as soon as possible. If they must be held a few days, George Vapaa, county agricultural agent, says to keep them in a cool shady place with the ball of earth moist.

When planting, dig the hole about one foot wider than the ball of soil and five or six inches deeper. Then mix top soil with peat and sand at a ratio of three-fourths soil and one-quarter peat and sand.

Fill the bottom six inches of the hole with the prepared soil. Lift the tree or shrub by the ball of earth and put it in the center of the hole.

Shovel in enough soil at the base of the ball to hold it in place—about one-third of the hole. Loosen and push aside the burlap at the top of the ball.

The agricultural agent says to prepare a basin around the trunk for water and to add about three or four inches of peat moss or other mulch.

On evergreen trees six feet or more high, guy wires are needed for at least the first two years, Vapaa advises.

15 meeting will be "Echo from the Music Camp," with Mrs. Annie L. Clark as chairman.
