

H. H. S. Streak Snapped by Laurel, 6 to 0.

By Keith S. Burgess

Harrington High's yearling football team came off age last Saturday afternoon on the local gridiron before a good crowd of Homecoming Fans.

The Laurel High jayvee team was the scheduled opposition. They proved to be so much bigger, more rugged and more talented than our previous opponents, that some checking seemed to be in order. It was soon revealed that H.H.S. was facing the downstate's second and third string varsity squads with possible 3 or 4 first-stringers. A well known Sussex County sports figure, who is employed in Harrington, told us some time ago that Coach Schollenberg of Laurel likes to win "big" and that in his opinion the locals would face the varsity subs although the junior varsity was the slated foe.

Laurel came out the victor 6-0 with the aid of the sloppy underfooting, which hampered Harrington's light, fast backs, and a "phantom" foul call that cost Harrington the equalizing touchdown with five seconds left to play. They came to win "big" but were happy to get away with whole hides as the locals had the edge in all statistics except the vital one.

Laurel elected to receive the opening kick-off. Shortly after, Bob Wilson, who was a thorn in Laurel's side all day, tackled a Laurel back causing a fumble. Jack Porter, this writer's nominee for the outstanding local player of the game, recovered for Harrington.

H.H.S. began a sustained drive with Jim Schiff, Wilson, Porter, and Ron Correll carrying for gains. Wilson then made a first down on the enemy 22. Wilson and Porter each tried again for another first down on the 11. A penalty then set the localites back and the drive finally bogged down on the Laurel 3 yard line. The visitors pounded out a couple of fast downs but soon were held and had to kick out. Wilson carried twice and Dave Welch once for good gains and a first down on the Laurel 22. Porter caught a pass from Schiff to put the locals within striking distance again. Laurel finally stiffened its defense and held for downs. After Jim Temple and Jim Collins stopped Laurel backs with nifty tackles for little or no gain, one of the game's most spectacular plays occurred. A Laurel runner, on a trick play, broke into the clear and set sail for the end zone. Big Dave Coady with speed belying his 200 pound bulk, started an apparently futile chase. Much to the delight of the partisan crowd, he collared the ball-carrier on the H.H.S. 15 after a sprint of some 60 yards. Dave was on the track team last year, and it paid off. Coady was in on each of the next four tackles that halted Laurel on the local 7 yard line. Schiff, Correll, and Welch behind Wilson's blocking, brought the ball out of danger to midfield. Bob knocked two men down with one block during this sequence. A penalty stopped Harrington and the half ended 0-0.

Laurel was held to start the second half. Harrington started another march toward paydirt. Wilson carried for several yards followed by a beautiful catch of a Schiff pass by John Taylor, who caught four in the second half. Schiff rolled out around end for a first down on the Laurel 4. Here the downstate's dug in and stopped the threat. Three times in the next five plays the visitor's forward wall opened up holes in the right side of the H.H.S. line. Three times, Jackie Porter hurled his 135 lb. frame at a huge Laurel back and stopped him as cold as if Porter had weighed 235. Temple came in with a nice stop of a visitor who was past the line and ready to ramble. This stopped Laurel, but soon after the Sussex Countians on a fourth and 12 to go situation, completed a desperation pass (the only one of the game for Laurel) for a first down on the home team's 4. The aroused home forces threw back three straight line plunges only to see Laurel fake into the line on fourth down and send a back around end to score.

Later in the waning moments (Continued on back page) of the game Wilson broke loose to the Laurel 43. A clipping penalty against the visitors gave

We have no record of when this picture, lent to us by George W. Swain, was taken. It was made of a group at Harrington's first high school on Dorman Street near Center Street. The building is now known as Hall's Apartments, and was formerly known as the Knox Apartments, from the fact it was owned by the late Benjamin Knox. This picture was taken between 1879 and 1912. This surmise is based on the fact that, in 1879, the school was at Dorman and Mechanic Streets, and a brick high school was built in 1912. William Jennings Bryan, Democratic candidate for president in 1908, spoke on the large lawn of the schoolhouse. Can anyone identify anyone in this picture?

Third Anniversary Of Church Dedication To Be Held Nov. 24th

Sun., Nov. 24th., the parishioners of St. John's will commemorate the third anniversary of the dedication of their new church on School Place at Seabury Avenue with a special program. First on the program will be a High Mass at 9 o'clock, celebrated by Father Corrigan. Special music will be sung during the Mass which will be arranged by Mrs. John Young, the organist of the parish. The other Masses on Sunday morning will be low Masses at the usual times—7:30 and 11.

Next on the special anniversary program is a covered dish luncheon that will be served in the parish hall at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Men of the parish will act as hosts at the various tables. These men, headed by James Dees, include Messrs: Irwin Burton, Charles Coverdale, James Gilmore, Gerry Lorenz, Robert Masten, Albert Peterman, Thomas Robbins, Clement Rohrer, John Woodall, and John Young.

Following the luncheon a program of entertainment has been prepared by a committee consisting of Clem Rohrer as chairman, and Messrs: Joe King, Gerry Lorenz, and Al Peterman. During this part of the program Joseph King will act as the master of ceremonies. The Cathedral Quartet from St. Peter's Cathedral in Wilmington has consented to sing a few numbers including "Coney Island Baby" and their colorful presentation of the "German Band". The quartet consists of Messrs: Carmen Consiglio, Paul Collins, Joseph Donohue, and Albert Madora.

The committees in charge of arrangements are looking forward to this third annual celebration of the dedication which actually took place on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 24, 1954. For the two previous Sundays all the parishioners have been invited to attend this celebration by special announcements being made during the Masses. The various hosts have made efforts to contact each family known to be living within the limits of the parish. Any of the parishioners whom the committees was not able to successfully contact should get in touch with James Dees, Milford 5498, so that the proper provisions can be made for them. A group from St. Bernadette's parish in Harrington has made plans to attend the celebration.

Big Supply of Thanksgiving Turkey

This year there's an abundant supply of Thanksgiving turkey, Mrs. Anne W. Holberton noted today, with prices ranging from 35 cents a pound up.

Turkey teams up with many of the plentiful foods, such as cranberries, potatoes (both sweet and white), canned and frozen peas, apples and pears to set the stage for that very special meal November 28, said the extension specialist in consumer information and marketing at the University of Delaware.

She suggested a few points to consider when shopping for a turkey. Larger birds are usually more economical than small ones. The price per pound is lower on birds weighing from 12 pounds to 20 pounds, and there is more meat on these birds. To determine the size turkey needed, allow one-half pound of ready-to-cook bird for each serving. This does not allow for seconds or left-overs.

Be sure to look for a turkey that is broad for its size, has short plump legs and good clear skin, whether the bird is fresh or frozen.

There are some "musts" to remember when handling a turkey, if it is to be a high quality product, Mrs. Holberton observed. First, never buy a partially-thawed bird and refreeze it. Second, store frozen turkey at zero degrees F., or lower until ready to thaw. Make sure enough time is allowed to thaw the turkey before cooking. It takes two to three days in the refrigerator to thaw a large bird 15 pounds and above, and one to two days for a smaller bird. Third, stuff turkey just before cooking.

To carve a turkey more easily and to better advantage, take it from the oven 15 to 20 minutes before serving. After the meal is over, it's time to think of left-overs, the extension specialist said. Put turkey dressing and gravy in the refrigerator as soon as possible. If the left-overs are to be served later, store them separately. Gravy will not keep so be sure to use it within one or two days, she concluded.

2 Airmen Hurt In Auto Crash

Two airmen from the Dover Air Base were injured seriously when the car in which they were riding ran off a curve on Route 12 about five miles west of Felton Tuesday night, struck a concrete abutment and overturned.

The airmen, John B. Robertson, 23, and Theron Johnson, about 22, were taken to the Milford Memorial Hospital in the Harrington Fire Company ambulance. Robertson suffered possible fractured right leg, chest injury, possible fractured ribs and lacerations of the face.

Johnson, who was said to be the most seriously hurt, suffered lacerations of the scalp, possible fractured skull, possible brain injury, and contusions of the body. Both were moved to the airbase hospital at Dover.

State police said the car was traveling west on Route 12 (the Felton-Whitelysburg Road) and was rounding a curve when the front right tire blew out. The driver, Robertson, lost control and the car crashed into the abutment, then flipped over. The two airmen were pulled from the wreckage by a passing motorist. Police said the car was badly damaged.

Traffic Divison of State Highway Issues 877 Permits

During the month of October the permit section of the Traffic Division of the State Highway Department issued 877 permits authorizing the movement of special vehicles and loaded trucks and trailers over the highways of the State.

Of this number of permits, 688 were for heavy hauling, 167 for the movement of piling, house trailers and buildings, and 22 for transporting government equipment for which no charges are made.

For any loaded vehicle which exceeds the total weight for which it is legally licensed, there is a fee of two cents per ton mile for all excess weight. There is also a similar fee for the weight of all towed vehicles which are not licensed.

Permits are also required for all vehicles or combination of vehicles which exceed 50 feet in length, 8 feet in width, or 12 feet 6 inches in height. It is unlawful for any vehicle or combination of vehicles which exceed these lengths, width or height limitations to travel over the state highways either after dark, or on Saturday or Sunday, or during certain holidays as designated by the State Highway Department.

All trailers used in hauling piling are allowed a combination tractor and trailer length of 60 feet, an overall width of 8 feet, and height of 12 feet 6 inches without being required to have a permit to haul piling over the highways of Delaware.

Three Communications and Signal Men Retire From Pennsylvania Railroad Here

Inspector

Ernest Homewood

Homewood Has 48 Years' Service

Ernest Homewood will retire Jan. 1 as inspector of communications and signals of the Delmarva district of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Homewood began his employment with the railroad March 16, 1910, working out of the Clayton office in telegraph and signals in the construction department. In 1912, he went to Wilmington, as foreman, and became general foreman in 1920.

In 1929, Homewood came to Harrington on his present job. He has three children, Darby Homewood, of Baltimore; and Gary and Jeanne Homewood, both of Harrington. Gary is a senior in civil engineering at the University of Delaware, and Jeanne, Miss Harrington of 1956, is a senior at Harrington High School.

Homewood was a member of the City Council from 1944 to 1950.

He is a member of various Masonic orders, including Lu Lu Temple Shrine, Philadelphia; Blue Lodge and Consistory, of Wilmington, and the Chesapeake Square, a railroad Masonic Club.

"Mirabile visu ab initio ad finem." This phrase fits the races witnessed at the Blue Hen Track this irrevocable Sunday. It fits if you really go for competition and get your thrills from speedy racers and rough driving men. The largest crowd attended this meet due to fine weather, the newspaper and radio coverage, and friend to friend acknowledgement.

Never before has there been as many re-starts and stops due to crack-ups, slide outs and other mishaps. The entire attendance enjoyed all the excitement from start to finish.

Personally I don't know what caused all this "each man for himself—I'm coming" attitude but like all the rest I hollared and enjoyed the wild afternoon too. Now that the motors have stalled and the wheels are still, I think with all seriousness, that each man should drive according to his own conscience rather than the applause of the crowd.

The cars are costly and time consuming enough to get and keep running but unnecessary repair is foolish just to be top button. Moderation should be practiced along with good sportsmanship for without these actions its likely to be self defeating and prove fatal to self or fellow driver. Any one who has suggestions or any criticism to offer to better the track may attend the meetings held by the club. Ask the drivers the date and place, any man interested is welcome. Entering the pit to relate any information is confusing and not appreciated as only members are allowed there. Since this is a man's sport I'll keep my thoughts from sight in the future and intend the one mentioned only as a warning.

Future visits to the track would be safer to each person if your car would be driven to the east side of the track. There is plenty of space and this week the driveway is being improved. An attendant will give you clearance to cross the track as

Relay and Meger Man

William S. McCabe

Bill McCabe Was Relay, Meger Man

William S. McCabe, retired Oct. 31, from his post on the railroad as relay and merger man in the division of communications and signals, after more than 41 years' service.

Born in Ocean View, Del., Feb. 14, 1891, he came here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. McCabe, in 1901 or 1902. Mr. McCabe had a general store on Commerce Street at Cain's Alley, now the home of Trotta's Appliances.

Bill McCabe attended high school, which went to the 11th grade in those days, in the wooden building now Hall's Apartments. Before finishing high school, he went to Goldey Business School in Wilmington at 16.

After working at various jobs, he joined the railroad here in April, 1916, working in the signal gang. Later he worked in the signal tower 15 years and then took the post he relinquished when he retired.

He lives with his wife, the former Lillian Cain, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hasty Cain, on Center Street. They have three children—William A. Cain, Lemon Grove, Calif.; Mrs. William Behen, Dover; and Mrs. Stetson Seal, Fairfield, Me.

McCabe says he will travel around a bit, hunt, and run his two rabbit dogs.

When he retired, he worked, mostly alone, from Arms Tower, north of Middletown, to Delmar; on the Clayton and Oxford branch, and on the D.M. & V. He tested electrical relays and megered wires for shorts, ground, etc. A meger is a testing device.

There was no relay man on this peninsula when McCabe started to work for the railroad. In 1917, the late O. C. Passmore became the first, followed by Al Bowden, now retired, of Blades, and then McCabe.

Caesar Rodney Game

Thursday afternoon, Nov. 7, Harrington Varsity Hockey girls played their second game with Caesar Rodney girls at C. R.

Within five minutes of the second half she had pushed in two goals for Harrington. Although the second half proved better for the Harrington team the score ended, Caesar Rodney -4, Harrington-2.

Harrington girls now have a record of 3 losses, 1 win, and 4 ties.

Put Home Planting To "Bed" For Winter

Tips for putting home grounds plantings to "bed" for the winter were offered today by George Vapaa, county agricultural agent.

He said to heap soil eight to 10 inches deep around rose bushes. Then cut the tops back to two feet to prevent damage from wind-whipping. Or stake and tie the tops.

Don't burn leaves this fall, the agent advised. Use them to make a compost pile that will supply organic matter for use in the spring.

Mulch evergreens, Vapaa said, especially rhododendrons, azaleas and other broad-leaved plants. This can be done with a two-inch layer of either peat moss, sawdust, leafmold or other mulch material. Winter mulch around the base of a plant gives protection against wind burning by holding moisture in soil and lessening freezing.

Prevent mouse and rabbit damage to young fruit trees and ornamentals by wrapping trunks with one-quarter-inch mesh hardware cloth. Wrap from three inches below ground to 18 inches up the trunk.

Drunken Driver In Felton Crash

A highway accident at 1:30 a. m. Sunday, caused, according to state police by a drunken driver, was one of several crashes investigated by state police during the weekend with nobody injured in any of them.

The accident took place along the southbound lane of US Route 13, about a mile north of Felton when, according to the police, a car operated by Herbert A. Quail 46, of Viola, came out of a side road without stopping and crashed into the side of a car operated by Mrs. Marjorie R. Fry, 53, of Milford RD 2.

Quail said he saw the stop sign too late to stop but police said he was driving too fast to stop, skid marks from his car extended along the road for 75 feet. Both cars were damaged in the crash.

Quail was arrested on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and at a trial before Magistrate Elmer Poynter, of Felton, Sunday afternoon, a fine of $200 and costs was imposed in his case. In default of payment he was sentenced to serve 30 days in the Kent County Correctional Institution.

Woodside Motorist Dies in Accident At Carpenter's Bridge

A 28-year-old Woodside motorist was killed Monday when his car skidded off a road south of Frederica, ripped through a guard rail and toppled into Murderkill River at Carpenter's Bridge.

Victim of the accident was Clifford Roland Russ who suffered a broken neck in the skidding mishap. The car landed upside up in about 12 feet of water after plunging from the roadway.

State police at Dover said the fatality occurred on County Route 35, the Frederica-Harrington road, one and nine-tenths miles south of Frederica. It marked Delaware's 79th highway death this year.

Russ, according to investigating officers, was traveling north on the road, apparently at a fast rate of speed and upon rounding a curve the car skidded on the wet surface, left the left side of the highway, crashed through the guard rail and plunged into the river.

Because the car was submerged in the river, a wrecking car from Frederica was needed to pull the demolished vehicle from the water.

Dr. Lawrence M. Baker, deputy medical examiner for Kent County, was summoned and pronounced the victim dead at the scene. Coroner Roland Trader released the body to Stevenson Funeral Home.

Police said Russ was involved in an accident in 1954 and as a result his license was suspended for failure to comply with the state motor vehicle responsibility law. He apparently had been driving without a license since that time. Police said the victim was married.

Social Security News

A widow who was 62 years old or over in November 1956 can still get her social security benefits back to the month if she applies before the end of November 1957, according to Myron Milbouer, manager of the Wilmington social security office.

Thousands of women in Delaware have applied for benefits since the Social Security Act was changed to permit women to start drawing their payments at age 62, Milbouer states, however, that there are undoubtedly many women past age 62 who have not applied. A working woman or the wife of a living retired worker may not want to apply before she is 65 because she would have to take permanently reduced benefits. The reduction does not apply to the widow or dependent mother of a deceased insured worker. She can get the full amount of her payments starting at age 62.

The Social Security Act remits retroactive payments to eligible persons for not more than one year. If the husband died in November 1956 or earlier and the widow was already 62 in that month she should apply by November 30, 1957. If she applies later she cannot receive all the monthly payments she might have received if she had applied earlier.

Milbouer mentioned that widows who apply for benefits can speed up their payments if they bring proof of age and proof of marriage when they contact their social security office. He pointed out that a birth certificate is not absolutely required for proof of age. Any reasonably reliable document such as an old Family Bible record or an old insurance policy showing the widow's date of birth will be useful.

Q—May a veteran take so-called a vocational or recreational course under the GI Bill?

A—Yes, but only if he submits justifications to the VA that the course will be of a bona fide use in his business or occupation or business, and if VA gives him prior approval. However, courses in bartending, dancing or personality development are prohibited.

Q—I am a widow of a World War I veteran, and I have decided to continue receiving death compensation payments rather than payments under the Survivor Benefits Act. If I do switch to Survivor Benefits payments, could I at some later time change again to death compensation payments?

A—No. Once you have elected to receive payments under the Survivor Benefits Act, the law prohibits your switching back to death compensation payments.

Q—May a Spanish-American veteran with a nonservice-connected disability receive VA outpatient treatment?

A—He may. However, veterans of all other wars may receive VA outpatient treatment only for service-connected conditions.

Three School Bands To Play at Football Game

This Saturday afternoon, Nov. 23 is the final game of the season for the new Harrington football squad, and is being fittingly designated as Band Day, for band music is an important part of the excitement and glamor that goes with America's favorite fall sport.

For this final game, Mr. Brobst, band director, is assembling all three of the school's bands to play at half-time. The Grade School Band of 40 players, the Junior Hi Band of 20 instrumentalists, and the Senior football band of 40 players will assemble at the school and march on to the field prior to the game.

At half-time each band will play a selection. They will be accompanied by a corps of majorettes, color guard, and cub scouts who will carry the school's band banner. This assemblage should prove a very colorful sight for the spectators.

Since this is the final game of the season, it is hoped that everyone who is able to do so, will attend this game in person and help both teams and musical organizations with personal support.

IN 58 DAYS A '58 PLYMOUTH RAN 58,000 MILES—EQUAL TO MORE THAN TWICE AROUND THE WORLD

AND IT DROVE EVERY INCH OF THE WAY!

We knew this car was tough. We designed it that way. That's why we weren't afraid to give Plymouth the toughest test run of all time... with all America as the "track." We didn't coddle this Plymouth. Didn't crate it and ship it carefully from place to place. Instead, we aimed it out of Los Angeles one misty morning and sent it through a course that ran 58,000 miles through 37 states. The time limit? Only 58 days. A thousand miles a day! The equivalent of 6 years' driving crammed into little more than 8 weeks!

Three times this Plymouth crossed the Rockies. Three times it wound its way up and down across the country... passing through more than 1200 cities and towns. Whipping over turnpikes... creeping through city traffic... arrowing down super-highways... feeling its way through 500 miles of rutted detours. And when the drivers turned the key to end the marathon, it still looked, ran and rode like new. This is what lasting value really means. The ability to take everything that American roads and weather can dish out—and come up grinning. Why don't you give Plymouth a test drive yourself—today? You'll see what we mean.

That's the Plymouth "track"... and just look at that route! Every possible road and weather condition. Plymouth ran every inch of that murderous route 3 times in just 58 days. What greater proof of lasting, built-in stamina!

Star of the Forward Look... Plymouth ahead for keeps!

The Public's Right to Know

... significant, perhaps, for journalism is the attitude that prevails in the Governor's mansion in Texas. Our states, Governor Daniels insists, "need more legislation requiring the public's business to be transacted in the light of day. The press is obligated to help the public participate in the shaping of important decisions about the state's policies and the administration of those policies. All that government does is done in the public's name and for the public good. Therefore, no area of governmental activity is immune in the public interest."

There are many states in this country where this enlightened attitude does not prevail. It does not prevail in many branches of the Federal Government, nor is it accepted generally at the local level. The withholding of information is, as Governor Daniel emphasizes, a more insidious exercise of governmental power than direct control. It gives the illusion of a free press, while rendering it meaningless.

When any government at any level can control the information upon which the people can form an opinion, Governor Daniels warns, "then it is controlling the people and their decisions, rather than being controlled by them."

It is an ironic, though not surprising commentary on our democracy that legislation should be needed to "transact the public's business in the light of day." Texas, as the Governor points out, is one of the states where newsmen are still striving for such legislation. I have no doubt that safeguards of the right to know will be established in Texas, as they have been provided in a number of other states.

But it must be underscored that enactment of a law is not enough. The test is the use made by all media of communication of the safeguards the law provides. All too often we have been more concerned with demanding a right than with using it effectively in the public interest.

I'm a Nice Customer

You know me. I'm a nice customer. I never complain, no matter what kind of service I get.

I'll go into a restaurant, and sit and sit, while the waitress gossips with her boy friend and never bothers to see if my hamburger is ready. Sometimes someone who came in after I did gets my hamburger, but I don't say a word.

If the soup is cold or the cream for the coffee is sour, I'm nice about it.

When I go to a store to buy something, I'm thoughtful of the other person. If I get a snooty salesperson who gets nettled because I want to look at several things before I make up my mind, I'm polite as can be. I don't believe rudeness in return is the answer. You might say I wasn't raised that way.

And it's seldom I take anything back to the store. I've found people are just about always disagreeable to me when I do. Life is short—too short for indulging in these unpleasant little scrimmages for the sake of a dollar.

I bought a toaster that burned out after two weeks. The store people were so busy telling me I burned it out on purpose, I didn't have a chance to ask them if they knew where I could send it to have it repaired.

I never kick. I never nag. I never criticize. I wouldn't dream of making a scene, as I've seen people doing in public places. I think that's awful.

I'm a nice customer! I'll tell you what else I am. I'm the customer who never comes back!

That's my little revenge for getting pushed around. That's why I take whatever they hand me . . . I know I'm not coming back. It's true that this doesn't relieve my feelings right off, as telling them what I think of them would. But in the long run, it's far more deadly revenge.

In fact, a nice customer like myself, multiplied by others of my kind, can just about ruin a business. And there's a lot of nice people in the world just like me. When we get pushed far enough we go down the street to another store. We eat hamburgers in places where they're smart enough to hire help who appreciate nice customers. Together, we do them out of millions every year.

He laughs best, they say, who laughs last. I laugh when I see them so frantically spending their money on advertising to get me back, when they could have held me in the first place with a few kind words and a smile.

Your telephone neighbors join you in contributing money and manpower to worthy community causes

Telephone people are good citizens almost by definition, because the nature of telephone work attracts men and women with a highly developed sense of community responsibility.

In almost any type of worthy activity, you will find that telephone people give generously of both their time and money. To cite but one example, the gifts of our employees to Community Chests and Federations in company-sponsored plans alone are averaging about $11.00 per person this year and will total more than $15,000.

And chances are that both the work and the money of telephone people have provided valuable support to your local Red Cross, PTA, service clubs, hospital organizations, scouting groups and many others.

The 1,700 telephone people throughout Delaware know that community service is both a privilege and a pleasure. Because they are good citizens, they help make good communities.

We are a vital part of Delaware's economy

Telephone people and the telephone company contribute to the welfare of the community in many other ways. Our employees spend most of their $7,600,000 annual wages with local concerns. As a company, we purchased supplies and services valued at more than $2,200,000 last year from scores of businesses, large and small, throughout Delaware.

In one way or another, directly or indirectly, telephone people and the telephone company contribute to the well-being of almost every Delawarean. That is why the successful operation of our company is important to everybody.

Doane Service V.P. DCIA Farm-City Speaker

Earl F. Crouse, vice-president of Doane Agricultural Service, Inc., St. Louis, Mo., will speak next Monday and Tuesday during the Delaware Crop Improvement Association's 49th annual show and crops and soils short course at Capital Grange Hall in Dover.

The events are being held by the DCIA in cooperation with the Dover Kiwanis Club in observance of the third annual United States and Canadian Farm-City Week, November 22 to 28.

Crouse will discuss "Contract Farming Today" at a service club next Monday evening at the grange. In a speech on contract farming given by Crouse at Fargo, N. D., November 11, he said contract farming in agriculture has come about because farmers need a better marketing system.

Although we started with what should have been a balanced herd, with all age classes represented, we expected there would be an increase in the older age classes as time went on. This has not happened. However, there has been a general increase in the size of the deer being killed.

In 1954 the largest deer weighed 225 pounds, woods dressed. This size increase was not limited to any one locality. New Castle County checked the largest, a buck weighing 252 pounds, killed near Glasgow. In addition there were three others weighing 222, 237 and 215. The largest deer from Kent County weighed 223.

at 6:30 that evening, 4-H Club crops judges will compete.

Deer Season A Success

Delaware's deer herd has just sustained its fifth open season. Except for the first, which was three days long, this was the most successful.

In 1953, when the first open season was proposed, there were predictions from many quarters that such a move would eliminate deer from the state. Let us see what has been the result of what many considered a foolhardy course of action.

Total kill for each season, January 1954, '55, '56, '57 and November 1957 has been 505, 261, 248 and 364. In previous seasons the number of bucks and does killed was even. This season one-third more bucks were taken than does. This seems to indicate that many of our hunters are becoming selective and waiting for antlered deer before they shoot.

State Police and Game Wardens have coordinated in enforcing strict safety measures during the five deer seasons. An accident-free big game season is an enviable record in Delaware where the land is predominantly level. There were few violations committed by the hundreds of hunters who were

Other heavy weights were 208, 207, 211 and 208. Sussex County had four big ones, the largest weighing 235, followed by three others at 206, 230 and 217.

Sussex County registered the greatest increase in number of deer checked. In the January 1957 season, only 38 deer were checked through the two checking stations. In November these stations checked a total of 110 deer. New Castle station was low with 101 and Kent high with 153.

Results of this season, together with data from previous open seasons indicate no special problems with our deer herd. Present regulations seem to be adequate although some changes may become necessary at a later date. At any rate, we are certain that our deer are healthy and vigorous and are reproducing themselves at a rate that will permit open seasons for many years to come.

Delaware Has Accident-Free Big Game Season

State Police and Game Wardens have coordinated in enforcing strict safety measures during the five deer seasons. An accident-free big game season is an enviable record in Delaware where the land is predominantly level. There were few violations committed by the hundreds of hunters who were checked in the field during the two-day season. A few careless hunters persisted in carrying loaded guns in their cars; others were observed propping their loaded firearms against the bumper or resting it on the trunk lid. These actions accounted for the majority of arrests made by officers during the deer season.

The Game and Fish Commission urges all sportsmen to use common sense while handling their guns during the upland game season. Not only are hunters violating the law by careless handling of loaded guns, but too, they are violating an important commandment of the firearms safety code—Carry only empty guns, taken down, or with the action open, into auto, camp or home.

Poison Bait Suggested For Rats

Poison bait will kill rats that entered farm and home buildings when the weather turned cold, George Vapaa, county agricultural agent, suggested today.

In explaining the use of bait and placement, the agent said individual rats have food preferences. For example, if rats have been eating poultry feed, bait of meat or fish may produce best results.

Too much poison in a bait mixture is just as ineffective as too little, Vapaa continued, cutting down acceptance. Small lots, up to a pound or two, can be mixed readily by hand, using a large spoon or paddle in a mixing bowl, pail or other container. These articles should be marked "poison" and kept separate from other utensils. Up to 10 pounds of bait can easily be mixed with a table model electric mixer. Floor models will mix up to 50 pounds with ease.

Mix only enough meat or fish bait for use within 24 hours, since baits are most acceptable when fresh.

Baits should be placed in rat runs in a way that will keep children and animals protected, the county agent pointed out. Bait stations, inverted boxes with a two by three-inch hole cut in each end, can be used permanently.

Put out more bait than you think necessary, shaping meat or fish bait into a small ball about the size of a walnut. Sometimes it may be desirable to wrap the bait in a small piece of tissue or waxed paper. Do this by cutting a four-inch paper square, folding it over the bait and twisting the ends. This will keep bait fresh longer.

If rats carry these paper "torpedoes" away, use a dry bait, such as corn meal or a feed mixture. Place this in a shallow tray beneath a bait station.

Prebaiting with unpoisoned food will indicate which foods are most acceptable to rats, the agriculture agent said. These foods can be poisoned later.

Vapaa suggested meats, fish, cereal, vegetables, fruits, and chocolate, dried milk or raw eggs such items as peanut butter, sweet to use with poisons.

For additional information on rat control, call the agent at the county extension office, Post-office Building, Dover.

Coady Is Given Moose Football Award

The Harrington Lodge No. 534 of the Loyal Order of Moose presented their fourth award of the season today when Dave Coady was elected as the outstanding player of last week's football game between Harrington H. S. and Laurel.

This selection was a difficult one to make in view of the fine effort put out by the entire team. The factor which gave Dave the edge was his great defensive effort in catching a Laurel ball carrier on the Harrington eight-yard line after the back had broken loose for a 65-yard run.

The Moose Lodge which has presented trophies to Bob Wilson, Jim Collins, and Jim Schiff, for outstanding performances in previous games, will also make an award after next Saturday's game with John M. Clayton H. S.

Following the close of the season, the Lodge will entertain the team and coaches at a special banquet. At this time a larger trophy will be awarded to the player named as the most valuable player of the year.

Mrs. Betty Jean Jones, 24, of Blades, was arrested on a charge of operating an automobile under the influence of liquor after her car struck a Friehofer Baking Company truck on U. S. Route 13 about one mile north of Harrington, Friday.

Delaware Food Market Report

By Anne Holberton
Agricultural Extension Service,
University of Delaware

In America, Thanksgiving dinner is always associated with two foods—turkey and cranberries. This year we are fortunate for there is an abundant supply of both, especially of turkey.

Turkeys come in all sizes and there is a correct size for every family. If you are uncertain as to the size you need, allow 1/2 pound of ready-to-cook turkey for each person. This allows one serving per person - no seconds and no leftovers. With prices as low as they are now, especially on larger birds, do have plenty of this delicious meat for everyone you serve.

The root vegetables that are a part of a traditional Thanksgiving dinner in Delaware, are in good supply now. Turnips, both the white and yellow varieties, are increasing in quantity and quality. Rutabagas are on the vegetable counter and are nice and big, with a delicious flavor. Parsnips, beets, carrots, and of course, sweet potatoes and white potatoes are all listed as good buys. Spinach and kale are relatively good buys but need to be selected with care. Some of the leaves are very big and are beginning to turn yellow which shows they are old as well as stale, not good buys at any price.

Apples, pears, oranges and grapefruits are all on the plentiful list with prices low. Grapes are also cheaper with a good number of varieties to select from. Avocados, for 19c each, are big and the quality is excellent and there are lots of fresh coconuts too. Chestnuts and many other nuts are on sale. All the trimmings needed to make a wonderful Thanksgiving dinner are now available at your favorite grocery store.

Good buys this week on meats other than turkey will be, ground beef, chuck roast, pork loin roast, smoked pork shoulders, hams, some rib roast and bacon. Leg-of-lamb will be the featured buy in some stores, and chickens (broilers, fryers and stewers) will remain excellent buys.

H.H.S. another first down on the 32. Temple caught a pass, but too much time in the huddle cost the locals five yards. Other mistakes made about this time were overcome by the fired-up home forces. Joe Kliment recovered a fumble on the 12. A penalty put the ball on the 7. Passes to Taylor and Porter made it first and goal to go on the two yard line with 43 seconds left. Two plays failed and then Wilson went over with the apparent tying touchdown with 5 seconds left. As the officials for the game failed to arrive the officiating was done by the coaches. The Laurel coach called a backfield in motion penalty that nullified the touchdown and cost H.H.S. a tie or a win. When queried after the game the official said he "thought" he saw someone move in the backfield before the snap from center.

The Harrington team really jelled in this game. They have absolutely nothing to be ashamed of in losing to a foe of this caliber. The local out-gained Laurel on the ground, 180 yards to 145 and in the air completed 7 passes to Laurel's 1 but that toss was all-important.

Wilson led in rushing with 78 yards in 16 tries for close to 5 per carry followed by Porter with 9 yards in 3 attempts.

Jim Collins had 9 tackles followed by Porter with 8 and Coady, Wilson, and Temple with seven.

Tomorrow afternoon on the local field H.H.S. ends its season with the first regularly scheduled season in its history. John M. Clayton is the opposition. This day has been designated as Dad's Day and Band Day to honor the fathers of the players and the high school band.

Motor Fuel Taxes Increase For September

There was an increase of $30,721.44 in the receipts for motor fuel taxes for September over the amount received from this source during the same month of last year, according to the monthly report of the Motor Fuel Tax Division of the State Highway Department.

The motor fuel taxes for September, which were received during the month of October, totaled $667,398.31 and represented the sale of 13,347,966 gallons of motor fuel, an increase of 614,428 gallons over the amount sold in September of last year.

In addition to being an increase over the amount of motor fuel taxes received during September of last year, the collections for September exceeded the collections for September of 1955 by $43,996.96, and was $112,309.83 more than was received during September of 1954.

A total of 41 concerns were reported as being bonded as motor fuel distributors during the month of September, and all of them reported some sales for the month.

The sales of four of the distributors accounted for $341,629.19, or 51 per cent of the tax collected for the month of September. These concerns, and the amount of taxes paid by each, were Atlantic Refining Co., $89,913.02; Esso Standard Oil Co., $118,733.90; Gulf Oil Corporation, $91,141.57 and Sun Oil Co., $41,840.70.

Every one is welcome to the races, you come at your own risk and I hope mindful that you are guests. To insure your safety please follow the few restrictions posted.

Back to the actual races! These men mentioned were first to meet the checkered flag in each race: 1st race, 15 laps, Legates; 2nd race, 15 laps, Voss; 3rd race, 15 laps, Wilson; 4th race, 20 laps, Parsons; 5th race, 20 laps, Gray; 6th race, 25 laps, Voss.

There were 12 racers competing in the 6 races.

Loftland had to bow out in the second race. He went into the pit ditch when his steering rod broke.

Brown left the track unexpectedly during the third race. His steering rod was broken and his racer ran into the car housing the P.A. system. Curtis and Fred are still singing "All Shook Up."

Gray, out of control with his steering rod broken, went into a crowd of spectators and appeared to be chasing the red coats back in them that hills.

Outten teased the crowd and a mud puddle as he nearly went in early in the 4th race. Finally during the 6th race his steering rod broke as he splashed into the mud—all the way. In the last two instances luckily the persons who were in dangerous places or too close moving fast enough to avoid not getting hurt.

After the six scheduled races there was a two car match race between Wilson Bradley and Hanley Clark. It was a good race with plenty of speed and clowning all the way. Wilson won the match but he also knows the taste of dirt as they see-sawed to and from until the finish. What an exciting day!

Every Sunday, weather permitting, I'm heading for the track about 1:30—hope to see you there.

C.K.R.T. Auxiliary Notes

The regular monthly meeting of the Callaway-Kemp-Raughley-Tee American Legion Auxiliary on Tuesday evening opened with very interesting reports from the four girls who attended Girls' State in Dover last June. The girls were Jean Baker and Edith Hamstead from the Greenwood High School and Eleanor Baker and Nancy Whittington from the Harrington High School. They were sponsored by the Harrington Unit.

Mrs. William Humes, president, presided at the business meeting which followed.

Mrs. Leonard Taylor, child welfare chairman, reported that she had sent birthday gifts to our adopted boy at Ferris School and our adopted girl at Gov. Bacon Health Center. She had also attended a meeting with other organization representatives concerning a Youth Center in Harrington.

The junior members of the C.K.R.T. unit, under the direction of Mrs. William Outten, are becoming very busy with their activities. At their meeting at 7 o'clock they decided to make cookies to send to the Perry Point Women Veterans, which is a project of the Past President's Parley each year. They are also making plans to collect wool scraps in Harrington and make an afghan to be sent to a veteran. Anyone who has such scraps is asked to call Mrs. Outten and a junior member will gladly pick it up.

Mrs. Gooden, Callaway reminded the member of the Christmas Gift Shops which will be held at all veteran hospitals in the state and at Perry Point Hospital in Maryland. The date of the shop at Perry Point is December 4th and this year the unit's gifts will be sent there. Mrs. Callaway said that gifts will be collected until Dec. 6th and will be on display in Clendening's Pharmacy.

Mrs. Robert T. Jester was elected historian to fill the office left vacant by the moving of Mrs. Ralph Smith. She was installed by Mrs. George Scott, State President.

Mrs. Humes then introduced the state officers who were present at the meeting. Those present were Mrs. Scott, Mrs. John H. Conrad, Kent County Vice President; Mrs. William G. Lambden, Sussex County Vice President; Mrs. Grant Garis, Executive Secretary-Treasurer; Mrs. Lawrence Alfele, Jr., Recording Secretary; Mrs. Elwood Short, National Committeewoman; Mrs. John Powell, Jr., Membership Chairman; Mrs. Ida B. Malarkey, Legislative Chairman; Mrs. Edward Everhart, Music Chairman; Mrs. Susan Gray, a member of the State Rehabilitation Committee; and Mrs. Donald Hyland, National Security Chairman.

A social hour followed the meeting.

Farm News

The total estimated revenue for growers of fruits and vegetables, including both fresh market and processing sales, for the 1957 season will be between nine and ten million dollars.

This was the estimate made by Ralph W. Wine, Director of the Bureau of Markets for the State Board of Agriculture, in presenting a crop review for the season.

Noted throughout the report prepared by Mr. Wine, are numerous references to unfavorable weather conditions existing during the growing season for some crops.

Also noted are records showing where inspectors were used in connection with the marketing of numerous crops, a procedure that is credited with greatly aiding the market conditions for those crops.

A total of 1,256 tons of asparagus was inspected with the yield and quality both being good. Two inspectors were used.

The crop review states that weather for growing pears was unfavorable, being hot and dry. A total of 437 tons were inspected, with five inspectors being used. The yield on non-irrigated land was down to about 1200 pounds to the acre, while irrigated land produced a good yield of about 2600 pounds to the acre.

The strawberry crop was down to 6654 crates being inspected by one inspector.

A total of 66,528 bushels of early apples were inspected while the yield of late apples found 96,758 boxes being inspected with three inspectors being used on both crops. The late apple crop was reported as being unusually good as to size, color and quality.

The report on potatoes showed that 9,500 acres had been planted and, although the weather was dry, the quality was excellent. A total of 302,300 bags, of 100 pounds each, were inspected by 21 inspectors.

Due to weather conditions, and a decrease in acreage, the yield for the lima bean crop was about 25 per cent less than 1956. 30 inspectors were engaged on this crop.

The dry weather also showed its effects on the pepper crop, with the yield being about 20 per cent less than last year. Seven inspectors were used on this crop.

A total of 15,324 tons of tomatoes were inspected by three inspectors. This is about 10,000 tons less than the yield in 1956, due to the drought, although some irrigated fields had a normal yield.

Thus far about 75 car loads of soy beans have been inspected, but due to adverse weather conditions, the yields are about 25 per cent less than last year with the quality being below last year's grade.

The review lists the current price on 4% milk, F.O.B. Philadelphia, at $6.04 with a butterfat differential of .05 per point variation from 4%.

The price F.O.B. Wilmington on 4% milk is $5.89, with a butterfat differential of .055 per point variation from 4%.

In Kent and Sussex Counties the price range is $4.85 per cwt., with a butterfat differential of .05 per point variation from 4%.

There is also a ten cent bonus for low bacteria counts.

Needlecraft News
by Nancy Baxter

All of us are busy these days planning and making gifts for Christmas. It is indeed a busy time of the year, but if you count crochet and knitting among your hobbies, the gift problem is greatly simplified. There are many small items which make ideal gifts and can be made practically at the last moment—place mats, pot holders, doilies, scarves, gloves, socks, and any number of other things. Handmade gifts always rate high in popularity and appeal, not only because they are attractive and useful, but also because they show thoughtfulness on the part of the giver. It does take time to make even the smallest article, and in this fast-moving world we value and appreciate such things more than ever before.

Regardless of what style furniture or combination of styles you have in your living room, proper care is important. Whether you plan it as a gift or for your own use, a chair set is certainly a worthwhile investment of time and material. The material, of course, is mercerized crochet cotton and the time it takes to make such a set is comparatively little. It is both amazing and dismaying to see how fast even the best of chairs shows the wear and tear of everyday usage. Slipcovers are an important and attractive protection for furniture, but they also require frequent cleanings. Chair sets, such as the one shown, may be used with or without slipcovers. Their use is primarily functional but they can be quite decorative as well. They protect the strategic points of stress and strain and are also useful to camouflage worn arms and backs of chairs. Chair sets protect as they beautify, and whatever style of chair you have, there is a set to harmonize with it.

FAN CHAIR SET

Simplicity is the keynote to a chair set's good looks, particularly if it is modern in design. These three pieces are crocheted in stripes of fan designs and edged with a narrow border of solid crochet. For a change from the usual white or ecru cotton, you might make the set in a color that blends with your chair. Directions for the FAN CHAIR SET are available to you.

TRASH COLLECTION NOTICE

Owing to the fact one of our trash collection days falls on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 28th, we will collect trash on Wednesday, Nov., 27th, west of the railroad, and the balance on Friday as usual.
