LIBERTY STREET TO BE IMPROVED BY STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT

Liberty Street will be improved from Delaware Avenue to the southbound lane of U.S. 13, it was decided at a meeting of the State Highway Commission Wed., Jan. 15, at Dover.

The project is now in the preliminary staging.

The improvements will include the tiling of ditches, thus enabling the road to be widened, resurfacing, and possibly curbed through the exact extent of the improvements has not been defined.

The City of Harrington has been seeking the improvement of this thoroughfare since the construction of Corbit Armory, on Liberty Street. The additional traffic, especially of National Guard vehicles, has made improvement of the street imperative.

The state will improve and maintain the street, according to a letter sent to Mayor Dr. Hewitt W. Smith.

The amount of the City's Municipal Aid Fund, furnished by the state to towns and cities on the basis of population and the number of miles of municipally maintained streets, will be reduced since the state will be taking over the upkeep of Liberty Street.

The City receives $25,747.16 from the Municipal Aid Fund annually. It has been estimated this figure will be reduced $1400 by the Liberty Street project, though this figure has not been verified.

Mrs. Dolby's Class
One day last week we had a test in social studies which was very hard. We have begun to study about the Pan American countries now.

Wednesday we did not have homework because we felt there wasn't anything to be discussed. We turned that time into a study period.

Friday and Monday we made book reports. Some were very nice and interesting.

VFW Week Now Underway

Delaware's veterans of wartime overseas service are currently observing their own special week, "National VFW Week." Many non-members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, appreciative of the contributions, made in peace and war by the veterans, are joining in the observance.

The celebration got underway last Sunday when many of the state's 4000 VFW members, accompanied by their families, attended the churches of their individual choice in observance of Religious Freedom Day, first event in the week-long program.

Other special events observed during "National VFW Week" include Community Service Day, Jobs for Disabled Veterans Day, National Home Veterans Day, Youth Welfare Day, and Americanism and National Security Day. Most of the state's thirty-one posts are holding open house Saturday evening and inviting eligible non-members to visit with them and share VFW fellowship.

A preview of the observance was given last Saturday morning with Past Department Commanders Miles L. Frederick and John Babiarz, both of Wilmington, and Department Junior Vice Commander Robert N. McCormick, Newark; participating in a televised panel discussion.

Thomas Egan, service officer of the Department of Delaware, American Legion, was a guest and extended greetings from the state's other veterans organizations.

The observance started on somewhat of a solemn note as a result of the death last Thursday evening of William T. Eliason, VFW state commander in 1934-35. Mr. Eliason had given active service to the Veterans of Foreign Wars for over twenty years and, in addition to serving many official capacities, was instrumental in organizing many new posts in 1946 and 1947.

A public viewing, with Adams-Simpler-Ware Post No. 6009 supplying the honor guard, was held at the Berry Funeral Home, Felton, Saturday evening. Funeral services for Past Comdr. Eliason were held at the McCrery Funeral Home, Price's Corner, Sunday afternoon, with interment at Forest Cemetery, Middletown. Graveside services were conducted by Diamond State Post No. 2863, of which Mr. Eliason was a member.

Past commanders of the Department of Delaware served as active and as honorary pallbearers for Sunday's services.

Department officers are currently planning participation in the Eastern Regional Conference, Feb. 1-2, at Washington, and the National Mid-winter Conference, Feb. 3-4, also at Washington. Ten delegates and alternates will represent Delaware at the Feb. 1-2 convocation.

Dept. Commander Edward Tingle and Past Dept. Commander Elwood Rickards, of Selbyville; Past Dept. Commander David S. Hugg, Milford, and Dept. Judge Advocate Edward Clarke, Dover; will represent Delaware at the Mid-Winter Conference and will also be part of a large VFW delegation that will appear before the House Veterans Affairs Committee, to present the VFW legislative program Feb. 4.

Twenty-two Delaware VFW members are planning attendance at the annual VFW Congressional Dinner to be held in Washington the evening of Feb. 4 U. S. Senators John J. Williams and J. Allen Frear and Congressman Harry G. Haskell, Jr., will be guests of the Delaware delegation at this latter affair.

Three Minor Blazes

The Harrington Volunteer Fire Company answered three alarms, within the past week. The fires were minor, with little or no damage.

A chimney fire was extinguished at the residence of Maggie Smith, Millspion Street, at noon Thurs., Jan. 16.

A grass fire was put out Friday afternoon near the cutting room of George Sherwin Inc., on U.S. 13.

A chimney fire, on East Street, at the residence of H. Smith, Sunday afternoon, had been almost extinguished by the occupants when the fire company arrived.

Dover Man Gets Two Years For Assault in Robbery Try

The fact that he was a first offender, combined with a good record, was beneficial to Richard Warren Mitchell, 21, of Dover, when he appeared before Judge William J. Storey last week for the imposition of sentence in connection with his recent conviction on a charge of assault with intent to commit robbery.

Judge Storey told Mitchell the penalties that could be imposed for the offense, of which a jury found him guilty a few weeks ago and then referred to a presentence investigation report, which outlined Mitchell's good conduct.

Mitchell was then sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and serve two years in jail, dating from last Aug. 24, when he was first taken into custody.

Mitchell was convicted of visiting the home of Mrs. Clementine Moore, along Salisbury Road, about 10 p.m. on Aug. 24, and beating the woman to such an extent that she required hospital treatment when she found him ransacking the kitchen.

In another case Edgar Ellingsworth, of the Harrington area, was fined $50 and costs for taking a motor vehicle without consent of the owner. He entered a plea of guilty. He had previously been indicted on a larceny charge but this was dropped on motion of Deputy Atty. Gen. James B. Messick and the new charge presented.

In April of 1956, Ellingsworth allegedly took a tractor and attached plows from a farm near Harrington. He was indicted by the grand jury at the July term in 1956.

Judge Storey imposed the sentence of the fine which was paid by friends of Ellingsworth. The stolen tractor and attached plows were recovered a day after they were stolen.

Collapse of Floor Of St. Stephen's Noted in Magazine

The collapse of the floor of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church here Christmas Eve has been described in the January issue of Now, a publication of the Episcopal Church in Delaware. The account is as follows:

"The floor tumbled through on 120 worshippers (the largest number in the history of the mission congregation) at St. Stephen's, Harrington, on Christmas Eve. Fortunately there is no building to the 83 year old baskment so they were only propped eight inches. On other occasions the sacristy and the flooring under the main entrance collapsed in a similar fashion. The site for a new building for St. Stephen's has been purchased and plans have been drawn, and it is hoped that it will be finished and ready for use next Fall.

The congregation now numbers around 150 persons, an increase of approximately 800% since the Vicar, the Rev. John R. Symonds, arrived a year and a half ago."

Mrs. Taylor reported on the Child Welfare meeting held in Dover recently. Some of the activities that the unit will participate in are the "Save the Children Foundation"; buying playground equipment for the migrant workers camp at Staytons-ville and the National American Legion Child Welfare Foundation.

She requested that members and friends give any good used clothing for children or grown-ups to be sent to the "Save the Child Foundation." She will call for clothes if asked to do so.

Donations were made to the National American Legion Child Welfare Foundation—$5; playground equipment for migrant camp $5; oil for the Girl Scout meeting room $10, and the unit voted to adopt a child at the Hospital for the Mentally Retarded at Stockley.

A party for the children of the retarded children's school in Harrington was planned for February 21.

The unit will serve a banquet Monday evening, Jan. 27, to the Lions Club.

Tuesday evening, Jan. 28, all members and friends are participating in the Mother's March on Polio, starting at 7 p.m. at the Fire House.

The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served.

THE NOT-HOG

When we were closely identified with the livestock industry in the thirties, we could see the need of a farm subsidy program. But now the farmer has, as did Faust, sold his soul to the devil with long whiskers.

Growers of long-staple cotton, in Arizona and other southwestern states, told their congressional delegates they would go bankrupt if the subsidy were not taken off.

In the prosperous war years, and postwar years, the subsidies continued, this time as a vote-getting scheme. The Democrats started the parity program but it didn't stop the farm from getting in two terms. That the Republicans are still continuing the sappy program is revealed by some of the many funny stories which crop up from time to time.

Now, up pops the story of the not-hog, as told by one Octave Broussard in a letter to Sen. Barry Goldwater (R., Ariz.) and published in the Congressional Record.

"Dear Mr. Senator: My friend Broussard over in Pima county received a $4000 check from the Government this year for not raising hogs. I am going into the not-raising-hogs business next year.

What I want to know is what is the best kind of farm not to raise hogs on and what is the best kind of hogs not to raise? I would prefer not to raise razorbacks, but if that is not a good breed not to raise, I will just as gladly not raise any Berkshire or Duroc.

My friend Broussard is very joyful about the future of his business. He has been raising hogs for more than 20 years and the best he ever made was $400 with this year, when he got $4000 for not raising hogs.

I plan to operate on a small scale at first, holding myself down to about 4000 hogs which means I will have $400,000.

Now another thing: These hogs I will not raise will not eat 100,000 bushels of corn. I understand that you also pay farmers for not raising corn.

So will you pay me anything for not raising 100,000 bushels of corn not to feed the hogs I am not raising?"

Sen. Goldwater's office was asked for Broussard's address. It wasn't available. An aide to Goldwater said:

"We suspect the name is fictitious. But the Senator thought it was funny so he put it into the Record."

Goldwater, it was disclosed, also sent a copy of the letter to Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson.

TEEN-AGE ROAD ANGELS

The title of this article makes a motorist think, especially after one has witnessed the cowboying of teen-age motorists.

The Road Angels of Alexis I. duPont High School, New Castle County, assists stranded motorists. The 21-member club is sponsored by George Schaefer, a mathematics teacher at the school.

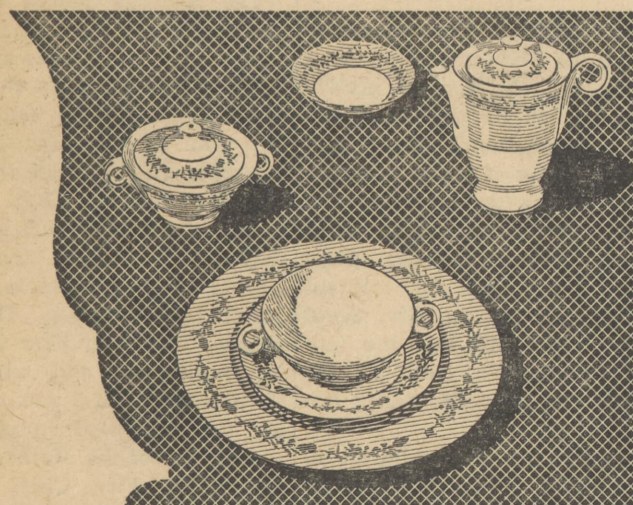

They aid stranded motorists and specialize in emergency repairs—all for free, like modern knights of the road.

The latest rescue took place one blizzard night on the hills of Route 100 near Beaver Valley Road where Richard Beggs of Wilmington was forced into a ditch by a speeding sedan.

After trudging fruitlessly back and forth for miles in the 15 degree cold, Mr. and Mrs. Beggs and their two daughters, Joanne, 7, and Jayne, 5, were accosted by several boys who drove up.

Hours later, the Road Angels had the car out of the ditch a flat tire repaired, and drove off refusing to be paid while the Beggs family went safely home, wondering what the youth of America is coming to.

CHURCHES UNITED IN PURPOSE

This is what happened in our town last week!
At the kindness of the Delaware National Guard, the local armory was available to the community for the special services—"Harrington Crusade for Christ" in which the Rev. George Piguerson, Jr., and his TV staff were the workers. An average attendance of 150 supported these services.

The messages of the Rev. Piguerson were animated, spirit-filled, heaven directed and soul stirring. As a result, 50 decisions were made for Christ. No more beautiful scene could one behold than to see about 25 young people before the altar of the church Sunday night deciding for Christ.

The singing of the members of the "TV Circuit Rider" was divinely chosen and thrilled the hearts of the people. They gave their best and God blessed it.

Then a most unusual thing happened. Because of heater trouble it was necessary to hold the final service of these special emphasis in the Asbury Methodist Church. Can anyone imagine 350 people representing the churches of this area crowded together for worship in one single church. But it happened! It made no difference who was sitting next to whom or what church that individual represented—denominationalism was set aside and the purpose of this campaign became the important factor. This is another step towards church union. Why can't we do this again?

The chairman of the Harrington Ministerial Association, the Rev. Richard Gibson, and the members of the association are to be commended for making possible this united purpose.

The people of the area are to be commended for their presence and support and interest, as a total of $400 was given for this cause.

May this unity of purpose not stop here. May God grant we see more of this type of service in our community.

State Board of Health Offering A New Service For Diabetics

The State Board of Health is offering a new service. Diabetes Detection Stations are being conducted in Wilmington and some of the larger towns in the State. A Diabetes Station will be set up in Harrington at the City Offices, Mechanic Street Wed., Feb. 5 from 12:45 - 3:15 p.m.

Diabetes is a serious disease for which there is no known cure, but almost all known diabetes can live happy, normal lives. It is estimated that over a million people in this country alone have it - and that another million cases exists in the U.S.A. It is important that these unknown cases be found and helped before irreparable damage occurs.

One simple test is the determination of the sugar level in the blood. A laboratory needs only a few drops of blood from your finger to make the test. This is the method used at the Diabetes Detection Stations, and this requires only a few minutes. The service is free.

Any organization or community interested in sponsoring a Diabetes Detection Station can obtain the service by arranging directly with the Division of Local Health Services, Delaware State Board of Health, Dover.

REPORT ON THE 1957 WATERFOWL SEASON

The 1957 waterfowl season was, on the whole, rather disappointing when compared to the past few years. Aerial counts showed that total waterfowl numbers were down nearly 50 per cent in October. This tendency toward lower waterfowl numbers has been evident for the past three years but the decrease was larger this year.

Since mallards are notably erratic in their migration it is not surprising to have considerable variation in the number of birds present at any given time. However, the black nose, in the past, consistently been present in much larger numbers. Reports from other states indicate no shortage of blacks. In fact some states, particularly the coastal areas of New Jersey, reported a substantial increase in blacks. There are several possible reasons for this.

It is possible that, over the years, dredging and filling of marshes plus extensive industrial development along the upper Delaware River have caused the black duck to change its migration route. The ducks might be following the coast instead of coming down the river. It is also possible that they still come down the river, but the destruction of mos. of the good marshes north of the Canal is causing them to find other resting and feeding areas. Since our aerial counts do not extend north of the state line we are not in a position to say for certain that there are fewer birds coming down the river. However, reports from the areas as far north as Trenton indicate fewer birds in the river this year.

Another possible cause for the decline in waterfowl numbers in Delaware is the huge increase in the number of blackbirds throughout the state. These birds, present in uncounted thousands during late fall and winter, are competing directly with waterfowl for food. It is entirely possible that they are cleaning up waste grain from the fields in such quantity that ducks are forced to look elsewhere for food.

Reports from hunters indicate a wide variation in the success of the gunning season. Generally speaking it was not as good as in previous years. Fortunately the reduction in hunter success was not proportional to the decrease in duck population. Incidentally, goose numbers showed no decrease this year, and goose shooting was good in the areas around Bombay Hook Refuge and Taylor's Bridge.

Unfortunately there is not sufficient information from other states during the migration period to enable us to accurately evaluate the changes in duck populations apparent in Delaware which, in the overall flyway picture, is only a local area. It is hoped that next year a better reporting system will give us a picture of the whole flyway.

FLIGHT SPEED OF BIRDS

The question of how fast various game birds fly is a subject of interest — and sometimes debate — among sportsmen. The latest newsletter of the Remington Arms Co. contains an article on this subject, in which an authority of the company says: "The speed of an upland game bird in flight depends on a number of conditions. When unmolested, its flight is slower than when frightened by a hunter. The same applies to migratory waterfowl. On their long journey from one part of the continent to another, they conserve energy by adopting a somewhat leisurely speed. If frightened, that speed is stepped up immediately. But even when frightened, all birds of any particular species do not fly at the same rate of speed.

"Here are some figures on flight speed of unmolested game birds, computed from the findings of a number of researchers: They may not be exactly correct, but they constitute the best information we have to date on the subject. Dove and plover, 34 m.p.h.; curlew, 38 m.p.h.; quail, prairie chicken, ruffed grouse, jack-snipe, mallard, black duck, spoonbill, pintail, wood duck, widgeon and gadwall, 41 m.p.h.; swan, 45 m.p.h.; Canada goose and brant, 48 m.p.h.; green-wing teal, 79 m.p.h.; redhead, 82 m.p.h.; blue-wing teal, 89 m.p.h. and canvasback, 94 m.p.h."

NURSING PROGRAM EXPANDED

Nursing students in states bordering Delaware will have an opportunity to apply for scholarships at the University of Delaware during the coming year as the result of an expanded program by the Delaware Anti-Tuberculosis Society.

In 1955 a grant of $50,000 by the society enabled the university to provide scholarships varying from $250 to $750 per year. Awards were made on the basis of academic merit and financial need, but were restricted to residents of Delaware.

Because of the continued shortage of qualified nurses within the state, the Delaware Anti-Tuberculosis Society has continued its scholarship program and now plans to extend its geographical limits to include students from neighboring counties in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland. These counties include: Chester and Delaware, Pa.; Cumberland, Gloucester, Salem and Cape May, N. J.; and Cecil, Caroline, Dorchester, Kent, Queen Anne, Worcester, and Somerset, Md. Two additional Maryland counties, Talbot and Somerset, will also be included as a part of the Delmarva Peninsula.

It has been agreed by officials of the society and the university that out-of-state students applying for financial assistance will be asked to sign a statement indicating their intention to practice nursing within the State of Delaware for at least one year after the completion of their training.

The nursing program is conducted cooperatively by the University of Delaware and the Delaware Hospital School of Nursing. It is planned to meet the needs of high school graduates who have attained the certifying grade of their high school and have received the recommendation of their principal or guidance counselor. Out-of-state applicants are required to take the scholastic aptitude test of the college entrance examination board required of all non-resident students. The nursing study program requires three years of academic work at the university, two intervening summers at the Delaware Hospital and fifteen months of professional training and clinical experience in residence at the hospital. Successful completion of the course leads to the degree of bachelor of science in nursing.

Applications for admission and requests for additional information should be sent to Dr. William G. Fletcher, director of admissions and records, University of Delaware, Newark, Del. Students interested in applying for scholarships should also communicate with Dean of Students John E. Hocutt. Conferences on technical aspects of the program may be arranged with Dr. Mary A. Russell, nursing program adviser.

many people—ice fishing. As soon as the ice becomes safe enough for activity some smart fishermen will be trying to tempt the slow moving critters below the ice. Worms are always good bait for pickerel, crappie and perch; however, live minnows seem to take the biggest fish. The fish are erratic in their biting habits in winter and the fisherman's ears and feet may get cold before many are caught. If you are able to determine the depth at which they are biting, fish that depth even though you move from one spot to another.

The tie-up trick is worth trying. When fish are biting weakly, bend the tie-up spring down and attach the line directly to it. Even a nudge of the bait will make the sensitive spring tremor. Instantly haul in the line with perhaps a two pound pickerel on it.

Weed beds are usually likely spots when oxygen is at a premium below the ice. Small spoons and wigglers may be used, however, bait is still popular for ice fishing.

Social Security News

Employers of household workers must file a return for the October through December 1957 quarter on or before Jan. 31, 1958. H. Leland Brown, District Director of Internal Revenue for the Delaware district reminded them today.

At the same time, Myron Milbourn district manager of the Wilmington social security office, pointed out that this obligation to file a return applies to every household employer who paid $50 or more in cash wages to a cook maid, laundress, or any other household employee during the calendar quarter. Returns must be filed after the close of each calendar quarter and are due April 30, July 31, Oct. 31, and Jan. 31 every year.

Most household employers will make their reports on Form 942. This is a special simplified form printed on the back of a return envelope. If you are a household employer who is already on the mailing list of the District Director of Internal Revenue, one of these forms was mailed to you before the end of December. If social security taxes are due from a household employer who is not now on the mailing list, the employer should ask the District Director for the form and give him her name and address to be added to the mailing list before the next quarterly return is due.

The amount of the social security tax is 4 1/2% of the total cash wages paid to a household worker in a calendar quarter. The employee is expected to share this tax with the employer however, it is the obligation of the employer to report and remit the total tax of 4 1/2% to the District Director of Internal Revenue. While the $50 cash wage best applies separately to each household worker in your employ, no report or social security tax is due on any household worker to whom you pay less than $50 in cash during the calendar quarter. Brown pointed out.

Registration Transfers In County Being Accepted

Kent County residents who have moved within the state since the last election may transfer their registrations to vote by calling any weekday at the offices of the Department of Elections in Dover.

L. Winfred Hughes, president of the department, stated yesterday that the department is ready to handle transfers. He suggested that voters not wait for the three registration days when registration officials will function in the 24-election districts throughout the county.

These registration days—the only ones before the election next fall—will fall on Wed., July 16, Sat., Aug. 2, and Sat., Oct. 18. Transfers will be handled at the departments office on any working day up to Oct. 18, or in the election districts on the three registration days.

The same is true for changes of name by women who have married since the last election. Changes in party affiliation may be made up to 30 days before the primary elections, held in August.

New registrations, however, will be handled only on the three days when the registration officials will sit in the election districts throughout the county.

Persons not previously registered in the county may not register by calling at the department office, except for the armed forces and their wives, living outside Delaware. They can register anytime through absentee registration, either in person or by mail.

Mother of Year Contest Off To Early Start

The search for the Delaware Mother of the Year is off to an early start according to Mrs. William N. Cann, chairman for the Delaware American Mother Committee, and nominations will be received by that group at an time.

Mrs. Cann stated that all entries must be in the hands of committee members no later than night, March 10, 1958, if they are to be considered.

"We want to give every section of Delaware ample opportunity to present entrants," Mrs. Cann said today. "That is the reason we are making this early announcement. We hope that no worthy mother will be overlooked and we do expect applications to come in promptly."

Again serving on the American Mothers Committee are Mrs. Jesse Lovén, Odessa; Mrs. E. W. Buchanan, Dover; Mrs. Paul Mitchell, Hockessin; Mrs. Dorothy Till, Rehoboth Beach; and Mrs. Cann, Wilmington.

Mrs. Edgar F. Isaacs of Milford RD was chosen the 1957 Mother of the Year and was entertained in New York City last May where the American Mother of the Year is chosen annually.

The successful candidate in 1958 will receive the same honors, along with other social events which will depend greatly on the area from which she is selected, according to Mrs. Cann.

Those who have candidates for Delaware Mother of 1958 should consider the following points in making recommendations. The mother should be: 1. A successful mother, as evidenced by the character and achievements of her individual children. 2. That she be an active member of a religious body. 3. That she embody those traits highly regarded in mothers; courage, cheerfulness, patience, affection, kindness, understanding and homemaking ability. 4. That she exemplify her life and conduct the precepts of the Golden Rule. 5. That she have a sense of re-

Los Angeles Man Likes The Journal

John Harrington, a reader of The Harrington Journal, in Los Angeles, writes: "Mrs. Olive (Steele) Sharp, my high school teacher, was kind enough to send me a subscription to your paper and I have wondered why I haven't always subscribed to it because I find myself reading it from cover to cover."

Harrington has been away from his hometown almost 45 years. He graduated from Harrington High School in 1913, in the first class to graduate from the brick building at Dorman & Center Street.

A classmate of the late Fred Powell, he tries to get back here every year to see Mr. and Mrs. Book Harrington and son, Reese.

He says he got a big charge from a picture of a class in the old schoolhouse, now Hall Apartments. It is presumed the picture was taken in the early eighties. Miss Jennie McCleavy was the teacher. Only part of the class was identified.

Harrington requested The Journal to see the letters he had written to Will Sharp on moving.

His letter was in an envelope of Allied Artists Pictures Corporation. In place of a stamp, the envelope was stamped by a meter which included an advertisement of the movie, "The Hunchback of Notre Dame." This picture played this week at the theatre operated by Reese Harrington.

Surviving in addition to her husband are four children, Mrs. Mary Hignutt, Hickman; Mrs. Charles Parker, Chester, Pa.; Henry Parker, Wilmington and Carl Parker, Hickman, all children by a former marriage, and seven grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

She also leaves the following sisters and brothers: Eli Noble, San Diego, Calif.; Mrs. Addie Stuart, Wilmington; Mrs. Lina Harrington, Houston; Henry Noble, Harrington; Isaac Noble, Denton, and Mrs. Florence McCarthy, Philadelphia.

Funeral services were held Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in the Hickman Methodist Church. The Rev. John H. Andersen, pastor, officiated. Interment was in the Concord Cemetery.

New Farm Week Program Cited

Timely topics feature this year's Delaware Farm and Home Week observance, George Vapaa, county agricultural agent, said today.

Two speakers during the February 11 session at the University of Delaware's Agricultural Hall will look into the future of agriculture in the state—and beyond. Irrigation, a topic of particular interest after the past drought season, will be covered by three speakers.

The lineup of speakers listed by the county agricultural agent is Dean George M. Worriow, of the school of agriculture at the university; Joseph Ackerman, Farm Foundation, Chicago; Dr. D. J. Fieldhouse, university horticulture researcher; Dr. J. J. Groot, state geologist on the university staff; and W. T. McAlistler, extension farm management specialist at the university.

Dean Worriow, well-known for his long-time contributions to and leadership in Delaware agriculture, will make observations on future changes in the state industry. Ackerman will extend the discussion beyond the state when he predicts needs for tomorrow's agriculture, including people, money and technology.

Dr. Fieldhouse, who is compiling and evaluating weather and rainfall information for years past, will give recommendations on whether irrigation is needed in a state where the average yearly rainfall is 40 inches or more. Dr. Groot will consider irrigation with a look at the state's water supply, and how this could affect increased use of irrigation. McAlistler, speaking from the farm manager's point of view, will consider irrigation costs, whether it will pay, and in what circumstances.

Inviting all people connected with agriculture to hear the speakers, Mr. Vapaa said the program will start at 1:30 p.m. in Agricultural Hall auditorium. Earlier arrivals will find lunch served in the cafeteria there.

Check Facts Before Signing Farm Lease

Both tenants and landlords should be up on certain facts before a farm lease is signed, Willard T. McAlistler, extension farm management specialist at the University of Delaware, said today.

Here are four points a landlord needs to know about a prospective tenant, the specialist suggested:

1. Does the tenant have machinery, livestock, labor and ability to run the farm?
2. What kind of job is the tenant doing on his present farm? Why does he want to move? What does his neighbor say about him?
3. Is the tenant ambitious and eager to improve himself? Does his wife want to live on a farm?
4. Is the tenant the type of man you would want to do business with? Will he be cooperative and maintain the farm and home in satisfactory condition?

When a tenant is choosing a landlord and farm, McAlistler said to learn these facts:

1. Is the farm of a type and size to furnish a satisfactory living and produce a return (rent or share) for the landlord?
2. What do you have to farm with—labor, machinery, livestock, capital and experience? Does this prospective farm offer you a good opportunity to use these resources to good advantage?
3. What is the productive capacity of the farm—soil, drainage, etc.?
4. Is the home comfortable? Are farm buildings adequate? Do you have good roads, churches, schools, and community center? Would you be happy there?
5. Take a good look at the prospective landlord. Is he the type of person you can work with? Why did other tenants leave? Where did they go?

The contest will take place as part of Farm and Home Week activities in Agricultural Hall, with the winner going on to a national cherry pie baking contest in Chicago the next week.

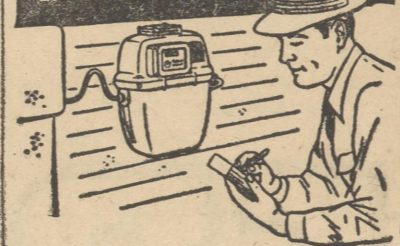

Wayne Bath, acting state 4-H Club leader, announced today that New Castle County winners invited to enter the contest are Doris Jarmon, Dorothy Zimmer, Newark; and Barbara Gregg, Hockessin. Winners invited from Kent County are Diane Morris, Constance Parvis, and Norma Marvel, all from Houston. Sussex County winners are Bonnie Millspaw, Joyce Warrington, Mary Lu Grossnickle, all from Bridgeville, and Nancy Willin, Seaford.

Sponsored by the National Cherry Institute, the contest in Chicago is open to winners from all states, Hawaii, Alaska and Canada. Short Courses For Potato Growers

Two short course sessions will be held again for Delaware potato growers on successive Wednesday evenings, January 29th and February 5th at the Capital Grange Hall in Dover, says George Vapaa, Kent County agricultural agent.

A. E. Mercker, executive secretary of the National Potato Council, heads the program with the 1958 potato outlook. He has a long and wide experience in the potato marketing field, and his present work takes him all over the country to observe and report on conditions.

The program was planned by the following grower committee in cooperation with the University of Delaware Agricultural Extension Service: Edward Meyer, Odessa; George Wicks, Smyrna; Eugene Gagen and Jacob W. Zimmerman, both of Dover.

The emphasis is to be on local grower problems and will include such information as irrigation trial results, nutgrass and other weed control, fusarium rot and seed piece treatments, control of insects such as flea beetles with soil insecticides, internal browning, What's in that Fertilizer Bag?, and a report on new variety trials.

There is also a great deal of interest in potato packaging, but plans are not yet complete for the speaker on this topic. One of the larger urban chain stores has been asked to outline their needs, so that growers might more easily fit the demand. All indications point to the fact that Mrs. Consumer has become a discriminating buyer to the degree that producers must find her needs or she will go to an alternative food item.

Mr. Vapaa concludes by saying that the meetings are open to everyone and that both will start at 8 p. m. More complete information may be had by calling the county agent's office at Dover 2621.

Sulky Slants

By MRS. DAVE (PAT) SMITH

Another week of cold weather down here and everyone of the tourists are holed up in their homes or hotels. That is not the case when it comes to eating. Every place is full.

The traffic here is terrible. With all the one way streets, cars are lined for blocks. Morrison's Cafeteria, where we eat every day forms two lines as you can go either side. Sundays its an all day wait for the lines go around the block. But the best food in the country. Such a variety.

Over to Daytona Beach, this past week only the sea gulls were on the famous ocean drive. I think we spotted about 10 that were walking or wadding in the ocean. Even the hot dog wagons were missing all but one. One lonely life guard was patrolling the limit zone. He was in his car. The sun was out and the ocean was just right for color cameras.

The gift shops, and sporting goods stores all looked so empty. Sure has hurt their business.

Well of all places I went again last week to the wrestling matches. It was ladies night, and it looked it. Furs along with slacks. There were 2,886 fans on hand.

Everyone really roared when one of the midgets pulled the referee Angelos' pants off twice. He had the midget thrown in his face nearly tossed out of the ring really gave him a rough time. All our gang out here and Ben Whites had the whole front section reserved.

The Japanese really put on the show. Each time he would bow and grin. But he proved to be rough and tough. He and his partners are booked for a real hot tag team Monday. We are all going.

Milo Stienborn, the promoter had to have the police escort the Jap from the ring. Course a tag team is also on for next Monday with girls from California. I really pass up some good TV Monday night, but after this I'm going to stay home. Now Don McAllister, the sports announcer called me, tells me that I shouldn't miss the speckled trout running in Banana River over in Coca, Fla. So here I go again, with all my reels and rods to fish. So I hope after driving 176 mile I'll come home with a few.

Now Dave tells me if we come down next year he's going in for motor boat, one of those kind with a top. Small cabin cruiser. Well he can have it. I'm still afraid to go out in the ocean or lakes.

Going up to Spring Garden Ranch to visit some of the horse men and friends of ours. Mr. Holloway, we will miss you coming to Orlando this year if they hold the U.S.T.A. meeting in California.

Guess we will finish our training in Lexington, Ky., starting last of March. I like the town, but will enjoy some of the old places we have been when Dave was with R.K.O. film company.

Oh boy the big rodeo is coming up and I'm all thrilled with my large Polaroid Camera. By then maybe I'll be able to use the light meter and not waste so many films. These cowboys come from all over the states down in Kissimmee, Fla. They have the most wonderful cattle I've ever seen.

Delaware Food Market Report

Beef prices showed again a very definite increase this week. But there will be some beef specials that will bring this meat in line. Beef roast and steaks will have price cuts as much as 20 cents a pound during weekend sales. Plate beef, used for stews, will also be cheaper, thus, a good buy.

Veal is up and its also scarce. Fresh pork is rising too. Rib and pork chops are up 4 cents a pound this week. Center cut chops advanced 3 cents a pound, but loin roast of pork is steady, averaging 75 cents a pound.

Fresh vegetable prices are still showing the effect of curtailed supplies and poorer quality due to bad weather in growing areas. Much of the celery coming in

Mrs. Gibson—5th Grade

We had our exams this week. Beverly Jenkins had a birthday this month. Donald Beauchamp is a new boy in our room. We are studying in social studies about the early builders of America.

Mr. Smith—6th Grade

The class met in our room Wednesday. The president, Jean Breeding, presided. The new business was to discuss our assembly. Each person handed in his ideas for the assembly. We also discussed how many terms each person is to hold. We decided that no one should have more than two terms in each office. Since there was no more new or old business it was moved and adjourned that the meeting be adjourned.

The whole class enjoyed Walter Perdue's birthday party at the Diamond State Roller Rink. We all wish to thank Mrs. Perdue for inviting us.

TEEN-AGE CLUB NEWS

Barbara Payne: Reporter
There was a meeting held at Harrington High School Jan. 14 concerning the new teen-age club of Harrington. Mrs. Simpson, presiding officer and also president of the civic organizations called the meeting to order and we elected officers for 1958 as follows: president, Penny Graham; vice president, Sharon Lowe; secretary, Barbara Payne, and treasurer, Joe Kliment.

The club was fortunate enough to have the president and vice president from the Silver Eagles of Smyrna to be at this meeting and give us several helpful ideas on running a teen-age club.

The club has decided to hold one dance a week Saturday night at the Harrington Armory. There will be membership cards issued to those from the ages 13 to 19 and other alumni from Harrington over this age if it is voted upon. The prices of these membership cards for the first month will be $1.25. These membership cards will be good until the last week in March. In other words you are paying less than $1.25 a dance.

There will be a police officer at all dances plus two couples for chaperones.

Actually this teenage club will be fun to all. We are sure that the parents will enjoy very much in seeing their children go to such a respectful place.

The club should like to thank the civic organization of Harrington for backing them and taking such a great interest in their teenagers. We will do our best to fulfill the things that will make the people of Harrington proud of their teenagers.

We would also like to thank Mrs. Simpson very much for taking such a special interest in our club and also for being our permanent chaperone.

We deeply appreciate all help that has been given us.

HERE IS YOUR RIGHT TO WORK BILL!

Read It! . . . Endorse It! . . . Support It!
Ask Your Legislators to Vote for It!

House Bill No. 55, an act to amend the Delaware Labor Code by providing for a Right to Work Law, has been introduced in the current session of the General Assembly at Dover. Your Delaware Committee for Right to Work, Inc., has taken every opportunity to acquaint you with the fundamental purposes of this important measure, which is aimed at abolishing compulsory unionism in Delaware. Right to work upholds a basic personal freedom—the freedom of the individual to work at the job he is best suited for. Right to work means that neither a union nor an employer can prevent you from taking a job if you do not belong to a union, nor force you to join a union in order to hold a job. How you feel about right to work, as compared to the evils of compulsory unionism, is tremendously important. But it is not enough to feel. The time has come to act. Please read this bill, then let your State Representative and State Senator know that you want them to uphold your right to work.

HOUSE BILL NO. 55
AN ACT TO AMEND TITLE 19, DELAWARE CODE ENTITLED "LABOR" BY PROVIDING FOR A RIGHT TO WORK LAW.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF DELAWARE:

Section 1. Title 19, Delaware Code, is amended by adding after Chapter 7 and before Chapter 21 a new chapter to be known as Chapter 8 and to be entitled "Right to Work."

CHAPTER 8. RIGHT TO WORK

§801. Declaration of Policy
It is hereby declared to be the public policy of Delaware that the right of persons to work shall not be denied or abridged on account of membership or non-membership in any labor union or labor organization.

§802. Denial of Right to Work on Account of Membership or Non-Membership in Union Illegal
Any agreement or combination between any employer and any labor union or labor organization whereby persons not members of such union or organization shall be denied the right to work for said employer, or whereby such membership is made a condition of employment or continuation of employment by such employer, or whereby any such union or organization acquires an employment monopoly in any enterprise, is hereby declared to be against public policy and an illegal combination or conspiracy.

§803. Employers May Not Require Union Membership
No person shall be required by an employer to become or remain a member of any labor union or labor organization as a condition of employment or continuation of employment.

§804. Employers May Not Require Employees to Refrain from Membership
No person shall be required by an employer to abstain or refrain from membership in any labor union or labor organization as a condition of employment or continuation of employment.

§805. Employer May Not Require Payment of Union Dues
No employer shall require any person, as a condition of employment or continuation of employment, to pay any dues, fees or other charges of any kind to any labor union or labor organization.

§806. Employee's Suit Against Employer for Violation of Certain Sections
Any person who may be denied employment or be deprived of continuation of his employment in violation of sections 803, 804, or 805 or of one or more of such sections, shall be entitled to recover from such employer and from any other person, firm, corporation or association acting in concert with him by appropriate action in the courts of this State such damages as he may have sustained by reason of such denial or deprivation of employment.
