Some 370 persons paid homage to the venerable Dr. William T. Chipman Monday night, in a testimonial dinner in the cafeteria of Harrington High School, while thousands of others paid tribute in absentia.

The dinner was sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club, the Lions Club, the Harrington Business & Professional Women's Club, and the Harrington New Century Club.

Attendance, probably the largest in the history of Harrington at a dinner requiring paid admission, was curtailed slightly because of an epidemic of respiratory ailments and because the dinner, scheduled for the previous Monday, had been canceled because of snow.

Important figures, scheduled to appear on the original date, were unable to appear Monday night but letters were read from them by Fulton J. Downing, general chairman of the dinner. Those writing included Gov. J. Caleb Boggs, U. S. Senator John J. Williams, George A. Hamid (who has provided grandstand entertainment for the Kent & Sussex Fair for many years), and J. A. Schwab, manager of the Chesapeake Region of the Pennsylvania Railroad for which Dr. Chipman has been physician for many years.

H. C. Brown, native of Harrington and former deputy attorney general of Kent County, now residing outside of Camden, was the principal speaker.

He had competition, for speakers preceding him, stole a lot of his thunder. He performed creditably, however, telling amusing incidents in the life of the physician and some very interesting data on his background. Dr. Chipman was born in Laurel, Jan. 18, 1891. His ancestors came from England and their name was Chippenham. The doctor graduated from Laurel High School in 1907 and attended a private school in Baltimore before graduating from the University of Maryland Medical School in 1912.

He was an intern at a Lancaster (Pa.) Hospital and also at Grace Hospital, Detroit, said Brown. He practiced a year in Detroit before being advised to return to the country for health reasons. Continuing Brown said, "He built the house in Felton now occupied by the Fletcher Nursing Home and stayed there five years. He went back to Detroit for a year and returned to Delaware in November, 1920, because of the ill health of his father."

This time he settled in Harrington on Weiner Avenue. There was a Dr. Thompson in town then, but he left in 1922 and until 1933 the town had only Dr. Chipman. In 1933, Mayor Hewitt Smith, also a physician, settled here.

Walker L. Mifflin Will Resign As Jury Commissioner

Walker L. Mifflin, 2 North State Street, Dover, veteran Kent County Jury Commissioner, tendered his resignation from that office to Resident Judge William J. Storey Monday.

Mr. Mifflin has served as Jury Commissioner in Kent County for almost 35 years and has held the longest tenure of public service in the county of any present official.

With his associate Jury Commissioner, Earle N. Faulkner, of Rising Sun, Mr. Mifflin recently officiated at the empanelling of a petty jury for service at the March term of the county courts. His action in resigning Monday made his selection of the March jury panel his last official act in his office.

In discussing the matter Mr. Mifflin said that he had enjoyed the work through the long term of years and he greatly appreciated the assistance that had been accorded to him from time to time by various county officials.

However, Mr. Mifflin explained, the work of the Jury Commissioner is becoming more laborious these days, with panels of additional jurors having to be drawn, and he said "I am not getting any younger, so I thought it would be best to stop."

When some regular court officials were informed of Mr. Mifflin's resignation, they expressed regret over his act but at the same time highly praised him for the sense of devotion he displayed in the office.

A successor for Mr. Mifflin will be appointed by Judge Storey.

TRANE COMPANY COMPLETES PURCHASE OF LOCAL LAND

Quillens Inspect Naval Vessels in Dominican Rep.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Quillen, who are vacationing in the Dominican Republic, were guests recently of the lieutenant commander of the USS Lloyd Thomas, a destroyer of the Atlantic Fleet, on Exercise Springboard in the Caribbean Sea.

Writing from the El Embajador Hotel in Cuidad Trujillo, the Quillens wrote they were taken on a complete tour of the ship, with the commander explaining every department in detail.

The previous week, the Aircraft Carrier Valley Forge and her escorts were in the Trujillo harbor three days. The carrier had a crew of more than 2500 when, added to the crews of the escorts, made a total of around 4000, said Mr. Quillen.

"It has a great effect on a city of this size, which has a population of around 200,000. Wherever you went, you could see a United States sailor. We took a ride in the country this afternoon and about ten miles from the city we saw a sailor sitting in front of one of the native huts making himself right at home. This goes to show how resourceful an American can be.

A great number of our friends were guests of the carrier last week, but we had no friend of influence to invite us. You can imagine how happy we were when we met the commander last night and got an invitation direct from him. After the inspection was made of the ship, we had dinner with us and enjoy an evening of dancing and entertainment.

"Have met more interesting people in the past month than I had ever hoped to meet. Met one of the maharajas from India today. He had recently married one of the Dominican girls. I never saw more charming women than these Dominicans. One can readily understand why one will leave his native land to live with such resourceful people. After a nice visit with the maharaja and his wife we were told they would be back to see us again. In the meantime, if there was anything we wanted, to get in touch with them.

"Said they had an automobile and would be delighted to take us on a tour of the island. His wife told us that she had two brothers going to General Hospital in Baltimore, studying medicine, and she would write them and have them get in touch with us. Looks as if we will have some Dominican guests this summer.

"The weather remains about as perfect as one can ask for. We swim and lay in the sun every day. We feel sorry for our friends who went to Florida looking for sunshine.

Registration forms for the tenth annual Firemen's Short Course have been mailed to every Volunteer Fire Company in the State by the Educational Committee of the Delaware Volunteer Firemen's Association.

The Short Course will be held at Camden - Wyoming on two weekends, April 12-13 and 19-20. Charles H. Jester, chairman of the Educational Committee and director of the short course, is requesting the co-operation of every fire chief throughout the state in getting the registration forms returned to him not later than March 15. The registration fee of $10 per man is to be submitted with the forms.

In registering, the school director is asking all firemen to select the course he wishes to attend, and further requests that no changes be made in the selection when reporting for classes. Full credits cannot be given if a change in course is requested after the school once gets underway.

Sen. Frear Says Congress May Be Economy-Minded This Year

United States Senator J. Allen Frear indicated today that Congress may be quite economy-minded this year when it comes to approving additional funds for foreign aid.

In his weekly statement Mr. Frear called attention to the new White House recommendations for Mutual Security. The President has asked for about 4-billion dollars for the next fiscal year.

However, Mr. Frear emphasized that many people are demanding a sharp reduction in foreign expenditures and a proportionate increase in Federal assistance here at home to stimulate the local economy.

Senator Frear recalled his earlier support for foreign aid and noted that the program was conceived as a temporary measure at its inception. But he added, "It seems rather apparent that the program is to be indefinitely continued into the future."

Continued the Senator, "Our free allies overseas are an important bulwark to the United States. We need and want their continued friendly alliance. By the same token, the American people cannot overlook their own needs especially during the present economic slowdown. Congress should, therefore, examine the question of foreign aid in light of our over-all policies both foreign and domestic."

Communication System Was of Great Importance In Clearing Snow

The radio communication system maintained by the Communication Division of the State Highway Department, was of great importance in the efforts of the department in snow removal, according to A. W. Joseph, Maintenance Engineer for the Department.

"Considerable time was saved in moving the snow removal crews from place to place, where their services were urgently needed, through having the radio system in action", stated Mr. Joseph.

"Likewise", said Mr. Joseph, "The radio system was of great assistance in taking care of emergency situations, since the location of the snow plows was checked and those closest to the point of emergency could be dispatched to provide the relief."

The State Highway Department radio system was installed more than a year ago, under the direction of Samuel S. P. Stant, then director of the division. It covers the entire State in Highway Department operations.

The radio system proved of value to the Department in combating the effects of several bad northeast storms along the coastline.

The system is used regularly in maintenance work since all of the trucks in use for that purpose are equipped with radios and can be contacted from any of the sending stations that are conveniently located throughout the State.

Since the present radio communication system has been installed by the Highway Department, its working has been examined and studied by Highway Departments in other States, and it is being used as a model installation for Civil Defense work.

Delmarva's $125-million a year broiler industry, beset by competition from other meats and other broiler areas, last night set out to raise a record $125,000 for telling the story of its product to millions of housewives during the coming year.

Occasion was the kick-off dinner for the 1958-59 Delmarva Poultry Industry Fund Drive at the English Grill in Salisbury, Md. Present were approximately 80 growers, processors and suppliers to the industry from all parts of the peninsula who paid for their own meal and who volunteered their help to campaign chairman Ed McCauley of Seaford during the next two months to raise the $125,000. They plan to solicit all branches of the poultry industry during the campaign and plan an appeal for promotion funds also to business men and others who benefit indirectly from the peninsula's mightiest agricultural industry.

Keynote speaker at the dinner meeting was Sterling White of Delmar, president last year of the industry's own promotion agency, the Delmarva Poultry Industry, Inc. In outlining the basic need for a sizeable promotion fund, he said, "Our aim in telling our story to consumers is simply to have people think of Delmarva when they go to buy chickens, just as so many of them now think of Maine or Idaho when they go to buy potatoes and of Vermont when they buy a bottle of maple syrup."

Fund chairman McCauley pointed out that it takes time and money to get across the Delmarva idea to millions of housewives and said that both Delmarva and the poultry industry in general were far behind most competing commodity groups in the amount they spend in promoting their products.

He briefly outlined the dozens of promotion ventures which DPI had sponsored during the past year to carry the Delmarva message to consumers and estimated that the $100,164 his committee had raised in last year's fund drive had resulted in some 10 to 15 million more Delmarva broilers being eaten in preference to other meats that would have been the case otherwise. It would have taken much lower prices than were actually experienced to move these extra broilers if an intensive promotion and selling job had not been carried on, he said.

Both McCauley and White said that consumer use of chicken was steadily rising and that it was up to Delmarva to make sure it got its share of the increased production needed.

Delaware Food Market Report

With the Lenten season here many of our menus will feature seafoods and dishes that can be substituted for meat. For you who will be placing extra fish on the weekly marketing list, there will be plenty of fresh, frozen or canned seafood to choose from.

Butterfish, crab meat, fish sticks, oysters, sea bass, shrimp, and whiting are the seafoods to look for when you go shopping this week. The supplies of smoked fish and dried fish are fairly good now, and will help to vary the menu.

When cooking fresh fish here are a few pointers that will help you. First: Never leave fresh fish soaking in water, it removes the flavor and makes the flesh flabby. Wash quickly, drain and dry on paper toweling. Second: rub fish with fresh lemon juice before cooking to improve flavor and remove some of the fish odor. After preparing fish, rub hands with salt and lemon juice just before washing—it does wonders in removing the odors.

Have you tried any new fish recipes lately? Baking, frying, and broiling, are standard methods most homemakers know well. For a change, try fish in casserole dishes, combined with canned or frozen corn, with potatoes or noodles and cheese, or with rice. For another pleasant variation, fish chowders are tasty and appetizing, a meal in themselves. Or you might try a tempting seafood platter, combining a variety of shellfish.

Dried prunes head the list on the March plentiful foods list issued by the United States Department of Agriculture. There are dried prunes, ready-cooked prunes, and prune juice to choose from. Even the baby can enjoy this fruit—strained prune baby food. Other plentiful are canned and frozen peas or corn, also fresh and canned apples, and fresh pork. Eggs are also plentiful and prices are relatively low.

Spring is beginning to appear at the vegetable counter—fresh asparagus is arriving in limited supply and with price high—but how good they do taste; lots of scallions are available (2 bunches for 25 cents) and cantaloups and honeydews can be bought now also. The best buys however, are lettuce, celery, spinach, rutabagas and potatoes.

By MRS. DAVE (PAT) SMITH

We sure can't complain about the weather this past week. Last Sunday it was 78. A beautiful day for the Kissimmee Rodeo. And what a crowd. I think all of Florida showed up for it. You just can't imagine how colorful anything like that is till you go and see for your self. If you didn't have your tickets in advance you were out of luck. What I like is all the gorgeous costumes, western style. Everyone that had cameras colored or movie had a field day. Along with the staff from the Orlando Sentinel, and Star.

The exhibition of cattle was something else. More or less on the county fair proposition. The Miller Shows were on the midway and just starting out everything was in top order. They had the largest western display in the country. The truck was as large as one of Earl Thomas' horse trucks. And why do you have to have all carnal corn when you visit one of those places, or hamburgers? Is it the smell or just to be in the mood for everything to eat? Why I even came home with three extra bags of carnal corn. My mouth watered for the candy floss all the youngsters were buying. But I passed that up. And all the frivolous things they sell it makes you want to be a kid again. I would stop at all the concessions, till Dave would say, "Come on Pat." I just went for a good time and I had it. Now what would you have done, if you had had the same opportunity? You would have said, "Oh, to be a kid again."

I'm not writing about horses today, for I think you hear enough about them. And its the same old story so and so is going all they can go. Which most are not. So to heck with horses this week.

About all the boys and families down here went over to Daytona Beach to watch the NASCAR races. Which is National Stock Car. Now really that was something to see with the ocean for background and those cars roaring past you at 160 miles per hour. The car that went fast was a Ford convertible at that. Dave asked me if I had any idea as to how fast that car could go. Not me, I always had a bad thought in my mind there at Harrington when I used to pass the street which I gave as the name, "The Last Mile" to Gooden Callaway's office. Course, now it has moved. Its still the last mile when you have to pay

Cub Scout News

The committee of the Cub Scout Pack 76 held a meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Kohel last Thursday evening. The final arrangements for the Blue and Gold Banquet were completed. The banquet will be held Feb. 28 in the Harrington School cafeteria at 6 p.m. Each family will pay $1.50 which will be turned into his den mother and bring a covered dish.

The Cub Scouts visited the Church of the Nazarene Sunday and the Rev. Otzinger welcomed the Cubs and families. The visit was made in commemoration of Scout Week.

Dens 1 and 5 made a very interesting trip last month to the Milford Radio Station. The theme for January "Movie Makers" made this trip an interesting one.

The next committee meeting will be held March 21 at the home of Mrs. Dale Boling. The March Pack meeting will be held March 28.

The next thing I'm going to a fine.

visit this coming week is, the Sentinel Star Silver Dollar Cruise and I'm wondering if I can take the boat ride. I just get plain dizzy out on the water. But I'm going to try. It starts at Mount Dora, which is 40 miles from here, then on to Ocala at Silver Springs, then to Welaka, then on down to Lake George ending up in the St. John's river only 10 miles from here which is at Sanford. A distance of 125 miles.

I know that there are a lot of boat lovers around Harrington that would just love to take that trip. They say, that it is sheltered water. What ever that means. Guess no seaweed. Just hope the weather will be pretty and warm. I'd rather go fishing on the trip. But that is out.

Another thing that has opened up on Orange Blossom Trail about 15 miles from Orlando is the beautiful Bible Land. The place is always packed with tourists. Course it has been there for years but now since they remodeled and painted it they call it the New Bible Land. Where Christ rose from the tomb is really something you would always remember. With Easter coming on the crowds will increase every day. Another thing is the Passion Play, that is going on down to Lake Wales. They say the cold hasn't hurt them a bit. Before its over I hope to go down there with the carols from Bok Tower. It must be wonderful. I have been all through that territory and stayed at the hotel there but only rode out to the out door theatre to see the place. The play wasn't on then.

Well next week the Orlando Fair is on so here we go again. I'll be there, weather permitting. I missed Don Eagle last week. Too good TV programs on Mondays nights.

The dish provides only 150 calories per serving, including the fresh mushrooms stuffing, and is made with inexpensive fillets, such as cod, haddock or flounder. Cook garlic in melted butter. Brush fillets with melted butter and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Spread fillets with stuffing. Roll each one and fasten with toothpick. Pour tomato sauce over fish in shallow pan. Bake at 350 degrees.

Brown mushrooms and onion in butter. Combine with remaining ingredients.

Tests Made of Floor Covering

How much it costs is only one question people ask when they are choosing a floor covering for kitchen, laundry, bath or elsewhere in the house. They also ask about wear and appearance—how well the material resists wear and how wear affects its good looks.

Tests on wear of several different kinds of floor coverings used in home were used in homes were made recently by the Texas Experiment Station.

A report of the tests received said materials tested were: vinyl tiles, rubber tiles, vinyl asbestos linoleums, linotiles, cork and asphalt tiles.

Findings indicated in the report were:

Vinyl tiles and rubber tiles are most resistant to wear, asphalt tiles least resistant.

Maintenance advised by manufacturers of floor coverings usually includes waxing and a method of cleaning off old wax before applying a new coat. The study showed that such maintenance helps keep up the appearance of all floor coverings, but it helps only the linoleums and the cork tiles resist wear.

Dark, solid color in most floor coverings shows most wear. The

4-H Foundation, IFYE Birthdays Marked

The National 4-H Club Foundation and the International Farm Youth Exchange program are observing their 10th anniversary, Wayne Bath, acting state 4-H Club leader, said today.

Notable among Delaware's contributions to the foundation's IFYE program has been sending of delegates to Germany and India. In 1951, the then Miss Helen Samendinger, Newark, went to Germany. The next year Vaughn Fox, Bear, now in the Air Force, was a delegate to India.

Seven exchanges from Wales, Switzerland, India, Germany, Scotland, and England have been visitors to this state.

Mr. Bath said the foundation and the IFYE program were established by the Cooperative Extension Service in 1948. United States delegates went to England, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Holland, France and Italy.

Among foundation accomplishments in the past decade in addition to operating the IFYE program has been establishment of a National 4-H Club Center in Chevy Chase, Md. Delaware 4-H'ers raised $241 for developing the center. It will be in operation in 1959.

The IFYE program has grown from a small exchange with western Europe to an intensively planned, world-wide program for peace. From 1948 through 1957, a total of 894 U. S. delegates representing 44 states and Alaska went to 58 other countries, while 1,032 exchanges from 60 countries came to the United States to live with farm families in 45 states, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico. Over 8,000 U. S. farm exchange, have served as hosts families, an average of eight per to the grass roots ambassadors.

One purpose of the IFYE program is to enable rural young people to become acquainted with ways of life in other countries in order to improve international understanding.

A year ago Tom Stephens lost his watch plowing at Ruan Minor, Cornwall. The other day he plowed it up again, wound it and it ran again.

exception is rubber tile. Dark-colored rubber tiles changes in appearance less than lighter colors.

Floor coverings in farm homes often are subject to extra heavy wear because sand or other soil is brought in on heavy work shoes. The tests showed that a dry abrasive on all floor coverings except cork. Cork wears down faster when the abrasive is dry.

Fact Sheet Explains Food Needs

Food needs of adults and young people are explained in a new Delaware Home Economics Extension Service fact sheet that breaks nutritional requirements into four groups varying little from the basic seven food groups homemakers have used for years.

Author of the new publication, Miss Marjorie J. Wormeck, extension nutritionist at the University of Delaware, said the four groups are milk, meat, vegetable-fruit, and bread-cereal.

The four-food grouping was developed recently by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

In outlining food recommendations in the fact sheet, Miss Wormeck pointed to whole, evaporated, skim, dry and buttermilk in the milk group, along with cheese and ice cream. Making up the meat group, she said, are beef, veal, pork, lamb, poultry, ham, fish, eggs, dry beans and peas, and nuts. Cornmeal, crackers, rice, ready-to-eat cereal, bread, rolled oats, spaghetti, baked goods made from whole grain or enriched flour, noodles, cooked cereals, macaroni, flour and grits—if they are whole grain, enriched, or restored—are in the bread-cereal group. All fruits and vegetables go into the vegetable-fruit group.

Daily requirements plus vitamins, protein, minerals and other nutritional benefits are explained in the sheet.

The recipe for better farming, better living will be sent on request from county extension offices or the University of Delaware school of agriculture in Newark. Mention the publication on four food groups HE-5 (N).

Drunken Driving Case Dismissed

Judge Ernest V. Keith has handed down a decision in Court of Common Pleas acquitting First Lt. John W. Moore, attached to the Dover Air Force Base, of a charge of operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor.

The officer was arrested by state police on the charge last Sept. 15 near Dover. While the drunken driving charge was dismissed, he was held guilty, with sentence to be imposed on March 5, on a charge of operating an automobile during period of license revocation.

The section of North State Street Extended, where the drunken driving offense by Moore was alleged to have taken place, is too short a distance to have determined his driving ability, the Court commented.

The roads there are somewhat confusing to the average motorist, and from that point on the evidence seemed to substantiate that the defendant did nothing of any consequence that would indicate improper driving ability, the court's opinion set forth.

Further, the court cited, Moore could pass normal physical sobriety tests.

Moore's license had been revoked some time previously as a result of a drunken driving offense.

The officer is awaiting trial in Superior Court on a charge of manslaughter, to which he has pleaded innocent, resulting from the death of a fellow officer, First Lt. Michael J. McCormick, in an automobile accident last Dec. 22. The car in which McCormick was a passenger is alleged to have been operated by Moore.

Henry J. Ridgely is counsel for Moore.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Q—I understand VA benefit checks now can be forwarded by the Post Office. Is this automatic, or do veterans still have to give some sort of notice if they move?

A—Veterans still must give notice. They must file a regular change-of-address form with their local Post Office. And they still should notify VA, so the agency may keep its record current.

Q—I had a World War II GI term insurance policy which lapsed in 1946. Is it too late to reinstate or renew it?

A—Yes. Application for reinstatement of GI term insurance must have been made within the policy's term period. Since your term insurance expired, it is too late to reinstate it.

Q—I am eligible for both VA compensation and pension. I chose compensation because the payments would be higher. If conditions should change so it would be more advantageous to receive pension payments, will VA make the switch automatically?

A—No. VA may not make such changes automatically. You must request the change.

Q—I am eligible for War Orphans schooling, but as a Korea veteran I previously took training under the Korean GI Bill. May I still receive the full amount of 36 months of War Orphans education?

A—No. Your entitlement will have to be reduced by the amount of training you received under the Korean GI Bill.

TODAY'S MODERN BROILER INDUSTRY—ECONOMIC LIFELOOD OF DELMARVA

From backyard flock to Big Business in hardly more than a generation is the story of the poultry industry of the Delmarva Peninsula as revealed in a report made public today.

Details of its present giant size and what the industry now means to the economic lifeblood and financial well-being of the Eastern Shore are shown in a month-long survey just finished yesterday by committees of growers, processors, hatcherymen, feed manufacturers and supply dealers.

Last year, the infant industry that got its start in farm backyards on the Delmarva Peninsula in the 1920's grew nearly 180-million chickens, the committees reported. Its total 1957 payroll amounted to almost $45 million; its feed bill was $67 million; cost of baby chicks totaled $22 million and the industry paid taxes of over a million and a quarter dollars.

A total of 12,697 people worked directly in some branch of the industry, either on farms, in processing plants, for feed manufacturers, hatcheries and suppliers, says Sterling White of Deimar, general chairman for the economic survey. Additional thousands of people worked in such places as by-products, ice plants and other businesses not entirely a part of the industry and not covered by the survey, he said.

Delmarva's 5,000 broiler houses, averaging 10,000 birds capacity each, are worth over $60 million, including their equipment, the survey showed, and this does not take into account the value of the fields or the other buildings and homes on the farm, including dwellings. Processing plants on the peninsula, including their equipment, are worth about $15 million, according to the survey.

Keeping chickens in good health brought a vaccination bill of $2,700,000 last year, and keeping chicks warm cost almost $4 million for fuel, the survey committees found. Containers for the chicks, feed and processed chickens alone involved the staggering outlay of more than $9 million for such items as bags, tags, crates, boxes and other packaging products.

Transportation costs for feed, chickens and supplies were more than $13 million and the electric bill for growers, processors and suppliers came near the $2 million mark.

Government and private inspection costs to assure the high standards of Delmarva poultry products for consumers cost Delmarva processors over $350,000 last year and it even set them back $73,880 just to weigh the chickens so that both grower and processor would get fair measure.

Some $54 million of growers' business was done on credit extended them by processors, feed houses, suppliers and banks. Litter and spraying of houses for cleanliness cost $1,350,000 and fire insurance premiums and other insurance costs totaled $850,000. Even the legal profession, accountants and other professional services came in for a $356,000 slice of the industry's gross receipts.

Delmarva has plenty of room to grow, the surveys showed. Its processing plants operated at only 75 per cent of capacity last year—and that figure was based only on a 40 hour week. If the plants had worked two 8-hour shifts at full capacity, they could have turned out more than 400 million birds ready for consumers to cook and eat.

Brokers' commissions on the Shore for handling chickens and getting them into trade channels totaled almost half a million dollars and employees' welfare funds in processing plants amounted to over a quarter of a million dollars. Telephone calls, telegrams and stamps used to conduct the industry's business came to half a million dollars.

"No other agricultural business in the world has ever grown to such giant size in so short a time," said DPI President, John Hargreaves of Federalsburg, Md., in summing up the survey findings. "With a weekly payroll approaching the million-dollar mark, buildings and equipment worth $100 million, and a total yearly business of about $156 million, the poultry industry of the Delmarva Peninsula ranks as the most important single industry on the Shore. Birthplace of the broiler industry as it is, Delmarva has seen its fledgling idea of a generation ago mushroom nationally into a giant that does more than a billion-and-a-half business a year. The broiler business now ranks among the industrial and agricultural giants of the world."

Rafael Mendez Returns To Campus

For the second straight year, Rafael Mendez, acclaimed as one of the greatest trumpet virtuosi in musical history, will be featured soloist with the University of Delaware symphonic band in a concert next Wednesday in Mitchell Hall on the Newark campus at 8:15 p.m.

This was announced yesterday by J. Robert King, assistant professor of music and director of the band. Mr. Mendez' appearance is being made possible through the Tony Mitchell Memorial Fund.

A concert performer since the age of six, Mr. Mendez has played with more than a dozen symphony orchestras, including the Hollywood Bowl Orchestra, the Mexico City and the Carnegie Hall Symphony. Excelling in all types of trumpet performance, he has appeared on numerous network television shows in the United States and Mexico.

He has also served as soloist clinician to several hundred bands and orchestras in high schools, colleges and universities throughout the United States. A member of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, Mr. Mendez has published many compositions, arrangements and educational materials.

Last year's concert, which was well received by a capacity audience, marked the first time in the history of the university band that it had played with a guest soloist.

The success of last year's performance and the enjoyment and valuable educational experience which the students gained from working with the renowned musician were instrumental in the music department's making the decision to invite Mr. Mendez back to the campus, according to Mr. King.

Tickets for the concert, which is open without charge, may be obtained from the music department or at the Mitchell Hall box office.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Sullivan of Milford, visited Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Matthews and Jo Anne Saturday, also Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smith.

Ensilage Next Spring For Summer Feed

"Many dairymen are planning to put up grass silage this spring to feed out in summer if the need arises."

So says George Vapaa, county agricultural agent, when pointing to a possible feed shortage next summer—a situation common during July and August when pastures are not productive except on low, wet ground.

The agent said about 50 per cent of all Delaware Greener Pastures members after the last drought season indicated using one or more of these methods of obtaining silage in spring:

- 1. Harvesting small grains, rye grass, crimson clover and vetch—or various combinations of these.
2. Fencing off a area of pasture not needed in the spring and cutting the grass for silage.
3. Using first-cutting alfalfa to make excellent silage.
4. Putting extra nitrogen from a 10-10-10 fertilizer on pastures or small grain-clover mixtures to economically produce additional silage through "forced" growth.

New Vegetables For Home Gardens

Four new vegetables for trial in home gardens were suggested today by George Vapaa, county agricultural agent, even though he said it is generally best to continue planting standard varieties.

The new vegetables are all America winners selected after tests by 23 different experiment stations in various parts of the country and Canada.

In describing the new vegetables, the county agent said they are Pearlgreen bush snapbean, Choctaw wax snap bean, Ruby Queen beet, and Ruby lettuce. Their description—a white-seeded variety that may be used for all purposes: fresh snaps, canning freezing, and as dry shell beans. It is stringless and fiberless at the tender eating stage and is a prolific bearer.

Choctaw—a rich yellow-podded bush bean of exceptional bearing qualities. It is stringless and fiberless at the eating stage and looks promising for those who plant a wax variety. Ruby Queen—a globular form of the beet family of the richest blood red interior. The tops are fine for greens and the plants may be attractively bunched for market if desired.

Ruby—colorful, curled and ruffled variety, the reddest of all leaf lettuce varieties. Of the loose-leaf type, it holds its rich bronzy-red color even in sun and heat. It might well be planted in the flower border and be used in salads to add color.

Motor Vehicle Registrations

There was a total of 178, 811 motor vehicle registrations of all types in operation in this state February 1st, according to the records of the Motor Vehicle Department. This is an increase of 6,229 registrations over the same period of last year.

Of these registrations, 106,099 were in Wilmington and New Castle County, an increase of 6,209 for the year, 39,593 were in Kent County, a decrease of 1,388 for the year, and 33,159 were in Sussex County, an increase of 1,408 over last year.

Officials of the Motor Vehicle Department explained the Kent County decrease as being caused by the issuance of titles at the branch offices, instead of just in Dover, a system that was started during the year, causing some titles to be issued at the branch offices and less in Dover.

The record reveal that statewide there were 128,259 registrations for pleasure cars, 34,519 commercial vehicles, 11,233 trailers, 290 tractors, 661 motorcycles, one stock car and 3,828 farm trucks.

New Castle County had 82,578 pleasure cars, 19,146 commercial vehicles, 3,563 trailers, 154 tractors, one stock car and 182 farm trucks.

The record for Kent County showed 23,755 pleasure cars, 8,277 commercial vehicles, 5,603 trailers, about half of the trailers in the state, 103 tractors, 164 motorcycles and 1,491 farm trucks.

In Sussex County there were 21,926 pleasure cars, 7,096 commercial vehicles, 1,867 trailers, 33 tractors, 82 motorcycles and 2,155 farm trucks.

Highway Department To Advertise Two Construction Projects

The State Highway Department will soon advertise two construction projects that are designed for improvement of existing traffic conditions and also provide for anticipated future traffic needs for the area they serve.

However, R. A. Haber, Chief Engineer of the Highway Department, has announced that the awarding of contracts for these projects will depend upon the satisfactory sale of State bonds this week.

The two projects are the improvement of the Lancaster Pike, from Centre Road to duPont Road, and the improvement of Division Street, in Dover, for its entire distance, from Route 13, the duPont Highway, west to Salisbury Road, at the western limits of Dover.

Mr. Haber said the Lancaster Pike project provides for the widening of the existing highway to 44 feet, with the paving from curb to curb, and also for some slight adjustments in the alignment of the highway at several points.

The project is 1.16 miles in length and covers an area that has a large amount of traffic serving adjacent residential areas in addition to the through traffic using this route between Wilmington and other metropolitan areas.

The Division Street project also provides for a 44 foot highway, with paving from curb to curb, and will entail widening to provide for this width, particularly east of State Street, in Dover.

The project provides for the reconstruction of the existing bridge over the St. Jones River, near the Dover power plant, with the bridge being designed similar to other bridges over this stream in the Dover area.

Included in the project is the improvement of Forest Street, from the intersection at Division Street, on the west, to the intersection with Lookerman Street, on the east.

Forest Street will likewise be widened to 44 feet, and will provide for paving from curb to curb. In addition, two small connecting traffic lanes will be constructed close to both intersections to provide for one-way traffic movement at each intersection.

Division Street is a part of Route 8, which extends from the Delaware Bay to the Delaware-Maryland line, and handles a large amount of traffic for the Chesapeake Bay Bridge, as well as traffic feeding into many local highways in the western section of the State.

Mr. Haber said that both projects include the construction of a large amount of storm water sewer in order to provide adequate drainage for the areas adjacent to the highways.

Both projects are Federal-Aid projects and both are expected to provide for much employment in their respective areas. Completion dates for the projects, nor their estimated costs, have not been announced at this time.

Fuel Taxes Received For December

While unfavorable weather conditions during December was believed to have interfered with traffic and caused less driving on the highways, this condition was not reflected in the collection of motor fuel taxes for the month.

The motor fuel taxes collected during December, which were received during January, showed an increase over the amount of these taxes received for the same month of the previous year.

The Motor Fuel Tax Division of the State Highway Department reports that motor fuel taxes for December, which were received by the Division during January totaled $674,706.29.

The amount received for December was an increase of $13,824.80 over the amount received for December of the previous year, $45,725.15 more than was received for December of 1957 and an increase of $117,157.47 over December of 1954.

The taxes received for the month of December represented the sale of 13,494,125 gallons of motor fuel, which was 877,695 gallons more than were sold during December of the previous year.

The report indicated there were a total of 54 concerns bonded as distributors of motor fuel in this state during the month of December and of that number, five reported no sales for the month.

On the other hand, five concerns reported sales that accounted for a total of $425,323.93, or just about 62 per cent of the total taxes collected for the month.

These concerns, and the amount of taxes reported by each, were Atlantic Refining Co., $85,205.58; Esso Standard Oil Co., $124,888; Gulf Oil Corp., $109,530.21; Sun Oil Co., $42,416.35 and the Texas Co., $63,283.59.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Notes

Sunday evening the Very Rev. Lloyd E. Gressle, Dean and Rector of the Cathedral Church of St. John Wilmington, was guest preacher at St. Stephen's. The service at 7 p. m., Feb. 23, was the first in a series of six evening Lenten services for 9-58.

This Sunday, March 2, the Rev. Richard M. Frelease, Jr., Rector of St. Andrew's Church, Wilmington, will be the preacher at St. Stephen's service of evening prayer.

Other guest preachers include the following distinguished church leaders. The Rev. Joseph Koci, Jr., Rector of St. Anne's Church and Vicar of Old St. Anne's Middletown; The Rev. Walden Pell, II, S. T. D., former headmaster of St. Andrew's School, Middletown, now a resident of Elkton; The Rev. Brewster I. Beach, Canon Preceptor, Cathedral Church of St. John, Wilmington, and diocesan director of Christian Education; The Rev. Thomas Dix Bowers, rector of St. James Church, Accomack, Virginia, and rector of St. George's Church, Pungoetague, Va.; the Rt. Rev. J. Brooke Mosley, D. D., S. T. D., Bishop of Delaware.

Acolytes for the first Sunday in Lent were Frank Welch, Albert Lee Ratledge, Roy Porter, Gary Porter, Ronnie Correll, and Robert Greer.

The pancake supper on Shrove Tuesday was quite successful and well attended despite the bitter cold. There will be no church suppers during the Lenten season.

The dance committee of St. Stephen's has planned a semi-formal dance for the week after Easter, Friday, April 11. It will take place at the Dover Hotel with music furnished by Art Mann and his orchestra from the Wilmington Country Club. Mrs. Herbert L. Chamberlain will have charge of tickets for the occasion.

Many persons in this area will be interested to know that Robert A. Moss, instructor in mathematics and sacred studies, and assistant to the headmaster at Groton School in Massachusetts, will become headmaster at St. Andrew's School, Middletown, on Sept. 1 of this year. He will succeed the Rev. Walden Pell, II, who resigned after being headmaster of the Episcopal boys' school since its founding in 1930.

Mr. Moss is a native of Philadelphia and a graduate of Princeton University. He has also studied at the Union Theological Seminary, the Episcopal Theological School at Cambridge and St. Andrews University Scotland.

Chairman of the committee on Building and Grounds at St. Stephen's, Robert L. Nelson has been more than usually busy during the past weeks. Ever conscientious in discharging his responsibilities, he took upon himself numerous other duties such as adjusting heaters, cleaning sidewalks, mending broken chairs, and he also had much snow shoveling added to his already busy schedule. Sidewalks in front of the church and the Parish House have been kept clear for all "comers and goers."

At the annual congregation meeting our vicar gave special recognition to Mr. Nelson for his faithful performance of his responsibilities.

Lent is a time of "Turning unto the Lord." In the Old Testament the demand was usually for a literal change in the people's way of life. It means to most of us a turning away from a great many things "that are irrelevant and unimportant and looking instead to eternal values."

Last Sunday was an outstanding date in the program of our Church School. On the First Sunday in Lent the mite boxes were distributed to members of St. Stephen's Sunday School and a dedication service with a prayer blessing the mite boxes was held in the church. The children's hymns, sung for this occasion were "Fairest Lord Jesus," "Father of Mercy, Lover of All Children."

The 1958 mite box offering will go to the missionary district of Salina, Kansas, and to Japan. Sixteen clergy in twenty-eight Episcopal missions and parishes comprise the church's force in the fifty thousand square miles of the missionary district of Salina. The Nippon Sei Ko Kwai (Church in Japan), is a self-governing branch of the Anglican Communion. Missionaries from the United States, Canada, and England helped establish the Japanese Church and guided it in the early stages until Japanese leadership was strong enough to carry on.

The February issue of "Now," official publication of the Episcopal Church in Delaware, has, on page 5, a picture of the Rev. James Birney, rector of St. Luke's, Seaford, being presented the Jaycee award for Seaford's "Young Man of the Year." In the presentation it was stated that in Mr. Birney's "brief but dynamic stay he had distinguished himself and added to the general well-being of the community." Members of St. Stephen's were happy to hear of the award. Mr. Birney is one of the five ministers in this area, who, along with our vicar, conducts the healing services at Seaford each Wednesday evening.

Several members of St. Stephen's Women's Auxiliary and vestry attended the World Day of Prayer service at Trinity Methodist Church, Feb. 2. The service was prepared by a group of women who are part of the Australian Council for the World Council of Churches. The theme of the service was the "Bread of Life."

Ushers for last Sunday were Messrs. Granville Hill and Clyde Perry.

The Rev. John R. Symonds, Jr., delivered the invocation at the testimonial dinner given Monday night in honor of Dr. W. T. Chipman.

of the medical profession and recounted his acquaintance with Dr. Chipman.

Back of the speakers' table was a brilliant floral piece, given by The First National Bank. Made of red and white carnations, it represented a caduceus, the emblem of the medical profession.

The book of remembrance was presented by Mrs. Sharp, chairman of the gift committee. In accepting, Dr. Chipman said "this is the most wonderful day of my life."

Leon Donovan, teacher in Harrington schools, gave two tenor solos, "Hills of Home," and "April Love" and did well.

Mrs. Larry Simpson and Mrs. William Simpson sang "An Old Fashioned Garden," "Gypsy Love Song," and "The Desert Song." Melvin Brobst accompanied the singers who performed admirably.

Dr. Chipman was a member of the State Board of Medical Examiners from 1941 to 1947, a member of the State Board of Health and was chief examiner for the Selective Service here. During World War II, he provided medical aid for German soldiers imprisoned at the Kent & Sussex Fairgrounds. He still corresponds with some of these.

For his part in the selective service, he has a certificate of commendation from President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The floral piece, the caduceus, was displayed this week at The First National Bank where pictures of the dinner are also on display. They were taken by A. B. Parsons who took the one The Journal is using this week.

Game and Fish Commission Will Assist Soil Bank Co-operators

All Delaware farmers who have signed up for the Soil Bank Program may apply for Korean and Sericic lespedeza free of charge for seeding portions of retired field adjacent to woodlands, fencerows and ditch banks.

In writing to all Soil Bank Co-operators this week, Director Norman G. Wilder commended the county committees for setting up seeding programs which will definitely benefit wildlife. Many new areas of cover and food which have been lacking on some farm lands will be available for wildlife.

If any farmer who is signed up in the acreage reserve does not receive a letter offering this assistance, he is urged to contact the Dover office of the Game and Fish Commission.

Game and Fish Commission Purchases River Front Land

The purchase of 22 additional acres of land bordering the Delaware River at old Augustine Beach, just south of Port Penn completes the acquisition of 98.6 acres of shore land by the Board of Game and Fish Commissioners.

The Commission paid a total of $52,000 for the 1.6 mile strip of land bordering the River.

Rodney M. Layton, president of the Board of Game and Fish Commissioners stated that "the Commission is convinced that this strategically located Delaware River shore property will be of great use to the public." He pointed out that rapidly expanding industrial and residential building in New Castle County was taking over recreational sites to the extent that public access to Delaware River had been seriously threatened.

WHEELER'S

Some like to see snow and some like to see sunshine, so it is hard to please all. With that in mind, we have selected for you and you many different patterns of wall paper, and I am sure we can suit you, if not, we have books where you can select your own exclusive patterns.

The last few days of sunshine, I am sure brought out of you that same old saying, "I have just got to get to my house cleaning."

You know the first thing you should do is look at the walls and see if they are begging you for some new wall paper. It will soon be a very busy time for our decorators and it is later than you think.

If money is tight, your credit is good, so why not come down to Wheeler's and make your selections now.

When a tenant moves out of a house what is the first thing a landlord does? Repaper, of course. Why? To make it more attractive, so, why shouldn't you repaper and make your own home more attractive.

The cheapest thing in decoration is wall paper. Ceilings 20 cents and some sides 25 cents. Single wall borders 2 cents a yard.
