

Legislators Hear Proponents Of Revision of City Charter

There is formidable opposition to the proposed revisions in Harrington's Charter, it was revealed Monday night at the City's representatives in the Legislature, at a meeting in the office of Magistrate L. Gooden Callaway.

Senator Peter Nechay, representing the Fourth Senatorial District, said he had received telephone calls and personal calls in the aggregate of 20 opposing the revisions. George Cain, representative of the Ninth Representative District, which covers most of Harrington, said he had encountered opposition, while Elmer Betts, representative from the Sixth Representative District, which takes in part of Harrington, had little to say.

The Charter revisions had been approved at the annual Citizens Meeting in January. A highly controversial revision would give the City the right to assess owners of abutting property for sewer installation.

Monday night's meeting was called by residents of Harrington Manor in favor of the amendment, Magistrate Callaway, a spokesman, said, however, that known opponents had been invited to attend the meeting and bring their allies. However, none appeared, and a motion to recommend the passage of the revision, with no changes, passed unanimously.

It was brought out, however, that any group could ask for riders on the bill which might prevent its passage.

Also present were Mayor Hewitt W. Smith, Councilmen Clarence Collins, George Exley, Jack Apt, and Allan Rutledge, and Ernest Killen, former mayor, who was moderator at the meeting.

The revision to the sewer code, in gist, would give the City the power to install sewers at its own pleasure, or at the request of property owners. If the City wished, it could assess the owners of abutting property all or part of the expense, and it could refund all or part of the money in water rentals or taxes.

Councilman Allan Rutledge, who lives in the manor, opened the meeting by saying, "We felt it was the practical way of getting the sewer to the manor." He didn't think it was fair, however, because of the rest of the City would not have to pay.

To put the sewer in the manor, even at the property owners expense, would entail a bond issue and referendum. Rutledge thought this would be onerous "but that is the way to get the job done."

Magistrate Callaway said he did not think the owners of extensive holdings in the community would approve a referendum for a bond issue wherein all taxpayers would pay for the sewer installations, but that they might okay one in which costs were to be born by the manor.

Carl Hill, manor resident who teaches at Greenwood, said there was a shield of heavy non-absorbent clay in Harrington and that it prevented drainage. "The plumbing systems don't run and it is insanitary. We do live out there in very adverse conditions."

He thought there was up to $300,000 in property in the manor and thought the owners were entitled to improvements.

He thought the owners of lots should want improvements. "We're willing to pay for it. Our property just gives us the bare necessities to get along with. Cesspools out there are an impossibility," he stated.

Mrs. Donald Kent said the Kents had lived in Harrington Manor eight and a half years and that they owned a house and additional lot. She explained that, because of poor drainage, it took her four and a half hours to wash a load of clothes. She added that the odor in the manor was horrible.

It was revealed, at the meeting, that some manor residents had had to build two cesspools. One resident said that, when the pools functioned improperly, he dug drains in the field. Another added he piped sewage away from his house. Some said the odor was so bad they couldn't sit outdoors in the summer evenings. One said his pool had cost $1000. Talks of burn out motors, fans were fairly frequent.

One resident said that, when prospective builders had inquired about building in the manor, he had advised against it.

School Board Receives Plan For High-School Building

The resignation of Mrs. Gertrude Gibson, fifth grade teacher, and the retiring of Miss Loretta Paskey, of the high-school faculty, were accepted at the meeting of the Harrington Special School District Board of Education Tuesday evening. Miss Paskey had taught 36 years.

J. C. Messner, superintendent, reported the application and authorization for federal funds as related to the children whose parents worked at the Dover Air Base was acknowledged and authorized by the State Board of Education. There are 51 pupils eligible.

A plan was presented for a 300-student high-school building. The superintendent will present a prospectus to the board after which a special meeting will be called to formulate plans.

The board granted the use of the building to the Rotary Club for the Beauty Contest if it desires to use it. They further authorized the use of the building for a sportsmen's banquet in April.

The three days lost, because of inclement weather, will be made up March 31, April 1 and June 10.

Two board members expressed a desire to attend the school board convention held in Miami, Fla., in April.

National Chicken Cooking Contest to Add More Contestants

One of the truly outstanding events of the annual Delmarva Chicken Festival is the National Chicken Cooking Contest and plans for making this year's contest a spectacular one are well underway. At a luncheon meeting Feb. 27, Mrs. K. Thomas Everngam, chairman for the 1958 Chicken Cooking Contest, met with members of her committee to discuss the many phases of this festival feature.

Two of the major changes made in the contest for this year will be the increasing of the limit of contestants in the Senior Division of the Cooking Contest from 100 to 120 and in the Junior Division, from 50 to 100; and, the changing of the chickens used by the contestants to 1 3/4 pounds to 3 1/2 pounds versus last year's sizes of 2 pounds to 3 1/4 pounds.

Contest applications in the amount of 10,000 copies are now being distributed through committee chairman, Mrs. K. Thomas Everngam, the D.U.I. Home Demonstration Agents, Home Economic Departments in high schools and colleges throughout the United States, nationally through the Girl Scout organization, the R.E.A., and the Eastern Shore Public Service and the Delaware Power and Light. Also, all past contestants of the contest will be mailed a copy. Approximately 2500 copies will be sent to New York City by the DPI for distribution throughout the Poultry and Egg National Board.

Plans are now under way to incorporate an entirely new feature in the annual Delmarva Chicken Festival; an Art Exhibit. Twelve members of the Art Exhibit committee met at a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Nance Hall Asher, committee chairman, Saturday, Mar. 1, to discuss rules and regulations for the exhibit. The exhibit will be open to professionals, amateurs, and children.

Frear Says There is Concern In Congress Over Economic Slowdown, Major Steps Will Be Undertaken

United States Senator J. Allen Frear said today that there is deepening concern in Congress because of the nation's continued economic slowdown, and he predicted that major steps to relieve unemployment will be undertaken by Congress as its immediate major responsibility.

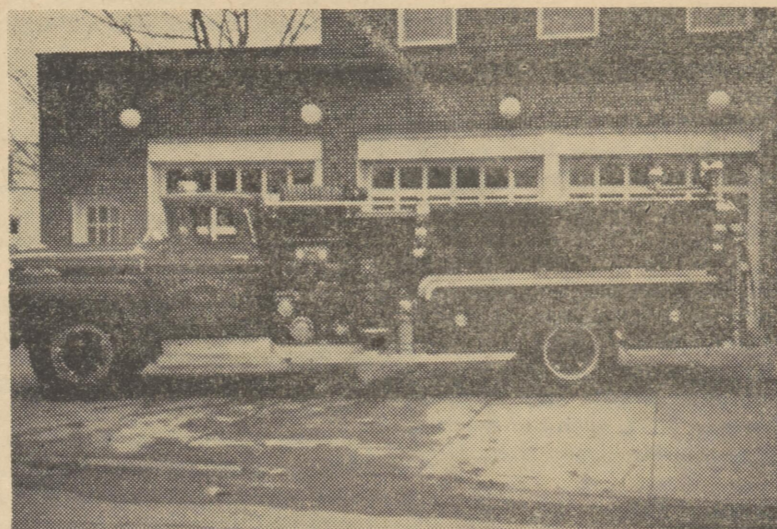

In this connection Mr. Frear called attention to the fact that the Senate this week will consider a housing bill to immediately stimulate residential construction. Following the bill, the Senate will take up legislation authorizing appropriations for highway construction and a bill relating to a public works agency.

Mr. Frear said that the unusually severe winter, which is not yet over, has been a contributing factor to unemployment because of forced delays in outside construction activities. However, he indicated that the over-all seriousness of the economic situation will undoubtedly encourage approval of increased Federal spending in several areas to stimulate local economic conditions.

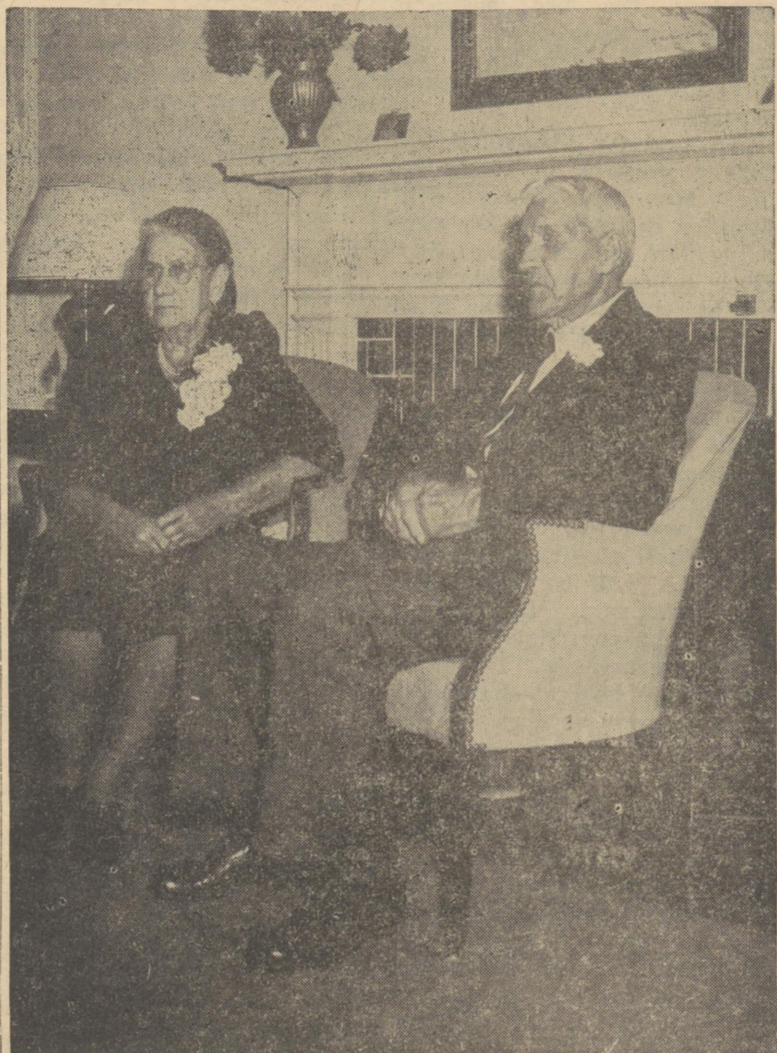

The Delaware Senator again referred to the possibility of tax relief and noted that amendments to achieve such relief may be offered to pending bills before the Senate Finance Committee. However, the Delaware lawmaker predicted that if a tax cut is approved such legislation will originate first in the House of Representatives and then be taken up by the Senate.

In again reviewing the problems of the economic picture here at home, Mr. Frear called attention to the possible world-wide repercussions of a United States recession and emphasized that it could have most serious results in the internal economics of pro-Western nations which are closely aligned with us in economic and military affairs.

$50,000 Blaze Destroys Plant At Ellendale

A fast spreading fire wrecked the Ellendale Excelsior plant at Ellendale late Friday afternoon with a loss of $50,000. Townspeople said about 50 workers would be idled by the spectacular blaze.

Firemen from two other towns joined local volunteers in battling the fire which started at 5:15 p.m. when sparks from a wood dust.

About 25 workers engaged in the structure at the time fled to safety but the flames spread with such lightning speed the place was afire throughout by the time the first fire-fighters arrived.

Local volunteers quickly requested aid from Milton and Milford and departments from those two towns joined in the battle which lasted more than three hours.

The one-story concrete block building, formerly owned by David Sills, is now operated by a New York firm. It is engaged in working pine wood into excelsior for a packing material.

Firemen were hampered by a lack of adequate water, and they utilized a well to replenish the supplies for their booster tanks.

Efforts of the firemen were credited with confining the fire to the structure, located near the railroad tracks. No other buildings were endangered.

All Backlog Secondary Roads Limited to a Weight of Five Tons

The State Highway Department has ordered practically all of the backlog secondary roads posted, limiting the weight of trucks that can travel over these roads, particularly the roads improved under the dirt road improvement program.

R. A. Haber, Chief Engineer of the Department, reported that an investigation revealed considerable damage to these roads as a result of heavily loaded vehicles traveling over them while they are in their present condition from the effects of the recent storm.

The foundation of the roads have become soft and heavy weights proceeding over the surface will result in that surface being broken.

Accordingly, the State Highway Department has announced that, until further notice, the load limit of vehicles traveling over these roads will be limited to five tons.

It was explained that this is an emergency regulation which will be removed when conditions warrant.

A six-day strike of workers at Ace Manufacturing Company, dress manufacturers, ended yesterday morning.

The strike was part of an eight-state walkout sponsored by the International Ladies Garment Workers Union. Locally, it affected about 100 persons.

The local plant was purchased some months ago by the Shroyer interests, who also operates the Shamokin Dress Company, Shamokin, Pa.

Lawton Shroyer, a company official, was on his way down here at press time to discuss final details with Mrs. Ruth Murray, Baltimore, business representative of the Upper South Department of the I.L.G.W.U.

The Ace employees went back to work yesterday under a 15-day truce pending the ironing out of the details.

Settlement of the strike involved a 3-year pact. It granted a 11.14 per cent package increase. Broken down, this included a 10 per cent wage increase, with the remainder for other benefits. Ninety per cent of Ace Employees are employed on piecework.

Other stipulations were time and a half after a 7-hour day, six and a half paid holidays, the union label in each garment, and severance pay, details of which are to be ironed out. A minimum wage is also to be discussed.

Harrington Lions Club

The regular dinner meeting of the Harrington Lions Club was held Monday evening at the Wonder "R" Restaurant with President Tom Peck presiding.

The club voted to go ahead with plans for an All Sports Banquet to be held in the spring. Members of all the athletic squads and the band members of Harrington High School will be guests of honor. The event will be sponsored by the Lions and the Rotary Club and anyone interested will be able to purchase tickets from them. Details will be announced after a joint meeting of committees from each club.

Lion Secretary Tom Clendenin pointed out that our club was leading the pack in activities per member this year. He has also made reservations for the District Convention in Atlantic City in May.

Lions Information Chairman, Fred Greenly, gave a short talk on the history of Lions Clubs for the benefit of several new members. He concluded with the Lions Code of Ethics.

The guest speakers of the evening were introduced by Lion Curtis Melvin. They were J. Gordon Smith, Chairman of the State Highway Commission, and Wallace F. McFaul, Jr., Division Engineer of Kent County.

Mr. McFaul gave a brief history of how the highway system in Delaware began and its development up to the present day. He explained that the Highway Department has become a model for other states to follow. This has been possible as Civil Defense paid one-half of the cost of the radio system. In return the Highway Department has become one of the most vital parts of Civil Defense in Delaware.

Mr. McFaul visualized the change in living that will take place in Kent County during the next few years due to its being a part of the urban area extending from New England to Norfolk, Va. He particularly emphasized that planning and legislation should be made now to protect the natural resources of our state from total industrialization. This would involve our water resources, community planning, limited access highways, billboard control, etc.

The evening was concluded by an interesting film showing the beaches of Kent and Sussex counties and what has been done to combat erosion. The recent "big snow" was covered showing snow removal operations in New Castle County.

Mr. McFaul told of the use of contractors in opening secondary roads and of the cooperation of everyone in his department in keeping down complaints to a minimum.

City employees are building a bridge on Harrington Avenue extended and expect to finish it this week. The road leads to Wheeler's Park.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Notes

The women of the Episcopal Church in lower Delaware were entertained at a luncheon given by the Women's Auxiliary of St. Luke's Seaford.

The speaker was Mrs. Paul Kellogg of Dover, who with the Rev. Mr. Kellogg, had recently returned from a tour of Puerto Rico.

Her slides and comments showing how the people of Puerto Rico thirst for knowledge and how sincere they are in their desire to worship God made one aware of their great need for more churches and schools.

An interesting fact brought to our attention by Miss Kellogg was that the people of Puerto Rico travel as many as seven to ten miles on foot to attend a service, which begins at four or six in the morning.

We wondered if such early services would be very well attended. Mrs. Kellogg stated that, to her complete surprise, as she walked into church in a quiet pre-dawn hour of six, or even before, the pews were filled.

Nine acolytes were ready to serve and a full choir vested to take part in the service.

Mrs. Kellogg's talk showed evidence of the great work done in Puerto Rico by the United Thank Offering of the women of our church—tangible results evidenced in modern churches, hospitals.

The Church School Birthday Thank offering also goes toward helping our brothers and sisters in Puerto Rico. If the B. T. O. is large enough this year, it will be used to purchase a plot of ground where a seminary will be eventually built.

The Rev. and Mrs. Kellogg were met by Bishop Swift, head of the church in Puerto Rico. Mr. Kellogg was guest preacher at several services; he delivered some sermons in English, others, in Spanish.

There were pathetic and also happy and hopeful slides and comments on the St. Michael's House for Homeless Boys, in part supported by our United Thank Offering.

Flowers on the altar last Sunday were given to the Glory of God and in loving memory of Almina Hill, mother of Granville Hill, by Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Raughley, Jr.

Lenten self-denial cans and Lenten prayer booklets may be had for the asking, at the Parish House, or church. The Lenten self-denial containers have the following notations printed on them: "Thrice a day these prayers I say" and "Thrice a day my offering pay."

The congregation is sad to hear of the death of Mrs. Mary Lucho, mother of Mrs. Robert McNally, on Sunday, March 9, in New Jersey. Mrs. Lucho had made many friends at St. Stephen's and was endeared to a number of church people who knew her and visited her at the McNally home and at Milford Memorial Hospital, where she was a patient during several severe illnesses.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning at Export, Pa., with a priest of the Greek Orthodox Church, officiating.

Our sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. McNally and their children, Carol and Charles, in their bereavement.

The Rev. Joseph Koci, rector of St. Anne's, Middletown, and vicar of Old St. Anne's, near Middletown, was guest preacher at St. Stephen's evening service March 9.

School for Boys. Under Mr. Koci's direction, old St. Anne's has been completely restored and has become a noted spot for tourists and historians. During the summer months Mr. Koci conducts an eleven o'clock service there each Sunday, in addition to the service at St. Anne's in town.

Messrs. Earl McColey and Robert Quillen were ushers last Sunday.

Tickets for the Parish Dance, April 11, may be secured from Messrs. Herbert Chamberlain and Granville Hill.

A new teacher has been added to the church school faculty. Leon Porter has volunteered to take an advanced class of boys, many of them members of the 1958 confirmation class.

The primary pupils have been moved downstairs on the closed in porch, in order to make room for the new class upstairs.

Acolytes for the third Sunday in Lent were Wayne Porter, Billy Carter, Roy Porter, Robert Greer, Ronnie Porter, Bill Thompson.

Besides the many other duties, Mrs. Gilbert Keim has kindly consented to be church school secretary. Each Sunday she tabulates the attendance records, writes absentee, birthday, and get well cards, as well as keeps other pertinent notes on our young folks' activities.

Last Sunday, Miss June Thompson substituted for the Church School organist, Miss Carol McNally who was away because of the death of her grandmother.

The Rev. Victor A. Kusik of St. Mary's, Bridgeville, addressed St. Stephen's men's groups at the Parish House last Thursday evening. Following the supper, cooked and served by the men, there was a short business meeting, then an address by Mr. Kusik. Date of the next meeting was set for April 17.

Mrs. George R. Johnson is general chairman of the current Red Cross drive for the Harrington area. A number of helpers are canvassing various sections of town, as well as outlying districts.

Delaware Food Market Report

Careful shopping will be necessary this weekend if the cost of the market basket is not to exceed that of last week. The overall food price picture is slightly higher, while a few things have dropped in price, the majority of things cost more.

Cabbage, carrots, celery, radishes and some loose tomatoes have all decreased slightly in price. But eggplant, lettuce, kale spinach, green peppers, rutabagas and yellow onions are all more expensive. Even old white potatoes have increased in price.

Early asparagus from California is appearing in fair quantity on local markets. However, it is being out with very long stems, which makes for more waste, so compare prices carefully. Michigan is continuing to send in high quality rhubarb and it is selling an average of 44 cents a bunch.

Avocados are plentiful, however, the sizes available cover a wide range. In some stores look for avocados to sell for 15 cents a piece (average size).

Bananas are definitely a menu brightener. Weekend specials will feature this fruit as low as 9c a pound. Lemons have dropped about 3 cents on the dozen. That's about the way the fruit picture looks this week.

Girl Scout News

The annual Girl Scout Banquet will be held in the Harrington School dining hall tonight at 6:30 o'clock.

This will be a family affair. Each family is to bring a large covered dish with the Girl Scouts furnishing the meat, coffee, sugar, butter and rolls, and cream, which will be served buffet style.

The Brownies and Girl Scouts will present a program.

Sunday was Girl Scout Day and all scouts, leaders and committee members attended Asbury Methodist Church for the morning service.

The trip to Philadelphia Planetarium and museum that had been planned for Feb. 1, will be made March 29. The group will go in two buses.

Spring lamb is more plentiful this week, so look for specials on this meat. This is western lamb and the quality is very good. Beef prices are high but watch for the specials to get a good buy. This weekend steaks will be cheaper as well as chuck roast. Chickens are still reasonable and cornish game hens are a luxury we can afford right now. There's little change in the fresh pork prices of last week. In general, things are high.

Taking House Back Home

In a swamp on Pecan Island, Louisiana, a house, blown three miles off its foundations by Hurricane Audrey last summer is pulled slowly onto this barge, part of the laborious operation to return it to its owner's lot. This was part of the job of helping families who suffered in the disaster get back to normal living—carried out by the Red Cross with volunteer help from AFL-CIO building trades unions and such business enterprises as the Union Oil Co., which donated use of this barge and the tugboat hauling it.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—I am studying for my doctorate degree under the Korean GI Bill. How many hours of classroom work does VA consider to be full-time?

A—For graduate studies, there is no set number of hours. VA accepts the word of your school whether you are on a full-time or part-time basis.

Q—I understand World War II veterans can pay GI insurance premiums once a year and save money. Does this same privilege apply to those of us who hold Korean GI term insurance policies?

A—Yes. All holders of GI insurance—whether World War I, II or Korea veterans—may pay premiums on a yearly basis, rather than monthly.

Q—I am a Korea veteran with a service-connected disability. Does this automatically entitle me to vocational rehabilitation training?

A—Not necessarily. You must be found in need of vocational training to overcome the handicap of your disability in order to receive the training benefits.

Q—If my son goes to school under the War Orphans Education program, will VA pay his tuition as well as a monthly living allowance?

A—No. Under the law, VA makes one payment for each month of training. Generally this goes to his living parent or guardian. Out of this must come all training expenses, such as tuition and books. VA does not make separate payments to the school.

While most of the Kent County students could sleep late due to the annual county teachers meeting some of the Caesar Rodney future farmers reported as early as seven o'clock to set up the production line including an electric scalding and picker. By 8 o'clock in the evening the job was completed except for a few deliveries and a few feathers in the shop.

Highway Dept. Holds Schools of Instruction For Employes

In preparation for the large construction confronting the State the coming year, numerous schools of instruction have been held for the Department's personnel connected directly with the construction work.

R. A. Haber, Chief Engineer of the Highway Department, explains that these courses of instruction are provided so that the personnel may become familiar with the materials and equipment that will be used on various projects.

Inspectors, laboratory technicians, and others who come in contact with construction work, have been attending these schools at various times during the winter months.

In conducting these schools, the Department has the cooperation and assistance of the producers of various materials and equipment who sent representatives here to discuss, in complete detail, what their products consisted of and how they were to be used.

Practically every operation in the wide variety of projects constructed by the Highway Department were studied at the schools held thus far, and the final one will be held in the near future.

Like-wise, the equipment that can be used by contractors on highway projects was examined, as well as explained by factory trained representatives of the manufacturers of the equipment.

Mr. Haber said these schools provided an opportunity for the Department employees to become thoroughly acquainted with the innovations in materials, and their uses, as well as in the equipment that will be used by contractors.

The final school on the list is scheduled to take place on Monday, March 17th, and will be in the nature of an asphalt conference.

As has been the custom at these schools, Mr. Haber will open the program by explaining the purpose of the school and what may be looked for in the matter of instruction.

The Asphalt Institute will provide speakers for this program. Robert McKeagney, Managing Engineer, of New York City, will discuss "Properties of Asphalt."

"Asphalt Soil Stabilization" will be discussed by James Johnson, Staff Engineer at the Institute in College Park, Md., while Robert Williams, District Engineer for the Institute at Richmond, Va., will have for his subject, "Prime and Surface Treatments - Maintenance," and Home Gardeners Offered TV Course The Delaware Agricultural Extension Service will begin a special series of one-half hour television program this week designed as a short course for home gardeners. Extension service staff members appearing on the shows will be Robert R. Stevens, extension horticulturist; Ralph P. Barwick, New Castle County assistant agricultural agent; and George K. Vapaa, Kent County agricultural agent. Program guests will include home owners and nurserymen. Featured March 15 will be home grounds planning and materials to use. Transplanting trees, shrubs, and small fruits—along with pruning—will be the highlight March 22. March 29, the care of trees and shrubs, and spring maintenance suggestions for lawns will be offered. Annual flowers and vegetables including tomatoes, lettuce, cucumbers and sweet corn are scheduled April 5. A portion of the April 5 broadcast will be on caring for Easter plants. The short course series has been developed in an effort to more completely reach home gardeners in the state.

Kent Home Doings Home Demonstration Agent The spring meeting of the Kent County Home Demonstration Council will be held March 19 from 1 to 3 o'clock at the Capital Grange Hall, Dover. President, Mrs. William Conrad will preside. There will be reports of standing committees. Plans for County events will also be discussed. Each of the 23 clubs in Kent County will be represented at this meeting. March is Egg Month. If you want to get the most for your egg money, size and quality are important factors to consider. The grade of an egg refers to its quality, which indicates the interior quality of the egg and the outside appearance. The grade of an egg is determined by the process of placing the egg before a strong light, or candling. By a quick rotating motion, the content of the egg is made to spin, showing the location and condition of the yolk and white. The size of the air cell is checked. Candling also reveals cracks and other defects. In addition to candling, egg grade or quality is determined by broken out of the shell appearance. As an egg deteriorates, the white becomes thin and watery, the yolk becomes flat, enlarged and breaks easily. Grade A eggs are top quality. Chocolate Cake Mix Rated Best Chocolate cakes made from a commercial mix rate better than homemade cakes—a recent study shows. In the test conducted by home economists at Cornell University, eight recipes from established cook books were used, along with five commercial mixes. Recipe cakes required over twice as many utensils. When prepared by the conventional creaming method, they took 38 minutes, compared with 35 minutes when the one-bowl method was used. Mix cakes were ready for the oven in 19 to 20 minutes. It was found that cakes made with mix cost about half a cent less per serving than home made cakes. (The best liked recipe cost 43 cents, the most popular mix-cake using added eggs and water 39 cents, and the best mix cake with added milk 41 cents. A taste panel noted little if any difference between the best mix cake and the best recipe cake. The report said that cakes made with a mix dried out more quickly at room temperature—and in 48 hours developed a stale flavor. Mixed cakes tasted stale after six weeks in a freezer.

Grange to Hear Mr. Groot How we may best develop and conserve our ground water resources will be described by Johan Groot, state geologist, at the Fruitland Grange in Camden on March 17 starting at 8 p.m. It will be an open meeting for the general public. It was rescheduled because of the heavy snow in February, says George Butler, local master of the Grange, in the Dover area has existed many people about the problem of our local water supplies. Mr. Groot is conducting several studies in this part of the state and is the most qualified person to suggest a program for best using these resources. Johan J. Groot joined the staff of the University of Delaware in 1950 as a lecturer in the department of Geography and Geology. In 1951, he was named State Geologist and continued to maintain offices on the Delaware campus. Under his supervision, two important studies of the State have been published "Geology and Ground Water Resources of Newark Area" and "Marine Upper Cretaceous Formations of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal." He also has assisted the State Highway Department in locating materials for road construction. Mr. Groot was born in Amsterdam in The Netherlands and received a M.S. degree in 1945 and his Doctorandus degree in 1949 at the University of Amsterdam. In 1948, he and Mrs. Groot, who is also a geologist, completed two studies on the environment of desert and semi-desert areas of Western Africa. Mr. Groot was a research associate at the University of Amsterdam from 1945-1947 and a research associate at the University of Maryland from 1947 - 1949.

Sulky Slants

By MRS. DAVE (PAT) SMITH

Now that we don't have the weather to talk about, I don't know what to say. It's been 84 and 86 most all the week. It sure feels like Florida now. The rains just come out of nowhere. But with this all weather track it doesn't hurt the trainers too much. They just wait until the afternoon and start.

At Ben Whites you have to be all through by noon. Are you a country boy in a big way. We certainly are having the visitors this winter. I think all Westbury is here. Even the Canadian officials from Bluebonnet and Richelou Park.

Next week will find a lot of the stables shipping out. I think that Dave and Lou Huber Jr. will be about the only ones here in another three weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Brubaker will leave for Washington, N. C., tomorrow with Mr. Hanks as he works for him. Mrs. Brubaker has written in for me to take over the writing of the Harness Horse and the Horseman Fair World. I have to much to do to fool with it. I did that in Pinehurst two years and I got tired of that. I don't know who will handle it for the next few weeks. Maybe Mrs. Pyle, the starter's wife in Batavia. She does take the track pictures.

Billy Haughton, one of the nation's leading harness drivers, brought in 3 winners yesterday for the second matinee at Ben White Raceway. The matinee was sponsored by the Grotto on behalf of its work for the handicapped children.

Commissioner George P. Monaghan of New York State said, "I am well pleased with the set up here for qualifying races, and sincerely hope we can stage the same kind of racing at Ben White next year."

The weather was beautiful for racing and a crowd of 1300 witnessed excellent races despite a rather heavy track.

"Alden Gray director of racing at Westbury set the time for qualifying at 2:15 for Pacers and 2:16 for Trotters. Mr. Gray said that the condition set the time for the track under the conditions. But for next week it would be two seconds faster.

Next week I will visit Spring Garden Ranch for the matinee races up there. Most of the crowd up there is from western New York. To me it will be more interesting. I wonder if Harrington will have their after-

Plastic Film Now Used for Garden Mulch

Mulching is an old and time-honored method for controlling weeds and conserving moisture in the home garden. Many materials—sawdust, straw, grass and even shredded newspapers—are familiar to every experienced gardener and used with varying degrees of success.

Something new and very effective to use as a garden mulch is black polyethylene film, according to George Vapaa, county agricultural agent.

In Maryland and Kentucky tests, the plastic controlled virtually all weeds except nutgrass which has sharp pointed leaves able to pierce the film. Findings indicated only a small amount of hand weeding necessary, and—during the dry 1957 season—crops mulched with the material grew faster and yielded more than similar plants grown without mulch, the agent said.

Suggestion for cutting costs of mulching home garden plots is to use strips of the film, rather than attempting to cover the whole garden surface. Directions come with packets of film, available at local garden and hardware stores.

Mr. Vapaa said the soil should be fertilized and thoroughly worked into a friable condition before plants are set in place and the area is covered with film. If it is necessary to feed plants later, the agent said fertilizer in solution can be poured into the opening around each plant, through holes punched in the film, or along the edges of the covered plant bed where it will soak in as rain does when it falls on the film.

"Now that its pretty and warm all the boys have their fishing tackle out and have gone to the lakes around here and that's plenty of them. Right here in Fern Park there are 32 lakes. Five on our grounds here at the track. I've been but haven't done any good as yet.

I'm going down to see the "Passion" play this coming week some time. Several have told me to be sure and not miss it before it closes at Easter time.

Another thing I promised myself I wouldn't go to any more wrestling matches. So what happens, Georgeous George, blonde and curly headed as ever will be there. I have always wanted to see him so that's where I will be on the front row. Have my ticket in advance a week. That's for Monday. There are so many things to see and places to go I hardly stay home any more.

Then for anyone that likes the old-fashioned band concerts in a park. They have them every Sunday afternoon. The benches are full with people, young and old.

Social Security Notes

Self-employed people who are planning to file a claim for social security benefits should bring copies of their 1957 tax return, including their Schedule C or Schedule F, plus a money-order stub, Internal Revenue receipt, or other evidence that the return was filed, according to Myron Milbouer, District Manager of the Wilmington office of the Social Security Administration. The original of this return should be filed with the District Director of Internal Revenue.

Milbouer pointed out that it is expected that many self-employed persons who have reached retirement age (62 for women and 65 for men) will retire or limit their activities this year and apply for their social security benefits. Mr. Milbouer emphasized that the self-employed applicant's claim will be processed much sooner if he presents a copy of his income tax return, along with evidence that it has been filed with the Director of Internal Revenue.

Most people self-employed in a trade or business were covered by social security beginning with 1951 provided the annual net earnings are $400 or more. Net earnings from self-employment as an architect, professional engineer, accountant, or funeral director, are covered by the law for taxable years ending after 1954. If you are a self-employed lawyer, dentist, osteopath, veterinarian, chiropractor, naturopath, or optometrist, your earnings for taxable years ending after 1955 will count toward social security benefits. The self employed farmer is covered by the law for taxable years ending after 1954, if his net earnings from self-employment are $400 or more in a year.

If you desire more information relating to old-age, survivors and disability insurance, you should go to your social security district office, where a staff is waiting to serve you. This office located at 504 West 10th St., is open from 8:30 to 5 p.m. each week day, except Saturday and Sundays and legal holidays.

AMATEUR ROCKETING

Amateur experimentation with rockets and rocket fuel is extremely dangerous and should be strictly avoided the Delaware Safety Council declared yesterday, calling on parents, teachers, and responsible public officials to ban their use by amateurs.

J. James Ashton, manager of the council, said its policy on rockets and rocket fuels, is the same as the policy of the National Safety Council on this new safety problem, which has developed with the nation's new interest in rockets and missiles.

"One Wilmington boy has lost the tips of three fingers in the explosion of a can of rocket fuel he compounded, and it is time to call a halt to amateur experimentation in this extremely hazardous field, before other experimenters and innocent bystanders are injured," Mr. Ashton said.

Few chemicals or physicists are qualified to carry on such experiments or to supervise them, since the science of rocketry requires very specialized knowledge and training, the Safety Council manager declared.

He added that the firing of rockets, except on approved test ranges, endangers not only the participants but the general public.

He noted that rockets and rocket fuel are dangerous even in the hands of highly skilled scientists working under strictly controlled conditions. Serious injuries and fatalities have occurred even among these groups in connection with their duties.

Delaware does not permit the firing of fireworks by unlicensed persons. Since rockets and rocket fuels in general are more lethal than fireworks, it is reasonable to ban their use by amateurs.

The Delaware Safety Council, and the National Safety Council, do not imply, in expressing opposition to amateur experimentation with rockets, that they are opposed to the encouragement of the study of the chemistry, physics and mathematics of rocketry by the youth of the state and nation. On the contrary, the councils both urge that opportunity to study these fields, including the safety principles, be accelerated so that more students will be prepared to enter into true scientific experimentation in the problems of space.

Rose Pruning Believed Difficult, Actually Simple

Although many people believe rose pruning to be a difficult operation, it's rather simple when sharp tools are used to give clean cuts, says George Vapaa, county agricultural agent.

The type of pruning to use and the time to prune differs with the various classes of roses.

The agent suggests pruning hybrid tea bush roses in early spring when leaf buds show signs of growth. First remove dead wood, being careful to cut an inch or so below dark-colored areas. If no buds are left on live wood, remove the entire branch or cane. Next cut out all weak growth, along with any canes or branches growing toward the center of the plant. If two branches cross one another, remove the weaker. Do not leave any stubs, but make the cut close to the cane or point from which it originated. Cuts made on the cane should be just above a strong outward-facing bud. Strong plants can be pruned to a height of 18 to 24 inches—or to healthy wood if cold injury has been severe.

Prune hardy rambler climbing roses just after they have flowered, Mr. Vapaa advises. This will stimulate new cane growth and the development of laterals to bear next year's flowers. Remove all old wood so the plant can put its efforts into the development of new young shoots.

Where roses are trained over a trellis or any support so high that one season's growth will not cover it, cut some of the older shoots off at the ground—but allow newer ones to remain. Shorten strong, vigorous canes so laterals will continue to develop and elongate, eventually covering the supporting structure. In the spring remove all dead canes and weak branches on climbing roses, but prune sparingly because wood removed at this time will reduce the number of flowers produced later, the agent concludes.

Revised Home Garden Bulletin Offered

"Home Vegetable Gardening in Delaware" is a revised Delaware Agricultural Extension Service of the University of Delaware bulletin available to all state garden enthusiasts.

First printed in 1951 under the title "Vegetable Gardens," the publication has been revised in detail by Robert F. Stevens, extension horticulturist at the University of Delaware, to include the latest recommendations for home gardening. About one-third of the booklet has been changed completely, and less major changes occur in remaining pages.

Offering complete directions for home gardening, the publication covers location and soil, the garden plan, preparing soil, planting, fertilization, organic matter, varieties, hotbeds and coldframes, harvesting and storing vegetables. In a section on caring for the garden, mulching, watering, thinning, perennial crops, a planting list with dates for individual crops, salad crops and greens, root crops and bulbs, vine crops, potatoes, sweet potatoes, cabbage, garden legumes, corn, and tomatoes are discussed. Considerable information is offered in a section on insect and disease control. Pests on common garden crops are noted, along with symptoms to look for, and control methods.

The garden bulletin is available without charge at the county extension offices or the school of agriculture in Newark. Ask for Extension Bulletin No. 55, Revised February 1958.

Bundle Up Your Overcoat

"Every child has a right to a pair of shoes, a warm coat, clothes suitable to help him so he can go to school," said Mrs. Leonard A. Taylor yesterday. "The American Legion Auxiliary will, through Save the Children Federation, again this year help meet these needs."

The C.K.R.T. Auxiliary Unit is collecting clothing for this program. Anyone with clothing to give may call Mrs. Taylor and she will arrange for collections.

Last year, the American Legion Auxiliary collected over half a million pounds of clothing for Save the Children Federation. At their convention in Atlantic City last September they passed a resolution (No. 30) that the Child Welfare Committee would continue to support the SCF clothing drive.

The Federation's program in the Southern Appalachian Mountain area helps to keep children in school with the distribution of clothing through Save the Children Clothing Centers (located in Tennessee, Kentucky, and Virginia) where clothing is made available at very low prices, thus enabling a poor but proud people to maintain their self-respect. Additional clothing is made available without charge, through welfare and school attendance officers, to those who cannot afford to pay.

Save the Children Federation also maintains a stockpile of clothing to meet, upon request, emergencies both at home and abroad.

Mrs. Taylor urged residents to bundle up all serviceable clothes no longer needed, such as sweaters, low-heeled shoes, pants and dungarees, mittens. Not only children's wearing apparel, but adult and infant apparel is desired also.

Needlecraft News

by Nancy Baxter

Have you ever noticed how barren a room looks without a rug on the floor and curtains on the windows? When these are put in place, the whole interior assumes a warm, homey appearance. New-layers who are buying one piece of furniture at a time, would be wise to take note of this for even partially filled rooms look inviting if the floors and windows are decorated.

SCATTER RUGS

An inexpensive way to keep your floors attractively covered is to use several scatter rugs in each room. Besides being economical, they are decorative and versatile. You can shift them from room to room according to your fancy. The cotton scatter rug you crochet yourself have still greater advantages: they are especially sturdy because you made them so, and easily washed because you chose a good rug yarn. Heretofore, scatter rugs presented a skidding problem, but this has been remedied in several ways:

1. by using rug anchors that grip both rug and floor;
2. by sewing Mason jar rings at the corners;
3. by spraying the backs of the rugs with a plastic, non-skid liquid.

THE POPULAR OVAL

Popular choice among women who use scatter rugs in their homes is the classic oval style. This design is gay and attractive, and can be used in almost any room depending on your color choice. It is crocheted of heavy cotton rug yarn with rounds of red puff stitches worked against a background of single crochets in black and white. Fringe finishes off the edges. The completed rug measures 22 inches by 37 1/2 inches without the fringe. An easy-to-make design, this rug can be finished in time for Springtime decorating.

Charter Revisions

said he didn't think the Charter changes were being put in the Legislature correctly. He thought the changes should be advertised and a referendum held. He added he thought it was a possibility the revisions might be rejected on this ground.

Councilman Rutledge said the previous Council had spent nearly a year reshaping the revisions, that they were okayed at the annual Citizens Meeting in January, and that they had been prepared by the City attorney in legal form. He thought the revisions could become law.

Following the same course, Mayor Smith said, "We had a citizens' meeting on it and the majority prevailed." He did not think another citizens' meeting should be held. "If we hassle more, we might not get it passed this session," he explained. He added he didn't see why "some little thing" in the revisions could not be subordinated, that is, given an inferior status, in the interest of passage of the general revisions. However, he said, "the extension of the sewers into the manor is of such paramount importance, we should not quibble."

On a question of why the meeting was held on short notice, Magistrate Callaway said the gathering was called because it was thought the bill might be introduced the next few days, and that Monday night's meeting was held on this assumption.

Senator Nechay interjected that the minority also has rights to be protected. Whereupon Mayor Smith said that the minority lot owners, opposing a sewer extension in the manor, would get a bargain. It had been estimated it would cost about $3 per foot to lay the sewer. This would cost property owners on each side of the street $150. Smith, a medical doctor, thought this would be cheaper than paying $300 for a cesspool.

Rep. Cain said he had had about 20 letters and telephone calls against the sewer amendment. Councilman Exley replied there was always disagreement on legislation. He said he had worked in Dover and he had noticed the legislators did not add amendments to a bill every time there was an objection. "I don't think you can please all the people all the time," quoting from Lincoln.

He added he believed all complaints should be weighed by the legislator to see if it has something of value.

Councilman Rutledge said he thought it was the duty of the legislature to vote the will of the majority. "Or the people for it, or against it?" he commented. Upon the motion of Samuel Williams, a manor resident, it was voted to ask acceptance of the Charter revisions, with no amendments, and it passed without opposition. However, it was brought out that amendments could be presented by other persons.

Rep. Cain said the sponsors should get the bill in, as he did not know how long the Legislature would be in session.

The meeting adjourned after Mayor Smith expressed his thanks to the legislators for attending.

St. Bernadette's Church Notes

The altar boys serving at Mass last Saturday and Sunday mornings were Tony Perrone and Edgar Wroten.

At a meeting held Tuesday evening, final plans were made for the major project of "Survey for Souls," the census of Catholics living in the diocese of Wilmington, Sun., March 16. Teams were formed to serve under the captains. Instructions were given on how to fill out the information cards of each Catholic contacted.

The area that will be covered by the men for St. Bernadette's extends from Felton to Greenwood and from the Maryland State line to Houston.

The purpose of the census is to determine the number of Catholics.

Father Corrigan acted as assistant master of ceremonies at the funeral of the Most Reverend Hubert J. Cartwright, held Tuesday morning at Christ Our King Church in Wilmington.

Lenten services tonight will include the Stations of the Cross followed by Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament. They will begin at 8 o'clock. A choir rehearsal for the adult choir will be held after devotions. Preparations are being made for the hymns to be sung on Palm Sunday. Mass Saturday morning will be at 9 o'clock followed by a junior choir rehearsal. The Junior Choir is now learning Easter hymns.

Confessions will be heard Sunday morning from 9 to 9:30 at which time Mass will begin. Sunday is the fourth Sunday in Lent on "Laetare Sunday." It receives its name from the first word "Laetare" meaning Rejoice, of the Introit of the Mass for that day, on which the more somber spirit the rest of Lent is modified and a spirit of joy is present in the midst of the Lenten observance. We are to rise again soon with Jesus through confession and Easter Communion. The purple vestments worn during Mass throughout Lent are replaced on this day by rose vestments. The high school boys are expected to take part in the census taking Sunday afternoon therefore the weekly Catechism class for the evening will be cancelled. Religious classes for grade school children will be held Wednesday afternoon at 3:45 at the parish house. The children are concentrating on prayers and sacrifices during this penitential season of Lent.

Another discussion club session will be held Thursday evening under group A discussion leader, Mrs. James Fair. Topic for the evening will be Chapter III, "Who Will Tell Me." Bishop Cartwright's Death, A Loss To All

We at St. Bernadette's join the entire Delmarva Peninsula in grieving over the death of our coadjutor bishop, the Most Rev. Hubert J. Cartwright. He died last Thursday afternoon as the result of a sudden heart attack he suffered the previous day. He was a patient at St. Francis Hospital since Feb. 15 and recently underwent an operation for a pleurisy condition.

Bishop Cartwright was raised to the episcopate on Aug. 22, 1956—his 56th birthday and took up his duties here the following Nov. 14. His 18 months since he was named by Pope Pius XII were the shortest span of any American bishop in recent years, but in his 16 months here, he became known to most of the Catholics of the diocese.

Sharing the workload of the Most Rev. Edmond J. Fitzmaurice Bishop of Wilmington, of whom he had the right of succession, Bishop Cartwright confirmed in about 12 parishes, and headed numerous diocesan committees including leadership of the Catholic Youth Organization in the diocese and Survey for Souls, a census of the diocese. He was tireless in his travels to religious ceremonies, banquets and public functions. He made a visit to St. Bernadette's during his travels. Last June he ordained the Rev. Thomas Peterman in St. John's in Milford.

Following a solemn Pontifical Requiem Mass at the present Christ Our King Church, his body was carried in procession across the street where the new church building is under construction. He was interred in a great plot just outside the main doorway of the church.
