

TWO KILLED IN HEAD-ON CRASH; ONE CAR DOING OVER 110

Forty-six-year-old Arthur C. Wright of Selbyville outsped police Friday night in a chase that started at Dagsboro, wound across back roads in Sussex County, and was resumed on U. S. Route 113 south of Dover.

But death caught up with him when his 1957 Dodge, which police said was zipping down the wrong lane of dual U. S. Route 113 collided head-on with another car.

The driver of the other car, 18-year-old Richard C. Rosengren of Felton, also died instantly. Police said the unsuspecting youth probably never knew what hit him.

An employee of the G. E. Veasley Lumber Company at Millsboro, Wright was a respected resident of Selbyville. Neighbors described him as a sober man, and were at a loss to explain Friday night's tragedy.

Friends said Wright called his wife early Friday evening from Millsboro and told her he was having trouble with his car. At 9:40 p.m. he and young Rosengren were dead, their cars a tangle of wreckage in the north-bound lane of the highway, a mile and a half north of Felton.

In the hour preceding the wreck, according to police Wright was stopped for speeding in Dagsboro, eluded the police chief while driving to a magistrate's office, knocked down a state trooper near Dover, and drove away from a property damage accident near Camden.

Roadblocks Fail
Two police cars were in hot pursuit of his car when it was stopped by the collision. Two roadblocks had failed to stop him. Police and friends of the Wrights reconstructed events this way:

In his telephone conversation from Millsboro, Wright told his wife he would either drive the car to a Salisbury auto agency or summon a repairman.

Mrs. Wright didn't hear anything more from him. At 7:30 p.m. she and a neighbor left for Salisbury, arriving about 8:30 to learn he had never appeared at the auto agency.

It was just about this time that Wright was stopped for speeding by Dagsboro Police Chief Philip Webber. Webber took Wright's license and registration and asked him to follow his car to a magistrate's office.

The two vehicles turned around together, and started off with Wright following Webber. At the intersection of County Route 331, however, Wright took a sudden turn and headed toward Millsboro.

Webber took up the chase, but lost the other car when his cruiser bogged down on a lumberman's road in the woods back of Millsboro.

State police were called but Wright's car was — in the words of one trooper — "long gone."

Confused Story
An hour later he was stopped by a state policeman on Route 113. Just what happened and where it happened wasn't clear Saturday morning.

State police at Dover said they had no information on an earlier report that the trooper was knocked down, but not hurt, when Wright sped off this time. Troopers at Georgetown said their report indicated the incident took place near Canterbury, in Dover Troop's area.

Troopers at Dover did, however, get a report that Wright's car had been involved in a property damage incident while driving south in the north-bound lane of U.S. Route 113 near Camden.

Two police cars took out in pursuit, clocking Wright's car at speeds "greater than 110 miles an hour" on the wrong lane of the dual highway. Two attempts at roadblocks failed, police said, "because of insufficient time and heavy traffic."

Both Wright and Rosengren were pronounced dead on arrival at the Kent General Hospital in Dover, where the bodies were taken in the Dover and Harrington ambulances.

Their deaths raised Delaware's highway death tolls to 23, compared to 21 at this time last year.

Blood Tests
Kent County Coroner Roland P. Trader said Wright's wife, Lillian, provided positive identification of the body. After blood tests on which there was no report Saturday morning, the body was to be released to the Holloway Funeral Home in Salisbury, where Mrs. Wright was staying with a son by a previous marriage, Gilbert Weatherly.

Friends said Wright, a former (Continued on back page)

Lions Club Notes

The monthly director's meeting of the Harrington Lions Club was held Monday evening at the division office of the D. P. & L. Co. Most of the officers and directors of the club were present as well as a few other members.

The Health and Welfare Committee reported a purchase of $11 worth of food for a needy family.

The agriculture committee approved the buying of a pig for use as a 4-H Club project. This pig will be on exhibit at the Kent & Sussex County Fair.

Baseball season dominated the balance of the evening's discussion. James O'Neal has reported that 74 boys signed up for Little League baseball at last Wednesday's practice session. Originally only one team was planned but if enough support is found, we may have a 4-team inter-city league of our own so that all of the boys may have a chance to play baseball instead of just a few. The directors were prompt in approving the procurement of extra equipment, as needed through the Boys and Girls Committee.

Plans were also made for a baseball trip to Philadelphia in May, and Baltimore in August. The Ladies Night Committee announced progress in their plans for the event June 9 at the New Dover Hotel.

Harrington High Downs Bridgeville By Score Of 5-2

Led by the pitching and hitting of Snooky Collins, Harrington High School evened the count with Bridgeville High 5-2. Snooky struck out 14 batters and allowed but three hits. In the sixth he blasted a line drive to right center and circled the bases for the team's first homer of the year.

Wilson's sacrifice fly scored Collins. Bridgeville was blanked until the fifth, when two hits, a walk, and an outfield error by Porter, allowed them to score their two runs. There are three entries from Felton and six are from Harrington. The three from Felton are Evelyn Joyce Walters, Judy Mary Weinberg and Bonnie Bell Betts. Those from Harrington are Lois Graden, Mary Ann Lyons, Sylvia Willis, Maureen Boyer, Janice Verne Basham and Sharon Sue Lowe.

Pvt. Samuel J. Krouse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow W. Krouse, Route 2, Felton, recently completed the final phase of six months active military training under the Reserve Forces Act program at Fort Bliss, Tex.

The 18-year-old soldier received basic training at Fort Knox, Ky.

He attended Felton High School.

The staging of the annual baccalaureate services of Harrington School has been altered, it was revealed Tuesday night at a meeting of the Board of Education.

It was decided the school should furnish the music after a request was made by a delegation from the Harrington Ministerial Association. Heretofore, the churches had furnished the music.

It has been the custom for the services to be conducted by one Harrington minister, the pastors taking the choir in rotation.

This year the ministerial association will inaugurate a plan whereby one minister will give the invocation; a second, the address, and a third, the benediction.

The Board of Education authorized the purchase of a sousaphone for $435 at the request of Melvin Brobst, director of music. The instructor thought a second might be paid from proceeds of a magazine campaign conducted by band members.

The board received a request from Mrs. Mary Cahall, school librarian, that she be allowed to work, with pay, this summer to improve the library. The board decided to ask Mrs. Cahall the amount of the cost.

J. C. Messner, superintendent of schools, said that Miss Loretta Paskey, history and biology instructor, who had decided to retire, had changed her mind.

Luther Hatfield, board member, wanted to know the policy on passing pupils from one grade to another. He added that some of the high-school pupils were not too adept in the basic courses.

Messner said there was no policy; that sometimes the press of numbers or the advanced age caused the passing of a pupil, but that it was up to the teacher.

Mrs. Charles Cox said that in Wilmington backward pupils were not promoted but transferred; that they received no diploma at graduation time, but a certificate of attendance. Supt. Messner said Harrington would use this plan this year for the first time.

The superintendent added that a special school, something like the CCC camps might be good. He said Utah had this system and that Dr. M. A. Tarumiaanz, superintendent of Delaware State Hospital at Farnhurst, approved it. Messner said if Harrington had enough teachers and money it could handle the problem.

HOW TO INCREASE ADVERTISING EFFECTIVENESS

One can derive more from one's advertising dollar by use of larger size advertisements and increased frequency of advertising, writes Herbert K. Witzky, partner in Herbert K. Witzky and Associates, in the January issue of Hotel Gazette.

Tests conducted by the Laboratory of Advertising Performance of McGraw Hill showed the following:

Readership of an advertisement increases with size in the following proportions:

Size of Space	Noted Readership	Index Per Page
2 pages	142
1 page	100
(2) 3-4 pages	67
1-3 page	28

There are some factors that must also be taken into account, writes Witzky, all of which go with a larger advertisement: Better physical area in which to tell a more complete story, more attention-getting artwork, pictures and headlines, better composition to get reader attention, more prestige and greater impression of stability and leadership.

Here is how the frequency of advertising affects advertising readership, Witzky writes:

Number of Insertions	Read Most Readership Index Per Insertion	Cost Per Reader Index Per Insertion
12	121	76
7 to 11	114	83
6	105	92
2 to 5	100	100

Increased frequency builds readership for each insertion at a lower cost per insertion, says Witzky. For example: 12-time advertisers average 21 per cent greater readership per advertisement and 24 per cent lower cost per reader than advertisers using two to five insertions per year.

Delaware Food Market Report

Fresh vegetable supplies are picking up, with snap beans leading the way. For most part, they will be selling for 20 to 25 cents a pound, but during weekend sales, many stores will again feature snaps for two pounds for 25 cents. The quality is good to excellent, making them a good buy. Cabbage, carrots, beets and many leafy greens are getting cheaper, and deserve a place on your shopping list.

The salad bowls, however, are still suffering from high prices. Tomatoes in the carton are selling for 35 cents, but quality needs to be watched. Cucumbers are up again in price, selling around 20 to 25 cents a piece and as for green peppers, they are nuggets of gold, averaging around 22 to 24 cents for a medium size pepper. Radishes are down some and, if you patronize weekend sales, you may find them as low as 6 cents a bag.

Bananas continue the best buy at the fruit counter, with prices averaging 10 to 14 cents a pound. Strawberries are beginning to come in to local market. However, prices are high. A few stores are selling fresh peaches. Being brought in from South America, they too are expensive.

Young, tender frying chickens will appeal to all shoppers this week. Some stores will feature this delicious meat as low as 33 cents a pound. Spring lamb will also be more reasonable, with loin chops as low as 99 cents a pound. Other cuts of beef as a whole are up in price. Steak proves the exception and, in some stores, will sell at lower than average prices this weekend. Pork will continue a fair buy, especially so on certain rib roasts and shoulder roasts.

Eggs and butter have both dropped in price this weekend. Butter is down to an average of 75 cents a pound, a 3 cent drop in the past 2 to 3 weeks. Large grade A eggs are down also—selling between 50 to 64 cents a dozen.

Look for continued good sales on many frozen foods, such as peas, corn, green beans and strawberries.

Haskell Introduces Surplus Fire-fighting Bill

Congressman Harry G. Haskell, Jr., (R-Del.) today introduced a bill which would make surplus fire-fighting equipment available to all volunteer fire companies.

At present, surplus Government equipment can be donated to public health, educational or civil defense agencies. Only charge for such equipment is for care and handling.

Haskell said, "I have contacted all the volunteer fire companies in Delaware and they are in accord that the passage of such a bill would be of advantage to them and the communities that contribute to their support. The public service and personal risks undertaken by volunteer fire-fighters offer protection to all of us and this good work should be encouraged."

"Among the items available," continued Haskell, "are motor vehicle, hand tools, communication equipment, hardware, machine tools and small boats."

THE VALUE OF A SMILE
It costs nothing but creates much. It enriches those who receive without impoverishing those who give. It happens in a flash and the memory of it sometimes lasts forever.

None are so rich that they can get along without it and none so poor but are richer for its benefits. It creates happiness in the home and fosters good will in business. Yet it cannot be bought, begged, borrowed, or stolen. It is something that is no earthly good to anybody till it is given away.

It at times you meet someone who fails to give you a smile, may I ask that you give one of your own? For nobody needs a smile so much as those who have none left to give.

Social Security News

With the filing of tax returns by April 15, most self-employed people were adding additional protection for themselves and family under the social security law, it was stated today by Myron Milbouer, district manager of the Wilmington social security office. Milbouer also advised that this includes the professional self-employed who were first covered by Federal insurance in 1956.

In order to secure proper credit, it is necessary that the returns be accurate, and complete with the required schedules, it was stated. Attention was called to the fact that compliance with the rules will not only save time and money now but will insure the prompt receipt of future benefit payments.

Milbouer stated that benefit payments under the old age, survivors, and disability insurance program are not based on charity or need, but are geared to the wage or self-employment income level of the worker. Monthly payments for an individual range from $24 to $108.50 depending on the average income. Family benefits can amount to as much as $200 monthly.

Since the advent of self-employed coverage in the Federal program, Milbouer stated the records of the Wilmington office indicated many such persons had

Also of interest among the protective features of the social security law is the new disability program which started first benefit checks beginning with July 1957. This added provision protects the participating self-employed individual just the same as a wage earner. Milbouer added that it was important for a disabled persons with a work history under the program, to contact the social security office as soon as possible in order to protect his rights.

Board of Health Clinics

Lasting polio protection comes from the third Salk Shot. This is being re-emphasized by Delaware's medical leaders, who want to be sure that no one gets less than complete protection through misunderstanding of the point.

Dr. John B. Baker of Milford, president of the state medical society, offered this explanation of the polio vaccine action: "Correctly used," he said, "the Salk vaccine produces three distinct rises in immunity, but the first two drop off considerably. The first raises the level of anti-polio substance in the blood tremendously, but this is temporary rise, and it falls off drastically within a few weeks. The second shot rises the level, or titer, again, and reinforces it so that it drops off much more slowly. But it does drop off. Only the third shot, which raises the titer and keeps it high, offers really lasting polio protection."

Free public polio clinics are again being held throughout Delaware by the state medical society, the Delaware chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, and the State Board of Health. Primarily, those are for third shots, but people needing first and second shots will be welcomed by the volunteer physicians, nurses and hostesses, or can receive the vaccine from their family doctors. Coming clinics for this area are:

Q—If I take farm training under the Korean GI Bill, will I receive the same allowance rate throughout my training?

A—No. You will receive the maximum rate during your first year of farm training. After that, the rate will be reduced at four-month intervals.

Q—I am planning to get a VA insured GI business loan. Will the interest rate be 4 1/2 per cent as it is for GI loans guaranteed by VA?

A—No. In the case of non-realty GI farm and business loans insured by VA, the interest may not exceed a three per cent discount rate or an equivalent simple interest rate of 5.7 per cent a year.

Q—A World War I veteran died, leaving a son age 21. The son is eligible for War Orphans education. Would his War Orphans benefits end when he reaches age 23?

A—No. Since the veteran-parent died after his son had passed age 18, the young man will have five years after the death of the veteran to complete his War Orphans schooling.

Still Time to Plow Borers Under by May 1

Even though many of Delaware's corn fields have been pretty much under water in recent weeks, meaning that plowing corn borer infested debris under to control the pest was impossible, there is still time to do the job.

According to Prof. Donald MacCreary, acting chairman of the department of entomology at the University, farmers can plow up to May 1 and still kill many of the pests that caused last season's loss of over 100,000 bushels of corn.

Prediction is the borer will increase in Delaware this year, unless another season unfavorable as the past one for borers comes along this summer. Last season the drought, severe winter weather, and destruction by plowing before May 1 reduced borer numbers.

Prof. MacCreary's suggestion for controlling the pests is to plow under cleanly, or burn all corn stalks in fields, feed lots, and other locations before May 1.

The entomologist said corn borers overwinter in old corn stalks left in fields. Destruction in this stage is much easier and less expensive than spraying to control in May and June.

Harrington Century Club Notes

The final meeting of the Harrington New Century Club was held Tuesday at the clubhouse at which time Mrs. William W. Shaw was installed as president. Mrs. Shaw succeeds Mrs. Oscar T. Roberts, who will continue as the representative of the Harrington Club of the Delaware State Federation Boards.

Other new officers are Mrs. Charles Peck Jr., first vice president; Mrs. Floyd Nasser, second vice president; Mrs. C. Larry Simpson, recording secretary; Mrs. J. Millard Cooper, assistant recording secretary; Mrs. C. Sharp Harrington, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Walter W. Winkler, treasurer; Mrs. Joseph Konesey, assistant treasurer; Mrs. T. H. Harrington, and Mrs. F. S. Bailey, auditors and Mrs. Horace C. Johnson, trustee for the term of six years.

The nominating committee consisted of Mrs. A. C. Ford, Mrs. F. J. Downing, and Mrs. O. J. Nemes.

At the business meeting preceding the installation of new officers the club voted to permit the Harrington Teen Timers, a youth organization recently sponsored by the various organizations of the town, the use of the clubhouse on Saturday nights during the school year. This is under the community achievement project of the general federation.

Also, two half-scholarships to the music camp were given as well as a donation to the Cancer Crusade sponsored by the Harrington New Century Club.

Mrs. W. W. Shaw and Mrs. Floyd Nasser were elected delegates to the state convention to be held in Dover May 26 and 27. Mrs. Charles Peck, Jr., and Mrs. C. L. Simpson are alternates. The next business meeting of the club will be Oct. 7.

Survey Answer On Farm Gas Storage

What effect does the color of a farm gasoline storage tank have on fuel temperature, evaporation losses, and fuel quality?

This and other questions were answered recently in a research report received by William E. Larsen, assistant professor of agricultural engineering at the University of Delaware. The study was done at the University of Missouri Agricultural Experiment Station.

The report pointed to estimated fuel costs being as much as five to seven per cent of total farm operating expenses.

Remaining questions answered were: Does placing the storage tank in shade improve storage conditions? Is storage improved by keeping a slight pressure in the tank? How many dollars worth of gasoline might evaporate from a farm storage tank in a year?

Evidently, the study was done to learn how to conserve fuel in order to cut costs as farms become more and more mechanized.

The researchers found that painting the storage tank a light color reduces evaporation losses. Evaporation losses can add more than one half per cent per gallon to the tractor fuel bill. Gas evaporates in increasingly greater amounts as temperature rises.

Also found was that tank color had little effect on gasoline temperature when the tank is placed in shade. Shaded storage containers of any color will save gasoline, the report said. The tests indicated that storing gasoline in a container held under a slight pressure will save gasoline. This is done with vents that seal the tank under a slight pressure as temperature rises, and with release valves that bleed air into the tank when gasoline is drawn from the tank or when the tank cools at night. Prof. Larsen, basing recommendations on the report, said Delaware farmers can profit by shading tanks equipped with a pressure-vacuum release vent.

State Farmers Urged To Plant Sudan Grass

Delaware farmers have been urged to plant Sudan grass as supplemental summer pasture. Reasons for planting the grass, planting dates, fertilizer recommendations, variety, seeding rate, weed control, and grazing times are discussed in a new Delaware Agricultural Extension Service fact sheet compiled by Prof. W. H. Mitchell, University of Delaware agronomist.

Prof. Mitchell notes that Sudan is high-yielding, fast-growing and relished by livestock. He says one acre of Sudan costs about $10 per cow per season and will carry three cows. Planting dates are May 10-15 in southern Delaware, and May 20-25 in northern areas. A later planting about the middle of June will help spread the grazing period.

The agronomist recommends Piper variety, using at least 30 pounds of seed per acre planted about one-half inch deep.

He suggests grazing cows when Sudan is knee-high. For those farmers with more grass than needed for grazing, the agronomist recommends cutting the extra grass for silage. He warns against grazing during the severe droughts and frost periods.

The fact sheet will be sent on request. Contact Department of rural Communications, University of Delaware, or any county agricultural extension office. Ask for the fact sheet, "Improve Summer Pasture with Sudan Grass," AAE (C-2).

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Notes

An interested group of men of St. Stephen's met Thursday at the Parish House and heard Herbert I. Brown, Jr., executive secretary of the Diocese, talk on a college student. Mr. Brown was privileged to work with Dr. Grenfell among the natives of Labrador. Dr. Grenfell had given up a promising medical career in England to go among the needy people of Labrador and help them. There were many heart-warming experiences related by the speaker.

Mrs. Robert McNally has gladly taken the post of church school teacher to replace Mr. Chamberlain; who has been transferred from Harrington to Indianapolis, Ind. Mrs. McNally will teach section two of the Junior Department.

Mesdames Robert L. Nelson and Gilbert H. Keim were coffee hour hostesses Sunday.

During the forty days of Eastertide boys and girls in several classes of the church school are studying themes of Easter—the resurrection of our Lord, the reawakening of nature, the preparation for the Ascension, and Whitsuntide. In the kindergarten, children are enjoying the poems, "Wake, wake, little seed" and "Little Crocus bright and gay." In the interment group, a unit on missionary work at home and abroad is appropriately studied at this time, after the Lenten and Easter emphasis on the mite box offering.

Children who have not presented their mite boxes are reminded to bring them to church school this Sunday.

May 4, at 4 p.m. there will be the annual diocesan presentation service for the church school missionary offering at the Cathedral Church of St. John, Wilmington. A number of boys and girls will represent St. Stephen's at this ceremony. St. Stephen's junior choir will march and sing in the long impressive procession. A delegated representative from our church school will carry the official banner of our mission—red and gold with the cloak of the martyr embroidered on it, and another will present our mite box contribution.

In the absence of our vicar Sunday evening, April 20, Messrs. Robert Nelson and George Thompson lay readers, conducted the service of evening prayer.

The Rev. John R. Symonds Jr., went to Rehoboth last Sunday afternoon to visit friends and to baptize Maida Margo Mootz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carl Mootz at All Saint's Church. Mr. Symonds was guest at a dinner party at the home of Colonel and Mrs. Edgar S. Stayer of Rehoboth.

Miss Carol McNally, Miss Lois Keim, Miss Viva Reed, Ronnie Correll, Billy McColley, and Bill Thompson represented St. Stephen's at the Kent County Episcopal Youth Meeting, Christ Church Parish House, Milford, April 20. The session began at 4:30 p.m. and ended at 9 p.m. In the afternoon a business meeting was held with Ronnie Correll of Harrington presiding. Richard Cole is vice-president of the group and Miss Sally Spence is secretary and treasurer. At 6:30 p.m. a worship service was held by the Milford Young People's Fellowship. After seven o'clock the young people enjoyed dancing, ping pong, chess, checkers, and darts.

Acolytes for the second Sunday after Easter were William Carter, Rosnie Porter, Wayne Porter, Billy McColley, Frank Welch, Bill Thompson.

Ushers last Sunday were Messrs. Robert E. Baynard and Granville Hill.

Sunday, May 4, there will be a United Thank Offering in gathering at St. Stephen's. All ladies of the church are invited to make a contribution to augment this mighty missionary effort sponsored by all the women of the Episcopal Church in the United States and abroad. There is a reminder in the church bulletin to bring the blue boxes, or envelopes labeled U.T.O. by the donors, to the eleven o'clock communion service when the offering will be received at the altar. May 14 at Greenville, a check from St. Stephen's will be presented at the convention along with contributions of all the parishes and missions in Delaware.

The vestry met Monday at the parish house. The group approved the church budget presented to them and established vestry committees on buildings and grounds, music and worship, Christian education, new building, finance and every member canvass. Leon Porter was elected to fill the unexpired term of Herbert L. Chamberlain.

Services and activities for this week and next are as follows: Thursday, 8 p.m., senior choir rehearsal; Sunday, 8 a.m., Holy Communion; breakfast group; 9:30 church school; 11 a.m., morning prayer and sermon; 12:15 coffee hour; 5 p.m., junior teens, 7 p.m., evening prayer; Monday, 7 p.m., junior choir rehearsal; Tuesday, 10 a.m., Holy Communion and intercessions for the sick; 7 p.m., acolyte meeting; Wednesday, 8 p.m., healing service at Seaford.

Mrs. George R. Johnson, chairman of the Harrington area Red

Cross drive, has made the announcement that the total amount collected thus far is $448.25. Other substantial contributions are expected to be received in the near future.
