

WILLIAM R. DAVLIN, SECRETARY OF COMMERCE OF PENNA. TO TALK ON ATTRACTION OF INDUSTRY HERE MONDAY NIGHT AT PUBLIC MEETING

William R. Davlin, Secretary of Commerce of Pennsylvania will talk on how to get industry into a community at a meeting Monday at 8 p.m., at the American Legion Home on U. S. 13.

To Speak Here Monday

William R. Davlin

William R. Davlin, Secretary of Commerce of Pennsylvania, who will speak on industrial development Monday evening, at the American Legion Home. Sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, the meeting is open to the public.

Members of civic clubs, the City Council, bank directors, and members of chambers of commerce of neighboring towns have been invited. The public is also asked to attend the event, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

J. Huber Denn, of the Industrial Department of the Delaware State Chamber of Commerce, will introduce Mr. Davlin, an industrial economist and graduate of the University of Wisconsin.

Mr. Davlin joined the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce in 1955 as director of the Bureau of Industrial Development. In September of 1955, he became Secretary of Commerce. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the American Industrial Development Council, and a member of the Executive Committee of the Association of State Planning and Development Agencies.

Mr. Davlin entered the Pennsylvania development picture after a successful career in industrial development work.

From 1952 to 1954 he was consultant on industrial and market development to the United States Department of Commerce, Delta Air Lines, Inc., the Commonwealth of Kentucky and on economic studies for newspapers in New Orleans, Atlanta and Memphis.

Following the Korean invasion in 1950, he was assistant to the Director of Industrial Expansion and Construction, National Production Authority, Department of Commerce, Washington, D. C., until 1952.

Mr. Davlin served as Chief of the Area Development Division of the U. S. Department of Commerce at Washington from 1948 to 1950. His special assignments included that of research aide during the 1949 recession to Secretary Charles Sawyer; Commerce representative, Federal Inter-Agency River Basin Committee; and Chairman, White House-Commerce-Labor Committee on Spot Unemployment.

In 1946 and 1947 he was area development consultant to the U. S. Commerce Department, organizing the area development program which he later directed. Also, he served as consultant to the Committee of the South, National Planning Association, on such studies as "Why Industry Moves South" and "Impact of Federal Policies on Southern Economic Development."

Mr. Davlin was executive secretary to the advisory board (Management, Agriculture, Labor) of the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion, Executive Office of the President, at Washington under James F. Byrnes, Fred M. Vinson and John W. Snyder, successively, in 1945 and 1956. He was personal assistant to the board chairman, O. Max Gardner.

In 1943 and 1944 he served in the Army Quartermaster Corps.

Mr. Davlin was regional director, Southeastern Region of the National Resources Planning Board, from 1940 to 1942, directing the federal government's pre-war surveys of industrial resources and opportunities in the southeast, and in 1938 and 1939 was assistant to the field service director of the National Resources Planning Board at Washington.

Sewer Installed on West, Mill Streets

Construction of an 8-inch sewer main on West Street, from Milby to Mispillion Street, was completed this week, with the laying of the same-sized sewer main on Mill Street expected to be completed this week.

The work, part of a contract awarded to W. B. Mitten & Sons, of Dover, includes the following work: installation of 250 feet of water main on Ward Street, from Mill to Thorpe Street, with 4-inch main; installation of 475 feet of 4-inch water main on Thorpe Street, and installation of 375 feet of 4-inch water main on Harrington Avenue from Center Street to Simmons Street.

The contract also included installation of several manholes and fireplugs.

SEWER AND WATER AUTHORITY REFERENDUM TO BE HELD TUESDAY, 1 TO 5 P. M.

A referendum for the formation of a sewer and water authority will be held here Tuesday from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m., daylight saving time. All taxpayers will be eligible to vote and the election will be determined by a simple majority.

The formation of such authorities was authorized by the Legislature in 1953. It has been said that Fenwick Island has such an authority.

The legislative act authorizes the creation of a separate corporation which must be approved by the Secretary of State. The sewer and water authority operates independently of the City and will be operated by a commission of five citizens, which can include members of the City Council.

The life of the SWA is 50 years. It can borrow money, with no limitation, but must have security.

All expenses of the authority, including salaries, will be paid by the authority. It can adopt by-laws, make amendments, have its own seal, sue and be sued, and can acquire land.

It can issue revenue bonds, fix rates, enter into contracts, and can charge a tapping fee, but cannot compete with an established company of similar functions. It can receive federal aid.

The SWA would operate as a utility and could issue bonds without a referendum as the City must do. This feature, the proponents of the plan figure, would expedite matters in making improvements to the sewer and water system.

Capital would come from water receipts, fees on hooking up to the sewer and water mains, etc.

Legislature Reconvenes On Monday

Democratic members of the General Assembly Monday night decided to return to session Monday at 7 p.m.

The move was prompted by the recent congressional action extending unemployment compensation benefits. The federal law requires confirming action by each state.

Under the present Delaware law the period of unemployment benefits ranges from 11 to 26 weeks and the amount from $7 to $40 a week. Extensions granted under the proposed change would increase this by five and a half weeks for those getting the minimum and by up to 13 weeks for the maximum.

There was some discussion at Monday night's caucus of limiting General Assembly action to the unemployment matter, but no decision was reached.

The Democratic legislators, meeting at the Dover Hotel, Dover, heard William S. Potter, national committee man, say Albert B. Steiner, executive director of the Unemployment Compensation Commission, had informed him there are between 4,000 and 5,000 unemployed in Delaware now who either have exhausted or are about to exhaust their benefits under the existing laws. He also said federal funds making the extension possible are a loan and not a grant although there is no specific repayment provision.

Last week, before the passage of the federal law, the Democratic leaders had decided not to go back in session this year, a move which brought immediate criticism from Republicans because of the state's fiscal problems.

Hackett and Schiff Reach Peak Form In Wilmington Track Meets

By Keith S. Burgess

Dwight Hackett and Jimmy Schiff, Harrington High's stellar, 16-year-old trackmen, acquitted themselves nobly against high-caliber opposition in two Wilmington track meets last week.

Tuesday night at Baynard Stadium, Schiff was third in the State open 100 yard dash in a very close finish. Hackett finished fourth in the two-mile, which boasted it's strongest field in the meet's 11 year history. This was probably Dwight's best race ever. Unable to train much because of shin splints and running a distance greater than a mile for the first time, only college or leading amateur runners finished ahead of him. The runner was Carl Party, former University of Maryland runner, now representing the Baltimore Olympic Club and only athlete to hold a decision over Browning Ross, former U. S. Olympic start this year. Second was Henry Burton, former Michigan State distance man. Third was George Rust, present University of Delaware varsity two-miler, formidable opponents indeed for a high school athlete. Hackett was only a couple of yards behind Rust and was timed in a very good 10:23. Many small colleges have trouble getting anyone who can break 11 minutes.

Saturday afternoon at Baynard Stadium it was Schiff's turn to reach his peak. Competing against performers from four states he was second by half a stride in a 100 yard dash won by the Delaware high school champion in 9:08:05, which is the fastest time ever recorded by a schoolboy in this state. Jim's time was either a former record tying 9.9 or 9:09.5. His previous best was 10 flat. In the 220 Schiff was defending champion and record holder in this meet having won in 23 flat last year. Due to the number of contestants the 220 was run in two heats with the winner determined by the best time. John Scott of Scranton, Pa., won the first heat.

Motorist Hits 2 Felton Cars

The mystery driver who struck some parked cars in Felton Tuesday night, June 3, has been identified. He had also been charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol.

State Police at Bridgeville said a later trial is scheduled for Samuel McDaniel of Railroad Ave., Harrington, who was unable to make a left turn from Rt. 12 onto Rt. 284 about 10:30 Tuesday night. He tried to turn he said, but the car just wouldn't respond.

He therefore kept going into Felton and "glanced off" two vehicles including a parked pickup truck belonging to Nick Hurd. McDaniel then tried to make a right turn in order to head the vehicle in the opposite direction. Instead he struck a light standard and wound up in the middle of the road.

He told police he was unaware he had hit two other vehicles. In his trial before Magistrate Elmer Poynter, McDaniel was fined $200 and costs on a charge of driving a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, and $10 and costs on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident. In default, he was sentenced to 70 days in the Kent County Correctional Institute.

Harrington Minor Little League Starts Season

The large turnout of candidates for the Harrington team in the Kent-Sussex Little League prompted the organization of a minor league of four clubs within the city. This will allow any boy from age 9 to 12 to play baseball during the months of June and July.

Any boy that has not tried out or parents that is interested in baseball is still welcome. All games are played on the Harrington Public School grounds.

Swann Residence Burglarized

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Swann, on U. S. 13 north of town, was burglarized early Friday evening, with $80 and a $1200 ring reported as missing. State police are working on the case.

Entrance was made by ripping a screen on a door on an inclosed porch on the south side of the house, and then jimmying a storm door and a second door opening into the living room. The house was ransacked.

The burglary was discovered about 9:45 p.m. when Mr. Swann, driving into the driveway, saw two men or boys fleeing to the north in a field. Mr. Swann had left the house at 8:40 p.m.

Legion and Auxiliary Officials

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Minner

William A. Minner, who was installed as commander of Callaway-Kemp-Raughley-Tee Post No. 7 of the American Legion Saturday night, and Mrs. Minner, who was installed as corresponding secretary of the auxiliary.

Jacob O. Williams, 70, president of the Kent & Sussex Fair Association and the Kent & Sussex Racing Association, died in Memorial Hospital, Easton, Md., at 2:40 p.m. Saturday.

A native of Caroline county, Md., he had resided many years at Federalsburg.

He had been on the Board of Directors of the Fair since 1926, and had been president of the fair and racing associations since the death of B. I. (Pete) Shaw in 1948.

Mr. Williams, known familiarly as "Mr. Jake", was the son of George and Sarah Williams and was born at Hynson, Md., Dec. 27, 1887, the youngest of six children.

He graduated from Preston High School and, in 1911, with Allison Holmes Covey, opened a hardware store in Federalsburg, which business the partners sold in February.

In 1912, the Covey and Williams enterprise expanded into the automobile business. The partners became the second Ford dealer on the Eastern Shore.

In 1915, on Jan. 27, Mr. Williams married Madeline Anderson, daughter of Roland and Maggie Anderson, of Federalsburg.

On Jan. 7, 1957, at the annual stockholders banquet of the Kent & Sussex Fair Association, attended by more than 400 persons, Mr. Williams was presented a new Buick.

Attorney Herman C. Brown, who presided at the presentation ceremony, rendered a speech including the following data:

"Throughout that period (from 1926 to the present), he has also engaged in a great deal of committee work, generally centering about the sport of harness racing and its part in your great fair."

"... At no time since 1926 has Mr. Williams ever had a job with either the fair association or the racing association which had any monetary compensation connected with it."

"Since he became president in 1948, your fair association has bought and paid for a water system costing approximately $40,000. A new swine building has been constructed and paid for, costing approximately $18,000. The three-quarter mile track has been built at a cost of some $10,000 and paid for; your new grandstand, rest rooms, and state building have been constructed under his leadership at a total cost of $354,000, which has also been paid for."

In the summer of last year, a poultry building, costing some $16,000, was built. An improvement program is underway currently, with new stables and rest rooms.

For many years Mr. Williams had served as a director of the County Trust Company of Maryland. He was a member of the Federalsburg Volunteer Fire Fire Company, the Federalsburg Chamber of Commerce, Nanticoke Lodge 172, A.F. & A.M.; the Marshy Hope Fish and Game Protective Association, the Caroline County Hounds and Hunting Association, the Maryland Harness Horseman's Association; the Maryland Sportsman's Club of the Eastern Shore, the U.S. Trotting Association, the Eastern Shore Foxhunters Association, and the Union Methodist Church. He was at one time a member of the board of election supervisors for Caroline County.

Until a few years ago, he was a partner in the Magnolia Packing Company which operated a large tomato cannery near Magnolia, Del.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Madeline Williams, and a sister, Mrs. Grace Vickers, of Federalsburg.

Funeral services were held at the Frampton Funeral Home at Federalsburg Tuesday afternoon, with interment at Hill Crest Cemetery, Federalsburg.

Armed Forces Notes

Joseph P. Chvostal, aviation machinist's mate first class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Chvostal of Route 2, Box 134, Harrington, is serving aboard the anti-submarine aircraft carrier USS Lake Champlain, operating with the U. S. Atlantic Fleet.

The Champlain carries squadrons of aircraft designed and equipped to detect and destroy enemy submarines.

Rotary Club News

The use of rockets as military weapons by the British in attacking Fort McHenry during the War of 1812, inspired an American prisoner of war on one of the attacking ships to write of the "dawn's early light" and the "rocket's red glare" - phrases now immortal and which can mean only one thing to every patriotic American - our national anthem, Albert S. Barnes, Supervisor - Customer Information of the Diamond State Telephone Company said Tuesday in speaking at a meeting of the Rotary Club at the Century Club.

Today, the "rocket's red glare" lives again in one of the mightiest weapons in American's arsenal of defense - the guided missile Nike, Barnes continued. Nike installations now ring our major cities and no enemy plane can fly so high so fast or so evasively as to escape an intercepting Nike missile, Barnes said.

If you're wondering why the telephone company should be interested in guiding such missiles when its logical interest lies in guiding telephone calls, Barnes added, the two jobs are not so dissimilar as you might think.

Here Mr. Barnes described briefly one of the latest advances in the telephone art known as Customer Direct Distance Dialing which, when it becomes nationwide, will make it possible for anyone to dial out-of-town calls straight through to the called telephone anywhere in the United States and Canada without the aid of an operator.

Then, with the aid of several interesting exhibits, Barnes developed that essentially the same skills and techniques and, in many instances, the same electrical components used in selecting automatically out of the 58 million telephone in service in the United States and Canada the one telephone being called on an out-of-town call, now make it possible for Nike missiles to seek out and destroy hostile aircraft high in the sky above us.

Using small scale models of a typical Nike battery, Barnes explained how this was done.

Designed and developed by a service-industry team comprised of Army Ordnance Corps Engineers, the Bell Telephone Laboratories, the Western Electric Company and the Douglas Aircraft Company, a decade of guided missile research, development, engineering and manufacturing effort has gone into making Nike an effective weapon, Barnes said.

Dedicated in peace to the never-ending task of providing for the people of America the finest telephone service in the world, the Bell System has been engaged in literally hundreds of national defense projects including war communications equipment, radar submarine warfare, rocket and guided missile design, electronic tubes, electronic computers and countless other phases of defense production, Barnes concluded.

Contract Awarded For Reserve Training Center at Lewes

U. S. Senator J. Allen Frear Jr., announced Monday that a contract had been awarded by the United States Engineering Corps for the construction of a U. S. Army Reserve Training Center at Lewes.

Summer Classes to Begin Next Week

The summer music classes sponsored by the Harrington Special School District each year will begin its six-week session next week in the music room of the high school, according to Mr. J. C. Messner, superintendent.

These classes are open to all children who have passed the third grade and are doing superior work in their regular school work during the year. These music classes include the instruction in the playing of all band instruments, these include flute, clarinet, trumpet, horn, tuba, saxophone, oboe, trombone, baritone, and percussion.

One violin student has registered, and it is hoped that more string players will be encouraged to apply for instruction next year.

The program includes, in addition to the private or class instruction, one band rehearsal a week for those children who qualify - the grade school band, the junior high band, and the senior band.

The entire program concludes with a concert on Saturday night, July 19, in front of the post office. This concert also includes the sale of refreshments. In case of rain, this program will be held in the Fire Hall.

Insecticides Are Handy Tools

Insecticides can do great things for fruits and vegetables but they not be applied to the farmer or gardener, just to the plants, says George Vapaa, Kent County agricultural agent.

Like electricity, fire, water and many other tools of mankind, insecticides can be very helpful but if not handled with care, they can be dangerous.

Just because the container doesn't have a skull and crossbones on it doesn't mean that the material is harmless. Many substances are harmful in some way even though they are not poisons.

Mr. Vapaa adds you should avoid inhaling fumes or vapors from fumigants, which are irritating if not more serious. Proper labeling and safe storage is important with children and animals kept in mind.

Simple precaution is the important thing to remember. The following rules will help:

1. Follow the directions of the manufacturer in handling, mixing and applying.
2. Always spray or dust with the wind.
3. Wear respirators when there is danger of inhaling fumes. Respirators approved by the U. S. Bureau of Mines for the job you are doing should be worn.
4. The entire body should be covered.
5. Wash any part of the body which has been exposed to chemicals.
6. Store in strong leak-proof containers out of reach of children and bury unused material.
7. Thoroughly wash fruits and vegetables which have been treated with poisonous chemicals.

Acreage Reserve Rule Affects Multiple Farm Operator

Farmers who have an acreage reserve agreement for 1958 and also hold an interest in the operation of more than one farm were reminded this week by the county agricultural stabilization and conservation office of certain requirements they must meet to qualify for acreage reserve payments.

Joseph W. Ennis, chairman, Kent county ASC committee, urged all landlords, owner-operators and tenants who are in doubt about acreage reserve requirements for multiple farm operations to get complete information at the ASC office.

The operator who has an interest in more than one farm must comply fully with the regular Soil Bank rules on the farm covered by his acreage reserve agreement. In addition, on any other farm or farms in which he has an interest either as landlord or tenant, he must not exceed by more than 10 percent the "normal acreage" in effect on the other farms for the commodity designated in his acreage reserve agreement.

The "normal acreage" is the highest acreage of the designated acreage reserve commodity grown on the farm in 1956 or 1957 or allotted to the farm for 1958.

Any farmer who fails to comply with the "normal acreage" limitation will forfeit his right to an acreage reserve payment on the participating farm or the commodity named in the agreement.

The normal acreage rule applies separately to each acreage reserve commodity. For example, a farmer having both a corn agreement and a wheat agreement can qualify for a corn acreage reserve payment by meeting all requirements relating to the acreage of that commodity and still be eligible for a wheat acreage reserve payment for failure to observe the normal acreage limitations for that grain.

In cases where two persons, such as landlord and tenant, are interested in an "agreement farm," the normal acreage restriction applies only to the person having an interest in another farm.

As with all Soil Bank problems which may not be clear, farmers are well advised to keep the county ASC office informed of their problems and to get answers as soon as a question arises. Delays create unmanageable situations because deadline dates for compliance must be observed, concludes Mr. Ennis.

Local Students to Attend Vocal Camp

Nine local high school students have registered for the annual Music Camp opening at Wesley College in Dover next Monday morning.

They are Jane Hughes, Joan Welch, Pat Hackett, Emily Ann Brown, Geraldine Reed, Bonnie Lee Saterfield, Iris Lee Warrington, Anne Perry, and Kitty Lou Smith.

Each student provides half the funds required, and what is known as "half-scholarships" is provided by interested organizations in the community. The co-operating organizations this year are Horace Quillen, the Harrington New Century Club, the Harrington Rotary Club, St. Stephen's Women's Auxiliary.

The vocal camp this year will have as its director of music Dr. Trussler from the University of Delaware. This will be Dr. Trussler's first experience with the Delaware Music Camp.

The public concert will be held Sunday afternoon, June 22, in the Dover Field House beginning at 2. The public is cordially invited to attend.

U. of D. Choral Directors to Aid WJC Music Camp

Dr. Ivan Trussler, director of choral activities at the University of Delaware, will conduct the choral group of the Delaware Music Camp which will be held at Wesley Junior College, Dover, and Powell Middleton, associate professor of music at West Chester, Pa., State Teachers College, will conduct the string group which will be held at St. Andrew's School, Middletown. Both groups of the Delaware Music Camp will be in session from June 16 through June 22, according to Floyd T. Hart, state director of music education and coordinator of the Delaware Music Camp.

The conductors are well known to music educators and students in Delaware. Dr. Trussler conducted the All-State Chorus in 1956, the Sussex County Chorus in 1957, and acted as judge at the State Choral Festival this year. Mr. Middleton conducted the string group last June and the Sussex County band at Sea-

Drainage Work Speeded

The Soil Conservation District of Kent County has just purchased another large bulldozer in order to speed necessary drainage jobs on Kent County farms, says C. A. Taylor, chairman of the board of supervisors. The new bulldozer will be of great assistance in making up for the delay in conservation work caused by the extremely bad working conditions early this season. Leroy Pepper, equipment manager for the district, has already made use of the new machine on several farms in the county.

The Soil Conservation District, which is governed by Kent County farmers, owns and operates two draglines and three bulldozers. This equipment is made available on a non-profit basis to farmers co-operating in the establishment of conservation practices such as drainage ditches and ponds, which are a part of a complete soil and water conservation plan for the farm.

Then farmers co-operating with the District have already had open drainage ditches dug on their farms this year in spite of the delayed construction season. District machines working on the Green Branch Tax Ditch west of Harrington have also been able to get back on a full schedule.

This has been an extremely busy season of year just before peak planting season. However, a great deal of this work can be done during the summer months when the work load is lighter and soil conditions are more favorable.

Farmers interested in obtaining more information about the equipment and the technical program of the Soil Conservation Service in Kent County can contact their local office at 313 South Governors Avenue, Dover, or phone Dover 3314.

Over 200 high school students are expected to register for the choral and string groups. All students who are participating in the music camp will register at Wesley Junior College or at St. Andrew's School Monday morning, June 16.

The choral and string groups will culminate the week's activities with the presentation of a joint concert at 2:30 p.m., Sunday, June 22, in the Dover Field House. The concert is free and is open to the public.

Soil Bank Grain Mulch Explained

When rye, oats, or barley is used as a nurse or cover crop on farms participating in the Conservation Reserve or Acreage Reserve of the Soil Bank the grain will generally count as a Soil Bank base crop if it is allowed to fall down as mulch or is harvested, according to Joseph W. Ennis, chairman of the Kent county agricultural stabilization and conservation committee. The only exception to this rule is that approval by the county ASC committee may be given to use this practice.

In cases where the farmer has plans to let the grain fall down for mulch, an application may be made to the county ASC committee for approval of this practice. Such application must be made in Kent ASC county office, 313 South Governors Avenue, Dover, not later than June 20, 1958.

Wheat which falls down as a mulch will be counted as wheat because of the allotment quota program for that crop in any event.

Mr. Ennis also reminds farmers who have land in the Soil Bank that for the farm to remain in compliance, the designated acreage in the program must not be grazed or a crop harvested from it.

Sprinkler System Prevents Disaster

The operation of an automatic sprinkling system Friday night prevented a disastrous fire at the manufacturing plant of George A. Sherwin Inc., on Clark Street.

When employees entered the plant Saturday morning, they discovered that an electric iron, left on a table, had burnt the table and, in so doing, had activated the sprinkling system putting out the fire. Just what caused the iron to burn has not been determined.

The extent of the damage by fire, smoke, and water, has not been determined, but it is believed to be considerable.

The plant had planned to operate Monday, but the work was postponed until Tuesday.

REHOBOTH ART LEAGUE TO EXHIBIT

The Rehoboth Art League members' exhibition opens Saturday afternoon, from 12:30 until 5:30 o'clock. Tea will be served by Mrs. Denny Petrillo of Wilmington and her committee between 2 and 5, Sunday. The show will continue open every afternoon until July 10; and after July 7, when classes for adults and juniors begin, it will be open in the mornings, also, for five days a week.

Sign Up for Short Course in Foods Judging

Every year many different foods contests are held in Delaware. There is the Kent-Sussex Fair, school fairs, Grange contests, 4-H achievement days, plus many other foods events.

Competent judges are needed to raise the educational standards of these contests.

The more qualified the judges, the more significant will be the ratings given to products entered in the contests.

The Short Course for foods judges has been set up to offer leading homemakers an opportunity to render a valuable service to your community by becoming a trained foods judge.

Certificates will be given and those who complete the course will be recognized throughout the Delaware area as qualified to evaluate baked goods and preserved foods.

Classes will be held between 9 and 3:30 July 14-15, Monday and Tuesday, at Agricultural Hall in Newark.

If you would like to attend the classes and have not received an enrollment blank, contact Ruth Adams, Post Office Building, Dover. Only the first 30 applications can be accepted.

New Trends in Furniture
The latest furniture styles are in the news lately along with the latest clothing fashions and Ruth Adams your Kent county home demonstration agent, says she has the latest information on home furnishing news.

Upholstered pieces are tending towards the slim and trim rather than bulky and arms are narrower.

This year's modern and traditional have more wood exposed. Arms are often trimmed with a thin flat wood-strip running from the top to the floor.

The exposed frame style in chairs and sofas was well accepted last year and is being continued. The heavy-armed thick-backed couches featured a few years ago do not fit in with the modern home's small scale rooms.

The new slim line sofa will look more in scale with the room. New upholstery techniques and materials will give you more comfort than the bulky styles did.

Woods are in darker tones. Mahogany is in warm-brown as well as the more familiar reddish-brown tone, in both modern and traditional styles.

Designers particularly like walnut, cut to show its beautiful, almost marblelike graining. Don't expect the grain in all pieces of a dining room or bedroom to match exactly when the wood is cut this way. They are not supposed to match in grain, pattern or in color in all areas.

The interest lies in the variation of the pattern. New water repellent oil finishes enhance both grain and color of the walnut.

New details you should look for are inlays. You will find them in fairly large patterns set into table tops, or used as banding on the margins of cabinet doors and drawer fronts. Sometimes the contrast is provided by the grain pattern of the same wood. Other times woods of both different grain pattern and different color are used, to create a texture of color contrast.

Teak is one of the newer favorites for inlay or banding. It is not finished in the old near-black Chinese fashion, but in its own natural brown-gray tone.

Some of the handsome new detail is in light touches of metal on wood, such as small pewter motifs on tops of coffee and occasional tables, brass banding inset to form geometric patterns, dull finished stainless steel leg tips, and drawer and door hardware which enhance the furniture like a piece of costume jewelry.

Furniture fashions have obviously changed but not just because of the calendar, rather, it seems the designers keep and develop the best styles to help make homes more gracious and comfortable.

Chided about his near-sightedness, Hassanein Metwali, of Alexandria, Egypt, "blew his top," whipped out a revolver and took two shots at his fiancée at a range of two feet—and missed both times.

INSURANCE COMMISSIONERS MEETING IN CHICAGO

The Delaware Insurance Department will be represented at the meeting of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners in Chicago by State Insurance Commissioner Harry S. Smith and Deputy Insurance Commissioner George H. Bunting.

This meeting is scheduled for the current week. Smith will have a full agenda in that he is serving on four major national committees and one active subcommittee.

The committees of which he is a member are Casualty and Surety, Fraternal Insurance, Rates and Rating Organizations and Unauthorized Insurance. The subcommittee is the committee on insurance problems in connection with installment sales and loans. The committee has been serving in an investigative capacity. As regards collision insurance, the work of this committee more recently has been that of policing. It has been responsible since its inception in January, 1957, for the return of several million dollars to American policyholders as a result of overcharges on collision insurance covering installment loans. These overcharges were brought about by miss-classification of risks.

The Delaware commissioner states "that it is very gratifying to note the improvement in the classification system of insurance companies writing collision insurance during the past two year." Smith has just completed a second survey of the companies writing collision insurance in Delaware which has resulted in a better classification system for the State and the refund of a sizeable amount of premiums to borrowers who were overcharged on installment loans.

At the meeting of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners in New York in December, 1957, Smith was instrumental in getting a resolution passed placing the national organization on record in favor of a model bill which would regulate the Credit Life and Credit Health and Accident Insurance in the several states.

Much time was spent and many committee meetings were held before a final draft of the proposed bill could be completed in that it had to be a model which could be used in all the states and territories of the United States. Smith states "the committee is hopeful of getting the Credit Life and Credit Health and Accident business properly regulated to the advantage of the millions of American borrowers, as a result of this proposed legislation."

On his return from the National Meeting of Insurance Commissioners in Chicago, he expects to have a more complete report on the investigation that has been made this year on the credit life and credit health and accident insurance business.

Social Security News

Webster's Standard Dictionary defines retirements as (1) the state of being retired or (2) a place of seclusion.

The social security law, however, gives a special meaning to retirement. It defines retirement in terms of age earnings and work. Social security retirement can mean regular payments to persons who meet the test of retirement. It can also mean the payment of some monthly benefits to persons who may be considered partially retired. It is very important for a working person to know and understand the retirement test of social security.

In terms of age, a woman reaches retirement age when she becomes 62. On the other hand, a man reaches retirement age when he becomes 65.

In terms of money and work, a person may be considered completely retired if he earns $1200 or less in the calendar year. Such a person, provided he has reached retirement age and has worked long enough to be insured, can receive full social security benefits by filing an application at the nearest social security office.

Also in terms of money and work, a person who has reached retirement age can receive some social security payments if he earns more than $1200, but less than $2080 in the calendar year. He may consider himself to be partially retired. Such a person cannot receive benefits for all twelve months of the year, but he may receive benefits for some months of the year. The number of months that payments can be made depends upon the amount that the earnings exceed $1200. In such a situation, one month's benefit will be deducted for every $80 or fraction of $80 over $1200 earned.

It is possible to meet a further test of partial retirement even though earnings exceed $2080 in the year. Regardless of a person's earnings in the calendar year, whether over or under $2080, a social security payment can be made for any month of the year in which he earned $80 or less as an employee or for any month he did not render substantial services in self-employment.

Finally, a person can be considered retired when he reaches the age of 72 regardless of the amount of his earnings. Beginning with the month in which he attains his seventy-second birthday, a social security payment can be made regardless of the total amount of his earnings for that year.

Complete and specific information regarding eligibility for social security benefits should be obtained from the nearest social security district office. For Kent and Sussex Counties, the social security office is at 230 West Lockerman Street, Dover.

Wheat Quota Vote June 20, Growers Reminded

A last minute reminder to eligible growers about the upcoming vote on 1959-crop wheat marketing quotas was issued today by George C. Simpson, chairman, Delaware Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. The referendum will be held Friday, June 20. Local polling places will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Eligible growers, Simpson said, are those farmers who will have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain in 1959; since growers with 15 acres or less of wheat and those in the feed wheat program are exempted from marketing quota provisions, they are not eligible to cast ballots on 1959 wheat marketing quotas.

Simpson said the vote is on marketing quotas for the 1959 wheat crop, not acreage allotments. Whether or not quotas are approved, wheat acreage allotments will remain in effect as a means of determining the individual grower's eligibility for price support.

The level of the available wheat support will vary, however, according to the outcome of the vote. If at least two-thirds of the growers voting approve the quotas support will be available on the 1959 wheat crop at a national average or not less than $1.81 per bushel, or 75 percent of parity. If quotas are not approved by the necessary two-thirds of the votes, support for the crop will be available at about $1.20 per bushel, or 50 percent or parity.

Mr. Simpson says that if marketing quotas are in effect, there will be penalties on "excess" wheat produced on acreage in excess of farm acreage allotments. The penalty will be 45 percent of the wheat parity price as of May 1, 1959.

Let me tell you what I saved when I drove a new Plymouth...then bought one!

Just like a lot of other people, I was putting off buying a new car... even though we sure needed one. Then I found out what my Plymouth dealer was offering in the way of low prices and really big trades.

Mister, when I saw what I saved I knew there was no use putting off any longer! Got more for my old car than I believed possible. (Plymouth dealers need used cars and can sell all they get!) Got a terrifically low price on the new Plymouth... and choice of models besides... hard-tops, sedans, convertibles, wagons.

And I saved a cool $140 on the ride alone! Plymouth's top-luxury ride, Torsion-Aire Ride, is standard at no extra cost, while you have to pay up to $140 for the top ride of competing "low-price 3" cars.

What's more, I got the car that proved it can save me gasoline, by winning the 1958 Mobilgas Economy Run. A car with Silver Dart Styling that is so far ahead right now it will still be worth more when I trade. With the kind of easy handling that makes every minute of driving a downright thrill! The stamina to stand up to driving adjustments and big repairs... a car as much better built as it is better looking!

Any wonder I quit waiting? Take my tip... get your Plymouth bargain right now.

Industries Invited to Settle in Delaware

"The Growing State of Delaware," according to a feature article in the current issue of U. I. Buyers Digest, "offers industry excellent opportunity for original plant sites and for extension of plant programs to bring products nearer to market."

The introduction to this 39-page illustrated feature also points out that "Delaware has a type of citizen who learns quickly and adapts to new situations, thus making a good general labor market available."

The Buyers Digest, directory type publication listing businesses and real estate for sale or exchange, is published in California but enjoys a large nationwide circulation. Its current salute to the First State marks the second occasion within a year that its publishers have singled out Delaware as an area offering excellent opportunities for greater industrial expansion.

The article in the current issue includes a letter from Governor J. Caleb Boggs in which the chief executive invites industry and business to consider Delaware as a future home.

In an interview, appearing as part of the Delaware article, Governor Boggs traces the state's growth, industrially and population-wise, since World War II and points out how industrial growth has affected the state's economy. The chief executive further states that "there is still land available for development; and state agencies, such as our State Development Department, are giving fullest co-operation to the Committee to Promote Delaware, Inc., county and municipal governments, the various Chambers of Commerce, trade groups and other organizations in the effort to interest outside industry in locating in Delaware."

Pointing to the adaptability of Delawareans, the strategic location of the state, and the prevailing good labor-management relations, Governor Boggs concludes the interview with the prediction of "a bright future for Delaware and Delawareans."

The special feature is well illustrated throughout with photographs, many full-page, depicting virtually every phase of Delaware activity and many of its attractions.

In conclusion, under the heading "Heritage," the Buyers Digest article states the following:

"Thomas Jefferson called Delaware 'a jewel among states,' and we can certainly say that through the years it has continued to be that. Delaware is a small state which contains within its borders an interesting variety of terrain, a state which has many points of scenic interest, a state that is well balanced in terms of its agricultural and industrial produce.

Within this 110 mile long state there is every opportunity for incoming business. The state has been growing steadily and the advantages it offers industry, low taxes, good government, the best market possibilities means that the state will continue to expand.

This energetic state still remains a sense of its colonial

Delaware Food Market Report

Ninety-nine and ninety-nine one hundredths per cent of the fashers I know would choose steak or roast beef for the main dish on their day - Father's Day. A bit of planning may be needed to fit such a dish into the family budget, but it can be done. This weekend a few stores will feature steaks again as well as some roast. However, here are a few ideas that would gladden Dad's heart June 15. Serve King size beef kabobs made from top round. Less expensive, but really good, are the new chuck steaks currently featured in many stores. Prepared with a crystalline meat tenderizer and charcoal barbecued, these steaks are as tender as serloin and as fine flavored. Last, but not least, is a delicious meat when broiled with a good barbecue sauce - flank steak. You don't have to cook it for a long time either. Simply marinate for 2 hours, then broil. Slice it thin across the grain of the meat when ready to serve.

Of course all of these suggestions are for outdoor cooking on the grill, but can be easily done inside also.

There are many fresh vegetables to choose from that are on the good buy list and all fit into any menu planned for Father's Day. Here are the best buys in our area: asparagus, iceberg lettuce, beets, cabbage, potatoes, squash, carrots and cucumbers and some snap beans. Mushrooms are still fairly reasonable and would be "oh, so good" broiled along side a steak or kabobs.

Fruits remain in low seasonal supply, but two favorites are certainly increasing to our delight - strawberries and blueberries. California is now shipping Bing cherries in volume, selling at an average of 59c a pound. Florida watermelons are more in evi-

"The Times of the Judges" is the theme of the lesson to be studied by the Adult Department this Sunday. The Judges were leaders of the people after they entered Palestine. They were not Judges as the popular modern day sense, however, they did decide disputes etc. The Judgment of God was important in their history, and in our own - how?

The Crusader Choir will be the choir of the morning this Sunday. They will sing the anthem and lead the congregation in worship.

The community Vacation Bible School will begin at Asbury Church this Monday morning at 9 o'clock. This school is sponsored by the Harrington Ministerial Association. The Chancel and Crusader Choir's Picnic will be held today at Lewes Beach at 3 p.m. Everyone will meet at the church at 1 p. m. and leave here together.

The altar flowers for this Sunday will be provided by the Booster Class. The class will also present a gift to the oldest and youngest fathers present at the 10 o'clock morning worship.

Closing exercises for the Church School, all departments, will be held this coming Sunday, at the 11 o'clock church service. All pupils are requested to attend this service in place of the 9:30 church school session. The vicar, vestry, and congregation wish to thank the members of the Coffee Time Group and their co-ordinator, Mrs. Augustus S. Raughley, Jr., for an excellent contribution to the life of the parish.

In August, each Sunday there will be an 11 a.m. morning prayer or Holy Communion, 7 p.m. evening prayer; Tuesday, 10 a.m. Holy Communion and Healing Service.

She wishes to thank all those persons who made contributions, who helped prepare the homemade cakes and ice cream, and all those who patronized the sale.

Monday evening, June 9, a surprise birthday party was given for the Rev. John R. Symonds, Jr. by members of St. Stephen's and a large banquet size table in the parish house was heaped with gifts. The pastor's sermon title is "The Glorification of Fatherhood." The flowers in the altar vases are from Mr. and Mrs. Harold McDonald, in memory of Mrs. McDonald's father. The children and youth are starting to go to the Methodist camp Pe-Co-Meth, on the Chester River in Maryland, as they will all summer. The growth in the number of those attending this camp from Trinity is interesting. In 1955, there were 4; in 1956, 8; in 1957, about a dozen; but this year, 28 have signed up to go.

Mrs. F. C. O'Neal, Jr., as president of the W.S.C.S., arranged for their participation.

Last Sunday, Children's Day was in charge of Miss Virginia Black and the Primary Dept. of Trinity Sunday School. There was a special collection from Sunday school classes. This marked our last Sunday evening service until after Labor Day.

The O.U.R. Class met with Mr. and Mrs. William Shockley last Tuesday. They plan their regular annual ice cream festival for Saturday, June 21. Mr. Manlove Bradley installed officers. The official board meets June 23, Monday.

The trustees met last Sunday. Officers for the coming year were elected; Mr. Ellwood Gruwell is president 1958-59. Committees were appointed for repair of the back steps, damaged recently in an automobile accident; the front vestibule; and the replacement of the shrubbery. Plans are in hand for painting the window frames; each family will pay for one or more, or do it themselves.

"THE FOLKS THAT I HAVE KNOWN"

We have a small number of pamphlets of poems of the above title, written by the late J. Harvey Burgess, late owner of The Harrington Journal and self-styled "splitter of infinitives, mixer of metaphors, demon of the double negative, sorcerer of solecisms, perpetrator of the world's poorest poetry." We presume he was also a dangler of participles.

There have been several requests for this booklet, priced at 25c, but we were unable to comply with them. Fortunately, however, we uncovered a limited supply of this valuable booklet recently while looking the effects of the estate.

We also have a number of pamphlets, "Hosses, Hosses, Hosses" written by Mr. Burgess, and depicting Harrington's harness-racing life. The price is 25c. When the above-named pamphlets have been sold there will be no reprints.
