

LUTHER P. HATFIELD IS ELECTED PRESIDENT OF SCHOOL BOARD

Luther P. Hatfield was elected president of the Harrington Board of Education Tuesday night at a reorganization which took the place of the July meeting. At the same time, Keith S. Burgess, elected in the May election, was sworn in to replace the outgoing member, President Paul Neeman, who was not a candidate for re-election.

The board will not meet again until the third Thursday in August unless something special comes up. At the Tuesday meeting, it decided to meet regularly on the third Thursday of the month and to hold the length of the meetings to two hours.

Hatfield is an employee of the Diamond State Telephone Company, while Burgess is a post-office employee.

Russell Bowdle, an incumbent, was elected vice president. He is a farmer near Burrsville. The other elected member of the board is Roland Hitchens, J. C. Messner, superintendent of schools, is an ex-officio member.

The new board voted to have a ditch, adjacent to the Pierre S. duPont School, cleaned and to have the playground graded.

Messner also told the new board he had solicited prices on three 44-inch pianos and had purchased them from the Lester Piano Company, Lester, Pa., at $561.90 each. The decision to buy the instruments was made at the regular June meeting.

Earlier in the meeting, when the outgoing board was still functioning under President Paul Neeman, Mr. and Mrs. James Coady expressed their displeasure with an insurance settlement, the aftermath of dental injuries suffered by their son, David, in a football game last October.

He required treatment from a Philadelphia orthodontist, a dentist who straightens and arranges teeth, and the parents were billed $215, instead of the $212 as mentioned in a previous account in this newspaper.

The Coadys had thought their son was covered by a policy of the American Progressive Health Insurance Company. Pupils are insured by this company at $1.50 each for injuries in school and in going to and from school.

Members of the football team also pay $1.50, but the Board of Education added $4.50 to the amount this year, though the figure is determined annually.

The Coadys, in settlement, received a check from the insurance company for $30, based on the replacement of a tooth and an X ray. A perusal of the policy disclosed that the company would pay only a maximum of $100 for dental injuries, at the rate of $25 per tooth.

The Coadys maintained that, in replacing the tooth, work had to be done on three teeth and that a plate had been damaged. The repair work had to be done immediately as the son had to take examinations to enter a service academy. In fact, David leaves July 7 to enter the Coast Guard Academy.

Coady thought the school board was liable for the difference between the bill and the amount of the check received. "I lay it before the board as a fair claim," he said. It resulted from a regularly organized game, under the supervision of the school, he stated. He added the school board was in a position to argue with the insurance company, since it held the policy.

The board's attorney, H. C. Brown, said the school board is a branch of state government and has immunity from suit. He added that some states make the school board liable in cases of negligence, but that he found no evidence of negligence. Continuing, he said the board couldn't use state funds to pay a claim but that the case might call the board's attention to raising a special fund, say from gate receipts.

After Coady said he believed the board might get a better deal from the insurance company, the group caucused, and returned to say it would make an attempt to do so.

Jury Clears Man Accused Of Drunken Driving

A jury of three women and nine men, in Superior Court at Dover, Monday, returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of Albert E. Breuer, who was charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

It was the second time that Mr. Breuer has stood trial on this charge, which reached the Superior Court through an appeal from a decision of Magistrate L. Gooden Callaway, of Harrington, who found the man guilty as charged.

In the previous trial, on May 7th, a jury was unable to agree on a verdict and the case was ordered continued until the present term of court. Mr. Breuer resides near Harrington.

According to the testimony for the state, as presented under the direction of Deputy Attorney General James B. Messick, Jr., Mr. Breuer was arrested by state police, along a highway at a point about four miles west of Harrington, on the evening of December 21st on the drunken driving charge. Mr. Breuer was returning to his home at the time.

Frear Skeptical On Trade Program

United State Senator J. Allen Frear indicated today that he might favor something less than a full five-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Program.

In his weekly statement the Senator discussed the vital importance of the program but also outlined examples of how it has created hardships for some American producers who compete for sales with foreign-made items.

The Delaware Senator emphasized that his reason for considering an extension of less than five years is to afford Congress an opportunity to review the program at an earlier date than would be possible if the five-year extension was approved.

The Delaware lawmaker pointed out that the Government's witnesses headed by Secretary of State Dulles and Secretary of Commerce Weeks were appearing first before the Committee in support of the five-year extension. Later on witnesses from various industries will present their testimony.

Mr. Frear said his final decision would not be made until after the public and executive hearings on the bill are completed.

J. Marshall Hughes Graduates From Medical College

Dr. Jay Marshall Hughes of Llanerch, Pa., was one of the 150 students graduated June 12 from the Jefferson Medical College Philadelphia.

EXPLORER SCOUTS LEAVE FOR CAMPING IN THE WEST

Sixty-four Explorers which include Bill Thompson and W. G. Lekites left the Court House in Dover, June 23, bound for New Mexico.

Philmont Scout Ranch is their destination which is located on the slopes of the Sangre de Cristo range of the Rockies in New Mexico.

Bear, deer and buffalo are a common sight in this rugged western country.

Hiking, horseback riding, mountain climbing, and fishing are some of the many activities listed on their training program.

They will arrive home July 13, at 6 p.m. with many stories to tell and a movie to back them up.

Four other Explorers, James McDonald, Paul Wagner, Robert Eastman and David Hitchens, plan to take part in the first Canadian canoe trip ever to be sponsored by the Del-Mar-Va Council, Boy Scouts of America, and are reportedly set to get under way June 26 according to an announcement today by James M. Tunnell, Jr., chairman for this expedition.

This area to be explored for 10 days and nights of rugged wilderness living is accessible only by water and is reportedly a fisherman's paradise. These Canadian lakes teem with Northern Pike, Wall eye Pike, Bass, and Lake Trout, while the countryside is teeming with bear, deer, moose, and many smaller animals.

Leaders of the Del-Mar-Va Council making this trip are: Roland D. Hitchens, Post Advisor of Harrington; Donald Griswold, post advisor in Wilmington, and David Dickson, post advisor in Wilmington. In each instance these leaders are well versed in leading an experience such as this having previously led trips to Philmont, the National Scout Ranch of the Boy Scouts of America located in Cimarron, N. Mex., or they have held their local units on extended river canoe trips having run the Susquehanna, Brandywine and rugged South branch of the Potomac River.

Others making the trip will be: Dale Nolen, manager of the Canadian Canoe Trip, Bill Frank, one of Delaware's most widely known and most read reporters. The host and base camp for this expedition will be the Region 10 Canoe Base known as the Charles L. Sommers Canoe Base located at Ely, Minnesota, about 3 miles from the Canadian border.

This group will return to Wilmington July 13.

The leaders and Explorers of Post 76 wish to extend their thanks to the Harrington Rotary Club, their sponsor, for the Explorer Uniforms donated, and Mr. Parsons, a Rotarian, for his services.

Micro Midget News

Micro Midget news is what we make wherever we race, and we have just raced at the Delmar Raceway, which was opening nite for the stock car fans. The date is for Friday nites, but due to the rain it was Saturday nite at 8:30 p.m. The Blue Hen Micro Midget Racing Club was there in full force and ready to go. The track we had to run on was unprepared and not to our size, which made it difficult to put on a good show. The management promised a better track by our next visit.

The boys really had a time for themselves, with plenty of space to open their little cars up. This was the first time the racing club has raced outside of Harrington.

This helped us Sunday as a lot of people came to see us race at our own track one mile south of Harrington on the north bound lane of the dual highway.

It was the largest crowd of the season, and the track was in the muddiest condition, after the heavy rain late Saturday night. At race time the boys had just gotten a good six inches of mud mixed up, but after more tractor dragging, truck driving and racer running, by three o'clock the track was in running shape, but this proves what I have been telling you. The boys will put on a good race under any conditions.

Plans are under way for a big trophy race for the 4th of July and you know how the boys go for those trophies.

Plans are also under way for lights, so we can put on nite races, when the weather gets too hot Sunday afternoons. Then the people can still enjoy the beach and see racin' gait nite. We beach and see racing at nite. We teenagers, as long as the weather stays cool.

For those who are wondering what the track looks like after Sunday. Let me tell you its back in first class shape.

A new car made the line up Sunday. A new car, and an old owner. This car replaces the old No. 7 which had seen better days. It is owned by John Porter, built by Joe Gray and driven by Fox. With Fox winning the Heat Race and the Feature. Talking about the feature Race Sunday, I think we broke a record of some kind, with thirteen cars starting and eleven finishing. The two dropping out were new cars, one of these was Jesse Trotta and new car "Baby Pink No. 4" experiencing some trouble.

Now for the run down of the events Sunday.

1st Race—1, Legates in car 191; 2, Trotta in car 30; 3, Jarrell in car 2; 4, McKee in car 11.

2nd Race—1, Fox in car 7, and 2, Clark in car 97.

3rd Race—1, J. Lane in car 49; 2, Mills in car 30; 3, J. Gray in car 1; 4, P. Fray, in car 101; 5, Billings in car 3B.

4th Race—1, H. Brown in car 9; 2, H. Porter in car 8; 3, J. Gray in car 1; 4, Jarrell in car 2; 5, Marvel in car 12.

5th Race—"Feature"—1, Fox in car 7; 2, Lane in car 49; 3, Clark in car 97; 4, H. Brown in car 9; 5, Mills in car 30; 6, J. Gray in car 1; 7, Legates in car 191.

A sewer plan for Harrington Manor may be in the offing, it was revealed Thursday night, June 19, at a special meeting of the City Council. At the same meeting, the Council also authorized installation of curbing and a water main in the manor.

The group will ask a representative of Albright & Friel, engineers, of Philadelphia, to meet with the Council to discuss the drawing of a plan to put sewers in the manor.

This project has been discussed for some months, but the selection of a method of financing has proved a deterrent.

An amendment to the City Charter, which would have permitted the City to charge the owners of abutting property for sewer installation, encountered considerable opposition and was withdrawn.

A referendum for the establishment of a water and sewer authority, which could have solved the problem, was defeated last week.

The City can also hold a referendum for a bond issue to install sewer, or it can be paid from the City's general funds. In the event of the latter course, the sewer could be installed piecemeal unless a loan is negotiated.

The construction work let authorized W. B. Mitten & Sons, Dover, which has been installing sewer and water mains, to install 500 feet of 4-inch water main, on Benjamin Street, from Smith Avenue across Shaw Avenue to an alley between Shaw Avenue and Center Street extended. The plan also called for the installation of lateral water mains to the above-mentioned alley and to one between Smith and Shaw Avenues. The laterals, which will go just beyond the curb line, could be used when water mains are run down the alleys.

The contracting firm was also authorized to install a fireplug at Benjamin Street and Shaw Avenue. The firm recently installed one at Benjamin and Dixon Streets.

In connection with the project on installing water mains, the Tri-State Concrete Company, Seaford, was authorized to install curb on Benjamin Street, from Smith Avenue, at $1.35 per foot, with owners of abutting property to pay half the cost.

Jimmy Dean To Appear At Kent & Sussex Fair

The fair management announced today that arrangements had been made with the GAC-Hamid agency to have the popular singing star, Jimmy Dean, appear at the 39th annual fair, Friday, July 25, afternoon and evening. He is coming in steadily and will be in the fair grounds for Friday, will be of special interest to the entire family and has been designated by the fair board as family day. The management has extended every effort to include something of interest for everyone. The program will include pony races, Joe Basile and his Big Top band, Popeye, The Sailor Man, ten big acts of vaudeville, a complete grandstand revue, including fifty people and a giant display of fireworks.

The main restaurant will be operated by the 4-H Links of Kent County for the fifth year thus assuring all fair patrons of a good place to eat at reasonable prices. They will also act as host for the annual Governor's Day dinner Thursday, July 24 when the fair management will have as their guests Governor Boggs and his official party.

Entries for the livestock, poultry, boys and girls departments are coming in steadily and will close July 8.

It is expected the minimum of 7000 exhibits will be on display in all departments.

T. B. Holloway, secretary and general manager stated today that the 39th annual fair should be one of the best of its long history. The fair board has spared no expense in securing the very best in everything for its patrons.

Last Call to the Poultry Producers Tour

Delaware poultrymen who plan to attend the tour around New Castle county July 1 should let the county agent know so enough broilers can be ordered for the open air barbecue on the University of Delaware poultry farm, reminds Ralph Barwick, assistant New Castle County agent and guide for the tour.

The meeting places and route for the trip are as follows: Sussex county poultrymen will meet at the Post Office in Georgetown at 7 a.m. and take route 113 to Dover.

Kent county poultrymen will meet at 8 a.m. at Marker's Hatchery, route 13, Dover, and take route 13 to a point just north of Blackbird where route 896 goes on into Glasgow.

New Castle county poultrymen will meet at the Pender Presbyterian Church in Glasgow at 9 a.m. where the whole group will get together. The church is on the northeastern corner of the intersection of routes 896 and 40.

The tour will start at Leo Tamm's farm near Newark and proceeds to the Chrysler Assembly Plant in Newark. The University of Delaware Poultry Research Farm will be the last stop before lunch. Poultry staff members of the University will answer questions and explain research now being done.

After the barbecue, the group will visit the Lee Hofferker farm at Red Lion and the Holt Pratt poultry farm at Middletown.

All the farms have modern facilities and mechanical equipment. Mr. Barwick says, and the tour should provide a new wrinkle for everyone on the tour.

Remember to contact your county agent if you want to go on the tour, he urges.

Odd Facts

An Australian runs a worm farm in his backyard, Sydney reports. He keeps 500,000 worms, breeding them and selling them at about $2.50 for a box of 250, to fishermen.

A South African Medical journal in Pretoria notes that, despite the hazards, most parents insist on a general anaesthetic during dental work for themselves or their children.

2 Big Races at Delaware Park This Weekend

This week's Thoroughbred sport at Delaware Park winds up two of the most coveted stakes of the 51-day meeting, which continues through July 26. The Friday feature (June 27) is the $10,000 added Indian River Steeplechase Handicap of about two and a half-miles, final jumping contest of the Stanton season. The big attraction Saturday, is the Leonard Richard Stakes for 3-year-olds at a mile and a furlough, with an estimated gross value of $50,000.

The Leonard Richards, due for its 21st running, was named in honor of the first chairman of the Delaware Racing Commission. It follows in natural sequence the earlier Kent Stakes, another special for sophomores which was captured June 7 by Boncris Farm's Backbone at the shorter mile and a sixteenth distance.

Judging by the list of eligibles, this could be one of the most interesting renewals of the Richards, what with such good ones nominated as Cavan, the Irish-bred conqueror of Tim Tam in the Belmont Stakes 'Plion, Rose Trellis, I've Got Rhythm, Principado, Staysail, Liberty Ruler, Clandestine, Piano Jim (runner-up in the Kent), and other well known campaigners.

The Indian River Chase offers another fine opportunity for Mrs. Ogden Phipps' brilliant Ancestor to strengthen his claim to the 1958 jumping title. Should his stable decide to accept the heavy weight impost which the 9-year-old gelding is bound to carry over the long grind, Ancestor would face a supreme test. The White-wood Stud's Arywa, who chased Ancestor home in both the recent Georgetown and the Meadow Brook (the latter at Belmont Park), could prove even more dangerous at the longer route of the Friday event.

Twilight Dairy Meeting Set for July 2

The Bancroft and Thomas farm east of Camden will be the site for a twilight dairy meeting on Wednesday evening, starting at 7 p.m.

The evening's program will feature an inspection of Mr. Thomas' herd of Jerseys, his buildings, and pastures, the latter of which he now irrigates.

Roger Emig, fieldman for Southeastern Pennsylvania Artificial Breeders' Cooperative, is to conduct a cattle judging contest following the inspection tour. Harvey Shaffer, Extension Dairyman Pennsylvania State College, will speak on the subject "Feeding Dairy Cattle to Maintain Milk Production."

County agent George Vapaa will review some of the highlights of the county extension dairy program underway at this time. Refreshments will be served. The meeting is open to the public and all interested dairymen and members of their families are invited to be present.

Irrigation Power Plant Needs Cut-Out Switch

Automatic protective devices are necessary on your irrigation power plant, says George Vapaa, county agricultural agent, because of long running time with out attention.

With hot weather coming on, your engine needs protection against over-heating.

Some of the controls which are needed are high temperature cut-out switches a low oil pressure cut-out switch and a pressure to turn off the engine if water pressure goes down.

The high temperature switch turns the power unit off when the water cooling system gets too hot.

The oil pressure switch is connected to the main oil line, when pressure gets too low it switches the engine off.

A water pressure on the pump discharge line turns off the engine if a water line blow-out occurs, or if the pump loses its primes, causing pressure to drop.

On a gasoline engine, switches can control the ignition system, Mr. Vapaa said.

For a diesel engine, the switching system can be hooked up with the fuel system to shut off the engine.

A small expense for protecting expensive equipment may save you a large repair bill, he concludes.

Boggs Proclaims Independence Day

In calling for statewide observance of Fri, July 4, as Independence Day, Governor J. Caleb Boggs today urged Delawareans to "pause long enough during the holiday period to give thanks to Almighty God for the blessings we enjoy as citizens of this great republic."

In a proclamation issued at his offices in Dover, the chief executive pointed out that "the Declaration of Independence proclaimed to the world that this new nation, conceived in the spirit of freedom under God, guaranteed to all men their inherent right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

The declaration, according to Governor Boggs, stands as "a fount of hope and promise not only to Americans but also to the peoples of all the world and the anniversary of its signing should be observed in what he termed the form and intent of the founding fathers."

Governor Boggs also ordered that the national and state flags be displayed on the Fourth of July from all state and public buildings.

The proclamation follows: WHEREAS, July 4, 1776, the Declaration of Independence proclaimed to all the world that this new nation, conceived in the Spirit of Freedom under God, guaranteed to all men their inherent right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; and

WHEREAS, Caesar Rodney and other Delaware patriots played important roles in bringing about the adoption of this significant document and in ultimately paving the way for Delaware to become the First State in the young union; and

WHEREAS, this declaration and the now great Nation to which it gave birth stand as a fount of hope and promise not only to Americans but also to the peoples of all the world; and will—and should—observe, in the form and intent of the founding fathers, the 182nd anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence; now,

THEREFORE, I, J. Caleb Boggs, Governor of the State of Delaware, do hereby proclaim that Friday, July 4, 1958 shall be observed as

INDEPENDENCE DAY

and order that national and state banners be properly displayed from all state and public buildings; also, I urge all our citizens to pause long enough during the holiday period to give thanks to Almighty God for the blessings that we enjoy as citizens of this Great Republic.

A telephone company with good earnings can afford to plan ahead for better service at the lowest possible cost

Take dial service, for example

From the inception of dial service, we planned ahead to install it throughout busy, growing Delaware as quickly as possible. And Delaware was the first state in the nation to be completely served with dial service.

The cost to us was huge—many millions of dollars. But the long-range savings for you have been even greater.

If all local service in Delaware today were operator handled, our staff would have to include—as closely as we can figure it—one out of every four employed Delaware women.

And your telephone bill would be much higher than it is today, because telephone operating costs would be much higher.

Higher initial cost often means lower long-range cost

Dial telephones are just one example of planning ahead efficiently. We could cite thousands more, big and small, old and recent. When we find something which will provide long-term economies, we always try to plan the initial investment for two end-results—to provide better service and save money in the long run.

And since telephone scientists, notably at the Bell Telephone Laboratories, are constantly creating new ways to provide better service at lower cost, the planning stage is a critical one.

It takes good earnings to secure the capital and create the business climate which permit your telephone company to grow and plan ahead. Grow we must—and rapidly—for Delaware, according to Census figures, is one of the fastest growing states in the nation. With adequate earnings, we can plan for growth efficiently, taking advantage of every possible long-range economy. With adequate earnings, we can and will utilize the latest improvements developed by telephone science. With adequate earnings, we can and will keep our plant always modern, up to date, and fully efficient.

A telephone company with poor earnings, forced to live from hand to mouth, could not do these things.

Briefly, in the long run we can give you better service at lower cost if our earnings are good.

Commission Develops New Strain Of Shrub Lespedeza

L. Bicolor Delaware, a new strain of shrub lespedeza especially adapted to Delaware's climate, was planted this week in the Game and Fish Commission nursery at the Petersburg Wildlife areas. After six years of research, an early maturing lespedeza has been developed for this state.

A study begun in 1952 at the University of Delaware was designed to select a productive strain of shrub lespedeza which would mature before frost and gradually shed its seeds throughout the winter months. This project was sponsored by the Commission through a fellowship grant. Work was carried out by graduate students, under the supervision of Eugene P. Brasher, Professor of Horticulture.

Seedlings of L. Bicolor Delaware I will be available for planting on private and public land next spring. Each year over 100,000 plants are grown at the Petersburg nursery for food and cover plantings on Delaware farms.

Fifteen Miles of Living Fence Planted for Wildlife this Spring

Over 80,000 multi-flora rose plants were planted this spring on private and public lands by Game and Fish personnel. The two-year-old stock will furnish excellent travel lanes and cover for wildlife in about two years.

Since the first experimental planting of rose was made on the Petersburg Wildlife Area in 1950, the Commission has planted nearly 100 miles of rose borders for wildlife. Fully matured stock-proof living fences are practical and inexpensive while adding beauty to the Delaware landscape particularly in the early June blooming period.

The six-year old planting on Mrs. Richard DuPont's farm west of Middletown over two miles of multi-flora on Lawrence Jarrell's farm near Magnolia and one of the first plantings of multi-flora on Steve Aaugh's land at Cool Spring, Sussex County, are among the fine examples of Delaware's multi-flora rose fence lines.

Commission Improves Facilities At Seven Boat Launching Sites

Sanitary toilet accommodations have been installed at seven boat launching sites this week by the Game and Fish Commission. At the Augustine Beach Recreational Area on the Delaware River, one-half mile south of Port Penn, the pit-type toilets will be replaced with chemical tank type ones.

Other areas that are equipped with sanitary facilities for the summer seasons are Lums and State Ponds near Kirkwood, off Del. Rt. 71; Fowlers Beach on the Delaware Bay off Del. Rt. 14; Phillips Landing, three miles west of Bethel; Horseys Pond at Laurel on the Sharptown Road and the Assawoman Wildlife Area near Fenwick Island. "A Study of Outdoor Recreational Activities and Preferences of The Population Living in the Region of the Delaware River Basin"

In a recent study undertaken by Audience Research, Inc., under the auspices of the National Recreation School at the request of the National Park Service the recreation habits, activities, and desires of the population of the Delaware River Basin were determined. The specific objectives of the study were to obtain data bearing upon the outdoor recreational activities of those living in the area of the Delaware River Basin, the facilities they would be prepared to use if available, how far they are likely to travel to recreational facilities, and related areas of investigation in terms of both present and potential use. The public's recreational activities were investigated with respect to three types of outings, namely, day outings, overnight or weekend outings, and vacations.

Extent to Which the Adult Population in the Area Takes One Day Trips

Three out of four adults (76 per cent) in the region of the Delaware River Basin have been on at least one day outing during the past several years; nearly as many had done so (71 per cent) in the twelve months preceding the survey.

One in twenty adults have taken more than thirty such trips in the last twelve (5 per cent); one in seven (14 per cent) have taken at least 20 trips; about one in three (36 per cent) have taken trips in the last twelve (5 per cent) at least five.

Among those who have taken day trips in the last twelve months, the medium average was nine trips.

Extent to Which the Adult Population in the Area Takes Overnight or Weekend Trips

A little over half of adults (55 per cent) in the survey area should have taken a weekend or overnight trip in the last few years (slightly less than half (47 per cent) have taken such a trip in the last twelve months.

About one in ten have taken at least 10 overnight trips in the last twelve months; about one in five have taken at least five, and about one in three have taken at least two trips.

Among those who have taken overnight or weekend trips in the last twelve months, the medium average was three trips.

Chief Requirements of the Public For a Place for a Day's Trip

Those interviewed in the survey who go on day trips were asked what they regarded as the chief requirements for a place for a day's outing. "Facilities for swimming" was the most frequent response; "adequate picnic area and facilities" was the second frequent response; "good eating facilities" was third; "toilet facilities" was fourth; "clean, sanitary surroundings, facilities, and rest rooms" was fifth; next was "scenic, natural surroundings, woods, trees, etc."; and seventh was "recreational facilities for children." Other responses which occurred less frequently included "toilet facilities," "amusement facilities for evening entertainment," "not too far away to reach easily," "boating and boating facilities," "reasonable prices," "fishing and hunting," "drinking water," "adequate parking space," "supervised, recreation for children."

Chief Requirements of the Public For a Place for a Weekend Or Overnight Trip

A similar question put to respondents concerning weekend or overnight trips yielded as the first requirement in terms of frequency of response "good sleeping facilities," second was "good eating facilities," third was "clean and sanitary surroundings," fourth was "facilities for swimming." Other responses which occurred less frequently were "reasonable prices," "amusement facilities for evening entertainment," "not too crowded, not too much traffic, peaceful and quiet," "scenic or natural surroundings, woods, trees, etc.," "recreational facilities for children," "fishing, hunting," "adequate picnic areas and facilities," "toilet facilities," "outdoor sports and games."

Complaints Concerning Recreational Areas Available For Day and Overnight Trips

Chief complaints of those interviewed about recreational areas now available for day and overnight or weekend outings were that they are "too crowded," "too far away," "unsanitary, dirty, and untidy" to mention the three most frequent responses.

Extent to Which the Public Regards Available Recreational Areas as Over Crowded

When asked directly, sizable majorities affirmed that the publicly owned recreational areas they know about are overcrowded. Among those who have been on day outings and know of publicly owned recreational areas, 65 per cent said they are overcrowded. Among those who have been on weekend or overnight outings and know of suitable publicly owned recreational areas for such outings, 75 per cent said they are overcrowded.

Public Opinion Concerning Entrance Fees for Recreational Areas for Day Trips

A general willingness to pay an entrance fee for "satisfactory publicly owned outdoor recreational areas" for day trips was expressed by those interviewed.

The medium average amount they said they would consider a reasonable fee was 50 cents per person. This finding has to be interpreted with some caution because people are generally more willing to express a willingness to pay before the fact, but much less willing when the time comes. However, the majority in this case is large enough to warrant the conclusion that most persons would find a modest fee for satisfactory facilities acceptable.

Energy-Saving In the Kitchen

Good kitchen design can save much of the wear and tear on the homemaker according to Patricia A. Middleton, home management specialist at the University of Delaware.

She says extra space and easy access to the backs of high cabinets can be achieved by putting extra doors in the side of the cabinet. This enables the homemaker to reach the often wasted space behind the first row of dishware.

Another idea is vertical plywood space dividers, placed one inch or two apart so platters can be stood on edge like phonograph records in a record cabinet. This saves the space often lost by storing large dishes flat, leaving all the space above the stacked dishes wasted.

Platters standing on edge, separately, are also easier to pull out.

Houston

Sunday School at 10 a.m., Robert H. Yerkes, general superintendent, Alvin O. Brown of the Junior Department and Mrs. Charles Pearson of the Cradle Roll. There are classes with competent teachers for all ages.

The service of worship begins at 11 a.m. with the organ prelude.

Call to worship by the pastor, the Rev. Ray Kirwan, who will deliver the message.

The campaign to raise money for the new church school building got underway last week. It is the hope of those in charge that it can be finished by the end of June.

The last regular monthly meeting of the W.S.C.S. until September was held in the fire hall on Thursday evening, with the retiring president, Mrs. Clinton Marvel, presiding. Devotions were in charge of Mrs. W. H. Jump, the Rev. Kirwan, completed a series of messages from the book of Mark. Following the installation of officers by the Rev. Kirwan, the retiring president, who has served for four years presented the gavel and extended congratulations and best wishes to the new president, Mrs. Robert H. Yerkes, Sr., who then took charge. The officers who will serve with Mrs. Yerkes for the ensuing year are: vice president, Mrs. Edna Sapp; secretary, Mrs. George Kirkby, and treasurer, Mrs. Annabelle Brown.

Mrs. Gertrude Green and sons, Charles and Stanley, of Chester, Pa., were last weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Voshell and Sunday they all were dinner guests of Andy and Florence Maloney at Ocean View.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Webb and children from Pocomoke, Md., were Sunday afternoon callers at the home of the C. Emory Webbs.

Mrs. Helen Dufendach and Mrs. Ruth Sapp attended the annual summer conference of the Delaware State Society Daughters of the American Revolution, which was held in Seaford Flag Day, Saturday, June 14. After a 12:30 luncheon at the Seaford Inn, they enjoyed a visit to Jacob's Choice the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kary K. Brown and a guided tour of the Seaford Nylon Plant.

Last weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Warren visited Cape Hatteras and went across on the Ferry to Ocracoke Island. This island is most unique with a population of 600, there is no doctor, no dentist, and no drugstore. The island is noted for commercial fishing and large quantities of shrimp.

Messrs. George Kirkby, Emory Webb and Ralph Jump Sr. went to Wilmington Monday to look at and have some demonstrations of electric organs as the church building will soon be ready for the installation of an organ.

A number of the Houston Cardinal 4-H Club members will be leaving to attend the short course at Newark.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Simpson of Dunbar, W. Va., came home to attend the funeral services of their grandfather, George B. Simpson, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Slaughter and daughter, Sandra, from Ridgely, Md., spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Yost and Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Slaughter attended a railroad meeting in Rehoboth.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Simpson spent the weekend in Riverside, Conn., with Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Morgan, they were accompanied home by Mrs. Minnie Armour and Mrs. Amanda Williams, who had spent the week with the Morgans.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Voshell entertained the following guests Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Edward O'Conner, of Ridly Park, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Karpin and son, Randy, Mrs. Myrtle Hall, Mrs. Gertrude Green, son Stanley, and grandchildren, Marjie and Charles Green, all from Chester, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Meloney, from Ocean View, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul McNatt and sons, Gary and Gene, of Milford. Dinner was served on the lawn.

Thomas Parvis of Silver Springs, Md., spent last week with his brother, Josiah and family, Mrs. Parvis and daughter, came for the weekend and they all returned to their home Sunday.

Fireworks Demonstration To Be Held at Dixon Farm

Fireworks as scare devices for blackbirds in farm crops will be demonstrated at the farm of Samuel Dixon Tuesday evening, starting at 7 p.m. The Dixon farm is located about four miles north of Dover and east of Denny's Corner.

As one might guess, the demonstration will be noisy rather than spectacular, says George Vapaa, Kent County Agricultural Agent. Some of the devices to be shown include bull dog salutes in a slow burning fuse rope, the new whistling agricultural cracker, the two-shot repeating bomb and rack the shell firecracker for a shotgun, and the automatic exploder which is operated from a tank of acetylene gas.

There is a new netting of half-inch mesh for bird control that can be used for berry plants and bushes. Some farmers may be interested in a new electric fence to keep out deer. And there are two recommended formulas to repel deer from eating crop plants in the summer.

Blackbirds have become a serious pest of crop plants in Kent County. Controls are better aimed at repelling them rather than towards killing them, since the birds also control insects and serve other useful purposes. The problem has been especially severe east of the dual highway and north of Dover.

The demonstration is for anyone who has a bird or pest problem with crops. It will be conducted by Ernest Mills of the Fish and Wildlife Service.

Veterans News

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—As the widow of a veteran who died of a service-connected injury, I receive monthly survivor benefit payments from the VA, based on my husband's pay while in service. I understand my payments will increase somewhat, now that the pay for most military ranks has just gone up. When will my increase show up in my check.

A—It may take several months to adjust accounts of all widows entitled to the increased payments, since each case must be examined individually. Any increase will be paid automatically, and will be dated back to the first of June, the day the new military pay scale took over.

Q—We've just had a new addition to our family, and as a Korea veteran with a 50-percent service-connected disability I'm now entitled to compensation for myself and three dependents. I have not yet reported the birth of our second child to VA. What does VA consider the effective date of the increased payment—the child's birth date or the date of my reporting it?

A—The effective date will be the date VA receives evidence establishing your entitlement to extra pay.

Q—My permanent plan GI insurance policy has lapsed because I was unable to meet a premium payment when I was out of a job two months ago. I have a new job now and want to reinstate my insurance. How do I go about it?

A—As long as you are in as good health as you were when your GI insurance lapsed, you may reinstate it by paying all premiums in arrears. No interest will be charged if your application for reinstatement is submitted within three months of the date of lapse.

Q—A veteran friend of mine recently became blind in both eyes as the result of an auto accident. Although his blindness has nothing to do with his service in the armed forces, he does have a service-connected disability. Is he eligible for special aids for the blind, furnished by VA?

A—Yes. Eligibility requirements for aid to the blind administered by VA state that the veteran must be entitled to the compensation for a service-connected disability and be blind in both eyes. The blindness itself, however, need not be service-connected.

Chemical Weed Control In Corn

Weed control is just one of the farmer's many projects which seem to end. Like picking up stones and building fence, you never seem to catch up with the weeds, they just go on and on.

George Vapaa, Kent county agricultural agent, says the weeds in the corn field are at the top of the black list right now.

When weeds get too far along to be cultivated effectively, chemical controls may be the answer.

For pigweed, ragweed, lamb's quarters, smartweed, annual morning glory, field bindweed and other annual broadleaf weeds, 2, 4-D amine is effective. It should be used at a rate of one-half pound of active material per acre in 5 to 10 gallons of water, he says.

Half a pound means one pint if the material has four pounds of active material per gallon. If it has less than four pounds per gallon, the volume of the chemical must be increased to give the necessary half pound per acre.

Mr. Vapaa says if the corn is more than 12 inches tall, the spray must be directed below the tops of the corn plants by using drop nozzles. Severe injury will result if the spray is not applied below the tops of the plants.

Foxtail, crabgrass, goosegrass, nutgrass and other grass weeds can not be controlled by 2, 4-D.

Chemicals are not a substitute for cultural and management practices in your weed control program. Good clean seed is the beginning along with thorough seedbed preparation and adequate fertilizer. Tomely, shallow cultivation is essential.

More than half of the highway accidents in Northern Ireland are caused by carelessness by pedestrians, the Ministry of Home Affairs said in Belfast.

The careful and correct use of chemicals as a supplement to these practices will produce higher yields and easier harvesting, Mr. Vapaa believes.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Notes

St. Stephen's Women's Auxiliary held its last regular meeting before the summer recess, Tues., June 17, 8 p.m. at the Parish House. Mrs. Robert Creadick, president of the group, presided. Mrs. Granville Hill led the devotional service.

Mrs. Gilbert Keim, who reported on the ice cream festival, stated that thirty cakes were donated and a good profit made on the ice cream and cake. A small quantity of home-made ice cream is stored in a freezer and may be bought by contacting Mrs. Edward C. Brown.

The sunshine committee reported their balance on hand. The ladies of the auxiliary decided to send flowers to members who become ill, and cards to others in the family, who do not belong to St. Stephen's Auxiliary.

The group also voted to make an advance payment to the fair committee, in order to help purchase supplies for the stand.

In the June issue of "Now", publication of the Episcopal Church in Delaware, it is stated that, in the whole Episcopal Church, Delaware stands third when the quota of each diocese for 1958 is compared with what the Episcopal National Council expects to receive. The top six are Southern Ohio, Tennessee, Delaware, Alabama, Ohio, Chicago.

A comparison was also made of the number of confirmations in 1957 with the number of communicants in 1956 in order to estimate how many communicants were required to bring one new person into the church. St. Stephen's, Harrington, stands at the top of the list, with the figure 1.69. Average number of communicants per confirmer for the whole diocese was 16.5.

Our Bishop Mosley will soon join other bishops of the Anglican Communion from every part of the world at the Lambeth Conference in London, July 3 - August 10. The first conference was held in 1867, the most recent, 1948. The bishops will convene "to seek God's guidance on the vital problems which confront the church in these critical days." Bishop Mosley will be the guest of Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, Archbishop of Canterbury, and Mrs. Fisher, at Lambeth Palace, home of the Archbishops of Canterbury, for seven centuries. He will take part in the opening Eucharist of the conference at St. Paul's Cathedral on July 6, where he will see the magnificent new sanctuary of the cathedral. He will attend receptions in the House of Lords and in Buckingham Palace.

The following is a list of subjects the bishops will deliberate upon: the Holy Bible, its authority and message; Church Unity and the Church Universal; Progress in the Anglican Communion; the Contemporary Missionary Appeal and Means of Advance; the Book of Common Prayer; Ministries and Manpower; Reconciling of Conflicts between and within nations; the Family in Modern Society.

Since Sunday, June 15, terminated the church school session for 1957 - 58, certificates of promotion and recognition were awarded the boys and girls of St. Stephen's Sunday School. The summer recess will come to a close in September after Labor Day.

The following pupils received awards for excellent attendance records: Dicky Porter, Sue Perry, John Winkler, Terry Porter, Galle Keim, Charles McNally, Wayne Porter, Roy Porter, June Thompson, Billy McColey, Gary Porter, Carol McNally. Certificates of recognition were awarded as follows: Leah Coady, very good progress in the pre-school department; Barbara Creadick, scholarship in the pre-school grades; Carol McNally, faithfulness in serving as church school organist; June Thompson, proficiency in the junior department; Gary Porter, Charles McNally, and Wayne Porter, faithfulness in serving as church school acolytes; Christy Coady, unusual interest in junior department work.

A notebook has been placed on a table at the entrance of the church, with a place for church school pupils to write their names each Sunday that they attend church services during the summer. It is hoped that the boys and girls will not want to stay away from their worship even though the 9:30 sessions are recessed for a few weeks. If a church school member attends church elsewhere, while on vacation, he should register the name of the church and the date.

Flowers on the altar the second Sunday after Trinity were given to the Glory of God by Robert Nelson in commemoration of Dorothy and Robert Nelson's wedding anniversary.

Flowers on the altar last Sunday were given to the Glory of God by Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Perry. The Rev. John A. Symonds, Jr. attended the Healing Mission held at Trinity Cathedral, Easton, Md., June 16, 17, 18. He heard Dr. Alfred W. Price, rector of St. Stephen's, Philadelphia, speak on the subject "The Healing of Mental Diseases."

Miss Anne Perry, organist for our evening prayer services, and Philip Holson, a soloist of St. Stephen's senior choir, attended the vocal camp at Wesley Junior College, Dover, last week. Sunday afternoon the two took part in a concert in the Delaware Music Camp held at the Field House in Dover. Dr. Ivan Trussler of the School of Music, Delaware University, was director of the group. Because of illness, Kitty Lou Smith could not join the 11 other singers from Harrington who participated in the session. A number of church members drove to Dover to hear the concert.

Acolytes last Sunday were Billy Porter, Billy Carter, Gary Porter, Billy McColey, Roy Porter.

Opportunity Open to Delaware Homemakers

An opportunity to raise food standards in the community is open to leading Delaware homemakers in the form of a short course in foods judging offered by the University of Delaware, July 14-15.

To reach and maintain a high standard for the foods entered in Delaware contests, it is necessary to have trained and efficient judges who know foods and how to evaluate them.

Good judging will result in raising the general level of knowledge about foods and in the standards of foods entered in the fairs and contests and served in the home.

One of the highspots in the course will be given by Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bing of Bing's Bakery in Newark.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bing were high school teachers before going into the bakery business. They will show the homemakers to produce and judge baked cakes.

Miss Eva J. McCreary, home economics teacher at the University of Delaware, will give the course on food preservation.

Miss McCreary is a graduate of Kent State University, Ohio, and received her master's degree at the University of Wisconsin.

Classes will be held between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. both days. Enrollment is limited to 30 people.

To attend the foods judging short course, contact Mrs. Anne Holberton, Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, Newark.

How to Make Mosquitoes Feel Unwelcome

There exists in Delaware, in spite of constant efforts by mosquito control agencies, some hungry mosquitoes that are planning to bite Delawareans and any innocent bystanders from Maryland or Pennsylvania who happen to be available according to Dr. Richard F. Darsie, entomologist at the University of Delaware.

Dr. Darsie says that now the would-be victims of these bloody attacks can turn the tables and rout the enemy from his dinner table by the application of new chemical repellents.

The arrival of modern warfare on the mosquito battlefield is a long awaited event for many Delawareans. Dr. Darsie says the answer can be found in a bottle—of Diethyltoluamide.

Look at the labels of the insect repellents to find Diethyltoluamide listed and be sure to read the directions. Diethyltoluamide in alcohol does not leave the skin oily and clothing may be treated with it safely.

Darsie says to be sure and cover the whole skin area because mosquitoes are always on the lookout for an unguarded spot by the new anti-mosquito weapon.

Other effective ingredients in repellents are ethyl hexanediol, dimethyl phthalate, (don't try to pronounce them, just check the label for the names) dimethyl carbate and Indalone.

These chemicals have been tested by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and are safe, Dr. Darsie says, but people vary in sensitivity and an itchiness or a slight rash may appear temporarily on some people.

Some plastic materials may be affected so follow directions on the label.

wooden platform, built to hold any machine that does not have to be bolted to the floor.

To reduce vibration the platform should be bolted to the floor and possibly to the wall.

A platform could be made with drawers for storing soiled clothes too. If drawers are put in the platform, pegboard or some similar material should be used to allow air through the drawer to lower the chances of mildew.

Delaware Food Market Report

Among the most pleasurable of the early summer plentiful is watermelon. Here is the situation on this favorite fruit. The weather everywhere has been watermelon weather. As a result, these melons are coming from everywhere at once; California, Texas, other Florida. Prices should be very reasonable this weekend with a wide variety of sizes to choose from. Here's the watermelon growers slogan, "The politicians want a chicken in every pot and two autos in every garage - we want a watermelon for every child - please average three kids per family because children come all ages." A new twist to an old saying.

Cantaloupes, lemons, blueberries and bananas are among the best buys. However there are many other fruits to choose from such as Bartlett pears, strawberries, peaches and pineapples. There are some oranges and grapefruit still on the market, but prices are fairly high and quality isn't always the best.

Such salad and relish vegetables as green onions, radishes, cucumbers, cabbage, and green peppers are plentiful and prices are reasonable. Head lettuce may be slightly higher in price this weekend because some of the heavy producing states have passed their peak picking seasons. Celery and tomatoes are a little

Annual Delmarva Chicken Festival Closes Saturday

A record crowd is expected in Denton Saturday to witness a giant parade, the crowning of Chicken Cooking contest winners by the Governor, and to enjoy other highlights of a program which will bring to a close the Eleventh Annual Delmarva Chicken Festival. "With a break in the weather we expect 50,000 people to visit Denton Saturday," General Chairman John Asher advised. "We will have ample State Police on duty to handle the traffic, and there will be 70 acres of parking space available," he said.

Saturday's program actually gets underway at 8 a.m. with some 190 entrants beginning competition in the National Senior Chicken Cooking contest. The junior cooking contest winner will be determined Friday. Cooking contest chairman, Mrs. K. Thomas Evernham, and her committee have set up forty-four ranges in the local Armory to determine a cooking champion. Contestants include several state winners and a lady from India who will appear in native dress. "This is the largest number of senior contestants ever entered in the annual festival contest," Mrs. Evernham said. "Our prominent judges will be pressed to determine a winner in time to place the champion on the parade float built especially for her," she added.

The industry exhibits will be over on the Denton school grounds by 9:30 a.m. and will highlight their day with the awarding of door prizes at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. Two grand prizes, an electric dryer and a gas range, will be given away about 10 p.m. Also available for the enjoyment of the visiting public will be fried chicken from the world's original largest frying pan and other food concessions. During the afternoon, The Rhythm-Aires, will play for public dancing on the outdoor basketball court on the school grounds.

The senior cooking contest winner will be announced and crowned by Maryland Governor Theodore R. McKeldin at 4:30. Promptly at 6 p.m. a giant parade gets underway.

According to parade chairman Alfred W. Reddish, approximately 50 units will make up the three mile array of floats, bands and miscellaneous units. The parade will assemble in West Denton, proceed east on Market Street to Fifth Avenue and then south to Sixth and Carter where it will disperse. The reviewing stand will be located at the corner of Third and Market streets. Governor and Mrs. McKeldin will head a long list of celebrities reviewing the parade.

Reddish points out that prizes and trophies will be awarded to 11 categories of the parading units, immediately after the parade on the school grounds. "We need more individual fancy dress entries," chairman Reddish said. "This is a new category for the parade this year and people have not responded to it very well. A good prize is going begging," he added.

The parade, he said will be composed of 20 marching bands; at least 20 commercial floats, about the same number of antique cars and about 110 miscellaneous units.

Eddie Matherly, radio disc jockey from WTVM, at Pocomoke will MC the Saturday evening entertainment which will include a performance by the talent contest winning acts; the presentation of parade awards, the festival's grand prizes, and the "Popular Vote" award of the Festival Art Exhibit.

Matherly, who is known to his fans as 'Manny's Country Young-

Delawareans Do Not Have To Roam Afar For July Holiday

Delawareans need not roam afar during the three-day holiday period beginning Fri., July 4, for the First State offers a variety of entertainment and recreation for all according to the State Development Department.

In addition to its beaches and other outdoor recreation facilities Delaware also offers attractions for those who do not care to swim, fish, clam, crab or go boating, advises the state agency.

The resort area from Lewes to Fenwick Island is reported as being ready for record-breaking crowds. Quite a few new tourist facilities are now available, and other hotels, motels, restaurants and similar facilities are shining with fresh paint and other evidence of painstaking effort to present a clean and attractive appearance to the summer visitor. In most instances, additional personnel has been engaged to better service the needs of the large influx of vacationists.

In 1957, Rehoboth Beach alone was host to more than 35,000 visitors on the Fourth of July, and, inasmuch as Independence Day falls on Friday this year, permitting, in many instances, a more extended visit to the "Nation's Summer Capitol," larger crowds are anticipated for this year. Unusually large crowds visited the resort during the three-day period, beginning Memorial Day, that served to open the 1958 resort season.

The dunes area along Route 14, between Indian River Inlet again invites the vacationist who desires to rough it. There the State Highway Department maintains recreation areas offering facilities for camping out under canvas and already a large number of tents have been pitched.

Inland waters, both salt and fresh, offer fine fishing, and, in many instances, good clamming and crabbing is also available. Boats are available for hire for fishing in lakes, bay or ocean. Sizeable catches have already been reported at the Indian River Inlet and at other locations.

State parks, particularly those at Trap Pond, near Laurel, and Brandywine Springs, near Wilmington, are ready for widespread public use. Public swimming pools, tennis courts and playgrounds in the Wilmington area are open and already drawing large crowds. Fresh water beaches near Smyrna, Milford and Laurel have recently been re-opened and are being enjoyed by large numbers, particularly children. The Children's Zoo at Brandywine Park, Wilmington, is daily hosting large groups of enthusiastic youngsters.

The horse racing season at Delaware Park, near Stanton, is in full swing and is anticipating large crowds for both Friday and Saturday. Post time at the beautiful horse racing plant is 2 p.m.

in' and for the last two years has been named "Mr. Disc Jockey, U.S.A.," will spin platters for public outdoor dancing at the conclusion of the evening's program.

The festival are exhibit, a new activity for the chicken festival this year, has been enthusiastically received by artists and the chicken industry. More than 400 entries have been received from several states, for consideration by three prominent judges. The subject matter of about two thirds of the entries is related to some broad aspect of the chicken industry. Each visitor to the art exhibit will be asked to vote for one entry, the winner to be given an award at the closing event of the festival.

In the Wilmington area, preparations are well underway for Operation Firecracker, a gigantic display of fireworks, staged annually under the auspices of the Wilmington Optimist Club at the New Castle Air Base. Weather permitting, this year's firework's display will get underway at dusk Friday and will be preceded by an air show.

Outstanding summer theatre attractions will be offered during the holiday period at the Robin Hood Theatre, at Arden, and at the Brandywine Music Circus, at Paynter's Crossroads, a few minutes driving time from downtown Wilmington. The Delaware State Tennis Championships will be in progress at the Wilmington Country Club.

Tourists interested in antiques will undoubtedly be visiting New Castle, Dover, Lewes and other communities, where buildings and relics associated with the state's historic past are on view. While the State Museum, at Dover, and the nearby Dickinson Mansion will be closed July 4, the Winterthur Museum and Hagley Museum, near Wilmington and the Zwaanendael Museum, at Lewes, will be open.

Later in the month, many Delawareans, plus large numbers of out-of-state visitors, will be enjoying the Kent and Sussex Fair, July 21 thru 26, at Harrington, and harness racing, beginning July 23, at Brandywine Raceway, near Wilmington, in addition to many other diversified forms of entertainment.

Plans Now Complete For W.S.C.S. School of Missions

Plans for the annual School of Missions of Peninsula Conference Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church to be held at Wesley College, Dover, Delaware, July 13-18, are now complete as announced by Mrs. Isaac Scott, of Salisbury, Md., Conference Secretary of Missionary Education and Dean of the School. Registration will be from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday, July 13, and the school will be officially opened that evening at 9 o'clock with the celebration of the Lord's Supper by Rev. David A. Baker of Wilmington. Classes will start Monday morning following a devotional service in Holt Chapel directed every morning by the Conference Secretary of Spiritual Life, Mrs. Thomas Maquire, of Cambridge, Md.

Four courses will be offered as follows:

1. Home Mission—"Christian Concern for Our North American Neighbors" A daughter and a wife of Methodist ministers, Mrs. Ewart E. Turner of Syracuse, N. Y., Secretary of Missionary Personnel for the Northeastern Jurisdiction, will teach this course. Mrs. Turner received her education at Central High School, Peoria, Ill., and at Ohio Wesleyan University, she has lived in Germany and has studied both there and in U.S.A. to fit herself to be a competent teacher of this course.

2. Foreign Missions—"The Middle East" will be taught by Mrs. Edgar M. Compton of Bloomfield, N. J., who is also the wife of a Methodist minister. She has served both as President and as Secretary of Christian Social Relations in the Newark Conference, and is active in the United Council of Church Women. This subject is a very vital one at the present time when the peace of the world may depend on events of the Middle East.

3. Christian Social Relations—"Understanding Other Cultures" will be taught by Mrs. William C. Smith of Portsmouth, Va., Secretary of Christian Social Relations of the Virginia Conference. Mrs. Smith holds degrees from Greensboro College, N. Carolina, and from Columbia University. She has done special research work at Cornell University. She has done special research work at Cornell University and the College of William and Mary, and she is currently working for a degree in Religious Education.

She has had much experience in teaching and is the author of several books and magazine articles. This will be a very interesting and informative course as directed by Mrs. Smith.

4. Spiritual Life Study—"Isaiah" will be taught by the Rev. David A. Baker, pastor of Richardson Park Methodist Church, Wilmington. Dr. Baker is a graduate of the University of Delaware and of Drew Theological Seminary. He has served Conference Boards of Education, Ministerial Training, and Evangelism. He is well qualified to teach this great Bible study.

"FRAULEIN" and "DESIRE UNDER THE ELMS" at Reese June 29, 30, July 1

With the Reese Theatre being closed Wednesday and Thursday during June, July, and August, the usual summer policy, unusual concentration, emphasizing greater entertainment bargains seems to be the order of the days, with Delaware and Maryland Theatre fans seeing top double hits on single bills.

An example of this is the double hit bill listed for this Friday and Saturday, June 27 and 28. Ray Milland stars in Columbia's "High Flight," a story of today's red-hot jets as the number one hit, with Kevin McCarthy in "Diamond Safari," the action laden story of the almighty quest for diamonds. Another popular Cartoon Circus is the extra added attraction.

One of the top double bills of the season is scheduled for presentation Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, June 29, 30 and July 1. Dana Wynter and Mel Ferrer are the stars in the widely acclaimed "Fraulein," in Cinemascope and Color, with Eugene O'Neill's "Desire Under the Elms" with Sophia Loren and Anthony Perkins, as the companion picture. Truly two great pictures on a single bill at regular prices.

More Limited Access Roads Needed

In Delaware, limited-access legislation is limited, at the present time, to New Castle County where the freeway system is under construction.

Engineering News-Record states: "With controlled access, four-lane divided highways are almost four times as safe as other trunkline roads."

"But without controlled access, the four-lane divided highway is the most accident prone and dangerous road."

"These strong statements come out of a recent study of such roads in the state of Michigan—which, according to State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie, will no longer plan and design new four-lane divided highways without control of access," in view of the study.

"The study indicates an accident rate averaging 151 accidents per 100 million vehicle miles on rural state trunkline expressways during 1957. This compares with 805 on four-lane divided highways without controlled access; and with a five-year average of 223 for all rural trunklines."

"Fatality rate for the controlled access expressway during 1957 was 2.5 per 100 million miles and 5.0 for uncontrolled access. Five-year average for statewide trunkline was 8.2."

We line U. S. 66, south from Chicago an excellent four-lane highway with controlled access. And while we are on the subject, how about doubledecker highways?

Guesswork Taken Out of Grain Selling

During 1958 nearly 100% of grain sold from Maryland farms to grain dealers will have the moisture content determined with a calibrated moisture meter. The moisture content of a sample of grain being sold is determined by this electrical device which measures the moisture in a grain sample by measuring conductivity of electric current through the sample.

During the grain marketing season, starting soon, Maryland farmers will sell more than 12 million bushels of grain. Grain is usually bought from farmers on the basis of weight per bushel and moisture content.

According to marketing specialist Dick Smith, the money Maryland farmers are paid for their grain, depends on the reading of the moisture meter. If it is calibrated incorrectly the farmer may receive too much or too little money for his crop.

At present, Smith says, 99 percent of the grain dealers are voluntarily co-operating with the Maryland Department of Markets and have moisture meters that have been correctly calibrated.

This voluntary program, started four years ago, has received such wide acceptance by grain farmers and dealers alike, that no one in the business of buying or selling grain will use a moisture meter that does not carry the green seal of correctness from the Department of Markets.

Smith reports that 49 meters have been calibrated this spring. Of these, 38 were giving correct readings, 11 needed adjustment. Needed adjustments will be made by factory representatives before wheat harvest begins. Four years ago, when the program started, over half the meters were incorrect.

Mrs. Walter W. Garrison. Mrs. Ella Everett Garrison, 87, a former school teacher, died Tuesday in the Jarvis Nursing Home, Felton, where she had been a guest for more than two years.

A native of Coudersport, Pa., daughter of Peter and Mary Bateman, Mrs. Garrison was twice married. After the death of her first husband, Silas Everett, she was later married to Walter W. Garrison and they came to Harrington to live. Mr. Garrison who was engaged in farming died in 1948.

In late years, Mrs. Garrison made her home with a granddaughter, Mrs. Esther E. Rust of Farmington, until entering the nursing home. Her only son, Clarence Lee Everett, died in 1937.

Besides the granddaughter with whom she had lived, the deceased is survived by two grandsons, Lewis W. Everett, Baltimore, and Irving O. Everett, Harrington; 14 great-grandchildren, and one great-great-grandson. She also leaves eight stepchildren all residing in New Jersey.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday after 7 p.m. Funeral services will be held from the Boyer Funeral Home tomorrow at 2 p.m., in the charge of the Rev. William Smith, pastor of Farmington Methodist Church, with interment at Hollywood Cemetery.
