

State Pays More, Per Capita, Gets Less From Washington Than Any Other State, Says Carvel

Delaware taxpayers pay more federal taxes, per capita, than any other state and get less back than any other state, Elbert N. Carvel told a packed house at a covered-dish supper of the Ninth District Democratic Club at the Legion Home Friday evening.

The former governor, a candidate for United States senator in the general election this fall, subject to the wishes of the delegates to the Democratic state convention, said upwards of 750 million dollars was paid by the state in federal taxes, and that about 35 million dollars was coming back.

He pointed to his record as governor, from 1948 to 1952, as a recommendation for his election as senator. He explained that, when he assumed office, state affairs were run down but they were soon built up in accordance with the wishes of the people.

He elected to Washington, Carvel said he would try to see we got a little better break than we have so far. He explained by saying he would try to bring more public works to the state.

"There was no charge of dishonesty or corruption ever leveled at us in more than four years," Carvel said, regarding his term in office. "It was my philosophy that if a man was serving as governor he was doing it, not for money, but to work for the welfare of the state."

"What has the senior senator ever done for the welfare of the people of his state?" will be the issue, Carvel said, in referring to U. S. Senator John Williams, the Republican candidate.

He concluded by saying he has been governor of Delaware four years and that he realized Delaware's needs and knew how to work for them.

Harris B. McDowell, former United States representative and secretary of State of Delaware, said people of the country, as a whole, were opposed to the situation confronting them in 1952 and 1956, national election years, when they were misled by issues drummed up by the Madison Avenue soapbox.

A candidate for United States representative, subject to the wishes of the delegates at the Democratic state convention, McDowell, former Democratic state chairman, added that at this time the people would have an opportunity to vote for the candidate who would be running on issues which were those of the most importance to the people, and that their decision would elect Democratic candidates to public office and bring good government back to the people.

Franklin Hendricks, president of the club, presided, and Ernest E. Killen introduced the speakers. Jimmy Emberlain's band played for dancing after the speaking.

Mrs. James Wilson was supper chairman.

GOP Will Hold State Parley In Dover Aug. 27

The Republican State Committee voted Monday night to hold the party's nominating convention at Dover on Aug. 27 starting at 8 p.m.

The night session was agreed upon in a discussion, according to Ellwood S. Leach, state chairman, because it will enable more persons to attend the convention.

It was also announced that the convention will be held at the new State Armory which is near the Legislative Hall and the Highway Department Building.

Mr. Leach said, after the meeting at Alexander's Restaurant in Dover:

"The fact that we are able to use the new state armory means that we will have more room and ample, nearby parking. The caucuses will be held during the afternoon and the convention can start promptly at 8 and, in all probability, end sufficiently early to permit safe return home for all those who will attend.

"We expect one of the most successful conventions, in all respects, that the Republican Party has held."

During the Dover meeting the committee filled five vacancies, placing W. Roy Willis, Edwin R. Kimmel and Louis S. Cohen in Wilmington slots, and naming Benjamin E. Hicks, of Marshallton, and George T. Bierlin, of Baptist Church Road, Newark, to county places.

Honduras is making a strong tourist bid.

Driver Killed In Car Stolen From Farmington

Ronald A. Proffitt, 26, of Eddy-stone, Pa., was killed Saturday afternoon when a stolen car he was driving missed a curve in Snow Hill, Md., and overturned while he was attempting to elude a pursuing Maryland state policeman.

Police said the accident occurred on U. S. 113 about 100 feet south of the intersection with Route 365. Proffitt was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. R. C. Larmore. He suffered a fractured skull.

Police said Proffitt was driving an automobile stolen from the home of Lewis Newnom at Farmington Friday afternoon. Proffitt stopped at a gasoline station, according to police, and after having the car tank filled sped off without paying the bill. Later he passed Corp. William C. Dykes at a high rate of speed and the latter gave chase. The chase at times reached 105 miles per hour, Corp. Dykes said, and as the two cars roared into Snow Hill Proffitt failed to make the curve and the car overturned several times.

Crash Injuries Prove Fatal To Man In Kent

A Bowers Beach man died Thurs., June 26, in the Kent General Hospital from injuries suffered in an automobile accident June 12.

Lawrence (Dutch) Morris, 54, who operated an oyster business at Bowers Beach, died at 6:18 a.m. at the Dover hospital where he was taken 15 days ago.

Morris was a passenger in a car operated by Claron Anderson, 42, of the Dover Air Force Base when the vehicle apparently traveling at a high rate of speed ran off County Route 18, six-tenth miles north of Bowers Beach and crashed into an embankment.

Police said Anderson apparently lost control of the car in rounding a curve. He suffered a fractured nose.

Surviving are his wife, Elizabeth S. Morris, and the following children, Mrs. Bessie Willey, Dover; Coleman and William S. Morris, Bowers Beach; Mrs. Wanda Lee Neeman, Dover; and Lawrence Wayne Morris, also of Dover and six grandchildren. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Catherine Balmas, Monett, Mo., and Mrs. Regina Bile, Philadelphia and a brother, William S. Morris, Philadelphia.

Services were held Sunday at 2 p.m. in the Trader Funeral Home, Dover, with the Rev. Charles Burge, of Magnolia, officiating. Interment was at Barrett's Chapel Cemetery.

Gov. Boggs Calls Conference of Fire Departments

The need for unified community effort in cutting the Nation's growing fire losses was stressed by Bernard J. Padgett, chief of the Alexandria, Va., fire department in an address that highlighted the third annual Governor's Fire Prevention Conference, held in Capital Grange, Dover, last week.

The conference, called by Gov. J. Caleb Boggs to explore means of helping reduce fire losses and suffering in the state, and co-sponsored by the Delaware Volunteer Firemen's Association and the Delaware Safety Council, attracted about 200 representatives of fire departments; civic organizations, Chambers of Commerce and the Boy Scout movement.

In addition to Chief Padgett, those attending the conference also heard William Donahue, Wilmington fire marshal, who spoke on the topic, "The Value of Home Inspection," and J. Sharp Queener of the DuPont Company safety division, who outlined the program of Boy Scouts in the fire prevention program.

Robert K. Pierson, reported on the activities of the Delaware State Chamber of Commerce in fire prevention and C. Wesley Robinson, president of the Delaware Volunteer Fire men's Association, took for his topic, the "Aim of the Volunteers in Fire Protection." Mrs. Marie D. Saunders/ Newark, president of the Delaware State Fire Association Ladies Auxiliary, outlined the women's view in fire prevention.

Captain Robert S. Downes, Newark, state civilian defense director, reviewed the benefits of CD training in the prevention program.

Ralph H. Boyer, a former secretary of the state firemen's organization, and past chairman of the Dover Fire Prevention Week committee, explained how to organize community fire prevention programs.

Governor Boggs extended the official welcome, and State Fire Marshal William R. Favinger presided and introduced the various speakers.

Early American Glass Goblets Featured at Zwaanendael Museum

Improvements Just Made Several thousand dollars worth of repairs and improvements have been made recently including a new roof, it was reported by the owner. Seventeen people are employed by the concern.

Mr. Goslee said he was partially insured but wouldn't know exactly until he got the safe open. The agency closed at 1 p.m. Saturday and the last employee left an hour later. Mr. Goslee was called by firemen from his Rehoboth Beach summer place.

Several vehicles outside were scoured. The fire spread rapidly in the building, fed by explosions of lacquer and gasoline and flaring grease and oil. The cinder-block building was 125 65 feet.

His next move was to Baltimore, from where he was sent to the Northern Region as assistant superintendent, transportation, at Buffalo in 1956. He was promoted to the TrucTrain post just a year ago.

Marsh is a native of Pitscairn, Pa., and a graduate of Pennsylvania State College, 1934. He joined the railroad as special apprentice that year and rose through various assignments until 1955, when he was appointed superintendent of the Wilmington Shops.

He is married and has two children, a boy and a girl. His present residence is in Wilmington.

Millsboro Car Firm $200,000 Fire Hits

An explosion ripped through the Ford agency building on North Main Street at 3 a.m. Sunday, blowing plate glass window fragments across the street and triggering a fire that caused damage ranging from $200,000 to $250,000 at Millsboro.

Chief Joseph Lingo of Millsboro Fire Company believes the fire was smoldering for some time before the explosion, using up oxygen and creating a vacuum that shattered a small window. He believes the rush of fresh air touched off the explosion.

However, Arnel West, town policeman, said he inspected the building 15 minutes earlier. Shortly after the explosion, he accosted four boys who were hurrying through the streets and was told they were trying to report the fire's location.

Building Value Said $100,000 Raymond S. Goslee, owner of the agency, said the building was worth $100,000 and a shipment of parts still unpacked, $50,000. Destroyed with the building and parts were four trucks in for repairs, owned by Diamond State Telephone Company, Houston-White Lumber Company, Frank S. Parker Company, and Rodney Peed Company. One 1958 automobile was inside and destroyed.

Several times members of the eight fire companies at the general alarm were driven back by heat from a nearby two-story dwelling, which caught fire twice, but they were able to close in each time and save the house. Mr. Goslee's large one-story house nearby was also scorched.

The Rev. Mrs. Ottinger wishes to thank the ministers who spoke at the "Closing Chat" and the mothers who baked cupcakes, and all those who had a part in making the Bible School a success.

Pinkham Gets New P. R. R. Post

He succeeds A. R. Marsh, promoted to assistant manager, heavy repair shops. He has been here since May, 1956.

Pinkham is no stranger to Baltimore, having served there as assistant master mechanic and master-mechanic. He is a graduate of Cape Charles, Va., and a native of Purdue University, class of 1942. During his college vacation in 1941 he worked as a special apprentice in the motive power department and returned in the same capacity after graduation.

After military service, he completed his apprentice training and was appointed assistant engine-house foreman in Columbus, O., in 1949. He was transferred in the same capacity to Enola, Pa., in 1950; promoted to engine-house foreman at Grand Rapids, Mich., in 1952, and made assistant engineer, motive power, Philadelphia, late that year.

He is married and has two children, a boy and a girl. His present residence is in Wilmington.

Brownie Scout News

All Brownie Troops held its closing program in June at the American Legion Home, with their parents present. The opening and flag ceremony was conducted by troops No. 183 and 134. Tillie Kukulka tap danced. Troop No. 120/presented a very amusing playlet entitled "At the Train Station." Troop 157 presented the playlet "Spring Fever" and a pantamime of "Witch Doctor."

Fly-ups were held for troop 157, composed of the following scouts: Emilene Adams, Mary Brown, Kitty Lou Burgess, Shirley Feyerabend, Vickie Hill, Kathy Hopkins, Carolyn Porter, Cheryl Satterfield, Doris Spicer, and Marilyn Walls. Three tall candles were lighted by their leader, Mrs. B. Norman Hopkins, and neighborhood chairman, Mrs. W. Jarvis Hurd. These candles represented the three parts of the Girl Scout Promise. The Scouts repeated the Brownie Promise in unison and received their Brownie Scout wings from Mrs. Hopkins. Each scout lighted a candle from the three, crossed the room and repeated a G. S. law and received both the Girl Scout and World pin from Mrs. Hurd. They then repeated the Girl Scout Promise.

Mrs. Hurd announced that all scouts and families would picnic at Lewes Beach, Sunday, July 13. She also asked for leaders and assistants to help with the troops in the fall. She stated it was not necessary to be a mother of a scout to become a leader. Help is needed. Nancy and Christine Taylor, senior scouts, have been helping whenever possible.

LONG ISLAND HOUSEWIFE, 32, WINS CHICKEN COOKING TITLE

Denton has returned to its placid way of living but old-timers doubt it will ever be the same again. The reason: Over 20,000 visitors who were at Denton for the three-day Delmarva Chicken Festival.

The 11th annual festival closed Saturday with Mrs. Barbara Marks, 32-year-old Long Island housewife, being crowned national chicken cooking champion and the grand climax was a spectacular two-mile long parade Saturday night.

Some 10,000 persons were at Denton Saturday to watch the 195 contestants for the national cooking contest held in the armory. The judges, comprising 20 food editors from all over the Eastern Seaboard, with Eleanor Parish, food editor of the News-Journal papers, as chairman, admitted it was difficult to reach a decision but finally awarded the coveted national crown to Mrs. Marks for her specialty, "Chicken Tarragon Champignos."

Mrs. Marks was crowned cooking queen by U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall of Maryland, representing Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin, who was unable to be present.

Mrs. Marks, who lives at Wantagh, L. I., received $500 in cash and the choice of an electric or gas range valued at $350; a silver engraved tray and a trophy. Mrs. Marks has two young children and two hobbies, silver-smithing and enameling. She said she was thrilled at being the winner "beyond words." It was the first time she had entered a cooking contest.

Second and third place winners came from Cambridge.

They are: Mrs. Leroy B. Edgar, Jr., who won $300 in cash and her choice of an electric or gas range, second, and third, Mrs. Donald T. Kirwan; fourth place winner was Mrs. Ethel B. Korner of Towson, Md.

One Man Qualifies
 Only one man qualified among the first 25. He was John LeBaron of Exeter, N. H., who placed fifth.

At 6 p.m. the parade started across the Choptank River headed by the festival queen, Miss Helen Lee Pittard of Georgetown, and her court, and including numerous floats, antique cars, 20 bands, and various organizations.

Fire company division, best appearance, Rescue Fire Company of Cambridge; Ladies Auxiliary, Maxon-Dixon Unit of Selbyville; antique automobiles, Mrs. Ernest Gill of Baltimore, driving a 1912 Dayton commercial floats, first, Beacon Feeds; float trophies were awarded the Denton National Bank and the Georgetown Chamber of Commerce. The latter featured three girls on swings aboard a flower-bedecked float.

In the band division first prize went to the Smyrna Fire Company band while the Galena High School band was first in the junior division.

The winner of the popular vote in the art exhibit was Guy S. Fairlamb for his "Big Red." Mr. Fairlamb studied at the Maryland Institute of Art in Baltimore.

Felton

"A Formula For Peace" was the theme of the Rev. Larry S. Renner's Sunday morning sermon. Memorial flowers were white lilies and red carnations in a blue vase presented by Mrs. Wade Shaub in memory of her son, Lee Turner.

At 2:30 Sunday afternoon a consecration service for the new education building of the Felton Methodist Church was held in the upper room of the new building. State Launches New 4-H Swine Program

A new 4-H awards program open to boys and girls interested in raising meat animals has been arranged by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, according to Norman C. Mindrum, director.

It is the national 4-H swine program, and is supported by the Moorman Mfg. Company, Quincy, Ill., makers of concentrate feeds and parasite control products for livestock and poultry. The company will provide $400 college scholarships to six national 4-H champions as well as state trips to the 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, and medals will be awarded to county winners.

"It gives us a great deal of pleasure and satisfaction to become the donor in connection with the national 4-H swine awards program," stated E. H. Wilson, president of Moorman. "We consider it to be a splendid way by which we can help farm boys and girls gain a greater appreciation of and to acquire a greater participation in the future of animal agriculture.

"It is our sincere hope that these awards will stimulate ever greater achievements from the fine group of youngsters which make up the 4-H membership," Wilson said.

Although this new awards program has just recently been launched by the State Extension staff 4-H Club members enrolled now will be eligible to enter their records in competition for the 1958 awards. Detailed information may be obtained from the county agent.

"NOTICE"

Pursuant to Section 1994, Chapter 19 of the Delaware Code Annotated the State Highway Department hereby announces its plans in connection with the mosquito control work during the summer of 1958.

The airspraying program will be continued and will include the following areas, whenever an inspection by personnel of the Mosquito Control Division reveals the existence of mosquito breeding within such areas:

1. Certain marshlands in Kent County lying between Bowers Beach on the south and the road leading from Little Creek to Port Mahon on the north, exclusive of those lands currently being treated by the United States Air Force.
2. Certain marshlands in Sussex County which previously have been avoided due to the wishes of the owners thereof.
3. All upland areas in New Castle County adjacent to suburban developments, where possible breeding might effect nearby communities.

In addition all unincorporated communities in New Castle County will be sprayed unless the residents thereof express to the State Highway Department an unwillingness for this work to be done.

Moreover, it is planned to undertake permanent control measures along the tidal marsh lands of the State, exclusive of State and Federal game refuge, but including marshlands along tidewater streams leading from Delaware Bay, between Woodland Beach on the north and Bowers Beach on the south, and including areas between Slaughter Beach and Fowler's Beach. These measures will consist of constructing fresh water impoundments where feasible, and of repairing and digging ditches in other areas. Such work will be done only where inspection has revealed the presence of breeding.

Needlecraft News

by Nancy Baxter

Have you ever noticed how much difference the little touches make in the overall appearance of a household? When you're visiting friends, it's easy to see the personality of your hostess mirrored in the details of her decor: her plants and flowers, her favorite recipes, her handiwork.

A PART OF YOUR PICTURE

In your own home, too, the details set the stage and prepare the mood for your special style of gracious living . . . details, for instance, like the items of needlework you make yourself, by hand. Needlework shows off your creative ability to wonderful advantage, as you've no doubt discovered from the admiring comments of your friends and family if you've already completed projects in knitting or crocheting. Needlework is the most feminine of all the arts. And it offers such a wide variety of patterns and materials, you're always sure of finding an idea that's perfect to pep up the room or corner you have in mind.

ELEGANCE AT YOUR FINGERTIPS

If your tastes lean toward luxury on a fairly limited budget, here's a suggestion that can really set you on your way: beautiful insertions for your linens in filet crochet. What an ideal gift for a bride! This geometric design is at its best in both modern and traditional decors. And remember, filet is one of the easiest variations of crochet to work, and to launder. A fine, size #50 mercerized cotton is called for here.

Ocean Downs Being Readied For Summer Meet

Ocean Downs, Maryland's smart resort night pari-mutuel harness track, is being readied for what is expected to be the biggest season in the track's history. The popular vacationland oval, session July 28, running through inaugurates the annual Summer to August 23.

With this year's meet Ocean Downs completes the first decade of racing on the Eastern Shore. It was back in 1949 that the popular track joined the ranks of racing's big time mutual courses.

Today the track-by-the-ocean enjoys distinction that few of the nation's top ovals can boast of, a racing record that has put it in the list of the fastest tracks of the country. It was here last year that the mighty Torpid, from the stable of the famed Grand Circuit driver, Johnny Simpson, blasted out a sensational race mile in two-minutes, when he captured the Ocean Downs Stake for 3-year-olds.

The Ocean Downs stakes, for the two and three-year-old trotters and pacers, again will highlight the 24 night meet. President Lynwood Duncan has announced that the rich stakes, which have entries still eligible from over 20 states and two Canadian Provinces, will be staged as the features of opening week. "This," he said, "will really send the meeting off on a high note."

Manager Dick Case and his staff of assistants have the big half-mile plant in readiness for the incoming stables. The track is being whipped into shape, Dave Knapp, the Berlin High coach, has the stable area all ready for the first of the incoming stables.

Ocean Downs again winds up the racing activities of the Maryland Circuit. Stables this year will again come from all over the racing map—from Baltimore Raceway, which closes right ahead of the local opening; from the several New York tracks, and also from Ohio, which last year sent over some of the top stables seen at the meet.

Eight races will be in the nightly card, post time will be at 8:20, the popular daily-double will be

Farm Bill Defeated In Congress

"The recently defeated Omnibus Farm Bill was an economic monstrosity and a political hodge-podge," according to Congressman Harry G. Haskell, Jr., (R-Del.)

In his weekly report to the people of Delaware, Congressman Haskell said, "This bill would have cost the American taxpayer from two to three billion dollars. In my opinion, the politicians who drew up the bill underestimated by a considerable margin the intelligence of the American farmer and the American housewife."

"Had not this bill been defeated by a phalanx of Republicans, plus about 30 discerning Democrats, we would have been jet-propelled along an even faster road to inflation."

Congressman Haskell likened the farm bill to the Omnibus Rivers and Harbors Bill of last March when he said, "We faced the very same type of political skulduggery in the Omnibus Rivers and Harbors Bill when the committee included about 18 pork barrel projects in an otherwise reasonably sound piece of legislation."

"Mr. Charles Shuman, President of the American Farm Bureau Federation, put it in a nutshell when he said of the Farm bill 'This legislation would set Agriculture back 25 years,'" concluded Haskell.

Armed Forces Notes

M/Sgt. Henry J. Yearsley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter V. Yearsley, Route 2, Milford, recently completed the 15-week advanced non-commissioned officer course at the Army Armor School, Ft. Knox, Ky.

Sergeant Yearsley received instruction in the principles of unit leadership. The sergeant attended Dover High School.

on the first and second races, and track officials again promise that the races will be run off so that the fans can get away at an early hour.

Flowers Need Special Summer Attention

Roses and other perennials need some special care during July and August according to George Vapaa, county agricultural agent.

Roses need water regularly along with a handful of 5-10-10 fertilizer around each plant and mix it into the soil, he recommends.

He says a mulch is also useful to keep the soil temperature down, hold the moisture and help control weeds. Peat moss, composted leaves, and ground corn cobs are acceptable mulching materials.

Hardy chrysanthemums also need feeding now and again in August. A handful of 5-10-5 or 5-10-10 worked in lightly around each plant is adequate.

Spraying for insects and diseases is also, necessary at regular intervals.

Roses and mums both need to be protected for best results. A combination spray made up of DDT, malathion, karthane and parzate will control most of the problems.

For best display, perennials should be staked up. Stake and tie the plants before they bloom so they can not be injured by wind and rain.

It is not too late to fill vacant spots with bedding plants Mr. Vapaa says. A starter solution should be applied when transplanting to help the plants withstand the shock and to speed normal growth. Plants should be watered before and after transplanting.

A mulch applied as soon as the plants are placed in their permanent location will help retain moisture and keep weeding at a minimum.

Lecturer in Safety at University of Delaware

Charles A. French, staff representative of the Safety Education Supervisors Section of the National Safety Council's School and College Division, will speak at the University of Delaware July 7 and 8.

Mr. French is one of eight guest lecturers who will appear during the summer session course, Problems in Safety Education, being offered under the direction of Dr. D. Kenneth Steers.

Formerly a teacher of social studies, Mr. French has been active in civic work as legislative chairman of the South School PTA, Des Plaines, Ill. where he resides. He also is a member of the Citizens Advisory Committee, Maine Township High School, Park Ridge, Ill., and is chairman of the general caucus of the Des Plaines School District. He attended George Williams College, Northwestern University and has a master's degree in education from the University of Chicago.

The Safety Education Supervisors Section of the National Safety Council is composed of professional educators assigned accident prevention responsibilities in their school systems. It has grown from 27 members at its founding in 1945 to more than 500. This growth prompted the appointment of a full-time staff representative to co-ordinate and assist in the activities of the section.

McDOWELL IS THE MAN

Harris B. McDowell, former United States representative and former secretary of state, has thrown his hat into the ring as a candidate for Congress and deserves the consideration and support of the voter.

He has been endorsed by Democratic committees in Wilmington and the remainder of New Castle County. Only lately has some semblance of opposition loomed up in Robert Kelly, an assistant of United States Senator J. Allen Frear, who, naturally, has declared his support of his cohort.

We have been trying to find out what has been back of the aspiration of the last-hour opposition which may have to be learned at the Democratic state convention when candidates for states and federal offices are nominated.

So far, Kelly does not appear to have any committee backing but he is hardly the type to throw his hat into the ring without assurance of party support. He is a good boy but Harris, former chairman of the state Democratic committee, is well-known for his political astuteness, his firm convictions, and his adherence to the principles of the Democratic party. In other words, one knows where Harris stands.

McDowell has had some run-ins with members of his party. That is only logical where one has been an active party member for a number of years and has not been a "yes man." He has irked us, at times, but we, too, eventually found there was no basis for the irritation.

At the covered-dish supper of the Ninth District Democratic Committee Friday night, a farmer, a former state representative, philosophized, "It's too late to take him to the trough and then turn him away."

We agree. The outcome of these political battles, if possible, should be solved early in the game. Now—why the ninth-hour tiff?

One observer thought maybe it was because McDowell lost out to Republican Haskell, the incumbent, in 1956. This, however, was the year of the presidential election and Eisenhower is a hard man to beat. Carvel lost, in his bid for re-election as governor, in 1952, but he is running for United States senator this year. Eisenhower was also Carvel's nemesis. A man can lose and still come back. Grover Cleveland did it. He served as president, was out one term, and came back for a second.

Kelly, of course, has a lucrative position with Frear. If he loses, he still has his job. But who is back of him? It takes money to run for Congress.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Notes

Members of St. Stephen's Junior Choir enjoyed a picnic at Rehoboth Beach last Saturday. Several carloads of children and chaperones left the Parish House at 1 o'clock. Adults that accompanied the group included Mrs. Eleanor Smith, choir director; Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Keim; and several young men, Ronnie Correll, Richard Seeley, and Bobby Rash, who were on hand to assist the young swimmers, if needed.

Plans are progressing for the church fair booth. The committee, with Robert Baynard and Granville Hill as co-chairmen, has been especially active in the last few weeks. Several working committees have been busy putting the booth into tip-top shape. Menus are being discussed and decided upon in preparation for the big week of July 20-26.

Flowers on the altar last Sunday were given to the glory of God by Mesdames Baynard, Hearn, and McColley.

Acolytes for St. Peter's Day were Ronny Porter, Billy McColley, Wayne Porter, Robert Greer, Gary Porter, Roy Porter.

Ushers for last Sunday were Messrs. Ellwood Wooters and Earl McColley.

Members of St. Stephen's were sorry to hear of the illness and hospitalization of Joseph Penny, who suffered a heart attack. He is now at his home recuperating, and the thoughts and prayers of the congregation are with him.

The executive committee of the Women's Auxiliary met at the vicarage last Monday. The following ladies were guests of the vicar for luncheon: Mesdames Robert Creadick, Robert Baynard, Archie Ford, Eleanor Smith, Robert Nelson, and George A. Thompson. Mrs. Granville Hill, also a member of the committee, was not able to attend the meeting.

Guests at St. Stephen's for the 11 o'clock service last Sunday were the Rev. Victor A. Kusik of St. Mary's, Bridgeville; Mrs. John Hudson of Ottawa, Canada, mother of Mrs. Walter Winkler; Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Rogers of Bridgeville; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sigler and family of Milford and Mr. and Mrs. William V.

Stippel of Milford.

St. Stephen's Building and Grounds Committee met last week and organized for a busy year ahead. George Johnson is general chairman. He has appointed the following men as advisors: Messrs. Robert E. Baynard, Robert Nelson and George A. Thompson. Robert Quillen is purchasing agent. Clyde Perry will have charge of all carpenter's work; Earl McColley will head a utility committee; James Hoffman will be chairman of the paint committee; Robert Greer is ground superintendent.

Some of the projects that will be done soon by this group of workers are white washing the fence behind the church, painting the areas around the air conditioners and around the heater flue in the church, painting the outside of the enclosed porch at the Parish House.

Trinity Methodist Church Notes

Sunday Trinity celebrates the 11 a.m. service. The organ prelude is, "His eye is on the Sparrow" by Gabriel, and the postlude, "Joy After Worship" by Lorenz. The pastor gives a Communion meditation.

Sunday School is at 10 a.m. as every Sunday, winter and summer.

Shirley Cox is attending Intermediate Camp at Pe-Co-Meth this week.

Mrs. Earl Sylvester was Dean of the Girl's Mission School, held at Camp Pe-Co Meth last week.

A reception was held for the minister and his family last Monday evening, on the occasion of their returning to Trinity for the third year. Mrs. Frank C. O'Neal, Jr. was in charge of the program; Melvin Brobst presented a musical variety, which included instrumental and vocal selections by children and adults. Mrs. Harry Adkins was in charge of the refreshments, punch and cookies. Ellwood Gruwell spoke in welcome. The pastor's family were the recipients of several gifts, and the evening was enjoyed by all the numerous group which crowded the annex and overflowed into the church.

Glamorous Gifts for the Kitchen
 Colorful and glamorous kitchen utensils now on the market present many possibilities for attractive and useful wedding and shower gifts.

Many brides favor the colorful, decorative items which can be used for both cooking and serving. Such pieces are part of the modern trend toward casual, colorful living and entertaining.

Specialized pieces are also a part of this trend. There are several types of coffee-makers and many other kinds of utensils designed to keep food warm during a meal through the use of candles, alcohol lamps, or electricity.

Copper for the kitchen has long been a favorite of home-makers. Now copper that never needs polishing is available in copper-colored, anodized aluminum.

Anodized aluminum also comes in other colors for the bride who doesn't choose copper.

No one material is equally efficient and practical for all kinds of cooking. One material may be very satisfactory for oven cooking, but may be unsatisfactory when subjected to the higher temperatures generated by burners or units on top of the range.

Complete sets of utensils such as pans and mixing bowls may not be a good buy, since many times only a few pieces are actually used and the extras take up valuable storage space.

Gas Tax Refund Applications Out

Farmers who have not applied for refund of federal gas tax on the gasoline they use on the farm should do so according to George Vapaa, Kent county agricultural agent.

Farmers who applied last year (for the year ending June 30) are now receiving application form 2240 to make application for refund for the coming year which started July 1.

Those who have not applied be-

Delaware Food Market Report

With July here, the emphasis will be on picnics and outdoor eating. The plentiful foods listed by the United State Department of Agriculture are made-to-order for these meals. Ice cream, fresh peaches and watermelon top the list of dessert items. Potatoes, especially the new potatoes, are abundant for the traditional outdoor favorite - potato salad. Lemons, both fresh and processed, meet the need for cooling, refreshing drinks. A profusion of garden-fresh vegetables meet the need for color, taste and nutrition in rounding out summertime meals. And there are plenty of vegetable fats and oils for salads and pan-frying of meats and fish - time-honored culinary pursuits of the nation's backyard, open air cooks and chefs.

The meat situation is about the same as it has been for the past few weeks. Pork is the only meat that has edged up in price. There may be special offers on certain cuts to move them into consumption when the demand is low. However, the market men predict prices to remain near their present position on all pork.

Outdoor cooks will do well to watch for specials on U. S. Choice grade beef. If you have a revolving spit arrangement for outdoor cooking then a top-grade roast is a delicious meat to serve out of doors. This meat will be featured during the warm months to come. Summertime usually is the time of highest beef prices—because supplies are smaller than at other times of the year. This summer may be different. Large number of well-fed beef animals are likely to come to market in early summer - this is the latest news. For outdoor roasting select standing rib, rolled rib, rump, sirloin, or tenderloin of beef.

For the truly thrifty shopper, look for specials this week on such meats as steaks, stewing meat, and chuck or shoulder roast. Turkeys are making news again too. Prices are attractive, and supplies plentiful. Don't forget that barbecued chicken is always a favorite and is still not high in price when compared to most meats.

At the fish market, porgies continue in good supply. Other fish that are seasonably plentiful are cod, flounder, whiting, and Boston mackerel. There is also a good supply of scallops and crabmeat.

fore can get form 2240 on request from either the District Director of Internal Revenue; Federal Building, Wilmington, or at the county agents office in the Dover, postoffice.

The claim for refund must be returned to the District Director before September 30, or the claim will not be paid Mr. Vapaa warned. Accurate records must be kept for verification.

Internal Revenue Service publication number 308, "Farmers Gas Tax Refund," will give complete information on the refunds. Copies will soon be available at the Internal Revenue office and the County Agents Office, he said.

Delaware Park To Include Juvenile Stake

The holiday weekend will be highlighted at Delaware Park with two attractive stakes races in as many days—one of them a brand new $10,000 added dash for juvenile colts and geldings named the Caesar Rodney, and the other the $25,000 added Sussex Turf Handicap in which the more experienced horses will meet at one mile and three eighths on the lush infield course.

The Caesar Rodney heads the Independence Day program Friday. Like all the other major events at the Stanton track, it has a most appropriate name, honoring a signer of the Declaration of Independence. It was Rodney's deciding vote that broke a tie in the Continental Congress after he had ridden some 80 miles on horseback to get from Dover to Philadelphia to file his ballot. The stake appears certain to draw a starting field of quality and quantity from the large number of promising young thoroughbreds on the grounds.

Saturday's rich Sussex, named for one of Delaware's three counties, may attract an even larger field what with so many of the nation's leading grass cutters available for this 21st running of the stake. It is the big turf course special of the meeting which runs through July 26.

In Delaware Park's earlier grass stake, the Brandywine Turf Handicap, 15 horses competed, which was a record-size field for a Stanton grass event. That mile and a sixteenth fixture was won by the English-bred Tudor Era, who may attempt an even more important conquest in the longer Sussex.

The grass races always appeal greatly to foreign-bred horses, most of which are more at home on that type of course. The Sussex last year was captured by Sanford Stud Farm's French importation, Raffy, at the direct expense of Leap Tide, also bred in France. Could be they'll hook up again Saturday.

The Manhattan Rockets To Appear At K & S Fair

One of the most spectacular features at the Kent & Sussex Fair at Harrington, will be the sensational Manhattan Rockets, dazzlingly beautiful, streamlined sirens, who will be featured in a series of lavishly staged production numbers, beginning on Tuesday night, July 22 and continuing through Sat., July 26.

The Manhattan Rockets are famous from the tip to toe of North and South America. They have made highly successful appearances in the big cities of Canada (3 years with the Canadian "A" Circuit) and the United States. For the past eight years the Manhattan Rockets have been a regular feature at the DuQuon State Fair. They were chosen to fly down to Rio de Janeiro at a great expense for the Brazilian Mardi Gras.

The dancing darlings were featured at the National Shrine Show in New York's Madison Square Garden and have played many shrine shows in the United States.

They have appeared with Bob Hope and many other star attractions.

These fair titans of terpsichore are always enthusiastically applauded during their dance numbers, famous for split second precision and synchronized perfection.

They will do their famous "Jungle Rhythm" and will enthrall audiences with other exciting dance numbers. The rockets are a part of the "Havana Holiday Revue," as presented by G. A. C. Hamid for the 39th annual fair at Harrington.

Delaware Tops in Christmas Seal Sale

Delaware topped the nation again last year in the sale of Christmas Seals.

For the twenty-first consecu- tive year the Delaware Anti- Tuberculosis Society led the 48 states and the District of Col- umbia in the per capita Christ- mas Seal Sale receipts, accord- ing to G. Taggart Evans, executive secretary.

The information was received this week from Clarence Kehoe, Seal Sale director of the Nation- al Tuberculosis Association in New York.

The 1957 Christmas Seal Sale receipts in Delaware amounted to $105,600 with a per capita total of 24.1 cents. More than 52,000 Delawearns purchased Christ- mas Seals last year.

Ranking second nationally to the state of Delaware was the District of Columbia with a per capita return of 23.8 cents. Min- nesota was third with 23.5 cents and the state of Illinois, ex- clusive of Chicago and Cook County, fourth with 23.3 cents.

Delaware's neighboring states of Pennsylvania and Maryland each had a per capita return of 18 cents.

Commenting on the success of the Christmas Seal Sale in Dela- ware for so many years, Dr. Gerald A. Beatty, president of the Delaware Anti-Tuberculosis So- ciety, said,

"Our Society appreciates the generous financial support of the campaign against tuberculosis by the citizens of Delaware. Our citizens have not only contribu- ted their monies but have also participated in the Society's program of prevention and care.

"During the past year more than 70,000 Delawearns received preventive detection service made possible by the cooperative pro- gram of the Delaware State Board of Health and the Dela- ware Anti-Tuberculosis Society. The society's participation in the program was made possible by the annual Christmas Seal Sale."

K & S Fair Offers Opportunities For 4-H'ers

This year's Kent-Sussex Fair will offer many opportunities for 4-H Club members, according to Sam Gwinn, state 4-H Club leader.

More than 125 different project classes are on the fair premium list. Some of these are canning, frozen foods, baking, clothing, needlecraft, home improvement crafts, eggs, vegetables, entomology, home beautification, and farm and home electric.

Club members may also take part in the junior dairy and junior swine shows.

Besides the exhibits, there is the state 4-H judging contests, Tuesday, July 22 on clothing, baking, food preservation, vegetable, dairy, swine, and poultry and eggs.

State 4-H demonstration contests will be held Wed., July 23. All county demonstration winners will be eligible to enter the contests, Mr. Gwinn said.

The demonstration contests for both boys and girls will be held in the new Poultry Building and in the Educational Building, beginning at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

The state 4-H tractor operators contests will be held Thurs., July 24 in the morning starting at 10 a.m. behind the farm machinery exhibit. The three county winners from each county will be entered in the contest.

Club members interested in exhibiting at the fair or participating in the judging contests should contact their local 4-H leader and county 4-H Club agent before July 14 for further details.

Mr. Gwinn invited the public to visit the agricultural extension building at the fair and to see the 4-H exhibits and events.

University of Delaware To Purchase Material

Even at a medium-sized institution like the University of Delaware, the material requirements of the various schools and departments are widely diversified and sometimes downright peculiar.

R. M. Blakeman, the university's purchasing agent since 1954, obtains the bids and writes the orders for such commonplace items as bread, milk and ice-cream. There is, of course, a question of quantity; 45,000 loaves of bread per year, 920 quarts of milk per day and 560 gallons of ice cream per week! He also is responsible for less routine purchases such as electron microscopes, atomic reactors, Holstein cows and special chickens.

It is estimated that his efforts have saved the taxpayers of Delaware more than $300,000 during the past three years, while stretching the University's limited dollars to the maximum.

Last year, counting the new construction on the university campus, Blakeman wrote between eight and ten thousand orders totaling more than five million dollars. He has averaged more than four million dollars worth of orders during each of his four years on the job.

One of the best and most economical sources of supply for the university has been the Delaware State Agency for Surplus Property. By taking advantage of bargain prices on supplies and equipment disposed of by Federal agencies, Blakeman was able to buy equipment valued at about $100,000 last year at a cost of less than 10 per cent. He plans to continue to make such purchases whenever possible.

In accordance with the best purchasing practices, the university secures at least three bids on all purchases of $500 or more and awards the order to the lowest responsible bidder. Although the university prefers to deal with firms within the state and the majority of orders are placed in Delaware, it is not always feasible or even possible to do so. Some purchases involving large quantities are made directly from manufacturers to eliminate several markups. This is especially true of office equipment and furniture.

While savings are important the university does not sacrifice quality, Blakeman says. Frequently, scientific equipment is needed which must meet specifications so demanding that the purchaser is limited to one or two sources. Regardless of what is being bought, service and quality are as important as price in determining the supplier.

Purchasing is a difficult job, but by adhering to consistent procedures, the university assures every bidder of an equal opportunity while putting its own dollars to the best use.

"I always tell the truth," said Sophia Loren, movie actress, in Rome. "I cannot be bothered with a lie—you need such a good memory."

Archives Commission Elects Officers

At the annual meeting of the Public Archives Commission, held in the Hall of Records, Wed., June 25, the officers for the ensuing year were elected. Mrs. Henry Ridgely was one of the original members of the Commission when it was created in 1905, and has served continuously as an officer; first as treasurer and then as president for more than thirty years. She declined to be considered for re-election. David F. Anderson, Esq., of Wilmington, was elected president to succeed Mrs. Ridgely. George M. Fisher, Esq., of Dover, was re-elected vice president, and Henry P. Cannon, II, of Bridgeville, was elected secretary to succeed Mr. Anderson. The other members Mrs. Edward W. Cooch, Sr., and of the commission present were Mrs. James M. Tunnell, Jr.

As a token of appreciation for the long tenure of public service as an officer, the Commissioners presented Mrs. Ridgely with a tooled leather photograph album. It contained pictures of the State Archives when it was in the basement of the Old State House and of a number of views in the Hall of Records as it is today. There are also before and after photographs of the Old Presbyterian Church in Dover which was restored and utilized as the Delaware State Museum, a division of the Public Archives Commission. Also included are pictures of a number of important exhibits. There are similar groups of photographs of the restoration and the completed furnishing of the rooms and gardens of the John Dickinson Mansion. All of these changes and developments occurred during the presidency of Mrs. Ridgely.

The meeting concluded with a series of reports from Leon deValinger, Jr., State Archivist and Director of the Delaware State Museum. These reports summarized the accomplishments at the Hall of Records, the State Museum and the Dickinson Mansion during the past year.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—Two years ago I converted my GI term insurance to a permanent plan policy. Please tell me how soon I can borrow on my permanent plan policy, and how much?

A—You can borrow on your permanent policy now, since it has been in force for more than one year. The amount you may borrow cannot exceed 94 per cent of the cash reserve of your permanent plan GI policy.

Q—Can a paralyzed veteran who is eligible for a $10,000 VA grant for a "wheelchair" home also get a GI home loan with which to pay off the rest of the cost of his house?

A—Yes. The fact that he receives a $10,000 VA housing grant does not deprive him of his right to the GI loan benefit.

Q—I will be going to school this fall, under the GI Bill. How soon do I get my first allowance check?

A—Under the law, VA allowance checks for training are payable only after the completion of each month of training, and the law allows VA 20 extra days to process checks. You should be prepared for a two-month wait before your first check comes.

Q—Is it possible for a disabled "peacetime" veteran to draw VA compensation at wartime rates?

A—Yes—if his disability resulted from extra-hazardous service, such as simulated warfare and the like.

Moisture Means Parasite Control In Sheep Gas Tax Refund

Wet weather increases the internal parasite problems for sheep, George Vapaa, Kent County agent says. Moisture helps worms move on to grass where they are eaten, so the regular rains being experienced this season make many of the old permanent pastures, with their backlog of larvae, worms, unhealthy for lambs. Anemia, diarrhea, or general poor condition may indicate internal parasites.

Move fast if you find such trouble signs, he says. Drench

Del. Memorial Bridge Receives Salute

Delaware Memorial Bridge received a three-page salute in the spring issue of the Quarterly Toll Review, official publication of the American Bridge, Tunnel and Turnpike Association, Inc., Frank J. Harty, general manager, revealed this week.

Having just completed its first quarter of a century, association members, involving officials of the Delaware Interstate Highway Division, are looking forward to the group's 26th annual convention which will be held in Richmond, Va., Oct. 16, 17 and 18, Mr. Harty pointed out.

The Salute to Delaware Memorial Bridge opens with a recapitulation of the recently reported rates and points out that during 1957 under the Interstate Highway Division, bridge revenue amounted to $7,603,180 while operating expenses came to $713,066 and the article also tells how the Interstate Highway Division is planning an expansion program.

In the Toll Review's principal article on the bridge, the history, interesting facts concerning construction, financing and other details are outlined.

Killen Assumes Highway Post

Ernest E. Killen assumed his duties Monday at Kent County personnel director to the State Highway Department. His position corresponds to those held by Leroy Hawke, in New Castle County, and Leroy Smith, in Sussex County.

Killen, a former collector of internal revenue for Delaware, is a grain buyer and feed dealer.

16 Million Pounds of Milk Collected By Sealtest From 108 Farmers

Over 16 million pounds of milk were purchased locally by the Sealtest Supply Division, National Dairy Products Corporation, during 1957.

The company's receiving station in Harrington, according to plant manager Abner R. Hickman, collected that quantity of milk from 108 dairy farmers in the area.

Payments for the milk exceeded $750,000.

"THE FOLKS THAT I HAVE KNOWN"

We have a small number of pamphlets of poems of the above title, written by the late J. Harvey Burgess, late owner of The Harrington Journal and self-styled "splitter of infinitives, mixer of metaphors, demon of the double negative, sorcerer of solecisms, perpetrator of the world's poorest poetry."

We presume he was also a dangler of participles.

There have been several requests for this booklet, priced at 25c, but we were unable to comply with them. Fortunately, however, we uncovered a limited supply of this valuable booklet recently while looking the effects of the estate.

We also have a number of pamphlets, "Hosses, Hosses, Hosses" written by Mr. Burgess, and depicting Harrington's harness-racing life. The price is 25c.

When the above-named pamphlets have been sold there will be no reprints.

Needlecraft News
 by Nancy Baxter

There is something about crochet work that seems particularly appealing and refreshing in the summertime. It is so cool and crisp looking, and is also cool to wear. You can perk-up your warm weather wardrobe in any number of ways merely by putting the crochet hook to work on some of the many interesting patterns available. Gloves, hats, blouses and stoles are some of the many useful things you can make yourself.

GLOVE COMPARTMENT

Everyone needs a good collection of gloves, and for some reason we seem especially aware of this in the summer. In the winter it seems easier to get by with maybe just one or two pairs of different colors. In the summer, however, we always make a special effort to look and feel cool, calm, crisp and clean. This naturally means we need a greater assortment of gloves, particularly white ones, and we never seem to have enough. Then, too, gloves—like earrings—seem to have an exasperating way of getting lost, usually one at a time. When you crochet a pair of gloves, however, it costs so little that you don't mind this quite as much. The practice of wearing gloves is ancient, of course, and I thought you might be interested in hearing a little about their symbolism in earlier times. At one time they were symbols of death when worn on the hands of a victorious army. And symbols of rank and authority on the hands of kings who bequeathed their gloves to the heir to the throne. Familiar expressions to all of us are phrases like "throws down the glove" as a challenge, and "handle with kid gloves."

WHITE IS THE COLOR

Yes, white is the most popular color for summer gloves, and today we show a pair which is the last word in coolness, brevity, and good looks. You will enjoy crocheting these in an interesting open-work pattern, finished off with a solid white cuff. Directions for making these gloves are available to you.

Chester River Victim
 In the Maryland drowning, positive identification is withheld pending recovery of the body. Crews from the Chester-town Volunteer Fire Department are dragging the Chester River.

According to police, the man had piloted the motorboat away from the shore and was apparently bringing the craft around in a circle, when he plunged overboard.

It is believed that the boat ran over him while he was submerged in the water.

Authorities said that an unidentified person on shore who witnessed the mishap, called Easton barracks, and troopers were speedily dispatched to the institution in the area, dates also notified and dragging operations began immediately.

Micro Midget News

We couldn't have asked for a better day than Sunday for racing. The sun was shining and the track was in real good shape. We hope the weather man has good weather lined up for us on the Fourth of July too. Keep your fingers crossed for them.

Sunday's feature race has the boys talking to themselves, which side to pass on. No one says a word when I want to pass.

I have one apology to make, remember the new car of John Porters. I said to come out and see, well you should have seen it Saturday when the motor went up. Better luck for John at the July 4th races Friday. Paul Legates ran into trouble too, Sunday when a valve popped its top. Joe Gray also had trouble, real trouble! A crankshaft broke. With Clarence Billings jumping to one point behind, Joe will be in there to change the score. There were two new cars to join in the fun Sunday from the Maryland area.

Ex-champ Clark has regained his title again as champ by winning the feature race, he had a hard road to travel to win out over Harry Porter.

For the big 4th of July Trophy Race, there will be five trophies to be given in the feature race. These are being given by our own local businesses. Taylor and Messick are giving the "First Cup". Their merchandise is well represented every day, with most of the boys using Wisconsin engines. Kent Meredith and Son are giving the "Second place cup"; we couldn't run without their service, sand, gravel and grading around the track. George Paskey, proprietor of the People's Service Station is giving the third place trophy. We have all been around Harrington long enough to know of his services. "Fourth place trophy," is given by Joe Lane of Lanes Refrigeration Service. I hope he doesn't turn out to be an Indian giver, although he has his eye for first place. The same goes for Pat Fry. He's the owner of the Intersection Service Station, who is giving the "Fifth place trophy." It should be a good race so come out and see who takes the trophies. Non-farm Labor Increases Slightly Nonfarm employment in Delaware rose slightly in May as a seasonal pick up in the construction industry offset continuing layoffs in manufacturing. The employment total of 143,300 for the month was up 700 from April but 7,500 short of year ago levels.

Employment in manufacturing industries dropped 400 with durable and nondurable goods contributing equally to the decline. The primary metals industry and the machinery and transportation equipment industry both employed 200 less workers from April to May, but the lumber and furniture industry offset part of this decrease by having 200 more workers in May. Nondurable goods employment fell by 200 as all industries reported fewer workers with the exception of the food industry which has a seasonal gain of 500 workers and helped keep employment in this category from declining substantially.

Jobs in nonmanufacturing industries showed a rise—mostly seasonal—of 1,000 to 88,200 in May with 800 of this gain centered in contract construction. Government, transportation service and the trade industries employment also rose by 100 each.

Most of the decline from a year ago was in manufacturing industries as employment losses in this group accounted for 6,200 of the drop. Durable goods employment is 2,100 lower than for May, 1957 as all industries with the exception of machinery and transportation equipment and lumber and furniture have less workers employed. Primary metal employment losses have been extremely heavy; this industry now has 1,700 fewer workers. In nondurable goods all industries showed employment losses but of the decrease in employment of 4,100, the chemical industry contributed the greatest number with employment being 1,400 lower than last year.

Nonfactory employment at 88,200 has 1,300 fewer workers than it had during the corresponding 1957 period as substantial employment declines occurred in the transportation and trade industries.

Average weekly earnings of Delaware production workers fell by 42 cents to 083.25 because of less work hours. Hourly earnings remained at the April level of $2.14 which is nine cents an hour higher than it was in May, 1957. The decrease in hours occurred in both the hard goods and soft goods industries. In the hard goods industry, workers in primary metals are on the average working six hours less per week than they were for the corresponding 1957 month.

Reversing an eight month trend, the accession rate of 2.5 per one hundred workers in May is higher than the separation rate 2.2. However, very little improvement is noted in the durable goods industries as accessions are lower than in April even though the separation rate declined substantially.

Frear Hopes For Successful Meeting Of Tech Experts

United States Senator J. Allen Frear has expressed the hope that technical experts from both East and West—now meeting in Geneva—will reach an acceptable understanding regarding the future testing of nuclear weapons.

In his weekly statement Mr. Frear noted the increasing concern of people everywhere over the possible long range effects of radioactive fallout which may be occurring through experiments with various nuclear devices. Though noting that there is disagreement among scientists on this issue, the Senator indicated that the welfare of humanity transcends the individual interests of any single nation or group of nations.

He voiced the hope that mutually acceptable decisions can be reached by the technical experts in their gathering in Switzerland and that later these findings can then be transmitted to the heads of governments through whom it is possible to achieve final agreements which are capable of being enforced.

Houstonian Cut By Thrown Bottle

Emory Elliott, RFD, suffered lacerations of the face, requiring 24 stitches, when he was struck by a thrown bottle at the Chick-Basket north of town Tuesday evening.

He was taken to Milford Memorial Hospital in the ambulance of the Harrington Volunteer Fire Company, treated, released and tried here before Magistrate L. Gooden Callaway on a charge of assault and battery. In default of $200 bail, he was committed to Kent County Jail. Elliott is to appear in the Court of Common Pleas, Dover, July 16.

Elliott was charged with refusing to pay a bill at the Chicken Basket, with cursing the bartender, Harvey Timmons, and throwing a bottle at him. Timmons, it was said, returned the throw.

A 10-year $75,000,000 road program is being mapped for Mozambique in Laurence Marques.

Delmar Is Pressed For Sewer Job Cash

Delmar has entered a contract with George and Lynch, Incorporated, to lay 300 feet of 18-inch transit pipe and a new manhole on Fifth Street near the sewer pumping station on the south side of Delmar. The total cost is $13,600.

The commissioners of Delmar, Md., and the mayor and council of Delmar, Del., found it necessary to make this unexpected expenditure because of a cave-in due to heavy rains this spring.

Financing the project has brought problems as it was wholly unexpected and neither towns has provided for it in its budget. The Maryland side of town has announced that only $10,000 a year is derived from its sewer assessments charged each year and the amount paid on the sewer bonds each year is about $9,000 which means that all of this improvement, if the annual sewer assessment of $25 is maintained, must come from the general taxes or the 75 cents per $100 basis. Some of the bonds will be paid off in 1965 and the remainder in 1975.

Several years ago money was paid in a sinking fund for paying the bonds after 1960. However this unexpected expenditure, a necessity, has caused the Maryland side to use the money in the sinking fund.

A study will be made in the next six months of the sewer system with the aim of putting it on a self-paying basis which will probably mean a rise in the sewer assessment. In the county some sewer systems are self paying. In Delmar the system has always operated at a large loss.

Naval Vessels To Visit Ocean City July 2-7

Commander Amphibious Force, U. S. Atlantic Fleet has scheduled LCU 1470 and 1471 to visit Ocean City during the Fourth of July weekend. Present plans are for these craft to arrive in Ocean City in the late afternoon of July 2, and depart July 7. The craft will be available for general visiting from 9 until 11 and from 1:30 to 4 on July 4. The craft will be docked between 3rd and 4th Street at bay.

Amphibious warfare is older than the recorded history of man. It was not until World War II that amphibious warfare reached maturity and the ships signed for their tasks. ETAOI involved were specifically designed for their tasks. As you know, it was during this period that our Navy developed and used the landing ship types; the LCT, the LST and the LCI. The LCT is now known as the LCU.

The LCU complete weighs about 230 tons and is capable of carrying about 150 tons of cargo on the open deck. Under full load this craft will travel about 800 to 900 miles at an average speed of 6 knots. If strict economy is practiced, an LCU can operate about 3 weeks without replenishment of any kind. However, these vessels are usually employed in sheltered waters where they depend upon an advance base or upon a tender - usually an LSD or repair ship - for logistic support.

Due to the restricted cruising range, limited quarters and the lack of seaworthiness during stormy weather, LCU are not used independently for assault operations between islands, along a coast or in a sheltered water area.

A new 400-yard passenger pier at Port of Buenos Aires will allow two ships to dock at once.

Murder

Two men Tuesday were taken into custody for questioning and another is being sought. Walter E. Breeding, the fugitive's father, was interrogated about his son's whereabouts but no charge was placed against him.

The second person, a 24-year-old man from Greenwood, has admitted drinking with Breeding in Denton on Saturday, according to police but denied being involved in the disappearance and murder of Mrs. Cannon.

Another Implicated

He is said to have implicated a Federalsburg, Md., man as another drinking companion and police are seeking the latter for questioning. He is said to have informed the officers that Breeding and the Federalsburg man got rid of him when he became too drunk to ride with them.

Another source said that Breeding was seen in Denton Saturday night, some hours after Mrs. Cannon was last seen walking toward her home with a man following her.

Relatives said that Breeding was a stranger to Mrs. Cannon. They said he had been temporarily employed by a farmer in the Bursville area but had left work Thursday and failed to return home until Sunday.

Police said they had information that Breeding had obtained clothing, shoes, cigarettes and water late Monday at the home of his uncle, Richard Smith in Hickman.

Clues Sought in Home

It was learned that FBI agents Tuesday had obtained bedclothing from the Cannon home yesterday and will have them microscoped for evidence.

Mrs. Cannon's clothing was found folded neatly on a bed in her bedroom when her husband, John S. Cannon, returned from work Saturday. He presumed she had dressed and gone to visit her sister-in-law, Mrs. Jeannette Scott who lives in Denton, but when she failed to return he notified police at 1 a.m. Sunday.

When the clothing was picked up later from the bed her brassiere fell from a folded blouse. The former was torn and two buttons were found to have been ripped from the blouse.

One of the buttons was found in the bathroom but the second has not been located.

Mrs. Cannon had made the blouse herself and a piece of it had been torn off and was apparently used to strangle her.

A neighbor of the Cannons, Wayne Geisel, said he observed a car painted gray and pink pass him on the Bursville Road while he was on the way to a store and said there seemed to be two men in it. Upon his return from the store he said he saw a similar car in the yard of the Cannon home. The hood was up and he saw Mrs. Cannon headed for the house with a man following her.

Theories on Crime

A friend said Mrs. Cannon may have tried to run from the house but was caught and was forced back into the premises. If two men were involved it is possible the other was inside the house, it was said. The Cannons had lived in their home only a month.

Delaware state police are keeping an alert for Breeding appearing in this state and said there is a possibility he may be headed for Wilmington. City police have received a description of the much tattooed fugitive. His highly decorated arms should aid in his ready identification if picked up they said.

The FBI has issued a federal warrant for Breeding charging him with unlawful flight from Maryland to avoid prosecution. Police said that Mrs. Breeding was angered over the failure of her husband to return home and on Monday reported seeing him running across the field. Police found his car near by and took it to the Bridgeville troop of the state police where it was processed for fingerprints and blood. They said a section of the upholstery of a rear seat was missing and appeared to have been cut out.

Tattooed Arms

The suspect is 5 feet, 9 inches tall, weighs 165 pounds, has light brown hair, brown eyes and fair complexion.

He has various tattoo marks on both arms. Among the names decorated on the arms are "Marie," "Irma," "Doris," "Shirley" and "Mother." A woman's figure also adorns an arm.

Mrs. Josephine Heck, 1108 Dillworth Road, Willow Run, a sister-in-law of Mrs. Cannon, said she had visited the latter about a week ago and had remarked that she would be afraid to live in the house. She said it is on a highway but has several square miles of woods nearby and is some distance from the nearest house. However, she said Mrs. Cannon displayed no fear of living in the house.

Mrs. Cannon was one of eight children of Mr. and Mrs. Jerman F. Sockriter. She was born and reared on a little farm at Parsonsburg, about six miles from Salisbury. She was a 1956 graduate of Wicomico High School in Salisbury and was described as a good student. She entered the Peninsula General Hospital School of Nursing in the fall of 1956 and was in her second year when she gave up her training last March 24 just two days after her marriage to Cannon. She would have been 20 years old Sept. 20.

The final member of the trio that conducted a series of breaking and entering episodes, with intent to commit larceny, in the Harrington area, on October 16th, of last year, appeared in court at Dover Monday.

Put On Parole For One Year For Breaking Case

Richard D. Ellwanger, of near Harrington, entered pleas of guilty before Judge James B. Carey in the Superior Court to charges of breaking and entering into the Jacob's Store, on Dorman Street, in Harrington, and the Simpson Ford, Inc., garage located along Route 13, near Harrington.

The cases of two other young men involved in these episodes had previously been disposed of in the Superior Court.

Judge Carey was advised that Ellwanger is now on parole in the state of Maryland and that the probation authorities there reported that his record has been good.

Judge Carey placed Ellwanger on parole for one year in this state and advised him that he would have to report to the Probation Officer here as well as in Maryland, or that he would have to serve imprisonment in this state for violation of parole.

His parents appeared in court and plan to take him with them on a farm which they operate.
