

CARROLL, KING, PRICE, WIN CHIEF POSTS IN DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY

William Behen, the incumbent, of Dover, lost out to Henry Price, Smyrna, the organization candidate, in one of the chief contests in the primary election Saturday. Both were Democrats fighting for the post of senator in the First Senatorial District of Kent County.

Of particular interest locally was the battle for levy-court commissioner in the Second Levy Court District, which includes the Sixth and Ninth Representative Districts, as well as the Fourth and Third. J. Noble Carroll, of Sandtown, won over Harold Dawson Shulties, of Wyoming.

The total vote was Price 879 and Behen 432, with about 54 per cent of the registered Democratic voters in the district turning out.

Senator Behen failed to carry a single one of the six election districts which make up the Senatorial District.

In the two election districts of the First Representative District, Behen's vote was 278 and Price's vote ran to 421, while in the four election District, Behen received 154 and Price 458.

In the most heated contest in the Fourth Representative District, comprising only one district, William W. Opydyke, Jr., Hartly, who had organization Democratic support won over John W. Pearson, of Hartly, 339 to 250.

Carroll Victory

J. Noble Carroll, the organization Democratic candidate, won over Harold Dawson Shulties, 726 to 369.

The incumbent, State Representative Charles C. King of Smyrna, was renominated over George D. Whaley of Smyrna, 368 to 326.

Edward Long, Jr., of near Dover, defeated Mrs. Claudia C. Jenkins, Little Creek, for the Democratic nomination from the Second Representative District, 436 to 148.

About 61 percent of the registered Democrats voted in the First Representative District, 47.5 percent in the Second Representative District and 72.5 percent in the Fourth.

In Sussex County the Republicans had three contests for seats in the General Assembly. In the First Senatorial District, State Rep. John Keller of Milford defeated John Annett 492 to 286.

In the First Representative District, S. Willis Hammond of Milford won 405 votes to 110 for F. Davis Watson.

There was a three-way, contest in the Seventh Representative District, where F. Tilghman Johnson of Roxana with 202 votes edged out both Carroll Farlow of Selbyville, who got 189 and W. D. Derrickson, also of Selbyville, who received 174.

In Kent County, the only Republican primary contest was in the Seventh Representative District, where Harvey P. Fifer of near Rising Sun beat State Rep. Henry B. Appleford of Wyoming 185 to 72.

Jeanne Homewood Weds G. Warner

In Trinity Methodist Church on Saturday, Miss Jeanne Louise Homewood of Harrington became the bride of Gordon Warner, Jr., of Greenwood. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Homewood, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Warner.

The ceremony was performed at 2:30 p. m. by the Rev. Milton R. Elliot of Seaford.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. Leslie Wix who accompanied Samuel Elliott in nuptial music.

Given in marriage by her brother, Gary Bullock Homewood, the bride chose a floor-length lace gown over taffeta with long tapered sleeves. Her finger tip veil of nylon tulle fell from a pearl and rhinestone tiara. She carried a white corsage.

Miss Sue Holloway was maid of honor. She wore a white ballerina length eyelet gown over blue taffeta. She wore a matching tiara with blue nylon veil. She carried a nosegay of pink carnations.

Miss Mary Ann Montague, Miss Eleanor Wagner and Miss Helen Dobraski were bridesmaids. Their gowns matched those of the honor attendant and were in pink with nosegays of blue carnations.

The Misses Linda and Susan Warner, nieces of the bridegroom, were flower girls, wearing pink and blue nylon and carrying white baskets of pink and blue flowers. Donald Poling, of Lumberton, N. J., was best man. Millard Cooper, Clarence Black, and Richard Sapp were ushers.

The bride's mother chose blue nylon over taffeta with white accessories and the mother of the bridegroom wore navy lace with white accessories. Both wore corsages of white rose buds.

A reception followed in the Harrington Century Club after which the couple left for a honeymoon.

The bride was graduated from Harrington High School in the class of 1958 while the bridegroom was graduated from Greenwood High School. He is now in the U. S. Army stationed in Lumberton, N. J.

81 Revocations Of Licenses Issued in July

Almost one half of the motorists who had their operating privileges revoked in this State during the month of July, were out of state drivers, according to a report on revocation by Frances Biddle of the Motor Vehicle Department.

This report shows that during the month there were 81 revocations issued, and of this number 35 were out of state drivers, and that 8 Delaware operators had their licenses revoked for conviction in other States.

Of the revocations 78 were for convictions for drunken driving, of which 72 were first offenders, 5 had second convictions and 1 was convicted for the third time. 74 were male and 4 were female. There were also 9 operators convicted during the month for driving during the period of license revocation.

Of the operators who had their licenses revoked, 28 were in the 26 to 36 age group and the same number were in the 37 to 45 age group. There were 10 in the 46 to 55 age group and 6 in the 20 to 25 age group. The 56 to 65 age group had 3, and the 16 to 19 age group had 2. One was listed as having the age unknown.

There were also two revocations for leaving the scene of a personal injury accident and one for conviction on a charge of manslaughter. Of these operators, two were from Delaware and one from out of the state.

A report compiled by Capt. Eugene B. Ellis, of the Driver Improvement Bureau, reveals that during July, 225 operators had their licenses suspended for various periods of time, and of these operators 197 were from this State and 28 were from out of the State.

Of the revocations 27 were from Kent and Sussex Counties, with nine being in Kent and 18 in Sussex. Of the operators convicted for driving during the period of revocation, one was from Kent and two were from Sussex. Reinstatements during the month included two from Kent and one from Sussex.

A $20,000,000 bridge across the Panama Canal at Balboa will be started this year.

Democratic Keynote Is Smathers

U. S. Senator George A. Smathers (D-Fla.) of Miami will give the keynote address at the evening session of the Democratic state convention tomorrow in Dover, it was announced Wednesday by Garrett E. Lyons, Democratic state chairman.

Senator Smathers, whose term runs until 1962, is a member of two important Senate committees, Finance and Interstate and Foreign Commerce.

Senator Smathers is chairman of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, which makes him a key figure in party politics. He is 44 years old, a veteran of two terms in the House, and now serving his second term in the Senate.

He won his Senate seat by defeating former Senator Claude Pepper in 1950 in the state primaries. Born in Atlantic City, he has lived in Florida since the age of six.

He was named president of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1940.

He enlisted in the Marines in 1942 and served in the Pacific with the First Marine Bomber Squadron. He was discharged as a major in October, 1945, and was special assistant to the U. S. attorney general until he was elected to the House in 1946.

He has favored closer relations with Latin America and freer world trade. He is married and the father of two sons.

The announcement of the keynote speaker was the last major item to be determined for the convention, which opens tomorrow afternoon.

Fireworks—if any—will probably come during the afternoon session, which opens at 12:00. The evening session will begin at 8.

The schedule announced by Mr. Lyons for the convention in the Field House of Dover High School puts the holding of caucuses and the nominating of the party's state ticket in the afternoon session.

The only deviation in the order of business specified in the state rules of the Democratic Party for the holding of state conventions is placing the report of the committee on resolutions after, rather than before, the selection of candidates.

While this deviation from the rules was agreed to at the meeting Tuesday, at the offices of the Delaware Memorial Bridge, it was also agreed there that there will be no deviation from the rules in the order in which the candidates are selected.

The convention schedule starts with the call to order at 12:30 p. m. Then comes the National Anthem, the invocation, and the reading of the convention call and the temporary roll call. The locations for the three county caucuses will be announced and then will come the recess for those interest-charged meetings.

The Kent County delegates, however, will hold a caucus tomorrow at 10 a. m. Eyes will be on the New Castle County-Wilmington caucus.

Caucus time at the convention is expected to come at about 1:15 and the convention is expected to get under way again about 2:15. The credentials committee and the committee on permanent organizations will then be called on to report, and the convention will elect its permanent chairman—who is usually the temporary chairman designated the night before at the State Committee meeting.

Lengthy Speech Session

Then the convention, having already made up its mind in the caucuses, will hear the nominating and seconding speeches—usually a long-winded affair.

Harris B. McDowell, Jr., of Middletown, who is seeking the Congressional seat he formerly held, will be nominated by Frank O'Donnell, chairman of the New Castle County Democratic Committee. Mr. O'Donnell is chief deputy attorney-general.

Seconding speeches will be made by William Bush, Jr., Dover attorney, and president of the Young Democrats of Kent County, and by Mrs. Kitty Ingram of Seaford, a convention delegate and prominent member of the Sussex County Democratic Committee.

After the speeches comes the voting on the candidates—and there could be surprises and heated action on the congressional and attorney-general elections.

Vandals Destroy Streetlights at Fairgrounds

T. Brinton Holloway, secretary and general manager of the Kent & Sussex Raceway, yesterday offered a reward of $50 for the apprehension of the vandals who shot out the streetlights at the Kent & Sussex Fairgrounds Tuesday night.

In pointing out that the grounds were private property, he added that other acts of vandalism had been committed, including watermelon parties under the grandstand, damage to and removal of grandstand chairs, hotrodding under the grandstand and on the racetrack.

These acts will not be tolerated and perpetrators will be prosecuted, Mr. Holloway said.

Fuel Tax Receipts Reached Peak for Fiscal Year

Receipts from motor fuel taxes in Delaware for the fiscal year, which ended last June 30, amounted to $8,278,867.35, it being the first time the revenue from this source had reached that amount for the state.

The amount received during the past fiscal year was an increase of $326,270.08 over the amount received during the previous fiscal year and $616,121.20 in excess of the amount received for the fiscal year ending June 20, 1956.

Nine of the months during the past fiscal year showed increases over the same month of the previous fiscal year, while of the three months showing decreases, two of them had adverse weather conditions that were believed to have been the cause of the decrease.

Only one month during the year showed receipts from this tax source of less than six hundred thousand dollars, while four of the month had receipts in excess of seven hundred thousand dollars.

The month of July, with receipts totaling $799,788.67, was the largest month in the year, while February, with receipts totaling $561,328.50, was the smallest month of the year.

Likewise, July had the largest increase over the same month of the previous fiscal year, it being $99,350.65, while February recorded the smallest amount of increase, it being $8,115.46. Decreases were noted in the months of March, April and May.

The amount of receipts for each month in the fiscal year, with the amount of increase or decrease in comparison with the same month of the previous fiscal year, was as follows:

July 1957, $799,788.67, increase $99,350.65; August 1957, $797,788.67, increase $45,330.84; September 1957, $667,398.31, increase $30,721.44; October 1957, $698,600.67, increase $40,865.68; November 1957, $669,914.66, increase $28,211.45; December 1957, $706.29, increase $43,984.80.

January 1958, $672,774, increase $39,514.61; February 1958, $561,328.50, increase $8,115.46; March 1958, $606,780.40, decrease $39,359.26; April 1958, $688,165.01, decrease $2,914.81; May 1958, $734,435.03, decrease $2,062.36; June 1958, $752,287.73, increase $30,721.58.

Social Security Notes

Your social security payments may help you when you need it most. According to Edward F. Sullivan, district manager of the Dover, social security office, social security payments are intended as a partial replacement of your lost earnings.

Social security is meant to provide a basic level of income. The person who is no longer working for wages or operating a business, but who is eligible for social security payments, may rely on his social security check to partially replace the lost earnings. In this way it will permit him to arrange for his financial needs.

There is an earnings test for the person under age 72 who has not substantially retired. It is possible for such an individual to work throughout the year earn as much as $2,080, and still receive one month's benefit payment. If you do not earn over $1,200 a year, it is possible to draw benefits for the entire year.

After reaching age 72, there is no limit on your earnings. However until age 72, you should contact your social security office if you retire, or if you have reduced earnings. If you have any questions concerning social security, write, phone, or visit the Dover social security office, 230 W. Lockerman, St., the telephone number is Dover 6-1426.

Howard Wagner Made Official in Scout Fund Drive

Howard Wagner of the Peoples Bank, Harrington, is this year's audit chairman of the annual fund raising campaign being conducted by the Del-Mar-Va Council, Boy Scouts of America, in the Kent County area. In this capacity, Wagner is directing the audit phase of the campaign in 15 different communities of the Mid-Del Scout district, an area extending from the canal to and including Milford, Houston and Harrington, and is serving on the district campaign steering committee headed by Robert Fischer, general manager of the Milford Fertilizer Company.

"This is an independent campaign, explains Fischer, "carried out each year in those communities of our Mid-Del district not included in the Dover United Community Fund or the United Fund of Northern Delaware."

"The funds raised are our share of the Del-Mar-Va Council's annual budget to provide year round staff and facilities for camping at the Rodney Scout reservation, trained professional administration of the council's 12 districts, organization of new units to provide more boys with the opportunity to become Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers, service to existing units in the form of training of volunteer leaders, coaching in the use of the Scout program and literature, supervision of health and safety standards in the units, staff and facilities of the council office to maintain adequate records of membership, advancement, badge and insignia supply service, bulletin service and mail contact for unit leaders."

Other members of the district campaign steering committee in addition to Fischer and Wagner are A. E. Humes of Milford, the district Advance Gifts chairman; Herbert Cluley of Camden, the district Prospects and Rating chairman; Joshua Twilley of Dover, the district publicity chairman.

"Recently, at the first organizational meeting held in connection with the campaign," says Wagner, "we learned that the membership of the Del-Mar-Va Council is over 14,000 boys in 533 different Cub Packs, Boy Scout Troops and Explorer units, with 5,000 adult volunteer leaders. And its growing all the time. That's why this fund raising campaign is so important. We have to keep up with the growing needs of the Scout program. The advance gifts phase of the campaign will get underway September 8 and general solicitations will kick-off on October 6."

Two trends have developed which are changing the traditional methods of treatment of the mentally ill, it was revealed in the annual report of the National Association for Mental Health.

The first is the open hospital policy, which gives mental patients complete freedom of buildings and grounds, and, in many instances, freedom to come and go among surrounding business communities. This departure from locked doors, seclusion, and constant vigilance, is now a definite trend, based on the conclusion that disturbed behavior is often the result of restraint rather than a symptom of psychiatric illness.

The second development is the rapid increase during the past year in psychiatric services in general hospitals. Hundreds of general hospitals across the country are now admitting mental patients with serious disorders and providing them with full psychiatric treatment. This offers mental patients a chance to be treated in their own communities on the same footing with patients with any other complaint, instead of being sent to isolated mental hospitals as a matter of routine, as in the past.

There is a therapeutic importance in keeping patients in their own communities, the report says. It is a known fact that separation and isolation may increase anxieties and feelings of rejection to a point where mental sufferers give up hope and become chronic cases.

Other important developments in the mental health picture included in the report:

A decline in the population of U. S. public mental hospitals for the second successive year, reversing an upward climb which prevailed during the previous 25 years. This was attributed to improved hospital facilities which permitted more treatment for more patients.

POLITICS

Defined by Thorndike-Barnhart Dictionary as management of political affairs, political opinions or principles, political methods or maneuvers, and science and art of government.

Politics is everywhere. We do not favor the party system, however, in a small city government such as ours. The Democrats are in now and the Republicans say: "There should be no politics in our City government, meaning of course, as far as party is concerned." However, if they had the chance, they would take over.

Politics is usually mentioned in connection with county, state, and national governments. However, where there are factions there is politics, and there are factions everywhere.

Consequently, there is politics in churches, tax ditch companies, companies, schools, farm bureaus, clubs, etc. Take a look around in your own group and you will be surprised. An editor of the large Midwestern daily once named the two factions among the editors of the newspaper. A professor of a large Midwestern university proceeded to name two opposing groups of professors in its school of journalism.

And where there is opposition, there is politics. We believe the word can best be defined as the science of government, regardless of what is to be governed.

We like those tall streetlights, with the globes, in the business district. They diffuse a nice, soft light over considerable territory and are much easier on the eyes than the lights without globes.

City Manager Norris C. Adams needed some help to clean out small ditches around the City. When he asked a bunch of loafers, near the Clark Street railroad crossing Tuesday, if they wanted to work, they inquired: "What doing? How much?" Adams then told The Journal that the loafers refused to work on the grounds they would lose their unemployment money.

Which brings up another point: Employers, who employ out-of-state help, should be obligated to see that the workers and family do not become public charges. The recent New Castle County case, with a family of 14 from Georgia, by way of Maryland, is a glaring example. The family lived in two rooms. The parents were charged with neglect of the children, some of whom were taken over by the State. Georgia should have this problem.

Some Delaware Veterans Eligible for Pennsylvania World War II Benefits

According to the Delaware State Development Department, come Delaware veterans, who were legal residents of Pennsylvania at time of entry into military service, may be eligible for Pennsylvania World War II Compensation.

To be eligible for Pennsylvania World War II Compensation, a veteran must meet the following requirements:

1. He or she must be a veteran of World War II.

2. The veteran must have been separated from the armed forces under honorable conditions.

3. The veteran must have served more than sixty days on active service as a member of the military or naval forces of the United States or any of her allies between the dates of December 7, 1941 to September 2, 1945 inclusive.

4. The veteran must have been a legal resident of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or some specific place in that state as his or her residence at the time of entering into active service.

In the case of a deceased veteran, application for payment can be made by the following beneficiaries in the order named:

(A) Surviving unremarried widow; (B) surviving minor child or surviving children; (C) surviving mother or surviving father.

In the case of a mentally incapacitated veteran application can be made by a guardian or committee for the veteran, or by the manager or superintendent of any Federal, State or County institution for mental or nervous diseases in which the veteran is hospitalized.

In calling attention to the possibility of eligibility of Delaware residents for the Pennsylvania benefits, the Development Department points out that requests for application forms and additional information should be sent to the following address:

World War II Compensation Bureau, Dept. of Military Affairs, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—I've only been living in my GI home for a year, and I have to move. I intend to sell the house, but how do I get clear of my liability to VA for the unpaid balance of the loan?

A—You can either sell for all cash and pay off the loan or, if the new buyer will take over the unpaid balance, and is an acceptable credit risk to VA, you may obtain a release from liability from the VA.

Q—My husband, who was a veteran, died recently, leaving me his GI insurance policy, and some bills, which I intend to settle as soon as possible.

A—No. Proceeds of a GI insurance policy are exempted by law from the claims of creditors.

Q—I now get retirement pay from the Armed Forces but I am also eligible for disability payments from the VA.

A—The choice you make now will not be binding for the rest of your life.

Q—I am a Korea veteran with a service-connected disability. I want to get a GI insurance policy available to disabled Korea veterans.

A—Your deadline is one year from the date VA determined your disability to be service-connected.

The first day of school transforms little children into "big" boys and girls. It marks a turning point for youngsters.

Accompanying this new grown-up feeling is the desire to be as independent as possible.

It will be easier for your child to make adjustments if he can take care of such everyday routines as feeding himself satisfactorily.

Since children have so many things to think about and their interest span is short, they often forget their belongings.

Weed Control Ties In With Hay Fever

Ragweed pollen is making life a little rough for many people allergic to the yellow dust, says county agricultural agent George Vapaa.

He lists the weeds which must be controlled, such as field bindweed, Canada thistle, corn cockle, quackgrass, field dodder, perennial sowthistle, horenettle, wild garlic, bedstraw, leafy spurge, buckhorn plantain, Russian knapweed, wild mustard and ragweed.

By mowing, plowing or applying weed killing chemicals, the farmer will be doing several necessary things, not the least of which will be reducing the discomfort of hay fever sufferers.

Farm Field Day

Agricultural experiments drew about 1500 visitors to the Farm Field Day at the University of Delaware's agricultural experiment substation Aug. 13.

They walked and rolled around the 59 experimental plots the substation is using to test new plants and production methods aimed at better and cheaper production of crops.

One of the most promising projects, drawing many tomato growers, was the weed control plots of E. M. Rahn, University of Delaware horticulturist. Growers seemed impressed with the clean rows in the chemically sprayed plots.

Another similar experiment with pre-emergence weed control in corn showed equally successful results. Chemically sprayed plots of corn were almost weed free while corn in untreated plots a few feet away was almost lost in the weeds. This experiment is being conducted by Dr. Henry Indyk of the agronomy department.

With Tuesday's department of agriculture's announcement of this year's increased soybean production and surpluses in other crops, farmers showed considerable interest in the castor oil bean plot which is in an early experimental stage, according to extension service agronomist Frank Springer.

Springer says the castor oil bean is a possibility as a crop in Delaware but this is only the second year of tests and it is too early to tell at this point how successful they will be. There are only about 15,000 acres grown in the United States annually at present.

A point of interest for broilermen was the newly-constructed broiler house which has a number of interesting features. It has a central heating system, no windows, hinged wall panels which swing open, leaving wire to keep the chicken in, but allowing almost complete freedom of air circulation.

Other experiments with color of apples, insect and disease control in various crops and new varieties of several crops were of specific interest to growers and of general interest to all the visitors.

Breed and variety tests with peppers, lima beans, tomatoes, soybeans, corn, cantaloupes, grapes (blueberries, dwarf apples, normal apples, alfalfa, small grains, and watermelons were examined closely by growers and others.

In other events: the winners of the hog grading contest were Anthony Crisco, Bridgeville, first, and Carl Tucker, Greenwood, second, in the adult contest and Everett Warrington, Bridgeville, first, and Casher Evans, Jr., Selbyville, second, in the Junior contest.

Awards were $5 for firsts and $2.50 for seconds. Ten hogs were judged by 53 contestants who entered. Dr. James Ferguson of the University of Maryland was the official judge.

Of all the experiments at the Farm Field Day the watermelon taste tests were voted the top experiment of the day by an official but unanimous majority.

Poultrymen were also interested in the broiler nutrition studies and particularly with the tests of 12 cocciidiostats in relation to its effect on weight gains and feed conversion under natural conditions. Normal, healthy birds were used.

Chicken also was the subject of appetites at the lunch hour when fried chickens disappeared into about 700 people. The Delaware Poultry Improvement Association did the serving.

The ladies took in the home gardeners exhibit and demonstration which featured new plants and several demonstrations on "how to do it" order.

The blackbird control demonstrations held the interest of many farmers who suffered losses from the hard to scare pests. No blackbirds showed up for the demonstration however.

Pinkeye Requires Quick Treatment

The detection and quick treatment of pinkeye in dairy animals will save permanent injury to the eyes George Vapaa, county agricultural agent says, so he recommends particular attention be given in order to catch pinkeye in the early stages.

The first signs of pinkeye are a watery discharge from the eyes and then the eyeball shows a gray discoloration. The animal will show signs of discomfort and pain, particularly in strong sunlight. Animals suffering from pinkeye will lose weight rapidly and will not be able to see well enough to graze or move around efficiently.

There is no specific protection against the disease, Mr. Vapaa says, but it will respond to treatment if you get your veterinarian's help during the early stages.

Sept. 1 Through 6 Pushmobile Derby Week Proclaims Gov. Boggs

"The annual Pushmobile Derby, sponsored by the Delaware Association of Police, is one of the finest organized efforts for the benefit of the youth of our state" said Governor J. Caleb Boggs this week in proclaiming the period Sept. 1 through 6 as Pushmobile Derby Week in Delaware.

The chief executive cited the derby as "providing valuable training in sportsmanship" and also pointed out that "these competitive races for the youth of Delaware reflect the interest of our police authorities in providing better understanding and good fellowship among themselves and the younger generation."

Governor Boggs also had words of praise for the organizers of Pushmobile Track, Inc., for "building a safe, attractive racing strip." Attendance of Delawareans of all ages at this year's Derby was also urged.

The Twelfth Annual Aushmobile Derby will be held at Milford Cross Roads, near Newark, Sat., Sept. 6, with a record breaking number of entries assured. Louis Hearn is general chairman for this year's Derby with Edgar Essick and Garfield Roser as co-chairmen.

Governor Boggs' derby week proclamation follows:

WHEREAS, the annual Pushmobile Derby, sponsored by the Delaware Association of Police, is one of the finest organized efforts for the benefit of the youth of our state, providing valuable training in sportsmanship; and

WHEREAS, these competitive races for the youth of Delaware reflect the interest of our police authorities in providing better understanding and good fellowship among themselves and the younger generation; and

WHEREAS, this annual event has become statewide in scope, attracting boys and girls from all sections of Delaware; and

WHEREAS, the civic minded organizers of Pushmobile Track, Inc., have shown extreme interest in our youth by building a safe, attractive racing strip and have continued to expand and improve facilities for this annual event for which the public owes them a vote of thanks; and

WHEREAS, the Twelfth Annual Pushmobile Derby will be held at the Derby Track at Milford Cross Roads, near Newark, Saturday, Sept. 6; now

THEREFORE, I, J. Caleb Boggs, Governor of the State of Delaware, do hereby proclaim the period of September 1 through 6 as PUSHMOBILE DERBY

The Salt Test For Milking Equipment

How do you know when your stainless steel milking equipment is clean? A test which will give you the answer quickly and simply is the salt test, says George Vapaa, Kent county agricultural agent.

Wet the surface of the stainless steel, he continues, and then sprinkle some table salt on the metal. If the salt dissolves and runs down in solution, the surface is not clean. If the salt remains where it falls and does not dissolve or run off, the equipment is clean.

This is a quick and easy test for testing stainless steel surfaces such as bulk tank milk coolers and other dairy equipment, Mr. Vapaa says.

WEEK IN DELAWARE and I urge that our citizens of all ages attend the races at Milford Crossroads; lend encouragement to our youth who compete there, and let those sponsoring and operating the Pushmobile Derby know that we are pleased with their interest in our young Delawareans.

Statistics in Agriculture

The trend toward fewer farms and farmers producing more food on farm of larger acreage is continuing, W. T. McAllister, extension agricultural economist at the University of Delaware says.

To back this up he says the farm population dropped by almost two million people in 1956. At the same time the size of individual farms is increasing. The average farm today is 40 percent larger than in 1940, an increase in size from 174 acres in 1940 to an average of 242 according to the most recent figures. Inflation has increased land values 40 percent during the last seven years and has caused a much greater need for capital to operate a farm or to get into farming.

Only 12 percent of the population is involved in actual agricultural production now. This means 12 percent of the people are feeding themselves and the other 88 percent. In the early days of America, 85 to 90 percent of the people were farming in order to feed themselves and the few non-farmers.

More farmers are finding it necessary to work at off-farm jobs too. Between 1950 and 1956 the number of farm people working at off-farm jobs increased from 30 to 40 percent, McAllister said. The percent of farm wives, from 17 to 26 percent during the 1950-1956 period.

Another interesting agricultural statistic is the fact that 90 percent of the total farm produce in 1957 was produced by 50 percent of the farmers. The 50 percent making up the smaller farms produced only 10 percent of the total production.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—If I go back into service will I be covered by the free $10,000 indemnity, as was the case three years ago when I was in the armed forces? I am currently holding a GI term insurance policy and am wondering if I should drop it.

A—Free insurance coverage for men in the armed forces came to an end in January, 1957. You will not be covered by any free indemnity, if you re-enter military service. Do not drop your GI term insurance in the belief you will be covered by free insurance.

Q—I plan to attend school this fall, under the Korean GI Bill. Who pays the school tuition bills and other fees—the VA or the veteran?

A—You, the veteran. You will receive an allowance each month from the VA. VA will not pay for tuition and fees separately to the school. With the help of the allowance, you must meet all your own training expenses.

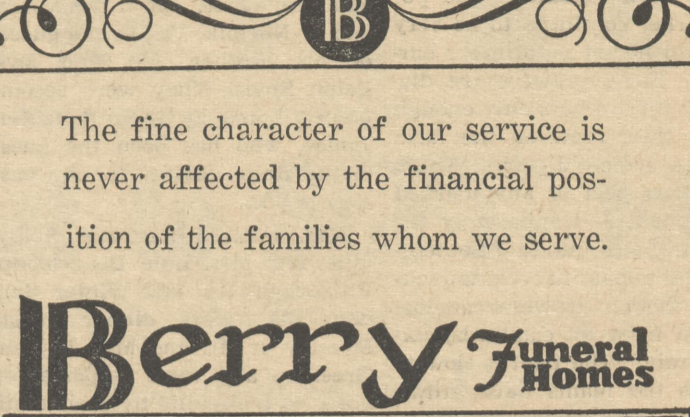

Q—I am a peacetime veteran receiving compensation for a service-aggravated disability which now needs treatment. Am I eligible for out-patient medical treatment from the VA?

A—Yes, as long as the disability for which you are receiving compensation is service-connected and requires treatment, you would be eligible. For authorization of treatment apply to any VA office.

Q—I am negotiating with a lender for a GI home loan. How can I be sure that real estate taxes which have been estimated for me are accurate? If the estimates turn out to be too low I might have difficulty making my payments on the higher taxes.

A—Reputable lenders and builders will of course make every effort to see that tax estimates furnished are reasonably accurate. Where exact amounts of real estate taxes and assessments are not available, accurate estimates may be obtained by checking with local taxing authorities or by comparing nearby properties.

The fine character of our service is never affected by the financial position of the families whom we serve.

Ocean Swim Races Are Attracting Much Interest

The South Atlantic AAU Championship Ocean Swim Races, scheduled for Rehoboth Beach, this weekend, Aug. 22-23, are attracting much interest and shape up as the best program of this nature ever held at the popular Delaware resort, according to Col. C. B. Shaffer, chairman.

A record number of outstanding swimmers including former Olympics competitors and holders of national and district honors, are expected to compete in the eight SAA-AAU championship events. Two state championship events complete the program. Entries were being accepted up to Wednesday at midnight.

Six SAA-AAU championship events, 220-44-880 yard races for women and similar distanced events for men, comprise Friday's program, which will get underway at 1:30 p.m.

Saturday's program includes two 880 yard events, one for men and one for women, open only to Delaware residents and involving state championship honors. Also featured on Saturday's program are mile races, for men and for women, the winners of which will be recognized as South Atlantic AAU champions.

Members of the Rehoboth Beach Patrol will participate in a surf board event as an added attraction Saturday.

As in previous years, trophies will be presented to the winners of all events and medals will be presented to those finishing first, second and third in all events except the surf board race. Trophies must be won three times by a contestant for permanent possession.

An individual Point Trophy will be awarded to the man or woman scoring most points in the AAU sanctioned events and a team trophy will be awarded to the club whose members score the greatest aggregate point total in the two-day program.

Last year, Frank Brunnell, representing the Vesper Swim Club, Philadelphia, won the 200, 440 and 880 AAU events for men to tie for individual honors with Brenda Dietz, representing Walter Reed Hospital, Washington, D. C., who won women's events at similar distances. Brunnell, who recently established a new record for 440-yard breast stroke, is expected to defend his 1957 honors at Rehoboth this weekend.

Other former Rehoboth Beach Ocean Swim winners expected to compete this weekend are: Win Pendleton, of Falls Church, Va., who won the men's mile, 880, 440 and 220 events in 1956; Tim Jeko, of the 1956 U. S. Olympic team and now representing the New Haven, Conn., Swim Club, who, while representing the Walter Reed Hospital team, won the men's 880, 440 and 220 events in 1954; and J. R. Houston, formerly of the Ambassador Swim Club, Washington, who currently has two legs on each of three different trophies.

The Rehoboth Beach Swim Races were begun in 1941 with a men's mile event that was won by Willard B. McConnell, of Wilmington.

The competition was suspended during World War II but resumed in 1946 when Alberto Zarilla, of the Argentina Olympic Team, won the mile event. In 1947, the program was expanded to include both men's and women's mile events with two Delawareans, Willard B. McConnell, Wilmington, and Joan Leahy, Newark emerging as winners.

The program was further expanded in 1950 to ten events.

In the event that inclement weather or rough water forces postponement of this weekend's events, they will be re-scheduled for the following weekend, Aug. 29-30.

Insect Damage Reported In 2 Md. Counties

Damaging insect infestations in two Maryland counties have been reported by Dr. William E. Bickley, head of the University of Maryland Entomology department.

The variable oak caterpillar is present in rather large areas of Cecil County and is feeding on oak trees. Resulting damage caused by the caterpillar "looks like a forest fire has gone through the area," Raymond G. Mupeller, Cecil County Agent stated.

Damage from this insect has been reported in the Port Deposit, Rising Sun areas and apparently up along the Susquehanna River and along Route 49, Mueller said.

Nothing economically practical can be done about controlling the caterpillar. Natural enemies of the insect will reduce the population in the next few weeks, depending on weather conditions. A period of dry cool weather would help, Dr. Bickley said.

Grasshoppers have severely damaged corn silage crops in Talbot County, reports County Agent Roscoe Brown. "Hoppers" are being brought under control with applications of heptachlor sprays applied by airplane. Infestation of the grasshoppers is centered in the Miles River Neck area, Agent Brown said.

Federal Government Is Largest Landholders in State of Delaware

Even if ownership of a large portion of Lum's Pond tract on the north side of the Chesapeake & Delaware Canal, near Kirkwood, is eventually transferred from the Federal Government to the State Government, the Federal Government will still continue to be one of the largest landholders in the State of Delaware according to the Delaware State Development Department.

Basing its findings on the recently released "Inventory Report on Real Property Owned by the U.S." sponsored by the General Services Administration, the Development Department points out that the Federal Government currently owns 31,855 acres of land in Delaware or 2.5 percent of the state's estimated 1,265,920 acres. Largest of the federal landholders is the Department of Defense with 17,766 Delaware acres, including the more than 1,000-acre Lum's Pond tract, under its control. Although only 4,581 acres of this total is used for military purposes, Army Engineers oversee 13,185 acres for harbor and flood control purposes.

SAMUEL A. SHORT

Samuel A. Short, Sr., 85, husband of Mary L. Short, died at his home on North Street, Thursday, Aug. 14.

A native of this section, son of Robert H. and Mary Ann Harrington Short, he was a farmer until retiring 10 years ago. He was a member of Asbury Methodist Church.

Services were held at the J. Millard Cooper Funeral Home Sunday afternoon. Interment was in Hollywood Cemetery.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by five children, Samuel A. Short, Jr., Mrs. Lillian Camper, and Mrs. Catherine Hickman, all here; George E. Short, Pompton Lakes, N. J., and Mrs. Mary S. Cahall, Greenwood; a sister, Mrs. R. Emmett Raughley; 10 grandchildren, and 20 great-grandchildren.

Other important Federal landholders, according to the report are the Coast Guard, which controls 243 acres of Delaware land, and the Veterans Administration, which oversees 30 acres in the state. Smaller parcels, totaling 6 acres, are controlled by still other Federal agencies.

The report discloses that federally owned land in Delaware is divided into 84 different installations, on which are located 802 buildings worth $45,412,000 and other facilities valued at $45,836,000. The land itself is valued at $4,672,000, bringing the value of Federal real property in the state to $95,920,000.

A large portion - approximately 900 acres - of the more than 1,000 acre Lum's Pond tract was recently declared surplus to the needs of the U. S. Army, thus removing the largest obstacle to eventual state ownership of the tract.

Watch the Calendar When You're Cutting Alfalfa

Late cutting can seriously injure your alfalfa stands, warns William H. Mitchell, extension agronomist at the University of Delaware.

"Don't cut alfalfa after September 15 in northern Delaware, or after September 25 in southern Delaware," Mitchell said.

Alfalfa needs at least eight inches of growth before facing the winter.

New seedlings of red clover should be clipped to get rid of weeds and straw but it should be done before September 1st or it will injure the seeding and do more harm than good.

Mr. Mitchell also suggests top-dressing your good legume-grass fields after the last cutting or grazing to help them build up for winter. This is a good idea only on heavy soils. On sandy soil wait until late winter around Feb. or March.

Good management of legumes in the late summer is an important factor in grassland management. Care will lengthen the life of your pasture and save you expensive reseeded jobs, Mitchell says.

Delmarva Poultry Industry Cited in New U. S. Study

With American agriculture struggling to adjust to the vast technical changes in farming and marketing, contract farming and vertical integration are among the most potent forces in agriculture today and promise to become even more widespread in the next ten years, says a new U. S. Department of Agriculture bulletin just issued from Washington.

Citing the broilers chicken industry of the Delmarva Peninsula as a prime example of one type of integrated farming, the Sunkist orange people of California points up the tremendous growth of the broiler chicken industry since 1939 as contract farming has enabled growers to get more capital and expand their operations for lower-cost production.

As a consequence, the bulletin says, broiler production has more than tripled in the last 17 years while the price at which they are sold has actually dropped slightly despite the steady depreciation of the dollar. Big-scale and efficient as the industry is today, it takes only about 28,000 farms to produce over 90% of the 1 and 1/3 billion broiler chickens now being grown annually, the six Department of Agriculture scientists who made the study report.

Commenting on the bulletin and report, Edward H. Covell, Jr., of Denton, who is Maryland vice-president of the Delmarva Poultry Industry, Inc., and chairman of its 'Keep Delmarva Growing' committee, said that contract farming and integrated farming had come in for a lot of argument and some hard words on Delmarva during the past 15 years but that it had made possible the steady expansion of broiler growing through both good years and bad in his opinion.

A grower and feed dealer himself, Covell said that Delmarva's public broiler auction at Selbyville, Delaware, gave independent growers and buyers a chance to compete with their integrated neighbors. According to the U. S. study, Delmarva is one of the few contract and integrated farming areas in the country to have such an open-market auction.

Covell predicted that continued merging and integration of grocery stores and chains which sell Delmarva's product would make it necessary for the Delmarva poultry industry to streamline its own growing, processing and marketing facilities to be even more efficient than at present if it wished to stay ahead of the pack.

Title of the new U. S. bulletin is 'Contract Farming and Vertical Integration in Agriculture.' It is Information Bulletin No. 198 of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

A FINANCIALLY HEALTHY TELEPHONE COMPANY

Telephone service must keep pace with fast-growing Delaware!

Dynamic changes have affected Delaware's economy and resulted in the establishment of new businesses, industries and households . . . population growth is the fourth fastest in the nation . . . per capita income is growing faster than in any other state . . . household income has become the highest in any state!

To match this growth, large expenditures for new telephone equipment must continue—if we are to maintain an adequate communication system, so vital to Delaware's progress and growth.

Delaware has always benefited from the finest in telephone service. Ours was the first state to enjoy 100% dial service. And we have spent $21 million in the last 3 years alone to provide adequate service for our customers . . . 116,000 Delaware families and businesses. It has taken that vast sum to match telephone growth with Delaware growth. But our job is far from finished.

Depending upon our financial ability to do so, we expect to continue our program of improving customer service . . . by providing more individual lines; having fewer party lines and fewer customers on rural lines . . . by extension of direct dialing of out-of-town calls by customers . . . by elimination of many toll charges and expansion of the local calling areas in the exchanges serving a majority of the customers in the state.

We have filed a new schedule of rates with the Public Service Commission of Delaware

Present telephone rates have proven insufficient to maintain the sound financial structure so necessary to provide Delaware with the telephone service it needs and deserves.

Our current earnings are considerably less than the level of earnings which the Public Service Commission found reasonable in its most recent order.

Inflation has contributed materially to the increase in the cost of providing telephone service. Like every other business we must pay the going prices for everything . . . supplies, wages, taxes, capital.

The urgency of our need compels us to file new rates now. Any delay in taking this action would not be in the best interests of the people of Delaware and would measurably impair our ability to keep pace with the telephone requirements of our state.

Only with adequate earnings can we plan economically for the long run and continue to provide first-class telephone service. You benefit as a customer by continuing to get the best and most up-to-date telephone service at the lowest possible cost.

The Diamond State Telephone Company

Phone Company Seeks Further Rate Increase

The Diamond State Telephone Company today filed new tariffs with the Public Service Commission of Delaware which will increase present rates, depending on the type of service, from 45¢ to $1.20 a month for residence customers with corresponding increases for business customers throughout the state.

The new rates, expected to provide additional annual net income of $1,073,700, are scheduled to go into effect Sept. 15, A. E. Rose, Diamond State Telephone Company manager, said.

He pointed out that inflation confronts the telephone company with the same basic problems as every other business, and cited the increased cost of materials and wages as the big reason for needing higher rates at this time.

Rose stated that, with a year's experience with existing rates, the company earned less than the return allowed by the commission in prescribing the present rates. He stressed the need for adequate earnings so that the company can undertake the type of planning and construction which in the long run means better telephone service and lower cost to the customer than would otherwise be the case. "Our construction requirements have been increasing, requiring substantial amounts of investor capital to finance new expansion," Rose stated. "This expansion means more jobs, more local purchases and other benefits to Delaware."

He estimated that the Diamond State Company's expansion rate through 1960 will approach $7 million a year.

Rose said the proposed new rates will enable the company to grow with Delaware and continue its program of service improvements.

dial-operated telephone service since 1950 and has provided more individual lines, and reduced the number of party lines and the number of customers on rural lines. This program will be continued.

Reviewing improvements made in recent years, he pointed out that Delaware, first all-dial state in the nation, has had 100 percent "Nearly 90 percent of all out-of-town calls are now dialed direct by operators or by customers and direct dialing of long distance calls by customers to further speed customers' calls will be

Vitamin C is not stored in the body. It is essential for good health that everyone gets at least the minimum requirement of the vitamin daily.

Green vegetables that are high in vitamin C include green peppers, broccoli, raw cabbage, collards, garden cress, kale, kohlrabi, mustard greens, spinach and turnip greens.

Vegetables to be cooked need to be in good condition beforehand. To retain the highest vitamin value, cook them in a small amount of boiling water until just tender.

Market vegetables that are limp or wilted may still have vitamin A and minerals, but little vitamin C. Those that show signs of bruising probably have lost considerable amounts of vitamin A as well.

As for home garden vegetables, that not much of this fragile vitamin is left.

Even if vegetables are revived or crisped in ice water or in the refrigerator, their vitamin C is not restored.

Vitamin Value in Vegetables
Wilted or bruised vegetables have lost vitamin value. Many vegetables, especially those that are deep green, offer a good measure of both vitamin A and vitamin C when harvested.
What happens between harvest and the table decides how much vitamin C they still have to offer. If they are wilted, it's a safe bet

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Luton were among the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Harris, of Dover, when they entertained at a barbecue supper Thursday evening.

Tuesday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hazel Roe were Mr. and Mrs. Boone Jarrell, of Ridgely, Md., Mrs. Walter Norris, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Roe's mother, Mrs. Joshua Short, of Dover.

Mr. and Mrs. Hazel Roe were guests Saturday at the wedding of Mr. Roe's great-niece, Miss Karen Coverdale and Richard Sullivan. The ceremony was performed in Barratts Chapel and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Roe. They were also guests at the reception which followed at the home of the bride, near Milford.

Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Roe attended the opening of the Hughes Music Studio in Wilmington. This was a studio moved from a previous location where Mrs. Roe had been a music student of Mr. Hughes. Following the open house the Roes were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith at Northfield.

Imitation General Stars Glenn Ford At Reese Theater

It's big big shows at Movie Center. One after the other and everyone is having an enjoyable good time. "Get more out of life—visit Movie Center often" is paying double dividends in real happiness.

What is considered by the public and press as the "tops" in entertainment is the Giant all-family treat offered by the Reese Theatre this Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Aug. 21-22-23. Gordon Scott, the most popular Tarzan of all time, appears in the new MGM hit, "Tarzan's Fight For Life" in beautiful color.

Of equal importance is MGM's "The Law and Jake Wade," the co-feature, with Robert Taylor and Richard Whitmark, in Cinemascope and color. Regular prices prevail for this all-time family treat.

Here it is. That "Don't Go Near the Water" guy, in the wildest "Snafu" the army ever knew. The wonderful story of a Sergeant who promoted himself to General. Glenn Ford, Red Buttons, Taina Elg, and a great cast in "Imitation General" is listed for showing at the Reese Theatre, Sunday Monday, and Tuesday, Aug. 24-25-26. Regular prices prevail.

Under the title, "How Much Safer is Limited Access?" the Engineering News-Records, a construction magazine of national distribution, published an article that read in part as follows:

"Two recent holiday weekends, the time for carnage on the roads, dramatically point up the things highway people repeatedly expound, and sometimes have to pound into the minds of local communities.

"Death and accident rates on limited access roads run just a fraction of the rates of all other roads. Proof is in the results of a U. S. Bureau of Public Roads study.

"First, there was the Memorial Day weekend traffic record. While 371 deaths were counted across the nation, there were no fatalities reported for the country's major toll facilities.

"Then, the recent July 4th weekend set another good, if not perfect, record for the limited access road. For that weekend, there were only four fatalities reported on 2,434 miles of limited access highway, and 370 deaths on all other roads.

"The bureau has made a five-year study of some 2,100 miles of highways in 27 states and the results prove that the more access control there is, the more lives are saved .

Delaware Food Market Report

What has happened to beef to make the downward trend in prices, especially on the choice beef cuts, is a thing for speculation. It may be the consumers resistance to high prices or perhaps it's due to an increase in supplies; regardless of what caused the decline it's a welcome change. When shopping be sure to look at the entire meat counter before you decide to buy. In many cases, you will find roasts to be cheaper per pound than hamburger or even hot dogs.

This is quite a switch and one every member of the family will like. Standing rib roasts were selling at very low prices last week and will be featured again this week. Here are two points to consider when buying a roast—first, a standing rib roast should never be less than two ribs thick, otherwise it will tend to dry out too much in the roasting process.

Second, it is easier to carve if the butcher has sawed across the ribs where they meet the back bone. The important thing, however, when buying a roast or any beef is to look for meat that has flesh which is smooth and velvety, fine grained, and of a light cherry red color with plenty of marbling (a fine net work of fat through the red meat). This type of meat is tender and of high quality. Chuck roasts are more plentiful and prices are lower. A four-to-five pound choice grade roast is a thrifty buy for even a small family when utilized for Swiss Steak and stew meat or hamburger as well as a roast. Your butcher can cut the roast to give you this assortment.

lower than a year ago. Cantaloupes, homegrown, remain the best fruit buy. They are selling as low as 3 big melons for 29 cents. Watermelons are another excellent buy as well as peaches. More apples are coming to market and seedless white grapes. Lemons, down a penny, are as cheap as 29 cents a dozen.

The decline in coffee prices at the wholesale level is showing up in some retail stores with a two to four cent cut per pound on coffee. And a new rice is beginning to be seen on the grocery shelf— it's canned cooked rice.

General Assembly May Consider Highway Extension

Extension of limited access highways into the two lower counties of the state may be one of the matters to be considered by the next session of the General Assembly.

At the present time the existing laws provide only for the construction of limited access highways in New Castle County, but as a safety factor in highway travel, an effort may be made to extend this feature to all three counties.

Micro Midget News

Two duds in one week. That's a record, one for the moon rocket and the other for the opening night at the Blue Hen Speedway. Saturday was to have been the opening date for rate racing. However, Camp Barnes had their Wednesday date rained out and Saturday night was their rain date, and which date was to have been our opening night.

If you went to the stock car races, we were there also, small in number, but powerful. We had two cars to put on a little show in front of the grandstand. The publicity we got will do us a lot of good.

Sunday the boys ran over at the Greensboro, Md., track. The track broke a record for people, but the boys didn't do as well. This was their third race meet on the new track located on the back of the Lions' Club ball park. Either the boys were over-anxious or not used to the track. The boys also had a few pile-ups that is good for the crowd but bad for the cars, and hard on the drivers.

The result of the feature is as follows: 1st., Spanky Vincent, car 71; 2nd., Martin, car 11; 3rd., Joe Gray, car 1.

Back to our track. After lots of talk and not much work, we have the lights turned on and adjusted. Clay was hauled in, disked in, and graded in. So we are already for the customers to come and see our antics. A second section to the grandstand will be erected by Saturday night. I tell you all this so that no one who was supposed to help will know what they missed by not helping.

So make plans to come out to see our night racing. Plenty of free parking, free admission and seating also free now.

We do pass the hat for your donation, which we leave entirely up to you. If you like our show, you can show your appreciation by your donation.. Where else can you go and spend such an evening as wonderful as this? Come see this big show, Saturday night at 8:00 just off the fairgrounds.
