H.H.S. Junior Varsity Football Team Loses to Lewes 9-0

By Keith S. Burgess

The Harrington High School Junior Varsity lost a hard-fought game to the Lewes Junior Varsity eleven 9-0 at Lewes Monday afternoon.

The home team blocked a kick, which rolled out of the end zone, for an automatic safety, to gain a 2-0 lead in the opening quarter. The battle then was waged on even terms until late in the game when Lewes finally launched a scoring drive.

The extra point was counted to end the day's scoring, as a Harrington counter-drive petered out on the Lewes 12-yard line.

H.H.S. standouts on offense were Collison, Balderson, Hoffman and Geo. Pfeiffer, who caught 3 passes from Collison.

On defense Jack and Tom Jones, Lyman Rash, Pfeiffer, Edgar Wheeler, Doug Beene and Bill Porter were outstanding.

The Harrington High varsity will seek to break a three game losing streak Saturday afternoon, when they journey into Maryland for a 2 o'clock battle with North Dorchester High.

THE ACCOUNTING OF BOND ISSUE POSSIBILITIES OF HARRINGTON PUBLIC SCHOOL

By J. C. Messner, Superintendent of Schools

We have presented our needs and the possible solution in terms of building and equipment. All these are necessary. A good teaching force comes first, however, as we have said facilities and equipment help make a good teacher better and enable him to present his subject matter in a more acceptable manner.

We must face the fact that a school program costs money. Our expenditures in the past have apparently been such that our patrons are pleased and proud of their investment and enjoy our present building.

For the sake of reviewing and renewing our information as presented in our annual report, let us consider our assets and liabilities. It will help us determine our ability to do now and in the immediate future.

Bonding power of the district is $697,675. This is 10% of the assessed valuation or 10% of $6,976,754.68. There are 2947 polls. We have outstanding bonds amounting to $296,000. Therefore our immediate bonding power is $401,275.47.

If we should agree to float $400,000 in bonds to be retired in 20 years our annual additional costs would be as follows: Assuming that we pay .03 1/4 interest, the interest charge on the total issue would be $12,000. Retiring one-twentieth or $20,000, we would owe $32,100 at the end of the first year over and above our present costs.

The expenditures on our outstanding issue for 1958-1959 will be as follows: Retiring bonds $20,000, interest $6,849 or $26,849. Our outlay for salaries and supplies of 1957-58 was $25,090.52, which added to the possible outlay of the old plus the proposed bond issue total $58,949 would amount to $84,039.52.

Our possible income for 1958-1959 at the current tax rate of 55 cents and a poll tax of $7.00 is $58,101.96.

To carry a total outlay of $84,039.52 would require a tax of $1.22 if carried by real property alone. To continue with a $7.00 poll tax would require a tax of .92 to carry this amount.

It appears that the most practical approach would be to raise the poll tax to $10 so that only 78¢ would fall on real property. In short this would mean that your taxes would increase 23¢ on real property and $3.00 per poll.

This is the picture. Are we going to improve our situation and prepare for our future or are we going to let good enough alone and possibly increase classes to where the teacher becomes a policeman without any time to instruct because of the demand of number or the size of the class? A session for one half the school population in the morning and the other one half in the afternoon would put our present buildings to more use. Come out and vote. Referendum date Nov. 8, 1958, 1:00 - 8:00 p.m. E.S.T. 1st. precinct voters vote at Dorman and Center Street, 2nd. precinct voters vote at Pierre S. duPont on Milby St.

STATE'S LONGEST-MARRIED COUPLE?—Mr. and Mrs. Nimrod Minner of 236 Delaware Avenue, Harrington, celebrated their 70th wedding anniversary Tuesday. He's 96 and she observed her 88th birthday Sunday.

HARRINGTON COUPLE WED 70 YEARS AGO TUESDAY

On Oct. 21, 1888 a wedding was performed in the parsonage of the Methodist Protestant Church, Harrington. The bridegroom was 26 and his bride had turned 18 two days earlier.

The church has since changed its name—it's Trinity Methodist Church now—and the state and world have changed drastically in the 70 years that have elapsed since then, but Mr. and Mrs. Nimrod Minner still live in Harrington, not far from the place of their birth.

Minner, son of Nimrod Minner, Sr. and Margaret Minner, was born near Harrington on March 16, 1862. His wife, Annie, is the daughter of James T. and Wilmina Sylvester, and was born near Harrington on Oct. 19, 1870.

Minner attended Powell School and first worked in the basket factory of Franklin Brothers on the present site of the Harrington Lumber & Supply Company.

Retired 25 Years Ago
He then went to work for the Pennsylvania Railroad, and retired 25 years ago as a baggage master after more than 46 years of service, all at Harrington.

When he first went to work for the railroad the main line locomotive burned coal and on the branch line, wood was burned. Passengers to Rehoboth and Lewes had to get off at the canals and walk the rest of the way.

When they were married, Mr. and Mrs. Minner were serenaded in the custom of the period. At the serenade the young bloods of the town beat on pots, pans, and old saws and fired shotguns at night at the home of the newly-wedded couple, and kept the din up until a treat was forthcoming.

Among those who serenaded the Minners were L. Booker Harrington, president of the First National Bank of Harrington; William T. Sharp, a retired druggist and a bank director, and the late L. C. Jones, a former railroad agent.

Wishing the Minners well on their anniversary are their daughter, Mrs. George Melson of Delmar; their two grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren, and everybody in the Harrington area, plus many others throughout the state.

Collision-Caldwell
Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Rita Jane Collison, daughter of Mrs. Mary Collison and the late Clarence Collison, of Burrsville, to Carroll D. Caldwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Caldwell, of Hartly.

The double ring ceremony was performed in Trinity Methodist Church, Goldsboro, by the pastor, the Rev. Omro Todd, in the midst of a few relatives and friends.

The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Lee Moore, brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom.

The couple are now making their home in Burrsville.

Cars Torn Up in Head-on Crash
One person was injured enough to require hospital treatment and two cars badly damaged in a head-on collision Sunday night on Clark Street.

Ronald Wooters, driver of one car, suffered lacerations of the head and chest injuries. He was taken to Milford Hospital in the fire company ambulance and released Monday.

Paul Neeman, driver of the other car, was badly shaken. Harrington police estimated damage of $575 to the Neeman car, and $675 to the Wooters car.

Wooters will be tried Oct. 31 in Juvenile Court on charges of driving at a speed greater than prudent and driving on the wrong side of the road.

C. R. F.F.A. Member Wins High Award at National Convention

Edward R. Moore, 17-year-old member of the Caesar Rodney Chapter of Future Farmers of America has returned home from the National F.F.A. Convention which was held at Kansas City, Mo., with one of the top four awards in the National Farm Electrification Contest.

The young Delaware farm boy was selected as the top winner from the North Atlantic Region, which is made up of 12 states, and was awarded $200 plus his expenses to the National Convention from the National Future Farmers of America Foundation.

To win the award, he had to excel in his farm electrical program over thousands of F.F.A. members from the other states in the region.

After assuming much of the responsibility for operating the home farm after joining the F.F.A. in 1955, Edward became very interested in farm electrical work, particularly in the ways he could use electricity to make for a better farming program.

Among the electrical projects completed was the removal of all overhead wires on the farm and placing them in an underground conduit, a job that was later passed by a licensed electrician. He also built and electric chick brooder which he has used for three years to raise chicks in the Delaware Junior Broiler Contest in which he has won a state award each year. As a labor saving device he also helped build an electrically powered farm elevator. He uses electric fences to rotate pastures for the home dairy herd.

In addition to electrical work on the farm, the young farmer and student cares for the dairy herd of 16 cows while his father holds an off the farm job. To complete his farming program, Edward has carried out numerous crop projects successfully and

IMPROVEMENTS TO TRACK, GRANDSTAND, AND PARKING LOT VOTED BY FAIR GROUP

Delaware School Enrolment Reaches Record Proportions

The public school enrolment in Delaware for 1958 has skyrocketed to the record breaking figure of 73,551, according to figures released by Dr. John G. Parres, state director of research and publications. This represents an increase of 4209, or a 6.1 percent growth since the fall of 1957, when the total public school enrolment in the State was 69,342.

The elementary school enrolment is 43,897, or 4.6 percent greater than in 1957; and the secondary school enrolment is 29,654, or 8.4 percent more than last fall.

The greatest gain in enrolment was made by the special school districts. The enrolment in these districts is 32,700; last year it was 30,261. This is an increase of 2,439, or 8.1 percent over 1957.

The enrolment in the State Board Units schools for 1958 is 27,605, or 1,597 more than last year, representing a growth of 5.8 percent.

The Wilmington School District enrolment for 1958 is 13,246 as compared to 13,073 in 1957, indicating a gain of 173 students, or an increase of 1.3 percent.

"For the past six years public school enrolments in Delaware have been increasing at the rate of about 4,000 each year," according to Dr. Parres. "If the growth in enrollment continues at about the same pace," says Dr. Parres, "Delaware can expect an enrolment of about 82,000 by 1960 and about 100,000 by 1965."

From 1927 to 1952, public school enrolments in Delaware increased by about 10,000 or 25 percent over a 25-year period. From 1953 to 1958, the enrolment has increased by 23,191, representing a 46 percent increase over a 6-year period.

"It is to be noted," states Dr. Parres, "that while both elementary and secondary school enrolments are continuing to increase, the percentage of growth in the secondary schools was almost twice as great as the percentage of increase in the elementary schools."

Discussion groups, led by the Rev. W. O. Hackett, pastor of St. John's Methodist Church, Seaford; the Rev. William Hemphill, Conference Missionary secretary, and Elias Tingle, associate lay leader of Dover District, will explore the avenues of missionary endeavor and attempt to strengthen this program in the local church.

Sprays Will Control Chickweed in Alfalfa

Chickweed (Stellaria media), a winter annual, is a major weed in Delaware alfalfa fields, says George Vapaa county agricultural agent.

Chickweed grows from seed which germinates and starts growth in the early fall, sometimes as late as November, and makes its most vigorous growth during cool weather. In mild winters it blossoms and produces seed throughout the winter.

Mr. Vapaa says chickweed seriously reduces alfalfa stands and yields. In new seedings, stands may be crowded out completely. The loss is much less on old established alfalfa stands.

Two materials effective for chickweed control are dinitros and chloro IPC.

Chloro IPC is effective but care must be taken if the field is a grass-alfalfa mixture. Chloro IPC will kill grasses if applied at high rates. Experience has shown that chloro IPC used at one to one-and-a-half quarts per acre will not injure the grasses significantly in comparison to the excellent chickweed control resulting from this treatment.

The best time to spray is November and December, when the chickweed is small and less than two-and-a-half inches tall. If it is more than five inches tall, dinitros will just burn the tops.

If dinitro is used the temperature should be more than 65 degrees. Chloro IPC should be used when the temperature is less than 55 degrees.

Mr. Vapaa warns that breathing, swallowing or skin contact with dinitros may produce toxic effects.

Watershed Planning Moves Ahead

The interest of landowners for improved drainage of the Upper Nanticoke River Watershed is being investigated by a development committee. More specifically, five committees are studying the project for five major areas or sections which can be a part of the project.

Oscar Draper of Greenwood, chairman of the group looking into area 1, known as the Northwest Fork and extending from Seaford to Farmington, announces that the other five members and he will deal with probably nine separate subsections. Two of these are already established tax districts: the Bridgeville Branch and the Cart Branch. Other portions at one time had functioned as community drainage systems, and are known as Polk Branches A & B, Muggins or Polk Branch C, Whitemarsh, Kent-Sussex, Hoey Branches, and the Main Ditch.

Others serving on the committee with Mr. Draper include John Thatcher of Farmington, Carl Tucker and Timothy Slaybaugh of Greenwood, Thurmond Adams and Lester Lichtenburger of Bridgeville.

The purpose of the project is to correct minor flood conditions and to provide good land drainage for the area. Considerable federal financial help will be available for the actual construction work.

The committee plans to meet again Monday, Oct. 27 at the H. P. Cannon Company offices at Bridgeville, starting at 8 p.m.

Delaware Farmers Established Two Records This Year

Delaware farmers established at least two records this year according to information received by the Delaware State Development Department from Washington sources. The state's 1958 corn harvest, on a per acre yield basis, may have set a world record, and a record yield, also on a per acre basis, was realized in soybeans.

According to the final October crop report of the crop reporting board, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Delaware's corn harvest averaged 72 bushels an acre, the highest yield, per acre basis, from non-irrigated land in the history of the United States. This yield exceeded that of Iowa and other "corn belt" states and was second only to Washington, whose well irrigated land yielded an average of 78 bushels per acre.

The Development Department points out that since the 72 bushel per acre figure was the average for the state, it is quite probable that some farmers harvested more than 80 bushels an acre. The 1958 Delaware corn yield exceeds the 68 bushel per acre estimate made earlier this summer. The average U.S. corn yield this year was 50.4 bushels per acre, the first time it has been above 50 bushels.

According to U. S. Department of Agriculture statistics, Delaware's 1958 soybean yield was a record 3,888,000 bushels, an average of 24 bushels per acre. This compares most favorably with the 10 year average of 1,345,000 bushels.

Delaware also made impressive increases in hay production, producing 77,000 tons as compared with 65,000 tons in 1957, and in egg production, with 90 million eggs produced from January to September as compared with 86 million for same period last year, notes the Development Department.

Ivins Injured In Auto Accident

A car that failed to negotiate a turn near Harrington, resulted in injuries to its driver, Harvey Ivins, 18, of Harrington, at about 1 a.m. Sunday. Ivins is under treatment in the Milford Memorial Hospital for a fractured jaw, his teeth knocked out, and chest injuries.

Cornstalk Pasture? Nope!

Milking herds in corn stalk fields do not produce at top levels says George Vapaa, Kent county agricultural agent.

Even when plenty of waste corn is still on the ground or on the stalks, dairy cows cannot get enough feed to keep their production up. Many kernels will pass through the cow's digestive system without being broken down. The rest of the corn plant is also difficult to digest and is not very tasty to the cow either. Oat straw has about the same feed value as stalks, he says.

Stalk fields will do for dry cows and heifers if they have some hay or silage to supplement them. For short-time maintenance you can use your harvested cornfield for dry cows and young stock successfully, Mr. Vapaa said.

The State's Financial Condition!

What are the Facts?

A Message to the People of Delaware:

Since early this year the people of Delaware have been told time and time again that their State was on the verge of bankruptcy. Newspaper editorials, statements of the Governor and Republican spokesmen, have joined in a chorus of pessimism designed to convince the people that the state was facing a dire catastrophe.

Only recently the newly-formed Non-Partisan Committee for Good Government, in a letter addressed to thousands, said the situation is "alarming," the State's financial situation has "degenerated over the past ten years," and urged the enactment of "corrective legislation" to bring about "sadly needed reform."

The story has been repeated so many times that the people are fearing any day that New York bankers will foreclose and force us all to move.

INFORMED PEOPLE NOT ALARMED

Skeptical citizens, realizing the sources of the information and its political character, were not alarmed, as they sensed that behind the barrage of obvious propaganda lay something that was sinister and suspicious.

SOUGHT A SALES TAX

There was. The Republican Party and its spokesmen wanted and still want a Sales Tax—an increase in the Gasoline Tax—so as to reduce the wealthy's obligation to the State.

This became obvious when the Chamber of Commerce—an organization overwhelmingly Republican, endorsed the Sales Tax and urged its enactment. It was obvious also when Republican candidates and the daily papers kept demanding that the Democrats return and "finish the job."

DEMOCRATS WERE CAUTIOUS

The Democrats refused to return. They felt, and events have justified their convictions, that the job had been finished, that there were ample funds coming into the treasury to meet all justifiable expenses and that the State's credit had been restored.

It is true that the State found itself in an unenviable position. Due to its rapid growth, which necessitated the building of new schools and highways, the paying of higher salaries to teachers and others on the public payrolls, expenses had risen and new taxation measures were needed. When it was learned how serious the situation was, the Democrats, through their chairman, Garrett E. Lyons, urged the Governor to form a bi-partisan committee to study the situation and devise corrective measures.

PASSED NEEDED LEGISLATION

This committee suggested an increase in the income tax; the enactment of a corporation tax, increasing the pari-mutuel take, and suggested that the new income taxes be made retroactive. It also approved the cancellation of appropriations which it was felt might not be justified under the circumstances. The Democrats refused to consider the enactment of a Sales Tax or increasing the tax on gasoline, feeling that such taxes are unfair to the low-income group and are inflationary.

With these measures approved, the Democrats felt that the financial condition of the state had been improved and that no further taxation was called for. After due consideration they felt that the retroactive features of the income tax bill should be repealed. They passed an act to this effect, which was vetoed by Governor Boggs.

The repealer was passed on a strict party vote—Democrats for, Republicans against. The Democrats realized that they could not muster enough votes to override the Governor's veto so did not make the attempt. So the onus of the retroactive feature of the new tax bill must rest upon the Republicans.

As a result, we feel that the people have been taxed more than necessary. The Governor's veto placed too heavy a burden upon them.

ENDED YEAR WITH CREDIT BALANCE

Reports show that the state ended its fiscal year with a credit balance rather than the huge deficit predicted. The Governor has reported that revenues coming in since March 15 have enabled him to pay off all the funds borrowed from the banks earlier in the year. The State Auditor has reported greater receipts than in any year in our history, although the papers are still crying "wolf," and predicting shortages.

LEAGUE PREDICTS CREDIT BALANCE

The Non-Partisan League in its letter showed the income received during the past years and estimated receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1959.

It showed that during the year 1958 the Inheritance tax produced only $1,020,000, the lowest in ten years.

It estimates that this tax will produce only $1,000,000 in 1959; the average over the past ten years has been $2,955,000.

It estimates that the motor fuel tax will bring in about $8,700,000. Records month by month over this year indicate that the tax will bring in around $10,000,000.

It estimates that total receipts for the year will be around $66,819,335, and predicts a credit balance of $671,053. The fact is that every index shows receipts breaking all records, and indicate a credit balance of several million dollars.

GOVERNOR'S FIGURES WERE WRONG

On May 31, Governor Boggs advised the Legislature that the state faced a deficit of $9,286,859 at the year's end. Six weeks later, the auditor reported that instead of a deficit, there was a credit balance of $208,000. The Governor advised that the deficit for 1959 would be $10,223,638, but the Non-Partisan Committee for Good Government admits, ultra-conservatively, that the State will have a credit balance of $671,053.

Why doesn't Governor Boggs report the facts? Why, if the state's financial condition is so desperate, doesn't he tell us how much the state is receiving every month from such sources as the income tax, the corporation tax, pari-mutuel receipts, automobile licenses, fines, and receipts from other sources.

How much of our income tax is outstanding—unpaid for years, as the tax commissioner reported only a few weeks ago. How much is being paid in installments? How much is due to be paid over the rest of the year?

His refusal to publish these figures, although urged to do so on numerous occasions, leads many to believe that the Republicans have something to hide.

Do they fear that the predictions of huge deficits, the threats of impending destruction of the State's credit standing, were made without foundation, and that the facts will show that the statements were made solely to discredit the Democratic Party? Do they fear to admit that the Democrats were right when they repealed the retroactive tax?

DEMOCRATS NEEDED IN THE LEGISLATURE

It seems obvious, under the circumstances, that the electorate of this state, unless they want a sales tax and an increase in the gasoline tax, must vote to return a majority of Democrats to the State Legislature.

WALTER A. HANDSBERRY

Clerk of the Peace, in and for Kent County

Leslie C. Greenly Outstanding Farmer of Year

Leslie C. Greenly of near Milford, has been named as the Outstanding Soil Conservation Farmer of the Year for Kent County.

Les, an earnest co-operator of the Soil Conservation District of Kent County, was selected by the farmer supervisors of the district. He will receive the annual Goodyear Soil and Water Conservation Award for his efforts and progress in developing and establishing a complete soil and water conservation plan on his farm. He was one of the first farmers in Kent County to become a co-operator, and so had an early start in improving his soils. He has had experience working with all the major soils in Kent County—well drained, imperfectly drained, and poorly drained lands.

Drainage of the wetter land areas was his first step in establishing the complete conservation plan. Today Les has just about licked this problem with large outlet ditches coupled with a system of smaller field ditches. His drainage was established over a period of years with on the farm help of Soil Conservation Service technicians and the heavy earth moving equipment of the Soil Conservation District.

Les can be very pleased with the drainage system he has developed to date. Although he did suffer some crop loss by drowning earlier this summer, Les says he did not have one square foot of drowning in the fields where he has established a complete drainage system, despite the abnormally heavy rainfall. His plans call for more drainage which he hopes to establish as soon as his improved farming system will pay for it.

If you should ask Les whether his drainage systems have paid for themselves, he will say "I can grow better paying crops after draining my low lands and am able to harvest my crops. The ditches more than pay for themselves in the first year."

Les has found his drainage investment well worth protecting. He maintains his system with his mower and tractor blade, using heavy equipment every five years to re-clean the larger ditches.

In addition to proper fertilization and liming by soil test, Les endeavors to protect his soil from depletion and erosion. He dis-in crop stubble prior to seeding cover crops, and seeds a grass-legume winter cover wherever possible. He also finds seedMR possible. He also finds seeding cover crops by airplane very satisfactory.

One of the reasons his neighbors feel he is a good conservation farmer is that he takes care of any land he might rent.

Les is passing on his appreciation of the soil to his son, Leonard, who also has a complete soil conservation plan under way on his own farm.

The success of the farmer is not necessarily due to how good a soil he has, but how well he manages and cares for that which he has. This is what distinguishes this outstanding Soil Conservation District farmer co-operator.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Sharp attended Homecoming Day at Wesley College Saturday and also a meeting of Alumni Association and luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Brown Smith and Miss Elva Reese left Monday to visit Mr. and Mrs. John Parks of Durham, N. C., who will accompany them on a trip to the Great Smoky Mountains.

Kent HDC Achievement Day, Nov. 6

The high point in entertainment at the Kent County Home Demonstration Club Achievement Day to be held Nov. 6 in the Dover Capital Grange Hall, will be a talk illustrated with antiques, called, "I remember Mama or Life with Father", by Charles H. Rutledge, manager of product information with the duPont Company.

The program will open at 10:15 a.m. with exhibits set up for visitors and this will be followed by talks and discussions by county committee chairmen on: international relations, health, safety, community work, family life, publicity and reading.

Rutledge will present his program at 1:15 o'clock, following lunch.

He will use his antiques to show the changes that have taken place in the ways homemakers have done household tasks over the years.

He has a spinning wheel and log mortar and pestle for grinding grain, as well as a large collection of old flat irons.

Rutledge has a 20-year background business before joining duPont. He has been editor of the Cecil Whig in Elkton, Md., and owner-operator of the Newark Post.

He also worked for the Baltimore Sun while a student at Baltimore City College and later moved on to the Baltimore Post, Pittsburgh Press, Cleveland Press and the Philadelphia Ledger among others and in between attended Johns Hopkins University and Carnegie Institute of Technology.

Lunch reservations can be made by contacting home demonstration club presidents. Non-members should make their reservations with the Kent County Extension Office by Nov. 1.

Dutch Elm Disease Research Grant to U. D. Entomology Department

The University of Delaware's Department of Entomology has received a grant of $1000 from the Atlantic States Tree Expert Company, Wilmington, for use in supplementing the department's research studies for the control of Dutch Elm Disease.

Dr. Dale F. Bray, chairman of the department of entomology, will direct the work which will be carried out by James Touchey, Yorklyn, a graduate student who is working toward an advanced degree in entomology.

The funds will be used to support Touchey's laboratory and field work in search of a chemical that will repel the bark beetle which transmits Dutch Elm disease fungus from one tree to another.

Dr. Bray says that elms are not abundant in Delaware and may be exterminated if the bark beetle is not controlled. Because of the rapid spread of the disease during the last few years, this joint effort by the Atlantic State Tree Expert Company and the University has been initiated to try to save the elm trees in the state.

The disease is caused by a fungus which secretes a toxic substance into the sap stream of the tree. This causes clogging of the cells and stops the flow of sap through the tree, Dr. Bray said.

Tests with various chemicals will be made to determine if anything can be applied to trees which repel the fungus carrying bark beetle.

Instructions to Voters

MANNER OF VOTING

When a voter presents himself for the purpose of voting, the election officer shall ascertain whether his name is upon the register of voters, and if his name appears thereon and is not challenged or a challenge is decided in his favor, one of the election officers to be stationed at the entrance of the voting machine shall announce the name of the voter and permit him to pass through the entrance to the booth of the voting machine for the purpose of casting his vote. Each judge shall then stamp or write the word "VOTED" in the column opposite the name of the voter in the Books of Registered Voters in his possession. No voter shall remain in the voting machine booth longer than three minutes, unless for good and sufficient reason he be granted a longer period of time by the election officers in charge. When the voter has cast his vote the voter shall at once leave the room. If he refuses to leave after a reasonable period he shall be removed by the election officers. No voter after having entered and emerged from the voting machine booth shall be permitted to re-enter the same on any pretext whatever. Only one voter at a time shall be permitted to enter the voting machine booth. Added 49 Del. Laws, Ch. 18, § 1. eff. Mar. 20, 1953.

NUMBER OF PERSONS PERMITTED IN BOOTH AND VOTING ROOM; CONVERSATION IN ELECTION ROOM

Not more than one person shall be permitted to occupy any voting booth at one time. No person shall remain in or occupy a voting booth longer than may be necessary to prepare his ballot and in no event longer than three minutes. No more than one person for each booth in the room, other than the election officers, shall be permitted to enter or be in the election room at any one time, except as in this chapter provided. No voter or person offering to vote shall hold any conversation or communicate with any other person than an election officer while in the election room, except as in this chapter provided.

No election officer, challenger or any other person within the polling place, during the election or counting of ballots, shall electioneer or engage in any political discussion.

CHALLENGERS: APPOINTMENT AND POWERS

Each of the political parties, acting through their respective county committees, may appoint and accredit some suitable person as a challenger to stand without the door or entrance of the room in which the election is to be held, and by the side of the passage. If any political party fails to appoint a challenger, the Inspector and Judges shall make such appointment. The challengers may be changed and their places filled in like manner during the day. The challengers shall be protected in the discharge of their duty by the election officers. The challengers, chosen for any general or special election, shall be peace officers of this State and shall have the same powers for preserving the peace as election officers have.

PERSONS PERMITTED TO STAND WITHIN 30 FEET OF ENTRANCE

One challenger designated by each political party shall be entitled to stand at the side of the passage and near the entrance to the room. No other person shall remain within 30 feet of the entrance except as provided in this chapter.

REMOVAL OR DESTRUCTION OF ELECTION SUPPLIES OR EQUIPMENT OR VOTING MACHINE

Whoever, during the general election—(1) removes or destroys any of the supplies or other conveniences placed in the booths or delivered to the voter for the purpose of enabling him to prepare his ballot; or (2) removes, tears down or defaces the cards printed for the instruction of the voters; or (3) destroys or removes any booth, railing or other conveniences provided for such election; or (4) tampers with, disarranges, defaces or impairs in any manner the use of or destroys any voting machine or the ballots on the face of a voting machine, shall be imprisoned not less than six months nor more than one year.

INDUCING ELECTION OFFICERS TO VIOLATE ELECTION LAWS

Whoever induces or attempts to induce any election officers to violate any of the provisions of this title, whether or not such election officers violate or attempt to violate any of such provisions, shall be imprisoned not more than 5 years.

INSTRUCTING VOTERS ON ELECTION DAY

Any voter requesting instruction shall be given such instruction by an election officer with reference to the sample ballots posted in the polling place.

In case any voter, after entering the voting machine booth, shall ask for further instructions concerning the manner of voting, two election officers of opposite political parties shall give such instructions to him; but no person assisting a voter shall in any manner seek to influence his vote. After giving instructions and before such voter shall have registered his vote, the persons assisting him shall retire and such voter shall then register his vote in secret. Added 49 Del. Laws, Ch. 18 § 1. eff. Mar. 20, 1953.

DETERMINATION OF RESIDENCE OF VOTER

In all questions of residence arising under the provisions of Article V of the Constitution of this state, if any person, having resided within this State, actually removes to another place out of this State, with an intention of remaining there for an indefinite time, as a place of present domicile, he shall lose his qualifications of residence within this State, notwithstanding he may entertain a floating intention to return at some future period. The same principle shall be applied to removals from one place to another within this State.

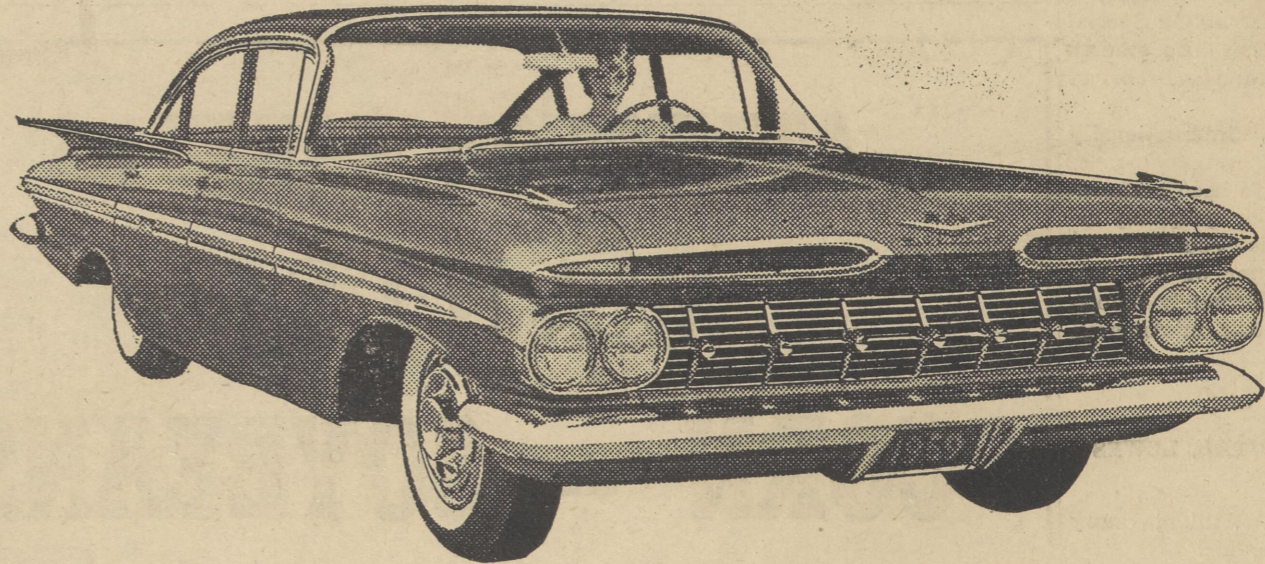

ASSISTANCE TO BLIND OR PHYSICALLY DISABLED VOTERS

Any person who shall be physically unable to operate the voting machine by reason of defective eyesight, or the loss of the use of one or both hands, or inability to walk with safety without assistance, as manifestly renders him or her unable to operate the voting machine, or to reach the polling place alone with safety, shall be permitted to bring with him or her into the election room and booth any elector or two electors, if the nature of the disability manifestly requires more than one, such as a total disability to walk to the polling district for the purpose of rendering the necessary assistance to vote. No voter shall receive any other assistance in voting than that permitted by this section.

Breeding's Life Sentence to Be Fought

Clayton E. Breeding, 27, convicted Friday of first-degree murder and sentenced to life imprisonment in the Maryland State Penitentiary, will appeal the conviction.

Marvin H. Smith, state-appointed counsel for Breeding, announced plans for the appeal within an hour after trial ended.

Breeding was sentenced by Chief Judge J. DeWeese Carter at 5:15 p.m. It required less than two hours for the three presiding judges to reach their unanimous verdict. Sitting with Judge Carter were James E. D. E. Rollins and Thomas J. Keating.

Breeding was convicted in the brutal slaying of 19-year-old Mrs. Ruth Ellen Cannon, Burrowsville, Md., an expectant mother, on or about June 28.

As the verdict and sentence were announced, neither Breeding nor his wife, Eileen, sitting next to him, show any visible sign of emotion.

Speaking for the court, Judge Carter said, "We do not believe it necessary to review all the facts and circumstances which the court has found to be beyond doubt. It is sufficient to state we have given full and serious consideration to all the testimony, direct and circumstantial, of the movements and actions of the accused from the time of the killing to his arrest and the demeanor of the witnesses in this trial.

"It is our conclusion beyond any reasonable doubt as a composite whole of the testimony that Clayton E. Breeding did kill and murder one Ruth Ellen Cannon on or about June 28."

States Attorney James A. Wise had asked for the death penalty.

How to Keep The Rabbits Away

A common item on the winter diet of friend rabbit is the bark that is now on your ornamental trees and shrubs says George Vapaa, county agricultural agent.

If you would rather the rabbit population in your neighborhood ate something else, there are a couple things you can do to protect your trees and shrubs, he says.

Chicken wire or some other wire of rather small rabbit-proof size will do the trick. The wire should be out from the trees and at least three feet high-higher if the snow is likely to drift up on the wire enabling sly rabbits to walk over your rabbit fence on the snow.

Another good bet, especially if you have many shrubs and trees, is to apply a repellent to the plants. This is a rather dirty trick but it is effective.

Mr. Vapaa advocates a mixture of seven pounds of powdered rosin in one gallon of denatured ethyl alcohol will make your shrubs rabbit-proof if it is painted on the trees and shrubs.

The mixture should stand a day or two before application, he says. If you have a sprayer, another gallon of alcohol will make the mixture sprayable. About one gallon of this mixture will cover 100 small trees and will protect the trees all winter. If you have just a few plants, wire mesh is probably best, he added.

NEPPCO Elects Smith, Other 1959 Officers

Ernest F. Smith, Jr., Kenton, has been elected president of the Northeastern Poultry Producers Council (NEPPCO) at the organization's annual meeting in conjunction with its 21st exposition here.

Smith replaces Harold P. Klahold, Preston, Md., NEPPCO president for the past two years. The new president is former vice president of the 14 state producers organization.

"Doc" Smith is a graduate of the University of Delaware who started in the poultry business a quarter of a century ago in Kenton. He still maintains his original 50-acre farm, where he produces hatching eggs from some 6000 breeder hens for the boiler industry. Smith is a past president of the Delaware Poultry Improvement Association, and a director of NEPPCO since 1950. Warren W. Hawley, III, of Batavia, N. Y., is new first vice president of NEPPCO. Kent County Has Interesting Farm Census History

Kent County, which will be the site of a 1959 census of agriculture field test during the week of November 10, has an interesting farm census history dating back to 1840, a study of U. S. Census Bureau records reveals.

The first agricultural census was taken in Kent County in 1840. The number of horses and mules in the county totaled 4745 in that first census. The most recent farm census, taken in 1954, recorded 1612 horses and mules in Kent County. Replacing these animals are 1,409 trucks, 2855 tractors, and 1695 automobiles reported to be on Kent County farms in 1954.

A changing factor in Kent County over the past few years is the rapid increase of irrigated land in farms. In 1950 acreage of irrigated land in the county stood at 390. By 1954 such acreage had expanded to 3,394.

The number of farms has also decreased. In 1950 Kent County reported 2,169 farms. By 1954 the number of farms in the county had dwindled to 1,938. During this period total acreage in farm land decreased. It stood at 281,798 acres in 1950 and 264,924 acres in 1954. At the same time, however, the average size of farms increased in Kent County from 130 acres to 137 acres.

Back in 1840 the first farm census recorded the estimated value of poultry on Kent County farms at $16,582. At the last enumeration in 1954, poultry and poultry products sold in the county amounted to $3,805,016.

Cattle numbered 17,477 in 1840 and 26,309 in 1954. Value of dairy products in 1840 was set at $32,360. In 1954 Kent County dairy products sold totaled $2,813,218.

The first farm census recorded the number of swine at 27,080 in the county. In the 1954 count there were 9,782.

As for grain in Kent County, Indian corn was the big crop back in 1840 totaling 626,835 bushels. The last farm census shows Kent County corn harvested for grain totaling 1,673,856 bushels; oats, 192,037 bushels; and wheat, 328,670 bushels.

The first farm census set the county's potato yield at 68,357 bushels, compared to 1,174,881 bushels in 1954.

For the first time, the 1954 census of agriculture checked on the number of farms reporting television sets. In Kent County the numbered 1,145.

The last farm census also showed there were 880 farms reporting home freezers in Kent County, more than double the 417 reported in 1950.

About 500 Kent County farms will be covered in the November test which is being conducted for the purpose of trying out procedures and questionnaires being considered for use in the nation-wide census of agriculture next year. Census Bureau officials urge that local farmers cooperate in the test, pointing out that all confidential features of regular census-taking operations will apply to the test and that information furnished to the census bureau cannot be used for purpose of taxation, investigation, or regulation.

Sturtevant, Halifax, Mass., was re-elected secretary and James C. Weisel, Rosemont, N. J., was re-elected treasurer.

A new director-at-large to the board is Robert E. Thurrell, of East Wolfboro, N. H. Klahold and Andrew E. Danish, Troy, N. Y., were re-elected as directors at large. Klahold will serve on the executive committee during 1959.

Klahold was recipient at NEPPCO'S annual banquet of a special citation for devoted service, and received also a gold, engraved wristwatch from the organization.

Delaware Food Market Report

Meat prices are like a ball bouncing up and down. This week they are up. Even fresh pork which should be a good buy because it's in season increased in price this week. Weekend specials offer the best chance to save money on all cuts of meat and most certainly on the most wanted cuts such as steak, rib roasts, chuck roasts, fresh pork hams, spare ribs and pork chops. Look for bacon, both first and second grades, to be on sale—these sale prices offer worthwhile savings.

Poultry remains the best buy, however, broilers-fryers have increased in price and are now selling around 39c to 45c a lb. Some stores are featuring these delicious chickens during the weekend for 33c a lb. Turkeys are steady in price as well as Cornish Hens.

Egg prices are following the pattern set by up and down prices of meat. This week prices are going both ways—Grade A large eggs are up in price, but small and medium eggs are down in price. Remember when buying eggs to buy those that are refrigerated. Keeping eggs cool makes the difference between a truly fresh egg or an old egg. The ups and downs in temperature causes the whites to become thin, thus the egg is no longer a grade A and you should not pay the prices for a top quality egg when it is no longer this.

For those of us caught somewhere between our desire for the slim silhouette and a love of good food, there's welcome news in an entirely new cheese product with only about half the calorie content of most types of cheese.

This processed cheese spread looks like a cheddar spread, tastes like a cheddar spread, yet adds few calories to the daily count. Most cheeses average around one hundred calories per ounce—this one offers a mere 55 calories per ounce. It comes in 2 lb. loaves that go easily on the budget as well as on the calories.

An oatmeal bread mix is also new on the grocery shelves. It is easily made and a foil pan just the right size for the loaf comes with the package, dates, raisins, or nuts may be added to vary the basic oatmeal bread. It may be served warm or cold and the children might like it as a change-off from sandwiches.

A new family size in canned tuna is being introduced. Both chunk light meat and chunk white meat tuna are now available in family-size cans.

Social Security News

By Edward F. Sullivan
 Manager of the Dover, Delaware Social Security District Office
 Social security benefits are intended to replace in part loss of income brought about by the death, disability, or old-age retirement of the worker. For this reason, they are related to the average earnings of a worker in employment or self-employment covered by the social security law. Obviously, social security benefits are affected by changes in the national economy.

The Congress voted an across-the-board increase in benefits effective at the beginning of 1959, and the increase will be included in all benefit checks for January which will reach beneficiaries in February.

The benefit increases for retired workers amount to about 7 per cent over the levels provided in the old law, with a minimum increase of $3.00 in the benefits payable to a retired worker who came on the rolls at or after age 65. Slightly smaller increases will be shown on the benefit checks of retired women workers who elected to retire at age 62 or any age thereafter before reaching age 65. Proportionate increases will be made in benefits paid to beneficiaries who are the dependents or survivors of retired or deceased workers.

For retired male workers now getting benefit payments, the monthly payments will range from $33 to $116, as compared with $30 to $108.50 under the old law. For women workers now getting retirement benefits the increased checks will range from $26.40 to $116 per month. This slightly lower minimum benefit is due to the fact that some women chose to retire before age 65.

Our office, at 230 W. Lockman St., Dover, has available free pamphlets that explain these and other changes in the social security law. If you telephone us at 6-1426 we shall be glad to mail you a pamphlet.

Greensboro Micro-Midget News

The first heat of the day was off with four cars entered. Car No. 19 driven by Bill Tribbett of Greensboro took the lead in the first few laps until the 9th lap, when hard pressed by Car No. 9 driven by Brown of Harrington and Car No. 12 (dozen) driven by Bill Marvel of Greensboro began moving up for a thrilling finish but not enough. It was still Car No. 19 that took the checkered flag.

The second heat race, five cars entered, was the highest point cars. Car No. 9 driven by Brown of Harrington and Car No. 111 driven by Buddy Spiering of Greensboro took the leads in the first lap and held them until the finish when Car No. 9 driven by Brown crossed the finish line first.

The third heat race with six cars entered, ended up a surprise race for all the fans, when Car No. 181 (the dark horse) driven by Arthur Dean of Greensboro took the checkered flag.

The consolation or 4th race of the day was also won by Car No. 181 driven by Bob Miedl, his first win at the Choptank Speedway. This was surely a big day for Car No. 181.

The feature race or the main event of the day had 7 cars entered. This race brought the fans to their feet and kept them on their feet until a very close finish. Car No. 9 driven by Brown took the lead in the 6th lap hard pressed by Car No. 181 driven by Dean and Car No. 12 driven by Marvel who both moved up in the 16th lap until the 24th lap when Car No. 181 moved to the inside of the third curve and moved up for a thrilling finish of the afternoon only half a car length ahead. Car No. 181 taking the checkered flag, Car No. 9 second place and Car No. 12 third place.

Another big event of the day was the powder puffs (lady drivers). There were five powder puffs entered being Betty Shulties in Car No. 38, Elsie Marvel in Car No. 12, Ruth Dean (newcomer to the Speedway) in Car No. 181, Shirley Tribbett in Car No. 19, and Doris Lane in Car No. 72. The race was off to a good start with Car No. 12 in the lead until the 6th lap when Car No. 181 moved up and made Car No. 12 really fight for the lead. This was another great day for Car No. 12 winning another powder puff.

The extra special race of the day, the officials derby. These all new drivers on the track were the flagmen, the trackmen, the announcers and pit men, driven by George Neal, flagman, in Car No. 38; Irvin Morris, announcer, in Car No. 19; Howard Shulties, pit man, in Car No. 72; Pop Farrell, trackman, in Car No. 12; Herman Kohland, pitman, in Car No. 181. The officials got off to a good start with Neal in Car No. 38 holding the lead until the 10th lap when Car No. 19 spun out and the race was restarted. In the 12th lap Neal took "dozens" place up-rooting the tires and Pop Farrell in Car No. 12 took the lead and held it until the finish.

This Sunday, Oct. 26, at 2 p.m. the Micro Midgets will hold the annual Greensboro Lions Club benefit race. All donations received at this race will be turned over to the Greensboro Lions Club to be used for sight conservation (for needy children's glasses) and the needy at Christmas which at the present time are badly needed. This is for a good cause so come out and support your favorite driver and the Lions Club. If possible members of the Lions Club will participate in the races. Plenty of hot coffee, hot dogs, free parking, free admission and an afternoon of thrills. There will also be a powder puff derby.

Honey Cites His Record in Contest For County Post

Roy Honey, Democratic candidate for re-election as Kent County recorder of deeds in November elections, this week put his record and platform before the electorate.

The county official said the following improvements had been made in his office during his term of office:

Put corporation records in a separate room, accessibility of which is granted only a key from the recorder of deeds. Installed modern equipment, including electric typewriters and electric adding machines. Put deeds department in one unit. Put mortgages in one unit.

Honey says everyone receives equally fair treatment, when requesting service in his office, regardless of politics, creeds, or color.

If elected, he said he would like to give old deed records special treatment to preserve them.
