

School Building Program Told As Voting on Bond Issue Nears

The Harrington Special School District's Building program, which will get its face lifted if a referendum for a bond issue for a new high school passes Sat., Nov. 8, was explained this week by J. C. Messner, superintendent of schools.

The program incorporates the following:

1. All the present facilities will be retained. The program will continue the use of the 1912 building, known as the high-school annex.

2. The referendum is a vote to match, on a 40-to-60 per cent basis, or a $400,000 bond issue to be matched by the state with $600,000,000.

State Appropriation
The state funds were voted by the past Legislature. They will revert to the state, if they cannot be matched by Dec. 31, unless reappropriated by the Legislature.

The monies voted and matched are to be used to erect a building housing the following:

16 Regular classrooms, including band room, choral room, library, shops, laboratories, administrative, guidance, and health offices, and an auditorium, all of which are to be properly and adequately equipped in accordance with a plan and program approved by the State Board of Education.

All these facilities are needed to provide adequate school facilities for our growing community, Messner said.

Area High School
A district area high school, or consolidation, or any other fact or would not alter the immediate need for a new building, the superintendent explained. Weighing all factors, shows that the growing pupil population must be cared for, he added.

Continuing, he said, "General home building and construction costs have increased 275 per cent in 20 years; school-building costs have gone up only 150 per cent. Since 1949, school-building costs have increased an average of 6 per cent per year.

"In 1952, Evanston, Ill., defeated a $1,950,000 expansion plan. The bond issue was finally approved last year, but the cost hit $2,600,000. The taxpayers wasted five years and $650,000,000.

Lions Hear About School Referendum From J. C. Messner

The program has been passed by legislation and we must accept an appropriation which must be used before the end of the year, else it will revert to the State, J. C. Messner, superintendent of Harrington schools, told the Lions Club Monday night.

He was explaining the background of a program to build a high school, funds to be secured if a bond issue is approved by a referendum Sat., Nov. 8.

The high school would cost approximately a million dollars, $600,000 of which would come from a state appropriation, the balance from the school district.

In citing needs for the school, Messner told the Lions that the birth rate had increased and that prosperity would follow. He added that some rooms of the first brick school, built in 1912, were still in use.

"Even if an area high school come in, we will not be beyond our needs with a new building," Messner pointed out, commenting on a movement of recent years for a consolidated school for the 10th, 11th, and 12th grades.

At the present rate of increase in population, the school needs an additional room each year, he said.

After his short talk, the superintendent conducted an energetic question-and-answer period.

Before the Messner talk, J. Millard Cooper was inducted into the Lions Club. Kenneth Aiken reported on Ladies Night, which is to be held Nov. 17, instead of Nov. 10, as previously agreed. Billy Jester reported on a Christmas dance to be held Dec. 20, and said Lou Parrish would play.

Also at the meeting were the members of the board of education, as follows: Luther Hatfield, Keith Burgess, Russell Bowdle, and Roland Hitchens.

New Building Requested of State For Pierre S. duPont School

The Harrington Board of Education is seeking money for a building at the Pierre S. duPont School.

The local group has asked the State Board of Education to include monies to build a six-classroom structure in the new state school-building program to be presented in the next Legislature.

The improvements would include classrooms, a general purpose room and kitchen, and space for art and music.

Improvements at the DuPont School would be paid for entirely by the state and have no connection whatsoever with the referendum to be voted on Sat., Nov. 8, for a bond issue for a new high school here.

Micro Midget News

The weather may be getting cooler, but the races are getting hotter than ever, as you could see Sunday afternoon at the Blue Hen Speedway. The drivers even got hot heads at times, but then who likes to get run over? If the boys continue to get in a couple of rounds during every race the 100 lapper Thanksgiving Day should be a whopper. Yes, that's what I said, we are having a 100 lap race Thanksgiving Day, so if you are looking for an afternoon of thrills, you should ride out to the Blue Hen Speedway one mile south of Harrington red light and near the fairgrounds.

Thanksgiving Day race will be our last race of the season. Trophies will be awarded according to points.

The track is in the process of being reworked. New clay has been hauled and dumped on the north and south turns. This can also serve as a notice to any members of the Blue Hen Micro Midget Racing Club who want to help on the track. There is plenty of work for all.

It looks like Schiff finally bought a winner after a bum start last week with two cars that wouldn't go. Maybe he took the two engines and made one good one. That's all it takes, one good engine.

You do not just buy these engines and run them. They are all handtooled after the boys get done working on one. The engines must be reworked week after week to keep it in tiptop operating shape. This good maintenance is what pays off.

So this leads up to the results of the races Sunday, Oct. 26.

1st. Race:
1—Sapp in car 22; 2—Trota in car 4; 3—Brown in car 9.

2nd. Race:
1—Billings in car 3B; 2—Fry in car 101; 3—Legates in car 49.

Consolation Race:
1—Lane in car 49; 2—Brown in car 9; 3—H. Porter in car 8; 4—Wilson in car 3A.

Feature Race:
1—Sapp in car 22; 2—Legates in car 49; 3—Trota in car 4; 4—Fry in car 101; Billings in car 3B; 6—Brown in car 9; 7—Kroe in car 1.

Veteran's Day To Be Observed Jointly Nov. 9

Plans for the joint Delaware-New Jersey Veterans Day observance at Delaware Memorial Bridge Sunday, Nov. 9, at 2 p.m., are nearing completion, according to Miles L. Frederick, state chairman.

A committee composed of members of all state veteran and auxiliary group reports that co-operation has been excellent this year and several innovations may be expected.

Principal speaker for the occasion will be Brig. Gen. James M. Masters, Sr., United States Marine Corps who serves that branch of the military as assistant chief of staff for intelligence. General Masters has offered to come to Wilmington at the suggestion of the National Veterans Day Committee, Frederick reported.

Hospitalized veterans in institutions throughout the state will not be forgotten, the state chairman said. Each hospitalized man or woman will receive a properly inscribed pen, which will be presented by members of a committee which Mrs. Edna Fulton, state president of the VFW Auxiliary heads. Distribution of the pens will be made either prior to or on Veterans Day, Nov. 11.

Heading the list of distinguished guests who have been invited to the affair are Governors Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey and J. Caleb Boggs of Delaware; the members of the state's Congressional delegation and others whose names will be announced later.

Among the prominent veteran and auxiliary personalities it is expected that will be present: Samuel Shakewitz, national commander, Jewish War Veterans; Mrs. Gertrude Rhind, Wilmington, national senior vice president, Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary; Frank G. Hahn, national Judge Advocate, VFW, and others.

Organizations present will each place a chrysanthemum on a huge V-shaped wreath as a tribute to those who died in all wars in the service of their country, with particular emphasis on those of World War II and Korea whose names appear on the memorial marker located on the bridge plaza.

The 287th U.S. Army Band of the Delaware National Guard will furnish music for the occasion, and state, county, district and local colors of organizations from New Jersey and Delaware will be massed for the observance.

Clergymen who will participate in the ceremonies include the Rev. Park W. Huntington, past national chaplain, American Legion; the Rev. Andrew J. White, St. Peter's Catholic Church, New Castle, and past national chaplain, VFW; and Rabbi Leonard B. Gewirtz, spiritual advisor to Adas Kodesh Shul Emeth Temple, Wilmington.

A dinner at 4 p.m. will follow the exercises at the bridge at the Lord De La Warr Hotel, Route 13, near New Castle and the bridge. The dinner is open to the public and tickets at $3 each for a full-course turkey dinner are available by applying to Mrs. Edward Zaleski, St. Mihiel Avenue, Stanton.

The Delaware State Chamber of Commerce has assured that its national flags will be in place in downtown Wilmington as a salute to Veterans Day. The flags will be displayed Friday, Nov. 7 through Nov. 11, according to Gerrish Gassaway, executive director.

Coach Dick Jeffers' Harrington High football Lions won their first game of the season Saturday afternoon at Shiloh, Md., against North Dorchester High 26-12. The locals were behind 12-0 at halftime but pulled the game out of the fire with a furious counter-offensive in the second half.

Early in the game the home team intercepted a pass and ran it back for a 6-0 lead. After kicking off to Harrington, North Dorchester recovered a fumble. The line held for a couple of plays but a long pass was successful for another marker. The extra point try after the first TD was wide and the second try was blocked. This ended the scoring for the first half.

Coach Jeffers delivered a stirring lecture during the intermission in an effort to IMBUE the team with some of the spirit shown last year. This was probably one of the reasons for the much better showing thereafter. Other reasons could be the concentration on the ground attack and the mixing up of the plays better by giving power-runner Collison, Collins, and Porter, more opportunities to carry the mail. This took the pressure off Schiff and gave him a little more running room.

At the start of the second half the Eagles on a fourth down and 8 to go situation apparently thought it was third and 8 for they tried a running play instead of kicking. The play failed and the locals gained the ball in enemy territory. Schiff behind the blocking of Collison, Jack Porter and Snooky Collins went off tackle for 35 yards and a touchdown. Collison then plunged over for the important extra point to make the score 12-7.

H.H.S. recovered a North Dorchester fumble soon after and marched down the field again. In this drive was a gain of 15 yards by Porter followed by an end sweep of 45 yards for a tally by Schiff giving Harrington the lead 13-12.

The home team gambled on fourth down and lost as the improving H.H.S. forward wall held them. Collins, Collison and Porter gained yardage after which Schiff went around end, shook off two tacklers and scored again running the count to 19-12.

In the fourth quarter Collison made a power-run through a large part of the Marylander's team for 20 yards followed by a long gain by Schiff who was finally downed on the 5. Collins went through the line on the next play to score. Billy Manship took a pass from Schiff for the extra point. Final score was 26-12.

Coach Jeffers lauded the defensive Harrington team coached by William A. Smith for their fine work. The line was underscored upon in this one. Defensive standouts were Don Garey, Porter, Collison, Ken and Jimmy Collins, George Balderson, Dave Martin and Phil Holson.

Some of the younger members of the squad who did well were George Pfeiffer, Doug Beene, Lynn Rash, Edgar Wheeler and Tom Jones.

Jimmy McDonald was injured on the first play but recovered in time to turn in his usual fine game at center. Manship, John Taylor and K. P. Outten did good work at the end positions.

The tackling of the locals is improving and the blocking in the second half was better than heretofore. Collison, Porter and Collins in the backfield were cited by Coach Jeffers for their part in Schiff's sensational third quarter when he scored 3 times and had several other good gains to completely demoralize the defenders with his speed.

A goodly contingent of local fans made the trip. The next game is tonight (Friday) at 8 o'clock against John M. Clayton at Dagsboro.

Women's Clubs To Sponsor Foreign Study

The Delaware State Federation of Women's Clubs has maintained a student at the University of Delaware under a scholarship plan to foster better international understanding for a number of years. Now the federation is broadening this effort to include four Delaware students from the public high schools who will have the opportunity under the American Field Service plan to participate in a school program in a foreign country for the first semester of their Senior year. The policy of the American Field Service is well known in Delaware for its thoroughness in choosing students or outstanding academic ability, as well as those with an outgoing personality, to serve as junior ambassadors abroad. As the aim of the State Federation and that of the American Field Service are the same it seems fitting that they cooperate in this new scholarship plan. The American Field Service is equally careful in choosing the homes in which these young people live abroad as well as providing them careful guidance during their stay. The State Federation committees have visited each of the public high schools of the state this week to give the details to members of the junior class who are interested in competing. Any public high school junior who has not heard of this opportunity may write or call the president of the local Women's club or any of the members of the State Committee on Selection of Students for this information. Juniors are urged to do this at once as the deadline for application for the college entrance examinations is Nov. 15 which is one of the criteria for the scholarship.

Members of the State Committee on Selection of Students are Mrs. John E. Burris, Milford, Chairman of this competition; Mrs. Edgar W. Buchanan, Dover, a member of the State Board of Education; Edward W. Hagemeyer, Wilmington; vice-president of the Farmer's Bank of Delaware; Dr. Donald Diffebaugh, Dover, Director of Guidance, State Dept. of Public Instruction; John K. Conant, Wilmington, New Castle County American Field Service Chairman; Herbert Peckham, New Castle, past president, Delaware Congress of Parents and Teachers; Dr. Kenneth C. Madden, Seaford, Supt., Seaford Special School District; the Rev. Howell O. Wilkins, Wilmington, President, Board of Trustees, Wesley College; and Mrs. William J. Storey, Dover, President, Delaware State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Maine Governor To Speak In Wilmington

Gov. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, recently elected to the U. S. Senate from his state, will speak at the final Democratic big rally to be held in Wilmington this evening.

The 44-year-old attorney, who became Maine's first Democratic governor in half a century four years ago, will speak in Fournier Hall, 1800 Howland St., at 8 p.m., after a round of street-corner rallies and appearances which will begin shortly after his arrival Friday afternoon.

Wilmington City Council President John E. Babiarr is chairman in this final all-out effort, according to State Democratic chairman Garrett E. Lyons.

The six top state Democratic candidates will travel with Mr. Muskie and appear with him at the evening rally. It is expected that large down-state delegations will again travel to Wilmington to hear the "man from Maine" tell how he helped to sweep the second consecutive Democratic governor into office in his state.

Muskie is no newcomer to the political scene despite his age, Babiarr pointed out. He served as chairman of the Platform Committee and was the keynote at the Maine Pre-Convention Democratic Conference in 1947 and again in 1949. He served in Maine's House of Representatives for three terms and was a member of the Governor's Budget Advisory Committee.

A veteran of World War II, U. S. Naval Reserve, he was a practicing attorney in Rumford, his home town. He is married and the father of two children. He has held many civic positions in his community and has been a national officer of the AM-VETS and is a member of Lions International.

The Democratic and Republican parties are squaring off in their corners, awaiting the gong Tuesday for an encounter which promises to be an unusual one for an off-year bout. Fight time will be from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Just how the battle royal will come out, no one knows. Betting is very uneven. The Democrats, who usually do not do so well in off-year battles, remember their success of four years ago and are indeed optimistic. Here in Delaware they outregister their opponents and this fact, with the Recession, is in their favor. The Kent County Democrats, be numerous and skilled at political fisticuffs, are expected to win in most departments.

At weighing time, the following contestants appear able and ready for battle:

Contestants
In the main bouts, Elbert N. Carvel, former Democratic governor, will vie with the incumbent, U.S. Sen. John J. Williams, seeking a third term. Harris B. McDowell Jr., former Democratic representative in Congress, will seek a comeback against the incumbent, Republican Hal Haskell.

State-wide contests see Ernest Killen, Harrington grain broker, stretching the ropes in the Democratic corner and facing the incumbent, Republican Dale Wheatley, in a tiff for state auditor. Other state-wide contests are as follows: For treasurer, Mrs. Belle Everetts (Dem.) and Mrs. Vera G. Davis (Rep.); for attorney general, Michael A. Poppi (Dem.) and Januar D. Bove (Rep.); for insurance commissioner, the incumbent, Harry S. Smith (Dem.) and Arthur R. Hudson (Rep.)

Kent County
In the county, the entries are as follows: For clerk of the peace, incumbent Walter Handsberry (Dem.) will face A. Keith Webb (Rep.); for recorder of deeds, incumbent Roy J. Honey (Dem.) against Roy E. Pyott (Rep.); for register in chancery and clerk of the Orphan's Court, incumbent Grafton R. Heather (Dem.) will square off against Webster Phillips (Rep.); for levy court commissioner from the Second Levy Court District, J. Noble Carroll, Sandtown Democrat, will oppose John Hardy (Rep.). For receiver of taxes and county treasurer, incumbent Thomas C. Robbins, Laws Church Democrat, will oppose Fred B. Carey, Sr. (Rep.); for sheriff, John Wesley Walls, Sr., Maryland Democrat, will oppose James Collins (Rep.), and for coroner, incumbent Roland P. Trader, Dover undertaker, will oppose Republican George E. Bryson.

In the Ninth District, George W. Cain (Dem.) seeks re-election as representative. His opponent will be William R. Humes, Harrington Republican.

In the Sixth Representative District, Democrat Elmer L. Betts, incumbent, will battle Republican Robert Dill.

In the Third Levy Court District, Charles W. Bostick, Felton, a former Democratic representative, seeks a post on the levy court, opposing Clinton E. Wooleyhan (Rep.)

In the Fifth Senatorial District, comprising the Eighth and Tenth Representative District, Democrat Harry Mayhew seeks the post of senator from the incumbent, Republican Clifford M. Simpler, of Felton.

There is no election for senator in the senatorial district of which Harrington is a part. Peter Nechay is senator here.

Voting places in the Ninth District are the Firehouse and Farmington School. For the lower Sixth District, Harrington School.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Notes

The first regular meeting of St. Stephen's Women's Auxiliary for 1958-59 was held Tues., Oct. 21, 8 p.m. at the parish house. Fifteen ladies were present. After a devotional period, routine business was discussed.

Plans were made for a covered dish supper to include all parish families. The date was announced as Nov. 25 and the place, the Century Club. Mrs. George Johnson was appointed general chairman.

The fall meeting of the diocesan auxiliary was noted for Oct. 30, St. Andrew's, Wilmington.

Mrs. Edward Brown volunteered to be chairman of a committee for purchasing and sending Christmas gifts to the boys from St. Stephen's now in the armed forces.

Mrs. Earl McColey, educational secretary, announced that she is planning to start a small church library.

Mrs. P. D. Mackes of Dover, was guest speaker. She gave an interesting talk on prayer groups and spiritual healing.

The Rev. Joseph E. James of St. Mary's Chapel, Denton, conducted the Holy Communion—Healing service Oct. 21 at St. Stephen's. The vicar attended the National Town and Country Convention at York, Pa., Oct. 20-23, as representative of the Diocese of Delaware.

Acolytes who served on the 20th Sunday after Trinity were Bobby Greer, Charles McNally, Ronny Porter, Billy Porter, Billy McColey, Bill Thompson.

Ushers on Oct. 19 were Messrs. Granville Hill and Archie Ford. Members of the senior choir welcome the following new members: Mrs. Robert Creadick, Miss Linda Humes, and Miss Dorothy Hill.

The building and grounds committee has made needed renovations at the Parish House and church in readiness for church school sessions and winter activities. The heating units have been put in good condition and are working fine. George Johnson is chairman of this committee.

At the eleven o'clock service Oct. 19, the Rev. John R. Symonds, Jr., baptised baby Donna Rae Schanding, daughter of Walter Lee and Mable Carpenter Schanding of Harrington. Godfather was Alfred Green of Centreville, Md., and godmothers were Sarah Shultie of Smyrna, and Geneva Green of Centreville, Md.

The general convention of the Episcopal Church, which met this month at Miami, Fla., firmly endorsed a new look in Sunday School teaching—one based on childhood experiences and not just Bible verses. The program, known as the Seabury Series, seeks to adjust biblical content and creeds to the child's age level and experience—a sort of religious progressive education. The method was started by the Department of Christian Education about ten years ago. It is now being used by parishes with approximately half the church's 800,000 Sunday School children. The Very Rev. C. Julian Bartlett of San Francisco stated that the customary older methods of reciting Bible stories and teaching catechism did not produce an educated laity.

Oct. 14, at the General Convention, about two thousand persons attended a dinner honoring the Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, who retired as presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

Words of tribute came from many dignitaries, among them President Eisenhower, Roman Catholic Archbishop Richard Cushing of Boston, and Dr. Geoffrey Francis Fisher, Archbishop of Canterbury.

Leaders of the church in the United States recounted their affection and esteem for the man who has been head of the church for 11 years.

Bishop Sherrill accepted a check of $45,000 raised by means of contributions from Episcopalians throughout the land as a farewell gift.

An anonymous gift of $100,000 has been made for the lobby of a new interchurch center in Manhattan to be named in Bishop Sherrill's honor.

The bishop responded to all the praise in a quavering voice: "I'm really not much of a person . . . If I've been able to help anybody, it only shows how God uses the ministry of almost anyone to His Glory."

A rummage sale for the benefit of the Acolyte Guild will be held Friday and Saturday, Nov. 14 and 15, in the building next to the former Acme Market on Clark Street.

The Kent County Youth Convocation met Sun., Oct. 19, at Christ Church Parish House, Milford, Dr. Georgia Lightfoot, of Dover, child psychologist, led the boys and girls in a short discussion following showing of the film "Parents are People, Too." About fifty young people from churches in Kent County attended the meeting. Supper was served after the short business meeting and program. There followed a church service and last, a recreation period.

Officers of the youth group are Trey Smith, of Dover, president; Linda Heinemann, of Camden, vice-president and treasurer; Carolyn McOwen, of Dover, secretary.

The next meeting will be at Christ Church, Dover, Nov. 16.

Trinity Methodist Church Notes

With the coming of November, we begin our effort to build up our attendance over what it was last year at the corresponding period, and to get people out to church who habitually neglect it. Our Sunday School (each Sunday at 10) has been showing an increase of twenty and more this year every week over last year, and we want our worship services to increase too. Next week is "Family Week"—the first of the campaign. We want church people out by whole families; and to this end we are having a "Family Night" Sunday evening beginning at 7:30. There will be brief worship service, then a program arranged by a committee composed of Miss Ruth Walls, chairman, Randall Knox Jr., and James McDonald. We are showing slides of Trinity church and its people taken by Melvin Brobst and the Wilcoxes. The Junior Choir will also sing. There will be refreshments prepared by a committee consisting of Ori Hobbs, Evelyn Lare, and Harriett O'Neal. All are invited.

Morning worship at 11 features a Senior Choir anthem, "We Praise Our God," by Sibelius, and a sermon by the pastor, "Our God is Able." The Junior and Intermediate Choirs also sing. At the church door to welcome you will be Mr. and Mrs. Harry Adkins.

Monday the Loyal Workers class meets at the church, in the evening.

The weekly prayer meeting of the W.S.C.S. led by Mrs. John Walls, is held at the church each Monday at 10.

Tuesday the regular meeting of the W.S.C.S. will be held at the church, at 7:30 p.m.

This week the regular choir rehearsals occur Thursday: Junior at 3:45, Intermediate at 7, and Senior at 8. After this week, however, the Junior choir will rehearse in the evening at 7:00.

Friday the UNICEF Halloween party at the Century Club 6:30 to 9. The Intermediate MYF meets at the church at 7 p.m.

Two Halloween parties Saturday at 2, the Sunday School party, and at 8 the O.U.R. party.

The official board met last Monday. Tuesday the O.U.R. class members gathered and seeded the front lawn of the church, thus completing the landscaping which was their project.

The District Conference meets Nov. 11 at Bridgeville. Reservations for lunch should be in by Saturday, Nov. 8.

Delaware Food Market Report

Trick or treat time is here again, so be prepared. Apples will fill the bill as far as mother is concerned and the children will be happy too. This fruit continues to be the cheapest one on the market and the quality is good. You can even pick the right sizes to fit the visiting goblins.

Pork prices show a slight decline as more hogs arrive on the market. Pork shoulders, Boston butts and loins show the greatest price reduction. However, average meat prices are steady, and this means they remain high. Weekend specials continue to be our best buys and since weekend are getting longer all the time in retail food stores it makes the problem of buying meats a little simpler. The specially priced items can be bought as early as Wednesday evening early part of the weekend to get your best selection.

While bacon prices continue to edge down a penny or so, egg prices are up. Grade A large eggs rose about 3 cents on the dozen because of short supply. The medium and small eggs continue to be the better buys.

Florida oranges are beginning to arrive at local markets. They look a little small but they are not too small, since Florida can't ship oranges until they reach a certain size. Remember, too, the first-of-the-season fruits are usually small. This will change as the season goes along they will get bigger.

Here's a good after-school treat using the whole orange:—Mix sugar with grated orange rind and moisten with a little orange juice; spread over hot buttered toast and place in a moderate oven until the sugar melts. This makes a very inviting snack and one orange will go a long way.

There's more grapefruit on the fruit counter. The size is increasing and the flavor getting much sweeter. Prices have dropped about 2 cents each, and the fruit is selling in a 10 to 23 cent range, according to size.

There are lots of fall vegetables now, and prices are reasonable. This week look for and buy, potatoes, both white and sweet, carrots, rutabagas, celery and all types of greens are good buys, especially collards, turnips and mustard greens—Oh, yes, don't forget spinach.

In a $1,000,000 project the port of Dar es Saalam, Tanganyika, is being modernized.

Greenwood

Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock, Ellen Hatfield entertained 12 of her girl friends at a birthday - Halloween party. Those present were Lora Wise, Linda Wilson, Charlotte Belton, Peggy Closser, Helen Vincent, Vickie Woodall, Carolyn Lloyd, Carol Ann DeFord, Tanis, Berzetta and Sandra Fisher, and Bonnie Yeako. The party began with a hula hoop contest in the front yard. After 20 minutes that looked as if it would go on indefinitely, the judges awarded prizes to Carol Ann DeFord, Carolyn Lloyd, Helen Vincent, Lora Wise and Vickie Woodall. Vickie Woodall received a prize also for being able to walk and run with the hoop twirling, also standing on one foot. Peggy Closser and Linda Wilson were close runners-up. In the "Pin-the-Stem-on-the-Pumpkin" contest, Ann Marie Cannon received a prize for pinning the stem exactly where nature had intended. Charlotte Belton received the prize for the bag race. After the games the girls were served refreshments. They sang happy birthday to Linda Wilson also because it was her 10th birthday Saturday.

Ronnie Hatfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hatfield of Farmington arrived home Saturday morning for leave of absence from his duties in the armed forces.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Meredith spent a part of Friday evening with the Jacob Hatfields.

Mrs. Ronald Case and Karen arrived Saturday to spend week with her parents, while her mother, Mrs. Arthur Laughery, is recuperating from surgery. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hatfield and Ellen joined them Sunday evening. Callers in the afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Gene Passwaters and son, Gene, of Milford.

A decision is pending on whether the ceremonial opening of Britain's Parliament should be televised. There are practical difficulties as space is very limited.

In time of need families may call our organization with assurance of competence and dependability.

Archery Season Furnishes Thirty Days of Sport for Hundreds

By the end of three weeks of patient stalking, archers have brought down six deer in the State. Although 890 hunters have gotten some good shots at the herd on Bombay Hook, no deer have been killed on the Federal Waterfowl Refuge.

The successful archers have been very well distributed throughout the State. The three kills in New Castle County were made by William D. Kintzer, Newark, Edward Rembecki, 1703 N. Broom Street, Wilmington and Harold Hull, No. 8 Holly Oak Road, Wilmington; the one in Kent County by Franklin C. Patterson, 236 N. Queen Street, Dover and the two in Sussex County by Brownlow Morris, Milford and Wellington Wilson, Seaford.

Fewer Ducks but Larger Number of Geese Observed in Delaware's Marshes

The October aerial count of waterfowl, completed Fri., Oct. 17, indicates that predictions of fewer waterfowl for the coming season may be a reality. The total October count was 18,064 birds, which is nearly 30% below average for this month based on counts since 1950. However, there are more geese in the State than for any October on record and black ducks make up the highest percentage of the total for any year since 1952.

It is possible that this year's count, since it was done four or five days earlier than last year may not indicate as low a waterfowl population as it seems. Two short reconnaissance flights Monday and Tuesday, (Oct. 20 and 21) showed a noticeable increase in waterfowl over the numbers observed on Friday. Nevertheless, there are indications that waterfowl populations are lower than usual for this time of year in Delaware.

Registration and Assignment of Duck Blinds Completed at Woodland Beach and Prime Hook Marsh

Seventy parties of duck hunters registered for blinds on the central portion of the Woodland Beach Wildlife Area. Game-Fish manager Anthony Florio reports that 95% of the hunters were assigned blinds for hunting the area during the first twenty-six days of the season. Each year requests for weekend are heavy and must be assigned by lot. Those hunters requesting blinds for hunting on week days have, for the most part, been given the days they requested.

The blinds are erected on the central portion of the state-owned Woodland Beach Wildlife Area and the remainder of the area is open to the public for hunting without special permission.

Game-Fish manager Henry Cofer, Lincoln, has assigned by lot forty-one parties of duck hunters an average of three days of hunting on the Prime Hook Public Shooting Area for hunting through December 6. Manager Cofer advises hunters to be equipped with small boats (maximum 12ft. in length and 5 h.p. motor) since the ditches in this fresh water marsh are narrow.

"Easy" Payment Plans
Not every easy pay plan is actually very easy says Marion MacDonald, Kent County 4-H agent.

Some credit plans are much more expensive than other. Shopping carefully for the best buy in credit may be just as rewarding as careful shopping for the purchase itself.

The installment plan offered by the store may seem to be the easiest to use, but figuring the exact cost for this type of credit is sometimes quite difficult. Before signing for any payment plan, check first to find out the lowest possible cash price for the article. Any charges above this figure must be considered extra cost for credit.

Compare the cash cost and the total cost of financing at the store with the cost of credit elsewhere. Perhaps the new stove, freezer or whatever it is you are buying, can be bought cheaper with funds from a bank, credit union, loan company—or perhaps your insurance company.

Compare the cost of each type of credit to be certain to get the best deal possible. Don't hesitate to get help to figure the cost of any loan—whether it's large or small, long or short term.

Reputable merchants and lending agencies will want you to know what the charges are and why they are made, so don't hesitate to find out about all these things.

Vertical Integration Makes Closer Ties Between Agriculture And Business

To take advantage of technological advances that will increase agricultural efficiency, many changes are continually being made, not only in methods of production but in handling and processing farm products.

Some of these changes involve co-ordination between farm and business, and the resulting arrangements are described as vertical integration.

Contract farming is one type of vertical integration that is becoming more common in many kinds of farm enterprise in all parts of the country. A new U. S. Department of Agriculture publication on this and other forms of vertical integration in agriculture explains how the system works under some of the more common contract arrangements.

According to the USDA bulletin, integration is one means by which farmers can get more capital, improve their facilities, and expand their operations. It may provide technical help and guidance that lead to lower production costs, and it can assure a market for farm products, speed up quality improvement, and improve handling and storage. Many of these benefits are passed along to the consumer in the form of better quality products at lower prices.

But problems, also, arise from integration of agricultural enterprises. Tendencies to expand output, reorganize the farm business unit, reduce the number of farms, shift management responsibilities, and change marketing practices, all call for further adjustments.

How much more vertical integration will develop in agriculture and the forms it may take will, in the end, be decided by farmers themselves. Increased farm-business co-ordination appears inevitable. And farmers are more likely to benefit from it, suggests the USDA publication, if they choose carefully among

Entomologist Joins University of Delaware Staff

A long-standing vacancy in the Department of Entomology was filled recently with the appointment of Dr. Paul P. Burbutis as Assistant Professor at the University of Delaware, according to an announcement by Dr. Dale F. Bray, chairman of the department of entomology.

Dr. Burbutis is a systematic entomologist with a broad background in economic entomology. Systematic entomology is identification of insects. Economic entomology deals with control of insects which are of economic importance to man.

Dr. Burbutis received his Bachelor of Science degree at the University of Massachusetts in 1950 and his Master and Doctor degrees in entomology at Rutgers University, where he has been teaching and doing research work since 1950.

He has done considerable work with insects associated with diseases of man and animals including mosquito control, and with ticks in connection with Equine Encephalomyelitis (sleeping sickness).

Born at Haverhill, Mass., Dr. Burbutis and his wife, Constance have two boys, Philip William, two, and Daniel Paul, one.

the opportunities available to them or if they create opportunities for themselves through co-operative efforts.

"King Apple" Reigns in Fruit Renaissance

While apple bobbing has slipped a notch or two on the party game popularity list, fresh apples, cider and apple pie are still top party favorites at this time of year.

Never before has king apple been so resplendent in his royal robes nor has he enjoyed so much the favor of his court—the general public—as he does this particular year. Part of the reason, says Dr. Vernon J. Fisher of the University of Delaware School of Agriculture, is that a great fruit renaissance is underway.

Dr. Fisher, who conducts research aimed at improving fruit quality and production methods, believes that people in general are becoming more 'quality conscious' and are using more mature judgment about the things they buy. This trend is reflected directly in apple buying. Traditionally, only the very highly specialized 'streamer basket' type of apple received very much pampered treatment by producers. But now apple growers have become sensitive to the mass quality trend and have been working hard to improve their bulk-marketed product.

The fruit renaissance even has extended to Europe where higher living standards have brought about demand for a much higher-quality apple than has been marketed there before. Dr. Fisher points out.

Dairy Cows Need Exercise

Right now is a good time to start thinking about things that can be done during the winter months, to help maintain efficient milk production, Kent county agent, George Vapaa says. One thought is established of a good place for cows to exercise each day during the stabling season.

A cow, like any other animal, needs exercise in order to stay in good health. She cannot work at top efficiency if she is stanchioned all day long, seven months of the year. Just fifteen minutes in the exercise lot, twice each day, will provide the exercise the cow needs.

Mr. Vapaa advises starting the practice of turning cows out each day as soon as the cows are brought off pasture into the barn. Continue this practice every day until spring pasture season. Weather conditions seldom get too bad if the cows

Quaint Bottle Found in Town

An unusual bottle, which formerly contained the product of the old Capitol Mineral Water Works, of Dover, was found recently by Horace Riley in a shed at his home at Liberty Street and Delaware Avenue.

The bottle was for soft drinks and is much heavier than those used for the purpose today.

According to E. Y. Williams, 86, an official of the Kent County Board of Assessment, the firm was located at New and Division Streets and was conducted by Thomas Fouracre until his death in the 90's. It was then conducted by John C. (Sligo) Hayes until 1922 when it was discontinued.

On the bottom of the bottle are the initials "J.C.H."

NOT BY BREAD ALONE

Earlier reports noted in this paper the needs of our high school relative to teaching space. Let us at this time view a department that touches the life of a school child at one time or another in his twelve years in attendance.

For the past twenty years it was the duty of the music instructor to teach his subject in grades one through twelve. This included elementary music, junior high school music, and the vocal music required for the high school glee club. It also included instruction in all band instruments from grades four onward in order that there might be a band in the high school.

Until a few years ago with the influx of new children, this became an impossible task, and music in the first three grades was dropped. This year an additional teacher was hired, part time, to teach music in these first three grades and includes the fourth grade as well. This relieves the full-time instructor for extra duty that includes an extra seventh and eighth grade class, as well as the formation of a Junior High School Chorus.

The music room of our school is used for all instruction in that subject from grades 5 upward, and is the rehearsal room for the bands and the high school glee club. Its crowded capacity is 60 students. We have three bands in our school, and if we were to combine the junior band with the senior high school band as was done up until a year ago, Harrington would have an eighty-piece band, and make practice in the present music room impossible. Better facilities, which our building program and the new bond issue offer will be a big boost in the right direction.

When school subject matter becomes a part of the community life, it is also part of its national pride, and we feel that the Music Department of our school serves in this capacity well and earns its place side by side with its fellow subjects. It provides a background in our country's culture, its history, and its development through the study of its musical heritage which makes a large contribution to its present standing among nations.

Your vote for the Bond Issue will help us and help you help yourself.

Bond issue for $400,000 to enable the community to utilize $1,000,000 school building purposes.

Conservation Election Boards Named

Five community election boards were nominated by the Kent county election board last Wednesday says Lister Hall, Jr., ASC office manager. These boards will accept nominations for community committee members until Nov. 3, and serve as community election boards in the ASC or farmer administered conservation program.

Community III (which includes the 5th and 7th representative districts)

Joseph Jackewicz of Magnolia, chairman; Harry Meredith, Wyoming; Francis Raughley, Dover; Kenneth Meredith of Dover, 1st alternate; Gardner Kersey of Viola, 2nd alternate.

Community IV (which includes the 6th and 9th representative districts) G. Wallace Caulk of Woodside, chairman; John Webb, Goldsboro; Hubert Cannon, Harrington; Edwin Hopkins of Harrington, 1st alternate; Ellwood Gruwell of Felton, 2nd alternate.

Community V (which includes the 8th and 10th representative districts) Paris Kirby of Milford, chairman; Winfred Gruwell, Felton; Daniel Hudson, Frederica; Derrickson Biggs of Felton, 1st alternate; Albert Morris of Felton, 2nd alternate.

Landowners may petition with a minimum of ten signatures to have a name placed on the ballot up to November 15th. Voting will be by mail as in previous years.

Those serving on the county election board were Roland Garrison, president of Kent County Farm Bureau; Harold McGrath, Pomona Grange Master; Fred Mott, SCS conservationist; Fred Rickards, FHA supervisor; George Vapaa, county agent, and Lister Hall Jr., the latter as ex officio secretary. The sole function of this board was to name the community election boards.

Greensboro Micro-Midget News

Despite threatening skies and chilly winds the Choptank Speedway had another successful day last Sunday.

A good start with four cars entered. Car No. 181 (dark horse) driven by Bill Tribbett of Greensboro who took the lead in the 8th lap when Car No. 50 lost the right rear wheel.

The second heat of the day was run by the highest point cars. There were four cars entered. Car No. 181 (dark horse) driven by Bob Miedl taking the lead until the third lap when Car No. 111 driven by Buddy Spiering of Greensboro, moved up hard pressed by Car No. 12 driven by Bill Marvel of Greensboro, set the pace of the race and stayed until the finish.

The third race, five cars entered was a fast race with Car No. 181 driven by Arthur Dean of Greensboro and Car No. 12 driven by Bill Marvel who fought for the checkered flag until the last lap with Car No. 181 taking the checkered flag.

The consolation race, the greatest event that Car No. 12 has ever known at the Choptank Speedway (except for the powder puff derby), was Car No. 12 all the way.

The feature race had seven cars entered and was a race of thrills and spills. In the 4th lap Car No. 12 broke an axle throwing a wheel over the fence. The race was then restarted with Car No. 111 taking the lead until the 16th lap when Car No. 181 spun out. The race was then restarted again until the 18th lap when Car No. 50 spun out. The race was again restarted with Car No. 111 driven by Buddy Spiering holding the lead until the finish.

The powder puff race, always a thrilling race to the many fans was just that. There were four cars entered getting off to a good start. This race gets faster each week. In the 9th lap the leading car, No. 181, driven by Ruth Dean of Greensboro, crashed through the second turn fence. The race was then restarted with Car No. 181 still in the race. On the 10th lap Car No. 19 driven by Elsie Marvel spun out on the third curve. The cars were reined for a thrilling finish with Car No. 19 taking the lead and holding it hard pressed by Car No. 38 driven by Betty Shulties, Car No. 181 in third place and Car No. 72 in fourth place.

As usual you can always expect a surprise at the Choptank Speedway. Little seven-year-old Rober Walls Jr., of Ridgely, Md. thrilled the fans when he entered the Speedway with his one quarter micro midget. This is a show that everyone should see when tots compete with their elders in showing them how to drive. We are hoping to have more of these events in the near future. Anyone interested in building their children a car contact George Neal of Greensboro for specifications. There will be plenty of time to build these cars this winter for next spring which it is the hopes of the Choptank Racing Club to hold races for these tots.

We, the Choptank Racing Club, and the Greensboro Lions Club, wish to thank the many people who supported us for this benefit race.

There will be racing again next Sunday at 2 p.m. (weather

Wesley College to Hold Live Theatre Production

Drama clubs of 30 Delaware and Eastern Shore Maryland High Schools have been invited to attend a live-theatre production by Wesley College, Dover.

The play will be presented in South Dover School at 8 p.m.

The Committee on Cultural Affairs of Wesley College is a joint student-faculty group which endeavors to bring a varied cultural program to the Wesley student body and the people of the greater Dover area. Programs are always presented free of charge and the public is invited.

The Barter Theatre presentation is the first of this year's offerings by the committee. Other programs planned are a chamber music recital and a two-piano recital.

Veterans News QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—I have a permanent plan World War II GI insurance policy. It has lapsed because I let my grace period for payment of the premium go by without paying. What must I do to reinstate the policy?

A—GI permanent plan insurance may be reinstated at any time by payment of all back premiums, plus interest. You must also meet VA's health requirements.

Q—I have to supply VA with a certified copy of the public or church record of my marriage in order to be paid more money on my GI allowance while attending school. Exactly what is meant by "certified copy"?

A—"Certified copy" means a true copy of either the official public or church record of your marriage. It must bear the seal and the signature of the person keeping the records. He may either be the clerk of the court, or a church official.

Q—I am at school under the War Orphans education program. Am I allowed to change my course of study?

A—Yes. However, your parent or guardian generally must agree to the change, and the VA must be satisfied that the new course will be suited to your interests and abilities, and that you have a good chance to succeed in it.

Q—If a Korea veteran uses his GI training benefit, is he still entitled to use his GI loan benefit?

A—Yes. Use of one benefit does not deny a veteran his right to use the other.

Iraq and Saudi Arabia will jointly lay a $28,000,000 465-mile water pipeline from the Euphrates River near Suq al-Shuyukh in Iraq, to Riyadh, Arabia.

How Much Feed For Dozen Eggs?

When a flock of layers is in 50 percent production, it requires about 200 pounds of feed to produce a 30-dozen case of eggs. County agent George Vapaa says that is equivalent to 6 2/3 pounds of feed per dozen eggs. Fifty percent production means a poultryman is getting 50 marketable eggs daily from each 100 layers in the flock.

When a flock is producing over 50 percent, the amount of feed necessary to produce a dozen of eggs decreases. When production drops, more feed is needed to produce the same amount of eggs.

Fifty percent production over a 12-month period is equivalent to 182 eggs per hen for the year, or roughly 15 dozen. Mr. Vapaa says to get that many eggs per hen you must have chickens that are well bred, well reared, well fed and well housed. Nature itself must be favorable to chickens, if a flock of layers is to average 50 percent production for a year.

Feed requirement per dozen eggs drop still further when a flock averages 60 percent production.

Social Security Notes

CHANGES IN YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

By: Edward F. Sullivan
Manager of the Dover, Delaware
Social Security District Office

In the first article in this series, I touched briefly on two of the most important changes made in the disability provisions of the social security law. They are the removal of one of the work requirements, and the payment of benefits to the dependents of insured workers who are eligible for monthly disability benefits.

To be eligible for disability benefits at age 50 or to have their social security record "frozen," disabled workers have until now need to meet two work requirements (in addition to being too disabled to engage in any substantial gainful activity). They must have worked under social security for (1) 5 out of the 10 years before becoming disabled; and (2) a year and a half during the 3 years just before they became disabled for work. The second work requirement has been removed with the 1958 amendments.

Workers who in the past were found to be too severely disabled for further substantial gainful activity but whose applications were denied because they had not worked at least one and one-half years out of the three years before they became disabled, should contact our office immediately filing a new claim.

Another change in the law affects children who became disabled before age 18. Under the old law, they were not eligible for benefits unless proof could be shown that they were receiving at least one-half of their support from the parent upon whose social security record the child's benefit would be based. Proof of support is no longer required. A disabled child is now considered dependent on his parents under the same rules followed in the case of children under 18.

A free pamphlet "Disability Benefits" is available in our office. If you would like a copy, phone us at Dover 6-1426.

MINISTER LETS GO WITH BOTH BARRELS ON BINGO

The Rev. Richard Gibson, pastor of Asbury Methodist Church, let go with both barrels Sunday in a sermon opposing the passage of a referendum, in the general election Tuesday, to permit the playing of bingo.

"Voters on November 4 will have an opportunity to say, 'As For Me, you will cast your ballot and declare what side you are on. The question the Christian must answer when he votes on the bingo referendum is whether it will make a better community. Will it bring us nearer the desired community, or take us farther from it?' Mr. Gibson asked.

"As for me, I think it would take us farther from it. It will take us back to the wilderness instead of the Promised Land. I oppose the bill because: "I. It's wording is deceptive. It asks, 'Do you favor the licensing of the playing of the game of bingo within the limits of Kent County? You do not now need a license to play bingo, nor is the playing of the game illegal. You need a license only when you gamble by means of bingo. The authors of the bill deliberately used deceptive wording in the bill to make it less objectionable. They avoided the use of the word gamble. It does not mean what it says. It says license to play the game of bingo. It means license to gamble by means of bingo.

"The law states that the person who intends to conduct the game must be of good moral character etc. And that no reward or compensation is to be paid any member under whom the game is run. The words 'intends' and 'under whom' leave the wide-open loop holes in the law; and would permit hoodlums and racketeers to horn in on the game. Those words represent the proverbial 'hole under the dike' which eventually means its destruction. And as for the good 'moral character', I ask can a person engage in an immoral act without himself becoming immoral? Who would run the game?"

"Other limitations are: No game shall be played on Sunday. Bars aren't supposed to be open on Sunday either, but some are. Persons under 16 years of age cannot play. Does the age limit prevent youth from getting alcohol?"

"It also states that no alcohol may be served or sold in any area or room where a game is in progress. This means then that alcohol could be sold or served up until the time the game starts and during intermission between games.

"It also further states that no more than $1 shall be charged for admission to participate in all regular games, and no more than $1 for each special game. This means that in one evening there could be as few as two or three regular games and as many as 20 or 30 special games each costing $1 to play.

"I was present, at the Legislature when this bill was being debated. The one person who attempted to point out the limitations of the bill was belittled by its advocates as being unable to read and understand plain English. I am convinced he understood and so did they. He opposed the limitations - they favored them.

"II. As for me, I vote 'No' because bingo is presented as a harmless, innocent pastime for elderly people, an inexpensive way to spend an evening and make a contribution to a worthy cause. A New Jersey factory worker's wife says she spends $24 a night playing bingo. That is more than her husband makes in a day. Another woman complained to the Bingo Control Board that she lost her total life's saving of $8,000 playing bingo. Harmless? Innocent? Inexpensive?

"No, that puts it in the category of horse racing. The 50,000 people who attended the races here, in the meet just concluded, bet $1,996,654, or an average of $39 per person per night. That is the exact amount the average member of this church gave during the entire year. Is gambling innocent when people bet as much in one night as we bet on the 'Kingdom of God' in one year?"

"A professional bingo operator in New Jersey says that the chances are 210 to 1 against a person's winning a given game, and 7 to 1 against his winning a single game during an entire night. Bingo is not innocent. It commercializes a charity. A pastor reported that his church made $250,000 a year on bingo before it was legalized. In one place $32,000 was taken in in one evening the sponsoring charity got $700. The above facts and figures appeared in the March 1955 issue of Reader's Digest in an article entitled 'Bingo is Getting Too Big.' The voter is asked to do more than just say he favors legalizing bingo - he is being asked to amend the Constitution of the State of Delaware.

"III. As for me, I vote 'No' because legalized gambling by bingo, as does all gambling, undermines the Christian principle of the stewardship of man's possessions, destroys the sanctity of honest work, and plays into the hands of the philosophy of 'get all you can for as little as you can'.

"Deuteronomy ch. 8 says, 'God gives thee power to get wealth' and again 'All things come of Thee, O Lord.' Man is responsible to God, not only for how he gets his money, but how he spends it. The philosophy of 'what is mine, is mine and I'll do with it what I please' is a false philosophy. And on this falsehood the right to gamble is defended by some, but not by me.

"This bill says that religious, civic and charitable groups may gamble by bingo. These institutions have always been supported by those who take seriously their stewardship to God. By voting for the amendment, we are asking to be relieved of these duties. Can we afford to turn them from our door and send them to dwell in the gambling house?"

"Those favoring this amendment, say that Delaware's laws are antiquated and need to be brought up to date. In 42 other states bingo is illegal. The present law dates back to 1897. Some of you are that old. Do you feel antiquated? obsolete? Ready for discard? No.

"I said it destroys the sanctity for honest work by appealing the easy buck, 'the fast dollar' and 'something for nothing'. The Bible challenges us 'Why labour for that which is not bread?' and 'Why spend money for that which satisfieth not?' Gambling violates the commandment 'Thou shalt not steal' (to get without work). 'Thou shalt not covet' (to want what is not your own).

"If this referendum passes, it will be a drain on the pocketbook of every taxpayer. The Bingo Control Commission, which would be created, would cost $100,000 to administer each year. This would be paid from the General Fund and the state will receive no revenue from the playing of bingo for this commission. Can we afford to add another $100,000 a year to an already large state debt?"

"As for me - I vote 'No.' Because bingo represents an economic hazard, a social menace and a spiritual blight by the clever manipulation of deceptive words," the sermon concluded.

Girl Scout News

At 6:30 p.m., Oct. 22, 30 Girl Scouts from Troops 157, 120 and the new Brownie Troop met at the home of Mrs. B. Norman Hopkins. From there they went to Bridgeville in cars driven by Bill Walls, Dale Dean, Madalyn Satterfield, Anne Perry and Doris Donovan. The scouts boarded the train at Bridgeville and rode back to Harrington accompanied by leaders Mrs. James Carroll, Mrs. Olin Davis, Mrs. Wm. Walls and Mrs. B. Norman Hopkins. For most, this was their first train ride. They were surprised to find Barbara Callaway's grandfather from Delmar on the train. The conductor and railroad men on the train were very kind and thoughtful to the girls. They had a wonderful time.

When the girls arrived in Harrington their motored was waiting and took them to the high school auditorium. There they were joined by the other Girl Scout troops and were guests of the Cub Scouts at their Award Program. Dawn Hopkins, Troop 151, and Donna Schreck, Troop 134, carried troop flags in the flag ceremony. The award program was followed by a "Spook" show. The Girl Scouts had a "screaming good time." Troop 131 assisted in serving refreshments and clean-up. Thank you, Cub Scouts.

The new Brownie Troop held its first meeting on Monday. There are 4 girls in this group.

The girls are learning the opening ceremony and action games. Barbara Mason's mother has invited us to visit their farm.

Troop 157 is still working on second class rank. They met on Monday and displayed homemade scrapbooks, collections of flowers and leaves and containers that had been planted four weeks ago. They had wonderful growths of wheat, bird seed, and morning glories. During the meeting the girls made stoves for out-door cooking. The burners were made by pouring hot wax over rolls of corrugated paper in tin cans. The stove is a ventilated No. 10 can. Next week the girls will hike from school to the home of their leader, Mrs. Wm. Walls, and have a cook-out. Troop 120 will hold its first fall meeting at the scout building Thurs., Nov. 6. This troop will meet under the leadership of Mrs. B. Norman Hopkins and Mrs. Nelson Reed. The start of this troop has been delayed because we were unable to find a leader. Mrs. Hopkins had other obligations to fill in October and could not take the troop until November. However, the girls did visit the Hi-Grade Dairy and take a train ride in October.

If there is anyone that would like to help with Girl Scouts or can give them craft instructions, please get in touch with neighborhood chairman, Mrs. W. Jarvis Hurd or any troop leader.
