

Democratic Assemblymen Will Organize on Dec. 9

Democratic members of the General Assembly agreed Tuesday night to meet to organize Dec. 9 in Dover.

The Democratic legislators, certain party leaders and some of the successful and unsuccessful candidates in the recent election held a "get-acquainted" session Tuesday night at Alexander's Restaurant.

No attempt was made to select leaders, but there was lots of informal discussion on who is after what posts. The talk was that the speaker's post would go to New Castle County while the president pro tem would be selected from Sussex.

The New Castle County candidates for speaker include Rep. Paul E. Shockley of Wilmington, Rep. Sherman W. Tribbitt of Odessa, and Rep. James R. Quigley of Hare's Corner.

The talk Tuesday night pointed to a contest between Senator Curtis W. Steen of Dagsboro and Senator Walter J. Hoy of Milford for the position of president pro tem. But Senator Allen J. Cook of Kenton is still in the race. The majority leader is likely to be Senator John E. Reilly of Wilmington.

State Chairman Garrett E. Lyons, who called the meeting, presided. Most of the Democratic members of the House and Senate attended, and the non-legislators at the gathering included: Former Gov. Elbert N. Carvel, who was the party's candidate for U. S. Senator; Michael A. Poppiti, who ran for attorney general; Insurance Commissioner Harry S. Smith, who was re-elected; Mrs. Belle Everett, the Democratic national committee woman and state treasurer-elect; and J. Gordon Smith, chairman of the State Highway Department.

Micro Midget News

The Micro Midget news will soon be over for this season, but what an ending it will be. This Sunday will end the point system. Then comes the big 100 lap feature race Thanksgiving Day, the granddaddy of all racing. All the car owners and mechanics have been preparing for this big day. Rebuilding engines and cars, and trying to get more miles per gallon of fuel.

One of our newer members, Arthur Mintz was in an accident last week in Maryland and is still in the Easton Hospital. The Blue Hen Micro Midget Club took up a collection from the spectators and also the pit money and this was turned over to Mrs. Mintz.

The next good deed the club is about to do is give a large amount of the collection they take Thanksgiving Day to the Harrington Chamber of Commerce Christmas Fund. We are expecting you, the spectators, to come out and see the big afternoon of racing, help us to help the Chamber of Commerce have a nice Christmas week for all our children. This will be the last race of the season unless it rains; then the race will be held Sun., Nov. 30. Your last chance to see what the boys have finally done after a year of racing. After the year in the business we can run with the best in the East. We venture to say next season we will go places and show the other half.

Club members and friends can make plans for a covered dish supper and party to be held at the American Legion home, the 6th of Dec. More details will come later. This is the night the trophies will be awarded for the highest points.

We had a couple of match races Sunday between 71 driven by Spanky Vincent and 22 driven by Dicky Sapp. Each one took a turn on starting in pole position and winning.

In the feature race Krouse driving 1 held 2nd place till about the 23rd lap, when lapping the field car X spun out knocking Krouse over the fence, but he came back in to take fourth place anyway.

This brings up the results of Sun., Nov. 16.

1st Race—1-Vincent in car 71; 2-Fox in car 7; 3-Clark in car 30.

2nd Race—1-Sapp in car 22; 2-Krouse in car 1; 3-Lane in car 49.

3rd Race—1-Lane in car 49; 2-Fox in car 7; 3-Hollowell in car X, 4-Clark in car 30.

4th Feature Race (25 laps) 1-Vincent in car 71; 2-Fox in car 7; 3-Lane in car 49; 4-Krouse in car 1; 5-Clark in car 30.

Knotts Breaks Record As Locals Lose Finale

By Keith S. Burgess

Coach Harold McDonald's Harrington High cross-country team failed in its bid for an unbeaten season as a virus bug and the Maryland Class C champions from South Dorchester combined to hand them a very close loss.

Harry Knotts lowered his own course record from 13:01 to 12:53 to finish first and win individual honors. Dwight Hackett who was never worse than third all season, was ill and unable to race. Bob Bonniwell, who was never worse than fourth all season, was not up to par either and finished well below his usual placing. If either had been healthy H.H.S. would have won easily.

Geo. Pfeiffer, the last member of the local "Big Four," turned in his best effort of the year and came close to taking up the slack left by the illness of the other two as he finished fifth in very good time.

Walter Lekites and Dennis Bradley both turned in good efforts for the locals, also.

South Dorchester's winning total was 32 points followed by H.H.S. 37, Seaford 110, Milton 120, Dover 131 and Greenwood 140.

Don Hill of Milford High was an individual entry who finished fourth in the field of 50 runners.

The session will be conducted by a faculty team from the New York Hospital of Cornell Medical Center, under the direction of Dr. Murray Davidson and the hospital's supervisor of premature nursing, Miss Carol Fripp. Dr. John B. Baker, president of the state medical society, Dr. Alfred R. Shands, Jr., medical director of the A. I. duPont Institute, and Dr. Floyd I. Motor Fuel Tax Largest Ever

Receipts from motor fuel taxes for the month of September totaled $701,925.03, which was the largest amount received for that month since these taxes have been established.

A report showing these tax receipts for September, which were received during October, prepared by James J. Deputy, Secretary of the State Highway Department and administrator of the Motor Fuel Tax Division, shows that the receipts for September of this year passed the $700,000 mark for the first time. The amount received for September of this year was $34,521.72 in excess of the amount received for September of last year, $65,249.16 more than was received for September of 1952 and an increase of $78,523.68 over the amount received for September of 1955.

The taxes received for September of this year represented the sale of 14,938,499 gallons of motor fuel, an increase of 690,533 gallons over the amount sold in September of last year.

Mr. Deputy's report indicates that a total of 54 concerns were bonded as distributors of motor fuel in this state during the month of September and of this number ten reported four sales for the month.

Sales by four other concerns produced $362,401.99, or slightly more than 50 percent of the taxes collected during the month. These concerns, and the amount of taxes turned in be each, were Atlantic Refining Co., $96,560.62; Esso Standard Oil Co., $121,399.06; Gulf Oil Co., $95,452.11 and Sun Oil Co., $49,017.20.

The City Council, at a special meeting Wednesday evening, awarded a contract for installing a sewer in Harrington Manor, with work to begin within 10 days.

The low bidder, the Tri-State Concrete Company, of Seaford is to put in approximately 2036 feet of 8-inch vitrified clay sewer pipe for $10,665.04, which will include an engineering fee of $1419.04.

The fee covers work done for a proposed project of 4100 feet of sewer in the manor. The Tri-State Company bid $17,738, on the total project, and offered to do any substantial portion on a comparable basis.

Alan Rutledge, a members of the Street Commission, said the remainder of the project would be completed at a later date, at an approximate cost of $8500.

The Council, at the Wednesday night meeting, voted to borrow $10,737.49 from the Peoples Bank and The First National Bank. This figure will comprise all costs of the present sewer project.

The route of the sewer will be as follows: From the sewer pumping station on Liberty Street, north on Dixon Street to an alley between Shaw and Smith Avenues. A spur will go west from Dixon Street 250 feet to an alley, between Shaw Avenue and Center Street, to a manhole.

Bud Carroll, of Richardson Associates, of Dover, the City's consulting engineers, told the Council he would meet with H. C. Brown, City solicitor, to formulate a plan for establishing the boundary lines of the Townsend property west of town, which the City intends to use as a dump, replacing the present odiferous site off U. S. 13.

The City Council, at a special meeting Monday night, appointed a Board of Adjustment to answer appeals on the zoning ordinances which became law at the end of last week.

William W. Shaw, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was named chairman, with William Minner, an inspector for the State Liquor Commission, and William Humes, an employe of the state tax department, being the other appointees.

The Council, in a short meeting, also voted that, if Evva Warrington wanted to build a house on Simpson Street, that it be 12 feet from an alley. Miss Warrington had requested permission to build four feet from the alley. The building line of the new house would agree with that of a garage-apartment she wanted to build.

The Council voted to request Satterfield & Ryan to report on the condition of the pumping station at the water tower.

The Council also voted a 2-hour parking limit on the south side of Clark Street from East Street to Reed Street, in effect 24 hours a day.

Zott Builds Pole-Barn

Actions speak louder than words, and to give added emphasis to what Lloyd Zott thinks of loose housing, one need only stop for a visit at the Zott farm, near Greenwood, according to Pet Dairy Chads. Lloyd has just recently added to his tramp shed and commented, "I did most of the work myself, but I did get some help in putting up the heavy rafters, and my father helped to put on the roof."

Last year a disastrous fire completely destroyed the dairy buildings on the Zott farm. With the help of Lloyd's neighbors and the Mennonite disaster crew, a pole barn and V-parlor were built, under the direction of Val Miller.

When one of his neighbors recently stated that he would build a conventional barn, Lloyd's reply was, "I thought that was what I wanted, too, but last winter convinced me that loose housing is not only best, but saves labor and is cheaper to build."

The Soviet Union
The Soviet Union covers more land than any other country. It includes 42% of Europe and 43% of Asia. About 1/2 of it is covered with forests. There are thousands of miles of treeless plains called steppes.

Some of the world's highest mountains are the Asiatic Mountains. In Kirghy S.S.R., towns are built on plateaus. The ground is about 10,000 feet above sea level. The surface of the Caspian Sea is 85 feet above sea level. On the Black Sea it rains 90 inches every year. In the desert it rains 3 inches.

Volcanoes are in the Soviet Union. The highest is in Kamchatka Peninsula. It is 15,000 feet high.

Near the arctic the ground never thaws completely. The longest rivers are the Ob, Amur, Lena, Yenisei.

There are more than 200,000,000 people in the Soviet Union. Many different languages are spoken. There are 50 of them.

The Emperor is called the Tsar. Russia's children go to kindergarten early. The schools fall into two equal groups. All the children have to go to elementary schools.

Many Soviet Union children have young pioneer camps. They belong to the camp.

There are 30 rules the children have to obey.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Notes

The men of St. Stephen's met Thurs., Nov. 13, at the Parish House. Dinner was served at 6 p.m., followed by a business meeting. The following officers were elected: Robert Creadick, president; Clyde Perry, vice-president; Robert Nelson, secretary and treasurer; David Cleveland and Robert McNally, program chairman; William Humes, membership chairman. The group voted to sponsor, along with the men of Christ Church, Milford, the Episcopal Hour, on Radio Station WSKB. This program will run for ten consecutive Sundays.

The rummage sale for the benefit of the Acolyte's Guild was held last Friday and Saturday. It was a success. Mrs. Earl McColley, acolyte mother, and G. Robert Quillen, acolyte director, thanks those who donated clothes and the help given. The proceeds will be used to purchase vestments for the boys who serve as acolytes.

Members of the fourth grade department of the church school are busily engaged in a project to learn the parts of the church building and their significance, such as the nave, sacristy, sanctuary, baptismal fonts, etc. To illustrate the course these boys and girls are making a small cardboard model of a church. When the season of advent comes, the group will make traditional advent wreaths with a candle to be lit for each of the four Sundays.

Lash Sunday, at the service of Morning Prayer the women of the parish presented their United Thank offering, the blue box contribution given twice a year to show their thankfulness for many blessings. After singing the Doxology, the ladies repeated the United Thank Offering prayer "to send more laborers into Thy harvest, and grant them Thy special grace for every need."

St. Stephen's vestry met Mon., Nov. 17, at the Parish House. Mr. Louis J. Parker, Jr., of the Bishop's Vestry Visitation Committee, spoke to the group.

Mrs. Louise W. Eggleston, a distinguished interdenominational church leader and author of numerous books on prayer and healing, attended the service of Holy Communion and Holy Unction at St. Stephen's, Tuesday, Nov. 11. Mrs. Eggleston is founder of the world Literary Prayer Group with headquarters at Norfolk, Va. She is also president of Koiononea, an organization in Baltimore for training.

She led a series of services at Milford-Calvary Methodist and Avenue Methodist Churches. A number of Episcopalians from St. Stephen's attended the services at Milford.

Mrs. Robert Nelson and Mrs. Gilbert Keim were coffee hour hostesses on the 24th Sunday after Trinity.

Messrs. Earl McColley and G. Robert Quillen were ushers last Sunday.

The vicar read the annual pastoral letter to the congregation Sunday in place of the morning sermon. Excerpts from the letter that seemed outstanding were: "it must be evident to all that as more than three hundred bishops at Lambeth debated the deepest problems of the day—racial and group tension, nuclear warfare, problems of the family—that these debates were often charged with the deepest emotion. But our unity was never threatened, because we built—not chiefly on emotion—but on the calm and clear light of reason. We ask everyone in this nation to keep his voice down, his arguments in personal and to recognize "th stubborn depths of the problem, the passionate fears and resentments that divide men."

A film on the subject "Leads to Leadership" was shown to the Parents-Teachers class at the 8 p.m. session Sunday. The film was produced by the International Council of Religious Education.

The Kent County Episcopal Youth Convocation will meet Dec. 14 at Camden, St. Paul's Church. At that time members of the organization will "turn in" clothing, collected for the hospital at Stockley (all ages).

K. & S. Scottish Rite Club Will Hold Its Annual Ladies Night

Samuel Williams of Harrington, president of the Kent & Sussex Scottish Rite Club, announces that this year's annual Ladies Night promises to be one of the finest in its twelve years of existence.

It will be held tomorrow night, in the Georgetown High School Auditorium, at 8 o'clock.

The usual high grade vaudeville, consisting of six acts, most of them direct from New York City, will follow the introduction of officers, directors and invited distinguished guests by President Williams.

Following the vaudeville, door prizes will be distributed to the ladies, holding the winning tickets, then refreshments and dancing until midnight.

Joe Farina's orchestra from Philadelphia will provide the music, both for dancing and the vaudeville acts, which Mr. Farina has obtained, as he is also part owner of the theatrical agency, Taylor & Smith of Philadelphia, who have for many years provided this outstanding entertainment.

Mr. Williams also announces the widows of deceased members will be guests of the club. Admittance to others will be by 1959 membership cards. These may be obtained at the school by contacting George T. Macklin of Milford, secretary-treasurer of the club.

The following committee is responsible for the evenings entertainment, Dallas Dennis, Arthur R. Hudson, Elias Tingle and J. Henry McDonnell.

Sunday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ingram entertained at an open house given by their children in observance of Mr. and Mrs. Ingram's 50th wedding anniversary.

Sunday morning Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Stewart joined the membership of the Magnolia Church. Mr. Stewart joined by transfer of letter from the Hillsboro-Queen Anne, Md., Church and Mrs. Stewart by Confession of Faith.

Next Sunday the Sacrament of Baptism will be administered. If anyone wishes this baptism they can contact the Rev. Burge at Frederica 5-5695. Next Sunday will also be the Thanksgiving service. Thanksgiving eve, there will be a special Thanksgiving service at the church at 7:30 p.m.

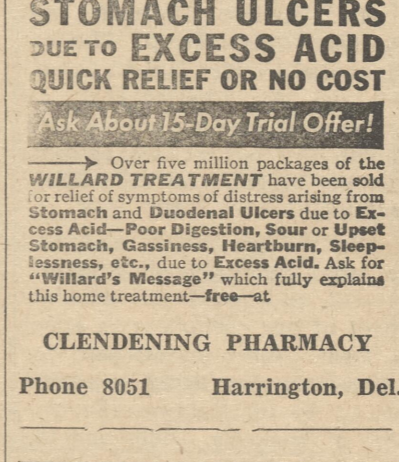

The trustees of the church have purchased church banks with the goal to place a bank in every home in the community. The proceeds from the banks will be used for Sunday School improvements and the project will continue indefinitely. Anyone desiring a bank for such a worthy cause can get one by stopping in the church vestibule and leaving a card with their name and address.

H.H.S. Eleven Defeats Middletown 6-2

Coach Dick Jeffers' Harrington High football team defeated Middletown High by a score of 6-2 on the local gridiron Saturday afternoon to end its season with a 3-won and 3-lost record.

Rarely does a team break even in its first year of varsity play, but this one was a happy exception.

In the first quarter the locals stopped a cavalier drive and sparked by the running of K. P. Outten, Jack Porter and Ron Collison, drove to the opposing 9 yard line only to be stopped there by a fumble.

Outten intercepted a pass to halt Middletown again.

Jim Schiff went around end to a first down on the enemy 26. Porter cut back sharply for 6 yards followed by another Schiff run for a first down on the 14. The ground game was working perfectly at this time but H.H.S. went to the air with disastrous results as Middletown intercepted a pass near the goal line.

The local defense stiffened here and a visitors back was thrown for a big loss back to the H.H.S. 40, when guard Geor. Balderson broke through the line and made a beautiful tackle. Schiff carried 3 times and Porter and Snooky Collins carried once each to give the home team a first and goal to go situation on the 10. Schiff then went around end for the touchdown shaking off two or three would-be tacklers in the process. The drive covered 60 yards and made the score Harrington 6-Middletown 0 at the half time.

At the start of the second half the home defense, with the aid of a penalty, threw the visitors into reverse and gained possession of the ball deep in Cavalier territory, after a short kick.

Collison, Porter and Schiff drove down almost to the goal-line before the Middletown team fought hard and with the aid of a penalty stopped the locals on the 9-yard line.

This stand seemed to put heart into the visitors and at the same time disheartened the home team as the game was all Middletown from this point on.

The New Castle Countians attack began to function smoothly as they seemed to scent their first victory of the season. Play after play succeeded augmented no end by (2)-15 yard penalties assessed by the officials against the over-eager Lions.

The partisan crowd went wild when the locals finally held on the 2-yard line with a last-ditch effort.

On the next play Schiff was trapped in the end zone for a safely giving Middletown its 2 points.

Soon after Snooky Collins personally halted the Cavaliers with a hard tackle on one play and a pass interception on the next. The final score was Harrington 6 Middletown 2 and they don't come much closer than that.

Nine seniors played their final game for the locals. Each was a key man on Coach Jeffers' squad. These were: Don Garey, a fine defensive back; Phil Holson, who did well as the only one of the group with no previous experience; Jim Collins, a specialist on quick-opener plays in the line; John Taylor and Bill Manship, two lanky pass-catching ends, with good hands; Ken "Snooky" Collins, one of the team's lightweight, who does everything well; K. P. Outten, a pass interception expert; Jim Schiff, who ran the team from quarterback and around whose speed the offense was built; and rugged Jack Porter, who seemed to glory in body contact by it blocking or balsting through the enemy forward walls.

Some of the players who will be counted on for future seasons are Collison, Jim McDonald, Dave Martin, George Pfeiffer, Walter Lekites, Balderson, Bill Porter, Lyman Rash, Doug Beene, Edgar Wheeler and Tom Jones.

Coach Jeffers stated that he wished to thank the following: Defensive Coach Bill Smith, whose line was unscored on in the last 3 games; Bill Fox, for his radio broadcasts; Norman Cotter for his spotting of the players and the boys who stayed with the team and finally came through with flying colors.

The team high scorers were Schiff with 30 points and Porter with 18. Leaders in the tackles made statistics were: Porter 57; Ken Collins 48; Collison 37; Holson and Garey 29; McDonald 26; and Balderson 24. Best in blocks made were Porter "there he is again," Balderson, Collison, Outten and the Collins boys.

Greensboro Micro-Midget News

Not even misty rain and threatening skies could stop racers and fans on the final race day of the season at the Choptank Speedway, with one of the largest crowds of the year and some of the best driving of the year, also.

The first heat of the day with four cars entered was won by Car No. 19 driven by Bill Tribbett, who took the lead in the 2nd lap and held an easy lead until the checkered flag was dropped.

The second heat race of the day, the highest point cars entered, was anybody's race until the 9th lap when Car No. 111 driven by Buddy Spiering of Greensboro moved up to the first position and was hard pressed by Car No. 181 until the finish.

The third heat of the day was another first event of the speedway, something that can always be expected at the Choptank Speedway, with four cars entered. The fans came to their feet when Car No. 38 driven by Bill Roop of Greensboro moved up in the 8th lap and went on to take the checkered flag for his first win of the season. (Will someone please tell Bill Roop that he gets to carry the checkered flag for one lap when the Christmas Special wins a race?)

The consolation race, with six cars entered, got off to a good start with Car No. 12, driven by Bill Marvel of Greensboro, moving to first position in the 6th lap and holding the lead until the finish.

The feature race the deciding race of the year, with the highest point trophies at stake was run by 10 cars. Even though the track was wet and heavy this was the fastest race of the day.

In the 8th lap Car No. 181 driven by A. Dean of Greensboro dropped out because of motor trouble, Car No. 72 driven by W. Lane of Greensboro, went out in the 11th lap because of motor trouble. Cars No. 111 driven by Spiering of Greensboro and Car No. 47 driven by James Pluggie of Skipton, went out in the 19th and 20th lap, leaving Car No. 19 driven by Bill Tribbett of Greensboro, to take the lead in the 20th lap and held it to the checkered flag was dropped.

The powder puff derby with four cars entered got off to a 4th turn, when Elsie Marvel, in Car No. 12, turned to see where she had been instead of where she was going, crashed head-on into the fence. (Her husband says, next season the car will have a rear-view mirror so she can see where she has been without turning her head.)

The race was then restarted with Car No. 181 driven by Doris Lane still holding the lead and driving her best race of the year to take the checkered flag. (Sometimes, Doris it helps to drive another rowner's car.)

Today, the final day of the season, decided who wins the highest point championship trophies for the year. The winners are as follows:

1st place—Car No. 12—William Marvel, 85 points; 2nd place—Car No. 11—Buddy Spiering, 83 points; 3rd place—Car No. 181—Bob Miedl, 78 points; 4th place—Car No. 19—Bill Tribbett, 70 points; 5th place—Car No. 38—Vernon Blades, 56 points; 6th place—Car No. 72—Walter Lane, 45 points; 7th place—Car No. 50—Lawrence Walls, 26 points; 8th place—Car No. 47—James Pluggie Jr., -8 points.

Points are not only given for the fastest cars but for endurance and competition. Each car receives 2 points for showing at the track and points for placing in the feature race.

Old Ironsides (No. 12) the winner, withstood all tests only to be demolished on the fence in the Powder Puff Derby.

We would like to thank all our many fans, neighbors, friends and supporters, who have donated and helped to make the Choptank Micro Midget Speedway a big success.

We will be looking forward to a bigger and better racing season come next spring (March or April). There will also be 1/4 Midget racing next season for youngsters in the 5 to 12 year age group.

Specifications for building these cars may be obtained at the present time at the Choptank Micro Midget Racing Club.

New memberships are open for the 1959 season.

Trinity Methodist Church Notes

With the approach of Thanksgiving, we are reminded that there is one way in which we can express our thanks to God for His blessings, and that is by attendance at Church worship on Thanksgiving Sunday. At Trinity Sunday School is held at 10 a.m., and morning worship at 11. For the latter, we have selections by the Junior, Intermediate and Senior Choirs. The Senior Choir sings "Prayer of Thanksgiving," a Netherlands folk song.

The evening service is at 7:30 with song festival and sermon by the pastor.

This Sunday will mark another series of RLAL, Religion in American Life attendance campaign. Our watchwords are: "Find the Strength of Your Life through Worship;" and "Dial a Friend for RLAL this Sunday."

The official board is seeking a more satisfactory time to meet than its present customary date, so it will meet next week Wednesday evening at 8 in the Church.

Thanksgiving day the annual joint service of Asbury and Trinity Methodist Churches will be held, this year at Asbury Church, with the pastor of Trinity speaking.

Junior Choir, directed by Miss Shirley Kates, who is assisted by Miss Barbara Minner and Miss Doris Black, rehearses Thursday evening at 6:45; Senior Choir directed by Melvin Brobst, meets Thursdays at 8.

The young people of Intermediate MYF age are having a good time with their meetings Friday evening at the church from 7 until 8. Mrs. Redden and Mrs. Cox are the leaders.

Randall H. Knox, Jr., superintendent of our Sunday School, attended the district dinner-institute for religious education, held at Whatcoat Church in Camden last Tuesday.

The lay leader of the Methodist Church, Dover District, spoke at the Rotary Club in Harrington last Tuesday evening, on the subject of "Character." John Rogers of Milford gives very energetic leadership to this unofficial but important post in the church.

Mr. and Mrs. William Shaw will be at the door of Trinity Church to welcome you Sunday, Thanksgiving Sunday.

Arrangements Made by Group Hospital Service To Reduce Payments

Arrangements have been made to reduce the initial payment required for new non-group membership in the Blue Cross and Blue Shield Plans, it was announced by R. C. Denzler, assistant managing director of Group Hospital Service.

Under previous arrangements new members had to make an initial payment of three-month's dues. This has been reduced to one month's dues. Non-group members have a choice of paying their membership dues monthly or quarterly from the start.

Non-group membership in the Blue Cross and Blue Shield hospital and surgical-medical plans is available to most residents of Delaware under 65, in good health, who are not employed or work where there are less than 10 employees and who do not have other hospitalization insurance.

Full information on Blue Cross-Blue Shield for both group and non-group members may be obtained at the offices of the Delaware Blue Cross-Blue Shield at 908 West Street, Wilmington; 44 North Walnut St., Milford; and 429 Phillips St., Seaford.

Diamond State Telephone Company Completes Addition In Felton Central Office

The Diamond State Telephone Company has just completed a major addition to the dial equipment in the Felton central office, it was announced today by Theodore W. Collins, local manager of the company.

The new equipment, installed at a cost of approximately $1500, increases the operating capacity of the office to serve nearly 100 additional customers, Collins said.

The Diamond State Company is spending an additional $49,000 this year for the construction of outside plant facilities, such as cable lines, in the area served by the Felton office, the manager stated.

"This type of expansion is required to keep pace with the demand for service in this growing area," he added. "At the present time the Felton central office is serving more than 780 telephones. This compares with 550 telephones in this area five years ago and only 450 in 1948."

Delaware Corn, Soybean Kings to be Crowned Nov. 25

With Delaware leading the nation this year in average non-irrigated corn yield per acre—a thumping 72 bushels, interest possible has never been higher as to who will reign supreme as corn king of the first state.

Among soybean growers, interest is just as high in the naming of Delaware's 1958 soybean king. Both kings will be crowned at the annual crop awards banquet which will conclude this year's 50th anniversary program of the Delaware Crop Improvement Association. The program, which includes a crop show, crops and soils short course, Farm-City Banquet as well as the awards banquet, will be held at the Capital Grange Hall in Dover, November 24-25.

The identity of the two prospective kings is a closely guarded secret of agronomists with the University of Delaware School of Agriculture. In co-operation with county agriculture agents, they have screened almost 300 entries in this year's official Delaware corn and soybean yield programs. Using scientific methods of yield determination, the agronomists and agents took samples from fields of contestants in all parts of the state.

To compute corn yields for example, teams of agronomists and agents selected at random three double rows of corn 100 feet long in three different locations in a 5-acre area. The ears of corn were counted and weighed to determine average ear weight. The data then were computed to an acre basis.

Last year's corn king was George Fischer of Smyrna, who produced 131.3 bushels per acre in spite of severe drought conditions. The previous high yield in the corn program was 174.5 bushels, grown by Marshall Lee Wooten of Millsboro in 1956.

Other features of the two-day program include the annual crop show with exhibits of hay, soybeans, wheat, oats, barley, rye, clover seed and silage; a 4-H seed judging contest, and a crops and soils short course.

The short course, which will be held Tues., Nov. 25, will feature the following topics: "Should I Dry My Own Grain"—Rex R. Bailey, Doane Agricultural Service, Inc., St. Louis, Mo.; "Drying Hay and Grain with the Same Equipment"—E. N. Scarborough, University of Delaware; "32 Years with Indiana's Corn Yield Program"—M. O. Pence, Purdue University; "Dwarf Corn—Is this the Corn of Tomorrow?"—D. L. Matthews, Eastern States Farmer's Exchange, West Springfield, Mass.; and "Hood, a New Soybean for Delaware"—Dr. H. W. Indyke, University of Delaware.

A special highlight of particular interest to non-farm people will be the Farm-City Banquet scheduled at 7 p.m., Monday, Nov. 24. This is Delaware's main event in observance of National Farm-City Week. Featured speaker will be C. E. McCauley, director of feed distribution, Southern States Co-operative, with the topic "Tomorrow's Agriculture." Crop exhibits and a film, "Delaware Crop Improvement in Action," are other program highlights. Service Club members have been invited to the banquet and other persons interested in learning more about farm-city relations are welcome to attend. Interested persons should contact their county agricultural agent for information.

In addition to the naming of Delaware's Corn and Soybean Kings, the crop awards banquet program Tuesday evening will include presentation of certificates to newly-qualified members of the 100-bushel Corn Club and the 40-bushel Soybean Club. Excellent pasture certificates also will be awarded. Featured speaker of the evening is M. O. Pence, Purdue University extension agronomist, who worked in Delaware from 1913 to 1924 in various positions including county agricultural agent, extension agronomist and county agent leader. Dean George M. Worri- low of the University of Delaware School of Agriculture will sever as toastmaster for the evening program.

SHD Getting Set for Winter

Maintenance forces of the State Highway Department are now engaged in all three counties in making preparations for their winter activities, with the experiences of last winter still fresh in their minds.

Erection of snow fence has been started in field along improved roads where farmers are through with the land for the present season, and this work will continue as more land for the erection of snow fence becomes available.

Snow plows are being moved to various areas where they will be easily accessible when needed, and the connections for these plows are being placed on the various maintenance trucks.

Equipment for spreading sand is being attached to the maintenance trucks that will be used for that purpose, and the equipment is being inspected so that it will be ready for use.

Sand and calcium chloride is being stock piled at various locations so that the maintenance forces can quickly procure it when needed.

Maintenance crews in each of the three county divisions of the Highway Department are being briefed on their duties in connection with snow removal, and every road in each area of the State Highway system will have a crew assigned to it for snow removal purposes.

Department and Division Engineers realize that one of the most difficult tasks confronting them in connection with snow removal will be the handling of this work in congested traffic areas, and in the many suburban developments.

This situation has been the subject of special study this year but according to some of the engineers, it is most difficult to plan for work under conditions in which the traffic provides the main problem.

R. A. Haber, Chief Engineer of the Highway Department, commented, "Our maintenance forces and equipment are being prepared to cope with the expected snow storms of the winter. Unforeseen problems, in connection with these storms, will have to be met as they arise. We are preparing to give the public the best possible service in this important matter."

Sixteen percent of the gross freight revenue is from agricultural products.

About 20 percent of the Country's total exports consist of farm products.

Harrington High Cross-Country Team Undeclared

By Keith S. Burgess
Coach Harold McDonald's Harrington High cross-country team remained undefeated by winning over Milton High 16-45 last Wednesday on the home course at Killen's Pond. This was the team's fourth straight victory.

Harry Knotts showed the way with a new record clocking of 13:01 for the 2.4 miles distance. The old record of 13:25 was held by Don Marvel of Easton High. Dwight Hackett in second place, was well under the old record also with 13:04. Bob Bonniwell again was third followed by the improving Walter Lekites in fourth place. Jim Wagamon was the first Milton runner to finish followed by Dennis Bradley in sixth place who was the last local runner to figure in the scoring.

Knotts and Hackett set a terrific pace from the word "Go" in their successful effort to recapture the course record for H.S. This enabled 9 of the other 11 Harrington runners to better their own previous best times for the distance.

Hackett competed in the State Open Cross-Country Championship race in Rockford Park, Wilmington Saturday. He finished a creditable ninth in a field of twenty-five of the best high school, college and amateur runners in Delaware.

Notices to Motorists Will Be Mailed Later Than Usual

The Motor Vehicle Department announces that notices to motorists whose operator's licenses expire in December, will be mailed later than usual.

A break down in the equipment used in the preparation of these notices is the cause of the delay, according to a Motor Vehicle Department spokesman.

This spokesman said that the notices for December license expirations should reach the holders of these licenses between December 10 and 15, barring further difficulties.

The use of these renewal notices is now necessary in order to procure a renewal of an operator's license and the holders of the licenses expiring in December are requested to await the arrival of their notice.

The Department is again making a request to holders of all types of licenses to immediately notify the Department of any change in address that is different from the one now appearing on their license.

Veterans News QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—I'm a Korea veteran, holding GI term insurance. I understand, by a new law, I now can convert it to a permanent plan. Is this so?

A—You will be able to convert it after January 1, 1959. The new law permits Korea veterans holding term insurance policies with the letters "RS" before their numbers to convert to one of six permanent plans.

Q—On my discharge from the Armed Forces recently I received a lump sum disability severance payment. Will I have to pay this back to the Government if I am awarded VA compensation for the same disability?

A—Yes. The law requires that VA monthly compensation payments revert to the Government until the amount recovered is equal to the amount of disability severance pay the veteran received.

Q—I am planning to sell my GI home but cannot pay off the loan with what cash I will receive from the new purchaser. Do I have to have VA's consent to make the sale?

A—No. You do not need VA's consent to sell your property. However, if you wish to be released from possible liability to the Government, you must apply to VA.

Q—Is it possible for a disabled "peacetime" veteran to draw VA compensation at wartime rates?

A—Yes—if the disability resulted from extra-hazardous service, as, for example, participation in simulated warfare, the veteran may be eligible for compensation at wartime rates.

Modern Farming Makes The Food Dollar Larger

by Willard T. McAllister, Extension Marketing Specialist

A generation ago the average family spent 25 per cent of its income after taxes for food. Today this family still spends about one-fourth of its income for food. But, if the family were content with the diets of 30 years ago, it would take less than 20 per cent of the family income to buy food.

In 1929, an hour's take-home pay for a factory worker would buy five and one-half loaves of bread or three and one-half quarts of milk. Today, one hour's pay will buy 10 loaves of bread or seven and one-half quarts of milk. This is true for almost all foods, steaks, chicken, cereal, oranges, canned goods—an hour's work buys about twice as much food as a generation ago.

This happy situation is largely the result of improved production and marketing efficiency of agriculture. Output per man-hour has more than doubled in the last 15 years and production per acre and per animal is up more than 20 percent. American farmers are the most efficient in the world. At one time nine out of 10 people worked at producing our food needs. Today, one farmer produces enough for himself and 20 other people.

Greatly increased farm production efficiency of recent years has contributed to our economic growth. Consumers have been able to satisfy their food wants and retain increasing amounts of purchasing power for non-food items—automobiles, new homes, television, more recreation, and a general higher standard of living. Workers no longer needed on farms are put to work by our great and creative industries manufacturing these non-food items that we think are almost essential today, but which were almost non-existent a generation ago.

Perhaps it is a paradox, but farmers as a group who have been so efficient have not realized the real gains of this efficiency. Farm incomes have dropped or remained almost constant for several years while the non-farm group has experienced a rise in income. Production has outrun our food needs so that large supplies keep the market price at low levels. Further adjustments in our agriculture resources are needed to help farmers share more equally with non-farm people in the fruits of their labors.

THE VOTER SPLITS HIS TICKET

It was thought that, when voting machines were introduced a few years ago, an abnormal number of voters would vote the straight tickets. It was presumed that voters would hesitate to vote the split ticket for fear of throwing the wrong levers.

The results of the past election prove the elector has learned to operate the voting machine. In Delaware, the tickets were split. John J. Williams and Januar Bove, Republican candidates for United States senator and attorney general, respectively, came out on top, while Harris B. McDowell, Democratic candidate for Congress, got revenge in defeating Hal Haskell, the incumbent, who had beaten him. Otherwise, the Democrats also took the remainder of the state offices and all county-wide offices in Kent County.

Over the nation, as a whole, it appears the voter is favoring the strong personalities—the Muskies, the Browns, the Soapy Williamses, the Rockefelleres, and the John J. Williamses.

One reason for the divided tickets is that there is not a great deal of difference in the policies of the two major parties. Most of the New Deal policies, inaugurated by the Democrats in the 30s, are with us today, despite the fact that some, particularly those pertaining to subsidies, are no more than vote-getting schemes enervating our moral and economic fiber.

The Recession, the integration problem, and our sappy foreign policy played a prominent part in the Democratic landslide, nation-wide. The outcome was not in doubt, despite the efforts of many large-city dailies to make the public believe otherwise.

The daily press, evidently, forgot their faux pas in the Truman campaign.

The campaign factors, adverse to the Eisenhower administration, caused the voter to recapitulate. He found a situation comparable to that of the wrestling matches at the country carnival: a challenger on the platform, a contestant in overalls in the crowd, and both traveling with the show and trying to get the spectator up to the ticket booth.

The nation needs two political parties but the line of demarcation of their policies is thin.

erty. Mrs. Horton will be remembered as the former Miss Edith Marvel.

Farm-City Week Returns

Farm-City Week returns next week under the sponsorship of the Kiwanis Clubs of Delaware for the third year.

Main item of attraction in Kent County will be the annual dinner held jointly by the Delaware Crop Improvement Association and the Dover Kiwanis Club next Monday at 6:30 p.m. in the Capital Grange Hall.

Ed McCauley, president of Delmarva Poultry Industries, the group which sponsors the annual Chicken Festival, is to talk on Tomorrow's Agriculture. He is expected to outline how Agribusiness will have new meaning for the farmer and his city cousin alike.

Service club members and businessmen from all over the state will attend. The will see the exhibits commemorating 50 years of crop improvement work in Delaware. These will stress advances in farm machinery, fertilization, chemical weed, insect and disease controls, and improved varieties of seed.

Henry Sherer is local chairman of the Farm-City Week program. Charles Marker, Dover Kiwanis Club president, will serve as toastmaster. Officers of local farm organizations are to be special guests.

Farmers are invited to show crop exhibits in the competitive classes. Premium lists are available at the county agent's office and may be obtained by calling Dover 6-1448. Prizes will be awarded for corn, small grains, hays, and silages.

M. O. Spence of Indiana will return for the short course sessions during the day Tuesday after an absence of 30 years. He was the first Kent County agricultural agent.

The climax of the program will be an awards banquet for participants in the 100 bushel corn contest, the 40 bushel soybean contest, and the greener pastures program Tuesday evening. Dean George M. Worriow of the University of Delaware will be toastmaster. Reservations for all events should be made as early as possible with the county agent, George Vapaa.

Farmers use 6 1/2 million tons of finished steel a year. Agriculture buys enough raw rubber to put tires on nearly 6 million cars a year.

Talking Turkey

The approaching holiday season prompts many of us to think about that festive bird, the turkey.

Virgil Grisby is one of several farmers in Kent county who specializes in raising and dressing out heavy turkeys. His farm is located on the dual highway just north of Cheswold, where he grows 6000 heavy turkeys in a house 452 feet long. The same house holds 11,000 turkey broilers (the smaller Beltsville variety), or an even larger number of chicken broilers, which may be raised in other seasons.

The buildings and equipment were built and are operated by father and son partnership. Virgil Jr. is the son.

This is one of the few local farms where the feed ingredients are still mixed on the farm. The Grisbys feel that they can buy local corn, grind it to their own specifications, and then mix it with a concentrated supplement cheaper than if they buy ready-mixed feed. This would not hold for most farmers who lack the equipment and experience for the job.

Last year the Grisbys completed a farm-size dressing plant, a cold storage locker, and a farm sales room so that they might market a larger proportion of their birds at retail according to the users specifications.

Recently a group of 40 Bucks County, Pa., poultrymen visited the farm and saw these new developments. Some felt the farm processing and marketing to be one way of developing vertical integration on the farm.

Mrs. Housewife is demanding more built-in services with her foods. She wants turkeys eviscerated, with the head and feet off, even cut up in some cases. Some want to buy only half a turkey, because of a small family. In other words, she wants her holiday bird ready-to-cook. Some homemakers prefer fresh-killed and dressed birds, as opposed to a frozen product.

All of this the Grisbys are ready and happy to provide. Their well-planned farm gives evidence of their faith in meeting the demands of this local market.

Greenwood

The Greenwood Junior Class will present a three-act comedy, "It's a Great Life" in the school auditorium Thursday and Friday, Nov. 20 and 21. Curtain time is 8 p.m. The play is being directed by Eugene Bowne. Student director is Betty Ann Scott. There will be intra-act performances by Mrs. Jane Locke, Richard Hynson, Delores Anthony and Joyce Cooper. These will include vocal and piano selections. Masters of ceremonies will be Barry Hollingsworth and Forrest Webster.

The cast of the play includes Patricia Clendaniel, John Williamson, Samuel Foster, Larry Messick, Bonnie Taylor, Donna Kay Wilson, Faye Breeding, Jackie Closser, Carolyn Moore, Ronnie Webb and Richard Warnick.

The Greenwood Lions Club held its ladies night Wednesday in the Greenwood Fire Hall. President, Lion Haarde, made the opening remarks, led the singing and turned the evening over to the toastmaster, Lion Earl Hawk. A turkey dinner was served. Program chairman, Lion Jacob Hatfield, was fortunate in securing La Nada, who brought with her some of her students from the La Nada Ballet Theatre School to entertain the guests. There were ballet numbers, tap dancers, Spanish dancers and novelty dancers. The ladies were each presented with a corsage and there were two door prizes given. They were won by Lioness Ann Hawk and Lioness Barbara Dennis. Little Karen Craft, who was Little Miss Greenwood this year, drew the numbers for the door prizes.

Mr. and Mrs. Allison Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Draper were among those attending the Milk Producer's Association dinner held at Felton Tuesday evening.

The group of friends calling themselves the S.C.B.'s spent Saturday evening with the Jacob Hatfields celebrating the birthdays of Horace Maloney, Ann and Earl Hawk, Allison Davis and Jake Hatfield, all of which come within a week or so of each other. Out of town guests to enjoy the evening and buffet supper were Mr. and Mrs. William Maloney, of Belair, Md.

Delaware Food Market Report

Turkey takes the spotlight for Thanksgiving dinner once again. American are eating more turkey than ever before. It's being eaten throughout the year—not just at holidays meals. Still, in the northeast, turkey is used in 8 out of 10 homes for Thanksgiving.

Turkey prices may be slightly higher this holiday season than last. This will be especially true if you wait until the last minute to buy your turkey. However, with weekend specials you may find just the size you need at a reduced price. The reason for turkey prices being a bit higher this year is that there are fewer turkeys in total being raised than last year, although as of Oct. 1, turkeys in cold storage reached an all-time high. This supply has been depleted during the many sales on turkeys during October and November, however.

When selecting your turkey if you are interested in getting the greatest amount of edible meat, buy one weighing over 18 pounds. Large turkeys offer more edible meat in proportion to bone than small ones. Also, hen turkeys offer more edible meat than tom turkeys.

Fresh turkeys keep well for a few days if stored in moisture-proof wrapping in the coldest part of the refrigerator. If you use a frozen turkey, thaw the bird in the refrigerator before stuffing. A large turkey takes 24 hours to thaw, a small one about half that time. Add the stuffing just before cooking. And remember if you want a tender, juicy roast turkey, do not over cook it. Use a low cooking temperature for best results.

Be sure to take the turkey out of the oven 20 to 30 minutes before you expect to carve it. Doing this helps the carver to do a good job of carving, which is not the easiest job at best.

Tangerines, the "kid glove oranges" came in this week. Their arrival signals the beginning of the holiday season at the fruit counter. Prices range from 59 to 89 cents a dozen, depending on size. The Florida crop of tangerines promises to be one of excellent quality, but it will be a week or 10 days before they come in volume.

Lower weekend prices are in evidence on lettuce, sweet potatoes, white potatoes, cabbage, carrots, avocados, oranges and grapefruit and Bartlett pears.

Merrymakers Club News

The November meeting of the Merrymakers Club was held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Charles Rapp with Mrs. Edgar Dill and Mrs. Reynolds French as co-hostesses. There were two guests present, also Miss Emma Reinbold of the University of Delaware. The Christmas party is to be held at the Dutch Shoppe in Laurel Dec. 10 at 7 p.m. All money is to be in by Dec. 1.

A leader training meeting is to be held Thursday, Dec. 11, Mrs. Evelyn Irwin and Mrs. Connie Quillen to attend; the topic being 30 Minute Meals.

The club held a white elephant sale which was very successful.

Mrs. Ellen Perry will entertain the January meeting with Mrs. Amanda and Connie Quillen as cohostesses.

Murderkill Lions to Hold Father & Son Night, Also Honor Little Leaguers

President John Wilkins has announced that plans for the Murderkill Lions Club annual Father & Son night are now complete. It will be held Thursday night, Nov. 20, with dinner at 7 p.m. in the Frederica Fire Hall. Honor guests also at this dinner and meeting will be the players and their coaches from the local 1958 Little League team. Following the dinner there will be speaking by a former Major League player and movies of a World Series baseball game. Any one in addition to our guests will be welcome to attend the speaking and movie. If you wish to attend be at the fire house around 8 p.m.

Built for tomorrow—here today! Relaxed riding on new-type concrete

"For my money, this new-type, sound-conditioned concrete gives the sweetest ride yet!"

Says BOB CROSBY, popular MC of TV, bandleader and singer

"I've driven it—lots of times. It's smooth—not a thump to be heard. They're using it now on highways designed for the needs of 1975 traffic."

You'll be glad highway engineers who helped develop new-type concrete plan thousands more miles of it. What comfort! It's laid without joints, has only tiny cushion spaces you can't feel or hear! A new process, "air entrainment," prevents weather or de-icer roughening. Laid flat on a specially designed subbase, concrete stays flat. It has an expected life of 50 years and more... with up to 60% lower upkeep cost than for asphalt. Yet first cost is moderate. That's why concrete is first choice for the Interstate System and other new primary roads.

Added Safety Feature for Delaware Highways
 Limited access highways will provide additional safety for Delaware highways. Built in safety is provided by the grainy texture of new-type concrete. It reflects light too. You can see up to four times better at night on light-colored concrete than on a dark surface.

CHRISTMAS SEAL KIDS—Johnny and Sharon, two Delaware youngsters who, along with other children and adults, are undergoing treatment for tuberculosis at the Emily P. Bissell Hospital, pose here in support of the 1958 Christmas Seal Sale, which begins Nov. 14. The pose is patterned after the one sketched on the poster to be used throughout the nation in the Christmas Seal Sale this year. This photograph has been adopted by the Delaware Anti-Tuberculosis Society for use on its 1958 Christmas Seal letter. The Emily P. Bissell Hospital, where the children are being treated, was named after the Delawarean who founded the Christmas Seal in the United States.

The Ford Custom Ranchero, first prestige pickup of its kind in the industry, is completely restyled for 1959. The Custom Ranchero has the same clean, tasteful styling of the 1959 Ford station wagons and a new, longer 118-inch wheelbase. The nominal body length of seven feet means a bigger loadspace for cargo of all sorts. The Ranchero has the same luxurious interior as the 1959 Ford Country Sedan.

Needlecraft News by Nancy Baxter

What happens when a woman changes from a daytime outfit to something special for an evening out? There's a lot more to it than just a different dress. Many choose more formal hair styles, or use a whole new approach to make-up after dark. Accessories are transformed, too, as lovely little evening bags, elegant shoes, and more extreme jewelry come into play.

HANDLE A FORMAL AFFAIR WITH WHITE GLOVES

Gloves are a well-known mark of a carefully well-dressed woman, and this holds just as true in the evening hours of the day. But, as with all your other accessories, you'll want a special pair for special occasions — such as the finely knit, delicately designed suggestion we're offering today.

A FESTIVE TOUCH FOR THE HOLIDAYS

Make these gloves for yourself in time for Christmas, when you'll want to look your very best, then work up another pair or two to give as gifts. It won't take long, and your friends will appreciate your thoughtfulness. Front and back are knit separately from crocheted cotton on two needles in the easiest of stitches, the stockinette. The yarn-over pattern on the top and around the cuffs adds a dressy, decorative accent.

Sewer Project In Federalsburg Receives Fund

Approval has been given by the Health, Education and Welfare Department of the U. S. Government for the installation of intercepting sewers, three pumping stations, and a secondary type treatment plant for Federalsburg Edward T. Miller Eastern Shore of Maryland congressman, announced today.

A federal grant of $159,406 has been approved under the provisions of the Water Pollution Act.

The action came as a result of application made both to the federal government and the state for financial aid during the summer. No confirmation of the state help, which would match the federal grant, was received in the announcement.

Total estimated cost of the equipment is $800,034.

If the application was accepted, the town officials said that it would be prepared to let the contract within 30 days after the grant is accepted. Estimated construction time was placed at one year.

The town already owns property which it obtained specifically for a treatment plant. The project calls for intercepting sewers with existing ones.

When the application was made the town said that the discharge of untreated sewage and waste from the town into Marshyhope Creek adds materially to the pollution of that water. Proper treatment of the sewage and waste, the application said, will reduce the pollution of the Marshyhope Creek and Nanticoke River, "thereby assisting in the propagation of fish, aquatic life, and wild life; enhance recreational potentials, and will permit more extensive use for agriculture, industrial and other legitimate water uses."

Felton School News

The Felton School will be closed Thursday and Friday of next week in observance of the Thanksgiving holidays. Classes will be dismissed at 12:30 Wed., Nov. 26.

Seventeen graduates of Felton High School are serving in the Armed Forces of the United States.

The Air Force lists the following: Robert H. Jester, Class of '57; Franklin Wyatt, Class of '56; and Stanley Good, Class of '55.

This year's seals are actually double seals, paired to make a "Christmas Greeting" pattern on the sheets of 100. The left seal of the pair show a little boy in a green snow suit with red scarf and mitten writing the word "Christmas" in white chalk on a blackboard outlined in yellow.

At top left is the double-barred cross, trademark of the National Tuberculosis Association. The right hand seal has a girl in red with green mittens writing the word "Greetings".

The seals are being mailed by the Wilmington and Dover offices of the Delaware Anti-Tuberculosis Society. Letters from the society urging Delawareans to buy the seals accompany the seals.

The Christmas Seal mailings are divided between 75,000 in New Castle County and 25,000 in Kent and Sussex through the Dover office at 4, The Green.

The sale of Christmas Seals in Delaware to finance tuberculosis detection, treatment, research and information in this state will continue through the Christmas holidays.

Through their financial contributions last year, Delaware contributors to the Christmas Seal sale financed free service in tuberculosis detection, nursing scholarships at the University of Delaware, bedside visits by members of the staff of the Wilmington Visiting Nurse Association, the Emily P. Bissell Hospital's rehabilitation and occupational therapy service, public education about tuberculosis—and the diagnosis of 154 new cases of tuberculosis in the state.

In his annual report of the Delaware Anti-Tuberculosis Society, Dr. Gerald A. Beatty, president, said:

"After an all-time low in tuberculosis deaths was reached in the State in 1956, the death rate for Delaware showed an increase last year.

"Tuberculosis is still a long term illness. Although many accomplishments have been made in treatment, care and surgery for tuberculous patients, little progress has been made in the field of immunity.

"For eventual control—and we hope some day eradication—the program against tuberculosis must still emphasize the following: (1) find the case, (2) care for and treat the patient, and (3) increase resistance.

"To accomplish our goal, we must further the services of the Society in the fields of case finding, clinics, medical research, nursing service, rehabilitation and education."
