

FORTY-THIRD YEAR PUBLISHED WEEKLY HARRINGTON, DELAWARE FRIDAY, JANUARY 23, 1959 SIX CENTS PER COPY No. 35

NATION'S FIRST LOCAL CHAIRMAN OF M. OF D. HEADS CAMPAIGN

The first local chairman, in the United States, of the March of Dimes, was Earl Sylvester, of Harrington, and the first President's Ball, the event used to raise funds for the fight on polio, was held in Harrington.

And, as the current drive gets underway, the original chairman, Earl Sylvester, is still at his post in the campaign which has been sponsored by Callaway-Kemp-Raughley-Tea Post No. 7, American Legion, and its ladies' auxiliary.

The kick-off will be held at 7 p.m., Tuesday, with a storm date as the first clear night, with the Mothers March on Polio. Fire sirens will sound at 7 p.m. and fire-fighting equipment and 15 teams of Legion auxiliary mothers will make collections throughout the City.

The March of Dimes, sparked by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, a polio victim, was originally financed by a ball, called the President's Ball, held in the various parts of the nation.

Sylvester recalls that the first President's Ball, in the nation, was held at Harrington School, soon after he became chairman, in 1934.

Among those attending, Sylvester recalls, were Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Terry, of Dover. Terry is now a judge in the Superior Court. The returns of the ball exceeded $500.

The late J. Harvey Burgess, publisher of The Harrington Journal, wrote a letter concerning Sylvester's appointment. It reads as follows:

To Earl Sylvester, of Harrington, Del., goes the honor of being the first local chairman appointed in the United States to sponsor the President's Ball, organized for the purpose of raising funds to battle the scourge of infantile paralysis, and here is the story:

The late Henry Doherty, head of Cities Service Co., was general chairman of the President's Ball Committee. Cities Service Director of Public Relations was Earle W. Hodges, former president of Lions International, and a boyhood friend of the writer, Mr. Hodges sent me a wire, asking me to appoint a local chairman. Two minutes after the receipt of the wire, I contacted Earl Sylvester, Past State Commander of the American Legion of Delaware, and it took Mr. Sylvester not more than a minute to accept the chairmanship. Two minutes later, a wire was on the way to Mr. Hodges, telling him of Mr. Sylvester's acceptance.

Then came a letter from Mr. Hodges congratulating us on being the first town in America to appoint a chairman.

Firemen Prepare For Annual Dance

Plans for the Harrington Volunteer Fire Company's annual party and dance to be held Sat., Jan. 31, at the Legion Home, are nearing completion as reported by Chief Mills, chairman of the committee on arrangements.

All firemen and auxiliary members are cordially invited and will be so notified by mail within the next few days.

President Burton Satterfield would like to notify all firemen that 1959 membership dues are due and these new membership cards can be obtained from Russell Blades, financial secretary, upon presentation of the $1.

Century Club Program On Religion Tuesday

Mrs. William A. Taylor, chairman of the program on religion, presented a panel of guests and members of her committee who told "The Life of Jesus in Scripture, Poetry and Song." Mrs. William W. Sharp served as moderator and told the events of Christ's life from the birth of Jesus thru the Baptism, the teaching, the parables, the Last Supper, the Crucifixion, death and burial and ending with the Great Commission of the Savior. She was assisted in the story by Mrs. William Minner, Mrs. Harry John Dill, Mrs. Arthur Hoffman, Miss Nancy Broce, Mrs. Jehu Camper, Mrs. Abner Hickman, Mrs. Norris Adams, Mrs. Fred B. Greenly Jr., Mrs. Fred B. Greenly Sr., Mrs. Annie Laurie Clark, Mrs. Richard Gibson, Mrs. Ernest W. Dean, and members of the New Century Club Chorus.

At the business meeting preceding the program, Mrs. W. W. Shaw presided. A letter was read

Senate Democrats Harmonize

Senate Democrats, formerly two feuding groups, closed ranks with a vengeance Wednesday, and two Republican Republican attaches bore the brunt of the vengeance.

Ten of the 11 Democrats voted to rescind Resolution 4, by which the Republicans added three attaches—two paid—at the height of the Democrats' feud, taking advantage of a boycott by five Democrats that gave the GOP a temporary advantage by using Lt. Gov. David P. Buckson's tie-breaking vote.

SR 14 named James E. Collins and Hall E. Ewing as assistant clerks to the minority leader, and Thomas E. Brittingham III a deputy clerk to the minority leader. It was stipulated that Brittingham should serve without pay.

Wednesday, Senator Curtis W. Steen (D-Dagsboro) one of the five former boycotters who made the Republican action possible, introduced a resolution (SR-22) rescinding the earlier motion.

A moment later, Senator Walter J. Hoey (D-Milford), introduced a resolution on behalf of Senator Allen J. Cook (D-Kenton), president pro tem who was at that moment presiding. This resolution (SR 23) put Brittingham back on the list as an unpaid assistant to the minority leader. The second resolution drew an acid crack from Senator Harvey B. Spicer R-Georgetown about consistency in the majority ranks, and the measure passed with no further comment.

On the vote to bounce the three attaches, 10 Democrats voted yes, Senator John E. Reilly Sr., (D-Wilmington), was recorded as not voting, and six Republicans voted nay.

Other resolutions received and approved were:

SR 20, by Senator Calvin R. McCullough, (D-Holloway Terrace), placing Nancy J. Wilson, of Mayview Manor, on the attach rolls as secretary at large.

SR 21, by Senator John E. Reilly, Sr., (D-Wilmington), authorizing the Legislative Reference Bureau to furnish stationery and supplies.

Two Accidents On Icy Road

An ice patch, on the Jackson's Ditch road near the bridge, proved the undoing of two vehicles Tuesday morning.

A meat truck, driven by William J. Cabbage, skidded on the ice and turned over on its side, doing damage, estimated by the State Police, of $75. The driver was uninjured and no charges were filed.

The same morning, a car driven by Elwood Morris Jr., skidded on an ice patch in the same area, when Morris applied the brakes for the bridge, and turned over, coming to rest on its top. The vehicle was damaged approximately.

Moose Makes Football Awards

The Loyal Order of the Moose Wednesday night for the second straight year, awarded trophies for outstanding play in home games to Harrington High football players.

Don Garey won the trophy for the first game against Lord Baltimore; Ken "Snooky" Collins for the Millsboro game; Jim Schiff for the Middletown game, and Jack Porter, the "Most Valuable Player" award, won last year by Bobby Wilson.

The local squad coached by Dick Jeffers had a successful first varsity season by gaining a .500 percentage on 3 wins and 3 losses.

The trophies were presented by William Boyd, governor of the local lodge, after a dinner, which was sponsored and served by both the men and women of the Moose.

Harrington Defeats Bridgeville, 43 to 40

Coach Dick Jeffers' Harrington High Lions won their fourth straight basketball game Friday night on the home court by defeating Felton by a score of 44 to 40.

Jack Porter and Bill Manship led the scoring for the local with 12 points each. Manship had a hot hand during the home teams excellent first half which saw H.H.S. gain an advantage of 27-13. Porter had his set shot working as he canned six buckets for all his points.

Don Garey again rebounded well. Harrington lost ground as he sat out the fourth quarter because of fouls.

Phil Holson turned in another good performance, while Bob Gillette and Ron Collison showed improvement in their floor games.

A good crowd attended the game as both Harrington and Felton were well represented. This has always been a good rivalry.

Tuesday night against Bridgeville the locals played one of their poorer games missing countless opportunities both from the field and from the foul line. However, they managed to eke out their fifth straight victory as Don Garey made a tap-in with one minute and forty seconds left to play.

Billy Manship, the team's leading scorer, was high man for Harrington with 13 points followed by Garey with 12.

Manship, Garey, Phil Holson and Ron Collison did the best work in the rebound department. Bridgeville boasted a taller, more experienced and numerically superior team. The Sussex Countians led by five points late in the last quarter and H.H.S. really had to battle for the second straight game to keep their win streak alive.

The home team continues to make the most of their hustle and drive. John Taylor, a six-foot senior who has lettered in

Roadway Examination Urged Where Accidents Have Occurred

A re-examination of the roadway in the locations where an accident has taken place, from an engineering viewpoint and any changes that it is thought are needed, are noted. Then when an improvement takes place on this section of highway, changes are made to overcome any conditions that may be found to exist.

Changes in designs of motor vehicles has also been a cause making needed changes along the highways, except that the changes in motor vehicle design have been arriving at such a rapid rate that it has proven difficult for highway planners to keep abreast of them.

As a result, highways that were designed, planned and constructed a decade ago, and were believed at the time they were constructed to be able to provide for traffic conditions for at least another decade from now, are suddenly found to be in need of reconstruction along lines that will meet conditions of the present day.

Accordingly, Mr. Haber states, highway safety has become an important part of all highway engineering on projects that have been studied and planned by the State Highway Department.

Any changes in elevations, that would be of benefit to the traffic of the present day, are given careful attention.

Needed improvements in drainage conditions, in order to have the project become safe for all-weather operation, likewise is given consideration.

Largely because of these factors, the methods of making improvement to existing highways, that have been followed in recent years, and will be followed in the immediate future, differ somewhat from the methods used by the Highway Department a decade or more ago.

When a highway is considered for improvement today, the planning engineers have before them a record of traffic use of the highway, where any accidents have taken place on the highway, and the possible cause of the accident, as well as a study of existing drainage facilities.

With all of this comes an estimate of what the traffic ratio may be within the next 20 or 25 years, as well as the needed changes in alignments, or elevations, that may be needed to handle this traffic volume.

Without any accurate knowledge of what changes may take place in the width, or structure of motor vehicles during the future, the planning engineers cannot, design highways to overcome these unforeseen conditions.

But for the usual normal traffic that will be using the highway being studied, the planning engineers will have information available that will result in more accurate estimates of needs for that highway than existed in former years.

During the immediate preceding years, a factor that proved somewhat difficult for highway planning in this state, has been

Suburbs Insect Control Urged

A new program for mosquito control in suburban New Castle County and two changes to liberalize the workmen's compensation laws were among the proposals in eight bills submitted to the House of Representatives Wednesday.

The program suggested by Rep. James R. Quigley (D-New Castle) would be financed by a proposed appropriation of $50,000 to be used by the State Board of Health during the years 1959 and 1960, for the purchase of insecticides. Mr. Quigley specified in HB-56, which he handed up today, that the board purchase "insecticides to be used for combating and controlling mosquitoes in the suburban areas of New Castle County."

He explained later that the idea is to have the Board of Health distribute the insecticides to civic associations of the suburban communities so that they may use them in spraying or fogging operations in their own territories.

Mr. Quigley noted that the State Highway Department has a mosquito control unit, and said that unit concentrates on controlling mosquitoes in the marsh areas along the state's river and bay front. Some of the work is done by spraying from airplanes, he said, and a considerable amount of money is spent on that phase of mosquito control.

"If we are going to spend money to spray the marshes, why not take care of the populated areas?" he asked. He added that at present the residents of many suburban areas take up collections, through their civic organizations, to arrange for mosquito control work, handled mainly by trucks equipped with fogging devices. His proposal would supply the insecticides used but not the services.

Two related proposals to liberalize workmen's compensation payments were contained in HB-52, introduced by Rep. Joseph S. Latina (D-Wilmington) and HB-5, presented by Rep. Russell D. F. Dineen (D-Wilmington). Mr. Latina's measure would boost the compensation for total disability to two-thirds of the wages of the injured worker, up to a maximum of $50 a week, and would set the minimum at $25 a week.

The present law provides the compensation shall be 60 percent of wages, with a maximum of $30 a week and a minimum of $15.

Mr. Dineen's bill would boost the compensation for partial disability for work to two-thirds of the difference between the wages received by the injured workers before the injury and his earning power after injury, with a maximum of $50 per week.

The present law calls for 60 per cent instead of two-thirds, and sets the maximum at $30 a week. The maximum duration

Legion Auxiliary To Collect Clothing

Mothers, friends of children—please don't throw away clothing your family no longer need. Good used clothing can help a child to go to school—can shield a child's body from the wind—can shield his heart from despair. Remember—the child of today is the hope of tomorrow. That is why the child welfare Committee of the American Legion Auxiliary is supporting Save the Children Federation's clothing program.

You can aid your Auxiliary, and share in its merciful mission of collecting serviceable clothing for children and families young and old who urgently need shoes, dresses, coats.

Won't you check your closets for good, warm, used clothing? Please don't throw it away. Give it to your American Legion Auxiliary at Harrington, Mrs. Leonard A. Taylor, who will be glad to receive any contribution at her home or will arrange to collect from any person's home.

Two Harringtonians Named To Fire Prevention Council

Two Harringtonians were among the 19 persons appointed by Gov. J. Caleb Boggs Monday to his Fire Prevention Council for one-year terms.

They are: Mrs. Eva Raughley, state president, Ladies Auxiliary, Volunteer Firemen's Association, and Paul Neeman, president, Delaware State Volunteer Firemen's Association.

The other appointees are as follows:

Mrs. Alice M. King, state demonstration leader, University of Delaware; Dr. Thomas Mulligan, Georgetown; Dr. John G. Parres, State Department of Public Instruction, Dover; Mrs. Alberta Smith, president, Sussex County Volunteer Firemen's Auxiliary, Bridgeville; Col. E. S. Stayer, Rehoboth.

Emanuel J. Harkins, president, New Castle Volunteer Firemen's Association, Wilmington; C. Wesley Robinson, immediate past president, Delaware State Volunteer Firemen's Association, New Castle; Col. J. James Ashton, manager, Delaware Safety Council, Wilmington; Mrs. Estella Baker, president, New Castle County Volunteer Firemen's Auxiliary, Claymont; E. Reynolds Bradley, secretary, Delaware State Volunteer Firemen's Association, Smyrna; Mrs. Virginia Butts, president, Kent County Volunteer Firemen's Auxiliary, Maryland.

Maurice K. Clark, chief, Wilmington Volunteer Firemen's Association, Wilmington; William Dawson, president, Kent County Volunteer Firemen's Association, Camden; Capt. Robert N. Downes, director, State Department of Civil Defense, Delaware City; William R. Favinger, state fire marshal, Seaford; George D. Hill, chief in charge of volunteer firemen training, Dover; Arthur Jones, president, Sussex Volunteer Firemen's Association, Greenwood.

The Municipal Street Aid Fund is a continuing appropriation that does not require approval by the General Assembly every two years.

In his first major opinion, Atty. Gen. Januar D. Bove, Jr., made it clear Wednesday that those who have assumed that the legislation would have to be passed every two years were wrong.

His opinion, sought by the Delaware Mayor's Association and addressed to the State Highway Department, is the first on this significant question. Members of the Mayor's Association, including its president, Herbert D. Cluey, Jr., had contended that the fund is in the law to stay—unless repealed.

Mr. Bove's opinion also will have its effect on budget-making in the current General Assembly for Gov. J. Caleb Boggs, in presenting a balanced budget for the biennium starting July 1, had omitted the $1,200,000 a year which has been distributed to incorporated communities.

The attorney general, the state's chief legal adviser, said to the Highway Department that he had considered "your letter of Jan. 12, 1959, requesting our opinion concerning whether or not the so-called Municipal Street Aid Fund bill, Chapter 55, 51 Delaware Laws, constitutes a continuing appropriation and asking the responsibility of the State Highway Department thereunder."

"This law amends Title 30 of the Delaware Code of 1953 entitled 'State Taxes.' The title of the Municipal Street Aid Fund from the proceeds of the State Motor Fuel Tax and for distribution of the members elected to butions of such fund. The law was passed by a three-fourths each branch of the General Assembly, and this meets the requirements of Article 8, Section 4 of the Constitution of the State of Delaware relating to appropriations to municipalities."

Mr. Bove then quoted from a section of the act which says, "There is annually appropriated to municipalities within the state Fuel Tax imposed by this chapter from the proceeds of the Motor certain sums. It provides for the transfer of this money to the 'State Municipal Aid Fund' by the state treasurer and provides for its distribution to municipalities as set forth in the law. It is significant that this section is not limited in time but provides that the sums are annually appropriated. The effect of this section, particularly when read in the light of the rest of the statute, is to earmark a portion of a particular tax levy for a particular purpose."

The attorney general next cited Section 5163 of the law which "directs the State Highway Department to compute annually on June 30 of each year . . . the monies due to each municipality from this fund. Again it is significant that this section is not limited in time but refers to the annual duties of the State Highway Department.

"Section 5164 requires the State Highway Department annually to forward to the state treasurer a certification as to the sum of money due from this fund and directs the state treasurer to distribute these monies no later than 30 days from the date of receiving the certification."

Other sections in harmony with this were referred to and then Mr. Bove said:

"If there were any doubt whatsoever that this law is a continuing appropriation, it is removed by Section 3 which specifically states that it shall apply to the fiscal year ending June 30, 1957, and to each fiscal year thereafter."

"The General Assembly may make continuing appropriations and the requirement that funds be dispersed only by appropriation. The effect of such a law is the same as though its terms were written into each successive appropriation bill. The law is effective until it is repealed by the General Assembly or otherwise annulled. The so-called Municipal Street Aid Fund bill earmarks a particular portion of the motor fuel tax for use by municipalities as specifically set forth in the law."

Pay Hike for Insurance Commissioner Supported

The state's insurance department is producing about $1,500,000 a year in revenue for the state, it was pointed out this week by an insurance agents' association supporting proposals to increase the department's staff and the salaries of the commissioner and his deputy.

Dorsey B. Kinnamon, chairman of the insurance commissioner's advisory committee of the Delaware Association of Insurance Agents, declared that funds should be provided "to get our insurance house in order" to assure continuation of the state's revenue. The policy of the federal government, he said, has been to allow state regulation of the insurance business so long as the regulation is effective, the public interest is served, and competition is maintained.

In a resolution, the association declared "it is recognized that office space, facilities, equipment and salaries of the insurance department of the state of Delaware are not adequate to permit efficient functioning of the insurance department in a manner that would meet federal requirements."

Pointing to the state's income from the insurance industry, the association said the revenue would "undoubtedly be substantially reduced if the federal government takes over direct supervision of the state's insurance affairs."

The association urged that the legislature make changes and improvements recommended by the insurance commissioner "to bring the operations of the department up to a level that should meet requirements of the federal government."

Also, more time is required of the insurance commissioner in a post heretofore regarded as a part time job. Mr. Kinnamon said that all segments of the insurance industry support a proposal to boost the commissioner's salary from $6,000 a year to $9,000 and to raise his deputy's pay from $5,000 to $7,500.

A bill making these raises was passed by both the House and the Senate in the 119th General Assembly. House action came on July 19, 1957, at a night session. Unfortunately, a Senate amendment to the original bill was lost. For that reason, the bill, although technically passed by both chambers, never got to the Governor.

A new bill has been introduced in the House (HB-35) to provide for the increases and make them retroactive to that date.

Purses Offered at Nation's Harness Racing Tracks Zooms Upward

Purses offered at the nation's harness racing tracks in 1958 zoomed upward more than three million dollars above the previous year's figure, president Walter J. Michael told the U. S. Trotting Association directors assembled for the start of a three-day conclave.

For the past season, a total of $27,572,330.48 was paid out in purses, 13.7 per cent more than the $24,249,842.69 in 1957, Michael told the 43 directors representing USTA districts in this country and in the Maritime Provinces of Canada.

The president's report emphasized also that both attendance and betting totals at pari-mutuel tracks continued to show sharp upward trends with $712,872,993 wagered by the 12,769,494 in attendance. In 1957 wagering figures showed $614,920,402 by 11,807,547 harness racing fans. Wagering was up 15.9 per cent and attendance up 8.2 per cent.

The 12 states in which pari-mutuel harness tracks are located carved up $48,256,908.05 in revenue, more than 5 1/2 million more than the $42,694,237.39 taken in states' revenue in 1957.

The USTA directors also were informed that 15,906 horses started at least once in 1958, on all-time high, while new registrations of horses soared past the 5,000 mark for the first time with 5,485 receiving registration papers.

Eligibility certificates were issued to 6653 trotters and 11,200 pacers, a record total of 17,853, while active memberships in the USTA hit a record-setting 13,481 total. A total of 454 tracks also had membership in the USTA.

Committee meetings and a meeting of the Grand Circuit organization occupied most of the director's time with the first general session for all 43 participants set for 10:30 a.m., Sun., Jan. 11.

A final session of the Board of Directors will be held Monday morning.

Two directors are participating in the sessions at the Desher-Hilton Hotel for the first time. They are Howard A. Miller, president of Brandywine Raceway, at Wilmington, and John F. Cruikshank, an official of Sackville Downs near Halifax, Nova Scotia.

Employers of Household Workers Must File Income Tax Return

Employers of household workers must file a return for the October-through-December 1958 quarter on or before January 31, 1959, William B. Davis, agent in charge of the Dover Office of Internal Revenue reminded them today.

At the same time, Edward F. Sullivan, district manager of the Dover social security office, pointed out that this obligation to file a return applies to every household employer who paid $50 or more in cash wages to a cook, maid, laundress, or any other household employee during the calendar quarter. Returns must be filed after the close of each calendar quarter and are due April 30, July 1, October 1, and January 31 every year.

Most household employers will make their reports on Form 942. This is a special simplified form printed on the back of a return envelope. If you are a household employer who is already on the mailing list of the District Director of Internal Revenue, one of these forms was mailed to you before the end of December. If social security taxes are due from a household employer who is not now on the mailing list, the employer should ask the District Director for the form and give him her name and address to be added to the mailing list before the next quarterly return is due.

The amount of the social security tax for the last calendar quarter of 1958 is 4 1/2% of the total cash wages paid to a household worker in a calendar quarter. The employee is expected to share this tax with the employer, however, it is the obligation of the employer to report and remit the total tax of 4 1/2% to the District Director of Internal Revenue.

Beginning with January 1959, the social security tax will be 2 1/2% each for employer and employee. While the $50 cash wage test applies separately to each household worker in your employ, no report or social security tax is due on any household worker to whom you pay less than $50 in cash during the calendar quarter, Mr. Sullivan pointed out.

Taggart further pointed out that the present federal gasoline tax costs the people of Delaware 4.8 million dollars a year. The additional excise tax on motor vehicles, tires and tubes, parts and accessories bring the total cost of special federal taxes in Delaware on motor vehicle owners to 11.1 million dollars a year.

Bills to Block Bonded Rate Rises Offered

The House Monday received a bill which would prohibit public utilities from putting proposed rate increases into effect under bond while the question of the increase is still before the Public Service Commission.

The bill (HB 41) by Rep. F. Earl McGinnes was among seven new bills received by the House along with the first substitute bill of the session and two resolutions.

Under present regulations a public utility can—and frequently does raise its rates after a 30-day notice even though the PSC has not approved the increase.

The utility must post a bond guaranteeing repayment to the consumers if the increase is turned down.

McGinnes' bill would leave in the law a section that permits the PSC to suspend proposed rate increases for up to six months, but would eliminate two sections which:

1. Permit the utility to adopt the new rates tentatively,
2. Authorize the PSC to require the utility to give customers evidence that they paid the increased rates.

A resolution for creation of a special committee to study insurance coverage purchased by state agencies and investigate the possibility of self-insurance was offered by Rep. R. Allen Cannon (D-Seaford), who estimated the state could save up to $2,000,000 a year by insuring itself against certain risks as several other states do.

Speaker Sherman W. Tribbitt (D-Odessa) appointed Cannon, Rep. Robert E. Pawson (R-Brookside), and Rep. Paul H. Kenney (D-Delmar) to the committee.

At request of Gov. J. Caleb Boggs, Rep. Charles C. King (D-Smyrna) and Rep. Charles F. Richards (R-Dover), majority and minority leaders, introduced a joint resolution (HJR 1) calling for creation of a Joint Committee on Highway Safety of five House members and five senators to investigate highway safety problems and draw up appropriate legislation.

Rep. Russell D. F. Dineen (D-Wilmington), introduced a measure (HB 42) to direct the state treasurer to deduct from the salaries of state employees, at their request, dues for employe organizations, and to pay the checked off dues to the organization designated by the employe. The state would also subtract 2 per cent of the total monthly deductions and pay that percentage

Federal Gasoline Tax Unwarranted

"Any increase in the federal gasoline tax would be financially unwarranted, and a rank discrimination against motor vehicle owners of Delaware," John C. Taggart, chairman of the Delaware Oil Men's Association said in denouncing the proposed increase in the federal gasoline tax.

Taggart said, "The National Highway Program was enacted in 1956 on the claim that such an undertaking was essential to national defense, civil defense and the well being of the economy as a whole."

The 1955 report of the President's Advisory Committee on the National Highway Program stated, "a safe efficient highway network is essential to America's military and civil defense and to the economy."

Delaware motorists now pay 8 cents on each gallon of gasoline, five cents in state tax, plus the three-cent federal tax. This is equal to a tax of 40% of the retail price of gasoline. On the basis of this report and its claims of defense needs and economic urgency, Congress authorized the new national highway program, putting particular emphasis on expenditures for the 41,000 mile network designated by law as the "National System of Interstate and Defense Highways."

Taggart further pointed out that the present federal gasoline tax costs the people of Delaware 4.8 million dollars a year. The additional excise tax on motor vehicles, tires and tubes, parts and accessories bring the total cost of special federal taxes in Delaware on motor vehicle owners to 11.1 million dollars a year.

Taggart said, "It would be the height of fiscal folly to impose any greater proportion of the cost of the federal highway program on this one product. Such unbalanced taxation could compel many people to cut down their driving, thus diminishing both state and federal highway receipts from the gasoline tax, curtailing road improvement programs, and damaging an economy that is geared to the prosperity and job-generating powers of highway transportation."

King, with Rep. Harry G. Lawson (R-Wilmington) co-sponsoring, presented a bill (HB-38) to increase the annual salaries of the members of the General Assembly from $1,000 a year to $3,000. A constitutional amendment to that effect was approved by the 119th General Assembly. If two-thirds of the members of each house approve it at this session, it will become part of the Constitution.

Two appropriation bills by Rep. Tilghman S. Johnson (R-Frankford), with Rep. Joseph B. Walls (D-Milton) co-sponsoring, would aid Selbyville American Legion Post 39. One (HB-43) would appropriate $750 a year for each of the next two fiscal years for operation and maintenance of the post's ambulance. The other (HB-44) proposes a deficiency appropriation of $1,500 for the biennium ending June 30, 1959, for the same purpose.

The first substitute bill of the new session is House Substitute No. 1 to HB-8—the proposed constitutional amendment to rule out retroactive taxes. Lawson introduced the original a week ago. His substitute rewords the amendment to read: "There shall be no levy of a retroactive tax."

The House Committee on Printing Monday awarded the contract for printing the House calendar to The Harrington Journal which submitted the lowest of three bids. C. H. Burgess of the Harrington paper offered to print 300 copies of the calendar at $5 per page, while the Sussex Countian offered to do the job at $6.15 per page and the Delaware State News bid $8.25 per page.

The Harrington publisher also was low bidder for the job of printing various bill and resolution backers for the House. He bid $250 while the Sussex Countian bid $284.84. The Harrington paper also got the job of printing rule books, for $298. Rep. James R. Quigley (D-New Castle) is chairman of the printing committee, and Rep. Margaret R. Manning (R-Marshallton) is the secretary.

GOP in Kent To Reorganize

A new plan of organization designed to revitalize the Republican Party in Kent County was adopted at a meeting of about 150 members of the party in the cafeteria of the Dover High School Tuesday night.

The plan will be submitted to the present county Republican committee. In connection with this action former State Rep. George Ehinger commented that he did not know whether the committee has the power of veto.

John G. Davis was named as temporary chairman of the group and was empowered to fix the date of the next meeting. At the outset, Ehinger called the meeting a session of Republicans concerned with the tradition of the Republican Party in Delaware and with its success here.

He declared that the group is not a splinter organization or a group of dissidents. Ehinger stressed that an organization that will produce results is necessary and called the meeting's purpose to diagnose the ills of the Kent County organization.

The meeting also was held, Ehinger said, to determine a course of future action. He also declared this an "evolutionary and not a revolutionary action."

Ehinger further laid stress on confidence and integrity and united thinking. Separations within the ranks is not being sought, the former legislator said.

Roger E. Davis, of Hartly, explained the plan and pointed out that it implies no effort to gain control by any individual or group.

Among the provisions of the plan; each of the 24 election district of the county name a committeeman and committeewoman to serve as a board of directors for the Kent organization. Their election would take place every two years instead of every four years as is the present procedure.

The directors would select a campaign manager along with deputies to assume responsibilities for specific functions. The field of operations would include: blocking, registration, employment and recruiting while the area of administration would be finance, public relations, social events, welfare and continuing organizational effort.

Nancy Ludlow Wins Felton Nomination For International Award

Miss Nancy Ludlow, an honor student and member of Junior Class of the Felton High School, has been selected to compete for the Kent County High School Student International Award. The award is sponsored jointly by the Delaware State Federation of Women's Clubs and the American Field Service.

The selection was made by the local committee: The Rev. Larry S. Renner, pastor of the Felton Methodist Church; Mrs. Richard Hardy, treasurer of the P.T.A.; Howard E. Henry, supervising principal of the Felton Schools; Robert Donoway, director of the V.F.W. and Mrs. J. Barratt Simpson, Award Chairman for the Avon Club.

Nancy was an officer in the M.Y.F. a first class cadet in the C.A.F. and a member of the skating club of Seaford. She has been a member of the School Student Council for three years, was Seventh Grade Class President, is a member of the band and chorus and was an honor salesman in the Magazine Sales Campaign.

Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lott Ludlow of Felton. Ornamental trees can be fertilized any time after leaves fall until spring growth starts.

Token Vote Elects Greenwood Aides

Incumbents were all returned to office in Greenwood's uncontested town election Saturday. The five officials whose terms of office expired were the only ones to file, and a token vote according to law was recorded.

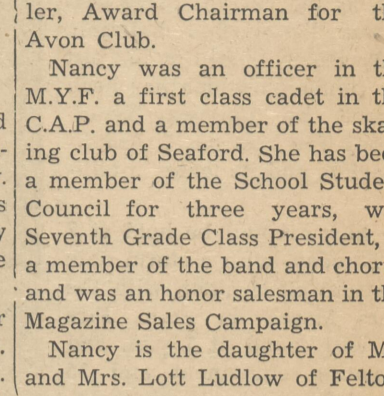

Commissioners returned for another two years are Harry N. Torbert and Lawrence Graham. Continuing as assessor is T. P. Rust and W. Paul Lord and Ebe T. Reynolds, Sr. were reelected as auditors.

SCHOOL BOARD TO READ DESEGREGATION RECOMMENDATIONS AND AWAIT FURTHER INSTRUCTIONS FROM STATE BOARD

The Board of Education meeting Thursday night, Jan. 15, agreed to read a proposed plan of school desegregation, received from the State Board of Education, but no action was taken, awaiting final instructions from the state board.

Other highlights, of the lengthy meeting, included plans for a drive for delinquent taxes, and the request of Dick Jeffers, head football coach, to be permitted to change posts with his assistant, Bill Smith.

The proposed desegregation plan, made the following recommendations:

1. Commencing with the start of the fall term, 1959, and thereafter, all pupils entering Grade 1 in any public school district in the State of Delaware which has heretofore not admitted pupils under a plan of desegregation approved by the State Board of Education shall be admitted on a racially non-discriminatory basis.
2. At the beginning of each succeeding school year pupils shall be admitted to such schools on a racially non-discriminatory basis in the next higher grade until complete desegregation has been effected at a time not later than the school year beginning in 1970.
3. Any public school district in the State of Delaware may admit pupils to additional grades on a non-discriminatory basis at an earlier time on approval of the State Board of Education.
4. Whenever possible, every pupil in the grade affected, beginning with the start of the fall term, 1959, and in additional grades as the program expands in succeeding years shall have the choice of (a) attending the nearest school within the district in which he resides or (b) attending the school he would have attended prior to the effective date of this order.
5. Parents or guardians who wish to enroll their child for the school year 1959-60, or any school year thereafter, in a school other than the one he would have attended prior to this order shall procure applications for admission at the office of the school to which admission is sought, Monday through Friday from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. during the month designated by the State Board of Education. No requests will be considered after the week designated for registration except for pupils who have changed their places of residence. All applications must be sent directly to the school to which each pupil is seeking admission.

During the period of desegregation, a local board may postpone or deny the admission of a pupil due to a lack of facilities or for any reason that is recognized as a basis for exclusion under the provisions of Title 14, Delaware Code, Chapter 27.

Space will be considered available in schools that are not more than ten per cent overcrowded as of September 1959. All capacities are to be based on the state school building standard of thirty pupils per elementary and secondary classroom.

A first come, first served policy should obtain up to the facilities available.

6. Transfers will be considered only for those pupils who are legally domiciled in Delaware. All migrants will be admitted only to ungraded classes to be established by the State Board of Education.

7. Transportation facilities will be provided according to rules and regulations of the State Board of Education.

Delinquent Taxes

The School Board will take strenuous measures to collect delinquent taxes. Though normally collected by the receiver of taxes of Kent County, J. C. Messner, superintendent of schools, said it was also legal for the Board to collect them.

Before any suit, letters will be sent to the 168 delinquents, said Luther Hatfield, president of the board. If the taxes are not paid within 30 days of the receipt of the letter, which will be certified, suit will be filed. Some persons are delinquent for several years in taxes.

Preliminary Figures
Delinquent Taxes	Capitation	Property
1956	$1218	$157,35
1957	2205	480,16
1958	2205	476,96
Total	$5628	$114.97
Grand Total	$6742.97

Coach Jeffers

Jeffers is head coach in basketball, track, and football. He wanted to resign as head football coach and to become assistant coach. The present assistant coach, Bill Smith, would become head coach. Keith Burgess, board member, said it was the general practice of coaching staffs to have different heads for the various sports. The board appeared favorable to Coach Jeffers' request, but added the decision would have to be made in April when coaching appointments are usually made.

Jeffers said he would also like to have another assistant football coach. The school has varsity and jayvee squads and the work load is heavy, particularly when it is realized that football is a new sport to Harrington.

A janitor will be deputized to perform traffic duty on Wednesdays at Harrington School at start and end of the school session. The appointment was scheduled to be effective Wednesday and to continue until other arrangements were made by the City. The City will furnish and maintain equipment. On other school days, the police perform traffic duty at the school, but they do not work daytime Wednesdays.

Other business:

William Fox has assumed responsibility for cheerleaders at athletic games.

The Middletown School will receive a letter complaining about vandalism when the local basketball team played there before Christmas. A valve was removed from one of the dual tires and the other blew out when the school bus was outside Middletown, delaying the vehicle two hours.

A boiler has been repaired and stage lighting installed in the auditorium. A dimming device has been ordered.

The school has been asked to buy syringes, used in immunizations, and will get them from Milford Memorial Hospital for 13c each. The syringe must be used but one time.

The superintendent has prepared a request for federal reimbursement for the schooling of children of personnel in the armed forces.

Mrs. George Thompson is, temporarily, teaching Latin. A request has been received from a Maine teacher and references will be checked.

Miss Barbara Payne has been appointed teachers' aid in Grade 1.

Public Meetings

The first of a series of public meetings will be held Thurs., Feb. 5, at 7:30 p. m. The public will be asked for recommendations for improvements in the school system.

The Board authorized the use of the field house, at the request of the sponsoring American Legion Post, for use Saturdays, January thru March, from 10:30 a. m. to 12:30 a. m., for use by a basketball league of boys, 9 years to 13 years.

Bids were opened for a backstop for the baseball diamond at Pierre S. duPont School. However, the Board voted to secure further bids on a different type of backstop for Pierre S. duPont School and at Harrington School. Backstops are to be installed by March 31.

The Board authorized the superintendent to get a local TV man to paint the flagpoles and install the ropes at both schools.

Harrington School Notes

Student Council

The Kent County Student Council Association was attended by the seven schools of Kent County and by the President of the State Council. It was held in Harrington School Cafeteria.

The topic of the panel discussion was "Problems of the Student Council" in a small high school. The members were: Lois Graden, Jeanne Coulbourn, Carol Crisson, Sandra Kates, Emily A. Brown, moderator.

Refreshments were served by the Harrington Council.

Plans for the mid-winter formal have been completed. Honey Voshell's Band will furnish the music. Tickets are on sale by the members of the Council.

Pat Crisson, Reporter Office News

Mid-year examinations were held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, January 21, 22, and 23.

The new schedule will be about the same except in the case of seventh and eighth grades. Grade Seven will take shop and home economics instead of health, and the eighth grades will take health and Spanish during the second semester.

We will receive our report cards for the first semester Jan. 28.

Grade 5—Mrs. Brobst

We have had several boys and girls out of school for one or more days this month, because they were ill. They are, Carol Klapp, Paige Quillen, Josephine Derrickson, Lonnie Wirick, Allen Jerread, Billy Knox, Dean Manges, Kenny Eilers, Billy Dill, Kenny Carroll, and Pat Coady. There has been only one day since Christmas that we have had perfect attendance.

Biddy Basketball

Saturday morning the field house was crowded with eager players and anxious spectators. The results were as follows:

Hawks 6, Falcons 5; Warriors 17, Globetrotters 7; Celtics 11, Eagles 9; Globetrotters, 23 Falcons 6.

There are six teams so there will be four games always. See you next Saturday rooting for your favorite team.

10th Assembly Program

Mr. McDonald's 10th grade section gave a very fine play Friday entitled "The Boomerrang." The cast included Iris Lee Warrington, Dennis Bradley, Viva Reed, Robert Dobraski, and Bertha McMullen. Prop men were Robert Bonniwell and David Martin. The play was coached by Linda Humes; who did a very excellent job in her first try at coaching. Linda plans to attend dramatic school after her graduation in June. The cast received an enthusiastic reception from the high school audience.

Girl's Basketball

There are twenty-one girls who are playing basketball in the 1958-59 season at Harrington High School. They are as follows: Bonnie Lee Satterfield, Patsy Jack, Anna Mae Baker, Janie Phillip, Christine Taylor, Geraldine Reed, Betty Lee Hendricks, Phyllis Ann Vincent, Barbara Lewis, Emily Ann Brown, Barbara Spicer, Agnes Morgan, Carol Smith, Mary Jane Swain, Penny Caserta, Jeanne Thomas, Kenna Jo McKnatt, Carol McNally, Evelyn Hopkins, Darlene Hutchins, Becky Moore. Bonnie Lee Satterfield leads the Varsity in scoring with 79 points, Patsy Jack is next with 56; Anna Mae Baker has 17, and Janie Phillips 16.

The Varsity has a 2-3 record. The scores are as follows:

	Hgton	Opnts.
Alumni	36	19
Laurel	41	42
Bridgeville	13	27
Milford	38	27
Felton	40	48

The J.V. record is 1-2. They beat Bridgeville and lost to Laurel and Milford.

The girls have gotten off to a slow start this year, but everyone on the team holds high hopes for the future games. Our next game is with Rehoboth at Rehoboth on Fri., Jan. 23.

Grade 4—Mrs. Tatman

Barlynn Cox celebrated her 10th birthday with a party at her home Sat., Jan. 17 from 2 to 4 o'clock. There were many classmates and friends present to enjoy the games played, and the refreshments. Everyone had a good time and Barlynn received many gifts.

We are studying about the different kinds of germs in our health class. James Rash brought his binocular microscope to school and we enjoyed looking through it.

Kent General Hospital Campaign Underway

The committee charged with obtaining the biggest single amount, $150,000, in Kent General Hospital campaign swung into action Friday evening.

The special gifts committee, headed by Robert R. Reed with Lt. Governor David P. Buckson, as associate chairman, is to obtain nearly 40 per cent of the total goal of $400,000, needed to expand and equip the area hospital which is located in Dover. The members will attempt to get contributions of $1000 or more payable over a three year period.

This is the second group to get organized and announce a goal for the drive which will take place during the next ten weeks. Last Thursday the members of the medical staff at Kent General announced that they would attempt to raise $80,000, to help make the campaign a success.

U. S. Sen. J. Allen Frear, who is general chairman for the drive, addressed the well-attended meeting held in the Board Room of the Farmers Bank. He pointed to the population growth in the area and the increased demands for more room and better facilities at the hospital.

Sen. Frear acknowledged that the recently constructed hospital at the Dover Air Force Base did relieve some of the overcrowding. But he reminded those present that the ever expanding military installation is indirectly adding to the Kent General patient load. Since the base-hospital must also take care of military personnel from various points plus the fact there are many types of cases that they can not accommodate. This factor, plus the added population because of the economic growth of this area, has created overcrowding and an almost constant waiting list or admission to the hospital, the general chairman pointed out.

"There is also," Senator Frear said, "the matter of community pride. When you realize the fine hospital facilities at Milford and in other smaller towns in this section of the state, it makes you feel that we must have an institution here that will be second to none."

The senator told the committee that the revised income tax law makes it possible to give generously to hospitals. "In fact," he said, "you'll find it really pays you to give. The tax savings can be tremendous."

Senator Frear expressed confidence in the outcome of the campaign. "I feel there is a real spirit of enthusiasm present. Those who are giving of their time comprise a great team. And I feel that everyone will do his part," he concluded.

The associate general chairman, James B. Jackson and Robert T. Grohman both spoke briefly and outlined their division of responsibility. Walton H. Simpson, president of the Board of Directors of Kent General, was also called upon for a few remarks. Chairman Reed presented David S. Rash who is directing the campaign. Those present followed closely while Rash outlined the purposes of the drive, the plan to be followed and his suggestions on how to properly contact prospects.

A list of names was distributed with the members of the special gifts committee being asked to select those they best felt able to see. Rash also suggested that they work in two man teams.

The special gifts campaign is expected to continue through the month of February, according to Chairman Reed. But there are to be report meetings about every week.

The members of the six teams selected, with the captain of each mentioned first, follows:

Team "A": Vernon Derrickson, J. Gordon Smith, William K. Patton, Gordon Willis, William J. Cavanaugh, and Charles Hardesty. Team "B": Arthur W. Dobberstein, Dr. William Clayton, Gordon Fromm, Abbott A. Lewis, Robert Mitchell and William Rose. Team "C": George Ehinger, E. W. Buchanan, Nathan L. Cohen, Nelson J. Houston Jr., P. Rudolph List, and Forney Warren. Team "D": Carl J. Fox, John Ake, George Ayars, Hudson Grunwell, Charles Marker, and George Records. Team "E": J. Everett Lofland, Sen. Henry Price, Warner Price Jr., Martin Golden, George W. Wright, and William Willis. Team "F": Russell Whitby, Walton Simpson, Richard D. Johnson, Maurice W. Carrow, and R. Sudler Emerson.

Veterans News QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—I understand that generally a child must be over 18 to train under the War Orphan's Education Act. I already have completed high school, but won't be 18 for several months. Could an exception be made in my case?

A—Yes. If VA finds it would be in your best interest to commence training before age 18, an exception could be made.

Q—A neighbor of ours, a blind veteran, is about to make application to VA for a seeing eye or guide dog. Who bears the expense of training the veteran to use the dog, the veteran himself or VA?

A—VA will provide the dog, and also pay the expense of training the veteran to use it and any expenses incidental to necessary medical attention for the dog.

Q—Does a Spanish-American War veteran have to be disabled in order to draw a VA pension? A—Not necessarily. VA pensions are payable to Spanish-American War veterans over 62 years of age, even though they may not be disabled.

Q—The VA has just declared my disability connected to my military service, and I am eligible to apply for service-disabled Korean veterans insurance. How soon do I have to apply?

A—You must make application within one year from the date VA found your disability service-connected.

Social Security News

Social Security Changes By: Edward F. Sullivan District Manager Social Security Office Dover, Delaware

With their first paychecks of the New Year, the Nation's workers will begin to pay more for their social security protection. The increase amounts to 25 cents more on each $100 of earnings. For the first time, annual earnings of up to $4800 will be the subject to the social security tax and credited toward social security benefits. Until now, only the first $4200 of earnings in a year has been taxed and counted toward the amount of benefits payable to a worker or his family.

If you are one of the 75 million Americans whose work is covered by social security, you'll begin this month to pay a social security tax of 2 1/2 per cent on the first $4800 of your earnings. Your employer will match this tax with an equal amount out of his own pocket.

The tax in 1958 was 2 1/4 per cent for the employee and for the employer on wages up to $4200. The new tax rate applies to wages paid in 1959, even if the wages are paid for work done in 1958. The New Year will also bring increased benefit checks to the 12 meet Friday evening at 7 o'clock.

1/2 million men, women, and children now receiving monthly old-age, survivors, or disability insurance benefits. Effective with the checks delivered early in February, retired workers will get an increase of about 7 per cent—some slightly more, some slightly less.

Retired workers' payments now range from $30 (except for women who retired when they were between 62 and 65) to $108.50. Beginning with benefit payments for the month of January, the minimum retirement payment for those now on the benefit rolls will be raised from $30 to $33, and the maximum will be $116. For those who become eligible for benefits in the future, payments may be as high as $127 (as a result of counting earnings of up to $4800 in years after 1958).

Payments to those receiving benefits as dependents and survivors will also be increased by about 7 per cent effective with the checks mailed out in February. But where several members of one family are getting payments, each person may not get a full seven per cent increase in his individual benefit amount.

The maximum payment to a family group until now limited to $200, may now be as high as $254.

Kent County led the way in making it possible for Delaware to reach its 1958 quota of U. S. Savings Bonds sales.

With the largest monthly sales of the year in December of $1,548,318, the total sales in the state for the year reached $15,622,767 against a quota of $15,000,000. This is 104% and tops last year's sales by $3,685 for a record high since World War II.

Kent County sales amounting to $1,254,008 were 4.5% in excess of its quota of $1,200,000. Sussex County sales of $1,866,586 were 103.7% of a $1,800,000 quota, and New Castle County sales amounting to $11,678,770 were just 2.7% short of its $12,000,000 goal.

For 1959 Kent County has been given an increased quota of $1,300,000 as its share of the Delaware quota set at $16,500,000, an increase of $1,500,000 over last year.

Plans are now underway for the Blue and Gold Banquet to be held Feb. 27, at the school cafeteria. Further news will be disclosed after the February committee meeting to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Reed, Feb. 20.

The committee of the Cub Scouts of Pack 76 held a meeting Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Redden. A new den 1 is now in progress, with Mrs. Donald Vincent as den mother, and Mrs. Charles Pack as assistant den mother. The new Scouts are Chuck Peck, Gene Stubbs, Howard Brown, Burton Vincent, Howard Krouse, and Allen Greenly.

The January theme "Newsmen" will be carried out at the Pack meeting Friday evening Jan. 26. At the school, with skit, displays, and a film "Scout Jamboree," filmed at Valley Forge. Dens 3 and 4 were taken on a very interesting tour of the Harrington Journal Office Friday.

Kent Bond Sale Surpasses Goal

With the largest monthly sales of the year in December of $1,548,318, the total sales in the state for the year reached $15,622,767 against a quota of $15,000,000.

Kent County sales amounting to $1,254,008 were 4.5% in excess of its quota of $1,200,000.

Sussex County sales of $1,866,586 were 103.7% of a $1,800,000 quota, and New Castle County sales amounting to $11,678,770 were just 2.7% short of its $12,000,000 goal.

For 1959 Kent County has been given an increased quota of $1,300,000 as its share of the Delaware quota set at $16,500,000, an increase of $1,500,000 over last year.

Home Safety Activities

A detailed study of home safety activities and accomplishments in Delaware is being conducted by the Delaware Safety Council, it was announced this week by Mrs. William N. Cann, the council's vice-president for home safety.

The study is known as the "biennial inventory of home safety activities," and is the second such survey to be made in Delaware. The first was made in 1956. The new inventory is being taken through about 300 carefully organized report forms which are being filled out by industrial and business firms, health departments, fire companies, women's groups, school groups, farm organizations, Boy and Girl Scouts, and other groups.

The overall purpose, Mrs. Cann said, is to find out what these groups are doing to promote safety in the home. The information will be used to stimulate development and expansion of home accident prevention programs.

The information being supplied in the report forms will be compiled by the Delaware Safety Council, which will issue a booklet on the subject. The reports will be analyzed by the National Safety Council, and the results of that analysis will be made public.

Mrs. Cann said that many business and industrial firms conduct off-the-job programs. The DuPont Company, she said, has been one of the leaders in that field. Industry recognizes, she continued, that a worker injured in an accident at home is just as surely lost to his job as one injured in an accident at work. Steps should be taken to prevent both types of accidents, Mrs. Cann declared.

The inventory is similar to the annual inventory of traffic safety activities which is widely regarded as a highly useful device for setting standards for traffic safety activities by city and state governments and safety organizations.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Notes

Sunday, Jan. 11, Miss Barbara Jean Welch, daughter of Junior Thomas Welch and Evelyn Porter Welch, was baptized at St. Stephen's by the Rev. John R. Symonds, Jr. The congregation was happy to welcome this newest "member of Christ, child of God, and inheritor of the kingdom of heaven."

The men of St. Stephen's met Thursday, Jan. 15, at the Parish House with Clyde Perry, vice-president, presiding. After the group prepared and enjoyed supper, a short business session was held. George R. Johnson was elected corresponding secretary.

The acolyte schedule for next Sun., Jan. 25 is as follows: 8 a.m., William Carter; 9:30 a.m., Terry Porter and Wayne Porter; 11 a.m., William Porter, John Porter, Roy Porter Gary Porter, and Ronald Porter; 7 a.m., Douglas Beene, Ralph Wooters, William Thompson.

Mrs. Amy Stone is recuperating at her home on Brown Street. Friends at St. Stephen's hope her progress will be very satisfactory and she will be entirely recovered from her recent fall. Her foot will be in a cast for several weeks.

The Rev. John R. Symonds, Jr. was guest preacher, on the Feast of the Epiphany, at the Cathedral Church of St. John, Wilmington. Ushers last Sunday were Messrs. Thomas Clendening and Robert Quillen.

The Ways and Means Committee of the Ladies Auxiliary met on Mon., Jan. 12, 8 p.m. with Mrs. Augustus Raughley, Jr., as chairman. The group included Messdames Robert Creadick, W. W. Welch, James F. Coady, Gilbert Keim, and George Thompson.

Sunday evening, Jan. 11, the Parents-Teachers Class of St. Stephen's held a discussion and study session on the chapter "The Holy Communion," from the book "Teaching the Church's Children." Last Sunday the group discussed a film entitled "No Two Alike," a leadership education film portraying the effect of environmental forces on the psychological, social and spiritual growth of children.

The Sunday morning coffee was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Ford and Miss Irene Ford by all their friends at St. Stephen's. Mrs. Granville Hill poured, assisted by Mrs. Robert Baynard.

Mr. and Mrs. Ford and Miss Ford are leaving Harrington to move to Wilmington. They were presented with a parting gift Sunday morning at the coffee hour.

January 14, the Rt. Rev. Arthur Carl Lichtenberger was installed as the 21st presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church. The ceremony took place at Washington Cathedral.

Over 2000 persons watched the six processions of dignitaries, headed by crucifers and torch

Supplement Containing Changes in Courses Given U. of D. Students

Changes additions and omissions from the courses offered by the University of Delaware extension division during the spring term, 1959, are indicated in a supplement to the Extension Bulletin issued today, according to an announcement by Dr. Gordon C. Godbey, director of university extension.

Copies of the supplement have been mailed to all students currently enrolled in extension courses and are available to the general public at the Wilmington Institute Free Library and Dover High School, or upon requests to the office of university extension in Newark.

A total of 39 courses have been added and 12 dropped to bring the total statewide offering to 177. Changes in time or place have been made in 22 courses.

The greatest change in the schedule of courses for the spring term published last summer is in courses planned for the Dover area, where the extension program has been expanded to include a total of 24 courses in speech, accounting, education, English, history, mathematics, music, modern languages, political science, psychology and sociology.

A wide selection of subjects will be taught in extension both at Wilmington, with 62 courses, and on the Newark campus, with 71 courses. Courses will also be offered in the Minquadales School District, Seaford and Georgetown.

No formal prerequisites are required of extension students not seeking a certificate or degree. For some courses, students must previously have completed required courses, or their equivalent in experience, but no fixed educational background is necessary. Most courses offered may be taken for credit, but persons interested in general self-improvement may register as auditors.

Students desiring no college degree credit may register by mail. A coupon is provided for this purpose in the back of the Extension Bulletin.

Students considering a certificate or degree program should become familiar with the requirements of the program in which they are interested. Part-time students may enroll in one of seven certificate or associate programs, or they may complete three years' degrees in accounting and arts and science, biology, chemistry, engineering general business and secretarial studies.

Students desiring graduate credit for courses must be accepted by the school of graduate studies, and registration for course work must be carried out through that school. Graduate credit will be granted only if the student has registered at the scheduled registrations on a graduate form. If a student cannot register at the scheduled times, he must register at the graduate office on the university campus.

Consultations with prospective students will be held on Jan. 27 and 28, from 4:30-5:30 p.m. on the second floor of the Wilmington Institute Free Library, and from 7-9 p.m. in Room 108, Wilmington High School.

Extension registrations will be conducted as follows: Seaford High School, 6:30-8:30 p.m., Feb. 3; Wilmington High School, 4:30-10 p.m., Feb. 4; Dover High School, 6:30-8:30 p.m., Feb. 5, and Carpenter Field House, Newark, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., Feb. 7.

Further information may be obtained from the office of University Extension, University of Delaware, Newark, telephone ENdcott 8-8511, extension 262.

Agricultural Integration Who's the Boss?

Agricultural integration will be a topic at livestock day, Feb. 12, at Farm and Home Week at the University of Delaware, according to George Vapaa, Kent county agricultural agent.

Kenneth Hinshaw, editor of the Eastern States Co-operator, will be the speaker. He will discuss integration in the hog business. He is secretary of the New England Yorkshire Breeders Association.

Professor George Litton, head of the animal husbandry department at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, will talk on developing high producing strains of beef cattle from existing stock. He will also discuss the production goals we should be aiming for because few farmers are aware of the growth and reproduction rates our meat animals are capable of achieving.

John H. Shropshire, new extension livestock specialist at the University of Delaware, will talk on the same topic relative to sheep and swine during the morning session.

In the afternoon, under the heading, "Feeding for Meat Production and Profit," Professor Litton will speak on sheep and beef. Ural G. Bee, with the hog division of the Cooper Commission, president of the Maryland Stockmen's Association and former livestock specialist at the University of Maryland, will discuss hog marketing.

The final speaker on the livestock program will be Frank G. Fitz-Roy, president of the Baltimore Union Stock Yards. He will discuss "Meat Animal Marketing Trends." He spent more than 30 years with the livestock division of the agricultural marketing service of the United States Department of Agriculture before joining the yards.

The wind-up of the livestock program will be a question and answer period with all the speakers on the panel, Mr. Vapaa said.

Pat Boone's 'Mardi Gras' At Reese Jan. 25 Thru 28

If what the management of the Reese Theatre says is true, Delaware and Maryland theatre fans are 'in' for the greatest array of new hits ever to play this popular purveyor of entertainment. Contracts have been signed with all the leading motion picture companies.

Another big all-family action show is listed in this newspaper for this Friday and Saturday, Jan. 23 and 24. Jon Hall, Peter Lorre, John Considine are the featured stars in Republic's "Hell Ship Mutiny", the top feature, with Jim Davis, Faron Young, and a host of action stars in "Raiders of Old California" completing this highly entertainment presentation including a happy Cartoon Circus.

Everybody has been waiting. The big one is coming. 20th Century Fox presents Pat Boone in "Mardi Gras" at Movie Center, this coming Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Jan. 25 thru 28. In Color and CinemaScope, with a great cast including Gary Crosby, Tommy Sands, Sherree North and many others; critics rates this as the 'giant' all around entertainment of the year. Producer control prices prevail on this show only: Children under 12 years, 25c, Colored Balcony, 50c, Orchestra, 75c.

Delaware Poultry Improvement Association Elects Officers

Carlton Hughes, Wilmington, Ralston Purina Company, was elected president of the Delaware Poultry Improvement Association at the organization's annual business meeting, January 8, succeeding C. M. "Bill" Hoffman, Bridgeville.

The meeting was held in the Caesar Rodney School, Camden-Wyoming. Other officers elected were Herbert Hudson, Warwick broiler grower, New Castle County president; Edward Laramore, Wyoming broiler grower, Kent County vice president; Carlton Lowe, Laurel turkey and broiler grower, Sussex County President; Frank Gordy, director of the University of Delaware's Georgetown Substation and Extension Poultryman, secretary; and J. Edward McIlvaine, with Townsend's Inc., Georgetown, treasurer.

Also elected at this meeting was Delaware's director to Nippo, E. F. "Doc" Smith of Kenton, egg producer.

Poor Pullets Cut Profit

Not all pullets have the ability to maintain heavy production as any egg producer knows. George Vapaa, County agent, says any pullet that fails to mature into a good egg producer by the time she is seven months of age, or after fifty per cent of the flock is laying, is worth more to you as meat.

Pullets that do not produce eggs profitably are wasting feed, labor, and housing space. They increase costs, reducing your net return. When such birds are removed from the flock the others have more room and give a greater return for the valuable feed they consume.

Mrs. Vapaa believes culling must be a continuous proposition from hatching eggs through day old chicks, growing stock, pullet ready for housing, and with the layers.

New Tax Depreciation Law Aids Farmers

A new income tax law, passed by Congress this year to aid small business, will allow a farmer to take an additional 20 percent depreciation on tangible personal property in the year he buys it, according to county agent George Vapaa. The law applies to tools, equipment and mature breeding stock but does not include buildings.

To qualify, Mr. Vapaa says the property must have a useful life of at least six years. It can be either new or used when a farmer buys it. The maximum allowance on a joint return is $20,000; $10,000 on a separate return.

Since the law provides for an additional 20 percent depreciation, it also means that the farmer can take his regular depreciation. Here's how it works:

Suppose a farmer buys a tractor and combine for $10,000. The useful life is figured to be 10 years, so the additional depreciation allowance under the new law is $2,000 (20 percent of $10,000). The regular depreciation can also be deducted. If the farmer figures that the final salvage value is $1,000, then he would figure his regular depreciation on $7,000 ($10,000 less $2,000 additional depreciation less $1,000 salvage value.) Divided over 10 years, this amount would be $700 a year. Total—$2,700.

A farmer who has taken his regular depreciation by one of the step methods, like declining balance, can save an even greater amount of tax this year.

Pages 35-36 of the "Farmers Tax Guide" explains and gives examples of the new method. Mr. Vapaa has copies in his office. Call REDfield 6-1448 or stop in at his office on the second floor of the Dover Post Office and ask for a copy.

Delaware Food Market Report

Spring can't be too far away when you see fresh strawberries at the fruit counter, in Florida, strawberry picking time has arrived and these "first signs of spring" are now being sold at many markets this week. Red Bliss potatoes, another spring vegetable, have been on most local markets for the past few weeks. Both of these spring foods are wearing high price tags, but a few can go a long way to brighten up a cold winter meal.

The fresh vegetable picture as a whole is about normal for this time of year. The best buy being found among the winter vegetables—cabbage, turnips, rutabagas, spinach, and potatoes. Lettuce and celery are good to fair buys. Snap beans are up in price this week, averaging 27c a pound and quality needs to be watched. Corn, cucumbers and eggplant are also up a penny or so in price, while carton tomatoes are selling for the same prices as they have been during the past two weeks. According to information just received from Florida, the increased shipments on peppers, radishes, new potatoes, squash and tomatoes being sent out of Florida, may place these vegetables on the "good buy" list this weekend.

Citrus fruit remains the "best buy" at the fruit counter. The medium size grapefruit and orange is the most plentiful now and are the "best buys." You may take your choice of pink or white grapefruit since there is little difference in price between the two. The tangerine season may be short this year, so enjoy them now.

Egg prices are down this week. Grade A large eggs are selling around 58c a dozen. Grade A mediums about 55c a dozen and Grade B large 57c a dozen. Grade A large are definitely your "best buy" and are one of the most economical ways to get high quality protein this week.

Pork continues to be a budget priced meat with loin roast, shoulder roast and picnic hams offering the best opportunity to save money. Sausage continues to be a good buy as well as some grades of bacon.

Lower than average prices during weekend sales may be found on chuck roasts, some steaks and on many lamb cuts. Veal remains scarce.

Poultry, especially broilers, are the very "best buys" at the meat counter this week.

Farm Building Plans Available From State Extension Service

Do your plans for 1959 include new farm buildings, animal shelters, livestock handling equipment or an addition on the house?

If any building of any kind is on your mind for this year, Mr. Robert B. Williams, agricultural engineer at the University of Delaware, has a suggestion that may save you time, effort and money. Working plans for most types of farm buildings, equipment and houses with pictures and brief descriptions of these plans can be obtained from your county agricultural agent or by writing the Extension agent engineer, University of Delaware, Newark. Give the engineer as much information as possible about the kind of building or structure that you wish to build.

These farm building plans, according to Williams, are available throughout the United States through a co-operative exchange arrangement between State Agricultural Colleges and the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Plans are adapted to the climate and the farming of the region in which they are distributed and are designed to fit the most up-to-date and efficient farm practices.

Farmhouse designs also are adapted by region. Some are expandable or can be divided inside and finished in stages as additional labor or money becomes available. Designed especially to meet the needs of farm families or families living in farming areas the plans generally provide extra workroom space for home food preparation and preserving, and special wash-up rooms for outdoor workers.

Modern 1-to-4 bedroom designs for masonry or frame construction are grouped according to basic arrangement of living, working, and sleeping quarters. Most are single-level designs, but a few split level or two-floor plans are included.

George H. Brown Dies at 85

George H. (Park) Brown, 85, died Thursday, Jan. 15, in the Jarvis Nursing Home, Felton.

Make Hay Any Old Time

The old term "Make Hay While the Sun Shines" is just about out of business, according to the latest word from the "Bunker Hill Project," the University of Delaware's hay research farm near Middletown.

With new methods and equipment two days without rain is plenty of time to put in a batch of high quality, high priced hay, according to project leader William Mitchell who is in charge of the research work being done at the farm.

Some of the things Mitchell and other research workers are finding out are rather startling and interesting, particularly to Delaware farmers who are wondering what to raise since we have surpluses in almost everything. Hay may be the answer.

Mitchell says horsemen in this area buy hay shipped in from Michigan, Iowa, Maine, and other equally far away places because it is better quality than locally grown. They pay $20 worth of shipping charges to get the quality they want. By using drying equipment, and other fast harvest machinery, Delaware farmers can produce better quality hay than that being imported and get more money for it, Mitchell says.

Artificial hay drying systems have not eliminated the need for "hay days" but is has greatly reduced the number of consecutive rainless days that are needed to get the hay in.

Farm and Home Week at the University of Delaware, Feb. 10-12, will feature a detailed program of speakers on haymaking. Drying, pelleting, marketing, mixtures, fertilization and the economics of modern haymaking equipment, are all subjects which will get attention by speakers. The "hay day" part of the Farm and Home program will be Tuesday, Feb. 10, Mitchell said.

extension horticulturist Robert Stevens, University of Delaware, advises home owners.

Wet, heavy snow or rain that turns to sleet and ice often comes in the late winter and often does the most damage.

Evergreens, especially broad-leaved evergreens, are likely to suffer the most breakage or be bent out of shape by the weight of snow that piles up on the leaves.

Immediately after a wet snow, knock the snow gently from the branches with a broom. This allows them to spring back before they are permanently bent or broken.

Choice evergreens deserve some special care in advance of storms. Those that are upright may be tied loosely around with clothes line or other stout cord to prevent the branches from being spread apart by the weight of snow.

Sometimes it helps to insert a stake in the center of the branches before tying them up Stevens said.

Low spreading evergreens may be protected by laying boughs underneath their lower branches for support. For plants that are especially valuable, you may want to build slat boxes over them that let in light and air but keep off heavy snow.

Foundation plantings or other shrubs or trees close to the house often need protection not so much from natural snowfall as from snow that slides off the roof. Small tepee-like wooden structures or open boxes may be used over plants to turn off sliding snow, Stevens said.

Though there's often not much to do to save trees and large shrubs from ice damage, some homeowners now are slipping large plastic bags over smaller evergreens when the weather prediction is "Rain followed by freezing." These bags are put on temporarily to keep off rain which later may freeze, Stevens said.

farmers on January 28 and 29, says George Vapaa, Kent County agricultural agent.

The meetings will be held as half-day sessions at several locations in Kent County so that farmers may more readily attend. The specific times and places are as follows:

Thurs., Jan. 28, 9:30 a.m. to noon, Wheatley's Greenhouse Laboratory, Clayton. From 1 p.m. to 3:30 p.m., at the county agent's office in the Dover Post Office.

Fri., Jan. 29 from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Wonder R Restaurant in Harrington.

Farmers should come prepared with whatever records they are keeping. The purpose of the meeting is to help show how they can be used to manage the farm more efficiently.

Good records are a necessary tool in the management of a progressive farm program. They indicate where a farmer stands financially, and permit him to plan for future growth.

The new electronically processed DHIA cow records will be more fully explained to those who are using them. The winter season is a good time for farmers to "make money with a pencil" adds Mr. Vapaa.

Felton Youth State Winner In 4-H Clubwork

Donald Ray Starkey

Donald Ray Starkey, 17, Felton, is a firm believer in the importance to agriculture of newest scientific discoveries and modern technology. Chosen state winner in the 4-H Boys' Agricultural program, he was awarded a trip to the national congress, provided by International Harvester Co.

A productive livestock project and an excellent tractor maintenance record put this ambitious teenager into state limelight last year.

When Starkey joined the Houston Cardinal 4-H Club in 1954, he had one heifer as a project. This year, he raised his herd to 12 animals, completed a tractor project, and grew six acres of soybeans.

At the 1958 Kent County Fair, Starkey had one grand champion, tied for first in dairy judging and won the tractor title. Later, he placed second in the state tractor finals. He also won a top prize for animal fitting and showmanship.

Frear Announces Academy Appointments

U. S. Senator J. Allen Frear, Jr., today announced the names of his candidates for the forthcoming classes of the Air Force, Military, Navy and Merchant Marine academies.

For the first time in the senator's ten years in office, twins are included on the list of nominees. Ronald and Donald Willis, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Willis of 604 Garnet Road, Wilmington, were awarded principal appointments to the Naval Academy.

The twins, whose father teaches at Wilmington High School, were selected on the basis of Senator Frear's recent state-wide competitive examination. Senator Frear regularly uses this test, conducted by the Civil Service Commission, as a means of selecting his nominees for the academies.

John N. Ake, Jr., of Dover won the senator's only principal appointment to West Point.

For the Air Force Academy, Senator Frear named 11 candidates. From this list the authorities will, by means of further competition and evaluations, choose one principal and 10 alternates. The nominees are: R. Melvin Warner Jr., Wilmington; Douglas M. Cox, Dover; Roland P. Trask, Jr., Claymont; John D. Witt, Dover; Michael E. Dunning, Wilmington; George A. Ward, Jr., Dover; C. Richard Valiant, Newark; James R. Gunning, Dover; John Murray, Dover; George M. Hess, Jr., Dover; and William H. Wilkinson of Hockessin.

The Merchant Marine Academy will select two Delaware boys from the total of 30 names to be submitted by Mr. Frear and his Congressional colleagues from the First State. Senator Frear's 10 nominees for the Merchant Marine Academy are: John P. Mulrine, Seaford; Karl B. Schmid Fenwick Island; Eugene Grace, Rising Sun; Jackson R. Spence, Camden; James P. Adams, Dagsboro; Robert E. Voorhees, Jr., Wilmington; Peter S. Goewey, Dover; John H. Orth, Wilmington; John J. Scholoto, Jr., Wilmington, and John S. Szczechowski of Wilmington.

Mr. Frear named ten alternate candidates for his two principal appointments to the Naval Academy; they are: 1st alternates: James D. Bailey, Wilmington, and Ronald R. Matthews of Millsboro; 2nd alternates: James V. Sheridan, New Castle, and Frank L. W. Foley of Newark; 3rd alternates: Ronald I. Gregg and Stanley J. Chmielewski, Jr., both of Wilmington; 4th alternates: James V. Fiorelli and John D. Ballbach, both of Wilmington; 5th alternates: Francis J. Donovan and William E. Whitaker, both of Wilmington.

The senator's three alternate appointments to West Point were awarded to: Richard A. Kiel, Milford; Hiram W. Warder, II of Wilmington, and Carl F. Mulveny, Wilmington, respectively.

In making the announcement, Senator Frear wished all candidates success in the subsequent admissions tests required by the academies, and indicated that each applicant would receive individual notification of his present status.

Felton Avon Club Notes

The first meeting of the Avon Club in the new year was the annual Sunshine Sister luncheon and party, Wednesday, Jan. 14.

Mrs. Bess Hargadine, a former club member and Mrs. James Conley, Frederica, a new member were welcomed into the club.

Following the luncheon, the president, Mrs. Harold Schabinger, president, at the business meeting. The club voted to contribute to the International Student Award. Club members contributed money to "CARE" and voted to use it to buy a plow for Greese.

Feb. 4, officers and chairmen will meet in the Fire Hall at 10:30 a.m., to do their reports to be in by the first of March. Members are to bring sandwiches and coffee will be served by the president.

Mrs. Albert Warren and Mrs. Barratt Simpler will be in charge of a bake, to be held in the near future.

Following the business meeting, Sunshine Sisters names for 1958 were revealed and new names of Sunshine Sisters for 1959 were drawn.

Wednesday of this week, a program on "Legislation" in charge of Mrs. Leland Price and committee was present at the club.

Mrs. Thomas Herlihey, of Wilmington, State Legislation chairman, was the speaker of the afternoon.

Children's Breakfasts

Milk and citrus, or other fruits or juices high in vitamin C, were the foods most often short or missing in breakfasts of 1,294 Utah school children studied by the Utah Experiment Station, according to home demonstration agent Florence Smith.

To get a picture of what the different age groups of the generation in school were eating for breakfast, the survey included breakfast records of kindergarten children on up to college students.

an adequate breakfast as a meal that includes fruit or juice, preferably citrus as a reliable and rich source of vitamin C, milk toast and cereal, toast and egg, or cereal and egg. Mrs. Smith says. The size of the serving depends on the age of the child.

The survey showed that most boys and girls at all ages ate fair breakfasts. More children in the age group 5 to 9 had adequate breakfasts than older children. Poorest breakfast rating was for the 16 to 20-year-old group Mrs. Smith said.

The breakfasts of teenagers, the study showed, most often lacked milk and foods containing vitamin C.

4H Club Notes

Eighty 4-H'ers attended the Junior Council Dance and elections where they elected John Clark for their Junior Council president. John, a member of the Clayton Clodhoppers for nine years, has been an active member. He is a junior at the University of Delaware. He has been a Junior Leader for four years.

A Westville 4-H'er, Wayne Currey, was elected to the vice president position. Wayne attended National 4-H Congress this year as our State Tractor Maintenance winner. Wayne, an accomplished musician with the accordion and drums, has represented Kent County in the State Talent Show on several occasions.

The 1959 treasurer will be Josephine Moore, a five-year member of the Chestnut Grove 4-H Club. Josephine has carried foods and clothing projects along with dairy.

The council secretary will be Joan Dempsey, a member of Chestnut Grove for six years. Joan has carried a variety of projects such as clothing, entomology and home beautification and foods. She assisted with the writing and narrated the County Dress Revue last year.

The dance under the chairmanship of Becky Nickerson was held at the Capital Grange Hall. 4-H'ers and their friends danced to records.

Twelve Kent County 4-H clubs are reorganized for 1959 with a membership of 275. These clubs under the leadership of local volunteer leaders are busy making plans for the year. Along with their local programs which includes their project work, local demonstrations and community service projects, the members are planning participation in many county events such as the Demonstration Day, Talent &

Public Speaking Show and Dress Revue

Many clubs have appointed committees to plan their special events during National 4-H Club Week in March. Jean Martin of the Harrington Sunshine Club is chairman of the Window Display committee. Other committees are starting to work on their plans for floats in the Chicken Festival in Dover.

THE MOST IMPORTANT $200 IN THE AUTOMOBILE WORLD!

It buys a Buick LESABRE instead...

Look into this personally, before you buy a new car. For just about $200 more than the price of the best models of the three leading low-priced cars... you can own a Buick LeSabre instead. Compare the manufacturers' suggested retail prices posted right on the cars in the showrooms, and you'll see this for yourself.

You could pick the LeSabre 4-door sedan pictured here... including Twin-Turbine automatic transmission, radio, heater, white sidewall tires, electric windshield wipers, direction signals, lighter, and automatic dome and glove compartment lights. Even with all that our statement will stand up.

PLUS NEW ECONOMY, HIGH TRADE-IN VALUE

The engineers planned to build noticeably better gas mileage into the '59 Buicks. Reports now in from owners, and careful competitive tests, too, prove they did a very successful job.

Alongside all this, put the good trade-in value which the Buick name and Buick's successful new styling assure... and you can see why we say this $200 difference in price is the most important $200 in the automobile world today.

See your Quality Buick Dealer soon. Let him prove it in detail.

NOT "STRIPPED", BUT EQUIPPED AS YOU WANT IT
Sometimes you run into price comparisons where the higher-priced car has no extra equipment, and the other has lots of it. This is not what we mean here. We mean only $200 more for a car fitted out the way you want it.

FURTHERMORE, YOU'LL OWN A BUICK
You'll have a fine car, with a fine-car ride, a true fine-car feel. You get a quieter, more substantial car. This year's Buicks have been judged the "outstanding" cars in their field in a recent poll of car owners.

THE CAR IS THE BUY!

Assembly Pay Hike of $2,000 Voted By House

The House of Representatives Tuesday passed its first bill of the current session—a bill to raise the pay of members of the General Assembly from $1,000 a year to $3,000.

The measure (HB-38) provides for concurrence in a constitutional amendment passed by the General Assembly at the last session.

Constitutional amendments require for passage two-thirds majorities in both branches of the General Assembly at two successive sessions. Now the bill goes to the Senate, where passage with a two-thirds majority will mean the amendment is adopted, and will be effective immediately.

The vote in the House was 33 to 2, with two Republicans, Reps. Margaret R. Manning (R-Marshallton) and T. Lees Bartleson (R-Lindamere) voting against the measure.

This opposition produced the first debate on the floor at this session. Mrs. Manning announced that she would vote against the bill for two reasons. She said first that the proposed pay raise was not included in the Governor's budget, and that she firmly believes in balancing the budget. Secondly, she continued, "I think there are many salaries paid to state employees which need restudy. Mrs. Manning said she is reluctant to vote for a salary boost for the legislators before the needs of the other state employees are considered.

Rep. Charles C. King (D-Smyrna), majority leader, replying to Mrs. Manning, suggested that the bill be passed first, and the other salaries be studied later. The bill, he said, has been talked about for a long time.

Mr. Bartleson said there is no rush. "We should wait until we see where our finances are," he suggested.

Deficit Stressed

Rep. Paul E. Shockley (D-Wilmington) said he could not concur with the arguments of the Republicans. He did not agree that the Governor's budget is balanced—not with a deficit of about $6,000,000 being carried over. Mr. Shockley noted that the Governor recommended increasing appropriations for some agencies.

The Wilmington Democrat said, "It's disgraceful to think that (the legislators) give their time—it takes a lot for a man to work leave from his business or take—to come here for the grand sum of $1,000 a year, which comes to about $19 a week."

The bill was introduced Monday.

At the brief opening meeting of the House early Tuesday afternoon Mr. King announced that the Appropriation Committee was reporting the bill favorable.

When the House resumed action two and a half hours later, Mr. King moved that the rules be suspended to act on HB-38, which otherwise could not have come up for action Wednesday. The House agreed, with only Mrs. Manning dissenting, and the bill was called up for third and final reading by Mr. King.

The pay of the legislators, including the lieutenant-governor, who is president of the Senate, was last boosted by a constitutional amendment approved in 1949, when it was raised to the present $1,000 a year, payable quarterly. Before that the pay was $10 a day, with a limit of 60 days' pay for each two years. Thus, the remuneration that was $600 for two years will become $6,000 for two years with approval of the amendment by the Senate.

In addition to the $1,000 a year, the legislators receive a mileage allowance for their transportation, and up to $25 worth of stationery and supplies each.

Some of the House members are talking about saving money by not printing calling cards this year. The cards cost about $26 per member for engraved and embossed cards, or a total of $910 for the 35 representatives. Rep. James R. Quigley (D-New Castle) chairman of the Printing Committee, has recommended omitting cards this time to save that money. The Republican caucus Tuesday, agreed to go along with his suggestion. The full Democratic reaction is not yet in.

6 New Bills Received

In other action Tuesday, the House received six new bills. One of these (HB-48) presented by Rep. Harry G. Lawson (R-Wilmington) would separate the Wilmington city election from the general election and would provide for election of the councilmen by wards, rather than at large.

The measure would amend the city charter provisions for the election of the Mayor, the city treasurer, the collector of taxes, and the members of Council.

Starting in November, 1963, these officials would be elected to four-year terms at an election in November of odd-numbered years. General elections are held in even-numbered years. The switch would be accomplished at the election in November, 1960, when the city officials would be elected to three-year terms under Mr. Lawson's proposal.

Rep. William E. Graves (D-Georgetown) and Rep. W. T. Best (R-Rehoboth Beach) co-sponsored HB-46 introduced on Tuesday, which would increase the salary of the Sussex County treasurer from $3,000 a year to $5,000.

The Committee on Revenue and Taxation brought in a favorable report Tuesday, on the bill (HS-1) for (HB-3) to prohibit by a constitutional amendment, retroactive taxation. The Miscellaneous Committee reported favorable a resolution (HJ-1) to set up a highway safety committee.

The Democratic majority started to call up a routine appropriation bill for a vote Tuesday, but deferred action. The reported reason was that the minority had not been notified. The bill, to provide an appropriation for a private organization, requires a three-quarters majority of 27 members—which means at least one Republican in the present had to be present and vote.

The House adjourned until 2 p. m., Wednesday. It is expected that the Joint Finance Committee would start work Thursday.

Other bills introduced Wednesday were:

HB-45: To authorize the Townsend School District to refund $254.60 in school taxes erroneously collected. By Rep. Chester Gove, Jr. (D-Townsend).

HB-47: To authorize the Kent County Levy Court and the Harrington Special School District to refund $8.50 and $4.30 in taxes erroneously collected. By Rep. George W. Cain (D-Harrington).

HB-49: To appropriate $2,450 to the Blades School District to defray unforeseen operational expenses during the current fiscal year. By Rep. R. Allen Cannon (D-Seafood).

HB-50: To create a Department of Labor and Industrial Relations. By Rep. Joseph S. Latina (D-Wilmington).

B. & P. W. Club

The regular meeting of the Harrington Business and Professional Women was held Monday evening, Jan. 19 at the Wonder R Restaurant, with our president, Mildred Minner, presiding.

Following dinner, Miss Leona Dickraeger, our Career Advancement Chairman, entertained with a movie and a running commentary.

A short business meeting followed with Mrs. Rosella Humes, our club vice-president, and also State Federation 1st. vice-president, giving a brief report on the National Conference of presidents and vice-presidents held in Washington, D. C. the preceding weekend.

Mrs. Jeanne McDonald, Public Affairs Chairman, reported on the Citizen's Meeting held last Friday evening. During this discussion a motion was carried for the club to advise the City Council of their objection of a cardboard ballot box being used in our city elections.

Two new members were admitted to our club. These were Mrs. Martha P. Smith and Mrs. Nellie Clendinging. Mrs. Irene D. Wechtenhiser was also unanimously accepted for membership.

In response for a call for volunteer workers for the Heart Drive on Sunday, Feb. 22; Mrs. Mary Dolby, Mrs. Grace Howard, Mrs. Mary Brown and Mrs. Jeanne McDonald offered their services.

Mrs. Merle Roth also asked for volunteers for the Mothers' March for Polio on behalf of the American Legion Auxiliary.

The club will attend the Friendship Dinner on February 2 at the High School cafeteria in lieu of their regular dinner meeting. The Harrington New Century Club is the sponsoring club for the affair this year. The regular business meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mildred Minner on Tuesday evening, Feb. 10 at 7:30 p. m. At this time we will have a short initiation ceremony for our three new members.

49-Star Flag Goes Into Use July 4

As we are all aware a new national flag with 49 stars has been authorized by the President of the United States and goes into general use July 4th, 1959.

The present flag with 48 stars in the field may be displayed as long as it is not too faded, torn or generally soiled or worn.

The question now comes up what to do with the old or worn flags.

Bingo License Approved For Local Legion Post

The Bingo Control Commission, meeting Monday night in the State Armory in Wilmington, approved the reissue of a license to the Ladies Auxiliary, Callaway-Kemp-Raughley-Tee Post No. 7, American Legion, after receiving supplemental information to regular original license.

Burial at St. Johnstown Cemetery. Friends may call Friday night at the funeral home.

Senate Finance Unit Proposed In Senate Bill

In its first busy day of the 1959 session, the Senate Tuesday received nine bills, five resolutions, and one concurrent resolution.

Among the bills introduced were one, Republican-sponsored, which would establish a State Department of Finance and four dealing with the Youth Services Commission.

The finance department bill, sponsored by Senators James H. Snowden, Wilmington; Reynolds duPont, Greenville; Jacob A. Correll, Newark, and Wilmer F. Williams, Roselle, was referred to the Revised Statutes Committee.

It would provide for the creation of the State Department of Finance, administered by a commissioner of finance appointed by the Governor to serve during the pleasure of the Governor.

The bill would permit the commissioner to appoint deputy commissioners for accounts, purchases and supply, and budgeting.

The commissioner would be responsible for formulating budget plans and documents, set up regulations for travel expenses for state officials and employees, handle purchasing for all state agencies, have charge of central warehouses, maintain centralized accounting records for the state, and systems of accounts and fiscal procedure for all state agencies.

The bill provides for a standardization committee, consisting of the director of purchases and supplies, representatives of the State Board of Education and Board of Health, State Highway Department, and the Delaware State Hospital, and four members of the State Council of Presidents and Executives.

This committee would classify requirements of state agencies, adopt standards, and periodically revise specifications describing the standards.

The bill spells out the steps to be taken in preparation and submission of the budget.

It reserves the final approval to the General Assembly, but provides that neither house shall consider further special appropriations except in case of emergency. The governor would have the authority to amend the budget to correct errors or in case of emergency before final action by the General Assembly.

The bill would also provide for a quarterly allotment system, and would permit the commissioner, with the approval of the governor, to make transfers between items appropriated for current expenses for a single purpose and to a single agency.

Youth Service Bills
The Youth Services Commission bills enjoy the bi-partisan sponsorship of Senator Snowden and Senator Earl M. Tull (D-Seafood).

The first (SB 10) strikes out the section (Section 5123, Title 31) of the Delaware Code dealing with transfers of juvenile offenders from the custody of the commission to the State Board of Corrections.

That section, in addition to providing the mechanism for such transfers, stipulates that the courts can not make such a transfer effective past the youth's 21st birthday.

The second bill (SB11) would provide that any child 16 or older who commits a delinquent act, is not mentally afflicted in any way, and who in the opinion of the court is a menace to the safety of the community, may be tried and sentenced in a court of appropriate jurisdiction to a term extending beyond the end of minority if need be.

The bill would provide that such child may be proceeded against by information or indictment and be prosecuted in the same manner and in the same court, and upon conviction shall suffer the same penalties for the commission of the offense as if the child were an adult beyond the age of 21 years at the time of the commission of the offense.

The third (SB 12) redefines the functions of the commission, commissioning it to expand its service to include preventative measures in juvenile delinquency, provide for the appointment of a director with qualifications and provides that all children who, prior to July 1, 1958, are committed to any institution in the state by any court, will be in the legal custody of the commission.

The fourth bill provides for the transfer of property and equipment of the Woods Haven School for Girls, as well as any obligations, to the commission.

Sponsors of Bills
Co-sponsors of the four bills are Senators Earl M. Tull (D-Seafood) and James H. Snowden (R-Wilmington), the minority leader. The bills were

Caesar Rodney School Notes

Saturday Basketball and Roller Skating Underway

Coch Edward Morris is again in charge of the Saturday basketball at Caesar Rodney School. Mr. Morris has seventy junior high school students out for Saturday basketball.

Three sixth grade teachers, Howard Fortney, Russell Perry, and Richard Snyder are giving their time Saturday mornings to develop a basketball program for sixth grade boys.

John J. Ryan, who supervises roller skating in afternoon for elementary school students, reported a capacity crowd on hand Saturday, Jan. 17, when skating got underway at 2:30 following the basketball games.

The Elementary School Student Council, sponsored by Mrs. Aurdria MacFaddin, sells refreshments and assists with issuing skates.

Saturday evening roller skating will begin Jan. 31 under the supervision of Howard Fortney, of the faculty. He will be assisted by the High School Student Council. Skating will be from 7:30 until 10.

Twenty-Fourth Bus Begins Operation at Caesar Rodney

The twenty-fourth bus bringing students to Caesar Rodney School began operation Mon., Jan. 19 in order to relieve two overcrowded buses from the Dover Air Force Base carrying high school students.

Arrangements for the additional bus were made by Preston G. Eisenbrey, director of School Transportation for the State Board of Education. Glen Cool of Wyoming is the bus contractor for the Air Force Base Area.

Seven of the 24 buses make two trips carrying primary grade pupils living in congested areas, home half an hour ahead of the 3:45 general dismissal time for the school and making an early trip in the morning.

Students monitors function on all trips except those for primary grade pupils, assisting the driver with bus discipline and roll checks. The monitors function as a part of the Safety Squad. Horace E. Short and David L. Williams are Safety Squad faculty sponsors and Mr. Williams as administrative assistant, is responsible for checking on the bus system and dealing with the occasional bus discipline problem which needs attention.

Freshman Dance Held

After being delayed for a day by "Old Man Weather," the Freshman Class of Caesar Rodney High School held a most successful Winter Dance in the small gym Saturday night, Jan. 17. The dance had originally been planned for Friday night, but was postponed because of snow and icy roads. The postponement turned out to be for the better, because it gave the Freshmen more time to decorate the gym. The theme was a snow scene, with silver snowballs suspended from the ceiling, set off by blue spotlights. At one end of the gym was a snow scene with pine trees and "Mr. and Mrs. Snowman" standing by.

The highlight of the dance was the crowning of the Freshman King and Queen. Elected by the class were Lynne Sanborn as Queen and Chris Martin as King. Both freshmen are active in school activities and sports. The King and Queen were crowned by Horst Reichelt and Sandy Barnett, president and vice president of the class.

Chaperones at the dance included: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wedde, Lieut. and Mrs. W. D. Horn, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Griffin, and Richard W. MacFaddin, high school principal.

ROAD EXAMINATION

the rapid construction of residential sites, or developments along some highways.

Highway planning engineers may study a certain highway this year and find it adequate for the present and normal increase in traffic. But during the coming year a residential development is constructed in the area served by the highway and suddenly there are anywhere from 200 to 400 more families using this highway.

Since the improvement or construction of highways, under the existing highway program system, requires more time than the completion of a home development, a heavily used highway results in an area that was figured to be able to provide for the normal traffic for some years.

Here again safety in highway engineering enters the picture, since highways leading to, or around, or through a residential development must be engineered for some safety features that are required for a highway through the open country.

Safety in highway engineering has been practiced on all highway improvements made under the jurisdiction of the present administration of the State Highway Department during recent years.

Prevention of highway accidents through highway engineering, is a policy being closely followed by the State Highway Department in their continuing program of improving existing highways.

Various changes in motor vehicles are resulting in the necessity of having the highways modernized to meet these new and changed conditions.

The Engineering Division of the State Highway Department closely follows the highway accident situation in Delaware through a map marking the location of accidents.

Pin-points are used to designate the location of each accident with a larger marker used to show the location of fatal accidents.

For the calendar year of 1958, more than 6,000 accidents of various types will be located on these accident maps and provide data for the continued study on accident prevention through engineering.

While discussing this phase of the Highway Department's activity, R. A. Haber, Chief Engineer, of the State Highway Department, commented that the Department was interested in the removal of the cause of accidents as the best method of preventing accidents.

A highway sign may contain a slogan which the motorists may read as they pass by and then it may not remain on their mind, and a caution sign on the right of the highway may, or may not receive the attention of the motorist, commented Mr. Haber.

Accordingly, the program widening, constructing and resurfacing existing highways, which has been followed by the present administration for a number of years also provides for realignment, where needed, or other adjustments that may be needed to eliminate a possible source of accidents along this particular highway.

Frequently, the information leading to the accident prevention study on reconstruction of highways is started from a study of the record of previous accidents.

It is considered a standard part of the specifications for highway construction and thus far has resulted in some changes being made on reconstructed highways to eliminate possible danger spots for use of the modern motor vehicle of the present day.

As Mr. Haber pointed out, when a motorist comes in contact with a highway improvement project, it will not only be for widening and reconstructing that portion of the highway, but will also be one that is eliminating any possible cause of highway accidents that may have existed in the highway construction.

from Mr. J. C. Messner informing the club members of a meeting for interested parents and patrons of the school to be held on February 5th at 7:30 in the school.

A donation was made for the March of Dimes which will be conducted in the next month. The club voted to send a shoemakers kit to Greece. The cost of the kit is $20, and is one of many types which are being sent by Delaware Clubs to Greece in a Self Help program for that country. Mrs. James Fair chairman of the program in the local club reported on the work being done in Greece with the kits. $5 was sent to be used for the music festival at the University of Delaware in April.

The program chairman, Mrs. Floyd Nasser, announced the date of Feb. 23, for the Friendship Dinner, to be held this year in the School Cafeteria. Tickets are available from Mrs. Shaw. Members who wish to buy or sell tickets will please call her. The meeting scheduled for Feb. 17 has been canceled since it is so close to the banquet.

Mrs. Brinton Holloway was appointed as a delegate to the Women's Joint Legislative Committee by the president.

Mrs. Joseph Cotter was elected to membership. Mrs. John Pitlick and Mrs. Floyd Nasser were her sponsors.

Mrs. O. T. Roberts reported on the Executive Board meeting held recently in Dover. She presented to the club, a framed hand lettered copy of the Collect, which had been given to her by Mrs. William Money, when she was state president. Mrs. William T. Sneath had the framing done as a gift to the club. Mrs. Roberts also presented the club with a bronze plaque from the American Cancer Society in recognition of the work done last year by the club during the fund drive.

The next meeting will be Feb. 3 with Mrs. Brinton Holloway chairman of the program on Communications. Herbert Griffith from radio station W.K.S.B. in Milford will be a guest at that time. It promises to be a very interesting meeting that no one will want to miss. It will be Reciprocity Day with members of the Wyoming-Camden Round Table Club and the Smyrna Century Club as guests.

HOUSE

of benefits is unchanged at 300 weeks.

The Rep. R. C. Davidson (D-St. Georges) put in a bill Wednesday (HB-57) specifying that the 10 months per year referred to in connection with state-supported teacher's salaries means a total of 185 days of school session, including not more than five days of approved meetings or study programs.

Mr. Davidson said a similar measure passed the Senate two years ago. He explained that it would write into law what is already the practice under directives of the State Board of Education. The bill would put the 185 day limit on the number of days a teacher may be worked. Presumably extra pay would be involved if teacher were required to work more than 185 days.

Rep. Charles C. King (D-Smyrna), the majority leader, introduced an appropriation bill (HB-51) to pay a total of $56,797.50, plus interest, owned by state to four persons as the result of suit arising out of a collision with a Delaware National Guard vehicle on Aug. 2, 1955. The four persons who obtained judgments in the suit, and the amount of the bill would pay to each are: Alice B. Dorsey, $35,000; Leighton S. Dorsey, $20,625; Beatrice P. Dorsey, $300; and William G. Dorsey, $872.50.

Mr. Quigley proposed, in HB-54, that the Collins Park Community and the Civic Association, Inc., be added to the list of organizations exempt from real property taxation.

Speaker Sreman W. Tribbitt and Mr. King co-sponsored HB-

55 which would appropriate $1,250 to the Port Penn Volunteer Fire Company for the maintenance of apparatus and equipment, with the money to be paid within three months after the bill is enacted. The bill explains that the fire company became a member of the Delaware Volunteer Firemen's Association too late to qualify for an appropriation from the 119th General Assembly.

In other action Wednesday, the House passed seven appropriations bills regarded as "routine" and adopted four resolutions. One of these (HR-15) set the pay for attaches; another (HJR-2) set the mileage allotment rate for members at 10 cents per mile. In HCR, Clifford E. Hall of Selbyville was named accountant for the Joint Finance Committee and Mrs. Nelson N. Jones of Dover was named secretary. Rate of pay was not specified for the two members of the staff of the committee, which is currently slated to start its work Monday.

In another resolution (HR-14) the House expressed regret at the passing of T. Jackson Snow, a former member of the House.

The seven appropriation bills all provide appropriations to private organizations and required three-quarters majorities, which they all received easily. Most passed with 34 yes votes and one member absent—Rep. Edgar T. English (D-Greenwood). Six of the seven bills appropriate a total of $55,700; the last an unspecified amount.

The bills are:
HB-3: Appropriates $1,500 for the next biennium to Sussex Post No. 8, American Legion to operate an ambulance.

HB-5: Appropriates $2,000 to the American Legion and its auxiliary for holding Boys' State and Girls' State for the next two years. Rep. Margaret R. Manning (R-Marshallton) answered "not voting" to her roll call on that one.

HB-6: Appropriate $1,750 to every fire company in Delaware, outside Wilmington, for each of the next two fiscal years, for fire fighting and prevention, and maintenance of apparatus and equipment. The number of fire companies and the total amount to be spent are not specified. But a similar measure currently costs $98,000 a year. Rep. Paul E. Shockley (D-Wilmington) was absent during the roll call, which produced 33 yeas.

HB-7: Appropriates $3,500 for the next two fiscal years to the Belvedere Volunteer Fire Company. Mr. Shockley answered "Not voting" and there were 33 yeas.

HB-10: Appropriates $30,000 for the next two fiscal years for prizes to be awarded at the Kent and Sussex County Fair, Inc.

HB-13: Appropriates $8,700 for the next two fiscal years to the Palmer Home, Inc., at Dover.

HB-14: Appropriates $10,000 for the next two fiscal years to the Layton Home for Aged Colored Persons, Wilmington.
