

Dr. Park W. Huntington To Speak At Friendship Dinner on Monday

Plans are rapidly being completed for the twelfth annual Harrington Friendship Dinner, which will be held Monday night, Feb. 23, at 6:30 in the Harrington High School cafeteria. According to Mrs. Charles Peck, Jr., chairman of the ticket committee the reservations are being made at a record pace.

The Harrington New Century Club is the host organization this year, with the Rotary Club, the Lions and the Business and Professional Women's Club all participating. The first dinner held in 1947 was inaugurated by Mrs. Earl Sylvester at that time, president of the Century Club. It was with the idea of promoting fellowship and friendship among the local groups that the idea was founded. Since then the dinners have usually taken place during Brotherhood Week in February, which is a fitting time.

A most interesting program is being planned. Mrs. Floyd Nasser, with the program committee Mrs. Norris C. Adams, Mrs. Thomas J. Clarke, Mrs. Oscar Roberts, and Mrs. Theodore H. Harrington, have secured the services of a very well known speaker. He is Dr. Park W. Huntington, of Wilmington. Dr. Huntington is familiar to many of the people in Harrington through his work in the American Legion. He served as State Commander in 1957-58. Others may know him best for his service as a minister for 25 years of St. Stephen's Lutheran Church, in Wilmington. He has published several books, "America Awake" in 1938, "The American Way to Happiness" in 1940 and "This Is the Hour" a devotional booklet. As a radio speaker, many have heard his program, "This Is the Hour," "Wake Up America" and morning and evening devotions from the Wilmington stations. He is a most able speaker and the message he will bring will be of interest to everyone.

World Day of Prayer At Asbury Church

The local observance of World Day of Prayer was held Friday evening, February 13, at Asbury Methodist Church.

Leading the responsive readings of the service were: Mrs. Robert H. Creadick, Mrs. William H. Mervine, Jr., Mrs. Floyd Nasser, Mrs. Frank O'Neal Jr., and the Rev. Mrs. Lorraine Ottinger.

The purpose and scope of World Day of Prayer was explained by Mrs. Chester E. Wilcox.

In order to emphasize some of the uses to which the World Day of Prayer offering is put, the collection was taken by Mrs. Arnold B. Gilstad, Mrs. Clyde Perry, Mrs. Mark Willey, and Mrs. Guy Weinbrenner, costumed as a migrant worker, an American Indian, a Pakistani Nurse, and a Japanese college student, respectively.

The Asbury Cathedral Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Richard S. Gibson, sang Mendelssohn's "Lift Thine Eyes".

The hymn, "The Day Thou Gavest, Lord," was sung by Mr. and Mrs. H. Arthur Hoffmann, daughter, Maureen, and son, Kenneth.

Next Year's observance of World Day of Prayer, which always falls on the first Friday in Lent, will be held at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

P. R. R. Asks End To Passenger Run Down State

The Pennsylvania Railroad Wednesday filed with the Delaware Public Service Commission a request to discontinue the operation of the sole remaining passenger service on the Delaware Road operating between Wilmington and Delmar.

Lack of patronage on the daily run from Wilmington to Delmar and return has led the railroad to request relief from the requirement of operating a single passenger coach on Trains No. 455 and 454.

No. 455 leaves Wilmington daily at 12:50 a. m., and arrives at Delmar at 4:20 a. m. No. 454 on the return trip leaves Delmar at 6:10 p. m., and arrives daily at Wilmington at 9:45 p. m.

Both trains have been operated with a single passenger coach attached to a train of baggage, mail and express cars. The commission has been asked merely to relieve the road of the requirement for operating the passenger service, the trains to continue.

The commission Wednesday took no action on the request other than planning to advise the railroad on the requirements for public advertisement of the contemplated action and preliminary arrangements for public hearings which are expected to take place within the next few weeks. The application for discontinuance will be given consideration at

Blood Typing Drive Successful

Announcement was made Wednesday that the Blood Typing program, sponsored jointly by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post No. 6483 the V.F.W. Auxiliary, and the Milford Memorial Hospital, Inc., was a success. The program was conducted on two evenings, Thurs., Feb. 12 and Tues., Feb. 17, from 6 to 8 p.m.

It is felt that there is much to be gained in a Blood Typing program such as this; for example if some member of a family were admitted to a hospital, a card containing the patient's blood type would save valuable time. In addition, anyone desiring to donate blood would have instant information regarding his or her type. This program is also advantageous to veterans, even though they know their blood type, it is possible that they do not know the R. H. factor, as it is a comparatively new development in the constantly improving Medical Technology.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Coffman, cochairman from the V.F.W. and its Auxiliary expressed extreme gratification to the many members of its organization who responded to the appeal for volunteer workers and the laboratory technicians of the hospital who volunteer their services on both evenings.

If people from Milford and the surrounding area are interested in this program being repeated next year, a response by phone to the V.F.W. may possibly result in another program.

Manship's Goal in Final Three Seconds Edges Delmar 50-48

By Keith S. Burgess

Dr. Ernest E. Grosse

How long can the H.H.S. basketball Lions keep on winning the close games? Tuesday night on the home court the charges of Coach Dick Jeffers snatched a 50-48 victory from Delmar on Bill Manship's basket with three seconds left. The locals have a splendid 9-3 record but have not had a good, comfortable, relaxing runaway victory all year. The fans as usual were limp but happy after this one.

Delmar displayed a tall, rugged team which brought to mind their great football record last fall. They took a four point lead in the first quarter and still led by two at halftime.

Don Garey, held to two points in the first half, scored 10 in the final stanza to greatly aid the Harrington cause.

The locals had a two-point lead and were freezing the ball with one minute to go when Delmar stole the oval and tied the score. Manship scored for H.H.S. at 50 seconds to enable them to take the lead only to have the border ladies tie it again at the 10 second mark. This set the stage for Bill's dramatic game-winning bucket.

Manship and Garey combined for 27 points to pace the Harringtonians.

Coach Jeffers emphasized that the win was another team effort. The Lions did not have a good night from the field or the foul line. Constant practice from the charity stripe doesn't seem to help much. Apparently this is the cross they must bear.

Phil Holson again played well as did John Taylor who turned in his best contest of the season.

Coach Bill Smith's junior varsity prevailed in a bench-clearing 47-38 triumph over the Delmar Jayvees. Smith's son, Bruce, sparkled for the home forces with 15 points.

Friday night Harrington journeys to New Castle to try for two in a row over St. Peters. The Lions prevailed by 10 points over the Saints in their first meeting Jan. 23 on the local floor.

Easter Seal Campaign Opens Next Friday

Tuned to the needs of crippled children and adults, the 1959 Easter Seal Campaign in Delaware and the nation will open Friday, Feb. 27 and continue through Easter Sunday, March 29.

John G. Leach, president of the Delaware Society for Crippled Children and Adults, announced that in the traditional 30 pre-Easter days, the year's Easter Seals will reach more than 70,000 Delaware homes.

"It will be the most extensive, and if we are to meet our community's needs, it must be the most successful campaign in history," he said.

Contributions will be used to maintain and expand our services for Delaware's physically handicapped children and adults.

The society now provides an equipment loan service consisting of wheelchairs, walkers, and hospital beds, camping enjoyment for children and adults at Fairlee Manor Camp; a homecraft program for homebound adults, and many other services.

The 1959 campaign is conducted simultaneously by 1700 other affiliates of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

IS IT WORTH A TRIAL

Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY) is proposing a new deal for federal prisoners. He would let a prisoner leave jail and go home for two weeks each year provided:

1. The prisoner had a good record.
2. He probably would not break the law on his visit.
3. The vacation would help his rehabilitation.

We believe Rep. Celler's proposal is worth a try. After all, nothing beats a trial but a failure and most human progress was made by he who tried.

IF IT IS LEGAL TO PLAY BINGO,
IT SHOULD BE LEGAL TO ADVERTISE IT

If it is legal to play bingo, and it is, it should be legal to advertise. The referendum, on the playing of the game, in the November elections, showed the populace heartily in favor of the diversion.

Such being the case, why prohibit the promoters of bingo from notifying the public when and where the games are to be held?

Without advertising, some sponsoring groups have not found bingo too profitable. This was emphasized this week when the Bingo Control Commission was faced with letters from the Claymont Fire Company, the Minquadales Fire Company, and St. John's Church, Newark, asking, among other changes, for the right to advertise.

The State will have a time making any money from bingo permits under the present setup. In January, there were 94 nights of play and each sponsor had to pay $7 to the State for each night of play. This returned the magnificent sum of $658 to the state government.

The Bingo Commission, however, has decided to wait a bit. Commissioner Harry S. Zerby said: "Any changes I feel should be made only after full study and on the basis of experience over an extended period. This legalized game of bingo is just too young for us to know what decisions can be made on changes."

We agree with Zerby, but hope time will enable the Bingo Commission to see the feasibility of advertising. When we say this, we are not thinking about personal gains.

If horse racing can be advertised, why not bingo?

Teen Script

with Barb Payne

Have you ever heard the expression, "I just haven't been myself lately?" Well—"Have you been yourself lately?" When you got up this morning were you off on cloud 9, were you Kim Novak or Elvis Presley? Maybe you think your eyebrows look better shaved, or because John Doe has glasses you think maybe your eyes are beginning to hurt too. Does the color of your hair suit you?—Or maybe you've decided you don't want any hair at all. How about the folks across the street—they bought a new door mat, so maybe it's time you think you should buy one too.

These are all questions that you could ask yourself this morning—but tomorrow morning try and ask yourself this question: "Why don't I give up and be myself today?—just my plain ole natural self!! You will be surprised how far it will get you.

I read an article not long ago where the girl said she was involved in a triangle romance—both she and John were in love with John!!! Are you in love with yourself?

Tomorrow morning when you get up—take a few minutes out to take a deep breath and to make up your mind to act like the person you are—to be just one person—yourself!!

GIRLS BASKETBALL

The high school basketball team went to Greenwood last Friday afternoon. The game was very close and exciting, but the Harrington girls went down in defeat with a score of 45-50 in Greenwood's favor.

Tues., Feb. 10, the girl's basketball team played host to the Felton girls. This again was a very close game, but this time Harrington came out on top with a score of 29-27. The game was well played by both teams.

The last home game will be with Laurel Feb. 17. Won't you come out and support your team.

The girl's basketball team made a trip to Caesar Rodney Thursday when the varsity girls won by a score of 41-39. It was a very exciting game, especially at the end when the score was 39-39 and two first string players had fouled out. They went into a two-minute overtime and Emily Ann Brown made a basket which won the game.

The J.V.'s also played a thrilling game when the score was 20-19 in our favor. Janie Phillips and Barbara Spicer were high scorers with 7 points each. Agnes Morgan was right behind them with 6 points.

Austria's motion picture industry adopted voluntary self-censorship of films to be shown there, but foreign film distributors in Vienna are not going along with it.

Felton School News

GIRLS BASKETBALL TEAM

The girls basketball team dropped two heartbreakers this week. On Tuesday in a seesaw battle, the Felton girls lost to Harrington 29-27. The defensive work of the local girls was good but Evelyn Walters supplied the only offensive punch with 14 points. A lack of more offensive strength made this game rough on the local girls. The girls also were quite weak on the foul line.

On Friday the girls went to Greenwood and met another worthy opponent and dropped another decision 56-49. The first half left much to be desired but the second half of the offense went to work and got back in the game. As the buzzer ended the local girls had pressed the Greenwood squad for two fierce quarters and the three forwards were well divided in the scoring column. Evelyn Walters, 18 points; Barb Hoffer, 11; Jo McCloskey, 20. A weak first half made the difference in the game on Friday night. It's the old story that good teams must rely on team work and not individual play. The girls have three remaining games to make their better than 500 per cent season. Good luck, girls, in the remaining three!

Friday night Bridgeville girls will be here.

BOYS BASKETBALL

On Tuesday night, Feb. 10, Harrington and Felton played a close game on the Felton court. The final score was 59-64 in favor of Harrington.

The scorers for the Varsity game were: Billy Rentz, 17; Joe Sherwood, 16; Billy Stubbs, 10; Richard McCloskey, 7; Bobby Edwards, 4; Richard Steele, 3; and Earl Walters with 2.

The Jayvees score was 38-26 in favor of Felton. The scorers were: Earl Walters, 12; Jerry Mack, 11; Richard Hurd, 9; and Bobby Edwards and Wayne Walters 3 each.

On Friday, Feb. 17, Felton traveled to Greenwood hoping to win the game but unfortunately the Varsity boys' luck was not with them. The score was 49-66 in favor of Greenwood. The scorers were: Billy Stubbs, 16; Billy Rentz, 11; Richard Steele, 11; Richard McCloskey, 5; Joe Sherwood, 4, and Dale Hammond with 1.

The Jayvees had better luck than the Varsity team did. The Jayvees boys played a wonderful game with the final score of 44-31 in favor of Felton. The scorers were: Bobby Edwards, 15; Richard Hurd, 11; Jerry Mack, 9; Wayne Walters, 7; and Bobby Donaway with 2.

The Felton F.F.A. will play its first game at Bridgeville Feb. 23 at 8 o'clock. The members of the Felton F.F.A. team are: Tom Stayton, Wallace Caulk, Donald Frazier, Claude Peterson, Lowell Farrow, Harry Morris, Allen Baker, Ray Melvin, Paul Caulk, Bobby Marker, Ronnie McCloskey, Paul Schreiber, Walter Kemp.

Trinity Methodist Church Notes

Feb. 22, next Sunday, will be the Day of Dedication for us. We postponed it from last Sunday because the American Legion and Auxiliary met with us that day. For Feb. 22 the pastor preaches on "Dedication — of What" (last Sunday, "Dedication — to What"). The Junior Choir will have a selection for us, and the Senior Choir's anthem is "God So Loved the World" by John Strainer. Mrs. Gordon Warner sings a solo, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" by Ambrose. Mr. Brobet's organ prelude is "Adoration" and postlude "When Skies Are Blue."

Sunday School is at 10:00. Last Sunday we had a big increase over attendance a year ago. Last Sunday, 145; a year ago, 5—there was a big snow storm.

About 20 men are planning to go from Trinity to the Lenten Communion and breakfast at Avenue Church in Milford, Sunday, Feb. 22, at 7 a.m.

Our evening services are adjourned to the Church of the Nazarene, around the corner on Mechanic Street for the second of our "Union Pre-Easter Services" held each Sunday evening at 8.

Our church, however, will not be deserted Sunday evening, for the Intermediate MYF has decided to change its time from Fridays to Sundays at 6 p.m. So Mrs. Jack Redden, leader, with her assistants, Mrs. Betty Jane Knox and Frances Wilcox, will be there, and all the young people of ages 11-14 who enjoy the worship, games, and refreshments.

The W.S.C.S. prayer meeting is held each Monday at 10 in the church annex, with Mrs. John Walls, leader.

Choir rehearsals are on Thursdays. Junior Choir 6:45 p.m., and Senior Choir at 8. Last Thursday the Senior Choir finished early and paid a surprise visit to Mrs. Leslie Wix, assistant organist.

The Official Board met last Monday, the 16th. It was advanced a week from the usual time, which is the fourth Monday, because of the Friendship Dinner on the 23rd. Mrs. William Shaw, chairman of the finance commission, presented the commission's budget for next year, which was approved.

Please remember the O.U.R. Class covered dish supper Saturday, Feb. 28, at 6:30. Come with your covered dish and a donation.

YOUR NEIGHBORS ENLARGING YOUR WORLD THROUGH SERVICE AND SCIENCE

This phrase sums up, we think, exactly who we are and what we stand for . . .

Your neighbors

Telephone men and women live and work in all the many Delaware communities they serve. They shop where you shop, worship where you worship. They take an active part, often as leaders, in the same civic drives which claim your own participation and support. They are public-spirited neighbors—friendly neighbors.

Enlarging your world through science

In giving wings to your words, telephone people provide a service practically indispensable to you in managing household and business affairs. They help you keep friendships alive, make new friends. They can almost instantly speed your voice—and personality—across the nation, to ships at sea, around the world. Your telephone opens for you a world undreamed of a few generations ago.

Day and night throughout the year, telephone men and women serve you. And in emergencies such as floods, hurricanes and crippling snowstorms, they work around the clock so that you can keep in touch with others, and others can keep in touch with you.

Enlarging your world through science

Our associates in research at Bell Laboratories are constantly exploring new scientific frontiers in the transmission of sound. They have pioneered in radio, television and other fields of communication in addition to telephony. Over the years, their discoveries and inventions have been applied by the engineers of Bell operating companies such as ourselves to keep improving your telephone service. The transistor, for example, is helping make possible direct dialing to distant points. It also is playing an essential role in America's exploration of space. Bell Laboratories, Western Electric Company (manufacturing arm of the Bell System) and Bell operating companies all contribute importantly to national defense. Further inventions and discoveries by telephone scientists are stories for the future to write. You can be sure today, though, that they will make your life brighter and better . . . and enlarge your world even further.

These, then, are the men and women who are

Children's Bureau Of Delaware Holds Meeting

The annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the Children's Bureau of Delaware was held Mon., Feb. 16, at noon in the Washington Street Branch of the Wilmington Y.M.C.A. with members of the staff as guests of the Board for the meeting. Robert N. Downs, III, president, presided. Among the new members of the Board elected for a three year term was Mrs. M. Hayes Wilson, Jr., of Dover. Also re-elected to the Board for another term was Mrs. William K. Paton of Dover, a former president of the Bureau. The resignation of Mrs. N. Maxson Terry of Dover as a member of the Board was accepted with deep regret and with an expression of appreciation for her past services to the agency. Other members of the Board from Kent and Sussex Counties are Mrs. Joseph S. C. Mach of Seaford, Mrs. Otis S. Smith of Lewes, and Mrs. John O. Snyder of Milford.

In the annual report to the Board on the agency's services in 1958, Miss Elizabeth S. Townsend, executive director, revealed that 61 children from Kent and Sussex Counties were provided with care in boarding and adoption home during the year. Of these 61 children, 32 were from Sussex County and 29 from Kent County. The Children's Bureau services are state-wide and available to families and children of any race and religion. The bureau is voluntarily supported by contributions made to the United Community Fund of Northern Delaware and the Dover United Community Fund, income from perpetual trusts and endowment, and contributions from the annual appeals in Kent and Sussex Counties, as well as appropriations from the Levy Courts. In 1958, the Bureau expended $186,140.84 to provide services to 368 children and their families; 293 of these children were actually given care. Services include temporary boarding care for children who must be provided with substitute family living during a crisis in their own family until they can return home and adoption service for children legally released by their parents for permanent care.

Of the applications for placement of 183 children in 1958, 34 of these were for children from Kent and Sussex Counties and 20 of these children actually came into the agency's care during the year. The report disclosed that the majority of children now accepted into care are new born infants who will be legally released for adoptive placement. This expanding adoption program is clearly indicated in the figures which show that 90 children were placed with adoptive parents during 1958 after a brief period in temporary boarding homes. Twenty-seven families in Kent and Sussex Counties were in the process of adopting children through the Bureau in 1958, and of these twelve received their child during the year, and adoptions of twelve children were completed during the year.

The report made particular mention of the continuing need of Negro families to adopt children. In 1958 only 11 Negro children were placed for adoption as compared with 19 children in the previous year. Negro families interested in adopting a child were urged to contact the agency about this.

Since the Bureau's annual appeal for funds in the two counties is not officially ended, an annual report of the campaign was not presented at the meeting, however, it was reported that receipts to date from the two county appeals are as follows: Kent County - $760.50 and Sussex County - $2,160.50. The goal for the campaign was $3500, so contributions are still urgently needed to realize the goal. Appreciation was expressed to those who have contributed for their support of the Bureau's services.

Milford Hospital Notes

Mrs. Alice Stevenson, director of nurses, and Mrs. Catherine B. Cover, director of education, Milford Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, are attending a three-day National Regional Nurses Conference at Asbury Park, N. J. This conference, which is conducted annually, is sponsored by the National League for Nursing.

The purpose of conferences of this nature is a complete re-evaluation and study of the educational aspects in the nursing field. This particular session is concentrating much of its efforts on a study of the curriculum content of the nursing program.

The February meeting of the Milford Memorial Hospital Auxiliary was held Tuesday, Feb. 10, at the Nurses Homes with Mrs. John Baker presiding. Mrs. L. L. Fitchett, shop chairman, gave a very interesting report of the financial status of our shop and cart operation. The special Christmas Shop, which operated under the direction of Mrs. I. D. Short, had sales of approximately $500 from November 14 to December 24. This did not detract from the main shop during the same period, which showed sales amounting to over $800. The deposits made from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, 1958 amounted to about $13,000. This certainly comes under the heading of big business. Mrs. Fitchett turned over her chairmanship after two years to Mrs. Dean Kimmel.

Mrs. Byron Gibson reported on the membership drive. At present there are almost 800 paid members. The goal for this year is set for 1000. A community effort of this magnitude should easily consist of this desired number. Members are again urged to interest new persons. Every dollar helps.

Gerard Lorenz, the hospital administrator, gave a most interesting report of the various departments. He had many figures in relation to the amount of services and business of the previous year. He outlined some of the needs in the future, and the auxiliary was very pleased to realize the part they have played in the past and will continue to play in the future.

Mrs. William Wells announced that all candy to be sold at the Lions Club Minstrel be brought to the Nurses Homes Wed., Feb. 18, for packaging. This year the Blue Hens Chicks, a youth organization under the leadership of Mrs. David Hugg, has volunteered to sell candy at the two performances Feb. 18 and 19.

Mrs. I. D. Short requests all white elephants for the May 9 Fair be brought to her home—anything salable.

The portrait by Mrs. Vincent Acko, which she generously donated to the auxiliary, was won this year by Mrs. J. B. Homan. The meeting was turned over to the new president, Mrs. Raymond Masten.

The Globetrotters were victorious over the Falcons 24-15 and the Celtics defeated the Eagles 28-17.

The Eagles' roster includes: Jim Rash, Mike Kohel, R. Matthews, Mike Walmsley, R. Reed, David Masten, M. Szmajda, Donald Melvin, Walter Perdue, Billy Dill and Frank Welch. Al Crisson is manager, assisted by Marvin Brown.

The Falcons lineup is: R. Szmajda, Wells, Jim Ralph, Ed Wheatley, Wayne Porter, Lee Vincent, Dennis Simpson, Raymond Poore, Lester Minner, Ron Porter, and Lyn Hopkins. Jack Swain is manager, assisted by Bill Jester.

Two New Bulletins Available

Both hay and strawberry farmers will be interested in one of two new technical bulletins recently published by the Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station. They are now available in county agricultural agent George Vapaa's office.

"The Fertility Requirements of Laidino Clover and Orchard Grass" should be of interest to hay and pasturemen and "Chemical Control of Plant Populations in Strawberries" should appeal to strawberry men.

The bulletin on laidino and orchard grass explains yield studies carried on at a University of Delaware plot at Newark and at the Georgetown substation. The results of 42 different fertilizer treatments are reported along with other information on rainfall, protein and dry matter content, and reactions of applications of various elements and combinations.

Some conclusions are drawn which should help pasture and hay growers in their own production, he said.

The strawberry bulletin deals with population control with different materials and treatments. The effect of the various methods on the plans is compared and reported. The effect on runner elongations, plant population, crown weight, yields, and size and number of berries are all discussed in the new publication.

Ask at Mr. Vapaa's office for the bulletins by name or number. The laidino-clover bulletin is number 325 and the strawberry bulletin is number 324.

Veterans News

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—If I don't want to take my GI insurance dividends in cash, what kind of arrangements can I make with VA to hold dividends to my credit?

A—You have your choice of two plans. Under one, you simply tell VA you would like to have your dividends held for you, on deposit. In the other plan, called the dividend credit plan, VA holds your dividends, and will automatically withdraw funds to pay GI insurance premiums, in case you miss paying them. Under both plans your dividends draw interest.

Q—Can a veteran get a GI loan for the purpose of buying an automobile to be used in commuting to and from his job, or for pleasure driving?

A—No. However, if an automobile is found to be essential in a veteran's business or farming operations, it may be possible to get a GI loan.

Q—I am a Korea veteran, receiving compensation for a service-connected disability. Lately my handicap has made it harder for me to stay on the job and do my work. How can I get help from VA in training for a new job?

A—Apply to VA for vocational rehabilitation training. If VA finds that you are in need of training, you may enroll in school, on the job or on the farm training to prepare for a new career.

Q—I meet eligibility requirements for both disability compensation and disability pension. May I receive both?

A—No. The law says you may choose one or the other, but may not collect both.

A little time spent on crochet can go a long way—if you use it to make edgings, instead of complete pieces. Of course nothing is more elegant and beautiful in your dining room than a whole tablecloth worked by hand in your favorite crochet style. But, lovely as it is, a fine tablecloth can take years to make. And many busy modern women often just don't feel they have the leisure to devote to such a major project.

THE BORDER'S THE THING

Luckily, an easy solution offers itself to our dilemma—the attractive edging that works up in no time, yet adds the same hand-crafted look, the same aura of charm and gracious living around a linen cloth at a very special dinner. This also holds true on a smaller scale. Whatever you have in mind for your home... place mats, a tray cloth for a sickroom, a dresser runner or a card table luncheon set... a fine piece of fabric, bordered by hand in crochet, is sure to add the perfect finishing touch. And I can't think of a better Christmas gift for a friend who takes deserved pride in filling her household with prized possessions.

A SQUIRREL GAME

Filet—a wonderful combination of the best in traditional and modern taste—is always highly regarded among women who wield crochet hooks and those who love to live among beautiful things. Today we're suggesting a particularly appealing edging, a squirrel design worked out in the blocks and spaces of filet in size #30 crochet cotton. To obtain the free instructions, just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this newspaper and ask for SQUIRREL EDGING, Leaflet No. PC-9727.

House Adopts Bill For State Labor Board

The Department of Labor bill was passed by the House of Representatives Monday with 20 members voting for the bill and no one voting against it.

Twelve Democrats answered "not voting" at the roll call, one Democrat answered "present" and two members were absent—one from each party. The support for the bill came from all eight Democrats from all three counties.

The bill (HB-50) was among four bills and two resolutions passed by the House, which also received eight new bills and two amendments Monday, and saw four bills stricken from the calendar.

HB-50, introduced by Rep. Joseph S. Latina (D-Wilmington) would create a Department of Labor and Industrial Relations which would take over the duties of the present Industrial Accident Board and of the Labor Commission of Delaware. The former board would be taken into the department as a separate division; the Labor Commission, however, would be abolished.

In addition to taking over the work of the two existing agencies, the department would be authorized to make and administer rules on industrial safety. And it would have the services of an attorney, sworn in as a special deputy attorney general, for enforcement work.

The department would also be authorized to promote voluntary arbitration, mediation and conciliation of labor disputes, and to promote voluntary apprenticeship.

Rulings of the department would be subject to review in the Superior Court. The work of the department would be guided by a four-member bipartisan board appointed by the Governor, with the consent of the Senate. Board members would receive $500 a year and expenses in attending meetings.

The executive of the new agency would be a commissioner of labor and industrial relations, appointed by the board, and receiving a salary of $9000. Occupations specifically exempt from the proposed new law are: Baby sitting, domestic help, professions, agriculture, fishing, hunting, migratory workers of all types, waitresses and bellboys, and delivery boys.

Several of the bills introduced today are variations of bills previously introduced. One of these is HB-122, handed up Monday by Rep. Earl McGinnes (D-Forest Brook Glen), to create a Public School Construction Commission. The same end is sought in HB-102, introduced on Feb. 5. Both bills were derived from a bill introduced at the last session, and some of the language is the same in both. Just before HB-122 was introduced Monday, Rep. Charles C. King (D-Smyrna), chairman of the Appropriations Committee, reported HB-102 from that committee, with all five members favoring it.

Mr. McGinnes emphasized that he had hoped to have his bill in earlier so that the two could be considered together, and that he did not wish to cause a conflict. He noted there are some differences.

School Construction
HB-122 has two main provisions not in the predecessor. It would give the proposed School

Construction Commission the power to set up a procedure whereby bids for a school construction project could be required before the election to determine whether the voters will authorize a bond issue to finance the work, and also before the General Assembly is asked to approve a bond issue. Secondly, HB-122 gives local school districts the right to build any facilities they want, if the local district is paying entirely for those facilities, and the expenditures have been approved by the City Council in the case of Wilmington, or by the voters in the case of a school district outside Wilmington. In the latter case, the referendum must be separate from any other election issue.

The proposed new commission would consist of five members under HB-122 and of seven members under HB-102. In both bills the commission would have general control over the planning, designing, locating, construction, and altering of any public school building in the state.

Rep. Russel D. F. Dineen (D-Wilmington) handed up HB-128, a new measure to require the use of voter identification cards. His previous bill on this subject, HB-90, provided for an appropriation. The new one requires the issuance of the cards, sets up the form, and provides no appropriation.

A new bill to set up a separate State Police Department and a State Police Commission was introduced by Rep. Charles F. Richards (R-Dover). Monday's measure is HB-127, and the earlier one on this subject, HB-82, also by Mr. Richards, was stricken from the calendar.

The new one names the four-member body which would be in charge of the department the State Police Commission.

Rep. Paul E. Shockley (D-Wilmington) introduced a new hospital appropriation measure in HB-126, and had the previous one (HB-16) stricken from the calendar. In the new one the figures on hospital beds, and the state appropriation to the hospitals, are revised upward. And the non-existent St. James Hospital listed in HB-16 is omitted. In the earlier bill the appropriation was $874,775, for each of the next two fiscal years. The new bill, looking forward to further expansion, would appropriate a total of $904,750 for the next fiscal year, and $1,067,000 for the following one.

Hospital Funds

The state appropriation is $550 per bed. According to the bill the following hospitals are expected to add there numbers of beds before fiscal 1961 is over: Beebe, 25; Kent General, 50; The Memorial, 20; Milford Memorial, 10; Riverside, 50, and St. Francis, 140. The figures mean that two hospitals plan to increase to more than double their present size, with St. Francis jumping from 116 to 256 beds, and Riverside from 38 to 88.

Another second though is HB-129, introduced by Mr. Dineen. Like HB-108, which he introduced Feb. 9, it would permit the Departments of Elections to select the primary election officers and clerks. HB-129 specifies they shall be divided equally as possible between the two principal parties, whereas, HB-108 added that where the primary election involves only one party, all the officials shall be of that party. Apparently, the thought behind the new bill is that having all the election officials from the party having the fight may give undue advantage to the existing party organization when another group is challenging that organization.

Three bills introduced Monday by Mr. Latina would boost the salaries of three New Castle County officials to $7000.

These are the recorder of deeds, who now gets $6000, and the register of wills and register in chancery, each of whom gets $5400. The bills are HB-124, 125 and 123, respectively.

Rep. James R. Quigley (D-New Castle) Monday put in an amendment to HB-60, the dog racing bill, to change the distribution from the pari-mutuel pools. The amendment would give the state three and a half per cent and no breakage, instead of the four and a half per cent plus half the breakage suggested in HB-60. The track operators would get 12 1/2 per cent plus the breakage under the amendment, instead of three per cent and half the breakage. The breakage would be calculated on the lowest multiple of five cents, rather than 10 cents. The amendment would also add a provision that outstanding tickets unclaimed within six months would go to the state.

Other Measures Passed
HB-21—To pay expenses of $325 for roll call books and bill backers. By Mr. Quigley. Voice Vote.

HB-69—To authorize the New Castle County Levy Court to include the Port Penn Volunteer Fire Company in the groups receiving county aid for maintaining a rescue squad. By Rep. Sherman R. Tribbitt (D-Odessa), 33 yeas; two absent.

HB-80—To require the Levy Court to appropriate $600 each to certain fire companies maintaining rescue squads. By Rep. T. Lees Bartleson (R-Lindamere), 33 yeas, two absent.

HB-69—To repeal a law limiting the liability of newspapers for libel. 26 yeas; 8 nays; one absent.

Williamson Trade School Accepts Applications for Scholarships in Trade And Technical Fields

Applications for three-year scholarships in trade and technical field are now being accepted by the Williamson Trade School in suburban Philadelphia, located three miles from Media, Pa.

Through expanded facilities made possible with the opening of the John Wanamaker School of artisans next September, Williamson will be able to increase both its faculty and student body and upgrade technical and academic courses to include the training of craft-technicians, in addition to young men skilled in trades.

The new school of artisans, to be operated as a division of Williamson School, will add a science building and four shops to the building and four shops to the existing facilities and offer post-high school courses to boys who qualify. A new library will also be ready for use in the fall.

Established in 1888 and one of the oldest trade schools in the country, Williamson gives free board, lodging, and instruction, both academic and shop for three years, to young men between the ages of 16 and 19. Training is also offered in the following trades: machine shop, carpentry, painting and decorating, brick-laying and power plant operation. Starting in September, boys who qualify will be given more advanced work, on the craft-technician level with related academic training.

The school, situated on a 242 acre campus, also offers a wide program of sports and extra-curricular activities, both recreational and social. Almost 4000 students have been graduated during its 70 years of operation, many of whom today hold top positions in the nation's industry.

Upon application, the prospective student is asked to submit a transcript of his school record together with the report of a physical examination by his local physician. If these are satisfactory, the candidate is notified early in May to appear for examinations which consist of standard mental and mechanical comprehensive tests.

John G. Boyd, Assistant Superintendent, invites all inquiries to be addressed to him and upon request will send the applicant an illustrated booklet, outlining Williamson's full program and activities.

The school's address is: Middletown Road, Media, R. D., Pa.

Needlecraft News

by Nancy Baxter

The wonderful world of dolls and teddy bears, Peter Rabbit and Peter Pan—remember what fun it was? In a different way, the mysteries of make-believe are always ours to enjoy and to share. A "grown-up" can still hit on an exciting new game to break the ice at a birthday party. And we all know how often Mom's imagination or big sister's ingenuity is called to the rescue of a fretful rainy afternoon.

ect for one of the many children on your list, you'll find making doll clothes a welcome change and a very good way to use up short leftover ends of cotton and yarn.

HIGHLAND FLING

Little girls will love this holiday in plaid for a Scotch doll—preferably redhaired, and 12 inches tall. The tiny kilt ensemble calls for the simplest of knitting stitches and can be finished in no time at all, from tasseled tam to the little buttoned shoes. Soft navy, scarlet and white wool make up the plaid. For your free directions, just write the Needlework Dept. of this newspaper. Send along a stamped, self-addressed envelope and request KNITTED COSTUME FOR BETSY WETSY DOLL, Leaflet No. PK-9847.

INSTEAD OF BABY CLOTHES

Playthings for the youngest set offer a field day for parents, relatives and friends who want to make something by hand for Junior or Junior Miss. Chances are, the articles you make yourself will be a lot sturdier and longer lasting than many of those you buy. And there's so much a woman can do, with knitting needles or a crochet hook. Cuddly cotton-stuffed animals in thick, fast-to-work crochet cottons. Aprons and all sorts of around-the-home accessories for that universal little girls' game, "playing house." Best of all, why not whip up an outfit or a whole wardrobe for a favorite doll? If you're always in the midst of some needlework project, you'll find making doll clothes a welcome change and a very good way to use up short leftover ends of cotton and yarn.

Farm and Home Week Roundup

TUESDAY

Dean George M. Worrlow of the School of Agriculture, official host for this year's three-day farm and home week at the University of Delaware, explained this year's theme—Science, serving Farm, Home, Industry—to visitors assembled for the opening day general session.

"Acre for acre, it is difficult to find any area in the nation where demands on the land are higher than in Delaware," the agriculture dean emphasized. "These demands are from farmers producing ever-higher yields of top quality products; from city people who are moving in rapidly-increasing numbers to the suburbs, and the country; from farm-related and other businesses for land and for agricultural raw materials for processing or manufacture.

"Increasingly, people look to agricultural research and extension education for answers to problems brought about by this great pressure on the land. Finding answers to such problems and getting the information quickly to people who need it is the job of our research workers and extension specialists," he explained.

HAY—A panel of experts proclaimed the time-honored phrase "Make hay while the sun shines" to be an obsolete agricultural expression, made so by the rapid advance of farm science and technology. The panel said in effect that hay can be made anytime—even in rain—if you have the right equipment.

Panel member Daniel D. Denman, Cortland, O., dairyman and one of the nation's leaders in the use of pelleted hay, said, "If the ground will hold up our dual wheel tractor, we can harvest hay."

Denman cut, chopped, dried and stored 500 tons of alfalfa hay from 200 acres last year.

"People from Maine to Texas have come to see our operation—they all have the same problem—rain". Our crop-dry pellet and store-system beats the weather, Denman told the crowd.

G. L. Cole, U. of D. agricultural economics research worker, pointed to artificial hay drying systems as making possible great improvements in quality and quantity of hay.

"At Bunker Hill, the university hay research farm, hay brought in from the field at around 35 percent moisture and dried with special heating equipment contained three per cent more protein, 500 pounds more crude protein and produced 1100 pounds more hay per acre than field dried hay", Cole reported. "Most of the 1100 pounds of extra yield was made up of high protein leaves", Cole stressed.

Agricultural economist, W. T. McAllister, pointed out profit possibilities for Delaware farmers in producing quality hay. "Hay can be a cash crop here because we are in the center of an area which stables about 33,000 horses year round and has another 15,000 to 20,000 in for the racing season." "There is a market for 30 to 40 thousand tons of high quality hay just for the house market", McAllister emphasized.

POULTRY—The opening-day poultry sessions were devoted to disease control and maintenance of flock health. Dr. Stephen B. Hitchner, research veterinarian with the American Scientific Laboratories, Madison, Wis., described a new method of vaccination against infectious laryngotracheitis which offers many advantages over the traditional brush application of vaccine to the vent.

Tests indicate that the vaccine may be effectively applied by the drop method, already in use for applying certain other types of vaccines.

Hitchner listed the following among advantages offered by the new method: 1) Uniformity of dosage from bird to bird; 2) Uniformity of method of application by different vaccinators; 3) Ease, rapidity and cleanliness of the vaccination procedure. Birds also may be vaccinated at an earlier age by the drop method, the veterinarian pointed out.

Dr. William J. Benton, poultry pathologist with the University of Delaware, reported on research efforts aimed at controlling leukosis. For the present there is no vaccination against the disease and no treatment. He advised growers not to waste money on drugs. Careful selection of stock, growing young birds separate from older ones, and strict sanitation and management procedures are the only recommendations that can be given at present for reducing the incidence of the disease, he said.

4-H CHERRY PIE CONTEST—The 4-H cherry pie baking contest was a thrill-packed affair because the winner competes in the National Cherry Pie Baking contest, now underway in Chicago, Feb. 16-20. The winner and Delaware's 4-H representative is Nancy Pearson, Dover. She left by plane Monday. The panel of three judges picked her pie out of a field of six.

The six contestants were all winners in county contests. Others entered were: Connie Parvis, Houston; Joanne Hastings, Bridgeville; Helen Grampp, Dover; Doris Jestice, Laurel, and Phoebe Fassig, Newark.

DHIA AWARDS—In another award event, five Delaware Dairy Herd Improvement Association members won awards and four D.H.I.A. supervisors also were honored.

The dairymen honored were: first, Joseph Moore and Son, Dover; second, B. Irvin Armstrong, Middletown; third, Mitchell and Proud, Hockessin; fourth, James L. Brooks, Milton, and fifth, Samuel Dixon, Dover.

Supervisors receiving awards were: first, Clar Burkhardt, Wilmington; second, Galen Benner, Middletown; third, Lee Currey, Wyoming; fourth, Jesse Eash, Milton.

All the winners received cash awards and the first two places also received plaques with their names inscribed on them.

The awards were presented by Henry Huff, Clover Dairy, Wilmington, representing the National Dairy Products Corporation, which sponsors the awards.

DAIRY—Dairy farmers heard research reports covering various aspects of production and dairy herd management. Dr. C. R. Richards of the University of Delaware department of animal and poultry industry, discussing the use of antibiotics as a feed additive for dairy cattle reported that some claims have been made by research workers that antibiotics have increased milk pro-

THURSDAY

LIVESTOCK—A livestock program speaker, Frank G. Fitz-Roy, president of the Baltimore Union Stock Yards, expressed the belief that there is room on the Delmarva Peninsula for three times as many hogs, cattle and lambs as are now being produced. He estimated that because of our growing population, livestock production in the U. S. will have to increase by 30 per cent over the next decade. "In this Delmarva area, we are fortunate in the concentration of population around us. The markets from Boston to Washington are better than any other concentrated area in the United States. And they promise to remain good", he declared.

15-TON TOMATO AWARDS—The highlight of the Thursday afternoon potato and vegetable program was the award of certificates and prizes to 1958's 15-ton tomato producers by Governor J. Caleb Boggs.

The winners and the tons per acre they produced are: Christopher M. Lee, Goldsboro, Md., 26.2 tons; G. Lester Cleaver, Middletown, 24.4 tons; Baker Brothers, Middletown, 22.1 tons; Joseph Jackewicz, Camden, 19.3 tons; Fifer Fruit Farms, Magnolia, 18.5 tons; Franklin Roe, Magnolia, 18.3 tons; H. C. Richardson and sons, Wyoming, 17.35 tons; Carl Sytnik, Townsend, 17.1 tons; Nicholas Uniatowski, Townsend, 16.9 tons; G. E. and S. H. Brooks, Middletown, 16.9 tons; S. H. Derby and Company, Woodside, 16.8 tons; Cartanza Brothers, Dover, 16.7 tons; Red Lion Farms, Middletown, 16.7 tons; John H. Dukavich, Leipsic, 16.55 tons; V. P. Kohl, Middleton, 16.2 tons; George Horsey, Laurel, 16 tons; C. Fred Stites, Little Creek, 15.4 tons; James Metz, Magnolia, 15.4 tons.

POTATOES—Onaway, a new potato variety tested by the Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station in 1958, proved particularly outstanding according to Professor E. P. Brasher, chairman of the U. D. department of horticulture. Reporting to 150 potato and vegetable growers, Brasher announced that Onaway produced more than 2 1/4 tons of U. S. No. 1 potatoes per acre and said the variety looks very promising for Delaware.

He also reported on effect of seed piece size on yields, which indicated that 2-ounce whole potatoes produce the most economical yields, while the next best yields came from 2 to 4 ounce tubers, cut in halves. Pieces ranging in size from 1 1/2 to two inches in diameter were superior to the regular size of above two inches.

FFA EXHIBITS—Winners in an exhibits contest between Delaware chapters of the Future Farmers of America were announced Thursday. Seaford High School was first with an exhibit on soil testing; Selbyville, second, corn production and soil testing; Bridgeville, third, cropping practices and pastures; Laurel, fourth, hay drying equipment. The contest was sponsored by the Delaware Crop Improvement Association.

HOME ECONOMICS—The ladies' home economics program ran every day of Farm and Home Week. A few of the highlights were:

ANTIQUES—More than 250 women turned out to a Thursday session on furniture refinishing to hear tips from cabinetmaker Robert T. Hogg, of Cream, Pa., on recognizing fine antiques and reproductions. Pointing out that some of the finest walnut comes from this section of the United States, Mr. Hogg told the women how to recognize period furniture including Hepplewhite, Chippendale and Sheraton. He also exhibited fine antiques and reproductions he had made in walnut, cherry, maple and mahogany.

TEENAGE NUTRITION—Wednesday's session included a discussion of human nutrition problems aimed at the mothers of teenage children by Mayton Zickelsoose, nutritionist with the Delaware State Board of Health who said that self-imposed low calorie diets by teenagers often lead to malnutrition. This in turn can mean lowered resistance to disease, poor teeth, sallow complexion and lack of stamina.

Miss Zickelsoose said the teenager normally has the biggest appetite in the family; his nutritional needs are the greatest. These requirements are increased by rapid growth, greater activity and imbalance in physical development of various parts of the body.

"Good nutrition is not a hit-or-miss proposition. It does not come overnight, but is a result of a lifetime of daily good eating habits", the nutritionist emphasized.

Social Security Notes

Do you know that you are required by law to pay social security taxes for employees who work in your private household?

This requirement and other helpful information about social security are explained in a handy, four page leaflet "Do you Have a Maid?", according to Edward F. Sullivan, manager of the Dover social security office. The leaflet was published jointly by the Internal Revenue Service and the Social Security Administration.

It contains a clip-out registration card for employers of household workers to mail to Internal Revenue Service for tax reporting forms.

"Employers paying their maids, cooks, chauffeurs, and other domestic help $50 or more in a calendar quarter of the year must make quarterly reports to Internal Revenue," Sullivan said. "The report must be accompanied by the payment of 5% social security tax on wages paid. This tax is shared by employee and employer."

Free copies of the booklet are available upon request. You may get your copy by visiting or writing to the social security office located at 230 W. Loockerman St. Dover, Del. Ask for leaflet 21.

Poultry Inspection Mark

The round USDA "Inspected for Wholesomeness" mark on the chicken, turkey, duck, or other poultry product is a symbol of added consumer protection, Florence Y. Smith, county home demonstration agent, says.

That's because all poultry processed in plants engaged in interstate commerce is now required to be checked for wholesomeness by federal inspectors.

The Poultry Products Inspection Act, the law which provides this added consumer protection, went into effect January 1. Though there are some exemptions of a practical nature while the Agricultural Marketing Service is in the transitional period of putting this law into effect, you are practically certain to see the round inspection mark in most of the larger grocery stores these days, Mrs. Smith said.

The inspection mark is usually on wing tags, clips, outer wrappers or boxes, or on giblet wrappers. Some inspected poultry, however, may not be identified as such at your store.

Fresh dressed, ice-packed chickens are usually shipped in large boxes, which do carry the inspection mark and are then packaged at the retail store, where they may or may not be identified as federally inspected. By inquiring at your store, you should be able to find out if poultry has been inspected.

Poultry processing plants operating under government inspection must meet strict requirements for sanitation and processing practices.

Every bird processed is examined by a veterinarian or a trained inspector working under his supervision to make sure that it is clean, healthy food.

Poultry that passes this test is identified with the USDA inspection mark and is your assurance of wholesomeness, Mrs. Smith said.

Senate Passes Measure Setting Up Park Districts

The Senate Monday passed the bill which would establish park districts in New Castle and allow individual communities to issue bonds for park and recreation development.

The Senate also received two new bills, one to authorize a $2,500,000 bond issue to enable the state to take advantage of some $6,000,000 in federal funds for road construction, and a bill which would provide for referendums in New Castle County school districts to determine whether the property owners want boards elected.

During the day the Senate received two resolutions, each of which is likely to precipitate hot floor fights between Republicans and Democrats when the lawmakers reconvene Thursday at 1 p.m.

One was Senate Concurrent Resolution 10, a Democratic proposal to establish a bi-partisan Joint Revenue Committee to dig into the possibility of turning up more sources of revenue.

The other, making certain changes in Senate rules, is almost sure to stir controversy, particularly a section which would reduce the majority needed to suspend rules from two-thirds to a single majority.

The park district bill (SB-22) introduced Jan. 23 by Senator McCullough, was called up Monday by McCullough and passed without debate.

McCullough explained that there is nothing binding about the bill and that individual communities would decide by referendum whether they want to sell bonds to finance park and recreation improvements. The bill provides for property taxes of up to 5 cents per $100 of assessed valuation to take care of bond retirement.

Edwin G. Willing, chairman of the county Park and Recreation Commission, explained that "this has been worked for and hoped for by many communities and civic associations in the county." He explained that it is only an enabling act, and will not affect state or county funds. "It's strictly self-help," Willing said.

The highway bond (SB 39) was handed up by McCullough and Senator Curtis W. Steen (D-Dagsboro).

Highway Department officials explained that the bond issue would enable Delaware to take advantage of some $6,000,000 in federal highway money available to Delaware.

Last year when Congress passed the so-called "anti-recession bill" making millions of dollars available for road work, and the jobs it would entail, Delaware put up its $3,000,000 to get the matching funds.

Consequently, highway officials explained, there is no money available at the moment to take care of the remainder of the present fiscal year.

The federal money, plus the state's $2,500,000, would make it possible to launch some $9,000,000 worth of road work, including 10 projects connected with the freeway (FAI-1) on which the federal government pays 90 per cent of the cost.

The school elections bill was introduced by Republican Senators Reynolds duPont, Greenville; Jacob A. Correll, Newark, and Wilmer F. Williams, Roselle. It was called for in the Republicans' 1958 platform.

It would provide that members of the school boards in New Castle County now appointed by the resident judge of the Superior Court should continue to be so appointed except where the district has determined that it wants the boards to be elective.

The bill would provide that "upon written petition of two per cent of those persons qualified to vote at a general election, a school board within 30 days shall call a special election . . . and shall give notice . . ." If the voters decide to have the boards elective, elections shall be held at the end of the terms of the current members, and shall be elective from then on.

A Democratic bill (HB-79), has already passed the House. This would automatically make all school boards in New Castle County elective.

Senator Jesse F. Watson (D-Townsend), chairman of the elections committee to which the bill was referred, announced at the close of Monday's session that a public hearing on HB 79 would be held in the Senate chamber at 2 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 26.

Delaware Food Market Report

By Anne Holberton
Agricultural Extension Service,
University of Delaware

In addition to being just plain good and wonderfully versatile, Sardines have a plus factor. They contain high-quality protein and an abundance of minerals and vitamins. This, of course, makes them a natural to include in your menus. This is especially so since the 1958 production of California sardines is about 2 million cases. It is the first time for several years that production is near normal instead of way below.

Did you know that there is no such fish as a sardine, zoologically speaking that is. Actually, it is a small fish belonging to the herring family. The name comes from the island of Sardina, for they were long observed swimming in the Mediterranean around the island. Today our sardines come from the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans and are packed chiefly in Maine and California. And, you can find this versatile fish to suit your particular taste - with or without oil, in tomato and mustard sauces, smoked and barbecued at your local grocery store and reasonably priced.

For fresh fish, there are numerous species in good supply now. Those coming from Northern and local waters are: Pollock, Scup, Flounder and Cod. Southern varieties now available are: bluefish, King Mackerel and Red Snapper. Regardless of which variety of fish you choose, the most important thing to remember when you cook it, is not to overcook. Just enough cooking to enable the flesh to be flaked easily from the bones will leave the fish moist and tender and bring out its delicious flavor.

Potatoes and the salad vegetables are your best buy this week. A good selection of Cobbler and Idaho potatoes are available and prices are low. Many more new potatoes can be found at local markets although prices are much higher on these. Radishes, celery, green onions, escarole, endive and some lettuce are all moderately priced. Other vegetables to check when shopping are: sweet potatoes, broccoli, mushrooms, carrots and cabbage.

Michigan hothouse rhubarb is a new addition to the fruit counter and prices are reasonable. Apples this week head the list of low priced fruit. Enjoy them now since prices tend to advance in late February. Grapefruit and oranges remain plentiful and prices reasonable.

Pork, lamb and poultry are all in good supply and there are many weekend specials on these meats. Choice grade beef is becoming more plentiful but prices remain about as they have been, making specials your best chance for savings.

Kim Novak's "BELL BOOK AND CANDLE" at Reese Feb. 22-23-24

The management of Movie Center says, "We are hitting the 'high spots' by presenting a glittering array of top entertainment. Theatre fans within a radius of thirty miles attest to this by their attendance week after week.

An unusual galaxy of top hits may be found listed for this and the coming week in this newspaper.

For this Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, Feb. 19-20-21, the entire family should be represented. Richard Eyer of "Friendly Persuasion"; fame, along with Stephen McNally and Coleen Gray are the featured stars in "Johnny Rocco", the boy who had a delinquent father. The ever popular Gene Evans in "Revolt in the Big House" Allied Artists' new action hit, completes this all-family bill, plus a giant all-family cartoon carnival.

It is here. Critics everywhere agree that "Bell, Book and Candle", with Kim Novak, Jimmy Stewart, and Jack Lemmon is the most unusual, as well as the most entertaining picture of the year. It is listed for showing at the Reese, Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, Feb. 22-23-24.

Caesar Rodney School News

The February meeting of the Caesar Rodney Board of Education ran into an overtime session due to the many items of business, including the already reported review of integration policy.

The Board approved the senior class trip to New York City May 14, 15, 16 subject to the class developing a satisfactory set of conduct regulations and subject to the scholastic requirement that all students making the trip have a passing average at the end of the fifth marking period in all subjects required for graduation. The request was presented by John Parker, vice-president of the class, as the president, William Pickering, had a basketball game at the time of the meeting. Parker also presented a request from the local chapter of the National Honor Society for permission to award standard school letters to members of the chapter the second semester of the senior year. The request was unanimously approved.

Alex Daly, president of the junior class, and Peggy Holland, treasurer of the class, presented a request from the class that the Board modify its policy requiring school buses to be used for all trips not in excess of 150 miles one way, except the senior trip, to be changed to include the annual one day Junior Class trip to Washington, D. C. This change would enable the juniors to hire the more expensive coaches instead of school buses of the Washington, D. C. trip.

The Board approved the request with the understanding that the senior trip next year would be cut by one day if sufficient funds for a three-day trip were not used by regular senior activities. The balance in the junior class fund is usually about a third of the total needed for the senior trip. The juniors later voted to go to Washington, D. C. by coaches and expressed confidence in their ability to raise the necessary cash for the New York trip.

William R. Brown, Jr., faculty manager of athletics, asked the Board for policy direction relative to leagues. The Board authorized Mr. Brown to participate in such negotiations but reserved final action pending submission of detailed league proposals. The Board also approved the securing of athletic officials from the newly organized Mid-Del Association of Officials.

In other action, the Board authorized the replacement of a duplicating machine located in the faculty room, accepted an invitation from the Camden Town Council for another joint meeting on making Center Street safer for school pupils, requested that the state Fire Marshal be requested to advise as to whether or not outside fire escapes should be installed in the original building, received a report from the faculty Building and Grounds committee recommending the construction of some additional high school rooms and the building of a 24 room elementary school on another site instead of a 36 room building as now tentatively proposed.

In its long range planning the Board has under consideration the eventual replacement of the original building.

The Board directed the secretary to write a strong letter of protest to the State Board of Education about undue delay in certification reforms.

The Board authorized that expenses be paid for any members of the Board or the administrative staff attending the convention of the American Association of School Administrators in Atlantic City.

The secretary reported to the Board that nine seniors had been demoted to the junior class for failure to have at midterm a passing average in all subjects required for graduation. These students may be restored to the senior class if their averages are up by the end of the fifth marking period.

The Board authorized the secretary to notify agencies and teacher training college placement bureaus that the district was seeking applicants for two new positions, a junior high principal at Caesar Rodney and a high school administrator for the Dover Air Force Base Dependent School.

St. Bernadette's Church News

Lenten services being held this evening beginning at 8 o'clock will include the Stations of the Cross and benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament. Confessions will be heard after services.

Mass Saturday morning will be at 9 o'clock. A rehearsal for the Junior Choir will be held after Mass.

Mass Sunday morning will be at 9:30 with confessions being heard from 9 to 9:30. A visiting oblate is expected to say Mass this Sunday.

Religious classes for children of High School age will be held Sunday evening at 7 o'clock at the parish house.

Classes for grade school children will be held Tuesday afternoon at 3:45.

The parish meeting usually held on the last Thursday of the month will be postponed until the first Thursday of March.

In accordance with the wishes of the late Holy Father, Pope Pius XII, a new ruling of the church will be put into action beginning Sunday. It was the Holy Fathers desire to create a more active participation of the congregation during Mass. To accomplish this, the people are asked to answer the responses of the priest aloud. This movement has already begun in many parishes throughout the country. Leaflet Missals will be distributed to everyone. These leaflets will contain the responses and when they are to be said.

Sunday is the second Sunday in Lent. During these forty days of Lent, which we observe as a preparation for the passion, death and resurrection of our Lord, we commit ourselves to penance, prayer and fasting. The gospel to be read Sunday is taken from the gospel of St. Matthew—Chapter 9-Verses 1-9. It depicts to us the time that Jesus took Peter, James, and his brother, John, and led them up a high mountain and was transfigured before them. The Transfiguration of our Lord gives us an idea of the beauty of a soul in the state of Sanctifying Grace. "This is the will of God, your sanctification." It must be our firm determination to preserve the divine life of our soul at any price.

Alfalfa Varieties For Delaware

George Vapaa, county agricultural agent says it is about time to be thinking about alfalfa seedling and he has checked with the agronomy department at the University of Delaware for this year's recommendations.

The agronomists say Vernal is a good high-yielding, fine-stemmed, leafy alfalfa for use north of Newark, because it lacks wilt resistance. It is superior to Buffalo and Ranger in this northern area, but should not be used south of Newark, because of wilt.

Williamsburg is a good variety for all Delaware he says. It is high yielding and leafy. Buffalo is a second choice—to Williamsburg or DuPuits.

DuPuits is a vigorous variety with ability to recover rapidly after cutting. Often an extra cutting can be harvested because of this factor. It should be emphasized however that it must be cut early to avoid steminess.

If you have large acreages of alfalfa, Mr. Vapaa suggests seeding half to Williamsburg and half to DuPuits. The DuPuits is about ten days earlier and this will help spread the harvest time.

The university agronomists also suggest using certified seed to insure getting high quality seed of the variety desired.

HARTLY BANK

About this time the Rev. Leonard J. Makiewicz, priest-in-charge, Immaculate Conception Mission, Maryland, and Chaplain of St. Gertrude's Convent, Ridgely, Md., entered the bank carrying a canvas bag containing about $137 for deposit. Only the woman bandit was there and she nodded for him to go into the rear room.

The male bandit came to the door and ordered the priest into the room and take a seat.

"Sorry to do this to you father, take a chair and sit against the wall," the masked man said.

The bandits took the bag containing the money from Father Makiewicz and left the bank. They jumped into a yellow coupe which they had parked outside the bank near Hughes' car and drove off apparently heading toward Dover.

Father Makiewicz and Mrs. Moore untied the Hughes and state police were called.

Mrs. Hughes said the woman did not utter a word during the holdup and her male accomplice gave the verbal orders. She said he did not have a gruff voice and spoke in a somewhat refined manner.

She acknowledged she was nervous at this experience and Monday night said she was "still shaking." Both bandits were white.

The men were described as about 23, about five feet, five inches, wore a light tan gabardine hat, leather jacket, khaki trousers, black wing tipped shoes, and had a blue bandana wrapped across his face.

The woman was about the same age, wore a man's cap, man's work trousers, and dark jacket.

Monday night state police said they had not recovered any clothing that the pair may have discarded following the holdup or had located the yellow coupe.

They received reports that such a color car had been seen shortly after the robbery but the make of vehicle differed according to the various descriptions.

FBI Enters Case

The FBI jumped into the search when informed of the federal reserve bank holdup and city and county police were also alerted. Delaware Memorial Bridge police kept a constant lookout for the described car and its occupants. The license tag of the vehicle was not obtained, according to police.

The bank is on the east edge of Hartly, three miles from the Maryland line and 13 miles from Dover, on Route 8, the Dover-Hartly highway. It is a one-story barred windows. The counter and railing are in a large room in the front of the building and there are two small offices in the rear.

Troopers from the Dover troop together with those from Georgetown and Bridgeville and State road were notified and roadblocks set up on all highways in the Hartly area and on principal highways and bridges. They were withdrawn at 5 p.m. after police had stopped hundreds of cars in their search for the holdup pair.

170 Troopers Scour State
More than 170 state police, practically the entire force were pressed into service, with all off-duty and vacationing troopers being called in to handle the road block and patrol work.

They were swamped with information and all "tips" were checked without success.

One woman driving a yellow coupe, claimed she was stopped four times by road blocking troopers. She admitted they were "on the job" and took the stoppage good naturedly.

The state's last bank robbery, still unsolved, occurred on Feb. 20, 1953 at the Fairfax office of the Delaware Trust Company where thieves made off with $11,000.

Detectives do not believe the bandit in the Hartly holdup was responsible for the armed robbery at the Strawbridge and Clothier Store in the Merchandise Mart last Friday.
