BOARD STUDIES BINGO PLEA FOR KENT, SUSSEX FAIR

The question of whether or not bingo will be played at the Kent and Sussex Fair in Harrington next summer will come up for decision at the March 16 meeting of the Delaware Bingo Control Commission.

A letter from the Callaway-Kemp-Raughley-Tee Post No. 7, American Legion, of Harrington, seeking permission to sponsor such play was presented to the full board Monday night at its meeting in the State Armory, Wilmington.

In order that the board might have more complete information on the plans of those seeking sponsorship of play at the fair, R. Emerson Sudler, the Commission member from Kent County, was asked to arrange with the post to have one or more members present for the March 16 meeting to assist in discussion with the commission.

Play at the fair, as proposed, raises several points which must be given special consideration by the board in view of the rules and regulations under which it operates to control bingo playing. The commission may be able to resolve some of these points, it was asserted Monday night through discussion.

The entire situation is unique, board members have pointed out in preliminary discussion, because it involves one single event not duplicated elsewhere in the state from year to year.

The letter of request asks that certain rules be waived in the consideration by the commission. One of these is the time element. The commission regulations call for play from 7:30 to 11:30 p.m. only and the request from Harrington asks play from 6 p.m. to 11:30 p.m.

Another point to be cleared up is that the request is for sponsorship of both the post and its auxiliary. Rule 14, page 10 of the regulations says, "Two or more organizations may not hold games of bingo at the same place on the same day."

Reasons for this request will be discussed at the meeting.

In a separate action Monday night the commission approved the application of the Callaway-Kemp-Raughley-Tee Post No. 7 and Auxiliary for extended dates on their present schedule of games in Harrington.

Arthur Williams

Arthur Williams, 67, husband of Kate O. Williams, died Tuesday in the Milford Memorial Hospital after several months illness.

Mr. Williams was born in Ffestiniog, North Wales. He was a son of Thomas and Elizabeth Williams.

He came to this country in 1927 and settled in Philadelphia, and moved to Felton eight years ago where he was employed by International Latex of Dover as a machinist.

Services will be held from the St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Harrington, at 11 a.m. Saturday, with Vicar John R. Symonds, Jr., officiating. Viewing and burial will be private at convenience of the family.

It is suggested that in lieu of flowers contributions be sent to St. Stephen's Church in Harrington. Vestrymen will serve as pallbearers.

Surviving besides his wife are two daughters, Mrs. Wilfred Duffner, and Mrs. Charles Wilson, both of Philadelphia; two sons, John S. of Felton and Raymond Williams of Willow Grove, Pa.; 10 grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. Edith Hughes, of Huntington Valley, Pa.; Mrs. Carrie Jones and Mrs. Elsie Roberts, Ffestiniog, North Wales.

Services are in charge of the J. Millard Cooper Funeral Home, Harrington.

Lenten Services To Be Held at Greenwood Methodist Church

Sunday morning, March 8, will mark the beginning of special Lenten Services to be held in the Greenwood Methodist Church in Greenwood. Services will continue through March 22, each evening with the exception of Saturday. Mrs. Corretta J. Mason will be the guest speaker. Saturday evening, March 7, there will be an all-night prayer vigil, beginning at 6 p.m. continuing to 6 a.m. Wednesday night, Mar. 11, will be designated Youth Night. All school children have been invited to attend, there will be special vocal selections by our youth. Each evening there will be guests musicians. You are welcome.

H.H.S. Defeats Middletown 70-48

By Keith S. Burgess

The Harrington High basketball Lions coached by Dick Jeffers had their easiest game of the '58-'59 season Friday night on the home court. The Lions triumphed over Middletown 70-48 and were in control at all times. Now winner of five straight, H.H.S. is 12-3 on the season.

Neither team scored for almost three minutes at the start of the contest. M.H.S. finally broke the ice with a two pointer. H.H.S. quickly retaliated and led 17-10 at the end of the first quarter. A 17-4 Harrington margin gained in the second quarter put the game out of the New Castle Countians' reach.

Don Garey, the most improved player on the local squad again was high man with 20 points. Bill Manship, the team's leading scorer had 12 followed by Phil Holson, another improving cager with 10.

A pleasant surprise for the Lions was the 13 points scored by Ken "Snooky" Collins. Standing somewhere in the neighborhood of five feet and one inch tall he nevertheless tallied frequently on the front end of the fast break. Ken must be one of the smallest varsity men extant. He could possibly letter in four sports in this, his final year.

Harrington closes it's most successful season in seventeen years with games tonight at Delmar and Tuesday afternoon at Sanford Prep.

The jayvee game furnished most of the thrills of the evening. Middletown led by eight or nine points most of the way. George Pfeiffer, who was a veritable whirling dervish fought tremendously hard and constantly rallied Harrington with timely baskets, defensive plays and diving, scrambling recoveries of loose balls. This inspired performance played the main role in the locals fourth quarter surge that nailed down the victory 54-46. Pfeiffer had 20 points and was ably abetted by Sam Miner and Bruce Smith with 14 apiece.

Trinity W.S.C.S. Notes

The program for the March 3 meeting of Trinity Women's Society of Christian Service was in charge of Mrs. Sam Williams, with Mrs. Harold McDonald, Mrs. William Nichols, Mrs. Arnold Gilstad and Mrs. Tharp Harrington forming a panel to discuss the local church. Mrs. Chester Wilcox conducted devotions.

A motion was adopted to make Mrs. Clyde Miller an honorary member of the Society, and Mrs. Jennings Cahall read a resolution honoring Mrs. Cora Powell, a deceased member.

The Sunshine report was given by Mrs. Baynard Smith, and Mrs. Williams advised the members that it is not too late to be included in the study course on the Book of Isaiah, which is being taught by the Rev. Richard Gibson.

The annual spring meeting for Dover District will convene at 10 a.m. in Avenue Methodist Church, Milford, March 18. Mrs. Ellwood Gruwel reported on the recent workshop held at Whatcoat Methodist Church in Dover.

A contribution was made to the Crusade Leadership Fund. Mrs. Frank O'Neal Jr., announced that an Executive Committee meeting would be held at her home Tuesday evening, March 24, at 8.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Gruwell and members of her circle.

Cub Scouts Hold Blue and Gold Banquet Friday

The traditional Cub Scout Blue and Gold Banquet of Pack 76 was held Friday evening in the Harrington School cafeteria with 150 cubs, parents, and guests attending.

The candle lighted tables were decorated with blue and gold favors and name cards, each den using a decorated cake as its centerpiece. The den doodles were in display at their respective dens.

The banquet opened with a trumpet solo "The Star-Spangled Banner", played by Donald Wells, after which Ellis Myer led the flag ceremony. The Rev. Symonds gave the invocation.

Chairman Calvin Wells introduced the speaker of the evening, the Rev. Jack Symonds and guests. Scoutmasters and Mrs. Hal Hitchens, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Brobst and son, David, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Messner and grandson, Barry Cullin, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Christy. Mr. Christy is the Scout District Commissioner, Mrs. Charles Shropshire, Ass't District Commissioner, Robert Creadick, and Luther Hatfield representing the sponsors of the Cub Scouts—"The Harrington Lions Club" also as the Pack's secretary.

Cub Master Howard Dill presented the following Den Mothers with awards: Mrs. Donald Vincent, Mrs. Charles Peck, Mrs. Hazel Hopkins, Mrs. Jack Redden, Mrs. Dorothy Abbott, Mrs. Marion Reed, Mrs. Rose Cain, and Mrs. Thelma Dill.

"Grand Hand of Thanks" awards were presented to Den Chiefs Terry Johnson, Fred Greenly, John Masten, and Walter Perdue. James Rash Jr., wolf badge, ass't. denner stripe; Wayne Hopkins, wolf badge, gold arrow; each receiving 1 yr. pins. Donnie Sam Knox, 2 yr. pin; Billy Reed, silver arrow; Mike Kohel and James Cain, 2 year pins and Lee Kukulka, gold and silver arrow.

Cubmaster Howard Dill in Indian costume and feathered headdress held an induction ceremony for new Cub and parents of Den 1. Marshall Hatfield and Donnie Draper received their webelos badge and transfer into Boy Scouts.

The Scout band under the direction of Melvin Brobst gave a very nice musical. Cubes—Jimmy Crisson, Billy Dill, Mike Kohel, Donnie Sam Knox, Donnie Fry, John Greenhaugh, Jimmy Rash, Ellis Myer, Donald Wells, Lee Kukulka, and Ricky Jester gave a fine performance.

Leonard Taylor, who has for five years worked with our Cub Scouts and is now serving as the Packs treasurer was presented a five year pin. Cub Master Howard Dill also present him with a tie-caps and Scout pen-pencil set on behalf of the Pack Committee with their appreciation.

Mr. Christy presented an award to Robert Creadick, who served as chairman of the Boy Scout Fund Drive.

In closing Pack 76 sang "Good Night Cub Scouts".

The Pack 76 and committee would like to extend their thanks and appreciation to Melvin Brobst and Miss Hazel Johnson and to all who helped in making this banquet a success.

Change in Libel Law Opposed

The board of directors of the Delmarva Press Association has passed a resolution urging the Delaware General Assembly not to pass a bill that would repeal a section of the State's Libel Law.

The measure has been passed twice and is now in a Senate committee.

The resolution passed unanimously at Easton, Friday by the directors of the press association, corrects a statement made in memorandum submitted with the repealer at the time it was being considered.

It points out that Section 3919 Title 10, Delaware Code, that the bill in question only gives "the newspaper an opportunity to establish that the publication was not malicious by and full and fair retraction."

"The directors of the press association point out that the bill's passage would pose a "real threat to the right of the people of Delaware to full freedom of information."

Jack Smyth, president of the association and editor-publisher of the Delaware State News, was authorized to see that the legislators receive a full report of the action of the directors.

One Killed When Truck Crashes Into Knapp's Branch

One man was killed and another badly injured Friday at 6:40 a.m., when the empty truck they were riding in struck a Knapp's Branch bridge abutment at Paradise Alley with terrific force, straddled the four foot high cement siding for about 25 feet and then toppled over into the water.

The driver, James Ness, 30, of Avondale, Pa., was thrown from the truck in the spectacular accident and hurled to the opposite side of the stream, a distance of 50 feet. He was found on the bank with his broken legs in the water and his body badly burned from a flash gasoline fire which apparently started when the impact occurred and ended when the cab buried itself in the ice-edged stream.

Ness is in poor condition at the Milford Memorial Hospital, where he was taken by an ambulance of the Harrington Volunteer Fire Company. He was the driver and apparently either lost control in the heavy fog or else fell asleep causing the truck to smash into the Rt. 13 abutment, 2 1/2 miles south of Felton in the southbound lane of the dual highway.

Dead by drowning is his companion, George R. Thompson, 34, of Chester, Pa.

State Police said Thompson was pronounced dead of drowning by Dr. William Chipman of Harrington, but an autopsy is to be performed to determine the extent of his injuries from the crushing collision.

The cab of the truck was completely destroyed and Thompson never had a chance to reach safety. Ness, who was found unconscious, survived only because he was thrown from the vehicle.

The truck, leased by the Interstate Mushroom Company, Inc., of Avondale, was enroute to the Harrington Racetrack, where it was to pick up a load of manure.

Father Corrigan was the celebrant at Mass last Sunday. Altar boys assisting Father Corrigan were Charles Moore and Edgar Wroten. The Junior Choir provided the singing which consisted of the following hymns: "Now are the Days of Humblest Prayer," "Panis Angelicus," "Oh What Could my Jesus do More," "Soul of My Saviour," and "Holy God."

The Talent Show will be restricted to local entries due to the element of time. Games, dancing and other recreation will be held after the talent show.

The appointment of John D. Morris as manager of the Pennsylvania Railroad's Chesapeake region, with headquarters at Baltimore, was announced Friday by James M. Symes, the road's president.

Morris succeeds John A. Schwab, who has been regional manager of P.R.R. operations in the Baltimore area since Nov. 1, 1955. Schwab was made a vice president a year ago and has been handling top policy matters for the railroad in Washington and Baltimore as well as his managerial responsibilities in the Chesapeake region. He will continue as vice president, Baltimore Washington, relinquishing management of the region to Morris.

Schwab was a resident of Wilmington from 1946 to 1950, making his home at 904 Brook Street. During this period he was general manager of the railroad's southern division.

Morris, who is 53, a native Marylander, and a graduate of the University of Maryland, where he played lacrosse, has had a wide and varied experience in the railroad's operating department. Before his appointment six years ago as general manager of the Western region at Chicago, he had served as a division superintendent in many parts of the railroad. On special assignment he spent his entire time last year directing studies and plans for the proposed Pennsylvania Railroad-New York Central merger, consideration of which was recently dropped by the New York Central.

Schwab prior to his appointment to the Chesapeake region, held other posts of high rank in the Pennsylvania's organization in many cities. He was general manager of the eastern region at Philadelphia, where Morris was his assistant for two years. Schwab was also assistant vice president at New York and earlier a general superintendent and division superintendent in various parts of the railroad. He is 56, a native of North Dakota, and a graduate of West Point.

V. H. McLean, assistant regional manager of the Chesapeake region since Nov. 1, 1955, has been promoted to assistant regional manager of the Pittsburgh region.

The appointments are effective March 1.

The Chesapeake region which was formed after a reorganization of the company in 1955, includes the lines from Philadelphia to Baltimore and Washington, Cape Charles and the Delmarva Peninsula, and Baltimore to York, and Baltimore to Morris is well known in Harrington where he was formerly stationed. He is married to the former Erma Swain, daughter of Mrs. Will Swain.

THESE BILLS FOR SAFETY FROM AND PREVENTION OF FIRE SHOULD BE PASSED—AND ENFORCED

The House and the Senate introduced bills Monday having to do with safety from fire and the prevention of fire. These bills should be passed . . . and ENFORCED.

The Senate approved and sent to the House SB 7 for a state-wide fire code. The bill would wipe out existing law, relating to the fire marshal's office, and set up a State Fire Prevention Commission. The six-member commission would appoint the fire marshal and would have the authority to promulgate rules and regulations. The intent behind the bill is to set up an agency that will decide on state-wide fire prevention rules, amounting to a new fire code.

In the House, a bill to extend the requirements for fire escapes on buildings used for colleges, schools, hotels, hospitals, factories, tenement houses, and for renting rooms was introduced by Rep. Norman Eskridge (D-Seaford). The measure, HB-156, would require fire escapes on structures, two stories or higher, instead of the present requirements on structures of three stories or more. In addition, the bill would require that the fire escapes consist of stairways. The present law also permits the use of ladders.

We would like to see the Senate and House bills wedded, and from this wedlock lives would be saved. The Senate bill could eliminate a lot of the firetraps we have seen in and around Harrington, not to mention the eradication of a number of eyesores.

Now for the House bill. Fire escapes should consist of stairways and not ladders. We have been in some hotels, in large cities, where a rope, tied to a radiator, was the only fire escape.

Passage of the Senate and House bills, however, will not be worth a hill of beans, unless penalties are prescribed and provisions enforced. There is one thing sure—some building owners will ignore the state-wide fire code, at first. The thing to do is to put one up in a field as a scarecrow to scare the remainder of his ilk.

We KNOW, not guess, that the present fire code HAS NOT BEEN ENFORCED in some prominent places. We were awakened, last fall, by smoke in our third-floor room of a local hotel. This hotel had only one exit and no fire escape. We had talked about it for years without success. The second and third floors of this hotel were burned out. The structure is being rebuilt, and will have a fire escape.

The House and Senate fire measures must be passed, AND ENFORCED, or else . . . it can happen here. We know.

Biddy Basketball Bits

The Saturday afternoon Biddy Basketball League for the 9-13 age group played four games Saturday, Feb. 28.

Coach Bill "mention by name" Minner's first place Warriors just about sewed up the pennant as they defeated their closest pursuers, the Hawks, of Ted Layton, 23-22 in overtime. The Warriors now lead by three full games and have three more to play. The Hawks with two games to play cannot take the top spot. Lester Minner's improving Globetrotters who are tied for second with the Hawks, could tie for first if they win all their games and the Warriors lose all theirs.

Other games Saturday saw the Globetrotters defeat the Celtics 23-19, the Eagles of Al Crisson bested the Falcons 16-10 and the Celtics triumphed over the Falcons 34-3.

High School Spanish Contest to be Held at P. S. duPont High School

The annual high school Spanish contest, conducted by the Delaware Chapter of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese, will be held this year at P. S. duPont High School in Wilmington Friday, April 10, at 3 p.m.

For the third successive year the Delaware contest will be conducted as part of the AATSP's National High School Spanish Contest, whose examinations are prepared and administered on a nationwide basis. The exams are offered on second, third and fourth year high school levels, and each is divided into three parts: listening comprehension, grammar, and reading comprehension.

The state prize is a $100 scholarship awarded by the University of Delaware on the basis of the contest examinations, to the entering freshman who shows greatest proficiency in the Spanish language. In addition, the Association awards a medal to the state's ranking student in each division.

Every effort has been made to inform all Spanish teachers in the state of the details of the contest. Teachers who have students to enter the contest, should contact the contest chairman, Dr. John C. Vorrath of the department of modern languages at the university by Monday, March 16. Names of entrants must be sent by their teachers.

Too busy to garden?

In the Spring when farm work is heavier, too often time that should be devoted to a garden is spent on crops that seem more important.

Actually the small plot of land that must be worked up and tended as a garden pays off better than any land on the farm. Pays off with fresh peas, beans, corn and other table delicacies that mean smaller grocery bills, healthier and more enjoyable eating.

Southern States has a complete selection of treated garden seed, tested and proven to give the best possible yields and eating satisfaction. By ordering your spring garden seed now, you can be sure your garden will get its start this spring with the seed that really grows.

Girl Scout News

The Girl Scout regular monthly meeting was held Tuesday evening, Feb. 24, at the Century Club. Colors were presented by Joy Anderson, Lucinda Knight, Linda Parag and Cindy Clarke, of Troop No. 217. Scouts of Troop No. 120 sang "Smiles" and led the group singing of "O Chester" and "I've Been Working on the Railroad". The entertainment was presented by Troop No. 21. Their theme was the sixth Girl Scout Law—"A Girl Scout is a friend to animals." The playlet took place in the animal shelter. "Big Dog", played by Sarah Moore, was instructing the animals how to behave when they were adopted as a pet. Some of the adopted animals returned to shelter and then "Big Dog" had to instruct their owners how to treat a pet. Everyone enjoyed the playlet that so aptly portrayed the G. S. Law.

Mrs. Tucker, cookie chairman, congratulated the girls on their sale. Top salesmen were Sylvia Outen, 90 boxes; Vickie Hill, 74 boxes, and Alice Hearn, 69 boxes. As open cartons could not be returned, Mrs. Tucker still has a few boxes for sale, please contact her.

Mrs. Gladys Hurd, neighborhood chairman, announced that the Scouts would celebrate Girl Scout Sunday by attending St. Bernadette's 9:30 a.m. services. She reminded the group that the Girl Scout Banquet would be held 6:30 P. M. Thursday, March 5, in the school cafeteria. Cochairmen, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Carroll stated all committees were active and completing their duties. Each troop is contributing to the entertainment. Mrs. Hurd announced there would be no group meeting for March, but that the neighborhood would meet at the Scout Building at 7:30 p.m., March 31. The next group meeting to be held April 28.

The display table was prepared by Troop No. 183. Refreshments were served by troop No. 157 and clean-up was performed by Troop No. 131. Approximately 80 attended this meeting. We are hoping for 100% attendance at our April meeting.

Junior Broiler Program is Underway

Delaware 4-H Club members and vocational agriculture students have been invited to enter the 1959 Junior Broiler Program by Ralph P. Barwick, extension poultry specialist with the University of Delaware. The annual contest was entered by 111 young people last year.

The Delaware Poultry Improvement Association sponsors the program which offers cash prizes for the first 20 winners, certificates of merit to the first five winners, an awards program, and display of the top five entries at the Delmarva Chicken Festival June 25 to 27 in Dover. All contestants will be invited to the festival as guests of Delmarva Poultry Industry, Inc.

First place award will be $25 and a trophy, second $20, third $15, fourth $10, fifth through 10th $7.50, and 11 through 20th $5.

In asking for entries, Mr. Barwick outlined the procedure for the contest.

Contestants from 10 to 19 years-of-age as of Jan. 1 1959, may enter by filing entry blanks with county 4-H Club agents or vocational agriculture instructors not later than March 14. Each contestant is permitted to make an entry of chicks. An entry is 50 straight-run chicks, although more may be raised in the same flock. Wingbands furnished must be attached to chicks entered within 24 hours after they are received.

Contestants are encouraged to obtain their own chicks, keeping in mind that they should be meat-type birds from a pullorum-typhoid clean source. Chick donations from hatcheries and service clubs will be requested for contestants who cannot obtain birds. Chicks must be hatched between March 30 and April 1.

Each contestant will select six cockerels for dressing, judging and displaying at the close of the project, and will be responsible for delivering the birds where designated. The six birds will become property of the program committee and be used to help cover expenses.

Training meetings will be held in each county to discuss equipment needed, caring for chick, selecting birds for program finals, and covering rules and the schedule of events for the program.

The time and place of county meetings and the contest finals will be announced.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—What is the deadline for getting a GI home loan for a World War II veteran?

A—World War II veterans have until July 25, 1960, to apply for a GI loan, and up to a year after that in which to complete arrangements with a lender. Korea veterans have until 1965.

Q—If I take out the new GI insurance disability rider, which pays up to $100 a month for total disability after six months, will the amount my beneficiaries would get under the policy be reduced?

A—No. Disability payments made under the rider in no way decrease the amount paid to beneficiaries of your GI insurance policy.

Q—It may be necessary for me to borrow on my permanent plan GI insurance policy. Is there any special way I must pay back the loan?

A—Repayment of the principal on GI permanent plan policy loans may be made at any time the insurance is in force; amounts of $5 or even multiples thereof are acceptable.

Q—Does a veteran going to school under the Korea GI Bill have to report classroom absences to the VA?

A—Not if the course he is taking leads to a standard college degree or an advanced professional goal. Veterans in all other types of courses, however, must now report monthly classroom absences, under provisions of a new law. Veterans in trade or business schools, for example, will be required to report absences.

House Defeats Dog Racing Bill

Rep. James R. Quigley's dog racing bill went down to defeat on its first test Monday, mustering 15 votes—three short of a majority.

The bill was debated last week, when action was deferred. Monday when Quigley called up the measure, HB-60, there was no debate. The only comment before the roll call was a report by Rep. Margaret R. Manning (R-Marshallton) that a petition had been submitted, signed by about 1000 persons from the Wilmington area opposed to the bill, which they contend would "lower the morals of the state."

On the roll call, the 15 who voted for the bill were: Reps. Best, Betts, Cannon, Dineen, Gove, King, Kleinback, Latina, Livingston, Opydyke, Paskey, Quigley, Shockley, Walls and Wright. There were 13 opposed: Reps. Cain, Carnean, Clifton, Davidson, Fifer, Graves, Johnson, Kenney, Lawson, Manning, Pryor, Richards and Robbins.

Five were not voting: Reps. Eskridge, Long, McGinness, Pawson, and Tribbitt. Two were absent, Reps. Bartleson and English. The vote crossed party lines. After the roll call, three members had their votes changed from yes to no and the bill was restored to the calendar.

In an active day of voting, the House also adopted a resolution calling for a $10,000 revenue study, passed a resolution paying it members $8,861.20 in mileage, and passed four bills.

One resolution, HR-25, directs the House Committee on Revenue and Taxation to make a detailed survey of sources of revenue for the state, and authorizes it to spend up to $10,000 for services of an accountant, tax consultant, and other help.

The measure was introduced Feb. 23 by Rep. F. Earl McGinness. It is the House's own answer to the various moves in the Senate to create a committee to study state taxes and possible revenue sources.

Called up Monday by McGinness, the resolution was adopted on a voice vote, split along party lines, put over by the vociferous Democratic majority.

The resolution states that the Governor "in presenting what he termed a balanced budget . . . has achieved this balance only by recommending that many of the state agencies, such as the State Hospital, the Governor Bacon Health Center, the State Highway Department and the Commission for the Blind be given substantially less for their operation than they consider a necessary minimum, and by shifting certain state costs back to the counties . . ." It also points out that the Governor made no provision for municipal street aid as required by present law, nor any provision for paying off all or part of the anticipated deficit.

The committee is directed to compile a report on its study of sources of revenue and submit the report to the House. Members of the committee with the $10,000 assignment are Reps. R. Allen Cannon (D-Seaford, chairman; McGinness; James R. Quigley (D-Hare's Corner), Edward F. Wright (D-Clayton), and T. Lees Bartleson (R-Lindemere).

The mileage resolution pays the members their mileage, at the rate of 10 cents a mile, for traveling between their homes and Dover for the first 20 days of the present session, and, in the case of members of the Joint Finance Committee, for their trips to the committee's meetings. The payments to individuals range from $112 to Rep. Charles F. Richards of Dover to $476.80 to Rep. T. Lees Bartleson, who lives at the northern end of the state and is on the Finance Committee. A close second is Rep. Paul E. Shockley of Wilmington, also on the Finance Committee, whose mileage comes to $470. The measure was adopted without dissent by voice vote.

Two bills to make changes in the registration laws were passed over Republican opposition. HB-97 shifts the dates for the registration of voters. Six Republicans voted against the change, one was absent, and two others joined 25 Democrats in passing the measure. HB-96 shifts the time for change of party designation by registered voters. All eight Republicans present Monday voted against that one, and it was passed with 25 Democratic votes.

HB-52, which would increase workmen's compensation payments for injuries resulting in total disability, was passed unanimously with 33 voting yes and two absent. It makes the compensation two-thirds of wages instead of 60 percent and puts the maximum at $50 a week instead of $30.

Also passed unanimously Monday was HB-45, to authorize the Townsend School District to refund taxes erroneously collected.

Century Club Notes

The regular scheduled meeting of the Harrington New Century Club was held Tuesday with Mrs. W. W. Shaw presiding. The regular order of business was followed.

Mrs. Shaw announced that the fashion show sponsored by the club will be held next Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the High School Field House. Mrs. Brinton Holloway, General Chairman, for the affair has been working with her committee to make the evening one to remember. Mrs. Harry John Dill will supply the commentary for the fashions, and the models will include Teresa Smith, Gregory Smith, Ronnie Rapp, Kathy Lord, Ricky Jester, Betty Jane Masten, Bartha McMullen, Jack Dill, George Paskey, Sam Williams, Kenneth Aiken, James Rash, Mrs. Gayle Smith, Mrs. Joseph Konesey, Mrs. Austin Turcotte, Mrs. Sam Williams, Mrs. Frank Quillen, Miss Ruth Ann Hatfield, Mrs. Kenneth Aiken, Mrs. Fred Bailey, Mrs. Donald Wilson and Mrs. Jeanne Warner.

A committee, composed of Mrs. W. W. Sharp, Mrs. Theodore Harrington, Mrs. J. C. Messner, Mrs. Ernest Raughley and Mrs. Earl Sylvester, made several recommendations for changes in the By-Laws of the club. Mrs. Sharp read the proposed changes, and the membership will vote on them at the next meeting, March 17. All members are urged to be present, since the By-Law changes will be of great interest to each club member.

$2 was donated to the Delaware Society for Crippled Children and Adults. Mrs. Oscar Roberts asked that 25 members volunteer to help with the Cancer Crusade this year. Anyone who can help with this most worthwhile drive is asked to call Mrs. Roberts before the next meeting. The cancer drive is one that the Century Club has sponsored for several years.

The program for the afternoon was in the capable hands of Mrs. William W. Simpson and the topic was "Conservation". She had invited a member of the State Conservation staff to explain some of their work to the members. Bruce Frazier, Kent County Soil Conservationist was the staff member who came to talk to the group. He is most familiar with the area around Harrington and answered many questions that the ladies presented to him. He also showed two films portraying the work of the Conservationist entitled "Water and 'From the Ground Up'".

Mrs. Simpson's committee was Mrs. Edsel Broce, Mrs. Harry L. Boyer, Mrs. Annie Laurie Clark, Mrs. Thomas J. Clarke, Mrs. William T. Sneath, and Mrs. William R. Sollars. Mrs. Sneath arranged the art table with a fascinating display showing important phases of conservation.

The next meeting will be on March 17, with Mrs. Robert H. Creadick presenting the program on International Relations.

C.K.R.T. News

At the regular meeting of the C.K.R.T. American Legion Auxiliary last week, Mrs. Dale Roth, president expressed her sincere thanks to members of the unit who helped with the Mother's March against Polio. She reported that the total to date for the march was $370.50, the largest amount ever collected.

Mrs. Jarvis Hurd and Miss Branda Hurd were each present at the meeting of the auxiliary and the junior auxiliary, being new members of the organization.

An announcement was made of the forth coming Easter Lily sale and the fund drive for the Delaware Society for Crippled Children and Adults. Members of the juniors will help with the sale of the little paper lilies again this year.

The refreshment committees for the next meeting will be: Juniors: Brenda Hurd, Pat Smith and Pam Trepasso; Seniors: Mrs. Lewis Clymer, chairman; Mrs. Harold Melvin, Mrs. Benjamin Emory, Mrs. Reynolds French, Mrs. William Davis, and Mrs. Kenneth Aiken.

Regional Poultry Meeting in Salisbury, Mar. 11

Can Delmarva poultrymen survive the competition from red meat, from other broiler producing areas, and from each other?

Dr. William E. McDaniel, chairman of the department of agricultural economics at the University of Delaware, will try to answer this question at the Regional Poultry Meeting at Salisbury, March 11, according to Ralph Barwick, assistant extension poultryman with the University of Delaware. Registration begins at 8:45.

The first item on the program is a panel discussion on "Experiences with Mandatory Poultry Inspection". Panel members are: Herman Miller, U.S.D.A.; Bernie Bogage, Snow Hill, Md., representing processors; Dr. A. T. Ringrose, Virginia Polytechnic Institute. One more panel member has yet to be chosen.

Next will be a talk on "Feed Additives with Coccidiostats" by Paul Nickerson, Dr. Salisbury's Laboratories.

Dr. O. L. Osteen, Agricultural Research Service, Beltsville, Md., will discuss new information on killed-virus Newcastle vaccinations.

The last topic in the morning session will be Dr. McDaniel's talk.

The afternoon session will be split into a broiler section and an egg producers section, Barwick said.

The broiler session, starting at 1:30 p.m., will include Dr. G. F. Combs, University of Maryland, on "Feed Studies with Processed Whole Soybeans and a Summary of Separate Rearing of the Sexes."

Dr. Morris S. Cover, poultry pathologist, University of Delaware, will talk on "The Latest on L. T. and Synovitis."

The program in the egg producers section is not complete yet but will include talks on "Costs and Returns on the Production of Table Eggs vs. Hatching Eggs", by Dr. Ringrose, and "Feeding Layers and Replacement Stock" by Dr. R. D. Creek, poultry department, University of Maryland.

1959 Annual Episcopal Laymen's Conference to Be Held at Middletown

The annual conference for laymen of the Episcopal Church in Delaware will be held Friday evening, March 20 and Sat., Mar. 21, at St. Andrew's School near Middletown.

The conference theme will be "The Church Beyond the Diocese," a subject which follows logically after previous conferences which have dealt with the ministry of the Christian layman individually and as a member of a local parish or mission. The principal conference leader will be the Rev. Dr. William G. Wright, director of the home department of the National Council of the Episcopal Church in New York. Dr. Wright is in charge of all missionary work in the continental United States.

All Episcopal laymen in Delaware are invited to attend and "Keymen" have been appointed in each parish and mission, through whom reservations may be made. Accommodations and meals will cost $2.50 per person. Over 200 laymen have attended conferences of this type in the past three years in Delaware.

Lay leaders for the conference will be Daniel M. Thornton III, Wilmington, chairman of Laymen's activities for the Diocese; S. Layton Ayers, Seaford; Herbert J. Baylis, Stanton; F. William Rose, Dover; John Aoninerts, Wilmington, and Fred Wakefield, Newark.

Cow Records Mechanized By Elec. Computers

"In the short span of 30 years, our farmers have moved from horses to tractors, to the mechanization in the dairy barn," said Professor James Burke, extension dairyman from Cornell University. He was speaking to 95 farmers at the annual meeting of the Kent County Dairy Herd Improvement Association at Felton last week.

This mechanization is good because it saves labor and permits higher living standards, he continued. However, farmers are obliged to increase the size of their herds in order to pay for the improvements. This means too, that better records are needed to hold down unit costs.

The latest development is mechanized dairy records, made possible by the new electronic computers. It takes only two seconds to calculate herd data by machine which would require several hours if manually figured. This represents a major breakthrough and means that farmers should be able to compete on more even terms with industry and commerce.

Joseph Moore of Dover was elected as president of the county association by the directors. Louis Wright of Willow Grove is the vice president, and William Eliason continues as secretary. Three directors were elected by the members: Charles Blendt of Smyrna, Samuel Dixon of Dover and Robert Mason of Harrington.

How to Raise 100 Bushels of Corn

Delaware racked up the top corn yields in the country and broke the national record of 68 bushels by averaging 70 bushels per acre last year, according to Department of Agriculture records, George Vapaa, county agent says.

Only irrigated corn in Washington and California produced a higher average yield. He says there are plenty of good reasons why Delaware farmers raked up such a mark. Those farmers who didn't keep up with their neighbors can find out why by writing or calling the agent's office and getting a copy of the corn yield contest summaries and corn variety test results.

The corn yield contest summary lists the producers that grew more than 100 bushels of corn and how they did it. It lists the seed, fertilizer, cultural practices, planting time, plant population per acre, previous crops and weed control practices used by the high producers.

The other summary sheet on variety tests gives yield results of seed varieties tested on plots at the substitution farm, Georgetown. Delaware-produced certified hybrid seed performed as well or better than hybrids from out of state in the test plots, Mr. Vapaa said. Certified seed is the best bet because certification guarantees variety purity, and seed free of disease and noxious weeds and high germination.

Rose Pruning Session at U. of D.

The American Rose Society in co-operation with the Department of Horticulture, University of Delaware, will conduct a pruning demonstration for all persons interested in growing roses, according to Dr. C. W. Dunham, associate professor of horticulture at the University of Delaware.

The pruning demonstration will be conducted by Mr. J. Benjamin Williams, consulting rosarian for the Colonial District of the American Rose Society.

A pre-demonstration meeting will be held in room 246, School of Agriculture, Newark, at 1:30 p.m., Saturday, March 7, 1959.

A short talk will be given and color slides on growing and showing roses will be shown. The pruning demonstration will take place at 2 p.m. on the University Farm.

The gardening public is invited to attend both the meeting and demonstration which are free. All amateur rose growers interested in seeing a rose society formed in the state of Delaware are urged to attend this program, Dunham said.

Greenwood

The Greenwood Home Demonstration Club will meet this month Wednesday afternoon, March 11, at 1:30 at the home of Mrs. Charles Conaway. This change from the regular meeting date which would be on the day before is so that Miss Shoffner can be with us.

Miss Helen Vincent was a recent overnight guest of Miss Brenda Cain. They enjoyed roller skating in the evening. Mrs. James Marvel and daughter, Linda, of Georgetown, were Thursday luncheon guests of Mrs. Emmett Whitmore. In the afternoon Mrs. Whitmore accompanied them to Wilmington where they did some shopping and had dinner before returning home.

Martin Brown, pianist for the LaNada School of the Ballet, of Seaford, was a Thursday luncheon guest at the home of the Jacob Hatfields.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the V. F. W. held its regular meeting on the evening of Feb. 25. All members are urged to be present at the March meeting on March 25. Nominations of officers will take place at that time.

Mrs. Joe Dennis, Jr. and sons were Saturday guests of Mrs. Melvin Truitt of near Seaford. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Whittle of Chester, Pa., Miss Mary and Miss Emma Swain and Bob Wingate of Bridgeville were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Swain, the occasion being Mrs. Swain's birthday.

James Fowells, asst. manager of Woolworth's Store in Seaford and Frank Lafferty, head stockroom man at Woolworth's accompanied Dickie Davis home for dinner recently.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Davis visited Mr. and Mrs. Howard Johnson Sunday evening. Sunday afternoon callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allison Davis were Mr. and Mrs. Graydon Hurst of Wilmington and Miss Charlotte Miller of Seaford. The Miller Trio, who recently appeared on Ted Mack's Amateur House TV show, came in third place.

Mrs. Lawrence Meredith spent Sunday evening with the Jacob Hatfield while Mr. Meredith rode with the auxiliary police.

The ladies auxiliary of the Greenwood Volunteer Fire Company met Friday evening. They discussed plans for the coming firemen's supper, which will be held March 20 and 21. The kitchen committee is Marie Dickerson, Ione Blackiston and Esther Hynson. The dining room committee is Elizabeth Graft, Elaine Jones and Mabel Farrow. The auxiliary wishes to remind everyone who can, to donate a dish towel or two to relieve the shortage on these items.

A number of members plan to attend the Sussex County Volunteer Firemen's Ladies Night Banquet to be held at the Seaford Fire Hall April 3. All members wishing to attend, please contact Mrs. Margaret Johnson, Phone FI 9-4024, if you have not already done so.

Edgar Draper of Frederica was a Sunday visitor at the Lester Drapers.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Draper and children of Wilmington, spent the weekend at Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hamsteads and attended the Hatfield-Hamstead wedding.

Mrs. Ross Coleman and children and Mrs. Lester Draper and Cynthia, spent Thursday afternoon in Denton at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Jester, the occasion being their mother's birthday.

Mrs. Lester Draper and Cynthia were Monday luncheon guests of Mrs. Martha Embleton.

Fashion Show To Be Held Tuesday, March 10

The annual fashion show will be held at the Field House, March 10 at 7:30 p.m. This show is under the auspices of the Harrington New Century Club. The Star-Lite Shop will feature the children's fashions. Wollaston's will show junior's and misses sports wear and dress wear; Derrickson's of Milford will be showing men's clothing and the hat's and accessories will be featured by Virginia's Hat & Specialty Shop of Milford. Gloria Dill will be the commentator.

In conjunction with the show there will be choral selections under the direction of Melvin Brobst, who is professor of music at the school.

Tickets are 75 cents and may be obtained from any club member or from the merchants directing the show.

Last year's show was a tremendous success and many participating suggested that it be enlarged upon and repeated each year.

The models are attractive and the event promises to be one worth seeing.

Roosters Too Gallant!

Roosters, being the gallant birds they are, are often underfed says county agent George Vapaa. Unlike husbands, when roosters find a choice morsel of food they call over the hens and stand back while the hens gobble up their fill.

You can see that much of this will lead to lowered body weight and less breeding efficiency.

Mr. Vapaa says this situation can be corrected by hanging special rooster feeders on posts or on the laying house wall at such a height that only the male birds can reach them. Placing feeders on the roosts often helps, too, he said.

Soil Conservation Dinner Meeting March 16

"Home-grow" talent will present the soil conservation success story to co-operators and friends of the Kent County Soil Conservation District on Monday, March 16 says C. Arthur Taylor, the chairman of the board of supervisors.

The event is to be a dinner meeting at the new Caesar Rodney School cafeteria. Reservations can be made through any of the supervisors as follows: Charles Blendt of Smyrna, Isaac Thomas of Maryland, David A. Robbins, of Milford, John G. Tarburton and George Vapaa, both of Dover.

A conservation picture story will be described to the group by a panel of leaders. There will be no long speeches. Rather, a lot of time will be given for visiting friends and for observing exhibits, says Mr. Taylor.

This is the first time than an annual dinner meeting has been held since the District was formed in 1943. More than 1000 co-operating farmers and landowners have developed conservation farm plans in this period.

DPIA 20th Anniversary

This year's Delaware Poultry Improvement Association banquet will mark the 20th anniversary of the organization March 26 at Caesar Rodney High School, Camden-Wyoming, according to Mr. Carlton Hughes, DPIA president.

The organization is trying to line up all its past presidents for the affair.

Dean of the school of agriculture at the University of Delaware, George M. Worrlow, will be toastmaster and Gov. J. Caleb Boggs is on the program.

Hughes said awards will be given to county and state 4-H and FFA winners for outstanding work in the field of poultry.

Kent Home Doings

March is Egg Month . . . It Says Here

There are lots of eggs around according to county home demonstration agent Florence Y. Smith, or at least they are almost around anymore, but anyhow, them and they are a good high-protein, economical food, Mrs. Smith says.

Not only that, but March is national egg month. There are hardly enough months to go around anymore, but anyhow, the eggs have March. And as long as you have good egg prices you may as well use them and use them right. Here are a few tips about doing just that: Use low to moderate heat in cooking eggs. Too high heat or overcooking toughens the texture.

When making custards, sauces or other mixtures that call for combining liquid with egg, avoid curdling by adding the hot liquid to the beaten egg—never the egg to the hot liquid.

Beaten egg whites hold their foam better if a little lemon juice or cream of tartar is added before beating.

To combine beaten egg whites with other mixtures, fold—don't stir—using a light under-and-over motion, Mrs. Smith says. For omelets and souffles fold the heavy mixture into the beaten egg white—not the whites into the other mixture. Don't overmix or you will lose some of the air you have beaten into the egg whites. Happy egg month!

Delaware Swine Producers Banquet

The Delaware Swine Producers' Association will hold its annual banquet March 12 at 7 a.m. at the Coolspring Community Hall on the Harbeson-Lewis road, according to an announcement by John Shropshire, livestock specialist at the University of Delaware.

Dr. John Zeller, head of the swine research program at the U.S.D.A. research center at Beltsville, Md., will be the speaker.

Tickets are available through the county extension office in each county, as well as from the following individuals: New Castle county—H. Wallace Cook, Elkton; Kent County—Ernest Gilbert, Kenton; Sussex County—Howard Young, Lincoln; Charles Mills, Lewes; Lee Carey, Bridgeville; David Elliott, Laurel; Cas-har Evans, Selbyville; M. M. Swartzentruber, Greenwood; Everett Messick, Millsboro; Charles Pepper, Milton, and Arthur Nanney, Seaford.

Howard L. Sipple, Jr. Makes Supt.'s List

Midshipman Howard L. Sipple, Jr., a second classman at the U.S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., has been named on the Superintendent's list for the first half of the second term academic year 1958-1959. In order to be placed on the list a midshipman must have at least a 3.3 academic average, a 3.1 aptitude work, satisfactory status in physical education, and have conduct which is satisfactory to the Commandant of Midshipmen.

By virtue of being on this list the midshipmen concerned are granted special privileges commensurate with their class, and each contributes to the overall standing of their company in the Intra-Brigade competition.

Midshipman Sipple is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Sipple of Milford-Harrington Road. He was graduated from Milford High School class of 1956.

Six Firms Winners In Safety Contest

Six firms have been declared the winners and five others have earned honorable mention in the 1958 Inter Fleet Safety Contest run by the Delaware Safety Council, it was announced yesterday by Dorsey B. Kinnamon, the council's vice president for public safety.

The winners achieved the best safety records in each of the six industrial groups into which the 39 contestants are divided. Where more than one fleet in a group achieved perfect safety records for the year, the one with the most mileage was declared the winner and the other received honorable mention. All will receive awards later from the Safety Council.

The five first place winners are: Burriss Food Distributors, Inc., Milford; The Atlantic Refining Company, Wilmington; the News-Journal Company, Wilmington; Slaughter Beverage Transport, Smyrna; Delaware Hardware Company, Wilmington, and Brake & Equipment Company, Inc., Wilmington.

Honorable mentions went to: Cooper Moving & Storage Company, Smyrna; C. F. Schwartz, Dover; Moody Livestock Transporter, St. Georges; Pyramid Motor Freight Corporation, Wilmington, and Continental Can Company, Inc., Wilmington.

Among the 11 winners, eight had no accidents at all; the others had the lowest percentage of accidents per 1000 miles traveled in their groups. Among the 39 fleets, 31 had a total of 274 accidents.

There are 1172 vehicles in the 39 fleets. Altogether they operated a total of 14,687,253 miles in the 12 months.

Of the 274 accidents experienced, 263 involved property damage alone; in eight there was both personal injury and property damage and three involved personal injury alone. The accident rate came to .017 per 1000 miles for the 12 months.

In December alone, final month of the contest period, 17 fleets had a total of 24 accidents. They all resulted in property damage only. Twenty-two fleets reported no accidents in the month.

The accident rate per 1000 miles came to .023, which was above the rate of .020 for November.

Most of the companies and government agencies taking part in the contest have their plants or offices in New Castle County, but many of them operate their vehicles throughout the state.

Fleets in the contest ranged in size from two vehicles to 225 vehicles each. The accidents per fleet ranged from none to 68, with the high figure in a fleet of 215 vehicles, traveling 1,243,763 miles in the 12 months.

A similar contest for 1959 is in progress.

Carl Thompson, III Chairman of Explorer Ball

"Then and Now" will be the theme of the 25th annual Explorer Ball, sponsored by the Del-Mar-Va Council, Boy Scouts of America, to be held at the General Motors Assembly Plant, Wilmington March 7. Explorer Carl Thompson III, Post 274, is general chairman.

Explorers from the entire Delmarva Peninsula have been invited to attend. A highlight of the ball will be the selection of an "Explorer Queen" from among candidates submitted by units throughout the area.

The Explorer Queen will be selected by a panel of judges, including Miss Florence Young, associated with the Miss America Pageant, Stanley Damiel, president of Stanley Advertising Co., and Hy Finch, Disc Jockey of Radio Station WILM.

The theme of the ball will be carried out with the playing of dance music from the Hit Parade of 1934—the first year the ball was held; the exhibition of an automobile of that vintage, together with a 1959 model; a display of old and new Scout uniforms, and the introduction of some of the founders of the Explorer Ball. Music will be supplied by the 18 piece Rhythm Doctors band.

The Explorer Ball, over the years, has become the traditional high point of Scouting's social activities for the year. It is also the principal opportunity Scouting young men have during the year to display their social polish—as well as their sweethearts.

The Explorers are urged to wear the regulation uniform or the new optional dress uniform; admission to the affair is on a couples only basis.

Bishop Mosley to Address Episcopal Laymen's Conference

The Rt. Rev. J. Brooke Mosley, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Delaware, will take part in the General Laymen's Conference of the Diocese at St. Andrew's School, Middletown March 20-21.

Bishop Mosley will deliver the keynote address Friday evening, March 20. He will be the celebrant at a communion service on Saturday morning, assisted by the Rev. Dr. William G. Wright, director of the home department of the National Council of the Episcopal Church. Dr. Wright will be the principal leader for the conference which is expected to attract over 100 Episcopal laymen from throughout Delaware.

Reservations for the conference are being accepted by laymen who have been appointed in each parish and mission for this purpose.

Annual Guernsey Breeders Meeting

Clifford Orbaker, Doane Agricultural Service, will be the speaker at the 14th annual Delaware Guernsey Breeders' Association meeting March 14th in Pencader Grange Hall, Glasgow, Del. Orbaker, Doane's eastern manager, Doylestown, Pa., will discuss "New Buildings on the Farm Scene", and show a film.

"He is well-known in agricultural circles for his ability and perspective," said Willis Passmore, president of the association. "Modern, better-arranged farm buildings are one place where farmers can increase efficiency by saving time and labor, and Orbaker can offer information about this goal," Passmore said.

The business meeting of the Association will begin at 10:30 a.m. Mr. Orbaker will speak after lunch. Other items on the program include reports by Wm. H. Juzi, business manager of the Pennsylvania Guernsey Association and Al Mackay, national Guernsey Cattle Club fieldman.

Youth awards will be presented by Dr. Samuel M. Gwinn, state 4-H Club leader and Professor Paul Hodgson for Future Farmers of America. Lifetime production awards for registered cows producing over 2000 lbs. of butterfat will be presented by Edward H. Schabinger, New Castle county agricultural agent. Pencader Grange members will serve dinner.

Anyone interested in Guernsey cattle or Golden Guernsey milk is most welcome.

Mexico's biggest labor federation is demanding a general 25 per cent wage boost.

Delaware Food Market Report

Eggs—Stylish eggs, Easter eggs—all will top the food news now. March is egg month and according to the United States Department of Agriculture, supplies of eggs are heavier than last year and prices lower, generally. This is the picture and the outlook for all of March. Right now the best buy is the grade A large egg. Here are a few pointers to remember when cooking eggs:

1. Use low to moderate heat in cooking eggs. Too high heat or overcooking toughens the texture.
2. When making custards, sauces or other mixtures that call for combining liquid with egg, avoid curdling by adding the hot liquid gradually to the beaten egg—never the egg to the hot liquid.

3. Beaten egg whites hold their foam better if a little lemon juice or cream of tartar is added before beating.

4. To combine beaten egg whites with other mixtures, fold—don't stir—using a light under and over motion. For omelets and souffles fold the heavy mixture into the beaten egg white—not the whites into the other mixture. Don't overmix or you will lose some of the air you have beaten into the egg whites.

In general the whole food picture as far as prices are concerned remains much as it was last week and shows a slight downward trend. This is particularly so of pork and beef. T-Bone, Porterhouse and Sirloin steaks are down in price about 3 to 5 cents on a pound. Ground beef has dropped a penny. Round steak, stew beef and chuck roast are all about 2 cents cheaper.

This week most of the beef found on the local market is choice grade meat, making this lowering of prices even better. Fresh pork cuts such as ham, loin roasts and chops have dropped as much as 4 cents a pound. The only increase in pork is found on bacon and sausage, both showing a penny increase in some stores.

Vegetables remain about as they were last week. More fresh peas are available, but so far no evidence of price change. Fresh mushrooms are the most outstanding vegetable since prices have dropped on them. Look for specials on mushrooms—quality is excellent for the most part, making them truly a good buy. More broccoli, cauliflower, new potatoes and vine ripened tomatoes are reaching local stores and do much to brighten the vegetable counters. Look for specials in most stores this week on these vegetables.

The tunnel at Rendsburg now being built under the Kiel Canal in Schleswig-Holstein, Germany, is said to be the biggest in the world.

Social Security Notes

"You have lost money by waiting." Those are sad words for anyone to say or hear, but they are said many times every year in any social security district office. Now, workers in those offices see another large group, brought under social security by the 1958 amendments, many of whom may not learn of their eligibility, or for some other reason will delay filing for benefits until they have lost some payments.

In the hope of preventing at least some of those losses, here are listed the kinds of dependents newly covered in 1958 who might now be eligible for payments if they file a claim without delay.

1. Dependents of disabled workers 50 or over, including: (a) children under 18; (b) disabled children of any age if disabled before reaching 18; (c) wives age 62 or over; (d) wives of any age if caring for an eligible child (see a or b).

2. Dependents parents of a deceased worker are now eligible even if a widow or child has been drawing on the deceased worker's account. A dependent mother is eligible at 62, father at 65.

3. Disabled children of a retired or deceased worker can now draw payments at any age if disabled before 18. In most cases support by the parent is not a necessary qualification.

4. Adopted children no longer have to wait three years to qualify for benefits based on an adopting parent's earning record. In death cases, the widow and adopted child can draw payments even if she was married less than a year.

Also, a foster child adopted by the widow within two years of the foster father's death can usually qualify.

Anyone who might possibly meet any of these qualifications should immediately check with his nearest social security district office listed in the telephone book under U. S. Government, Health, Education and Welfare.

Needlecraft News

by Nancy Baxter

They say there's only one time in a person's life when the whole world of his experience revolves around his personal wants and needs—and then he's a tiny baby, too young to appreciate his favored position. And I might add, too dependent to quibble. It does seem true, though, that for every newborn baby there are several adults—parents and grandparents, aunts and uncles, friends—who are devoted to his health and comfort.

IN A NURSERY WORLD
Many's the crib or child's rocker, built by a grandfather's capable and loving hand, that's sturdy enough to serve a family for generations. But for the most part, a baby is a woman's work. In the nursery, she knows a thousand ways to attend to an infant's well-being. And outside, chances are her hands are often busy knitting or crocheting some little item in a soft, cuddly baby wool.

WHAT THE BEST-DRESSED TODDLER WILL WEAR
Manufacturers of needlework instruction books for babies' things tell me they wouldn't put a book together without including a pair or two of soakers, because these tiny garments have proven so popular with the wee set. Warm and absorbent—and dressy looking, for best—they also eliminate chafing from elastic. And they're so easy, they're popular with the women who make them, too.

NEEDLEWORKER'S CHOICE
Today we're offering two soakers, one for knitters, one for crocheters, both on a single handy leaflet. The pair shown at top is crocheted in a star stitch. Back and front are worked separately, sewn at the crotch and buttoned up the sides. The knitted pair makes a good first project for a beginner. Starting at the waist, it's fashioned in one piece, decreasing to the crotch and increasing up the other side, in a four-row pattern: three rows of straight knitting, followed by a K1, P1 row. If you'd like to make either or both, just request free Leaflet No. C-339, BABY SOAKERS, from the Needlework Department of this newspaper. Don't forget to send along a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Bill Would Have Mayor Name City School Board

A bill to reorganize the Wilmington Board of Education into a five-member board appointed by the mayor and subject to confirmation by City Council was introduced in the House of Representatives Monday by Rep. Paul E. Shockley, with the three other Wilmington Democratic representatives co-sponsoring.

The measure, HB-158, calls for the appointment of the new five-member board one month after the bill becomes law. At present, the school board has six members appointed by the resident judge of the Superior Court, for New Castle County.

The new board would consist of persons at least 30 years of age who have lived in Wilmington at least three years, who are not registered as "declines," and who are not members of City Council. No more than three of the five could belong to the same political party.

Co-sponsoring the bill with Mr. Shockley are Reps. Paul F. Livingston, Russel D. F. Dineen and Joseph S. Latina.

Sponsors of the bill were also advocates of the bill to require that all school boards outside Wilmington be elective. They were asked why, in view of their stand on the elective school board bill, they want an appointive board for Wilmington. They replied that the trend in larger cities is toward appointive boards, but that the appointing official should be an elected one, rather than an official who is himself appointed, which is the case with the resident judge. Also, they made the point that in areas outside the city the voters decide on school bond and school tax matters by referendums, while in Wilmington it is the Council which handles those decisions.

Shockley also introduced Monday in HB-160, the third version of a bill to appropriate money to hospitals in Delaware, at the rate of $550 a bed, for maintenance, equipment and operation. At the same time, the second version, HB-126, was stricken from the calendar. Both bills would provide $904,750 for the next fiscal year. The new measure provides for anticipated expansion of St. Francis Hospital, to the extent of 141 more beds, or whatever number up to that figure are in operation by Dec. 31, 1960.

Shockley also handed up Monday two bills from the Council on the Administration of Justice. One HB-161, is to concur in the constitutional amendment, passed for the first time at the last session, to rewrite the section on appeals to the Supreme Court. The other, HB-162, would provide for summoning a special rush at the end of the session and did not become law. The idea of making good on the intention of the last General Assembly by paying back salaries to the time of its action is dropped in the new bill.

Rep. Harvey P. Fifer (R-Rising Sun) Monday introduced HB-159 which would require a $1000 annual license, good only in the county in which it is issued, for "emigrant labor agents." Such an agent is "any person engaged in the business of soliciting emigrant laborers in this state for employment beyond the boundaries of this state in farm labor." Anyone engaging in that business without a license could be fined $1000 to $5000 and imprisoned for six months to two years for each offense. The bill seemed to add up to the idea that Delaware farm labor should be left in Delaware, except for activities of state and federal agencies, to which the bill would not apply.

Senate Adopts State Fire Code After 3 Deaths

The State Senate, acting swiftly in the wake of Sunday's triple fire tragedy near Dover, Monday, approved and sent to the House a bill for a state-wide fire code.

The action was the highlight of a busy day that saw downstate senators put the State Department of Labor bill on ice until Thursday at least, vain attempts to maneuver the right-to-work bill to the floor, overwhelming approval of a limited absentee ballot bill, and passage of a bill easing the State Tax Department's workload.

The fire code bill was approved after some prodding by Gov. J. Caleb Boggs, who sent down word that he wanted action after the weekend experience with fire, the latest in a series of fatal fires.

The fire code bill (SB-7) went through by a 13-2 vote, with Senators Walter J. Hoey (D-Milford) and Curtis W. Steen (D-Dagsboro) in the minority. The bill was co-sponsored by Senator Walton H. Simpson (R-Camden) Earle M. Tull (D-Seaford) Wilmer F. Williams (R-Roselle) and Henry T. Price (D-Smyrna).

It would wipe out the existing law relating to the fire marshal's office and set up a State Fire Prevention Commission. The six-member commission would appoint the fire marshal and would have authority to promulgate rules and regulations.

The intent behind the bill is to set up an agency that will decide on state-wide fire prevention rules, amounting to a new fire code.

Governor Boggs has long advocated such a change, and he served notice on Republican Legislators Monday that he wanted a vote on the bill pronto. It was called up by Simpson and encountered no debate.

In other action Monday downstate senators put the State Department of Labor bill on ice for a few more days.

On a 10-5 rollcall that split the Senate just north of Duck Creek, they deferred a vote on a revised version of the bill until Thursday.

The revised bill (Senate Substitute for Senate Bill 6) drops appropriations that were contained in the original and makes some technical changes. A House-approved Department of Labor Bill is bottled up in the Senate Finance Committee.

The Senate had been alerted by Majority Leader John E. Reilly (D-Wilmington) that he planned to call the Department of Labor Bill up for a vote Monday.

When the time came for calling, however, it was Minority leader James H. Snowden (R-Wilmington) who took the floor. He's a co-sponsor, along with Reilly and Senators Calvin R. McCullough (D-Holloway Terrace) and Jacob A. Correll (R-Newark).

Snowden submitted the substitute, which was accepted, and told the Senate he didn't see any point in "a lengthy dissertation" on the bill. After all, he reminded the legislators, this is the third consecutive Assembly session that has worked on it.

Then the trouble started. Senate President Pro Tem, Allen J. Cook (D-Kenton) raised a question about records businessmen would be required to submit and Senator Walton H. Simpson (R-Camden) was critical of the amount of power the bill would delegate to the new department.

Cook and Simpson are both Kent Countians. Two more legislators from the middle county, Senators Walter J. Hoey (D-Milford) and Peter Nechay (D-Wilford Grove) took up the cudgels for them.

"Too broad powers to too few people," summarized Hoey. Nechay worried about the fact that the department's rulings would have "force and effect of law."

A voice from Sussex County stilled the debate. Senator Curtis W. Steen (D-Dagsboro) moved for deferment till Thursday, and his motion carried easily. Five of the six New Castle County senators present voted against it. The sixth, Senator Jesse F. Watson (D-Blackbird), comes from the county's southernmost hundred and voted with the downstaters. The county's seventh senator, Calvin R. McCullough (D-New Castle), was absent.

Another item that kept the senators busy Monday never reached the floor. It's the long-awaited right-to-work proposal that may well become the 1959 General Assembly's hottest issue.

Right-to-workers were in the wings Monday, but they never got the spotlight on their proposal. The reason: nobody in the Senate seems eager to link his name to right-to-work by sponsoring the bill.

Approved by a 14-1 vote, with Hoey alone in the opposition this time, was a bill permitting Delaware service men or Delawareans attached to service bases out of state or overseas to register and vote as absentees.

This measure (SB-27) is advocated by the Pentagon, which has been trying to get standardized state laws on the subject for some time. It was called up by Watson.

Hoey said he was against absentee ballots in general, because of the trouble they have caused in recent Delaware elections. If there's any loophole in the voting law, he said glumly, "the human element will make the most of it."

Unanimously approved was a bill lifting part of the workload now shouldered by the State Tax Department. Sponsored by Senator Reynolds duPont, this item (SB-9) wipes out a law requiring the department to give or send receipts for tax payments. It requires receipts only if the tax is paid in cash or the taxpayer specifically requests one.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Notes

Flowers on the altar Sunday were given to the glory of God and in memory of John and Catherine Rowlands, and also St. David, the patron saint of Wales, whose feast day was March 1.

The annual congregational meeting was held at the Century Club Wed., Feb. 25, 6:30 p.m. A covered dish supper preceded the business session.

The program included a call to order; prayers for the occasion; minutes of the last meeting.

The three new vestrymen elected to serve for the next three years are Messrs. Granville Hill, Robert Nelson, and Clyde Perry.

Coffee hour hostesses Sunday, March 1, were Mesdames Augustus Raughley Jr., and W. W. Welch.

Ushers who served on the third Sunday in Lent were Messrs. Earl McColley and Robert McNally.

The bake held last weekend to raise funds for the renovation of the piano was a decided success. Enough money was made on the homemade food to pay the entire repair bill.

Acolytes who served last Sunday were Charles McNally, Billy Porter, Billy Carter, Bobby Greer, Billy McColley, Bill Thompson.

Mrs. Robert McNally attended an executive board meeting of the women's division in the diocese of Delaware at St. Andrew's Church, Wilmington, Feb. 26.

Holy Communion was celebrated by the Reverend Richard M. Trelease, Jr., in the chapel at St. Andrew's.

The meeting took place in the coral room and the ladies enjoyed one of the "Lenten lunches" served by the Women of St. Andrew's.

After the supper the boys and girls enjoyed an interesting program. Miss Ann Steinslund, an exchange student from Norway, and Miss Carol Steiner of Milford, who spent several months in Holland last summer as a member of the exchange program, were guest speakers at this youth meeting.

The Milford Young People's Fellowship presented a shadow play "Operation X". At the end of the evening, the young people and their guests attended a service at the church; conducted by Milford teenage boys.

The Cantata "The Seven Last Words of Christ" will be presented on Palm Sunday at Calvary Methodist Church, Milford, p.m. Five members of St. Stephen's Choir will take part in this program.
