

LEGION CELEBRATES 40TH ANNIVERSARY

More than 100 members of the Callaway-Kemp - Raughley-Tea American Legion Auxiliary Unit were present at the Post Home Saturday evening to celebrate the 40th birthday of the American Legion organization. The affair was a dance, and the committee in charge had decorated the home in keeping with the gala evening.

Special guests for the evening were Earl Sylvester, Benjamin W. Emory, Jr., and Lewis R. Clymer, original members of the Harrington post when it was formed in 1919. It was largely through the interest and efforts of these men that the post was kept in existence.

Commander William A. Minner presented each with a 40-year Legion pin and a certificate showing continuous membership for 40 years. Sylvester spoke briefly and told of the beginnings of the post and of the progress which has been made during the years. As of this date the membership is 153, just one under the all-time high.

Meetings are held the first and third Thursday evenings of each month at the post home. Members are urged to attend. The work that the Legion Post does is varied and absorbing. There is an area of work that will be of interest to every member. Participate in the greatest veterans organization in the world.

Mrs. A. L. Clark Dies After Short Illness

Mrs. Annie Laurie Clark, 62, died in Milford Memorial Hospital early Saturday after a short illness. She was a native of Texas, but lived most of her life in Washington, D. C., where she was a statistician for the Veterans Administration.

Upon her retirement, she came to live with a sister, Mrs. Blanche Cahall, 225 Delaware Avenue.

She was a membership chairman of the Harrington New Century Club; a member of the BPW, and the Kent County Democratic Women's Club. She was active in civic and community projects.

Services were held from the J. Millard Cooper Funeral Home, Tuesday morning. The Rev. Chester Wilcox, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, officiated, assisted by the Rev. Richard Gibson, pastor of Asbury Methodist Church. Interment was in Fort Lincoln Cemetery, Washington, D. C.

In addition to her sister, she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Blanche Bell of here, another sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Booser, Jacksonville, Fla., and a brother, Gerald Bell, Washington, and Leslie C. Bell, Hyattsville, Md.

American Legion Proposes Bingo at Kent-Sussex Fair

After a conference with the State Bingo Control Commission, representatives of the American Legion Post in Harrington said they will complete their application for a license to sponsor bingo games at this year's Kent-Sussex Fair in Harrington.

After studying the original application, submitted two weeks ago, the commission asked R. Sudler Emerson, its Kent County member, to invite officials of the post to Monday's meeting of the commission.

Callaway-Kemp-Raughley-Tea Post will apply for one sponsorship for two groups, the post and auxiliary, for evening play only. Since the fair is for limited duration, the commission granted the application for hours of play from 6 to 11:30 p.m. instead of 7:30 to 11:30 p.m. as provided in commission regulations.

The commission informed the post that it does not have authority to grant free admission to games, as the law provides for admission charges.

The regulation limiting the number of games in an evening to 35 was waived. The applicants will be permitted to ask for 60 games each night of play. Requests for nine playing dates in July rather than eight, and a permit setting $5 minimum and

Highway Business Men Meet Here

More emphasis should be placed on publicizing Delaware's assets which are little known outside the state, the DuPont Parkway Business Association decided at a meeting in Harrington, and the organization will provide such publicity to neighboring state newspapers and magazines this spring.

More than 25 members and friends of the association attended the monthly business session of the group at the Wonder R Restaurant with Cortlandt Schoonover, Odessa, presiding.

Schoonover, the association president, said that literally thousands of tourists drive to the southern states to see such attractions as the cypress swamps and gardens. Yet, he pointed out, Delaware has a cypress swamp not far from Trap Pond and just a few miles off Route 13 which is little known to the general public.

Schoonover also pointed to the Woodland Ferry near Seaford; the little town of Bethel which was formerly the home of seafaring people and the little drawbridge across Broad Creek at Bethel as examples of places which tourists would visit if they knew about them.

The Parkway Association discussed the possibility of attracting more business to lower Sussex County via Route 13, which is dualized throughout the state.

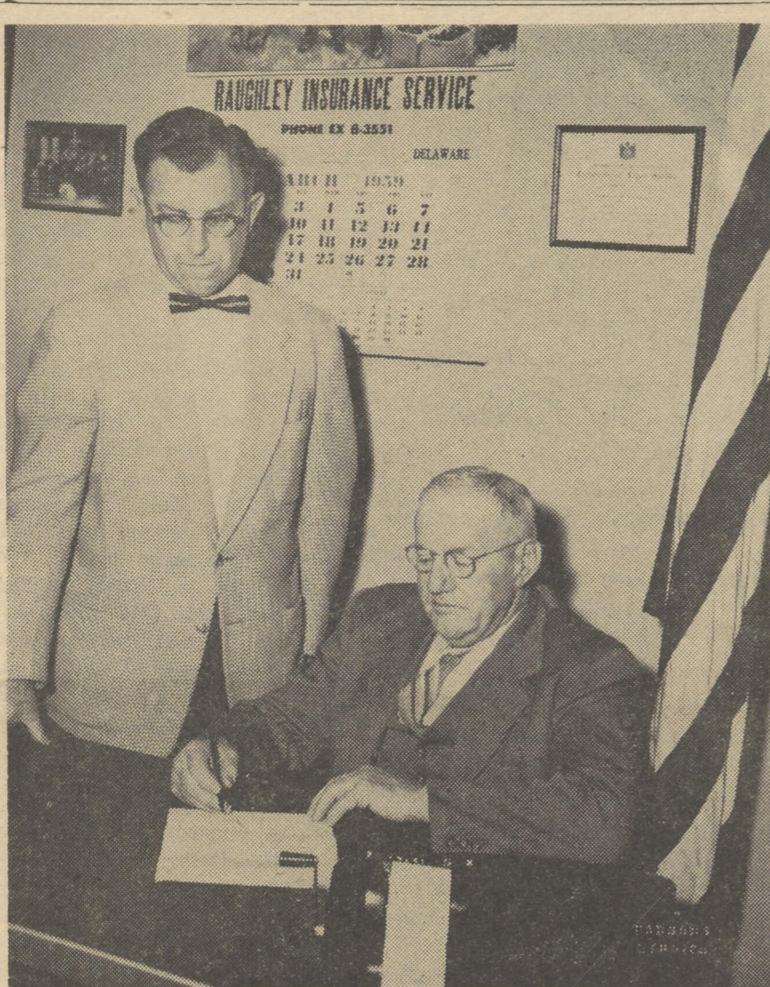

Revival at The Church of Nazarene

When criminals go from our courts to long terms in prison, they pass behind massive walls of steel and stone which to a large extent seal them off from the outside world. They are usually forgotten by the public, and often by their relatives. Still they do not pass out of existence or even from life, but continue to live on, although incarcerated and forgotten. Many refer to them as citizens of the "City of the Living Dead."

What is life like in this city of forgotten men? What do they do? What do they think? Of course some of them are confined in "solitary" and others are counting their days in the "death house." Others live somewhat of a normal life—work, eat, sleep, play, and even go to church. It may seem strange to think of long terms and hardened criminals as churchgoers, but the fact is that many of them do attend church regularly. Ex-visiting chaplain, Dr. William N. Harrington, brings to life the story of many of these long terms who have found a satisfying experience of religion. You will want to hear these stories of God's grace and power.

Dr. Harrington is a nationally-known Scottish preacher, Bible teacher, radio speaker, ex-ship's officer, prison worker, and world traveler.

House Beats Bill to Soften Drunken Driving Penalty

The bill to soften the penalty for drunken driving by making revocation of license mandatory after the second—rather than the first—conviction was defeated Monday by the House of Representatives.

Fifteen Democrats voted for the measure, HB-73. Eight Democrats and eight Republicans voted against it, while one member was not voting, one was absent and two answered present.

When the bill was called up by Representative Joseph S. Latina, its sponsor, the attack on it was started by Representative T. Lees Bartleson (R-Lindamere). He declared that records of the Delaware State Police show that half of all serious accidents involved drivers who had been drinking, and that drinking "is contributing to the cost of our insurance, the number of maimed, and to the number of deaths shown on State Police bulletin boards."

"The argument that an automobile is essential to a man's livelihood doesn't hold. We will increase the loss of livelihood to those sent to the hospital or the morgue."

Bartleson also said: "Mr. Speaker, it has been the considered opinion of all who have talked with me about this bill that it was introduced for the benefit of one or two political figures who have been in the public eye since the retroactive date which this bill covers. If we must favor these individuals, put in a specific bill favoring them, don't hide behind a cover-all like this."

The retroactive date to which he referred is Feb. 29, 1956. The bill would apply to all offenses committed since that date.

Latina defended his measure as "a hardship bill," which would enable the Motor Vehicle Department to issue work permits limited to driving back and forth between home and work.

Rep. Harry G. Lawson (R-Wilmington) suggested that a person's occupation makes no difference—"they all know the laws." And Rep. W. T. Best (R-Rehoboth) declared that "too many innocent lives are involved. It only takes one time to kill someone."

Speaker Sherman W. Tribbitt (D-Odessa) announced he would have to vote against the bill because of the retroactive feature.

Voting for HB-73 were: Reps. Betts, Cannon, Carmean, Clifton, Davidson, Dineen, Latina, Livingston, McGinness, Opydye, Pasky, Quigley, Shockley, Walls and Wright. Against were: Reps. Bartleson, Best, Eskridge, Fifer.

J. C. Messner Speaker at Century Club

A series of By-Law changes was unanimously adopted by members of the Harrington New Century Club Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. William Shaw, president, presented Mrs. William W. Sharp, chairman of the By-Laws committee who read the revisions. Most outstanding of the changes will be the introduction to the club procedure of an executive committee composed of 16 officers and directors. This body will handle the business of the club and leave the time at the regular meetings for the programs or speakers and other functions which the committees might plan.

A change will be made in the days for club also starting next October. The meetings will be held on the 2nd and 4th Tuesdays instead of the 1st and 3rd Tuesdays. The time will remain at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Shaw asked members to stand in silent prayer for a moment in memory of Mrs. Annie Laurie Clark, a member who passed away last week.

Mrs. Tharp Harrington, corresponding secretary read an invitation from the Avon Club in Felton inviting the local members to a reciprocity day on April 29 at 2 p.m. in the Felton Fire Hall.

A report from the Ways and Means committee showed that the Fashion Show last week was very successful. Mrs. Shaw complimented the committee in charge for their fine work.

The Fine Arts Chairman, Mrs. Arnold Gilstad, announced that the art work at the fashion show was done by Mrs. Malek. Also she told the club members that the boat, and flags, and all of the other nautical decorations on the stage at the show were most kindly donated by William A. Taylor of Taylor Marine in Milford. Another date that members were reminded of was April 16. This is the time of the fashion show and luncheon at the John Wanamaker store in Wilmington, when club members throughout the state will model the dresses they have made in the sewing contest. Mrs. Richard Gibson from the Harrington Club will be a contestant. Anyone desiring to attend must call Mrs. Gilstad by March 25 to make reservations. Tickets are $1.60.

Artists in the club are being asked to display their work at the Milford Memorial Hospital Fair which will be held in Milford on May 9. Exhibitors from the club are to have their work at the fair by 10 a.m. Mrs. Gilstad will be glad to give anyone interested more details.

The Harrington New Century Club will be 50 years old this year. An anniversary tea will be held March 31 at 2 p.m., honoring charter members and past president. Out of town guests may be invited by members if a 50 cent hostess fee is paid.

Mrs. Brinton Holloway asked that anyone having white elephants that can be sold at the Hospital fair call her before May 8 and she will gladly pick them up to take them to Milford.

Mrs. Oscar Roberts, Mrs. Fulton J. Downing, and Mrs. Luster Rogers were appointed to the nominating committee to present names for the election of 5 directors.

The meeting was turned over to Mrs. Robert Creadick and her committee who presented the program on international relations. An interesting display of hand and art work from many countries was displayed. J. C. Messner was the guest speaker and gave a very timely and thought provoking discussion of current affairs at home and abroad.

Assisting Mrs. Creadick were: Mrs. Granville Hill, Mrs. William Nichols, Mrs. Elmer A. Smith, Mrs. Chester E. Wilcox, and Mrs. C. Fred Wilson. Tea was served following the program.

2 Flyers Leap In Plane Crash

A third flyer landed in a marsh near Bowers Beach and spent the night there before walking out this morning.

Two Pennsylvania Air National Guardsmen parachuted to safety Wednesday night while another was reported missing several hours after two jet planes collided four miles west of Dover. The flash caused by the crash was seen in Wilmington and as far away as Lancaster, Pa.

The two airmen who bailed out safely were in the same plane. One of them was picked up on the Williamsville Road near Milford, and the other in a field near Lebanon, north of Frederica.

They are Second Lt. Walter J. Cantley, Jr., 24, 600 Shelton Avenue, Jenkintown, Pa., the pilot, and Second Lt. Arthur R. Dietrich, 26, of Little Falls, N. J. He was the observer.

The name of the missing pilot was not immediately learned. Cantley is not married. He lives with his parents, Walter and Ann K. Cantley.

Lieutenant Dietrich telephoned the Dover Air Base to report his chute dropped near Milford, 25 miles from the crash scene.

Wreckage from the planes fell over a seven-mile area. Some of the debris fell on the base itself. A canopy from one of the planes plummeted in a residential section of Dover, near Bank Lane and Governor's Avenue, and scratched a parked car.

Crash crews and air police from the base combed the general area seeking the second plane and its pilot.

Both men were taken to the air base after their harrowing experiences, where neither was found to be seriously injured.

The crash occurred about 8:15 p. m. and a number of persons reported a yellow flash in the sky.

During the Lenten season, 1959, boys and girls in the Episcopal Church are saving their money to put in "mite" boxes for a missionary offering Easter Day.

They are studying the needs of the church in the missionary District of Central America and in our own United States, where more parish houses are so urgently in demand.

The pupils at St. Stephen's are reading about the Mequito Indians in Nicaragua, who worship in a church with grass-thatched roof. Their priest travels many miles, often by boat. In some of the villages there is no church and there is no priest.

The Rt. Rev. David E. Richards, Bishop of Central America, sees some of these urgent needs for his church in this land of mountains and rivers, sea coast and jungles; more clergy who speak Spanish and English, more parish day schools, more new church buildings, repairs for old churches, a central building for District headquarters.

Easter Day the mite box presentation at St. Stephen's will take place at 5:30 p.m. in the church. Everyone is invited.

English Researcher

JOHN W. PARSONS

What is organic matter? That's the question Dr. John W. Parsons, Wallasey, Cheshire County, England, is trying to answer.

Dr. Parsons is employed in the School of Agriculture's soil laboratory at the University of Delaware.

The 25-year-old researcher said organic matter is a fraction of the soil that is very important to crop production because it holds much of the plant food which is released only as the organic matter breaks down.

The young research fellow, with the University's agronomy department, said he is working with the protein in organic matter. The work is directed toward finding the chemical composition of organic matter.

Educated at the University of Reading, England, where he received his Ph. D. in 1958. Dr. Parsons began his research work here last September.

Free Polio Shots Available To All Comers Tomorrow

Free polio shots for all comers will be available this Saturday (March 21) from 9 a.m.-12 noon at the Kent County Health Unit, at 414 S. State Street, Dover, and at the offices of the Wilmington City Board of Health, 1213 N. Walnut St. The clinics mark the opening in the state of the "second chance" effort against paralytic polio by the Medical Society of Delaware, the State Board of Health and the Delaware Chapters of the National Foundation. Clinics will open next week in Sussex County and in New Castle County outside of Wilmington.

Delaware now has a two-fold problem with the disease: First, inoculation with Salk vaccine for those who have had less than three shots and second, fourth or "booster" shots for those who started their series before 1957. Field trial studies show that many doses administered in the early days of the vaccine lacked the potency of today's serum. Fourth shots are also thought advisable for pregnant mothers and for children in the highly susceptible school age group. Next month will see a resumption of inoculations for children in the school to provide them with the fourth shot.

Doctors are chiefly concerned about two groups who have had no Salk shots. One of these is the people who have never troubled to have anti-polio injections, while the other is the 0-5 age group, who, being of preschool age, have never been exposed to the relatively complete coverage obtained by in-school inoculation programs.

These people are now the prime targets of the disease. Nationally, 52% of all paralytic polio occurs in the 0-5 years group. Locally, the number of polio cases in Delaware soared to twenty-eight last year, after a mild 1957. Twenty-three of these cases admitted receiving no vaccine at all or less than the recommended three doses. In anticipation of a possibly heavy year for the malady again this year, physicians point out that two Salk shots received this spring should provide enough protection to carry the recipient through the peak polio season, and allow him relative safety until he can get the third shot, which provides more or less permanent protection, in the fall.

The ideal time schedule for receiving the injections remains unchanged, despite the apparently increased potency. The first two shots should be received about thirty days apart, the booster shot about seven months after the second. Four or five clinics are now scheduled in each county and in Wilmington, and will extend from late March to late June. This arrangement will allow plenty of opportunity for getting two shots before summer arrives.

A new arrangement has been worked out for the benefit of people who have their own doctors but who cannot afford to purchase vaccine for themselves and their families. Individual doctors may request vaccine from the State Board of Health for such patients, and administer it privately. Because of problems of supply and demand and the necessity of stretching the state's supply of vaccine as far as it will go, the doctors may need two or three days' warning for these injections. It would be a good idea to phone the doctor for an appointment and to let him know that you need free shots. Doctors will not be permitted to use state-purchased vaccine on patients who can buy their own, although there are no such limitations in the public clinics.

People who have received three shots of vaccine will find it a good idea to ask their doctors about the advisability of a fourth shot. The doctor is best equipped to evaluate individual susceptibility, and to make recommendations. The doctors, of course, are continuing to provide vaccine to their patients on a free-for-service basis.

The major aspect of the polio problem is seen in two facts. The first is that there is no protection against the disease but vaccination, because the protected person can still carry the virus to the unvaccinated. For example, children inoculated in the schools remain potential sources of infection to their parents, if the parents have not taken similar steps. The second and most significant fact is contained in Dr. Jonas Salk's statement "there need be little paralytic poliomyelitis in the United States if all who are potentially susceptible are treated with the vaccine now available."

Wool Marketing Year Ends March 31st

Farmers were reminded today that the marketing year under the 1958 wool program will end March 31st by R. Harry Wilson, chairman of Kent County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. The wool program is conducted under the National Wool Act of 1954. Payments under the 1958 program will be made this summer when the payment rates are determined on the basis of national average prices received by producers for shorn wool during the 1958 marketing year. Any marketings after March 31 will be eligible under the 1959 program.

If any condition concerning the sale is not settled by March 31, the sale will not be considered as completed. Title must have passed to the buyer, the wool must have been delivered to the buyer (either physically or through documents), and the last of the factors (price per pound, weight, yield, etc.) needed to determine the total purchase price must be available.

Veterans News

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS Q—I am a Korea veteran, with a disability I believe is traceable to my war service. Is there a deadline for making application to the VA for disability compensation?

A—There is no deadline. You may apply at any time. However, if you apply within one year from your discharge, payments may be backdated to your first day as a civilian. Otherwise, payments can become effective only as of the date you apply.

Q—I think a lot of veterans aren't clear in their minds about the terms disability "compensation" and disability "pension," as used by the VA. Would you explain?

A—Compensation is a payment made to a veteran whose disability is connected to his military service. Pension is paid to a veteran for a disability not connected with his war service, provided he meets income requirements.

Q—My permanent GI insurance policy has lapsed because I allowed the grace period to go by without paying. What must I do to reinstate my policy?

A—GI permanent plan insurance may be reinstated at any time by payment of all back premiums, plus interest. You must also meet VA's health requirements.

Q—My father took sick more than a year ago and I left school where I was studying under the GI Bill, to take a job. I understand now that I can continue my schooling. What do I have to do?

A—Get an application from your nearest VA office. Fill it out completely and return it. If you are eligible, VA will send you a certification authorizing you to return to school.

Delaware Food Market Report

Leafy green vegetables are coming to market in bigger supply now that spring has arrived in near by growing areas. When shopping this weekend look for fresh kale, spinach and turnip greens; all will be wearing attractive price tags.

Lettuce, vine ripened tomatoes, celery and radishes are down a penny or so in price. Package tomatoes are cheaper also this week, but do be careful in your selection since in many cases the quality of these tomatoes is not too good.

Good growing weather in California has increased supplies of asparagus shipped from that state. Quality is good to excellent on this vegetable and during weekend sales prices are very attractive. New potatoes from Florida continue to arrive on local markets and prices are fair. Cucumber shipments from Florida are far below average because of weather conditions, and this is the reason for the advance in price which showed up last week. One single cucumber can cost you as much as 23c this week.

Bananas continue to add variety to the fruit counters and prices remain during special sale, 10 cents to 12 cents a pound. Grapefruit is still leading the fruit parade—there are all sizes available sold in both bulk and bagged form. Oranges, lemons and apples are attractively priced and supplies are abundant.

White seedless grapes are beginning to come to the market, at the same time as imported black African grapes are arriving; both are selling around 59 cents a pound.

On meat counters, veal has started its annual price decline. Shoulder chops are down 3 cents a pound. Veal rump roast is down 2 cents a pound and veal cutlets are two cents a pound cheaper.

Broiler-fryers continue to be excellent buys as well as many pork cuts. Other meats to be featured on weekend sales which will spread the food dollar are seven inch rib roast, most steaks, bacon, franks and sausage.

Large Grade A eggs are still the best buy, averaging 52c a dozen. Grade B large eggs rose a penny and are now averaging 50c a dozen.

Rose Society To Be Founded

An organization meeting for a Delaware chapter of the American Rose Society will be held March 25, 8 p.m., at Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, according to an announcement by Dr. Charles Dunham, horticulturist at the University.

Anyone interested in such a rose organization is invited to attend the meeting, Dunham said. It is not necessary to be a member of the society.

Members of the planning committee are Mrs. Lois Simpson, North Star; Mrs. Mary Ingersoll, Wilmington; Professor Claude Phillips, newly appointed rosarian for Delaware and chairman of the agronomy department at the University; extension service horticulturist Robert Stevens and Dr. Dunham.

J. Benjamin Williams, rosarian for the colonial district of the American Rose Society, will be on hand to aid the group in organization.

The schedule of rose classes for the coming Federated Garden Club Flower Show held at the University June 13-14 will also be discussed by the group.

New Publication Out

"Late News," an insect and disease sheet for fruit and vegetable growers, put out by the University of Delaware, has begun its seasonal run, according to county agricultural agent, George Vapaa.

You can get the first copy in the county agent's office if you are not already on the mailing list.

"Late News," gives the latest information on the insect and disease situation, suggesting dust and spray applications, rates and time of application.

Also being mailed with the first issue are two revised extension folders, one on "Insect and Disease Control on Vegetables" and the other on "Control of Fruit Insects and Diseases in Orchards and Home Plantings." The folders discuss everything from new application rates to directions for seed treatments to a calendar for spraying.

Mr. Vapaa says anyone wishing to be included on the mailing list for spraying applications or who wants copies of the folders should call his office, telephone REdfield 6-1448.

Draw Home Garden Plan

"Now is the time for all good gardeners to draw up their garden plan," says Robert F. Stevens, University of Delaware extension horticulturist.

One of the most important reasons for planning a home garden is to stretch the harvest season to provide a continuous supply of vegetables from early spring to late fall.

Stevens advises putting the garden plan on paper, keeping in mind the size of the garden, family vegetable needs, likes and dislikes.

A rough plan, scaled one-eighth inch to one foot is okay, Stevens says. Outline the shape of the garden, put down the length and width, space between rows, names of vegetables to be planted in each row, and the names of late vegetables that will follow the early ones.

The horticulturist recommends considering these nine points when drawing the plan.

1. Locate perennial crops such as asparagus, strawberries, and rhubarb at one side of the garden.
2. Keep tall-growing crops like corn away from small crops—beets and carrots—to avoid shading.
3. Provide for succession crops, a fall garden, small fruits, and over-wintered crops to mature early in the spring.
4. Group together early planted, fast-growing, quick maturing crops such as radishes, lettuce, early cabbage, and scallions.
5. Provide plenty of vegetables for canning, freezing, and storing.
6. Do not overplant new varieties, vegetables the family does not like, or too much of any one vegetable at one time.
7. Run rows across the slope—on the contour—in hilly areas to reduce erosion.
8. Make sure the plan provides the best spacing between rows for the method of cultivation used.
9. Run rows north and south, if possible, to prevent plants from shading one another.

"Oh yes, one more thing," Stevens said, "to make your drawing realistic, put some weeds in the open spots".

Tough-built Chevy truck bulls its way deep into the woods for mammoth loads

This big Series 60 Chevy bulls its way as far as 8 miles into the Louisiana woods, fights over ruts and jagged stumps . . . then grinds back out with towering loads of logs! The Sabine Lumber Company attests to the truck's ability to take it: "Chevrolet makes the best truck for our type of operation."

Out where a truck is known for the beating it can take, Chevy's making friends fast. Truckers like the way these toughies hold up; the way they wear right in, take their lumps, yet stay in shape. Today, it's grit that Chevy's showing the trucking industry. Real toughness that pays off in job-after-job dependability . . . in ability to get work done at least expense. You can match Chevy muscle against any tough light-, medium- or heavy-duty job and know you've got it beat!

Your Chevrolet dealer's ready right now to meet your special work requirements. Stop by and see him soon.

No job's too tough for a Chevrolet truck! CHEVROLET

Bill Proposes Jobless Pay For State Aides

The Senate Monday received a bill which would make state employees eligible for unemployment compensation benefits.

Legislation similar to the bill handed up by Senator Jesse F. Watson (D-Townsend), (SB-78) has had the backing of the state Unemployment Compensation Commission in the past years.

The Delaware Code (Title 19, Section 3302-11-F) now specifically excludes state employees from eligibility for unemployment benefits.

Under the proposed change, employees of municipalities and counties could become eligible for the benefits too, by election.

The bill provides that the Unemployment Compensation Commission would pay the benefits on the same basis as those paid to laid-off employees of private business, and would then bill the state (or the appropriate political subdivision) for refund.

This is a small switch from the method in force for businesses and industry which pay regular quarterly taxes based on payrolls to provide the benefit funds.

The bill provides that any political subdivision could become eligible for UCC benefits if it elects to do so.

Exceptions Planned
 The bill would make eligible all employees on the public payrolls except:
 1. Elected public officials.
 2. Consultants.
 3. Those employed on relief projects.
 4. Those employed by the Delaware National Guard solely for the summer encampment, and guardsmen not on full-time status.
 5. Those employed for such temporary emergency work as snow or ice removal.
 6. School crossing guards.
 7. Part-time recreational employees.
 8. Certain school employees under stated conditions.

In the case of persons employed by two governmental agencies, such as employees of the Public Building in Wilmington whose wages are paid 50-50 by City Council and the New Castle County Levy Court, each agency would be billed for half the amount of the benefits.

Benefits would be the same as for other recipients, half the employees weekly salary, with a minimum of $40 weekly, for periods varying from 11 to 26 weeks.

2 Bills Passed
 Two bills were also called up and passed in the Senate Monday afternoon.

One (SB-39), was voted upon after Senator Curtis W. Steen (D-Dagsboro) had the rules suspended to allow the Senate to vote on it the same day it came out of committee.

This bill would authorize a $2,385,000 bond issue to allow the State Highway Department to take advantage of federal matching funds available for the remainder of the present fiscal year.

Senator Steen pointed out that the bond issue would allow the state to get $9,545,000 in federal funds for the investment of the slightly more than $2,000,000 in state money. On behalf of the highway department, he had read into the record the following jobs for the highway department plans to have under contract by June 30 if the bond issue is approved (federal funds for each project or group listed first) then state funds:
 New Castle County—Three freeway projects in connection with FAI-1—$8,000,000 and $800,000 (under the interstate highway 90-10 program); Summit Bridge approaches—$420,000 and $420,000; East Fourth Street, Wilmington—$300,000 and $300,000.
 Kent County—Kenton-Bishop's Corner Road—$300,000 and $300,000; Route 10 from the Maryland line to Willow Grove—$220,000 and $220,000.
 Sussex County—Route 14 from Road 38 to Milford—$260,000 and $260,000; Washington Street and Main Street, Milford—$135,000 and $175,000; Route 18 from Georgetown to Route 319—$180,000 and $180,000.

The bill passed with the only nay coming from Senator Watson, who objected that there were no projects in lower New Castle County.

Before the vote, Senator Steen had it amended to involve a change of dates, and to provide that it is "an emergency enactment to secure matching funds from the federal government."

Lashing Bill OK'd
 The other bill passed was Senate Bill 57, which would make lashes mandatory in the case of conviction of armed robbery. The bill would provide for 20 lashes for a first offense, 30 lashes for subsequent offenses.

Senator Watson, sponsor of the bill, explained that the number of cases of armed robbery had increased recently, and that

HOUSE

(Continued from page one) Gove, Graves, King, Kleinbach, Lawson, Long, Manning, Pawson, Pryor, Richards, Robbins, and Tribbitt. Kenney was not voting; English was absent; Cain and Johnson answered present. After the roll call, two members had their votes changed to no, and asked that the bill be restored to the calendar.

The House also defeated Monday HB-66, sponsored by Rep. Charles F. Kleinbach (R-Cooch's Bridge) and Rep. James R. Quigley (D-Hare's Corner) which would make it illegal to discharge any firearm "so as to endanger the person or property of another" except in lawful self defense. Penalties provided in the bill are a fine of not more than $50, imprisonment up to 30 days, or both.

There was no discussion. The bill got only nine votes, from Reps. Bartleson, Best, Dineen, Eskridge, Fifer, Johnson, Kleinbach, Lawson, Manning, Pawson, Quigley and Richards. Representative English was absent; the other 25 voted no.

The House received nine new bills Monday, and adopted, after considerable discussion, two amendments to HB-167, which would make a temporary boost in the taxes paid by employers to support the unemployment compensation system.

The bill originally embodied a series of recommendations of the Unemployment Compensation Commission. The first amendment Monday knocked all of those out of the present measure except the tax increase and authorization to borrow from the federal government if necessary.

The second amendment changed the tax increase proposal by removing the present three per cent maximum and adding the increase to present dates. Those rates range from one-tenth of one per cent to three per cent—with the low rate paid by employers with records of stable employment.

The bill, as amended, would make the rates range from 1.6 to 4.5 per cent of payrolls for a two-year period in order to bolster the sagging reserve fund from which jobless benefits are paid.

James M. Rosbrov, secretary of the UCC, was called to the floor to explain the amendments. The first was handed up by Rep. Charles C. King, the majority leader, and the second by Cannon. Both were adopted on voice votes.

Among the nine new bills presented Monday was HB-192, by Latina, designed to promote safety on construction work. It would require that city, county and state inspectors be instructed in safe methods of shoring ditches, barricading open excavations, shoring overhead beams, and other engineering practices essential to safety in construction and repair work.

After instruction, the inspectors are to see that these methods are followed. Latina announced Monday that he has been working for several weeks in gathering material for an industrial safety code. This is being worked into a bill which promises to be the bulkiest measure of the session—an estimated 90 pages. Material from several other states, the Delaware Safety Council, and sources is being used.

Speaker Tribbitt Monday announced the appointment of five members of the House to serve on the newly created Joint Committee for Highway Safety. They are: Reps. Chester Gove (D-Townsend), Harvey P. Fifer (R-Rising Sun), Joseph S. Latina (D-Wilmington), William T. Best (R-Rehoboth) and Robert C. Davidson (D-St. Georges).

The House received an invitation Monday from the New Castle Historic Building Commission to visit the restored central part of the Court House at New Castle on April 8 and to hold a token session there. The members were also invited to have lunch.
