

MATINEE HARNESS RACING HERE TOMORROW AND APRIL 11

Harness racing will be held at the Harrington Fairgrounds, tomorrow and again on April 11, beginning at 1 p.m.

The American Legion Post No. 7 at Harrington will sponsor these events and all proceeds will benefit the child-welfare program.

Some 400 head of the nation's top racers are stabled at the track and these matinees will provide an excellent opportunity for the trainers to give their horses some actual competition before shipping to the raceways.

The races will be conducted under actual racing conditions, with Dale Fetrow of Carlisle, Pa., serving as official starter with his starting gate.

Many well known drivers from all parts of the country will participate and it is expected some horses will ship in from the various training centers in the area.

Dick Case, manager of Ocean Downs Raceway and handicapper at Harrington, will classify the various entries and hopes to present events for all classes and ages.

The matinee has become an annual event here at Harrington and this year's program promises to be the best yet.

Frank O'Neal is general chairman for the occasion. His committees have been appointed and they are actively planning the details so that everything will be ready for public enjoyment at these races.

Such favorite drivers as Olin Davis, Jim Stokley, Tic Wilcutts, Ellis Myer, Bobby Hobbs, Del Mangers, Pat Hubbard, Floyd Jones, and many others are expected to enter and drive horses in the matinee events.

Eckman to Speak At Alumni Sports Banquet

The Harrington High School Alumni Association has obtained the services of a nationally-known sports figure, Charles Eckman, to deliver the main address at its banquet honoring all sports participants at Harrington High for the current year. The date of the banquet is Mon, May 4.

Mr. Eckman has been a referee and coach in the National Basketball Association for a number of years. As leader of the Ft. House Beats Big Raises For Six State Officials

The bill to give 50 per cent salary increases to six state officials was defeated Monday by the House of Representatives.

The House passed three bills, including the one to bolster the unemployment compensation reserve fund by means of an increase in the tax paid by employers. Seven new bills and one substitute bill were presented.

The measure slapped down was HB-157, which would boost the salaries of the insurance commissioner, the state treasurer and the state auditor from $6000 to $9000, and the salaries of their deputies from $5000 to $7500. The bill got only seven votes, all from Democrats. Eight members voted no, 16 were not voting, and four were absent. Three members changed their votes from yes to no and had the bill restored to the calendar.

The bill would make the salary increases of the six officials, all Democrats, effective retroactively to Jan. 6, this year.

Democrats joined Republicans in knocking down the measure, apparently with the thought that this is not the time, in view of the state's financial condition, to vote any further salary boosts.

Rep. J. Walter Carmean (D-Frankford) the sponsor of the measure, was aware of the opposition; the bill had been discussed earlier in the Democratic caucus. He called it up for a vote anyway because of repeated requests from some of the state officials who would benefit.

Carmean tried valiantly to defend the proposal, arguing that it should not be looked upon as a salary raise, but rather as an

GOV. SIGNS BILL TO PROVIDE FIRE CODE

Gov. J. Caleb Boggs, Monday signed into law the bill to create a state fire code which he said will "reduce the threat of fires and help protect our citizens from the terrible consequences of fire."

In a brief ceremony in his office, the Governor signed the bill in the presence of Fire Marshal W. R. Favinger and the four sponsors of the measure, SB-7: Senators Henry T. Price (D-Smyrna), Wilmer F. Williams (R-Roselle), Walton H. Simpson (R-Camden) and Earle M. Tull (D-Seaford).

Governor Boggs thanked the General Assembly for its action on the bill, which he had requested as one of the major items on his 11-point legislative program. He said:

"An up-to-date and strictly enforced fire code is something Delaware has needed badly for many years. Efforts have been made in previous sessions of the General Assembly to accomplish fire code legislation, but always with little success. However, we all realize now the urgent need for a statewide code designed to prevent the tragic loss of lives and property. We have all shared the anguish of our fellow Delawareans who have lost loved ones through disastrous fires in the past few years. It is even more tragic in view of Fire Marshal Favinger's contention that many of these life-claiming fires could have been prevented had hazardous living conditions been eliminated through an effective fire code."

"During 1958, Delaware had about 4000 fires in homes, businesses, public buildings, and elsewhere. Fires last year took the lives of 26 persons in our state and cost $1,760,000.

"In just the first two months of this year, 11 persons in Delaware—many of them children—lost their lives in fires. Property damage, which also causes great suffering and heartbreak, has been enormous. There were 822 fire alarms during January and February, and more than half of these were either grass, woods or field fires resulting from promiscuous burning.

"This new legislation will permit the creation of a six-member commission whose duty it will be to devise and promulgate a statewide fire code. Formulating their regulations through the testimony and opinions offered in public hearings, the commission should be able to draft a code which will have the teeth to eliminate and condemn the hazardous conditions which are mainly responsible for the unnecessary and pathetic loss of life and property in Delaware."

History of Century Club

Olive T. Sharp (Mrs. William W.)

Fifty years! As we view the origin and progress of the Harrington Century Club in retrospect, we realize what a heritage is ours! What perseverance and what work went into the making and maintenance of this organization during the years!

It is a recognized fact that Mrs. John Sheldrake, "Miss Molly" as many called her, was the one who had the vision and the courage to undertake the organization of a Woman's Club in Harrington. After much thought, she invited several friends to her home on Weiner Avenue on Wednesday, April 8, 1909, with Mrs. George Marshall of Milford, president of the Delaware State Federation of Women's Clubs to advise and guide in the organization. Ten ladies, including Mrs. Marshall and the hostess were present. They decided to organize and officers were elected.—Mrs. Charles Brinser was the first president. Suggestions were made regarding the Constitution and By-Laws, and it was voted to join the State Federation at once.

At a later meeting the proposed Constitution and By-Laws were adopted with some changes. It was voted at that second meeting—April 15, 1909—that the name of the organization should be Harrington Century Club, that its motto should be "Not for Ourselves Alone", the club flower should be the jonquil and its colors yellow and green. All of the above are still in use, however, there have been several changes and amendments made in the By-Laws to suit the needs as time went on. Dues were originally one dollar a year. The time of the meetings was to be every Wednesday, October through April at 3:00 p.m. This has been changed many times until the present time of meeting is the first and third Tuesday at 2 p.m. The place of meeting was by invitation to the homes of the members.

The club has made many contributions to the town and community in accordance with its motto. The first was made in its very first year—receptacles to deposit waste and scraps were placed on the streets in the business section. In 1911 a movement was started by the Club to create interest in a new school building and the very next year, 1912, the building was erected on the N. W. corner of Dorman and Center Streets. The club donated framed pictures for the assembly room of the school when it was opened.

In 1914 a drinking fountain was installed on Commerce Street opposite the present Post Office for the convenience of people and animals. In 1956 the City Council asked the consent of the Club to remove it since it had become obsolete in this motorized age.

A petition to the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. for a southbound passenger shed was framed and circulated by the Club which had successful results. Also, in 1948, letters were sent to the railroad company asking for gates at the crossings to prevent accidents, and received favorable recognition.

Annual contributions have been made to the American Red Cross, Cancer, Heart and Polio Drives, Harrington Fire Company, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Christmas gifts for Delaware Colony, Student Loan Fund, Penny Art Fund, CARE packages for Europe; T. B. Seals, Chamber of Commerce, American Legion Gift Shop, Delaware Crippled Children, Milford Hospital, Health Fund, Music Scholarships; and special contributions to the fund for the restoration of Independence Hall in Philadelphia, and the John Dickinson Home near Dover; besides many other worthy calls.

In March, 1914, the Club voted to become a member of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

About 1915 the Club began thinking about a club house and a fund was started for that purpose.

Swarmed by hundreds of requests for personal appearances The Chordettes have been extremely busy filling the various engagements. Some of the high spots in their personal appearance schedule include the annual TV and Radio Correspondents Dinner in Washington, D. C. where President Eisenhower thrilled to their barbershop arrangement of "Wait 'Til the Sun Shines Nellie" plus "Mr. Sandman."

Among the Chordettes recent credits are the Robert Q. Lewis television & Radio Shows; Ed Sullivan, Perry Como, Eddie Fisher, Vaughn Monroe, Russ Morgan, Sammy Kaye and Jonathan Winters shows plus the Jack Paar Tonight Show.

Friday evening a fire, attributed to a defective stove, damaged a bed and tack room in Barn No. 6 at the Kent & Sussex Fairgrounds. Loss was estimated at $200, on the building, with a loss of $350 to the contents.

Tuesday evening there was a grass fire at the home of Lelia Hopkins, and Thursday there was a woodfire at "Russian" John's place.

Telephone Company Granted One-Third Rate Increase

The Public Service Commission Monday granted the Diamond State Telephone Company about one-third of the rate increase the company requested.

The decision, announced Monday night in Dover, will permit the company to earn an extra $886,530 a year, which is $1,501,870 less than the $2,388,400 the company hoped to gain annually by the rate increase it requested.

The PSC action means that the telephone company will have to make refunds to customers on a large part of the rate increases it put into effect on a tentative basis, as permitted by law, on Sept. 15 last year. Had the PSC approved the full rate increase requested by the company, the present tentative rates would have continued in effect.

Under the order issued by the PSC following up its decision, the company will have to make up a new rate schedule to produce the lower revenue permitted.

The PSC order is also expected to set up the time and method of making the refunds.

The FSC decision, announced by Norman B. Baylis, chairman, will produce for the company $400,216 in added revenue, annually, net after taxes.

Rate Base Set

Fundamental to the commission's decision was its finding that the valuation of the company's property—also known as the rate base—should be $40,000,000. The company had requested a rate base of $44,533,834, which it said is the reproduction cost of its property. The figure used by the PSC is $5,000,000 higher than the rate base in the last telephone case.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS WITH CITIZEN'S ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The Harrington Special School District Board of Education met with the citizen's advisory committee in the school cafeteria Thursday evening. Board members present were Luther Hatfield, president; Russell Bowdle, vice president; Roland Hitchens and Keith Burgess.

Members of the advisory committee present included Mrs. Clyde Perry, Mrs. James Fair, the Rev. Richard Gibson, Mrs. William Lord, Mrs. Theodore Reed, Gayle Smith, A. A. Feagan, Mrs. James Moore, William Outten, Floyd Nasser, E. A. Rutledge, J. Edward Taylor and Brinton Holloway.

Mr. Hatfield asked the group for their opinions on three main questions. Should another referendum be held? When should it be held? Should the next referendum be for the same amount as the last or for a reduced sum. He reminded the gathering that the money allotted by the state for the local school building program would revert back to the state if not used this year.

After lengthy discussion it was decided to hold another referendum. The questions when and how much will be decided later.

Mr. Messner, school superintendent, mentioned that construction costs are increasing at the rate of 6% per year.

The following suggestions were received as to ways to make the next vote successful.

1. Map out Harrington and have a door to door solicitation.

2. Form a speaking group to address interested clubs, etc.

3. Organize the referendum as is done in politics.

4. Visit other schools with newly completed building programs.

5. Contact the Farm Bureau and other agricultural organizations in an effort to win farm support.

6. A member from each local club and organization should be named on the advisory committee in order to keep each group posted as to developments.

7. School taxes should be kept at the present level for 1959-60.

8. Another public meeting should be held to enlighten everyone as to actual school needs.

9. Films could be taken of facilities at other schools and shown at the public meeting.

10. A chairman should be appointed for the advisory committee.

The next meeting of this type will be Thursday evening, April 23, at 7:30 o'clock.

A school board business meeting then followed.

Mr. Messner stated that no additional bids had been received for finishing the tower on the athletic field. It was decided that Harrington Lumber and Supply would be given the contract for the work. The job must be finished by April 30 in order to be ready for the Henlopen Athletic Conference's first championship track meet.

Eleven schools will take part. This is probably the first event of this type since the "field meets" of the twenties.

The board also voted to:

1. Provide a series of highly recommended tests for the junior class.

2. Send four students to sing in the state chorus at Alexis I. duPont High School in Wilmington.

3. Purchase two clarinets for the school band.

4. Review the TV educational program.

5. Have the Underwriters of Dover inspect the wiring at both the white and colored schools.

Mr. Hatfield stated that he had re-checked with the state fire marshal and found that fire escapes were not needed for any part of the Harrington School.

Mr. Messner reported that no candidates had been received for the post of elementary principal and that all teachers had expressed a desire to return for the 1959-60 school term. To have no turnover at all in teaching personnel is an unusual situation.

The next board meeting is Thursday evening, April 16.

Senate Assures Attaches' Pay

The Senate Wednesday passed two resolutions to pay its attaches and employees of the Joint Finance Committee a total of $10,215 for their services to the 120th General Assembly.

The House adopted a similar resolution Tuesday, assuring that the attaches will have a payday before Easter.

A total of 40 employees are covered in SB-40 and 42, including the two employees of the Finance Committee, who get half their pay from the House and half from the Senate.

The Senate received two new bills Wednesday and two resolutions in addition to those that gladdened the hearts of the attaches. Among the new bills was SB-92, intended to make a change in the law on printing and distribution of ballots for primary elections. The bill fails to make sense, however.

The other bill handed up Wednesday is SB-93, to authorize the Milford Special School District to make a $44 refund in capitation taxes, erroneously collected.

The Senate adopted a resolution (SB-41) to pay the Harrington Journal $160 for printing stationery for the Senate; and another (SCR-15) providing for adjournment of the General Assembly after Thursday until 1 p.m., April 6. This is the adjournment designed to give the Joint Finance Committee a week in which to work on its figures.

The Senate also passed HCR-1, authorizing payment of $1,751.42 for supplies for the last session of the General Assembly. The vote was 10 yeas and seven absents.

Six bills were passed by the Senate.

Coady Boy Dies of Presumed Poison

Members of the Booster Club of Asbury Methodist Church furnished entertainment for members, and their wives, of Kirkwood Encampment of Odd Fellows at Milford Wednesday evening. A covered-dish luncheon preceded the entertainment.

The group, which calls itself "The Musical Saboteurs," was organized for its own amusement, but its skit has been well received at several functions.

McDowell Attacks President's Decision To Cut Oil Imports

Congressman Harris B. McDowell (D-Del.) in a strong indictment of President Eisenhower's move to protect large American oil corporations, made the following statement:

"We have been hearing a lot of talk lately about inflation from the Administration. Prevention of inflation seems to have been the main thing on Mr. Eisenhower's mind as we have seen from his policy of a balanced budget and tight money. He has insinuated that the Democratic Congress is composed of nothing but "spendthrifts" and "budget-busters" who are bent on destroying the economy by producing inflationary conditions.

"And yet, this same President has seen fit to cut the amount of oil which this country can import. This will definitely cause more inflation than any move the Congress could make if it were bent upon producing inflation, and of course, the Congress is not," McDowell went on saying:

"While the President's order cuts crude oil imports about 25 per cent, it slashes the import of gasoline and other refined oil products more drastically. To the ordinary consumer, this means the price of gasoline will go up since with less gasoline on the market, more money is required to buy it. It means the consumer's heating bill will become larger if he heats his home with oil or any oil product.

"To the business man, this decision means a rise in the cost of manufacturing since he must pay a greater price for oil which he consumes in large quantities. By increasing the cost of doing business, this will increase the cost of buying every article that American business manufactures. Then too, when products of American industry must be sold at a higher price, our domestic manufacturers will be at a disadvantage on the world market since they cannot sell their products as cheaply as other nations with whom they are competing.

"We can easily see that the President's decision is totally inconsistent with his previous demand to eliminate inflationary tendencies from the economy. It is also inconsistent with the President's expressed desire to aid foreign countries and increase our prestige in the international arena. As a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, I am deeply concerned with the effect the oil import cut will have upon our relations with friendly producer nations. Our good trade relations with Canada essentially will be destroyed, and the damage this decision will do to our already strained relationships with South America and the Middle East will be irreparable. The economic stability of these countries, whose friendship we need so badly, depends to a great extent upon the money they receive from selling oil to the United States. The President's action can do nothing but cause a loss of friendship, and a weakening of these countries' economy, making them even more susceptible to Communist influence and infiltration. This we absolutely cannot afford.

"The President has attempted to give reasons for the decision. He stated that we must cut oil imports and develop America's ability to produce oil so that in the event of a major war, the U. S. would not have to depend upon foreign markets. This argument is so ill advised that it becomes ridiculous."

Congressman McDowell pointed out its weaknesses by stating: "First of all by cutting off oil imports we may be increasing the American oil industry's capacity to produce more oil by increasing its employees and the size of its production plants, but along with this we are depleting the available supply of domestic oil. Secondly, the United States has sufficient oil producing capacity right now to fight a big war. Our worry is not whether we have enough oil for war . . . we have that. The real problem is whether or not we have an adequate amount of defense to prevent a major war from starting. Thirdly, in case of a limited war, the United States would not be severed from ALL foreign oil resources. Oil from Canada is piped into this country, and consequently would be free from enemy action on the high seas. Fourthly, it is true that SOME of our foreign sources of oil would be cut off in time of war, but, with this in mind, should we not allow at least part of America's oil to lie underground and should we not take advantage of the opportunity, which may not always be with us, to bring in oil from the Middle East and South America?"

Congressman McDowell went on to say: "The President's decision is harmful to every state in this Union which depends upon oil imports. This means that his decision is harmful to all but a handful of western oil producing states. It is a devastating blow to every consumer in this country, especially those East of the Mississippi River, for both business and consumers in this area depend heavily upon imported oil.

"The only people to benefit from the President's decision are those running our large oil companies and, I might add, it is not only the Democrats who are saying that the President is looking out for the oil interests which are financially well off to start with Sen. George Aiken (R-Vt.) delivered a scorching criticism of the President's plan."

McDowell said, in conclusion: "Although politics is not the reason for criticism of the decision, politics can be the only reason for the President's order. It looks as if there is collusion between certain people in both political parties to protect the oil producers in exchange for their political support. I, for one, however, will voice my disgust when I see politics played to this extent.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Notes

The Cantata "The Seven Last Words of Christ" was presented Palm Sunday at 4 p.m., Calvary Methodist Church, Milford. It was an excellent production and many persons from the Milford-Harrington-Greenwood area attended the program. C. Merrill Wagner of Middletown was guest soloist, and Mrs. Norma Heyde was director. Members of St. Stephen's choir who sang in the cantata were Mesdames James Coady and Eleanor Smith, altos; Messrs. Leon Porter and Philip Holson, tenors, and Miss Kitty Lou Smith, soprano. The choir was composed of seventy singers.

Flowers on the altar Palm Sunday were given to the glory of God and in loving memory of Almira Hill by Mr. and Mrs. Granville Hill.

Coffee hour hostesses were Mesdames Clyde Perry and Walter Winkler.

The church school mite box presentation will take place on Easter Sunday. This year's offering will be used for missionary work of the church in Central America and in building parish houses in the United States.

With the guidance and support of parents and teachers, the young people have learned, in some measure, that they themselves can be missionaries at home and abroad, that they can share with thanksgiving His blessings with others; that the "mite" put into the box should not be a left-over coin, or a tip, but the very best and greatest offering possible.

Ushers on Palm Sunday were Messrs. Clarence Reed and Richard Raladge.

April 11 there will be a conference of Episcopal young churchmen at Friends School, in Wilmington. All teenagers from grades 9 through 12 are invited. "The Challenge of Conflicting Creeds—Christianity and Communism" will be the theme of the meeting. The keynote speaker will be Dr. Charles Wesley Lowry, who has worked as Episcopal chaplain, rector, lecturer, and author. He has attended ecumenical and governmental conferences and conventions in Great Britain, Holland, France, and Italy, and has recently conducted a conference for three hundred teenagers at St. Clement's Church, Arlington, Va.

The program begins at 10:30 a.m. and lasts into the evening. Overnight hospitality will be provided for those requesting it.

The Women of St. Stephen's met Tuesday, March 17, at the parish house, Mrs. Robert Creadick presided.

All the ladies present took part in making small Easter favors for the shut-ins at a nearby nursing home. This project will be a part of the work carried out by St. Stephen's Department of Christian Social Relations.

Mrs. McNally will be chairman of a clothing drive to furnish needed items for the destitute abroad, under the sponsorship of the United Church Women.

Members present voted to send a contribution from the Women of St. Stephen's to a memorial fund for the late Mrs. Carl Colell of Milford.

April 5, the first Sunday after Easter, Bishop J. Brooke Mosley will be guest preacher at the 11 o'clock service. At this time he will confirm a class of adults and young persons at St. Stephen's.

Services for the remainder of this week as listed in the church bulletin and in the Lenten folder that was distributed to all parishioners at the beginning of the Lenten season, are as follows: Thursday, Holy Communion, 7 a.m.; Holy Communion also at 8 p.m.; Friday, morning prayer at 10 a.m.; Good Friday service, Trinity Church, 12-3 p.m.; Evening prayer and Litany, 5:15 p.m.; Easter Sunday, festival Eucharist and sermon, 8 a.m.; morning prayer and sermon, 11 a.m.; Holy Communion, 12:10 p.m.; Church School Easter Party, 5:30 p.m.; evensong and mite box presentation, 7 p.m.

The only change in the schedule to be noted is that the church school mite box presentation originally scheduled for 5:30 p.m., will be at 7 p.m. The party will be at 5:30 p.m.

The Men of St. Stephen's met at the parish house Wed., March 18, with Robert Creadick presiding. After an appropriate Lenten supper, a short business meeting was held. A ways and means committee was appointed with Thomas E. Clendenning as chairman.

Robert McNally, program chairman, narrated a film depicting growth of the Episcopal religion in Japan.

The next meeting of this group will be Wed., May 15, 6:30 p.m. Beginning Easter Sunday and continuing through May 31, the Men of St. Stephen's and the Christ Churchmen of Milford will sponsor the 14th annual Episco-

Soopersnoopers Science Club
The last two meetings of our science club have contained many events.

First our objective was to give the club good support. So, the club officers met after school to establish a constitution.

Next, sharing our responsibility we chose a name for the club. This election was in favor of the Soopersnoopers. Thus, we chose our name.

In a few weeks more people will want to join. The club voted to limit the membership to those having "B" or better grades. We have one new member and his name is Milton Szamajda. Everyone voted him to be one of our members.

In the near future we hope to have a science trip to the Benjamin Franklin Institute in Philadelphia. We are now making plans for transportation.

All the members of this club are willing to work toward our goal, that is to have a better Science Education.

Zwaanendael Museum Notes

New and different exhibits are being planned at the Zwaanendael Museum in anticipation of the influx of visitors which always arrive with the advent of spring.

A beautiful silver Communion service belonging to the Bethel Methodist Church, Lewes, will be displayed this week for the first time. A Flagon and two Chalices presented to the church by Thomas S. Wiltbank, August 1872 and a Paten presented by the Atlantic Lodge No. 15, I.O.O.F., on the same date are included. The corner stone of the new church at Mulberry and Church Streets was laid in 1870 and the building was completed in 1874. At that time the Atlantic Lodge buildings was directly across the street and, no doubt, some of the members, extremely interested in the new building, sponsored the gift. Thomas S. Wiltbank was born in Lewes in 1845, but when still a young man went to Philadelphia to study law, and we believe, lived there until he died. He, however, often visited the town of his birth and cherished memories that prompted the presentation of the Communion Service at the time of the erection of the new church. He was half brother to Edward R. Wiltbank, who was the well-known blacksmith on Third Street in Lewes.

A small exhibit of handbills and documents, pertinent to the area and local history, has also been arranged. These, recent loans to the museum, include a handbill of "Milton Academy, 1867"; and one listing persons in Lewes and Rehoboth Hundred liable to military duty, December 1, 1863. They were found in some old newspapers which had belonged to Dr. Joseph M. Martin of Lewes, deceased, and were lent by James E. Mills, Lewes. There is a license issued to Sarah Marriner, May 1, 1814, permitting her to keep a "Public House of Entertainment to sell wine, rum, brandy, . . . perry and all other strong liquors," lent by Mrs. D. Anthony Potter, Lewes. It is signed by Daniel Rodney, Governor, and Peter Robinson, Secretary of State. Sarah Marriner's "Public House" was located on what is now St. Peter's Episcopal Churchyard.

A surveyor's book with many intricate problems and diagrams by Joseph Hunter of Coolspring, January 1813, was lent for exhibit by E. DeWitt Ramel of New York. A Traveler's Guide, a book bound in red leather containing "upward of seven hundred rail-road, canal, and stage and steamboat routes" including those in Delaware, was lent by Mrs. Elizabeth Parasella of Lewes.

Exhibited also is a receipt, dated 1866, to James Lank, Nassau, for $250 for ten shares of Junction and Breakwater Railroad, signed by Harbeson Hickman, as treasurer. James Lank kept a store in Nassau where a station for this railroad was maintained. Harbeson Hickman was born in Lewes in 1813, spent several successful years in California, but in 1859 returned to his native town and was owner of about twenty vessels most of them sailing to the West Indies and South American ports, although some were engaged in European trade.

The museum receives visitors weekdays, Tuesday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Sundays and holidays, 12:30 to 5:30 p.m., closed Mondays. Holiday hours will be observed Good Friday, but the museum will be closed all day Easter Sunday.

HOWARD C. HOYT

Ag Engineer Appointed at U. D.

Howard C. Hoyt has been appointed to the agricultural engineering staff at the University of Delaware, according to Dean George M. Worriolow of the school of agriculture. Mr. Hoyt succeeds W. E. Larsen, who accepted an agricultural engineering position at the University of Arizona.

Mr. Hoyt will work with agricultural processing and materials handling. He will work with projects such as hay pelleting, soybean processing, mushroom handling, and the general automation of our agricultural production and processing industry.

Soybean processing is of interest to Delmarva poultrymen who are concerned about the present situation which finds locally grown soybeans being sold out of the peninsula while poultrymen are buying soybean oil meal shipped in from the Midwest and paying the freight costs.

Hoyt will work with research people in the poultry industry to seek a method of processing whole soybeans on the peninsula without high equipment investments.

Mr. Hoyt was born in Kennewick, Wash., and attended high school at Oak Park, Ill. He graduated from New York University with a bachelors degree in industrial engineering. He also did research work at N.Y.U. in the early development of jet propulsion.

He served six years in the U. S. Army achieving the rank of major.

He has worked for the Link-Belt Co., with materials handling, the Continental Can Co., with packaging equipment and containers, and with the duPont Co. on mechanical development.

He is a member of the American Society of Industrial Engineers, the American Society of Engineering Education, and the American Society of Agricultural Engineers.

Mr. Hoyt and his wife Betty Jean, have two children, Nancy Jean, five; and William Sherman, seven.

Eggs and Easter Go Together

Eggs and Easter have been major parts of spring for about as many years as people have recorded history.

The name, Easter, is probably pre-Christian. According to ancient Anglo-Saxon lore, Oestra was a beautiful fairy-like goddess of spring that brought fertility and new life to the earth.

Mrs. Marjorie Whittaker, nutrition specialist with the Agricultural Extension Service, University of Delaware, reports that the egg has long been a symbol of spring, new life and of things renewed among primitive peoples.

Also promoting this connection between spring and eggs, is the surplus of eggs at this time of year.

Eggs play an important role in our menus for many reasons besides mythical ones. Mrs. Whittaker says. They are low in price and in good supply at this time of year and are high in protein, vitamins, and minerals.

If you wonder how the rabbit got into the act it may be because of Oestra again. She, according to the Teutonic tribesmen, changed her pet bird into a rabbit, who, because of his generous nature, always fills his nest with bright colored eggs.

Following the resurrection of Christ, the Christian peoples have likened the egg to the tomb of Christ. The shell, they said, is like the prison where the Saviour was laid, and the hatching of the chick is like the rising of Christ who burst forth from his tomb on Easter day.

Free Polio Shots Again Underway

Free polio shots for adults and pre-school children become available on a state-wide basis in the next few days, as clinics get underway in Middletown, Lewes, and Wilmington. Last Saturday (March 21) saw clinics opening in Wilmington and in Dover. The Fire Hall in Lewes will be the site of the first evening clinic in the "second chance" series sponsored by the Medical Society of Delaware, State Board of Health, and the Delaware Chapters of the National Foundation. Volunteer physicians and nurses will give the anti-polio injections from 6-8 p.m., Wednesday evening, March 25. On Saturday, April 4, teams will be at the Middletown School, 504 South Board Street, from 9-11 a.m. Wilmington's City Health Unit at 1213 Walnut Street will also be open for the shots from 9-12 noon on April 4.

Warm weather and the promise of an early summer make early inoculation against polio even more important. This is especially true for people who have not received three shots of the Salk vaccine. The inactivated polio organisms in the vaccine cause the human body to develop protecting agents, called antibodies. When the polio virus gets into the system, these antibodies attack and kill it before a true case of poliomyelitis can develop. But it takes time for the antibodies to form, and the peak polio season is approaching. Two shots should give protection for the summer of 1959 if the first is received now and the second in about thirty days.

Two shots are never full protection. Being polio-proof for long periods of time requires at least three shots of today's vaccine. Persons who got three shots of the lower-potency vaccine available before 1957 should have a fourth or booster shot this spring. This is especially true of young children and their parents, and of pregnant mothers, the more susceptible groups. Authorities point out that vaccinated people can still carry the virus to the unprotected without becoming ill themselves.

Recent studies reported that mothers who receive polio shots before the birth of their children give a higher than normal antibody level to the infants at birth. While the level is lower than that given by shots themselves, it will lessen the baby's chance of contracting polio before he starts his own series.

Children and teenagers in schools will receive booster doses in spring in in-school inoculation programs. This will mean that this group will have no need for the free public clinics unless they have not had three shots by now. The sponsors feel that the clinics can provide quicker and better service to adults and pre-school children by this improved distribution of the work load.

This year, for the first time, state-purchased vaccine is available for private office administration to people who have their own doctors, but cannot afford to purchase the vaccine. Physicians, if notified a few days in advance, can get vaccine for this group through the state Board of Health. They are also, of course, continuing to provide the Salk shots on the usual fee basis for anyone who wants it.

New Methods in Carpet Care

Rug manufacturers have taken some practical steps recently to aid homemakers in caring for their carpets and rugs. Florence Y. Smith, county home demonstration agent reports. She says new wool and wool-blend carpets have been permanently moth-proofed by major manufacturers while synthetic fiber rugs are naturally mothproof. Today's carpets can be maintained easily with normal care—vacuum cleaning, spot and stain removal and professional cleaning as required.

The frequency of these cleaning procedures depends on the amount of traffic in the home and the amount of atmospheric soil in the area.

Quick spot and stain removal is always effective in maintaining carpet beauty and life. Some carpet fibers are less absorbent than others and therefore do not readily soak up stain-causing liquids; but all carpets, regardless of fiber content, can be cleaned successfully with prompt action.

Simple cleaning materials, such as a solution of detergent and water, or the type of cleaning fluid used to remove spots from clothing, are easily used on carpets and rugs, Mrs. Smith said.

Easter Anniversary Service at Pilgrim Church

Plans for the third anniversary service to be held at the Harrington Pilgrim Holiness Church, Easter Sunday were announced this week by the Rev. William H. Miller. The service will begin at 10 a.m.

The combined service of both the Sunday School and the worship service will include special Easter music and an Easter message.

A brief resume of the progress made by the church during the past three years in the new building will be given by Pastor Miller.

He recently pointed out to the people that the indebtedness on the property had been reduced to $7690. This means that nearly $18,000 has been paid on the indebtedness during the past three years. Sunday School attendance has increased by fifty per cent and attendance at the worship service has also increased during this time.

A goal of 300 has been set for this Easter anniversary service. Arrangements have been made to award an attractive souvenir to everyone who attends.

David M. Miller Returns From Conference

David M. Miller, pastor of the Harrington Seventh-day Adventist Church, returned today from Atlantic City, N. J., where he attended the quadrennial convention of the Columbia Union Conference of Seventh-day Adventists.

A report will be made tomorrow by the pastor to members of the local church.

"Dave, I've found exactly the right car for us! It'll make driving ever so much more comfortable."

"Comfort's fine, Nancy, but we've got to consider savings, too. And I've found just the car for that!"

"But the car I've found is so easy to get in and out of . . . and so comfy to sit in."

"Yes, but my car will save us as much as $1.00 on every tankful of gas because it uses regular. How about that?"

"Well, that's nice, but what about my frilly hats? We'll have hat room not just head room in my car. And you're no shorty, either . . . you'd bump your head in a lot of those new cars."

"Not in this one. And it only needs oil changes each 4000 miles. Its muffler is aluminumized to normally last twice as long, too."

"In the car I want, everybody enjoys a soft comfortable seat . . . even the folks in the middle! This car's built just right for us . . . and besides, I think it's cute."

"Sure, looks are important . . . and my car will keep on looking good 'cause its finish is so bright and durable it never needs waxing."

Plant a Tree Now

One of the best times for tree planting in Delaware is March and early April, according to horticultural specialist Robert Stevens, University of Delaware.

Leafy trees are best planted during late fall (after leaves have fallen) and during early spring until about mid-April. Care in planting this tree is necessary to increase the chances of survival and to prevent a transplanting set back.

Here are a few simple rules the specialist suggests you follow in planting bare rooted trees (not balled and burlaped):

1. Plant as soon as possible after you receive the trees. Be sure to keep the roots from drying out. Heel in all stock which must be kept a few days in moist soil away from drying winds or leave wrapped up as received from nursery in cool shady place.

2. Dig the hole with straight sides and flat bottom large enough to accommodate all roots with an extra 3 to 6 inches on each side and on the bottom. Mix top soil removed from the hole with one fourth peat moss or other humus and sand. Sand need not be added in sections where the soil is sandy but is needed in most of northern New Castle County, Delaware.

3. Shovel 3 to 6 inches of the top soil mixture in the bottom of the hole and heap up a mound in the center of the hole where the base of the trunk will rest.

4. Inspect the roots and prune off broken or damaged roots using pruning shears. Place the tree straight up in the hole at about the same depth it had in its former location.

5. Spread out the roots to approximately their original position. Shovel in the prepared topsoil. Firm the soil around the trunk and roots being careful not to injure the bark of the trunk or roots.

6. When the hole is two thirds full, pour in several gallons of water to fill the hole. This may be a starter solution but be sure it is not too strong. After the water has settled fill in soil until level with the ground. Do not mound up the soil around the trunk but leave a saucer shaped basin for watering.

7. Prune the top so as to keep the natural shape of the tree. Do not prune the leader or any short branches growing out directly from the leader.

8. Provide support for newly set trees. A single stake long enough to reach into the lower part of the crown will do for trees up to 2 inches in diameter. Drive this stake into the ground about one foot from the base of the trunk. The tree is fastened to the stake with wire which is run through a piece of old garden hose. Trees of two to four inches in diameter require two or three stakes and trees of four or more inches in diameter must be guyed down.

9. A mulch of two to three inches of peat moss, leaf mold, straw, hay, or similar material is often helpful the first two years. Wrapping the trunk of deciduous trees will prevent sunscald. No fertilizer is advised at planting time. Moderate fertilizing is recommended the second year.

Delaware Turkey Production To Be Increased

Delaware Turkey growers are planning to produce 624,000 turkeys this year, an increase from the 505,000 produced last year, according to George Vapaa, county agent.

The anticipated expansion in 1959 will be with the light breeds which will be up 30 per cent above last year. Delaware will produce about 516,000 light breed turkeys if they follow their January plans, Mr. Vapaa said. Last year they grew 397,000 light breed turkeys.

They are planning about the same number of heavy birds.

On the topic of increased turkey production, Secretary of Agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson, recently said the expected record turkey crop will hit a five per cent increase above the 77 million produced in 1958.

Benson said past experience demonstrates that under such conditions an even larger crop than that indicated by "intentions" can be expected. It now looks as if the 1959 turkey crop could go over the previous record of 81 million raised in 1957.

Most of the increase will be in the light turkeys, about 2.6 million birds.

Production of broilers and hogs will be up significantly this year and will mean increased competition and lower prices for all three meats.

Travel Council Well Received In Pennsylvania

Officers of the Delaware Travel Council said this week that their two-day good will motorcade to Pennsylvania was one of the best promotions on behalf of the First State of which there is a record.

"It was amazing to see how well we were received in the Pennsylvania communities by their press, radio and travel and motor club outlets," said Harry B. Bissell, Travel Council president. "Everywhere we stopped people asked questions—wanted to know about the state and its places of interest and events. We certainly tried to answer them verbally and with literature."

The official Delaware state map was hailed as the best he had ever seen by the city editor of the Lebanon Daily News, Bissell continued. In Lancaster, Ralph Sides, who conducts the resort and travel business for the newspapers there, also extended a warm welcome.

The fifteen people in the group continued their trip to Harrisburg, where they were received by officials of the Pennsylvania Recreation and Sportsmen's show. Here, the Delaware State Development Department had an attractive booth which may receive an award, according to John W. G. Alland, show director. He said that David S. Hugg, who was in charge of the booth, had been most co-operative and that the Delaware display had been set up well in advance of the official opening.

Lt. Gov. John Morgan Davis also welcomed the Travel Council good will team and extended the Keystone State's hospitality. He said he hoped he didn't have to come to Rehoboth Beach this summer to caucus with members of his state legislature. "That's where you'll find a lot of them," he quipped.

The motorcade continued to Gettysburg and York, where the same cordial receptions were encountered, Bissell declared.

The following people were on the tour and represented not only the Travel Council but these individual organizations: Mr. and Mrs. Parker Burkhardt, Dover, duPont Parkway Business Association; Mr. and Mrs. Bissell, Travel Council; Mr. and Mrs. Murray Metten, travel section, News-Journal papers; Harry Zerby and William J. McCabe, Rehoboth Beach Chamber of Commerce; Howard R. Elliott, President, Garland Bloodworth and Leslie Williams, Laurel Chamber of Commerce.

Also Mrs. Louise Schmidt, Delaware Game and Fish Commission; Mrs. Georgia W. Hyatt, Delaware State Development Department; Frank Colbourn, Delaware Hotelmen's Association, and Miles L. Frederick, Delaware Memorial Bridge.

Spring Day Dreams And Corn Borers

Spring is a time when a great many things come to mind, most of them having to do with the things we are supposed to be thinking about . . . like work.

Many things bloom in spring including daydreams. Not everything that blooms is good however. George Vapaa, county agricultural agent, says it's almost time for corn borers to come into bloom.

They have been holed up in old cornstalks all winter and will soon be ready to make their appearance along with the bees and flowers.

What he is leading up to is this: plow those corn borers under before May 1 and it will help keep the borer population down in this year's corn crop.

The borers also attack peppers, potatoes and other plants as well as corn. In fact, one borer in a pepper plant does much more damage than one borer in a corn plant.

So, Mr. Vapaa suggests that while you daydream and watch the big white clouds roll by, you plow up the old corn field. Do a clean job. If stalks are left on top, you are wasting your time.

USDA Issues Caution on Fumigated Oats

Oats fumigated with ethylene dibromide must be aerated thoroughly before they can be fed to laying hens or losses in egg production may result, reports Ralph Barwick, extension poultryman at the University of Delaware.

U. S. Department of Agriculture scientists report that limited tests indicate ethylene dibromide in large amounts in oats can reduce the size of eggs laid. However, experimental data shows fumigated grain can be aerated so no ill effects will result from feeding.

The scientists say the overall effect of ethylene dibromide on egg production is not known, other factors may have an influence in the instances where production in egg size has occurred.

Barwick says research is planned to investigate the problems thoroughly, and to find the answers needed to protest the poultry industry.

There is no reason for concern about use of the commonly recommended fumigants or other insecticides on stored grains, when used properly, USDA said. These treatments are necessary and serve a useful purpose in preventing contamination of grain and the tremendous damage and losses that would otherwise be caused by insects.

Scientists cautioned that, until further information is available, poultrymen should make sure that oats fumigated with ethylene dibromide are aerated thoroughly before being fed to laying hens. No oats retaining the odor of the fumigant should be fed, Barwick said.

Available information indicates that oats containing up to 10 parts per million of ethylene dibromide and comprising 50 percent of the diet should cause no trouble under average farm conditions.

Eggnog for Easter

Mothers planning Easter egg hunts or egg rolling for groups of children may want to consider easily made, nutritious egg-and-milk drinks for refreshments, according to extension nutrition specialist Mrs. Marjorie Whittaker, University of Delaware.

Eggs will be in heavy supply at this Easter season. The U. S. Department of Agriculture suggests that the basic eggnog recipe can be varied in many ways to give it a festive touch that will appeal to youngsters.

One tall glass of plain eggnog calls for 1 egg; 1 cup milk; about 1 tablespoon sugar; a pinch of salt; 1/4 teaspoon of vanilla. Beat these ingredients together, pour into cups or glasses, serve cold and sprinkle nutmeg on top.

To make the eggnog fluffier, Mrs. Whittaker suggests beating whites and yolks separately, then mix yolks, milk, sugar, salt and flavoring before mixing into the beaten white. Lemon or orange flavor may be used instead of vanilla, and crushed lemon drops may be sprinkled on top instead of the customary nutmeg. Or use peppermint flavor and top with crushed peppermint candy. Serve with colorful straws.

Ice cream makes another popular eggnog. Drop a small scoop of vanilla ice cream into the glass of plain eggnog before serving. Banana eggnog made by adding a ripe, cut-up banana to the egg, milk and sugar in the electric-mixer bowl and beating all together. Eggnog sweetened with maple sirup instead of sugar, or flavored with almond extract instead of vanilla.

Veterans News QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—I know that benefits paid veterans by VA, such as GI training allowances, compensation and pension payments and the like, the tax-free and need not be reported on my Federal Income Tax form. But what about interest earned on GI life insurance dividends left on deposit with VA? Is that taxable?

A—Yes. Any interest paid on dividends held as credit or deposit is taxable.

Q—I have a service-connected disability for which I draw compensation from the VA, and have just learned I should go into a VA hospital for treatment. Will I still receive my disability compensation check while in the hospital?

A—Yes. Your disability compensation will continue while in the hospital, and will be paid directly to you. Special rules, however cover special cases, such as allotments to dependents, or incompetency.

Q—My GI insurance policy has lapsed through my failure to pay the premium on the due date. How long do I have to reinstate the policy without taking a physical exam? I am in good health.

A—You have three months from the due date of your premium to reinstate your policy. You will have to submit a statement that your health is as good as it was when the policy lapsed.
Q—I am drawing death compensation from VA, as my husband died of a service-connected condition. Does the size of my outside income make any difference in my eligibility to get these payments?

A—No. Your other income has no effect on your eligibility for death compensation. Income limitations, however, do apply to death pensions based on deaths not connected with military ser-

ENFORCEMENT WILL BE THE QUESTION, IN THE RECENTLY ENACTED FIRE CODE

When Gov. J. Caleb Boggs signed into law the bill to create a state fire code Monday, he said, "An up-to-date and strictly enforced fire code is something Delaware has needed badly for many years."

Enforcement of the bill, sponsored by Senators Henry T. Price (D-Smyrna), Wilmer F. Williams (R-Roselle), Walton H. Simpson (R-Camden), and Earle M. Tull (D-Seaforth), will be the question. Heretofore, legislation for fire prevention and fire-safety measures have received little enforcement.

Fire escapes have been lacking, where called for by the law, and brush and field fires, at illegal hours, have been rampant. Here of late, the fire companies have been working overtime at fires caused by carelessness.

One of the unfortunate aspects is that firemen have to be called from their employment. One employer moaned, "So and so was out all afternoon fighting a field fire."

The new legislation will permit the creation of a six-member commission whose duty it will be to devise and promulgate a statewide fire code. Unless, the commission provides for enforcement officers, the code will be of little value.

THE FLAG SHOULD NOT BE USED FOR ADVERTISING PURPOSES

We have a state law which says the Flag shall not be used for advertising purposes. But the emblem is used for such purposes in Delaware.

With spring here, the emblems are beginning to appear at the roadside stands on U.S. 13, U.S. 113, and Delaware 14. It seems the merchants on these thoroughfares are more "patriotic" than those on other roads.

On Delaware 14 the other day, we saw a Flag nailed to a telephone or light pole in front of a barbershop. On the ground, beneath the Flag, was the shop's sign.

We believe it would be a good project for veterans' organizations to see that use of the Flag is not abused. It would also be commensurate if the public would refuse to trade with those establishments mistreating the Flag.

Delaware Food Market Report

With Easter Sunday just a few days off, make plans now to enjoy this special day instead of spending it in the kitchen working—preparing Easter dinner. Ham on the dinner table at this season has become traditional, and this year that Easter ham will cost less than a year ago.

There are many kinds of ham you may buy, but be sure you read the signs before you select your Easter ham so you will know what you are getting. Here is a guide to help you select a ham.

Whole ham—Hind leg, usually weighs 9 to 16 pounds. Three servings per pound.
 Butt Half—Upper half of the whole ham, serves 3 persons per pound.
 Shank Half—Lower half of whole ham, three servings per pound.
 Butt Portion—Upper half of ham, center slices removed. 2 1/2 servings per pound.
 Ham Slices—Slices from center section of ham. 4 servings per pound.

Canned Ham—Cooked, boned, ready to serve in most cases. One to ten pound sizes available. Serves four per pound. Read labels carefully—know what you buy!

To use ham economically, know how to store it. As a general guide, refrigerate all mild-cure hams and use them within a week. To get the most from your ham, bake it slowly so it will shrink the minimum amount.

Bake a whole ham, uncovered, fat side up, on a rack in a shallow baking pan, allowing approximately 18 minutes per pound for hams weighing 10 to 12 pounds in a 300 degree to 325 degree oven. When baking a ham, place the fat side down on the rack of the pan and allow 20 to 25 minutes per pound at the same low oven temperature. This is only a guide. Carefully read preparation suggestions on the ham you buy to make sure you have a top quality product when the baking is done.

Many fresh vegetables such as asparagus, broccoli, lettuce, tomatoes, radishes, corn on the cob and sweet potatoes are wearing attractive price tags and are materials for a delicious Easter meal.

Don't forget to get two or three extra dozen eggs for dyeing as well as for the extra baking done during the Easter holiday. With abundant supplies, prices are low and grade A large eggs remain a best buy.

A tailoring firm in Sydney, Australia, issued its staff and customers with Lloyds of London against injury should the Soviet satellite disintegrate and parts reach the earth. It paid $9 for a cover of $22,500.

Trinity Methodist Church Notes

Trinity and Asbury Churches united for Maundy Thursday Communion at Asbury, Thursday evening, at 7:30 o'clock. The Rev. Richard Gibson was in charge of the service.

Trinity and Asbury also unite for an Easter Sunrise service at 6 o'clock. The program to be held at Asbury, will include a talk by the Rev. C. E. Wilcox of Trinity, on "Awakening".

Good Friday services are being held in Trinity Methodist Church on Commerce St., from noon until 3 p.m. Members of the Harrington Ministerial Association speak on the Seven Last Words of Christ. Slides are to be used, to throw on a screen the words of the hymns that are used. Organists for the three hours are Mrs. Ernest Raughley, Miss Anne Perry, and Melvin Brobst. There is also special music planned.

For Easter morning, Sunday school meets at 10 o'clock, and morning worship starts at 11. The altar and platform will be banked with special flowers for Easter. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Williams will be the greeters. The choir sings two anthems: "As It Began to Dawn" by C. Vincent, and "The Holy City" by Adams, with Mrs. Warner and Mrs. Gilstad, the soloists. Mr. Brobst's organ prelude is double: "Easter Lilies" by Clarke and "The Easter Song" by Peery; postlude, "Road to Victory" by Richolson. The pastor has a special Easter message.

At 7:30 Easter evening, Trinity presents a special program. The centerpiece of church and service is a painting of the Resurrection, seven feet high and 19 feet long. On this subject, the Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Wilcox, in charge, have built a service of song by congregation and choir, with readings from the resurrection story to bind it all together. Readers are Randall Knox Jr., The junior choir, directed by Miss Shirley Kates, who is assisted by Miss Doris Black and Miss Barbara Minner, is to sing several special selections. The Sunday school will take up a special offering this evening, also.

The Monday morning prayer meeting is held in the church annex at 10 o'clock led by Mrs. John Walls.

The Junior Choir rehearses Thursdays at 6:45 p.m., and the senior choir at 8 p.m.

Please remember that our Fourth Quarterly Conference is to be held April 8, Wednesday evening, a 8 o'clock.

Spring Fertilization For Trees

Looking for an early spring job out in the yard? George Vapaa, county agricultural agent, says one thing you can do while waiting for the grass to get up high enough to cut is fertilize the trees.

Anytime between January and June is fine but the best time is early spring before the leaves come out.

For trees, the general rule is to apply one to three pounds of fertilizer for each inch of tree diameter. Measure the tree two or three feet above the ground and use the smaller amount of fertilizer for young trees and the larger amount for older trees. The fertilizer can be a 10-6-4, 10-5-5, or 10-10-10 ratio, he said.

The best way to apply the tree food is by making slits in the sod with a shovel about every two feet, starting about three feet out from the tree trunk and going out beyond the overhang of the tree top. Put two heaping tablespoons of fertilizer in each slit, Mrs. Vapaa adds.

Any left over can be spread over the surface of the ground.

Supported by the ever-popular Curt Jurgens, and with Robert Donat heading a great cast, great entertainment awaits Delaware and Maryland theatre fans.

HOUSE

(Continued from page one) Another bill passed Monday is HB-39, the highway bond bill, which provides for $2,385,000 in state funds to match $9,545,000 in federal funds available to the state. The Highway Department has said the $11,930,000 total is to be used for three freeway interchange projects at Farnhurst and Basin Road for Summit Bridge approaches, for East Fourth Street in Wilmington and for these five projects in Kent and Sussex Counties: Kenton to Bishop's Corner; Route 10, from Maryland line to Willow Grove; Route 14, from Route 38 to Milford-Short Beach Road; Washington and Main Streets in Millsboro; and Route 18, Georgetown to Route 319.

The bill was passed by a vote of 30 yeas, four absent and one nay (Manning).

The third measure passed Monday was HB-171, to make the Conrad High School Board elective rather than appointive. Rep. F. Earl McGinnes (D-Forest Brook Glen) said this school was omitted from another bill, passed by the House, on elective school boards, because the Conrad School is covered by a different part of the Delaware Code. The bill was passed over Republican opposition, with 23 Democrats voting yeas, seven Republicans no, one Republican not voting, and four members absent.

Seven New Measures Among the seven new bills introduced Monday was HB-206 presented by Rep. R. Allen Cannon (D-Nanticoke Acres) providing for assessment of real estate taxes on house trailers. Under the bill, all trailers, except transient ones located in a tax district less than 60 days, and unoccupied trailers which are for sale, would be added to the assessment of the real property on which they are located.

The bill would repeal a law enacted in 1957 setting a tax of $15 per year on each house trailer, to be collected by the county and paid to the school district in which the trailer is located. Under the bill, the county rather than the school district would keep the tax money derived from trailers, since the value of the trailers would be incorporated in the assessment of the real estate of the county.

Cannon pointed out Monday that he is the sponsor of HB-83, rather than McGinnes, who was recently referred to in an editorial as the bill's sponsor. The bill would limit the number and compensation of public school administrators.

A proposal to make the period of service of members of the Delaware State Police 25 years instead of 20 years, before they are pensioned at half pay, was introduced by Rep. Edgar T. English (D-Greenwood) co-sponsored by Rep. W. T. Best (R-Rehoboth). The minimum pension would remain $150 a month. The measure, HB-205, would apply to members of the State Police who started service after the bill became law, and it would not apply to those who started service earlier. The latter would continue to have the same pension rights under which they were hired.

In HB-201 Rep. Paul E. Shockley (D-Wilmington) proposed to set up a State Board of Electronic Examiners to license individuals and firms in the business of servicing radio and television equipment in New Castle County. The board, of five members, would be appointed by the Governor. No one would need a license to install his own aerial or repair his own radio or television set. Persons who have been engaged in the business of servicing and installing radio and television equipment in New Castle County and general repairman's licenses for two years before the effective date of the proposed law would be considered qualified for licenses. Mr. Shockley was absent Monday and his bill was handed in for him by a colleague.

New Bills HB-1 for HB-30—A substitute for the proposed new law on commercial fertilizers, dealing with registration, labeling and inspection by the State Board of Agriculture. By Walls and Best.

HB-202—To give tax exemption status to the Taylor's Bridge Community Center, the Blackbird Community Center, and Oak Hill Community Center. By Gove and Pryor.

HB-203—To make the license fees for residents $2.25 for hunting and trapping and $2.50 for fishing. By Gove by request.

HB-204—To change a provision of the law on horse racing, dealing with the situation when more than one person applies for a license to conduct flat racing. By Pryor.

HB-207—To include cocoa and chocolate in the flavoring materials for ice cream in figuring reduction in milk fat due to flavoring. By Tribbitt and King.

CENTURY CLUB

(Continued from page one) The members gave a dollar a year—more if they felt they could, and certain efforts were made to make money for that fund. When World War I called on everyone to sacrifice, the club took its precious fund and invested it in Liberty Bonds—a really patriotic sacrifice!

But in 1921 an opportunity came for the club to purchase the Presbyterian Church, which was no longer used for divine worship and could serve the purpose of the club well. So the purchase was made during the administration of Mrs. Garrett S. Harrington, and was incorporated in May 1921.

The Club worked hard to complete paying for that during the administration of Mrs. L. B. Harrington and had almost reached the goal, when on December 19, 1924 the building was destroyed by fire.

Then came a real challenge—to rebuild as soon as possible. James Welch of Southbridge, Mass., drew plans for the new building which were approved by the building committee—Mrs. L. B. Harrington, Mrs. G. S. Harrington, Mrs. L. T. Jones, Mrs. C. F. Wilson, Mrs. C. D. Murphy and Mrs. G. Hall Riggan. Mr. Welch donated the plans. This donation and cash donations made by several members and friends with the money collected from insurance gave a start to the building fund. Arlie L. Wix was the contractor. During the period of building the Club held its meetings in the Odd Fellow's rooms.

On October 31, 1925, James P. Pierce, Grand Master of the Masonic Lodge of Delaware, with his staff laid the corner stone of the new building, Mrs. Clarence Fream of Wilmington, President of the Delaware State Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Harley Waller of Delmar, Past President of the Delaware State Federation of Women's Clubs attended the ceremony with many members and friends of the Club.

At the completion of the Club house in April, 1926, an "opening" was held and Mr. Wix turned the keys over to Mrs. L. B. Harrington, the president, and the building committee was honorably discharged, with thanks for the untiring service they had rendered. The total cost was $9000 and the debt when the building was opened was $5000, which was borrowed from the First National Bank of Harrington.

Then came a period of strenuous effort over a period of 15 years to liquidate that debt. Many could tell of the work given by the members in banquets, suppers, bakes, sales, card parties, rummage sale, pyramid teas, etc., to earn money to pay the interest and to reduce the debt. Finally on October 21, 1941, in the administration of Mrs. S. M. Williams, the treasurer of the building fund, Mrs. John W. Sheldrake, "Miss May", announced that the debt had been paid in full, leaving a balance of $32.33 in the treasury.

It was then voted to retain this treasury, calling it the Maintenance Fund, and adding to it consistently from certain incomes to the Club. It has taken care of redecorating the interior of the club house twice, exterior paint-er several times, replacing the roof, renovation of the kitchen, installing a new heating system, purchase of new chairs, and many other improvements. Twice new card tables have been provided and several gifts have been given to individuals.

Three times pictures have been awarded to the Club by the State Federation for work reported in the Art Department, and a silver platter was also awarded by the Federation. In 1954 a club chorus was organized and directed by Mrs. Oscar Nemes. It has done outstanding work and twice was asked to sing at Federation meetings.

Harrington Century Club is happy to celebrate its fiftieth anniversary on March 31, 1959, and it hopes for still greater achievements in the future.

TELEPHONE

"Since the company's present rates in effect under bond are estimated to produce $2,388,400 of additional annual gross revenues, it follows that such rates, which were installed under bond by the company on Sept. 15, 1958, are producing $1,501,870 in excess of the amount we have found to be just and right," the opinion declares.

"To this extent," it continues, "the present rates in effect under bond are hereby found to be unjust and unreasonable. "We find that rates which will produce annual gross revenue of $886,530 over and above the annual gross revenues received during the test period—$14,436,906—will be just and reasonable, and the company will be instructed to prepare and file with us tariffs which are designed to produce such additional just and reasonable gross annual revenues.

Refunds Necessary "It will also be necessary for the company to refund to its customers that portion of rates which have been collected under bond since Sept. 15, 1958, to the extent they are hereby determined to have been excessive."

The opinion takes note of Wilmington's role in the case. The city contended that the company had underestimated its anticipated local service revenues for 1959 and 1960 by "at least five per cent" and that the proposed rates would "give an unwarranted preference to long-distance service as compared to local exchange service."

The PSC notes that it is "impressed" by the second argument in particular and that the telephone company's answer "does not satisfy us that the proposed rates will be entirely fair to the telephone customer who makes little use of the company's toll facilities."

"When the permanent rates to be fixed in the form of a tariff," the opinion promises, "we shall afford Wilmington an opportunity to examine them and to offer evidence for the purpose of demonstrating that the rate structure is unfair or unjustly discriminatory to the local service user or is unduly preferential in favor of the long-dis-ance user." The PSC also takes note of public opposition to the proposed rates saying that a number of written protests were filed from all parts of the state.

"When it came to the hearings, however, the PSC says, "there was almost a public apathy" in their progress. "Only a very few members of the public attended the hearings; indeed, on most days of the hearings, no public audience was present at all," the PSC says.

Most of the written protests, the PSC says, were nothing more than "contentions" and did not offer evidence on which the case could be decided. "We must, of course, as we have previously indicated, have facts, not contentions, upon which to base any ruling or decision," the opinion concludes.
