

DEATH OF FRED LEWIS RECALLS HISTORY OF EARLY HARRINGTON

Funeral services for Fred Lewis, 91, were held Wednesday morning at Hollywood Cemetery, with Chandler Funeral Home, of Wilmington, in charge.

Mr. Lewis died Sunday in Wilmington, where he lived at 1413 N. Jackson St.

He was the son of James Lewis, who worked for the Harrington Milling Company in the days of its founding by Ezekiel Fleming. Fleming also had a spoke mill, in the rear of his flour mill, and sold much finished timber to the Delaware Railroad Company. Two daughters of Fleming survive, Mrs. Bess Holt and Miss Laura Fleming, both of whom reside in the original home on Vernon Road.

The Lewis family lived on the east side of lower Commerce Street. After Fred Lewis retired as a carpenter in Wilmington, he and his wife spent much time in their local home, especially in the summer.

Mrs. Lewis, who survives, was the former Lizzie Parsons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Parsons, No. 7 Dorman St.

William W. Sharp, 87, an excellent historian with a sharp memory, said some 70 or 80 years ago, smallpox hit the Parsons family and a Dr. Johnson, who had had the disease, of Greenwood, treated the family. In the meanwhile, tar and feathers were burned at the end of the street in the belief this practice would chase away the disease.

Fred Lewis attended Harrington's original school on the southeast corner of Dorman and Meacham Streets.

Harold Welch Elected P.T.A. President

Wednesday evening at the P.T.A. meeting a new slate of officers was elected for the coming year. The new president is Harold Welch of 203 Center Street, who lives with his wife, the former Romaine King, who taught home economics at the Harrington School. Mr. and Mrs. Welch have three daughters. Mr. Welch is well known in the state for his association with the Delaware National Guard and is a member of the State Championship High Power Rifle Team of the Delaware National Guard that attends the National Rifle Matches at Camp Perry, Ohio, each year.

Mr. Welch was appointed Chief Warrant Officer last October and assumed the command of the 107th Ordnance Detachment in Harrington the 1st of April this year. He is the Past Post Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 6483 of Milford and is the Past Junior Vice Commander of District No. 3 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. He has been employed by the Delaware National Guard at Harrington with the local unit for nine years.

Other officers appointed for the coming year are:

Vice president, Mrs. Jewell Hoffman; secretary, Mrs. Clara Bell Walls; treasurer, Mrs. Matilda Brown.

Plans were discussed for the installation of officers and it was decided to have the installation at 7:30 p.m. the 3rd of June at the High School cafeteria. A square and round dance will follow the installation of officers at 8 p.m. and will last until 10:30 p.m. No admission charge will be made, refreshments may be purchased at a small fee. The professional square dance caller that was at the recent family night will return to give square dance instruction.

Bengough and Eckman Make Hit At Sports Fete

The long-awaited all sports banquet was a success from every angle but the financial one. Ninety-two H.H.S. athletes and only one hundred and forty-four paid admissions were regaled by the witticisms of Benny Bengough of the baseball Phillies and Charley Eckman of basketball fame.

The Harrington High Alumni Association would like to honor the boy and girl athletes of the high school in this manner each year. This may prove difficult if future banquets are as sparsely attended as was Monday night's affair.

Herman C. Brown, former president of the association, again proved to be an able toastmaster. Dick Jeffers, Harold McDonald, Jacqueline Knopp, Bill Smith and Norman Cotter of the school coaching staff introduced the members of the various teams, which they head.

The Harmony Four made up of Bill Manship, Dwight Hackett, Phil Holson, and Ken Hoffman sang two numbers which were well received. Leon Donovan of the school faculty accompanied them and also furnished the dinner music.

Mr. Bengough delighted the crowd with some of his famous baseball stories.

He started in baseball forty-two years ago. In those days he stated it was legal to doctor the baseball in all sorts of ways to make it more difficult to hit. If the ball was hit it was so dead it still wouldn't go far. Frank "Home Run Baker" of Trappe, Md., led the American league in home runs one year with only twelve circuit clouts.

The Phillies public relations executive disclosed that Chris Short of Georgetown, now on the Philadelphia squad as a left-handed pitcher is expected to be ultimately a great competitor.

In closing the one time New York Yankee catcher said that he owed everything to baseball, that it still is a great game and a wonderful opportunity for any boy who has the ability to make good. He cited a recent example of a seventeen-year-old lad who was paid fifty-thousand dollars to sign a contract with the Phillies. Mr. Bengough averred that a few years ago there was a dearth of catchers since few boys were eager to try the hard-working, bruising, and un-glamorous backstop position.

Since the advent of great receivers like Yogi Berra and Roy Campanella all this has changed and now there are many youngsters eager to play the field general position.

Mr. Eckman, who reminded the writer of movie actor Edward G. Robinson, with his cigar and staccato, side-of-mouth delivery

Social Security Notes

Changes in the social security law have made it easier for adopted children to receive monthly payments, Edward F. Sullivan district manager of the Dover social security office said today.

If you have an adopted child and you are now receiving social security retirement or disability benefits, payments to the child can start as early as September 1958, or the date of adoption if this takes place after September 1958. It is no longer necessary to wait three years after adoption for benefits to begin.

In some cases benefits may also be payable to a child, not yet adopted, who was living with and supported by a worker who dies, provided the widow adopts the child within 2 years after the worker's death, or within 2 years after August 28, 1958.

Anyone who has any questions regarding payments to adopted children should contact the local social security office located at 230 W. Lookerman Street, Dover, Del.

School Election Polls Tomorrow Will Not Open Because of No Contest

The polls will not be open at the school election tomorrow afternoon, a recently enacted law of the Legislature stipulating that voting is unnecessary where there is no contest.

Mrs. Ray Cox is the sole nominee for the single vacancy on the Board of Education, replacing Russell Bowdle.

The new law provides that the Board of Education, at its regularly scheduled meeting following the annual election, shall declare the nominee duly elected and issue a certificate of election for the term of office.

The Board meets the third Thursday in the month. The reorganization meeting will be in July.

Mrs. Cox will serve the usual four years.

H.H.S. Trackmen Set Record in Wilmington

Coach Dick Jeffers' record-busting track team were up to their old tricks in Wilmington Friday night. Competing in the Peninsula Relays at Baynard Stadium the local tracklads shattered two records in the three events they entered.

Since Jim Schiff and Don Garvey, who hold H.H.S. records for the 100,220 and 440 yard distances were busy fulfilling social engagements it was decided not to try for the team trophy but to enter only a small squad. Sophomores George Pfeiffer, Bob "Buddy" Bonniwell, Harry Knotts and Dwight Hackett set out to break the Group III mark of 9 minutes 14.4 seconds set by Smyrna in 1957. This they did with a vengeance chopping 18.4 seconds off the old standard. The fly in the ointment here was the fact that Archmere Academy did even better finishing in 8.54.5 moving the Lions back to second place.

Revenge was sweet for the Lions over the Archers in the medley relay. Hackett, who seems to be finally hitting his stride, led off with a fast half mile. Bonniwell next ran a fine 440 yards. John Taylor then ran the 220 leg showing good speed. Harry Knotts took the baton for the mile leg in second place with a deficit of 10 yards to make up. After one lap Harry was in the lead with the Archmere runner at his heels. They dualed for most of the mile with first one then the other in front. Knotts challenged with 220 yards to go but fell back. With 110 yards to go the irrepressible Harringtonian appeared at the Archer's elbow and said "All right buddy let's go. Such exuberance was too much for the New Castle County lad who muttered "Oh (censor)." (Continued on back page)

H.H.S. Baseballers Half Game Out of First

The Rehoboth nine which had gone winless in five Henlopen Conference baseball games turned on the league leading Harrington High Lions and knocked them off their pedestal with a 4-3 victory.

The resort team's coach said prior to the game that his boys were averaging ten errors a contest. But such are the vagaries of high school baseball, that in this outing the Beachboys grabbed everything hit near them while the Harringtonians made the miscues.

Ken "Snooky" Collins on the mound for Harrington, suffered his first defeat after four victories. He strove valiantly for the losing cause, pitching a five hitter, fanning ten and getting half the local's hits with three in four attempts. His battery-mate Jim Collins had two bingles in three tries while K. P. Outten had the other safety for H.H.S.

Greenwood, Bridgeville and Lord Baltimore with 4-1 records all now head Harrington, by half a game.

FATHER OF 3 DIES IN CRASH

Henry John Carnahan, 29, of 13 Dorman Street, Harrington, father of three small children, was pronounced dead on arrival at the Milford Memorial Hospital at 1:25 a.m. Friday after his car struck a pole on Route 14, the Denton-Harrington highway, and threw him out on the road.

The accident took place at 11:40 o'clock the previous day. The victim, Delaware's 24th highway fatality of the year, suffered skull wounds, multiple lacerations and internal injuries.

State police said Carnahan, driving alone, was going east toward his home, apparently at high speed, when his car ran off the road, four miles west of Harrington, traveled 300 feet on the shoulder, struck 12 guard rail posts, went nearly 375 feet farther along the right shoulder of the road, took a 90-foot run diagonally across the road to the left side, continued on 150 feet along the shoulder, plunged up a five-foot embankment, struck three fence posts and struck and broke off a light pole. The car turned over, ran down an embankment to the highway, turned over again and came to stop on its wheels 100 feet beyond the broken pole. The vehicle was wrecked.

The victim was thrown from the car about 35 feet from where it came to a stop. Dr. David Sills pronounced Carnahan dead. Sussex County Coroner Volie Gray took charge of the body.

Carnahan was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., but resided at Harrington the past six years. He was employed in the industrial department of the Du Pont Company at the Seaford plant. He served four years in the U. S.

The Harrington High track team, coached by Dick Jeffers, scored an easy win in the first annual Henlopen Conference track and field championships held at the local high school track Wednesday. All winning marks automatically become meet records.

Unfortunately Selbyville, Felton, Bridgeville, and Lord Baltimore did not enter the meet. It is hoped they will all be in the fold for next year.

The final score was Harrington 82, Millsboro, 22, Rehoboth 20, Delmar 19 1/2, Milton 10, John M. Clayton 7, and Greenwood 6 1/2.

Jimmy Schiff remained undefeated for the year and set new H. H. S. field records of 10 seconds for the 100 yard dash and 23.2 seconds for the 220 yard dash.

Harry Knotts, unbeaten in the mile, was an easy winner in 5 minutes and 6 seconds. Clarence Hackett, only in the eighth grade, was second in 5 minutes and 26 seconds.

Don Garey won the 440 yard run in 58.1 with Bill Pike also scoring for the locals by placing fifth.

Dwight Hackett ran his fastest half mile of the year finishing second to Baker of Millsboro. The two were so close they were both given the same clocking of 2:14.6.

Millsboro also nabbed the 440 yard relay with an H.H.S. quartet consisting of George Pfeiffer, Walter Lekites, Bill Porter and seventh-grader Barry Fray, taking second.

John Taylor, Garey, Pfeiffer and Bob Bonniwell won the 880 yard relay title for Harrington in 1:40.2.

Paced by Bonniwell's sparkling third leg, the local mile relay team was victorious. Bob Gillette led off followed by Bill Pike with Jim McDonald as anchor man breaking the tape in 4 minutes and 2 seconds.

Dickerson, a dark horse from Milton, won the shot put with a toss of 40 feet. Phil Holson of H. H. S. was second.

Taylor won the discus with 116 feet. Holson was second and Gillette fifth in his first try at this event.

K. P. Outten threw the javelin 129 feet for first as Geo. Balderston was third, Holson fourth and Gillette fifth to complete a near sweep for the Lions.

In the high jump John Taylor and Bill Manship set a new Harrington record clearing 5 ft. 6 in. Pfeiffer tied the old record by doing 5 ft. 5 in. almost as high as his head.

Dick Whaley of Delmar and Bob Hitchens of Greenwood also successfully negotiated the winning height to tie for first with Manship and Taylor.

Hitchens also was third in the broadjump to account for all of Greenwood's points.

Walt Lekites broke Joe Kilmont's school record of 18 ft. 5 inches in the broad jump set last year, when Walt leaped 18 ft. 7 inches to annex first place. K. P. Outten was fifth with a jump of 18 feet, 2 inches.

Rhodes of Rehoboth, another unknown in lower Delaware track circles, surprised everyone by capturing the pole vault with 9 ft. 6 inches.

Bruce Smith of Harrington added 5 inches to his previous personal best and was second with a leap of 9 ft. 5 inches.

A Switch in Time Save Nine

A bill to permit schoolteachers to swap pupils "when necessary" was introduced in the Delaware House of Representatives Tuesday and was immediately supported by the Delaware State Education Association.

The need for such a bill also reflects the lack of discipline for children in the home. We read recently of a private school in England where Jones, we will call him, "did not set to work." The headmaster caned him. We know of a pupil, in the local schools, who sat in classes, day after day, and never lifted a finger.

My, how times have changed! Had this individual been in "Dutch" Swain's class, he would have hopped to it or else "Dutch" would have laid a pointer on him rather vigorously, in view of the entire class.

Dutch taught at various Kent County schools. He did not spare the rod and, occasionally, this resulted in fist-cuffs with some of the older boys outside the school.

All individuals, young and old, consider and respect force. In the early days, teachers were respected for their physical prowess, as well as for their learning, and the pupils learned lots of lessons not found in books.

Hallenback, Wiley, and Carpenter, and Jump were some well-remembered names of stern taskmasters in Harrington schools.

Wilbur Jump, still living in Houston, was a principal here, before 1920, who was well respected. After punishing one culprit, he went home with him to his parents. What a catastrophe! In those days, a licking in school meant a trip to the woodshed at home. This recalls a cartoon in The Journal-Every Evening. The schoolteacher is on the back porch with the mother. Pa, with a razor strop, is taking junior to the woodshed. Ma exhorts the head of the family, as he was in those days, to lay it on good.

One of Jump's pupils, after some chastisement, warned that he would "take care" of the principal when he (Bill Barlow) was older. Barlow told of this aftermath: "I was up a light-company pole, at Caesar Rodney School, when I looked down and there was Jump. He inquired, 'Are you ready for me, Bill?' I replied, 'You know, Mr. Jump, I was only kidding.'"

One Hynson, editor of a Milford newspaper in the last century, told of teaching a country school. To maintain discipline, he had to battle the biggest boy in the class. He licked him and that was that.

The Reader's Digest had an account of a class of unruly pupils. A former marine took over the task of subduing it. On his first day as teacher, he mounted the platform, doffed his shirt, flexed his biceps, and turned from side to side. "Any questions?" he asked. There were not.

Passage of "swat-the-pupil" bill would improve discipline in Delaware schools.

In some non-Delaware schools, city police patrol corridors, teachers are stabbed, and principals commit suicide. What effect did love and understanding have there?

Delaware Food Market Report

Chickens and eggs continue the thirteenth meat buys. Both of these products are extremely low in price and are expected to remain this way during most of May since supplies are so plentiful.

There's a slight lull in the rising prices of meat, in fact, prices dropped a penny or so on many cuts this weekend. Special sales however, remain the best opportunity to buy meat at more reasonable prices. This weekend look for reduced prices on broiler-fryers, ham, fresh pork shoulders, pork rib roasts, bacon, sausage, rib roasts of beef and some steaks. Veal roasts have dropped a bit in price and may be featured at some stores.

New white-skinned potatoes are beginning to come in from Florida at about 8 cents a pound supplanting the Red Bliss potato. Old white potatoes remain steady in price, averaging 5 cents a pound. Celery remains an excellent buy, quality is high and prices low.

Other vegetable prices have changed little from those of last week however, look for specials this weekend on asparagus, green onions, radishes, lettuce and fresh green peas.

Grapefruit continues the best buy at the fruit counter. These grapefruit are unusually sweet and delicious, the size is a bit small but quality is excellent for the most part. Soon citrus fruit will be "out-of-season" so be sure to use it often while it's still plentiful. Oranges and lemons remain in fairly good supply and prices are relatively low.

Are you getting in a rut as far as meal planning goes? Why not try some new recipes for the plentiful foods. For an appetizing combination, try tiny whole new potatoes with canned blue lake green beans. Top each serving with a spoonful of dairy sour cream and hot crisp bacon. Or toss green beans with julienne carrots in melted butter lightly flavored dressing lifted out of Seafood salads offer a good way to get more fish into menus. Try a crab meat salad bowl with plenty of crisp vegetables and a seafood salad offer a good the usual with tarragon vinegar and the new instant minced garlic—a boon for busy cooks.

"Just a week or so and it will be time to get in that first cutting of alfalfa," Extension Service agronomist William Mitchell, University of Delaware, recommends to Delaware farmers.

He says to cut early rather than late. "You can increase digestibility by as much as 20 percent by cutting alfalfa when it is fully budded before it blooms as compared to letting it go to full bloom," Mitchell said.

"Fully bloomed alfalfa will be four or five percent less in protein percentage too," he added.

The forage specialist said it looks as though alfalfa will be ready for cutting about May 15. He said alfalfa raisers should figure on taking off at least four cuttings. If they have heated air other cutting then.

Winged Ant (Enlarged)

Winged Termite (Enlarged)

Bugs Take Wing In Spring

This is a pretty good time to check the household for uninvited, hungry, occupants, other than in-laws, that is, according to Dr. Dale F. Bray, chairman of the department of entomology at the University of Delaware.

What he has in mind is termites. Some of them are taking to the air with a double pair of wings now, and this makes them easier to find.

There is reason for concern about termites Dr. Bray says, but there is no need for hasty action nor panicky hip shooting at shadows.

In fact, Dr. Bray says home owners should be careful about phony termite control operators. The National Pest Control Association has reported that a swindler has been operating in Delaware, Maryland and Pennsylvania, calling himself a field representative of the NPCA.

This man calls on householders who have had their homes treated and "checks" the job. It is always a poor job according to the crook, and he offers to do a "special" job at cost. All the homeowner has to do is sign on the dotted line and he is out considerable cash for which he receives nothing of any value.

Dr. Bray suggests dealing with reputable local pest control men. "Don't be rushed into action," Bray said. Legitimate pest control association members will not try to frighten you into taking immediate action. Termites work very slowly, there is no reason to panic.

Just because you find some double-winged insects flying about doesn't necessarily mean you have termites, but it's easy to tell the difference by the narrow waist of the ants. The termite is smaller and is the same width all the way down.

If you want to do a little scouting you can check around your foundation walls for little mud-like tubes about a quarter-inch wide. If you find any, break them open and look for small white insects inside. They are the worker termites and are the real "baddies" in this racket.

Check for these tubes at all points where wood touches the ground or where concrete slabs meet the walls of the house. If you find dry sawdust-like powder, you have another kind of insect which is usually not a serious problem.

You can also probe wood areas with an ice pick to see if there are weak spots where the wood has been eaten away.

Any legitimate pest control operator will be glad to check your home. It is usually safer to consult a professional pest control man, especially if you have concrete floors, Bray said.

If you want more information on the problem, write the department of entomology, University of Delaware, Newark, and ask for a Fact Sheet called, "Questions and Answers About Termites." Another publication dealing with chemical controls is U. S. Department of Agriculture leaflet No. 324, called "Soil Treatment: An Aid in Termite Control." Both publications are available through the entomology department or your County Extension Service office, Bray said.

ASC Announces New Farm Definition

A new definition of a farm, which is uniform throughout the country for purposes of the acreage allotment and Soil Bank programs, takes effect this year, according to R. Harry Wilson of the Kent Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee at Dover.

The new definition, Mr. Wilson said, places emphasis on farm operation. In general, a farm is defined as:

(1) All adjoining or nearby and easily accessible farm, wood, or range land under the same ownership which is operated by the same person; and

(2) All additional farm, wood, or range land under different co-ownership which is operated by that same person provided it is nearby and easily accessible, is approximately equally productive, and has been operated as part of the farm for the past two years or will be so operated for two years in the future.

Under this definition, the operator of a farm means the person who is in charge of the supervision and conduct of the farming operations.

To be considered easily accessible and nearby, tracts of land should be close enough together so that farm labor is or could be freely interchanged and machinery could be moved between them under its own power during farming operations. Tracts under different ownerships will not be combined, Mr. Wilson said, where one is primarily irrigated land and the other is primarily non-irrigated or where the tracts differ so widely in productivity that crop allotments likely would be shifted from one tract to the other.

Any land which was properly identified as a "farm" under previous definitions will continue to be classed as a farm until a change in operating arrangements occurs. If a change is necessary, the new definition will be used in all cases.

Farmers or others interested in farm real estate who have questions about application of the new farm definition may get detailed information at the Kent County ASC office in Dover.

Time to Thin Peach And Apple Trees

Fruit trees usually set many more fruits than will mature satisfactorily, according to Dr. Vernon Fisher, horticulturist at the University of Delaware.

In order to get peaches of the best color and size, you should thin the early varieties right away, he said.

The thinning should be done in early May while the fruits are just forming. The earlier this is done the better it will be for the tree and the remaining fruits.

Some peach varieties which should be thinned now are: Dixired, Early Red-Fre and Redhaven.

Later maturing peaches and all apple varieties can be thinned after the June drop, about the middle of June. This is a period in which a large number of fruits fall naturally from the tree, if they have not been thinned, due to extreme competition between fruits.

The thinning should be done by hand pulling the small fruits from the shoots so that those remaining are about six to eight inches apart. This may mean taking off as much as 75 percent of the fruits.

Be careful not to pull off leaves Dr. Fisher warned.

Club Jap Beetle Grub Says Entomologist

How do I control Japanese beetle grubs in my lawn?

This is a common question asked by homeowners of entomologists at the University of Delaware. Here is the answer from Extension entomologist Donald MacCreary.

If a spring treatment is needed, we suggest use of chlordane dust (five percent) at the rate of five pounds per 1000 square feet of lawn.

"Water the lawn thoroughly after treatment to hasten penetration of the poison into the soil," MacCreary said.

If you wish to use a spray, apply either one-half pint of 45 percent chlordane emulsion concentrate or 10 ounces of 40 percent wettable powder to 1000 square feet of lawn. Mix the chemical in enough water to wet the area.

Other insecticides such as dieldrin, aldrin and heptachlor can be used if available. Follow directions on the package as to dosage and methods of application.

"All these materials are poisons. Keep small children and pets off treated lawns until after a rain or a thorough watering," MacCreary said.

Farm Labor Letter

State Summary

Full scale farming operations are under way throughout the state. Good weather has helped farmers keep far ahead of last year's activities. The first crop to be harvested is asparagus and at the end of April, over 1000 cutters and about the same number of workers in processing plants were employed in harvesting, freezing and canning. Seasonal workers totaled 2436 of which 1364 were local, 199 interstate and 873 Puerto Ricans. Labor is in fair balance and out-of-state workers should not migrate to Delaware without having job assignments.

Dover Area

Northern Kent and New Castle Counties
This is the heavy asparagus producing area and accounts for most of the seasonal employment at this time. This is the first year that many asparagus fields are in full production and consequently labor needs are far above last year. Most of the harvesting is being done by Puerto Rican contract labor. Harvesting will last until the end of June. Potato planting has been completed and corn acreage is being planted. There is no demand for additional out-of-area labor at the present time.

Georgetown Area

Southern Kent and Sussex Counties
Asparagus cutting, radish pulling, snap bean planting and general farm work are the main activities. Cannery pea harvest is expected to start about May 20th with a good crop in prospect. Growers have made arrangement for workers both local and interstate to harvest this crop. No crews should come to the area without commitments.

Florida Recruitment

Farm Placement Representatives from the Eastern Seaboard States were in Florida during April to interview crew leaders. About the same number of crew leaders came in as last year. Every effort was made to secure crews which we felt were best suited for each other. Growers who placed orders for crews with us have received notices of crews interested and they should contact them at once to make final arrangements.

Puerto Rican Workers

Employers who plan to use Puerto Rican workers should get in contact with the Farm Placement Representative in their local Employment Service Office as soon as possible. Recruitment cannot start in Puerto Rico until the necessary clearance order and bonds are received.

Housing Inspection

Workers recruited by the employment service are assured that all housing will have Board of Health approval before they arrive. Regulations require that the State Board of Health be notified at least ten days in advance of the date that workers are expected to arrive. Compliance with this regulation will give the Board of Health and Employment Service an opportunity to have your workers here on schedule.

Vitamin Value in Vegetables
Keep vegetables from wilting if you want the most in vitamin value from them, the U. S. Department of Agriculture advises according to home demonstration agent Florence Y. Smith.

Many vegetables, especially those that are deep green, offer a good measure of both vitamin A and vitamin C when first harvested, USDA research nutritionists report.

What happens between harvest and the time vegetables reach the family meal table decides how much vitamin C they still have to offer.

If they have wilted, it's a safe bet that not much of this fragile vitamin is left. Even if they are revised or "crisped" in ice water or in the refrigerator, their vitamin C is not restored.

Market vegetables that are limp or wilted may still "rate" for vitamin A and minerals, but not for vitamin C, Mrs. Smith said. Those that show signs of bruising, probably have lost considerable vitamin A as well as vitamin C. As for home garden vegetables, it pays to treat them gently, wash as necessary and get into the refrigerator as promptly as possible, the agent recommended.

Green vegetables which are naturally high in vitamin C include green peppers, broccoli, raw cabbage, collards, garden cress, kale, kohlrabi, mustard greens, spinach and turnip greens. Those to be cooked need to be in good condition beforehand, then should cook in a covered pan in a small amount of boiling water until just tender if they are to offer highest vitamin value.

Poultry Disposal Pit Fact Sheet

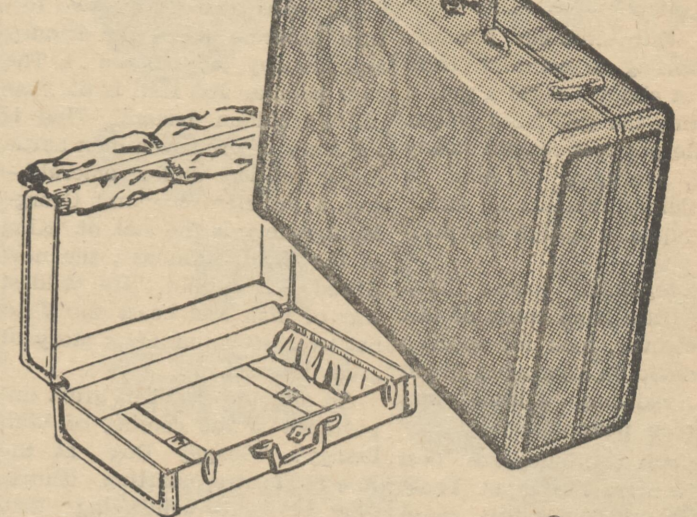

Poultrymen who are considering building a poultry disposal pit can get a how-to-do-it sheet from George Vapaa, county extension agent, by calling RE-Field 6-1448 or stopping by the office at the Dover Post Office.

The publication gives some of the many reasons for having a disposal pit and goes into detail on how to build one.

A disposal pit is a cheap, safe, clean way to dispose of dead chicken, he says.

Disposing of dead chicken immediately is an important disease prevention measure. If dead birds are left out where they can be eaten by other chickens, rats, dogs, flies, mosquitoes, or other birds, you will often spread the disease to your

Micro-Midget News

Sunday, May 3, was another perfect racing day for the Blue Hen Micro Midget Club. The track was hard and fast, and the weather man was kind once again, with sunshine. There will be racing every Sunday afternoon at 1:30 at the Blue Hen Speedway until further notice.

When it gets hot we will switch over to Saturday night racing under the lights. Watch this news column as to when, or it will be announced over the mikes at the track if you are present.

We owe Lawrence Donovan a big thank you for taking over the parking lot Sunday. By his good work we could park a lot more autos in the parking lot, where it is a lot safer than parking on the side of the highway. So when you come out to the races, please ride right in as we have plenty (we hope) of room. No charge is made for parking and no admission is charged, we just pass the hat.

The scorers want to thank Elmer Thomas for the nice platform he built. It is a lot more comfortable and you can see the cars a lot better for scoring. The flagman has a safe place to stand for the feature race also. He also brought some dining room chairs to sit on. All the comforts of home right at the track.

Sunday's racing kept everyone sitting on the edge of their seats. In the feature there was a lot of excitement all the way through. Clarence Billings, Pat Fry and Spanky Vincent had quite a battle. Fox held first just about all the way, but for second place was where the excitement was, with three cars trying hard to get the position and hold it. Billings finally came through on the 24th lap with a big cheer from the spectators; Fry was third and Vincent was fourth. The feature race was run in 6 minutes, 22 seconds.

The little fellows were out Sunday again, with their 1/4 midgets. This is an enjoyment all by itself, to watch these little boys, 7 to 14 years of age, drive their cars like professionals. They had a couple of visitors from Ridgely, Md., with them also. This made them 6 cars in all for their race, and rae they did with Bobby Walls, 7 year old and from Ridgely, coming in first. Howard Dill is in charge of the little boys, so if you have a little boy and he's interested in racing, see Howard on how to build one. The more the merrier.

Walt Schiff is having all kinds of luck with his 22, but that's the way the racing luck runs. It is smooth for a spell and then it gets pretty rough. Everything goes wrong; then, first thing you know it gets back to smooth again. Maybe, Sunday will be the 22's lucky day. Why don't you all come out and see how the luck runs Sunday at the Blue Hen Speedway at 1:30.

If you don't feel like cooking, there is a lunch stand where you can have your lunch out and enjoy an exciting afternoon of racing. Don't forget your pillow because the grandstand is not padded.

Now what you all have been waiting for is the results of Sunday's racing.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—I am a service-disabled veteran drawing extra compensation because I have a 17-year-old son. He has just enlisted in the Marines. Will the extra payments continue, since he has not yet reached age 18?

A—Yes. The extra payments will go forward until he reaches age 18, even though he is in service.

Q—I converted my World War II GI term insurance to a VA endowment plan some years ago and am having difficulty right now in meeting the premiums. Is it possible for me to change back to term insurance until I'm better fixed financially?

A—No. You may not switch from a permanent plan back to term. You can, however, change to a permanent plan policy with a lower premium, such as an ordinary life policy. This is despite the wording on your policy which says no change is possible, for the law was recently modified.

Q—Does a handicapped child of a deceased war veteran have to wait until age 18 to start training under the War Orphans Education program?

A—No. A law passed recently gives such children the right to begin special types of War Orphans training when they reach age 14.

Q—VA has just informed me I can exchange my Korean GI term insurance policy to one costing only a third as much in premiums, since my policy is one of those with the letters "RS" before the policy number. I am going to change to the new policy. Shall I pay my next premium at the new rate or the old rate?

A—You should continue to pay your premiums at the old rate until the VA notifies you your new, lower-cost policy is in effect. Any overpayment will be credited to your account.

Dahlia

Of all garden flowers, perhaps no other flower rewards the gardener with such a profusion of beautiful blossoms as the dahlia, says county Extension agent George Vapaa.

"Good soil, plenty of moisture, ample sunlight, and pest control are necessary to produce the best flowers," he said.

Dahlias can be grown in any soil that is deep, fertile, and well drained. Plenty of organic matter is needed for best results. Add humus in the form of leaf mold, compost, peat moss, well rotted manure, or other types, Mr. Vapaa recommended. If your soil is acid, add one to four pounds of limestone per 100 square feet. About three pounds of 5-10-10 or 5-10-5 commercial fertilizer worked into the soil before planting, will aid growth too.

It's important that the soil be worked to a depth of at least 10 or 12 inches. After the plants are about a foot tall add a top dressing of one to two teaspoonsful of complete fertilizer per plant. This should be put about five to eight inches away from the base of the plant. Work it into the soil with a rake or cultivator.

Set the plants deep to insure good root formation. On sandy soil six inches is about right and on heavy soil put them about four inches deep. Cover with about two inches of soil and gradually fill in the hole as they grow.

Spacing will depend on the variety you wish to grow, he says. Tall growing varieties should be spaced at least three feet apart. Four or five feet is even better.

It is easy to divide the clumps of tuberous roots. The dahlia produces buds or eyes at the crown or juncture of the stem and root. Be sure when dividing a clump to have at least one strong bud or eye with each division. Use pruning shears or a sharp knife; don't break apart. The exceptionally large, fleshy roots may be cut off at the lower end, causing a large clump to form.

Pruning dahlias is important to produce the maximum supply of flowers. When the plants are about a foot tall cut off at the second node (2nd set of leaves). Then allow the plants to develop four strong branches. These branches may be pinched again to produce more branches if desired.

Disbudding is the removal of buds which grow in the axils of the leaves. Allow the first bud or terminal bud to develop. Remove all lateral buds except the lowest paid. Mr. Vapaa said this will give you long-stemmed large flowers. Dahlias need plenty of moisture. Mulching with straw, grass clipping, rotted manure, or other plant remains will help keep the soil moist and cool. Put on the mulch as soon as they start to bloom. An occasional heavy watering will also stimulate active growth.

Remember it's not the size of the root at planting time that determines the size and number of flowers produced but more important is the soil and culture given this responsive plant, he concludes.

New Rule on Wheat History

A farmer who has wheat planted in excess of his 1959 acreage allotment may dispose of the extra acres up until May 31, 1959, and it probably will increase his wheat allotment in the future if he does so, according to a reminder from R. Harry Wilson of the Kent Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee at Dover.

A major factor in determining farm wheat allotments is the history of wheat grown previously on the farm. The farmer who complies with his allotment gets "history" credit not only for the allotment planted but also for his "diverted" acres, which is the acreage held out of wheat under the allotment program. On the other hand, under a new law effective this year, the farmer who produces excess wheat will usually receive history credit only for the allotment.

In the past, the overproducer received his total wheat acreage as history.

The farmer who produces excess wheat in 1959 may deliver the excess to the Secretary of Agriculture or store it—on the farm under bond or in a commercial warehouse. In that way he avoids marketing quota penalties. He also gets history credit for his allotment plus diverted acres is lost in case the stored wheat is sold or used and the producer becomes liable for marketing quota penalties.

There is another type of situation in which the producer exceeds his wheat allotment, but produces no marketing excess. This may occur on farms where: (1) the total wheat acreage is 15 acres or less; (2) the normal production of the wheat acreage is under 200 bushels; (3) the 1959 yield is so low that no excess is produced; or (4) the farm has been approved for the production of up to 30 acres of wheat for use on the farm under the feed wheat program. In those circumstances, the farmer gets credit only for the allotment, not for diverted acres.

Thin Out Vegetable Plants

Most people plant vegetable seed too thickly, county agent George Vapaa says, and this makes thinning necessary.

"Plants that are allowed to grow too thickly act the same as weeds, robbing each other of water, nutrients and sunlight," he said. Plan to thin as soon as the plants start to crowd each other. Small onion, lettuce and beets will provide small amounts of produce from the thinned plants. However, don't delay thinning just to have more to eat. Early thinning will encourage faster growth and better quality.

Root crops need plenty of room for proper development, the agent said. Space beets, carrots, turnips and parsnips 2-4 inches between plants.

Greens like lettuce, spinach, Swiss chard and endive should be thinned so the plants are about 5-8 inches apart. Onions need 3-4 inches between plants.

Sweet corn in rows should have a stalk every 8-10 inches, or in hills, 2-3 stalks per hill with hills every two feet.

Peppers, eggplant, and cabbage should be spaced one and one half to two feet apart. Cucumbers and cantaloupes planted in rows should have 12-18 inches between plants, or in hills, three plants per hill with hills 3-4 feet apart.

It's not usually necessary to thin peas and beans. Peas spaced about one inch apart have enough room. Snap beans and lima beans usually do best when the average spacing is 3-4 inches apart.

"It takes real will power to pull up healthy plants, but it must be done to produce good sized vegetables," Mr. Vapaa said.

Trinity Methodist Church Notes

The coming Sunday being Mother's Day, our music also gives honor to mothers. There are two anthems, "A Mother's Day Prayer" by Thompson and "The Beautitudes" by Saint Saens. The Junior Choir will have a selection also. The pastor's sermon will be along Mother's Day lines. The altar flowers and welcome will be furnished by the Men's Bible Class.

Sunday School meets at 10 a.m. William R. Jester is the new general superintendent, and he took over his new duties last Sunday. Mrs. Richard Shulties is now superintendent of the Primary Department. Miss Virginia Black has been primary superintendent for the past few years. The former general superintendent, Ranknox, Jr., is now chairman of the commission on education.

Quarterly Conference action in April has resulted in a rotation for 3-year periods of office for trustees, stewards, and members of the Pastoral Relations Committee. One-third of each list to hold office until 1960, one-third until 1961, and the other third until 1962.

Sunday evening at 6, Mrs. Jack Redden leads the Intermediate MYF, assisted by Mrs. Betty Jane Knox and Frances Wilcox.

At 7:30 Sunday evening the regular evening service will be held.

Monday, Mrs. John Walls leads the W.S.C.S. prayer meeting at 10 a.m.

Tuesday, the monthly meeting of the O. U. R. Class will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cox.

Thursday, the choir rehearses, Junior at 7 o'clock, Senior at 8 o'clock.

Thursday, Mrs. Earl Sylvester, who is a member of Trinity and president of the Peninsula Conference Woman's Society of Christian Service, leads her last annual meeting. This ends her two-year term of office, and is held at McCabe Memorial Church in Wilmington.

Thursday marks the start of the Peninsula Annual Conference of Delaware and Maryland, in Bethesda Methodist Church, Salisbury, Md. It lasts four days, and ends with the reading of the appointments for next year Sunday, May 17.

There will be no church services in Trinity Conference Sunday, May 17, as is customary.

There will be no church service Sunday morning, May 24, in Trinity either, because we unite with the people of Asbury in the annual Memorial service, to be held this year in Asbury, with the Rev. Richard Gibson delivering the message.

Welfare Board Change Urged

A change in the composition of the State Board of Welfare that would give the member of the Levy Courts control was recommended by the Kent County Democratic Committee in the court house Dover, Friday night.

The recommendation is that the board be composed of the three members of the Levy Court of each of the three counties, plus three members to be appointed by the governor.

At present the membership on the board is 12 of which, however, only three are Levy Court members, one from each county.

The action was taken by the committee following a talk on pending legislation affecting Kent County by Senator Allen J. Cook, president pro tem of the Senate, in which he made the suggestion as outlined in the resolution finally adopted.

The committee also included a provision that the Levy Courts have the power to engage investigators and pay for them out of welfare funds.

Another act of the committee was the urging of all Kent County legislators to support some legislative measure that will give the counties relief from the excessive burden which this year caused Kent County to go in the red for the first time in 10 or 12 years.

Members of the committee said that the situation is very disturbing to the county and that the county wants to get back in the black. Members said that the county operated last year with a deficit of $34,356 and that the relief costs increased $93,260 over the preceding year.

They also said that the relief expenditures must be curtailed, if the county is to remain solvent, with present tax rates.

Prune After Bloom

Don't prune climbing or rambler roses until after they bloom, county agent George Vapaa recommends.

Magistrate and Mrs. Morris Groverman of Milford

OVER 65... but they're keeping their BLUE CROSS-BLUE SHIELD membership

Magistrate and Mrs. Morris Groverman, of Milford, joined Blue Cross more than 20 years ago in Philadelphia—transferred to the Delaware Blue Cross-Blue Shield Plan when they moved to Milford in 1943. Last year, Mrs. Groverman was hospitalized twice—first for 42 days, then for 36 days. Total charges came to $1,310.00—but the cost to the Grovermans was only $68.50! Blue Cross paid the balance of $1,241.50!

No wonder that Mr. and Mrs. Groverman say:

"Blue Cross is tops. We wouldn't be without it. After 65 there is no other coverage that compares to Blue Cross-Blue Shield in economy and benefits. Because most retired persons have relatively little income or earning power, it's vitally important for the over-65 to have the protection that only Blue Cross-Blue Shield gives."

Fortunate people, the Grovermans—to be able to continue their Blue Cross-Blue Shield membership... the valuable coverage you, too, can keep when you retire—or reach age 65!

Keep BLUE CROSS-BLUE SHIELD as your treasured possession... when you retire or reach 65. 14,200 Delawareans who are 65 or over—1/3 of all Delawareans in this age group—have BLUE CROSS-BLUE SHIELD.

MORE PEOPLE ARE BUYING CHEVROLETS IN 1959 THAN ANY OTHER CAR

(as proved by official registration figures)

204,000 more people bought Chevrolets last year than any other car and there are over 2 million more Chevrolets on the road than any other car! You'll find more to like in Chevy, too!

Possessed of a retentive mind he continually wove the names of people in the audience into his narratives.

The Alumni Association planning committee feels that both of the main speakers delivered their talks in such a manner that young and old alike enjoyed themselves. It will be hard to get such able men as these for future affairs.

The local quartet thus lowered the record of 8 minutes 50 seconds set by Caesar Rodney in 1953. Only one Group III standard was this old. A quartet of Bob Winkler, Jim McDonald, Walt Lekites and Bob Gillette ran in an unfamiliar event, the 880 yard relay and won fourth place.

Taylor, Knotts, Pfeiffer, Hackett and Bonniwell received awards for their good work in the two relays. These were in the form of a running figure mounted on a pedestal with an inscription on the base designating the event and the result.

House Bill On New Castle County Police

A bill to abolish the New Castle County police force was introduced Wednesday by 16 sponsors in the House of Representatives.

The measure, HB-286, would simply repeal the section of the laws authorizing the appointment of the county police by the Levy Court. The county force is authorized to have 22 members—four each from Brandywine, Christiana, New Castle and Mill Creek Hundreds and one each from the other six hundreds.

The bill suggests that those county policemen who have the qualifications could become members of the state police, but authorizes no increase in the number of state police officers.

HB-286 was handed up by Rep. Robert L. Pawson (R-Brookside) who also is sponsor of a measure to increase the state police force by 80 troopers, with 40 to be assigned to a proposed new troop in the vicinity of Newark.

The other sponsors, of both parties, are: Representatives English, Shockley, Livingston, Dineen, Richards, Kleinbach, Fifer, Johnson, Best, Lawson, Graves, Carmean, Bartleson, Latina and Manning.

A bill to abolish the county police was introduced in the senate earlier, but was hastily withdrawn.

Among the new bills introduced Wednesday was one to authorize new Delaware Memorial Bridge bonds in the amount of $6,000,000, bringing the total bond authorization in connection with the bridge to $52,550,000.

The Interstate Highway Division would be authorized by the measure, HB-282, to issue the bonds from time to time "for the purpose of making additions and improvements to the bridge, its appurtenances and approaches, deemed necessary by the said division."

According to highway officials, what the division has in mind is a variety of projects. Chief among these would be reimbursement to the state for the state's share of the cost of the interstate highways being built between Farnhurst and the bridge, including the huge interchange at Farnhurst, costing more than $8,000,000. The state's share of projects in which the Interstate Division is considering reimbursement comes to about $2,500,000.

Such reimbursement would be consistent with previous actions, a highway official said, pointing out that the Interstate Division reimburses the state for construction of the bridge approaches.

Other Projects The other $3500 in new money from the bonds would be used for other projects. Those being considered include resurfacing the bridge, the purchase of land nearby on the Delaware side for the proposed second bridge, construction of a new road from the administration building to the police training building to afford access without use of the bridge plaza and toll gates, and paying for the new administration building. The building is already under construction and will otherwise be paid for out of maintenance funds.

A companion measure, HB-282, would require that the funds received as reimbursement of the state's share of construction of interstate highways be applied to the payment of notes issued in anticipation of the issuance of bonds. The intent is to apply the money to paying off present indebtedness and prevent its being used for new projects.

Both bills were introduced by Rep. H. G. Lawson (R-Wilmington) and co-sponsored by Rep. Paul E. Shockley (D-Wilmington).

Another of the new bills presented Wednesday would increase proceedings for school purposes. The amount of land which may be acquired by condemnation at present the limit is 15 acres. HB-285, introduced Wednesday by Rep. Harvey P. Fifer (R-Rising Sun) with six co-sponsors would make the limit 15 acres for schools of less than 500 pupils and 25 acres for those with more than 500 pupils.

Civil Rights Bill Rep. Paul F. Livingston (D-

Wilmington) who Wednesday presented a civil rights bill to outlaw discrimination in places of public accommodation Wednesday introduced a bill to create a state agency to undertake the elimination and prevention of discrimination of "employment because of race, creed, color or national origin. These objects of the proposed State Commission Against Discrimination are to be achieved primarily by education, persuasion and discussion between the parties affected," the bill says. It is HB-287, and was assigned to the Labor Committee.

The bill would make it unlawful for an employer to refuse to hire or to discharge from employment any individual because of his race, creed, color or national origin, or to discriminate against individual in compensation or conditions of employment. Similarly it would be unlawful for a labor organization to exclude or expel any person for the same reasons, or to discriminate.

The bill would provide an appropriation of $35,000 for the commission for the next fiscal year.

Among the nine new bills and two resolutions presented Wednesday was a substitute for HB-150, on licensing of emigrant labor agents by the State Board of Agriculture. It was introduced by Rep. Harvey Fifer (R-Rising Sun) and three co-sponsors. The original bill provided for a $1000 license valid only in one county. The substitute makes it statewide.
