House Defeats Bill to Permit Pupil Spanking

The bill to permit school teachers and administrators to spank pupils "when necessary" was given a spanking defeat Wednesday in the House of Representatives, which also demurred at passing the fire companies appropriation bill, but gave its approval to the bill to create a new probation and parole system.

With about 40 youths in Dover for Boys State as fascinated spectators, the House put on a debate on the meaning of the pupil spanking bill and the need for it. The measure, HB-278, was called up by Rep. J. Walter Carmean (D-Frankford) who is a teacher. The bill, which is backed by the Delaware State Education Association, says that "in order to maintain discipline and preserve an atmosphere conducive to learning and instruction, a teacher or administrator may use physical force when necessary provided it is reasonable in manner and moderate in degree." This authority would be extended to any school activity, such as school trips.

The discussion on the pupil-spanking measure brought out that Delaware law does not specify whether teachers may or may not spank pupils on occasion, but that the common law gives them that right. The bill, then, would merely state the right in Delaware law, and also extend it to include school activities outside the classroom where the teacher may be in charge.

Said Carmean: "I've been spanking kids for 40 years, that needed it, and never had a parent complain." But there have been complaints in other parts of the state, he added.

Little Leaguers Have 1-2 Record

Manager James O'Neal's Harrington Little League team has a one-win, two-lost record as of June 10.

After an opening game loss at Milford, the boys found their batting eyes in a 2-2 win over Greenwood on the home diamond.

Ronnie Hughes and Donnie Sam Knox led the locals at the plate, while Charles Taylor and Bob Smith handled the pitching duties. Taylor started and received credit for the win.

Wednesday night at Frederica a last-inning rally by Harrington just missed fire and the Frederica team prevailed by a score of 10-9.

The home fans have been supporting the team very well thus far. It is hoped that this will be the case all season.

The Little League Minor League will start soon for those local lads in the 8-12 1/2 age group. (Continued on back page)

Thirty-three 4-H girls modeled their outfits at the annual 4-H round up. Miss Beverly Kinney narrated the Revue. Assisting with her were Miss Joan Dempsey and Mrs. Becky Nickerson.

Property owners who have outstanding bills for curbing or sidewalks will encounter legal action if the bills are not paid on or before June 15, the City Council ruled Thursday night, June 4.

The Council adopted a resolution which added that the pertinent property owners would receive a certified letter and that, if the bills were not paid, legal action would be taken within 30 days after the deadline.

The City Charter calls for the total bill, for curbs and sidewalks, to be paid by the owner of the abutting property. However, the Council last year, in an effort to induce street improvements, offered to pay half the bills of the curbing. As a result, a number of petitions were presented offering to pay half the curb bill.

Curbs were installed on part of Grant Street, North Street, Dickerson Street, Shaw Avenue, and Milby Street. Installing of curb caused tearing up of the streets and some were blacktopped, with others on the agenda. In the meanwhile, some property owners have refused to pay for half of the curb bills, stating they had been told by the City their streets would be blacktopped.

Other Business
After Earl Sylvester, 238 Delaware Ave., had suggested improvements for his street, the Council authorized City Manager Norris C. Adams to have driveways at the Sylvester residence, at the Simpson girls residence and at Pilgrim Holiness Church, also on Delaware Avenue, painted. The Council also suggested that weeds be removed from the street and that a ditch be checked.

The Police Commission was authorized to have crosswalks painted and signs ordered to designate hours for loading and unloading trucks.

Letters are to be sent to property owners, who are not hooked to available sanitary sewers, quoting Section 20 of the sewer code denoting penalty for non-compliance.

Paul Neeman, representing the Harrington Volunteer Fire Company, asked for City aid in building an addition to the fire house. The Council approved the aid and agreed to make a financial study.

Turning Off Water
The city manager met with the fire company and arrived at an agreement for two blasts of the siren when City water is to be turned off.

Ken Collins Wins Henlopen Batting Crown

Ken "Snooky" Collins won the first Henlopen Conference batting title as he finished the season with eight hits in his last nine tries to record a fantastic .588. Harrington, which dominated the league statistics, finished in a tie with Greenwood and Bridgeville for the loop crown. Retiring coach Harold McDonald thus makes his exit on a winning note.

Collins led the league in hits with 21, stolen bases with 11 and was second in runs with 13, doubles with 6 and runs-batted-in with 12. Jim Schiff was third in the loop in runs-batted-in with 10 and tied for second in stolen bases (10) with Wayne Walters of Felton.

The local Lions stood second in team batting with .281 and in runs scored with 70. H.H.S. was first in hits (79) doubles (15) and stolen bases (43).

In the pitching department Ken Collins also was the local standout although Schiff did have the distinction of blanking the league batting champion and co-nominee — winning Greenwood nine. Collins ranked second in the conference among the regularly-used moundmen to Hochstetler of Greenwood. The H.H.S. hurler won 6 of 7 starts, was second in strikeouts with 61, tied for first in complete games (7) and had the best control in the loop as he gave up only 9 walks in 50 innings.

The team batting averages below include two non-league games.

ORGANIZATIONS CANNOT EXIST WITHOUT FRINGE MEMBERS

The nucleus of an organization comprises the hard-working core. This core receives the plaudits and kudos for a job well done. Conversely, it is blamed for a poor performance. And then, there is the lamentation: "A few of 'em run the whole outfit."

However, the organization cannot exist without the core, any more than an apple can, and it cannot exist without the fringe members. These members are sometimes unjustly maligned.

Before one criticizes them adversely, one should take a second take.

We have numerous organizations in Harrington. It would be impossible to take an active part in all. Consequently, some individuals are core members, or participate actively in groups of their special interest, and are, at the same time, fringe members in other groups.

These fringe members seldom attend a meeting; in fact, some may not attend once a year. Nevertheless, their benefits to the club are many. Their dues are beneficial. When called upon, they assist in club projects. They make additional financial contributions. If they are merchants, they contribute merchandise or sell it at cost. They are liberal with advice on how the group can be run.

A member of the Chamber of Commerce, who has not attended a meeting in a year, has never failed to carry out an assigned task as a member of the Membership Committee. Another fringe member, who has never attended a meeting, permitted the Chamber to use a cottage at Oak Orchard for a picnic last summer.

It is impossible for an organization to be all core. After all, who would want an apple that was all core?

Court Upholds Life Term For Breeding in Slaying

The Court of Appeals Monday upheld the first-degree murder conviction of Clayton Edward Breeding for the slaying of an Eastern Shore housewife.

Breeding, an ex-convict from Hickman, is serving a life term in prison for the strangulation murder of Mrs. Ruth Ellen Cannon, a 19-year-old housewife from Burrsville, Caroline County.

Breeding's attorney had asked for reversal of the conviction on grounds it was based on insufficient circumstantial evidence.

The high court agreed the evidence "is almost wholly circumstantial," but is said that is not a fatal objection. Judge William L. Henderson, speaking for a unanimous court said:

"The inference seems almost inescapable that Mrs. Cannon, whether willingly or unwillingly, left her home . . . in the company of Breeding, and in his car."

"Sometime during the morning or evening of the following day she met her death through manual strangulation, after a severe beating and struggle."

"The body was found at a point some 600 to 1,000 feet from the point where Breeding's car had been parked and left tire marks."

"We think the triers of the fact could properly draw the inference, from all the circumstances of the case, that she met her death at his hands, and that the killing was premeditated and with malice aforethought."

Breeding was convicted by three Caroline County judges last October for the June 30 slaying.

Mrs. Cannon was strangled with a strip of cloth torn from her blouse. Breeding was the object of a three-week manhunt before he was captured in Newark. He denied the killing and said he had never seen Mrs. Cannon.

State witnesses placed Breeding at the Cannon home when Mrs. Cannon was last seen alive and identified his car as being in the woods near where the body was found. A fingerprint expert found two points of similarity between Mrs. Cannon's thumbprint and one found on a window of Breeding's car.

The high court, noting Breeding's testimony that he had been drinking on the night of the murder, said "voluntary drunkenness is generally not a defense."

"Moreover," the opinion said, "the triers of fact could properly find, as they did, that the accused was not drunk at the time of the murder. They were not obliged to accept his story." The appellate judges also noted that "actions of an accused after the event may evidence guilty knowledge."

St. Bernadette's Church Notes

Mass Sunday morning will begin at 9:30. Confessions will be heard before Mass.

The monthly High Mass usually held on the second Sunday will be replaced with a Low Mass during the summer months.

Two members of St. Bernadette's who are graduating from High School, attended the 11 o'clock Mass in St. John's in Milford last Sunday. It was a Baccalaureate Mass for the graduating members of St. John's and St. Bernadette's. It was a High Mass and the Choir sang the Mass of St. Lawrence. Panis Angelicus was sung at the Offertory. Most of the graduates received Holy Communion. Attending from here were Judy Cain and Jimmy Schiff. All the graduates were served breakfast in the parish hall after Mass.

The month of June is dedicated to the Sacred Heart of Jesus. In 1920 a very holy nun, Margaret Mary Alacoque, was canonized a saint of the Catholic Church.

It was she who had the vision of the Sacred Heart at Paray-le-Monial in France. This happened in the year 1672. Through this vision our Lord manifested the great love of His Heart for the entire human race. It was during these visions of St. Margaret Mary that Our Lord made many loving promises to those who would honor His Sacred Heart. The most effective way to honor the Sacred Heart is to imitate the example of St. Margaret Mary by offering daily acts of reparation to God for our sins as well as the sins of mankind.

"Moreover," the opinion said, "the triers of fact could properly find, as they did, that the accused was not drunk at the time of the murder. They were not obliged to accept his story." The appellate judges also noted that "actions of an accused after the event may evidence guilty knowledge."

Bill Would Give Welfare Control To Levy Court

Citing a case of a Kent County who operates a trucking business and draws public welfare benefits, and of a Highway Department employee drawing welfare benefits, Senator Allen J. Cook (D-Kenton), Tuesday introduced a bill to place the State Department of Public Welfare under the control of the Levy Courts.

The welfare costs were the whipping boy for a bill to raise the Kent County tax ceiling from 50 to 60 cents per $100 of assessed property value. The bill (HB-317) squeaked through with a bare nine votes after a debate which included some arch comment on the adequacy of property assessment in Kent County.

Senator Cook temporarily gave up his seat as president pro tem to Senator John E. Reilly, Sr. (D-Wilmington), the majority leader, to introduce and explain the bill. (SB 208).

The department is currently controlled by a 12-member board appointed by the Governor, for three year terms with six members to be from each party.

The Cook bill would provide that the Governor appoint three members, and that the remaining nine members shall be composed of members of the Levy Courts of New Castle, Kent, and Sussex Counties. Thus the bill would, in effect, subject the department to political control.

The New Castle County Levy Court is now two to one Republican, while the Kent and Sussex Courts are two to one Democratic. This would give the Democrats a five to four edge on the proposed new board, with the Governor having three appointments.

Senator Cook explained that his bill was non-political, but is "my way of doing something about the cost to the public. Public welfare is breaking Kent County. We're having to raise our county tax rate now, it's all because of welfare costs."

Senator Cook continued: "I know of a case not far from me, with a man who owns property that the county gets about 50 cents a year in taxes from. This man has a car and a station wagon, and two trucks, and is in the trucking business every day. And he gets $150 a month in public welfare. We've got to do something to stop this."

Senator Reynolds du Pont (R-Greenville) suggested that a more thorough policing might be the answer in such cases.

Senator Walter J. Hoey (D-Milford), chairman of the Joint Finance Committee, chimed in: "We on the committee had Senator Cook come before us and make that accusation, and others. We had that man Hare (Edgar Hare Jr., department director) there, and all the facts and figures were given to him. There was proof of those facts, but nothing was done."

Senator duPont suggested that

Welfare Control To Levy Court

"maybe it's not the chiefs that need the changing but the Indians."

Senator Reilly referred the bill to the Revised Statutes Committee.

During the debate on the tax increase bill, Senator Cook again relinquished the chair to get into the debate.

This time he said he knew of a man employed by the State Highway Department at $199 a month who was collecting $102.50 a month in public welfare.

This moved Senator Curtis W. Steen (D-Dagsboro) to comment he was glad to hear the senator say that and he hoped the press would give it as much publicity as a remark Steen made about "drones" in the highway department a couple of weeks ago.

Senator Harry E. Mayhew (D-Milford), who called up the bill, asked Max Terry, attorney for the Kent County Levy Court, to explain the need, and Mr. Terry said the relief costs had gone up from $31,000 to $92,000 in the past year, and aid to dependent children had gone up by $17,000. Costs of the courts, he said, were up $5,000. Since the law requires these costs be paid by the counties, the county would have no alternative but to raise its taxes to meet it.

Under questioning by Senator Harvey B. Spicer (R-Georgetown), Mr. Terry said the county had last been assessed two years ago, and that a bill now before the House would permit re-assessment every year, as is done in New Castle County.

The county is pleased with the assessment board's work, he said. Senator Spicer thought it was odd that the tax rate should go down (to 45 cents) in Sussex County while it went up in New Castle and Kent County if welfare, a statewide problem, were responsible for it.

Senator John E. Reilly, Sr. (D-Wilmington), the majority leader and a member of the New Castle County Assessment Board, asked whether all property in the county were assessed, and was assured that all was, except those excluded for religious or charitable purposes.

"What is your property assessed at?" Senator Reilly wanted to know. "I mean, it is assessed at 60 or 70 per cent of its actual or replacement value."

Sixty per cent, he was told. "Well, in New Castle we assess at 70 per cent," Senator Reilly said. "That's part of the trouble right there."

Senator Spicer commented that "we should not tie the increase in solely with the welfare. You've had a big increase in population here, with families at the air base, not all of them living in homes that you can assess."

"If your expenses for welfare are no more than those in Sussex, then you must be under-assessed. All these beautiful buildings going up around here—you must be under-assessed, that's all."

Senator Walton H. Simpson (D-Camden) moved for a deferment, but this was voted down, inasmuch as the bill had been deferred from yesterday.

On the roll-call, Senators Hickman, Mayhew, McCullough, Nechay, Price, Reilly, Tull, and Cook, Democrats, and Williams, Republican, voted yes; Hoey and Steen, Democrats, voted no; Correll, du Pont, Simpson, Snowden, and Spicer, Republicans, declined to vote, and Watson, Democrat, was absent.

After some discussion, the Senate deferred action on HB 130, which would provide tax relief for persons working in Delaware but living in other states, providing those other states accorded Delaware residents the same privilege. The senators wanted detailed information on what the financial results would be.

The Senate also voted down Senate Bill 153, a fire marshal's bill tightening up regulations concerning fire escapes, but Senator Mayhew later had the bill restored to the calendar.

Micro-Midget News

The Blue Hen Speedway was filled to capacity Saturday night with spectators and cars coming from Wilmington, Dover, and Ridgely. It looks like the carpenters should be called out, to build a couple more grandstands. The parking lot needs enlarging also.

The Blue Hen Micro Midget Club is proud to announce that they have purchased their own public address system. This was possible because of the donations you, the spectators, drop in the hat each week. The more you give the better racing conditions can be.

We had as visitors this week a club from Wilmington, which brought their go-carts and put on a very fine show of racing. Everyone present seemed to enjoy them very much. They ran counter clockwise around the track, and ran four races. I hear they enjoyed themselves so much also, they want to come back this Saturday night.

The quarter midgets were well represented Saturday night also. The club from Dover had a lot of members and cars down to race. These are driven by young boys 7 years to 12 years of age. They race at Dover every Sunday afternoon starting at 6 o'clock due to the hot weather.

Walter Schiff has sold his car No. 22 to Gill Jones. Dicky Sapp is still doing the driving.

Jim Cain took a chance Saturday night by running his car No. 101, driven by Pat Fry, with a cracked base. No damage was done. That's luck.

Clarence Gray ended up with a cracked head after Car No. 1 ran hot.

We have back with us Harry Porter with his new car No. 8. Harry comes from Wilmington and raced all last year with us.

The boys work hard and busy as bees all week to get their cars in shape for racing every Saturday night, so why not come out and see the results of the week's work. Come to the Blue Hen Speedway, 1 mile south of Harrington red light.

The boys race for points in the feature race every Saturday night. So far this year, here are the point standings of all the cars up to and including the Memorial Day race.

Car No. 7 owned by John Porter and driven by Fox, 310 points; Car No. 101, owned by Jim Cain and driven by Pat Fry, 298 points; Car No. 22, owned by Gill Jones and driven by Dicky Sapp, 270 points; Car No. 13, owned by Walter Messick and driven by Spanky Vincent, 268 points; Car No. 3B, owned and driven by Clarence Billings, 248 points; Car No. 14, owned by Walter Messick and driven by Jack Sapp, 202 points; Car No. 00, owned by McKee and driven by Bob Foster, 128 points; Car No. 77, owned and driven by Poody Argo, 124 points; Car No. 1, Joe Grays car driven by Clarence Gray, 122 points; Car No. 71, owned and driven by Spanky Vincent, 120 points; Car No. 30, owned and driven by Chuck Peters, 78 points; Car No. 2, owned and driven by Gene Jarrell, 40 points.

The end of the racing season will probably make a lot of changes with the point standings. The bottom man could come out ahead. No one knows. We just have to wait and see.

Now for some of the results from Saturday night races.

1st Race (1/4 Midgets)—1-Roy Walls in Car No. 2P; 2-Chuck Baker in Car No. 45; 3-Bobby Walls in Car No. 11; 4-Don McMullen in Car No. 3.

2nd Race (1/4 Midgets)—1-Mike Wamsley in Car No. 2 Blue; 2-Bob Sherwood in Car No. 101; 3-Bobby Reed in Car No. 22; 4-Billy Dill in Car No. 1; 5-Mike Fry in Car No. 5; 6-Jimmy McMullen in Car No. 97; 7-Bernie

Gaicia in Car No. 2 Red. 3rd Race (Micro Midgets)—1-Spanky Vincent in Car No. 13; 2-Pat Fry in Car No. 101. 4th Race (Micro Midgets)—1-Dicky Sapp in Car No. 22; 2-Clarence Billings in Car No. 3B; 3-Fox in Car No. 7. 5th Race (Micro Midgets) Consolation—1-Harry Porter in Car No. 8; 2-Bob Foster in Car No. 00; 3-Gene Jarrell in Car No. 2.

Offer $4,800 In Special 4-H Scholarships

Scholarships worth $4800 will be given by three leading business firms to current or former 4-H Club members enrolled in an accredited college or university. Candidates must have satisfactorily completed three years of club work, have a good scholastic record, and a genuine interest in specified fields of study.

Arrangements for the 4-H scholarship fund have been made jointly by the Co-operative Extension Service and the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, Chicago. Names of scholarship winners will be announced during the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago early next December.

All scholarships are for $800 each. Two are for agronomy or plant pathology majors, and will come from California Spray-Chemical Corporation. Another pair will be provided by Colgate-Palmolive Company for 4-H girls planning to major in clothing and textiles.

Two more home economics scholarships will be offered for the first time this year by Sunbeam Corporation.

College students wishing to apply for any of these 4-H scholarships should contact their State 4-H Club leader or County Extension agent.

Four Delawareans To National 4-H Meeting

Four young 4-H'ers from Delaware have received the highest honor the organization can give them. They have chosen to represent the state at the National 4-H Club Conference in Washington, D. C., June 13-19, according to Dr. Sam Gwinn, State 4-H Club leader.

The four are: Miss Katie Collins, Middletown; Thomas Carter, Newark; Miss Joyce Warrington, Bridgeville, and John Clark, Houston.

Miss Collins has been in 4-H Club work for 11 years and has carried out a wide variety of 4-H club projects ranging from sewing to raising calves and hogs.

She attended National 4-H Club Congress in 1956 as a state winner in clothing achievement and was selected as state winner for junior leadership last year which entitles her to attend Camp Minnowan, in Michigan this summer. She is a junior in home economics at the University of Delaware.

Carter has been in 4-H Club work for ten years and has completed 30 projects during that time. He has worked with livestock, field crops, gardening and has even branched out into food preparation. He was a delegate to National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago in 1956 for winning with his field crops program.

He is a freshman in the School of Agriculture at the University of Delaware. At Chicago he was named as an alternate national winner in field crops and received a $300 college scholarship.

Miss Warrington has been in 4-H Club work for nine years and has completed 32 4-H projects in that time. She has been president of her Club, the Dublin Hill Yellowjackets, twice and is now president of the Sussex County 4-H Club.

She has attended Club Congress in Chicago as state dress revue winner and the Cherry Pie Convention, also in Chicago for winning the state cherry pie contest. Miss Warrington has attended NEPPCO with her state winning poultry foods demonstration.

Although most of her projects have been in clothing and foods, she has raised poultry and swine. She will be a freshman in the School of Home Economics at the University of Delaware next fall.

John Clark has been in Club work for nine years and has been junior leader for five years. He has attended Club Congress in Chicago with his winning garden project in 1953 and has been club president and is now president of the Kent County Junior Council.

He has been very active in community affairs and last year was chairman of a county 4-H Club softball league, setting up the league schedules and carrying out the administrative work. He has also served as master of ceremonies at county talent shows and dairy festivals.

He is taking extension courses at U. of D. and plans to become a full-time student this fall.

Highlight of the National conference will be the opening of the new National 4-H Club Center in Washington, June 13.

Dr. Gwinn said about 200 delegates will attend the meeting representing all the state and Puerto Rico.

"The delegates are selected by their records of exceptional project achievement, demonstrated leadership ability, community service, and citizenship activity," Gwinn said.

Educational tours will be made to the Capitol, the White House, the Agricultural Research Center at Beltsville, Md., the Department of Defense at the Pentagon, Mount Vernon, and the Supreme Court. The delegates will also visit with congressmen, and see the Washington Senators (baseball) play the Kansas City Athletics.

The 4-H program is a part of the national educational system of co-operative extension work in which the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the State land-grant colleges, and the countries share. The Federal Extension Services give state leadership to the program.

Dr. Gwinn said about 281,000 public-spirited men and women, mostly parents, serve as unpaid volunteer local leaders to guide 4-H'ers. About 101,000 older club boys and girls assist as junior leaders. The leaders are trained, advised, and assisted by the county extension agents.

Pilgrim Holiness Church News

Sunday School 10 a.m. Children's Day will be observed this Sunday. The program will include songs by the children.

Morning worship 11 a.m. Songs by the Senior Choir. Sermon by the pastor. The morning services are being carried by the Radio Station in Milford during the month of June.

Pilgrim Youth Service 7 p.m. Evening Evangelistic Service, 7:45 p.m. The hymn history this week will be the story behind the writing of the hymn, "Blest Be The Tie That Binds," by John Faucett. The service will also include the reception of members into full church membership.

Congratulations are being extended to the following individuals who attend the church and are being graduated this school term. From Harrington High School, Roger Ellers, James Melvin, Oscar Melvin, and James Collins. From the High School Department of Easter Pilgrim College, Allentown, Pa., Ardis Sherwood. From the University of Delaware, Duane Bloom, and from Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky., Everett Isaacs. Everett attended the church here previous to his going to Eastern Pilgrim College and Asbury College.

Carlton Goodhand has recently returned home from Milford Hospital. Mrs. Edith Melvin is still a patient there at this writing.

Two June weddings are being planned in the church. On Tuesday, June 16, at 8 p.m. Lois Dickerson and John Carpenter, Jr., are to be married and Saturday, June 27, Lucille Clark and Clarence Murphy are to be united in holy wedlock.

Kent Home Doings

Keep Eggs Fresh
"Fresh eggs taste best. No one disagrees with that," says county home demonstration agent Florence Y. Smith.

You should buy fresh eggs and keep them under refrigeration. Be careful that eggs don't warm up before you get them home to your refrigerator.

"High quality eggs will soon become low quality eggs if they are not kept cool," Mrs. Smith said.

Store eggs in closed cartons and not in open refrigerator shelves. Uncovered eggs will pick up refrigerator odors and an off-flavor. Don't wash your eggs until you are ready to use them. And when you cook eggs, take only those you need out of the refrigerator. Buy and use more eggs now while they are lower in price than they have been in years.

Eggs are our most economical protein food buy at the present time, Mrs. Smith said.

Delaware Food Retailers to Attend Short Course

Many Delaware food retailers will leave their stores and "go to college" for two days this month. The occasion will be the second food retailers' short course to be held on the University of Delaware campus June 21-22. Announcement of the course was made today by Robert L. Bull, agent in marketing with the university's Agricultural Extension Service, sponsor of the event.

With the theme "Productivity and Promotions, Prescriptions for Profits", the course will offer the retailers first-hand reports from the food industry's most successful store operators on sales-building and cost-cutting ideas. Workshops will be held on merchandising meats and frozen foods, handling produce and baked goods, selecting and training store personnel, financing, store supervision, wholesaling, advertising and other important aspects of food retailing.

University of Delaware president, Dr. John A. Perkins, will welcome the retailers to the campus in their first general session Sunday afternoon, June 21. Louis P. Shannon of the Du Pont Company's public relations department will deliver the keynote address: "You and Your Job."

Other Sunday afternoon speakers include David Eastburn, vice-president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia, "What's Ahead for Business", and Rudy Treuenfels, executive vice president, National-American Wholesale Grocers Association, New York, "Modernizing Methods Means Modernizing Men."

Sunday evening the retailers will be treated to a 'Delmarvalous' chicken banquet, courtesy of Delmarva Poultry Industries, Inc., the organization of growers, feed dealers, hatcherymen, processors and other segments of the peninsula's broiler industry that promotes the sale of locally-produced chicken. Banquet speaker will be Len Kanter, former editor of Food Topics magazine, New York, on "Qualifications for Retailing Success." Dean George M. Worroil of the School of Agriculture will be toastmaster.

Monday's program will consist mainly of special interest workshops but will also include general sessions for superette and super-market operators. A special tour is planned for wives, including visits to Longwood Gardens, The Hagley Museum and luncheon. Certificates will be awarded to the participants at the completion of the short course Monday afternoon.

According to Mr. Bull, reservations for the short course are still being accepted. Interested retailers may obtain registration forms and copies of the short course program by writing: Retail Marketing Section, Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, Newark or by calling ENdicott 8-8511, extension 38.

Big Weekend Flower Show At U. of D.

The first official State Flower Show will be held at the University of Delaware's Agricultural Hall in Newark, this weekend, June 13-14.

The show is jointly sponsored by the University and the State Federated Garden Clubs. This is the first show since the federation of Delaware Garden Clubs joined with the national organization and thus becomes the first official all-state show.

Hundreds of entries have already been received, according to Robert F. Stevens, extension horticulturist with the university.

Among the many attractions at the show—all open to the public—are the following:

Cool formality—A formal garden exhibit by Millcreek Nurseries built on the stage in the auditorium;

Garden idyll—A formal terrace featuring water and statues, as well as plants, planned and built by the Wilmington Branch of the National Association of Gardeners;

There will be a lush tropical foliage garden created by Joseph Derrick, gardener for Mrs. Lamont DuPont;

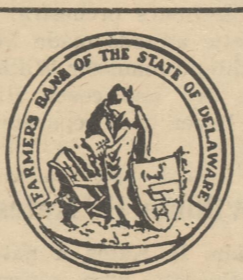

Bonsai—An exhibit of miniature trees in perfect scale and grown and arranged by W. Glasgow Reynolds, Wilmington;

Orchidee—A special exhibit by the Delaware Orchid Society;

Landscaping—The Wilmington Garden Club will have an exhibit showing the right and wrong way of landscape design and maintenance.

These are just a few of the interesting things to see at the show, Stevens said. There is also a large junior show as well as many open classes for adults.

The show will start at 2 p.m. Saturday and at 1 p.m. Sunday, and will be open until nine in the evening on both days.

Laying Hens Need Special Care in Hot Weather

With summer coming on, county agricultural agent George Vapaa says the sun is already generating plenty of heat which could mean a slump in egg production and a rise in death losses.

The best way to guard against these losses, he said, is to keep the laying flock cool and comfortable. Plenty of fresh air and cool water are the two chief ingredients.

"A well-ventilated poultry house is a cool place to lay eggs, so make sure that there is plenty of air circulating around," he added.

If your laying house has a metal roof, use a sprinkling system such as a perforated plastic hose on the roof to cut summer heat. Or, try a fog system above the birds inside the house. Poultrymen have found these two methods hold temperatures down effectively in both individual cage and floor systems.

Another cooling thought is sprinkling the litter in the house. Adjust the sprinkler nozzle to a fine mist, then spray the litter and chickens frequently. This is especially helpful around the end of June or the first of July when we usually have our first extreme hot spells.

Keep plenty of clean, fresh, cool water handy at all times, Vapaa suggested. The hens will drink more and keep themselves cool. Have as much natural shade around the poultry house as possible. This cools the air in the whole poultry yard area.

If layers are kept cool and comfortable in the summertime, feed consumption will not drop and neither will egg production.

How to Judge Clothing

A short course in the judging of clothing will be held at the University of Delaware July 8-9, according to Extension Clothing Specialist, Miss Janet Reed, School of Agriculture.

The course is set up to teach clothing judging to anyone interested in becoming qualified to act as a judge at events such as 4-H, Grange, county and state fairs as well as to help 4-H Club leaders, home economics teachers, and other youth leaders, in training and evaluating their youngsters.

You must be registered by June 5 if you wish to stay in University dormitories, Miss Reed said. Contact Miss Reed, Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, or your county home demonstration agent if you wish to attend the short course. If it is necessary to limit enrollment, the first to pre-register will be given priority, Miss Reed said.

There will be discussions by specialists on the how's and why's and practice sessions with models. Certificates will be awarded those who complete the course.

The sessions will be held from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. July 8 and 9.

One Man to A Tractor

During a recent survey by the National Safety Council concerning extra tractor riders, a farmer said, "I would rather hear my child cry because he was refused a tractor ride than hear him cry because he got hurt riding one."

"Tractors are equipped for only one rider—the driver," says George Vapaa, Kent county agricultural agent.

According to the National Safety Council the majority of children in the 1-9 year old group killed or injured in tractor accidents last year were extra riders—just along for the ride—a last ride in too many cases.

There is no safe place for a tractor operator to ride except the seat. No other spot has been constructed on the tractor which could be classed as a safe place for an extra rider. It is very simple.

Don't be a "good" guy and give kids a lift on a tractor. A sharp turn, little bump, or fast jerk is just enough to throw the hitchhiker off balance, and into a statistic. It may not seem important here in black and white. It will seem more important in red.

CHEVY BESTS

7 (COUNT 'EM) 7

Independent experts and official facts and figures prove Chevy's ahead of its field in seven big ways.

BEST BRAKES... In direct competitive tests of repeated stops from highway speeds, conducted by NAS-CAR*, Chevy out-stopped both the other leading low-priced cars—and why not: Chevy brakes are far larger, built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life. BEST TRADE-IN... Check the figures in any N.A.D.A.† Guide Book. You'll find that Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two." BEST STYLE... Popular Science magazine sums it up: "The fact is, in its price class the Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling..." It's the only car of the leading low-priced three that's unmistakably modern in every line. BEST ECONOMY... No doubt about this: two Chevrolet Sixes won their class in the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, got the best mileage of any full-size car. BEST ROOM... Official dimensions reported to A.M.A.‡ make this clear. For example, Chevy front seat hip room is up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars. BEST ENGINE... Every motor magazine has given Chevy's standard and Corvette V8's unstinted praise. As Sports Cars Illustrated puts it: "Indeed, this device is surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price." BEST RIDE... You'll be able to tell this yourself, instantly. But Motor Trend magazine expresses it this way: "... the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class."

Demonstration of Helicopter at U. D. Agronomy Meeting Next Week

Farmers and other businessmen concerned with managing large tracts of land are keeping their eyes on a promising new type of workhorse that can fly—the helicopter.

Old Dobbin faded out of the picture as an important source of farm power years ago. He was replaced by the familiar tractor which consumes gasoline instead of oats and has proved to be dependable and efficient in doing hundreds of different kinds of farm jobs.

Now the helicopter or 'whirly-bird' as the G.I.'s in Korea called it, shows great promise as a machine adapted to the needs of an agriculture, streamlining itself for more efficient production of higher quality farm products.

For example, the helicopter lends itself well to the job of controlling brush growth along remote or difficult-to-reach fence rows and drainage ditches. And in the years ahead, it may become an increasingly important means of applying, over wide areas, fertilizers, insecticides and other types of agricultural chemicals.

A demonstration of the helicopter, applied to modern agriculture, will be a feature of a meeting of scientists next week on the University of Delaware campus. An invitation to the general public to view the demonstration has been issued by Professor Claude E. Phillips, chairman of the School of Agriculture and agricultural engineering. Professor Phillips and his departmental staff members are hosts for the 1959 meeting of the Northeastern Section, American Society of Agronomy, to be held in Newark June 17-19.

The helicopter will take off from Agricultural Hall on South College Avenue during the noon hour on June 18. It will demonstrate the application of nitrogen fertilizer on pasture fields of the University's research farm and of herbicide chemicals to control brush growth along fence rows. Public parking facilities are available immediately east of Agricultural Hall.

Homemakers' Short Course

"Woman's Place in the World" is the theme of this year's Homemaker's Short Course at the University of Delaware June 15-18, according to Mrs. Alice King, state home demonstration leader.

Woman's place in the world of art, music, politics, education, and law will be the main topics of the general sessions.

Bruce St. John, director of the Delaware Art Center, will be the speaker at the first general session on "Art in the home," Monday afternoon at 3:45 in Wolf Hall.

Judge John Biggs, Jr., chief judge of the U. S. Court of Appeals, Third Judicial Circuit, Philadelphia, will speak on "The Guilty Mind: Psychiatry and the Law of Homicide," at 8:30 in Wolf Hall following a discussion and demonstration of organ music by Henry Lee beginning at 7:15.

"Delaware Finances" will be the topic of the Wednesday morning session at 9 in Wolf Hall, Mrs. King said. Mrs. W. W. Heckert, formerly legislative chairman of the Wilmington chapter, American Association of University Women, will be the speaker. She will discuss the state's financial problems and where the taxpayer's money goes.

"Woman's Place in the World: Education" is the subject to be discussed by Dean George Worliff of the School of Agriculture Thursday morning at 11 o'clock in Wolf Hall.

Wednesday evening an organ concert will be held at Longwood Gardens at 7:30. The music will be provided by Clarence Snyder, organist on the Longwood staff. A tour of the conservatory and the large organ will also be part of the evening's entertainment. Transportation will be provided for registered participants.

All interested persons are invited to attend any of these sessions at the University of Delaware, June 15 through June 18, Mrs. King said.

Bugs Bother Bossy

Bossy is bothered by several species of flies and mosquitoes, county agent George Vapaa says. Insects reduce milk production in dairy cows, and reduce weight gains in beef animals.

For fly control, he says methoxychlor, 50 per cent wettable powder, may be applied dry to all cattle. Apply by sprinkling a heaping tablespoon of powder around the base of horns, on the neck and over the back. Rub the powder lightly into the hair. Do not use sprays made with methoxychlor on dairy animals producing milk, he warned. Methoxychlor, applied dry, is safe to use and gives effective control of horn flies and mosquitoes.

Common oil-base fly sprays containing .05 to 0.1 per cent pyrethrins, or three to five per cent organic thiocyanate, are also widely used on dairy cattle.

Many commercial fly sprays also contain an insect repellent which increases its effectiveness. Vapaa emphasized the use of repellents.

"They will increase milk production and weight gains," he said. These formulations are commonly used as mist sprays at the rate of one to two ounces per animal in daily applications.

Aerosols and space sprays will also give satisfactory control of flies when properly used, he said. Aerosols, containing at least 0.5 per cent pyrethrins plus five per cent synergist, are most satisfactory for killing flies.

Spray concentrates containing one per cent pyrethrins and 10 per cent synergist can also be used for both space spray and on animals. Such a concentrate should be diluted 1 to 19 with water for use in compressed air sprayers, and 1 to 9 for use in small electric fog generators.

They will also nominate persons to fill vacancies occurring this year on the Board and Advisory Committee. Elections will take place at the membership meeting to be held later this year.

Mrs. Norris C. Adams

Mrs. Hannah C. Adams, 61, wife of City Manager Norris C. Adams, 66 East Clark Street, died at her home Thursday, June 4, after suffering a heart attack while working in her flower garden.

A native of this section, she was the daughter of the late James R. and Philena Clarkson. She was a member of Asbury Methodist Church and the New Century Club.

Services were held Sunday afternoon from the J. Millard Cooper Funeral Home.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Guy Winebrenner, and Mrs. Julian Massey, Dover; three grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Ernest Raughley.

State Agencies Open Fight To Regain Budget Requests

The first in an expected deluge of supplementary appropriation bills trickled into the General Assembly Tuesday as the various agencies started their drive to get back the funds cut out of their budget requests.

Five were put in the House and one in the Senate, totalling $440,325. The biggest was for $140,000 for the State Welfare Home and Hospital for the Chronically Ill at Smyrna. The proposal in SB-207, was introduced by Senators Walton H. Simpson (R-Camden) and James H. Snowden (R-Wilmington).

The other five are House bills. The largest of these would provide $107,000 to the trustees of the Delaware State Hospital at Farnhurst. The measure is HB-350, introduced by Rep. Paul E. Shockley (D-Wilmington).

Rep. James R. Quigley (D-New Castle Hundred) and 11 co-sponsors joined in presenting another (HB-347 to appropriate $76,737 to the State Board of Corrections. Hospital Aid

The sum of $70,988 for the next fiscal year (and $72,167 for the following one) would be appropriated to the State Board of Health for care of patients admitted to the Emily P. Bissell Hospital suffering from pulmonary damage by HB-351. This one was also introduced by Shockley.

Reps. Russell D. F. Dineen (D-Wilmington) and T. Lees Bartleson (R-Brandywine Hundred) joined in sponsoring a measure (HB-352) to provide $40,000 for the Family Court for the next fiscal year.

The smallest supplementary of the day, another Shockley bill, is HB-348, which would provide $5,600 for the Public Archives Commission. Fee Increase

Among other new bills in the House Tuesday was one to increase fees for registration of motor vehicles. Vehicles currently registered for $10 a year would cost $13 and those currently tagged for $16 would cost $20 under the measure (HB-346) introduced by request of the Joint Revenue Committee.

The current $10 fee is for passenger vehicles weighing 4,000 pounds or less, and the $16 fee is for those over 4,000 pounds. Consultants to the Revenue Committee have estimated the proposed increase in the fees—without changing the 4,000 pound dividing point—would add $433,000 a year to the state's revenue.

Aid To Firemen
The House also passed HB-12, the measure to appropriate $750 to every volunteer fire company operating an ambulance. The bill does not specify how many there are. It passed with 31 yeas and four absents.

The hospital appropriation bill, ran into resistance. It is HB-305, to appropriate money to every private hospital in the state, at the rate of $550 per bed, with provisions for those building additions. Speaker Sherman W. Tribbitt said that Dr. M. A. Tarumain, superintendent of Delaware State Hospital, had reported that the private hospitals are no longer sending student nurses to the state hospital for part of their training. Tribbitt said the question of why they are not should be answered before the state appropriates a large sum of money to the private hospitals.

According to the management, it is with great pride that Movie Center can present the Academy Award Winner, Miss Susan Hayward—best actress of the year, in Paramount's new hit, "Thunder in the Sun" with Jeff Chandler. With such a combination, one may be assured of an acting duel to be remembered. "Thunder in the Sun" plays the Reese Theatre Sun, Mon., Tues., June 14-15-16. To miss it is to miss a rare treat.

Riggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Riggs of Motley, Minn., is a member of the 1959 graduating class at the University of Delaware. He will receive a bachelor of arts degree with distinction in history.

Last year, Riggs was awarded a summer fellowship by the Heritage Foundation, Deerfield, Mass., where he became interested in the study of colonial medicine. As his final project he prepared a paper on "18th Century Medicine in Deerfield, Massachusetts" based on an unpublished diary of a medical student. His degree with distinction project at the University of Delaware is entitled "Delaware Medicine, 1775 to 1805."

In addition to his Fulbright award, Riggs has received a one-year Woodrow Wilson Fellowship for graduate study at Yale University. He will be able to defer his acceptance of this grant until he returns from Scotland next year.

During his four years as an undergraduate, Riggs has been a member of the United Nations Club and the Cosmopolitan Club and president of the Athenaeum Society. He is a member of the national honor societies, Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi. He will leave this country on September 11 on the S. S. United States and expects to return in June, 1960.

Riggs is the second Delaware student to receive a Fulbright Fellowship this year. A previous award was made to Scott Wilson a Wilmingtonian, for study in France.

New State Labor Measure Is Presented to House

A new bill combining two labor reform steps with the proposal to create a state Department of Labor and Industrial Relations was introduced in the House of Representatives Wednesday.

The labor reform proposals in the measure, HB-353, are these: 1. Any union collecting dues from members and having a contract with an employer would be required to elect its officers by secret ballot every two years or oftener. If any member requests it, the proposed Department of Labor would supervise the election.

2. The department would be required to inspect the records of welfare funds at least once a year and would have the power to order correction of any practice in the handling of welfare funds that might jeopardize the rights of union members in the funds.

Aside from its labor reform features, the bill differs from the two previous labor department bills handled here in that it omits a requirement that employers keep special records for the department, according to the sponsor, Rep. F. Earl McGinness, (D-Christiana Hundred). The co-sponsor is Rep. Joseph S. Latina (D-Christiana Hundred). The department bill in the House and is frozen in the Finance Committee in the Senate. A similar Labor Department bill was passed in the House because of its Republican sponsorship.

The immediate reaction to the bill by a labor spokesman here was dismay at not having been consulted on a bill dealing with a subject on which organized labor has been working for years.

Like the previous Labor Department bills, this one would set up the department, create the position of commissioner of labor and industrial relations, abolish the Labor Commission of Delaware, and transfer to the new department the Industrial Accident Board as a separate division.

The new Labor Department bill was the only bill introduced in the House Wednesday. The only other measure handed up was HCR-15, providing for adjournment until Monday at 1 p.m., and that was adopted by voice vote under suspension of the rules.

HOUSE DEFEATS

Among the objectors was Rep. Joseph S. Latina (D-Wilmington): "I don't lick my children, and no one else better." Also Rep. James R. Quigley (D-New Castle Hundred): "The Governor says you can't beat criminals, and now somebody wants to beat children."

The House beat the bill. It got seven yeas, 19 nays, with six not voting and three absent.

The fire companies appropriations bill (HB-81), which provides $1750 a year to every accredited fire company in the state, is a routine grant-in-aid bill. But it ran into opposition because it includes Wilmington, with 13 companies, whereas the Wilmington fire companies were taken care of in a separate bill in other years. The bill got 20 yeas, with 13 not voting and two absent. But since it requires a three-quarters majority it was seven short of passage. The roll call was tabled.

An important measure passed Wednesday was one (HB-245 amended) to put the state's probation and parole services under a single agency, effective July 1, 1960. The agency would be the State Probation and Parole Commission consisting of the president judge of the Superior Court, the associate judge at large, of that court, and the chairman of the State Board of Parole, which would be retained.

The new agency will cost about $25,000 a year, but will more than pay for itself if it can keep just 20 people out of the correctional institutions for a year, according to Herbert L. Cobin, president of the Prisoners Aid Society. No appropriation will be sought until January.

The bill passed with 22 yeas, 11 nays, one not voting and one absent.

Also passed Wednesday was the bill (SB-160 amended) to consider speeding violations first offenses if the violator has not had a similar offense for 24 months. The major point involved is the fines for speeding $25 to $200 for a first offense, and $50 to $400 for subsequent offenses. There would be no effect on revocation or suspension of licenses or on records of offenses. The bill passed the House with 22 yeas, eight nays, two not voting and three absent. Now it goes back to the Senate for consideration of the House amendment, making the period 24 months instead of 12.

Other Bills Passed

SB-10—To strike out a section of law on custody of young offenders inconsistent with an earlier measure. HB-250, 23 yeas, 2 nays, 3 not voting, 7 absent.

SB-104—To strike out a section of law on detention of juveniles inconsistent with an earlier measure. HB-285, 25 yeas, 3 not voting, 7 absent.

HS-1 for HB-192—To provide that inspectors may be given instruction in shoring ditches and other safety requirements set forth in HB-275, 35 yeas, 2 absent.

At the commencement exercises Sunday at Washington College in Chestertown, Md., the Rev. Charles Burge received his bachelor of arts degree. The Rev. Burge completed his studies in January.

Walter S. Carpenter, Jr., Elected U. of D. Board President

Walter S. Carpenter, Jr., chairman of the board of E. I. duPont de Nemours & Company, has been elected president of the board of trustees of the University of Delaware, succeeding former Federal Judge Hugh M. Morris, who retired last month.

Mr. Carpenter, who joined the board in April, fills a vacancy created by the expiration of the term of former Governor C. Douglas Buck, a trustee since 1941.

Commenting on the choice of the new president, Dr. John A. Perkins, president of the university, said: "Mr. Carpenter's thorough knowledge of Delaware and its people, his rich experience in industry and his proven interest in higher education at Cornell and Delaware make him an extremely desirable and well-qualified leader of our board of trustees."

Mr. Carpenter is a former president of the Du Pont Company and now serves as chairman of the board and chairman of the company's finance committee.

As president, he directed DuPont's participation in the war-production program in which the company designed, built, and operated a score of war plants, ranging from relatively small producing units to the unprecedented Hanford Engineer Works of the atomic energy program, from which the company withdrew at the end of the war. These special tasks for the government were in addition to peak production schedules in DuPont's own plants.

Mr. Carpenter was born on January 8, 1888, in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., the son of Walter S. Carpenter and Belle Morgan Carpenter. He attended the public schools in his home city, was graduated from Wyoming Seminary in Kingston, Pa., in 1906, and that year entered Cornell University.

During the summer vacation of 1907, 1908, 1909, he worked at the Du Pont dynamite plant at Gibbstown, N. J., and the smokeless powder plant at Penns Grove, N. J. Shortly after returning for his fourth year at college, his elder brother, R. R. M. Carpenter, who was associated with the Du Pont Company, advised him of an immediate opening with the company in connection with its activities in Chile. In 1911, Mr. Carpenter returned to Wilmington and became a member of the staff of the development department.

He was made director of the department April 1, 1917, and on April 4, 1919, he was elected a member of the company's Board of Directors and of the Executive Committee. On April 30, that year, he was elected vice

Senate Gets into Snarl Before Boys' State Group

Boys' State delegates to the Senate didn't learn much about the art of government Wednesday but they got an eye-ful of partisan politics.

They saw Senator James H. Snowden (R-Wilmington), the minority leader, recommit a bill to committee with the approval of Lt. Gov. David P. Buckson, who later said from the rostrum that there was nothing in the Senate rules permitting recommitting.

They saw the Democratic majority, reduced to eight because of absenteeism, refuse to come back in the Senate chamber after Mr. Buckson called the Senate into session.

Then they saw Mr. Buckson gavel the Senate into recess just as the Democrats, having rounded up their ninth member were about to enter the chamber.

Other than that for the first few hours of the session, they saw Gov. J. Caleb Boggs, each other, and the four walls of the Senate chamber.

At the outset Senator Snowden moved that Senate Bill 41, concerning the coroner's office, be recommitted. Mr. Buckson said: "Hearing no objection, so ordered."

The Senate then passed one bill and defeated another, and Senator John E. Reilly, Sr. (D-Wilmington), the majority leader, arose to question Senator Snowden's right to recommit a bill sponsored by someone other than himself.

Mr. Snowden replied that a Democratic senator (Curtis W. Steen, of Dagsboro), had had SB-173, adding Kent and Sussex County representation to the Delaware Interstate Highway Division, recommitted to his Buildings and Highways Committee after it had been reported out.

Senator Reilly said that was Steen's prerogative as chairman of the committee.

However, Mr. Buckson ruled that there was nothing in the rules to permit recommitting of a bill once it was reported out.

Senator Harvey P. Spicer (R-Georgetown) after a few minutes more of argument, moved that since there are no rules governing recommitment, that SB-173 be brought up for a vote.
