

FIRE COMPANY'S ANNUAL FUND DRIVE UNDERWAY

The annual fund drive of the Harrington Volunteer Fire Company is now in progress with 1600 letters being mailed to all residents of the area protected by the fire company.

The firemen are planning a house-to-house canvass Sunday from 1 to 4 p. m. Please plan to be at home on this date to greet your fireman when he visits you. The rural areas will be canvassed beginning tomorrow.

If you are unable to be at home on these dates, please mail your donations to Harold Fry, Fund Drive Chairman.

The Fire Company has just completed a new $14,000.00 addition to the present fire house, giving better housing facilities for their equipment and plans are under way to purchase a new tank wagon to replace the present one, which is 17 years old.

Parents Conference To Be Held Sat., Nov. 14

Preliminary plans have been completed for the ninth annual Parents Conference, Sat., Nov. 14, which is expected to bring about 1000 parents of freshmen students to the campus of the University of Delaware.

Miss Margaret Black, counselor in the dean of students office, heads a student-faculty committee charged with planning the activities.

The first parents conference, held in January, 1952, proved so successful that a second conference was scheduled for the fall of the same year. It was designed to bring about a closer relationship and understanding among parents, students and university personnel. Response to these pioneering efforts was so enthusiastic that parents conference has become an annual affair.

The month of November was selected because parents and instructors are, by this time, aware of the student's progress and problems. And yet, if adjustments are required for the student's eventual success, there is still time before the end of the semester for beneficial changes to be made.

This University of Delaware has as its fundamental goal the intellectual stimulation and development of the students who enroll. Parents can assist immeasurably in helping to achieve this goal if they understand what is being done. The annual parents conference program has enabled many parents to gain a more intimate knowledge of the university than would otherwise be possible.

Aiding Miss Black in arranging the program for 1959 are staff members Dr. Elizabeth E. Bohning, associate professor of modern languages and literatures; Dr. Raphael R. Ronkin, associate professor of biological sciences; Dr. Donald F. Crossan, assistant research professor in plant pathology; Dr. Edmund J. Cain, associate professor of education; Miss Mary E. Wines, associate professor of clothing, school of home economics; W. Francis Lindell, associate professor of mechanical engineering; James E. Robinson, director of residence for men, and Miss Beatrice P. Hartshorn, chairman, women's physical education.

Student members of the committee are Miss Leah A. Coverdale, Newark; Richard F. Humphreys, Lewisburg, Pa., and Ralph O. Williams, Newark.

The Suden will have its first modern flour mill in North Hartout.

Christmas Lighting To Be Turned On No Later Than Thanksgiving

The decorative Christmas lighting will be turned on no later than Thanksgiving Eve, it was voted at the October meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at The Wonder R Tuesday afternoon.

Furthermore, it was decided that in the annual drawing for gifts, the winner did not have to be present.

J. C. Messner, superintendent of Harrington schools and chairman of the Community Betterment Committee, presented a sample brochure, advertising the community. Members were asked to read it and to present any suggestions to Mr. Messner before the end of the week.

Farming Program And Activities of Rodney Caulk

Rodney L. Caulk was born and reared on a farm near Wyoming. He has always enjoyed farm life and has planned to be a farmer from the first time he can ever recall making a decision.

His farm work began at an early age with doing chores around the farm and by helping with the milking. As his father noticed the keen interest of Rodney, encouragement was given and payments made for work done. This money was saved and later invested in farming.

He attended Caesar Rodney School, Camden - Wyoming, for 12 years and took vocational agriculture in grades 9, 10 and 11—all the years that the school program could permit it to be worked into his schedule. However, Rodney continued his F.F.A. membership and supervised farming program during his senior year.

Upon enrolling in vocational agriculture, he secured a dairy cow for his first project. Later that year corn and oats were added. From this beginning a father-son partnership was developed until he had a 25% interest in the dairy herd and a 50% share in the crops produced during his junior and senior years.

This arrangement continued until about three months after graduation when his father was killed in an automobile accident. At that time Rodney inherited the home farm of 325 acres valued at $75,000 plus an additional 25% of the dairy herd and 50% of the farm equipment. The total value of all this, including the farm, was $93,245.62 for which he paid a total of $11,832.14 inheritance tax.

This inheritance served to urge him on where he assumed a greater responsibility than ever before. Now that he is the farm owner and manager, he has changed the cropping program to include 80 acres of soybeans as a cash crop and has improved the permanent pasture program and added sudan grass as a supplementary pasture so that less acres of pasture now meets the needs of his enlarged herd of 76 purebred Ayshire cows which are presently valued at $10,875 for his 50% share. This, plus a double cropping of some fields, is also giving him more available cropland for cash income.

His main crops are corn for grain, corn and sorghum for silage, oats, barley, lespedeza and alfalfa hay.

This year he has purchased new equipment which will save considerable labor. His total investment in machinery and equipment is now $14,648 for that which he has 100% ownership and $4,100 for that which he inherited.

While in school he had been active in his F.F.A. Chapter, served as chapter secretary and was chairman of several committees for chapter activities. Later he was chairman of the State F.F.A. Executive Committee, State F.F.A. Sentinel and last year was State F.F.A. president. Too, he was active in sports, assumed leadership in his church, was an active 4-H Club member and leader prior to his joining the F.F.A. and was a member of several farm and community organizations.

Now, while carrying on his farming operations, this interest in the community is continuing and he is serving as an officer of the local garage; has been elected to the board of directors of

Millsboro Downs Harrington, 25 to 12 In Grid Contest

By Keith S. Burgess

The Harrington High School football team now owns a season's record of two wins and two losses after losing to a light but speedy Millsboro team 25-12 Saturday afternoon on the home field.

The Lions had one of their bad days, especially in the first half. Penalties were incurred upon them on three of the first four offensive plays.

Millsboro back Ron Wooten picked up a loose ball in the Harrington backfield and ran for a score to give the visitors a 6-0 first quarter lead and set a pattern for their scoring the rest of the afternoon. Most of their total was similarly tainted.

In the second quarter Millsboro tallied twice more on a pass and a run to lead at half-time by a comfortable 19-0.

The visitors scored again in the third quarter for a 25-0 total score before the Lions began to come out of their lethargy. A Millsboro fumble was recovered by H. H. S. deep in enemy territory. Ron Collison and Jim Temple ran for yardage before the drive was halted momentarily by a penalty. Temple rolled out around his right end for 16 yards and a touchdown with Collison throwing the key block.

Temple passed to end Ken Konesey for a first down on the Millsboro 48 and then carried to the 40 before the Sussex Countians intercepted one of his tosses. George Pfeiffer got in some good defensive work at this point to help give Harrington control of the ball again. On a well executed play, Temple found end Bruce Smith in the clear and hit him with a perfect toss to make the final count a not-too-bad 25-12.

The locals gained 98 yards rushing and 51 yards on passes completed out of 15 attempts. Quarterback Temple again led the ball carriers with 53 yards on 7 carries. H. H. S. was penalized 70 yards during the contest.

Collison led in tackles with 10, followed by Lekites and Temple with 9, and Ken Hoffman with 8. Coach Bill Smith also had kind words to say for the defensive leaders of Bill Porter, George Pfeiffer and Tom Jones.

North Dorchester High of Shiloh, Md., will be met on the local gridiron on Saturday, Oct. 24. Last year the H. H. S. eleven defeated the Marylanders four touchdowns to two. North Dorchester then defeated two other teams who had victimized the Lions.

Century Club Holds First Fall Meeting

The Harrington New Century Club was once more the meeting place for the busy clubwomen in Harrington when it met for the first meeting of the year. A covered dish luncheon, where many varied and delicious foods were served, was the theme of the day. Members of the program and the decorating committees served as chairmen.

At the business meeting following the luncheon, Mrs. William W. Shaw presided. Various committee reports were given, and the secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and approved. Mrs. Charles Peck, Jr., chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, told the group that the rummage sale held last Saturday was very successful. The next project of the committee will be a public card party to be held at the club house Nov. 17. All kinds of card games will be played, including bridge, 500, canasta or any other that the group may desire.

Two new members were elected to membership at the Executive Committee meeting, and were present at the luncheon. Mrs. Shaw introduced them to the members. They were Mrs. William Glavin who had been sponsored by Mrs. James Fair, and Mrs. James D. Moore and Mrs. Jesse Jones, sponsored by Mrs. William A. Kohel and Mrs. Oscar Nemes.

Convention reports were read by Mrs. Horace Johnson and Mrs. Floyd Nasser who were delegates to the State Convention held in Seaford last June.

The next meeting to be held Oct. 27 will be on International Affairs. Mrs. Robert H. Creadick chairman, and her committee have been fortunate in securing the services of Dr. Elizabeth Phillips of Georgetown to speak to the group.

THE WINNER—Albert Gene, winner of the sixth race Wednesday night, Oct. 7, at the Kent & Sussex Raceway here. The pacer went in the good time of 2:06. Driver C. Lambertson is on the sulky while owner George J. Yelland, of Philadelphia, stands by.

GREENWOOD AREA INCLUDED FOR ROAD IMPROVEMENT

The State Highway Department has resumed its construction activities, with funds recently made available by the Legislature, and has advertised for bids on six contracts on which it is hoped to get some construction work started this fall.

The projects include the resurfacing of two existing highways, reconstruction of streets in a suburban area, two projects for the improvement of a series of dirt roads and maintenance surface treatment in Kent and Sussex counties.

The resurfacing projects provide for the improvement of the existing highways from Scott's Corner to Greenwood, a distance of 3.6 miles, and from Bacon to Whitesville, in the south central portion of Sussex county, a distance of 8.2 miles.

The urban development improvement will be the reconstruction of the streets, totaling 0.33 miles, in Stony Crest, a development north of Wilmington.

The dirt road improvement projects have been placed in two contracts. Both are located in Sussex County. One project having a total of 7.8 miles, includes roads No. 587 and 579, west of Greenwood, road 631, east of Greenwood, Roads 638 and 665, west of Redden and road 244, north of Georgetown.

The other dirt road improvement project, totaling 2.71 miles, provides for the improvement of roads 219 and 220 in Slaughter Neck.

Bids on these projects as well as the surface treatment contract for Kent and Sussex Counties were received Oct 14 and Oct. 28 bids will be received for an addition to the Highway Testing Laboratory building at Dover.

Bishop McKinstry To Be Speaker at Council of Churches

It was announced Tuesday that the Rt. Rev. Arthur R. McKinstry will be the guest preacher at the first annual convocation of the Delaware State Council of Churches, Sunday, Oct. 25, at 7:30 p.m. in Peoples Church, Dover. This service will mark the beginning of an official organization combining in co-operative effort all of the major Protestant denominations in the State of Delaware. It will be a worship service, with a keynote of praise and proclamation.

Bishop McKinstry served as Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Delaware from 1939 to 1955. Prior to his coming to this state, he was a rector in the Episcopal Church in Nashville, Tenn. During his years of active ministry, he served for a time as president of the New Castle County Council of Churches.

Today's announcement came from Dr. Lawrence T. Slaght, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Dover. Dr. Slaght has been serving as secretary to the Provisional Committee for Organization, which has been active for more than a year. The president of this committee has been Dr. William F. Dunkle, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, Wilmington. It is widely recognized that this will be perhaps the most significant service for all of Protestantism in the history of our state. It will be the first time that practically all the denominations

Univ. of Delaware Enrollment Figures On Increase

Enrollment problems forecast by educators during the past decade are being realized at a faster-than-predicted rate at the University of Delaware.

The increasing student population, variously labeled as the "tidal wave of students" the "burst rate in the birth rate," and "the post war baby boom," has made itself evident in the undergraduate enrollment figures released for 1959-60 by Dr. William G. Fletcher, director of admissions and records. An all-time high of 2,523 students has enrolled for undergraduate work. This number exceeds by nearly 100 the number of students enrolled last year and surpasses by 200 the enrollment forecast prepared early last year by university authorities.

Delaware, which received official recognition as a university in 1921, has doubled its student population twice in the 38 years since that time. In 1921-22, there were 471 undergraduate students. Shortly before World War II, the enrollment topped 900, marking the first doubling in an interval of twenty years. In 1946-47, packed with returning G.I.'s, the university enrolled 1817 students, of whom nearly 1400 were men. This second doubling with just six years was not a temporary phenomenon. Ten years later the undergraduate student body exceeded 2000.

With this statistical data proving that it can be and has been done, university officials are not discouraged by forecasts that enrollment, conservatively estimated, will double again by 1970.

Of this prospect, Dr. John A. Perkins, university president, said in his 1958 report, "Enrollment forecasts are not alarming but encouraging. They indicate simply that Delaware in the future will more nearly do its share than it has in time past in providing the educated manpower which the country and this State with its technical industries have required."

How large will the University of Delaware become? By 1971-72, it is expected that 5582 students will comprise the undergraduate body. In both engineering and education, increases of more than 200% are expected.

"But," says Dr. Perkins, "anticipated growth will not make this university a large, impersonal, factory-like place. It will be better for being bigger."

Harrington School Faculty Entertains KCE Association

The Harrington faculty entertained the members of the Kent County Education Association at their first social event of the year at a coffee on the evening of October 5. The president of the Association, Alan Rutledge, with other faculty members welcomed approximately a hundred guests. Dinner music and a choral group under the supervision of Melvin Brobst added to the pleasure of the occasion.

Dr. Ray Kessey from the University of Delaware spoke on the subject, "Communication Makes Good Relations." He explained the results of communicating effectively and ineffectively on the personal, family, and organization level.

K & S SUCCESSFUL MEET SCHEDULED TO END NEXT WEEK

They are always busy making favors for the veteran's hospitals or participating in some other phase of junior activity work. Mrs. Schepp is looking forward to meeting with the girls and hopes that there will be a good attendance.

Delaware Schools Praised For Help to Blood Bank

Delaware schools were praised recently for aiding the fall membership drive of the Blood Bank of Delaware, Inc.

"Public, private and parochial schools are doing an outstanding job in distributing information on the Blood Bank," said James J. McCloskey, president. "We are most appreciative of the aid given by school officials and teachers in helping us reach the parents of more than 60,000 Delaware school children."

The information program has been given official approval by Dr. George R. Miller, Jr., state superintendent of the Department of Public Instruction, and Dr. Ward I. Miller, superintendent of Wilmington schools. Endorsement also was given by the Most. Rev. Edmund J. Fitzmaurice, bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Wilmington, to set up a program in Catholic schools. Information on the Blood Bank is being brought to the attention of parents of over 60,000 Delaware school children.

The campaign has already gone into effect in Kent and Sussex counties and parts of New Castle County and the city of Wilmington. Catholic schools will begin participation in a few days. Each student will be given a question and answer pamphlet on the Blood Bank and is requested to take it home. Parents will then be able to join by mailing an application along with the $2.00 fee directly to the Blood Bank office at 1015 Washington Street, Wilmington. The student-parent information project is headed up by Henry T. Terry, Jr., managing director of the Blood Bank. "We certainly hope that parents who are not

Quick Lady, Lexington Winner, to Exhibit Here

Quick Lady, undefeated victor over the nation's top three-year-old pacing fillies this season, will come home for a guest appearance in a "Quick Lady Night" program at the Harrington harness track on Mon., Oct. 19.

Ladies will be admitted free that evening to the nine-race program starting at 8:30 p.m., it was announced by T. Brinton Holloway, general manager of the Kent and Sussex Racing Association. He added that the extended 30-day season probably will end Wednesday, Oct. 21 or possibly a few nights later depending on the weather.

Quick Lady, who holds the season's record in her class with 12 wins in 12 starts, will appear Monday night with owner-trainer Olin Davis, a Harrington resident, at the reins. He will put her through a trial pace for the benefit of the spectators, but she will not be trying for a record time, nor will she be entered in competition.

The program's sixth race, the pacing feature of the evening,

Brenda Eden paced a-mile in 2:04.1, the best time of the current Kent & Sussex Raceway harness meet, here Tuesday night.

Driven by Jim Stokley, the sidewheeler won the sixth race, the Columbus Day Pace, a Class C race. Previously, the best time for the meet, was held by Hal Hayes, pacer, in 2:04 and a piece.

The harness meet, scheduled for 20 nights and extended to 30 nights thru a legislative act permitting the track to race 40 nights, will end next Thursday if weather does not interfere.

This week's competition saw the best price of the meet Monday night when Sumter Belle paid $119.60, to win; $21.30, to place, and $4.40 to show. The mare is owned by Huey S. Bridge, Charlotte, N.C., and was driven by W. Zentz.

This meet has had two announcers and will have another. The first, Ralph Retler, left to call at Lexington, Ky. He was followed by Harry (Listen to the Rhythm of the Pacers) Prentiss, Silver Spring, Md., who leaves Sunday for the North Carolina State Fair.

Eugene Anderson, Harrington, who has been calling here and at other tracks for a number of years, will take over for the final week. Anderson was not available, earlier in the meet, because of the press of business.

Dale Petrow is now starting Judge, coming here after the end of racing at Freehold Raceway. Previously, Paul Hamilton was starting judge, using a Petrow starting gate.

146 Motorists Have Operators License Revoked

A total of 146 motorists had their operator's licenses revoked in Delaware during September and 218 had their license suspended for various periods of time. It was reported by the Motor Vehicle Department.

All but one of the revocations were for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. The other revocation was leaving the scene of a personal injury accident.

Of the revocations 42 were in Kent and Sussex counties with 25 being in Kent and 17 in Sussex. Of the suspensions 78 were for motorists in Kent and Sussex counties with 31 being in Kent and 47 in Sussex.

Of the motorists having their licenses revoked, 135 were male and 10 were female. 78 were Delaware operators and 58 were from other states while 9 Delaware motorists were convicted of drunken driving in other states.

In addition 29 motorists had their periods of revocation extended for driving during the period that their revocation was in effect.

The age group of 26 to 36 had the most revocations, with 60 being in that group while there was 30 in the 37 to 45 age group and 22 in the 46 to 55 group. There was 21 in the 20 to 25 age group and three in the 16 to 19 age group while there was 4 in the 56 to 65 group and 2 in the 66 to 75 age group.

Buying Blankets?

Which blanket to buy is a perplexing problem if you are restocking your bedding supply this fall. Man-made fibers and the many blends of these fibers which are now being used in blankets can cause much head shaking by would be buyers according to Miss Janet Reed, extension clothing specialist with the University of Delaware.

The all-wool blanket is becoming scarce and is also an expensive item now days. Some of the most successful of the man-made fibers used in blankets are Orlon and Acrilan because they are warm and soft to the touch, resilient, and light weight.

Regardless of the fiber used, Miss Reed said the warmth in a blanket depends mostly on the thickness of the nap. It should be of good depth, fine, even, springy and should not shed when brushed with your hand.

If you are looking at electric blankets be sure to check for the Underwriter's Laboratory seal and for the guarantee. The guarantee reflects the manufacturer's confidence in his own product. In comparing electric blanket values the time period guaranteed is the most reliable guide as to which is the best, Miss Reed said.

The following week the club will entertain the school faculty tea.

Baptist Church Notes

Perhaps you have noticed our advertisement in today's issue of your paper. It states that we have moved our place of worship from the Century Club building to the Seventh-Day Adventist Church on Clark Street and that our Sunday School starts at 10 o'clock and worship service at 11 a.m. each Sunday.

It could be that you are a Baptist and have often wondered why there hasn't been a church in your town before now. We want you to know the sponsoring church (Greensboro Baptist) is one of 32,000 Southern Baptist Churches and that there are over 9 million southern Baptists in the U.S.A. At our annual convention last year we decided to adopt a program that will climax in 1964 which will be our 150th Birthday with an additional 30,000 preaching stations to honor God. We will be attempting to do in five years what it took our forefathers 150 years to accomplish. We realize that we have set a high goal, but with our great commander giving us the command to go, we believe this will come to pass.

We began our local gatherings in Harrington last July in the Armory with a two hour Daily Vacation Bible School and a one hour revival service following. The response was wonderful and we found there were several Baptists in your community without a church home. Hence, the inspiration to begin a work was born. We have been inspired as folks come together to study, sing praises, and hear our men of God preach.

As Baptists we have no creed, but the Bible and accept no other doctrine than we find therein it's cover. We believe in freedom of religion and separation of Church and State.

We would be happy to have you come worship with us.

Our speaker this Lord's Day will be Donald Zimmer, a school teacher in your Delaware school at Frederica.

At 6:45 the Methodist, Youth Fellowship will hold its meeting.

The congregation wishes to express its appreciation to Connie Parvis for her work in the past years as pianist for the junior choir. We also welcome our new pianist, Sarah Lee Webb.

Spring flowering bulbs can be planted anytime from now until December, Robert F. Stevens, horticultural extension specialist with the University of Delaware said. It is best to plant earlier whenever.

When planting, commercial fertilizer should be mixed in with the soil. About two pints of 5-10-10 fertilizer per 100 square feet of ground is the correct amount.

A common mistake is planting too deep, he warned. In New Castle county bulbs should be planted about three times their own length in the soil. In sandy soils such as are common in Kent and Sussex Counties, plant about four times the bulb length.

On where to plant, Stevens says small groups of one kind of plant look best. Daffodils, crocus, snowdrops and scillas do well under flowering shrubs. Tulips and hyacinths, on the other hand, do best in spots where there is less competition for water and nutrients.

Bulbs are one of the easiest kinds of plants to grow he said. They rarely need watering except in very dry periods in the spring. They are not usually troubled by insects or diseases.

Tulips may suffer from blight, but this can be controlled by spraying every week or ten days in the spring with parzate. One and a half tablespoons of parzate to the gallon of water will take care of blight the specialist said.

Be sure and select a well drained area for the bulbs. They often rot in wet areas, Stevens said.

Stevens had one other piece of information. "You usually get what you pay for when buying flowering bulbs. New varieties are always more expensive than standard varieties, and bargain bulbs usually are inferior in size and quality."

Voice of Democracy Script-Writing Contest For High School Students

The thirteenth annual Voice of Democracy broadcast script-writing contest, will offer high school students in the 10th, 11th and 12th grades of all public, private and parochial schools in Delaware a chance to compete this fall for a $1500 college scholarship, a free trip to Washington, D. C. and other awards, it was announced this week.

Sponsored jointly throughout the state by the Delaware Association of Broadcasters and the state Department of Delaware, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S., interested students may secure information from these sources or from their high school principals who have been notified of the contest, according to Harvey C. Smith, manager of Radio Station WDEL and Miles L. Frederick, VFW public relations officers who are state co-chairmen for the contest.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars on the state, district and local level have appointed chairmen to follow through and contact schools to arouse interest in the contest. The winner in each school will compete on a district basis, after which finals will be held to determine state winners. The deadline is Wed., Nov. 25.

Each student entering the contest will write a five-minute commentary-type essay on the subject "I Speak for Democracy." This will be tape recorded and students will be judged on the content of material, delivery and originality.

This is the second year that the VFW has joined nationally with the National Association of Broadcasters, Electronics Industries Association and the state associations in sponsorship. The contest has the endorsement of the United States Office of Education, the National Education Association and the National Association of Secondary-School Principals, which has placed the Voice of Democracy on the approved list of national contests and activities for 1959-60.

The top winner in each of the 30 states will receive a free trip to Washington, D. C. next February for the national awards ceremonies and four days of activities around the nation's capital. At that time, the national winner will be announced and will receive a $1500 scholarship to any accredited college the winner chooses. Winners at all levels of the contest will receive Certificate of Merits it has been announced.

Game Commission Sponsors Shooting And Safety Clinics

One of the country's leading skeet and trap shooters, Leon Pleasanton, Rising Sun, will be the instructor in charge of three shooting clinics sponsored by the Board of Game and Fish Commissioners at the Petersburg Street Range which is adjacent to the Petersburg Youth Center. Persons who are novices in the handling of firearms will have the unusual opportunity to receive personal instruction in shooting techniques and gun safety from Mr. Pleasanton, an expert in this field.

The clinics will be held on the following Saturdays: Oct. 17, Nov. 7 and Nov. 14 from 9:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. There will be one morning session from 9:30 a.m. until 12 noon. The two afternoon sessions will be from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. and from 3 p.m. until 5 p.m. each Saturday.

Persons 15 years of age and over are eligible to enroll in any of the nine clinics. Bring a shot gun and a box of trap loads (No. 8) to class with you. Ammunition for 12 and 20 gauge guns may be purchased at the range. Instruction and range facilities are free.

Commission Personnel will assist Mr. Pleasanton during the firearms safety session. These clinics are being sponsored by the Board of Game and Fish Commissioners for the purpose of promoting safe hunting. For further information contact the office of the Board of Game and Fish Commissioners, Dover.

Motor Fuel Taxes Show Sharp August Increase

Motor fuel tax receipts received during September, for motor fuel purchased during August, totaled $869,173.02, according to a report issued by James J. Deputy, Secretary of the State Highway Department and Administrator of the Motor Fuel Tax Division.

The amount of this tax received for August was an increase of $92,246.95 over the amount received for the same month of last year, $71,384.35 more than was received during August of 1957 and an increase of $120,715.19 over the amount received for August of 1956.

The taxes received for August represented the sale of 16,140,807 gallons of motor fuel, an increase of 402,287 gallons over the amount sold during August of last year.

Mr. Deputy's report indicates there were a total of 61 concerns bonded as distributors of motor fuel in this state during August and that 13 of these concerns reported no sales for the month.

On the other hand four concerns had sales that accounted for $479,967.39, or about 55 percent of the motor fuel taxes for the month. Their sales totaling 8,369,163 gallons of motor fuel.

The four concerns, and the amount of taxes paid by each, were Atlantic Refining Co., $99,912.35; Esso Standard Standard Oil Co., $151,336.72; Gulf Oil Corp., $106,170.03 and Tidewater Oil Co., $122,508.29.

Sunday was another nice racing day and we did have good racing.

The 1/4 midget feature race was won by Buddy Matthews Jr., driving his midget 88. Junior took the lead at the beginning and did not give it up during the ten laps.

The Micro midget feature race was won by Howard Brown driving Micro 88. We had ten cars to start in this feature event. Clarence Billings driving his micro 3B took the lead in the ninth lap and held this lead until the 22nd lap when micro 88 took over in the south turn to win.

Now for Sunday's results:

1st Race—1/4 Midgets—8 laps
1-Buddy Matthews in midget 88; 2-Bobby Reed in midget 22; 3-Billy Dill in midget 1.

2nd Race—Micro Midgets—15 laps—1-Spanky Vincent driving 71; 2-Harry Porter driving 8; 3-Jack Sapp driving 14; 4-Pat Fry driving 101.

3rd Race—1/4 Midgets—8 laps
1-Bobby Reed in midget 22; 2-Billy Dill in midget 1; 3-Buddy Matthews in midget 88.

4th Race—Micro Midgets—15 laps—1-Howard Brown in micro 88; 2-Clarence Billings in micro 3B; 3-Clarence Welch in micro 13; 4-Howard Krouse in micro 1; 5-Dickie Sapp in micro 22.

5th Race—1/4 Midget—10 laps
1-Billy Dill in midget 1; 2-Buddy Matthews in midget 88; 3-Bobby Reed in midget 2.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church News

The women to St. Stephen's will hold their meetings the third Tuesday of each month. The October meeting will be next Tuesday, Oct. 20, 8 p. m. at the new parish house on Raughley-Hill Road. All ladies who are interested are invited to come.

Ushers who served on the 20th Sunday after Trinity were Granville Hill, George Johnson, Clyde Perry and Robert Quillen.

Acolytes on October 11 included Charles McNally, Robert Greer, Ronny Porter, William Thompson, John Creasy, Frank Welch, Gary Porter and William Carter.

The wedding of Ethel Karen Marck, daughter of Walter Earl Marck and the late Ethel Marion Marck, of Baltimore, to Lester Allen Draper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester H. Draper, of Greenwood, took place at St. Stephen's Church on Oct. 10 at 4 p.m. The Rev. John R. Symonds, Jr. officiated. Mrs. Walter W. Winkler, organist at St. Stephen's, played the wedding music.

Jack Blackiston, of Bedford, and Mrs. Rosemary Draper Burris of Greenwood, stood as best man and matron of honor.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white chantilly lace gown, street length, with a crown of sequins and pearls and a shoulder-length veil. She carried a nosegay of white mums with center of tiny white rosebuds.

The matron of honor wore a light blue dress and carried blue and white mums.

The mother of the bridegroom was dressed in navy blue crepe trimmed with white lace and with white accessories.

The bridegroom is in the U.S. Army and is now stationed at a missile base in Phoenix, Md. The couple will live in Baltimore, where the bride is employed at the Baltimore Trust.

A small reception was held after the wedding in the V.F.W. hall at Greenwood. The couple left for a short trip to New Castle.

The Cross and Crown award system has been initiated at St. Stephen's Church School. If a pupil attends 13 consecutive Sundays without any absence except for illness he will receive the first award—a handsome pin with cross and crown thereon. Subsequent awards will be bars to add to the pin.

An announcement in the church bulletin calls the attention of churchgoers to the literature placed in the card racks on the back of each pew. It is hoped these pamphlets and cards will be used and will prove helpful to many.

Recent out-of-town visitors who signed the register at St. Stephen's included Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Sparkman of Wilmette, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Woodcock, Harrisburg, Pa.; the Duelfer family, Temple Road, Philadelphia; Ernest H. Bennett, Delaware, N. J.

CHRYSLER 1960

The car of your life for the time of your life!

There have never been so many new advances . . . in any single year . . . as there are in the new Chrysler for 1960.

New Ideas in Styling. Bold, strong grille. Graceful rear deck. Clean lines sheathed in Lustre-Bond . . . the hardest automotive finish known.

New Ideas in Convenience. Chrysler offers automatic Swivel Seats . . . pushbutton controls. Three-dimensional AstraDome houses instruments.

New Ideas in Comfort. The driver's seat has been raised . . . padded with extra foam rubber. There's more leg, knee, hip and head room.

New Ideas in Reliability. Body and frame are built as a single, rattle-free Unibody. Stronger, quieter, roomier. A new dipping process locks rust out of vital areas.

Get touching close to this new Chrysler soon. Compare its fresh beauty with other cars. See how Chrysler has actually built in more room while other cars continue to be cramped. Then take it out on the road and have the time of your life!

This is Chrysler's greatest . . .

Delaware Has 50,000 More Children Than 10 Years Ago

(This is the second of three articles on a priority problem in Delaware—meeting the needs of children and youth for greater opportunities toward realizing their full potential as adults.)

When Delawareans meet in Dover early next month to determine what must be done to improve opportunities for growth and development of the state's children and youth, these decisions will necessarily be affected by the dramatic changes taking place within state boundaries over the past 10 years.

Delaware, fourth fastest growing state in the nation, has undergone a population increase of 37 per cent since 1950—a rate more than three and one half times the national average. Children—by birth or as newcomers to the state, make up approximately half of this increase, which means that Delaware has some 50,000 more children now than 10 years ago.

Needs Grow Too

This increase, together with a shift to the suburbs in some areas, has brought problems to many communities throughout the state in health, education, recreation, housing, and employment.

Is Delaware falling behind in meeting these needs? Are we keeping up? What can we do now to move ahead? This last is the question that will be most often asked at the Delaware White House Conference on Children and Youth in Dover on Nov. 7.

This is the sixth time in 50 years that Delaware, along with the other states, has made a searching self-study of its needs in relation to children and youth. Progress resulting from past studies challenges today's Delawareans in meeting the problems of 1960 in a changing state in a changing world.

Past Accomplishments

A look at the record since 1950, when Chancellor Collins J. Seitz was chairman of White House studies, illustrates the progress resulting from recommendations made then which are now accomplished fact. Three examples of the many that might be cited are:

Delaware Commission on Children and Youth—This state agency, one of the first in the nation, was established to serve as liaison between groups active in child health, welfare, and education, and to serve in a follow-up capacity between White House Conferences.

Youth Services Commission—Formation of this agency put all state training schools for children under 18 years of age—Woods Haven, Kruse, and Ferris Schools—and the detention home under a single administration for the first time in Delaware history.

Youth Aid Bureau—Separate youth divisions established both in the Wilmington and State Police Departments gives special consideration to the prevention and handling of juvenile offenses.

Looking back to accomplishments of the Delaware White House Conference of the 1940's, of which Mrs. Clarence Fraim was chairman, two notable examples are:

Establishment of the Family Court in New Castle County to handle the problems of families, children, and the law.

An organization of the Welfare Council of Delaware as a coordinating body for the work of various social agencies.

Many People Help

While progress in services to children and youth in Delaware has been impressive, participants in past studies and conferences are quick to disclaim any "we did it" attitude. Rather, they point out that "what we do" is the province of the conference; but "doing it" (where the real credit belongs, they say) is the province of people—special groups, organizations, agencies, legislators, etc.

Furthermore, it is pointed out, recommendations represent the thinking of many people, which makes each conference a process of "idea gathering" as well as "going out to action". For this reason, the widest possible participation by people throughout the state is important—men and women, professionals and laymen, young people and adults, from city, town, and country, business, industry, and labor, and racial and minority groups.

Delegates and Registration

Soon, organizations and agencies will name delegates to the Dover conference and individuals will register for conference sessions. Each delegate will be expected to attend the full day's activities—including morning and afternoon sessions and lunch, all in Dover High School.

The program, for which Dr. John A. Perkins, president of the University of Delaware, is chairman, is planned for inspiration and participation. There will be a keynote speaker and reports on six specific areas concerning the needs of Delaware's children and youth. When registering, delegates will select the area in which they are most interested. They will then meet in small discussion groups to review the subject and reach conclusions and recommendations in one area toward a final conference report.

So that delegates may participate fully in the day's discussions, preliminary reports prepared over the summer months by study committees will be distributed to all delegates prior to the conference. Editing of these reports is one responsibility of the communications committee, of which Charles Lee Reese, Jr., president of The News-Journal Company, is chairman.

The Study Areas

These are the six areas of concern which the Delaware report preliminary and final—will cover:

Social, cultural and economic factors affecting children and youth in Delaware.

Status of Youth in Society. Characteristics and Needs of children and youth.

Education and school services in Delaware.

Health, welfare, and vocational services in Delaware.

And legal aspects of situations affecting children and youth.

Focus on Future

While studies in these areas will review progress over the past 10 years for proper perspective, the main focus of the conference is on the future: How can we promote opportunities for children and youth in Delaware to realize their full potential for a creative life in freedom and dignity?

Dover and Milford Hospitals Increase Room Rates

Hospitals at Dover and Milford have increased room rates and other charges, effective Thurs., Oct. 1.

H. V. Maybee, managing director of Group Hospital Service, who reported the rate changes, said that the organization has started paying the higher rates in meeting hospital bills for its members.

The Kent General Hospital at Dover boosted ward rates $1 to make the charge $13 a day. Semi-private room rates were raised $1.50, making the rate $17.50 a day; and private room rates were upped $2 a day, making the charges $20 to $24 a day for various rooms.

At the Milford Memorial Hospital, room rates were increased $1 a day. This makes the new rates $12.50 per day in wards, $16.50 a day in semi-private accommodations, and $18.50 and $19.50 in private rooms.

At Kent General, operating room charges went up $2.50 per case, and the charge for delivery was raised $5 from $20 to $25 per patient. At Milford Memorial the charge for use of the premature nursery was upped $1 a day.

The effective date of the rate change was only a few days after directors of Group Hospital Service fixed new Blue Cross-Blue Shield rates, to be effective Dec.

1. Mr. Maybee said the higher hospital rate changes were not entirely unanticipated. Group Hospital Service's own rate adjustment will not be altered because of the increased costs the organization will entail in meeting bills of members who are hospitalized at Dover and Milford. Instead, the increased costs will be absorbed.

The higher charges at the two downstate hospitals reflect a rising trend in hospital costs throughout the state and the nation, Mr. Maybee said.

September 29, 1959

To All Blue Cross-Blue Shield Subscribers:

Membership rates charged by your non-profit Blue Cross organization are determined chiefly by hospital costs and hospital usage. When hospital costs go up, and when hospital usage increases, Blue Cross must raise its rates proportionately. This is the position we are in today.

Since our last rate change, over 2½ years ago, hospital costs have risen steadily. Also, more members were admitted to hospitals — and more of them stayed longer. More, too, used the services of the surgical-medical plan. The result was a steadily mounting burden of members' bills. To meet them, Blue Cross and Blue Shield drew heavily on reserve funds. Now the time has come when it is longer possible to stave off an adjustment in standard contract rates. Our new rates, effective December 1, have been kept to the absolute minimum. How long they remain at this level is partly up to you.

Today, the average hospital charge for a bed in semi-private accommodations is $18 per day. Before long it may go higher — because hospitals face expense factors that make cost control difficult. But you can help hold the line by using hospitals judiciously. This is a responsibility to be remembered.

In the light of rising costs, there is this also to be remembered: Blue Cross, providing hospital days instead of dollars, is now giving more service for your dollar than ever before.

Very truly yours,
GROUP HOSPITAL SERVICE, INC.

THE NEED FOR THE ADJUSTMENT IN YOUR RATES

Blue Cross rates are based on hospital costs. When those costs increase, Blue Cross rates inevitably must reflect the change. Since January 1, 1959, a number of hospitals in Delaware have raised room rates about 12% and also increased charges for other services. Some of these hospitals are currently contemplating even further increases. This upsurge in costs, together with increased hospital use and longer average stay, required Blue Cross to tap its reserve fund during the first eight months of this year for nearly a quarter of a million dollars to meet its members' bills. During the same period, increased use of Blue Shield surgical-medical benefits forced the expenditure of more than $100,000 of Blue Shield reserves. Now, having absorbed the higher cost of hospital care and surgical care for many months, and having reduced its own operating expenses to the absolute minimum, Blue Cross-Blue Shield has reached the point where a rate adjustment is necessary.

Bossie Wants a Steady Pull

"A fouled vacuum gauge can put a dairyman out of business nearly as fast as a barn fire," county agent George K. Vapaa says.

All the sweat a dairyman puts into getting in his hay crop can go down the drain with a mastitis outbreak if care isn't given to the milking operation.

Milking is the payoff for all that goes before it in producing the cow and the feed for her. So you can't afford to take chances with all that time and effort, Mr. Vapaa said.

Vacuum fluctuations at the end of the teat during milking are a common cause of mastitis.

Some of the things you can do to guard against fluctuations in vacuum are:

Be sure the milking machine lines are large enough. The minimum pipe size for any installation should not be less than an inch.

Three and four-unit installations need at least a one-and-a-quarter-inch line. It's impossible to stop vacuum fluctuations in small, partially clogged vacuum lines.

Be sure the pump is creating enough vacuum to maintain a steady level of vacuum all the time.

Clean the vacuum line with a lye solution. Start near the pump and be careful not to run the sanitary trap on the vacuum tank over. It may ruin the pump motor. Lines must be thoroughly rinsed.

Check the vacuum gauge regularly. Make sure the release valve and screen are clean. Failure to enough air getting into the lines causes high vacuum and results in mastitis in a matter of days. Bossie won't put up with it.

Few things can put a dairyman out of business faster than her mastitis, Mr. Vapaa said.

to deal with a fire.

But it's good sense to be equipped with "first aid" fire fighting tools, and for you and everyone on your farm to know how to use them.

One important tool is the fire extinguisher—of adequate size and proper type for the kind of fire expected. Mr. Vapaa emphasized that the most reliable ones are those tested by nationally recognized laboratories—they show a "UL" or an "FM" label.

A good extinguisher for the farm shop is the carbon dioxide, fog type, Mr. Vapaa said.

Extinguishers should be placed strategically in all fire danger areas—in home kitchens, barns, machine sheds, storage tanks or gasoline and kerosene. Carrying an extinguisher on the tractor is a good idea too.

The best extinguisher in the world won't be ready to go into action when you need it most, unless you check and recharge it regularly, Mr. Vapaa warned. Follow the manufacturer's instructions and don't wait for a fire emergency to read the directions on how to operate the extinguisher—know how to use it and make sure everyone on the farm knows how.

Hamilton Reps. Attend Conference

Robert H. Creadick, his wife, Dorothy, and Mr. and Mrs. Lester E. Smith, attended a three-day sales conference of Hamilton Funds, Inc., sales representatives in New York City last Friday Saturday and Sunday as local representatives of the Delaware District.

At an awards banquet held on Saturday night, Lester Smith was recognized for his outstanding sales record for the past year, his production being exceeded only by his district manager, Creadick.

Mr. A. R. Tyrone, executive vice president and director of sales of Hamilton funds, Inc. announced that present investment programs of investors in Hamilton Funds now exceed one-half billion dollars. Sales of new programs in 1959 are 82% ahead of sales during 1958. Statistics recently released reflect that Hamilton Representatives are now selling more than 12% of all Mutual Fund Investments being initiated in the United States, even though there are more than 400 other investment funds currently in existence.

Farmington

The Farmington Fire Company and ladies auxiliary will give a chicken and dumpling, chicken salad supper on Fri., Oct. 23.

Several from town attended the Fire Prevention Parade at Rehoboth Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kennerly of Marcus Hook, Pa. spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tibbett.

Mrs. Carl Smith and children visited her mother, Mrs. Charles Raughley, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kirby of Philadelphia spent the weekend with their daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. George Langford and sons have returned home after spending two weeks in Florida with his mother.

Mrs. Preston Kenton and father attended her uncle's funeral at Hardesty Funeral Home last Wednesday at Bridgeville.

The Rev. and Mrs. William Smith and son, David, were Saturday evening dinner guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Baynard of Clayton, Del.

Mrs. S. M. D. Marshall and Mrs. Draper of Milford visited Mr. and Mrs. David S. Grant Monday.

Ronnie Hatfield spent the weekend with his parents.

Miss Grace Anthony spent the weekend with her sister, Mrs. Albert Vincent.

William Smith, Mrs. Kelley and daughter, Norma, and daughter, visited Mrs. Albert Vincent last week.

Mrs. Marion Warner and daughters spent Saturday evening with her sister, Mrs. Preston Kenton.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Grant of North East, Md. spent Tuesday with his brother, David S. Grant.

Mrs. Thomas Biddle, Mrs. D. S. Grant and Miss Nan Smith had lunch at Anglers at Lewes Beach the guest of Mrs. S. M. D. Marshall Tuesday.

Fasten a wire label through each stalk to keep varieties properly identified.

Lift out the roots gently with a spading fork and part the clump to remove most of the soil.

Turn the clump upside down on the ground and let dry for several hours or, if weather is favorable several days, covering if necessary at night, to protect from frost. Remove all damaged roots and dust all cut surfaces with a fungicide.

Waxing the tubers is the best way to keep them dry.

First, divide the clumps, clean and dry them. Then melt some paraffin wax and pour it into a dish or pan of boiling water. The wax will float on the top and when you dip the tubers completely into the melted wax and withdraw them they will have a layer of wax on them that will keep them from drying out too much.

Kent Home Doings

Spend Less for Food

Many homemakers can cut food expenses by spending a little more time in food shopping and preparation, according to Florence Y. Smith, home demonstration agent.

Real savings are possible for the homemaker who has time for shopping.

Part of the price of foods in today's markets is for special packaging, mixing, and other services designed to save time in food preparation. A homemaker who is willing to do without these extras and who can take time to shop for the least expensive forms of foods, can feed her family well at less cost, Mrs. Smith said.

Different foods of similar food value should be compared on a cost-per-serving basis. Foods are cheapest when they are plentiful, so it pays to buy in season.

Many foods can be bought in different forms—fresh, canned, frozen, dried. Since differences in nutritive value are small, the least expensive form generally provides the same amount of food value for less money, she pointed out.

Compare the cost of partially prepared and ready-to-eat foods with similar foods prepared entirely at home. The saving may be worth the work.

Large quantity purchases of foods that can be stored usually save money too, Mrs. Smith added. Careful storage and preparation of foods can cut expensive food waste too.

Results of Wool and Lamb Vote

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has announced that preliminary results of a producer referendum on continuation of deductions from wool payments, to be used in promoting wool and lamb, show producers owning 16,744,406 sheep voted for (81 per cent) and producers owning 3,927,785 sheep voted against (19 per cent.)

On the basis of individual producer voting, the preliminary tabulation shows 70,272 producers voted for 68.9 per cent) and 31,721 voted against (31.1 per cent).

Paul Mitchell, director of the state office of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation, reports that in Delaware, the tabulation showed 25 producers (88.2 per cent) voted for and 4 producers (13.8 per cent) voted against. On the basis of the number of sheep, producers owning 1772 sheep (92.4 per cent) voted for, and producers owning 145 sheep (7.6 per cent) voted against.

The referendum was held to determine producer approval of a proposed agreement between the Secretary of Agriculture and the American Sheep Producers Council, Inc., an organization of sheep producers. The agreement would continue deductions from wool payments made under the National Wool Act of 1954 for the 1959, 1960 and 1961 marketing years. The deductions would provide funds to finance the Council's advertising, promotional, and related market development activities on lamb and wool.

The total vote in this year's referendum was more than 50 per cent greater than in 1955, both on a producer and on a sheep basis. This year, 101,993 producers owning 20,672,191 sheep voted. This compares to a total vote in 1955 of 67,288 producers owning 12,918,165 sheep. That year, 71.2 per cent of the producers owning 72 per cent of the sheep represented in the referendum voted favorably.

Soybean Support Discounts on New Basis

With the price-support program beginning on 1959-crop soybeans, R. Harry Wilson of the Kent Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee today called attention to the fact that for the first time there will be monetary premiums and discounts for foreign material in the beans.

In the past, the quantity of soybeans put under support was reduced by the amount of foreign material in excess of two per cent and no premium was included for soybeans containing one per cent or less of foreign material.

This year, soybeans containing one percent or less of foreign material at the time of delivery to the Commodity Credit Corporation will get a premium of two cents per bushel. Soybeans with foreign material of more than two per cent will get discounts ranging from one to six cents per bushel.

As in the past, soybean price support will be carried out through farm and warehouse stored loans and through purchase agreements. Support is available from harvest through January 31, and loans will mature next May 31.

The basic support rate for soybeans of the current crop in Kent County, Delaware will be $1.80 per bushel for Grade No. 2.

4-H'ers Back From Exposition

Four Delaware 4-H Club members are back home after competing in the Northeastern Poultry Producers Council exposition held at Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 5-8, according to Dr. Sam Gwinn, assistant director of the extension service with the University of Delaware.

Delaware's 4-H poultry judging team which finished tenth, was made up of Clarence Murphy, Bridgeville; Fred Wiebel, Hartly, and Wayne Morris, Houston. Clarence Murphy also competed in the demonstration contest. Nancy Pearson, Dover, was the other demonstrator. Her poultry foods demonstration was called "Eggnog with Variations."

Mr. Murphy's demonstration on chick production, was entitled "Start 'Em Right." Both the 4-H'ers won red ribbons.

All the Delaware contestants were selected from among the winners at the Kent-Sussex Fair.

They were competing with teams from 14 northeastern states which make up NEPPoland. The youth part of the exposition was held Oct. 5-6.

"First Aid" Fire Fighting

Fire Prevention Week was last week but don't forget about it. Now is always a good time to check how well you are prepared to fight fire on your farm until the fire department arrives, says County Extension Agent George K. Vapaa.

The first and most important rule to follow, he says, is for you and your family not to take any unnecessary chances in attempt-

Harrington School News

Mrs. Marvel—Grade 1

Eugene Pete, John Forbes and Cheryl Klapp had birthdays last week. We enjoyed singing Happy Birthday to them and also to Miss Payne.

Billy Stubbs can walk now since the stitches were taken out of the cut on his foot.

Mrs. Parker—Grade 3

Joe Gannon visited at Gettysburg, Pa., with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gannon this weekend. His trip was very interesting.

Mrs. O'Neal—Grade 3

We have learned how to write all our small letters. We will use our handwriting from now on.

Our room and bulletin board has been decorated and ready for Halloween. We soon will be making plans for our party.

Mrs. Tatman—Grade 4

We have been taking tests from Mr. Rutledge. We finished them Thursday.

Wayne Reid and Burton Vincent have been absent due to illness.

We had our pictures taken Oct. 6 and 7. We hope they will turn out good.

Some of the mothers came to the P.T.A. meeting Wed., Oct. 7. We hope they enjoyed meeting our teachers and seeing our work.

Reporter—Candace Peck

Mrs. Brobst—Grade 5

Sally Pitlick has returned from her two weeks visit in Kansas. She told us of many interesting things she saw and did while she was away. She brought pictures from Dodge City and Boot Hill.

Peggy Holden had the misfortune to break her collar bone. We are trying to help her in many ways. We realize what a handicap it is to be able to use only one arm.

We are having our six-weeks tests this week. We are anxious to get report cards for the first marking period.

Miss Long—Grade 5

We are studying about Christopher Columbus. We have read many books about him. We went to a play called Christopher Columbus. We enjoyed it very much. It was given by Mrs. Mann's room.

We are collecting money for the Junior Red Cross.

Larry Benavides moved to California last week. We were sorry to see him go.

Mr. Donovan—Grade 5

A girl in our class moved to California. We miss her very much. We had our pictures taken Tuesday. We hope they turn out okay.

Some teachers came to the P. T. A. meeting. We hope they enjoyed talking with the teachers and seeing our work.

In science we tried to prove that when air is heated, it becomes lighter.

Reporters—Donna Schred and Raymond Poore

Mrs. Mann—Grade 6

Sept. 9, at 9 o'clock we had our annual assembly. The program was as follows:

Song—"America The Beautiful"; Bible reading and opening exercises, Kitty Lou Burgess; band selections, "Little Annie Rooney", and "Salutation March" and clarinet solo, "Gay Nineties" by Bobby Mathews; trumpet solo, "Salutation March" by Lonnie Wirick; piano solo "Beautiful Dreamer" by Vickie Hill; trombone solo, "Magic Wand" by Tommy Simpler.

The name of the play was "Columbus and the Queen". The characters were as follows:

Reporter, Donald Wells

Mrs. Pursue—Grade 6

We were very much surprised last Thursday, Oct. 8, when Mrs. Liska came to school and had a surprise birthday party for Joann. We sang "Happy Birthday."

Then we had ice cream and cake. We also had little favors of pretty yellow plastic baskets filled with candy. We played a game and Lee Dean won the prize.

Joann is our only new student. She came to us from New Jersey. Her father has race horses at the fairgrounds. We are happy that Joann is in our room. We hope she has many more happy birthdays.

Cheryl Satterfield, Secretary

Sophomore Assembly

Fri., Oct. 2, the sophomores of Mrs. Pollitt's room presented an instructive and entertaining assembly to the senior high school.

Group singing was followed by Bible reading—Phyllis Brown and the Pledge of Allegiance. Another song by the group was followed by a delightful vocal solo by Connie Biddle. Her performance was overwhelmingly accepted by the students. As a matter of fact, one might call this Connie's debut at Harrington High School as a soloist.

Delaware Food Market Report

When planning your family meals this week, why not give some thought to the many ways you can fit cheese in your menus. Cheese is a highly nutritious food, and so handy to use. Flavors ranging from very mild to sharp—textures soft, medium and hard—there's a type of cheese to please every taste. Use cheese in every meal of the day—in snacks, sandwiches, spreads, sauces, salads, omelets, casserole dishes, in main dishes and desserts for all and any occasions. Here's a recipe for a delicious and tasty pizza burger, that the whole family will go for in a big way. It's recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture home economists.

Cook hamburger patties slowly until done. Spread generously with a spicy tomato-pizza sauce and sprinkle with grated sharp cheddar cheese. Place under broiler until cheese melts and is nicely brown. Serve in heated hamburger buns or on English muffin rounds. They are really good, so make enough for seconds.

Florida grapefruit are rolling in now at all local markets. The price has been dropped quite a bit since supplies have increased. In fact, over the past two weeks this fruit has dropped as much as 33 cents—grapefruit now average 10 cents a piece. The flavor is excellent for the most part and quality is good. Be sure when selecting your grapefruit this weekend to choose those that are heavy for their size and have a thin skin.

Also here to help liven up fall meals are fresh cranberries at 29 cents a box, chestnuts at 22 cents a pound, quince and pomegranates. Apples, however, are continuing to dominate the fruit counter with many leading varieties a penny or so cheaper this week. Bananas though have jumped in price and are averaging 17 cents a pound. This price puts them on the luxury list.

Big supplies of green snap beans are on local markets, and prices have dropped. Look for specials on this vegetable again this week. Other vegetables to check are: cauliflower, broccoli, and brussels sprouts. All three of these cold weather standbys are increasing in supply and are weekend specials at many stores making them a good to excellent buy.

Beets, celery, lettuce, peppers, tomatoes and corn are a bit higher in price this week. Cabbage remains the same. Spinach, kale and carrots are a bit cheaper this week.

Eggs are again see-sawing in price. This week prices are low. Grade A dropped an average of six cents a dozen while Grade B are selling seven cents cheaper than they have been, averaging 52 cents a dozen.

Choral selections: Vocal ensemble. Soprano solo: Bonnie Lee Dickerson.

For these performances the sophomores wish to thank each person taking part for their delightful renditions and Mr. Brobst for his marvelous spirit of co-operation and for his superb direction as instructor.

Following a pep rally, very ably directed by the cheer leaders, the program closed with "Alma Mater" sung by the entire assembly.

Student Council Dance

The Student Council will sponsor a dance this Friday night, Oct. 16. This will be the first school dance of the season.

Prices are 35 cents and 65 cents and only students and their guests will be admitted.

Art Club News—Mrs. Malek

We have decided to have a skating party. It will be held Oct. 20. Each of us is going to sell five tickets. We will meet at 7:30 for the skating party in front of Jerread's Newsstand. We will have six cars to take us.

On our trip to Washington, we have decided to visit the White House, Washington Monument, the F.B.I., the Mint, and the Smithsonian Institute.

Delaware Food Market Report

When planning your family meals this week, why not give some thought to the many ways you can fit cheese in your menus. Cheese is a highly nutritious food, and so handy to use. Flavors ranging from very mild to sharp—textures soft, medium and hard—there's a type of cheese to please every taste. Use cheese in every meal of the day—in snacks, sandwiches, spreads, sauces, salads, omelets, casserole dishes, in main dishes and desserts for all and any occasions. Here's a recipe for a delicious and tasty pizza burger, that the whole family will go for in a big way. It's recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture home economists.

Cook hamburger patties slowly until done. Spread generously with a spicy tomato-pizza sauce and sprinkle with grated sharp cheddar cheese. Place under broiler until cheese melts and is nicely brown. Serve in heated hamburger buns or on English muffin rounds. They are really good, so make enough for seconds.

Florida grapefruit are rolling in now at all local markets. The price has been dropped quite a bit since supplies have increased. In fact, over the past two weeks this fruit has dropped as much as 33 cents—grapefruit now average 10 cents a piece. The flavor is excellent for the most part and quality is good. Be sure when selecting your grapefruit this weekend to choose those that are heavy for their size and have a thin skin.

Also here to help liven up fall meals are fresh cranberries at 29 cents a box, chestnuts at 22 cents a pound, quince and pomegranates. Apples, however, are continuing to dominate the fruit counter with many leading varieties a penny or so cheaper this week. Bananas though have jumped in price and are averaging 17 cents a pound. This price puts them on the luxury list.

Big supplies of green snap beans are on local markets, and prices have dropped. Look for specials on this vegetable again this week. Other vegetables to check are: cauliflower, broccoli, and brussels sprouts. All three of these cold weather standbys are increasing in supply and are weekend specials at many stores making them a good to excellent buy.

Beets, celery, lettuce, peppers, tomatoes and corn are a bit higher in price this week. Cabbage remains the same. Spinach, kale and carrots are a bit cheaper this week.

Eggs are again see-sawing in price. This week prices are low. Grade A dropped an average of six cents a dozen while Grade B are selling seven cents cheaper than they have been, averaging 52 cents a dozen.

Choral selections: Vocal ensemble. Soprano solo: Bonnie Lee Dickerson.

For these performances the sophomores wish to thank each person taking part for their delightful renditions and Mr. Brobst for his marvelous spirit of co-operation and for his superb direction as instructor.

Following a pep rally, very ably directed by the cheer leaders, the program closed with "Alma Mater" sung by the entire assembly.

New City Hall Dedicated At Rites in Milford

Milford's new city hall, now one-fourth complete, was the scene of a cornerstone laying witnessed by some 300 citizens Monday.

Located at the intersection of S. Walnut and SE 2nd St., the building is a gift to the city by Ruby R. Vale and his wife, Elizabeth Williams Vale.

The cornerstone laying ceremony was conducted by the Grand Masonic Lodge of Delaware with newly elected Grand Master James B. Kilvington presiding.

Members of the Grand Lodge and many master masons from Temple Lodge No. 9 were on hand. Also there was Mayor William R. Murphy, members of City Council and former mayors E. C. Evans and C. V. Wilkerson, the only former city chiefs still living.

Former grand state masters, M. Haswell Pierce and George E. Macklin of Milford, and Harrison W. Phillips of Laurel, were also at the ceremony. Vale was also there.

Several items were placed inside the cornerstone.

Vale asked those who are to occupy the City Hall in the future to uphold the honorable traditions of the past and to protect for posterity the present institution of freedom and justice for all.

Dover to Get New Library

Dover will get its new library. The referendum for the $190,000 project was passed Saturday by nearly a two-to-one margin as school district citizens reversed a decision of two years ago.

The vote Saturday was 727 in favor and 418 against, with one ballot was disqualified. In 1957, the vote was 785 against and 431 in favor. Total vote in 1957 was 1216, while Saturday's total was 1146.

George Ehinger, president of the Library Commission, cited three reasons why he thought the referendum was successful:

- 1. The Commission was better organized, and worked harder to get out the vote.
2. The support of service clubs and other organizations.
3. The people of the district had a chance to think about what a library would mean.

The new library will be located at State and Budd Streets on a plot, worth about $17,000 donated by the City of Dover.

The Commission will meet soon to name an architect. The bonds will be sold by the Dover Special School District, and the taxes will be raised about five or six cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Church Instructor Is Found Dead

Mrs. E. D. Lewis of Charlotte, N. C., was found dead in the bathroom of the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Fleetwood in Frederica Saturday about noon. She was staying with the Fleetwoods while in Frederica to give a three-day instruction course in church work.

She had been invited by the Rev. and Mrs. T. Churn for lunch and when she failed to appear the minister went to her room to tell her that the meal was ready. He found her dead in the bathroom. She apparently suffered a heart attack.

She was the wife of a minister. The body was taken to the Trader Funeral Home where arrangements will be made for transferring it to her home.

FARMING PROGRAM

The local Southern States Farmers Co-operative and has been appointed a delegate to its annual meeting for the entire area served by the co-operative; is an active member of the Ayrshire Breeders Association and Ayrshire Clubs for his state and area. The Dairy Herd Improvement Association, The Artificial Breeders Cooperative, the State Fair Association where he exhibits his Ayrshires annually, Farm Bureau and the Interstate Milk Producers Cooperative.

To complete his establishment in farming, Rodney has recognized the part of the home in his life. Last October he married his high school sweetheart and they are now establishing their home together where their first child is expected later this year.

Rodney Caulk Receives Award

Word has just been received from the office of W. Lyle Mowlds, State Director of Agricultural Education, that Rodney Caulk, formerly of the Caesar Rodney School, after receiving the American Farmer Degree recently, was selected as Star Regional American Farmer for the twelve North Atlantic States and has received a cash award of $500.00 from the National F. F. A. Foundation.

Mr. Mowlds states that Rodney is in big demand for radio, television, magazine and newspaper interviews. Caulk graduates from Caesar Rodney School in 1957. His agriculture teacher was Horace Short. This is the second time in thirty years that a Delaware boy has been selected as Star Regional American Farmer. In 1939 his brother, Wallace Caulk, Sr., received the same award.

Mr. Mowlds and Paul M. Hodgson, Assistant Superintendent for Vocational Education are in Kansas City at the present time with the State F.F.A. judging teams delegates, and Caulk.

3 Charged With Milford Burglaries

A wave of robberies early Saturday morning kept Milford police on the jump over the weekend. As a result of the police investigation two men and the juvenile son of one of them are being held under $2500 bond each on fourth degree burglary charges.

Under arrest are Henry Hartley and Mickey Bass and the teen-age son of Hartley, all from the Milford area.

Broken into during the dawn-dark hours after midnight Friday were Haughey's Service Station on Rehoboth Blvd., and the liquor store of Joseph Orkin on NW Front St. An attempted entry of the A & P Store on NW Front St. was unsuccessful as the would-be burglars were scared away by employees still working.

Taken from the liquor store was a quantity of alcoholic beverages and a small safe containing $1500. Police later located the safe at New Wharf where it had been emptied of its contents and dumped into the Waters of the Mispillion River.

At the service station owned by Councilman Percy Haughey the thieves took tools valued at $175, wrecked and rifled a soft drink machine and left the stock room with parts strewn all over the floor.

The burglars attempted to enter the A & P Store from the roof, but were apparently unaware that workers were still inside. When they heard the people moving about, the burglars fled empty handed.

Police were also kept busy with two traffic accidents, one of which injured three persons.

Police said cars driven by Stanley Gibson of Dover R. D. 4 and Earl Bennett of Houston collided on Rt. 14 in the vicinity of the Masten Trucking Co early Sunday morning. Gibson and his wife were treated at the Memorial Hospital for lacerations of the face and neck and later released. Bennett was admitted to the hospital for observation. He will be arraigned before Alderman Milton Dill upon his release.

In the other accident cars driven by Wesley Kiplinger of Ellendale R. D. and Alfred Wall, Jr. of Milford R. D. 1 collided at SE Front St. and the Rehoboth Highway. No one was injured. Walls was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and fined $200 and costs by Alderman Dill. He was sentenced to 60 days in default.

members will take this opportunity to protect themselves and their families," he said. "The Blood Bank's proven service to approximately 170,000 Delawareans has drawn praise from physicians, hospitals and from the members themselves."

The Kent County Medical Society recently gave official endorsement to the Blood Bank. Dr. James F. Hays, president of the society and medical director of International Latex Corporation, served as spokesman for the group. "The Kent County Medical Society is glad to endorse and support the Blood Bank of Delaware. This is a worthy institution and is making important contributions to the health and welfare of the people of the state of Delaware through its blood replacement program. This is a very important program as it offers security and protection to our people not only in time of personal need, but also in time of disaster.

"We heartily urge all citizens of Kent County and the state of Delaware to take advantage of the Blood Bank's merits and become members," Dr. Hays concluded.

Smith Says Blue Cross Not Under State Control

The Blue Cross-Blue Shield Plans are not and never have been under regulation by the state insurance commissioner, that official, Harry Smith, pointed out Wednesday.

There is such regulation in Maryland and Pennsylvania and an act of the legislature would be required for similar supervision here.

Smith said he was making the point because of the "confusion" indicated in the inquiries from Blue Cross-Blue Shield members about the recently announced rate increase.

He issued the following statement:

"Considerable attention has been focused on the increase in rates for the Blue Cross-Blue Shield Plan in Delaware. There seems to be a public misconception among the policyholders of this Plan throughout the state as to who is responsible for the approval of the rates. In order to make the record clear, I would like to make it a matter of public information that the Blue Cross-Blue Shield Insurance Plans are not now, and never have been, under the supervision and regulation of the State Insurance Department.

In the neighboring states of Pennsylvania and Maryland the plans are regulated by the State Insurance Departments. In order for this to be effective in Delaware it would be necessary for the General Assembly to pass legislation that would be signed by the Governor bringing the Plan under the supervision of the State Insurance Department.

It would then be my duty, as State Insurance Commissioner, to regulate this Plan in the same manner that all other types of insurance are regulated in Delaware. I feel that the citizens of Delaware who are policyholders in Blue Cross-Blue Shield Plan should make their wishes known to their respective representatives in the State Legislature if they desire any change in the present method of operation of the Plan."

The president of the American Medical Association, visiting Wilmington, Wednesday asked a question indicating disapproval of the suggestion that Blue Cross-Blue Shield be brought under supervision of the insurance department. "How do you regulate a non-profit organization?" asked Dr. Louis M. Orr, of Orlando, Fla.

Asked to comment on a labor group's suggestion that Group Hospital Service be supervised by the insurance department, he said that unless the whole trend of inflation is stopped the rates are likely to go higher.

Dr. Orr pinned the increase

Teenagers Held After Wanton Shooting Spree

Four Smyrna teenagers, apparently encouraged by one of their number who had a long record of past offenses, skipped school Monday and went on a senseless spree of shooting and larceny at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brown of Duck Creek Rd., near Smyrna. All were apprehended except the ring-leader who ran away.

The boys, using a .22 caliber rifle they had rented from a Smyrna sporting goods store and a 410-gauge shotgun they had taken from the home, shot and killed two pet mongrels of the Browns which, they later told police, "were barking at them." They told police they had planned to go hunting.

They also stole and old, unusable 12-gauge shotgun, a pair of binoculars, costume jewelry and a wrist watch from the Brown home and shot out several windows.

Mrs. Brown discovered the incident when she returned home Monday night. She informed police. Tuesday morning police began to check the school for Monday's absenteeism, but in the meantime the parents of two of the boys, after questioning them closely, learned of the burglary and carried the youngsters to state police.

Police learned from the two that they had broken open the back door of the Brown residence and also the names of the other two youths involved. Three of the boys were 14 and the other 15. Two of them had no previous police record.

All will answer burglarly charges in Juvenile Court, but were released to the custody of their parents pending the hearing. In addition to shooting the dogs the youngsters shot out several windows in the Brown home.

Milford City Council Monday night hired the Dover contracting firm of Henkels and McCoy to do the work in changing over the city's electrical system from 2400 volt, three phase delta to the 4160 volt Y system.

It will cost the city some $300 per day for eight to 12 weeks. The ground wiring for the change over is practically complete, according to George Adams, chairman of the Utility Committee.

Council also directed the Utility Committee to examine the possibility of securing or building additional substations. The committee is to come up with facts and figures.

City Manager Roy E. Pettyjohn was authorized to invite a representative of the Salisbury firm of Sterling and Gardner to speak to Council on the city's drainage problems.

At the request of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Council voted $200 for a fireworks display to follow the Halloween parade providing the display is under the supervision of Milford

Police and the fire chief. They also granted the Jaycees permission to have the White Flag and Decorating Company of Wilmington place flags and decorations on poles in the downtown area.

Robert Yerkes, representing the Chamber of Commerce, asked that Christmas lights be up and ready to be turned on by Nov. 28. He also asked that the Santa Claus House be completed by Dec. 5 and that free parking begin on the same date. Council so ordered.

Suspect Denies Attack With Bat In Plea at Dover

James Melvin Dawkins, charged with assault and battery with a baseball bat on James Edward Delk near Magnolia on Sept. 28, entered a plea of innocent before Judge Ernest V. Keith in Court of Common Pleas Wednesday afternoon, declaring he knew nothing of attacking his accuser.

But Delk, brought from the Kent County Correctional Institution, where he is being held in default of bail as a material witness, avowed positively that Dawkins was his assailant and had broken his arm, still in a cast, with the bat.

Trial of Dawkins will be scheduled later by Judge Keith.

Trial of Calvin Benson, 53, near Dover, a farm worker, was halted and a charge instituted under a different section of the law when it was discovered that he was charged under the law regarding lewdness.

Benson, alias Daniel Calvin Benson, and Daniel Calvin Pierce, had been held in $10,000 bail by Magistrate Maurice W. Carrow for trial in Court of Common Pleas on a charge of lewdness under a section of the law involving also prostitution and assignation.

Harrison F. Turner, counsel for the man, asked for and obtained a dismissal of the charge. Deputy Atty. Gen. George R. Wright filed a new information under the section of the law applicable to the defendant's case. The defendant pleaded innocent, and trial will be scheduled later.

During the proceeding, a woman friend of Benson entered and left the court room several times and finally Judge Keith warned her not to come back in the court room again if she wanted to escape facing a contempt charge and further admonished her never to come into court after return after her departure at that point.

Gene Wenloch Davidson, charged with operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor, entered a plea of innocent. He will be tried later. James B. Messick is his counsel.

Jaycees to Hold Fete on Monday, Hear U. S. Chief

Robert H. Clark, president of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be guest of honor at a banquet to be held Monday night in Lulu M. Ross Elementary School, Milford. Another guest will be Vice President Howie Thomas of Silver Spring, Md.

Robert Corddry, state vice president, of Milford, will act as toastmaster and will introduce Martin Golden of Smyrna, state president. Mrs. Golden will in turn introduce Clark to the more than 130 Jaycees and wives who will attend from all over the state.

Clark, 33, an attorney for the Iowa Power and Light Company, was elected the 39th president of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce last June 19 at the organization's annual convention in Buffalo, N. Y.

Elevation to the presidency of the 200,000-members organization climaxed the climb up the Jaycee ladder for Clark, a former football and track star at Drake University, which began when he joined the Des Moines, Ia., chapter in 1954.

In his first year as a Jaycee member, Clark was elected to the board of directors. Then followed positions as local president, Iowa president, (1957-'58) and national vice president in charge of the international relations portfolio (1958-'59).

As president of the Jaycees, Clark will travel over 200,000 miles visiting local and state Jaycee organizations and attending national Jaycee programs. He also will travel to Rio de Janeiro to attend the World Congress of Junior Chamber International.

Clark, a deacon of the University Church of Christ in Des Moines, removed with his wife, Mariann, and two children, Sue 5, and Heidi, 9 months, to the U. S. Jaycee headquarters in Tulsa, Okla., following his election. There the family will occupy the Jaycee "Little White House" during his tenure of office.

SHOP AND SWAP IN THE WANT ADS

Since the Hindu Marriage Act of 1955 permitted divorce, 443 men and 432 women have sought divorce in West Bengal, Calcutta reports. Grounds were mostly desertion, adultery and insanity.

Because the University of Rhodesia and Nyasaland, in Blantyre, has "started taking part in politics" the Nyasaland Tobacco Association has withdrawn its annual grant of $1500 to the university.

So far as transmitting disease to humans is concerned, the dog is the most dangerous pet of all, said Professor O. T. de Villiers, veterinary sciences head at the university in Stellenbosch, South Africa.
