Engineering School Holds Open House

The School of Engineering at the University of Delaware and the departments of biology, chemistry, mathematics and physics announce its first annual open house for high school students, parents and teachers on Saturday from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. on the Newark campus.

The day's activities will include guided tours of the school and departments with demonstrations and exhibits and classroom observation planned for the visitors. Dr. John R. Ferron, assistant professor of chemical engineering and coordinator for the event, said the open house will be held in conjunction with the sophomore class visitation program planned for the same day.

Tours of chemical engineering and metallurgy laboratories will include demonstrations of purification of a gas by absorption, automatic control of a process heater and microscopic examination of metals. A chemistry lecture will be open to visitors at 9:10 a. m., with department personnel available for discussion.

In the new P. S. duPont Hall, the main engineering building, student guides will take groups through the various civil engineering laboratories to see demonstrations in fluid mechanics and in structures. In the electrical engineering department several demonstrations and descriptions will be offered, including those of the nuclear reactor, of an induction coil, of pulse characteristics, of the CYPAK simulator and of a scintillation counter and radiation detector.

Some of the equipment and experiments to be seen in mechanical engineering are an experiment in engine knock, the 60-inch solar furnace, the metallurgical laboratory, a demonstration of the vapor pressure of liquids and a study of vibrations. Visitors will also see a demonstration of the university's new Bendex computer.

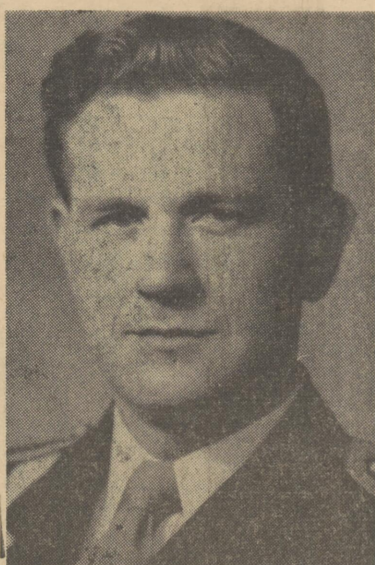

Guests of the physics department will see selected lecture demonstrations and advanced undergraduate laboratory experiments on optics, wave motion and oscilloscopes.

The biology department will open up its Wolf Hall hallways to exhibits on life sciences and several laboratory classes. Department representatives will be on hand for consultation and advice.

A bottle of ink was apparently thrown, coming into contact with the bottom of the building near the front entrance, splashing the liquid on the walls.

Sylvester said Tuesday he did not believe his residence was selected, in particular, for the vandalism.

In a note to The Journal, he writes: Reward, $25, for information leading to conviction of immature vandal who defaced my home Wed., Dec. 2. Confidential. Earl Sylvester

School Provides Secretaries

The Office Practice Classes of Harrington High School are providing valuable aid to many teachers on both the elementary and high school staffs, as well as getting invaluable experience themselves, through a work plan instituted by Mr. McDonald, head of the Business Education Department at the local school. Teachers who wish clerical or secretarial help may request it through the Business Education Department. The students work on a voluntary basis, and have shown a fine spirit of co-operation and initiative in that there were more volunteers than requests for secretaries. For the past 12 weeks, 25 students have been employed.

The reports by the teachers have been excellent. In their rating of the students, they have displayed their satisfaction with the work quality, co-operation, and promptness of the students. Twenty-three of the 25 students received an "A" rating, and only two a "B" rating.

U. S. Senator J. Allen Frear Jr., announced Monday afternoon that the 11th Refueling Squadron from Dyess AFB in Texas is moving to the Dover AFB in June. The effect of this action will be a net increase of approximately 600 military personnel and 20 KC-97 tankers. These aircraft are assigned to the Strategic Air Command.

Senator Frear was advised of the details of the decision by Major General Thomas C. Musgrave of U.S.A.F.

Fire-Marshall Favinger Sees City Council

State Fire Marshal Robert Favinger addressed the City Council, Thursday evening, Dec. 4, at its December meeting, on fire hazards and the fire code promulgated by the current Legislature.

Two buildings here had come to the marshal's attention but it was explained that one would be moved and the other razed.

In other business the Council set Dec. 10 as the date for the city manager to make settlement for 1959 taxes with the treasurer and Council.

It was voted to borrow $3750 each from the Peoples Bank and the First National Bank to pay for the sewer extensions underway in Harrington Manor.

A meeting of the electors (the annual citizens meeting) was called for Jan. 8. The only elections this year call for contests for councilmen in the Fifth and Sixth Wards. Norman Oliver, in the Fifth, has hinted he will run again. In answer to a rumor he would run for councilman, Dr. Herwit Smith, former mayor and Councilman from the Fifth Ward, told The Journal he had not heard anything about it and had not given it any thought.

In the Sixth Ward, Councilman Charles Hopkins, who is serving out the unexpired term of Jack Appt, who moved from the City, appears a contender to succeed himself. Councilmen serve three years.

Railroad News

The local signal construction crew, under foreman John Fay, is now quartered at Cape Charles where retirement of tracks due to decrease in business eliminates an electro-pneumatic interlocking.

District Engineer W. Glavin and Supervisor C. & S. Fred Pegelow are negotiating for ICC authority to transfer the switch mechanisms from there to Harrington to replace the antiquated armstrong lever operated switches and associated pipe line foundations, etc., at the local tower.

The combination docks and railroad station at Cape Charles is also being dismantled by the Harrington Lumber & Supply Co. Much of the salvaged lumber has been sold to Chesapeake Bay Ferry District for use in connection with the much-talked-of bridge-tunnel from Keptopeake to Norfolk.

Dr. Lamb's project is a technical one in the field of chemical engineering involving the development of a general criterion by which the stability of catalytic reactors with feed-effluent countercurrent heat exchange and heat exchanger bypassing may be predicted. He will have several graduate assistants and part-time undergraduate help in carrying out this investigation, which is supported by the National Science Foundation.

Dr. Moshier, chairman and professor of chemistry, has received the support of the U. S. Army Chemical Warfare Laboratories and the Army Chemical Center for a study entitled "Synthesis of Organic Compounds."

His research is designed to find better reaction conditions or previously unknown reaction modifications which may lead to desired substances or to a lower yield of undesirable side-products. Previous discoveries made during the course of routine synthetic investigations have led to outstanding theoretical work in chemistry.

Board of Education Studies Present Building Needs

The recommendations that follow are a consensus of individual school board members and are submitted to the citizens of the Harrington Special School District for a discussion on their merits.

This school building study will vary greatly from the program that was defeated in our last referendum and initially presented this year in the December meeting of the P.T.A.

The basic idea of this study is to use the core of our newest central facilities such as the lobby, men and women's lounges, cafeteria, kitchen, health department, administrative and main office to their full efficiency and not duplicate these in a new building program.

Elementary School

The elementary section of grades 1-6 should remain grouped in their own age group to the north of this central core with additional facilities to prevent cross traffic into or through the high school building.

The existing 14 elementary classrooms should have an additional 10 classrooms to allow for 4 sections each of Grade 1 - 6. One section of fifth grade and three of sixth would move over from the 1912 building known as the High School Annex. By the time these classrooms are completed, it would be necessary to have additional sections of Grades 1 and 2. This would leave four elementary classrooms for future growth.

One of these could be used for our younger group in the special class or an additional classroom be built for them.

Other facilities needed would be a special room to be used for elementary music, visual aids, assembly program rehearsals, etc., an elementary library and a heating plant.

This new wing would extend parallel to our present elementary section and due north from the stage end of the cafeteria. There it would be accessible to all the central facilities and independent of the rest of the school plant except for the auditorium.

Traffic now going through this elementary area would be routed to the west of the field house or turn at the field house and return to Center Street.

High School (1929) Building
Our present chemistry and physics classes now occupy a classroom for recitation and a laboratory. This should be brought up to present-day standards.

A duplication of these facilities would be acquired for biology by moving our present Junior High school studies to the High School Annex. Jr. High math would also be moved to the Annex and High School English from the Annex to the High School Building.

The homemaking dept. with its kitchen and sewing rooms would be modernized and lose its 1929 look.

The library would benefit by the removal of the elementary section and could be made more attractive by eliminating the high stacks in the center. This should result in easier discipline and an atmosphere more conducive to study. The present section used for cataloging and reports could be glassed in.

The Industrial Arts, Ag Shop and Ag room would be moved to a new building away from our main school plant.

The vacated building would be used for our music department and consists of a band and choral room, instrument storage, practice rooms, 2 offices, heating plant, toilets, etc.

Del. Travel Council Dinner To Be Held At Dover

The third annual dinner of the Delaware Travel Council will be held at Dover Hotel, Thursday, Jan. 28, it was announced this week following a meeting of the Board of Directors at Dinner Bell Inn, Dover.

President Harry B. Bissell, Jr., said that an invitation has been extended to James L. Bossemeyer, executive director of the National Association of Travel Agencies, Washington, D. C., to be the principal speaker.

Mr. Bossemeyer has been supervising the association's "Visit USA Year" which is expected to draw a record number of tourists to the United States in 1960. Mr. Bissell says the Delaware group hopes to promote the state so that it will receive a fair share of the visitors.

W. Murray Metten, travel editor of the News-Journal papers was named tour chairman.

Miss Dorothy Greer, assistant to the director of Wintertur Museum, is at work on another plan approved which would bring a group of travel writers into the state for several days to let them see for themselves what Delaware has to offer to tourists and vacationers, Mr. Bissell said.

It is expected that this group will make the visit just prior to the annual "Springtime in Delaware" promotion. Miss Greer is chairman of the committee to arrange for this affair.

Secretary Miles L. Frederick was named dinner chairman, to be assisted by Mrs. Georgia W. Hyatt, State Development Department; John Stark, Dover Hotel; and Jack Smyth, Dover publisher.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church News

Several carloads of young people from St. Stephen's attended the Kent Convocation at St. Peter's, Smyrna, Sun., Dec. 6. The Rev. John R. Symonds, Jr., Mrs. Clyde Perry, Frankline Fowler, and Robert McNally accompanied the local group.

After a supper served by the Smyrna hosts and hostesses, a program was given on the world refugee problem. An interesting and timely film was shown. The young people divided into six groups for discussion on what the film meant to them and how they themselves could help a bit to lessen the sadness and want so evident among refugees.

A service of evening prayer for the convocation was conducted entirely by Smyrna girls with one exception—a young man played the organ.

Twenty-four representatives from St. Stephen's attended the meeting.

St. Stephen's young people invited the Kent Convocation to attend a luncheon and dance at the new parish house, Harrington, on St. Stephen's Day, Dec. 6.

Ushers who served on the 2nd Sunday in Advent were Messrs. George Von Goerres and Granville Hill.

Flowers on the altar last Sunday were given to the glory of God and in loving memory of Susan Hill Opel by Mrs. John R. Symonds Sr.

As church people, members and friends of St. Stephen's have just started a new year—Advent, a preparation for Christmas. The Every Member Canvass has also been underway and the new pledges of monetary giving will be initiated in January. The following poem, appropriate for this time of year as well as all year round, appears in the latest edition of "Now," Episcopal publication in Delaware.

A Question
Three thousand for my brand new car;
Five thousand for a piece of sod;
Ten thousand I paid to begin a house;

A dollar, I gave to God.
A tidy sum to entertain
My friends in pointless chatter;
And when the world goes crazy mad,

I ask, "Lord, What's the matter?"
Yet there is one big question.
For the answer I shall search;
With things so bad in this old world,

What's holding back my church?
The Iowa Churchman
Acolytes who served at church school were Franklin Fowler and Terry Porter.

At the service of Holy Communion last Sunday, John Creamer and Billy Carter were torchbearers; Bobby Greer, crucifer; Billy McColley, server; and Bill Thompson, acolyte.

To help rescue forgotten persons abroad the church is participating in "World Refugee Year" through the presiding Bishop's Fund. The Rt. Rev. Arthur Lichtenberger appeals to all "to pray, to plan, and work together so that those who chose freedom rather than slavery may find new life." He states "Through our faith in Jesus Christ, the Comforter of the hungry, sick, and homeless, we are bound to share in this great undertaking." In the past few years contributions to this fund have provided more than twenty million pounds of government surplus food for the hungry, given warm clothing to the cold and medical aid to the sick. Anyone wishing to contribute may send money to the Rt. Rev. Arthur Lichtenberger, 281 Park Avenue South, New York 10, N. Y.

Coffee hour hostesses on the 2nd Sunday in Advent were Messdames Robert McNally and Augustus Raughley Jr.

The Rev. John R. Symonds, Jr., attended a meeting of the Red Cross Regional Conference at Atlantic City, Friday and Saturday.

A Merry Christmas And a Safe One Too

A gaily decorated Christmas tree lights up the heart as well as the home during the holiday season, but don't let this year's fun turn into tragedy by neglecting a few simple pointers, warns, Ernest N. Scarborough, agricultural engineer with the University of Delaware.

Leave your tree outside, not in the garage, until you are ready to put it up. This will prevent it from drying before you even start. When you bring it inside, make a fresh cut at the base of the tree. This cut should be diagonal to allow more surface to be exposed to the moisture in the container.

Fill the container with water or wet sand. Dry Christmas tree needles are a fire hazard and the water helps keep the needles moist. Most needles stay on the tree longer, but one week is about the maximum time the tree should be up, adds Mr. Scarborough.

Be sure that tree light cords, sockets and plugs are in good condition. Place the tree near an outlet fused for 15 amperes. This if the load is too heavy or if it fits the load is too heavy or if a short circuit develops. You'll also keep from tripping over extension cords.

For safety's sake, be sure the Underwriter's Laboratory label is on any string of lights you buy. Look for parallel-wired strings of lights having a fiber washer pressed against the bulb socket. The washer helps keep burnable material out of the socket and lessens chance of shock, if you touch the metal part of the bulb when the lights are on. Parallel wiring means that all of the properly working lights stay on if one bulb should burn out.

You'll add to the extra safety provided by the fiber washer if you screw the metal part of the bulbs all the way into the sockets.

Mr. Scarborough adds one more important bit of advice. He says be sure to turn off the tree lights when you leave the house or go to bed.

Kent Home Doings

Balance the Diet and the Budget
Boil it, broil it—mash it, hash it—Sauté it, soufflé it—dice, slice or rice it. Use the potato in every course from soup through dessert, says Florence Y. Smith. The potato is the best friend the family food budget has, on a year-in-year-out basis. It makes the food dollar go farther without reducing the quality of family meals.

Not only does the potato supply a large number of valuable minerals, it is also an important source of vitamin C. Every so often some food faddist claims that potatoes are "fattening" because they contain starches. It would make better sense to say that potatoes are 78% water, Mrs. Smith points out. Actually, in addition to all its good nutritive qualities, one medium baked potato has only 95 calories.

To get more pleasure out of potato eating, buy the firm, smooth ones and don't store them in dry places around the kitchen. They will shrink more and be prone to disease. If stored properly, potatoes will keep for several months, a blessing to the family budget. You can keep the quality high by storing them where the temperature hovers around 40 degrees. Let them keep at 35 for any length of time and they're likely to develop an unpleasant sweet taste. The bin should be high in humidity but not wet, Mrs. Smith warns.

The most nutritious part of potatoes is just beneath the skin, so cook them in their jackets whenever possible. If not, keep peels thin. Plain baked potatoes are good, but try scooping out the steaming pulp, mashing it with sour cream, chives and seasonings and refilling potatoes for a final broiling.

Since potatoes are so delicious and filling "as is", housewives seldom take advantage of the hundreds of opportunities for potato variety Mrs. Smith says. One of the tastiest and easiest "snacks with a difference" is a plate heaped up with potato pancakes. Just grate 2 cups of raw potatoes and put into 1/4 cup milk. Add a slightly beaten egg, 2 tablespoons of flour, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper, and 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion. Drop from a tablespoon onto a greased frying pan. Cook until well browned and crisp on both sides and serve immediately. You'll have the family rushing you back to the kitchen for more.

School Christmas Program Next Friday Evening

The annual Christmas Carol and Candlelight Service by the Harrington Special School District will be given next Friday evening, Dec. 18, in the school auditorium, beginning promptly at 8 o'clock, according to an announcement from the office of the school superintendent, Mr. J. C. Messner, made today.

The program, free to the public, will begin with the traditional candlelight procession by the girls of the high school glee club, and will be followed by appropriate anthems and hymns that will include three great choruses "And the Glory of the Lord" from the "Messiah" by G. F. Handel, "The Heavens are Telling" from the "Creation" by Josef Haydn, and the "Halleluiah Choruses."

The annual singing of Adam's "Cantique de Noel" will feature Miss Kitty Lou Smith of the Senior Class as the soprano soloist, and will be assisted by the Grade School Chorus, the Junior High School Girl's Glee Club, as well as the members of the Senior High School Chorus.

Other soloists will include Dwight Hackett, Jane Hughes, Bonnie Lee Dickerson.

The entire program is under the direction of Melvin Brobst of the music program, and will be preceded by the playing of carols from the steps of the high school annex by a brass quintet. Accompanists are Mr. Leon Donovan and Miss Sarah Moore.

Veterans News

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Q—Is every service-disabled Korea veteran entitled to special vocational rehabilitation training?

A—No. A veteran must need the training to help him overcome the handicap of his disability. However, a disabled veteran who does not meet this qualification still may be eligible for training under the Korean GI Bill.

Q—Is the War Orphans Education training program only a college program?

A—No. The War Orphans Education program, besides providing college and university training, offers opportunities in a wide variety of schools below the college level as well. Training is permitted in technical institutes, business schools, some vocational or trade schools, normal schools, institutions offering courses in medical and related fields, and in junior colleges.

Q—I am planning to convert my World War II term insurance to a permanent plan. Do I have to convert the entire amount of my insurance, or can I convert just a part of it?

A—You may convert a part of your GI term insurance, if you wish. The amount converted must be in multiples of $500, but not less than $1000.

Q—I understand that a World War II veteran must file his application for a GI loan by July 25, 1960. Just what steps have to be taken by that date?

A—By that date, a lender must at least have agreed to make the loan and must have requested VA's approval. The law allows up to an additional year, after the deadline, to complete the deal.

WHO WILL TAKE HIS PLACE?

The death of Horace E. Quillen, civic leader, businessman, and philanthropist poses a problem—who will take his place?

When we were a boy, we first saw him: a congenital cripple seated on a high stool before a higher slant-top wooden desk, keeping books for Murphy & Hayes, a firm which marketed most of the pilings on the Delmarva Peninsula.

By the end of the twenties he owned the firm and was on the road to affluence. In the early forties, he and his brother, R. Henry (Harry) Quillen, established Quillen Brothers, lumber, dealers.

The Sussex County native put his money to good advantage in business and in philanthropy. We know that he lent money to college students in the late twenties. We know that he lent money to students for the ministry. We know that, furthermore, he did not seek recognition for his acts of kindness. In fact, he leaned over backwards to avoid receiving any credit.

Mr. Quillen traveled considerably abroad. Before the war, he toured Europe and it was our pleasure to meet his Neopolitan chauffeur in Naples in 1943. He showed us a snapshot of Mr. Quillen, crutches and all, besides his Chevrolet. In recent years, Mr. and Mrs. Quillen traveled in the Caribbean, with the former writing letters which we published in The Harrington Journal.

Mr. Quillen was always one who had the interests of the community much at heart. In the drives for the charities, he could always be counted on for a substantial contribution. He could also be counted on for financial support in campaigns for civic betterment.

In his twilight years, he made community improvements when lesser mortals would have been satisfied to clip their stock coupons. He built the Quillen Shopping Center several years ago, the first of its kind in Delaware south of Wilmington. He converted a shed, from the former Creadick Basket Factory, into a distributor's office for Watkins Auto Supplies. Furthermore, he had plans for building additional stores, near his shopping center, when he died of leukemia.

He knew what he wanted and went after it, though he was not always successful. He saw the need for a motel but couldn't buy the site he wanted. In his shopping center, he strived to secure the stores which would benefit the center and the community the most. He had many opportunities to rent stores, in the shopping center, to undesirable businesses, but held out to the bitter end. In fact, one choice location is still empty.

In small towns, such as ours, where most large investment capital comes from without the community, Mr. Quillen was a gem of purest ray serene. Who will take his place?

THE LITTLE SQUIRE (OF HARRINGTON)

There was another little boy—
 I never "knew him when"—
 I've known him since he took his place
 Within the sphere of men.
 Director in some big concerns,
 I'd say perhaps a score,
 And he himself employs about
 A hundred folks or more.
 If that was all he'd ever done,
 I'd never write a line
 About this boy, for I ain't one
 To up and take a shine
 To any man upon this earth
 Because he seems to know
 Just how to rake the dollars in
 And make a pile of dough.
 But that ain't all; no, sir, it ain't;
 He don't tell, but I've found
 A lot of things about this boy
 By sort of "nosin' round":
 He didn't go to college, but
 A lot of folks I know,
 A lot of boys and girls, have gone
 Because he helped them go.
 Financed a playground so the kids
 Could have a place to play;
 Paid bills at hospitals for folks
 Who can't afford to pay.
 Through him and through his specialists
 The weary blind may see;
 Through him the lame and halt may walk,
 But here the tragedy—
 Or blessing—who can say or tell—
 Himself, he cannot walk
 Without the aid of crutch; I can't
 Pretend to sit and talk
 About the ways of Providence,
 Of why, or where, or when—
 But just observin', when God gives
 A handicap to me.
 It ain't a handicap at all;
 It's just a testing phase—
 God makes it up, a heap sigh more
 In lots of other ways.
 And when his mother long ago
 Each day would start her trek
 And tote this little boy to school
 'Way out at Muddy Neck,
 She didn't know as she trudged on
 Love's labor day by day,
 How rich, how fine the dividends
 That little boy would pay!
 She didn't know in later years
 The lowly and distressed
 Through him, her son, for what she'd done
 Would rise and called her blessed!
 Yes, when she carried him to school!

With strength that faith invokes—
 She didn't carry him ALONE—
 She carried OTHER folks!

Basketball
 The 1959-60 Harrington Girl's Varsity Basketball Team will start the season with the traditional alumni game. This game will be held in the Harrington Field House this Tuesday night, Dec. 15, at 7 p.m. This game should promise a sample of what to expect through the season.

Our senior forward, Bonnie Satterfield, scored 238 points in 12 games last year. This, an average of 19 points per game, easily made her high scorer. Bonnie is famous for set shots from a variety of places. These are mainly way behind the foul line and near the center of the floor. Her accuracy is demonstrated by the balls whisking through the net without touching the rim or backboard.

Patsy Jack has had several years experience as both guard and forward. Her nearly constantly accurate shots combined with her defensive ability are really an asset to the team.

Jane Phillips, a Sophomore is the third forward. She has a sharp eye for the basket and is able to move and work well with the other two.

Christine Taylor, a Junior, and Kaye Moore, a Senior, lack the experience of the other three forwards but with the enthusiasm and a couple of games, they are expected to rack up considerable points.

Betty Hendricks and Jerry Reed, our two senior guards have the experience and ability to provide a good defense against any forward attack. Betty, who has height, plus ability to jump 18 inches off the floor in one spot is our top rebounder. Jerry, with similar rebound ability, is quick and decisive. Her rapid dribbling and passing should be a continuous threat to our opponents. Barbara Lewis and Kenia Jo McKnatt, our junior and sophomore guards, have had less experience than the seniors.

When these girls play, their lack of experience can hardly be detected for their never give up attitude and smooth execution of skills overshadows this. Our most versatile player, Phyllis Vincent, can play equally well both forward and guard. Her ball snatching ability and quick eye give much support to the defense but her one-handed shots and fast cutting ability is a definite aid for anyone playing with her.

With this top and solid team, much enjoyment should be provided for the spectators.

Attend the games and support the girls who work so hard to give the people of Harrington a top varsity basketball team.

Harrington School Wears Its Festive Apparel

Christmas is fabulous, Christmas is fun, Christmas is decorations! And decoratively speaking, the elementary pupils under the able assistance of the art director, Mrs. Malek, and the individual homeroom teachers have hurried the Christmas spirit right along. Miss Long's fifth grade bulletin board is one vast "Twelfth Night" Christmas card, an enchanting splendor that must have been touched by a magic wand. But there was no wand—just the hands, the creative minds, and the spirit of hope in the American pupils, your children, proud readers. And that's not all! As you stroll along the corridor you'll see on every bulletin board some of the handiwork of the elementary youth. Scenes that make dreams come true and Santa arrive early suggest Santa on his way down the chimney and Santa before the fireplace. Decorated trees of all shapes and colors and sizes, angels, candles, the wise men journeying to Bethlehem, snowmen, bells, wreaths, and the Nativity scene, accompany cheerful Christmas greetings.

Delaware Food Market Report

Meats are steady to lower in price this week. This is good news since meats certainly take the biggest slice of the food budget. Pork is averaging about 10 cents a pound cheaper than a year ago at this time. Prices have been dropping steady for the past three weeks now. Fresh pork spareribs are down two cents a pound; fresh shoulders, down three cents; rib end pork chops down two cents, and second-grade bacon is down four cents a pound. Beef, lamb and veal are all steady in price this week; however weekend specials bring the prices way down on many cuts. Check the meat counter for good buys on veal roast, beef steaks, rib roast of beef, leg-of-lamb and other lamb cuts.

Sweet potatoes are coming from all producing areas now and the quality is high. Prices are reasonable, so enjoy this vegetable in many ways—sweet potato biscuits, pancakes, pies, candied sweet potatoes, mashed, baked, fried, etc. Be sure to select the plump, chunky ones—they are better buys. Other thrifty choices at the vegetable counter are dry onions, turnips, beets, squash, and some snaps. Lettuce, green peppers and loose tomatoes are all a bit higher this week. California and Mexico are beginning to ship loose tomatoes, some are "vine-ripened" and really look beautiful. The prices are high though for these beauties—around 45 cents a pound. Less choice tomatoes are much lower in price. Green cabbage is in short supply and prices rose another penny.

With the cranberry crisis a thing of the past, fresh cranberries are plentiful again and most have the stamp of government approval. They are priced around 29 cents a pound. Avocados, oranges, grapefruit and bananas remain good to excellent buys this week. Pears and apples have edged up in price but not enough to pass them by.

Nuts—there are plenty this year and this is the season to enjoy them. One problem may be, "To shell or buy them already shelled?" Aside from the work shelling requires, figure that about 2 1/4 pounds of Filberts will give a pound of nut meats; 2 1/4 pounds of walnuts, and 2 pounds of almonds, pecans, or Brazil nuts will make 1 pound of nut meats.

Buy Safe Toys For Christmas

With Christmas just around the corner, children seem to want almost every toy they see. Parents and others buying toys for children should select toys that are safe to play with, reminds Miss Patricia Middleton, home management specialist with the Agricultural Extension Service, University of Delaware.

Unless toys are chosen with care, they can lead to tragic accidents such as lead poisoning, suffocation, explosions, fire, cuts or broken bones.

Here are a few simple rules to keep in mind as you shop for children's toys. They can help assure a safe and happy holiday season for your children.

1. Toys for baby or very young children should be washable, and large enough not to go into the mouth, ear or nose. They should never be of breakable materials such as glass or of flammables such as celluloid.
2. Wheels of wooden toys should be attached with screws—not with carpet or thumb tacks.
3. Eyes of animals should be sewed on—not fastened with pins.
4. Edges of metal toys should be rolled or turned in. Corners should be rounded.
5. Tea sets should be made of material which if broken, will not produce sharp edges.
6. Horns, whistles, bubble blowers, mouth harps, or any other type of toy which requires the use of the mouth, should be made strongly enough to prevent the user from sucking parts of it into his throat.
7. All toys made of lead or colored with lead-base paints should be avoided. Read the label before buying a toy to see if a non-poisonous paint was used.
8. Electric toys should have the label of the Underwriters' Laboratories on the cord and on the toy itself to insure safe construction.
9. Kite strings should be made of non-conducting materials. Wire or tinsel string such as that used for tying Christmas packages, may cause an electric shock if the kite drops across a power line. A cotton string is safest but any string will conduct electricity, if wet.
10. All chemical sets are potentially dangerous. The new owner should be taught to use chemicals and not be allowed to "mix" at random.

Make the Bunny Hop This Winter

When Brer Rabbit wants a tasty snack from your favorite ornamental, he's liable to get carried away and chew up the whole stem just above ground level. Especially now that most of his green summer food is gone, he'll be casting a hungry eye at your woody stems, warns Robert F. Stevens, Extension horticulturist with the University of Delaware.

You can easily recognize the work of friend rabbit by the smooth, angled cut of small swigs. Chewed-off woody stems up to one-half inch in diameter will appear to have been cut with a knife. Damage on larger stems can be identified by the teeth marks.

Mr. Stevens gives these tips to prevent rabbit damage to dormant trees:

1. Use wire cylinders of hardware cloth, making them at least two feet high to protect the stem even when snow covers

Don't Be Burned Up! Says Agent

There's only one right way to handle gasoline and kerosene around the farm—any other way spells disaster, warns County Extension Agent George Vapaa.

"Right now," says he, "is always a good time to check the way you use and store flammable liquids. Give yourself a quick test:

Baptist Church Notes

The Adult Class at the Harrington Baptist Chapel began at 10 o'clock with Howard Sutcliff teaching. The Junior Department with Mrs. Jack Bard as superintendent is growing regularly. Mrs. Virginia Clendaniel and Mrs. Alton King are doing a fine job with the Beginner Department. All in all the Sunday School is growing.

The Rev. Charles Prince brought a fine message at 11 from God's word. The Rev. Prince is now teaching in the Maryland Public School at Chestertown, Md., and is Interim Pastor at the Greensboro Baptist Church. His wide field of experiences both as pastor and chaplain in our Armed Forces plus his school teaching experience adds to his attractiveness as a speaker.

Next Sunday the Sunday School begins at 10 and at 11 the Rev. Walter D. Agnor, pastor of the First Southern Baptist Church of Dover will be bringing the message of the day. The Rev. Agnor's Church at Dover is the newest Southern Baptist Church in the Eastern Shore and is doing a fine job, particularly among the Airmen who are away from their regular Church homes. He too, speaks diligently from God's Word.

Jimmy Justice, Laurel, Wins State 4-H Tractor Contest

Jimmy Justice, 19, of Laurel, was honored at the 38th annual 4-H Club Congress, Chicago, recently as the 4-H tractor program winner in the state of Delaware.

Jimmy is shown being crowned state tractor winner by petroleum centennial beauty queen Elaine Gasvoda, as John E. Kasch, vice president of American Oil Company, congratulates him at the 38th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

Jimmy won the tractor crown on the basis of his outstanding activity and leadership in the 4-H tractor program. He was awarded an all expense trip to the Congress in Chicago by the American Oil Company, which has sponsored the tractor program for 15 years in Delaware and 21 other eastern and southern states from Maine to Florida. Over 700,000 youths and 45,000 volunteer leaders have been trained since 1944 in the program, which is directed nationally by the Extension Service in cooperation with the National Committee on Boys and Girls' Club Work.

Highlights of the week in Chicago for Jimmy were his crowning as the state tractor winner by a petroleum centennial queen and an honors banquet attended by all state winners, their sponsors, and 4-H leaders.

Jimmy lives with his father, Raymond F. Justice, on their 200-acre farm in Sussex County. He has been in 4-H Club work and the tractor program for four years, serving as club president for two years.

He has won first and second place in tractor driving contests on county, district and regional levels, and was chosen Sussex County's "Poultry Boy of the Year." Jimmy also served on the county 4-H newspaper staff and has been a member of FFA Meat and Poultry judging teams.

Farmers Continue The Fight Against Tuberculosis

"Farmers through the years have been a strong force in the fight against tuberculosis," Frank F. Pierson, assistant executive secretary of the Delaware Anti-Tuberculosis Society, said this week in thanking farm residents for the support they are giving the 1959 Christmas Seal Sale.

"Half a century ago," Mr. Pierson explained, "many cattle were infected with tuberculosis, and their milk spread crippling bovine TB to human beings. Through constant co-operation of farmers and veterinarians, tuberculosis in cattle has been brought under control.

"Although now in Delaware it is necessary to test many cows to find one tuberculin reactor, the testing continues, as even one tuberculous animal can endanger the entire herd, the owner and his family, and anyone who may drink contaminated milk," he said.

"No laws require human beings to be tested regularly for TB," Mr. Pierson pointed out. "If all Delawareans were as careful about their own health as we are about our cattle, we could eradicate tuberculosis."

There are currently in progress specific research projects being conducted in an effort to determine the relationship between bovine tuberculosis and human tuberculosis. This and other research in the field of tuberculosis is carried on with funds received from the sale of Christmas Seals.

Greenwood

Mrs. Gerald Pearson attended the Christmas party given by her sorority, Delta Kappa Gamma, on Friday evening at Avenue M. E. Church, Milford.

The Greenwood Church choir motored to Clayton Methodist on Sunday evening to sing in the special services which Mrs. Corretta Mason is conducting there. This is the church served by the Rev. Frank Barnard, a former minister here.

Mr. and Mrs. Medford Smith and Jeffrey, Mr. and Mrs. James Smith were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith.

We have received a change of address for Eddie Smith, one of our Greenwood lads in the service, and we are glad to give it here so that those wishing to write him may do so. His address is Edward B. Smith, GP 3-4835806, GM Div. U.S.S. Saratoga, CVA-60, care of Fleet P. O. New York, N. Y. Eddie has just been transferred to the S.S. Saratoga, which is next to the largest ship, its area covering four acres.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hatfield and Ellen, Miss Lora Wise, Miss Gladys Whitmore and Mrs. Emmett Whitmore attended the presentation of "The Messiah" given by the Delaware Choral Society on Sunday afternoon at the Dover High School. The huge new auditorium was crowded beyond its extensive capacity, chairs were brought in, people sat on the steps leading to the balcony, and some were of necessity placed downstairs to hear the program over a sound system. In these days of rock and roll, it is indeed heartwarming to see such a crowd gathered to hear Handel's beautiful Christmas music. The final climax with the Hallelujah Chorus was a thing to be remembered always.

Mrs. Arthur Laughery and Mrs. Jacob Hatfield were Dover shoppers on Thursday.

Mrs. Allison Davis and Mrs. Jacob Hatfield spent Wednesday in Seaford.

Boating Laws in 2 States Reviewed by Club Speaker

Recent laws passed in Delaware and Maryland applicable to small boat owners were reviewed by Federalsburg Rotarians Monday night.

The laws were passed as the result of a federal law which states that all boats propelled by machinery must be assigned a number by either the Coast Guard or the states by June 1, 1960, and left the details to be worked out by the individual states.

R. Gerald Pearson of Greenwood, commander of the Indian River Power Squadron, said the Maryland law will be under the supervision of the Department of Tidewater Fisheries. It requires filing of an application with a $5 fee, effective for three years. Fines for non compliance can be no less than $5 and not more than $200.

The Delaware law includes a boat inspection not necessary under Maryland law. The inspection will take place at the motor vehicle inspection lanes. Delaware's fee is $2 renewable each year. Fines are from $25 to $200 and a possible ten-day jail sentence.

Mr. Pearson said that power squadrons, a national organization now with some 45,000 members, have opposed licensing of boats in any way until recently. However, so many persons are securing boats that safety must be assured by regulations, he said.

Mr. Pearson explained how the power squadrons, which have no direct affiliation with the government, offer free courses in piloting, navigation, and other aids to boating. At present the Indian River Power Squadron is conducting them in Seaford and Georgetown.

In the club's business session, Herbert Horton, president, named Everett Nuttle chairman of the 1960 on-to-convention committee.

Felton School News

Dr. Harry V. Holloway, retired State Superintendent of Public Instruction and chairman of the Delaware Bay Commission, was the guest speaker at the Felton High School assembly on December 7. He cited several famous historical figures from Felton and vicinity who had played an important role in the early history of Delaware and urged the students to cherish and preserve the privileges and freedoms which are guaranteed to citizens in the United States Constitution. The assembly commemorated the sacrifice of members of the armed forces who died at Pearl Harbor, the ratification of the Constitution by Delaware, and the 350th anniversary of the discovery of Delaware Bay by Henry Hudson.

The school band played the national anthem and appropriate marches. Joyce Kemp was the pianist for the singing of "Our Delaware." Music was under the direction of Ross Evans. Howard E. Henry, supervising principal introduced the guest speaker and also Dr. John Shilling, retired assistant superintendent of Public Instruction and a graduate of Felton High School in the class of 1900. Charles A. Hoff, high school principal, presided.

P.T.A. Meeting Report cards will be issued Fri., Dec. 11, and teachers will be in their classrooms at 7:30 p.m. on the following Monday for conferences with parents. These conferences precede the regular meeting of the Felton Parents Teachers Association.

Library Usage Grows A recent study shows that about seventeen per cent of the student body make use of library facilities daily for study and research. Probably sixty per cent of the students visit the library at least once a week. In addition, a daily turn-over of some twenty books is the average circulation. This is an increase of about two hundred per cent over the figures for the spring of 1959.

The board of directors voted to set up membership dues in two categories beginning in 1960. Regular membership will remain at $10 annually while the associate membership fee will be $25. A classification schedule will be set up to determine those who qualify as associate members.

Mr. Bissell set Jan. 12, 1960, as the date for the next meeting of the board of directors at Pompeii Restaurant, New Castle. He said that in order to more properly activate the Travel Council, the board will meet monthly hereafter in various locations throughout the state.

Profitable swine production methods were discussed by Dr. Shropshire and by Professor Ernest N. Scarborough, University of Delaware agricultural engineer. Dr. Shropshire demonstrated iron injection, ear notching and castration of baby pigs. Professor Scarborough discussed the latest trends in swine housing, including supplemental heat for baby pigs and minimizing the effects of hot weather in swine production.

Board Agrees on Method Of Handling Job Additions

The State Highway Commission and its chief engineer, Richard A. Haber, have arrived at a plan whereby each member of the commission will be fully informed of authorized additions to highway construction jobs just about as quickly as they develop.

From now on, it won't be the fault of Chief Engineer Haber if any member of the Highway Commission doesn't have all the statistical and financial details regarding authorized additions.

This has been a controversial point in the past several months, chiefly because of objections to overruns and extra work raised by L. Lee Layton of Dover in a series of letters to the News-Journal papers, and to members of the General Assembly.

In presenting his plan, which was approved by the Highway Commission, Mr. Haber said:

"It is expected that this procedure will clarify questions which might arise from time to time about the authority for authorized additions to contracts or for extensive overrun items."

It was also agreed that each member of the Highway Commission will get monthly reports on the status of all highway projects.

It was also agreed that monthly reports on the status of all highway projects will be made available to members of the Highway Commission.

These reports will give the expected final cost of a project as compared with the original contract price, the amount and type of specific authorized additions or over runs and in turn, refer to the work order request which authorized the additional work.

At Wednesday's meeting, the highway commissioners began to get the beginning of the expected avalanche of reports and statistics about some current projects.

It was also announced Wednesday that John E. Healy and Sons of Wilmington had been awarded the contract for the construction of the new Penny Hill State Police barracks at a basic cost of $225,969.

The attitude of certain members of the Highway Commission was not that they objected to the authorized additions or overruns but that they didn't know about them until the highway projects were completed and most of the bills for the projects paid.

Generally, an authorized addition is a new contract, approved by the chief engineer or his representatives, in connection with a highway project.

Here is the new procedure: "After the award of a contract, all authorized additions to the project will be made by the chief engineer or his authorized representative after the approval of the Highway Department, except that when, in the opinion of the chief engineer, the circumstance are of such emergency or other nature that it would be impractical or more expensive to delay action until formal department approval, the chief engineer or his authorized representative may authorize the contract addition, subject to subsequent approval of the Department at the next regular meeting."

RESEARCH

being undertaken by Dr. Pigford, department chairman, under the sponsorship of the Thokol Corporation of Elkton, Md. This study of high speed flow of reacting gases will focus particular attention upon the supersonic conditions in which chemical reactions probably have their greatest effect. While the anticipated findings should be of special value to the armed forces, general knowledge obtained will have applications beyond military use.

Dr. Shuster has received the support of three organizations for his project, "Studies of the Disease-Causing Organisms and Pathology of the Eastern American Oyster." Financial support for this work has been provided by the Department of the Interior, the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries. This project has special significance for one of Delaware's important industries, since its purpose is to gain fundamental information on the biology of a suspected parasite which, beginning in the spring of 1957 and continuing to the present, has caused a high mortality in most of the oyster beds in the Delaware Bay. Findings resulting from this research might do much to restore the local industry to its previously profitable state and also prevent the causative agent from spreading to uninfected Atlantic coast waters.

Three sponsors also have united to support the work of Professor Young, chairman of the department of electrical engineer-

SHD Prepares To Improve More Dirt Roads

With all of the dirt road improvement projects, for which contracts had been awarded during the previous fiscal year, the State Highway Department is now preparing to improve the number of miles of dirt roads for the present fiscal year, as required by law.

The Dirt Road Improvement Law, of 1955, directed the Highway Department to improve ten per cent of the existing dirt roads in each county during each fiscal year. This will require the improvement of about 162 miles of these roads each year, with 15 miles being in New Castle County, 52 miles in Kent County and 95 miles in Sussex County.

With the completion of the improvement of the dirt road project during the previous fiscal year the Highway Department has improved a total of 650 miles of these roads during the four years that the Dirt Road Improvement Law has been in existence.

When the dirt road improvement program was first started, four years ago, there were a total of 1,625.71 miles of dirt roads in the state highway system, of which 150.73 miles were in New Castle County, 523.3 miles in Kent County and 951.68 miles in Sussex County.

The completion of the allocated 162 miles of dirt road improvement during the present fiscal year will bring the total of dirt roads improved up to 812 miles at a total cost of $12,900,000.

This will bring the dirt road improvement program to the half-way point for the first five years of this improvement work and it will be on schedule for the ten years, indicated in the 1955 dirt road improvement law for the completion of the improvement of all dirt roads in the state highway system.

The present session of the Legislature has authorized the expenditures of $2,900,000 for dirt road improvements during the present fiscal year. Another allocation of funds will be required for continuing the program for the next fiscal year.

The funds available for the present fiscal year have been allocated on various projects in the several counties and these projects will be advertised for bids as rapidly as the engineering work on them is completed.

SCHOOL BOARD

Our present auditorium would be extended west to the new music department with a larger stage, dressing rooms, and scenery storage. Permanent seating would be placed facing the new stage. Present entrances could be used and new main entrance for the public, directly in front of the High School Lobby. A balcony would come as an alternate bid.

The various dances now being held in the auditorium would use the front half of the field house with its lobby, coat room, and toilet facilities. This would be more economical than heating the entire 1929 building and would be more accessible for parking off the street.

This would result in more maintenance for the floor in the field house, but again, we would be easing our high school facilities a greater part of the time.

The remaining classrooms could be refurnished to conform with the remodeled sections.

High School Annex

(1912) Building

With the removal of the four elementary grades, a special class and the music department, and High School English and the placing of Jr. High math and social studies, there would be five rooms available for use. One would be used for the remaining special class now in the basement.

Toilet facilities would be placed on each floor and heating and electrical systems improved.

One remaining classroom would be used as an additional part of the Commercial Dept. and one for the Art Dept.

This would leave two for growth.

The preceding study would provide classrooms and special facilities for an estimated 10 years. At that time much of our present indebtedness would be paid off and the question on an area high school may be answered.

A referendum asking the district to provide $320,000 as its share of an $800,000 building program is advisable at this time.

We welcome your suggestions at all times.

Voting Friday On Milk Order

A referendum on a federal milk order which would regulate the handling of milk produced for sale in the Upper Chesapeake Bay Marketing area will be held at Denton today.

Caroline County producers may cast their ballots between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. in the county agent's office. Approval of two-thirds of the producers who vote in the referendum is required before the order can become effective.

Any person who has not received a notice, but believes he is eligible to vote, may request a ballot at any polling place.

Three co-operative associations have notified the referendum agent that each will cast a ballot on behalf of its member producers: Capitol Milk Producers Association; Frederick; Inter-State

Milk Producers Cooperative, Philadelphia, and Maryland Co-operative Milk Producers, Baltimore.

Producers who are members of these associations should not cast individual ballots.

The order, if approved, would establish minimum prices to be paid by handlers to producers who supply milk distributed in the marketing area. This includes Baltimore city and these counties: Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Caroline, Carroll, Cecil, Dorchester, Harford, Howard, Kent, Queen Anne's, Somerset, Talbot, Wilcomico, and Worcester.
