St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Notes

The congregation at St. Stephen's is happy to know that the Honorable James T. McKinstry, son of the Rt. Rev. Arthur R. McKinstry, retired bishop, and Mrs. McKinstry, received the Everett H. Rinker Memorial Award at the luncheon sponsored by the Wilmington Junior Chamber of Commerce recently. Mr. McKinstry, a well-known attorney, was selected by the panel of judges as Wilmington's "Young Man of the Year." Before the Rev. John R. Symonds Jr. came to Harrington, members of St. Stephen's were grateful for the help of Mr. McKinstry, who served as lay reader a number of times, so that a service could be held each Sunday at the church on Fleming Street.

The following item from the youth news in the Diocesan magazine "Now", is of interest to the congregation at St. Stephen's:

"Following a communion service on St. Stephen's Day, the Episcopal Youth Group of St. Stephen's Church, Harrington, held a luncheon dance to which all Episcopal young people in Kent County were invited. It was a rousing success."

It is a pleasure to announce that Thomas E. Clendening has been elected senior warden of St. Stephen's for the coming year. The election took place at the February meeting of the vestry and was unanimous.

Guests from Smyrna, Milford, and Camden, joined the young people from St. Stephen's in a Kent County Convocational meeting, Feb. 21, at Harrington.

After eating refreshments, submarines, potato chips, cokes, etc., the young people held a short business meeting. Miss Barbara Hill of Milford presided. Other officers of the group are Miss Judy Fisk, of Camden, treasurer, and Miss Rosemary Lamb, of Smyrna, secretary.

The showing of a movie followed the business meeting. Young people of St. Stephen's conducted the service of evening prayer, when the whole convocation joined together in worship.

Miss Carol McNally, Miss Lois Keim, Billy McColley and Bill Thompson read portions of the service. Dennis Bradley, Bobby Eastman, Frank Fowler, and Bobby Greer were acolytes. St. Stephen's junior choir sang for the service, with Miss Anne Perry as organist and Mrs. Arthur Williams, choir director.

The next convocation meeting will be March 13, at Christ Church, Dover.

Mrs. Earl McColley and Miss Anne Perry were coffee hour hostesses Sunday, Feb. 21.

Flowers on the altar last Sunday were given to the glory of God and in loving memory of Wesley H. Price by Dr. and Mrs. Hewitt W. Smith.

Acolytes who served at the 11 o'clock service were Gary Porter, Charles McNally, Dennis Bradley, Franklin Fowler, Roy Porter.

The 74th observance of World Day of Prayer, which began in 1887, will be held on March 4, the first Friday in Lent. Thousands of Christians around the world will be united in a service of prayer and thanksgiving in sixty languages and 1000 dialects. Services will begin on the Tonga Islands, west of the International Date Line, where Queen Salote leads her subjects in prayer. Throughout the day observances will be held in 145 countries on six continents, ending with the setting sun on St. Lawrence Island, Alaska.

In this area of Delaware, the service will be held at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Harrington, 8 p.m.

The purpose of the day is to unite all Christians in a bond of prayer, to pray for all peoples of the world, and to make an offering for Christian missions at home and abroad.

Each year the service comes from a different country. The service for 1960, "Labourers Together with God," was prepared by the Women's Inter-Church Council of Canada.

In the United States, the day is sponsored by the General Department of United Church Women of the National Council of the Churches of Christ.

The offering will help to carry on a program of Christian hospitality in the U.S.A. for 30,000 students from other lands; to provide religious training in 11 government Indian schools and training for Indian leaders at Cook Christian Training School; to reach 100,000 migrant agricultural workers here in America with recreational, health, and religious service; to train Christian leaders for service to low-income farming communities.

Dancing from 8 to 11 p.m. Mrs. Murphy and Mr. and Mrs. Burton Satterfield will chaperone.

A bake will be held Saturday, Feb. 27, at 9:30 a.m. in front of Cahall's Clark Street Store.

The meeting was adjourned to meet next Monday evening, 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Murphy on Grant Street.

USDA Reports On Storage Costs

The direct cost to the Nation's commercial warehouses of storing grain ranges from about five cents to more than 21 cents a bushel, according to a preliminary report on a U. S. Department of Agriculture survey of grain storage costs received at the Kent Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office in Dover.

The survey was made in connection with plans for renegotiation of the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement, which contains the rates and other terms that govern the storage of price-support grain in commercial warehouses, under either Government loan or Government ownership.

Average direct storage costs, not including handling charges and indirect charges such as quality deterioration, shrinkage and return on capital investment, amount to 10.1 cents a bushel a year for country elevators, the survey shows. For terminal warehouses, it is 8.6 cents a bushel. The overall average for both types is 9.5 cents a bushel direct operating cost to the warehouse for a year.

The ASC office explained that detailed checks were made of 432 country and terminal warehouses. The sample was then extended to reflect all the commercial storage facilities in the country.

Percentage of occupancy, an important factor in per-bushel storage costs, was high during the period for which the cost survey was made. About 80 per cent of all the storage space the warehouses had available for storing grain for others (grain not owned by the warehouse itself) was occupied.

Commenting on the preliminary survey findings, Secretary of Agriculture Benson termed grain storage "one of our most complex operating problems."

"With grain stocks so large," he said, "farmers must have space to hold their grain for orderly marketing and to take advantage of price-support financing. The Department must have space to house its own surplus price-support stocks. Private industry must also be in position to store its holdings."

In a review of rates paid to commercial warehousemen for grain storage, the Department reports that rates were increased materially from 1940 to 1952. There was a moderate increase in 1954, but an adjustment in 1956 resulted in lowered costs to the Government for the great bulk of the grain storage.

The Department also reports that the capacity of storage bins owned by the Government has nearly doubled since 1952, reaching a total of almost a billion bushels, and that millions of bushels of new on-farm storage facilities have been built in recent years with the aid of Government loans—both for buying or building bins and for adding the necessary conditioning equipment.

Pushbutton Chair Needed

An easy way to solve the overweight problem might be pushbutton chairs at the dining room table, suggests Miss Janet Coblenz, University of Delaware Extension nutrition specialist.

Of course Mom would have to push the button to move Dad away from the calories and Dad would likewise have to provide the will power for Mom.

That old joke about the best reducing exercise being an early push away from the table is more true than funny. It was only funny to thin people anyhow, Miss Coblenz said.

Automatic machinery is taking all the exercise out of modern living while people may be eating as much as they did before all the work-saving gadgets came along.

A few extra pounds improve your chances for circulatory difficulties, heart disease, diabetes, kidney disorders and other diseases, the specialist said.

Every house should have a bathroom scale. We should be "weight conscious" and try to avoid becoming overweight. Even gaining as little as a pound a year will add up eventually to overweight and its complications.

Some foods provide only calories, and little if any valuable protein, minerals and vitamins. It is these foods with "empty calories" that we can cut down on, or cut out of our diets. These include rich sweet desserts and pastries, gravies, many fried foods, some cereal products with little food value, and the like.

If you want to lose weight or maintain the ideal weight, then count the calories in your foods as well as the vitamin and mineral content.

For information on how to lose pounds or maintain normal weight contact your County Home Demonstration Agent.

New Agricultural Economist at Univ. of Del.

Dr. Russell L. Childress has recently been appointed Research professor in Agricultural Economics at the University of Delaware, according to an announcement by Dr. William E. McDaniel, chairman of the department of agricultural economics.

Dr. Childress earned his Ph. D. degree from Cornell University in 1950. The following two years he was associate professor of food marketing at the University of Maryland. Since 1953 he has been with the Federal Extension Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. He has given leadership to the training and development of specialists in the State Land Grant Colleges and Universities conducting educational services with food brokers.

Dr. Childress is a native of Amherst, Va. He obtained his B. S. degree in agriculture and M.S. degree at Virginia Polytechnic Institute. He is a member of Phi Kappa Phi, American Marketing Association and the American Farm Economics Association. He has been very active in the Parent-Teachers Association and holds the rank of Lt. Colonel in the Army Reserve.

He and his wife Marybel have three children, Russell L., 17; Stephen F., 13, and Nancy F., 5.

The Greenwood W.C.T.U. will hold a bake for the benefit of their organization Sat., March 5, beginning at 10 o'clock in the Fire Hall.

Plans are getting under way in the Greenwood Lions Club for sponsoring the annual beauty contest to select Miss Greenwood and little Miss Greenwood. The winners will participate in the Delmarva Chicken Festival as they have in former years.

Mrs. Emmett Whitmore and Mrs. Lawrence Wilson, representing the Ever-Welcome Sunday School Class, called on Jacob Hatfield bringing him a lovely box of fruit. This was very much appreciated and enjoyed by "Jake" who has been very ill with the flu.

Mrs. Alice McIlvaine is chairman for the Red Cross campaign in the Greenwood area and also representative for the Red Cross. Her number is FI 9-4621. Call this number if you know of any need.

DHIA Meeting To Be At Viola

The annual dinner meeting of the Kent County Dairy Herd Improvement Assoc. will be held on Wed., March 2, says Joseph P. Moore of Dover, the president. About 100 members and guests will sit down for dinner at 7 p.m. in the Viola Community Hall, he says.

Kent county farmers continue to be competitive in the dairy business with farmers in other areas. Herd records indicate growth in herd size, production levels, and management efficiency. The details are to be reported at the meeting by Dr. W. R. Hesselstine, extension dairyman at the University of Delaware.

The terms of four directors will expire and the following slate has been presented by the nominating committee: Arthur Short of Smyrna vs. Joseph Moore of Dover; Jack Webb Jr. of Goldsboro vs. Delbert Cain of Harrington; William Eliason of Laws Church vs. Van Keator of Harrington; Louis Wright of Willow Grove vs. Albert Wright of Hazletville.

The holdover directors are: Robert Mason of Harrington, Samuel Dixon of Kenton and Charles Blendt of Smyrna.

Local 4-H Farm youth will present several musical selections at the meeting.

"CORVAIR HANDLES BETTER, STEERS MORE EASILY, RESPONDS MUCH MORE QUICKLY AND HOLDS THE ROAD MORE SECURELY THAN ANY STOCK FOUR-DOOR SEDAN EVER MADE IN THE U.S."

—Jim Whipple, Car Life

If you think we're enthusiastic about Corvair, leaf through the leading automotive, sports and science magazines and see what the experts are saying. Then, by all means, drive one yourself.

"Corvair's steering is so light that at parking speeds it feels power assisted; it is so precise as to be absolutely without play, and it is fast enough to allow complete control over every situation."
—Karl Ludvigsen, Sports Cars Illustrated

"So far as shopping goes, the Corvair is a housewife's dream. It's small and easily maneuvered without any power steering, and so easily parked . . . it's a lot easier to unload a cart full of groceries into a front trunk at the supermarket than it is into a rear one."
—Rosemary Francis, Popular Science

"There is none of the typical whine normally associated with rear-engined vehicles. Inside the car, the effect is quite unlike anything we have ever experienced. It almost seems that there is no engine, and the general effect is so quiet as to be almost uncanny."
—John R. Bond, Road & Track

"Steers like a feather and is extremely quick. . . This is a beautifully designed automobile, engineered by real pros. . ."
—Tom McCall, Mechanix Illustrated

"Most surprising thing to me outside of the excellent handling characteristics was the feeling of roominess inside. . . I didn't have the sensation of driving a small car and the headroom was greater

"I want to state as firmly as I can that the Corvair handles as beautifully and is as safe as—if not safer than—any family car on the road today."
—Jim Whipple, Car Life

A CONSOLIDATED HIGH SCHOOL MEANS JET-PROPELLED EDUCATION

After meetings, at which the establishment of a consolidated high school for Harrington, Felton, and Frederica was approved, it appears jet-propelled education may reach this general area.

Furthermore, it appears Houston is also interested in the project. After all, a comprehensive academic and vocational high school would be centrally located for all four communities and no one community would be favored as to location.

The new high-school district would be superimposed upon the local school districts and be administered by a joint high-school district board.

Education must keep step with guided missiles and combat the intercepting ones. In general, the advantages of the consolidated school, in lower Kent County, are numerous. They are: 1. To secure a more comprehensive program of education for the children of this area at the lowest possible cost. 2. To include the more common vocational courses, in addition to the academic courses. 3. To save Harrington and Felton school districts taxing up to the legal limit to build at home.

If the State supports the vocational program 100 per cent, the tax increase will be only 33 cents on real estate or 16 cents on real estate and $5 on the capitation tax.

The need for a consolidated high school which, eventually will handle grades 7 to 12, stems from: (1) a program of instruction presently limited as to scope and quality; (2) an overly high per-pupil cost of instruction; (3) a limited ability to acquire more good educational leaders; (4) lack of efficiency in school administration, including health services, guidance, and supervision.

Some additional advantages are as follows: (1) a reduction in per-pupil cost relative to the extent of instructional services rendered; (2) ability to acquire better teachers; (3) more extensive and intensive instructional programs for every pupil; (4) greater educational achievement; (5) increased school attendance and greater holding power on pupils; (6) better age-grade distribution; (7) greater efficiency and economy in administration; (8) an evening vocational program for out-of-school adults.

H.H.S. Coach At Henlopen League Meeting

Dick Jeffers, physical education instructor at Harrington High School, attended a Henlopen Conference scheduling session at Bridgeville High School on Wednesday. The assembled coaches approved schedules for boys football, baseball, basketball and track in addition to girls softball and basketball for 1960-61.

Track and field is comparatively new in the league. Last year the Harrington track was the scene of the first Henlopen Conference track and field championships. Seven out of 11 loop schools were represented. The local school had too much experience for the others and thus were easy winners.

Jeffers, a former state champion hurdler, presented a plan at Bridgeville that met with approval. Since Harrington is the only circuit school with an adequate track it is assumed that the title meet will again be held here. The local coach suggested that the other conference members compete against each other on the H.H.S. field so that by championship time they would have more experience in the thin clad sport and be more familiar with the local oval. This should result in a much closer contested meet.

Biddy Basketball Bits

Games played in the Biddy Basketball League the last two weeks saw the pacesetter Globetrotters hold on to first place. However, their margin was reduced to one game as they were beaten by the second place Celtics.

Jim O'Neal's Eagles won two out of three games to move out of the cellar. Ted Layton's Hawks also won two of three contests.

Feb. 13: Eagles 22-Falcons 16; Celtics 20-Globetrotters 13; Hawks 26-Eagles 12; Warriors 10-Falcons 9.

Feb. 20: Celtics 23-Hawks 12; Globetrotters 15-Falcons 11; Eagles 13-Warriors 9; Hawks 24-Falcons 10.

Table with 2 columns: Team Name, Score. Includes Globetrotters (7-2), Celtics (6-3), Warriors (5-4), Hawks (5-5), Eagles (3-6), Falcons (2-8).

St. Bernadette's Church Notes

There will be a choir rehearsal Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock for the Junior Choir.

Mass Sunday morning will begin at 9:30. Confessions will be heard before Mass. An Oblate from Wilmington is expected for confessions and Mass.

Religious instruction classes for high school students will be held Sunday evening at 7 o'clock at the parish hall.

A rehearsal for the Senior Choir will also be held at 7 o'clock at the church. Another discussion meeting will be held at 8 o'clock.

On Monday evening beginning at 8 o'clock Father Corrigan will continue Catechism classes for adults.

Catechism classes for the younger children of the parish will be held Tuesday afternoon at 3:45. Children eligible for Confirmation will receive the necessary instructions to receive this Sacrament worthily. The Bishop is expected for Confirmation in St. John's in Milford on May 15. At this time, those of St. Bernadette's who are to be confirmed, will join those of St. John's in Milford.

Wednesday, being Ash Wednesday, marks the beginning of the liturgical season of Lent. On this day the priest blesses the ashes with special prayers, sprinkles them with Holy Water and incenses them. He puts them on the forehead of the faithful with the words: "Remember man, that you are dust, and unto dust you shall return."

Ashes will be blessed before the 7 o'clock Mass Wednesday morning at St. John's. There in the evening at 7:30 Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament will follow the Stations of the Cross. Ashes will be distributed after Benediction.

At St. Bernadette's, ashes will be distributed at 4 o'clock in the afternoon with no other devotion.

On Thursday evening the Stations of the Cross will be held here at 8 o'clock.

On Sunday afternoon a group of youths from St. Bernadette's and St. John's, accompanied by Father Corrigan attended a Youth Rally at Our Lady of Lourdes parish in Seaford. The pastor of this parish is the Rev. Charles J. McGinley. It was an affair of the C.Y.O. which was attended by over 250 youths from surrounding parishes. The group was divided into about ten discussion groups. After the discussions were completed, the panel leader of each group presented a summary of the results of his group. This was quite interesting and beneficial to all.

Next at the church, the Rev. John Cemin led the group in reciting the rosary. Benediction followed.

A buffet luncheon was then served in the hall. The Rev. Alex Gorski, newly appointed director of the C.L.O., spoke to the group and congratulated everyone on the good attendance of the affair.

Also speaking was William Kapa, Diocesan Program Director. The day was completed with dancing enjoyed to the music of the Rhythmettes of Salisbury.

The parishes represented were, St. Bernadette's, St. John's, of Milford, Holy Cross of Dover, St. Elizabeth's of Denton, St. Benedict's of Ridgely, Sacred Heart of Chestertown, Immaculate Conception of Marydel, St. Peter and Paul of Easton, St. Edmund's of Rehoboth, St. Michael the Archangel of Georgetown, St. Francis De Sales of Salisbury, and the Shrine of St. Jude, Lewes.

Second Annual Music Festival At Univ. of Del.

The announcement is being made of the second annual music festival to be held on the campus of the University of Delaware, Sat., April 9, beginning at 9 a.m. This festival began as a joint project of the Delaware State Federation of Women's Clubs and the University Music and Extension Departments. This year the Delaware Music Educators Association is adding its sponsorship to the event. This second festival will have another new feature in that small vocal and instrumental ensembles will be heard in addition to vocalists, instrumentalists and pianists. Teachers in public, private, and parochial schools, as well as those with private studios, on the Delmarva Peninsula are cordially invited to enter their students. Parents who are interested in having their youngsters have the advantage of being heard by an expert in his or her field, with written comments sent to the teacher to provide further incentive for study, should see that they are enrolled through their music teacher, a member of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, or by writing directly to the extension office of the University of Delaware for an entry blank.

The steering committee who have been working on arrangements for this day when over two hundred young people from all of Delaware and adjoining communities will hear each other sing and play are - from the Delaware State Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. William J. Storey, president of Dover, and Mrs. E. Frank Melson, Jr., State chairman of music, of Claymont; from the University, Dr. Gordon C. Godbey, director of extension in Newark, and Professor Anthony J. Loudis, chairman of the music department in Newark, and from the Delaware Music Educators Association. Mr. Floyd C. Hart, state director of music in the State Department of Public Instruction in Dover, and Edwin F. Eleghart, president of the DMEA, of Dover.

Entries are being received by the University Extension Office and will be closed early in March or when capacity is reached. Students are urged to obtain entry blanks and send them in immediately. A fee of $1 for soloists and $3 for ensembles helps pay expenses of the festival. Lunch reservation at $1 must be received with the entry blank. Parents, teachers and students are urged to come and spend the day. Certificates of award will again be presented by the University to those outstanding students in each of the fields. Teachers should encourage students of intermediate and advanced ability, rather than beginners to register. The goals for the festival are: to bring about a closer understanding and relationship between the school music and private music teachers; to give encouragement through a school activity to all students who are seriously studying an instrument, piano or voice; and to offer parents, music teachers and students a means of judging the standards, progress and ability of the student or ensemble in relation to other young people representing a cross section of the youth of the Peninsula.

The following eminent artists, each an expert in his own field, who will comment on the performances are: Paul E. Carson, instrumental, of State Teachers College, West Chester, Pa.; Jonathan Elkus, instrumental, of Lehigh University at Bethlehem, Pa.; Julio Esteban, piano, of Peabody Conservatory, Baltimore, Md.; Professor Barry Brinsmaid, piano, of Penn State College, University Park, Pa. and Dr. Ivan Trusler, voice, of the University of Delaware in Newark.

FFA Display Contest

The Smyrna Future Farmers of America Chapter won first place in the Delaware FFA Exhibit Contest held during the University of Delaware's recent Farm and Home Week at Agricultural Hall, Newark.

The Delaware Crop Improvement Association sponsored the contest and provided cash awards.

The Smyrna Chapter won first place with an exhibit showing the value of good pasture.

Conrad Chapter's entry on irrigation in Delaware took second place.

The John M. Clayton Chapter received third prize for its display describing recommendations for growing soybeans in Delaware.

The Selbyville Chapter placed fourth with an exhibit which told the best methods of growing corn.

Judges for the contest were Frank B. Springer and C. David Kessler of the Agronomy Department, University of Delaware.

Feb. 20-27 Is FFA Week

This week, Feb. 20-27, is National Future Farmers of America Week, according to W. Lyle Mowlds, State Director of Agricultural Education.

This is the 32nd anniversary of the national FFA organization.

About 650 Delaware high school students are participating in the vocational agriculture program which is divided into four phases.

The first phase of the program is systematic instruction in scientific agriculture. Classes are taught by college graduates in agricultural education.

The second phase of the program emphasizes skills in farm mechanics.

In the third phase, each student conducts a farming program. Here the student can put into practice the farming knowledge gained in the classroom.

Membership in the local FFA Chapter is the fourth phase. There are 20 local chapters in Delaware. Mr. Mowlds said.

As a member of an FFA chapter, a student learns to take part in meetings, follow parliamentary procedure, speak in public and cooperate with fellow students. Also, members take part in judging and tractor driving contests and attend youth leadership training conferences.

Students may keep their membership in the local chapter for three years following their graduation from high school or until they are 21 years of age.

Each FFA chapter sends delegates to the state convention. The delegates select representatives to co-ordinate the Delaware FFA Association.

There are more than 380,000 active members in the national FFA organization. About 9000 chapters are active in the United States.

Mr. Mowlds said that the vocational agriculture program forms an integral part in the overall high school curriculum. The instructional program is designed to fit the needs of both the student interested in agriculture and the local community.

Swine Equipment Plans Available

Plans for just about any kind of construction a hog producer might want to build is now available in a publication from the department of agricultural engineering at the University of Delaware.

George Vapaa, Kent County agricultural agent, says the book has all the plans necessary to build such structures as creep feeders, troughs, sun shades, crates, loading chutes, all kinds of gates, pig brooders, and concrete pavements.

There is even a plan for a roasterie to do the final job, Mr. Vapaa said.

The book is 56 pages long and there are designs for 57 items in the publication.

It costs one dollar and can be ordered from Box A. E., Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, Newark, Del.

Three Delmarva Youths Attend K. C. Meeting

Three young men from Delmarva recently returned from the seventh annual Junior Poultry and Egg Fact Finding Conference in Kansas City, Mo., where they were part of a group of 75 delegates from 24 states.

The two Delaware youths were Frederick Wiebel, Hartly and Wayne L. Currey, Wyoming, Michael Umstead, from Dickerson, was the Maryland representative.

All three young men are broiler growers.

Currey is an FFA member and has won awards in the state poultry judging contests.

Wiebel is a 4-H Club member and has been a member of the State Poultry judging team.

Umstead has been in the 4-H Club work eight years. He was a member of the State Judging team in 1957.

The young people attending the conference, participated in demonstrations, discussion groups and heard experts in the poultry business. The conference is held in conjunction with the Institute of American Poultry Industries' Fact Finding Conference. The delegates are co-sponsored by the IAPI, the Agricultural Extension Service, the Vocational Agriculture Board of the Office of Education and the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work.

Raymond W. Lloyd, extension poultryman with the University of Delaware, accompanied the Delmarva delegates on the trip.

Q—Mostly when you hear about veterans, it's about men. Aren't women veterans also eligible for the benefits VA administrators?

A—Yes. Women veterans are eligible for the same benefits and under the same conditions as men. There is no differentiation as to eligibility in the law.

Q—Is a "peacetime" veteran

Veterans News

Delaware veterans, or widows and orphans of veterans, whose previous pension claims have been disallowed because of excessive income may be eligible under the new law, Leon Fields, manager of the Wilmington Regional Office said.

The present law requires that a veteran if otherwise eligible may receive a pension only if his income does not exceed $1400 if he has no dependents or $2700 if he is married or has a minor child.

The new pension law, which becomes effective July 1, 1960, increased this maximum to $1800 if no dependents and $3000 with dependents and established a sliding, or graduated scale for various income levels below these limits, he said.

Similarly higher income limitations will be provided by the new law in the case of widows who may earn up to $1800 if childless or up to $300 if they have dependent children. If there are children but no widow, the child's income can reach $1800 annually, not including his own earnings and he will still be eligible for pension.

Full details of income and other eligibility requirements as well as assistance in reopening claims may be obtained at any VA office.

A public meeting in Wilmington at the P. S. duPont High School Thurs., Feb. 18 was scheduled to discuss the new Veterans Pension Law.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—We have a neighbor, a widow of a World War II veteran, who formerly was not eligible for pension. She will be, under the new pension law. We'd like to help her. What points in the new law should we emphasize to her?

A—To qualify for pension, widows and orphans of World War II and Korea veterans formerly were required to show that the veteran at time of death had some service-connected disability. This is not necessary, under the new law which becomes effective July 1. To be eligible, your neighbor need only show that her veteran husband was in active service 90 days or more and was discharged under other than dishonorable conditions, and that her income does not exceed legal limits.

Q—Mostly when you hear about veterans, it's about men. Aren't women veterans also eligible for the benefits VA administrators?

A—Yes. Women veterans are eligible for the same benefits and under the same conditions as men. There is no differentiation as to eligibility in the law.

Q—Is a "peacetime" veteran

Distribution of Telephone Directories Starts Friday

Distribution of new telephone directories will start here tomorrow and is expected to be completed by March 5, it was announced Thursday by Theodore W. Collins, local manager of the Diamond State Telephone Company.

Approximately 25,700 copies of the new book will be delivered in this area by a special force of men, Collins said. This is an increase of about 3,000 copies over last year's distribution.

The gray-covered book contains approximately 54,000 alphabetical listings, an increase of 2,800 over last year.

Medical Society Meets In Milford

Doctor and Mrs. Leslie M. Dobson and Mrs. Corrinne Fooks entertained the Sussex County Medical auxiliary and the physicians of the society on Thursday evening, Feb. 11, at the Dobson home on Clark Avenue, Milford.

The meeting of the auxiliary was called to order by the president, Mrs. Dobson, and the minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Fooks. Mrs. C. Aubrey Smoot Jr., gave a report on the treasury.

It has definitely been decided that the State Convention will be held in Rehoboth this fall. Plans will now be completed for the Auxiliary's responsibility concerning the affair.

The chairman of legislation, Mrs. Lawrence Fitchett, reported the facts concerning the care of the aged program were not compiled as yet, due to the lack of information from all towns. Seaford has 22 beds accommodating the aged and they are always full. Georgetown has no nursing homes and Milford has three.

Members and friends have made donations on a beautiful electric clock which we will award to some fortunate donor in the near future.

Mrs. Al Devenis sold Delaware Seals to help booster our donation to the American Medical Education Foundation.

Following the adjournment of the meeting, the host and hostesses provided refreshments and an enjoyable social hour.

Felton Gets $7,926 Federal School Aid

The U. S. Office of Education informed Senator J. Allen Frear, Jr. (D-Del.) it has sent a check for $7,926 to the Felton School District 54 to help defray expenses of educating federally affected students.

The funds were part of a fiscal 1960 tentative entitlement of $10,568.64, which the school district can get from Uncle Sam.

Under present law, the government pays the maintenance and operation costs of educating children of servicemen or defense workers overcrowding a local school district.

Caesar Rodney School News

The Caesar Rodney Special School District has the largest enrollment of any district in Kent or Sussex County according to the State Enrollment report prepared by Dr. John G. Parres, director of research and publications.

The district total of 3163 students exceeds the Dover District by 353. This is the first time that the Caesar Rodney enrollment has been greater than that of Dover.

Only four districts outside of Wilmington exceed the Caesar Rodney total: Newark, Mt. Pleasant, New Castle, and Alfred I. duPont.

According to high school principals Everett L. Farr and Richard W. MacFaddin the high school enrollment next September will exceed 1000 students.

With the increasing Caesar Rodney enrollment local school authorities have difficulty in following the logic of the State Board of Education in withholding approval of funds for needed high school renovations while approving the same for Dover.

Neither is it clear how Caesar Rodney can be too small to be effective while a proposed Felton, Frederica, Harrington merger with less than half as many high school students carries enthusiastic State Board approval.

Spring Sports The Caesar Rodney Board of Education recently appointed four staff members to head the Spring Sports Program of the school.

Appointed to the track coaching staff are Thomas Shaffer of the social studies department and William Bias, teacher of the sixth grade. Both Mr. Shaffer and Mr. Bias bring experience with them for this additional assignment and look forward to a successful season with the returning lettermen and newcomers to Caesar Rodney.

Heading up the baseball team for the coming year will be Carmen Cella, football and basketball coach, and William Apache, of the English Department. Because only four lettermen are returning most positions on the team will be open to young and inexperienced players.

All coaches are eagerly awaiting the opening of the season and look forward to a successful victorious season.

Artificial Breeding Of Cattle Grows In Delaware

Co-operative members meeting last Friday at Dover selected Maurice Blessing of Houston, Phillip Pierson of Hockessin, Wallison Davis of Greenwood and Timothy Sehlbach of Greenwood as delegates to the general convention of the Southeastern Pennsylvania Artificial Breeders Cooperative.

Almost 20% of the cows in Delaware were bred by the cooperative in 1959 reported Willis Ritchey, the Dover Office manager. Six hundred and forty farmer members bred 7356 cows in Delaware in 1959. This represents an increase of 25% over the previous year, he said.

Each breed of dairy cattle is represented with a sire reporting committee for the cooperative. Committee members from the Delaware district are: L. Robbins Webb of Milford for Ayrshires, Walter E. Holt of Dover for Brown Swiss, Daniel Harris of Newark for Guernseys, Samuel Dixon Jr. of Clayton for Holsteins, and A. Bailey Thomas of Camden for Jerseys.

Mr. Ritchey listed several points of management which farmers should observe in the dairy breeding program: (1) The cow should be bred about 60 days after she freshens, and for this purpose it helps to keep records of bedding and freshening dates. (2) Cows should be turned out in both the morning and evening in order to notice heat periods. Dairy animals are not as sensitive to cold weather as humans, and are probably better off with the additional exercise. (3) Cows in heat should be reported as early as possible.

Five Men Interviewed by Gov's. Committee

Five men were recently interviewed by the Employers Advisory committee of the Governor's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped and were found to be employable in limited circumstances, according to James H. Sears, chairman.

Mr. Sears said that he hopes opportunities will arise for each of the men since he feels they are able to compete in the labor market and can become more self sustaining.

The first candidate was 33 years old; has three dependents. His left hand is amputated at the wrist, but he wears a prothesis. He has had considerable experience as a janitor and has no difficulty with this type of work. He would like employment either in that field or as an elevator operator.

A 40-year-old man with one dependent, who is a high school graduate and suffers from a slight paralysis of the left side and is diabetic would like employment as such as bench assembly, inspection or similar work. He is able to drive a car.

Another 53-year-old man with two dependents who has a heart condition, seeks some light sedentary work. He has a good record of employment, having served 15 years on his last job. He was laid off because of his inability to do heavy lifting.

A 32-year-old male high school graduate with arrested tuberculosis has done stamping in a metal castings foundry is willing to do light work where no wet, damp or dusty conditions exist.

The fifth interviewee was a 60-year-old male veteran, with a heart condition who has many years of experience in gardening. He has worked on private estates and would still like to follow that line of employment. However, he can no longer do heavy work.

Mr. Sears said that all of those interviewed have definite possibilities and could be of great help to employers if properly placed.

15-Acre Wheat Exemption Explained

Several factors affecting wheat producers who have wheat allotments of less than 15 acres for 1960 were called to the attention of farmers today by R. Harry Wilson, chairman of the Kent Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee at Dover.

The law that authorizes marketing quotas provides that in commercial wheat producing States as much as 15 acres of wheat may be produced on any farm without being subject to marketing quota penalties. This provision applies to farms with no wheat allotments as well as to farms with wheat acreage allotments of less than 15 acres.

However, wheat on such farms is subject to marketing quota penalties when more than 15 acres of wheat is produced. When the 15-acre limitation is exceeded, the excess bushelage of wheat is determined by multiplying the normal yield for the farm by the number of acres of wheat above the farm allotment.

Mr. Wilson cited the following as an example: A farmer with a wheat allotment of 21 acres for 1960 produces 20 acres of wheat. The difference between the allotment and wheat acreage produced—8 acres—would be considered excess acres. The eight acres excess would be used in determining the amount of wheat subject to the marketing quota penalty. However, if the acreage over 15 is disposed of, the wheat would not be subject to marketing quotas.

Farmers who have applied for the feed wheat provision under which they may produce as much as thirty acres of wheat for use on the farm are not subject to marketing quota penalties unless they produce more than thirty acres.

The deadline for adjusting wheat acreage into compliance with the farm wheat allotment is May 31, 1960 in Kent County.

Delaware Food Market Report

Things are looking better at the fresh produce counters this week. Florida is recovering from the freeze and Mexico is doing a good job in helping to supply the market with vine ripened tomatoes, snap beans, cucumbers, green peppers, squash, egg plant and even corn on the cob. In another three or four days, the volume of fresh vegetables should be a great deal heavier.

The over all price picture this week for fresh vegetables is a bit lower than it has been. Snap beans, tomatoes, cucumbers, broccoli, cauliflower and spinach are all down a little. The only price increase among vegetables is a penny increase on dried onions.

Heavy shipments of bananas continue to arrive in this area. Stores will again feature this fruit this weekend. The quality is excellent and sale prices average 10 cents a pound.

Signs of spring continue to appear at most local markets. More strawberries are here and the quality has improved greatly, however the price is still high. South America is supplying us with excellent quality honeydew melons. The average price for this fruit is 69c each. Plums are more plentiful and are averaging 69c a pound. In a number of markets you will find the big "sugar loaf" pineapples selling for 69c each and nectarines also are on sale.

These "spring fruits" do offer a change but the "best buy" is still the citrus fruits. Grapefruit are good to excellent in quality and are very reasonably priced. Oranges have advanced a bit in price but are still good buys at 39c to 45c a dozen.

Pork prices are back up this week. Pork loin roasts are up on the average of 6 cents a pound, center cut chops returned to 84c a pound and fresh pork shoulders are up to 39c a pound. Chickens are staying steady in price but egg prices are up. Grade A large eggs are up two cents a dozen. Grade A medium are also up a penny or two.

Beef and lamb are the feature items this week in many stores. Steaks continue to be a good buy at 75c a pound. Beef roast are also more reasonable. All cuts of lamb are offered at lower prices. Be sure to check leg-of-lamb, stewing lamb and loin chops for good buys.

Wool Marketing Year Ends In March

Chairman R. Harry Wilson of the Kent Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee Thursday reminded wool growers that the marketing year for purpose of the 1959 wool program will end March 31.

The wool program is conducted under the National Wool Act of 1954. Payments under the 1959 program will be made this summer when payment rates are determined on the basis of the national average price received by producers for shorn wool during the 1959 marketing year.

For a completed sale, Mr. Wilson said, title must have passed to the buyer, the wool must have been delivered to the buyer (either physically or through documents), and the last of the factors (price per pound, weight, yield, etc.) needed to determine the total purchase price must be available. If any condition concerning the sale is not settled by March 31, the sale will not be considered as complete.

Applications for payments under the 1959 program must be filed with the county ASC office not later than April 30, 1960.

On the upstate court Tuesday night Jim Temple regained his shooting eye with a vengeance as he poured 38 points through the nets to set a new Harrington High School record for one game.

The Lions won out in overtime 67-60 after regulation play ended with the score tied at 60 all.

Walt Lekites was unable to play because of an injury which put an even larger share of the rebounding chores on the broad shoulders of Ron Collison.

The Cavaliers are much stronger at present than earlier in the season due to the return to action of two regulars, who had spent most of the season on the sidelines.

George Collins, George Pfeiffer, Jim McDonald, Ken Konesey and Ken Hoffman were singled out by Coach Jeffers for fine play although none of these dented the scoring column.

Harrington has four more games to play and must win only one of these to put the lid on a winning season.

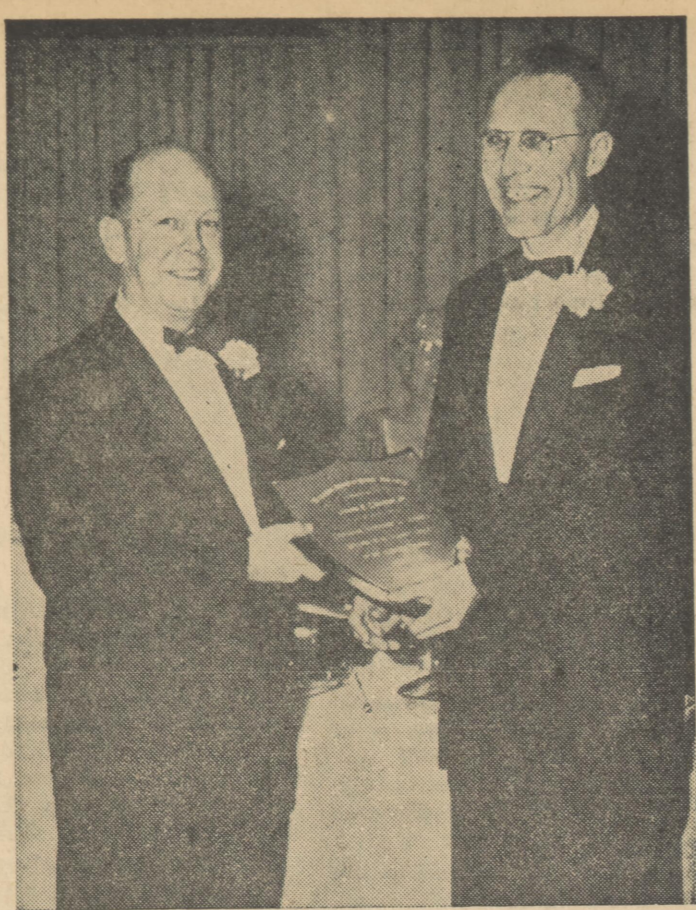

Tuesday night, John M. Clayton will be met on the H.H.S. court in the locals' home finale.

so he knows just how much money has been spent at any one time.

He in turn made reference to what he termed the "special accounts" some state agencies have for money collected by the agencies or from federal grants which he said are often used to try and get more money from the General Assembly.

"I believe all funds collected by these agencies should go to the general fund and be doled out from there," Senator Hoey snapped.

Senator duPont noted that "sooner or later we're going to come to the end of this happy honeymoon, and I think it would be in order for the Finance Committee to make a statement so that we know just where we stand."

He further commented that "the Governor is too polite to say 'I told you so' but that's just what he could say. We remember those votes of certain line items for a particular large state agency (the highway department) which were overridden by the majority party."

Senator Hoey commented that the Finance Committee has provided that some agency heads "have hired paid propagandists to try to scare us into giving more money. They cut people down or cut 'em off the rolls entirely to make us think they need more money."

Senator duPont made a cutting remark about statements from the Highway Department last summer about "turning off all the lights in the state if we didn't give them all the money they wanted. If that's not lobbying I don't know what is."

MARTIN B. MCKNEALLY National Commander The American Legion

Legion to Note 41st Anniversary

During the month of March the American Legion with its over 17,000 community posts - aided by 14,000 auxiliary units - will celebrate its 41st Birthday from coast to coast.

Now composed of veterans of the Twentieth Century's three wars with nearly 3,000,000 members, the American Legion continues to flourish and to make its influence felt in vital matters that affect the national welfare.

The American Legion's ideal of mutual helpfulness is all-inclusive. It includes needy children, widows and orphans, hospitalized veterans, youth activities and in fact all who are in need of a helping hand.

The Department of Delaware, according to an announcement by Commander Edward A. Magill, will observe the Legion's 41st Anniversary with a dinner and dance in the New Century Club, 1014 Delaware Avenue, Wilmington on Friday evening, March 11, at 7 o'clock.

Delaware Post No. 1 will be the host for the occasion. Tickets are now on sale throughout the local Post Commanders at $3.25 per person.

By special department request the National Commander of the American Legion, Martin B. McKneally, will be the speaker at the banquet. Governor J. Caleb Boggs, U. S. Senator J. Allen Frear, Jr., U. S. Representative Harris B. McDowell, Jr., and Mayor Eugene Lamont will be among the distinguished guests.

Fire Readiness Urged; Are You Ready?

What would you do if fire struck your home or apartment tonight?

What escape route would you take? Suppose it was blocked—what then?

These are questions people rarely think to ask themselves, according to the Delaware Safety Council.

"Yet, your life and the life of your loved ones may well depend on how you have prepared—in advance—for fire. Ignorance and panic have cost thousands of lives in home fires," according to J. James Ashton, manager of the Safety Council.

In case of a fire in your home, the Council manager said, you should know:

- 1. What escape route you will use. 2. Who will help small children, oldsters or invalids. 3. How to notify the fire department or volunteer fire company. And when. (Get everyone out of the burning building first—then phone firemen.) 4. What you should do if someone's clothing catches on fire. (Use water if it's handy, or smother the flames by rolling up in a coat, rag or blanket. Don't run—that only fans the flames. "But best of all," Mr. Ashton emphasized, "prevent fires before they get a chance to start." He suggested every Delawarean check his home for such hazards as:

- 1. Oily cleaning rags and paint rags. 2. Rubbish in the attic, basement, garage. 3. Fireplaces, chimneys, flues, furnaces that are dirty and in need of repair. And he said other fire hazards to be beware of are: 1. Smoking in bed. 2. Leaving matches within the reach of children. 3. Burning trash and refuse in the open, instead of in a suitable incinerator.
