

R. H. STAFFORD JR. ENDORSED BY DEM. FOR STATE SENATOR

Robert H. Stafford Jr., Burrsville, was unanimously endorsed, as candidate for senator in the Fourth Senatorial District, in the general elections in the fall, Monday night at an open meeting of 30 interested persons and the Ninth District Democratic Committee.

The decision was made after Walter J. Paskey Jr., committeeman of the Second Election District, of the Ninth, had informed the committee his election district had not had a senator in 40 years or, in other words, since the late Charles D. Murphy held the post.

The Fourth Senatorial District comprises the Ninth and Sixth Representative Districts.

At the Monday night meeting, several candidates for senator, mentioned heretofore, were considered. With the present senator, Peter Nechay, coming from the Sixth District, the candidacy falls this year, by rotation, to the Ninth District.

The rotation system is a practice followed by the Democrats in the Second Levy Court District, which comprises the Third, Fourth, Sixth, and Ninth Representative Districts.

Representative George Cain, who is serving his second term, and who had announced his candidacy for senator, subject to the wishes of the voters in the Democratic primary, withdrew and was endorsed for re-election for a third term.

In other committee approvals Monday night, Mr. Paskey was endorsed as Levy Court commissioner from the Second Levy Court District, while Harry Hanson was endorsed as candidate for re-election as comptroller of Kent County.

Mr. Stafford, a prominent businessman in farm machinery, is an organizer of the Burrsville Ruritan Club and a director of the Kent & Sussex Fair.

Seashore Expects Record Influx

Although Delaware's seashore communities are anticipating a record-breaking influx of vacationists this summer, not all the summertime visitors to Delaware's coastal area will be using the fine accommodations to be found in or near the resorts, notes the Delaware State Development Department. Some visitors, possibly as many as 50,000 will prefer to "rough it" on the state-owned and maintained "Delaware Dunes."

These beach and camplands, flanking Delaware Route 14 between Rehoboth and Indian River Bays and the Atlantic Ocean, annually attract large numbers of campers, including many family groups. Nearby bays offer them excellent fishing, crabbing, clamming and boating. Surf fishing, sun bathing and swimming are available along the entire ocean front.

While the "Delaware Dunes" and adjacent areas have increased in popularity each year, much of the anticipated increase in 1960 use is based on a marked improvement in facilities, plus the fact that, despite these favorable changes, a moderate fee schedule has been retained.

The 1960 season, which will open May 26, will continue through Labor Day according to the schedule recently released by the State Highway Department, which administers the areas.

In as much as the Key Box Road campgrounds, a mile south of Dewey Beach, will be the only state-owned beach area where camping will be permitted this year, all improvements have been centered on this site. Former campgrounds at Indian River Inlet are now closed; however, the trailer park on the north side of Indian River Inlet remains open.

The Key Box Road Area has been enlarged to provide for approximately 400 campsites. Drinking water, showers and toilet facilities are available and life-guards are to be stationed on the adjoining beach area. Food, soft drinks, ice and bait will be offered for sale at concession stands operated under lease from the Highway Department.

Prevailing rates for camping on state-owned land are: $2.00 per day; $12 per week; $40 per month and $100 per season. Otto Zacharias of Lewes is again serving as manager for the state-owned beach and camp areas, and maintains an office, for rentals and the providing of information on Key Box Road.

H.H.S. Noses Millsboro Nine, 6-5

By Keith S. Burgess

Coach Bill Smith's Harrington High baseball team which started the season with a string of losses, won their third game in the last four tries as they rallied in the sixth inning for four runs to edge Millsboro 6-5. The Tuesday afternoon game was played on the local field. The Lions have a game with Lord Baltimore remaining while Millsboro is through for the year.

George Pfeiffer pitched a seven-hitter for the win and led the locals at the plate with two hits in three attempts. Ron Collison had 2 for 4 including a long double which was the key blow in the winning rally.

Shirley Cleaves' H.H.S. girls softball team apparently are at their best when the opposition is toughest. They defeated second place Rehoboth two weeks ago and Tuesday night were nosed 17-16 by Millsboro's pennant winners.

Harold McDonald's junior varsity team was beaten by Caesar Rodney then rebounded to trip Greenwood in games played Tuesday and Wednesday.

Alice Lon to Appear at Fair

Fans of Alice Lon are in for a special treat on Wed., July 27, when she will make a personal appearance at the Kent & Sussex County Fair at Harrington.

Alice is a sparkling, 5' 3", brown-eyed brunette, exceptionally pretty and petite, with a smile and personality that could be the envy of all... except that she is loved by everyone.

She hails from a small oil town in Texas—Kilgore—and has become an internationally known TV personality through a colorful career. At the age of six she was singing... all the time, whether anyone was listening or not. She sang at all the local civic affairs and at ten had her own radio program. She attended high school and college and majored in music... sang in theaters, Veterans' Hospitals, army camps, on Bond tours, benefits, etc. Also appeared on the famous Don McNeill "Breakfast Club" originating from Chicago.

Alice made her biggest TV hit as the "Champagne Lady" on the Lawrence Welk show... for six consecutive years. She gained friends from coast to coast during that six-year period and appeared at Madison Square Garden, Carnegie Hall, the White House (where she is a great favorite) and countless other personal appearances throughout the United States. It is not in the least surprising that Alice has made her way to the top, for she is warmhearted, considerate, friendly, always grateful and sincere. Her album, "It's Alice" is very popular with young and old. Alice Lon, Wednesday evening only, at the Kent-Sussex Fair.

Milford Youth Marble Champ

After five years of trying and in his last year of eligibility, Walter D. Postles, Jr., of Milford, has attained his goal of becoming state marble champion. The 14-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Postles, Sr., Rehoboth Highway, Milford, made it the "hard way" last Saturday evening at Clayton by coming back through the losers' bracket — after suffering a first round defeat—to pin 7-4, 7-1, 7-4 defeats on previously unbeaten William Holley, of Clayton in the finals of the annual V. F. W.-sponsored statewide competition.

An 8th grade student at Milford Junior High School, Postles has participated in Milford Area competition the past five years, but had finished no higher than third in local competition until May 14 of this year when he won Milford honors with an upset win over defending champion Ronnie Davidson. Davidson, who was runner-up to Michael Worsley, of Clayton, in last year's finals, finished in a three-way tie for fourth last Saturday evening.

Worsley, state champion in 1953 and 1959, was ineligible for this year's competition. Postles will now go to Eaton Rapids, Michigan, next month (Continued on Back Page)

Felton Driver Killed in Crash

Alvin M. Reichel, 34, of near Felton, was killed instantly when tossed from his car after it was struck by a truck on Route 13 at Woodside at 8:25 a. m. Friday.

He was pronounced dead upon arrival at the Kent General Hospital, Dover. State police said he suffered a fracture of the skull.

Reichel, a mechanic at Outten Brothers Garage, Dover, was traveling north on Route 13 when a pick-up truck, operated by Richard Evans, 29, also of near Felton, came out of Route 03, the Woodside-Rising Sun Road, and ran into the side of the car.

Police said Evans crossed the southbound section of the dual highway entered the cross-over, and then drove out into the northbound section, past a yield-right-of-way sign without stopping. He apparently failed to see Reichel's car, troopers said.

The latter's vehicle went out of control, turned end over end, and then slid along the road coming to a stop on its top 115 feet from where the collision occurred. The driver was thrown onto the highway and his arm was pinned under the overturned car. A passing motorist tipped the car over enough so Reichel was freed.

Evans was arrested on a charge of manslaughter by motor vehicle and was held in $10,000 bail for Superior Court by Magistrate Maurice W. Carrow of Camden.

Reichel is survived by his wife and one child. The scene of the accident, Woodside, is about 2 1/2 miles south of Camden and four miles south of Dover.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in the Lutheran Church, Dover. Interment was in New Sharon Hills Memorial Park.

Lions Sponsor 8 Youth Ball Teams

The Harrington Lions Club is underwriting the expenses for eight local youth baseball teams this season. With upwards of 100 youngsters pursuing the national pastime, it should not be long before local school teams begin to reap the benefits of early training.

The adults, who are administering the programs, are to be commended for their unselfishness.

Leonard Horleman has a group of Pony Leaguers who show great promise. At a recent workout, they amazed adult onlookers with their spirit and skill. Horleman's assistants are Bill Minner, Al Mann, and Wilson Wamsley.

James O'Neal is handling the Little Leaguers and says he can use some adult help. This team had a 5-to-0 lead on Bridgeville Monday night but the rains came.

Approximately 70 other youths, in the Little League age group, have been formed into a Little League Minor League, supervised by Calvin Wells. The first two teams above will play similar teams from nearby towns. Managers in the latter league also include Jack Redden, Earl Yoder, Luther Hatfield, Ted Layton, and Charles Peck Jr. The writer played in the Mar-Del League under the leadership of Peck 20 years ago.

The board has applied to the state treasurer for retirement rights for the superintendent. He, however, has announced his intention of not relinquishing his post and the Delaware State Education Association has sought, thru the State Department of Public Instruction, a ruling from the state's attorney general as to whether Messner must retire, at the direction of the local board, or whether he is covered by the teacher tenure act.

The fracas really got underway when Messner, the administrator, was asked by Luther P. Hatfield, board president, to report on finances. The superintendent replied: "It looks as though, in checking thru, we have more bills than we have money. We will have to be more careful in budgeting." He added that, in state monies, the school was within its budget. However, there is no budget set up for local funds.

The board wanted to know why it had not been apprised of the financial situation and was informed by the superintendent it received a financial report every month. This varied with the reports given civic and teachers group, said the board president.

The superintendent said the school district was short in local monies and, continuing, said a shortage of $4771.23 was because of hiring an extra teaching unit, which meant a half-time teacher, and two aids.

Under the unit program, the state permits the hiring of a teacher for each 30 pupils, in the elementary school, and 25, in junior and senior high schools. The state pays the bulk of the salary but the local school district gives supplementary pay. In the enrollment increase, the number of teaching units increases and so does the state appropriations.

Getting back to the extra teaching unit, mentioned by Messner, the board president retorted that when a social science teacher was appointed last summer, the board was told the school could handle an extra unit. "Now, we are a unit short," (as far as funds for payment are concerned) said Hatfield. The superintendent replied: "We took a chance (on increased enrollment entitling extra state funds) as we have been doing. Other times it has worked. This time it didn't." He explained that state money was spent first, and then local money. "We can't begin to live on just state money," he pointed out.

Hatfield then issued a compilation of monies received for, and spent from, local funds. He added it was derived from the monthly reports issued by the superintendent. The statement was as follows:

From the start of the fiscal year, July 1, 1958, to April, 1959, $56,385, from local taxes, was added to local funds as compared with $61,514.32, from the same source, added to local funds from

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Notes

A service for Rogationtide was held last Sunday at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Winkler on the Harrington-Frederica Road. The altar was set up in the yard under the trees and the piano was taken by truck from the parish house to the farm.

After the hymn "All People That on Earth Dwell," the guest speaker, C. A. Taylor, a well-known Harrington farmer, made an address on conservation of natural resources.

Prayers were said at the well, at a corn field, at the farmyard, at the barnyard, for gardens and fruit trees, and, in conclusion, before the altar. The congregation moved from one spot to the other and sang with the choir on the way the crucifer and torchbearers going ahead.

This service is a very old one, the custom of "beating the bounds" used in England for many years. Today congregations are noting that Rogation Sunday is a time to emphasize the whole church's concern for rural life.

The "Cross and Plow" service now used in some Episcopal churches is patterned after this same ancient practice. The choir and people chanted the Litany and sang hymns as they walked from field to field, surrounding the village church until they had touched the land belonging to all members of the congregation.

There is a need to pray for God's blessing upon the growing crops and livestock that there may be an abundant harvest. In God's name Christians ask for bountiful crops and for lives dedicated to His service.

After the last hymn the congregation of St. Stephen's gathered in the back yard to enjoy barbecued chicken and a picnic dinner.

Acolytes on Rogation Sunday were Franklin Fowler, Dennis Bradley, Roy Porter, Charles McNally, Robert Eastman, Bill Thompson.

Flowers on the altar May 15 were given to the glory of God and in loving memory of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Donophan by Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Donophan of Ft. Meade, Md.

Flowers on the altar Rogation Sunday were given to the glory of God and in loving memory of Alice M. Anderson and Asa L. Chamberlain by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Chamberlain of Indianapolis, Ind.

Officers of the Episcopal Churchwomen and Episcopal Young Churchmen of St. Stephen's will be installed at the 11 o'clock service May 29.

The officers elect are as follows: Episcopal Churchwomen—Mrs. Clarence Reed, president; Mrs. Robert Baynard, vice president; Mrs. Granville Hill, recording secretary; Mrs. George Johnson, treasurer; Mrs. Robert McNally, Christian social relations secretary; Mrs. Augustus Raughley Jr., United Thank Offering custodian; Mrs. W. W. Welch, supply secretary; Mrs. Earl McCole, educational secretary; Mrs. Milton Bland, church periodical club director; Mrs. Arthur Williams, devotional life chairman; Mrs. Granville Hill, Altar Guild directress.

Episcopal Young Churchmen—William Thompson, president; Miss Carol Ann McNally, vice president; Miss Patsy Bradley, secretary; Miss Connie Biddle, treasurer; Dennis Bradley, Sgt.-at-arms; Miss Patsy Bradley, reporter.

The Evening Prayer Service each Sunday is being broadcast over a local radio station at 7 p.m. The Junior Choir will sing for these broadcasts under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Williams with Mrs. Ethel Rosengren at the organ.

Clyde Perry, vestryman of St. Stephen's, presented silver choir crosses to members of the Junior Choir. The young people wear these crosses on black ribbon, over their cotters at each service in which they participate.

Mrs. Eldridge Y. Prettyman of Christ Church, Milford, was unanimously elected president of the Episcopal Churchwomen of the Diocese of Delaware at the 175th annual convention.

Mrs. Prettyman announced that at the meeting held at St. Stephen's Church, Harrington, there was representation from all active parishes and missions of the Diocese. Thirty-two churches answered roll call and made their convention pledge, which was sent to Bishop and Mrs. Paul Kellogg of the Dominican Republic for their discretionary fund. Bishop Kellogg was formerly rector of Christ Church, Dover, and Mrs. Kellogg served as president of the diocesan women's organization for a number of terms.

Ushers on Sunday, May 15, were Messrs. Earl McCole, Clyde Perry, William McCole and Joseph Ratledge.

Coffee hour hostesses on the 4th Sunday after Easter were Mrs. George R. Johnson and Mrs. Robert L. Nelson.

Recent out-of-town visitors who signed the guest register at St. Stephen's were Rev. Donald Hurst, Denton; Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Weiner, Newark; Mrs. Leon McCarns and Mrs. Hazel Karshner, Wilmington; Mrs. Richard Merchant, Wilmington; Florida D. Lornox, Newport; Lennie Frisby Lewis, Wilmington; Mrs. Harrison Jones, Delmar; Mrs. Granville Carey, Lewes; Mrs. George A. Madden, Mrs. Grace H. Erb, Wilmington.

The congregation of St. Stephen's sends its love to Mrs. John R. Symonds of Richardson Park, Wilmington, now in the Memorial Hospital, 1501 Van Buren St., Wilmington. Mrs. Symonds, mother of the vicar of St. Stephen's, has many friends in Harrington, who will be waiting for good news of her and who will offer prayers for her recovery.

Kent Home Doings

The growing baby lives a life of high adventure. He is an explorer who puts his head into every opening. He is a mountain climber who tries to scale the precipitous sides of his crib. He is a gourmet who chews on such exotic delicacies as chair legs.

Home demonstration agent Florence Y. Smith advises parents to prepare for baby's adventurous ways. Choose children's furniture for safety. Here are some points to check.

Crib and playpen sides should be "wedgedproof." Spindles or bars in a crib side should be close enough together so that a baby cannot put his head between them.

Prevent falls before they happen. Mesh in playpen and crib sides must be fine enough so that junior can't get a foothold.

High crib sides that lock in place will keep baby in his place until he is almost two years old. There comes a time when a toddler is such a good climber that it is safer to raise the side only a few inches. Sunday mornings at the crack of dawn he'll climb out of the crib to wake mommy and daddy, but early rising is good for every one. Isn't it?

High chair legs should be angled to prevent tipping. Look for broad firm straps on high chairs and bathinette tops.

You can find out a lot about the strength of a crib by shaking it gently.

A baby with aching gums wants to get his teeth into every subject. Teething rails on cribs and playpens will help him through a trying time.

Be most cautious about paint warns Mrs. Smith. Manufacturers of juvenile furniture have cooperated with health agencies to reduce chance of poisoning.

Your chief danger is in second-hand furniture or in the well meaning relative who sentimentally re-paints your old high chair for baby. Make sure the paint contains less than 1 per cent lead.

The Public Health Service warns that lead poisoning, although infrequent, is serious. It can cause death or permanent brain injury.

HOW TO STRETCH A 50-ACRE FARM

Farm full-time on only 50 acres? Alvin Brown, Kent County, Del., does it. Makes out pretty well, too.

"Sure, we'd like to farm more land," says Brown. "But it isn't available, so we irrigate every acre, and double-crop to make our place bigger."

Brown and his wife, teen-age son and 12-year-old daughter, put in full days. But they were going to help serve a church supper the evening I stopped by, so we visited during milking.

Here's the two-year rotation system Brown has worked out to boost his net income by about $2,000 a year.

After corn and vegetable harvest each year, Brown disks up the field and sows barley, ryegrass and scarlet clover for fall and spring pasture for his 27-cow dairy herd.

In the spring, he seeds lespedeza or ladino and orchard grass in five acres of the barley, later combines the barley, and then takes a hay crop off the spring seeding.

Early next spring, the cows graze the seeding until the scarlet clover is high enough to be damaged. Then the cows go on a permanent summer pasture of orchard grass, ladino and Kentucky 31 fescue, and the scarlet clover makes a cutting of hay.

About June 15, Brown plows up the hayfield and plants corn—about five acres for grain and ten for silage.

He plants Atlas sorghum with the silage corn—about seven pounds of sorghum with seven to ten of corn.

"I use crow repellent on the sorghum," says Brown. "That makes it sticky so the seed stays mixed."

What about yields? In '59, the silage averaged 20 tons per acre; the corn for grain averaged 122 bushels.

The corn gets 300 lbs. of 5-10-10 per acre at planting time, and then 700 lbs. of 10-10-10 is sidedressed on—some with each cultivation.

The family also grows four acres of cantaloupes, watermelons and tomatoes for their roadside stand, where they also market an acre of sweet corn and 1/2 acre of strawberries.

There are some drawbacks. "A stand of alfalfa or a hay seeding won't stay in very long," says Brown. "We work it too hard. And moving irrigation pipe is no snap. But the water sure makes double-cropping pay."

Delaware Food Market Report

June is Dairy Month! This year, as usual, we can expect the seasonal increase in milk production to reach its high point for the year in June. Reports indicate that this supply will be greater than that of last year. This means June is the time for consumers to take advantage of this bonanza by buying and using milk.

"Star" milk and its products on all of your daily menus.

Other June plentiful listed on the U.S. Department of Agriculture's plentiful foods list are: spring vegetables (lettuce, carrots, radishes, green peppers, cucumbers, green onions, tomatoes, etc.) vegetable fats and oils, and peanut butter.

Again this week there seems to be few changes in the average meat prices. Chuck roast of beef is a few pennies cheaper and as a "special" is selling as low as 39c a lb. for choice grade. There are a few steaks on sale as "specials" also, with prices ranging from 75c to 84c a pound. Here again, this is high choice grade beef. Rib roasts, ground beef and a few pot roasts are on sale this weekend too. Veal continues to be high in price, and veal chops went up a penny again this week. There is still a fair supply of fresh pork on local markets, with prices ranging from reasonable to expensive. Ham continues to fluctuate in price, depending on the cut, type, etc. you buy.

Again this weekend, broiler-fryers are a good to excellent buy averaging 35c a pound. These young chickens are very versatile and will fill every need as far as a barbecue, a company meal, or just plain family eating is concerned.

Fresh vegetable prices are mostly steady to a bit lower this week. Corn-on-the-cob, lettuce, celery, carton tomatoes, and snap beans are all a penny or two cheaper.

Cantaloupes are coming in much larger supplies, and prices have certainly tumbled. Look for specials on this fruit this weekend, with prices averaging 39c each for average sized cantaloupes. Oranges are fast joining grapefruit on their exit from the fruit counter as the season closes for both of these fruits. Prices are higher on both of these this weekend. Strawberries are much cheaper this week, and there are many specials, so check your favorite store. Prices are as low as 49c a quart.

Several of the young folks from here attended the Junior-Senior prom at Milford Friday evening. All seemed to have a very enjoyable evening and all looked so nice for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Emory Webb spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Jack D. Kennedy and daughters, Elaine and Kathleen, on Old Porter Road, Bear.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Thistlewood and children, Nancy, Anne, Freddy and George B. Jr., were dinner guests Saturday of Mrs. Anna Sharp in Wilmington. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Sharp and family in Pensville, N. J.

Mrs. William Brittingham of Delmar and Miss Ginger Long of Princess Anne, spent Saturday afternoon with Miss Janice Sharp.

Mrs. Viola Thistlewood was a guest Saturday evening of the L. Paul Greenlees at a sea food dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Pase left for their home in California after being in Houston for several weeks due to the death of her mother, Mrs. Irene Vinyard.

NOW LOOK WHAT CORVAIR'S GONE AND DONE!

The same Corvaire that tallied a thumping 27.03 miles per gallon* in the Mobilgas Economy Run . . . went right on to climb Pikes Peak earlier in the spring than any car has ever tried!

We wanted to show you what the fabulous traction of Corvaire's rear-engine design and the sure-footedness of four-wheel independent suspension really mean. So the identical Economy Run car went right on to 14,110-foot Pikes Peak—and right up to the top of that savage mountain, on April 15, still deep in winter's snow and ice. No other car—even specially equipped—had ever been able to conquer that nightmare alpine road so early in the spring. But Corvaire (with United States Auto Club officials aboard to certify that not one nut or bolt was changed) purred right to the summit without chains or even snow tires! That just underscores the fact that Corvaire is totally unique. But you'll find that out the first five minutes you're at the wheel!

Passage of House Bill 446 Would Cost The State Taxpayer Additional Millions

Passage of House Bill 446, establishing federal wage scales for public construction contracts in Delaware, would cost the taxpayers additional millions.

The State is way in the red and, when the General Assembly effects a comparatively small saving, it is well publicized. In the House, however, HB 446 breezed thru, and in the Senate it had failed of passage by one vote as this was being written.

The bill would effect the State, in general, and Kent and Sussex Counties, in particular. It has many detrimental and unfair aspects. However, the hearings on it have revealed that some lower Delaware contractors have not been paying as much as they should for common labor.

The bill would require that every contract on public construction, in excess of $2000, should be based on wages set by the United States Department of Labor. This scale, for the most part, is the same in Kent and Sussex Counties as in New Castle County where cost of living is higher.

The bill would apply to any contract, more than $2000 of course, for which the State appropriates any part of the funds, for construction, alteration and, or repair, including painting and decorating of public buildings or public works.

Communities receiving municipal aid would find their costs would increase 10 per cent or, conversely, that fewer improvements could be made for the same money.

Disadvantages

1. Construction costs would increase at estimated 10 per cent, to be paid directly, or indirectly, by ALL taxpayers. The taxpayer is entitled to the cheapest price he can get.

2. Federal wage scale would permit increased entry of out-of-state builders, in the lower counties at least. They would not pay their state income taxes to Delaware.

3. Increased competition, from without, would be matched by decreased competition from within. Downstate builders would have to maintain two wage scales: Projects involving state money, would have a federal wage scale; those involving private construction would have a lower scale. The bookkeeping problem, as workmen flitted from one type of job to another, would be tremendous. In the end, the downstate contractors might find it easier to give up state work altogether. However, their taxes would continue.

4. It would decrease or delay construction. Many projects, schools would be an example, are financed partly by local funds. The higher the price, the less building; the higher the merchandise, the less buying. Woolworth sells more "diamonds" than Tiffany's.

5. Drastically higher wages means inflation. As mentioned earlier in this article, we do see where some wages, in the lower counties, are too low. Common labor is quoted at $1.15 to $1.25 per hour, for private construction jobs. For state school construction, the rate is $1.375 per hour, still too low. The federal scale, in comparison, is $1.95, and that is too high.

We have noticed, in the following chart, that the state scale for school construction in Kent and Sussex Counties, is lower than in New Castle County, an indication that living costs are higher upstate. However, the federal wage scale is almost identical.

6. If HB 446 passed, an inevitable move, at least, in time, would be to attempt to pass a law saying that ALL contractors pay wages set by the federal government. Would industry build here? Another possibility would be to insist that ALL products bought by the State, come from plants paying the federal scale. If this appears preposterous, recall an attempt, since World War II, to have all State printing come from plants paying a wage scale set by State law.

Who says it is a free country?

We Wrote It

We wrote a short editorial recently, hinging mainly on the cry of politicians that "religion would not be an issue in the general election this fall." We asked, "Then why mention it?"

John S. Harrington, former Harrington resident, now living in Hollywood, Calif., wrote it was pretty vicious. He writes: "This is pretty vicious. Doubt if it is an editorial. If it is a letter why don't you show the (author's) name. I wonder if he heard Sen. Kennedy on TV. from Charleston, W. Va. the night of the primaries. He spoke at some length how religion apparently did not hurt the outcome. I wonder also if the (author) heard Nikita Khrushchev last night say that Russia could wait 8 months more. I don't blame him as Russia did much better with the last 2 Democratic presidents. I wonder though what Niky and the (author) will do if Mr. Nixon should be elected."

Yes, it may appear vicious, but so is politics. The recurring statements on religion, which should not be mentioned at all, remind us of the mother who had a homely daughter she wanted married off. She finally got her betrothed to one of the community's less desirable males and then told everyone, "my daughter and so-and-so are going to get married. Don't you tell anyone."

Letter to the Editor

May 24, 1960
 Harrington, Del.

To: Letters to the Editor
 Reference: Harrington's School Board Election
 Sir:

Since my earliest recollection of being enrolled in history courses, I have always been impressed with the campaign slogan of one particular president of this country—Grover Cleveland. In a period of internal upheaval, Mr. Cleveland had the personal conviction that "a public office is a public trust." He believed, rather uniquely too, that a public official should be elected only on the merits of the voters' trust, and once in office, the official must stand fast to maintain that trust. During his terms in office, Cleveland did all in his power to warrant the trust against tremendous odds.

It is with these words in mind that I am thoroughly repulsed by the unsavory procedures introduced into the recent school board election. How apathetic that it was necessary to inject "backdoor" politics into a contest culminating in a kind of charity work void of monetary reward. Harringtonians have permitted the school board election to burst out of its proper perspective and turned it into a smearing political campaign taking advantage of personal greed, political favors, and minority group innocence. What kind of democratic justice can be presented in an election based on false issues, "greased-palm" political promises, slanderous implications, threatening phone calls, anonymous warnings, and loud mouth ignorant hotheads? How base some of us citizens must be to allow such filthy domineering aggressions. Oh, is this yet the democracy for which Washington, Jefferson, and Lincoln did bare themselves through years of strife and toil? We can all shrink in the memory of the men's striving for freedom and justice.

And in this vein, I am further reminded of another quotation—"and this above all, to thine own self be true"—from the Bible I believe. How long has it been since the "good" people of this community have thought on the greatest of all laws—the Ten Commandments? It might be wise for us to examine our conscience to find our guilts. I dare say that few of us can proclaim ourselves to be completely innocent of cunning and dealing in the school board election. "To thine own self be true." I wonder that is possible for some of us to look at our fellow man straightly with no deep, dark political chicanery to hide. Can we be God-fearing with the scar of iniquity on our soul?

But probably the most tragic coincidence of this whole macabre business is that the adults of Harrington have allowed their personal greed to take precedence over the straining needs of our children. Tomorrow, these children of today will inherit the responsibilities of this town. Must they be forced to participate in the world with half a loaf of education? Must they shoulder all the sins, petty jealousies, narrowness, greed, and political intrigues of today's people with no opportunity to rise above the squalor? A sound and complete education is the only thing that each parent owes his children. We must not permit tomorrow's leaders to develop in an atmosphere of stagnate educational degeneration and political chicanery. No, this cannot be permitted. We cannot sell our children and their education down the river for personal gain and power.

How could we have eliminated the blight on our children's education. We should have put our trust in our school board. How many of us can doubt the honor of four citizens who have stood steadfast by their convictions in a sea of adversity? Lincoln said, "let none falter who thinks he is right." These board members have not faltered one iota; their conscience are true. But this is what we should have done.

What can we do in future elections? Look to the man or woman who is not afraid of progress, who welcomes progress with open arms and pulls it to himself zealously. Beware of political afflictions and promises. Take care to listen only to the true issues of the program. Know both sides of each issue presented. Little that is whispered can be trusted to be true.

How appalled I am at the crimson delusion that this city rests under. Never have I been so nauseated with people's innate honesty until this school election. We can all be ashamed of the underhanded methods used to set back the development of our children's education to ascertain political "pull" in Harrington. I fear that it might be wiser for the Congress to investigate this city's political life rather than "payola." Oh, that some of us may not remain ostriches with our heads hidden in the sand.

Respectfully,
 A Disillusioned Citizen

McDowell Complains Of Farm Program

Congressman Harris B. McDowell (D - Del.) charged this week that the present Administration has "completely failed to come up with a program to meet the farm problem." In a newsletter to Delawareans, Congressman McDowell said that the Administration has "obviously thrown in the towel offering only the vague promise that 'Nixon will have a farm program of his own, when and if' in the meantime farm surpluses mount and mount, and the taxpayer pays and pays." The Delaware Congressman added that this "proves once again that words are cheap, and that constructive action requires attention, imagination, and work."

Mr. McDowell said that much talk has been heard of solving the farm problem during each of the presidential and congressional campaigns involving the present administration. "At first," said Mr. McDowell, "the word was 'give us time.' Now, after seven-and-a-half years (it only seems longer), the situation is worse than ever." As for new farm legislation during the present session of Congress, Mr. McDowell said: "The Administration may try to save face before the election, but it will take considerable doing."

Congressman McDowell had this to say about the U-2 plane incident "Few incidents of recent years have stirred the capital as has the episode of the aborted spy mission over Russia, and the subsequent collapse of the Summit Conference. Because of the seriousness of the situation, and the diatribes hurled at the President by Khrushchev, comments from Congress have been generally subdued. Underneath the relative quiet, however, is a deep concern over the unhappy series of events leading up to the Summit Conference — the contradictory statements issued by the Administration, and worse still, the apparent lack of communication between the Central Intelligence Agency, the State Department, and the White House. One could well ask: "Who's in charge here?"

On the subject of legislation to provide medical aid for the aged, Congressman McDowell predicted that some plan will be enacted by this Congress. He pointed out that there are at least four major plans before Congress. Two based on the Social Security System have been introduced by Democratic legislators. Two others, sponsored by Republicans, call for joint Federal and state contributions.

Mr. McDowell noted that "it seems highly unlikely that any plan calling for state contributions would be feasible in Delaware, in view of the state's financial problems."

In his newsletter, Congressman McDowell also discussed the recently enacted foreign aid bill, the question of private profits from government-financed patents, and the status of the McDowell Veterans' Housing Bill. He predicted that Congress would adjourn within about six weeks, before the political conventions in July.

Williams Tops Voting Records

U. S. Senator John J. Williams (R-Del.) last week was listed as the highest scoring member of the Senate in an analysis of voting records by the Americans for Constitutional Action.

The analysis was made to determine which members of Congress can "be counted upon to consistently support sound money, local self-government, individual liberty, and private competitive enterprise," ACA chairman, Admiral Ben Morcell said.

The Delaware Senator's score of 99% was top for both political parties and is based on voting records of the past four and one-half years. Top-ranking Democrat was Virginia's Senator, Harry F. Byrd, who, with Senator Williams, is the ranking member of his party in the important Senate Finance Committee. The second highest - scoring Democrat was Senator Frank J. Lausche of Ohio.

Close behind Senator Williams is the overall scoring of both parties was Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona. Maryland's Senator John Marshall Butler ranked third.

The announcement marked the second example of nationwide recognition that has been accorded to Senator Williams within the last year. Last September he received the first annual American Political Science Association award for outstanding service in the United States Senate.

The ACA-Index is a study of individual voting records of all members of Congress.

Admiral Morcell said the ACA's research program, designed to pinpoint the political profile of members of Congress, was undertaken to determine exactly "who is what" among the membership of the Senate and House, and to provide a factual basis for voters who, "with their eyes open may determine for themselves which of the incumbents running for re-election will most likely fight for a system of individual freedom and opportunity, and which of them will support more collectivist schemes, more taxing and more regimentation. "Significantly," Admiral Morcell continued, "on the basis of the record, 83 members of the Senate and 162 members of the House have voted 80 percent or more of the time for so-called 'welfare state,' 'large tax' and 'high spend' government programs."

Americans for Constitutional Action is non-partisan, non-profit, political action organization. Included on its Board of Trustees are former President Herbert Hoover; Allan B. Kline, past president of the American Farm Bureau Federation; Charles Edison, former governor of New Jersey; and Edgar N. Eisenhower.

How to Crease Crease-Resistant Fabric

Most of the cotton yard goods these days has a crease-resistant finish. Fabrics with this resin finish are easy to care for, but present problems to the woman who sews for her family, according to Miss Janet Reed, extension clothing specialist at the University of Delaware. Before the era of permanent finishes a fabric could be controlled by pressure, moisture and heat, but no more. Only chemical action can change the position of a yarn in a resin treated fabric. Sometimes a crease pressed in the center of fabric on the bolt is almost impossible to remove. On the other hand, pressing a sharp crease in a garment where sharp edges are desirable, such as facing and collars, is also extremely difficult.

It is with apologies to Miss Carol Schwartz that her name is added to the group who went with the Caesar Rodney Senior Class to New York last week. Carol is a senior at Caesar Rodney and her name was omitted in the letter of the past week. Ronnie Reed is also a member of the graduating class. Mrs. Margaret Farrow and Jay Keller were delegates to the Annual Conference which convened in Wilmington. Our minister, the Rev. Charles Burge, was returned to the Magnolia charge for his second appointment year. Mrs. William Thomas is attending the Round Table Club Convention at the Hotel duPont in Wilmington. Mrs. Thomas is a member of the Camden-Wyoming Round Table Club and is attending this convention as a delegate from that club. Mrs. Kirby Metz is also a delegate attending this convention.

Wheat Growers Vote July 21 On 1961 Program

William H. Reynolds, Middletown farmer and chairman of the Delaware Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, announced today that the annual marketing quota referendum for wheat growers will be held July 21 as the first step in the wheat program for 1961 required by present law. The purpose of the referendum is to determine whether or not wheat growers wish to market their 1961 crop wheat under a marketing quota system. Quotas have been proclaimed by the Secretary of Agriculture, as required whenever the wheat supply is more than 20 per cent above normal. They will take effect if approved by a least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum. In proclaiming quotas for 1961, the secretary established the national acreage allotment at the minimum of 55 million acres permitted by law. Of this, 32,762 acres were allotted to Delaware, from which local wheat farmers will receive individual farm allotments before voting in the referendum. The secretary also announced that the minimum national average support price for 1961 wheat will be made known before the referendum on the basis of the latest available supply information. Based on the present wheat supply and the present law, the minimum wheat support for 1961 would be 75 per cent of parity, the same percentage as this year. If marketing quotas take effect, a grower who complies with his allotment will be entitled to market his total 1961 wheat crop without penalty and will be eligible for price support at the full rate. A grower who exceeds his acreage allotment will be ineligible for price support and will also be subject to marketing quota penalties if he harvests more than 15 acres of wheat. A grower who obtains approval to produce 30 acres or less of wheat to be used exclusively on the farm will not be subject to penalties. If marketing quotas are disapproved in the July referendum, all wheat produced will be eligible for marketing without penalty. Price support will be available at 50 per cent of parity to those who comply with their acreage allotments. Voting in the referendum will be done at polling places to be announced later by the county ASC committee. Every wheat grower who expects to have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest in 1961 will be eligible to vote, except those who participated in the up-to-30-acre feed wheat program in 1960. The wheat referendum is required, chairman Reynolds said, by the fact that the national wheat supply is at almost twice the normal level. If quotas are approved for 1961, this will be the eighth successive year in which they have been used for wheat.

Wheat Growers Vote July 21 On 1961 Program

However, it is possible to remove undesirable creases or to give a garment a more professional press by a simple home method developed by home economists at the University of Alabama, Miss Reed reports. The equipment needed to remove a wrinkle or put in a crease are: a medicine dropper, white vinegar, steam iron and ironing board. Iron the fabric with a steam iron set at steam setting. Then apply white vinegar to the wrinkle with a medicine dropper, while the cloth is still hot. The vinegar will be absorbed faster by the hot fabric. Give the fabric a minute or two to absorb the vinegar and iron the area until the material is dry. In case of a more stubborn wrinkle, as might be found in heavy fabrics, repeat the process, spread the cloth smooth, and let it air for four or five hours. This vinegar procedure is especially effective for removing hem creases when the hemline must be changed. The same procedure may be used to put permanent pleating into resin finished cottons. The pleats will last as long as the finish on the material. If an excess of vinegar is applied to the resin treated fabric, damage may occur to the material as well as remove the resin finish. Either a medicine dropper or small paint brush such as would come with a child's paint set can be used to apply a minimum amount of vinegar, she said. Experiment on a scrap of fabric or on an inside seam to be sure the color will not be affected.

Pasture Not Perfect Cow Feed

Although pasture grass seems to be perfect feed for dairy cattle at this time of year, county agent George Vapaa of the Agricultural Extension Service says it is not as good as it seems.

Of every 100 pounds of lush grass eaten by a dairy cow, only 15 to 20 per cent is dry matter. So a cow must take in 80 to 85 pounds of water to get 15 to 20 pounds of dry matter.

Mature cows may have sufficient capacity to eat enough grass to meet most of their nutrient requirements, but the agent says heifers and calves don't have the capacity. It's important to supplement lush grass with plenty of dry hay and grain. Calves under 10 months of age should be fed only limited amounts of pasture grass along with plenty of good hay and some grain.

Mr. Vapaa says heifers past 12 months of age can be fed all the grass they will eat, provided they also have all of the good hay they want. Keep the hay rack filled with fresh hay.

Heifers should also be fed enough grain to maintain thrifty condition and steady growth.

Heifers on good pasture, with good quality hay available, seldom need any grain. However, if the pasture and hay are of poor quality, the animals may require as much as six pounds of grain per day to maintain normal growth.

H.H.S. Has Only 10 Men, 9 Pants Is Nosed By Cambridge in Track

by Keith S. Burgess
Coach Dick Jeffer's Harrington High track team almost pulled a monumental upset at Cambridge, Md., High School last week. Due to the impending senior class trip, illness of one or two performers and other reasons the Lions had only 8 varsity and 2 junior high trackmen and nine pairs of track shorts with which to attempt to win a meet against the big Dorchester County School. At full strength H.H.S. would certainly have prevailed as the issue was in doubt almost to the very end before Cambridge eked out a close win. In several events the Lions had only one entrant which meant that the Marylanders were guaranteed at least four points to five for the locals regardless of the outcome.

Harry Knotts set a track record of 4:47.6 for the mile run on the winner's grass track. Harry later won the half mile in 2:11.4 and regained the H.H.S. senior high record which he lost to Clarence Hackett last week. Clarence still retains the junior high record of 2:12.6. Dwight Hackett was third in both races at Cambridge.

Bruce Smith took the pole vault with 9 ft. 9 inches in his last competitive effort for the Blue and Gold. The leap gave him a share of the school mark along with Don Garey and Jim Temple.

Walt Lekites surprised the audience by winning the broad jump with a distance of 19 ft. although slowed up by an ailing leg.

George Pfeiffer, who can do many things in many sports, was called on short notice to try his skill in the 440 for the first time this year. Pfeiffer let a big Cambridge lad set the pace for the first 350 yards then kicked by his rival in the homestretch to win in 56.6 seconds which is excellent time for a grass track. George with a third in the high jump and second in the 220 scored 9 points for the day, second to the 10 points of Knotts.

George Balderson, burly weight man, was second in the shot put and third in the discuss.

Bob Winkler was second in the 100 yard dash and later as is his usual custom gave the 880 relay team a big start toward victory by putting several yards of daylight between himself and the Cambridge lead-off man. Smith and Terry Trepasso, a junior high runner, kept the advantage enabling Walt Lekites to limp home in front all the while watching his opponent to the rear.

The lad who forgot his track pants did manage to borrow a pair and run in the last race of the day.

At Caesar Rodney
Wednesday afternoon the locals ended another successful track season when they were second in a triangular meet with winning Milford and Caesar Rodney.

The Lions were hoping to salvage second in this meet because they knew Milford was too proficient to overtake with the decimated H.H.S. squad. Leonard Masten, Bill Porter and Walt Lekites were incapacitated. Bruce Smith, Jim Temple and Ron Collison were in New York. Two more lads were scholastically or otherwise ineligible. With this octet in harness the Lions had thumped the Riders from C. R. earlier in the season. Without their success was problematical hinging on the possibility of a top performance by almost everyone left.

Coach Jeffers instructed his runners in the mile, Harry Knotts and Clarence Hackett, to let the Milford and C.R. runners break the wind for them and save some strength for the half mile later. This plan worked to perfection with Knotts winning and freshman Hackett capturing third place. Later in the half mile Dwight Hackett and Knotts waltzed home together arm-in-arm to tie for first in 2:11.1, breaking the school standard of 2:11.4 set by Knotts at Cambridge. The 880 had a curious history at Harrington this year. During the first part of the season the 2:16.6 record set by Dwight Hackett appeared to be safe. Then it was broken by Knotts and Pfeiffer in the same race with Knotts winning in 2:12.9. C. Hackett lowered it to 2:12.6, Knotts to 2:11.4 and finally the original record holder D. Hackett and Knotts with their season-ending 2:11.1 closed the books until 1961.

George Balderson was the only other Lion to win an event as he triumphed in the shot put with a toss of 38 ft. 2 1/2 inches.

With one event left on the program H.H.S. needed to finish second in the 880 relay to capture the hoped for second in the meet. It looked like a lost cause with two of the legs to be handled by lanky Bob Gillette and burly George Balderson, who are field event performers and therefore have not run a race all year.

Bob Winkler again led off with a lead of several yards, Gillette took the baton and ran unexpectedly well for 150 yards before lack of practice took its toll and the Milford runner caught him. Balderson was further handicapped by having to run in basketball shoes and the Lion rosters groaned as he took the stick from Gillette. As a part-time football fullback Balderson had done some running but only for a few yards at a time. However, he moved very well for a large lad but the C.R. opponent caught him and at 110 yards of the 220 leg had a four yard lead. Big George shook his head and stayed in there fighting with the result that he lost not an inch in the last 110 yards. It was apparent that it would take a superlative effort by anchorman Pfeiffer to overcome the C.R. lead and that is just what happened. He gained slowly all the way and just when it appeared that all was lost put on a stirring spurt in the last 50 yards to take second by a foot.

The writer is proud to be even remotely associated with these lads when one considers the intestinal fortitude they have displayed all year and especially in the last two outings.

H.H.S. won the junior high division to finish the regular season undefeated.

Barry Fry led the juniors with first places in the high jump and broad jump and a second in the 220.

Terry Trepasso won the 50 and 100 yard dashes and ran on the winning 880 relay team.

The broad jump was a H.H.S. sweep as Randy Knox, Lamar Beene and Richard Schrieber were 2-3-4 behind Fry.

Paul Rash was second in the 50, third in the 100 and ran on the 880 relay team.

Schrieber was third in the high jump, fourth in the 220 and ran on the winning 440 and 880 relay teams. Lamar Beene anchored both relays and had to muster a mighty effort to nose Milford in the 440.

Tom Jones and Nelson Reed also were on the 440 relay quartet.

Del. Park Opens Saturday

Delaware Park, whose "renaissance" began last year with a $3,000,000 physical improvement program featuring one of thoroughbred racing's most modern and beautiful clubhouses, on Saturday (May 28) will launch its longest and richest meeting of 55 days with still more facilities and attractiveness for the public.

Beginning with the traditional opening day race headliner, the Wilmington Handicap, 18 stakes and features with at least $437,500 in prize money will be up for grabs, while overall value of stakes, purses and awards is estimated at $2,087,500—both figures representing new records.

The quarter-million dollar Distaff Big Three events for fillies and mares will again highlight the racing. These stakes, run on the final three Saturdays of the meeting, are, with estimated gross values, the $160,000 Oaks, $40,000 New Castle, and the climactic $150,000 (or more) Delaware Handicap, world's richest filly-and-mare race. The nation's leading distaff racers are named for these.

Opening day has again been designated "Fraternal Civic Day" honoring the Nur Temple Shriner, Knights of Columbus, Wilmington Jaycees and New Castle County Volunteer Firemen's Association, with races named for each, ceremonies and trophy presentations. In addition, the first in the series of fashion shows by John Wanamaker, Wilmington, will take place beginning at least an hour before the 2 o'clock first race post time in the clubhouse dining room.

The May 30 Memorial Day program will be topped by the Blue Hen Stakes for 2-year-old fillies and includes appropriate entertainment and ceremonies by the Delaware National Guard.

Preferred parking available to patrons using any of the track's three entrances has been instituted this season; officials of the track, the Delaware State Police and State Highway Department have completed plans for expediting all traffic and avoiding congestion inside and outside the Stanton grounds; new overhead, road - spanning turnpike-type directional signs-a race track "first" have been purchased and erected by Delaware Park inside each track entrance; the familiar Blue Hen directional signs to the track have been posted along all main roads; another brand new tram train has been purchased to augment shuttle service for those using the large parking areas. These are among the latest projects for Delaware Park's 23rd meeting.

Fatigue Results In Accidents

The man in bed said to his neighbor who was visiting:

"Did you ever get so tired that you just didn't pay attention to what you were doing? Well, I did, and that's how I almost got killed. I was really tired and didn't see that little ditch. The tractor turned over on me. I'm a good careful farmer too."

That's a typical conversation after many farm accidents, according to county agent George Vapaa with the Agricultural Extension Service. Fatigue often results in a serious and often fatal accident because we become careless and slow to respond.

Spring is one of the busiest seasons for farmers and they try to make use of every hour of daylight. Overwork and long hours contribute to fatigue.

You can prevent fatigue accidents by taking an occasional work break. Stop and rest for a few minutes.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—I'm going to take evening college courses under the Korean GI Bill, and I realize I'll have to spread out the school work over quite a period, since I have a full-time job. How much time do I have to complete training? I was discharged in mid-1958.

A—Korea veterans have eight years from discharge or until January 31, 1965, whichever comes earlier, to complete training. In no event may a veteran take training after January 31, 1965.

Q—I understand that no new GI insurance is being issued except to Korea veterans who have some service-connected disabilities, but what other conditions must be met for a veteran to be eligible?

A—To be eligible for new GI insurance, a Korea veteran must have a service-connected disability so rated by the VA, and must apply within one year from the date VA rates him service-connected.

Q—Who gets the money allowance from VA where a child is taking courses under the War Orphans Education program, the student or the parent or guardian?

A—Usually the allowance is paid to the parent or guardian of the young man or woman going to school. There are, however, cases where the money may be paid to the young person directly.

Q—My wife and I both signed the note for my GI loan. Can we both be released from liability to VA, if we sell our house? The buyer we have in mind will take over the unpaid balance of the loan.

A—You may both be released, as long as the legal conditions for release are met. The new buyer must put in writing that he will buy your property and assume the balance of your loan. He must also satisfy VA that he is a good credit risk.

SCHOOL BOARD

July 1, 1959, to April, 1960, an increase of $5,129.32. From July 1, 1958, to April, 1959, the district spent $20,331.23, for current expenses, compared with $30,567.17 for current expenses from July 1, 1957, to April, 1958. Thus, expenses increased $10,235.94, leaving the district $5,106.62 in the red, as far as local funds are concerned.

On retirement of building bonds, $26,381 was spent last year from local funds. However, by mistake, $33,265 was put in the debt service account this year, some of which should have gone into local funds instead of into the current expense account, and can be spent, my law, for no other purpose. Otherwise, Hatfield said, the current expense account would show a balance. Since the school district paid an overage in debt service (payment of principal and interest on building bonds) this year, this balance will make payment of debt service easier, the next few years, and the savings can go for paying current expenses.

(The House Monday passed Senate Bill 340 appropriating $2,085.90 to the Harrington Special District Board of Education for costs of repairs resulting from a fire marshal's inspection.) The board president then asked the superintendent to explain some out-of-the-ordinary expenses this year. The administrator enumerated painting roofs, installing fire doors, and exchanging typewriters (customary every three years) for electric typewriters for the first time. Hatfield pointed out that the typewriter cost was around $3300 and that more than $2000 was for work on halls and stairways in the 1912 building. This latter improvement was made at the order of the state fire marshal and refers to the Senate bill passed Monday.

Turning to athletics, Hatfield stated a lot of people had said athletic expenditures had been climbing, whereas, they, this year, had decreased.

Financial Statements

The board president, switching to another angle, wanted to know if it was a policy of the superintendent to send financial reports to teachers and clubs, before notifying the board. Messner said it was his privilege. Hatfield retorted the superintendent shouldn't do it before seeing the board.

"The board is supposed to make the policy and he is to carry it out," said Mrs. Musetta Cox, board member. Messner answered the policies are made by the board on the recommendation of the administrator, the usual case in schools.

Changing to another course, a spectator wanted to know more about the Messner "retirement."

Roland Hitchens, board member, replied: "If he has not cooperated with the board, for the past two years, then retire him." John Abbott, class of 1935, then said: "That is why we came here: to find out why Messner was fired." He then wanted the board to answer two women who wanted to know why the board wanted Messner to resign.

The board president answered: "You will never get an answer that will suit you."

The board, then, getting back to the issuance of financial reports, passed a motion that if an employe gives a financial statement to the public without the board's authorization, he or she is to be suspended.

Abbott answered the public has a right to know and that the suggestion (motion) was entirely out of order. "The public is going to pay the bills," he countered.

The board president said that that figures change from day to day and that "every figure we have shows a balance."

Continuing, he answered that individuals could go to the school office for financial information at any time. He added that "none of the financial statements, issued recently to the public, had been seen by the board until a couple days later."

Hatfield said figures could be misleading. He then quoted a possible income of $22,203, to the end of the school year, mentioned by the school superintendent, and said it varied from his figures. Messner said it was only an estimate.

Teaching Vacancies

At the start of the meeting, the board interviewed for teaching vacancies, with applicants not being present for all of them. For example, the board voted to continue hiring a part-time music teacher to replace Mrs. Richard Gibson who is moving to Ocean City, Md., where her husband has assumed a pastorate. No applicant was present.

James Hawpe, physical education director of Greenwood school, was hired to a similar post here to replace Richard Jeffers who has accepted a post at the Colwyck Elementary School in New Castle County.

Lulu Macklin, Harrington, now teaching at Ellendale, was hired to teach at Pierre S. duPont School, replacing Mrs. Arthur Thorpe who is retiring after many years.

Mrs. Curtis Melvin was hired as a part-time nurse. Mrs. Legatha Farrow is head nurse. Mrs. Melvin studied nursing at Jefferson Hospital, Philadelphia.

Mrs. William Parker, a third-grade teacher, is leaving the teaching field. Mrs. Esther Moore Bader, a Harrington resident teaching at Frederica, applied for the post and her application is being studied along with those of other applicants.

There were no applicants for a teacher of general science in junior high school.

Mrs. Peggy Malek, art teacher, had given an oral resignation. It was voted to fill the position but no applicants were present. Since a third section will be added to the ninth grade, and it will take the art room, just where the course would be held was not answered, though an attempt was made to find a solution.

The next regular board meeting will be held the third Thursday in June.

L. O. O. M. News

Last Sunday afternoon, May 22, at 1:30 p.m. an executive officers meeting of the Maryland, Delaware and District of Columbia Moose Association was held at the Harrington Lodge.

Reports were made by the state association committee chairman of the activities of their respective committees.

Our state director, George Aten, gave a speech on the fraternalism of the Loyal Order of Moose.

Dog Ticks—Perennial Spring Pests

Almost everyone is glad to see warm weather arrive—baseball fans, swimmers, ice cream cartmen and their small-fry customers, the suntan lotion people and backyard cooking enthusiasts.

But unfortunately, warm weather signals the return of a whole host of pests that have been forgotten since autumn's frosts.

Among these pests are ants—they really dig outdoor cooks; mosquitoes—they like everybody; and American dog ticks—they consider Junior to be almost as tasty as Rover.

Now ants at a picnic are an old American tradition which we probably shouldn't tamper with anyway. Mosquitoes—well some of our best scientists are scratching their heads (also their backs, shoulders, arms, etc.) over this one. But ticks you can do something about.

If your dog has ticks, the best way to get them off is with tweezers. (The same goes if a tick has anchored onto you). This recommendation comes from Dr. Richard F. Darsie of the department of entomology at the University of Delaware. The American dog tick is a carrier of Rocky Mountain spotted fever. If you try to remove a feeding tick with your bare fingers, you may accidentally "squosh" him, and this is risky. So use the tweezers and play it safe.

Here are Dr. Darsie's suggestions for avoiding tick trouble. Check yourself and the children every night at bedtime. Look especially well behind the ears of children, in their hair and in the folds of their skin. Use an antiseptic on the skin when you remove a tick. You can't assume that there weren't any ticks where you had your afternoon picnic. Ticks are found everywhere so again, play it safe and look for them before your family goes to bed.

Dr. Darsie says you can solve Rover's problems by rubbing DDT in his coat. Use about four tablespoons of five per cent DDT dust. To treat areas infested with ticks use a five per cent dust of DDT at four pounds per 1000 square feet, or five per cent dust of Chlordane at a rate of one and one-fourth pounds per 1000 square feet.

If you prefer to use a spray, mix any of the following chemicals in 25 gallons of water: 4 pounds of 50 per cent DDT, 2½ pounds of 40 per cent Chlordane, or 2 pounds of 50 per cent dielin.

This amount will cover one acre.
