Moose Club and Others Work For Area Youth Sports

A few years back Harrington had lost its once cherished reputation as a sports town. The local high school was down to two sports, baseball and basketball, and were not setting the world on fire in either of these. There was little or no activity during the summer months.

Thanks to several organizations and groups the children of the Harrington area now have plenty of supervised recreation instead of having many idle hours in which to devise new methods of getting into trouble.

Wm. A. Wheeler has poured many dollars into his "Wheeler's Park" which is known to small fry from far and wide. The Lions Club is at present sponsoring eight baseball teams in addition to past contributions in other youth programs.

Clay Culhane to Appear at Fair Children's Day

Riding hell-bent for stardom is Peter Breck who sits 10 feet tall as Clay Culhane in ABC-TV's popular "Black Saddle" series.

J. Gordon Smith president of the Kent-Sussex County Fair, said today that the children were in for a big treat as Clay Culhane would be making an afternoon and an evening appearance at the Kent-Sussex Fair at Harrington Tuesday, Children's Day, July 26. In keeping with the tradition of the Fair all school children will be admitted free that day and Prell's Shows will give away several valuable gifts plus a reduction in the usual charge on rides and in shows.

As Clay Culhane, the introspective ex-gunfighter turned lawyer, Peter has drawn critical raves, plus giving the character tremendous depth and sensitivity. Culhane travels the frontier with law books in his saddle bags but often his reputation as a "fast gun" moves ahead of him. He is a man with problems, a sensitive human being with a background of violence a role tailored for dynamic Peter Breck. This handsome young star is also one of Hollywood's most eligible bachelors and lives in a modest 8 room house in the San Fernando Valley.

The Fair Association feels proud of being able to procure this man to entertain Fair Patrons.

The structure, to be of concrete-block construction with a brick front, will be located on the northeast corner of Main Street and U. S. 13 and will face the highway.

The building will have an engine room, dining-room, kitchen, conference room, and recreation room.

The general contract has been let to Robert Zook, Milford, with the heating, plumbing, and electrical contract to Joseph Richardson, of Harrington.

The building was designed by T. W. Bidde Jr., of Farmington, recently retired architect for Alexander Potter Associates, consulting engineers, specializing in sewage and water treatment plants, incinerators, etc.

New Measure Proposes Cuts In New Schools

An amendment to the school bond bill, submitted Tuesday in the House of Representatives, would add five new projects, increase five, lower one and omit two.

The net effect on the total money involved is to reduce it from $25,477,861 to $21,193,561. Of the total proposed in the amendment (HA-1 to HB-564) there would be $14,356,651 in state funds and $6,836,910 in local funds.

Two large projects omitted from the amendment are for two proposed new consolidated districts which do not yet exist. One was for $3,550,000 for proposed new building in the consolidation of Smyrna, Odessa, Kenton, Townsend, Clayton and Middletown districts. The other was for a $3,075,000 high school for a proposed high school district to serve Frederica, Harrington, and Felton districts.

The one project reduced in the amendment as compared with the bill is for the Alfred I. duPont Avenue School, from $51,000 to $75,000; New Castle Special, from $1,560,000 to $1,586,000; Caesar Rodney Special, from $1,275,000 to $1,425,000; Smyrna Special, from $20,000 to $740,700; and Stanton, from $1,571,500 to $1,871,500.

The amendment, submitted by Rep. George Robbins, chairman of the House Education Committee, was committed with the bill.

Two more amendments to the budget bill were also introduced Tuesday, both by Rep. Charles F. Richards (R-Dover) the minority.

After the dinner, dancing was enjoyed by all in the gym to the music of Bob Wagner.

House Members Override Veto Of School Bill

The House Tuesday overrode the Governor's veto of the school election bill.

The Governor's veto message on the bill, HB522 with HA-1, was received Monday.

Tuesday the Democrats produced just the 21 votes needed to override. All nine Republicans backed up the Governor by voting against overriding, and five Democrats were absent.

The action came during an afternoon in which the House passed six bills, received six amendments, deferred action on two bills, tabled the roll call on another, received no new bills, and received and passed one resolution.

The bill passed over the veto would have three effects: first, it would limit referenda on whether school boards should be elective or appointive to those boards—all in New Castle County—recently changed by law from appointive to elective. Second, it would limit such referenda to the 1960 general election. Third, it would clarify the power of the Departments of Elections to use paper ballots, if they wish, in holding the referenda. This was proposed because some election districts overlap two or three school districts.

Rep. Margaret R. Manning (R-Mill Creek Hundred) said the bill tries to "tell Kent and Sussex Counties they may not have referendums if they wish." And Rep. William T. Best (R-Nassau) declared it is the worst kind of class legislation. We're telling one district they can have a referendum and another they cannot."

Now the future of the bill is up to the Senate.

One of the bills passed Tuesday affects schools by proposing a change in the tuition law. The measure HS-1 for HB-581, would permit a child to attend a public school outside his home district if the receiving district is willing and the child's parents pay the tuition. Permission of the home district would not be required.

The bill was introduced by Rep. Ralph S. Keenan (R-Wilmington) in whose district are some children who attend the Alexis I. duPont Special School District rather than the Wilmington schools. The bill got 29 yeas, two nays (Cannon and Manning) with four absent.

Rep. James R. Quigley (D-New Castle Hundred) attempted to get the House to pass his bill (HB-534) to make control of barbers statewide. It is presently limited to Wilmington. The control is exercised by the Board of Examiners of Barbers.

First Mr. Quigley submitted an amendment cutting from $200 to $100 the fee for inspection of a new barber shop. There was little discussion before the roll call which produced 20 yeas, eight nays, three not voting and four absent. The bill requires a two-thirds majority—24 votes. The roll call was tabled.

The House discussed but deferred action on SB-14, a measure to appropriate $3500 to the Slaughter Beach Memorial Fire Company.

HARRINGTON TO GRADUATE 40; SANDRA KATES, VALEDICTORIAN

Frear Says Postal Employees Need Pay Increase

United States Senator J. Allen Frear says that postal employees should not have to wait for Congress to increase mail rates before they receive an increase in pay.

In his weekly statement Mr. Frear disagreed flatly with the Post Office Department's opposition to the pending pay raise bill until Congress hikes mail rates. Mr. Frear declared that the pay of all Federal employees should be commensurate with their skills and in keeping with the American tradition of rewarding meritorious service. "If pay increases can be justified for the men and women in our postal system, then these people should not have to wait the approval of legislation to hike postal rates before the added compensation is given to them," Mr. Frear said.

The Senator expressed regrets that the Post Office Department is operating under a deficit but emphasized that the Post Office Employees are not responsible for it. Added the Senator, "When the Department seeks to tie a pay raise to a hike in mail rates, it seems to me that in essence, the Postmaster General seeks to make these employees accountable."

The Delaware lawmaker declared, "No one is more opposed to deficits in the Federal Government than I am. It has long been my conviction that Federal spending is at times reckless and extravagant. But the responsibility for such actions rests primarily with the President and with Congress, not with the individual Government employee. We are at this moment in Congress in the process of considering a 4-billion dollar Foreign Aid bill for the next fiscal year. It is frankly difficult for me to see how this tremendous expenditure can be justified while at the same time it is proposed to deny a reasonable increase in compensation to our postal workers. I hope that in the days immediately ahead Congress will view this matter realistically and in light of needs that confront our own people first and foremost."

Knotts Third In State Open Two-Mile Run

Harry Knotts, 16-year-old H.S. junior, ran two miles in 10 minutes and 19 seconds on Wednesday night to finish third in the State Open Track and Field Championships held at Baynard Stadium at Wilmington. It was Harry's first competitive effort at that distance and he made it a good one. His time would win the two-mile in many small college meets.

The meet was open to any amateur in Delaware with the result that college, athletic club and high school stars competed. The two mile was won by the latest "Flying Finn" Carl-Olaf Homen, who recently graduated from the University of Delaware. Homen is Middle Atlantic Collegiate Conference two-mile king. In second place was Wes Stack of Seaford, a University of Delaware sophomore, who holds the university freshman two mile record. Last year Stack won the three mile footrace at the Kent and Sussex Fair.

Simpson Hits Free Mileage

Senator Walton H. Simpson (R-Camden) Tuesday continued his one-man crusade to authorize the payment of mileage only to senators who show up for sessions.

Asking for the floor to read a prepared statement, Senator Simpson put the present system in a category with "feather-bedding."

The object of the senator's ire is the practice in the Senate of paying a member mileage money to and from Dover each day the Senate is in session, whether the senator shows up or not.

Senator Simpson said: "As members of this assembly, we have a responsibility. The public is trusting us to do what is right in all our affairs. Surely, we should not be responsible with contributing to the moral decay of our society. This is precisely what it seems to me we are doing when we receive traveling pay for not traveling. Explaining that he did not intend to stir up dissension among members of the Senate, Simpson asked: "Do we have the courage to show the people that we, as legislators of the State of Delaware, prize moral things more highly than material gain?"

He then introduced a resolution (SR-148) which would authorize the payment of mileage to only senators who are present at session or at committee meetings in Legislative Hall.

The measure, co-sponsored by Senator Harvey B. Spicer (R-Georgetown), was referred to committee without comment.

"Is Cancer Increasing?"

The answer to this and 100 questions are given in a newly published pamphlet which was made available to the public recently, it was announced by Dr. O. J. Pollack, President of the Kent County Unit of the American Cancer Society.

The pamphlet points out that the number of recorded cancer deaths each year has increased from 41,000 in 1900 to about 265,000 in 1959.

In answering the question further, the publications says, "This bears a direct relationship to the increase in the total population and the increase in the number of people over the age (Continued on back page)

LET A LITTLE SUNSHINE IN

In the overcrowded and stench-filled tenements of New York City are the homes of more than 300,000 children. It is unbelievable, until one witnesses the poverty and deprivation of one's future citizens . . . children of all races, creeds, and nationalities need help in growing up as normal Americans.

The New York Herald Tribune Fresh Air Fund provides a solution in friendly towns. In the 12 states from Maine to Virginia, there are 1750 such communities. Children between 5 and 10 years of age have the chance to romp thru the meadows, swim in the brooks, fish in the ponds, meet new friends, and get away from the traffic-congested streets and garbage-strewn alleys they use for playgrounds.

Each host provides food, friendship, and understanding for two weeks or more. The funds pay for transportation, liability insurance for hosts, and all medical bills, as well as escort arrangements. The host's expense is that of maintaining the child in his home.

In his invitation, the host may designate age and sex, as well as race (and religion if that is important to him).

The fund reports a particular need to place more boys and Negro children of all ages. Finding hosts, for the latter, in the homes of Harrington's Negro citizens, has proved difficult. A number are prosperous enough to accommodate them, however.

Persons desiring more information on the Fresh Air program can telephone Mrs. Frank O'Neal at EXeter 8-8855.

GASOLINE AND ALCOHOL DO NOT MIX

Driving while under the influence of alcohol and speeding continued to be the leading causes of highway fatalities in Delaware during the first four months of this year, the Delaware Safety Council reported yesterday.

Twenty-four persons lost their lives in 18 highway accidents in the period. Each of the accidents is analyzed in a summary of 1960 highway fatalities prepared by the Council as part of a packet of off-the-job safety material. The material is being sent to Delaware industrial firms cooperating with the Council in promoting an off-the-job safety program among their employees. The program emphasized prevention of falls when it started a few months ago. During the summer vacation safety will be emphasized. The packet contains material on highway safety, on safe use of power lawn mowers, on safety in outdoor recreation including boating, and on vacation safety in general. Similar material is available to other interested groups or individuals at the Safety Council's office in the Du Pont Building.

The analysis of the highway accidents shows that nine of the 24 deaths were caused primarily by operating while under the influence of alcohol. Speeding was the primary cause of seven of the deaths, and a secondary cause in five other deaths. Thus, drinking and speeding were the primary causes of 16 out of the 24 deaths on Delaware highways in the four months.

Five other deaths were caused by walking into the path of vehicles. One was primarily caused by a bicycle crossing in front of a vehicle, one by a driver falling asleep and one by failure to grant right of way to a train.

A brief description of each accident situation is given in the summary, which is based upon police reports.

"Experience in 1960 as well as in 1959 and in prior years demonstrates conclusively that drinking and driving can not safely be mixed," said J. James Ashton, Manager of the Safety Council. "This summer when the roads are more crowded than ever, avoid driving if you have been drinking, and take the time to be careful."

"Drive safely and have fun driving—and be able to have fun when you get where you're going," he suggested.

Water Safety On the Farm

"Farm families need to take safety seriously — everywhere — all the time," says George Vapaa, County Extension Agent.

One of the principal causes of fatal accidents occurring on farms is drownings, he said.

Today, there is more opportunity to drown on the farm because farm ponds are far more numerous.

Mr. Vapaa, reminds farm pond owners that it is their responsibility to make their ponds safe. Perhaps your farm pond should be fenced so children can't play there without adult supervision. Lifesaving devices such as ring buoys, ropes and long poles should be placed around swimming areas.

Reservoirs and ponds should be fenced as should irrigation canals and ditches. Culverts and inlets need protective devices, too.

When planning this summer's vacation, he advises farm families to include safety plans and then go all out to observe all safety rules.

Development Department Lists Current Events

A new two-fold, six panel folder, listing many of the outstanding events scheduled for the State of Delaware during the remainder of the current year, is now being distributed according to announcement made this week by the State Development Department.

This new edition of the "Delaware Calendar of Events" lists 147 events in all sections of the state and in all types of activity, indicating that Delawareans and visitors to "The First State" may exercise a wide range of choice in planning their summer and fall activities here.

This edition, like preceding ones, was compiled and edited by David S. Hugg, state informational officer, and is being distributed through various travel information centers throughout the East. It is also being included, along with other Delaware materials, in replies to the many requests for Delaware information received daily by the Development Department.

Complete 1960 Wool Sales Records Important

With the beginning of the new wool marketing year, and shearing time well under way or completed, growers are reminded to get complete sales records if they intend filing for wool incentive payments under the national wool program. Marketings since March 31 will be eligible for payments under the 1960 program.

Lister V. Hall, Jr., Office Manager of the Kent Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Office, says that such sales records should be kept by the producer until an application is filed at the county office. Payments under the 1960 program will not be made until mid-summer of 1961.

Payments under the 1959 wool program will be made this summer.

Growers are also reminded that the grower who receives the highest price for his wool also receives the largest payment under the wool incentive program. The payment rate is the percentage necessary to bring the national average price received by growers during the marketing year up to the incentive level of 62 cents a pound.

Fishing Lines

Real Fishy!
Delaware's fishing season is just getting well underway, and already, two unusual specimens of fish have been landed. Clarence Plummer of Slaughters Beach caught a five pound rock which contained both roe and milt. Fish with both male and female reproductive organs are not really rare, but they are clearly abnormal and attract a lot of interest.

All flat-fishes are colored on one side only. The Arabs have an amusing legend to account for this saying that Moses was once engaged in cooking a flat fish and, that when it had been broiled until it became nicely browned on one side, the oil gave out. He then became so annoyed that he threw the fish into the sea, and it promptly came back to life and even since its descendants have displayed this curious arrangement of color. Harry Dukes of Millville recently caught a flounder which must have reverted to the coloration of its very early ancestors as the specimen he hooked was evenly colored on both sides. It is known that the flat-fishes actually did descend from symmetrical perch-like fishes and, occasionally, one is found that shows a color pattern and other traits of its ancient relatives.

Unseasonably Cool Weather Has Even Confused the Fish

Fish that migrate into Delaware's inshore waters follow quite closely the same general path each year. It was a bit unusual when a 17 pound blue fish was landed in the surf near Indian River Inlet last week. Blues are ordinarily not found in the surf until later in the season. The presence of this record breaker indicates that this fish might have strayed a little from its normal route of travel.

During the past week trawlers operating near the Old Mohawk Wreck caught whiting while fishing in about 60 feet of water. The lingering cool spring weather may be responsible for fish remaining in the bay this late in the season. However, the waters are warming and a number of croakers have already been caught, they may be entertaining the sports fishermen within the next week or two.

Lot and Lots of Porgies

Porgies are still plentiful in the ocean south of the Inlet and off Fenwick Island. Boats operating from the Yatch Basin and Scotts Marina have had excellent catches of these fishes. Porgies are known to gather around sunken wrecks, and it is quite a spectacle to see 40 to 50 boats fishing over one of these spots in our vast open ocean waters. The fish have been so plentiful in this area that boats from Lewes are making the long journey south for their sport.

White Perch and Bass

Perch fishermen can be seen on almost all the bridges and banks of our tidal streams from New Castle to Broadkill. This fishing has been quite rewarding recently as many fine catches have been made.

Large bass were taken at Waples pond near Milton during last week. Noxontown pond, Middletown; Griffith Lake, Milford; Horsey's pond, Laurel and Williams Pond, Seaford have been real "hot spots" for bass, pike and pan fish.

WANTED BY THE FBI

JOSEPH CORBETT, JR.

Corbett, one of the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives," is wanted for escape from the California Institution for Men, Chino, Calif., where he was serving a 5 years' to life sentence for murdering an Air Force sergeant. A Federal warrant was issued at Los Angeles, Calif., on March 21, 1960, charging him with unlawful interstate flight to avoid confinement for murder.

A white American, born on October 25, 1928, at Seattle, Wash., Corbett is 6 feet 1 inch to 6 feet 2 inches tall and weighs 160 to 170 pounds. He has light brown hair, hazel eyes, a fair complexion, a medium build, and has worked as a clerk-typist, laborer, warehouseman, laboratory technician, and allyd-resin cooker for a paint manufacturer. His two upper front teeth slant inward and he wears glasses, reportedly being extremely nearsighted and capable of seeing only close objects without them. He has a mole under his chin and a C-shaped scar on his right thumb.

Corbett, once a premeditated student, is interested in scientific matters, avidly reads technical and travel books, and is intensely interested in firearms and target practice. He reportedly has a superior general intelligence and generally lives quietly and neatly but becomes erratic when drinking alcoholic beverages.

Convicted of second-degree murder, he is considered armed and dangerous. Anyone having information concerning him should immediately notify the nearest office of the FBI, the telephone number of which can be found on the first page of local telephone directories. SP-6 561206-24

Scholarship and Medal Winners

Miss Sandra Lowry, 123 East-lawn Ave., Wilmington, has been named winner of the AATSP scholarship at the University of Delaware, according to an announcement by Dr. John C. Vor-rath, contest chairman for the Delaware Chapter of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese.

The scholarship, worth $100, is awarded annually by the university to the Delaware high school senior planning to enter the university, who places highest in a national contest examination in Spanish given by the chapter.

Miss Lowry, daughter of Mrs. Anne Lowry, is a senior at P. S. duPont High School, where she is a third-year Spanish student of Miss Ella Hoyt. She is also receiving additional scholarship assistance from the university, where she plans to major in languages. In addition to the Spanish scholarship, she was awarded a medal in 1959 by the Cultural Service of the French Embassy for her performance in a similar contest examination in French.

The AATSP awards a medal each year to the winners of its three contest examinations for second, third and fourth year students. The fourth-year medal this year is awarded to Miss Mary Ann Payne of P. S. duPont High School, who, like Miss Lowry, is a student of Miss Ella Hoyt. In the third-year group, Miss Lowry receives the medal. She not only is the highest ranking senior in the contest to enter the University of Delaware, but she also placed highest in the third-year examination. The second-year medal was won by Miss Charlotte Remington of Mt. Pleasant High School, a student of Mrs. Winono Botello.

An unusual situation resulted in one special honorable mention in the contest. Roberto Mendez, a student of Mrs. Elizabeth Getty at Smyrna High School, was barred from official entry in the contest by a National Spanish Contest rule which prohibits competition to those who have had home experience or other out-of-class contact with the language. Mendez is a native of Texas, with considerable Spanish-speaking family background, who has been living for some time in Smyrna. He was allowed to enter the contest unofficially, with the understanding that his score would not be ranked with those of other students. A second-year Spanish student, he took the third-year examination and placed higher in that examination than any of the regular competitors.

"The officers and members of the Delaware Chapter of the AATSP are pleased at the state-wide response which the competition elicited this year," Dr. Vor-rath said. "Although the total number of competitors was not appreciably greater than it has been in recent years, the number of schools (15) entering students in the second-and third-year contests was the greatest ever. Especially notable is the increase in participation from Kent and Sussex Counties and the increase in the number of schools throughout the state offering language study beyond the two years formerly available. This development is particularly gratifying in view of the well-known national need for students with foreign language abilities."

The names of the highest-standing students, not including medal winners, from each school:

Second Year—P. S. duPont, Linda Hirschfield; Mrs. Annette Heck, teacher; Smyrna, James Fischer, Mrs. Elizabeth Getty, teacher; Caesar Rodney, Barbara Lovece, Mrs. Joan Abraham, teacher; Brandywine, Judith alker, Mr. Ralph Capodanno, teacher; A. I. duPont, Elaine McCann, Mr. Edward Magill, teacher; Lewes, Laura J. Warrington, Mrs. Sally Vessels, teacher; Newark, Joan Aneda, Mrs. William H. Bohning, teacher; H. C. Conrad, Betty Lue Fisher, Miss Mildred Morrison, teacher; Ursuline Academy, Roberta Ferguson, Mrs. Marcelle Orsini, teacher; St. Elizabeth's, Martha Ann Skura, Sister M. Assumpta, teacher; Tannal, Leonora Blackhurst, Mr. William Clawges, teacher; Wilmington, Kathryn Sewell, Mr. Peter Gradel, teacher; Archmere Academy, Steve Dunning, Mr. Daniel Regan, teacher; Milford, Harvey Gellens, Mrs. Sarah Fisher, teacher.

Third Year—H. C. Conrad, Larry Kneisley, Miss Mildred Morrison, teacher; Ursuline Academy, Mary Lucille Catalino, Mrs. Marcelle Orsini, teacher; Newark, Elizabeth Able, Mrs.

William Bohning, teacher; Smyrna, Richard Savage, Mrs. Elizabeth Getty, teacher.

Fourth Year—No schools except P. S. duPont, listed above under medal winners, had contestants entered.

Ten Million Vehicles Use Memorial Bridge

The prediction of General Manager Frank J. Harty that Delaware Memorial Bridge traffic for fiscal 1959-1960 would surpass ten million vehicles was verified Tuesday.

After the bridge accounting department completed its records it was announced that total traffic from June 1, 1959, through May 31, 1960, was 10,063,005 vehicles.

This represents an increase of seven per cent over fiscal 1958-59 when the count was 9,405,546 or a gain of 657,459 cars and trucks.

In his monthly report to the Interstate Highway Division, operators of the bridge, Mr. Harty reported a gain of 8.9 per cent for May 1960. There were 873,151 crossings that month, compared to 801,558 a year earlier.

During May, passenger traffic jumped 64,369 while trucks moved upward by 9,132 for a total gain of 71,503 vehicles.

Revenue for the month amounted to $341,137.45 compared to $496,042 for May, 1959 or a decrease of 31.2 percent. This reflects the thirty percent reduction in fares which became effective Jan. 1, 1960.

For fiscal 1959-60 total bridge revenue from all sources was $5,297,989.75 as compared to $5,712,936.85 the previous year, or a decrease of only $414,947.10 despite the cut in fares, reflecting the increase of traffic in all categories but two.

Passenger car traffic accounted for 7,099,081 vehicles as compared to 6,543,939 in fiscal 1958-59. This was a hike of 555,002 in that category, exclusive of the commutation book users.

In that field the 20-trip book users jumped from 575,920 in 1958-59 to 650,052, while ten-trip traffic dropped by 99,305—from 491,961 in 1958-59 to 392,656 this fiscal year.

Bridge officials feel that the 25c passenger car rate pleases patrons so well that they hesitate to call for the ten-trip books, good for two calendar months, although they would net another five per cent saving per crossing.

Among truck traffic, the big four-axle trailer trucks jumped from 1,097,923 to 1,200,746—a gain of 102,823. Next in line were two-axle trucks which went up 23,500—from 281,086 to 370,880 vehicles. Three-axle traffic was also up by 18,689—from 362,191 in 1958-59 to 370,880.

There was a decrease in another category, Mr. Harty reports. This occurred in the five axle or more "special" jobs. These were off by 1,143 vehicles, dropping from 5,232 to 3,099.

Better control of the use of free transportation, including police, maintenance and other non-revenue vehicles also resulted in a drop. There were 39,400 such crossings in 1959-60 as compared to 47,244 a year earlier.

July 1959 produced the heaviest traffic in the 12 months' period when 1,154,757 crossings were registered. This was also the heaviest month in the span's history since the opening for business, Aug. 16, 1951.

One record remains intact at the close of the fiscal year. While there were 48,551 Crossings Fri., July 3, 1959, it was still 223 vehicles short of the all-time record set Sat., July 2, 1955—when the highest single day's business was recorded at 48,774 vehicles.

Mr. Harty also reports that at the end of business May 31, there were only $14,160,000 in revenue bonds outstanding to be redeemed. During the last fiscal year, the Interstate Highway Division was to retire $4,240,000 in bonds, bringing the total redemptions to $32,690,000. The amount of bonds authorized to that date totaled $46,850,000 for the entire construction and maintenance of the only connecting link between New Jersey and Delaware.

A record number of service calls and assistance to motorists in distress were also logged during the past fiscal year. Motorists in distress were also logged during the past fiscal year. Motorists who stall their cars in line, stall on the roadway or run out of gas are removed free by maintenance crews. The same thing holds true for unfortunates with flat tires.

Since June 1, 1959, some 7,968 cars were either stalled or ran out of gas while trying to cross the span and there were 2,399 flat tires during that period. The total number of service calls on the bridge and roadways came to 10,367.

April holds the record for flat tires. There were 268 of them as compared to 187 in April, 1959. The trend was upward in every month of the year in all these categories.

for this are apparent; 1-the group have become accustomed to harder work; 2-They have gotten used to my procedures; 3-They work hard to take advantage of certain incentives with which I have challenged them. You must, also, understand that these boys and girls were delving into a difficult, specialized subject and on a departmental basis, for the first time.

U. of D. Students May Go Abroad

Music and drama students at the University of Delaware may soon be in the forefront of the cold-war struggle with the Soviet Union, according to Congressman Harris B. McDowell, Jr. (D-Del.)

In fact, the State Department and the Department of Defense have already begun to schedule U. S. college and university groups before young people of other countries as a result of a campaign for such an educational program being waged by Congressman McDowell.

Dr. C. Robert Kase, head of the drama department, and Dr. Ivan Trusler, director of choral organizations at the University of Delaware, are supporting the use of student groups in the nation's cultural exchange programs with other nations. Congressman McDowell and Dr. Trusler are seeking to arrange an overseas tour of the University Concert Choir as part of the Government's cultural exchange program.

Like other nations, the Federal Government is sending American artists abroad to demonstrate current advances in American culture and to counteract the Soviet drive to picture the United States as materialistic and the USSR as the seat of culture.

The program has been largely confined to commercial groups such as the New York Philharmonic Symphony which was a smash hit in the Soviet Union last year with Leonard Bernstein conducting.

The Broadway play "My Fair Lady," scheduled for the Wilmington Playhouse this past April, before the State Department chose it for an overseas assignment, is an outstanding success in the USSR at this very moment.

The program soon became completely dominated by New York City's commercial theater and music organizations with the result that only five college and university talent groups were sent abroad in five years.

Congressman McDowell wrote officials of the State Department and the Defense Department urging that student talent groups being sent overseas to entertain American troops be scheduled to entertain young people of other nations. A drama group from the University of Delaware, headed by Dr. Kase, toured Korea a year ago to entertain U. S. Troops.

The proposal was eagerly welcomed by the Department of Defense, which saw in it an opportunity to win new friends for American troops overseas at a time when they are very much needed.

The State Department agreed with Congressman McDowell that their program, which is quite niggardly when compared with the program of the Soviet Union, could be greatly expanded through co-operative use with the Defense Department of U. S. college and university talent.

Major General R. V. Lee, The Adjutant General, U. S. Army, wrote Congressman McDowell that—

"For your information, it is presently planned to schedule some ten university/college drama or musical groups for tours of military overseas areas on a world-wide basis during the period September 1960-August 1961. A copy of this schedule has been furnished the appropriate Department of State officials responsible for the President's program so that they may advise their overseas posts of the forthcoming tours by these groups."

As a result of Congressman McDowell's campaign, arrangements have been made by officials of the Department of State this Summer for a music group from the University of Kansas to present "Brigadoon" before student groups in Tokyo and Manila. A group from the Catholic University of America will present six or seven programs in Amerika Houses in Germany.

Assistant Secretary of State William B. Macomber, Jr., wrote Congressman McDowell that his "useful suggestion" was really an extension of co-operative action already existing between the military and the Department of State.

"In a great many instances the military have provided transport for President's Program attractions in return for special troop appearances. On the other hand the President's Program has picked up troop entertainment groups for civilian performances. While the cooperative effort between the two agencies has been excellent in the past, we are continually seeking practical ways to extend joint action—the Department will proceed, however, to develop this suggestion to the maximum extent feasible."

Among the outstanding national groups supporting Congressman McDowell in his drive to use college and university talent groups in the country's cold-war efforts against the Soviet Union are the American Educational Theater Association, the Music Educators National Conference (the music department of the National Education Association), the Congressionally-chartered National Music Council, the National Federation of Music Clubs, and the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Dr. C. Robert Kase is a leading official of the American Educational Theater Association, and heads a committee of leading educators working with the Defense Department in obtaining suitable groups of young people to entertain U. S. troops.

The National Music Council, at its May 19, 1960 meeting, established a similar committee for music in response to a suggestion by Congressman McDowell.

Congressman McDowell said today he hoped the State Department—"may soon find it possible to set up independent tours for college and university music and drama groups as a part of its cultural exchange with other nations. This would be in line with President Eisenhower's call for a massive interchange of mutual understanding among young people of the United States and other nations."

The State Department has had American educational leaders overseas for the past several months studying the feasibility of establishing a special university-conservatory circuit for U. S. college and university music and drama groups. This circuit would be entirely independent of the program carried on by U. S. commercial and professional cultural groups which is headed up by the American National Theater and Academy which is the booking agent for the State Department.

Boy Wounds Dad in Back

Homer White, 46, of East Street, Harrington, was shot in the back with a 16-gauge shotgun loaded with buckshot by his son, Phillip, 17; at 11:30 Sunday night. The older White was only slightly injured and was treated by a local physician.

Chief Ernest Kohland, of the Harrington police, arrested the son on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. He was arraigned before Magistrate L. Gooden Callaway, Harrington, Monday.

According to police, the mother and father were engaged in a discussion and the boy grabbed up the gun and fired the shot. The youth was released from Ferris School about two weeks ago, police said.

State police, assisted Chief Kohland in the investigation. The older White is employed as a member of a section gang on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Drum Crushes Milford Boy, 6

Terry Lynn Johnson, a 6-year-old Milford child, was killed suddenly Friday afternoon when a 55-gallon gas drum fell on his head on his grandfather's farm near Greenwood.

State police of the Bridgeville Troop said the boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Johnson, had gone to visit his grandfather, Elisha Ward Johnson, and was helping him in the field.

About 5 p.m., the tractor driven by the grandfather was low on gas and Johnson drove it back to his home where he kept two gasoline drums on racks, several feet from the ground.

After refueling, the tractor failed to start so Johnson got his daughter, Gail, 13, to push him with another tractor. In doing so, police said a corn planter attached to Johnson's tractor hit one of the drums.

D. C. to Entertain Methodists

Sixteen ministerial and lay delegates will represent the churches of Delaware and the Eastern Shore of Maryland at the quadrennial sessions of the Northeastern Jurisdictional Conference of The Methodist Church, June 15-19 in Washington, D. C.

The Northeastern Jurisdiction comprises 12 eastern states from Maine to West Virginia, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico, numbering 7785 churches and nearly 2,000,000 members.

Highlighting the conference sessions will be the election of three bishops, and possibly a fourth. Three vacancies in the jurisdictional College of Bishops will be due to the retirement of Bishops W. Earl Ledden, Frederick B. Newell, and G. Bromley Oxnam. Bishop Oxnam has been administrator of the Washington Area for the past eight years. His successor will be named during the conference.

Among the recommendations to come before the conference are those of a special Committee on Boundaries. This committee will recommend, among other things, that the Central Pennsylvania Conference be transferred from the Washington Area to the Pittsburgh Area, and that the latter be renamed the Western Pennsylvania Area.

If the conference adopts this recommendation, the Washington Area will include only two conferences—the Peninsula and Baltimore.

Hosts to the conference are the Metropolitan Methodist Church, the American University, and Wesley Theological Seminary.

Wool Pool June 18

Sheep producers who have not taken advantage of the Delaware Sheep and Wool Association marketing pool should give it a try, according to University of Delaware Extension Livestock specialist, John H. Shropshire. He says wool marketed through the pool last year resulted in price increases of eight to ten cents per pound for most grades of wool. This increase resulted from the grading service supplied by the association together with the marketing of a large volume of wool at one time. To obtain the maximum benefits of the pool individual producers are urged to tie each fleece with paper cord, use separate tags and keep the clip dry.

This year's pool will be held June 18 at the Harrington Fairgrounds. If you want more information on how to participate in this co-operative marketing effort, contact your County Agent or the Extension Livestock Specialist.

Royal Roast For Dad's Day

With Father's Day coming up, plans in his honor should include a feast with his favorite meat in the star spot.

If roast beef is his preference, a rib eye roast is a happy choice says Reba Staggs, meat expert. This is the boneless meaty eye portion of a beef rib. It may be purchased weighing between 4 and 9 pounds.

Since it is boneless, carving is simple. It is also easy to roast. Season with salt and pepper and place on a rack in an open pan. Insert a roast meat thermometer so that the bulb reaches the center of the roast, but does not rest in fat. Do not add water and do not cover.

Roast in a moderate oven (350° F.) until it reaches the desired degree of doneness. The meat thermometer will register 140° F. for rare; 160° F. for medium; and 170° F. for well done. Allow 18 to 20 minutes per pound for a rare roast; 20 to 22 minutes for medium; and 22 to 4 for well done.

Although beef is usually roasted in a slow oven (300° F.), the higher temperature of 350° F. is recommended for the rib eye due to its comparatively small diameter. This is in order that the outside be attractively browned before the center is too well done.

NOW! A low-cost way to control Johnson Grass in Corn

It's DOWPON*—the economical grass killer. Instead of chopping or cultivating all season, just apply Dowpon to your fields—in the spring before planting, or in the fall, after harvest—and you'll be rid of tough problem grasses. That's because Dowpon, sprayed on the leaves, kills the whole grass plant, from the tops to the deepest roots—at a rock-bottom cost per acre. Also use selectively in some crops.

Veterans News

World War II veterans have less than two more months, under present law, to apply for GI home, farm or business loans, Sumner G. Whittier, Administrator of Veterans Affairs, reminded veterans today. The deadline is July 25, 1960.

Once application is made, an additional year will be allowed to process the loan, Mr. Whittier added. Thus the loan can be actually closed as late as July 25, 1961.

Under the present law, World War II veterans participation in the GI loan program will close with these two deadline dates mentioned above.

Mr. Whittier stressed that neither of these dates apply to Korean-conflict veterans who have until January 31, 1965, to make GI loan applications.

(World War II veterans who also served during the Korean-conflict period are considered to be Korean veterans for loan purposes.)

More than 5 million World War II veterans have taken advantage of the GI Bill loan program since it came into effect on June 22, 1944. These loans had a total face value of $40.8 billion.

Also due to expire on July 25, 1960, is the direct loan program which was set up for veterans in rural areas and small cities and towns where guaranteed loans were not generally available.

Custodians and legal guardians of minor children receiving death pension from the Veterans Administration would be wise to elect pension under the new pension law effective July 1, 1960, Leon Fields, Manager of the VA Regional Office pointed out today.

The new law raises the income limit for children from $1400 to $1800 per year. Earned income of the child is not included in this limit under the new law as it is under the old law.

Pension rates for children are higher under the new law. For example, a child receiving $27.30 per month under the old law can receive $35 a month under the new law after July 1. Two children each receiving $20.47 per month under the old law, may each receive $25 a month under the new law, provided the custodian of each child elects the new law.

The new law has a net worth test, but the VA will not accept an election of the new law if the net worth of the child would bar payments under the new law.

Wheat Allotments to Be Mailed Before Vote

Farmers will receive notice of their 1961 farm wheat allotments well in advance of the July 21 marketing quota referendum, R. Harry Wilson, chairman of the Kent Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, has announced. The overall wheat allotment for Kent County for 1961 is 14,389 acres, about 3 1/2 per cent less than the 1960 allotment.

The 1961 national wheat acreage allotment is 55 million acres the minimum fixed by law. If the allotments had been determined solely on the basis of the law's supply formula, the 1961 allotment would have been zero acres. The allotments apply in 39 states designated as "commercial."

As directed by law, marketing quotas must be proclaimed for the next wheat crop when the available supply is more than 20 per cent above the normal supply. The supply for 1960-61 is estimated at 2.5 billion bushels—92 per cent more than normal.

If at least two-thirds of the farmers who vote in the referendum approve the 1961 quotas, then quotas with penalties on "excess" wheat will be in effect, and price support will be available on the crop at less than the minimum support to be announced before the referendum.

If more than one-third of the votes oppose the quotas, there will be no quotas or penalties in effect, and price support will be available at 50 per cent of parity to farmers who comply with their allotments.

This is the eighth successive year for which wheat marketing quotas have been proclaimed. They have been approved in a referendum for each of the past 7 years.

Each student enrolled will receive one class or private lesson a week, and will be entitled to attend one band rehearsal each week. These sessions will continue for six weeks.

The Grade School Band will rehearse each Monday at 1:30 p.m., the Junior High Band at 3, and the Senior Band Monday evenings at 8 p.m.

Enrollment is anticipated to be the heaviest since this program was started twelve years ago. Each band will have a part in the final concert when the Band Boosters Club will make available refreshments for all those who attend.

The program is under the direction of the Music Instruction of the schools, Mr. Melvin Brobst, with the assistance of the superintendent, Mr. J. C. Mesner, and the co-operation of the Harrington Board of Education.

Mrs. Thomas J. Grant

Mrs. Lydia Simpson Grant, 64, wife of Thomas J. Grant, died at her home here Thursday morning, June 2, following a heart attack. A daughter of the late Henry and Verna Thompson Simpson, she had lived in Harrington practically all of her life.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by four sons, Nelson, Folsom, Pa.; Paul and William, both of Harrington; Charles, Boothwyn, Pa.; four daughters, Mrs. Cynthia Bloth, Wyoming; Mrs. Corrine Fitz, Dover; Mrs. Grace Ellwanger, Denton, Md., and Miss Jean Grant, a member of this year's graduating class at Harrington High School; also eight grandchildren.

Services were held in the Boyer Funeral Home Sunday afternoon. The Rev. William Shockley, pastor of Asbury Methodist Church, officiated and interment was in Hollywood Cemetery.

Delaware Food Market Report

The growing popularity of outdoor cooking has created a great demand for better foods, fuel, etc. With good supplies of broilers on hand, what could be better than barbecued chicken. Be sure to allow a pound per person if you want plenty of this delicious meat. There are a few simple rules for successful outdoor barbecued chicken: 1st. Do not cook too rapidly (allow about one hour for 3 lbs. of chicken); 2nd. Do not cook over a fire that is too hot; 3rd. Have the chicken from 6 to 12 inches above hot coals or a low fire.

There's a new charcoal brisket on the market now. It is a symmetrical array of hardwood charcoal bonded inside a wax-impregnated paper shell that keeps the product clean and serves as kindling for easy lighting. The directions state "no lighter fluid is needed." The twin-pack cooks two or four family meals and the sheets can be broken easily for small meals.

June is a busy month with graduation dinners, bridal showers and the like - and what could be a better way of entertaining a few, or many, than a barbecue in your own back yard.

A plentiful supply of vegetables continues, with prices dropping a penny or so on a number of items. Cabbage lost two cents a pound this week, and is now selling around 11 cents a lb. Other vegetables which dropped 1 cent a lb. are snap beans, cucumbers, lettuce, corn, green onions and old white potatoes. Carton tomatoes dropped as much as 8 cents and loose tomatoes are down three cents, averaging 40 cents a pound now. Specials have brought these vegetables even further down as far as price is concerned, but the good to excellent quality remains.

Lemons are quite reasonable at 35 cents a dozen, and are the answer as far as a refreshing, cooling, nutritious drink is concerned. Get an extra dozen this weekend for lemonade. Cantaloupes continue to arrive at local markets and prices are pretty steady at 49 cents each, but quality needs to be watched. Watermelons are ranging from $1 to $1.50 each, depending on size and cherries are a bit cheaper this week, at 59 cents a pound.

The meat picture remains about as it was last week, with beef and chicken being your best buys.

4-H Short Course Set June 22-25

Courses for this year's 4-H Short Course at the University of Delaware, June 22-25, will include subjects on livestock, horticulture, dairy, entomology, foods and clothing, swimming, photography, and career selection according to Dr. Sam Gwinn assistant director of the Agricultural Extension Service.

Besides the three days of classes there will be special features such as the talent show, dress revue and public speaking contest. All participants in these events are winners from the contests held in each county.

There will be some play mixed in with the work, however, Dr. Gwinn said. For example there will be a get acquainted party and square dance Wednesday, opening day, and a roller skating party Thursday evening after classes.

The dress revue and talent show will be held Friday evening. Saturday the public speaking contest and State 4-H softball playoff will be held.

The winner of the dress revue will present the state at the national contest in Chicago next November as part of National 4-H Club Congress.

Four-H members in 14 years of age and older who wish to attend Short Course should contact their County 4-H Club Agent on or before June 15th.

Caesar Rodney School News

THREE CAESAR RODNEY TEACHERS MARK 100 YEARS OF SERVICE

Three Caesar Rodney teachers, at the completion of school this year, will mark 100 years service to the children of Delaware.

Mrs. Pearl Slaughter Hanson will complete 40 years service while Mrs. Agnes Vinyard and Mrs. Mary Boggs will each complete 30 years service.

Mrs. Hanson, a graduate of Harrington High School, began her teaching career in Pratts District and taught in Raughleys, Maple Grove, Houston, and Frederica schools until she came to Caesar Rodney in 1948. She has completed work at the University of Delaware.

Mrs. Agnes Webb Vinyard, a graduate of Dover High School and Catawba College with an AB degree taught at Wileys, Pratts, and finally came to Caesar Rodney in 1947.

Mrs. Mary Boggs, a graduate of the University of Delaware, taught for 29 years in Middletown and came to C.R. last year.

Recently, the Caesar Rodney Education Association honored the teachers at a surprise tea held in honor of their retirement at the school. Dr. William B. Simpson, superintendent, on behalf of the local education association presented gifts to the retiring teachers in appreciation of their many years of loyal and devoted service.

On the committee for the event were Mrs. Virginia Dewey, Mrs. Barbara Ricker and Miss Dorothy Brown.

CR AND DOVER MERGER CLAIMED UNSOUND

The State Board of Education's demand that Caesar Rodney and Dover merge is educationally unsound according to a Temple University Survey Team Report made by educational experts after about six months of intensive study of the district's program, enrollment, trends, and resources.

Says the 45-page report: "The Caesar Rodney Special School District should preserve its identity as an independent district if the future enrollments materialize as predicted."

After pointing out the weaknesses of both too small and too large districts, the concluding paragraph states: "In many ways, the predicted enrollment in the Caesar Rodney District is ideal. A district of 5,000 to 10,000 pupils is large enough to provide a complete and broad educational program in an economical a manner as can be hoped for, assuming, of course, that the community is willing to finance a good program and that there is good management. Such a school population is also small enough to prevent the evils that can appear in a very large district."

The members of the survey team were: Gene R. Bessey, Department of Elementary Education; Miss Rosella James, Department of Statistics, School of Business and Public Administration; Dr. John M. Mickelson, chairman, Department of Secondary Education; Dr. Ross L. Nealey, chairman, Department of Educational Administration; Dr. Leon Osview, Department of Educational Administration and Director of Educational Service Bureau; and Dr. Robert E. Wilson, Department of Educational Administration.

The prediction studies covered the 20-year period from 1960 to 1980 and included minimum, maximum, and most probable estimates. According to the report the most probable total population of the district in 1980 is 22,000, excluding persons living in the Dover Air Force Base. The predictions on most probable pupil enrollments, in rounded numbers, in 1980 are: grades one to six 3,600, grades seven to twelve 3,000 with a district total of 6,600 excluding the Dover Air Force Base School.

The survey recommends the renovation of Caesar Rodney High School and the immediate construction of two separate elementary school buildings in order to alleviate the current room shortage.

The Caesar Rodney Board has accepted the Temple proposal and will ask the State Board to approve additional elementary school classrooms beyond the 24 now approved. Additional secondary school facilities are to be secured by using rooms currently occupied by upper elementary school grades.

The Temple survey offers the Caesar Rodney Board a number of alternate long term proposals to take care of the growing school population.

Asbury W.S.C.S. Notes

The June meeting of the W.S.C.S. of Asbury Church was held on Tuesday evening in the Sunday School building with Mrs. Fulton Dowling, president, presiding.

The devotional service was conducted by Mrs. Fred B. Greenly, Sr., and Mrs. William W. Sharp presented the program for the evening. The topic was, "Recruitment." A short sketch was enacted by Mrs. Sharp, Mrs. Charles Greenhaugh, Mrs. Alfred Crisson, and Mrs. Kenneth Aiken.

Several committee reports were given, with Mrs. James D. Moore telling the members of the work of the M.Y.F. groups. Mrs. Gup Winebrenner reported on the progress of the parsonage committee and Mrs. Mark Willey told of the activities of the committee who have just completed the decoration and equipping of the Pastor's Study in the church.

Mrs. Dowling announced that Mrs. Earl Nelson has accepted the position of Secretary of Missionary Education which Mrs. Richard Gibson had originally held.

Mrs. Dowling also thanked the membership for their fine cooperation and work during the past year.

The appropriation would be a retroactive one for the period from July 1, 1957, to June 30, 1959, "to be used for the prevention and extinguishment of fires and for the maintenance of apparatus and equipment." The company was omitted from appropriations for the two fiscal years involved.

There was some confusion as to whether or not the company is a certified member of the volunteer fire companies' association and a protest against the retroactive nature of the appropriation.

Also deferred was a bill to make the jurisdiction of constables statewide. The measure is HB-558. There were two complaints in arguments against the bill. One was that it would increase the fees the public has to pay for service of papers in suits in magistrates' courts. The second was that it would put constables appointed by the Levy

Courts in competition with those appointed by the Governor to serve at large.

Other Measures Passed

HB-230 with SA-1: Making certain fines for non-residents violating the game and fish laws the same as those for residents—$10 to $50. 30 yeas, five absent.

HB-485: To boost certain recording fees from $1.50 to $3. 30 yeas, five absent.

HB-568: To give the Wilmington Board of Assessment power to grant exemptions from city taxes. 31 yeas, four absent.

SB-363: To streamline the procedure for changing grade crossings, where the Highway Department and the railroad are in agreement. 24 yeas, 11 absent.

SB-399: To authorize the Sussex County Levy Court to appropriate $10,000 a year for distribution among towns maintaining dumps. 23 yeas, seven absent.

HB-4: Urging the Corps of Engineers to dredge the Nantuxee River to a channel depth of 24 feet from Chesapeake Bay to Seaford. By Eskridge. Adopted, voice vote.

of 45 — the age when cancer death rate rises sharply. Lung cancer, which was a rare disease in 1900 has shown the most able increase of all types of cancer.

The publication is a revision of a booklet which the American Cancer Society has broadly distributed throughout the country over the past decade. New questions with up-to-date answers were selected as typical of those most frequently asked by the public.

In compiling the pamphlet, The American Cancer Society selected nine categories of questions which are most frequently asked by the public about cancer. These concern the nature of cancer, what causes it, how cancer can be detected, questions of particular significance to men, women and about cancer in children. One group of questions and answers is devoted to vital statistics about cancer, presenting information as the geographical relationship to the disease. (It points out that in parts of India, Malaya and the Dutch East Indies, cancer of the inner surface of the cheek is very common, whereas, it is comparatively rare elsewhere.)

The booklet also says, "Cancer of the bladder is more prevalent in Europe than it is in the United States. Skin cancer is about three times more frequent in Texas and Arizona than in Maine and Vermont."

"Breast cancer is the most common form of cancer among white women of England and the United States whereas it is comparatively rare in Japan. Men in Denmark are more than twice as likely to get cancer of the stomach as are men in New York State."

The pamphlet is available at the local office of the American Cancer Society, 306 South State Street, Dover without charge.

ority leader. One of these HA-4 to HB-570, would restore an appropriation of $28,000 for the Southern Regional Education Compact which was omitted from the bill. Apparently the Joint Committee intended to have the state withdraw from the compact. The other HA-5, would add an appropriation of $15,000 for "river master project and related operations" of the Delaware Geological Commission.

Softball News

The Moose nine defeated the league-leading Bridgeville club 5-2 on Monday night and caused a re-shuffling of the Harrington Softball League standings. Greenwood slipped into first place while Bridgeville dropped to second. Moose broke a third place tie with the Harrington Athletic Club to hold undisputed possession of that spot at this writing.

The American Legion has given the community a "Biddie Basketball League" for the past two years.

The Kent and Sussex Fair last year held a three mile foot race which kept a score of peninsula youth in fine fettle for most of the summer as a result of the training necessary to compete and do well. Four officials later stated they may have a similar athletic event or events this year.

The Rotary Club last fall furnished the trophies for the "Rotary Invitational Cross-Country Meet" which saw 65 high school athletes from seven or eight Delaware and Maryland schools negotiate a 2.4 mile cross-country course located near Killen's Pond.

Latest on the scene to aid and abet the youth athletic situation of this locality is the Loyal Order of the Moose. This group annually has a banquet for the H.H.S. football squad and awards trophies to outstanding players. They also have a fine softball league. This season plans are underway for at least three more community groups to avail themselves of these facilities.

The Harrington Little League team will play all their home games at 6 on Wednesday evenings at this location. A local girls nine will play other Wednesday evenings starting at 7. The Little Minor League has expressed a desire to play under the lights and will start their contests after the conclusion of the games played by either of the above named. There is a possibility that the Kent-Sussex Little League all-star game may be played here also.

Other groups and individuals have contributed to the welfare of Harrington and vicinity youth. The examples in this article come readily to mind. It is not the writer's intention to ignore these but rather to attempt to give thanks to those who make Harrington a better place to live.
