

GOP Leadership Needed In Foreign Policy, Says Boggs and McKinstry

Gov. J. Caleb Boggs and James T. McKinstry, Republican candidates for United States senator and representative, respectively, teamed up Monday night to deliver a one-two verbal punch in support of the continuing need for GOP leadership in foreign policy and national defense preparedness.

Speaking at the annual banquet of the Business and Professional Womens' Clubs in the Gold Ballroom of the Hotel duPont, McKinstry unveiled an eight-point program to maintain and extend our military superiority over Russia, while Governor Boggs called for the election of Vice President Nixon and Ambassador Lodge as "the only leaders whom we can entrust with the fate of the world in the decade of danger that lies ahead."

McKinstry, citing continued American military superiority as one of the vital keys to world peace, pledged himself to an eight-point legislative program if elected to Congress in November. He said he would:

1. Support all necessary expenditures "to keep us the strongest nation militarily" because the Republican Party "place no price ceiling on America's security."
 2. Work to bring about true unification and modernization of the Defense Department "to eliminate duplication and inefficiency which comes from interservice rivalry."
 3. Support the maintenance of our strong military research effort.
 4. Support a resumption of underground testing of nuclear weapons "shortly" if the Russians refuse to agree to adequate controls.
 5. Urge a step-up in the production of missiles of all types and the development of long-range bombers.
 6. Continue to help strengthen the armed might of free-world nations.
 7. Support legislation to maintain our armed units at peak efficiency and mobility.
 8. Work to provide a climate in which our industrial economy can continue to grow "because this is the foundation of our military strength."
- Governor Boggs concentrated on the subject of foreign policy, which he called "the major issue of the campaign" because it will "determine the future of every one of us."

Script Writing Contest Available To Students

An invitation has been extended to heads of all Delaware public, private, and parochial schools to have their students participate in the 14th annual Voice of Democracy script writing contest.

The annual competition is sponsored in the State by the Delaware Association of Broadcasters and Department of Delaware, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

A letter signed jointly by Harvey C. Smith, president of the Broadcasters Association and Miles L. Fredrick, VFW State chairman, urged all schools to have students from the tenth grade and up participate in the contest.

"At no time in our history is it important to hear from our young folks concerning their opinion with regards to the world in which they live," the letter to principals comments.

It was pointed out that schools should stage their own elimination contests and forward the winner's name to the office of the Department of Delaware, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, Dravo Building, Wilmington.

Each of the VFW's four districts will then be notified of entrants in their area, and district competitions will be staged on Nov. 11, which will mark Veterans Day. A $25 United States Savings Bond will be awarded in each district to the top script writer.

The four finalists will then have their scripts recorded, and these will be heard over WDEL on a date late in November. Judges will pick the State finalist from the voices and material alone. The students will not appear before them.

A $50 United States Savings Bond and a free trip to Washington, D. C., in February for the annual meeting of the National Association of Broadcasters, plus a tour of the city awaits the State finalist. The winner will also compete on a national level for a $1500 scholarship to the university of his or her choice.

Each contestant must write an original script on the subject "I Speak for Democracy." It is limited to five minutes in length for

Asbury and Trinity Churches W.S.C.S. Celebrate 20th Anniversary

According to Mrs. Fulton J. Downing, anniversaries are a happy time and such was the case on Tuesday evening, Oct. 4, at the combined meeting of the Asbury and Trinity Women's Society of Christian Service. The meeting was held in celebration of the 20th anniversary of the W.S.C.S., in the Collins Building of Asbury Methodist Church.

The evening was also a time of reminiscing with Mrs. William W. Sharp taking her audience back to the beginning of the Society on October 4, 1940. Mrs. Sharp was well qualified to tell the story of the first growth of the society since she served the young organization as first president of the Peninsula Conference W.S.C.S.

A roll call of the charter members of the Asbury society was made with 32 of the original women being present. Mrs. Sharp then introduced the past presidents of both the Asbury and Trinity groups. They were from Trinity: Mrs. Harry Boyer, Mrs. Earl Sylvester, Mrs. Ernest Raughley and Mrs. Calvin Simpson, Mrs. Elwood Gruwell, Mrs. C. Tharp Harrington, and Mrs. Frank C. O'Neal, Jr. Mrs. Boyer and Mrs. Simpson were unable to be present, however. From Asbury the presidents were: Mrs. James Cahall, Mrs. C. Fred Wilson, Mrs. A. B. Parsons, Mrs. Charles Greenhaugh, Mrs. Mark Willey and Mrs. Fulton J. Downing. Only Mrs. Greenhaugh was unable to attend. Each of these women gave a short resume of their term of office, each one remembering some of the struggles of the early days, and some of the light-hearted moments that occurred.

Also included on the program for the evening was the introduction of Mrs. Jonathan S. Willis, of Milford, Zone 2 leader, who brought a message from Mrs. Byron Gibson, spiritual life secretary for the Dover District. Her topic was "How deep is your ocean—How high is your sky?" A vocal solo by Mrs. William Kramedas, and violin and piano duet by the Misses Rebecca and Sara Moore were enjoyed by the audience.

The Rev. Nelson Benjamin and Rev. Olin T. Shockley both expressed their pleasure at being invited to participate in the anniversary.

A social hour followed the program. Mrs. Cahall and Mrs. Wilson, first and second presidents of the Asbury society, presided at the tea table and Mrs. Allen B. Parsons, the third president cut the anniversary cake.

The twenty years had passed quickly it seemed to some of the ladies. Certainly the work they had done was an inspiration to the presidents of the societies today. The work continues and increases in importance to the church and the conference.

Credit for the program belongs to Mrs. Sharp, Mrs. Downing, and Mrs. Floyd Nasser, who worked with Mrs. Francis Winkler, and the local church activities committee.

At the business meeting that preceded the program Mrs. Downing noted that 19 new members had been enrolled in the circles. This was the direct result of a membership drive that Mrs. Sharp had planned.

Other announcements that were made included the postponement of the study course on Basic Christian Beliefs by the Rev. John Link. The date for the first meeting will be Wed., Oct. 17, 7:30 in the Collins Building. This Sunday the W.S.C.S. will attend

DOVER BANDIT SLUGS VICTIM GRABS $1,800

A Dover restaurant operator was robbed of $1800 Sunday night by a bandit who knocked him unconscious.

Saturday night, a Dover liquor store operator, Kenneth Lewis, fired two separate shots at a whiskered and armed bandit who took more than $200 from the till.

Kramedas told Delaware state troopers from the Dover troop that he was knocked out as he walked out of the restaurant just before 10 p.m. He had with him the day's receipts, estimated at $1800.

Kramedas could give officers no description of the bandit and did not know whether he had a getaway car. When he regained consciousness he immediately called troopers.

It was not determined if the bandit could have been the same one who escaped in a car driven by an accomplice from the H & B Package Store on New Berton Road.

Dover city police say the liquor hold-up occurred at 9:10 p.m. Saturday.

Lewis, co-owner of the store said that a middle-aged Negro, with whiskers and a mustache, asked for some whiskey. As Lewis turned around after getting the bottle, he found himself staring into the barrel of a shotgun which the "customer" had apparently been hiding behind his back.

The customer-turned-bandit ordered Lewis to open the cash register and immediately started to scoop out bills. At this moment, another customer entered the store. The robber ordered him to get behind the counter. With that he fled.

Lewis grabbed his revolver from behind the counter and fired two shots as the bandit and his driver pulled away. One of the shots struck the customer's auto.

Lewis told Dover city police that the man dropped $65 in his sprint to the car but still got away with about $180.

The co-owner of the store, J. C. Harris, was in a back room and unaware of the holdup until he heard the shots.

From Lewis and the customer, police obtained this description of the bandit and his car which were immediately radioed to other officers, but without success.

The robber was about 45 years old, 5 feet 10 inches tall, and weighed about 185. The mustache and whiskers are believed to have been real.

His car is believed to have been a two-tone blue 1955 or 1956 Mercury.

Heart Fund Officials Named

The Delaware Heart Association has named Lloyd R. Leslie as chairman and Mrs. E. H. Worth as vice chairman for the association's 1961 Heart Fund drive.

The appointments, announced Thursday by Dr. Robert L. Dewees, president of the Delaware Heart Association, continue Mr. Leslie and Mrs. Worth in the same positions they held in the successful 1960 Heart Fund campaign.

To be conducted throughout the month of February, the 1961 Heart Fund campaign will seek to raise $125,000 in Delaware to combat diseases of the heart and blood vessels. The drive will reach its climax on Heart Sunday, Feb. 26, when thousands of local volunteers will make door-to-door collections.

Mr. Leslie, vice president in charge and sales and public relations for Delaware Power & Light Company, is active in a number of community organizations, and has headed successful fund drives for the Red Cross, National Foundation and Delaware Cancer Society in addition to his work with the Heart Fund. He is a past president of the Delaware State Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Worth, a director and past county and state vice chairman of the Delaware Heart Association, is also well-known for her community activities, including work with the Delaware S.P.C.A., the Salvation Army, Woods Haven School For Girls, People's Settlement, Recreation Promotion and Service, and the Wilmington Zoological Society, of which she is secretary.

Mr. Leslie, in accepting the Head-on Crash Kills Woman Near Milford

Emily Vinyard Moore, 55, of Kings Highway, Milford, was killed Saturday night when her car was hit head-on on Route 14, five miles south of Milford.

Delaware state police at Georgetown say the other driver, J. B. Jennings, 39, of Lincoln, was driving north in the south-bound lane of the highway.

Jennings is being held at the Sussex Correctional Institution in default of $2500 bail on a manslaughter charge, following arraignment before Magistrate Morris Groverman, Milford.

Troopers report that the victim was driving south from Milford by herself. Near the intersection with Route 224 Argos Corner, the oncoming Jennings car crossed the center line and collided with the woman's vehicle.

Jennings was uninjured but a passenger, Josephine King, 44, of Milford, suffered facial cuts. The victim and the injured woman were both taken to the Milford Memorial Hospital in the Milford ambulance.

Mrs. Moore was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital at 7:45 p.m. Saturday. Sussex County coroner VOLLIE GRAY released the body to the Lofland Funeral Home, Milford.

ROLLINS STRESSES ECONOMIES

Delaware's financial position should be among the soundest in the nation, John W. Rollins, Republican candidate for governor, said Wednesday.

Instead, he noted, the state is operating in the "red" year after year.

He blamed this "financial mess" on Democratic monopoly of the General Assembly.

In a major radio address, Mr. Rollins followed up his speech Tuesday night before the Christiana Hundred Republican Committee.

He said Democratic fiscal policy "discourages industry from locating in the state. Furthermore, if the debt is allowed to continue to grow, it will cause industry to leave Delaware. This will mean fewer jobs, lower payrolls and higher taxes for those who remain."

The State's debt is so heavy, Mr. Rollins continued, "that the state must use a large portion of the taxes you and I now pay just to cover the annual payment of interest which is running close to $5,000,000." The debt service is so high now that it is one-fifth of our total budget and is twice the cost of our entire welfare program.

Mr. Rollins said that with his experience as lieutenant governor for four years he knows business principles can be applied to state finances. He said to end waste he would establish a Department of Finance with a division of central purchasing, and would enforce economies.

"I propose," he said, "that Delaware go on a pay-as-you-go basis and I oppose any new revenues until every reasonable economy is in force."

In his talk Tuesday night, Mr. Rollins said he would conduct a "reforms-before-taxes" program along the lines of Gov. J. Caleb Boggs' "New Day for Delaware" proposals.

James C. Pearson

James C. Pearson, age 81 yrs., died early Tuesday evening.

About two months ago he was taken ill and went to Milford Memorial Hospital and was transferred from there to the Delaware Hospital in Wilmington and about two weeks ago was taken to the Gov. Bacon Health Center, where he died.

He was born at Pearson's Corner, Dover, the son of William W. and Anna Jane Short Pearson, but had lived in Harrington for the past 10 years.

Funeral services will be held at the Boyer Funeral Home, Harrington, Friday afternoon, Oct. 7, at two o'clock in charge of the Rev. Ray W. Kirwan, pastor of Houston Methodist Church.

Interment will be in Hollywood Cemetery, Harrington.

Friends may call at the funeral home, Thursday evening after 7 o'clock.

He never married but is survived by three brothers: Albert, Frederica; William W., Dover, and Ralph L. Pearson, Houston; also several nieces and nephews.

CARVEL SAYS REPUBLICANS DIG UP DIRT AT ELECTION TIME

After putting in a plug for the local Democratic candidates, Elbert N. Carvel, speaking at a rally in the restaurant at the Kent & Sussex Fairgrounds Saturday evening, asked, "Why it is the Republicans try to dig up dirt at election time and forget about it afterwards?"

The former governor, and present Democratic candidate for governor, was obviously referring to the attorney general's investigation of the State Highway Department. He also mentioned an apartment which was put in the Legislative Hall, when he was governor. The Republicans made stock of it at election time but Carvel added the apartment was still being used by Gov. Boggs.

Both Boggs and Carvel live considerable distance from the capital and Delaware is the only state in the Union without an executive mansion.

The Sussex County Democrat mentioned the road program under the Democrats and concluded, "We will give progressive leadership."

About 200 persons attended the rally. At the speakers' table also were the Rev. John R. Symonds, Jr., pastor of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, who gave the invocation and the benediction; Mayor Eugene Lamont, of Wilmington, candidate for lieutenant governor; L. Gooden Callaway, toastmaster; Harris B. McDowell, candidate for re-election as U. S. representative; Mrs. Belle Everett, candidate for re-election as treasurer; Vernon B. Derrickson, chairman of the Kent County Democratic Committee; Ernest Killen, candidate for re-election as state auditor.

U. S. Senator J. Allen Frear was unable to be present but arrived shortly after the gathering had dispersed.

Bennie Hughes was chairman of the committee staging the rally.

Rep. McDowell declared the campaign was going to be rugged. "We have absentee leadership and high-sounding words, repeated by the press and radio, with no quality. As we check the progress of state and national governments, we have reason to be deeply concerned," he said. He mentioned the Benson farm problem as handouts to a few for storing grain when government storage was available.

Obviously referring to a primary battle in the Ninth District, of which Harrington is a part, Killen pointed out, "We are not divided. Look around the room. Competition brings out our best efforts. We are not destroyed in the Ninth and I want the county and state to know that."

Derrickson also put in a plea for harmony, hinting at the local primary, and commented "we can't afford to lose any votes."

Elisha Dukes, state campaign manager, who was also at the speaker's table, and Mrs. Everett also spoke a few words. The latter put in a plug for the Kent County Democratic Women's Club.

Toastmaster Callaway also introduced office holders, candidates, and other persons of prominence in the audience.

(For text of Killen's speech see Page 9.)

TAYLOR'S HARDWARE OPEN HOUSE IS OUTSTANDING SUCCESS

The open house of Taylor's Hardware, Friday and Saturday, was given a wonderful reception by the public with a large attendance.

The two-day event signaled the opening of a new brick building which took the place of the frame structure which had been built at Commerce and Dorman Streets in the late nineties.

J. Edward Taylor, who has conducted the business more than 20 years, used a novel idea in continuing business while razing the old building and putting up a new one in its place.

As a part of the building was razed, its place was taken by the new building.

At the open house, home demonstrators were on hand, presents were made, and coffee and doughnuts were served. The Sunbeam and Frigidaire Companies assisted in the grand opening.

Door prizes were awarded as follows: No. 1—Frigidaire washer, to Mrs. Emma Williamson, of Greenwood; No. 2—electric broom, to Mrs. Sadiki Reid, Harrington; No. 3—electric drill, to Mrs. Louise Ludlow, Felton; No. 4—set of dishes, Joseph E. Wyatt, Harrington; No. 5—cannister set, John Warrington, Harrington; No. 6—mixing bowl, Mrs. Leona Jones, Harrington.

Mr. Taylor expresses his appreciation to the public for the success of his open house, and for its patronage in making the new building possible. The structure is an outstanding contribution to Harrington's business section.

Delaware State Museum News

An interesting and extensive collection of early lighting fixtures and accessories is now on exhibit at the Delaware State Museum, 316 South Governor's Avenue, Dover.

These early lamps, lanterns and candlesticks cover a period from the earliest settlers with their kerosene lamps of the beginning of the twentieth century. Included in the collection are lamps of various shapes and sizes made of iron, tin, pewter, glass and brass. Many types of fuel were used such as grease, whale oil, lard oil, camphene and kerosene.

There was a lamp for every purpose from the "sparkling" lamps (which was lighted by a young lady when her beaux arrived and when the light burned out it signified that it was time for him to say good night) to the "time" lamp which had a series of numbers on the front from 8 to 6. If lit at eight o'clock, when the font was full of oil, it would show the time of night by reducing the amount of oil as it burned until six o'clock in the morning when the oil would be exhausted.

A collection of candlesticks, showing early tin and iron, and brass in Queen Anne, beehive and later styles, is included. Mounted on a panel are early accessories consisting of reeds and twisted paper tapers or spills, early matches, assorted wicks, and related lighting materials. A brief history of early lighting is shown in this easily read and understood exhibit.

This extensive exhibit, containing fixtures used during a period of more than two centuries, includes a number of rare and unusual lighting devices. The collection was made and presented by the Hon. Harold W. T. Purnell of Georgetown, a long-time patron of this museum.

The Museum is open Tuesday's through Saturday 11 to 5 o'clock, and on Sundays from 2 to 5 o'clock. Closed on Mondays. A free parking area is provided at the rear of the buildings.

Boy Scout Fund Raising Campaign Now Underway

Henry J. Ridgely, Dover attorney, is this year's chairman of the annual fund raising campaign now being conducted by the Del-Mar-Va Council, Boy Scouts of America, in the Kent and southern New Castle county area. As chairman, Ridgely is directing the various phases of the campaign in eleven different communities of the Mid-Del district, an area extending from the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal to the Kent and Sussex Line.

"In Harrington," states Ridgely, "we are very fortunate to have Brinton Holloway, as our community general chairman, assisted by George Thompson as special gifts chairman, and Gayle Smith in charge of general solicitation. Our Harrington auditor is Howard Wagner of People's Bank. Dr. Robert Smith heads the prospects and rating committee and the Rev. John R. Symonds helps with publicity. In the neighboring town of Felton, Richard Adams is general community chairman, assisted by C. M. Simpler and Charles Sheets. Each year, Harrington and Felton have helped the cause of Scouting in a substantial way and I am sure that the 1960 fund campaign will be a successful venture."

"Right now," explains Ridgely, "the membership of the Del-Mar-Va Council is at an all-time high of over 15,000 boys in 666 Cub Packs, Boy Scout Troops and Explorer units. That's why this fund raising campaign is so important. Here in the Mid-Del district, we surely want to do our share in providing the Council with the means to make the Scouting program available to as many boys as possible in all of our communities.

"We are especially proud and appreciative of our Scout leaders in Harrington and Felton," says Ridgely. "Howard Krouse of Pack 76, James J. Pizzadilli of Pack 141, Howell Hitchens of Troop 76, Clarence Hurd of Troop 141, Paul Williams of Troop 118, Robert H. Smith of Post 76. The Boy Scout movement in Harrington and Felton is a good community force that merits your financial as well as your moral support."

McDowell Endorses Democratic Platform Pledges On Veterans' Affairs

Congressman Harris B. McDowell, Democratic candidate for re-election, said this week that his Republican opponent "takes no position on the important issues of the day." McDowell added: "He has been particularly silent on the subject of veterans' legislation. In view of the Republican record in this field, this is perhaps understandable."

McDowell said that he "endorses wholeheartedly the Democratic platform pledges on veteran's affairs. These pledges include:

1. Adequate compensation for veterans with service-connected disabilities, or their survivors.
2. Adequate pensions for disabled and distressed veterans, and for needy survivors of deceased veterans.
3. Expanded programs of vocational rehabilitation for disabled veterans, and education for orphans or servicemen.
4. Increased availability of facilities to provide medical care for veterans in need. The quality of medical care for disabled veterans has deteriorated badly under the Republican administration.
5. Continuation of the veterans home loan guarantee and direct loan programs, and educational benefits patterned after the GI Bill of Rights.

Earlier, Congressman McDowell had said that "the Republican administration and Repu-

The election of Richard Nixon would produce "a stalemate government in this country," Senator Lyndon B. Johnson declared Monday night.

Addressing Democratic rallies at the Caesar Rodney School at Wyoming and at the athletic field of Georgetown High School, the Democratic vice presidential candidate urged the election of Senator John F. Kennedy to achieve national unity.

At both places Johnson compared the national government to an airplane with a pilot and co-pilot. He said the Senate, the co-pilot in his metaphor, is definitely going to be Democratic and he urged that the pilot—the president—be a Democrat also.

This theme was interwoven with comments on the critical international situation throughout the two talks. Johnson also attempted to deflate the Republican argument that their candidates have maturity and experience.

Commenting on the international situation, Johnson said, "I think we have fewer friends in the world tonight than we had seven years ago." He said he cannot take pride in what has occurred in Laos, Tibet, Formosa and Cuba, and he noted that the President started out for Tokyo and was forced to turn back.

The candidate asked whether that is the "kind of maturity" the voters want.

On the matter of experience, Johnson contended there is not much to choose from in the two candidates for the presidency. "I had served 10 years before they came to the Senate," he said. He added that "both of them have been traveling some. The difference is we never did have to send the Marines out to help Senator Kennedy get home safely."

Johnson touched on Nixon's experience with Khrushchev in Moscow. He said Khrushchev spoke of Russia's technological development and "got a finger waded in his face and was told, 'Yes, you may be ahead of us in rockets, but we are ahead in color television.' I don't know what we accomplished there in the kitchen. Do you?"

Johnson gave a three-quarter hour talk to an audience of 850 persons, filling the school cafeteria at Wyoming, running about 15 minutes over his scheduled time. At Georgetown, speaking at an open-air gathering in the cool evening, he gave a 25-minute version to about 500 persons.

His prediction of stalemate government in the event Nixon is elected was followed by the comment that Nixon does not have a record of co-operation and objectivity. Here he was making a comparison with Eisenhower. He said the President is "not a mean man or a vicious man. For 60 years he didn't know what party he belonged to."

"We had better have a Democratic co-pilot in that cockpit and then you can hold us both (Senate and the president) to account."

"The decision you make on Nov. 8 will be one of the most fateful you will ever be called on to make in your life."

The "globe is cut up in three pieces," he said. One piece is the West, another the East, and the third the uncommitted nations who were pictured by Johnson as inhabited mainly by poor, hungry and disease-ridden people.

"If we are to survive as a free people we must have the initiative, the imagination and the ingenuity to reach not only the government of those countries but the people."

Johnson said Khrushchev "has a beachhead 90 miles off the coast of Florida."

Summing up, John said: "The big question is not who can wave his finger at Khrushchev but who can unite the country and get the support of Congress."

Speaking of Vice President Nixon, he said: "If an inexperienced governor can cause him to change the convictions of a lifetime and rewrite the Republican platform in one midnight conference and make him do a flipflop 180 degrees around, what would Khrushchev do if he got him in the kitchen all day?"

Senator Johnson gave an all-out campaign endorsement for Senator J. Allen Frear Jr., who introduced him at the Wyoming meeting. He said, "I ever knew

Dairy Price Supports Increased

Support prices for dairy products have been increased in accordance with a new law passed at the recent session of Congress and signed by the President on Sept. 16, according to word received at the Kent Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Office at Dover.

Under the new law, the support rate was increased from $3.06 to $3.22 per hundred pounds of manufacturing milk and from 56.6 to 59.6 cents per pound of butterfat.

In order to carry out these increases, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has raised its buying prices by 2 1/2 cents per pound on butter, 1 1/2 cents per pound on cheese, and 1/2 cents per pound on nonfat dry milk. The new buying prices apply to dairy products produced on or after September 17.

In the dairy price support program, support is provided by Government purchase of butter, cheese, and nonfat dry milk from manufacturers and handlers. These purchases maintain the overall dairy product price structure, the support level to milk producers being reflected in prices paid by the handlers and manufacturers.

Try It One Handed Says Agent

"If you don't think you're taking a chance when you fool around trying to push corn stalks through your picker, just try trying your shoe with one hand."

That's a bit of advice passed along by George K. Vapaa, Kent county agricultural agent.

A corn stalk is traveling about one tractor length per second after it's caught by the snapper rolls. If you have a hand hold on it when it goes you're in trouble.

Mr. Vapaa said, "A corn picker very rarely charges or attacks a man. The victim does the grabbing."

Getting in to big a hurry when you're picking corn can lead you to one of those mistakes that fit in the once-is-too-much category. Don't pick a fight with your picker. Live to pick another day!

Trinity Methodist Church Notes

Christianity is the highest source of joy. It is religion, but the lack of it, that makes people unhappy. Traveling the highways of life can be a happy experience. Sanctimoniousness doesn't necessarily indicate saintliness. Real religion isn't a false smile which you "turn on" for special occasions. It's deeper than that. It's an inner courage and faith which are radiated, even in adversity. This inner courage are by-products of faithful and regular church attendance. No where else can you find the source of these vital necessary exponents of the Christian faith. Begin Sunday to find in the church of your choice the faith and courage for your life.

Oct. 9-16 Fire Prevention Week

County Agent George Vapaa, urges all farm people and agricultural organizations and agencies to heed fire prevention week, Oct. 9-16. Farm fire losses increased by 37 percent in the 1950's. Last year farm property losses from fire were about $175 million.

President Eisenhower has proclaimed National Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 9-16. In the proclamation he calls upon "our people to promote programs for the prevention and control of fires."

All of us, Mr. Vapaa believes, can promote fire prevention effectively by practicing fire safety continually and by encouraging fire prevention throughout the year.

He lists these principal causes of farm fires: failure to protect building with lightning rods; defective, sooty, and poorly constructed chimneys; sparks from chimneys and bonfires on shingle roofs; defective stoves and furnaces; careless smoking habits; improper storage of gasoline and kerosene; spontaneous ignition of hay; overloaded electrical circuits, defective appliances, and failure to replace worn cords.

The county agent suggests correction of these hazardous conditions in observance of Fire Prevention Week.

H.H.S. Wins In Cross-Country With Easton

By Keith S. Burgess

Coach Harold McDonald's Harrington High cross-country Lions journey to Easton, Md., minus two regulars, George Pfeiffer and Bob Bonniwell, but still had enough power left to win 25-30 as Allen Wix and Dennis Bradley took up the slack by holding off two Easton runners in the crucial last 200 yards.

Harry Knotts and Dwight Hackett were the leaders for the first mile and a half of the 2.3 mile course at this point Hobbs of Easton was the third and Clarence Hackett was fourth.

At the finish Harry Knotts was still in front in 13.22 a new course record. Knotts did not extend himself as he was just getting over an illness. The old record of 13.27 was held by John Murphy of South Dorchester, Md.

Dwight Hackett, who was bothered by a sore shin bone, dropped back to fourth with Hobbs and C. Hackett getting second and third respectively. If the course had not been wet all of the first four men would have been under the old standard.

Easton runners finished in fifth, sixth and seventh places. This set the stage for Wix and Bradley to score the meet winning finishes. The Lions have beaten Easton on three straight years. Easton won from South Dorchester easily last week.

Some newcomers on the local squad turned in performances which indicate Harrington will be strong in future years.

Tom Millspaw, running in his first race, was 18th in a field of 27 starters. Jeff Adams, another first-time starter, clocked 15:35 for 15th place, a very good showing. On the basis of age the best prospect of the new arrivals is Frank Cain. Cain came in 16th in 15:50 though only an eighth grader. Two other Harringtonians who did well were Larry Bonniwell and Dennis Rogers.

Cross-country is spreading in popularity in the Harrington student body. In 1958 the year Harrington became the first lower Delaware school to initiate the hill and dale sport, 11 boys made up the squad. In 1959, 15 were on the roster. In 1960 more than 20 are competing including four sets of brothers with new candidates coming out each week.

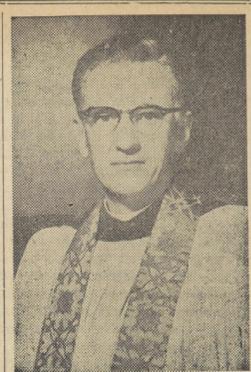

More schools are getting in the act, also. Harrington has an ideal home course at Killen's Pond and all the other high schools want to compete here. Federalsburg, Millsboro, and Milford are the latest to enter harrier competition. All are on the Lion schedule.

Milford, Harrington and Centreville compete today (Thursday) at Killen's Pond. Oct. 14 Greenwood, Harrington and possibly Federalsburg will vie at the same place.

Rev. Osborne Littleford

Missioner to Appear At St. Stephen's

The Rev. Osborne R. Littleford, rector of the Church of St. Michael and All Angels, Baltimore, Md., will be the Missioner at a one day Mission of Spiritual Healing at St. Stephen's Church, Harrington, Del., Sunday, Oct. 16, from 3:30 to 8:30 p.m.

The Reverend Osborne Littleford was Dean of South Florida and pastor of the Cathedral Parish in Orlando for seven years, before coming to Baltimore in June 1959 as Rector of St. Michael and All Angels' Church.

Father Littleford has long been interested in the healing ministry of the Church, and became acquainted with the Order of St. Luke through its founder and warden, the Rev. John Gaynor Banks, about ten years ago. He became a chaplain of the Order shortly thereafter, and established the Order and the healing ministry in the Diocese of South Florida, and it has expanded throughout the state.

He has healing services at St. Michael and All Angels' each Wednesday, with a study group meeting after the service. Father Littleford has long been convinced that the church has overlooked this important ministry and that there are many laymen, as well as the priests of the church, who have been given this particular gift.

The schedule for the mission is as follows:

3:30 p.m.—Registration.
4:00 p.m.—Lecture—The Rev. Osborne R. Littleford, rector of the Church of St. Michael and All Angels, Baltimore, Md.
5:15 p.m.—Holy Communion followed by anointing and the Laying on of Hands.

6:15 p.m.—Box lunch (please provide your own) Coffee and cake will be served by the host parish.

7:15 p.m.—Business Session—Order of St. Luke.

7:30 p.m.—Question-Answer-Discussion Period led by the Rev. Osborne R. Littleford.

8:30 p.m.—Closing.
The public is cordially invited to this Mission.

Lord Baltimore Downs Harrington Eleven 12-0

By Keith S. Burgess

Lord Baltimore High School of Ocean View defeated Harrington High 12-0 on the local gridiron Saturday afternoon in a raggedly played game.

The Lions forward wall kept the visitor's ground gains to a minimum but two forward passes were completed for touchdowns to account for all the scoring. Harrington now has an 0-2 record in both Henlopen Conference and overall play and is scoreless.

After a scoreless first quarter, Deveney of the Lords got behind the Harrington defense and took a long pass for the first tally.

The locals threatened when passed to George Pfeiffer for a first down on the enemy 30. The drive was halted by a 15 yard penalty for unnecessary roughness. The over-anxious Lions were hurt by three or four of these during the contest.

Early in the third quarter the Lions lined up in a tricky formation that left their quarterback to the left of most of his linemen. The Sussex Countians were caught offguard momentarily so the fleet Masten, a sprinter on the track team, took off around end. He picked up a block or two and reversing his field, two or three times, broke into the open. Apparently he did not realize that he was briefly in the clear for he slackened his pace slightly to wait for another blocker and was caught from the side after a fine run of 64 yards. This gallop was by far the longest gain of the day. A score on this crucial play would have knotted the count at 6-6 and might have been the spark the home forces needed.

Masten played end last year but was drafted to the quarterback position after David Hitchens broke an ankle. He completed 3 passes to Pfeiffer and one to Jeff Adams for a creditable 51 yards and also nailed opposing backs on two occasions, who were threatening to get away for long gainers.

Later, the locals apparently were mixed up on the down for they tried a running play on fourth down in their own territory with several yards needed for a first down. Lord Baltimore stopped the play and took possession of the pigskin near the play-off stripe. A 17-yard pass to a player all alone in the left corner of the end zone made the count 12-0. The victor's quarterback is a pretty fair passer for a high school competitor.

On the extra point play the Lion forward wall had just about stopped the play but the issue was still in doubt as a group of upright combatants were swaying back and forth at the goal line. Adams came charging in and blocked the entire group in such a manner as to cause them to fall away from the end zone. Earlier he had knocked a Lord Baltimore end down with a beautiful, jarring block after the latter had received a pass.

Pfeiffer picked up 36 yards on 6 tries for a very fine 6-yard average.

Tom Layton led in tackles made with 7 followed by Tim Strohl and Dave Martin with 6 each and Terry Johnson and Bill Porter with 4 each.

The later duo joined the team on Monday. Harrington had 20 men in uniform for Saturday's tilt. Against Bridgeville 16 men were on hand. In an earlier practice with Milford 13 were on the roster. Coach Bill Smith is finally getting a decent turnout but it will probably be two or three more weeks before the late arrivals get in top shape. Meanwhile, powerful Millsboro, conquerors of Lord Baltimore 39-0 and always tough Rehoboth 7-0, are planning a warm reception for the Lions Friday night under the lights at Millsboro. It could be a good game if the locals get their dander up.

Firemen's Night At Races Next Wednesday

Next Wednesday evening will be Kent County Firemen's Night at the Kent and Sussex Raceway in Harrington.

Tickets for the occasion were donated to the firemen by the raceway and all proceeds from their sale will be retained by the firemen's organization.

The eighth and feature event of the nine-race program will be designated as the Kent County Firemen's Purse. Roland Neeman of Felton, president of the association, will present a trophy to the winning driver of that race.

Largest crowd of the current 30-night meet was on hand last Saturday night and set the season's betting record to date of $131,000.

Jimmy Lynn won the feature event that night when he paced a 2:04 2/5 mile, which is also the season's best time at the track so far. Jimmy Lynn is a seven-year-old pacer owned, trained and driven by Lindale Coverdale of Harrington.

The cancellation of two nights of racing last week because of inclement weather means that the current meet will be extended through Oct. 21. Any additional cancellations will be added on to that date.

Delaware Food Market Report

Fresh oysters are back in season, and supplies are adequate though not plentiful. This food, according to the Nutrition Foundation, is a powerhouse of vitamins and minerals, and contains at the same time a good supply of high quality protein. A single oyster contains approximately 100 milligrams of calcium - an amount nearly on a par with the calcium in a glass of milk. Oysters also score very high in iron, vitamin A and components of vitamin B. Yet with all of this, oysters (a half dozen) contain only 65 to 70 calories—an ideal food for those who are reducing. Don't forget, it's what you add to oysters that make the calories jump, not the oyster itself.

Other sea food in season and, also, in good supply are fresh shrimp, sea and bay scallops, crab meat, hard clams, lobsters, Spanish and king mackerel, porgies and whiting. You will find plenty of frozen shrimp and lobster meat at the market also. Red meat continues to be plentiful. This weekend check your favorite grocery for good buys on the following: - rib roast of beef, ground beef, pot roasts, leg of lamb, shoulder, shoulder roasts of lamb and combination packages of lamb. There is a good supply of veal on hand, so check the meat counter for buys on this meat. Pork supplies are down but there are many good buys on bacon, sausage and hams. Fresh mushrooms are a newcomer to the vegetable counter. While the supply is small right now it will pick up as their season advances. It's nearly last chance for enjoying local sweet corn and tomatoes. With the first hard frost the season will end. Fresh vegetables that are available in good supply with quality good to excellent are: cauliflower, celery, sweet potatoes, yellow onions and some white potatoes. Cabbage and egg plant both should be fairly reasonable this weekend, so look for good buys on these two, also. Fruits to check this week remain our fall standby: - apples, grapes, pears and cranberries.

Long Dry Periods Slash Milk Production

Letting dairy cows stay dry for three or four months each year can slash milk production by as much as 800 to 1000 pounds per year, according to Kent County agricultural agent, George K. Vapaa. He said the dry period is important to a cow. It gives her time to rest, replenish her body and grow the calf she is carrying. But six weeks to two months is plenty of time to take care of these things if proper feed and care are made available. Shy breeders and cows that show short lactation periods will usually stay dry too long. If good replacements are ready these cows should be removed from the herd. Dairymen will be well repaid for the time they spend studying records to find cows with long dry periods. It will be a simple matter for dairymen who keep WADAM, Owner-Sampler or DH IA records, Mr. Vapaa said.

New Law Protects Cropland and Allotment History

Any farmer who diverts cropland to permanent cover under a Conservation Reserve contract is protected in his cropland and acreage allotment history for an additional period equal to the period the land was under contract, chairman R. Harry Wilson of the Kent Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee said at Dover. Previously, these acreages have been protected only for the life of the Conservation Reserve contract. Doubling of this period is provided under a new law passed at the recent session of Congress and signed by the President in September.

The legislation provides that cropland which is diverted from an allotment crop to a conservation use under this program shall continue to be classed as cropland for twice the period of the contract and, for purposes of determining future allotments, shall be considered as though it had been planted to the commodity. This new provision, Mr. Wilson said, does not apply to contracts terminated before the end of the period for which the contract was originally signed.

Contracts under the Conservation Reserve program range from 3 to 10 years. ASC officials hope that the new legislation will encourage participants in the program to maintain former allotment crop acreage in vegetative cover for at least twice as long and perhaps permanently. The provisions of the new law will be considered in the determination of farm acreage allotments for 1961.

Veterans News

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—When does a veteran at school under the Korean GI Bill get his school allowance from VA? My first month of classroom work is almost over and I have not yet received my allowance.

A—Under law, school allowances may not be paid until after classroom work for the month covered by VA's check has been completed, and VA must receive a certificate of attendance signed by you and a representative of the school, before it can start payment. Usually it takes another three weeks for the check to reach you. That is why VA always urges veterans to be prepared for a two month delay in receipt of the first check.

Q—Can a young man or woman eligible for training under the War Orphans Education Act get a regular high school education under the program?

A—No. The law prohibits a young man or woman from taking a regular high school education under this program. Many below-college level courses may be taken, but the student must have completed or quit high school, and the course must offer specialized vocational training fitting him or her for a vocational goal.

Q—My GI insurance dividends are being held by VA as a credit under the Credit Option setup. If I fail to pay my quarterly premium due next month, will VA deduct it from my dividend credit?

A—No. VA is permitted to withdraw only one monthly premium at a time, under that option. You may, however, ask VA to withdraw the whole amount held, and pay premiums as far in advance as the amount will cover.

Q—Suppose a veteran dies without naming a beneficiary for his GI insurance policy. I understand the money would be paid to his estate, but how? Would it be in one lump sum, or in installments?

A—The insurance payments would be paid in one lump sum to the veteran's estate.

Kent County Enters National Awards Program

The Soil Conservation District of Kent County has entered the national Soil Conservation Awards program. It was announced by District chairman, C. A. Taylor of Harrington.

Members of the Kent County District will compete against other soil conservation districts in Delaware and New Jersey. Non-partisan judging committees, selected from Delaware and New Jersey's outstanding exponents of the soil conservation movement, will determine the outstanding district of the two states for the period May 1, 1960 to April 30, 1961, on a basis of total points scored in performance of regular district duties. Grand award for one member of the winning district governing body in each of the 52 competing units, and the top co-operating farmer or rancher named by that district, will be an expense-free, vacation trip to Goodyear fabulous winter resort, the Wigwam Guest Ranch on Goodyear Farms, Litchfield park Arizona, in November or December 1961.

Members of the Kent County District governing body who will compete for the Goodyear award are: C. Arthur Taylor, Harrington; Charles Blendt, Smyrna; Isaac H. Thomas, Maryland; David Robbins, Milford; John G. Tarburton, Dover; and George K. Vapaa, Dover.

National winners of the Goodyear Soil Conservation Awards will be honored at the seven regular area meetings of the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts. Plaques will be awarded at State Conventions to the first and second place winning districts.

Grade Three—Audrey Milspaw
We have 30 boys and girls in our room this year. Larry Tucker came to us from Dover; Randy Galloway, from Pennsylvania; John Calvert from Greenwood, and Ronnie Davidson from Milford.
We have been doing some interesting things in the third grade. In Science, we are studying the moon, and are making booklets about it, with aluminum foil covers. We have a space station set up on rocket and space travel. We are also collecting fall leaves and nuts, and have a collection of snails, guppies, frogs, and cocoons to watch.

Our extra reading has been about faraway places, and we are using our globe and pretending we are really traveling. When we reached Spain, Miss Ball, our High School Spanish teacher came in and taught us some Spanish phrases. We have built homes for each country and talked about how the people live.

All of us are trying to become better readers and to enjoy reading. Some of us now enjoy our library periods, and we are keeping a list of how many books we read. We are going to visit our high school library soon, and some of us are using the bookmobile. We would like to visit the beautiful new library in Milford sometime this year.

We are sorry Debbie Schep is ill, and has to be in bed two weeks.
Ronnie Davidson had a trip to Washington, D. C., with his family last weekend.

Mrs. O'Neal
We all had our pictures taken. Mrs. Milspaw invited our class to her room. Her boys and girls told us all about the things they are doing in their room.

We now have three reading groups and are enjoying our new readers.

Grade Four—Mrs. Kramedas
Our class is having lots of fun in our social studies unit. We are studying about maps and globes. To help us, we are making our own globes. All you need to make a globe is newspapers, paper bags, and wheat paste.

On our globes we are planning to put the seven continents, four oceans, equator, Tropic of Cancer, Tropic of Capricorn, Arctic Circle, and Antarctic Circle.

We are also planning for our fourth grade assembly program which will be in November.

Mrs. Smith
Last week we had an election for president, secretary and treasurer. Donna Callaway is president, Patty Jopp is secretary, and Nancy Richardson is treasurer.

Linda Steerman has gone to West Virginia for the week. Tuesday we had our pictures taken. We all hope they turn out well.

Monday and Tuesday we had tests in Mr. Rutledge's room.

Mrs. West
We have been to school about a month. We had twenty-nine pupils in our room. One boy moved away. Now we have sixteen boys and twelve girls. Sharon Pike, Robert Legates and Bradford Morris have had birthdays.

We have been reviewing first grade work before we start our second grade work. One group has a second reader.

We wrote this poem:
Rain! Rain!
Rain rain coming down,
Making wet all the ground,
Then the grass and trees will grow,
Rain, rain we need you so!

Reported by, Kathy Miller
Mrs. Quillen

We enjoyed a bull frog in our room last week. We shared it with the other grades. Mr. Grant found the frog in the boiler room.

We have an interesting collection of nuts, leaves, and corn for our fall collection corner.

Mrs. Grant
We saw a big bull frog Wednesday. Mrs. Grant found it in the boiler room.

Gwyn Melvin went to Philadelphia and rode on the train.

Linda Minner had a picnic last week.
Nancy Carter has a new puppy. Bryan Kemp has four little puppies at home.
Robin Callahan has two rabbits named Snowball and Beekie.
Bonnie Kukulka has a rabbit named Peter.

Some of us have our first pre-emptor "Skip Along". We enjoy reading it very much.

Grade 6 — Mrs. Mann
On Friday afternoon, Sept. 23, our room had an election. We elected the following officers: president, Branda Newman; vice-president, Susan Fair; secretary, Nancy Taylor; treasurer, Ricky Jester.

We have had a lot of students sick this week, but we are hoping that they will get well and get back with us soon.

Reporters, Marsha Harrington Denise Callaway

New Law Passed On Conservation Reserve

Farmers who have land on the Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank are being encouraged to keep their land in vegetative cover after their present land retirement contracts expire.

Latest step in this direction, the ASC people tell us, is a new law passed at the recent session of Congress and signed by the President in mid-September. Under this law a farmer who diverts acreage to permanent cover under the Conservation Reserve keeps his allotment crop acreage history for twice the period of his Soil Bank contract.

Take the example of a wheat grower who has his cropland in the Conservation Reserve under a 5-Year contract and keeps it in permanent cover after his contract expires. Throughout that contract and for another five years, he will get credit for his established wheat acreage history on the farm, just the same as if he had grown wheat. Then, if he should go back into wheat production, he will be on an equal footing with other growers in obtaining a farm wheat allotment.

This makes the engine breathe more efficiently, giving you better acceleration. Eleven versions to choose from. Horsepowers range from 215 to 348. For best economy, specify the Trophy Economy V-8. Its lower compression ratio lets you use regular gas.

More headroom, legroom, footroom for greater comfort! You'll take great comfort in the extra roominess we've built into the '61 Pontiac. Seats are higher, yet there's more clearance beneath the steering wheel and more hatroom over your head. There is more legroom, more footroom. Doors are wider and designed to swing open farther. The more highway you put behind you (Pontiac specializes in this) the more you'll appreciate the new room that's all around you in this sleek new '61.

The bride was given away by her father. She wore a gown of white chiffon, ballerina length with long sleeves. A veil of illusion was attached to her rhinestone tiara. The bride carried an old-fashioned bouquet of white pompons and roses.

Her only attendant was Miss Anne Perry of Harrington, who came home this weekend from her studies at the School of Nursing, Jefferson Hospital, Philadelphia, to participate in the wedding. Micro-Midget News

There is news this week about the Pennsylvania Championship Trophy race held in Ephrata, Pa., Saturday night. The 1/10 mile clay track staged micro and Austin Midget racing for this event. Members of the Blue Hen Club participating: John Porter, Smokey with car 7; Walter Schiff, Dick Sapp car 22; Harry Porter car 8, and Reds Hallowell car X. Billy Dill with his quarter midget No. 1 participated in the quarter midget division.

The first micro heat race of the evening with Harry Porter and Reds Hallowell in the line-up, with Car 8 in last position. In the third lap Harry was in third position where he finished. Reds in Car X drove a nice race taking second spot.

Dick Sapp drove car 22 to victory in the second heat race. Car 22 jumped to an early lead, holding it to the checkered flag. A highly competitive open class race.

In the third heat race Smokey chauffeuring "Little Warrior No. 7" wasn't satisfied with playing follow the leader, so he just clamped a little harder on the gas taking the lead to the winners circle and the win flag. A cool head and a heavy foot in the right spots paid off for Dick and Smokey.

The track staged two 50-lap feature races with the flathead lineup of 16 cars. Reds Hallowell held the lead for 20-laps without a slip, when his engine gave him trouble. This put Harry in the third position, with plenty of competition, as his motor was not up to par, Harry drove a consistent race in dependable car 8 nailing down 4th position.

As the 17-car lineup was barked over the P.A. system Smokey in car 7 and Dick in car 22 rolled out on the track, with car 7 in 8th spot and car 22 in 10th spot.

In the fourth lap Dick was in fourth position, when car 19 knocked the chain off and car 2 could not finish. Smokey was weeding his way through heavy traffic lap after lap, doing a fine piece of driving on his way to the front, when an accident occurred in the 27th lap, halting the race. Smokey was presented 5th place trophy and a job well done.

Billy Dill participated with the quarter midget division on the 1/10 mile oval. The heat race consisting of 10-laps with car 1 in last position in the lineup. In the fourth lap car 1 took the lead as Billy chauffeured to the top spot as winner of the race.

The 15-lap feature race with a nine car lineup with car 1 again in last position. Billy took an early second spot and after the checkered flag was dropped it was a photo-finish with Billy taking second place. This was the first National Race for car 1 and Billy comments "it's a lot of fun."

Killen Pleads For Harmony At Rally Here

It is always an honor to be called upon to address such groups as this in our State, but it is an especially great honor to be called upon by one's own people—for they, more than any group know what you are really like, and I thank you sincerely for the privilege.

I want to begin by brief remarks by quoting a man termed as a great Republican, but known to all of us as a still greater American — Abraham Lincoln. In one of his acceptance speeches, he said, "A house divided against itself cannot stand." He said this on good authority, for he quoted directly from the Bible.

"A house divided against itself cannot stand." Think about that for just a minute. — Abraham Lincoln was speaking of this nation about to witness a Civil War.

Our Lord was speaking about kingdoms, families, and people. This statement has many applications—one is to be found in the area of political parties, more specifically, in our own home district.

The Democratic Party in this area is a house which must not be divided lest it collapse and fall. It is NOT a house divided—and anyone who says that it IS—does great dis-service not only to the local elements of the party, but those throughout this county, state and nation, as well.

We have had our disagreements—but, I repeat, we are not divided.

Disagreements can be healthy; they cause competition and through it bring out our very best effort—whereas divisions do nothing but destroy.

On November the 8th, the citizens of this state will see just how healthy and how much alive are we Democrats in the Harrington area.

When we use our disagreements constructively, new voices are heard and new blood is poured into our veins, bringing fresh vigor and renewed strength. That is what I see here tonight.

We Democrats, dedicated to the highest principles of our party and service to mankind, welcome the opportunity to better in every way and by all means that service for ourselves and for all others as well. We must be, and we are—an undivided party, standing united against all opposition—and destined for a smashing victory on election day.

Miss Rodriguez is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin, who participated in the farm exchange program.

Zwaanendael Museum Notes

A timely exhibit of election campaign memorabilia is now on display at the Zwaanendael Museum. The collection of political badges and souvenirs is now an extensive hobby, while at the same time collectors are preserving relics of many tense and exciting periods in our country's history.

Among the badges lent from the collection belonging to Mrs. Robert J. Kennedy of Lewes and Alton L. Brittingham, Lewes Postmaster, are many dated since the 1920's, but Mr. Brittingham's treasured ones include a badge bearing the likeness, in corner, of William Jennings Bryan who was the unsuccessful candidate for president in 1896, 1900 and 1908; one, "In Memoriam" of William McKinley, who was elected President in 1896 and was assassinated in 1901, and a 1912 badge of President Woodrow Wilson.

Included in the exhibit are two campaign handkerchiefs of 1888. One carries the pictures of Grover Cleveland and his running mate Allan G. Thurman, unsuccessful candidates, the other, pictures of Benjamin Harrison and Levi P. Morton who were elected. These were lent by Mrs. Wallace Burn of Milford. Also exhibited is a campaign torch with a wooden handle, used during campaign parades when streets were poorly lighted. This is a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Hammon Davidson of Milton, as is also a souvenir bookmark of red celluloid bearing pictures of Grover Cleveland and his running mate, Adlai E. Stevenson, who were the successful candidates in 1892.

The Curator has space for additional material in this display, which will be continued until the middle of November. If any persons have souvenirs which they would be willing to lend for exhibit, she will gladly call for them.

The museum will observe holiday hours, 12:30 to 5:30 p.m. on Wed., Oct. 12, Columbus Day, but the regular visiting hours are as follows: weekdays, Tuesdays, through Saturdays, 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.; Sundays 12:30 to 5:30 p.m. Closed Mondays.

a fair man, if I ever knew a good man, if I ever knew a diligent man, if I ever knew a just man, if I ever knew an effective U. S. senator, it is Allen Frear, the only person in the great State of Delaware I even think of trading him for is Esther Frear."

Johnson backed up his point about the inevitability of a Democratic Senate by pointing out that Democrats face only 11 contests and if they lose them all will still have 55 seats out of the 100 in the Senate.

At the Georgetown meeting, the crowd gathered first for a parade at The Circle, then came out to the athletic field, arriving after Senator Johnson and his party had hurried there from the Wyoming meeting. Nine high school bands took part in the parade and were judged for their performances. The prizes went to Laurel, first; Georgetown, second, and Jason High School, third.

County and legislative candidates were introduced at both meetings. At the Wyoming meeting, Alexis I. duPont Bayard, Delaware chairman of Citizens for Kennedy, urged the election of an executive who can get along with his legislature in both Dover and Washington.

Most of the state ticket candidates were unable to attend the downstate because of a Wilmington engagement. U. S. Rep. Harris B. McDowell Jr., appeared at the Wyoming meeting and Mayor Eugene Lamot, the Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, took a bow at both.

asked to attend from Asbury are Mrs. Downing, Mrs. Marvin Richardson, Mrs. William A. Minner, Mrs. B. Norman Hopkins, Mrs. James Moore, Mrs. George Cain and Mrs. Francis Winkler. The MYF will serve lunch from the lot next to Pitlick's garage on Election day. The money realized from the sale will be used to buy a tape recorder. The Deborah Circle announced that they will have a bake on Sat., Oct. 22 at Cahall's 2nd hand store. Because of the Dover District fall conference Nov. 1st, there will be no meeting of the local society on that night. The next meeting will be on December 6, with Mrs. James D. Moore, leader.
