

Candidates For Auditor Debate to Draw Here

The Harrington Business & Professional Women's Club heard the candidates for state auditor in the general election Tuesday debate their cause Monday evening in a meeting, open to the public, at The Wonder R.

The candidate, both from Harrington, were Ernest E. Killen, the incumbent, the Democratic nominee, and William W. Shaw, the Republican nominee.

Mrs. Blanche Cahall, was in charge of the legislative program, and Mrs. Harold McDonald was the moderator.

Shaw opened the debate with the following prepared speech:

Shaw Opens
"I appreciate this opportunity to appear before this group with Ernie and sincerely hope you will be enlightened by the remarks we make and the answers given to your questions."

"I shall attempt to present the financial condition of our state as briefly as possible. The sources for this being the Griffenhagen Report date 1950, the McKinsey Report dated November 1954 and the March 1959 report of Ed. W. Hagemeyer on behalf of the Farmers Bank of the State of Delaware and two reports prepared for the Joint Revenue Committee by Dr. E. F. Bunce, Jr. and Isaacson, Stolpher & Co. in October and November of 1959.

"I would also like to add that the Griffenhagen Report of 1950 was made at the request of Mr. Carvel. Unfortunately, the entire plan was announced on a single day and it was just too much for the public and the members of government to study in such a short time.

"The reorganization plan developed by Gov. Boggs over the past two years has met with far greater public understanding and support. Why? The financial and other problems of the state are far greater today and the need for reorganization is more widely recognized. The public and people in government have had a longer time to consider the various phases of this program.

"As you know, the General Assembly held hearings for some weeks on this plan but were unable to agree or enact into law any part of this program. This program had broad public support in the testimony at the hearings and was backed up by experts in government organization from various parts of the country. It was estimated that this reform program could save almost two million dollars a year for Delaware taxpayers.

"The civil service system would save $750,000 a year.

"Central purchasing would save about $700,000 a year.

"The most important recommendation of all published reports referred to was the establishment of a Department of Finance as the first step of reform. Gov. Boggs has been seeking creation of this department since 1955 but the recommendations have been ignored to date.

"Let us take time at this point to see just what has happened since 1947 to create the problems we now face and also those we face in the next five years.

"Delaware is the fourth fastest growing state in the Nation from 299,000 in 1946 to almost 500,000 in 1960.

"School population is increasing rapidly.

"Population increase and industrial growth creates a need for greater services:

"Education costs have increased from 4.7 million dollars to 30 million dollars today.

"Welfare costs are up about 2 1/2 times to about 9 million dollars today.

"Costs of highways, police and other services are up.

"In Delaware the state pay 88 per cent of education costs compared to the national average of 41 per cent. The state also assumes many other obligations which are paid for in other states by the cities and counties.

"Local per capita debt in Delaware is by far the highest in the nation. We have either the highest or second highest per capita income ($2990.) and the highest per capita debt (six times the national average). Yet we are relatively untaxed. Delaware takes a smaller portion of its resident's income than any other state.

"Our total indebtedness in 1947 was four million dollars.—today it is 178 million dollars. The experts estimate it to be 278 million dollars by 1965.

"Our debt service has climbed from $738,000 annually in 1947 to an estimated $14,252,000 on June 30, 1960.

"This is estimated to be 23.6 million dollars by 1965. In 1947—5 cents of every tax dollar went to debt service, today 20 cents of every tax dollar goes to debt service.

"Why this tremendous increase? "Our state has been selling its services for much too little, and that is the very essence of our problem."

H.H.S. Harriers End Regular Season Unbeaten

By Keith S. Burgess

Coach Harold McDonald's Harrington High cross-country team won a triangular meet at Milford from the host Buccaners and Milton High's Warriors to end the regular season undefeated for the second time in three years of participation. The Lion's log is 6-0 with three invitational meets coming up. These are: the state meet, the Henlopen Conference meet and the third annual Harrington Invitational. The latter two events will take place on the local's Killen Pond course on November 18th and 22nd respectively.

At Milford on Monday, Harry Knotts took the individual honors in the first competitive run held on the new 2.3 mile course. Harry was clocked in 11:18. Second and third places were taken for H.H.S. by Clarence and Dwight Hackett.

Ken Porter of Milford was fourth just barely holding off the fast-charging Allan Wix, who ran his best race ever.

Dennis Bradley, Jeff Adams, and George Pfeiffer annexed 7th, 9th, and 10th places. Frank Cain and Charles Taylor finished 13th and 15th in the field of 31 starters to become the last Lions (Continued on Page 12)

New 'Tempest' by Pontiac Introduced At Wrights' Today

The "Tempest", America's first front engine-rear transmission car is being shown this weekend. Unique in conception and fresh in styling, the Tempest is an entirely new personality for the motoring public, yet it is unmistakably Pontiac.

Along with traditional Pontiac high performance, excellent economy, superb quality and spacious styling, the Tempest possesses engineering features which can be classified as first in concept and production in the industry.

Most significant among these innovations is the front engine-rear transmission arrangement that provides near perfect 50/50 weight distribution to independent four-wheel suspension. Power is transmitted from the engine to the transaxle by a newly developed drive shaft that virtually eliminates the floor tunnel. The four cylinder Tempest engine is adapted from Pontiac's big time proven V-8 and is available with a standard or automatic transmission.

Smart exterior styling reflects a consistent and well proportioned appearance. Clean and crisp with 15" wheels as standard equipment, the new Tempest reflects another Pontiac first.

Wrights', in introducing the new Tempest, will hold "Open House" Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 3rd, 4th, and 5th. Open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m., there will be a valuable door prize awarded at the close of business Saturday.

You are invited to see and drive this newest car of the century at Wrights' today.

Greenwood Kiwanis Club To Sponsor Fashion Show

On Nov. 9, the Greenwood Kiwanis Club will sponsor a fashion show presented by Jackson's California Creations of Seaford. The fashion parade of sport clothes, bathing suits, negligees and evening gowns will begin at 8 p. m. in the auditorium of the Greenwood High School.

The models from Seaford will be Betty Vane, Jesse Morgan, Bonnie Litchfield, Irene Daley, Betty Gast, Mildred Hamsted, and Ruth Prettyman. Phyllis Kemp of Milford will model as well as Virginia Taylor, Yvonne Algires and Pat Clendaniel of Greenwood. Doris Mills, of Greenwood will be mistress of ceremonies.

During intermission, prizes of all kinds will be given away. These will be contributed by the wives of the Kiwanians and by local stores. As a grand prize, Mr. Jackson will award a $25 dress.

HALLOWEENER, 8, KILLED BENEATH MOTHER'S AUTO

An eight-year-old girl returning from a Halloween trip for trick or treat, was killed when she fell from her mother's car Monday night near Harrington.

The child, Pearl Arlene Teed, of Harrington, was taken to a Harrington physician and pronounced dead on arrival. She died of a crushed chest and internal injuries.

State police said the Teed family had been visiting their grandparents and started home shortly after 7 p.m. The mother had rounded up the children and was backing out the drive of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Lemon of Weiner Avenue Extension, just north of the Harrington city limits, when the accident occurred.

They said Pearl and her four-year-old sister, Rose Marie, were sitting on the floor in the back of the car when their mother, Margaret, backed out of the drive. They said Pearl apparently fell from the door and underneath the moving vehicle.

Investigation disclosed the car passed over the child with its left wheel, crushing her chest. Several other children in the car yelled when the victim fell, but not in time for the mother to stop the vehicle.

State police said the accident would not count as a highway fatality since it happened on private property.

Sussex County Coroner Volvie Gray helped police in their investigation.

She was born at Harrington and had lived here all her life. She was in the third grade at Harrington School.

Funeral services will be held at the Boyer Funeral Home, Harrington, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in charge of the Rev. Donald Hurst, pastor of Prospect

The Bells Will Be Ringing on Election Day

The bells will be ringing on Election Day.

Not for the "me and my gal" of the song, but to remind everyone to get out and vote.

Church bells, school bells, fire engine bells, and even carillons where they're available will ring throughout the Delmarva Peninsula—and the entire nation—as the Boy Scouts of America climax their Get-Out-the-Vote drive.

They'll ring for five minutes, from 8 to 8:05 A. M.

The whole thing will be kicked off when Charles Heistand, assistant Chief Scout Executive, and Michael Witkowski, a 32,000,000th Boy Scout, ring a replica of the Liberty Bell on the Dave Garroway television program.

All 12 districts in the Del-Mar-Va Council have made arrangements to participate in the bell-ringing. Dr. Crayton K. Black, council commissioner, has been in charge of the preparations.

Some districts have arranged for special floats and sound cars to dramatize the drive's climax.

The Get-Out-the-Vote drive is the final event in the celebration of Boy Scouting's golden anniversary in the United States. Last week end, Del-Mar-Va Council Scouts put 186,000 hangers on doorknobs of the peninsula, reminding the residents of their duty to vote on November 8th.

Harry Knotts Wins State X-Country Title in Field of 119

By Keith S. Burgess

Harry Knotts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Knotts, climaxed three years of training and competition by winning the state cross-country championship at Rockford Park, Wilmington, on Wednesday afternoon. 119 runners from 17 high schools competed. Harry won by 50 yards with Eric Drakely of Salesianum second. The winning time was 11:35 for a rugged 2.3 mile course with a man-killer of a hill near the finish. This hill is the spot where the men are separated from the boys.

Harrington High's Lions finished third in the seventeen-team field. In 1958 H.H.S. was fourth in an eight team field and in 1959 was fourth in a twelve team field. This year's showing was a marvelous one considering that Harrington High was by far the smallest school in the meet, plus the fact that the locals and Milford were the only teams present that are not located close enough to the course to practice there frequently. A Wilmington area harrier may work out at Rockford Park seven days a week should he so desire.

Clarence Hackett was seventh in 11:57 and Dwight Hackett was ninth in 12:05. At this point the Lions were in the lead for the team title but slipped back to third as runners from first-place Brandwine and second-place Mt. Pleasant began to finish in groups. In Knotts and the Hacketts Coach McDonald had three dedicated, talented and well-conditioned runners. Five were needed to win the state team title.

Some of the other Harringtonians had the talent but did not have the other two requisites.

Knotts did not fare well in the drawing for post positions as he had to start from position 14 in the front row. At the gun he was caught in a traffic jam and had to go to the outside, wasting precious seconds, before he could get clear. Meanwhile, Drakely was up front trying to "steal" the race by opening up a large lead while the others were getting free of the mob. Knotts was third at a quarter mile, second at a half mile and moved into the lead at the 1 3/4 point. At two miles he led by 25 yards and increased it to 50 yards with his usual fine finishing spurt. He was not mentioned as a favorite before the race, although he was the only trophy winner back from the 1959 contest and was undefeated in 1960.

Coach McDonald arranged a practice test with Newark and Brandywine for his younger runners since only the best seven could compete in the varsity meet.

Candidates For Kent Levy Court Differ Sharply

The Democratic president of the Kent County Levy Court and a Republican candidate for one of the three seats on the court differed sharply on the usefulness and integrity of a GOP platform announced last week.

J. Noble Carroll, president of the three-man court, which conducts county affairs, said the farmers of the platform "display little knowledge of true facts, and much bad faith."

But Republican candidate Carrey declared the platform was a step forward for all people of the county pledging as it does financial reform, general reassessment, creation of a county sewer and water authority, zoning and mosquito control.

Carroll branded as absolutely false the Republican assertion that "under Democratic control the county government is approaching bankruptcy and at the end of the 1959 fiscal year had a deficit totaling $83,680.34." Said (Continued on Page 12)

General Election Tuesday Promises to Be Exceptional

Understanding Misfires But Shotgun Does Not

Two teenagers from near Felton were in Milford Hospital Saturday because their 9-year-old brother did not imitate them perfectly enough in a game with a shotgun.

The boys, Kenneth Burton Dixon, 13, and his brother, Floyd Sylvester Dixon, 14, were only slightly wounded by the .410 shotgun blast fired by brother Edward Leroy.

Here's how state police described the shooting, which occurred at 5:30 p.m. Friday.

Kenneth and Floyd had been playing a game for several weeks with the gun their father had borrowed. They had slipped a live cartridge into the chamber, then, when no one was looking, removed it and still pretended the gun was loaded.

They would snap the trigger at each other in efforts to frighten one another.

Friday evening, while his parents were shopping, little Eddie, who did not understand the game completely, loaded the gun and called:

"Look out, I'm going to shoot you!"

He was as surprised as his brothers when the gun went off. Both victims suffered pellet wounds in the legs.

Women's Shop Opens in Shopping Center

A women's apparel shop will open today in the Quillen Shopping Center.

Sidney Turetzky, of Woodbury, N. J., and Mrs. Joanna Cunningham, of Dover, will open the Phyl-Lyn Charm Shoppe. This is their second store, their first being in Dover.

In a statement, the co-owners said, "It is our wish to serve the people of Harrington, and the surrounding communities, with a beautiful line of women's ready-to-wear and a full line of accessories at popular prices.

"We have high hopes for a successful future in this community, and we welcome you as friends to come and visit with us in our store."

Mrs. Cunningham will manage the local store but Mr. Turetzky will be around while the enterprise is getting under way.

State Board of Health Offers Cancer Detection Examinations

The State Board of Health offers free Cancer Detection Examinations to all women 25 years of age and over.

Cancer has been known to develop at any age, but the incidence occurs more frequently after the age of 25. Most cancers can be cured if they are discovered and treated early.

The State Board of Health assists with the discovery of early cancer. When a suspicious condition appears, the patient and her doctor are notified so that whatever treatment is indicated may be started as soon as possible.

The clinics are operated by three persons—a doctor, a nurse and a historian. The doctor examines the five most prevalent locations where cancerous conditions are found; the nurse assists the doctor; the historian records a medical history of each patient.

Regular Cancer Detection Centers are held in Seaford, Laurel, Milford, Dover, Georgetown, Newark, Frankford, Middletown, Smyrna, Harrington, Lewes and Bridgeville. Dates and further information may be obtained from the County Health Units of:

The Division of Cancer Control Health Building, Federal Street, Dover, Delaware

Rollins Continues Hard-Hitting Attack on State Highway Department

John W. Rollins, Republican candidate for Governor, continued his hard-hitting attack on the State Highway Department this week, calling for all citizens of Delaware to help him "correct the mess in our state government."

Speaking before a Republican rally at the 6th Ward Republican Club at 709 French Street in Wilmington, Rollins said that the people all over the state from Claymont to Selbyville were "aroused by the conduct of the State Highway Department, and by the Department's high-handed use of public money and by its point blank refusal to account accurately for its expenditures."

Rollins warned his audience that "there is such a thing as a citizen, regardless of party, should have to plead guilty to that charge when there is an opportunity to do something to correct a bad situation in gov-

Frear Stands on Legislative Record

United States Senator J. Allen Frear said this week that he will stand on his legislative and personal record of service to the people of Delaware as a basis for his reelection campaign. Mr. Frear declared that his seniority as second-ranking member after the Chairman on the Senate Finance Committee and the third-ranking member after the Chairman on the Banking and Currency Committee has rarely, if ever, been equaled by a Democratic member of the Senate from Delaware. He further stated that by virtue of the fact that both Delaware Senators serve on the Finance Committee, the First State has forty percent of the representation on the critically important Senate - House Committee, which passes final judgment on all tax legislation.

Senator Frear also stressed his record of accomplishment in bringing about the reactivation of the Dover Air Force Base, in encouraging continued production at the Chrysler Tank plant in Newark, and in gaining approval of waterway projects for navigation and watershed program for flood control and soil conservation.

Mr. Frear also stated that his membership on the Banking and Currency Committee has enabled him to further the enactment of beneficial housing programs under FHA and VA.

Mr. Frear added that he was proud of the fact that nearly a third of his colleagues in the Senate from every part of the nation had sent him written statements of endorsement for his reelection.

"Nothing is more gratifying," said the Delaware Senator, "than to have such warm expressions of confidence as I have received from so many of my associates in the Senate." In this connection, Senator Frear said that he has endeavored to faithfully represent the best interests of Delaware during his years of service.

The Senator stated: "I don't believe a Senator should be unduly influenced by any one group of citizens, whether they are a labor organization or any other. My decisions are made in the conviction that they best serve the requirements of every segment of our population."

Senator Frear had this additional comment with regard to his overall Senate representation: "Senate seniority is the most (Continued on Page 12)

The general election Tuesday promises to be the most exciting in many decades, at least in Delaware. Never have the candidates been as active and hustled so much. Not only have the candidates advertised extensively but they have been active at the hustings.

This activity, a multitude of good candidates in the Democratic and Republican parties, plus a number of intangibles, promise to make the turnout for voting Tuesday a record one.

The polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m.

The Democrat ticket, in the Ninth Representative District, is as follows: President, John F. Kennedy; vice-president, Lyndon E. Johnson; governor, Elbert N. Carvel; lieutenant governor, Eugene Lamot; United States Senator, J. Allen Frear; representative in Congress, Harris B. McDowell Jr.; state treasurer, Mrs. Belle Everett; state auditor, Ernest E. Killen; state senator, Leon E. Donovan; state representative, George H. Exley; prothonotary, Frank R. Hayes; register of wills, H. Clifford Clark; levy court commissioner, Walter Paskey; county comptroller, Raymond Welch Sr.; sheriff, William T. James, and coroner, William C. Torbert Jr.

Frear, McDowell, Mrs. Everett, and Killen are incumbents.

The Republican ticket for the Ninth District: President, Richard M. Nixon; vice president, Henry Cabot Lodge; governor, John W. Rollins; lieutenant governor, William V. Roth Jr.; United States senator, J. Caleb Boggs; representative in Congress, James T. McKinstry; state treasurer, James Somerville; auditor of accounts, William W. Shaw; state senator, Francis L. Needles; state representative, Jesse Trotta Jr.; prothonotary, Henry F. Wilkins; register of wills, Maurice N. Jarrell; levy court commissioner, Clinton D. Robinson; county controller, James A. McWilliams Sr.; sheriff, William M. Short, and coroner, Wells A. Faries.

Candidates, in the presidential and vice presidential posts, also include Eric Hass, for president, and Georgia Cozzini, for vice president, in the Socialist Labor Party; Rutherford L. Decker, for president, and E. Harold Munn Sr., for vice president, in the Prohibition Party, and Gov. Orval E. Faubus, for president, and Adm. John G. Crommelin, for vice president, in the National States Rights Party.

Other nominations, in this area, are as follows: Democratic, Sixth District: For Senator, Leon E. Donovan, for representative, H. Dawson Shulties, and for Levy court commissioner, Walter Paskey. Republican—For senator, Francis L. Needles; for re-

Miss Evva Warrington of Harrington became the bride of Dr. William C. Prouse of Rehoboth Beach Saturday, Oct. 22, at 7 o'clock in their home at Rehoboth where they will live in the summer and spend their winters in Ft. Meyers, Fla. The maid of honor was Mrs. Pauline Warrington of Harrington, sister-in-law of the bride.

Everett B. Warrington Sr., brother of the bride, was best man.

Houston

Church news for Sunday, Nov. 6th, 1960: Sunday School at 10 a. m., Robert H. Yerkes, Sr., General Superintendent, Alvin O. Brown, Supt. of the Junior Department, Mrs. William Scott of the Cradle Roll and Carl Prentice, Supt. of Missions, and this date being the first Sunday of the month will be Missionary Sunday so come prepared to make the offering worth while for such a worthy cause.

The Worship Service begins at 11 a. m. with the Organ Prelude, Mrs. Agnes Webb at the organ assisted by John Clark at the piano. The senior and chancel choirs will have special numbers.

Call to worship by the pastor, Rev. Ray W. Kirwan, who will bring the prayer and deliver the sermon.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service will hold its regular meeting on Thursday evening, November 10th, at 8 p. m. in the Fellowship Hall. Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Hubbard Macklin, Mrs. Leonard Rollison and Mrs. James Hall. A good attendance is urged by the president, Mrs. Robert H. Yerkes.

Hostesses and flower committee for November will be Mrs. Leonard Rollison and Mrs. James Hall.

Let's not forget Sunday, November 13th, will be Home-Coming Day at Houston Methodist Church. Sunday School will be held as usual from 10 to 11 a. m. and a record attendance would be appreciated. The guest speaker for the 11:00 Worship Service will be Dr. Donald D. Douglas, Dean of Wesley College, Dover, Delaware. There will be special selections by the Senior and Junior Choirs.

The Evening Service will begin at 7:30 p. m. with a song service led by Robert H. Yerkes, Sr. The guest speaker for this service will be the Rev. Robert F. Loss, of Odessa, Delaware. There will be special selections by the Senior and Chancel Choirs and a duet by Mrs. Ann Prentice and Mrs. Hazel Lemmon. Following the service there will be a social hour in the Fellowship Hall with refreshments provided by the W. S. C. S. and O. U. R. Sunday School class.

The Methodist Men have 100 glossy 10 by 8 pictures of the Houston Methodist Church which will sell for $1.00 each. If there are any persons who would like to have one or more of these pictures please contact either Robert H. Yerkes, Sr., or Shockley Daugherty.

Perhaps friends of the church will be pleased to know that when the next payment of $600 is made on the indebtedness before November 6th that there will be only $3,300.00 remaining on the amount owed. Two years ago when the debt was contracted it stood at $10,500.00 which means that in just two years it has been reduced by $7,200.00. This is something to be very proud of and very grateful to each and every one who have helped to make this result possible.

The O. U. R. Sunday School class will serve lunch on Election Day, Tuesday, November 8th. A tent will be erected between the fire house and Daugherty's Store. Support will be greatly appreciated.

Trinity W.S.C.S. Notes

The regular meeting of the W.S.C.S. of Trinity Church was held Tuesday night, Nov. 1, with 41 present. Announcement was made of the Zone 2 meeting which will be held Nov. 17 at Slaughter Neck Methodist Church.

Mrs. Baynard Smith, Sunshine chairman, reported that a birthday gift had been sent to our adopted patient at the Hospital for Mentally Retarded.

A resolution in tribute to Mrs. Annie Minner, recently deceased, was presented by Mrs. Blanche Cahall and Mrs. Fred Bailey Sr. and accepted by the Society.

Mrs. John Walls, spiritual life chairman, reminded all members of the special Week of Prayer and Self-Denial Service to be held Friday night, Nov. 4, at 7:30 in the annex of the church.

The Society will be responsible for the arrangements of the Nov. 18 "Kick-Off" covered dish supper, to be held in conjunction with the ground-breaking for a new educational building. Mrs. Harry D. Adkins will serve as chairman and will select her committee.

Fruit juices and canned meats were brought to the meeting by members, and will be delivered to the conference projects in Wilmington, for the use of the Riddle Memorial Deaconess Home and the Mary Todd Gambrill Neighborhood House.

Mrs. Lewis Clymer, secretary of supply work asked for children's gifts to be brought to the December meeting. These are to be used at Christmas as gifts for the children of the above named projects, and should not be wrapped.

Mrs. Arnold Gilstad reported on the Fall District meeting held in Seaford Nov. 1, and asked for the co-operation of all in trying to increase the membership of our Society. An increase of 20 was suggested as the number to strive for in this our 20th year of service.

There being no further business, Mrs. O'Neal extended greetings to Mrs. W. W. Sharp, first Peninsula Conference President, and Mrs. E. J. Downing, president of Asbury Woman's Society, as well as all members who had assembled to enjoy the 20th anniversary celebration.

Following the business meeting, a program entitled "This is Our Heritage" was presented by Mrs. Earl Sylvester, commemorating the 20th anniversary of the Woman's Society. The program was based on the past, the present and the future of the society, and after a brief worship service was presented in three scenes. The past was depicted by reminiscence and review and the first scene showed the livingroom of Mrs. Harry Boyer, the first president, who in conversation with Mrs. Joseph Fleming, first vice president, was "remembering some of the events which lead up to the organization of the W.S.C.S. Mrs. Boyer's "Do You Remember" and Mrs. Fleming's "I Shall Never Forget" made for interesting conversation, at times serious, and at times humorous.

The next scene was the meeting room of the first meeting of the Woman's Society, held Oct. 1, 1940. Excerpts from the minutes of that meeting were used. The acting recording secretary, Mrs. Katherine Simpson, called the roll of 95 charter members; Mrs. Fleming presided because of the president's absence. The charge used by the Rev. T. C. Jones, when the officers were installed on Sunday night, Sept. 29, 1940, was given voice by the Rev. Benjamin in the background. Between the scenes, a "living curtain" of seven young women, wearing robes of red, blue, yellow and pink satin was very effective. So that there would be no doubt in the minds of the audience as to the part the girls were playing, the center figure wore on her shoulders a big placard with the word "curtain" in large bold black letters.

Up to this point Mrs. Brinton Holloway, who acted as narrator, had read the anniversary statement concerning the uniting of the three Methodist Churches, as well as the merging of the ladies aid, the Foreign and the Home Missionary Societies, and closed the statement with "This is Our Heritage, a rich heritage, which becomes for its individual members a privilege to inherit, and a responsibility to share." And now the third scene emerged. Mrs. Sylvester reviewed the highlights of each administration of the ensuing 20 years, and then said "There is no time like the present to honor our charter members. All charter members present were asked to stand, and were given a corsage of yellow mums, tied with blue ribbon, the W.S.C.S. colors. She also asked that a few moments of silent prayer be observed as a tribute to the 33 charter members, who had gone to their eternal rest during the past 20 years. In referring to the present, Mrs. Sylvester compared these past years to a four dimensional experience for in varying degrees they have had breadth, length, depth and height. Mrs. Ernest Raughley lighted a candle to symbolize the breadth of our service, indicating that it is a world program. Mrs. Ellwood Gruwell lighted a candle to symbolize the length of our service, emphasizing that 20 years is a long enough time for growth and to know whether we are putting into practice the purposes for which this organization stands. Mrs. Tharp Harrington lighted her candle for the depth of the spiritual life in our society and Mrs. Frank O'Neal Jr. in lighting her candle said "Our height is how tall we are." Our reach is through study, prayer, action, program areas, and giving that others may have life.

The program was brought to an end by looking to the future. Said Mrs. Sylvester, "The past has faded and the present merges into an indivisible pattern. As the past is seen only as it enriches the present, so the present is important only as it gives promise to the future. Let us look to the future, where growth and improvement must take place." She then asked the group to affirm with her, four goals which would produce such growth and improvement.

1. Increased membership. 2. Inspired leadership. 3. Combined efforts for study and action. 4. Sharing, because we care.

Those taking part in the "living curtain" were Mrs. Norman Smith, Mrs. John Walls, Mrs. Norman Brown, Mrs. Sam Williams, Mrs. Allan Calloway, Mrs. Leonard Taylor, Mrs. Ted Layton.

The Heritage Tea and a social hour followed. Mrs. Harriet O'Neal cut the lovely birthday cake, and Mrs. Sylvester poured the coffee. Mrs. Ernest Raughley, and her committee from the Ruth Circle were responsible for the refreshments and the beautifully appointed tea table.

A smoking survey of 10,000 teenage Danish school children, in Aarhus, showed that "only an insignificant minority" are "addicts" who smoke more than 20 cigarettes a day.

UNICEF Is Successful Despite Weather

Another successful UNICEF drive was held on Monday evening, Oct. 31, in Harrington. More than 15 children of the town assembled at the Harrington New Century Club at six o'clock to register and find a driver to take them to a designated street or section of town. A total of $130.22 was turned in by the children with some additional funds still expected from those who were not home during the house to house canvass.

Mrs. Charles Rapp of Asbury W.S.C.S. and Mrs. Ellwood Gruwell of Trinity W.S.C.S. were co-chairmen of the affair with Mrs. Frank O'Neal Jr. assisting in arrangements. As in the past other churches in the community were represented. This year children from both the sponsoring churches were present as well as those from the Church of the Nazarene, St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, St. Bernadette's Catholic Church and the Holiness Church.

On their return to the club house the children were given refreshments and shown two cartoon movies.

Special thanks are extended to Archie Feagan who arranged for the showing of the movies, Mrs. B. Norman Hopkins who served as mistress of ceremonies, the Harrington New Century Club for the use of the club house, the Harrington Journal for its publicity and the radio station W.K.S.B. for announcing the event and the postponement announcement Friday.

The citizens of Harrington can be proud of the efforts of the UNICEF goblins to share their Halloween with the children of other lands. The money which will be sent to the United Nations Children's Fund will be converted by that agency into life-saving medicines and health giving milk and vitamins. This money will go a long way toward improving the health and welfare of some of the world's 600 million under-privileged children.

Mrs. Geo. N. Reed Given Surprise Birthday Party

A surprise birthday party was held for Mrs. George N. Reed by her family and friends at her home Sunday evening. She received many beautiful gifts along with homemade ice cream and cake.

Those who helped her celebrate were: Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Dill, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Hobbs, Mrs. Alex Argo III, and children, James Temple, Fred Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bullock, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Swann, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Donovan, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Rawding, Mr. and Mrs. William Myer and daughter, Betty Louise, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Minner III, and children, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stuart and son, Joe, Mr. and Mrs. James Pizzadilli, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lane and children, Mr. and Mrs. George Lane, and children, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mills and son, Jackie, Roy Sapp, and Mrs. Reed's husband, George, and children, Jerry, Nelson, Bobby, and Debbie.

Restoration of Full Aid Scheduled

The State Department of Public Welfare announced Monday night that it will restore public assistance grants to their former levels for aid to dependent children and the disabled during December and January.

This will be possible according to Edgar Hare, Jr., department director, because case loads have been less than anticipated. ADC grants were cut by 11 per cent and AD grants by 15 per cent when the department did not get all of its requested appropriation from General Assembly. The cuts will probably be restored in January, Mr. Hare said.

More families are applying to private agencies for emergency aid because of the increased time required by the Department of Public Welfare to screen applications, the board members were told.

Miss Margaret E. McGee, executive secretary of the Catholic Welfare Guild, said private agencies, such as the Guild, often provide emergency aid until families can get on the public assistance rolls. This is a drain on the funds of private agencies and requires duplication of effort in investigating applications, she said.

Mr. Hare said the delay results from insufficient funds for staff.

It was also announced that the Welfare Council has started its research project to determine the causes of dependency. The project will include a study of the lives of 400 families who have been on the public assistance rolls in the state or who received other aid.

Bible Presbyterian Church Notes

The Bible Presbyterian Church announces the Rev. William H. Green, Jr., D. D., of Avis Mills, N. J., as the evangelist for its "Preaching Christ" campaign beginning Sunday night, November 6, at 7:45 p. m. The campaign to reach people with the Word of God and to show the Lord Jesus Christ as Saviour will be held in the New Century Club on Church Avenue where the church is temporarily meeting.

Rev. Green is an outstanding preacher of God's Word. His years of experience have given him a wide background for "Preaching Christ." His labors for the Lord have taken him into Kentucky and New Jersey where by sound preaching of the Bible, God has, through him established churches in these areas.

The meetings are open to all who will come to hear God's Word. There has been a famine in the land and you are invited to come and fill your soul on God's Word. The meetings will continue nightly at 7:45 through November 20. Special music will augment the inspiring singing of the old Gospel hymns. You are assured of a warm and friendly welcome. Plan now to attend this "Preaching Christ" campaign.

Painting Presented To U. of Del. By Studio Group

A distinctive watercolor painting, "Amos Strode's Farm," by the well known West Chester artist Philip Jamison has been presented to the University of Delaware by the Studio Group of Wilmington.

The presentation was made yesterday in the Faculty Lounge of the Student Center by Mrs. Samuel Lenher, president of the Studio Group.

About 15 members of the Studio Group attended the ceremony during which Miss Sandra Schwab, chairman of the women's executive council, expressed the appreciation of the student body and Norwood Bonney, chairman of the Student Center committee, outlined the cultural activities program of the center.

Dr. John A. Perkins, president of the university, discussed the role of the university beyond the confines of the classroom in developing the cultural and intellectual interests of the student.

This year marks the 25th anniversary of the formation of the Studio Group, whose founders were Mrs. Phillip G. Rhoads, Mrs. Earl E. Edinger and Mrs. Harold B. Howard.

This pioneering trio of painters who worked along the Brandwine formed the organization by inviting seven other local artists to join with them.

Encouraged by their first critic, the distinguished Philadelphia artist Miss Florence Cannon, and subsequently by such noted local artists as Frank Schoonover and Charles A. MacLellan, the Studio Group undertook the sponsorship of the Clothesline Fair during the Festival of the Arts Month in Wilmington.

Delaware artists of all ages and abilities have been encouraged to exhibit their works before an increasingly interested public and many of the paintings exhibited there now hang in Wilmington hotels, banks and private homes.

Work exclusively by the members of the group also has been exhibited at the Delaware Art Center, at the University of Delaware and in the galleries of the Samuel S. Fleisher Art Memorial in Philadelphia.

Proceeds realized on commissions from the sale of paintings at annual Clothesline Fairs have permitted the group to expand the scope of their interests. Annual gifts have been presented for many years to the education department of the Delaware Art Center and for several years a visiting lecturer also, was presented there under the auspices of the Studio Group. This year marks the first presentation of a painting to the University of Delaware.

Officers of the group include Mrs. Samuel Lenher, president; Mrs. Carol Pyle Jones, vice president; Mrs. Jerome Cohen, treasurer; Mrs. Harlan Scott, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Frances Rockwell, recording secretary.

Mr. Jamison, who also spoke briefly, has studied at the Philadelphia Museum School of Art and is a member of the American Watercolor Society, the Philadelphia Watercolor Society, the Wilmington Society of Fine Arts, the Chester County Art Association and Allied Artists of America.

Principally interested in watercolor painting, Mr. Jamison won a first prize from the Wilmington Society of Fine Arts in 1957, the Bainbridge Prize of the Allied Artists of America in 1958, the Dawson Medal from the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts and another first prize from the Wilmington Society of Fine Arts in 1959.

This year he already has received a first prize in a New York show sponsored by the National Arts Club.

Mrs. Earl Hawk enjoyed a tour of the United Nations Building last week. She accompanied the group from the Smithvale Home Demonstration Club.

Sunday dinner guests at the Hawks were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mervine and son, Mark, of Harrington, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bailey and son, Kevin, of Federalsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Pearson were Sunday evening guests of the Jacob Hatfields. The Pearsons had attended the District dinner meeting of the Firemen at Laurel.

Mrs. Ruth Willey accompanied Mr. and Mrs. James Ross of Dover to Asbury Park, N. J., over the weekend where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gerardi.

Sunday night supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Allison Davis were Mr. and Mrs. Myrtle Wade and son, Peter, and Miss Joanne Kenyon and her brother and sister.

Sunday morning breakfast guests at the Allison Davises were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dennis Jr. and sons, in honor of Dickie Davis, who was home for college for the weekend.

Mrs. Margaret Baker and Jean had the following guests stop in over the weekend: Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Baker of Boothwyn, Pa.; Alvin A. Warren and daughter, Gwen, of Wilmington. Sunday dinner guests of the Bakers were Master Sergeant George B. Leighty and wife of Milford.

Mrs. Walter Mills, Mrs. Viola Ocheltree, Mrs. C. Greylock Noble, Mrs. James Smith, Mrs. Laurence Graham, Mrs. Charles Conway and Mrs. Jacob Hatfield attended the County Achievement Day program for the Home Demonstration Clubs, held at Grace Church Fellowship Hall at Georgetown, Wed., Oct. 26.

The program opened with singing "Our Delaware" and the club prayer, creed and salute to the flag. Mrs. William Short, president of Sussex County H. D. Council, was in charge. Following greetings and announcements from Mrs. Short, the clubs sang under the direction of Mrs. Earl White, with Mrs. Samuel Warrington at the piano.

Miss Janet Reed, clothing specialist, gave an interesting demonstration of some of the work done, especially featuring the basic dress and what may be done with it.

Mrs. Janet Coblentz, foods and nutrition specialist, gave a report on her weight watchers clinic, with an amusing skit by the ladies, showing the pounds of fat lost.

Mrs. Virginia Messick, librarian, awarded the reading certificates.

Mrs. Alice King, State Home Demonstration leader, gave a talk on "County Achievements in Extension—What Next?"

A delicious luncheon was served at noon, after which Mrs. Clarence Ocheltree, president of State Council, and Mrs. Norris Givens, secretary, gave their reports on the National Council meeting.

Mrs. Clarence Ocheltree then installed the new officers for the coming year, after which there was group singing led by Mrs. Earl White with Mrs. Lillian Gorlich at the piano.

The delightful finale for the afternoon was an illustrated lecture by Miss Frances Shoffner, Sussex County Home Demonstration Agent, of her trip to Europe this summer, entitled "Berlin and Germany As I Saw Them".

The anniversary and homecoming at St. Johnstown Church was well attended as usual and the audience was indeed charmed by the capable speaker, Theodore Roosevelt McKeldin, former governor of Maryland. Special music was rendered by the St. Johnstown Junior and Senior Choirs and duets by Mrs. Mary Coulter and Leon Donovan of Milford. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hatfield and Ellen were Friday overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Case in Newark. Saturday afternoon they attended with them the duPont Experimental Station's Open House for the families. It was indeed pleasant and interesting to see this beautiful building and to visit the laboratory where Ronald works.

U. of D. Announces Parents Conference For 1960

About 1200 parents of freshmen students are expected to visit the campus of the University of Delaware on Sat., Nov. 12, for the 10th annual Parents Conference program.

First scheduled in 1952, the Parents Conference has become an increasingly important event on the university calendar. It has brought about a better understanding of many problems of common interest to parents and guardians, students and faculty. It has enabled parents to better understand and assist the university in its endeavors to stimulate and develop the intellectual interests of students. Finally, it has provided many parents with a more intimate knowledge of the university that would otherwise be possible.

This year's program, under the chairmanship of Miss Margaret H. Black, of the Dean of Students' staff, will open at 9 a.m. in Mitchell Hall where Ken Stoneman, president of the Student Government Association, will introduce Provost Carl J. Rees and the deans and president John A. Perkins will present the keynote address.

Following the general session, parents will register with the undergraduate school in which their sons and daughters are enrolled and will hear presentations by the deans. Departmental meetings in specific subject areas will be held from 10:45 a.m. to 12:15 p.m.

After a box luncheon in Carpenter Field House from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., parents may attend the Delaware-Rutgers football game and, at 4:15 p.m., the President's reception in Kent Dining Hall.

In addition to Miss Black, who is serving as general chairman for the sixth successive year, the conference committee includes Dr. Paul Bock, engineering; Dr. Edmund J. Cain, education; Dr. Donald F. Crossan, agriculture; Dr. A. Janney DeArmond, arts and science; James E. Robinson, director of residence; Dr. Blaine Schmidt, arts and science; Miss Mary E. Wines, home economics. Fiscal and administrative details are being handled by Robert C. Cunningham of the Division of University Extension. Musical programs will be provided by Henry N. Lee of the music department.

Student members are Miss Jean E. Cozza, Bloomfield, N. J.; Thomas D. Schonauer, Barrington, N. J.; Thomas C. Roe, Salisbury, Md. Student groups assisting in the day's activities will include the Student Government Association, the Alpha Phi Omega Service Fraternity, the Madrigal Singers, the Junior Counselors, and the men's and women's honor societies, Mortar Board and Omicron Delta Kappa.

Student Nurses To Train in Care Of TB Patients

For the third consecutive year, student nurses in Delaware will have an opportunity to receive training in the care of patients suffering from tuberculosis and other long-term illnesses.

Through the sponsorship of the Delaware Tuberculosis and Health Society a special course is being continued in this field at the Emily P. Bissell Hospital. The course is financed with funds received from the sale of Christmas Seals.

The training is a fundamental part of the educational program of student nurses. In this course they learn to care for individual patients who will need care for long periods of time, an aspect of training which is not available in general hospitals. The average tuberculosis patient spends eight months at the Emily P. Bissell Hospital, while patients are retained in general hospital for an average of only 7.8 days.

Under the supervision of Miss Margery Jarmon, director of nursing at the Bissell Hospital, a class of 11 student nurses from the Delaware Hospital have recently participated in a one-month course in the treatment and care of patients at the Emily P. Bissell Hospital. A second class, composed of nurses in training at the Memorial Hospital, is scheduled to start soon. Additional classes from both hospitals have been scheduled as far ahead as April, 1961.

Before the initiation of this course, Delaware student nurses had to go out of state to gain this training.

Miss Jarmon pointed out that this course is not designed to produce specialists but rather to broaden the education of nurses. The director of nursing said that a nurse trained in the care of tuberculous patients can also care for patients experiencing other long term illnesses. A different type of nursing care is required for brief and lengthy illnesses. All of the instruction is given by members of the staff of the Emily P. Bissell Hospital. Members of the class spend eighteen and one-half hours a week in lecture and discussion sessions, sixteen and one-half hours in clinical care, and five hours in supervised study. In the latter, they prepare case studies of individual patients in addition to their own duties. The student nurses live on the hospital grounds during their training.

Each student nurse is assigned to specific patients, in order that the trainee can learn firsthand the techniques and the problems involved in caring for persons with long-term illnesses. Instruction in the special course is both practical and technical in nature, and supplements the technical information received on tuberculosis and other chest diseases by the student nurses in their home hospitals.

Commenting on the course, Wilbur C. Anderson, director of the Emily P. Bissell Hospital, said:

"We are very grateful to the Delaware Tuberculosis and Health Society for sponsoring this course. This instruction is an asset both to the student nurses in training here and to the personnel on our hospital staff."

Fish & Game News

Questions annually arise in the minds of sportsmen about the regulations which govern migratory bird hunting and their interpretation. Last week questions frequently asked about baiting were answered in Part I of this series.

PART II—Answers to Your Migratory Bird Hunting Questions

Q—Can I shoot from a motorboat?
A—You may legally shoot waterfowl from a motorboat which has been beached or is fastened within or tied alongside any type of fixed hunting blind. It is illegal to shoot from a motorboat (inboard or outboard) any time the motor is running and the boat is under power. You may shoot crippled birds from a motorboat after the motor has been shut off and the anchor has been dropped and forward movement has ceased.

Q—How may cripples be retrieved with a motorboat?
A—Crippled waterfowl may be pursued and picked up with a net or by hand from a motorboat under power. They may be shot from a motorboat after the motor has been shut off and the anchor has been dropped and forward motion has ceased. There are no Federal restrictions on shooting from rowboats or other hand-operated craft. The Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife encourages the retrieving of crippled birds. Crippled birds which are lost are a waste of this resource.

Q—Can I field dress birds?
A—Yes, you may field dress ducks and geese—in fact, all migratory game birds—providing you leave the head, head plumage, and feet attached while they are being transported from the place where taken to the abode of the possessor, or between the place where taken and a commercial preservation facility. There is an exception in the case of mourning and white-winged doves shot in this country. You may field dress doves completely; you do not have to leave the head and feet attached. There is also an exception in the case of imports of migratory birds from Canada and Mexico. When migratory game birds are imported from Canada, they may be brought in with or without heads and feet attached, providing the shipments are accompanied by tags and permits required by the Dominion or Provinces. In the case of shipments of migratory birds from Mexico, they must be accompanied by a Mexican export permit. Also, if imported from Mexico or any other foreign country (except Canada, they must be dressed, drawn, and have the head and feet removed.

Q—When does hunter's possession end?
A—Ownership and possession of migratory game birds legally taken by a hunter ceases when such birds have been delivered by him to a post office, common carrier, or a cold-storage locker plant for transportation to some person other than himself, or when such birds are physically in the possession of another to whom they have been given.

Q—What requirements have to be met by a person who has been given migratory birds taken by another?
A—None, in the case of personal use, provided they were lawfully killed and do not exceed possession limits. However, in all cases where a person other than the hunter has lawfully-killed birds in his possession or in his custody for picking, cleaning, processing, shipment, transportation, or storage (including temporary storage, they must have a tag attached signed by the hunter who killed them, giving his name, address, the total number and kinds of birds involved, and the date killed. Each hunter's tagged birds must not exceed in number the possession limit. Any commercial picking establishment, cold-storage or locker plant must maintain accurate records showing the number and kinds of such birds, the dates received and dates disposed of, and the names and addresses of the persons from whom they were received and to whom they were delivered. The records must be kept for one year after the close of the open season in the state involved.

Q—May a hunter legally keep a live, crippled bird?
A—No. A hunter must kill crippled birds as soon as they come into his possession. He cannot get a permit to keep such a bird for breeding or for any other purpose. This rule was drawn to keep these birds from commercial channels. A hunter may not sell dead birds he has shot, nor is he permitted to sell live, crippled migratory birds.

Q—Why are seasons and bag limits more liberal in certain flyways than in others?
A—The reason is this:—Certain flyways have more ducks and geese per hunter than others. In other words, there are more birds available for harvest by the hunters in some flyways than others. After all, the distribution of North American waterfowl between flyways is still beyond anyone's control. In this situation, it is good management to tailor the regulations to meet individual flyway needs. However, it is frequently necessary to vary management regulations in each year to meet the needs created by annual changes in the status of waterfowl populations in the flyway involved. This is known as flyway management for waterfowl, and it is in the best interest of the hunters.

Q—What is the purpose of waterfowl regulations?
A—The establishment of seasons, bag and possession limits, and other controls of hunting, is for the single purpose of making the annual crop of surplus waterfowl available to the American waterfowl hunters as equitably as possible. Because of the great pressure applied by a growing army of hunters, it is no longer possible to maintain the waterfowl supply with uncontrolled hunting.

Now a final message: To maintain the wildlife resource which supports waterfowling—not only for those who will follow us by those who go hunting today—is going to take a really big conservation effort. We're going to have to discourage man from encroaching on the wetlands which are vital to the existence of our waterfowl. We're going to have to find ways to make two ducks grow where only one grew before. We're also going to have to continue to have rules for hunting. They are needed to make sure our annual harvest leaves enough breeders to populate the nesting grounds and provide good flights another year. They are also required to insure a fair opportunity for everyone to enjoy this resource. Because regulations are a means to assure that the sport will continue, waterfowlers must learn it is in their own best interest to comply with them. Sportsmen may request a copy of the first series of questions and answers by contacting the Delaware Game and Fish Commission.

Q—May a hunter legally keep a live, crippled bird?
A—No. A hunter must kill crippled birds as soon as they come into his possession. He cannot get a permit to keep such a bird for breeding or for any other purpose. This rule was drawn to keep these birds from commercial channels. A hunter may not sell dead birds he has shot, nor is he permitted to sell live, crippled migratory birds.

This is known as flyway management for waterfowl, and it is in the best interest of the hunters.

Q—What is the purpose of waterfowl regulations?
A—The establishment of seasons, bag and possession limits, and other controls of hunting, is for the single purpose of making the annual crop of surplus waterfowl available to the American waterfowl hunters as equitably as possible. Because of the great pressure applied by a growing army of hunters, it is no longer possible to maintain the waterfowl supply with uncontrolled hunting.

Now a final message: To maintain the wildlife resource which supports waterfowling—not only for those who will follow us by those who go hunting today—is going to take a really big conservation effort. We're going to have to discourage man from encroaching on the wetlands which are vital to the existence of our waterfowl. We're going to have to find ways to make two ducks grow where only one grew before. We're also going to have to continue to have rules for hunting. They are needed to make sure our Need Lime?

Some farmers seem to be confirmed optimists. They figure if they limed a field back in '48, the treatment will last indefinitely. "Actually, many fields that were limed a few years ago may be badly in need of lime right now," county agent George Vapaa said.

Increases in crop yields due to lime and fertilizer, will step up the removal of plant nutrients from the soil. This is true of all nutrients, including those supplied by limestone. "If you take it out you have to replace it," he said. Limestone supplies the soil with calcium and magnesium and improves the effectiveness of other nutrients. For example, nitrogen does a better crop-feeding job and phosphate is more available to growing plants when the soil has a good lime level.

"Now is the time to get your soil tested too. Both you and the soil testing laboratory at the University of Delaware have more time now than will be available next spring. Get your soil tests in and apply necessary lime this winter," he said. "Profitable production of high quality grain and forage crops depends largely on providing an adequate and balanced supply of nutrients. Liming, where needed, should be the first step in building up the soil's nutrient supply," he said.

Mr. Vapaa declares fall and winter as ideal times to lime fields where soil tests show a need. Spreader trucks can get on to the fields easier because the ground is firmer. Later on, plowing or deep discing is a good way to work the lime down into the soil. Call the county agent at RE-dfield 6-1449 for details on taking soil samples.

Don't Buy Mastitis

The more dairy cows you buy, the more chances you have for buying mastitis, county agent George Vapaa says. There is always a greater disease risk with purchased animals than with those you raise yourself.

Why are purchased animals more likely to have mastitis? "Every purchased animal undergoes a drastic environmental change," he says.

Like all other animals, dairy cows react differently to stress. In dairy cows stress is usually greatest in heavy springers, fresh cows are cows in heavy production, and most replacements are in one or the other of these stages when purchased. Due to this heavy stress, the animal's resistance to mastitis and other diseases is lowered.

Most of your new cows will be trucked. This not only causes excitement, it increases the chances of mechanical injury to the udder.

Even after the cows get home, they will be subjected to abuse by other members of the herd.

Here are a few tips to help prevent the purchase of Mastitis or other diseases. The cost of these practices, when compared to the cost of a replacement cow, is very small.

1. Have every animal checked by your veterinarian before you make the purchase.

2. Beware of the seller who is unwilling to have his animals examined.

3. Look for outward signs of trouble such as abnormal milk, an unbalanced or swollen udder, or the broken-away pendulous udder.

4. Be extra careful when you load, haul and unload any dairy animal.

5. Isolate the animal for a week or longer before adding her to the herd. Also keep in mind that the older a cow gets the more likely she is to develop mastitis, Mr. Vapaa added.

Gov. Rockefeller Supports Rollins For Governor

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York last night lauded John W. Rollins, Republican candidate for governor, as "a man who can make decisions and get things done."

In a statement released from his New York office, Governor Rockefeller lent his support to Rollins' candidacy, citing his "wide range of successful business experience and his ability to help Delaware prosper under vigorous and responsible leadership."

"Creative, effective government action demands loyalty, integrity and courageous leadership. A man with these qualities is John Rollins," Governor Rockefeller said.

Governor Rockefeller, who visited Delaware last month for a Republican rally in Camden, has been acquainted with Rollins for several years. He said he has followed with great interest Rollins' achievements in the field of business and management, his activities in various civic enterprises, and his accomplishments in government.

The national GOP leader said he was not surprised when "John Rollins became the first Republican in 20 years to be elected to the office of lieutenant governor when he served with Governor (J. Caleb) Boggs from 1953 to 1957."

"Delaware is bound to prosper under the vigorous and responsible leadership of John Rollins," Governor Rockefeller said.

Baptist Church Notes

Pastor, Rev. H. R. Garland, Telephone: EX 8-3406

Sunday School begins at 10 o'clock with graded classes for all ages. The lesson in the adult class this week will be "Confession and Forgiveness." Some of the things that will be discussed are—the facts of sin, confession of sin and the joy in forgiveness.

Last Sunday our pastor spoke on "Saving Faith" taken from the 11th chapter of Hebrews. "Have I Mine Own Way Lord?" was sung by Dwight Hackett. Our attendance last Sunday was the highest since the Mission has been started. Next Sunday the pastor will speak on "Salvation By Faith." Visitors are always welcome to worship with us.

Prayer services will be held Wednesday evening at 7:30 at the parsonage. A business meeting will follow when we will elect Sunday School and church officers. We will also decide if we are going to buy the old Episcopal Church.

The Group Training School will be held at the Greensboro Baptist Church Nov. 7-10 from 7:15 to 9:30 p. m. We hope that Harrington will be well represented.

The last meeting of the W. M. U. was held at the home of Mrs. John Dodenhoff. All members were present, also one visitor. Our missionary work for November will be fixing Christmas boxes for missionaries.

Reese Theatre Notes

It's a grand and glorious time for all. The Reese Theatre arranged their giant Halloween celebration Friday and Saturday, Nov. 4 & 5 so that every member of the family could participate in this chill-thrill spasm of mirth. The new Columbia thriller diller, "13 Ghosts" heads the top of the bill. Every patron is given free a Ghost-Viewer, and it is emphasized that one cannot see the ghosts without using the free ghost viewer. Weak hearts had better stay away. Van Johnson in the new hit, "The Enemy General" completes this exciting bill.

Another top Movie Center double value show is listed for Sunday and Monday, Nov. 6 & 7. Steve Allen, Jane Meadows, and Mamie Van Doren are the stars in "College Confidential," the number one hit of the evening. Walter Winchell says, "It's like a Kinsey Report on the campus. "Special mention should be made relative to "Under Ten Flags" with Van Hefflin and Charles Laughton, the co-feature on this highly entertaining bill.

J. M. Clayton Belts H.H.S. 40-0

By Keith S. Burgess

John M. Clayton High School from the Frankford, Dagsboro area rolled over winless Harrington High School to the tune of 40-0 Saturday afternoon on the local gridiron.

The visitors and the sloppy weather combined to put a dampener on the "Homecoming Day" celebration. The Lions were never in the game as the Bears took the opening kickoff and marched straight down the field to score. A recovered fumble led to another tally and the Bears were off and pacing.

The Long brothers garnered five of the six J.M.C. touchdowns. One of these lads is near the top of the state scoring list.

George Pfeiffer again was the Harrington leader on both offense and defense. George gained 78 yards on the ground for a fine 7 yard per carry average and completed a nine yard pass to Jeff Adams. Pfeiffer led in tackling with 15 followed by Terry Johnson with 13 and Tim Strohl with 11. One bright spot here is the fact that the latter two will be returning in 1961.

The Lions will journey to Selbyville on Friday night for what will probably be their last chance to hit the credit side of the ledger this year since the other two remaining opponents, Delmar and Rehoboth, hold victories over John M. Clayton. Rehoboth defeated the Bears 25-7.

The Rebels also are winless and in addition have not scored. Harrington has yielded 100 less points than the even more vulnerable Sussex Countians.

Coach Bill Kramedas' Lion junior high team notched its fourth victory in five starts by defeating the John M. Clayton junior high team on the loser's gridiron Monday afternoon. This should indicate that the varsity will improve when some of these lads move up.

Jane Burgess celebrated her birthday, Friday. Mrs. Harry L. Boyer entertained

Kent Registration List Loses 160 Names in Court

The voter registration lists in Kent County's First Representative District were shorn of 160 names Monday by Superior Court Judge William J. Storey.

A motion for removal of names from the First District registration records was brought by Robert L. Bamberger, a Smyrna accountant active in the Republican party. The district includes most of Smyrna and Clayton.

Mostly Democrats Although names in the petition were not designated by party the First District has a preponderantly Democratic registration.

About three-fourths of the names were removed because the persons listed had moved out of the district. In other cases the names of deceased persons were still being carried on the rolls. Total registration in the district is approximately 2,500.

David P. Buckson, Bamberger's attorney, said that 16 corrections were made in the election district's voter lists since last Monday, when registered letters containing summonses were sent to those whose names were to be stricken. A copy of the list of persons in the original petition were given to the county election board, he said.

Max Terry, Dover attorney and secretary of the Democratic county committee, appeared Monday on behalf of some of the Democrats on the list.

He acted generally as attorney for all of the persons listed, frequently challenging the postal records presented by Bamberger as evidence that individuals had moved from the district.

Terry objected to the inconvenience caused by the 16 persons whose names were on the original list and received summonses to appear.

Successful Challenge One person, Mrs. Ruth Dulin, took the stand and successfully challenged the action to have her name removed. She explained that Smyrna was her legal address even though she worked in a Philadelphia hospital five days a week and came back to Smyrna once or twice a month.

Judge Storey reserved a decision on 31 names. He said he wanted more proof of the present addresses.

She participated in basketball two years, belonged to the Varsity Club four years and was a member of the High School Glee Club two years. She now has her place as secretary of the Commercial Club.

She is taking the Commercial Course, and her favorite subject is bookkeeping.

After graduation Audrey plans to enter the secretarial field.

Jo Ann Cornish
Jo Ann was born on April 27, 1943 to Mr. and Mrs. Willard Cornish near Harrington. She has always attended Harrington High School. Her favorite subjects are English, history, bookkeeping and H. E.

Jo Ann is in the Student Council and is a student secretary to Mrs. West of the second grade. Her favorite pastime is drawing.

Grade 1—Mrs. Howard
Mrs. Howard's first grade visited all the other first grades dressed in Halloween Costumes. We returned to our room and had a party. We wish to thank Mrs. Raymond Brown and Mrs. Trotta for the candy and thank Mrs. Coleman for the delicious home made cookies.

We had fun and enjoyed all the Halloween refreshments.

We are happy to have Norman Short back in school after he was out sick with the mumps.

Mrs. Marvel
Everyone enjoyed our Halloween party last Friday. We paraded into each of the other first grade rooms and enjoyed them parading through our room.

After our refreshments, Mrs. Thompson, Jo Ann's mother, played a game with us.

We wish to thank Kathy Nelson and her mother for the large skeleton they donated to our room, and also the bag of Halloween goodies which Kathy gave each of us. Thanks also to Johnny Curtis for the candy which he gave to each pupil. Mrs. Marvel furnished the other refreshments.

Debra Beauchamp brought some maple leaves for our science display.

Mrs. O'Neal
We have a new boy in our room. His name is William Garland and he lives on Commerce Street. Billy's daddy is the new Baptist minister.

Eddie Rust and Janice Hobbs celebrated their birthday this week.

We are making plans for a Halloween party Monday. We will not wear costumes.

Mrs. Smith
During the week we have been drawing about Halloween. In our scholastics we studied words with ghost letters. Letters that disappear when you pronounce the word.

We have enlisted 10 members in the Junior Red Cross.

Monday during the last period we had a Halloween celebration. Several children brought pumpkins and things to eat.

Mrs. Mann's Room
Last week the class wrote some poems about Autumn and Halloween. We selected a few, to share with you.

The Jack-o'-Lantern
I'd like to be a Jack-o'-Lantern, Perched upon a post, So I could grin a scary grin At goblin, witch, or ghost.

But I would blink my candle when My little friends went by And shyly wink to let them know That it was only I!

Bonnie Matthews
The Jack-o'-Lantern
I like to see A Jack-o'-Lantern smiling at me, With his eyes aglow Reflecting in the snow.

Sometime I think I can hear him muttering, But it's only the limbs fluttering.

Then at mid-night someone comes out, And blows his little candle out. Ricky Jester

Autumn
Autumn is the time of year When leaves are tumbling down, The trees are turning colorful Among the bare brown ground.

Autumn is the time of year When children play their games, And frost is peaking o'er the grass, And fires are flicking their flames.

Costumes
Children play trick and treat When they dress in costumes hard to beat. We try to guess who they may be, When they take off their masks, We can see.

Peggy O'Neal
The Witch
I am the witch of Halloween, And this is the graveyard where I've been seen.

At night I fly by the golden moon, And then away to a corn field I zoom, Now the woods is in its beautiful dress,

Oh! Where is the ghost that causes such a mess? Brenda Neeman

Autumn
I like to see the Indian corn, Turn different colors on a bright morn.

I like the pumpkins glowing eyes, Looking at me with a moment of surprise.

The leaves are turning, The flowers are gone, The birds are not singing, Their gay, cheerful song.

The night was very dark and still, To be out on this night was a thrill.

The moon was very full and shining, And you could hear the old cat purring.

Judy Burgess
Halloween
All the night I hear the meows of the cats, All night I hear the flutter of the bats,

I see the witches flying high, As I say to the ghosts good-bye.

Susan Taylor
Halloween
Halloween, Halloween Funniest sights you've ever seen, Cold black cats

Big tall hats, Witches flying from town to town, Cats a prowling all around.

Carolyn I. Miller
Fall
I like to see the tree leaves fall, To the streets, the walks, the road and all.

I like the trees when they turn green, But most of all I like the scene.

Fay Myers
Anna Mae Baker
Anna Mae, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Watson Baker, was born May 25, 1943 in Harrington.

She has attended Harrington School for 12 years. Anna Mae has served as an active member in the Glee Club for two years and as a majorette in the band for five years.

Anna Mae's favorite sport is basketball, which she played for three consecutive years on the varsity team. Her favorite pastime is bowling and dancing.

Anna Mae is taking the Commercial Course, and her favorite subjects are bookkeeping and shorthand.

Upon graduation Anna Mae plans to enter the secretarial field.

Ninth Grade—Mrs. Graden
Mrs. Graden's ninth grade homeroom officers are: President, Joe Taylor; vice-president, Ruth Ann Holden; secretary, Nancy Blades; treasurer, Carol Willis, and Student Council representative, Fred Greenley.

At a recent meeting the matter of dues was brought up and the class decided to pay 40 cents a month.

Mrs. Graden's ninth grade class in English is studying about the newspaper. The students have brought examples of leads, feature stories, and news stories.

The class learned that the lead must contain who, what, where, and why. The class has learned the difference between a feature story and a news story.

New Band Uniforms
A new project by the Senior High School Band, and a very ambitious one, is the goal of new uniforms. The first of the fund-raising activities will be a chicken and dumpling supper sponsored by the Band Booster Club some time in early December in the school cafeteria. All proceeds will go into the new uniform fund for purchase at a date when all necessary funds are available.

Nurses Club News
The Nurses Club has elected its officers for the 1960-61 school year. They are: Lenna Becker, 12th grade, president; Donna Murphy, 12, vice-president; Marie Hrupsa, 12, secretary; Irene Eilers, 9, treasurer; Barbara Vada-kin, 12, news reporter; and Mrs. Farrow, sponsor.

For money-making projects, the club is selling stationery and two-pound fruit cakes.

A trip to Stockley is being considered, but no definite plans have been made. We are hoping that we will be able to entertain the teen-age cottage, as was done last year.

The club wants to go to Career Day at P. S. DuPont High School in Wilmington, but, as of now, we haven't been able to make any definite arrangements.

On Sat. Nov. 5, the Nurses Club is holding a Health Bake, in front of Taylor's Hardware Store. There will also be some door-to-door soliciting along some of the streets. Cakes, pies, cupcakes, cookies, and fudge will be on sale.

First Grade—Mrs. Grant
One of our reading groups has its third pre-primer "Open the Door." We are enjoying it very much.

Peggy Tibbett, Olie Dans, Lydia Minner, Rachel Billings, Bonnie Kukulka, Gwen Melvin, and Jimmy Reed made some very nice pictures for Thanksgiving.

Robin Callahan brought a nice circus book for us to read to the class.

Charles Broce and Luida Minner brought some nice books too.

Miss Long
We have a new boy in our room. His name is Dennis Haley. He went to Smyrna school before coming to Harrington. We are glad to have him in our school. We now have 17 boys and 10 girls in our class.

We are collecting all kinds of maps. We have 55 different kinds. Some are maps of states, cities, and countries. We made maps showing the route from our home to school. Our class is learning how to use globes and maps and have found our collection very useful.

We are studying about the first permanent settlement in America at Jamestown, Va. Sue Perry visited Williamsburg and Jamestown, Va., last week and told us many interesting things about both places.

We have made a fall scene on our bulletin board in the hall.

We are making a scrap book of interesting stories and pictures of science.

Reporter, William R. Garey

She is survived by a daughter, Milton.

Liquor Licenses Should Be Frozen Says Rollins

John W. Rollins, Republican candidate for Governor, said at Republican headquarters recently that liquor licenses should be frozen at their present number. The candidate also said that if he is elected on Tuesday he will, when he becomes Governor, enforce the law preventing the use of alcoholic liquor in the Legislative Hall.

"From time to time over the years the use of liquor in the Legislative Hall has been notorious. This is inexcusable. The Legislative Hall belongs to all the people of the state.

Discussing liquor licenses, Mr. Rollins said:

"I think we've got all the licenses we need in Delaware — probably more. There has been a great deal of criticism during the last three or four years about the number of new licenses that have been granted. There has been criticism that there is a preferred list for new licenses."

"The way to end this criticism is to freeze the licenses at the present number. Anyone who wants a drink in Delaware has no trouble finding a place to buy it. That's as far as the state should go in making liquor available."

Del. Dramatic Conference Enters Third Decade

The Delaware Dramatic Conference, one of the oldest in the country, will enter its third decade of annual meetings on Nov. 11 when the 21st annual conference will be held at the University of Delaware.

Theatre's influence on radio, television and motion pictures will be the subject of the principal address, "The Challenge of the Communications Arts," by Dr. Delwyn Dusenbury, director of Radio-TV Drama Production at Temple University. No stranger to Delaware or theatre, Dr. Dusenbury some years ago served as critic judge for the Delaware Play Festival. He has taught theatre in the universities of Minnesota, Maine and Florida, and is a former president of the National Collegiate Players.

Also featured on the program will be a lecture-demonstration on "Performing Comedy" by Dr. C. R. Kase, chairman of the department of dramatic arts and speech and director of the E 52 University Theatre at Delaware. Dr. Kase held a research fellowship last summer to study this subject.

The university's new technical director, Allan Billings, will conduct another lecture-demonstration, "How I Plan the Production of a Play." He holds a master's degree from the Carnegie Tech School of the Drama, and has been designer-director at the University of Louisville and for Maine's Ogunquit Summer Theatre.

Opening the program at 9 a.m. will be a film on producing a children's reading and a tape recording of readings from Shakespeare by a number of famous actors.

Following the lecture demonstrations and the address by Dr. Dusenbury will be the luncheon and business meeting of the Delaware Dramatic Association, including reports on the convention of the American Educational Theatre Association, the Secondary School Division of AETA, the American National Theatre and Academy, and the Eastern States Theatre Association. Simultaneously, the traditional student panel will be devoted to a discussion of play selection, with reports on the best play production of the past three years from a half dozen of the leading high schools of the state.

The Brooks Brothers lecture-demonstration, "How A Costume Works" by Robert Cahlan of New York is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. The program will conclude with the film, "Richard III," the recent TV spectacular with Maurice Evans and Sarah Churchill.

Reservations for the conference luncheon and business meeting should be sent to the University Dramatic Center by Wednesday of next week. Cost of the luncheon is $1.50. It will be held in the Morgan Room of the Student Center.

Invitations have been sent to more than 100 school and college theatres in Delaware and neighboring states. Between 300 to 400 delegates are expected.

Interested persons are invited to write to Dr. C. Robert Kase, Dramatic Center, University of Delaware, for additional information.

Space Problems Concern of Dr. E. C. Higbee

Space problems, not outer, are the concern of Dr. Edward C. Higbee, professor of anthropology, sociology and geography at the University of Delaware, in his new book, "The Squeeze," published by Morrow last week.

The problem put forth by Dr. Higbee is that in a period when population in the United States is growing so rapidly, people are moving out of cities into urban and suburban areas and using more space than that formerly taken up by cities alone.

He urges proper planning for the development of remaining areas to avoid the strangulation of traffic and of cities, and provide the proper environment in which people can live. He outlined his book at a tea recently sponsored by Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education society.

"The Squeeze" contains a chapter in which Dr. Higbee discusses the importance of education in preparing people to live in a new type of society which he foresees in the future. It is the responsibility of education to determine what parts of our present and past culture is desirable to retain, and to place a trust in science to overcome future obstacles.

He feels that a student today should not only take basic courses in the humanities, but also be well-versed in all sciences.

"People are increasing like compound interest," he told members of Kappa Delta Pi. "In less than a hundred years this country will have as many people as China does presently. We're already feeling the pinch of space and may reach the point of space rigor mortis without proper planning."

He cited the entire east coast and areas of Michigan among many areas of the nation that are rapidly becoming complete urban areas. People are moving away from the cities where conditions have become to them intolerable. "We are forming horizontal urban areas as opposed to compact vertical areas, which are the cities," he said.

Dr. Higbee points to the San Francisco area where planning is now being done for years hence to avoid clutter and maintain a beautiful and functional area. He urges either public or private purchase of huge tracts of land to be set aside for future planned development.

Citing the Kaiser development in Hawaii, Dr. Higbee suggested that corporations could be formed for investment in land, with money raised by the sale of stock or similar means. The land could be developed under the supervision of the corporation with the stockholders benefiting, as well as the public.

"Private enterprise nearly always manages better than public enterprise," he said, citing, for example, the local Kirkwood Highway unplanned development that has turned the highway between two cities into little more than another main street. The problem with public management, according to the author, is that with changing political situations, there is little continuity in management.

Burrsville Church To Hold Revival
 Rev. Henry C. Perdue will be the evangelist at the Burrsville Revival held this year at Wesley Church, 7:45 every evening Nov. 8-18. Rev. Perdue has been a Christian for 21 years, but did not enter the ministry until 8 years ago. Since that time he has become widely known throughout the state of Kentucky for his evangelistic efforts. He is now pastoring the fast growing suburban West Side Methodist Church in Bowling Green, Ky. His wife and his two daughters (who are attending high school) will not be with him on this evangelistic trip.

 Special music, congregational singing, and programs for the children will be the agenda each night of the revival. Everyone is cordially invited to attend these services. Many are expected to make decisions for Christ, and our church's vision will be lifted.
 Rev. Don Hurst is the pastor of the church.

Asbury Methodist Church News

Church School 10 o'clock, Howard S. Wagner, superintendent. We sincerely invite all that are looking for a church school to visit us and join us. In our growing educational program we have a class, we believe that is especially fitted for you. During the month of October our average attendance per Sunday was 337. This Sunday in our Adult Department we are beginning a new unit of study entitled Man's Relationship to God Through Prayer. The name of the lesson is Facing My Sin. The purpose is to show the nature of sin and to point out some ways in which God's grace can help us overcome it. Sin is everybody's problem. We quickly recognize it is Russia's or our neighbor's concern, but it is our problem too—a matter strictly personal. "If we say we have no sin," writes John, "we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us." (1 John 1:8) Furthermore, sin is our most serious problem. Sin is sickness of the soul; if unchecked, it brings death. God's purpose for us is health and well-being of body and spirit. "I came," said Jesus, "that they may have life, and have it abundantly." Sin is the thing in our life that interferes with that high and lofty purpose of our Lord.

Morning Worship Service 11 o'clock, conducted by the pastor. The anthems will be sung by the Cathedral and the Crusader Choirs. The sermon is entitled "All God's Chillun Got Bombs." A nursery will be provided.

Evening worship service 7:30 o'clock, a period set aside at the close of the Sabbath Day for an informal service of prayer, song and meditation. The Chancel Choir will sing the anthem, Hand in Hand with God by Rasley.

The altar flowers will be by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jarrell in memory of mother.

The friendly greeters will be Mr. and Mrs. Enos Langrell.

The Intermediate MYF to meet Sunday evening at 6 o'clock. The Senior MYF to meet Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock in the Booster Class room. The film, My Last Date, to be shown.

Mon., Nov. 7, at 7 p.m. the major commissions of our church will meet. Commission on Missions, Mrs. Mark Willey, chairman; Commission on Stewardship and Finance, Guy Winebrenner, chairman; Commission on Education, Howard S. Wagner, chairman; Commission on Membership and Evangelism, Mrs. W. W. Sharp, chairman. At 8 o'clock the entire Official Board will meet in the Pathfinders Room. One hundred per cent attendance is urged.

Wednesday evening, Nov. 9, at the W.S.C.S. study course Basic Christian Beliefs will be taught. All choirs will rehearse at their regular appointed time.

Our ushers for the month of November both for the morning and evening services are: Clarence Kemp, Fred Greenly, Russell Blades, Guy Winebrenner, and J.

Millard Cooper. Our special emphasis for the month of November for Asbury is that every member plan to be present each Sunday and bring with them an unchurched friend or relative.

The Mother's Auxiliary of the Chancel and Crusader Choir is sponsoring a skating party to be held at the Dover Rink, Monday night, Nov. 7. Bus leaves the Quillen Shopping Center at 7:15. Tickets are 50 cents and bus fare 25 cents.

The Choir Mother's Auxiliary will meet at the home of Mrs. Ida Dickerson Tues., Nov. 8, at 8 o'clock.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Notes

"Giving is Growing" is the theme of the 1961 church School Missionary Offering. It emphasizes that the most important part of any offering is the contribution to the giver's spiritual growth. In the domestic field the money given by children and interested adults will be used to build churches in the Missionary Districts of Nevada and San Joaquin. The offering for 1961 has also been designated to help expand the church's program and facilities in the missionary district of Mexico.

Ushers on the 19th Sunday after Trinity were Messrs. Walter Winkler and Gary Porter.

Oct. 23, the Junior Choir sang with the Senior Choir at the 11 o'clock service. As an offertory the juniors sang alone the much loved hymn, "There's a Wideness in God's Mercy."

George Robert Quillen is chairman of the Every Member Canvass for 1961. Pledging will begin Sun., Nov. 6. In the bulletin for the 19th Sunday after Trinity under "Our Talents" the following paragraph is included:

"The money we give is given to God to make His house beautiful for His worship, to teach His children about Him, to serve those who are discouraged or perplexed, to sanctify birth, marriage, and death, to provide inspiration for all who attend our worship or stop in the church or weekdays, and to spread His Kingdom throughout the world." The money given at any service is not referred to as a "collection" but as an "offering."

Acolytes on Oct. 23 included Franklin Fowler, Frank Welch, Tim Strohl, Robert Greer, Roy Porter.

Prayers for the faithful departed were offered on All Saint's Day. There were three services on Nov. 1-7 a.m., 10 a.m., and 5:15 a.m. - all Holy Communion.

Members of the Canterbury Club, Episcopal Youth Group at the University of Delaware, recently visited the National Cathedral in Washington, D. C. The Reverend Marvin H. Hummel, chaplain, accompanied the students.

The Rev. R. Symonds Jr., vicar, is a member of the Board of Directors of the Delaware State Council of Churches and in such capacity, participated in the second annual Convocation Service of the Council, which was held Sunday last in Wesley Methodist Church, Dover. The Rev. John Wesley Lord, Bishop of the Methodist Church delivered an inspiring sermon. Others taking part in the service included the Rev. Messrs. Ruffin Naisette, president of the Wilmington and New Castle Council of Churches; John Albert Trader, minister of Wesley Methodist Church; John Burns Ketchum, Executive Director of the office for Councils, of the Churches of the National Council of Churches; John Brooke Mosley, Protestant Episcopal Bishop of Delaware and a member of the Central Committee of the World Council of Churches and William Frederick Dunkle, Jr., president, Delaware State Council of Churches.

Homecoming at Burrsville, Nov. 6

Home Coming Service will be held Sunday, November 6, at 2 P. M. in Wesley Methodist Church, Burrsville. This is the 177th year this church has been in existence, though there have been three buildings in the course of its life.

The first structure was built in 1783 and the second, which was destroyed by fire in 1934, was built in 1872. The present structure was built immediately after the fire and was dedicated on December 16, 1934.

At this service the pastor, Rev. Donald Hurst, will be in charge with Rev. Roy T. Thawley, of Wilmington, as guest speaker. There will be special music by the choir of Bethel Church and by Miss Pat Bennington, of near Denton.

A social hour including a free lunch, will follow this service in the Burrsville Community Hall, to which everyone is invited.

The activities for the day will be concluded with the Harvest Home service, which will be held at 7:30 P. M. in the church. Plan to come and bring your friends to attend both afternoon and evening services.

Deadline Date For NROTC Qualifying Exam Nears

High school seniors and graduates have only until November 18 to apply for the Navy's Reserve Officer Training Corps, Vice Admiral W. R. Smedberg, III, Chief of Naval Personnel, said today. Applicants will take the nationwide competitive examination on December 10 as the first step toward an appointment as midshipman.

Designed to supplement the officer output of the Naval Academy, the NROTC program makes it possible for a young man to earn a regular commission while studying at a civilian college of his choice which has an NROTC unit. All tuition, fees and books are furnished by the Navy, and the student receives an annual retainer of $600 for four years. During the summers the student goes on interesting training cruises to many parts of the world. After completing the usual four year college course, he is commissioned in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps and goes on active duty as a prospective career officer with the Navy's far-flung fleets.

High school seniors and graduates who have reached the 17th anniversary of birth and have not reached the 21st anniversary of birth on 1 July, 1961, may apply for the NROTC aptitude test. Those who make a qualifying score will be given a rigid physical exam early in 1961. From the number of qualified young men remaining in competition, at least 1600 will be selected to begin their naval careers next September.

The NROTC college training program is also open to enlisted men on active duty with the Navy and Marines. A separate quota is established for applicants within these services. Application forms are available at high schools, Navy Recruiting Stations or from the Chief of Naval Personnel, Department of the Navy, Washington 25, D. C.

"Since June 30, 1949, our state has provided the citizens of Delaware with services costing $573,000,681, and in that same period we have charged our citizens $430,167,000. The difference being $143,500,000. Of this amount we have paid for $133,500,000 by increasing the state's debt. We paid the other 10 million by operating at a deficit on balance over that 10-year period.

"Based on the November report to the Joint Revenue Committee we will operate at a deficit of over 98 million dollars in the next six years unless we raise taxes or reduce expenditures or both.

"The cards are on the table and it surely must be evident to everyone present some action is past-due and a definite step or steps must be taken now.

"Our present government is made up of over 100 boards, agencies, and commissions and is the same type structure in use since 1897. The cabinet-type government proposed by Gov. Boggs would eliminate about 54 of these and more than 350 positions in the executive branch of the government. This would streamline the government and provide for more executive direction and responsibility. The 12-cabinet level departments proposed are—Public Safety, Public Works, Natural Resources, Economic Development, Agriculture, Health and Welfare, Mental Health and Rehabilitation, Finance, Labor, Corrections, Justice and an Executive Department.

"In the presentation of this program, Gov. Boggs suggested that the effective date be July 1, 1961, (except for the Department of Finance) thus hoping to remove any possible political considerations since he would not be Governor.

"The other proposal was to establish a civil service system for nearly all employees of the state government. Two civil service bills have been presented (one by each party) but are still in committee.

"I believe Delaware is listed with two other states as being the only ones without a civil service system.

"We have ignored the advice of the reports referred to in the beginning and thus have aggravated and multiplied our financial problem. We are now faced with a crisis calling for action and for statesmanship, not politics. We will need a new revenue structure, but more important we need greater financial controls, we need to reduce indebtedness, eliminate deficit financing and to re-examine the allocation of the tax burden between state and local governments.

"This is our government, we live in a democracy—I think the answer is plain. We shall never get reforms, we shall never get changes in government until the people make their wishes known. We don't need more studies, but we do need action on those that have already been made."

Killen's Speech

Killen, in a speech delivered extemporaneously, said Gov. Boggs' New Day for Delaware program was pretty much of a dead duck last year. He added it had many good features but some could not be enacted into law in less than 10 years.

Switching to the offices of state auditor and commissioner of elections, both of which he heads, he argued the state was of the fastest growing and it will cost Delaware more to operate next year than this year. It costs about 80 million dollars to operate the state per year, he pointed out.

Killen added that increased taxes can come in a number of ways. Without elaborating, however, he said, "I am not running for the legislature and cannot do anything about it."

There were 4600 new students in the state schools this year, he commented, and mentioned it cost $40 per pupil merely to ride in a school bus. "Those things increase and revenue has to increase. We think Carvel (Democratic candidate for governor and former governor) has the know-how and should prepare the budget which is close to 96 million dollars now.

"He (Carvel) doesn't have to play politics with anyone as he can serve but one more term under state law," Killen explained. His peroration included plugs also for Kennedy and Frear.

Questions and Answers

The meeting was then turned over to the audience for questions and answers and proceeded as follows:

Q—How do the Democrats handle bonded indebtedness?

Killen—The responsibility is Boggs'. We have had only two Democratic governors. Twelve million dollars is paid annually on the debt.

Shaw—The legislative appropriations were made by the Democrats who have had control of the legislature 10 out of 12 years. The legislature has vetoed 56 of Boggs' bills.

Killen—The governor is chairman of the Budget Commission, which is really the finance commission of Delaware. Boggs had approved bills without the money to pay for them.

Q—Some employes get different pay scales for doing about the same work. Why?

Killen—The budget is determined by each state department.

Q—Is there any type of test for applicants for employments?

Killen—None, merely interviews.

Q—Do you favor civil service?

Killen—He favored some parts but couldn't go all the way. He thought the state tax office, the auditor's office, and the office of the state treasurer needed it. He was against the two year terms in his and the treasurer's office because it took a longer period to become fully acquainted with the duties of those offices. If we had civil service, he said, a political head would be appointed and he would get around the provisions of the law.

Shaw—Referring to appearances of experts recommending, among other things, civil service, Shaw said he would go along with the experts.

Q—(Irene Wechtenhiser) I have worked for both of you. If you are elected, does that mean you would keep me on? (Mrs. Wechtenhiser is an employe of the auditor's office)

Shaw—I would consider it when the time came.

Q—Do you favor central purchasing; if so, why and how would it affect Delaware spending estimate?

Shaw—Estimated around $700,000 annual savings by central purchasing. Thought they may be many duplicate purchases in the state's 100 agencies. He favors central buying.

Killen—Against central purchasing. Says any purchase over $500 has to be put out on bids. Central purchasing would require central warehouses and it would be an expensive operation.

Shaw—If State of New York has it, there must be some savings. A spectator, employed by a firm using central purchasing, said it worked like a charm. Killen replied a state could not be run like a private business, and that the state auditor had no right to change any of this (state's buying methods).

Shaw—The auditor doesn't have too much control over the legislature.

Q—Rollins (Republican candidate for governor) says the auditor does not audit. Could you elaborate on your duties?

Killen—We audit every invoice that comes thru our office. We have to approve every bill. His other duties were defined as commissioner of elections, member of Budget Commission, member of Board of Pardons, and Board of Post-Mortems.

Q—Could you explain the recent furor over the request for list of registrants from Sussex County, made your office? (Killen was called to court on the charge he had not furnished the lists pronto)

Killen—Registration has been very heavy this year. The election machinery and the laws don't work together. It was humanly impossible to make up lists of the last registrants (those made in October). The names were still in Georgetown being put on the books. The county departments of elections have to furnish the lists to the state election commissioner. Killen added he did not favor the use of voter identification cards here. "They are OK for New Castle but not here," he said. He added the cards have no bearing on the voter's right to vote and are used only for transfers.

Q—How would Gov. Boggs' New Day for Delaware save money? Were all state agencies included?

Shaw—Ninety per cent of the experts on governmental affairs have favored it and he (Shaw) takes their recommendations as to the savings. By reducing the number of state agencies, 350 persons would be let go.

Killen—Disagreed as to number of employes to be eliminated and money saved. Says most of the board members are outstanding public citizens who serve without pay. All agencies not included in the proposed reform. An example is the State Board of Education which spends about 50 per cent of the budget.

Q—How does it (the State Board of Education) compare with similar boards in other states?

Killen—Hard to compare. Delaware is one of the few states in which the state carries almost all of the cost of education.

Eggs Are Not Fattening

"Should I eat eggs even if I'm on a diet?" you ask.

Mrs. Florence Y. Smith, County Home Demonstration Agent, answers yes.

"Eggs are not fattening," she says. They rate as moderate-calorie foods. Each egg contains about 70 to 75 calories and is rich in high-quality protein.

The protein in egg furnishes all of the amino acids that the body needs for growth and maintenance of tissue. It gives eggs their stick to the ribs quality.

Eggs are also valuable to health. Leading the list of other nutrients found in eggs are vitamin A, B, and iron. According to the latest figures established by the Food and Nutrition Board, National Research Council, just one egg can supply women with about one-tenth of their daily need for these nutrients.

Eggs are also good sources of phosphorus and vitamin D.

Mrs. Van Cleaf's Funeral Set

Services were held yesterday morning in the McCreery Funeral Home, 2700 Washington Street, for Mrs. Myrtle Elizabeth Mason Van Cleaf, 47, wife of the Rev. Robert E. Van Cleaf.

Mrs. Van Cleaf died Monday at the Eastlake Methodist parsonage, 2921 Tatnal Street. She had been ill since August. Interment was in Parkwood Cemetery, Baltimore.

Her husband has been pastor of Eastlake Church since May 1959.

Born in Baltimore, she was a graduate of Peabody Conservatory of Music there. She formerly taught music in Harrington Schools.

With her husband, she has lived on the Delmarva Peninsula since he was transferred from the Maryland Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church the year of his ordination in 1935 to be pastor of Clayton-Ewell's Charge, Clayton, for five years.

In 1940, they moved to Unity Charge, Hurlock, until Mr. Van Cleaf entered the Army in 1944. In 1946, they were sent to Mt. Vernon Charge, Sharptown, and in 1949 to Grace Church, Georgetown. From 1951-55, they were at Asbury Church, Harrington, and from 1956 until going to Wilmington, at Bethesda Church, Middletown.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Van Cleaf is survived by two sons, Robert E. Van Cleaf, Jr., 15, and Harry Luther Van Cleaf, 13; her mother, Mrs. James Cicus Mason, Baltimore, and a brother, Paul A. Mason, Baltimore.

U. S. Control Lambasted

J. Lin Huber, vice president of the Interstate Milk Producers Cooperative, insisted Thursday night, Oct. 27, that his organization does "not want any part of any federal control over our milk production."

Addressing the annual dinner of the co-operative's Harrington-Felton and Nassau locals at Felton, Mr. Huber told nearly 200 dairy farmers and guests that his position was based on the "supply-demand factor."

He asserted that if milk producers keep their supplies in line with the demands of their market, they should not suffer because of supplies in other parts of the country.

"When the dairy branch of the U. S. Department of Agriculture wants to throw all dairy farmers into a northeastern pool and share the surpluses," he maintained, "they are not doing what is best for milk production in the East. Why should we lower our good milk price and share it with the others?"

Harrington - Felton local re-elected Floyd K. Blessing, Houston, president, and Robert A. Mason, Jr., Harrington, secretary-treasurer.

Delegates elected to the cooperative's annual meeting in Philadelphia, Nov. 17-18, are: Harold W. Redden, Harrington; R. L. McDowell, Greenwood; Jefferson Larimore, Harrington, and Mark B. Yoder, Greenwood.

Alternates are: M. C. Calhoun, Greenwood; George Simpson, Houston, and Robbins Webb, Lincoln.

Winter Tour of Canadian Players To Include U. of D.

A stop in Mitchell Hall on the University of Delaware campus will be a part of the 7th winter tour of the well known Canadian players, whose modern dress productions of famous plays have won widespread acclaim.

Douglas Campbell will direct the productions for the American tour. The plays are "Julius Caesar" by William Shakespeare and "Saint Joan" by George Bernard Shaw, the latter to be presented at the university theatre on Wed., Nov. 9, at 8:15 p.m.

At this year's Stratford Festival Mr. Campbell was highly praised for his production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream." Later in the season he added new laurels to his brilliant career when he was acclaimed for his performance of the Bosun in Tyrone Guthrie's production of "H.M.S. Pinafore."

Both productions for the Canadian Players winter tour will be designed by Brian Jackson, who was responsible for the beautifully designed costumes in Mr. Campbell's production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream." Mr. Jackson matched this success with is elaborate sets and costumes for "H.M.S. Pinafore."

The players will visit the United States and also play some Canadian centers. Max Helpmann, William Needles, Mervyn Blake, Pat Galloway and Louis Turenne will head the company.

Tickets may be purchased in advance from the University Bookstore in the Student Center or on the evening of the performance in the Mitchell Hall box office.

Needlecraft News

by Nancy Baxter

"Pay later." Here's a slogan we've all become accustomed to in these days of keen competition for the consumer's dollar. But, when it comes to Christmas shopping, my own rule of thumb is "Pay now." For, like you, I prefer to give gifts I've made myself. And I've discovered that a nominal investment in knitting yarns and crochet cottons before the holidays results in a wonderful absence of bills in the New Year.

FOR THE TEENAGER

One of the items I'm planning to make this year for Christmas giving is this pair of easy-heel knee high socks. I'll knit them of Orion yarn, adding a strand of nylon sewing thread to the wool for extra strength at heel and toe. If you'd like to try this pattern, why not write for free directions in sizes 5 to 11½. Just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for Leaflet No. B-147.

SURE TO PLEASE

It's not just the practical side of needlework that appeals to me, however. I've discovered how easy it is to select a "just right" gift for every member of the family from the new needlework patterns that are available. So, I just skip all the wear and tear of holiday shopping and begin, early in the fall, to fashion gifts for my family and friends. I feel that these handmade gifts have a warm, personal touch those I love appreciate. And I have fun in the bargain. For needlework's a relaxing hobby that serves as a pleasant diversion from my daily routine.

V-Parlors Fill Many Needs

The V-parlor has been a shot in the arm to Pet producers throughout the United States. It has kept long-time producers milking cows and has sold new producers on dairying.

At Greensboro, it has two producers who experiences illustrate the V-parlor's worth to old and new dairymen. The V-parlor is filling the needs of Preston Spicher, a Pet patron for more than 19 years, and Drexel Chaffinch, who shipped his first milk to the Greensboro plant last March.

Preston's V-parlor, the first in the Greensboro area, aroused much interest in the community. Preston built the parlor after "Hurricane Hazel" destroyed the stanchion barn four years ago. He chose the V-parlor because it is easy and inexpensive to build and is suited to his herd size of 12 to 15 milking cows.

The entire Spicher family has been enthusiastic about the V-parlor. "We probably would have had to sell out by now if we were using the old barn due to the labor shortage," related Mrs. Spicher. The Spichers have two sons: Jimmy, now in Germany with the Army, and Douglas, who works at the Pet Milk Company plant in Greensboro. Their only daughter, Peggy, is at home.

"When my husband is busy in the field, the job of milking falls to me," says Mrs. Spicher. "The V-parlor is handy, and it saves me much time and labor. I can milk 11 cows in about an hour." Thus the V-parlor, built because of a disaster, has solved another problem facing the Spichers—the labor shortage.

"I'm glad I built the V-parlor," this long-time producer said. "It's been a welcome addition to our dairy enterprise, and besides being economical to build, it has saved us valuable time and labor."

The Drexel Chaffinches turned to V-Parlor milking because they are determined to make a success of their farming operation. This young family only recently purchased their 90-acre farm at Vernon.

The buildings on the farm were inadequate, rundown and unsuited for housing livestock, but Drexel wasn't discouraged. He began looking around for a dairy setup to meet his needs.

Since Drexel works off the farm, he needed an efficient and easy way to milk. He wanted something that would do a satisfactory job but would be economical to build. Drexel looked at several dairy layouts and was particularly impressed with Pet Patron Lloyd Zott's V-stall, loose housing arrangement. In Hoard's Dairyman he saw an offer for V-stall plans and sent for them. To his surprise, they were Pet Field Service plans.

Drexel decided a V-parlor was what he needed, and in a short time he had a 21 ft. x 12 ft.-set-up ready for occupancy. He equipped the building with a heater, cooler, cow-to-can milker and other necessities at a cost of around $1200.

The big day finally arrived. On March 1, 1960, Drexel used his V-parlor and sent his first milk to Greensboro. "My V-parlor saves me time and labor," says Drexel happily, "and my wife, Esther, can use the cow-to-can milker when the need arises." Mrs. Chaffinch also helps out by keeping the milker and utensils clean.

This progressive young dairyman started farming with two cows and is now milking eight. He wants a 15-18 cow herd. This fall, Drexel plans to build a 45 ft. x 30 ft. rest shed to further increase the efficiency of his dairy-ing setup.

Just as V-parlors have lightened dairying chores for small and medium-sized dairymen, so have L-prep parlors been a boon to larger dairymen. If you are interested in building a milking parlor, your Pet fieldman will gladly help you select the type to fill your needs.

Gas Station Entered Near Harrington

Cash, a television set, batteries and tires, all valued at about $200 were stolen from the garage of Orville (Pat) Fry, Route 13, north of Harrington, Sunday night.

State police detectives at Bridgeville Troop said entrance to the place was made by breaking a window in the rear. A locked filing cabinet containing some money and records, and desk drawers, and a cigarette vending machine were pried open and money taken.

ASC Community Election Boards Named

Appointment of community election boards to conduct the annual election of farmers who will direct the local farm program next year was announced by Lister V. Hall, Jr., Kent County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office manager at Dover.

This is the first step in the election procedure through which farmers elect chairman, vice chairman, regular member and two alternates in each community. The community elections will be held between Nov. 21 and Dec. 1 by mail.

The selection of the community boards announced Thursday was made by the Kent ASC election board composed of George K. Vapaa, Kent County Extension Agent; Roland E. Garrison, president, Kent County Farm Bureau; Fred Rickards, supervisor, Farmer's Home Administration; Francis Thomas, Master, Kent County Pomona Grange and Fred T. Mott, Conservationist, Kent County Soil Conservation Service.

The chairman of each community committee elected will be the county convention that will elect the county committee for the coming year. The Community and County ASC Committees elected by the farmers in each community administer the Federal Government's price support, wool incentive, soil bank acreage allotments—marketing quota and cost-sharing conservation programs are at the local level. Committeemen are elected for one year terms beginning January 1, 1961. Member of the ASC community election board are:

1st Community: northeast side of the county including the 1st and 2nd representative districts are: Edward Haas, R. D. 3, Dover, chairman; H. Lloyd Jones, R. D. 7, Smyrna, George Fischer, R. D. 5, Smyrna.

Second community: northwest side of the county including the 3rd and 4th representative districts are Gooden Darling, R. D. 1, Box 221, Wyoming, chairman; Norman Shorts, R. D. 2, Smyrna; Albert Cote, R. D. 2, Dover.

Third community: central part of the county including the 5th and 7th representative districts are Edward Paper, R. D. Wyoming, chairman; James Tarburton, Camden; William H. Richardson, Wyoming.

Fourth community: southwest side of the county including 6th and 9th districts are J. William Webb, Goldboro, chairman; J. Hubert Cannon, Harrington; and Ellwood Gruwell, R. D. 2, Felton.

Fifth community: southeast side of the county including the 8th and 10th representative districts are Winfred Gruwell, R. D., Felton, chairman; Harvey L. Warner, R. D. 3, Milford, Roland Starkey, R. D. 1, Felton.

All farmers interested in having their names placed on the ballot should contact the Community Election Board members in their respective community.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—I am a Korea veteran, insured under VA's new-type low-cost term insurance, which cannot be renewed after my 50th birthday. Does this also mean age 50 is my deadline for converting my term insurance to one of VA's permanent plans?

A—Not necessarily. You cannot renew your term policy after age fifty. However, if you renew in the five year period which includes your fiftieth birthday you can convert during that time. As an example, if you renewed for five years at age 48, you could convert to a permanent plan any time up to age 53.

Q—VA is not currently sending me my monthly GI insurance premium-due notices because I have an application for the disability rider pending. Until I get back to paying by the premium-due cards, what kind of information should I send VA when I pay my premiums?

A—Give your name in full, and the number of your policy. Include also the letter or letters before the policy number. Depending on whether you are a World War One, World War Two or Korea veteran, the letter prefix will be V, K, RH or RS. Give both the number and letter prefix. This will speed crediting your account with your payment.

Q—Is it possible to attend school less than half-time under the War Orphans Education program?

A—No. War Orphans payments may not be made to a student attending school less than half-time.

Q—Is every disabled Korea veteran entitled to special vocational rehabilitation training?

A—No. This training is available only to disabled veterans who need it to overcome the handicap of their service-connected disabilities. However, those who don't need vocational rehabilitation training may be eligible for Korean GI Bill training.

Election Time Nears For ASC Committee

Farmers in Kent County were reminded today by R. Harry Wilson that elections will soon be held to name an Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee for each agricultural community. To be elected are a committee chairman, vice chairman, regular member, and two alternates in each community.

The elections are held each year, and this year they are scheduled to be held throughout the county between Nov. 21 and Dec. 1. The elections will be conducted by mailed secret ballot. Supervision of the elections will be in charge of community election boards, each composed of three farmers who are not now ASC officers.

Mr. Wilson point out that the community elections will be followed by a county convention, where a county ASC committee will be elected. The chairman of each community committee elected will be the community delegate to the county convention.

Farms eligible to vote in the elections are all those who have an interest in a farm as owner, tenant, or sharecropper. Each voter likewise must be enrolled in or be eligible to participate in at least one of the programs administered locally by the ASC committees, such as, wool incentive program, soil bank program, marketing quota-price support program, facility loan program and agriculture conservation program.

HERE ARE SOME FACTS
NOT FANTASIES — OR VAGUE PROMISES:

Six of the twelve Kent County Democratic candidates for the Legislature have had prior legislative experience. There is no substitute for experience.

The Delaware Legislature, while under Democratic control, passed the Municipal Aid Fund Act which returns to incorporated communities a fair share of the money collected from the residents of those communities in gasoline taxes.

During the last four years, the Democratic Legislature has supplied funds for free polio shots for every Delaware citizen.

In 1953, the Republicans controlled both the Governor's Office and the Legislature. They did not enact any re-organization measures. In 1951, the Republican Legislature defeated Governor Carvel's re-organization program.

In the eight years of the Boggs Republican administration, more public debt for the State of Delaware has been incurred than in all other administrations from 1776 to 1952 put together.

The Democratic controlled Legislature and Levy Courts have been able to hold the line on taxes despite the tremendous increase in Delaware's population in the last few years.

The Democratic Kent County Levy Court has operated on a balanced budget in nine out of the last ten years, the exception being for 1958, caused by excessive welfare expenses on the Republican State level.

In the last six years of the Republican National Administration farm prices have dropped 17 per cent, while retail food prices have increased 5 per cent.

The interest rate for home loans has gone up 33½ per cent under the Republican National Administration.

Senator J. Allen Frear, because he is a member of key Finance and Banking and Currency Committees and Chairman of the Sub-committee on Federal Reserve, is one of the most influential Senators in the United States Senate.

Nixon Supports Rollins For Governor

Vice President Richard M. Nixon Tuesday night announced his "wholehearted support" of John W. Rollins, Republican candidate for Governor.

In a statement from the office of the Vice President in Washington, Mr. Nixon noted "the vigorous and effective campaign that John Rollins is waging."

"There is no question but that on the basis of this tried and proven ability, integrity and dedication he can provide an efficient and responsible state administration for the people of Delaware", the Republican presidential candidate said.

Pointing out that his "association and friendship" with Rollins dates back to 1952, Mr. Nixon praised the GOP gubernatorial hopeful for his "outstanding and helpful work as a charter member of the Citizens for Eisenhower." "Since that time, I have watched with great interest and satisfaction his career as a successful businessman and a very capable lieutenant governor."

Trinity Methodist Church Notes

There is a great deal of speculation and uncertainty about what the future has in store for us. It is not possible to "look into the crystal ball" and come up with the answers to the many perplexing problems facing all of us—but we do know that Trinity Church must meet many challenges in the months ahead.

Here is where all of our people enter the picture.

How wonderful it would be if everyone in Trinity Church would make the resolution to put God and their church first in everything during the coming months. Our lives would be blessed and our church would go forward in new achievements.

This month all of our people will be called upon to make an extra effort to support our church in its on-going program. Will you pray for God's guidance concerning the part you will play in this most vital work?

Tuesday evening the Woman's Society of Christian Service observed their 20th anniversary with a special program and a Heritage Tea. Mrs. Earl Sylvester wrote and conducted the program which she called, "This is Our Heritage". The program served to give a keen insight into the heritage of the Society and also to challenge and inspire toward future goals in the service of our Lord. The Heritage Tea was served by members of the Ruth Circle, with Mrs. Ernest Raughley as chairman.

Friday night, Nov. 4, the Woman's Society of Christian Service will hold their annual "Week of Prayer and Self-Denial" program. Mrs. Eleanor Walls, spiritual life secretary of the Society will conduct the service; the time is 7:30 o'clock.

Sunday, Nov. 6, 9:45 Church School, William Jester, general superintendent, Virginia Shultie, Primary Superintendent. Classes for everyone, everyone welcome.

11 o'clock, Divine Worship. The Rev. Benjamin will continue the series of sermons, "Our Faith".

The Senior Choir will sing under the direction of Melvin Brobst.

The Junior Choir will sing under the direction of Mrs. Samuel Mackert.

The flowers will be placed in our altar vases this month to the glory of God by the Woman's Society of Christian Service. Sunday's flowers will be given by Mrs. Florence Fleming. The greeters will be Mrs. Ridgley Vane and Mrs. Ernest Raughley.

6:30 o'clock the Methodist Youth Fellowship will meet for its regular weekly meeting. Miss Susan MacDonald will report on the fall youth conference which she attended at Fruitland, Md., last weekend. Mrs. Lorraine Redden is counselor.

7:30 o'clock the evening Vesper Service will be held in the sanctuary. The sermon topic will be "A Bible Portrait". The Intermediate Choir will sing under the direction of Mrs. Benjamin.

The O.U.R. Class will not hold its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday. The date has been changed to Friday night, Nov. 11 due to the election. The meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lare at 8 o'clock.

Dr. John N. Link will lead the fourth session of the study course "Basic Christian Beliefs" at Asbury Church on Wednesday night, at 7:30 o'clock. The choirs will practice at the usual time on Thursday — Intermediate Choir at 6:30, Junior Choir, 7 o'clock, and the Senior Choir 8 o'clock.

18, for kingdom business. Sun. Nov. 20, is our combined church anniversary and groundbreaking Sunday. We will observe our 80th anniversary during the regular Sunday morning worship hour at 11 o'clock. Dr. Robert L. Parker of Wesley Junior College will be our guest speaker for this service. 2:30 o'clock will mark our groundbreaking program for our new educational building. 7:30 p.m. we will hold a special service at which the Rev. Daniel Pritchard will be the guest speaker.

Felton School News

The Felton school faculty were guests of the Avon Club at a reception on Wednesday, Nov. 2. The reception was held immediately after the pupils were dismissed in the afternoon.

A large number of parents attended the first meeting of the Parent Teachers Association last Monday evening. Plans for the activities of the association during the coming year were announced by the executive committee. The association pledged $300 toward the purchase of photographs and additional reference books.

Howard E. Henry, supervising principal, introduced the members of the Board of School Trustees and the staff. He also discussed some of the problems related to expanding the school plant and securing additional qualified teachers. Mr. Henry also reviewed the efforts of the Felton Board of School Trustees, in co-operation with the Frederica and Harrington Boards, to establish a joint comprehensive high school for this area. The plan, which was formally approved by the State Department of Public Instruction and the State Board of Education came to an abrupt end last month, when the State Board of Education withdrew its approval because of the proposed location for the school building. The objection offered was that a county vocational school should be located in the population center of the county. The original approval was granted when a similar school plant was being considered for the Smyrna-Middletown area.

REPUBLICAN

FOR State Auditor

THE NEXT ELECTION is one of the most important in our history. How much interest we, as citizens, take in voting may profoundly influence the attitude of the rest of the world—free and communist—as to whether we are serious about our American way of life. Republican or Democrat, the next administration should be selected by as near 100 per cent turnout of voters as we can achieve. No matter how the vote may be divided between parties, if every citizen votes, the hand of the elected administration will be strengthened in international relations.

We can preserve our priceless liberties and individual rights by voting in every election and primary in accordance with our convictions; and by acting otherwise as responsible citizens. The world beyond our nation's boundaries, especially that part behind the Iron Curtain, is likely to respect us only to the extent that as individuals and as a group we act in accordance with our professed principles. Each of us as a citizen has a patriotic duty to vote and to encourage others to assume that responsibility, too.

has arrived and is causing quite a lot of clamor and excitement in our midst. Try-outs are over, the characters have been cast, and rehearsals are in full progress. The elected committees are busy as bees working on their numerous tasks to make the play a huge success.

Marsha Betts is serving as student director and Norman Jackson as stage manager. Committee chairmen are as follows: scenery, Joyce Ann Kemp; properties, Joyce McDowell; prompter, Kathleen Anderson; make-up, Ellen Price; costumes, Ernestine Tribbitt; ushers, Claire Lee Hrupsa and Danilou McGinness. The producer is Mr. George Masten, science teacher and director of many other outstanding plays. The assistant producer is Mrs. Margaret Phelps.

The play itself is a three act comedy, set on the campus of St. Oldes College, Oxford, England.

The amusement begins when Jack Chessney, portrayed by Harold Frazier, and Charles Wykeham (Charley), portrayed by Jeff Robbins, invite Kitty Verdun (Carole Wright) and Amy Spetique (Judy Reible) to luncheon to meet Charley's aunt, Donna Lucia D'Alvadorez (Barbara Postles). When an unexpected wire arrives announcing the aunt cannot make it on the scheduled day, the boys call on a fellow student, Lord Fancourt Babberly (Robert Edward), to impersonate her. Soon complications begin to arise, with the fun and frolic following. The cast also includes Ruth Donophan, Virginia Green, Howard Moore, George Rawding, Tex Tabor, and James Goerger.

Asbury M.Y.F. Notes

The regular meeting of the Intermediate M.Y.F. of Asbury was held Sunday evening, 18 members and two visitors were present.

The topic for the evening was church Stewardship.

A committee from the Senior and the Intermediate M.Y.F. met Tuesday evening. Final plans for the food booth on election day were made. The booth will be located in the parking area behind Pitlick's garage, across from the polling place. Cold drinks, coffee, tea, soup, sandwiches, pie and cakes will be for sale to take out or consumption at the booth.

Projects from this sale will be used to purchase a tape recorder for the church. With this tape recorder the M.Y.F. will take a taped sermon to the homes of shut-ins.

Rollins called upon his audience to join the Republican candidates in their efforts to restore good government in Delaware. Carroll: "in a statement issued by your Democratic Levy Court this month, attention was called to the correct figure, a surplus of $28,394.28 and appropriate reference to the certified accountants' report for the 1959 year was given."

Carroll continued: "in view of the continued gross misrepresentation on the part of the writers of the GOP platform, I therefore charge that they are completely irresponsible and ignorant of the county's fiscal affairs, or that they are willing and maliciously disseminating false propaganda to deceive the Kent County electorate."

Carroll also struck back at the GOP criticism of welfare expenditures pointing out it is one of the areas where the amount is determined by law and over which the court has no controls.

Carroll said amounts of $242,655.60 in fiscal 1956; $279,960.87 in fiscal 1957; $376,152.58 in fiscal 1958 and $346,527.40 in fiscal 1959 were expenses incurred by state Republican commissions over which the Democratic Levy Court has no control.

"For several years," Carroll went on, "your Democratic Levy Court has claimed welfare expenses incurred by the commissions are excessive and has urged their reduction. If now, at this belated hour, on the eve of election day, the local Republicans have accepted our Democratic thinking, that is fine. Nevertheless, we view their expression with considerable skepticism because their past actions do not coincide with their present words."

Carroll also pointed out that the Levy Court has operated with a surplus in nine of the past 10 years.

"Your country's financial position is sound," Carroll went on and, after pointing out he himself is not a candidate for re-election, urged the election of the Democratic candidates.

"Do not place any confidence in ridiculous flim-flam statements made in the Republican county platform," he concluded, "just read between the lines and you will readily observe that their contentions about the county's fiscal position are completely untrue and are purposefully deceptive for self-serving reasons."

Carey, calling the sewer and water authority the most pressing problem in an area destined to the rate of growth of Kent County, said it could be created immediately by the Levy Court. He also proposed it should be financed by revenue bonds so that the people receiving the service could pay for it without raising taxes beyond their present level. Carey made his statement at the Cheswold Community Center. Also present was James T. McKinstry, Republican candidate for Congress.

coveted attainment of any member. Many of my colleagues from Southern states, by virtue of their great seniority, now serve as Chairman of the most important committees of the Senate and House. Their constituents make certain that these members stay in Washington. Delaware has an opportunity for similar recognition in the years ahead. The Senate will be Democratic next year. This is a mathematical certainty because of the number of hold-over Senators, plus the Democratic Senators who are running in unopposed races. It will thus be far more important and desirable for our State to have seniority on the majority side at almost the top level on two important committees than to bring in a new member on the minority side who will have to start at the bottom."

To those who have been reluctant to display a flag because it contains fewer than 50 stars in the field of blue, Commander O'Neal assured, "No American flag is ever obsolete. Regardless of its age, as long as it is in good condition, it may be and should be displayed on all appropriate occasions."

He further urged any homes which do not have a flag to obtain one, not only for display on Veterans Day, but all patriotic holidays. Anyone desiring to obtain a flag may get further information by contacting Leonard Horleman at The First National Bank.

played in front of every home and place of business we can make this observance of Veterans Day an unforgettable demonstration of Americanism, and at the same time show our community's measure of appreciation for all American patriots who fought for the preservation of our priceless heritage."

The Third District Court of Appeals in Philadelphia struck down Delaware's grade-a-year plan and directed that a total desegregation be ready by Dec. 31.

Dr. Miller said the State Department of Public Instruction will conduct the survey in all state board unit schools. Special school districts will be asked to make similar surveys of their own situations, he said.

Dr. Miller said: "Such a count is absolutely essential if the schools of the state are to be prepared to receive additional entrants in September, 1961."

He also said that "the mere indication of the desire to make transfers will not necessarily guarantee that the local schools can accept all of them. Some matter such as available school space will have to be taken into consideration," he said.

Dr. Miller said school boards and administrators will be given an opportunity to examine the state board's desegregation plan when it has been developed.

Survey of Negro Pupil Transfers Due Nov. 7-23

A survey to determine the number of Negro pupils planning to transfer to previously all-white schools next fall, will be conducted between Nov. 7 to 23.

This was announced Tuesday by the State Department of Public Instruction.

Dr. George R. Miller, Jr., state superintendent, said the survey is necessary as preparations for development of a desegregation plan which would allow Negro pupils to enter grades one through 12 throughout the district.

Delaware Food Market Report

There are a number of pork cuts which are inexpensive now. One of these is the fresh or smoked picnic roast which is very versatile since it can be utilized in several different type meals.

Root crops, such as turnips, sweet potatoes, white potatoes and carrots are taking over the vegetable counter. The quality of these vegetables is excellent and the prices are low: 2 bags of carrots 17 cents to 19 cents, 4 pounds of sweet potatoes 19 cents to 25 cents are good samples of the economy these vegetables offer.

Shipments of grapefruit are increasing. Prices are as low as 4 for 29 cents however, these grapefruit are only small to medium in size. A record cranberry crop is moving to market and bananas are plentiful with prices ranging from 10 cents a pound to two pounds for 25 cents.

Delaware Food Market Report

Since holiday season is rapidly approaching, you may wish to concentrate on buying more inexpensive foods in hopes of saving a few pennies to help buy the many Christmas gifts. The less expensive meats are usually those that are not in great demand, such as your variety meats (heart, tongue, kidney), shin bone meat, flank meat, etc. Of course meats which are on special sale are often much cheaper and are excellent buys. Since cool weather has come, the loin cuts of beef are in less demand. This week you will again find lower than normal prices on choice T-bone, serloin, porterhouse and club steaks. Round steaks and roasts, as well as rib roasts should be reasonable too.

Don't forget to check the poultry counter for good to excellent buys on chicken, particularly the heavier types, and of course turkeys are selling for lower than normal prices, particularly the 12 to 16 pound sizes.
