

Carvel Wants 9 On Road Commission

Gov. Elbert N. Carvel Wednesday unveiled his plan to create a streamlined State Highway Department with nine commissioners.

At a press conference at Dover, Carvel outlined his proposal for a top-to-bottom shakeup of the department in line with recommendations made last month by his non-partisan Committee to Improve the Highway Department.

The reform measure includes creation of a new director of operations to oversee all functions of the department except state police, the motor vehicle division, and fiscal affairs.

The chief engineer would serve under the operations director, who would have the power to hire and fire all employees, including the chief engineer.

The proposed legislation would create a comptroller, independent of the operations director and the chief engineer, who would act as a watchdog over the financial affairs.

Carvel said his decision to recommend a nine-member commission was based on the fact that the present 12-member group is "too cumbersome and bulky."

He said the nine-member commission represented a compromise from among his own preference for seven, the Republican desire for five, and the request by Democratic legislators to retain 12.

Carvel strongly hinted that he may reappoint some of the present highway commissioners to the new group if and when it is created.

He said the present highway commissioners represent "several hundred years of experience" and that to eliminate their services completely might cause the state to lose continuity in its highway program and might cost the state millions of dollars.

Carvel emphasized that the actual number of commissioners is unimportant.

He urged the General Assembly to take quick action on the reform measure and a highway bond bill to get the state's highway construction program under way again.

Under the Carvel proposal, the nine commissioners would be appointed by the Governor with the confirmation of the Senate for staggered six-year terms. Three would come from each county with no more than two members from any county belonging to the same political party—giving the party in power a six to three voting edge.

The chairman of the commission would be appointed by the Governor from among the nine members and would serve at his pleasure.

Carvel's proposal also includes a merit system for all employees of the department except "seasonal or casual workers."

The reform bill would require liability insurance for all employees and require bonding of the director of operations and the comptroller.

The director of operations would be employed by the department for terms up to five years each, but could be discharged by the department for cause at any time.

He also would be required to be at least 30 years old and have at least 10 years experience in major managing or administrative work.

The same qualifications would apply to the chief engineer, but his experience would have to be in that profession.

Governor Greets 4-H'ers In 4-H Week Celebration

Gov. Elbert N. Carvel joined Delaware 4-H'ers in celebrating National 4-H Club Week March 4-11 when he met with 12 4-H'ers and 4-H Club leaders in his Dover office last week.

The Governor congratulated the 4-H'ers on their achievements and stressed the importance of increased efficiency in agriculture.

The Governor pointed out to the 4-H'ers the great strength of the United States which comes from our tremendous agricultural output by only eight percent of our population. This frees the greater part of the national population for other areas of productivity, improving our overall standard of living, the Governor said.

Our high agricultural productivity therefore gives us our greatest basic advantage over Russia and China where more than half of the people are occupied to provide food for the rest of the population.

James O. Baker, state 4-H Club leader, said the purpose of 4-H Week is to provide 4-H members with a special occasion to take stock of past achievements and to make plans for future activities.

The 4-H'ers and leaders representing Delaware's $1800 Club members included: leaders—Mrs. Mary Daniels, Greenwood; Lawrence Ulmer, Hockessin; Ed Courdry, Delmar, and Mrs. Betty Nickerson, Dover.

The 4-H'ers selected to meet with the Governor included: DeLores Cirwithian, Tri-High Club, Milton; Anderson Gowens, Silverleaf Club, Woodside; George Nickle, White Oak Club, Newark; Frances Craig, Hill'n Dale Club, Marshallton; Stanley Hearn, Sycamore Club, Laurel; Joanne Hastings, Dublin Hill Club, Bridgeville; Allen Metheny, White Oaks Club, Hartly; and Carol Sinclair, Oak Grove Club, Dover.

In another special 4-H Club Week activity, the "Andrewsville Speedies" 4-H Club of Andrews-ville, Kent County, won first place in the state-wide 4-H window display contest. The display, in the window of the local Southern States Co-operative feed store, urged area youth to join present members of the Andrews-ville club in carrying out agricultural, homemaking and leisure-time projects.

Mrs. Lester C. Larimore is leader of the newly organized 4-H Club which has 27 members ranging in age from 10 to 17.

Second place went to the Stump Corner 4-H Club of Townsend, New Castle County and third place to the Busy Beavers 4-H Club of Georgetown, Sussex County.

Phone Company Appoints Sales Manager

William G. Swinney has been appointed sales manager for the Diamond State Telephone Company.

In his new position, Swinney will co-ordinate the company's sales program for the business market throughout the state.

A native of Kansas City, Mo., Swinney attended Central College in Fayette, Mo., and later served with the Army before starting with the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania as a student engineer in Philadelphia in 1953.

He has held various managerial posts in the telephone industry, and was a senior staff assistant with the company's marketing department at Media since last September.

Swinney, a resident of Merion Station, Pa., is Sunday School superintendent of St. Martin's Church in Radnor, and he serves as president of Central College's Delaware Valley Alumni Club.

The above display, in the window of Butler Feed Store, Andrews-ville, won first place in the state-wide 4-H window display contest, for the Andrews-ville Speedies. The display urged area youth to join the club to carry out agricultural, homemaking, and leisure-time projects. Mrs. Lester G. Larimore is leader of the newly organized club.

COUNCIL OUTLINES GROUNDWORK FOR STREET IMPROVEMENTS

The City Council, in its busy March meeting Monday evening, outlined the groundwork for its street improvement program. The meeting, also called "appeal night" was noteworthy in that no one appeared to contest the scrap assessment.

Getting back to the street work, the council motioned that City Manager George Graham have four streets surveyed as a forerunner of the improvement program. The streets to be surveyed are Simpson, Short and High, Simmons, and Calvin Streets and they are to be surveyed in the order in which petitions were received from the property owners on the thoroughfares. Plans call for these streets to be blacktopped and curbed.

The Council also brought up Milby Street for improving west of West Street, without curbing. This project had been discussed before but had been held back waiting for property owners to hook up to sanitary sewer lines.

When street improvements begin, the contractor will also do repair work.

It was brought out that, while prices were to be asked for each street, the work would be given to the contractor making the lowest bid on the whole job. The Council said the itemizing of the streets would facilitate matters if it proved it did not have enough money to go around and had to omit part of the project.

The City has about $4800 of Municipal Aid funds on hand and is supposed to receive a 1961 allotment of around $25,000. However, some Councilmen were leery of planning too far in advance, not knowing what the Legislature, now in session, might do.

Other Business
Ordered a Chlorinator at the sewage disposal plant to be repaired at a cost of from $300 to $500. A power line will have to be run to the chlorinator at a cost of about $118 to maintain thermostatic heat control. Heat has to remain at least 50 degrees.

Council was read a letter from the Chamber of Commerce requesting hiring of a part-time patrolman to work on that portion of Sundays not covered by the regular police force. This period is from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. The matter was referred to the Police Commission, George Graham, the city manager, and Councilmen Raymond Dean and Luther Hatfield.

Councilman Hatfield suggested someone give thought to check

Bob Gillette On All-Kent Five
For the second straight year Harrington High School is represented on the All-Kent County basketball team. This squad is picked by votes of all scholastic coaches in the county.

Last year Jim Temple and Ron Collison were honored. This year lanky Bob Gillette was picked from Jim Hawpe's Harrington High Lions. The remaining four players came from Caesar Rodney, Dover and Milford. Milford is considered in Kent County for purposes of this survey.

Gillette, at 6 feet 5 1/2 inches in height, is one of the tallest basketball players ever to wear H.H.S. livery. He was not the most prolific scorer for the Lions this season but he was the leader in rebounds. This later talent may have been the chief factor in his selection. He was seen in action this year by every county coach with the possible exception of Dover High.

Local Food Store Owners to Get Tips At Conference

Local food store owners and managers, under mounting economic pressure to make more efficient use of space and labor and to improve food merchandising techniques, will find help in these areas at a special short course to be held April 3 and 4 at the University of Delaware.

The 1961 Delaware Conference on Food Distribution will feature a series of workshops and demonstrations that will be of particular interest to managers or owners of food stores of the "local corner grocery" variety.

Among the subjects to be covered are: Space allocation—whether to put Brand A on the top shelf or the middle shelf and weather or not to carry Brand B; work simplification—cost-cutting labor-saving tips based on the fact that $1 saved in labor expense is equal to the profits from a sales increase of $70.

Personnel management—how to use part-time help more efficiently. (Continued on Page 8)

FELTON P. T. A. TO HEAR PLANS FOR SCHOOL EXPANSION

The Felton Parent Teacher Association meeting scheduled for Monday, March 20, will feature presentation of plans for the new school building program and explanation of the needs which make the program necessary.

The Board of School Trustees has requested approval of preliminary plans and a referendum date of May 6. If these requests are approved by the State Board of Education at their meeting on March 16, voters of the district will be asked to endorse a local bond issue of $156,000 to match a $234,000 grant of state funds already appropriated for the project.

The $390,000 thus provided would be used to construct a new industrial arts shop, two science laboratories, five high school classrooms, two elementary classrooms, a faculty room and public facilities for evening events in the auditorium, gymnasium, and cafeteria, as well as remodeling and expanding the home economics suite, school offices, and locker rooms.

Enrollment in the high school now exceeds the rated building capacity by twenty-four per cent and is increasing eleven per cent each year. Total enrollment now for all grades is 664 in a building designed for 625. The average annual increase in recent years has been thirty-three pupils. By September, 1962, when the building is scheduled to be ready for use, an enrollment of 725 pupils is predicted.

The Board of School Trustees is also asking the voters to approve a small tax levy for current expense purposes. At present Felton is the only high school district in the state without any tax funds for current expense. Federal grants received under Public Law 874 for children from families associated with Dover Air Force Base have been the only funds available for this purpose. These grants are not sufficient to meet current expense needs for next year.

The Board expects to finance both the building program and the current expense fund by a total increase of ten cents per one hundred dollars of assessed

Red Cross Drive

This year, as in the past, March has been designated as Red Cross Month. Harrington's drive will be conducted the week of March 20 through March 26. The Harrington co-chairmen are Mrs. LeRoy Strohl, Mrs. Frank O'Neal and Miss Linda Humes.

The Red Cross touches the lives of nearly everyone in the Delaware area, whether through swimming instructions, home service work or in time of disaster.

The motto for Red Cross is "Good Things Happen when you Help." Harrington has proven itself helpful in the past and we know it will again this year.

Trackmen Report At H. H. S.

By Keith S. Burgess

Coach Jim Hawpe has a record turnout of some sixty lads in response to his call for track and field candidates. These represent approximately 30 each in the junior and senior high divisions. The Lions will be starting their fifth season of track. The first year was experimental but Harrington has had strong squads for the last three springs.

The locals lost pole vaulters Jim Temple and Bruce Smith by graduation. However, most of the remainder of the 1960 representatives will be on hand plus some additional help from an undefeated junior high squad.

Harry Knotts, the state cross-country champion will attempt to add the state mile title to his collection. Knotts will also run in the half mile. The Hackett brothers, Dwight and Clarence will run in these same two events to give the Lions probably the finest distance corps in the state. Knotts and Dwight Hackett are former mile champions of both the Seaford and Milford Invitational.

Bob Winkler, who is starting his fifth year, will head the sprinters. Bob specializes in getting the jump on his opponents when leading off in the 880 relay.

George Pfiffer, a versatile performer, may be used in several

"The discussion advanced to date by the representatives of the Republican Party and to a large extent by the News-Journal papers concerning the highway construction bond issue, as it relates to the proposed reorganization of the State Highway Department, are indeed short-sighted and inconsistent with logical thinking," Gov. Elbert N. Carvel said Wednesday.

"The State Highway Department representatives have pointed out that the latest data which will permit the advertising of projects to save the presently available Federal funds is the last week of April. In turn, the News-Journal indicates that this month plus period allows time for reorganization before a bond issue.

"How short-sighted an approach! The projects which are to be advertised and built are already selected; they cannot conceivably be changed or altered; either they get advertised to be built as they are, or the Federal funds should be declared lost right now! A new Commission cannot alter this—they cannot change the designs already engineered, already submitted to and approved by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

"It is granted that a new Commission will be able to direct the execution of contracts; that they can alter certain procedures; that they can execute and implement policies which may differ from existing methods. But they aren't going to change the projects as presently defined; there just isn't time for this to occur.

"So why can't the bond funds be set forth—why can't the Legislature, particularly the minority element, realize the need for the construction, the need to put men to work; the need for an uplift in our economy; the need to save Delaware from losing 12 1/4 million dollars?

"The reorganization can and will come. The changes it will bring will come and the experiences pertaining to it will be felt as they need to be. But it is downright silly to say that the new Commission should and must precede the bond issue," the Governor's statement concluded.

Mrs. Nora W. Derrickson

First entrant in the 1961 National Chicken Cooking Contest is Mrs. H. Robert Smith, of Lakewood, N. J., shown here receiving her entry blank from current national chicken cooking champ, Elizabeth Goetz, who hails from a farm 3 miles south of Lakewood.

Looking on is Larry McGavin, assistant store manager of the American Stores Company market in Lakewood, named first store in the U. S. to distribute the entry blanks because of the custom of having the national champion hand out the first entry blank each year in her own home town.

First Entry Received in Cooking Contest

Mrs. Smith a Lakewood housewife and mother of two plans to enter a favorite baked chicken recipe in the contest. If successful in state preliminaries, she will become a finalist in the national cookoff to be held during the 14th annual Delmarva Chicken Festival at Seaford, June 15-17. There she will compete against other state winners for the national championship. Winner gets a two week expense-paid trip to Europe for two via Pan American Airways.

Mrs. Goetz, wife of a New Jersey hatcheryman and egg producer won her title last June at Selbyville, at the 13th annual Delmarva Chicken Festival when she defeated 108 other finalists from 24 states and the district of Columbia. She returned just last month from her prize-winning tour of Europe during which she won wide acclaim from the European press and housewives in a series of public and television appearances there.

The National Chicken Cooking Contest, now in its 14th year, is sponsored by the Poultry and Egg National Board of Chicago, the poultry industry's national consumer information agency, and by the host organization at the Chicken Festival each year, the Delmarva Poultry Industry, Inc.

Entry blanks for the contest are being distributed in most states at the meat counters of chain stores and independent retailers during March and the first half of April. They can also be obtained by writing to the Poultry and Egg National Board, 8 S. Michigan Avenue, Chicago 3, Ill. Entries close April 22. State contest winners and national finalists will be announced June 1.

More than 2800 top cooks from 49 states and 8 foreign countries have competed in the junior and senior finals of the National Chicken Cooking Contest during the past 13 years.

Has Spring Sprung?

It seems like spring but we still have time for snow drifts. But even if we get snow drifts, it's time for farmers to think about planting crops and this means planning lime and fertilizer applications.

How does a farmer know how much lime and fertilizer to put on a field? Some farmers guess. Sometimes they're right and sometimes they're wrong.

When they're wrong it costs money. They either use too little fertilizer which results in a lower yield than could have been produced. Or they use too much fertilizer in a lower yield than could have been produced. Or they use too much fertilizer which can't be used efficiently by the crop—an expensive waste.

Business-minded farmers take soil samples and send them into the soil testing laboratory at the University of Delaware. When a good soil sample is taken and all the necessary information is sent along with the samples, agronomists and horticulturists at the University can provide the farmer with specific information.

For example, if you want to plant soybeans and the soil test shows low magnesium and high soil acidity (A PH of 5.5), the recommendation will be 2000 pounds of high-magnesium limestone per acre.

Test plots at the University's Georgetown Substation and at Frankfort, on the farm of F. M. Gum, year after year have shown that $9 worth of high-magnesium limestone will produce about 10 bushels more soybeans per acre on acid soil that's low in magnesium. At today's $2.85-per-bushel price, the difference is $28.50. Subtract the $9 and you have an extra profit of nearly $20 just from taking soil samples.

A 40-bushel-per-acre yield of soybeans requires 16 pounds of phosphorous and 50 pounds of potash. A soil test will show how much plant food is available in the soil. Obviously, if the required amount is not in the soil, you can't get a 40-bushel yield.

On the other hand, a soil test on the farm of Edwin Ralph, Laurel, showed his soil to have enough phosphorous but it was low in potash. In this case 100 pounds of muriated potash was recommended by the University of Delaware to provide 60 pounds of actual potash.

If no soil test has been taken, a general recommendation of at least 300 pounds of 0-20-20 or 0-10-20 would have been made. This would cost more than 100 pounds of muriated potash because of the unnecessary phosphorous.

The only way to get specific recommendations for the most economical lime and fertilizer application, is through soil tests.

Kent County Agent, George Vapaa, can tell you how to take a good soil test.

Horse Owner Lyons Dies

House Committee On Vets' Affairs Begins Hearings

The House Committee on Veterans Affairs, of which Congressman Harris B. McDowell, Jr. (D-Del.) is a member, began hearings Tues., March 14, on legislation he has introduced jointly with Representative Olin E. Teague, Committee Chairman, to provide housing loans to veterans. Government officials, spokesmen for veterans groups, as well as representatives of builders, lenders, labor, and spokesmen for industrial, teachers, and public employee pension funds will testify.

Congressman McDowell will be sitting as a member of the Committee on Veterans Affairs for the first time.

The bill provides that veterans' home loan securities will be sold to the public at a rate of interest which will be attractive investments for pension and welfare funds. The securities will be guaranteed by the Treasury and the money raised from their sale will be used for loans to veterans where credit accommodations from private lenders are not generally available.

Congressman McDowell explained that his bill: "is designed to place the entire VA home loan program on a self-sustaining basis. It will not require Treasury appropriations as has been the case with previous VA housing programs. My bill will pay for administration costs and save the taxpayer $100,000 million annually."

Mr. McDowell emphasized that the legislation he had introduced was "necessary because of the difficulties veterans are experiencing in obtaining mortgage financing."

He declared that: "The tight-money policy of the Eisenhower years reduced the veterans' housing program to its lowest ebb, when this program should properly have continued to be the Nation's leading residential housing program. New starts under the program dropped from 300,000 a year in 1954 and 1955 to 74,609 in 1960."

Mr. McDowell pointed out that during the 15 years the program has been in existence 5,600,000 loans have been made by the Veteran's Administration at a value exceeding $50 billion. In addition, 177,000 direct loans have been made in the amount of $1.4 billion.

The direct loan program has been a success, Congressman McDowell said today, and "has accrued a surplus, which has paid into the Treasury a sum in excess of $65,000,000."

The Congressman added: "Foreclosure experience in the direct loan program has been very favorable and the record of repayment by veterans in both the direct loan and guaranteed home loan programs exceeds the performance of non-veterans in repayment of conventional mortgages."

In introducing his companion measure Chairman Oline Teague said that there has been a "great fluctuation" in mortgage financing for veterans' home loans during the 15 years it has been operating.

Mr. Teague said: "For most of that time money has not been available to veterans outside the major financial centers and large communities of the country. More than one-third of the eligible veterans reside in the small towns and rural areas. On an average, about 10 per cent of these (rural) veterans have obtained a home loan. More than 40 per cent of the veterans residing in the 125 large communities in America have received a home loan."

The need for greatly improving the opportunities of veterans in Delaware's rural areas was stressed by Congressman McDowell who declared that:

"There is still a great demand for mortgage financing in the rural areas and small towns and cities of America where money is in short supply. In Delaware, this is especially true in Kent and Sussex Counties."

Congressman McDowell said that the need for new housing legislation for veterans was demonstrated by the fact that there are 29,000 veterans on the waiting list today and that "this is only a part of the need, since many more veterans have been discouraged by the long waiting period, stretching from 6 to 9 months, to get a loan."

Poultry Banquet March 21

The annual banquet of the Delaware Poultry Improvement Association will be held March 21 at Harrington. According to an announcement of Ralston Pettyjohn, state D.P.I.A. president, the affair will be held in the new dining facilities of the Kent-Sussex Fair and will start at 6:30 p.m.

Mr. Pettyjohn also announced that the speaker this year would be Frank Gordy, Poultry Specialist with the University of Delaware, who will speak on his observations of poultry production behind the Iron Curtain particularly in Poland when he spent several weeks last summer. Mr. Gordy will show slides of the poultry industry in Poland as well as picturesque scenes of other countries he visited while on a mission for the U.S.D.A.

Entertainment will be provided by several 4-H and FFA members. The D.P.I.A. youth awards will also be presented by Paul Hunter Jr., chairman of the Youth Awards Committee. George Bringham, Dover, is general chairman of the banquet and the toastmaster job will be handled by C. Ed McCauley, Seaford, Past president of the D.P.I. and a former State 4-H club leader.

Poultry industry leaders throughout the state will have tickets to sell. Those with tickets in Kent County are:

Rhesa Walto, Dover; George Bringham, Viola; Charles L. Peck Jr., Harrington; August Haas, Dover; E. F. Smith, Jr., Kenton; B. Lee Currey, Wyoming; George Vapaa, Dover.

'60 Wool Sales Must Be 'Complete' By March 31

Wool and lamb producers must complete all details of marketing not later than March 31 in order for the sale of quality for payment under the 1960 wool program, Lister V. Hall Jr., office manager of the Kent Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Office, pointed out today. Later marketings of wool and lambs would be eligible for payments under the 1961 program.

The manager explained that, under program regulations, wool which is "marketed" means that title has passed to the buyer, the wool has been delivered to the buyer either physically or through documents which transfer control to the buyer, and the last of the factors needed to determine the total purchase price payable by the buyer.

Thus, wool will not be considered as "marketed" and so eligible for 1960 program payments unless all details of the sales are settled and all the information needed in the sales documents—including the net sales proceeds—is completed by March 31.

Payments under the 1960 program will be made this summer when the payment rates can be determined, based on the average prices received by producers for shorn wool during the 1960 marketing year. The 1960 wool program year runs from April 1, 1960 through March 31, 1961.

Producers have 30 days after the close of the marketing year—that is, until April 30, 1960—under the 1960 wool program—which to file applications for wool and lamb payments with the County ASC Office.

Beebe Hospital To Expand

Beebe Hospital in Lewes yesterday announced that it will open bids on April 12 for construction of a new four-story hospital wing.

The proposed new hospital addition represents the second major phase of Beebe's expansion and modernization program launched in 1959 in conjunction with a fund raising campaign.

Already completed and in use is the Jean Ellen duPont McConnell Nurses Home, formally dedicated last November.

That building, which accommodates about 50 student nurses, was erected and furnished at a cost slightly in excess of $300,000. It is named in honor of Mrs. J. H. Tyler McConnell, a member of Beebe Hospital's board of directors and chairman of its committee on nursing.

Frank L. Larsen, hospital administrator and secretary of the board of trustees, said that bids are being called for in accordance with plans and specifications prepared by the architectural firm of Whiteside, Moeckel and Carbonell for a four-story addition adjoining the existing hospital building at the northeast corner.

Mr. Larsen said that plans for the new addition call for a modern maternity department consisting of semi-private rooms, labor and delivery suite, nursery and formula room. It will also provide much needed space for an enlarged emergency department, laboratories, cafeteria, dining hall and service facilities, he added.

Entrance to the new wing will be from Vickers Avenue, where a 60-car parking lot will be located.

Board of Assessment for Kent County

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Notes

Tickets are on sale for the spring card party on Wed., April 5, 8 p.m., at the parish house on Raughley-Hill Road.

Mrs. Hewitt Smith is chairman, assisted by Mrs. Thomas Clendenning, Mrs. Ernest Killen, and Mrs. Leroy Strohl.

Tickets may be purchased from auxiliary members or at the door. The public is invited.

Flowers on the altar last Sunday were given to the glory of God by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Keim.

Brochures on Camp Arrowhead, 1961 season, are being distributed to interested families in the diocese. There will be a two week period, March 16 through March 29, set aside for registration. Out-of-state Episcopalians or those from other denominations may apply, and their registrations will be considered after March 29. Thereafter openings will be filled on a first-come, first-serve basis, regardless of locality or denomination.

Camp Arrowhead is owned by the Episcopal Diocese of Delaware and is operated by the Department of Christian Education, Camping Division. The Rev. Brewster Y. Beach is director and his assistants are Kenneth Gahs and Larry Hurchins.

Camp Arrowhead offers a unique opportunity for young people to grow in their enjoyment of living out-of-doors in a Christian Community.

All camp periods are coeducational. Campers from other Christian Communities are welcome as space permits.

Some supervised activities available to the young people are overnight camping, nature crafts, boating, canoeing, hiking, extended camping trips, lashing, outdoor cooking, compass work, swimming.

Acolytes on March 12 were Charles McNally, Gail McReynolds, John Yocum, Walter Rogers, Frank Welch, Robert Eastman, Tim Strohl, Franklin Fowler, Billy Porter, Dennis Bradley, William Thompson.

The resources of the church School Missionary offering or Mite Box offering will be directed this year to the far west of the U. S. and to Mexico. Education in the needs of these areas is underway in most parishes. The need is now for steady use of the boxes for daily giving; perhaps pence at meals, perhaps the price of sweets, or "cakes" or movies given up, perhaps a thank offering for some blessing, perhaps a part of some money earned recently, small sums that will help make the total great.

A mite box presentation service will be held at St. Stephen's Easter Sunday, 4 p.m. All church school members, teachers, and interested adults are asked to keep the date in mind and have their boxes ready for the offering.

The Rt. Rev. J. Brook Mosley, Bishop of Delaware, will be guest preacher at the 11 o'clock morning service next Sunday, March 19. He will administer the rite of confirmation to a class of young persons and adults.

The Women of St. Stephen's will hold their next meeting at the parish house Tuesday, March 21, 8 p.m. Mrs. Clarence Reed will preside.

The Rev. Victor A. Kusik of St. Mary's, Bridgeville, was guest preacher at the service of Evening Prayer last Sunday at St. Stephen's. The Junior Choir sang the Creed, Lord's Prayer, chants, and hymns.

An important resolution adopted by the 176th annual convention of the Diocese of Delaware, held in 1961, was as follows: "Whereas, we believe that our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ, intended His church to be one; therefore be it

Resolved, that the 176th annual Convention of the Diocese of Delaware heartily endorse the principle of Church Unity and the general aim of the Ecumenical Movement and recommend to the General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, and to its National Council, that all possible steps be taken to consider seriously proposals for church unity; and

Be It Further Resolved, That all clergy in our Diocese be encouraged to bring the question of church unity before their congregations, that our people, on the local level, may play their part in the Ecumenical Movement through study, prayer, and action.

Pilgrim Holiness Church Notes

Morning worship 11 a.m. Sermon by our guest speaker, the Rev. Graham F. Senter.

Pilgrim Youth Service 7 p.m. Klein Moore will be in charge of the youth service and our topic this Sunday evening is, "A Parenteen Jury". Teenagers and adults will discuss some of the problems of Christian youth, and attempt to give sound, scriptural advice.

Evening Evangelistic Service 7:45 p.m. Always special songs, and a message from the Bible. Sermon by our pastor, the Rev. Miller, on the subject, "The Wealthy Church that Went Bankrupt." Revelation 3:14-22. This message will draw a parallel from the condition of the ancient church at Laodicea to the present spiritual conditions. The estimate of the church was: they had everything they wanted, they didn't need a thing; but the Lord's analysis of their true condition was exactly the opposite. Bring your Bibles and worship on Sunday evenings!

Awards were given to Mrs. Glanda Tribbitt, Thomas Tribbitt, and Mrs. Dorothy Slaughter for being the first to name our guest. Clues were given on two consecutive Sundays from which the participants were to determine the identity of the mystery guest.

Awards were also given to the following persons who were the winners in various divisions of competition on Bible Sunday. Dual awards were given to Mrs. Mildred Morris, and Mrs. Ruth Coverdale for having the oldest Bible (dated 1845 and 1846 respectively); Harold T. Wall received an award for having the smallest Bible, and John Mervine received an award for having the largest Bible.

Attendance in Sunday School on the 2nd Sunday of the attendance campaign reached 239 and a goal of 250 has been set for Guest Sunday, March 19.

Anniversary Sunday will be observed March 26 at which time the local Pilgrim Church will observe five years of services in the new church building on Delaware Avenue. Plans for this occasion will be announced this Sunday.

Ministers and laymen of the Eastern District of the Pilgrim Holiness Church, will meet at Laurel, this Thurs., March 16, at 10 a.m. for the semi-annual ministerial convention. It is expected that delegates from the 43 churches in the district will attend. An address will be delivered by Dr. William H. Neff, general superintendent of the Eastern area of the Pilgrim Holiness Church during the morning session.

On the afternoon agenda the theme will be "Power to Evangelize," and will include a paper on "Evangelism" by the Rev. George E. Culver of Denton, and "Points on Personal Evangelism" by Carlton Goodhand, a member of the local Pilgrim Church.

Our morning worship service begins at 11 o'clock. Sunday evening service begins at 7:30. At this service our pastor will continue his sermons on the second coming of Christ.

The W.M.U. met at the home of Mrs. Bonnie Pritchitt Tuesday evening. Mrs. Howard Sutcliffe had charge of the program.

Bible study and prayer service Wednesday evening at 7:30.

All teenagers and young people are invited to see "Going Steady," March 25 at 7:30 at the church.

Our revival will be held April 9-20, with the Rev. S. E. Byler, evangelist.

Baptists believe that the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit are related equally—it cannot be said that one is superior and another inferior, that one is stronger than another, or wiser, or more compassionate, or closer to man. Nor may we think of the Godhead as a family in which the Father takes the chief place and the Son and the Holy Spirit lower places. Jesus in His life on earth continually referred to God as His Father. He spoke as the Son of man His filial attitude followed the self-emptying referred to by Paul in the second chapter of his Epistle to the Philippians. But when we speak of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit as constituting the Godhead we are thinking of an eternal relationship though manifested in time. (O. C. Wallace)

If you are interested in a church with a gospel message, we invite you to come worship with us.

Mr. Butler, formerly of Felton, was a graduate of the Felton High School and Tri-State College, Angola, Ind., and was a veteran of World War II.

A construction engineer, he had been way from Felton for a number of years and was living in Altus. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Alice Butler, of Altus; his mother, Mrs. Lanah Milbourn Warren, Richmond, Va.

Hugh Gibb Wins Fellowship and TV Appearance

A 42-year-old University of Delaware senior with a colorful background and an interest in transportation history, has been awarded a fellowship for graduate study from the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation.

Hugh Gibb, of 436 Orchard Road, Newark, is one of 1,333 students from 381 colleges throughout the United States and Canada named by the foundation in its 15th annual search for prospective college teachers.

The fellowship will cover the first year of graduate study. Another University of Delaware senior, Gail Gremer, of Rutherford, N. J., received honorable mention in the foundation's selections.

Gibb has been wanting to complete his formal education for nearly 20 years, has been hampered by a variety of environmental and economic reasons, but now is intent on continuous study through his doctorate degree in order to belatedly embark on a college teaching career.

He blames his ancestry of Scotch tillers and artisans who saw no need for learning as the first roadblock in the path of his education. Following high school in Philadelphia, he turned to the railroad industry for employment.

"Every generation of mother's family had been connected with the industry since the 1830's, and the 'virus' had infected me." Being too young for employment, he spent the next year at the Pierce School of Business in Philadelphia, since secretarial training at that time offered easy entry into transportation. He was employed in the publicity department of Pennsylvania Railroad from 1936 to 1938 when the "Roosevelt recession" brought about his furlough.

Regarding this only a temporary state he took a job in the accounting department of Canada Dry Ginger Ale, a firm that encouraged him to attend extension classes of the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania.

"It didn't take me long to discover I was not inclined toward anything as mundane as accounting, but I stuck doggedly to it," Gibb recalls. "The chief value of the course was that the credits were later accepted by the University of Delaware."

The war changed everything for Gibb, who went back to work for the railroad in 1943 as passenger and freight agent at Newark. Aided by a number of influences, including the college community atmosphere, his interest in railroads as a vocation was paralleled by an avocational learning.

He was one of the founders of the National Railway Historical Society and was its national treasurer from 1946 to 1958. As a contributor to its publications, it was an easy transition to a permanent interest in the field of history.

"Last and most important, I married a school teacher in 1943, who immediately embarked on a crusade to convert my interests to the practicalities of the teaching profession. We finally decided that when our house and car were entirely paid for, I would stop gainful employment and return to school. This day was finally reached in September 1959. To further ease the economic problems, I completed 15 credit hours in evening extension work."

There is no doubt in his mind now of his ultimate goal. He is concentrating his studies in United States history, with the desire to specialize further in transportation history. He is completing a thesis for degree with distinction on "The Delaware Railroad."

He is active in the National Railway Historical Society of Delaware, the Marine Historical Association, General Electric Railfans Association, and the Civil War Round Table of Wilmington. He is Newark chairman of the Civil War Centennial Observation Committee.

a world-wide market. Dairymen of other countries forced to compete in this world market have already learned the value of producing milk efficiently, and are keeping DHIA records."

As an example: In the United States we are testing only 7.8 percent of our cows. In the Netherlands they are testing 65.8 percent of their cows, and in Denmark, 59.4 per cent. Even in West Germany, 32.5 per cent of the dairy cows are in production testing, or DHIA as we know it here.

"It doesn't cost you to do DHIA testing, it pays you," they said. "We can compete on world markets, if we know what we are doing. Every dairyman should use the DHIA testing service."

For details about the program in Kent County, call or write Mrs. Vapaa at the Dover Post Office, telephone REdfield 6-1448.

Mrs. Louisa Virginia Lull

Mrs. Louisa Virginia Lull, 54, wife of Leon Lull, died Wednesday, March 8, in Milford Memorial Hospital. Besides her husband, she is survived by one son, Lt. Don F. Lull, U. S. Army, stationed in Germany; three brothers, William B. Moore, Wilmington; James V. Moore, Carney's Point, N. J., and George E. Moore, New Castle; one sister, Mrs. Alice Brittingham of Avondale, Pa.

Mrs. Lull was a member of Christ Church, and had lived in the Milford vicinity for the past 14 years.

Funeral services were held from Christ Church, Milford, on Monday, March 13, at 11 o'clock, with the Rev. John Dyer, rector, officiating. Interment was in Gracelawn Cemetery, Wilmington.

The Berry Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Records Make The Difference

Here's a question directed to every farmer in Kent County by county agent George Vapaa and Dr. W. R. Hesselstine, extension dairyman at the University of Delaware.

They simply ask: "Do you plan to stay in the dairy business?" "If your answer is yes, then you should enroll your herd in the Dairy Herd Improvement Association production testing program today!"

Mr. Vapaa and Hesselstine go on to point out that "our dairy products, other than fluid milk sold in bottle, are now competing in

Asbury Methodist Church Notes

Church School 10:00 o'clock, Howard S. Wagner, superintendent. The lesson for the Adult Department is entitled, "What Does Christ Desire For Us?" So often our concept of religion is nothing more than a compilation of Thou Shalt Not's, to be sure this is a part, but by no means the sum and substance of our faith. Our Christ is not overly concerned with what we can do for Him but rather with what He can do for us. Often times we are robbed of great spiritual blessings that He desires to give but we refuse to take. It is the wish of our Christ that we all should be happy, healthy and at peace and that all of the benefits made possible for us by the Cross will be ours. In the spirit of our Christ who said, "Come Unto Me," we cordially invite you to worship with us.

Membership Training Class 10:00 o'clock in the Church office for the youth that plan to unite with the church on Palm Sunday.

Morning Worship Service 11 o'clock, conducted by the pastor. Special Lenten music will be rendered by the men of the Booster Class, the Crusader and Cathedral choirs. The message will be delivered by Mrs. Corretta J. Mason, our evangelist for the Trinity and Asbury Preaching Mission, to be held nightly at Asbury. A nursery for small children will be provided.

Trinity and Asbury will unite this week in a Preaching Mission to be held at Asbury at 7:30 nightly, thru the 26th. A short prayer meeting will be held at 7:00 each night prior to the service in the Pathfinders room.

The music for the services will be as follows: Sunday Asbury in charge; Monday, Trinity in charge; Tuesday, Asbury; Wednesday selected solos from each church; Thursday, Asbury; Friday, Trinity; Sunday, Asbury.

The Rev. Nelson Benjamin and the Rev. Olin Shockley will conduct the services nightly and lead the singing. Ushers and Friendly Greeters from each Church in equal proportion will serve nightly.

This Preaching Mission is open to the public and indeed the public is most welcome. We covet your prayers for the success of these meetings.

Altar Flowers this week will be presented by, Mrs. Elsie Niltz and Mrs. Robert Masten in memory of their parents.

The Friendly Greeters this week for the 11:00 o'clock service are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Greenly Jr.

Delaware Food Market Report

Twenty-five or thirty years ago the produce counter had a mighty lean and hungry look at this time of year. Today, with the quantity of fresh fruits and vegetables that are available for us to buy, it is quite a contrast. There are peak seasons for most fruits and vegetables, of course, but every year more and more commodities come to market earlier and remain there longer. There are a dozen good reasons for this wealth of fresh foods.

Plant breeding, for instance. New varieties are being developed constantly, ones that will grow earlier or later in the season, and are better suited to the climate in which they are grown. These researchers also try to improve flavor, size, color and keeping qualities. Corn on the cob, fresh strawberries, peas in their pods and vine ripe tomatoes are a few of these foods that are now on our local markets and being sold at reasonable prices.

This week the outstanding buys at the fresh fruit counter are apples, grapefruit, bananas and some oranges. More bananas come to market during the period of March through May, than at any other time. A good supply of fresh pineapples are available, we are receiving about 50% more now than in February, so check this fruit for an economical buy.

For those of you who have a hankering for a big, juicy strawberry shortcake, fresh strawberries are more plentiful this week, the peak of the season has arrived in many of the growing areas in Florida. Meanwhile, in northern greenhouses, rhubarb is being picked and supplies are good, quality high and prices low.

Three especially economical vegetable choices this week are yellow onions, eastern potatoes and sweet potatoes. Other vegetables to check are: beets, broccoli, cabbage, carrots, lettuce, radishes, spinach, kale and asparagus.

Arrivals of meat measure up to predictions with plenty of beef and an adequate amount of lamb and veal coming in. This weekend with 'specials' prices will be even lower on these meats. Check the following for good buys: steaks, porterhouse, sirloin, round and T-Bone, rib roast and chuck roast, as far as beef is concerned. Leg-of-lamb continues to be a good buy and lean lamb chops are waving a more reasonable price tag once again.

Broiler fryers continue to be outstanding buys. Be sure to buy enough for everyone to have a second helping.

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS
Q—I read that the President had requested that GI insurance dividends be paid early this year. The anniversary date of my policy is in October. When may I expect my dividend this year?
A—It is impossible to give a definite date for payment on a particular policy. However, the VA's target date for completing all 1961 dividend payments is sometime in March, and the VA hopes to complete payments by March 19.

Q—When I file a claim with VA and allege service-connection for the disability, will VA give me a free medical examination?
A—Yes. When adjudication requests a Medical Service to make an examination, it is done at no charge to the veteran.

Q—What is the deadline for entering training under the Korean GI Bill?
A—Three years from discharge or separation from service.

Q—Has VA outpatient medical treatment been extended to non-service-connected veterans?
A—No. It continues to be limited to veterans who have disabilities that are service-connected. You may have in mind the new law which authorizes VA pre-hospital and post-hospital care. This is given at VA hospital, for hospital patients, on a non-bed-occupancy basis.

The Easter Egg and Rabbit
That night when it was time to go to bed, I suddenly remembered that tonight was Easter. I ran down stairs and told mommy that it was Easter. So I went back to bed and said my prayers. I told the Easter bunny what I wanted for Easter. It was a long night. It was cold outside. I thought that the Easter bunny would never come to my house. But he did, because when I got up that morning there was a big fat Easter Egg. And the milk and cookies that we put on the table was gone. My father said he heard the bunny rabbit last night.
When I went to bed that night I couldn't stop thinking of Easter. I found thirty-four Easter Eggs and my father found twenty-six Easter eggs. I won the prize. It was that big fat Easter Egg that the Easter bunny brought. About a week later I still couldn't stop thinking of Easter.

By Barbara Schanding
The Easter Rabbit
One Easter night when everybody was asleep and I was the only one up, I saw the pure white rabbit with the funny pink nose. He was coming up the road with his basket of candy on his arm. I said to myself that I better get upstairs and into my bed before he comes and finds me up. So I just go in my bed as I heard him knocking. Just then I remembered that nobody is up so he would keep knocking. I said to myself that I would go down and unlock the door and then I would run and hide behind the stove. I saw him take some candy and put it in my brother's and my baskets. Then he left our house and went to the other house next to ours.
I was the first one up the next morning. Nobody knew that I saw him that night.

We are decorating our bulletin board. We have Easter eggs and a poem on it. Here is the poem:
Easter eggs, Easter eggs,
What a beautiful sight,
All have so much color
They are fantastically bright.
Easter eggs, Easter eggs,
With many different designs,
There should be an egg hunt
Whether it rains, or blows, or shines.
We are also working in fractions. We have started to reduce them to their lowest terms.

Mr. Kramedas' ninth grade history class gave reports from the newspapers March 7. The class had three topics on which to report, outer space, Congo, or Russia. The students had a vote and the topic which the class discussed was outer space.
The eleventh and twelfth grades are also giving newspaper reports in history. Reports will be given every week.
The ninth grade science classes are studying about storage batteries, dry cell batteries and how they are made, why there is lightning and thunder and a few other things in the unit of electricity.

The world history classes of Harrington High School are studying the renaissance, a time in history when the kings began to lose power and a new middle class of people developed.
Mrs. Graden's ninth grade English class has started a new project; it is the reading of the Homer's Odyssey. The reading will be oral in class and sometimes as homework. Some of the pupils do not have books but they are to listen as the story is read. Later, books will be available.
In earlier weeks 9G had been studying poetry. The students had to pick out their favorite poems and then they had to memorize one. The class found this very interesting as well as educational.
In Drivers' Education the pupils are learning the skills of driving. In addition to the driving involved in the course, the homework, class participation, tests and quizzes count half of the grade.
Everyone is doing well in driving the car and in passing the tests and homework.
The 10th grade biology sections are now dissecting frogs. The object is to dissect the frog so that nothing inside is cut. Thus the insides of the frog can be studied. The students are graded on how well they dissect.

The theme for the month being, "Railroading," the cubs have visited our local railroad yard, ticket office, and the control tower.
They were shown how trains were switched to different tracks, and the signal and gate operations. They listened in on the phone calls coming in from all along the Eastern Shore. In the ticket office the cubs were shown how a train crew is made up and many other interesting things about the railways. The cubs will be taking a trip on a passenger train in the near future. We would like to thank Mr. Nyle Callaway, who planned our afternoon at the railroad yard.
The next pack meeting will be held March 24, in the school cafeteria at 7:30.

H. H. S. Has Been Accredited

The Junior-Senior High School at Harrington has been accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools since 1932. This made the local school one of the first schools in Delaware to become accredited by this association, and Harrington has proudly maintained the approval of this organization throughout the years.
In order to keep an accredited rating, the Junior-Senior High School must be re-evaluated at least once every ten years, and between evaluations must submit reports as to improvements that have been made following the evaluation committee's visit.
In November, 1957, a committee of educators visited the Harrington School and reported for the Middle States Association their findings and recommendations. Among the statements made by this committee were the following:
It was recommended that much more space for an agricultural shop be provided. The report stated there was insufficient storage space for materials and supplies in art and in home economics said, "The conditions under which the department work should be improved considerably if the best results are to be obtained by the teacher and pupils. In short, a new room is needed. A homelike atmosphere is missing because of the inconvenient arrangement of sinks and inefficient and antiquated cabinet space."
The committee also recommended that the industrial art program be improved through the expansion of present facilities and the modernization of equipment.

The school was criticized for lack of adequate music rooms. The committee stated that the library did not have adequate space to accommodate the student body.
Finally, the committee unanimously recommended that if a choice was to be made between the building of a high school and the renovation of the 1912 building, that the old building should be abandoned.
The Harrington Board of Education, in considering the present building program, took serious account of the recommendations of the Middle States Accrediting agency and has suggested building plans which will remedy the deficiencies found by the 1957 evaluation committee.

This program, which includes science laboratories, science classrooms, a home economics area, music facilities, vocational agriculture and industrial arts shops and classrooms, a language room, business education rooms, additional library space, an art room, provision for fourteen regular classrooms and the necessary guidance, health and administrative facilities, will provide the space and conditions conducive to a first-class educational program for the boys and girls in the Junior-Senior High School.
By May 1 of this year an interim report must be made to the Middle States Association that details the steps that have been taken to correct and improve the conditions found in 1957. Approval of the proposed building program at the referendum to be held on April 15 will do much to insure continued accreditation of the Harrington Junior-Senior High School.

Biddy Basketball Notes
 The Celtics, who have been alone at the top virtually all season, were upset by the seventh-place Pistons 14-13 in Saturday's play and now find themselves tied for the lead with the Lakers. The Lakers won from the Warriors 26-19 and the Hawks 22-6 to gain the tie. This sets the stage for the final day's play this Saturday. Through a lucky break in scheduling the Celtics and Lakers are slated opposite each other with the winner emerging as league champion.
 The Eagles, who had previously won only two games, Saturday won two more in a late-season surprise. They defeated the Globetrotters 17-16 and the Warriors 17-13 to move into a tie for fifth with the latter team.
 The Falcons put up a gallant fight in an effort to break into the win column for the first time and failed by a narrow margin as they bowed to the third-place Hawks 19-15.
 In addition to the battle for first place honors, other changes may take place in the final standings after Saturday's play. The Hawks and Globetrotter are only a half-game apart in the fight for third. The Warriors, Eagles and Pistons are also divided by that same scant margin as they decide the fifth, sixth and seventh positions.

Reese Theatre Notes
 Twelve weeks in Philadelphia, the usual extended playing time is six weeks with New York having the unparalleled run of all time. "The World of Suzie Wong" is undoubtedly the world hit of the past five years. So big, so sensational, so many expected to see it, the Reese Theatre opens on Thursday, with a five day run, Thurs.-Fri.-Sat.-Sun.-Mon., March 16-17-18-19-20. William Holden, along with Nancy Kwan are the stars of this picturization of a world of strange places and moralities. Every effort should be made to see "Suzie Wong" from the beginning. The exact running time is listed in the Reese Theatre Advertisement to be found in this newspaper.
 "Suzie Wong" is strictly Adult Entertainment, and for that reason a special Saturday matinee is scheduled at 2:30 p.m. with "Suzie Wong" starting at 4:30 p.m. Saturday.
 Special Reese Theatre presentation makes this the "must see" hit of the season.

Harrington AC Again Trounces Caesar Rodney

Harrington bounced back after losing a close one to the Denton Bobcats 76 to 68 last week. Wednesday night Harrington slaughtered a Caesar Rodney town team 124 to 75. Again everything that went up went in that little round hoop.
 Harrington was paced by D. Dernberger, who tallied 33 points and was also a very big man on the boards. Phil Hodgkins played his usually good defensive and offensive game as he tallied 23 points. Sheldon Hayman played his usual good game as he played all three positions and dropped in 24 points. In his first time out with the Athletic Club Jim Temple tallied 16 points. Perhaps the valuable man on the floor was Len Leyanna. He had 14 assists as he played a very good floor game.
 The scoring honors went to McCants of Caesar Rodney as he tallied 34 points. He was followed by Cole with 19 and Goldsbrough with 10.
