

Referendum on School Bonds Tomorrow Expected to Cause Unusually Heavy Voting

A referendum will be held tomorrow on a bond issue to provide funds for the razing of one building and the building of another in the Harrington public school system.

Voting will be held at Harrington High School and at Pierre S. duPont School from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m. on a bond issue of $480,000, the school district's share of a building program to cost approximately $1,200,000.

Anyone who would be eligible to vote in a general election, if it were being held at the same time, as the school election, can vote tomorrow.

A P. T. A. exhibit, in the store space between Silco's and Clendening Pharmacy, on Commerce Street, will explain the building program.

Baby-sitters and transportation will be provided. See box on front page for telephone numbers.

Cost of the school-building program has been figured as follows: To a family owning no property, $8 per year additional tax; to a family owning property assessed at $3000, the extra tax will be $13.10 per year; at $5000 in property assessment, the extra tax would be $16.50 per year, and on property assessed at $10,000, the additional tax would be $25 per year.

The building program calls for razing the original 1912 building, a fire hazard and erecting a building at the corner of Dorman and West Streets.

Numerous citizens have been campaigning actively for the passage of the referendum and a big turnout at the polls is anticipated.

Anyone needing transportation or baby-sitters in order to vote at the school referendum tomorrow should call EX 8-3244.

New Post Office Scheduled For Greenwood

Congressman Harris B. McDowell, Jr., said today he has been advised by Postmaster General J. Edward Day that a new Post Office has been authorized for Greenwood, Sussex County, Delaware.

This announcement, the Postmaster General advised, coincides with the optioning by Post Office Department Regional officials of a site meeting Department requirements as to cost, area and location.

"This new and modern postal facility," Congressman McDowell said, "will be constructed under the Post Office Department's Commercial Leasing Program, which utilizes the resources and investment funds of private enterprise to obtain needed postal buildings."

The new Post Office at Greenwood will contain about 2,652 square feet of floor space, plus a loading platform. The site, located on the southeast corner of Market and Mill Streets, in the

Legion Auxiliary Sponsors Cancer Crusade

The annual kickoff luncheon for the Kent County Cancer Crusade at the Treadway Inn, Dover, was attended by Mrs. Frank O'Neal, Jr., and Mrs. William Outten, chairman and co-chairman of the Harrington area.

Dr. Robert Frelic, vice president of the New Castle County unit of the American Cancer Society outlined the 5-phase program - public and professional service. Patient care is a growing problem, as revealed by the number of cancer cases (1,054) reported to the State Board of Health in 1960. As indicated by the slogan, "Cancel out Cancer with a Check-up and a Check", regular examinations by a physician is a must, for in the early stages, most cancers are curable.

Dr. Frelic stated that research is the key to conquering cancer. The American Cancer Society currently devotes to leukemia-related research alone, almost $2,000,000. It is worth it? Ask any father or mother whose child is stricken with leukemia. Lung cancer killed 37,000 Americans in 1960. More and more research scientists are devoting their time to studying ways of improving techniques of cancer detection. Some believe it will eventually be possible to produce vaccines to mobilize the body's defenses against cancer. Everyone knows that money for research can help advance the date.

The Crusade is being sponsored in this community by the American Legion Auxiliary, and an effort is being made by the two chairmen to have each resident contacted between now and the end of April. Workers who will help with the solicitation are: Mrs. Marvin Seeny, Mrs. Norman Butler, Mrs. Donald Jester, Mrs. James Hobbs, Mrs. Alex Argo, Mrs. Orrie Hobbs, Mrs. Lester Smith, Mrs. Layton Betts, Mrs. Charles Morris, Mrs. William Cain, Mrs. Vincent Lobo, Mrs. Kenneth Aiken, Mrs. Douglas Mills, Mrs. Fred Martin, Mrs. Oscar Dickerson, Mrs. Lester Hatfield, Mrs. Earl Nelson, Mrs. Randall Knox, J., Mrs. Warren Knapp, Mrs. Brinton Holloway, Mrs. James Rash and Mrs. Jarvis Hurd. Additional campaign workers will be published in a later publication.

Those persons who are not contacted may send or leave their contributions at the Outten Insurance Office, 4 Commerce Street, Harrington.

D.L.A. Applications Being Received For G. E. W. Scholarship

To date, seven scholarships have been awarded. The present holder, Mrs. Elaine B. Mosley, of Dover, Delaware, is enrolled in the Drexel Institute of Technology Graduate School of Library Science.

A special appeal for contributions to the fund is being made this month. All who are interested in promoting library service and libraries in Delaware are invited to send contributions to the G. Estelle Wheelless Scholarship Fund, c/o Miss Cheavens.

Lions Club Brings Doctor To Community

Efforts of the local Lions Club committee, consisting of Curtis W. Melvin, Lester E. Smith, and Robert H. Creadick, have resulted in procurement of a full-time doctor to fill the void created by the untimely passing of Dr. William T. Chipman.

In just five weeks the above committee, through countless letters to medical schools and state medical associations, personal contacts with members of the profession, have located a young, personable, practicing physician; invited him to Harrington for several visits; and have succeeded in selling him and his family on the warm, friendly, and open-hearted spirit of our community.

Doctor Hunter M. Addis, formerly of Downingtown, Pa., now practicing in the vicinity of Wilmington, will occupy temporary residence at 205 Center St., Harrington, today. Doctor Addis is available immediately for house calls and emergencies by calling EX 8-8775.

On or about May 1, the doctor will establish permanent residence and office at 306 Weiner Ave., a house being remodeled to meet his specific needs by Mrs. Mary L. Brown.

The tireless and fervent efforts of the above committee once again exemplify the dedication of local Lions to the fulfillment of community needs.

D. P. & L. to Erect Building For Combined Operations Here

THE DELAWARE POWER & LIGHT COMPANY will remain in Harrington and erect a building on East Liberty Street, it was declared by Thomas E. Clendening, president of the Chamber of Commerce, at a meeting of the chamber and civic representatives Tuesday at The Wonder R.

Clendening said the land would be purchased from St. Bernadette's R.C. Church, subject to a clear deed, adjacent to the armory. Price was undisclosed. Lot has a front of 250 feet and a depth of 500 feet.

The announcement thus squashed a report, current for some weeks, that the power company, which had maintained local and division offices here for many years, would move its operations to Camden and Georgetown.

In the meanwhile, a special Chamber of Commerce committee had been working with the power company to secure a local site. A number of sites were looked at, with the assistance of a real estate agent, in and around Harrington, but the firm's desire to be in the City limits was instrumental in its final selection.

It is presumed all its local operations would be consolidated on Liberty Street. This would take the local and division offices from Commerce Street and all other operations.

The Chamber of Commerce committee, working with the power company, comprised Clendening, W. W. Shaw, J. Edward Taylor, T. Brinton Holloway, Arnold Gilstad, and Charles L. Peck Jr.

A. B. Parsons, division manager here, said his firm hoped to occupy the new building prior to Dec. 1 of this year.

Hitchens Honored

Howell H. Hitchens, station repairman in Milford for the Diamond State Telephone Company last Thursday evening was admitted to membership in the company's famed 100,000 Mile Club at a dinner and safety meeting at Harley's Restaurant at Seaford.

The Club is comprised of Diamond State employees who have operated Company motor vehicles at least 100,000 miles without having been responsible for an accident.

Other new members admitted to 100,000 Mile Club in this vicinity include Ray D. Pusey, station repairman; Harold N. Bailey, PBX installer; and Alton N. Tatman, PBX installer.

Taylor Elected C. of C. Head

J. Edward Taylor was elected president of the Harrington Chamber of Commerce at its April meeting Tuesday at The Wonder R. Other officers elected were as follows:

Vice president, Kesler M. Farrow; secretary, Carrington H. Burgess, and treasurer, Arnold Gilstad. The last two named persons were re-elected. The Nominating Committee was composed of Charles L. Peck Jr., T. Brinton Holloway, and Burgess.

Taylor operates Taylor Hardware, is identified with Taylor & Messick, farm machinery dealers, is a director of The Peoples Bank, and has taken a prominent part in civic affairs, as have the other officers.

Outgoing president is Thomas E. Clendening, local druggist. New officials will assume office at the May meeting.

In other business, the president named Charles L. Peck Jr., general chairman of the Delmarva Chicken Festival to be held here in June, 1962. The event will be held in Seaford this year. Peck has taken an active part in the Delmarva Poultry Industry and is a partner in Peck Brothers Farm Supply Company.

T. Brinton Holloway said he had attended meetings in Dover and that the community wanted an airline and wanted to know what business it could be expected to pick up from Dover and vicinity.

J. Edward Taylor told of a meeting of the Small Business Council in Dover Tuesday night when the group was addressed on unemployment compensation.

HEED CLUBS, DEMOCRATIC CHIEFS TOLD SATURDAY NIGHT

Democratic party leaders were urged Saturday night to pay attention to the views of the State Federation of Democratic Clubs.

Robert F. Kelly, who was administrative assistant to former U. S. Senator J. Allen Frear, Jr., told about 500 persons at the federation's banquet that the clubs which were represented there constitute the grass roots segment of the party.

The speech climaxed a convention at which support was voiced for the State Highway Commission and Robert I. Carey was elected at the head of a new slate of officers.

Kelly, now with the Du Pont Company, also urged dissident elements in the party to set aside differences to work for the common good.

Carney, the new head of the federation, lives at 215 West Grant Avenue, Wilmington Manor. He is a former New Castle Hundred Democratic committeeman, was general chairman of the convention, and has been active in Boy Scout, PTA, Methodist Church and Kiwanis activities.

Other officers elected by the convention include five vice presidents: Marie Hacken-dorn, Wilmington; Laura McCrouse, upper New Castle County; Louise Rowan, lower New Castle County; Ruth Haas, Kent County, and Sara McClain, Sussex County. Mary Doto will be secretary and Dorothy Moore treasurer. Both are from Wilmington.

The federation commended the highway commissioners "for their excellent administration of the highways of the state under Democratic control" and "for their dedication and devotion toward giving the people of this state the best road system at reasonable cost to the taxpayer."

The resolution adopted by the convention charged GOP legislators with trying to "smear" the Highway Department and its employees and that "these political charges are without foundation or merit, are politically inspired and unfairly reflect upon the hard working and dedicated commission and employees."

It continues, "There has been no substantial evidence presented of any self gain or conflict of interest on the part of the Highway Commission."

Also adopted was a resolution praising the work of Delaware State Police, calling attention to understanding, and urging the General Assembly to increase the size of the force.

STATE C. OF C. OFFICIAL TELLS OF CITY IMPROVEMENT

"Communities like Hollidaysburg, Pa., are scattered from one end of the country to the other. Stores line both sides of a main street for three, five, ten or more blocks, depending on the size of the town. Maybe a state or national highway runs through the town . . . or perhaps a modern freeway skirts the community entirely."

Thus spoke Ross E. Anderson, executive vice president of the Delaware State Chamber of Commerce, at the April meeting of the local Chamber of Commerce Tuesday at The Wonder R. Also present were members of the City government, civic representatives, property owners, and interested owners, and interested citizens, all interested in improving the appearance of the local business district. A buffet lunch was served.

Hollidaysburg, Pa., has been quite successful in a campaign for face lifting. The campaign there had been sparked by TV Station WFPG, Altoona, and this station sent information to Thomas E. Clendening, president of the Chamber of Commerce and chairman of a committee working on the project here.

Previous to Anderson's speech, Clendening said: "In a few moments, Mr. Anderson will present a plan which has met with much success in other towns. I would like to point out that, while this project places emphasis on the businessman and owner of property in the business district, it vitally concerns every person living in Harrington. It concerns conditions along Rt. 13 and Rt. 14 at the approaches to Harrington which must be remedied. It also concerns the maintenance of well-kept and attractive homes which would also be of prime interest to anyone interested in placing an industry here.

"If we are content to sit back and lament the increase in empty stores and buildings, deterioration is due to continue. On the other hand, we in the Chamber feel that something can be done to counteract this trend and put Harrington on the upgrade in the near future. Modernization and improved appearances of our business establishments will encourage more buying. This has been proven right here by Taylor Hardware. Surely, this is one businessman who has confidence in Harrington," Clendening said.

Getting back to Hollidaysburg, Anderson spoke as follows:

Through the years, the stores along Hollidaysburg's Allegheny Street have provided generations of townspeople with food, clothes, hats, drugs, wigs, deeds, books, toys, and milkshakes. But sufficient, steady business is not necessarily a guardian against inertia and apathy. Gradually, age, dirt and indifference combine and the whole business section assumes a dingy, dreary, and depressing atmosphere.

Then, almost overnight, new suburban housing developments and quick transportation in every garage expand the shopping radius of hundreds of families. The old shops are suddenly forsaken for greener, more pleasant surroundings "on the other side of the fence." The effect shakes the old business district from the fruit market to the record shop. This was the state of Hollidaysburg, Pa. . . . population 10,000 . . . in early 1959!

The plight of Hollidaysburg presented an action challenge of far-reaching proportions.

A unique idea for the renovation of 75 storefronts and buildings in a five-block section of downtown Hollidaysburg originated in the office of Frank B. Palmer, manager of WFPG-TV. Realizing that the station had a duty to the area it served, Mr. Palmer decided to help make Hollidaysburg a more attractive shopping area through a self-help community project.

The initial planning sessions of what was to become "PROJECT '60" brought together the Hollidaysburg Chamber of Commerce president and the public-spirited Peoples Natural Gas Company.

Steps Taken to Attain Objective

Professor Milton Osborne, head of Pennsylvania State University's School of Architecture, was asked for his ideas on building changes that could be carried out inexpensively and with maximum effect. Meeting over lunch, Professor Osborne looked at an 8 x 10 photograph of a typical building front and then drew a simple sketch on the back of a restaurant place mat.

Skillfully, Osborne used shutters, flower boxes, trees, iron railing, window mullions, paint and gas lights to transform the drab building and its surroundings to a style highlighting the days of the late 1880's, restoring the original charm of this quaint Pennsylvania town. Approximate costs were calculated for the suggested building changes and these were felt to be well within the financial capabilities of the store owner.

"PROJECT '60" began to gather steam!

Within a few days' time (WFPG) photographers took individual photographs of each of

FOUR SCHOOL ELECTIONS PASSED SATURDAY

Voters said "yes" Saturday to $3,667,000 in school construction and higher school taxes in four districts.

Bond issues in the Stanton, Dover Special and Rehoboth Special School Districts were overwhelmingly approved.

A tax increase squeaked by on a three-vote margin in the Caesar Rodney School District, while a bond issue passed with a slightly larger edge in the same district.

Here are the referendum results: Stanton: A $1,680,000 elementary school construction program was approved 732 to 148, with the 1961-62 tax rate set to go up 2 cents to 71 cents per $100 assessment.

Caesar Rodney: A new $1,275,000 elementary school was approved 608 to 508 and an increase in operating expense taxes 558 to 555. The net result will be a 30-cent increase in the real estate tax to 65 cents, and a $5 increase in the capitation tax to $12.

Dover: A $632,000 modernization program for the Central High School passed 660 to 223, with next year's tax rate slated to rise 7 cents to 57 cents.

Rehoboth: A $60,000 improvement program was approved 270 to 50, with a 1½ cent tax increase to 53½ cents seen for next year.

Stanton will add four classrooms and a multi-purpose room to the Lora Little Elementary School in Sherwood Park, in time for September, 1962, classes. These will cost about $300,000.

Planned for September, 1963, is a new $1,380,000 elementary school on the Kirkwood Highway opposite the New Castle County Engineering Building. This school will contain about 20 classrooms, a cafeteria, a multi-purpose room, a library and other facilities.

The Dover vote was considered very light with more than 7000 persons reported eligible to cast ballots.

Improvements planned include modernizing of science laboratories and classrooms, enlarging gym class floor space, and providing new heating and ventilation at the Dover High School. The district will pay $252,800 of the cost.

Another referendum will probably be held in June for a new senior high school, with the present high school to be used for junior high classes only.

Saturday's vote by schools: Central Elementary: 244 for, 122 against; East Dover Elementary: 93 for, 30 against; South Dover Elementary: 250 for, 40 against; and Booker T. Washington: 73 for, 31 against.

Rehoboth will use its funds to make alterations to six classrooms, improve the drainage system, install a public address system and buy equipment.

The local share of the cost is $24,000.

For all four bond issues, the state's 60 per cent share is available from funds appropriated by the 1959-60 General Assembly.

Hatfield to Run For School Board

Luther P. Hatfield announced today that he will be a candidate for reelection as a member of the Board of Education of the Harrington Special School District on May 13, 1961. Mr. Hatfield was a member of the Board of Education from 1956-1960, and was President the last two years of the term.

In making the announcement, Mr. Hatfield said: "I believe that my past experience will aid in working with the citizens of the district on school problems. Some of the problems as recognized by the Harrington Special School District are: (1) Develop an adequate program of studies so that each child will be accepted and allowed to work on his own mental level; (2) Evaluate each child's achievements as to his own ability to do; (3) Provide an environment and facilities by which pupil initiative may be encouraged and furthered; (4) Create an atmosphere in which parents and children can enjoy the confidence and help of his teacher concerning personal problems; (5) Help our pupils live happily in our school and community by providing activities, such as fair play, sharing, co-operation and good judgment which will develop good character; (6) The program of the school should be a co-operative enterprise of both the school and the community and revision of the curriculum must accompany social change.

"I pledge that I will do my best to uphold these objectives and listen with understanding and fairness to any problem that may be presented."

Lower Kent County Republican Club To Hear Russ Peterson

Russ Peterson, from the Legal Department of DuPont, Wilmington, will be the guest speaker Wednesday evening, April 19, at the Republican monthly meeting in Odd Fellows Hall on Liberty Street. All interested Republicans are invited.

Our spring revival is now in progress with the Rev. S. E. Byler of McCaysville, Ga. The Rev. Byler was one time assistant pastor to Dr. Robert G. Lee, one of the great preachers of the Southern Baptist Convention. If you have not yet attended, we invite you to attend any or all of these services.

Baptists believe that Sanctification is not instantaneous but progressive—This is not a denial of sudden uplifts, by which the soul attains to new privileges and powers in grace. Among modern saints, as well as saints of former days, there have been not a few who passed through experiences which greatly enriched their lives. But the work of sanctification is not complete in such an hour; and if a man thinks it has been completed and seeks for nothing higher in grace, that which he has may be taken away, and he will fall into a backslidden state, it may be, of pride and self-righteousness. Whatever heights have been attained there are other heights to be attained. The mountain peaks of God are exceeding many and high. The way of Sanctification is an upward path, with the heavenly heights always beyond. Never in this life is progress stopped by attainment. Attainment is only one step in the progress, preparing the way for other steps in further and more glorious progress. (Wallace)

If you are looking for a church home with a gospel message, we invite you to come worship with us.

Social Security Notes

Social security benefits may now be paid to survivors of workers who died before January 1, 1940, if the worker had at least a year and a half of social security work when he died, says Edward F. Sullivan, District Manager of the Social Security Administration.

Before the social security amendments of 1960, no monthly benefits were payable to the survivors of a worker who died before 1940.

Under the new law, if a worker had social security credit for at least a year and a half, benefits may now be payable to his widow (and dependent mother) if age 62 or older, to his dependent father at age 65, and to his disabled children if they became disabled before they reached age 18. This is true even if the family had collected the "lump sum" at the time the family breadwinner died.

For further information regarding this new provision, get in touch with your social security office at 230 W. Lookerman Street in Dover, Del.

Reese Theatre Notes

Why do so many Maryland folks visit Movie Center? The reason is very simple—after one glance at the bevy of coming entertainment listed in the Reese Theatre advertisement to be found in this newspaper.

For this Friday and Saturday, April 14-15, another top all-family program composed of Tom and Jerry cartoon, plus the Three Stooges, plus Bryon Foy in "Blueprint for Robbery," actually the true story of the famous Brink's robbery, plus a fast moving spy adventure thriller, "Fox-hole in Cairo" with James Robertson Cole. Action entertainment all will enjoy.

Here is something new under the sun. It's the Spring Film Festival to be held Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, April 16-17-18. Two of the very top pictures of the year will be shown the same evening at one admission. The special presentation of MGM's "Go Naked in This World" with Gina Lollobrigida is the first starting at 7:15 p.m. The second starting at 9 p.m. is Frank Sinatra, Shirley MacLaine, and Maurice Chevalier in the great entertainment treat "Can Can". Each will be shown once each evening. The Spring Film Festival presents a rare opportunity for you to entertain with a theatre party.

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q—I am the widow of a World War II veteran who had six months of overseas service. Will I get a pension under the new pension law that went into effect last July 1?

A—It appears that you may be eligible for a pension, but you will not receive one unless you apply for it. Contact the nearest VA office. The contact representative will help you make out your application.

Q—Can I apply to the Veterans Administration for a headstone for my husband's grave? He was a World War II veteran.

A—Yes. Headstones are available for eligible deceased veterans of World War II. Although applications must go to The Quartermaster General of the Army, any VA office will provide information and other assistance in filing the application.

Q—Which VA domiciliaries have accommodations for women veterans to live there as members?

A—The domiciliaries at Bay Pines, Fla.; Dayton, Ohio; Los Angeles, Calif.; and Martinsburg, West Va.

Q—Why are some veterans' "children" receiving pension even though they are elderly persons?

A—Pensions to veterans' children usually stop at age 18 or 21 if attending school or when the child marries. In the case of children who become mentally or physically unable to provide for themselves before they reach age 18, and who remain single, the pension is continued as long as this condition lasts.

Children's Bureau Plans Campaign In Lower Counties

Plans are already well underway for the 1961 campaign of the Children's Bureau of Delaware in Kent and Sussex Counties. Mrs. J. Edward Schell, president of the Board of Directors of the children's agency, has announced that the campaign in Kent County will have Mrs. Richard W. Comegys of Clayton and Mrs. John O. Snyder of Milford as co-chairmen and Mrs. Joseph S. C. Mach of Seaford and Mrs. John J. McNeilly of Rehoboth will serve as co-chairmen for the drive in Sussex County. All four of the co-chairmen for the solicitation are members of the Board of Directors of the Bureau. In process now is the naming of the area chairmen in each county to assist in the campaign. Formal solicitation by mail should begin by the middle of July and extend into the fall.

Mrs. Schell also announced that Mrs. Otis H. Smith of Lewes, a bureau member, will again serve as chairman for the Blue Carriage Ball, a special feature of the annual campaign in the two counties. The Ball this year, the third, will be held at Rehoboth Country Club on Friday, Aug. 25 with Howard Lanin and his orchestra. Invitations to the ball will also be mailed by the middle of July.

The Children's Bureau of Delaware is a privately supported child care agency located at 1310 Delaware Avenue, Wilmington. Its services of temporary boarding care and adoption placement of children are state-wide and available to families of any religion or race. The Bureau is supported in New Castle County chiefly by contributions to the United Community Fund of Northern Delaware, and conducts an annual appeal for funds in Kent and Sussex Counties to help support its services there. In addition the agency receives some support through contributions to the Dover United Community Fund and the Seaford-Blades United Fund. Other sources of income include Levy Court appropriations, adoption service fees, income from trusts and endowment, and support payments from parents.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Notes

Miss Carol McNally, Miss June Thompson, Franklin Fowler, Robert Estman, and Charles McNally attended the Kent County Convocation held at Christ Church, Milford, Sunday, April 9. Representatives from all Episcopal churches in the county were invited to the session. Mr. and Mrs. Robert McNally accompanied the group from St. Stephen's. The young people had an opportunity to enjoy an interesting program. Donald Smith of Wilmington, accompanied by his seeing eye dog, was guest speaker. He outlined the problems that confront a blind person who is guided by a trained dog, and explained some do's and don'ts for the public to follow in their efforts to assist the blind. He showed that well-meaning help can be a hindrance and can result in confusion for the dog and master.

Bishop Emory of South Dakota spoke to the convocation on the missionary work of the church among the Indians of the Western United States. Members of the host church served supper to the young people. The session concluded with a short service of evening prayer conducted by the Milford youth group.

The next scheduled meeting will be at Christ Church, Dover, on the second Sunday in May. At this time officers for 1961-62 will be elected.

Flowers on the altar April 9 were given by Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Raughley, Jr., in honor of the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Granville Hill.

In the church bulletin there is a note of thanks extended to the Women of St. Stephen's who served an excellent breakfast to the vicar, the choir members, and the acolytes on Easter Sunday morning.

Acolytes who served on April 9 were Tim Strohl, Franklin Fowler, Dennis Bradley, Charles McNally, John Yocum, Gail McReynolds, John Winkler, Walter Rogers, Frank Welch, William Thompson.

The Rev. John R. Symonds Jr. attended a clergy conference at Rehoboth April 10 and 11.

The Rev. Nelson Benjamin and the Rev. John R. Symonds Jr. are local ministers on the migrant committee for the Harrington area. Under sponsorship of the Delaware Council of Churches, the migrant Fund Committee is seeking to raise money for two chaplains to serve these seasonal workers, for a new child care center, for support of the one center already established at Staytonville, and for funds to operate a summer school to train migrant children in order that they may "catch up" with others of their age, in education.

Statistics released by the United Church Women of Delaware show that approximately five thousand migrants come to the state each season. Kent County has about ninety camps; New Castle, about thirty-six camps; and Sussex County, about sixteen camps.

Slides showing the migrant camps are available, as well as speakers, who will fill engagements wherever needed. Organizations or individuals may contact Mrs. John Kiefer, OL 4-7889 or Mrs. Elgin Shaw, EN 8-1541, for assistance in this program.

A committee of the Episcopal Young Churchmen helped prepare and serve supper to the men of St. Stephen's at their regular meeting on Wednesday, April 12. The speaker was Fred Gore of St. James' Church, Newport. He directs the work of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew in the Diocese of Delaware.

The congregation was sorry to hear of the automobile accident in which Barbara and Michael Pardee and son, Stephen, were injured. Mrs. Pardee is the former Barbara Smith, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Hewitt W. Smith. We pray that their recovery will be swift and that all may soon be released from the hospital.

The members of the congregation at St. Stephen's are offering prayers for the recovery of Mrs. John R. Symonds, mother of the vicar, who is a patient at Memorial Hospital, Wilmington. Mrs. Symonds has many friends in Harrington, who send their love and good wishes to her.

The vicar, vestry, and congregation extend a note of appreciation and thanks to all members of the Junior Choir, the Junior Choir organist, and the Junior Choir director, Ezra H. Yocum, for their splendid co-operation and contribution to the music program of St. Stephen's Church throughout the last several months, but especially during the last month. This fine and very able group sang at two services on March 19, the occasion of Bishop Mosley's visit; twice on March 26, Palm Sunday, and three times on Easter Sunday, arriving here at 7:15 a.m. for the early service, remaining to sing at eleven o'clock and returning for the evening service, not to leave until about eight o'clock that night. Not only did they put forth an extra effort to be present at these services, it is obvious that they put forth a much greater effort to prepare and rehearse for these services, rehearsing most of the time twice a week. We heartily commend these young people and their leaders, gratefully acknowledging their generous contribution to St. Stephen's and pray that they will be richly blessed as they continue to offer of their talents to God in the sung words of prayer and praise.

4-H Clubs Helps To Develop Useful Citizens

It's important that young persons receive training and have experiences that deepen their appreciation for our democratic way of life. In a short time, they will have the responsibility of preserving our representative form of government and making important decisions.

"Four-H is important for America," said Mylo S. Downey, director 4-H and YMW, Federal Extension Service. He addressed Maryland extension agents during their 4-H Club workshop at National 4-H Center, Chevy Chase, Md., March 30.

Training useful citizens is the real goal of the 4-H Club program, he said. Young persons learn to function within a group and at the same time have opportunity to develop their individual potentialities.

Members praise the 4-H Club program for the opportunity it gives them to learn leadership techniques, increase their ability in communicative skills, explore careers, set their own goals, develop confidence through assuming and discharging responsibility.

In the 4-H program, projects like—growing animals, preparing meals, growing crops, making a dress—are tools to help the individual develop into a useful citizen, reminds Mr. Downey.

He encouraged extension agents to make the 4-H Club program in their counties positive, vital and rich in experiences for young persons.

It's important to build more WHY into the 4-H Club program remembering that "The man who knows HOW builds a house; the man who knows WHY designs it."

Feed Grain Sign-up Date is April 17

Delaware corn growers will start signing up in the USDA's new feed grain program on April 17 in New Castle County and April 24 in Kent and Sussex Counties, according to an announcement by Paul W. Mitchell, state administrative officer of the Delaware Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation program (ASC).

By these dates, the state and county ASC offices expect to have payment rates computed for each of Delaware's 5000 corn-producing farms and have notices of these rates in the mail to farmers. Sign-up and partial advance payments for compliance will begin as soon after these dates as the procedure can be set up. The deadline for sign-up is June 1. New Castle County has 661 feed grain farms; Kent has 1559, and Sussex has 2810.

A number of steps already have been taken and others are planned to acquaint corn growers with the provisions of the program. Informational meetings are scheduled in each of Delaware's three counties and details of the feed grain program will be publicized through press and radio during the next few weeks.

Informational meetings for corn farmers in New Castle County will be held at 8 p.m., Wednesday, April 12, at the Middletown High School, and on Thursday, April 13, at 8 p.m. in Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, Newark.

Meetings in Kent County will be held on Wednesday, April 12, at 7:30 p.m. at Wheatley Hall, Clayton; April 14, 7:30 p.m. Kent and Sussex Fairgrounds restaurant, Harrington; April 17, 7:30 p.m. Fire Hall, Magnolia; and April 18, 7:30 p.m., Bethesda Grange Hall, Hartley.

Dates for meetings in Sussex County have not been announced. Although the details of the new program were made available to state agency personnel only this week, it was decided at a meeting in Dover on Wednesday to lose no time in passing the facts along to corn growers. The main objective is to reach farmers with the information before they start plowing down cover crops that would otherwise qualify for diversion to conservation use. Some farmers already have started plowing fields for corn, but the majority have not.

Mr. Mitchell urged all corn growers to attend one of the information meetings before plowing fields with either permanent cover of legumes and grasses, or temporary cover of grasses, legumes or small grains. "Such land may qualify as diversion acres without further expense or effort", he said.

The feed grain program, passed by Congress only two weeks ago, was developed by U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman to halt the buildup of the Nation's feed grain supply, now at an all-time high. Farmers who agree to take some of their land out of corn and grain sorghum production and divert it to conservation uses, will receive payments from USDA for compliance. Since almost no grain sorghum is produced in Delaware, the program here affects corn farmers.

For most farms, the payment will be higher than the probable net income from the diverted acres if they were producing corn. The main advantages to corn farmers, aside from assurance of receiving income from the diverted acres, are 1) savings in seed, fertilizer, tractor fuel and weed chemicals; 2) savings in personal or hired labor; and 3) eligibility for price supports on feed grains produced on permitted crop acres.

Farmers who choose not to participate on the other hand, will not be eligible for price support on 1961 feed grain production. This means that farmers who have corn in excess of their requirements for poultry or livestock feeding and who do not intend to store the excess for future use, will have to sell it at the going market price. Some observers believe the Department of Agriculture will start releasing some of its surplus holdings of feed grains after the sign up deadline. Farmers not participating in the feed grain program therefore would have to sell their corn under uncertain market conditions.

Details of the feed grain program were presented to state agricultural agency representatives at a meeting at the Capital Grange Hall in Dover, Wednesday (April 5) by E. W. Bazzel, program specialist, Delaware ASC office, and Jacob William Zimmerman, Dover potato grower. Bazzel and Zimmerman attended a USDA-sponsored Eastern regional meeting in Atlanta, Ga., last week where the program was explained to state representatives.

Attending the meeting in Dover were state and county representatives of ASC, the Soil Conservation Service, Farmers Home Administration and the Agricultural Extension Service of the University of Delaware.

Spring is Sprung and the Corn Borers Are Buzz'in

Spring time is bug time according to Kent County agricultural agent George Vapaa. But farmers can beat the corn borer to the corn stalk by making the first move—before May 1.

The way to do this is to plow down or chop up all the corn stalks on the place before May 1. Corn borers winter in the stalks and this is the easiest time to cut down the population.

Recent counts taken by University of Delaware entomologists show an average population of more than 120 borers per 100 corn stalks. Now is the time to hit them before they have a chance to lay eggs for a new generation this season.

Mr. Vapaa pointed out that corn borers feed on the corn plant, slowing its growth and preventing it from reaching full normal size. Besides this loss, many borer-weakened stalks are broken by heavy winds, increasing field losses.

Borers also cause serious injury on peppers.

"So get out there and hit them while they're down," the agent said.

Christianity is the highest source of joy. It is not religion, but the lack of it, that makes people unhappy. "The fruit of the spirit is love, joy, peace." Sanctimoniousness doesn't necessarily indicate saintliness. Traveling the highways of life can be a happy experience. Real religion isn't a false smile, which you turn on for special occasions. It's deeper than that. It's an inner courage and faith which are radiated, even in adversity. This inner faith we find in regular church attendance. The singing of the hymns, reading of the Bible; in short our common worship of God strengthens our faith. Come out to church on Sunday and find the strength and the faith for living. VOTE FOR THE BOND ISSUE

Not too many years ago a school system was doing its job if it taught the boys and girls the three R's — reading, writing, and arithmetic. This work could be achieved in the small buildings with little equipment.

Today requirements have drastically changed. Even employers of non-skilled labor expect a candidate for employment to have finished high school.

As the educational requirements of industry have increased, so have the variety of offerings that a school must provide. Today a modern school must provide industrial arts, science, language, homemaking, social studies, business education, guidance, library work, and agriculture.

It cannot be expected that a student can receive full benefit of an educational program when 25 boys and girls are placed in a chemistry lab equipped for seven, or 30 in a physics room designed for eight, or in a shop with adequate space for three or four workers.

The Board of Education, knowing full-well that an adequate high school preparation is essential for every boy and girl of the district, is attempting to make such a program possible by providing the needed facilities.

A vote for the bond issue will give your children, your grandchildren, or your neighbor's children an educational opportunity equal to those of the boys and girls in neighboring districts.

Miss Connie Parvis, Richard and Wayne Simpson went back to University of Delaware Sunday after spending the spring vacation with their respective parents.

Letter to the Editor

April 11, 1961
To the Citizens of Harrington Special School District:

The future citizens of our Community, State and Nation are the boys and girls attending schools today. They will face the problem of making a living for their families at a time when job competition is keener than the present.

A recent trip through the Southern States convinced me their citizens recognize the importance of adequate and modern school facilities for the benefit of their future citizenry.

Every eligible person should vote "For the Bond Issue" on April 15 to be sure the children of our area have school facilities comparable with other locations in Delaware.

A vote against the construction of modern school buildings for our boys and girls is a vote to retard the growth of our Community, State and Nation.

Respectfully,
WILLIAM W. SHAW

Plant Certified Clover Seed Advises Agent
Many farmers are seeding weed seeds on their farms because they plant untested, locally grown clover seed.

To prove this point, County Agent George Vapaa says analysis of farm grown red clover seed by the Pennsylvania Bureau of Plant Industry Seed Laboratory showed over 80 per cent of the home grown clover seed contained an excessively large amount of buckhorn weed seeds.

Farmers who plant this seed will sow about 75,200 buckhorn seeds per acre. One farmer's clover seed contained 51,000 buckhorn seed per pound. This would amount to over 400,000 weed seeds per acre.

Mr. Vapaa urges seed buyers to read the analysis tags on seed they plan to purchase. The Delaware Seed Law requires that

Food Distribution Conference Ends

This year's University of Delaware Conference on Food Distribution ended Tues., April 4, with the presentation of certificates to food industry representatives who attended the 2-day event.

The conference, an annual short course for food retailers and wholesalers, featured the latest ideas in food merchandising and store management as well as forecasts on food distribution business trends.

Highlighting the first days' presentations was a report by Robert Mueller, editor of progressive grocer, who said "consumer orientation" is the key factor in competition between independent retailers and food chains, and in competition between the chains themselves.

"The local touch is the hottest element in food retailing today. That goes for both chain and independent supermarkets," Mueller declared. "And it helps explain the steps toward decentralization and localization now being taken by many of the national and regional chains."

"Competition in food retailing has reached an all-time high. And because of what many people call a surplus of supermarkets, food retailers today must find ways to operate each food store more effectively, more efficiently, more in terms of the consumer's interest—not the retailer's interest," he stressed.

Richard L. Waddell, marketing editor of Business Week magazine, also stressed the growing trend away from mass marketing and toward regional and area market development. In his presentation, "Business and the New Administration," Waddell said he expects foreign affairs to dominate the attention of the new Administration during its first two years. After that, barring an international emergency, he expects the new Congress to show increasing interest in business trends and the domestic economy.

The role of agriculture and particularly the importance of agricultural research, was stressed by keynote speaker, Dean George M. Worriow of the University of Delaware School of Agriculture.

"Agriculture is a basic industry whose strength and welfare affects everyone," the Dean declared. "Although agricultural production is embarrassingly abundant at the moment, everyone benefits from an adequate food supply. Consumers today have more high quality foods at relatively lower costs than ever before," he said.

He described the School of Agriculture's research and extension programs in food distribution as aimed at greater efficiency in food handling, better maintenance of quality, and improved merchandising.

Another opening-day speaker, D. Brantley Watson, vice-president of McCormick and Company, described good management in terms of being able to get things done through, and with, people.

"What kind of a manager you are depends on whether you look at your employees as commodities or people," Watson said. "In the food industry today, where the watch-word is service, a co-operative attitude is essential. The employee must be made to feel that he is an integral part of the organization, sharing in the benefits of its success. It is the job of the manager to establish the kind of climate or atmosphere that encourages co-operation," he said.

A panel of eight women on the Monday afternoon program voiced some of their pet peeves in grocery shopping. They wanted faster check-out, lower prices instead of trading stamps, fresh produce at the last stop instead of the first stop, high quality meat and fresher produce, and trained baggers at the check-out counter to save them from mashed tomatoes.

Among the comments from the panelists were these:

"I buy my meat and vegetables from one store and my canned goods from another. I've found an independent that does his own meat cutting and I can get exactly the kind of meat I want."

"I'd rather pay a little more and get top quality. It's not that I want to pay more, but I do want top merchandise."

A $250 scholarship, sponsored by the National Food Brokers' Association was awarded Monday night to University of Delaware graduate student Richard Dean Shipley. The award was made by R. L. Fitzwater, chairman of the National Food Brokers' Association, following the Conference banquet.

Fitzwater commended Shipley for his extraordinary academic achievements as a graduate student in food distribution. Shipley is a native of Michigan and received the B. S. degree from Michigan State University in 1959. At the University of Delaware, he assisted with wholesaler and retailer training programs and developed as his thesis subject, "A Study of Wholesaler-Retailer Cooperation." He expects to receive his M. S. degree in June.

The conference participants were the banquet guests of Delmarva Poultry Industry, Inc., and were treated to a "Delmarvalous" chicken dinner. James Davis, Seaford, president of D. P. I. Inc., greeted the participants and outlined the promotional work his organization does in helping to sell Delmarva-produced broilers throughout the East.

He introduced Mrs. Elizabeth Goetz of Lakewood, N. J., 1960 National Chicken Cooking Champion, who described the trip to Europe she received as the grand prize of last year's contest.

The banquet speaker was J. Roger Deas, American Can Co., New York. He characterized agriculture as America's "secret weapon. Freedom from hunger has been a tremendously important factor in America's greatness," Deas said.

"Agriculture, with its spectacular advances in technology enabling one farmer to produce enough food for himself and 35 other people, is the most powerful force we have in our quest for world peace," he declared.

Tuesday morning, Robert L. Bull, food distribution specialist with the University of Delaware, moderated a forum on "Ingredients for Growth in a Changing Economy." Speakers included Mr. Fitzwater; Clarence MacManus, vice president, Food Fair Stores, Inc.; Francis Plowman, vice president, Scott Paper Company; Rudy Treuenfels, executive vice-president, National American Wholesale Grocers Association; and Henry J. Turcotte, general manager, Associated Grocers of New Hampshire.

The consensus pinpointed management's needs as open-mindedness to accept new ideas and research results, and more creative thinking within the industry.

Panelist Henry J. Turcotte questioned the measurement system for success in the industry. He said too often the so-called successful operations are merely being compared with the failures of the majority.

Tuesday afternoon, a group of area food retailers revealed some of their "trade secrets" in a symposium, "Our Best Promotion," in which they described special promotional efforts that increased sales and improved public relations. Speakers included: Nat Cutler, Shaffer's Shop-Rite Markets; Art Gavin, Stan's Super Market; Milton H. Kushel, Wolf's Quality Market; James Maracci, Maracci's Quality Market; Aaron Miller, Miller's Self-Service Markets; Charles Neugebauer, Hearn Brothers Super Markets; Bill F. Schweiker, Schweiker's Market; Charles R. Smith, Smith's Clover Farm Store; Vaughn Truitt, Vaughn and Smitty's; and Willard T. West, Penn Super Market.

The conference was sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service of the University of Delaware.

Benner Credited

With C-R Success

Caesar Rodney School authorities credit George D. Benner, elementary school principal, with doing a major share of the work of informing the Caesar Rodney voters concerning the needs of the school which led to the approval of the two referendums on Saturday, April 8. Mr. Benner was the official representative of the administrative staff in referendum activities. In this connection, he spoke to over 800 people in a dozen community organizations. Prior to going to the public, Mr. Benner organized a fact sheet and formulated a referendum brochure which received widespread circulation. Other activities included writing a series of five articles as news releases, assisted with the making of a film showing needs of school, and finally, made two radio appearances on behalf of the referendum.

It gives me great pleasure at this time to express the sincere appreciation of the Board to the voters of the Caesar Rodney School District for their support of the Saturday referendums. Their support will give additional facilities and new classrooms for the educational opportunities and programs for all our children. It was indeed a great experience. We thank you. James R. Bennett, president, Caesar Rodney Board of Education.

Maryland 4-H'ers Receive U.S. Savings Bonds

Receiving 25 dollar U.S. Savings Bonds are Maryland 4-H members, Thomas Magruder III, Westersport and John Jarboe, Lexington Park.

Bonds are presented by Maryland Association of Mutual Insurance Companies to two 4-H members with outstanding records in safety and fire prevention, says W. Sherard Wilson, State 4-H Club Agent, University of Maryland.

Thomas Magruder made a survey of his farm and home along with 13 others in his area to locate fire hazards. He found 51 hazards and corrected 22 during two years activity in this project. When his neighbor's home was completely destroyed by fire he began thinking of the importance of prevention—especially in areas where fire protection is inadequate. He found the main hazards to be improper hay storage and overloading circuits.

In addition to his work in fire prevention, Thomas has completed a wide variety of projects during his six years membership in the Chicasaw 4-H Club. He's attended State 4-H Club Week for three years where he played piano for assemblies and assisted in the recreation program.

The 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Magruder, Thomas is a freshman at Western Maryland. He's worked with young members of his club in helping them with demonstrations, records and club programs.

John Jarboe began his safety project by removing hazards from his home-stored paper in the basement, inflammable liquids, and organizing a disorganized tool shed. "Around the barn, I look for anything that may be unsafe for me or my animals," he says.

Because of his accomplishments in the 4-H safety project, John won a trip to the 1960 National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

He's given demonstrations on safety with hand tools, made window displays and exhibits on safety.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Parron B. Jarboe and John is a 10th grade student at Ryken High.

Spring Clean-Up Rids Fire Hazards

Spring clean-up provides opportunity for a thorough check-up of fire hazards in and around homes and buildings. It's a good time to check fire defenses and see how they may be improved.

If we clean-up our homes and farm buildings, we'll cut the number of dangerous killing fires, says Joanne Reitz, extension home management specialist at the University of Maryland.

Since rubbish is one of the top four causes of building fires, use special care in disposing of accumulation of trash, oily rags and inflammable materials. Check your home, farm buildings and place of business for fire hazards.

Are there adequate supplies of water for fire-fighting purposes? On the farm, you need a supply of at least 3000 gallons of clean water, immediately available and usable in all seasons.

Do you handle gasoline and kerosene in a safe way? You should keep tractors and other gasoline-using equipment stored in an outbuilding separate from farm structures. Gasoline and kerosene supplies should be stored outdoors at least 40 feet away from any building. If stored indoors, keep fuel in metal safety cans. Observe the "no smoking" rule while handling.

Do you and members of your family know how to call the fire department that serves your area? Can you give adequate directions for reaching your home or farm over the telephone?

Is your home electrically safe? Check to see that you have the proper size wire for the fuse in the circuit. Place pennies in the penny bank and not in the fuse box. Check electrical equipment for frayed and cracked cords; plugs for damage and breakage.

He has won a number of scholarships, the most recent being for study with Phyllis Curtin at Aspen Music Institute in Colorado, where he appeared in leading roles in operas for two seasons. J. M. Clayton Nine Beats Lions 9-4

John M. Clayton ruined Harrington High's home debut as the eBears clawed the Lions 9-4 on Thursday afternoon.

Don Rothermel started for Harrington but could not find the plate with his left-handed slants in the high wind. Loose play afield by his mates also added to his downfall. He left in the fourth inning trailing by a score of 7-2.

The Lions tabled single markers in the home half of the fourth and fifth innings to draw closer at 7-4. The victors neutralized this by scoring twice off George Pfeiffer in the sixth. Walt Lekites pitched a scoreless seventh inning.

Dick Collins turned in the fielding gem of the day in the second inning. A Bear clouted a lousy drive to deep left. Collins raced after it and made a nifty over-the-head catch.

Jeff Adams, George Collins and Leonard Masten accounted for Harrington's three hits.

The locals are now 1-1 in Henlopen Conference play. Thursday, April 13 the Greenwood Foresters will be here seeking revenge for an earlier loss to the Lions at Greenwood. Monday the locals will be host to Felton.

Gov. Lawrence To Speak On Highway Day

Governor David Lawrence of Pennsylvania will be the principal speaker at Delaware's sixth annual Highway Day observance on Monday, May 22.

Announcement of the Pennsylvania official's acceptance to address the luncheon at Hotel DuPont on that day came from General chairman James Julian this week. He said Governor Lawrence's "willingness to come visit a neighbor means that our program will be an outstanding one."

This year's Highway Day is co-sponsored by the Associated General Contractors of Delaware, Inc., and the Delaware Safety Council. Each organization is actively engaged in the promotion of better and safer highways for the State and nation according to Mr. Julian.

Heading an honorary committee for the observance are Governor Elbert N. Carvel; Mayor John E. Babiarz, Wilmington; William S. Rupert, president, Associated General Contractors; J. H. Tyler McConnell, president of the Delaware Safety Council.

Mr. Julian said that a speaker of national prominence will address a dinner meeting the same evening. The program for the day will pattern closely that of the first Highway Day in April, 1956.

"There were several compelling reasons for moving back the Highway Day date this year," Mr. Julian said. "We will now be part of the first annual National Highway Week which will be marked May 21 through May 27."

"This day and week has been set aside at the suggestion of the American Association of State Highway officials to seek wider public support for a highway improvement program," Julian continued. "We are well on our way in doing our part in Delaware to assure the success of this new venture."

According to Mr. Julian, the session will open at 9:30 a.m., at Hotel du Pont for coffee after which the delegates will hear a panel of speakers at the DuBarry Room. After recess and luncheon to hear Governor Lawrence, there will be another afternoon panel session, then dinner and a speaker of national prominence.

Governor Carvel will be on the program at the opening session, according to Mr. Julian, and all Delaware ex-governors will be luncheon guests.

Wed., April 5, Mrs. Hyland Calloway, Mrs. Reese Warrington and Mrs. Raymond Vincent attended the silver tea at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wilson of Ellendale, arranged by the Milford Century Club. Everyone enjoyed the affair, especially viewing the many lovely heirlooms with which the home is filled.

Wednesday afternoon Beverly Vincent visited her kindergarten classmate, Miss Debbie Salmon of Harrington.

Circle your calendar for May 8. The chest mobile will be in town in front of Cahall's Store. Remember to have this important check-up.

Another important date: April 15. A cancer clinic will be held in the fire hall. Anyone desiring an appointment, call Mrs. John L. Stevens, FI 9-4415.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Phillippi and Mrs. Alice Martin, all of Harrington, were Thursday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Davis.

The 15th annual P.H.A. Minstrel which was presented on Friday evening drew a large audience. The group received much praise for the fine performance. Honorary awards were presented to Harry Webb, Nelson Coverdale and Louis Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. James Smith entertained at dinner Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Charles Conway, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ocheltree, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mills, Mrs. Lena Barwick, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Graham, and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Meredith.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Smith were Mr. and Mrs. George Howard of Rehoboth.

Monday evening dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Smith were Mr. and Mrs. William Bowman and children, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith and Leroy Smith.

The Greenwood High School Alumni Association will hold its annual banquet and dance on Saturday evening, April 22. The banquet will be served at 6:30 with the English Grille of Salisbury as caterers. The dance will begin at 9 p.m. and Douglas Woodten and his orchestra of Laurel will provide the music for the dance.

The officers of the organization are working overtime to make this year's event one of the best of the association's 23 years of existence. Lots of fun, many prizes and surprises are in store for those who attend.

The Friendship Class of the Greenwood Methodist Church will hold a white elephant sale, and will canvass the town on Wednesday night, April 19, for all donations. If anyone is wished on Wednesday night, and misses to donate, please call FI 9-4831 on Thursday.

Washington County 4-H Girl is Finalist in Nat. Holstein Contest

Mary Ellen Grove, Hagerstown was one of the four finalists in a national contest conducted by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

In announcing contest results, John Morris, extension dairy specialist with the University of Maryland says that 20 contestants, nominated by organizations in 20 states, participated in the annual event.

Sandra Weiss, Myerstown, Pa., was named National Champion Holstein Girl in judging based on record keeping, leadership, ingenuity and variety of interest as well as success in establishing a herd of registered Holstein cattle.

Maryland's entry in the girls division, Mary Ellen Grove, built a herd of 10 registered Holsteins and compiled an outstanding record in supporting project during six years as a junior member of the national holstein organization.

In the three year period 1956-58, she accomplished a highly unusual feat in showing three different members of her herd to senior and grand championship honors at the Washington-Allegany County Holstein Show.

She also completed highly successful projects in beef feeding, vegetable gardening, junior leadership, citizenship and a wide range of home economics work.

In 1959, Mary Ellen was a member of the Maryland 4-H Dairy Cattle Judging Team that captured top honors at the National Dairy Cattle Congress in Waterloo, Iowa.

The team took part in the international contest at Cambridge, England, last summer and made an extensive tour of European dairy cattle breeding establishments en route home.

The 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl B. Grove, Mary Ellen is a freshman at the University of Maryland after graduating fifth in a class of 343 at South Hagerstown High School.

Despite the demands of her studies, she is active as an assistant coach of aspiring Washington County 4-H dairy cattle judges. She describes the work as "one way of repaying the leaders and friends who helped me so much during my own 4-H career."

Carvel Appoints Magistrate

Gov. Elbert N. Carvel Monday appointed Maurice P. Fitzharris of Ashbourne Hills to be a justice of the peace for Brandywine Hundred.

Fitzharris succeeds the late Raymond Honey for a term expiring April 10, 1965.

The appointment is subject to Senate confirmation.

The Governor also appointed Jack Cozamani, 313 West Twenty-sixth Street, as regulator of weights and measures for New Castle County for a term at the governor's pleasure.

Edward S. Wilson, Jr., of Smyrna, was named regulator of weights and measures for Kent County and Lewis H. Harrington, of Milford, for Sussex County.

The Senate, in a short executive session, also confirmed a Carvel's previous appointment of Charles Ross of Frederica, Waterson Minner of Brandywine Hundred, and Elijah Harrington of Felton to be justices of the peace.

Fish and Game Hearing April 25

A full house is anticipated at the annual fish and game hearing to be held at 8 p.m. in the new State Board of Health Building, (next to the State Armory), Dover, on Tues., April 25. Rodney M. Layton, president of the Game and Fish Commission, will preside over what has developed into a popular sportsman's forum.

The General Assembly six years ago empowered the Board of Game and Fish Commissioners to set seasons and limits on upland game and freshwater fish. Such regulations enable the Commission to manage the wildlife resources of the state for the greatest benefit to both fish and game and those persons who enjoy fishing and hunting.

Waterfowl and other migratory game regulations will also be discussed to guide the Commission in its recommendations to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service who in turn drafts regulations for these species.

Band Concert Next Week

The annual spring concert by the bands of the Harrington Special School District will take place next Friday evening, April 21, in the Field House, beginning promptly at 8 o'clock.

There are three bands in the school district—the grade school band of 30 players, the junior high school band of 44 players, and the senior high school band of 54 players, making a total of 128 student musicians.

For the past several years it was customary to have two nights for this affair with the grade school and junior high bands appearing on one night, and the senior band on another. But with the facilities of the Field House made available for this concert, it was considered more wise to make a concert of all three bands available for the parents and friends of the boys and girls who will appear so that everyone can hear these organizations on the same program.

Leonard Masten, cornetist, and Dwight Hackett, baritone horn player, will appear as soloists with band accompanying each of them. Robert Winkler will appear as the director in one of the marches. All three boys are seniors and will be appearing with the band for the last time.

The public is cordially invited to attend this concert, and tickets are available from any member of the band, or they may be procured at the door.

T B X-Ray Unit For Felton Rescheduled

BREAKTHROUGH: Suddenly Shell makes every other motor oil obsolete —with a revolutionary new formula which fights five internal troubles that can shorten engine life

Hot piston test reveals the ash-free secret of Shell X-100 Premium. A simulated piston is heated and a few drops of conventional multi-grade motor oil dropped on it. As the picture on left shows, this oil leaves a deposit of additive ash. When the test is repeated, as at right, with Shell X-100 Premium, all the oil vaporizes. It leaves no additive ash.

NEW SHELL X-100 PREMIUM.
 Oddly enough, nobody yet knows exactly how Alkaldine works. But the proof of the pudding is in the testing. After 1,200,000 miles of city driving, engines of test cars lubricated with Shell X-100 Premium showed so little sludge that it could hardly be measured.

Trouble #1—additive ash
 Up to now, even the best premium motor oils were powerless to guard against additive ash—because they actually created it. While endeavoring to keep your crankcase shipshape, some of the ingredients in these oils contributed to the hard crust of ash inside your combustion chamber.

Trouble #2—crankcase dirt
 All engines accumulate crankcase dirt no matter how well they are protected by filters. The problem is to stop this dirt from getting together and forming sticky sludge which can clog your engine.

Trouble #3—temperature changes
 Many motor oils tend to become too thick when cold and too thin when hot.

Trouble #4—engine acid
 All automobile engines manufacture acid. This acid can do far more damage than friction. It can eat away at engine parts in much the way stomach acid can cause ulcers. Then you're really in trouble.

Trouble #5—cooling system leaks
 Tiny leaks of permanent anti-freeze can play nasty tricks with many motor oils.

These oils can react chemically with permanent anti-freeze and form a horrible sludge which can actually bring an otherwise healthy engine to a standstill.

NEW POST OFFICE

Town of Greenwood, and comprising about 8,220 square feet, will provide adequate parking and truck maneuvering areas.

According to Postmaster J. L. Smith, bidding forms, specifications and other pertinent data will be available to prospective bidders about May 20, 1961, at which time the Post Office Department will advertise to obtain bids. Thus an equitable construction value will be established on a competitive basis.

"The site option," the Postmaster noted, "will be transferred to the successful bidder, who will purchase the land, and then will construct the building to Post Office Department specifications and lease it to the Department on a long-term basis, with lease renewal options running up to twenty-five years."

Congressman McDowell said, "Because these postal buildings remain under private ownership while leased to the Federal Government, the lessor pays local real estate taxes."

"Furthermore," he added, "because the buildings are constructed with private investment funds, capital outlays by the Federal Government are limited substantially to those for Post Office furniture and equipment."

"Making this announcement pleases me greatly," Congressman McDowell concluded. "This new Post Office will provide the citizens of Greenwood with the latest in modern postal improvements, assuring patrons more convenient mail service as well as providing a much better place for postal employees to work."

CITY IMPROVEMENT

Work speeded to a frenzied pace, since a tight progress schedule has been established at the outset. A "PROJECT '60" Celebration Week was scheduled to climax this thirty-day revitalization project. State and county dignitaries were invited to inspect the results on specific days.

Activity along Allegheny Street was inspiring to see as trucks rolled into town loaded with shrubbery and flower boxes. Masonry cutters sawed holes in the sidewalk for trees while carpenters remodeled doorways, store windows and erected shutters. Pain in pastel shades went over gray unsightly brickwork by the brushfuls in barrel quantities. Idle high school and college students were recruited by local contractors to keep pace with the number of jobs.

Supervising every job, chattering and bantering with their neighbors, were the shop-owners. Many participated in the work during free time, as the spirit of the project grew to greater proportions.

Customers, transient visitors, and residents of neighboring towns became interested in "PROJECT '60", touring the main street, examining the pictures of the original building and the sketches of the proposed changes that were placed in each store window, and comparing the progress of the work . . . as this dramatic restoration story unfolded before their eyes in one short month.

What Were the Results? The original purpose of "PROJECT '60" was to launch Holidaysburg on a program to revitalize the business area and restore community pride. The accomplishment, thus far, in rejuvenating the community's civic enthusiasm is a giant step forward . . . from its origin in March 1960, to the present.

Merchants and business owners who joined the project early have already reported improvements in traffic and sales. But, they also know "PROJECT '60" merely marked the beginning of community spirit and a community do-it-yourself attitude.

As might be expected in any community, there were the usual cautious skeptics . . . those who have to see before they will move. Most of these, however, are moving now to catch up with those who had vision at the outset.

As a vital continuation of Holidaysburg's progress, members of the Chamber of Commerce are already investigating suitable areas for public parking areas to further improve the town's business climate. Buildings beyond repair are to be torn down, and small parks with fountains will take their place.

In this day of continual grasping for State and Federal monies by communities, large and small, the bootstrap civic accomplishment of the business leaders of Holidaysburg has been a refreshing uplifting experience.

What better purpose can community-relation efforts serve than helping to restore pride and spirit to those who live and work together? From pride and spirit come optimism and drive. Only growth can result, creating a prosperous community and a stronger awareness of the community responsibility of the broadcasting media.

Delaware Food Market Report

In Greece it's called "selenon", in France "celeri", in English speaking nations it's called celery—but regardless of what name this vegetable goes by, it's an excellent buy in all local stores this week.

Celery belongs to the same family of plants as the carrot, parsley, fennel, caraway, and anise. The characteristic flavor and odor of the members of this family are due to the presence of volatile oils in the stems and leaves and especially in the seeds. It originated in the Mediterranean countries. As far back as 850 B. C., celery was mentioned in Homer's Odyssey as "selenon."

The French name, "celeri", from which the English is derived, was first mentioned in a 9th century poem written in France or Italy, giving the medicinal uses and merits of the plant. Dioscorides, a Greek medical writer of about the 1st century, recommended eating celery for a sedative effect. (The volatile oil obtained from ripe celery seeds is used in medicine today as a sedative). Another use the ancient Greeks made of celery was as an award to winners of sport contests.

Celery was still a primitive plant when first cultivated in Italy and Northern Europe and grown for medicinal purposes only. Use as food was first recorded in France in 1623. Many changes have been made and today celery is a favorite salad plant. This vegetable is used as a raw salad, either alone or in combination with other vegetables. It imparts a good flavor to cooked foods, is fine stewed and is used in soups, chow mein, chop suey, etc. The leaves as well as stalks are excellent in salads and as seasoning.

When selecting celery the best quality is fresh, crisp and clean, of medium length, thickness and solidity, with good heart formation and branches that are brittle enough to snap easily. Pithy, woody or excessively stringy celery is undesirable, soft, somewhat pliable branches often indicate pithiness, and small hard branches are frequently very stringy or woody.

Asparagus, an outstanding bargain, last week went up in price, however, the following vegetables are cheaper: radishes, squash, carton tomatoes, cabbage, spinach and collards.

Florida started shipping the little white-skinned new potatoes last week and they are now selling at an average of 8 cents a pound. Old white potatoes are now going at reduced prices.

Fruits to check this week are Florida grapefruit (supplies are much larger than they were at this time last year), bananas, cooking apples and a few Florida oranges.

The biggest meat specials are fryers, and a number of beef cuts. Check steaks, rib roast and chuck roast.

Farmington Auxiliary Notes

The proceeds of the bake amounted to $97 all of which was turned over to the fire company.

Mrs. Edna Fleischauer, Mrs. Norma Legates, Mrs. Lucy Fink were welcomed as new members of the auxiliary.

Plans were made for a kitchen shower April 21 at 8 p.m. at which the public is invited. Sponges, dish towels, pots, pans and small utensils are among the many things that would be appreciated.
