

THE MISSES HELEN AND KATHERINE HOPKINS KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Three persons, two of whom were former local residents, were killed Saturday afternoon in a head-on crash on State Route 16, a quarter mile north of Preston, Md.

Maryland State Police listed the victims as Miss Helen Hopkins, 50, of Philadelphia, and her sister, Miss Katherine Hopkins, 48, operator of a Preston beauty parlor, driver of one car, and Clayton Hubbard, 55, Hurlock, Md., operator of the second vehicle.

Seriously hurt were Miss Helen June Booth, Philadelphia, a niece of the two women, who had multiple fractures of the jaw and concussion.

Police said the Hubbard car was traveling west and was on the wrong side of the highway when it collided with the Hopkins vehicle. Miss Booth was admitted to Eastern Memorial Hospital where the others were pronounced dead on arrival.

A double funeral for the sisters was held Tuesday afternoon at the Moore Funeral Home, Denton. They are survived by their parents, Wallace and Della Cleaves Hopkins, of Denton, a brother, Lloyd Hopkins, Chester, Pa., and five sisters, Miss Edna Hopkins, Philadelphia; Mrs. Ada O'Donnell, Wildwood, N. J.; Miss Doris Hopkins, Denton; Mrs. Ruth Ann Towers, Preston, and Mrs. Betty Lee Brunkhorst, also of Preston.

The Hopkins sisters were on their way to attend the fifth annual reunion of the Harrington High School Alumni Association, held Saturday evening, when the accident occurred.

Miss Helen Hopkins was a member of the class of 1926.

The Hopkins family formerly lived in Harrington and at Burrsville.

Chicken Festival To Again Sponsor 3-Mile Foot Race

Officials of the Delmarva Chicken Festival have announced that they will sponsor a three-mile foot race for amateurs, for the second straight year. Last year West Stack of Seaford and the University of Delaware, won a three mile at Selbyville and which was sponsored by the Chicken Festival.

The Kent and Sussex Fair held a successful race of six laps around the half mile track at the fairgrounds in 1959. This started the ball rolling, and similar events have been held at the Slaughter Beach "Big Thursday" observance, the Delmarva Centennial, the Kent and Sussex Fair again in 1960, the sex fair again in 1960, the Selbyville race and "The Fishing Fair," in Cambridge, Md.

Thus, this year's race, to be held at Seaford, Saturday, June 17th will be the seventh of the series. Post time is 2:20 p. m., approximately 40 minutes before parade time. The runners will run over a rectangular course, through the streets of Seaford, which will enable the spectators to see them four times.

Since any peninsula amateur may compete it is hoped that a record number of entries will result. Twenty-five toed the mark at Cambridge last August for a race that was written up in "The Long Distance Log," a national distance racing magazine.

At Seaford, it is expected another duel will result between Seaford's Wes Stack, and John Creighton of East New Market and Wilmington. Stack has been timed in 4:19 for one mile, and 9:43 for two miles. He is one of the greatest distance runners ever to attend the University of

3 Cars Ram No One Hurt

Douglas H. Kates, 23, of Kenil, N. J., driver of one of the cars, arrested on a charge of following too close. He was fined $10 and costs by Magistrate Charles Ross of Little Heaven.

Troopers said Roy L. Hazzard, 26, of Milford, stopped in back of a school bus which was stopped at the side of the highway. Alton Lee Brittingham, 56, of Lewes, stopped in back of Hazzard. Kates swerved but his car hit Brittingham's and drove into Hazzard's.

Firemen Answer Five Alarms

The Harrington Volunteer Fire Company answered five alarms from Friday to Wednesday.

A truck of the State Highway Department was destroyed early Friday morning when burners backfired. The department was patching a road with tar and rock north of town on the road leading from Weiner Avenue. Loss was estimated at $5000.

Early Saturday evening, firemen extinguished a blaze at the home of Olen Perry, Second Avenue. Mr. Perry was asphyxiated in the blaze. Details are available elsewhere in this issue of the newspaper.

In other alarms, the house occupied by W. L. Gates was damaged $100 from fire caused by a faulty stove.

Sunday afternoon the Harrington Diner suffered a small blaze from a french fryer, damage was mostly from a french fryer. Damage was mostly from smoke.

Wednesday noon firemen quickly extinguished a fire in some beanpoles stacked against a tree on U. S. 13 north of town.

Invitations Wanted For Fresh Air Children

Have you ever wondered what it is like to be without—really be without? Be without the necessities of life—without the "three squares" a day or without the privacy of a clean bed to yourself.

If you should ever meet little Jackie you would realize what it is like to go without. Not that Jackie would tell you, but you would see it in his eyes and in his tense, bitter mouth. You would see it in his action. A withdrawn child of 10 years. A child without a father. A child with a part-time mother. A child with six brothers and sisters who struggle as much as he does to survive.

Jackie is one of the thousands of New York's underprivileged children who will get out of school soon for the summer vacation. A vacation of running through the streets of the city. A vacation of playing in garbage-strewn alleys, traffic-congested streets or on concrete playgrounds.

Won't you help Jackie or someone like him to enjoy a memorable two weeks in the country. Show him the wonders of nature. Invite him into your home this summer. These children range in age from 5 to 12 years, and you may designate age, sex and race. The Herald Tribune Fresh Air Fund pays for transportation, liability insurance and all medical bills. The host's expense is that of maintaining a child in his home.

The American Legion Auxiliary is sponsoring this program for the sixth year, and Mrs. Frank C. O'Neal Jr. is chairman. Arrival dates are June 28, July 12, and July 26, and invitations must be extended at least two weeks prior to arrival date.

Australia industry is at record levels.

Fire Death Blamed on Cigarette

A 66-year-old Harrington widower burned to death at his home Saturday after he fell asleep and dropped a cigarette into his chair, police reported.

Olen Thomas Perry, of 300 Second Avenue, Harrington, was pronounced dead by Dr. H. W. Smith, a local physician. Dr. Smith said death was due to asphyxiation and burns.

State Police, who investigated along with Harrington police, said a neighbor saw smoke pouring from Perry's house at about 6:45 p.m. Saturday.

The neighbor summoned the Harrington Fire Company and firemen found Perry in the burned chair when they arrived. The firemen quickly extinguished the blaze and confined damage to one portion of the living room.

Officials said Perry apparently was sitting in the chair smoking when he fell asleep and dropped his lit cigarette. Coroner William Torbert of Dover listed the cause of death as accidental.

Neighbors told police that Perry had lived alone at the house since his wife died last year.

He was a native of Oxford, Md., son of the late Noah and Julia Jewell Perry. He was a retired Pennsylvania Railroad clerk.

He was a member of Asbury Methodist Church, its Men's Booster Sunday School Class; and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Private services were held Monday afternoon from the J. Millard Cooper Funeral Home. The Rev. Richard S. Gibson, a former pastor at Asbury Church, officiated. Interment was in First Methodist Cemetery, Delmar.

Surviving are two sons, O. Clyde Perry, Harrington, and E. Grant Perry, Delmar; a brother, Robert E. Perry, Delmar; and a sister, Mrs. Frank Bertholet, Philadelphia, and four grandchildren.

Sealtest To Close Station

The Harrington receiving station, operated by Sealtest Foods for nearly 50 years to receive milk shipped in cans, will be closed next winter, a company official told area dairy farmers Wednesday night, May 24, in a meeting in Firemen's Hall, Harrington.

But farmers were assured of a continuing market for their milk, probably at somewhat higher prices than they are now getting. The company plans to ship the milk to Camden, N. J., where more milk is used in fluid form than in Philadelphia, present destination of Harrington milk. The higher fluid utilization in Camden results in higher average prices for raw milk.

The company's decision to close the plant was explained by Dr. Roy F. Davenport, field service director of Sealtest, who described the move as "an operating efficiency brought about by the fiercely competitive nature of our industry and our constant battle with increasing costs."

The Sealtest veterinarian also cited the trend to bulk tank farm pick-up as a contributing factor to the company's decision.

"As more and more dairy farms modernize and adopt direct ship methods," he said, "receiving stations for milk in cans will be harder to maintain and operate profitably."

Dr. Davenport suggested that the six-months advance notice will allow farmers ample time to switch to bulk tanks themselves, "if they choose to make the inevitable conversion at this time."

For the farmers who want to continue shipping milk in cans, Sealtest plans to receive the milk at its Worton, Md., station, if the farmers meet requirements for cooling the milk.

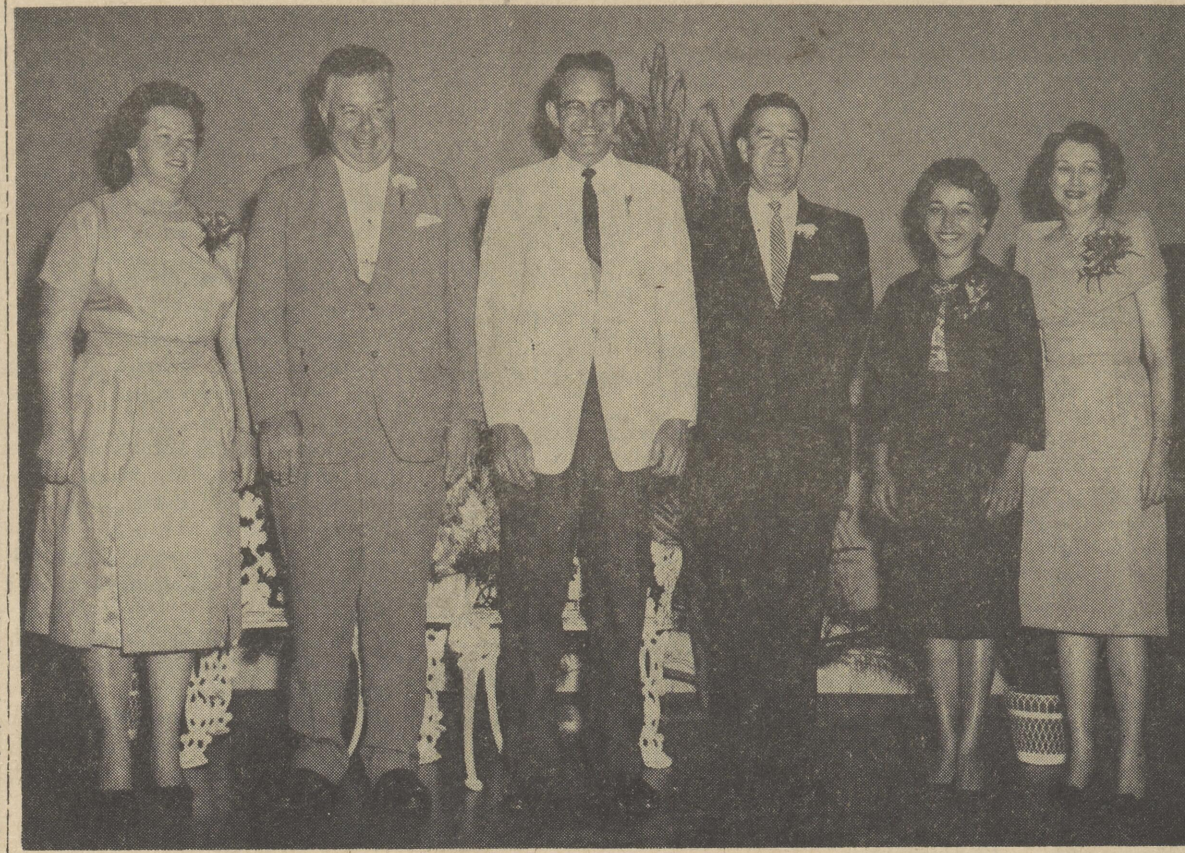

Both the Worton can milk and Harrington bulk tank milk will move to the company's new processing plant in Camden.

April Jobs Down 700 From March

The number of persons employed in Delaware in April was 173,800, the Unemployment Compensation Commission estimated Tuesday.

The figure was 700 below the total for March. The drop was a seasonal decline in agricultural employment plus a reduction in the numbers of self-employed and domestic workers occupied. These groups more than made up for a gain of 700 jobs among persons in other field of employments, particularly construction.

Unemployment in the state was estimated at 12,000, 6.4 per cent of the civilian labor force.

The monthly report on employment, hours worked and earnings in the state was issued by Albert Stetser, chairman-executive director of the UCC. The report said the outlook for higher employment in the next three months. It said: "Seasonal increases in construction, trade, and the services will cause employment to rise sharply during the summer months. In addition, some hopes for additional production in the hard goods industries (manufacture of durable goods) seem to indicate that employment in these industries should also improve during the same period."

Employment among durable goods makers has been declining, and is down 4,400 jobs in the year ending in April. In the same period, employment among makers of non-durable goods was down only 100 jobs. The big declines were in primary metal industry, and makers of machinery and transportation equipment.

Workers in manufacturing earned $1.91 less per week in April than in March because of a shorter work week. Although

Death Investigation Uncovers Home Still

The death Tuesday afternoon of a Staytonville woman led to the arrest of a nearby resident on a charge of operating a still.

Later it was found the woman's death had nothing to do with her consumption of liquor from the still.

Mrs. Mary Robinson, 51, of the Staytonville Labor Camp of John Annett, became seriously ill Tuesday afternoon at the camp.

Fellow residents at the camp were under the impression, state police detectives said, that she became ill from drinking "bad liquor."

State police were notified and Mrs. Robinson was taken to the Milford Memorial Hospital. She was pronounced dead on arrival. An autopsy showed she died of a heart condition.

In the meantime, state police detectives at Bridgeville, accompanied by Robert A. Saulsbury, Liquor Commission inspector, raided the home of John Washington Boon, 39, of near Harrington.

In a second floor bedroom of the frame house state police said they found an operating still and a gallon of "white mule."

Boon was charged with possession of an illegal still and possession of liquor. Taken before Magistrate Paul H. Faulk of Greenwood bail was set at $1000 on the first charge and $350 on the second. Boon was committed to the Sussex Correctional Institution, for the Court of Common Pleas, Georgetown, in default of bail.

Next Sunday To Be Day For Shut-Ins

Gov. Elbert N. Carvel has requested all Delawareans to join him next Sunday in remembering "shut-ins" with visits, letters, gifts and prayers.

Reminding Delawareans that the first Sunday in June is "Shut-Ins Day," Governor Carvel said more than 3,000,000 men, women and children in the United States are shut-ins—confined to beds or wheel chairs in hospitals, sanitariums, private homes, or nursing homes.

"Even though their handicaps, in many instances, preclude their taking an active part in the religious, social and business affairs of their community these people naturally do not wish to become a forgotten segment of our society," he said. "For them, a visit from a thoughtful neighbor, a card or other remembrance from a friend holds special meaning."

Maralee Kirwan, daughter of Sgt. and Mrs. Thomas F. Kirwan, 229 West St., was awarded a scholarship Saturday night at the fifth reunion of the Harrington High School Alumni Association.

The scholarship, for $200, was the first made by the alumni association which intends to make the award an annual one. The presentation, at a banquet in the school cafeteria, was made by Luther P. Hatfield, long prominent in activities of the school and the association.

Miss Kirwan will study secondary teaching in high school at Niagara University, Niagara Falls, N. Y.

More than 450 persons attended the banquet, the largest attendance the association has had in its five-year history. Miss Hazel Johnson who, with her staff served the dinner, said it was the largest she had seen in the cafeteria. Unsolicited comments stated the menu was excellent in every respect.

After the banquet, a dance was held in the field house to the music of Lou Parris and his orchestra. The ballroom was exquisitely furnished because of the effort of the Junior Class which had held its prom there the night before.

A highlight of the banquet was the presence of the Senior Class of Harrington High School. The class numbers 49 members, the largest in the history of Harrington High School. The number to be graduated is 47, with two members receiving certificates of attendance. One graduate will be William Thompson, freshman at the University of Delaware.

By examination, Thompson entered the university at the end of his junior year in Harrington High School. Sponsors of the Senior Class are Alan B. Rutledge and William Kramedas.

Another highlight of the evening was the introduction of officers of the alumni association for 1961-62. They are as follows: President, Randall H. Knox Jr., '39; vice president, Albert C. Price, '43; recording secretary, Mrs. Frances Hatfield, '35; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Thelma S. Rash, '49; recording historian, Mrs. Zita Z. Hatfield, '43, and treasurer, George P. Tatman, '26.

Officers for 1960-61 were Carrington H. Burgess, '25, president, who presided at the banquet; vice president, Mr. Knox; recording secretary, Mrs. Mildred P. Minner, '29; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Rash; recording historian, Mrs. Zita Z. Hatfield, and treasurer, Mr. Tatman.

Social Security Notes

Your social security account number is not just a number; it identifies an account, a record of your earnings which will determine your right to social security benefits. This information was given today by Edward F. Sullivan, manager of the Dover social security office.

At birth, Sullivan said, everyone is given a name to identify themselves throughout their lives. Many people may have the same name, but an individual's social security account number is exclusively theirs—a personal record of increasing value, insurance for the future.

Every worker should show his social security card to his employer, to make certain the employer lists the correct number when he reports the worker's wages to the Social Security Administration. Every self-employed person should make certain his correct social security number is shown on his Federal tax return.

Failure to report the correct social security number makes it difficult for the social security office to identify the worker or self-employed person who should be credited with the earnings.

"Failure to take these simple precautions with your social security account," Sullivan continued, "can be quite costly. It may cost you or your family benefits to which you are entitled."

Persons who have lost their card should apply to the nearest social security office and ask for a duplicate card with the same number, he concluded.

Farmer Is Secretary Of State Agriculture Board

Molloy C. Vaughn of Lewes has been named secretary of the Delaware State Board of Agriculture. Vaughn's appointment to the $6,250 a year job followed a recent reorganization which put the board under Democratic control. In the reorganization, John G. Tarburton, of Dover, was elected to succeed C. Fred Fifer, of Wyoming, no longer a member of the board.

Other new board members are Earl L. Sheets, of Middletown, successor to Victor P. Kohel, of Middletown; and Charles Mills, of Rehoboth, successor to Robert A. Short, of Georgetown.

John L. Clough, of Dover, had been serving as acting secretary. The board named J. Harold Schabinger, of Felton, to succeed Ralph W. Wine in the $4800-a-year position of director of the Bureau of Markets. Jack Blades, of Bridgeville, succeeds C. Pope Spicer as assistant director.

Alice Ransom, of Dover, a former Motor Vehicle employe, succeeds Mrs. Virginia M. Simmons in the $3800-a-year job as chief clerk.

Vaughn operates a turkey and dairy farm near Lewes. A former county agricultural agent, he is also former chairman of the State Board of Welfare, predecessor of the Department of Public Welfare.

He was a member of Sussex County Levy Court from 1949 to 1954.

Motor Fuel Tax Receipts On Increase

Receipts from motor fuel taxes, which showed a reduction for the months of January and February, started back to a normal condition with an increase reported for the month of March.

James J. Deputy, Secretary of the State Highway Department, and Administrator of the Motor Fuel Tax Division has issued a report showing receipts for March at $766,727.29, which is an increase of $61,528.58 over the receipts for March of last year and $57,506.27 more than was received during March of 1959.

The report, which was prepared by Roy B. Kemp, Jr., Supervisor of the Division, showed that the receipts for March represented the sum of 15,334,545 gallons of motor fuel, an increase of 1,230,572 gallons over the amount sold during March of last year.

The report indicated that there were 66 concerns bonded as motor fuel distributors in this state during the month of March and of this number 12 reported no sales for the month.

Four of the concerns reported sales that produced $386,983.49, or about 50 per cent of the tax received for the month. They were Atlantic Refining Company, $88,924.40; Gulf Oil Corporation, $87,860.66; Humble Oil & Refining Company, (Esso) $154,392.18 and Tidewater Oil Co., $50,801.06.

More Cows Can Be Costly To Dairymen

Dairy farmers must plan carefully to keep their expansion costs as low as possible, says George Vapaa, Kent County agent.

"Remodeling old buildings isn't always the way to keep expansion costs down," Mr. Vapaa says. "For one thing, cost of a lounging area should not be more than $1 per square foot."

If old buildings are poorly located for drainage, do not allow enough overhead clearance, or waste labor, they may have a negative value in a new system. Some dairy farmers who remodeled old buildings say they would have been better off if they had selected a new site and started from scratch.

Dairy-farm mechanization can save labor and time, the agent says, but it can also increase expense of operation. This means more pressure for higher output per man which is why so many dairy farmers have invested in various combinations of more land, buildings, machinery and cows.

Many times, a minor expansion by adding a few cows, putting in a bulk tank and remodeling an old building is enough, Mr. Vapaa says. But sometimes a major expansion is needed, and it may take eight to ten years to reach the new size.

Polio Immunization Campaign to Begin In Kent County

The 1961 polio immunization clinics in Kent County, sponsored jointly by the State Board of Health, the State and County Medical Societies of Delaware and the National Foundation began Friday, at Hartly.

Nationally, the Public Health Service, the American Medical Association and the National Foundation are co-operating in a renewed drive to end the menace of polio epidemics everywhere.

Three properly spaced shots of Salk vaccine and a fourth, or booster shot, a year later have proved highly effective in reducing paralytic cases. Yet despite repeated medical advice, some 67 million persons remain totally unvaccinated and more than 18 million only partially protected. Almost 75 per cent of all paralytic cases reported in 1960 were people who were not fully vaccinated or not vaccinated at all. If polio strikes in 1961, it will reach out for those who have not built up their defense against its crippling.

Even though polio occurs the year round, there are more cases during the warm summer months and early fall. It is, therefore, most important that at least the first two shots in a series be taken before the summer season in order that the immunizing effect can take place early to be most effective. Since the first two shots should not be given as less than several weeks apart, it is important to start the series as early as possible. While the first two shots give fairly adequate protection, it is the third shot given seven or more months after the second that gives the greatest boost to immunity. A fourth shot a year after the third gives even more protection. It is especially important that pre-school children be vaccinated. Also parents of young children, especially expectant mothers should act to protect themselves immediately.

The following free clinics in Kent County are available to everyone and are scheduled for:

- Fri., June 2, Dover, Carroll's Sale, 9-11 a.m. and 1-3 p.m.

Kent-Sussex Fair To Feature "Grand Ole Opry"

Fair patrons will have an opportunity to see and hear in person such outstanding entertainers as Minnie Pearl, Kitty Wells, Roy Acuff, Tex Ritter and others of the Grand Ole Opry when it is presented at the Kent-Sussex Fair Sunday afternoon and evening, July 23. Minnie Pearl, in her straw hat and "yaller" dress has become a symbol in America. Always happy, her "Howdy! I'm jest so proud to be here," has greeted fans from Maine to California.

Few, if any, female singers sell as many records as quiet, amiable Kitty Wells, a sincere person, dedicated to country music. An active church worker and a true daughter of the south, her lure at the box office genuinely qualifies her as the "Queen of Country Music." Governor Frank G. Clement of Tennessee in 1953 presented her a testimonial which included this praise:

"Kitty Wells, in addition to her artistry, demonstrated that she is an outstanding wife and mother in keeping with the finest traditions of southern womanhood."
Tex Ritter, America's most beloved cowboy, defies either a listing of his appearances or a description of his varied talents. His engagements on radio and television, in theaters and motion pictures, recordings and charity appearances are too numerous to inscribe. However, it can truthfully be said that Tex Ritter has appeared nationally for many years in every major showplace in the country. He, and Roy Acuff, are favorite entertainers of young and old alike.

The Kent-Sussex Fair is proud to be able to present this outstanding, high calibre entertainment to their thousands of patrons.

Flys? No! Ticks? Yes!

You say you don't have any flies on you? OK, but how about ticks? You have to check a bit on that one don't you? And how about man's best friend? Yes, it's tick time again.

Dr. Dale F. Bray, chairman of the entomology department at the University of Delaware, has some tick control suggestions you might want to use.

Check yourself and the children every night at bedtime. Look behind the ears of children, in their hair and in the folds of the skin. Use an antiseptic on the skin when you remove a tick. Pull the ticks off with fingers or tweezers. The ticks in the Delaware area do not leave the head under the skin when they are pulled off.

You can't assume that there are no ticks in any particular area. Ticks are found almost anywhere so play it safe and look for them before the family goes to bed.

Bray says you can solve your dog's tick problem by rubbing DDT into his coat. Use about four tablespoons of five per cent DDT dust.

To destroy ticks in your yard or other areas infested with ticks use a five per cent dust of DDT at four pounds per 1,000 square feet, or a five per cent dust of Chlordane at the rate of one and one-fourth pounds per 1000 square feet.

If you prefer a spray, mix either of the following chemicals in 25 gallons of water: four pounds of 50 per cent DDT, or two and a half pounds of 40 per cent Chlordane. These amounts will cover one acre, Bray said.

Newark Residents Can Aid In Developing International Relations

Residents of the City of Newark have a rare opportunity to demonstrate to students and visitors the ideals for which our country stands. Foreign nationals are frequent visitors to the campus of the University of Delaware...

The entire Newark community can share in the satisfaction of helping to favorably influence this young man as a foreign ambassador for our country. But all of the young people who come to Delaware from abroad do not have the same advantages.

The university is making every effort to provide adequate counseling, proper instruction and a happy home for its foreign students. Residents of the Newark community can help in this important job in international relations.

Three Local Lads Score In State Track Meet

Harrington was well represented at the 46th annual Delaware Interscholastic Track and Field Championships at Frazer Field, Newark, on Saturday. Three boys from here were pointmakers in the giant meet held at the University of Delaware.

Harry Knotts was second in the mile run and George Pfeiffer was fifth in the broad jump in the high school section. Ken Tharp, a freshman at William Henry High in Dover, is the new state champion in the junior high 220 yard dash.

Knotts deserved a better fate. He arrived at the field prepared to run, as advertised, against five other runners. Six slower milers were to run in a second heat with the final winner being the runner with the fastest time.

The winning time of 4:38 was matched earlier this season by Knotts on the Harrington oval which is at least one second per lap slower than the university track.

About seventy girls from all over the Eastern Shore gathered on Saturday morning at Camp Todd for two days of intensified camping experience. The girls pitched their own tents and prepared all meals by charcoal cooking.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor: I am sorry to read the Kent and Sussex Fair would hold its big performance on the Lord's Day. I know this will lead some to believe I am fanatic. Fanatic means one with wild enthusiasm this may be true, for I am enthused with Christ. My Bible says whatsoever you do in word or deed do all for the glory of God, and I was under the impression many of our Fair officials were leaders in the church. I wonder if our Ministerial Association protested, or were informed or, is everything all right. I am writing this out of a loving heart, and concerned about our moral standard and what our forefather stood for to make this world a better place to live. I thought we as a Christian Nation had set this day aside to worship our Lord and Saviour in spirit and truth. We need as Christians to not forsake the assemble of ourselves together and so much more as we see the day approaching. Think it over, does God have pre-eminence? Yours truly Roland Melvin Jr.

U. of D. Students Perform Well In Placement Interviews

"How does the placement office at the University of Delaware train its students in the proper manner to conduct themselves during interviews?" a Delaware senior was recently asked by a prospective employer.

"Considered as a group," the employer continued, "the students from your small university stand head and shoulders above any other college or university seniors whom we have invited here in this respect."

University officials believe that the success of Delaware students in placement interviews reflects not only the wise counsel of Mrs. Geraldine M. Wyatt, director of the placement office, but the well rounded education which students receive during their four years at the university.

Baptists believe that because of the change brought about in regeneration, the soul enters upon a life of obedience to God—Regeneration brings not only new privileges, but also new responsibilities. The new-born man is not simply saved from spiritual death but, started also upon the activities of spiritual life, finds himself in a new realm. It is the realm of love, but also of law; of a law which is based on love. He looks for God, he tends toward God, he has a disposition to obey God. He has been made fit for spiritual activity, and disposed toward conformity to God's will.

Trinity Methodist Church News

Many, many people are fooling themselves with counterfeit thoughts about God. For over three thousand years God has been asking mankind to keep his day holy, to set aside one day in seven for worship.

The world as a whole has rejected God's plea. The world was convinced it could build a better Kingdom than God could. Now we know how completely it has failed.

Let us not fool ourselves any longer. We either reject or accept God's weekly call to worship. There is no half way.

Sickness or some emergency can keep us at home. But if we want to believe that we are earnest, if we want God to believe it too, then it must be the kind of sickness or emergency that would keep us from our business or some social engagement.

Why not try God's way? God cannot be wrong. Why not give His way a trial? Why not resolve to be present in the House of Prayer every Sunday, God willing, God giving you the strength to be there. Find your place in church Sunday.

Sunday, June 4, 9:45 o'clock—Sunday School. William Jester, general superintendent; Virginia Shultie, Primary superintendent. Class for all ages—everyone welcome.

11 o'clock, Worship Hour. Special music will be by the Senior Choir, under the direction of Mr. Melvin Brobst.

A nursery is now being provided during the morning worship hour.

7:30 o'clock, annual Children's Day program. Will be presented by the Primary Department of our Sunday School. Greenwood

The Greenwood Lions Club entertained their "Lionesses", or as the club says it, "our lovely ladies" at a Ladies Night dinner on Tues., May 23. During the dinner, Frank Jackson of Milford and Ralph Hoebe of Milton entertained the group with their guitars and ballads. Lion John Mariner acted as master of ceremonies. Lion Ed Hall and Mrs. Hall were special guests. Lion Hall inducted a new member, Lion Al Stort Jr. into the club and also installed the new officers for the coming year. Donna Kay Wilson, who is "Miss Delaware" and Debbie Cannon, who is "Miss Greenwood" were also guests.

Other guests were the winners of the woodworking awards. The Lions Club awarded first prize to Gerald Willey, second to Phillip Gallo, and third to Julian Woodall in the high school; one prize in elementary —first to Earl McDowell.

After the dinner, the group moved over to the V.F.W. Hall and were entertained by a local group calling themselves the "Night Wranglers" who did a fine job of entertaining with their songs and guitars with our own Diane Draper on drums. This group delighted their audience with music for dancing and listening. They should go places if they keep up the good work.

Mrs. Huey Jackson was a luncheon guest of Mrs. Jacob Hatfield on Wednesday.

Sunday visitors at the Earl Hawks of Hawks' Nest were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kauffman of Pensauken, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. John Spear of Philadelphia.

Rehoboth Art League News

This early tide of the League's season will occur Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m., June 3, in the League's two studios: the photographers of the Camera Club will show in the Paynter Studio, the painters and sculptors in the Corkran Studio. In addition, this year, there will be a showing of photographs of religious and garden sculpture from the National Sculpture Society of New York City in the Seaward Wing of the Corkran. Mrs. J. Townsend Tubbs of Rehoboth Beach is chairman of this exhibition. Mrs. Marian Howe of Millville, Messrs. Herman Getz and Walter Fisher of Rehoboth Beach, co-chairmen of the Camera Club show.

The opening Sunday tea will be held next Sunday, June 4, from 2 to 5 p.m. in the Corkran, with Mrs. Robert L. McClellan of Wilmington and Rehoboth receiving, assisted by Misses Frances and Maude Dilcer of Rehoboth. The public is invited, free.

Sat., June 3, a jury, composed of Mrs. Nance Hall Asher of Denton, Md., Mrs. Madeline Dunn of Laurel (and Seaford) and Orville H. Peets of Herring Creek, Millsboro, will meet to confer the Ethel P. B. Leach Memorial Award of $50 made available by five friends of Mrs. Leach to a painting in traditional style, and the $35 anonymous award for the best painting, whose locale is within 10 miles of the Studio.

This year, the last named award has called out an unusual number of fine contenders for the honor of the best picturing this Rehoboth and vicinity scene; this jury will have no easy task selecting it.

In fact, the committee was quite excited by the quality of work received by early Sunday afternoon the next to the last day to submit exhibits: work from our artist members in California, Virginia, Washington, Baltimore, the vicinity of Philadelphia, and other place in Pennsylvania, from many towns on the Delmarva Peninsula, as well as from Lewes and Rehoboth. They were in oils, water colors, pencil, ink and collage; a 16 inch high ceramic sculpture of a raccoon received from Katherine Hobbs of Washington, D. C. fits our "Truly Rural" atmosphere (to quote Richardson Wright), for within a stone's throw of the studio, just last week, an opossum who had taken up residence in a bird house atop a grape arbor, objected to the spraying of the said grape arbor and, in a huff, decamped along with her family of two young opossums!

This Members' Exhibition will continue until July 12; 8 other awards being made by popular vote, a 7th and 8th award being by jury in the Camera Club section. Open every afternoon including Sunday, 12:30 until 5:30 p.m., and, from June 26 from 9 a.m., five days a week.

Saturday, June 10, at 10 a.m., the first of the sculpture classes will be held in the Seaward Wing, with Gina Plunguian of the Delaware Art Center, Wilmington, as instructor. Painting and drawing classes begin June 28.

Century Club Notes

The Harrington New Century Club was the recipient of an award for music at the 64th annual Convention of the Delaware State Federation of Women's Clubs. Winners of annual awards were announced at a luncheon on the second day of the convention held in Dover, May 24 and 25.

Mrs. Ralph Baker, music chairman awarded the Harrington Club one of the two prizes given in Kent County. Mrs. Nelson Benjamin, music chairman for the club was not present, but Mrs. Ridgely W. Vane accepted the award for her. Mrs. Vane and Mrs. William A. Minner attended the day sessions as delegates to the convention. Mrs. Theodore Harrington and Mrs. Oscar T. Roberts represented the club at the president's banquet on Wednesday evening. The sessions were held in the Murphy School, with luncheons in the Treadway Inn, and the banquet at the Dover High School. Mrs. William N. Cann, state president, presided at the meetings.

Another honor will come to the Harrington Club, indirectly, this weekend when the Club's American Home's chairman, Mrs. Arnold Gilstad, will present what might be called a "one woman show", in the John Wanamaker Store in Wilmington. Mrs. Gilstad will have 28 or 30 of her paintings on display in the store during the next three weeks. Those who are familiar with her talent and the beautiful work she has done will want to see her paintings at the store. Mrs. Gilstad was also instrumental in getting Mr. Schroeder to Harrington to teach an art class in the Harrington New Century Club this year.

At the Wicomico Art Exhibit held in Salisbury this spring, Mrs. Gilstad received a $25 prize for one of her paintings, when she was presented with the Adele Bennett Award.

Veterans News

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—I know of an employee of a Federal non-military agency who became ill overseas and was rushed back to the U. S. and into a VA hospital. He is not a veteran. How can he receive VA care?

A—As a beneficiary of the Federal agency, on request of this agency to the VA. About 0.3 percent of the VA hospital patient load is made up of non-veterans for whom the VA receives reimbursement. Included are military personnel on active duty and Federal employees injured or disabled in the course of their employment.

Q—Will the VA accept a court order declaring presumptive death after a seven year unexplained absence of a veteran?

A—Not usually. However, the specific facts should be presented to the nearest VA office for an individual ruling.

Q—Is Confederate service the same as Union service for the purpose of VA benefits for dependents?

A—Yes, widows and helpless children of Confederate veterans have been eligible for pension payments since July 1, 1958.

Q—My foster son was killed in service recently. We raised him since he was a baby. Am I entitled to benefits? I have no income.

A—Yes, get in touch immediately with your nearest VA office.

Traffic Laws Are For YOU Too

When you would prefer to drive 10 or 15 miles over the speed limit — when you would like to go the other way down a one-way street — when you would like to park in a no-parking zone or do some other thing that is contrary to the rules yet which seems harmless to you — these are the times when you might feel that traffic laws are against you.

But then, when you see someone else highballing at a dangerous speed, zooming through a school zone, driving under the influence of alcohol — then you wonder where the traffic officer is.

Too many of us seem convinced that traffic laws are for the other fellow — and only for him. We want laws to protect us against the reckless, irresponsible drivers — and so they do. Yet traffic laws serve a double purpose. They protect us against the unsafe driving of others, true, but they are also designed to serve as a guide as to how to use the streets and highways with the greatest safety and convenience — and to protect other drivers (and pedestrians, too) against our own misdeeds behind the wheel. It is no more than the act of an intelligent person to protect others by knowing and observing those same regulations we depend upon to save us from the rash behavior of other drivers and pedestrians.

Violators pay an extravagant price for willful or thoughtless flouting of traffic laws. They exact a senseless price from the blameless victims of the accidents they cause. Yet more than half of the drivers involved in fatal accidents are violators of traffic regulations at the time of the accident. The fatal accidents in which these violating drivers are involved accounts for almost three-quarters of all fatal accidents. Excessive speed heads the list of violations contributing to fatal accidents in both urban and rural areas. Right of way violations rank second in cities, and driving on the wrong side of the road tie for second in rural areas.

Harrington Jaycee Notes

The Jaycees at their meeting on May 25, at Kimmey's Restaurant, will help the independent baseball team. After hearing James Cabbage, explain his need for financial assistance and assistance of a few men the club decided to contribute as much as is possible. The baseball team will consist of boys from 12 to 16 years of age who could not make the other teams in town. These boys are left without anything to do so Mr. Cabbage and Leslie Simpson, Jr., have taken upon themselves to help these boys. They need as much help as possible.

Arrangements are underway to hold our annual car wash on June 10 at the Pure Oil Station on Route 13.

Medical Scholarship Program Underway
The state medical society is looking for qualified college students who want to be physicians. The Society has scholarship funds available to assist residents of Delaware with their medical school expenses.

Available for the first time this year, the scholarships are designed to make possible and encourage more local students to enter medicine, with the hope that they will return to the state to practice. The funds are raised by a dues increase voted last fall by the Medical Society of Delaware.

The grants will be for a maximum $2000 per student over a four-year period. The doctors hope to assist one or two new students each year.

Dr. Leonard P. Lang, chairman of the administering committee said "We realize that these scholarships will not pay the major cost of a medical education. We hope, however, to lessen the gap between the large amounts of money available for postgraduate education in other sciences, particularly physics and chemistry, and the relatively small amounts in medicine, which is, after all, the most expensive of graduate educations."

There will be no strings attached to the scholarships. While the Society hopes that recipients will practice here, and will point out that if the money is returned it can be used again, the money will be given, not loaned, and the only requirement for continued support will be maintenance of a reasonably good academic status. No help will be given to students who are still in college, on the grounds that other scholarship help is more readily available in undergraduate schools, and that the student should demonstrate an ability to finish pre-medical training before being considered for help toward the M.D. degree.

Applications for scholarships should be sent to the Medical Society of Delaware at 1925 Lovering Ave., Wilmington. Although the program will be continued indefinitely, the Society will consider applications now only from 1961 graduates who have been accepted by a medical school, or from college students who will graduate in 1962 and plan to enter medical school in September of that year.
