HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES ITS LARGEST CLASS

Harrington High School's largest graduating class heard its valedictorian, Delores Brown, speak on "Social Attitudes Towards Life" Tuesday evening in the field house.

The Senior Class numbered 49, of which 47 were graduated, with two members receiving certificates of attendance.

Miss Brown is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Brown.

The salutatory address was delivered by Maralee Kirwan, daughter of Sgt. and Mrs. Thomas F. Kirwan, 229 West St. It was entitled, "Duties to Our Country."

Third honor address was delivered by Jean Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin. Fourth honor address was delivered by Beatrice Collins, daughter of Mrs. Paul Stubbs, and fifth honor address was given by Audrey Lord, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lord.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Olin Shockley Jr., pastor of Asbury Methodist, with the benediction being given by the Rev. William Miller, pastor of Pilgrim Holiness Church.

The Class of 1961 was presented by Albert W. Adams, superintendent of schools, and the presentation of diplomas was made by Roland Hitchens, president of the Board of Education.

Leonard Masten sang "The Lord's Prayer," and the Glee Club, directed by Melvin Brobst, and accompanied by Lois Larimore, sang several numbers.

Following is a list of awards made to members of the graduating class at or towards the end of the school year:

Student Council Best All Around Student Award, Bonnie Dickerson; Balfour Highest Achievement Award, Delores Brown, Maralee Kirwan; American Legion Award based on honor, courage, scholarship, leadership, George Pfeiffer and Maralee Kirwan; American Institute of Chemical Engineers Science Award for Outstanding Proficiency and Interest in Science, George Pfeiffer; Business and Professional Women's Scholarship, Patricia Hackett; Rotary Club Scholarship, George Pfeiffer and Katherine Holloway; Harrington School Alumni Scholarship, Maralee Kirwan; Harrington Teachers' Association Scholarship, Katherine Holloway; DuPont Academic Scholarship, Delores Brown and Beatrice Collins, Alternate; National League of Nurses Award, Marie Hrupas; DAR Award for Outstanding Student in Social Studies, Mary A. Martin; Yearbook Plaque, Maralee Kirwan, Iris Lee Warrington and Mary A. Sussex Democrats Elect Officers

A meeting for the purpose of electing officers for the Sussex County Federation of Democratic Clubs was held at Democratic headquarters in Georgetown Monday night.

Ten of the 18 clubs in the county were present at the meeting.

The following slate of officers were elected: President, Mrs. Sarah McLean, Lewes; vice-pres., Granville T. Lowe, Laurel; secretary, Mrs. Melissa Raught, Lewes; treasurer, James E. Murray, Gumboro. Frank Calio, Jr., of Laurel, was appointed as publicity chairman.

The club voted on $5.00 dues for clubs in the county wanting to join the county federation. The federation will meet every three (3) months.

Robert Corney, President of The Delaware Federation of Democratic Clubs, from New Castle, attended the meeting.

Harry Smith, insurance commissioner and first president of the county federation, remarked on the past history of the organization.

The following announcements were made: A covered dish supper will be held in Georgetown on June 28, sponsored by Women's Democratic Club of Georgetown; ice cream festival, June 26, 1-6 p. m., at the Delmar Park, sponsored by the Women's Democratic Club of Delmar.

Myron Floren to Appear at Fair

Fairs have not just recently become known to Myron Floren, outstanding accordionist on the Lawrence Welk show. At the age of 8, Myron entertained the crowds at the Day County Fair with a Sears Roebuck catalog instrument priced at $19.95. Although he won several first and second prizes in local amateur contests it was not until he was 19 that he began to play professionally over Station KSOO in Sioux Falls, S. D., where he was working his way through Augustana College by teaching accordion and piano. In 1944, he joined a U.S.O. unit to entertain troops in Europe.

When Lawrence Welk first heard young Myron Floren play the accordion, he knew that, potentially, Myron was one of the greatest accordionists he would ever hear. No one knew better than Welk how much an accordion lends to a band and he was hired forthwith.

This was in 1950, today, hundreds of thousands of people agree heartily with Welk, as they listen to Floren's fast fingered solos both on the television network and via his many Champagne Music recordings. Myron Floren and Jo Ann Castle, also a pianist-accordionist on "Lawrence Welk's Dancing Party" will be presented to the patrons of the Kent-Sussex County Fair Wednesday and Thursday nights, July 26 and 27.

Talent Contest To Be Held By Co-operative

Members of the Advisory Boards of Butler's Feed & Farm Supply, Harrington, and the Farm Home Advisory Committee voted at its annual meeting planning conference recently to hold a farm talent round-up amateur contest; this year as one of the highlights of its annual membership meeting Aug. 8 at Greenwood High School at 7 p.m.

This contest, which is being sponsored by Southern States Co-operative, offers an opportunity to the winning act at the local meeting to compete for an expense-paid, three-day trip to New York, plus a $100 award. While in New York, the act will also appear on a TV show.

The contest is open only to amateurs who are 12 years of age or over on July 17. They must be members of the immediate families of a farmer or a Southern States patron. Neither professional entertainers, employees of Southern States Co-operative or its retail outlets and members of their families, are eligible for the contest.

Talent acts desiring to enter the contest should contact Mrs. Tilghman Outten, Harrington and Mrs. Emerson Isaacs, Greenwood, chairmen of the local Talent Round-up committee or Agency managers Willis Butler & Alvin Mills. Other members of the Farm Talent Round-up committee are: Mrs. Donald Jester, Harrington, and Mrs. Alvin Mills, Greenwood.

Miss Joyce Banning Weds D. L. Porter

Miss Brenda Joyce Banning and Donald Lee Porter were married Sun., June 11, at 2 p.m. in St. Stephens' Church, Harrington, by the Rev. John R. Symonds Jr. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hil-dray O. Banning. She is a member of the 1961 graduating class of Harrington Public School.

Mr. Porter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Porter, and is employed by The Shore Vending Machine Co., Harrington.

Miss Mary Ann Messick was maid of honor, and Richard Shultie was best man.

Sunday, June 11, was also the 25th wedding anniversary of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hil-dray O. Banning.

Lower County Republican Club To Have Picnic

Special Lower Kent County Republican Club picnic, Wed., June 21, at 6:30 p.m. at Wheeler's Park, in Harrington. Bring covered dish, table service. Adults 50c and children free. Soft drinks, hamburgers and hot dogs furnished. Mrs. Donald Concilio, president of Kent County Federation of Republican Ladies and the Executive Committee of Kent County Republicans will be present.

C. of C. Votes Special Meeting On Parking Meter Problem

The Chamber of Commerce will hold a special meeting, at a yet determined date, to consider the advisability of whether or not the City needs new parking meters, or any at all, as far as that matters.

At its June meeting at The Wonder R, it was disclosed a representative of a meter company had approached the City Council, at its June meeting Monday evening about purchasing new meters to take the place of the present ones. No action was taken at the time. The present meters have been in use more than 10 years and some are in a bad state of repair.

In other business, the Chamber voted to pay the corporation taxes of its sponsored Harrington Development Corporation.

Thomas E. Clendening, chairman of the Community Betterment Committee, said he had arranged with a photographer to take pictures of local business establishments with a view of suggested improvements.

Taylor Names C. of C. Committees

J. Edward Taylor, president of the Chamber of Commerce, has announced the appointment of his committees. They are as follows:

Industrial—William W. Shaw, chairman; Ernest Killen, Howard Wagner, Theodore Harrington, Kesler M. Farrow, Fulton J. Downing, W. Cliff Miller, C. H. Burgess, and Thomas E. Clendening.

Community Betterment — Mr. Clendening, chairman; William W. Shaw, Arnold B. Gilstad, Charles L. Peck Jr., T. Brinton Holloway, Kesler M. Farrow, Theodore Harrington, Fulton J. Downing, Howard Wagner, and Carrington H. Burgess.

Custodial School To Be June 26-30

The 13th annual State Custodial School will be held June 26 to 30, inclusive, under the direction of the Division of Industrial Education, State Department of Public Instruction, at the following centers: for New Castle County in the George Read Junior High School, New Castle, and for the combined Kent and Sussex Counties in the Harrington High School.

The courses are divided into four classifications: the general custodian, fire custodian, chief custodian, and maintenance supervisor for buildings and grounds. Custodians are assigned to groups according to the number of hours of training they have completed in the past.

General custodians will take the course covering housekeeping duties involving types of tools, materials for cleaning, types of floors, cleaning brick work, walls, stairs, brass, glass, shades, drinking fountains, windows, furniture, woodwork, etc., and dusting and sweeping.

The fire custodian will be trained in oil burners, temperature control, plumbing and electrical maintenance, and safety.

The chief custodian will cover the areas of scheduling and work duties, outside grounds, covering evergreens, soils, fertilizers, and lawns, painting, job instruction training, safety, fire prevention, and civil defense.

The supervisor of buildings and grounds will be trained in advanced phases of oil burner care, maintenance, operation, construction and safety precautions, and blueprint reading.

Class enrollments will be small in order to provide more individual attention and training. A total of fifty-two instructors have been assigned to conduct the various classes, and to date about 300 custodians are expected to attend.

The school will be under the direction of Frank M. Forstburg, State Supervisor of Industrial Education.

E 52 Company Prepares For Bon Voyage Party

A "bon voyage" party for the E 52 touring theatrical company from the University of Delaware has been scheduled for Thursday evening, June 29.

Sponsored by the U. S. O. of the Delaware Dramatic Association and the E 52 Alumni, the party will be held in the club lounge at Delaware Park.

The facilities are being provided through the courtesy of President Donald P. Ross and the Board of Directors of the Delaware Steeplechase and Race Association.

Bryan Field, vice president and general manager of Delaware Park, and O. H. P. Baldwin, state chairman of the U. S. O., are co-chairman for the affair which will begin at 7:30 p. m.

CITY AWARDS CONTRACT TO BLACKTOP SEVERAL STREETS

Stuart Greenberg

Stuart Greenberg Accepted For Summer Day Camp

Stuart Greenberg has been accepted in the Second Annual Summer Citizenship Camp beginning June 19 and continuing through July 14. The purpose of the camp is to enable the students to become familiar with the social, economic and political aspects of citizenship by methods which are impossible to use in the more rigid schedule of a conventional school day. These methods include trips throughout the community for first hand information and on the spot observations, and meetings and discussions with persons well informed in the various areas of citizenship activities under study.

Applicants were selected on the basis of intelligence, grades, teacher recommendations, expressed interest in public service and citizenship, and parent approval.

Miss Dorothy J. Allen, teacher of social sciences at the Alexis I. DuPont School in Wilmington, is the teacher in charge.

Senate Approves Capital Punishment

The State Senate Wednesday voted 12-3 to allow capital punishment in Delaware after a four-year lapse.

The vote obviously was in reaction to the brutal slaying Saturday of 89-year-old Ida Mae Wilkins in her Georgetown home by a confessed Negro assailant, Russell Leon Purnell, 26.

Two minutes after the vote on capital punishment, the Senate beat down 8-6 a bill to make the Delaware whipping post mandatory for persons convicted of rape or armed robbery.

The vote to restore capital punishment, repealed in 1957, was accomplished over the objections of New Castle County Republicans.

Senate Minority Leader James H. Snowden (R-Wilmington) warned that the Senate in its "rightful indignation" at the Sussex County crime, was about to pass "panic legislation."

"We can expect only three things from our corrections system," Snowden told the Senate. "Either we remove the criminal from society, we rehabilitate him, or we take revenge on him."

"This Bill is founded on emotion because of sympathy for a family so horribly wronged by his heinous crime," he said. But I for one will not vote on the basis of emotion."

But Senator Harvey B. Spicer (R-Georgetown), who voted for repeal of the death penalty four years ago, said he had been asked expressly by Mrs. Wilkins' son to bring the legislation up.

"I realize as does he, that this bill can have no effect on the confessed murderer caught by the police," Spicer said. "But if it will prevent a similar crime, Senators John E. Reilly, SENATORS John E. Reilly, (D-Wilmington), Harry E. Mayhew (D-Milford), and Allen J. Cook (D-Kenton) pointed out the need for such legislation to deter the rising crime rate.

Snowden, claiming his statistics showed that crimes of violence punishable by death had actually decreased since Delaware abolished the death penalty, said:

"Let's not restore this penalty on the basis of inuendo by people who obviously don't know what they're talking about."

Both Reilly and Cook objected. (Continued on Page 8)

Street improvements occupied most of the attention of the City Council, at its June meeting Monday night, with the letting of a contract for resurfacing being the highlight.

The Atlantic Concrete Company, Milford, was judged the low bidder to blacktop Simpson, Simmons, Short, High, and Calvin Streets, and Liberty Street from Delaware Avenue to Dor-man Street. Bid price was $4941.70. Paul Scotten and Delmarva Asphalt Company, Dover, were the other bidders.

The Council, at a previous meeting had agreed to curb a number of streets, preparatory to the blacktopping, including Simmons Street. Councilman Luther P. Hatfield, a resident of Simmons Street, had sent a letter to the Council in disagreement with curbing his street. A statement attributed to Hatfield, was that he felt other streets needed curbing worse.

Councilman Hatfield said he would let the Council know within 60 days if he would concur on the curb. The Charter provides the pertinent property owners be notified of the City's intention to curb. If the owner does not answer within 60 days, his property can be curbed with the property owner to pay the bill. At present, the Council has been paying half the bill, or 70c. per lineal foot. Of course, the improvements are usually made on behalf of a petition from property owners.

The Council, Monday night, moved that if 10 property owners did not agree to curbing, to take the project off the list. However, the City office stated Wednesday that 13 property owners have agreed, while three have not been seen.

In other business Monday evening, the Council was shown a new type of parking meter but took no action.

Getting The Most For Your Fire Insurance Dollar

If your house burned down could you name all the possessions you had in it—the number of pots, pans, and dishes; titles of books? Could you tell the insurance investigator how many towels, sheets and pillow cases you had or the full extent of your family's wardrobe?

To collect all the insurance money coming to you in the event of a fire, knowing how many possessions you have or had is imperative, according to Miss Patricia A. Middleton, extension home management specialist at the University of Delaware. Insurance companies, understandably, would hesitate to pay for damaged property if there was no evidence that you ever possessed it.

Making a list of all the things you own, large or small, is the best way to "insure" that you get an equitable claim settlement. Be sure to include the original cost and present value of each item. Keep the list up to date and in a place where it can't be destroyed by fire, such as a safe deposit box or a safe. Then in case of fire you can prove what property you had was damaged.

Your list of property also is an excellent indicator of how much fire insurance your family should purchase.

When purchasing fire insurance, Miss Middleton points out that it is generally cheaper to buy for a 3 to 5 year period than on a yearly basis. Be sure, she warns, that the insurance agent and his company are reliable. The company should be licensed by the State Insurance Commission.

This license certifies that the company has met certain financial standards and that they'll be able to pay you your insurance money when you need it.

Piano Recital Tonight at Felton

The piano class of Mrs. Norman Burton will give a recital in the educational building of Felton Methodist Church Friday evening, June 16, at 8 o'clock.

Pupils taking part are Robin Chambers and Becky Semans of Dover, Ray Roland, Eleanor Roland, Lee Kersey, Virginia Killen, Jane Killen, Joyce Tatman, Barbara Jarrell, Jane Roland, Susan Roland, Karen Halde-man, Pat Warren, Samuel Bickling and Ellen Mack of Felton; Irma Ray Masten and Marilyn Jarrell of Harrington. Parents friends and the public are cordially invited.

Nina Lou Ringler Wins Rehoboth Beauty Pageant

Eighteen-year-old Nina Lou Ringler was chosen Sunday to represent Delaware in the Miss Universe pageant at Miami Beach, Fla., beginning July 7. Daughter of Mayor and Mrs. William R. Ringler of Selbyville, Nina Lou, who stands five feet seven and a half inches tall, won over eight other contestants from various parts of the state. Runner-up was pert Linda Marquette of Blue Rock Manor near Wilmington. Judges said the final decision was hard to make.

The two-day competition which began Friday evening was rained out Saturday night when a sudden storm hit the resort area and made it impossible for the young ladies to compete outdoors wearing the fabulous furs and jewels they were displaying with their evening gowns.

Sunday afternoon on the boardwalk in the midst of a brilliant sun, this resort area saw its most colorful throng in many a year as thousands in bathing attire crowded to the contest arena for a glimpse of the beauties. They remained till it was all over and expressed their approval of the judges' decision with rousing cheers.

The brown-eyed, brown beauty was happy through the tears sparkling in her eyes, for this was her second conquest in three years. Miss Ringler is a sophomore at the University of Delaware where she studies home economics and expects to become a teacher.

Two years ago she was named Miss Delmarva XII, at the annual national chicken festival which was staged in Dover that year. She relinquished that crown in June, 1960.

Nina Lou says she looks forward to the Miami Beach contest. She told reporters she has a boy friend but is not serious at this point. Her mother will accompany her to Miami Beach.

Master of ceremonies Kenneth Snyder of Wilmington, who is affiliated with NBC Channel 3, Philadelphia, posed two questions to each of the four semi-finalists:

"Will a woman ever be President of the United States?" and "What can this country or its people do to help stop the spread of communism throughout the free nations of the world?"

Nina says she believes since women are proficient at home and in business, and generally are expected to do well in both jobs, there is no reason this could not be extended to government. She said she believes "we'll not only have one some day, but she'll be a great president, able to cope with world problems."

On the second question the titlist expressed hope that "we invite more people from other nations in the world to see just how we live and run things and show them how we can co-operate. If they will do this and see how able we are to live with one another, then they will want our system for themselves."

Beside Miss Marquette, the runner-up, the semi-finalists were Lynne Donovan of Dover, and Lois Slicer, Newport.

Other contestants were Joan Marie Diery, Green Meadow, Wilmington; Ann H. Covington, Elmhurst; Virginia Walls, Lewes; Mary Louise Webster, Rehoboth, and Ethel Darby, Wilmington.

The girls were judged in bathing suits beside the New Henlopen Hotel pool Saturday afternoon before some 500 people. Then the rains came, causing postponement. Sunday the girls appeared on the boardwalk in their evening gowns, furs, and jewels and made dazzling appearances in the bright sun.

When the final results were announced, Miss Ringler was crowned by Rose Ann Reed Keay, of Elsmere, who represented Delaware at Miami Beach last year. Mrs. Keay was married in April.

Judges were Miss Lauren Walter, Baltimore, Md., beauty consultant, who will supervise the Maryland contest Thursday night; Theodore Kane, Henlopen Acres artist; Jack Smyth, publisher of Delaware State News, Dover; Michael T. Fabrizio Jr., owner-manager, the New Henlopen Hotel and Mayor Clarence Lynch of Rehoboth Beach.

Staged by Miss Sheryl Jones, Wilmington charm school director, the event was sponsored by the Rehoboth Beach Chamber of Commerce and the Rehoboth Town Commission.

President Harry S. Zerby of the Chamber said Sunday night, "This was the finest early season attraction we have ever had. We believe our visitors enjoyed it and we hope we can make this an annual event. Mayor Lynch echoes the same sentiments."

During the presentations, the young ladies wore jewel collections from the Stuart Kingston Galleries worth more than $400,000, while the furs from M. Roberts, Wilmington, included mink and chinchillas that brought shrieks of delight from the on-lookers.

Soybean Interest High in County

A lively interest is boiling up with the soybean planting season says George Vapaa, Kent County agricultural agent. Soybeans are the glamor crop for Delaware in 1961, and the area is probably the most concentrated production area in the United States, and accounting for perhaps 20% of the crop land in Delaware in 1960. Too, the federal government is stimulating production to meet ever increasing market demands.

Many farmers are trying new cultural practices to break through the production ceiling of about 50 bushels per acre. High versus low seeding rates is one such practice. Donald Clark of Kenton reports that he found a 9 bushel advantage for a 45 lb. seeding rate over a 60 lb. rate for the Clark variety. He feels the advantage came because the plants had more room to branch out and set more bean pods.

Related to this practice is wide vs narrow rows. Most farmers plant in rows 36 to 42 inches apart because this is how they plant their corn, but research show a 28 to 32 inch row produces maximum yields. One variation of this is to plant in 42 inch rows, let the plants come up enough to see the rows, rotary hoe and then interplant between the rows, so that the final row width is 21 inches.

The need for lime is one key toward higher yields. A group of young Future Farmers in Kent County high schools will try to determine the degree to which lime applied at planting time increases yields. These trials are being made by applying burnt lime and good limestone with the planter in the row so that it is placed close to the seed. It is well known that since lime is very insoluble it should be placed reasonably close to the growing root area.

Another group of students and farmers will test the effect of added magnesium in order to try yields. Magnesium is one of the minor elements which looms large at higher levels of production. Bob Fischer of the Milford Fertilizer Company has provided the fertilizer with and without the added magnesium in order to try to get a comparison. The attempt is being made on soils known by test to be deficient in magnesium.

The county agent would like to help and work with any farmer who is attempting a new technique with soybeans. Call Mr. Vapaa at REfield 6-1448 for more information.

USDA Bulletin On Insects Out

A revised edition of a popular bulletin for home gardeners on insects and diseases of vegetables has just been issued by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

This new edition of USDA Home and Garden Bulletin No. 46, "Insects and Diseases of Vegetables in the Home Garden," includes some new pest-control recommendations and brings all recommendations on the use of insecticides and fungicides into conformity with recent rulings under Public Law 518 (the Pesticide Amendment to the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act).

The bulletin was prepared by scientists of USDA's Agricultural Research Service. It tells home gardeners how to recognize more than 180 common insects and diseases that attack garden crops, and how to prevent damage from these pests. The bulletin covers 27 kinds of garden crops, including some berries and melons.

Insecticides and fungicides recommended in the bulletin are those that are most likely to be generally available and have widest use in home gardens. All the pest-control chemicals listed can be used safely by following the directions given.

Precautions to be taken in the use of insecticides and fungicides include waiting for the recommended time between treatment and harvest of vegetables and berries to avoid chemical residues on these crops.

Single copies of "Insects and Diseases of Vegetables in the Home Garden" (HG 46) are free from the Office of Information, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

Add Trim to Sweaters

Trimming a sweater to go with a dress adds flair and beauty to the dress and usefulness and change to the sweater.

Kent County Home Demonstration Agent, Florence Y. Smith, suggests using a classic cardigan with short or long sleeves, to complete the dress ensemble. She points out that the color of the cardigan may match or be in pleasing contrast to the dress color. Life of older sweaters can be extended by dyeing them to blend or match. Worn edges can be cut off and bound with ribbon or dress fabric.

Trim for sweaters may include embroidered, velvet, or grosgrain ribbons, braids, fringes, edgings, rickrack.

You may wish to use lace, or make bands or simple applique designs from the dress fabric. But remember, simplicity is the key to a smart, fashionable costume.

Keep the use of the sweater in mind, advises Mrs. Smith. For sports or casual occasions, use grosgrain ribbon or simple appliques; for dressy occasions, trim with lace, embroidered ribbon or beads.

Preshrink any trimmings that will go on a washable sweater, then sew trimmings on the sweater with small hand stitches. Use thread that matches the sweater. If the trimming is heavy, you may need to put net backing on the inside of the sweater, or line it with a very light-weight fabric, such as China silk, or a rayon and silk sheath lining.

Make Outdoor Eating Safe

Don't pack a tummy ache in your picnic basket cautions Home Demonstration Agent, Florence Y. Smith.

To prevent trouble, plan foods that do not favor growth or organisms that cause food poisoning. Likely targets for these organisms are custard-type pie fillings, precooked hams that are not thoroughly recooked, potato, fish and egg salads, creamed dishes and chicken.

Keep these foods packed in ice until you are ready to eat them, Mrs. Smith advises.

Remember, too, to prepare food under sanitary conditions. Take your own water if you are going to a spot where water is not safe or is questionable.

Another tip—slip a first aid kit in with picnic supplies. In the kit, include materials to care for burns, cuts, insect bites and bouts with poisonous plants.

And, when you pack up for home, be sure that your camp fire is thoroughly out and that you have cleaned up all garbage and trash, leaving the picnic grounds clean.

Shell experts test for knock by accelerating up steep grade. In another test, that "fifth wheel" in the back is lowered onto the road to measure mileage precisely.

TOP PERFORMANCE:

Shell test crew reveals five ways to test your car for top performance—and how the 9 ingredients in today's Super Shell can help you get it

To John Baker and John Watson (below) of Shell Research, top performance is a scientific standard. They measure it with precision instruments. But any good driver can run a version of their basic tests. Here are five they recommend.

Test #1. Quick starting Count the seconds it takes to start your car. The engine should "snap to" in about two to three seconds. A slow start drains your battery. And it may flood your cylinders, causing performance troubles.
If your engine is balky, try Super Shell. It's blended with a frisky ingredient called Butane—to give you quick, easy starts.

Test #2. Smooth running
Pay close attention to your engine in traffic.

Does it vibrate roughly when you stop for a traffic light? Does it seem to "surge" as you pull away, then falter and fade?

The problem may be the wrong blend of gasoline.

In summer, for example, excessive heat can make winter grade gasoline bubble in the fuel line. Bubbles can interfere with the flow, causing rough running.

Shell scientists don't let that happen with Super Shell. When hot weather threatens, they adjust Super Shell's 9-ingredient formula to give it the correct volatility for smooth summer driving.

Test #3. Reserve power
On a turnpike, in light traffic, accelerate suddenly from about thirty miles an hour to the legal limit. Now ask yourself:

1. Did your car accelerate smoothly—with no faltering, no bogging down?

2. Do you have plenty of power to spare?

If you feel you've "run out of engine," it's time to do something about it.

Super Shell may be your answer. It contains TCP,* to help restore power lost to combustion chamber deposits.

And another Super Shell inredient, called Platformate, contains components that release 11 per cent more energy than even the finest of 100-octane aviation gasolines.

Test #4. Knock
Accelerate up a long, steep hill and listen carefully. If you hear a sound like marbles falling into an empty oil drum, you've got knock. It could cause engine trouble.

Take no chances. Switch to Super Shell. Its formula includes no less than three ingredients to fight the various causes of knock.

Test #5. Miles per gallon
Don't trust your fuel gauge when you measure miles per gallon. Take these three simple steps and be sure.

1. Start your test by filling your tank. Make sure the gasoline comes up to the brim. Write down your mileage reading.

2. Drive in your normal manner for at least three tankfuls—keeping a record of the exact amount you buy.

Fishing Lines

Experimental Reefs Created

Last month two experimental fishing reefs were placed on the ocean floor in the vicinity of Indian River Inlet. These reefs are the first of their kind to have been placed in Delaware waters. Fishing, both sport and commercial, is most often the best in the vicinity of underwater obstructions such as coral reefs, rocks, and sunken vessels. With this in mind fishermen are generally in favor of creating such obstructions. Three major problems present themselves—permission, construction and finance.

Reefs for fishing purposes must be approved at the federal level by the Navy Department, the Coast Guard, and the Corps of Engineers. The state agencies involved may include the Shell Fisheries, the Highway Commission, and the Game and Fish Commission.

The University of Delaware Marine Laboratories working in co-operation with the Delaware Game and Fish Commission and the Sports Fishing Institute initiated the present experimental reef study. The reefs, consisting of 100 tons of concrete culverts are placed on relatively barren areas of the ocean bottom. Concrete was selected because metallic objects are not permitted by agencies responsible for national defense. Beginning this month, the reefs will be inspected by biologists to study their effectiveness in attracting fish. These men, students at the University of Delaware, will employ SCUBA diving techniques permitting them to stay submerged from 20 to 30 minutes at a time.

Sportsmen are advised that under water obstructions, meeting the specifications of federal agencies, are expensive to install and maintain. (For example, regulations require permanent markers in many instances.)

Tautog and Trout in Bay

Structures such as the light houses in Delaware Bay provide anglers with some fine fishing sites. At present tautog are plentiful and sea trout are increasing steadily. With increased migrations of fish into the Bay these sites will be excellent fishing grounds. Trout fishermen have already begun frequenting these areas at night. Soon trout should be taken regularly during the day as well.

Clayton Girl Chosen Kent Co. Dairy Princess

Betty Dixon of Clayton, RD. was crowned Dairy Princess of Kent County at the seventh annual Dairy Festival held outside the Houston Fire Hall Saturday night, June 10.

Miss Dixon, a 17-year-old student at Smyrna High School and daughter of Samuel Dixon Jr., will lead the livestock parade at the Kent and Sussex Fair in July and will appear at the annual banquet of the Inter-State Milk Producers' Co-operative in Philadelphia in November.

Runners up in the contest were Helen Gramp, second; Connie Moore, third; and Carol Sinclair, fourth, all of Dover, R.D. Miss Gramp and Miss Moore will serve as Miss Dixon's attendants at the Kent and Sussex Fair.

A U.S. Savings Bond for Miss Dixon and cash prizes for the other winners were donated by the Harrington-Felton Local of the Inter-State Milk Producers' Co-operative and presented by its president, Floyd Blessing.

More than 250 people attended the Festival and watched the 15 contestants demonstrate their ability to milk a cow and to speak extemporaneously on some 4-H Club activity. Milking counted 25 per cent; speaking, 25 per cent; and charm, personality, and poise, 50 per cent. Judges were Inter-State Director Ellwood Gruwell of Felton, R. 2; Sussex 4-H Club Agent, William Pinnell, and Inter-State Fieldman, Floyd Ealy.

The festival is sponsored by the Houston Cardinals 4-H Club and originated as a Dairy Group Project to publicize June Dairy Month, directed by Mrs. Chester Benson of Houston. Members of this year's committee were Saralee Webb, chairman; Gary Simpson; Louis verson of Delaware was master Starkey, junior leader, and George Simpson, adult advisor, who also supplied the cow. Dr. William McDaniel of the Uni-Starkey, David Marvel, Ray of ceremonies.

Each Kent County 4-H Club was permitted to enter two contestants, who had to be at least 14 years old. Miss Dixon and Miss Moore were from the Chestnut Grove Club, and Miss Gramp and Miss Sinclair from the Oak Grove Blue Hens. Other contestants and their clubs were:

Sylvia Vincent and Delores Larimore, Andrewville; Sarah Moore and Dawn Hopkins, Harrington Sunshine; Connie Vinyard and Ruth Ann Yerkes, Houston Cardinals; Pam Leonard and Barbara Thomas, Kent County Klubbers; Judy Irons and Patty Banks, Paradise, and Thelma Thomas and Lois Siebel, Whiteoaks.

Entertainment included saxophone solos by Miss Larimore and songs by Miss Sinclair and her sister, Arlene, Dairy Princess in 1959.

Quotas Proclaimed For Wheat Crop

In line with current legislation, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has proclaimed marketing quotas and a national acreage allotment of 55 million acres for the 1962 wheat crop, farmers were reminded today.

According to R. Harry Wilson, chairman, Kent County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, the Secretary is required by law to proclaim wheat marketing quotas no later than May 15th when the available supply is more than 20 per cent above the normal supply.

In proclaiming the quotas, Secretary Freeman said: "The action taken today does not by any means preclude the possibility of an improved program for wheat growers this next year. In view of this, we are not now announcing a date for the referendum in which farmers would vote on marketing quotas under the present law."

"We are hopeful that we'll have a more effective method of dealing with the serious problem of wheat supplies and wheat producers' incomes. The great interest of all concerned in fashioning a better program gives much encouragement toward this end. Of course, the decision on the level of support for the 1962 crop also awaits future developments."

To be effective, Chairman Wilson explained, marketing quotas must be approved by two-thirds of the wheat producers voting in a referendum. Under quotas, producers who comply with their acreage allotments may market all the wheat they produce. Producers who exceed their acreage allotments are subject to marketing quota penalties on their "excess" production if they have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest.

Feed Grain Acreage Check to Be Made

Farmers who are taking part in the 1961 feed grain program should be ready soon to have their acreage checked, according to R. Harry Wilson, chairman of the Kent County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee at Dover.

Mr. Wilson expects the measurement of feed grain acreage in the county to get under way about June 19. At that time, employees of the county committee will start visiting farms that are participating in the feed grain program. During the visits the acreage of corn will be measured.

The acreage of land designated as having been diverted from the production of corn will also be measured. The designated diverted acreage will be measured and the current use of the land will be recorded. Diverted acreage is to be used for approved conservation under the program.

Ten weeks is the time estimated by Mr. Wilson to be required to visit and check all the farms in the county that are taking part in the feed grain program.

Congratulations Are In Order

Congratulations are certainly in order for every town, village, city and county in the State of Delaware for the commendable record shown during the long and in some places, tragic Memorial Day weekend. Not only were there no fatalities in the state during this time but there was no reported serious accident as well. Local and state police are to be highly commended on the part they played in protecting the lives of the drivers of motor vehicles from themselves, by picking off the offenders of the driving regulations that are made for our own protection. Constant patrols on the highways keep a constant eye out for such protection of those who are careful in their driving habits. It is also notable that the yearly rate of traffic fatalities in Delaware has decreased sharply over last year's figure, proving what can be done if safety first is constantly stressed, that we are conscious of the things that do cause accidents, and avoid them. Being a small part of the now running safety first features in The Harrington Journal, it does make me think that we in some small way, may be helping to make more and more people safety conscious. Something in our opinion, that cannot be over done.

We also think the merchants and businessmen of this and surrounding communities, along with local officials, who are sponsoring the safety feature in the Journal, titled "Be Safe Today and Alive Tomorrow" can also feel a certain sense of satisfaction and pride in the co-operation and results shown by the State of Delaware. We are sure they all feel as we do in hoping the above type of accident prevention continues throughout the year, and that safe and happy motoring will continue on our highways.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church
 Notes

An impressive ceremony that took place at St. Stephen's on St. Barnabas' Day, June 11, was the baptism of Vaughn Pickering Esham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson P. Esham, of Bridgeville, by the Rev. John R. Symonds Jr.

Sponsors for the young man were his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hartman Hynson of Dover and his great uncle, Dr. Robert H. Smith of Harrington.

Flowers in the sanctuary last Sunday were given to the Glory of God and in honor of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson P. Esham and Mr. and Mrs. David M. Phillips, and in honor of Mrs. David M. Phillips, and in honor of the baptism of Vaughn P. Esham, by Mr. and Mrs. J. Hartman Hynson.

A private communion set of sterling silver, imported from England, has been received as a gift to the ministry of the Reverend John R. Symonds Jr. The handsome and much needed set will be dedicated soon and will bear the following inscription: "Presented to the Glory of God and to the Rev. John R. Symonds, Jr. by Edward and Helen Brown, June 9, 1961."

Three young men in the 1961 Harrington High School graduating class conducted the service of "Morning Prayer" on Sun., June 11, at St. Stephen's. William Thompson, Robert Eastman and William McColley, read the opening sentences and prayers, the psalms, the two lessons, the collects, and general thanksgiving.

Congratulations are being extended by the congregation and the vicar to the following high school graduates of 1961, who have served in various capacities at St. Stephen's in youth work and as acolytes, and have attended church or Sunday School, or both, in past years: William McColley, Joan Tabere, Dennis Bradley, Lois Keim, Robert Eastman, Harry Knotts, Viva Reed, William Thompson.

The summer Christian education program will be launched on Sunday, June 18, at 11 a.m. All young people and church school pupils are asked to attend.

Recent visitors who signed the guest book at St. Stephen's were Ralph M. Collison and Cindy Lynn Collison, of Bridgeville; the Rev. George Hnatko, of Wilmington; H. Elliott Darby Jr. of Seaford; Harry Knotowski, of Wilmington, and Borden E. Smith of Milford.

The marriage of Miss Brenda Joyce Banning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hildray O. Banning, of Harrington, and Donald Lee Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Porter, also of Harrington, was solemnized at St. Stephen's Church, Sunday, June 11, 2 p.m. The Rev. John R. Symonds, Jr. performed the double ring ceremony.

Witnesses were Miss Mary Ann Messick and Richard A. Shultie. The bride wore a white lace dress made on princess lines and carried a nosegay of daisies and white orchid.

A small reception for family and close friends was held at the home of the bride's parents. Certificates of promotion were given to members of St. Stephen's Church School Sun., June 4, after the 11 a.m. service.

Pins for excellent attendance during one full church school year were given to Cindy DeVries, Christopher Jones, David French, Gail McReynolds, Robert Eastman, Margaret French.

Second year wreaths were awarded to William Winkler, John Winkler, Richard Porter, Betty Jean Fowler, Viva Reed, June Thompson, Susan Perry, Franklin Fowler, Roy Porter, Charles McNally.

A sixth year bar was awarded Janet Rogers, who transferred from another church school that used the cross and crown system. Carol Ann McNally was given an award for faithful service as church school organist and junior choir organist.

June Thompson was given an award for faithful service as primary school organist. There will be an ice cream festival at St. Stephen's Parish House Friday, June 23, 6 p.m. Mrs. George R. Johnson and Mrs. Earl McColley are co-chairmen.

Corn Silage Beats
 Ambergene as Dairy Feed
 Corn silage produces more milk than ambergene silage, according to dairy nutrition experiments at the University of Delaware.

Dr. George F. W. Haenlein, in a scientific paper presented at the American Dairy Science Association meeting at the University of Wisconsin, reported that feeding comparisons with 20 cows over a two-year period showed corn silage to be superior to ambergene silage as a milk producing feed. The test cows on corn silage produced more milk and fat and a higher percentage of solids-not-fat than the cows on ambergene silage.

In 18 supplementary trials with sheep and rabbits, the safe trends in nutritional values resulted. Correlation of these results indicated that smaller animals can be used to test feeds such as silage. This is of considerable importance in reducing research expenses.

The correlation of data between sheep and rabbits was significant for the nutrients being studied, the scientist said.

Veterans News

More than one-fourth of all GI Bill loans guaranteed or insured by the Veterans Administration since the program was launched in June 1944, have been repaid in full, Leon Fields, Manager of the Wilmington Regional Office, reported recently.

These completed payments account for more than 6500 separate loans and represents more than $7.2 million, Mr. Fields said.

Highest repayment rate is for GI business loans with a paid-in-full percentage of 72.9. The paid-in-full percentage of 72.9. The paid-in-full percentage for GI farm loans is 64.7.

Of the GI home loans, 27.0 percent have already been repaid in full, Mr. Fields said.

Real estate loans under the GI Bill program may be made for as long as thirty years or, in the case of farm real estate, for forty years.

Non-real estate loans in which no real property was involved, are limited to ten years duration.

From the time the program was started in June, 1944, through the month of April 1961, almost 24,000 GI loans have been guaranteed or insured by the Veterans Administration in Delaware.

These loans had a total value of $237.2 million.

The total includes 23,578 GI home loans worth $235.6 million; 170 GI business loans worth $665 thousand and 150 GI farm loans worth $940 thousand.

The total repayment record shows 6,358 GI home loans, 124 GI business loans and 97 farm loans repaid in full.

The VA manager of the Wilmington Regional Office said the total claims paid by the VA to satisfy mortgage holders on the three types of loans combined amounted to 2.1 percent. This ranged, in turn, from 2.0 percent for GI home loans to 2.0 percent for GI farm loans and 11.2 percent for GI business loans.

The VA's dollar losses to date in connection with these claims have amounted to less than 1/6 of 1% of the loan value, the manager said. This takes into account the amounts paid out in claims and other liquidation expenses which have been offset by mortgage interest income earned in the re-sale of acquired properties, repayments and other recoveries.

Under existing laws, World War II veterans have until July 26, 1962, to make applications

Maryland Press
 Enlists 3 Members

Three Delaware newspapers were accepted as active members of the Maryland Press Association at the monthly meeting of the group's Board of Directors held June 10 in Easton.

The new member publications are the Delmar Bi-State Weekly, the Laurel State Register and the Seaford Leader & News. Applications for membership from several other Delaware publications will be considered by the group at its September meeting, according to an announcement made by MPA President Philip S. Heisler.

Accepted as associate members at the press meeting were captain John P. Bowen, Aberdeen Proving Ground, and Larry Hogan, Washington, D. C.

Ninety members and guests of the association attended an all day workshop held June 11 at the Tidewater Inn, Easton. Key speaker of the day was Victor Leiker, president of Tabloid Lithographers, Cranford, N. J., who discussed the current trend to newspaper publication by offset printing.

The Sunday morning program consisted of a panel discussion of inter-relationships between editorial and advertising departments. The afternoon session was devoted to film slides, exhibits and a panel discussion of offset printing.

Norman Harrington, program chairman for the event, entertained the Board of Directors at a dinner party at his home Saturday evening. The association played host at a cocktail party for the workshop guests Sunday which was held in the plant of the Easton Star-Democrat. Wives of the newsmen were guests of the Talbot County Economic Development Commission Sunday afternoon on a guided tour of colonial homes in the area.

Program speakers included Emory Dobson, Denton County Record; Maurice Rimpco, Cambridge Daily Banner; Jay Schaff, Hagerstown Herald & Mail; William B. Usilton, Chestertown Kent County News; William Waggaman, Newark, Del., Post; E. Ralph Hostetter, Elkton Cecil Whig; Charles Gerwig, Ellicott City Stromberg Publications, and William Smith, Silver Spring Suburban Record.

More Than One-Third
 Corn Producing Farms
 In Feed-Grain Program

The final tally shows that 35 per cent or 1,801 of the 5,165 corn-producing farms in Delaware enrolled in the 1961 Federal feed-grain program.

The results of an intensive 6-week sign-up campaign by the Delaware Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee were announced by the committee chairman, Jacob Zimmerman, Dover farmer.

Zimmerman gave the following sign-up percentages by county of all corn-growing farms enrolled: New Castle, 46.9; Kent, 31.1; Sussex, 34.3.

On an acreage basis, Delaware farmers agreed to divert to conservation uses 38,514 acres, or 24.5 per cent of their total corn base acreage. This is approximately the same percentage as the national average. New Castle County farmers will divert 7394 acres; Kent, 10,259; Sussex, 20,861.

The program is developed by U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman as an emergency measure to halt the build-up of the feed grain supply under existing Federal price support programs.

Brace Young Shade Trees

Young shade trees need bracing for about two years following planting according to Gerald Cole, acting Kent County agricultural agent. He noted on a recent call to Rodney Village that several trees were dying because of lack of support.

A stake driven into the ground, about one foot from the base of the tree, will provide the support needed. Fasten a wire loosely around the tree and secure the wire to the stake. Slip a piece of rubber hose over the wire where it comes in contact with the tree to protect the bark.

Bracing prevents the tree from swaying which damages the root system. So help the tree get a good start in life by following the procedure outlined, and enjoy the benefits from the shade in future years, says Mr. Cole.

A bulletin entitled "Selective Tree Planting" gives several other management tips for the care of trees, he concludes.

Baptists believe that without fruits of regeneration there is no reason to believe that regeneration has taken place, and therefore no salvation is assured—it is not enough to have in remembrance an emotional experience of the past in which new hope was born, unless the fruits of regeneration followed that experience. It is not enough to have a record of years of outward obedience to the divine law, unless that obedience has continued up to the present hour.

The same facts that prove the soul disobedient, prove that the life which the Holy Spirit imparts has not been imparted to it. And where this life is absent the eternal hope is absent. Where there is no regeneration there is no salvation.

Delaware Food Market Report

The third Sunday in June is a day all Dads remember, for it is Father's Day, a day to honor fathers all over the country. So the story goes this observance was started in 1910 by Mrs. John Bruce Dodd of Spokane, Wash. This Sunday is the day planned to please father, especially in the menu.

Chickens look like the bargain buy again this week. Supplies of these young, tender birds are 25 per cent above last year, and prices have reached a record low at farm level. Retail prices, while not high, have not dropped proportionately except on weekend sales.

Broiler-fryers are available whole, cut up, and quartered, starting as low as 23 cents a pound in a few stores. Government-graded chickens come slightly higher. All poultry is, of course, now government-inspected for wholesomeness.

High quality beef continues to be plentiful so check steaks, roast and ground beef for good buys this weekend. Lamb and veal are also marked down as "specials" in a wide variety of cuts at both the expensive and bargain levels.

Strawberry supplies are at their peak, soon they will dwindle and prices will edge up. Now is the time to enjoy them, to freeze and to preserve them. Blueberries are in good supply but in a number of stores prices have gone up 2 to 3 cents on the pint.

Heavy supplies of peaches are reaching local markets and prices are tumbling. Be sure to check this fruit when you market. Other fruits on the "best buy" list are watermelon, lemons, some oranges, seedless grapes and a few bananas. Apricots and a few blackberries can be found at some fruit counters, prices are high, which is to be expected.

Don't forget it is June Dairy Month and do use dairy foods often. You get a lot for the money you spend on this food. Studies of consumer food expenditures show that 18 to 20 per cent of the family food budget is spent for milk products. Here's what we Americans get for this money: 23-26% of our calories, 40-45% of our protein, 75-84% of our calcium, 59-79% of our riboflavin, 35-39% of our Vitamin A, 18-19% of our thiamin and 5-6% of our iron and niacin. If we duplicated these food elements in other foods, it would cost us about 43 cents instead of the price of one quart of milk.

Trinity Methodist Church News

This is a strategic time in the course of human history. All of us know that the integrity of our great nation cannot be maintained without genuine religion; yet so few of us ever do anything about maintaining this integrity. We largely ignore God's day, we stay away from His place of worship.

We need in the Christian Church a great movement of our people back to the churches with their families. How can we ever expect the blessing of God if we neglect the worship of God in His House?

Each individual has a little plant called reverence that needs watering once a week in church. Our hectic lives need this association to keep alive and maintain reverence for God in this great land of ours. Remember, we do not lose our religion by a blowout; usually it is just a slow leak.

We of Trinity Church extend to you a hearty welcome in Christian fellowship. If you have no church home, if you would like to teach or help work in the church, we can find a place for you. Come this Sunday and find the strength for your life.

Sunday, June 18, 9:45, Sunday School. William R. Jester, general superintendent; Virginia Shultie, Primary Superintendent.

Classes for everyone, everyone welcome.

11 o'clock, morning worship. The greeters and flowers for this Sunday are by the O.U.R. Class. Special music is by the Senior Choir under the direction of Melvin Brobst. A nursery is provided for pre-school children.

At the last meeting of the official board it was voted to terminate the Sunday evening vesper service for the summer, after Children's Day, June 4.

The O.U.R. Class will hold its annual ice cream festival on Friday evening, June 16. Members of the class will meet at the church Thursday evening to make the ice cream, and the ice cream will be sold on Friday evening at the former Family Store next to Silco. Cakes will also be sold. Ice cream and cake will be served at the festival.

Daily Vacation Bible School will begin Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Classes for children from ages four to 12 will be available. The theme for the school this year will be "Living and Working Together as Christians." All young people are welcome to attend. The school will be held each morning during the week from 9:30 to 12 o'clock.

Houston

Sunday, June 18, at 11 a.m. Father's Day service. The guest speaker will be the Rev. Manuel Buarque, administrative assistant to Congressman Thomas F. Johnson of the first Maryland District. Special singing by Austin Gray, well-known vocalist from Dorchester County, Maryland.

The men of the church have been asked to sing a special selection for that Sunday.

The Daily Vacation Bible School will begin Mon., June 19, and will continue through Fri., June 23. It will be held in the educational building.

Dr. and Mrs. Ian Napier of Spokane, Wash., have announced the arrival of a son, Mark Ian, May 24. Mrs. Napier will be remembered as the former Miss Rosalie Kirby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Kirby. The Napiers also have two daughters, Donna Marie and Sharyl.

Mrs. Helen Dufendach and Mrs. Olla F. Sapp were guests at a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Daniel Friedman on Tuesday.

Miss Betty Dixon of near Clayton was crowned Dairy Princess of Kent County at the seventh annual dairy festival held on the lawn of the Houston Fire Hall Saturday evening.

Runners up among the 15 contestants were Miss Helen Grampp, second; Connie Moore, third, and Carol Sinclair, fourth; all of near Dover.

The contest sponsored by the 4-H Club of Houston, the Cardinals was attended by a good size crowd.

Dr. William McDaniel of the University of Delaware was master of ceremonies.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Greenlee of Milford were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Thistlewood and family on Sunday.

Mrs. Havard Smith and daughter, Terri, spent Thursday in Philadelphia visiting her uncle, Edward M. Robinson.

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q—Is it true that the VA has patients in some non-VA hospitals?

A—The VA uses some beds in Federal hospitals under the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. Beside beds in non-VA Federal hospitals, the VA may authorize care in non-Federal hospitals for veterans with service-connected disabilities, under certain conditions.

Q—Because of my income, I am not entitled to the VA pension although my deceased husband had the required wartime service. Are my minor children by my deceased veteran husband eligible?

A—Yes, minor children may be eligible even if the mother is not.

Q—More than 20 years ago, I was rated totally disabled for pensions benefits. Can my disability be now ruled as not permanent and total.

A—No, your present rating will last your lifetime.

Q—Is it possible for a man to have first priority for VA hospitalization without actually serving on active military duty? I have heard of such a case.

A—Yes. Certain very few inductees or enlistees of World War I, World War II, and the Korean Conflict who did not enter active duty may be entitled to hospitalization under the first priority group. To be eligible, they must have insured disabilities not the result of their own misconduct while en route under orders to report to a place for final acceptance, inductance, or entry upon active duty, or while at such place or en route home.

DRIVER'S LICENSE by Edgar A. Guest

This is your license to drive a car;
To be watchful ever where children are;
To travel the streets and keep in mind
That peoples are sometimes deaf and blind
And lame and feeble and care distraught
And accidents come from lack of thought.

It says that your state has faith in you;
That never a wrongful act you'll do;
That you know how dangerous hills can be;
That you'll pass no car where you cannot see
Along, clear stretch of the thoroughfare
And wherever you're going you'll drive with care.

L. Gooden Callaway

This is your license to drive and so
All that it means I would have you know.
Though it isn't printed in language plain
It's an affidavit that you are sane;
And it also tells that your state has found
Your faculties clear and your body sound,

Carry your license to drive with pride,
For how shamed you'd be were it once denied!
It is sworn-to proof that the rules you
know,
That you're neither stupid nor witted-
slow;
That your state through its officers finds you are
Fit to be trusted to drive a car.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Breeding, Ruby and Allen Jr., of Harrington and Mrs. Everett Outten and Cheryl Lynn, of Greenwood, spent last Friday evening with their mother, Mrs. Frank Breeding.
 Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Messick were Monday evening supper guests of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Trotta, of Harrington.

Mrs. Bill Tull, Wayne, Bobby, Mike and Debbie of Greenwood were Monday visitors of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Breeding.
 Mr. and Mrs. George Hignutt and family were Sunday visitors of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hignutt.
 Mrs. Marie Troil of Philadelphia, spent part of last week with Mr. and Mrs. James C. Fountain.
 Our community was saddened last Thursday by the passing away of Mrs. Grace Brown. She was a life time resident of this community and her death came as a shock to the family and many friends.

OUTDOOR CHEF

tain that all of it has soaked in, then light the briquettes carefully with a match.
 4. Never use gasoline or paint thinner to start a fire. These are highly combustible fluids and are therefore extremely dangerous.
 5. The outdoor chef should wear fireproof gloves and a fireproof apron when cooking at a grill or barbecue pit. He should also use long-handled forks, skewers, frying pans and sauce pans to keep his hands and arms as far away from the fire as possible.
 Master these simple rules and the art of fine out-door-cookery and you will truly be a "Master of Outdoor Cookery."

SAFETY NEWS

as they arise. If heavy traffic or fast fast traffic is a bother to you, some of this can be eliminated by advance planning.
 3. HAVE YOU CONSIDERED confining your driving to mid-morning and mid-afternoon? These daylight hours offer good visibility and comparative freedom from the congested highways of "RUSH HOURS."
 4. CONSIDER the weather conditions and forecasts before finally deciding to start the trip. Avoid driving if rainy, dark, very windy, slippery or snowy weather threatens.
 5. HAVE your vision checked periodically. If you need glasses for driving, WEAR them, of course. Also have an extra pair on hand for any emergency.
 6. Not wearing a HEARING AID is likely to cut you off from information you need.

Don't let vanity cause an accident which could be expensive, painful—or fatal.
 7. EXTRA MIRRORS can help you compensate for a lack of suppleness of the neck or trunk caused by "Stiff Joints."
 8. Keep UP-TO-DATE about developments in highway interchanges — traffic signals — and point systems which can cost a driver his license.
 9. In spite of everything, there may come a time when you no longer feel happy, comfortable, confident—or safe—behind the wheel. (You'll be the judge.) If this happens to you, it is well to surrender the driver's seat to the younger generation. (You can play the role of passenger and consultant to the pilot.)
 10. An older driver should be especially careful of the PEDESTRIAN'S NEED of his legal right-of-way. Perhaps your good example in this respect may bear fruit when you yourself are on foot crossing a street. (If you have done unto others as you would have them do unto you—perhaps THEY will actually do it!)

It takes the cooperation of all of us to see that each of us gets the fair share of the street to which he is entitled. Thank you for playing your part in this.

E 52 COMPANY

Guests will include Lt. Gov. Eugene Lamont, Dean of Arts and Science Bruce Dearing, and Major Gen. Charles I. Carpenter, retired chief of Air Force chaplains.
 Following the presentation of the 16-member company which will tour Europe for seven weeks beginning July 3, the students will perform numbers from their show, "The Boy Friend," the musical, which broke all previous attendance records when presented at the university earlier this year.
 Performances at military bases in Germany, France and Italy are being made under the auspices of the U. S. O. and the American Educational Theatre Association. Delaware is one of nine American colleges selected for Defense Department overseas tours this year.
 Following a tour of the Far East in the spring of 1958, the company was awarded a Defense Department citation for its high calibre of its conduct on and off the stage.

 Members selected for this year's road company cast are: Jack Erthal, 16 Wordsworth Drive; Barbara Mateyka, 514 Washington Street; Allison Ford, Lutherville, Md.; Sally Hinman, Neffsville, Pa.; Carole Matthes, Newark; Helen Poore, Fredrica; James Marmon, Williamstown, N. J.; Cassandra Williams, Long Island City, N. Y.; Tom Lachman, Newark; Alan Horowitz, Trenton, N. J.; Jerrold Knotts, Newark; Elizabeth Stiff, Landenberg, Pa., and Kay Salvatore, Trenton, N. J.

Cook said there is obvious evidence that crime is on the increase, and Reilly read from a newspaper clipping which shows murders in Wilmington up from 7 to 14 from 1959 to 1960.
 "These figures are invalid unless you compare them to figures before we abandoned the death penalty," Snowden insisted.
 On the final tally on the bill, three senators (Manning, Snowden, and duPont) opposed the bill and two were absent (McCullough and Steen). Everyone else voted for the bill.
 The vote on the whipping post bill came without discussion.
 Senator Jesse F. Watson, sponsor of the measure (SB 151), said simply: "This bill has been hashed over pretty well. I just want to remind the members that the opposition has come generally from organizations of do-gooders. If you ask the common man, he's in favor of it."

 Watson's bill received only six votes, eight against, and three absent.
 Although he tabled the vote for another try, Watson said after the action that, as far as he is concerned, "the whipping post bill is dead."
 Senator Spicer said, even before his capital punishment bill was passed, that he had arranged with a member of the House to have a public hearing on the measure.
