U. of D. Receives Award for Alumni Support

The University of Delaware has received honorable mention and a cash prize of $150 for distinguished achievement in the development of alumni support.

Awards were announced this month by the American Alumni Council, which administered for the third year an Alumni Incentive Awards Program financed by the United States Steel Foundation.

First prizes among public institutions were awarded to the University of Akron for improvement and Georgia Tech for sustained performance by alumni.

The University of Delaware and Michigan State University received honorable mention for improvement and Douglass College, the University of North Carolina and Ohio State were cited for sustained performance.

Delaware's alumni were recognized because of their increases in number of donors, percentage of participation and total dollars between 1959 and 1960.

The Alumni Association's annual giving campaign rose from $30,071 to $38,957, the number of donors increased from 1,516 to 3,444 and participation from 12.2% to 30.4%.

In a letter to President John A. Perkins, Dr. Ernest T. Stewart, executive director of the American Alumni Council said, "The panel of judges for the Alumni Giving Incentive Awards Program cited your alumni giving achievements in 1959-60 as one of..."

5 Accused of 50 Thefts

Arrest of five youthful Delawareans, two of them girls, in Oxford, Pa., is believed by police to have solved an eight-month series of some 50 burglaries in lower Delaware, Maryland, and Oxford.

Incarcerated in the Chester County Prison for the Oxford offenses are: Thomas Joseph Davis, 18, Cheswold; Marvin Vernon Marker, 21, near Dover; his brother, James Isaac Marker, 19, Milford; and Eliza Belle Messick, of Lincoln.

Shirley Marker, 15-year-old wife of Marvin, was turned over to Delaware authorities for detention.

The three men, according to police accounts, were detected crawling through a restaurant window in Oxford at 2 a. m. on July 14. The arrest of all five followed and questioning is said to have brought confessions of the series of burglaries.

The group's crime wave, based on reconstruction of its activities apparently started in the Lewes-Milton area last November and spread into Kent County, and into Kent County, and into Maryland and Pennsylvania.

Both Delaware and Maryland authorities have filed detainers for the four being held in Pennsylvania pending the outcome of prosecution in that state.

Georgetown police want them as suspects in the following burglaries: Adkins and Shutt Pure Oil at Lewes, Clyde Betts Feed Store near Milton, and the Don-Ovan and Black Tractor Company near Milton, committed last November 17; Southern States Cooperative Feed Store, Milford, Nov. 26; Willey's Service Station, Plummer's Service Station, Chicken Roast Restaurant, and Hi Diner, all at Ellendale on June 29; Five Points Tavern, near Lewes, same date, and the Lincoln School, April 17. The estimated amount stolen was near $1,000.

Auto Race Day Tomorrow at Fair

The closing day spectacle, featuring stars and cars of the United Racing Club (URC), will again be staged under the direction of noted racemaster Sam Nunis. It will mark Nunis' 27th year as fair race director, having been associated in that capacity with the late Ralph A. Hankinson nearly three decades ago.

Early bird signees for the seven event card Saturday include veteran Eddie Gallione, pint-size Dave Humphrey, Dan Daniels, Earl Halaquist, George Monsen, Ed Terry and Tom Price, all of which bear URC stature in one bracket or another. The big prize that they and their rivals covet is the featured 20-lap Kent & Sussex County Fair sweepstakes.

Also down to grace the 25-car field are the likes of Bobby Courtwright, Hank Rogers, Bill Brown, Rod Albright, Dick Mealy and Bert Dodge. Courtwright, from Butler, N. J., who won at Binghamton, N. Y., this season, is pushing Gallione and Humphrey for PRC honors. Gallione of Schenectady, N. Y., is top man with four main wins while Humphrey, Seekonk, Mass., moved up on a late victory at Ontario Speedway, N. Y.

Saturday's racefare, including opening car warmups at 1:30 p.m.; a 10-lap semi-feature, a match event and three eight-lap heats, has competitive dueling set to go at 2:30 p.m.

Car Hits Boy Fixing Tire

A Lincoln youth was seriously injured when struck by an automobile and carried on its hood for 150 yards before falling to the roadway two miles east of Harrington, Tuesday.

The youth, Kenneth Wood, 16, was taken to the Milford Memorial Hospital in the Harrington Fire Company ambulance and treated for a fractured hip, contusions, and possible internal injuries.

State police said the youth was changing a tire with two companions on Route 14 when struck by an eastbound car operated by Ward Russ, 71, of Harrington.

When Wood was struck, police said he was thrown onto the car's hood and carried 150 yards before sliding off. The accident occurred shortly after 2 p. m.

Russ told police he saw the two others standing near the car, parked on the shoulder of the road, but failed to see the kneeling youth. The other two, Holland Fisher, 20, and Curtis Desmond, 16, both of Milford, were not injured.

Kent County include: Kent Sussex Tractor Company, Milford, April 13; Rainbow Inn, Little Heaven April 14; Nancy's Lunch, near the Dover Air Force Base, May 30; Cities Service Station, Camden, June 21; Short's Granary, near Cheswold, July 4, and the Little Heaven Restaurant, July 7.

Other Delaware counts facing the group include: Felton Tavern at Felton, U. & O. Oil Company, Bridgeville, and three other breaking and enterings suspected of them; Marshall's Tavern in Harrington; Village Drive-in, Laurel, and Webb's Garage, Hammond's Garage, the Lynch Service Station, and Joseph's Garage, Milford.

State Road Troop said the group is also responsible for an attempted safe robbery at White Brothers Supply Company, Route 896, near Middletown, on July 6.

Maryland State Police, Easton, want the group in connection with burglaries in Easton, Denton, and Ridgely, and possibly three more. The Maryland State Police, Salisbury barracks, want them to answer charges of burglaries at the Wagon Wheel, Blue Lantern, Pine Top, Moon Glow, and Marine Bar taverns, Club 500, a laundry at Federalsburg, a negro tavern at Princess Anne and a feed mill at Pocomoke City, all in the Salisbury-Princess Anne-Pocomoke City area.

THE OXFORD police are holding the group for breaking into Frank's Steak House, which resulted in the arrests; the Organic Compost Corporation of America, International Harvester Supply, Farm Bureau Cooperative, Oxford Laundry, J. & I. Diner, and Oxford Quality Cleaners, and an attempt to break into the Howery Restaurant. All offenses occurred between July 5 and 14, three of them on the latter date.

Stack, Jernigan Brothers, Bob Smith Star In Fair Foot Race

By Keith S. Burgess

Much has been and is being written about the deplorable physical condition of American youth today. This is true on a general basis. 19 exceptions to the rule were present at the Kent and Sussex Fair on Tuesday night. It takes courage and intestinal fortitude to run from 1 1/2 to 3 miles under the most favorable conditions. Tuesday the conditions were extremely unfavorable so the aforementioned qualities had to be present in an even higher degree. The track was still rough from the preceding night's rain and stock car damage. The temperature and humidity were higher than they were for the previous foot races held in the past two years.

Harrington High cross-country coach Harold MacDonald acted as starter and gave the "go" signal to 9 junior high lads in the 1 1/2 mile race. Bob Smith at 13 the

Joshua Pepper Descendants To Hold Reunion

Descendants of Joshua Pepper 1720-1808 will hold their 26th annual reunion at Trappe Pond, Laurel, Sunday, Aug. 6. A picnic dinner will be held at 1 p.m., followed by group singing, a short business meeting and visiting. It is planned and hoped that all members who find it possible will attend and spend the afternoon visiting and eat their evening meal at the park.

The business meeting will be conducted by the association president, Mrs. Hance Pepper of Selbyville. Other officers of the association are Bill Craig, Milford, vice president; Mrs. Florence Gillespie, Milford, secretary; Mrs. Ella Penuel, Oak Orchard, treasurer and historian. Special gifts will be presented to the youngest member present, the most recently married couple, and the couple with the largest family present. Members of the nominating committee are Mrs. William Stayton, Milford chairman; Sixten Biel, Philadelphia, and Irving Hastings, Georgetown. The auditing committee consists of Mrs. John Edgar Morris, Lewes, chairman; Emerson Pepper, Selbyville and J. Marvin Turner, Sherwood Park, Wilmington.

A meeting of the Joshua Pepper Memorial Cemetery Association will also be held and a report of progress submitted. Directors of this group are Howard Pepper, Selbyville, president; Melvin Joseph, Georgetown; vice president, Carlton Pepper, Richmond, Va., treasurer, and Houston Wilson, Georgetown attorney, secretary.

The cemetery where Joshua and Elizabeth Pepper lie buried is located in Georgetown on the Northeast of the PRR tracks and on the Northwest side of route 18 the Georgetown-Lewes road. It is expected by the planning committee that many will attend who have not previously been in attendance or know that they were Pepper descendants. All Peppers and descendants of the Pepper family are welcome to come and join in family fellowship, renewing old friendships and meeting other members of the family. Although the majority of the family live in Sussex County, there are members all over the country. There were one hundred and seventy descendants who attended last year. Further information may be obtained from any of the above-named individuals or by writing the secretary, Mrs. Florence Gillespie, Milford.

A limited edition of "The Pepper Family in America" has been compiled by Carlton D. Pepper, Richmond, Va.; with special mention of credit to Ellen Pepper Penuel of Oak Orchard, Millsboro, family historian. Any additional or pertinent information pertaining to any member of the family can be inserted. It is a record which spans eleven and twelve generations interwoven into the history of our country striking deep into colonial times.

Mrs. William Cohee

Mrs. Mary E. Cohee, 80, widow of William Cohee of Pleasantville, N. J., died Monday at her home.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at Barritt's Chapel Cemetery.

The services were conducted by the Rev. George Bishop, pastor of Frederica Methodist Church.

She is survived by one son, Charles Cohee, a daughter, Mrs. Mary Berey, and two grandchildren, all of Pleasantville.

youngest boy in the race took the lead and held it for most of the first mile. Randy Jernigan, 14, of Elsmere, who is the junior high state champion in the half mile, was the only runner close to Smith at this point. For the last half mile lap the two youngsters set a furious pace and the issue was in doubt until the last few strides when the older youth finally hung on to win by two scant seconds. Jernigan's extra year of experience plus the invaluable coaching he obtains from his older brother probably decided the issue.

Wayne Carson and Frank Cain finished strongly only twenty seconds behind the leaders. The two Harringtonians put on an exciting, crowd-pleasing dogfight coming up the homestretch with Carson getting the nod in a near-photo finish. A half-second separated the pair.

A similar stretch battle saw local boy Lester Minner edge Sussex County's best junior high miler, Paul Carey of Seaford, by a one second margin.

Ron Broce, of Harrington, made his first competitive start a good one as he logged a creditable 9:35 for the distance.

Jernigan, Smith and Carson were awarded trophies.

Nine contestants also competed in the three mile race. Six were college distance men and three were high school boys. John Creighton of Swarthmore College and Edgemore led for the first two miles before yielding to West Stack of the University of Delaware and Seaford. Roy Jernigan of the U. of D., a brother of the junior race winner, was in command as the last lap began. Stack then took over the lead and won as he heeled in 16:04. Jernigan was second and Creighton finally got away from Lee McMaster of the U. of D. to take third. Joe Richmond of Mt. Pleasant High School was fifth. Six trophies were given in this race. The writer has attended many events of this type in this area and is of the opinion that the trophies given on Tuesday night were the finest yet. This race is attracting the best runners in the area now because of this and also because of the large audience.

Jim Hawpe, Harrington High track coach, was race timer and the writer also was assisted.

The Chamber of Commerce, at a special meeting, Thurs., July 20, in the First National Bank Building, voted to recommend that the City Council put the parking meters out of action for a trial period.

At the meeting, attended by Mayor Charles L. Peck, Sr., some members of the City Council, and merchants, it was moved that the Chamber of Commerce recommend to the City Council that use of parking meters be discontinued for at least 12 months and that the Council establish a maximum of two hours parking limit in the main business district.

The chamber's Legislative Committee, of which Clarence Collins is chairman, will appear before the Council with the suggestion Mon., Aug. 14.

Proponents of the move to discontinue the use of the meters, pointed out that a number of Delaware communities had discontinued use of the devices in an effort to aid business. The backers said business had been aided by the move.

The agitation against meters has been especially pronounced in communities which have shopping centers. These centers, one of which is in Harrington, have plenty of free parking.

The opponents of the move to discontinue the use of parking meters pointed out the two-hour parking limit would entail additional police supervision and that, before the meters were in, the merchants and their employees parked all day long in the streets, making it difficult for shoppers to find a parking place.

Farm Field Day Celebration

Farm Field Day, Aug. 2, will mark the University's first official observance of the Land-Grant Centennial, according to Jerry Cole, Acting Kent county agent.

From now until next June, the University of Delaware along with other state universities will celebrate the 100th anniversary of the signing of the Morrill or Land-Grant Act. This act established the system of State universities throughout the country.

The 20th anniversary of the Substation Division will also be celebrated at Farm Field Day, Mr. Cole said.

In 1941 the General Assembly passed "an act to provide for the establishment of an agricultural research substation for lower Delaware." The John A. Tindall farm was purchased for this purpose on Aug. 20, 1941. Initial experiments were started the following year according to Mr. Cole.

In keeping with this centennial celebration atmosphere, a unique pageant of progress will be presented. It will contrast farming techniques and homemaking skills from Colonial times to the present. In addition, a large display of antique farm equipment will be shown.

The customary fried chicken lunch and free ice cold watermelon will be served. Every effort is being made to make the 1961 Farm Field Day a particularly enjoyable event. "If you're interested in the latest farming and homemaking information, or in just reminiscing about the past you'll like this year's Farm Field Day," Mr. Cole says.

Hog Prices Not Enough to Expand

Hog farmers in Delaware can expect steady prices within seasonal variations for their products during the next 12 months according to U. S. Department of Agriculture reports, says John H. Shropshire, livestock specialist, University of Delaware. This conclusion is based on the following reasons:

1. Farmers are increasing hog production only moderately.
2. This year's spring and fall pig crops are usually well-balanced.

According to USDA figures, Shropshire reports farmers will probably raise about five per cent more pigs than in 1960. About half of this increase may be offset by population growth and increased consumer buying power.

The spring and fall pig crops will be much better balanced this year than in most recent years, the pig crop report indicates. It also showed that farmers saved $50,456,000 spring pigs this year. This was seven per cent more than last year, but seven percent less than the 10-year, 1950-1959 average.

The report also indicates a two-percent increase in farrowing this fall. This means an expected three per cent increase in the number of fall pigs saved.

In summary, the hog outlook is about as good as we can reasonably expect, Shropshire says. Perspective prices are good enough to give the producer some reward for his efforts but not good enough to bring about an over-expansion.

Delaware Food Market Report

Summer is the season when family meals and between-meal snacks should be good but easy to prepare. The foods that will be plentiful during August will certainly help fill that bill.

The feature food for August says the U. S. Department of Agriculture, will be turkey. Supplies will continue to be quite large as they have been during this month. It is anticipated that during August, prices will be at a record low, lower than they have been since before World War II. This means those of you with freezers should make room for a turkey or two. Everyone, whether you have a freezer or not, should enjoy this meat often during August.

Other August plentiful will be shrimp, plums, summer vegetables, and peaches during the early part of the month. Indications are that the peach crop in New Jersey, Pennsylvania and other nearby states will be about 19 percent less than the yearly average because of severe damage to trees and buds last winter. Since the majority of our peaches come from these areas during August and September, supplies will be small and prices will go up. For those of you who can and freeze this fruit, I suggest you consider doing it soon while supplies are liberal.

Everyone can be in their backyards cooking steaks and broiling chickens this weekend since both meats are "specials" at many stores. Anyone who doesn't care for these will find economical buys on turkeys. The large size birds continue to sell for as low as 33 cents a pound. Other meats to check are leg of lamb, smoked hams, and veal roast, for a few stores are offering these at special weekend prices.

The season for garden fresh vegetables is in full swing now. Top salad choices are cabbage, carrots, cucumbers, endive, green onions, radishes, and lettuce. Tomatoes continue to be uncertain in quality and high in price. Eastern potatoes are plentiful and are excellent for potato salad. Regardless of what you buy, be sure to check for quality since the quality of many vegetables has been poor to only fair in some stores.

SIGNS
ROBERT L. LAYTON ADVERTISING
EX 8-8912

Shell experts test for knock by accelerating up steep grade. In another test, that "fifth wheel" in the back is lowered onto the road to measure mileage precisely.

TOP PERFORMANCE:

Shell test crew reveals five ways to test your car for top performance—and how the 9 ingredients in today's Super Shell can help you get it

Test #1. Quick starting
Count the seconds it takes to start your car. The engine should "snap to" in about two to three seconds. A slow start drains your battery. And it may flood your cylinders, causing performance troubles.

Test #2. Smooth running
Pay close attention to your engine in traffic. Does it vibrate roughly when you stop for a traffic light? Does it seem to "surge" as you pull away, then falter and fade? The problem may be the wrong blend of gasoline. In summer, for example, excessive heat can make winter grade gasoline bubble in the fuel line. Bubbles can interfere with the flow, causing rough running. Shell scientists don't let that happen with Super Shell. When hot weather threatens, they adjust Super Shell's 9-ingredient formula to give it the correct volatility for smooth summer driving.

Test #3. Reserve power
On a turnpike, in light traffic, accelerate suddenly from about thirty miles an hour to the legal limit. Now ask yourself:

1. Did your car accelerate smoothly—with no faltering, no bogging down?
2. Do you have plenty of power to spare?

If you feel you've "run out of engine," it's time to do something about it. Super Shell may be your answer. It contains TCP,* to help restore power lost to combustion chamber deposits. And another Super Shell ingredient, called Platformate, contains components that release 11 per cent more energy than even the finest of 100-octane aviation gasolines.

Test #4. Knock
Accelerate up a long, steep hill and listen carefully. If you hear a sound like marbles falling into an empty oil drum, you've got knock. It could cause engine trouble. Take no chances. Switch to Super Shell. Its formula includes no less than three ingredients to fight the various causes of knock.

Test #5. Miles per gallon
Don't trust your fuel gauge when you measure miles per gallon. Take these three simple steps and be sure:

1. Start your test by filling your tank. Make sure the gasoline comes up to the brim. Write down your mileage reading.
2. Drive in your normal manner for at least three tankfuls—keeping a record of the exact amount you buy.

3. Finally, fill your tank to the brim again. Add up all the gallons you've bought (not counting the initial fill-up in step 1.) Divide this amount into your total miles driven. This gives you your miles per gallon. Try this test with three tankfuls of Super Shell. You'll see what top performance really is.

Abundant Farm Production Pays

"It is in times of emergency that we can fully realize the true significance of our abundant agricultural production," Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman declared recently, in extending emergency livestock feed assistance to farmers in the Northern Great Plains drought area.

"The actions taken not only will assist farmers in the drought areas but also will help to assure the Nation's future food supply. There is not more fitting use for our plentiful supplies of feed grains than to help alleviate feed shortages, thus preventing needless liquidation of livestock herds and ensuing economic disaster in the drought area."

Livestock producers in the designated drought areas will be able to obtain forage and hay immediately from land in conserving uses and temporarily retired from production under Federal Farm Programs, and in most of the counties they will be able to obtain feed grains acquired under the price-support program to help feed and maintain their basic livestock herds.

State and County ASC Committees in the designated counties in the four-State area (Minn., Mont., N. and S. Dak.) will distribute sales of barley, oats, and corn stored in Government bins except for sales under the disaster livestock feed program. The Minneapolis Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Commodity Office will sell Government-owned oats stored in the area only under the emergency program. Export programs for Government-owned oats and barley have been discontinued.

According to R. Harry Wilson, chairman, Kent County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reports indicate that in much of the drought area the only grazing and hay supplies are on lands that have been in conserving uses under land retirement programs. Under the Conservation Reserve and the feed grain programs, no use can be made of land diverted from production including grazing, unless authorized under emergency conditions.

Because of the extreme shortage of feed supplies in the area, County ASC Committee has been given authority to permit grazing and harvesting of hay on some of these retired lands. In such cases the request must be made in writing by the operator of the farm. A recent amendment to the Soil Bank Act relaxed the provisions to permit harvesting of hay on Conservation Reserve land in emergency areas. Downward adjustments will be made in payments due farmers under the two programs where diverted land is grazed or harvested to ease the feed shortage.

Wool Payment Now Being Made

Payments under the 1960 national wool program now are being made in Kent County, R. Harry Wilson, chairman, County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, has announced. The payments are in connection with marketings of wool and unshorn lambs during the year from April 1, 1960 through March 31, 1961.

Thus far 1960 program payments have amounted to $1545.92. Applications for the payments had to be filed by May 1.

On shorn wool, the rate of payment is 47.6 per cent of the dollar returns the producer received from the sale of shorn wool during the year to $47.60 for every $100 received. This is the amount necessary to bring average wool prices up to the announced incentive level of 62 cents per pound under the National Wool Act. On unshorn lambs, the rate is 80 cents per hundredweight of live animals sold.

Deductions of 1 cent per pound from shorn wool payments and 5 cents per 100 pounds of live-weight from lamb payments will be made for advertising, promotion, and related market development activities on wool and lamb. This self-help program, authorized by the National Wool Act, is carried out by the American Sheep Producers Council, Inc., which was established for that purpose. Deductions from payments were approved by producers in a referendum held in 1959.

The incentive level for shorn wool for the current 1961 marketing year—covering marketings from April 1, 1961 through March 31, 1962—is 62 cents per pound, the same as for previous years.

All-Star Football Game to Be Held August 26

Salesianum School, yearly one of the most powerful teams in the state, will have six players wearing the Blue uniforms in the sixth annual Delaware All-Star High School Football Game.

In the past five games, athletes from Salesianum have played an important role in keeping the Blues unbeaten in this top summer sports attraction.

The game, which annually benefits the Delaware Foundation for Retarded children, will be played in Delaware Stadium, Saturday afternoon, August 26.

Fullback Jim Luciano and end Ron Mazik, both first team all-stars, lead the Sallies' contingent this year. End John Klepacki, a second team all-state selection, tackle Tom Sansone, quarterback Frank Frabizzio and center Leo Sweeney are also represented.

Luciano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Luciano, 2121 Peachtree Drive, Wilmington, was considered by his coach, Dim Montero, as one of the best fullbacks in Delaware this past season. Jim, 5-10, 190-pounds, was president of Salesianum's Student Council. Also a letter-winner in track, Luciano will attend Duke University in the fall.

Masik is another fine end out of Salesianum. The 6-3, 217-pounder, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Mazik, 300 Valley Road, Ashley Heights, was named the outstanding football player in Wilmington this past season by a shoe store. Mazik, who will attend the University of California in the fall, also won letters in track and basketball.

Klepacki, a 6-4, 225-pounder, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Klepacki, 113 Cedar Street, Wilmington. He played the opposite end from Mazik and made consistently good catches, including a touchdown catch which defeated Father Judge High in one of the season's highlights. A professional baseball prospect, Klepacki won three letters in baseball.

Sansone, 6-1, 210 pounder, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Sansone, 709 South DuPont St., Wilmington. An honor roll student, 'Tom' was one of the top tackles on the Sallies' team.

Frabizzio, 5-10, 165-pounds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gallo, 406 South Clayton Street, Wilmington, was the Salesianum field general last fall, and also kicked extra points. A letter winner in track, Frabizzio plans to enter either Maryland or La Salle in the fall as a pre-med student.

Sweeney, 6-1, 217 pounds, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Sweeney,

The youngest attending was the six-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Newnom of Wilmington.

Wheat Situation Reported

The total wheat supply for the marketing year beginning July 1, now is estimated at a record 2,765 million bushels, according to the latest Department of Agriculture report received at the Kent Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Office. This supply would be 3 percent above the previous record of 2,685 million in 1960-61 and 47 percent above the 1950-59 average of 1,884 million bushels in carry over, which more than offsets a reduction of 20 million bushels in the estimated production.

The official estimate of the carry over of old-crop wheat will be released on July 24. On the basis of April 1 stocks and estimated domestic disappearance and exports in April-June, the July 1, 1961 carry-over is expected to be about 1,414 million bushels. As in past years, the bulk of the carry over will be held by the Commodity Credit Corporation.

4-H Today Means Better Citizens Tomorrow

"Delaware 4-H Clubs are building better citizens for tomorrow," says James O. Baker, state 4-H club leader, extension service, University of Delaware. "They will be more effective members of the home, the community, the country and the world."

Many Delaware 4-H Boys and girls have developed themselves as citizens through their 4-H experience. They have also developed poise, confidence, and more pleasing, forceful personalities as a result of demonstration experience in their 4-H clubs through the years, Baker explains.

"Visitors who watch 4-H demonstrations at county or state fairs are impressed with the ability of even the 10-year-olds to stand at ease before a group of people and talk intelligently," the state leader says. "These qualities will prove invaluable in any occupation, as well as in social life."

Four-H members have the opportunity to hold office and to serve as junior leaders, helping younger boys and girls with project work and with their 4-H program, according to Baker. This creates a sense of responsibility, develops poise and self-confidence, and the ability to work with others. Taking part in community activities—another important phase of club work—impresses young people with the part they can play in the community and in national and international affairs.

Delaware's 4-H Clubs have a large number of different projects in which members can participate. They are grouped under such subjects as livestock, crops, home economics, and general projects. Included in the latter class are projects such as junior leadership, soil conservation, and home improvement. Young people who live in all parts of the state—even in urban areas—can find projects suited to their situation.

Can You Recognize An Educated Person?

An education leaves recognizable evidence in characteristics and capabilities that can only be acquired by wise discipline, sound instruction and patient endeavor.

Scholastic Teacher, published by Scholastic Magazines, Inc., recently listed the late Nicholas Murray Butler's five characteristics that nearly always stand out in educated persons.

The first is correctness and precision in speech.

The second trait is refinement and gentle manners. The educated person knows instinctively the difference between those things he may and should do, and those which he may not and should not do.

Third: While most persons live wholly on the surface of life, the educated person looks underneath that surface and far beyond the present moment.

Fourth: The educated person continues to grow and develop. His interest expands and his knowledge increases all through life.

The fifth characteristic of the educated person is his effectiveness and power to do what needs to be done. "The mere visionary dreamer," Dr. Butler wrote, "however charming or however wise, lacks something which an educated man requires."

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q—Where are the Veterans Administration's insurance offices located?

A—The three VA insurance offices can be reached by writing the VA Center, Denver, Colo; the VA Center, St. Paul, Minn., and the VA District Office, Philadelphia, Pa.

Q—I'm a nonservice-connected World War II veteran. If I die will my widow and two children be eligible for pensions?

A—If your widow's income and estate is not in excess of legal limits, she may be eligible for a pension. Likewise, your children if unmarried and under 18 years of age may be eligible if they do not have income or estate above the limit. Pensions such as these are awarded in case of need.

Q—I am a World War II veteran. Can I still get educational benefits under the GI Bill?

A—All educational benefits for World War II veterans have expired except in rare exceptions. The nearest VA office can tell you if you are one of these.

Q—I'm a wartime veteran but not a service-connected one. Is it possible the Government might pay the cost of my transportation to a VA hospital for treatment?

A—Yes, if you are financially unable to pay for the transportation and secure from the VA authorization IN ADVANCE for the travel.

WELCOME MAT is out for visitors at University of Delaware's annual Farm Field Day to be held at the Georgetown Substation August 2. J. Frank Gordy, substation director and field day host is shown here by sign at entrance to experimental farm. Visitors will see practical research in field crops, vegetables, fruit and broilers.

Farm Field Day August 2

Delaware farmers will have a unique opportunity next Wednesday, (August 2) to get first-hand information that can put more profit into farming.

On that day, the University of Delaware will stage its annual Farm Field Day at the School of Agriculture's substation experimental farm near Georgetown. The public is invited: farmers to hear research results in the production of vegetables, fruits, field crops and broilers; non-farmers to see some of the new developments in agriculture since days spent on Granddad's farm.

What makes the Field Day especially important to the individual farmer is that the University gears its farm research to practical problems. A farmer with a corn yield problem for example, can talk with one or more crop production researchers and soon learn where the trouble lies.

Experience indicates that many farmers' problems can be solved by following recommendations and practices already tested and proved. Many farmers even are aware of the potential solutions, but have never had an opportunity to evaluate these practices objectively in relationship to their own situations.

Farm Field Day is unsurpassed as an opportunity to "talk it over" with an agricultural researcher and to see the results of a full-scale experiment or demonstration on the problem.

More than 70 different experiments are listed in this year's farm field day program. They range from insect, weed and disease control in various crops to new varieties and new methods of planting, fertilizing, harvesting and marketing.

Reflecting the rapidly increasing interest in soybean production, experiments are underway this season in variety testing, fertilization, chemical weed control, and breeding for disease resistance. A special demonstration will be conducted on a high-speed soybean cultivation technique, and the new nationally-recognized soybean variety Bethel, developed by Dr. William Crittenden of the department of plant pathology, will be shown, along with other promising varieties under test.

Other field crops research to be reported includes sorghum and field corn variety testing; a corn demonstration encompassing high yields, harvesting, storing and marketing; and clover and alfalfa varieties resistant to parasites causing root and crown rots.

Other horticultural crops under test are direct-seeded asparagus and asparagus nutrition, spacing and irrigation; cantaloupe varieties, weed control, marketing and sweetness studies; cucumber weed control; lima bean varieties; pepper disease and weed control, varieties, direct-seeding, transplanting, spacing, irrigation and harvesting; potato pest control; sizes and shapes of seed pieces, and hormone treatment; snap bean varieties, irrigation and fertilization; watermelons and squash.

With a major share of Delaware's farm income centering around the broiler industry, considerable research is devoted to this area. Among the experiments to be reported are those designed to improve sanitation and safeguard poultry health, plus a comparison of different litter materials, and the effects of withholding feed during extremely hot periods as a means of reducing summer heat losses.

Special Activities Several features of general interest are included on the program. These include a display of antique farm equipment items arranged beside modern, up-to-date power units that have "evolved" to do the same basic work.

A pageant will be presented, featuring women dressed in authentic period costumes from Colonial days to the present, portraying the development of America's system of land-grant colleges and state universities. These two features tie in with the University's planned observance during the coming school year of the 100th anniversary of the signing of the Morrill Act by President Lincoln, which established the basis for the state universities, including the University of Delaware.

A special demonstration is planned on correct freezing techniques for fruits and vegetables. And at noon, a fried chicken lunch will be served by the Delaware Poultry Improvement Association.

Little Leaguers End Play With Split

Jim O'Neal's Harrington Little League team finished its season in second place in the Kent-Sussex Little League with a 5-3 record by losing Bridgeville 16-0 before bowing to Felton's undefeated champions 7-2.

At Bridgeville the locals had their hitting shoes on as they pounded out 15 safeties. Fry and Myer had 3 singles apiece. Wright allowed the losers only 4 base knocks.

Against Felton's classy combine it was a different story. Wayne Dill fanned 13 Harringtonians and gave up but 3 hits. Haley, Knox and Myer were the only losers in the hit column. The winners had 11 safeties and were aided by loose play afield.

Camping Season Extended by SHD

Delaware's state-owned camping, fishing and bathing areas along Route 14 between Dewey Beach and Bethany Beach, are experiencing a record-establishing influx of visitors this summer as the Delaware State Development Department. In fact, these public facilities are proving so popular that the State Highway Department, which maintains and operates the coastal recreation areas, has extended the 1961 "camping season" through Sat., Sept. 30.

In 1960, an estimated 50,000 persons used the public tenting area along Key Box Road and indications are that nearly double this number will have used the facilities before the curtain is dropped on the 1961 season.

During recent weeks, near capacity crowds have been using the tenting area along Key Box Road and even larger numbers have been using the special bathing areas at Savage Ditch, on Rehoboth Bay, and along the ocean front north and south of the Indian River Inlet. On weekends, it has been necessary, on several occasions, to turn away late arriving campers due to lack of sufficient accommodation.

As a result of cool weather in May, use of the tenting area got off to a somewhat slow start, but the pleasant weather that came with June and continued through early July brought campers in large numbers, causing the area to be filled to capacity on quite a few occasions. The "peak" was reached during the extended Fourth of July holiday, when part of an overflow crowd was placed in adjacent areas normally reserved for Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts. While this served to provide 32 additional tenting spaces, approximately 400 people were still turned away during the holiday period.

Many improvements were made at the Key Box Road tenting area last winter and spring, and the number of individual tent spaces, each of which is large enough for a tent housing up to eight persons, was increased to 438. Drinking water capacity was also increased, additional showers were installed, and toilet and garbage disposal facilities were improved.

At the Savage Ditch area, where there is a large pavilion seating 88 persons, a paved area now provides parking spaces for more than 500 cars.

The recreating area south of the Indian River Inlet, which features a large pavilion seating 109 persons, has a paved area that presently provides parking for approximately 700 cars.

While the Savage Ditch recreation area, fronting on shallow Rehoboth Bay, continues to be favored by families with small children, the recreation area just south of the Inlet appeals more to the larger children and adults seeking ocean bathing along a protected beach front advises the Development Department.

The colorful Kent & Sussex County Fair, extended two days this year (July 22-29) already has attracted the elite of eastern speed drivers for the annual "Auto Race Day" program next Saturday afternoon.

Record Keeping Bulletin Available

The successful farmer of the 60's must apply business methods to the business of farming, says W. T. McAllister, farm management specialist, University of Delaware. A farmer will be as much of a businessman as the local banker or merchant.

In keeping with this trend, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has published a bulletin titled "Family-Farm Records." It gives pointers on how to keep food farm business records, for the operation of a typical family farm, McAllister says.

For the majority of family farms a system of record keeping based on a foundation of five kinds of business records is recommended. These five kinds of records are: Documentary records, balance sheets, sales and purchase records, end-of-year summaries, and production records.

On most farms all of these records can be kept by the farmer or some member of his family; there is no need to go to the expense of hiring an accountant or bookkeeper, according to McAllister.

A free copy of the publication "Family-Farm Records", Farmers' Bulletin No. 2167, may be obtained from your County Extension Agent or Bulletin Office, Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, Newark, Del.

Governor's Night To Be Observed at Ocean Downs

Wed. Aug. 2, will be Governor's night at Ocean Downs Raceway one night before the seaside harness oval brings down the curtain on its 1967 racing season.

Governor J. Millard Tawes will award the Governor's Cup to the victor of Wednesday's feature Del-Mar-Va Stake for two-year-old pacers.

After the first 14 days of racing at week's end Ocean Downs showed an increase in parimutuel handle of $41,073 over a comparable period in 1960.

At this point last year fans had bet $1,323,095 compared with $1,364,168 bet so far this year. At the same time attendance for the first 14 nights stood at 53,291 compared with 40,046 last year, an increase of 13,245.

One of the highlights of the week's racing was the sparkling performance by Adora's Dream last Wednesday night. The two-year-old pacer owned by Hershey Quillen of Dagsboro, scored an impressive five-length victory in an early closing event, the colt's seventh consecutive stake triumph. The stylish colt sired by Knight Dream out of the Adios mare, Adora made his bid at the half mile pole when driver Jack Walters turned on the steam to pass three horses with ease and finish five lengths in front of Lee Adios, the respectable Showell Poultry Farm colt.

Adora's Dream is the favorite in the Del-Mar-Va Stake on Governor's Night, August 2. Owner Quillen rejected a $100,000 bid for the home-bred colt who is considered by many experts to be the top sophomore pacer in the country.

Another outstanding campaigner who performed for the Ocean Downs fans was Royal Bill, a classy sidewheeler who copped the Del-Mar-Va Stake for three-year-old pacers. After recovering from an injury which kept him out of competition for a month, the son of Adios Boy owned by Bill Collins of Salisbury, turned on a burst of speed in the stretch and pulled away from Pinehaven Jet, his closest competitor.

Saturday night Miss Gina Abbott whose suggested name for Elton White's filly won her a free weekend at Ocean City's Seascape Motel in the "Name the Filly" contest christened the promising youngster "Touch of Luck." Donna Fay, the mare, received a be-ribboned bail of hay and Touch of Luck received a bunch of carrots and a paid up nomination for Ocean Downs Del-Mar-Va Stake Race.

Among the prominent friends of Ocean Downs observed in the new Club Terrace during the week were Tommy D'Alessandro, George P. Mahoney, Sen. James Pine, Sen. John L. Sanford, Mayor Hugh Thomas Cropper, and representatives of the Worcester County Board of Commissioners.

Minimum '61 Corn Price Support Set

Prices for the 1961 corn crop will be supported at a minimum of $1.31 per bushel in Delaware, Jacob Zimmerman, chairman, Delaware Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, has announced. This compares with a final rate of $1.17 per bushel in effect for 1960-crop corn.

The chairman explained that the minimum rates will not be reduced, but may be increased if the final 1961-crop corn support price determined on the basis of data on Oct. 1 is higher than the minimum national support of $1.20 per bushel announced in March.

In announcing the state support rate for 1961-crop corn, Mr. Zimmerman stressed the importance of a full understanding by growers of how this year's corn price-support program is affected by the 1961 feed grain program.

"Corn producers who participate in the 1961 feed grain program will be eligible for price support on their 1961 production," he declared, "but there will be a limitation on the amount of corn from eligible farms that can be put under support.

15 Contracts Awarded By S. H. D.

A contract was awarded by the State Highway Department last week to Brann and Stuart Company, Trenton, New Jersey, for placing new underpinning under the bridge along the southbound lane of U. S. Route 13 at Drawyer's Creek, north of Odessa, at its low bid price of $21,208.

The contract provides for the work to be completed in 60 working days, but it is dependent upon the ability of the concern to procure the structural steel needed for the project. Inability to procure this needed steel may cause a further delay in the operation.

At the present time the bridge is closed to traffic and when the repairs are completed it will be limited to a one lane traffic artery at reduced speed. The Highway Department plans to completely replace this bridge at some future date.

This contract was one of 15 awarded during the past week by the Highway Department, with the low bids on the contracts totaling $696,205.03.

Construction projects were covered in 4 of the contracts, having a total cost of $443,078.43, and two of the contracts involved bridge repairs and replacements, including the Drawyer's Creek Bridge, with the total cost being $104,593.10. Contracts were for gasoline and diesel fuel requirements, at a total cost of $144,466.30, while the remaining two contracts covered maintenance supplies costing $4,067.20.

The construction projects covered one for Edgell Construction Company, Dover, for three dirt road improvements in northern Kent County costing $197,905; one of the Melvin L. Joseph Constuction Company, Georgetown, for four dirt road improvements in northern Sussex County, costing $139,963.38; one to George and Lynch, Inc., Wilmington, reconstruction of Long Bridge, in southern New Castle County at a cost of $83,385.10, one to Greggo & Ferrara, Wilmington, for improvement of two streets in Elsmere at a cost of $39,558.80 and one to E. Earle Downing, Wilmington, for improving Claymont school streets at a cost of $79,651.25.

As in the past, the price-support program for 1961-crop corn will be carried out through farm-stored loans and purchase agreements. These will be available from 30 days after harvest through April 15, 1962. Loans will mature on May 15, 1962.

STAY ALERT - STAY ALIVE

Our modern methods of communication enable us to know within minutes whenever anything of major importance occurs anywhere in the world. Likewise, we are so informed of disasters that take the lives of many. What we often do not know is the reason for such disasters. Sometimes they are purely the results of a combination of circumstances over which no particular one had any control, but all too frequently lulls us into a false sense of security and well-being which takes away our alertness and leaves us prone to all types of accidents. Fires in the home, falls in the home, injury from mechanically or electrically operated time-saving devices at work or at home. Even on the farm, now that machinery is so widely used, extra precaution is necessary to insure safety.

Our industries spend thousands of dollars yearly to install and maintain measures which promote safer working conditions for all concerned, but without the cooperation of the individual, such measures become worthless.

In like manner, our State and National Safety Councils publish all types of material both interesting and informative concerning all phases of safety. If we read and heed their admonition we may be lucky enough to be among those who the country's best. Since there were so many fine entries submitted this year by universities, colleges and schools seeking to broaden their base of support, the judges had great difficulty in making their final selections. In many classifications the margin between the first place winners and runners-up was very narrow indeed. So it is that they have asked us to send you, your colleagues and your alumni their warmest congratulations and best wishes for continued success."

John A. Pollard, vice president for research of the Council for Financial Aid to Education, headed the panel of judges which included David M. Church, executive director of the American Association of Fund-Raising Councils, and Donald A. Deutsch, director for educational programs, Sears-Roebuck Foundation.

The nine classification groups were public institutions, large coeducational colleges, junior colleges, professional or specialized institutions, small coeducational colleges, private universities, independent secondary schools and private women's colleges.

Winner of the $5000 first place improvement award for all categories was Lehigh University, with 43% participation and $350,405 in gifts. Yale ranked first in sustained performance with $2,258,476 from 34,600 donors.
