

MEMORIAL RACE TONIGHT, THURS., OCT. 26, AT RACEWAY

A field of eight of the fastest pacers ever to appear in the 15 year history of the Kent and Sussex pari-mutuel meeting will go postward tonight, Thursday, Oct. 26, for a purse of $5,000 in the Invitational Handicap Pace to be named the T. Brinton Holloway Memorial.

The late "Brit" Holloway was the manager of the Kent & Sussex Fair and the annual pari-mutuel meeting for 12 years. Mr. Holloway died in June after a brief illness.

Rated the best of the field is Russell Kirby's pacer, Milford Hanover, from nearby Milford. He has a record of 1:57 1/5 made this year in a time trial at Vernon, N. Y. over the 3/4 mile track. Milford also won this year in 2:01 at Roosevelt Raceway. He has five victories in 21 starts and will be driven by his regular driver, Robert (Bobby) Camper of Houston.

Stanley Dancer, New Egypt, N. J. will be driving Dr. Nichols Derrico's Luca's Luck in the handicapped event. Luca's Luck has won six starts this year at Yonkers and Roosevelt Raceways. Fastest winning time 2:03 4-5.

Dancer, one of the most successful drivers competing today is a District 8 director of the United States Trotting Association and served on the board with the late Brit Holloway who was a director also.

In accepting the invitation, Dancer said, "I'll be there to drive; happy to do so out of respect of Brit. Thanks for inviting me."

Harry Kelley's superb campaigner, Kenn's Victorwin from Ocean City, Maryland, will be another starter. Kelley's pacer shows three wins this year, fastest 2:02 4-5 at Yonkers raceway. He was officially timed in 1:59 3-5 when third to Stephan Smith at Roosevelt this year. He has been timed in 2:00 1-5 once, 2:00 2/5 twice and 2:00 3-5 five times.

The Kelley sidewheeler has won $59,986 and was purchased at auction for $1900. He will be driven by Robert (Bobby) Cherrix of Snow Hill. Cherrix raced at the Harrington Track for years before going into the big time.

Another starter will be Ralph W. Toomey and Allen Burbage's Lusty Leader from Frankford. Double "L" sports a 2:02 tab made at Roosevelt Raceway this year. He has had eight victories in 26 starts. He was officially timed in 2:01 1-5 at Brandywine Raceway and will be driven by his regular driver, Tom McInnis. Lusty has won over $44,000.

H. C. West and Sons' Brenda Eden, from Birdsnest, Va., also will start. Brenda first made herself known when she won at Harrington at 2:04 2-5 as a 3-year-old and went from there to the "big apples" — Roosevelt and Yonkers Raceways. This year she won in 2:01 4-5 at Roosevelt. Mr. West gladly accepted the invitation and said "there would be half of the Eastern Shore of Virginia up there to see her go." Vernon Dancer, her regular driver, will be at Harrington to drive this speedy mare that already has won over $20,000 this season.

Another horse to accept that will have an inside post position is Mike Guerrieri's Doug A Dew from Salisbury, Md., second in 2:01 2-5 and timed in 2:01 3-5 his next to last start at Roosevelt Raceway when driven by the notable Billy Houghton. Elton White will drive the $22,000 winner here.

Dave Legum, a driver of many year's standing at Harrington, is shipping his good pacer, Abbott Hanover, 2:02, from New York for this memorial event. Abbott took his record over the Roosevelt Raceway track and has four victories to his credit this year in 16 tries.

The four-year-old mare, Deanie Hanover from the Dana Irving Stable of Oxford, Pa., is expected to start, rounding out the eight horse field. Deanie won five in a row, four at Laurel Raceway and one at Vernon Downs. She paced in 2:01 2-5 at Vernon Downs and was timed in 2:03 in her next to last start at Roosevelt Raceway.

Post time at Harrington is 3 p. m. and the $5000 event Thursday will be the eighth race.

Amendment of Milk Regulations

At its meeting Sept. 21, the Delaware State Board of Health amended the milk regulations adopted February 27, 1950 by deleting item 21p, Section 7, which read as follows: "Item 21p. Time of delivery—Milk to be consumed in the form of whole milk shall be delivered to the final consumer within 48 hours of the time of pasteurization."

It is felt that with modern processing equipment and refrigeration it is no longer expedient to require such time limits on the delivery of pasteurized milk. The action was effective as of September 21, 1961.

Carol Ann McNally

Carol Smith

Dr. Howard E. Row, Asst. State Supt., Secondary Education announced that Harrington High School was one of those that nominated students to be representatives to the Third Youth Conference on the Atom to be held in Chicago next month.

In his letter to Archie Feagan, Dr. Row stated: "It seems important to say to you and your candidates that every set of credentials presented to this office described a fine student. It is a pleasure to review this kind of credentials. Unfortunately in a situation such as this, only three could be chosen and three others named as possible alternates. Without meaning to stir up false hope, I do want you to know that we have asked the Delaware Power & Light Company to attempt to extend its list even this year, but very definitely in the future. I am listing here eleven names. These represent the boys and girls whose credentials came to the top in the final screening. The names are listed here in the order that they are presented to the Delaware Power & Light Company, with the first three being the representatives who will go to Chicago and the other eight those who we think deserve particular mention and we invite you to give such mention of merit to those boys and girls.

1. Mary Joy Hudecz, Milford High School; 2. Wayne A. Fenton, William Penn High School; 3. Robert A. Doughty, Brandywine High School; 4. John N. Boucher, (alternate for Fenton), William Penn High School; 5. John L. Marshall Jr. (alternate for Hudecz), Claymont High School; 6. Ronald Guy Wirick (alternate for Doughty), Newark High School; 7. Robert L. Francis, John Dickinson High School; 8. Terry A. Bryan, Dover Senior High School; 9. Carol Lynn Smith, Harrington High School; 10. Carol Ann McNally, Harrington High School; 11. Maria E. Yorke, Brandywine High School.

Harrington High School feels quite honored to have placed two students on this highly selected list.

TWO BEGINNERS CLICK—A most unusual situation — Ronnybee, two-year-old colt, owned by Mrs. Henry Clukey and Estate of Henry J. Clukey, has never lost a race and his driver and trainer, Sammy Matthews, has never lost a race. In other words, both started out this fall on the Harrington track where the pacer has had five wins, three of which were pari-mutuels and two qualifying races, with Matthews driving only this colt. ## H. H. S. Evens X-Country Log With Triangular Win

By Keith S. Burgess

Coach Harold McDonald's Harrington High cross-country team rebounded from two straight losses and balanced it's 1961 record at 2-2 by easily winning a triangular meet from Milton and Millsboro. Scores were H.H.S. 26, Milton 57 and Millsboro 60.

Some of the locals ate unwisely at noon on Wednesday the day of the race. Cider and hot dogs are poor preparation for a grueling 2.4 mile cross-country run. These lads turned in sub-par performances but others on the squad continued to improve and took up any resultant slack.

Clarence Hackett remained unbeaten as he won his fourth straight race. Ken Garey lowered his personal best for the sixth time in seven circuits of the hillside course. He was pushed hard all the way by Millsboro's Fox. Fox and Garey are newcomers to distance racing but judging by their performances in Wednesday's test both these lads will soon be well known in downstate track and cross-country circles.

Freshman Dennis Rogers lowered his season standard and reached a personal goal as he was clocked in 14 minutes flat. Bob Smith ran 13 seconds faster as he, Jeff Adams and Erwin Rogers joined Hackett, Garey, Dennis Roger, Allen Wix, Wayne Carson and Milt Smzdja on the list of harriers who have already earned their varsity letters this fall. Adams ran 11 seconds faster than his best previous effort. Bill Sollars, Frank Cain and Dick Schrieber were Lions who exceeded all other outings this autumn. Eight of Coach McDonald's boys set new standards and a ninth, Frank Welch, made his first try a good one as he logged a respect-

Delaware Food Market Report

"Witch" foods to choose for Halloween?

This week most of us will have to go on a market tour for foods that can be used for "treats and eats." Give the witches and goblins different "fare" and make daily eating interesting, healthful and fun.

Apples are ideal for "trick or treaters" or for just plain eating. The crop is exceptionally large and prices are low. The color is improving on most varieties with the pale color giving way to rosier hues as seasonal weather aids quality.

When apple shopping remember to choose a variety best suited for your intended use. Store apples in the refrigerator in plastic bags or covered containers. They will keep 2 or 3 weeks. If stored in a cool, dark place, 35 to 40 degrees, their lifetime may be extended to 2 or 3 months. One pound or three medium apples will give about three cups of diced apples or one and a half cups of applesauce or two cups of ground pulp and juice. Two pounds of apples will make a nine-inch pie. For one quart canned or frozen apples you'll need two and a half to three pounds of apples.

Avocados are still in season and they are available at reasonable prices. The new cranberry crop is a good one and stocks on hand are heavy, so cranberries are a top buy. Coconuts from Puerto Rico join grapes, limes and pears as good fruit choices this week.

October is the one big month for pumpkins and this year the crop is a large one, particularly the local crop. Most of the fresh pumpkins will soon be made into jack-o-lanterns and a few will be made into puddings and pies.

Top choice vegetables for just plain eating are cabbage, carrots, beets, iceberg lettuce, broccoli, cauliflower, celery, spinach and both kinds of potatoes. (white and sweet)

Trick or treaters or grown-ups will enjoy ice-cold cider or hot spiced cider which is now in season. The terms "cider" or "apple juice" are sometimes used interchangeable, however, "apple juice" normally refers to a canned or heat treated product which makes it stable. "Cider" is apple juice which has not been heated and as such is a perishable product. Cider rapidly becomes "hard" and then vinegar.

'62 CORVAIR MONZA

NEW FACE, SAME SPORTING HEART

We might as well tell you straight off: Corvair's the car for the driving enthusiast. Think that lets you out? Maybe. Maybe not.

Until you've driven one, you really can't say for sure, because Corvair's kind of driving is like no other in the land. The air-cooled rear engine sees to that. You swing around curves flat as you please. You whip through the sticky spots other cars should keep out of in the first place. (Especially this year, now that you can get Positraction as an extra-cost option.) You stop smoothly, levelly with Corvair's beautifully balanced, bigger brakes.

Corvair's found other new ways to please you this year. A forced-air heater and defroster are standard equipment on all coupes, sedans and both Monza and 700 Station Wagons. So are dual sunshades and front-door armrests and some other goodies. You'll note some new styling, inside and out. Nice. And safety-belt installation is easier, too, and cheaper.

So you can see we haven't really done much to Corvair this year. Why on earth should we? If this car, just as she is, can't make a driving enthusiast out of you, better take a cab.

"Apple Polishing" Made Easier By U. of D. Research

Did you ever wonder where the expression "apple polisher" started? Probably from a schoolboy who rubbed an apple all the way to school and then gave it to the teacher. Why all the rubbing? To make it shine and bring out its natural color. Everyone knows that teachers like apples that glow with natural color.

Research at the University of Delaware is making it a lot easier for schoolboys and everyone else to have shiny red apples without all that polishing. Dr. Vernon J. Fisher, University of Delaware horticulturist, is conducting an experiment to select apples with the most desirable coloring.

He started an orchard in 1957 of "color sports" that had been observed in commercial orchards throughout the country. These are plants that bear fruit showing unusually good coloring for their variety. The idea of the test was to determine which one to recommend to Delaware growers. He says it is one of the most complete tests of this kind in the East.

By observing these sports during the past two bearing seasons, Dr. Fisher has been able to draw some definite conclusions. These conclusions indicate that it will be a lot easier for the apple growers to produce higher quality apples in the foreseeable future.

It has always been a problem for a grower to keep apples on the trees long enough for them to color properly. Either wind

State's Doctors Meet Today

The state's doctors meet in Wilmington today as the Medical Society of Delaware holds its 172nd Annual Scientific Session in the Academy of Medicine. The business session was held last Sunday in Dover.

Mayor John E. Babiarz and Dr. Andrew M. Gehret, president of the host New Castle County Medical Society, will welcome the group. Following a business report to the members by Dr. J. W. Abbiss, Secretary, the doctors will hear an address by Governor Elbert N. Carvel. Dr. Lemuel C. McGee will give his presidential address, following which the Society will hear three scientific papers and two major panel discussions.

Col. Henry F. Steinbock, Chief Medical Officer at the Dover Air Force Base, will give a paper on medical problems in manned space flight. He will be followed by a panel discussion on collagen disease by three experts from the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine, Drs. L. E. Shulman, M. B. Stevens and R. M. Stroud. Collagen is a protein which is the major element in connective tissue between bones, cartilage and tendons. Its diseases include arthritis and rheumatism, among others.

The panel will be followed by a business session to elect a president for 1963, and by a luncheon. The Medical Society elects its presidents a year in advance to give them time to prepare for the job.

After lunch, Dr. Carroll B. Nash, director of the Parapsychology Laboratory of St. Stephen's College, Philadelphia, will discuss the medical implications of parapsychology and extra-sensory perception, a controversial and little-explored subject. Dr. Edward S. McCabe, editor of the Keystone Series of Medical Texts, will discuss ways and means of lowering blood cholesterol.

A final panel will be held on diagnostic radiology, featuring Schools of Medicine: Prof. R. R. Greening of Jefferson, Prof. W. J. Tuddenham and Assistant Prof. T. A. Tristram of the University of Pennsylvania; Assistant Prof. J. J. Boyle, Jr., of Hahnemann, and Assistant Prof. J. P. Moore of Temple.

The meeting will conclude with a reception and banquet at the Hercules Country Club. The Society will honor one of its members for outstanding service, and Dr. McGee will turn the presidency over to Dr. Sylvester W. Rennie, also of Wilmington.

Even Moths Have Tobacco Habit

Back in the days when men did most of the smoking, some clever fellow spread the theory that "ashes are good for a rug—they protect it from moths."

It was a good excuse, Marion MacDonald, 4-H Club agent says, but now a research group at the University of California has come up with the proof that these perverse insects actually have a taste for cigar and cigarette ashes!

Anyway, manufacturers have eliminated the need for such precautions, she adds, which is good news to housewives, if not to cigar-smoking husbands. The majority of rugs and carpets today are mothproofed permanently in the manufacturing process. Floor coverings using man-made fibers are discouraging insects simply because they offer no nourishment to moths and beetles, Mrs. MacDonald explains. Those made of wool or wool blends today are mothproofed with special chemical processes. These processes are designed to last the life of the carpet, she adds.

Sorry, smokers, but you can't get away with that one anymore! Just hunt up the ashtray and console yourself with the fact that your carpets and rugs have been improved without your help.

"EVERYBODY KNOWS THIS STORE"

"We don't need advertising, everybody knows this store and what we have for sale."

Popularity and a good reputation are good assets and are not required in a year or two. Everybody goes to church but the sexton still rings the bell. It could be true that everybody knows a store if it were not for a few facts of nature. Everybody is a lot of people and a very indefinite number. People die and people move away, others get married and set up housekeeping, newcomers move into a community. It is a law of nature that things change.

So the fact is the retailer isn't dealing with a static audience. He is advertising and selling to a passing parade. Any merchant must admit that if everybody knew his store, and knew the quality of his merchandise, and service, everybody would be his customer.

The question arises then, why does a competitor stay in business? Simply because there are a lot of people who don't know the first merchant's store, or if they do know the store they must have a better reason for trading somewhere else. Just knowing a store is no reason for trading there.

There are always plenty of potential customers in every community for a retailer to woo. If everybody knows a store, the next question is, does everybody know the merchandise? Does everybody know why the merchandise is better than the same stock down the street? To move merchandise it is necessary to do a job of selling.

Selling is merely telling new customers, and reminding old customers, of the virtues of a certain store, and its stock. Newspaper advertising is nothing more than oral selling multiplied by the thousands. Customers must be continually convinced they are trading at the right place.

To prove how quickly people can forget a store, think of a building in town and ask a neighbor who was in business there before the present occupant. People forget very quickly unless they are constantly reminded.

Although a little late, last Sunday was Laymen's Sunday and the speaker was Raymond West, a prominent layman of Carey's Methodist Church, and despite the inclement weather, there was a good turnout to hear a very interesting address by a very able speaker. There was also a baptismal service at which five infants were christened as follows: a daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mulholland; a daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Marvel; a daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Doughty; a son, Mr. and Mrs. Houston Twilley, and a son, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Remember house cleaning at the church Saturday, beginning at 9 a.m. Lunch will be served at 12:30. Everyone who can possibly do so, come out and help clean the Lord's house for the homecoming on Nov. 12, and for the winter months to follow.

The fifth and sixth grades of Houston Public School, Mrs. Thelma Warren, teacher, visited the John Dickinson Mansion and the Delaware State Museum on Tuesday, Oct. 17. Foam-Laminated Fabrics . . . Ideal For Making Coats

By Miss Janet Reed

Creative homemakers who like to experiment with new fabrics may want to try their hand at making a coat this fall with one of the new foam-laminated fabrics.

Laminated fabrics, used extensively in ready-to-wear coats last spring, are now appearing on the yard-good counters. These fabrics have a thin layer of urethane foam fused or laminated to one side of the fabric. The result is a warm, lightweight, crease resistant fabric ideally suited for coats and jackets. A wide variety of outer fabrics are available to choose from including bulky knits, faille, jerseys, flannels and lightweight cottons.

Foam-laminated fabrics are not difficult to sew, but they do require planning for best results. Because of this fabric's high degree of resiliency you should select a pattern with a few darts, seams and other details as possible to give you the best looking product.

Also unmounted sleeves, such as raglan or kimona, will prove more satisfactory than set-in sleeves because laminated fabrics do not "ease in" or shrink easily.

It is important with all garments. So before cutting, pin the paper pattern together and try it on to be sure you have a free and easy fit. Remember, coats should not fit too tightly and there should be ample allowance made for other garments to fit underneath them. Pin the pattern to the fabric side of the cloth because the foam side resists pinning.

Cut the margin off the paper pattern before cutting into the fabric. This will make it easier for you to do an accurate cutting job.

When you're ready to sew, adjust your sewing machine so you have a longer than normal stitch. Also, reduce the thread tension and the pressure on the pressure foot.

Stitch with the foam side of the material down. If the foam sticks to the surface of the machine while you're sewing, place some tissue paper under the fabric and then stitch through both fabric and paper. The tissue paper can easily be removed when you've finished sewing.

To give your garment a neater appearance, slash wide darts open down to one inch from the point and then press open. Always press foam-laminated fabrics on the cloth side using a steam iron and a press cloth. Because this fabric is so resilient, you will not be able to press faceted edges such as collars, facing and sleeves as flat as you'd like. Top stitching these edges will solve this problem.

One big advantage in using foam-laminated fabrics for making coats is that you don't need to use any interfacing except under button holes. The press-on type of interfacing is suggested for this job.

Whether making your own or buying a foam-laminated garment save the instructions for cleaning the material. Pass this information on to your dry cleaner to be sure that your coat is cleaned properly.

Cut Winter Feed Costs Of Brood Sows

Feeding silage to brood sows during the winter can cut feed costs, suggests County Agent George Vapaa.

He says grass or corn silage can save 2 to 2 1/2 pounds of grain per day per sow during the gestation period. Feed silage in troughs with the grain protein mixture distributed over it.

If grass, soybean, or peavine silage is used, feed 7 to 8 pounds of the silage, 1 pound of commercial protein supplement and 2 pounds of grain.

If corn silage is used, Mr. Vapaa suggests feeding 10 to 12 pounds of silage, 1 1/2 pounds of protein supplement and 1 1/2 pounds of grain. Silage should be of good quality and not too coarse.

Read-O-Mat Makes Debut

A new effort to encourage outside reading by University of Delaware students is underway. A book-vending machine, called a Read-O-Mat, has been installed next to the cigarette and candy machines in the Memorial Library basement.

Purchased and maintained by the University Bookstore, the machine is the first of its kind on a cottage campus. It is a product of Publishers Vending Service, Inc.

Installed less than three weeks ago on a trial basis, the machine has been greeted with enthusiasm by students, so that five more have been ordered to be placed in dormitories and the Student Center.

Lee Manning, bookstore manager, said each machine stores 450 paperback books, 40 different titles. All the student has to do is dial his selection and drop the correct change in the slot.

Among the selections are leading best-selling fiction novels, and books narrower scope to supplement specific course work. Titles currently available include, "War and Peace," "Exodus," "Advise and Consent," and "The Greek Philosophers."

When it was discovered Delaware students spent some $30,000 on cigarettes last year, mostly through vending machines, university officials decided to try the same type of salesmanship to stimulate reading.

The machines will serve the reading needs and desires of students, especially during hours when the bookstore is closed, and also as constant reminders of the current titles available.

Magnolia

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rash and son, of near Washington, D. C., spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Rash.

North Dorchester Drubs H.H.S. 43-6

By Keith S. Burgess

An aerie of high-flying Eagles from the neighborhood of Hurler, Secretary and East New Market, Md., flew into Harrington Monday afternoon and floated out again with an easy 43-6 victory. The loss was the fourth in five starts for the Lions. North Dorchester is a large, consolidated high school but did not appear to have a team anywhere near as proficient as the Middletown team which had a much harder time subduing the Lions last week. In short, Harrington played a much poorer game this week.

Defensive lapses hurt the Lions, who in the opening minutes seemed to have a chance. North Dorchester received the opening kickoff and racked up three first downs but the locals gave ground grudgingly and forced the Eagles to punt. Soon after a pass from center went over Bill Porter's head and the Marylander's gained possession only eight yards from paydirt. Terry Ray, who was to score five touchdowns, swept end for the first score of the game. Soon after the Eagles recovered a Lion fumble on the H.H.S. 28-yard line. A five-yard penalty and a beautiful, bootleg play by the quarterback carried to the five. Ray ran over what proved to be the deciding tally. Harrington threatened when Paul Rash got through for 25 yards to the Eagle 30, but the threat died when a pass was intercepted at the 10. Terry Ray then raced 90 yards for an 18-0 lead. The fleet back outraced all pursuit.

The Lions scoring fuse was ignited by a five-yard gain by Jeff Adams followed by a six-yard advance by his brother, Bill, for a first down. Bill is a quick-starting mighty mite of a halfback, who often is through the enemy forward wall before they can focus their eyeballs on his smallish frame. He darted through on the next play for 18 yards to the Eagle 30. Bill Adams was stopped for no gain and then Jeff Adams passed to Tom Lord for 10 yards. A lateral to B. Adams carried to the 15 and Bill Porter cracked through the line to the 12. The smaller Adams squirmed to the 3-yard line from which point Jeff swept end for the score.

The locals moved the ball well all afternoon, but with no breakaway runner and no one able to catch the long passes, had to try and march for long distances to score. This failed, as Lion backs lost the ball six times on fumbles, plus several passes that went awry and landed in enemy hands. The Eagles had speed to burn, two or three shifty backs and a quarterback who was clever at the bootleg play. Yet the Lions could have made a ball game of it on one of the better days.

Terry Ray soon spoiled the locals' comeback hopes by dashing 69 yards for his fourth T. D. and a half-time score of 24-6.

In the second half, Bill Porter ran for 9 yards and 20 yards but a fumble soon after put the Dorchester countians back in business. Ray went into the line and broke free only to be stopped by Charles Taylor with a last-ditch tackle. Quarterback Smith then bootlegged around left end for six more points.

J. Adams and David Harcum blocked the kick-attempted extra point.

An abortive local thrust carried to the N. D. 40 before a deflected aerial was snatched by an Eagle. The victors then marched 60 yards to and over the goal and added the extra point on a pass.

Terry Ray later closed out a dismal afternoon for local fans when he again hit the scoring column.

Jeff Adams was prominent on defense for the Lions as he turned in ten or more tackles. Tim Strohl and David Harcum played well on the forward wall.

Bill Porter, the Adams boys, Paul Rash and end Tom Lord racked up gains of more than 200 yards, but inability to hold on to the ball proved to be the game-deciding factor.

Friday night the Lions journey to Dagsboro-Frankford for a tilt with tough John M. Clayton. The Sussex Countians have lost but once in four starts and have much the same squad that romped here last fall. The Lions must be at their best to keep the score respectable.

Start Feeder Calves Right

It's important to get feeder calves off to a good start if you expect to show a profit, says George Vapaa, Kent County agricultural agent. Many calves are taken from their mothers, one day, crowded into a truck and sold in a feeder calf sale the next. Weaning, shipment, and rough handling at sale barns provides enough stress to make calves susceptible to shipping fever. Your veterinarian can protect calves against shipping fever before they are loaded out of the sales barn, or on arrival at the farm, the agent says. Tranquilizers are often used to minimize stress, but he cautions against over-tranquilization. It may have harmful affects.

Unload calves into a well-bedded comfortable barn or shed. Feed them clean, bright grass hay and a little grain. Above all, let them quiet down and rest a few days. Watch carefully, Mr. Vapaa warns, for animals that show symptoms of shipping fever or otherwise appear unhealthy.

Century Club Notes

A Cleric's Impression of the Holy Land was the title of the program at the Harrington New Century Club Tuesday at 2 o'clock. Mrs. J. Millard Cooper, religion chairman and chairman of the afternoon, introduced the speaker, the Rev. Olin T. Shockley, Jr. The Rev. Shockley toured Europe and the Holy Lands last summer. With the use of color slides he took the members of the audience on a walking trip of that land which is so close to the hearts of all Christians. His most perceptive comments on the city of Jerusalem and his own feelings in regard to the Holy City were interesting and informative. A collection of dolls, one from each of the countries he visited, made a delightful "interest corner."

Members of Mrs. Cooper's committee who took part in the program and assisted with the serving of refreshments were Mrs. Fred S. Bailey, Mrs. Howard L. Sipple, the Rev. Mrs. Lorraine Ottinger, Mrs. Theodore H. Harrington, Mrs. Loren B. Harrington and Mrs. Reese B. Harrington.

Mrs. Floyd N. Nasser, vice president, presided at the business meeting. Three new members were elected to membership. They are Mrs. Charles Rapp, sponsored by Mrs. James Moore, and Mrs. Nasser, Mrs. Leonard Masten, sponsored by Mrs. H. Arthur Hoffman and Mrs. J. Millard Cooper, and Mrs. Albert Price sponsored by Mrs. Fred Bailey and Mrs. Harry John Dill, Jr.

Mrs. Nasser announced the date of Nov. 9 for a reciprocity tea at the Smyrna Club, to which the Harrington Club has been invited. Any member who would like to go may call Mrs. Nasser. December 1 has been announced as the deadline for dues. They may be sent to the treasurer, Mrs. Robert Creadick.

Mrs. James Moore requested a good participation this year in the Vogue Sewing Contest. Further details may be obtained from her.

The next meeting will be on Tuesday, Nov. 14. "Strengthen Schools for the 60's" will be the topic and Mrs. William A. Minner, education chairman, will have a guest speaker to present.

Fabrics take the spotlight as new colors, new textures, and new designs make their debut in fall and winter clothing styles, says Marion MacDonald, Kent County 4-H Club Agent.

Budget-fitting foolen and fur blends are being produced to compete with luxury wools and expensive fur fibers. Blends of wool and fur fibers are warm but lightweight, and offer great versatility. For example, a blend of 85 percent wool and 15 percent fur fiber has a softness and drapability that makes a handsome dress or suit. Another fabric of textured worsted wool is ideal for a smart suit or coat.

Blends of worsted woolen yarns and mohair have a crisper, springier feel than the regular wool fabrics, and are especially popular in the sportswear line.

Mrs. MacDonald says dress fabrics look heavier because new methods of weaving or skitting create a bulky look. Brushing and tufting will give a fleecy appearance to various weights of fabrics.

St. Bernadette's Church Notes

Sunday afternoon the first Confraternity of Christian Doctrine Workshop ever to be conducted in the downstate area was held in St. Bernadette's Hall in Harrington. The sessions were opened at 1 o'clock with an address by the Rev. Francis Herron, the assistant director of the Confraternity in the Diocese of Wilmington. The organizational set-up of the Confraternity was then explained to the representatives of the various parishes by Mr. Ptak, a member of the Diocesan Executive Board.

For the next session all the delegates were divided into separate groups and the different activities of the Confraternity were explained and examined. One group was made up of all the members from the various religious communities—the Benedictines, the Dominicans, the Felicians, the Mission Helpers, the Sisters of Mercy, the Oblates, and the Seculars. Some of the visual aids the Diocesan office has been demonstrated to this group and arrangements were made to start teacher training courses early in the new year. Another group was given over to those who are actually teaching classes at the present time or who are interested in becoming teachers in the future. Other groups discussed the work being done by the Helpers, the Fishers, and in discussion clubs.

After a mid-afternoon coffee break, sessions were again conducted with the same group arrangements.

At 5 o'clock his Excellency, Bishop Hyle, spoke to all those attending the workshop. Immediately after the Bishop's address solemn Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament was given by the Rev. Henri Foltz, the Diocesan Director of the Confraternity.

Parishes that were represented by all three classes of delegates: Priests, Sisters, and lay people, included the Holy Cross parish in Dover, St. Edmond's in Rehoboth, St. Francis deSales in Salisbury, and St. Mary's in Cambridge. Those who had two classes of delegates included the Dover Air Base, SS. Peter and Paul parish in Easton, Our Mother of Sorrows in Centreville, Immaculate Conception in Maryland, St. Benedict's in Ridgely, Our Lady of Lourdes in Seaford, St. Michael's in Georgetown, St. John's in Milford, and the host parish, St. Bernadette's. There were also special representatives from the Benedictine Motherhouse near Ridgely and the Mission Helpers Motherhouse near Baltimore.

Easton Harriers Beat H.H.S. On Fifth Try

By Keith S. Burgess
Coach Jim Lohr's Easton High cross-country team finally won a meet from a Harold McDonald-coached Harrington High Lions unit after three years of fruitless efforts. The meet was contested on the local Killen's Pond course Friday afternoon. Easton was low with 24 points, followed by Harrington with 33 and Millsboro with 96.

The Marylanders were beaten by H.H.S. in 1958, twice in 1959 and again last year. This year they are unbeaten with victories over Centreville, South Dorchester, North Carolina and Bel Air, all Maryland schools. Bel Air is a Class A or large school, while Easton is a Class B or medium population school. Harrington's student population is only a small fraction of Easton's yet the Lions gave the Talbot Counts almost as good a fight as did big, Bel Air.

With a 1-2 record at present Coach McDonald is behind in the win column for the first time since the inception of cross-country here in 1958. However, the picture is not all dark as a recapitulation shows that the Lions have beaten Milford, Caesar Rodney, Centreville and Millsboro while losing to North Carolina and Easton. Also, only weak teams are left on the regular season schedule. Barring an epidemic another winning season is a certainty.

Clarence Hackett was the individual winner, Friday, as he remained unbeaten and again broke his course record. He lopped off 18 seconds as he was clocked in 12:41. Easton's Jim Harvey was second in 12:58 also breaking the old course record. Ken Garey of the Lions was third. These three lads are the class of the 15 runners competing on 10 teams in this area.

For those who do not understand how cross-country is scored, the following diagram should help explain the method used. The number beside each boy is the position in which he finished.

H.H.S.—Hackett, 1; Garey, 3; Wix, 8; Rogers, 9; Smith, 12—33.
Easton—Harvey, 2; Marvel, 4; Morris, 5; Sard, 6; Slaughter, 7—24.

Allen Wix continued his comeback as he ran 15 seconds faster than ever before. Dennis Rogers and Bob Smith, both freshmen, chopped off 6 and 12 seconds respectively. Other personal bests were recorded by Lester Minner, 42 seconds off; Bill Sollars, 15 seconds off; Albert Ratledge, 25 seconds off and Richard Schriber, 1 second off. Such steady improvement indicates a strong Lion team for at least three more years. Some of these lads are only in the eighth grade.

Order of finish:

Farm Conservation Helps Meet Wildlife Needs

Wildlife practices have been developed locally by the ACP Development Group and made part of the Agricultural Conservation Program for 1962, according to Jacob Zimmerman, State Committee chairman.

The chairman pointed out that farmers generally have a high regard for wildlife.

Although the 1961 ACP program did not authorize the sharing of costs on any conservation practice primarily for wildlife benefits, many of the practices now being carried out in the county do help meet fish and wildlife needs while solving problems of soil and water conservation.

The ACP shares with farmers on a voluntary basis the cost of establishing needed conservation on farmland. The 1962 program will also help farmers increase their contribution to the conservation of wildlife.

According to Zimmerman, consideration has been given to developing conservation practices with benefits primarily to wildlife which will also provide substantial soil-and water-conservation values.

Annual Heart Fund Bowling Tournament

Kent and Sussex County bowlers will roll a strike against our nation's number one killer, heart disease when they bowl in the second annual Heart Fund Bowling Tournament Nov. 12th through the 18th.

Mrs. Frank Lynch, Sussex County Heart chairman and Mrs. James Fox, III, cochairman of Kent County Heart Council have contacted all bowling establishments and have their chairmen ready to assist in this worthwhile benefit.

The lanes participating are: Smyrna, Mr. W. Smithers Snow with Mrs. Margaret Burris and Mrs. Glenn Busker as chairmen; Dover, William Boyer; Colt, Bert Arlott, chairman, Miss Bernice McAfee; Milford, Douglas Fry, chairman, Mrs. Frank Lynch; Seaford, Martin Sammons, chairman, Mrs. Beatrice Orendorf and Mrs. Marion Hill; Rehoboth, Larson and Sons, chairman, Mrs. Victor Little.

Participants in the event will contribute $1 of which 70% will be given to the Delaware Heart Fund and 30% will be used for prize money. In addition to the prize money, merchants throughout Kent and Sussex County are co-operating by contributing many merchandise prizes. The winner is determined by the number of pins rolled over his average and he bowls in the tournament as he bowls in his league.

The county and inter-county roll-offs will be held Nov. 26, at which time the winners will be determined and prizes awarded. It was a tremendous success last year when it was held in Sussex County and $702.50 was contributed by the three lanes. Each bowler that enters not only has a chance of winning cash and merchandise prizes, but is doing his share to help combat this dread disease, which strikes at least one member of every family.

More Milk Goes Into Consumption Instead Of Support

U. S. Armed Forces and veterans hospital patients increased their consumption of milk over the standard ration by about 543 million pints in 1960 under a special Department of Agriculture program to stimulate expanded use of milk for troop feeding.

According to a report received at the Kent Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service County Office, total consumption of fluid milk by the personnel and patients was more than double what it would have been if only standard ration purchases of fluid milk had been made.

Commenting on the program, Secretary of Agriculture Freeman said, "This is a highly beneficial use of our agricultural abundance. It is made possible by the efficient production of American farmers and by programs which enable them to protect the public against scarcity."

"As a direct result of this program, men and women in the U. S. Armed Forces, the U. S. Merchant Marine, and veterans hospitals are getting considerably larger rations of nutritious and healthful milk. Price support purchases are reduced as more of our yearly milk production is consumed in fluid form to the benefit of the military personnel and the entire Nation."

Under the program, USDA pays a part of the cost of the additional milk consumed amounting through 1961 to $4.10 per hundred pounds of milk. The increase in milk consumption diverts fluid milk from the manufacture of dairy products that otherwise would be purchased by the Commodity Credit Corporation under price support.

Ordinary oils can create their own metallic ash. Above you see what happens when a conventional multi-grade oil is dropped on this electrically heated piston device. These dark spots contain additive ash. When this ash builds up in your engine, it's bad news.

No ash with Shell X-100 Premium Motor Oil. When the same test is tried with new Shell X-100 Premium all the oil vaporizes. The piston device is clean. There is no ash. You can expect a cleaner engine, less chance for knock and rough running.

Hot piston test shows that new Shell motor oil eliminates a trouble other oils can create. Read how this revolutionary oil can prolong engine life 5 ways.

Here is an astonishing fact you should know before you get your next oil change: Premium motor oils—with one exception—will produce a deposit called additive ash. This ash can contribute to rough running and knock.

Shell X-100 Premium is the one premium motor oil that cannot produce an additive ash deposit in your engine. Read how this remarkable oil formula helps your engine last longer.

TODAY, every Shell dealer has new Shell X-100 Premium Motor Oil ready for your next change-over.

New X-100 Premium is unlike any other motor oil. It eliminates a deposit that all other premium motor oils help create themselves. This deposit is additive ash. It is caused by the metallic additives used to prevent sludging, sludge deposits, oxidation, and so forth.

With each stroke of the piston, these additives can deposit metallic salts in the combustion chamber. Here they burn and form additive ash.

This crusty ash can build up in your combustion chamber, can cause your engine to knock and run roughly.

New X-100 Premium doesn't contain a single metallic additive. No metallic additives—no additive ash.

Additive ash is just one internal trouble that can cause engine problems. You should know about four others, too.

Helps prevent sludge from anti-freeze leaks

Remember this when you fill up with anti-freeze this fall: Anti-freeze can leak out of your cooling system into your crankcase.

Many oils can react chemically with permanent anti-freeze to form a horrible sludge—so sticky that it can bring an otherwise healthy engine to a standstill. Then you may be in for a repair bill.

New Shell X-100 Premium resists reaction with any sort of anti-freeze. It shrugs it off.

Disarms crankcase dirt

All engines accumulate crankcase dirt. The problem is to stop the many different kinds of dirt particles from ganging up and forming sticky sludge, which can clog your engine.

Most premium oils use a detergent additive to do the job. But the majority of these additives are metallic and cause that old devil—ash.

Shell's solution is to replace the detergent with a dispersant—a remarkable new ingredient called Alkaldine.*

Alkaldine works to disperse dirt particles—in effect, holds them apart—so that they don't form sticky sludge.

Alkaldine additive is potent stuff. After 1,200,000 miles of city driving, engines lubricated with Shell X-100 Premium were torn down and inspected. The amount of sludge was astonishingly low. In some cases there was so little it could hardly be measured.

This is Shell X-100 Premium Motor Oil—in the white can with the red letters.

Ignores temperature changes

Many motor oils tend to become too thick when cold and too thin when hot. This is hard on your engine.

New Shell X-100 Premium is an all-year oil. Here's how it works. Alkaldine has a molecular structure that resembles a basket of eels.

When the oil is cold, Alkaldine's eel-like molecules curl up as if for comfort. In effect, they take up less space in the oil—and the oil flows freely through the tightest bearing.

When the oil is hot, the molecules uncurl, take up more room—and the oil resists thinning. New X-100 Premium lubricates just as effectively in June as it does in January.

Fights engine acid a new way

Automobile engines manufacture acid. It can cause more wear than friction.

Most motor oils combat this engine acid with alkaline additives. But the neutralizing effect of the oil gets weaker as engine acid eats up the alkalinity—until eventually such an additive stops working altogether.

Shell X-100 Premium doesn't depend on alkalinity. It actually plates all engine surfaces with a thin chemical film. The metal "adsorbs" some of the oil's protective qualities. Chemists call this phenomenon "chemisorption."

The process of "chemisorption" offers unique long-lasting protection against acid attack.

How much does it cost?

If you now use a premium motor oil, you'll get Shell X-100 Premium for about the same price.

If you're now making do with ordinary motor oil, you'll pay about $3.60 a year more—less than a penny a day extra—assuming you drive at about the national average of 10,000 miles a year and get regular oil changes.

Quite a bargain for the one motor oil that fights additive ash and four other troubles to help prolong the life of your engine.

are in the library.
In the past the club made a profit from operating the pen and pencil machines in the school corridor.
But last year cheaper pens were placed in the machines.
Since the cost was lower, the profit was decreased. Knowing this, the members of this year's library club voted down the operation of the pen machine.

Baby Ghost's Birthday Party Once upon a time there was a house. This house was 2000 years old. In this house lived three ghosts, Papa Ghost, Mama Ghost and Baby Ghost. The baby ghost was having a birthday party. That night at 12:00 o'clock the doorbell rang. Baby Ghost answered it. It was Grulla Deville, Baby Ghost's aunt.
She had a present. The doorbell rang again. It was Amy Witch. She had a present too.
The doorbell rang again. It was Bobby Ghost, Billy Ghost, Nancy Witch, John Ghost, Gloria Witch. They all had presents too. Mama Ghost lit the candles and Baby Ghost blew them out. Then they all started in.
Woo Boo, Woo Woo that meant
Happy Birthday to you. Then Baby Ghost opened his presents.
He got a black snake, a rattlesnake, three frog eyes, ten worms, six frogs and three liz-zards. After they had played some games Mother Ghost called,
"it is six o'clock in the morning.
All the Ghosts' and witches left.
All the next day they were thinking about Baby Ghost's

"NIKKI" at Reese
Oct. 27 - 28
Never so many calls. There must be hundreds of families set to see Walt Disney's "Nikki", Wild Dog of the North" at the Reese Theatre, this Friday and Saturday, Oct. 27 and 28 along with Howard Keel in "Armored Command." Movie Center, again comes to the front with great family entertainment.
Halloween is the time for celebrating with the unearthly. Goblins and black cats are the order of the day, and, naturally one would expect a giant spook and Halloween celebration at the Reese Theatre, Sunday & Monday, Oct. 29 & 30. Yes, one will be constantly in "The Shadow of a Cat," the first graveyard prowl presentation.
One had better bring an escort,
as the screen feature "Black Sunday" will paralyze you with fright. Said to be the most weird day ever to grace the screen
"Black Sunday" is not recommended for those with weak hearts. It is understood that the Reese Theatre is not responsible for what happens.

Harrington varsity hockey team came out with two victories recently. They downed the Dover Air Base 9-0, and Georgetown 1-0.
In the Air Base game Jeanie Thomas scored five goals, Jackie Russum, Linda Smith, Dawn Hopkins, and Sharon Walls scored one goal each. In the Georgetown game the ball went between the sticks of Sharon Walls and the Georgetown goalie and fell into the goal cage.
In both games Harrington had the ball at the opponent's end of the field practically the entire game.
