

One Killed As Car Crashes, Burns Near Harrington

A 37-year-old Felton woman was killed and her male companion seriously injured in a one-car accident on Route 14 near Harrington Sunday morning, state police said.

Police identified the woman who was killed as Ruby I. Norman, of Felton. She was pronounced dead at the Milford Memorial Hospital at 3:10 a.m. by Dr. Oliver James who said she had suffered a skull fracture.

Admitted to the same hospital, also suffering from a skull fracture and lacerations, was Grover Bryant, 27, of Hartly RD 2. His condition was listed as "only fair."

Police said a car driven by the woman was traveling east on Route 14, about seven miles west of Harrington, at 1 a.m. when it went out of control going around a right curve, apparently at a high rate of speed.

The car went off the left side of the road, hit an abutment and flipped over on its top. The automobile then caught fire, police said.

The Harrington Fire Company was called to the scene and its ambulance took the driver and Bryant to the hospital.

Poet Contest Sponsored By Laureate

A poetry contest for Delaware high school students is being sponsored by Alison Kimball Bradford, poet laureate of Delaware.

Contestants may submit up to three poems, any form and any length. Previous publication in school magazines or newspapers does not disqualify any work.

Poems should be sent not later than Nov. 30 to Mrs. Joseph Bradford, 2409 W. 17th St., Wilmington 6. The name of the writer, his school and the name of his English teacher should accompany the entry.

Mrs. Bradford will judge poems on excellence of thought and form and on originality. The winner, announced by Dec. 15, will receive a medal.

Miss Beverly Kay Collins Weds John Wright at Milton

Miss Beverly Kay Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Collins, of Milton, was married Saturday evening to Mr. John Michael Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wright, in Goshen Methodist Church, Milton, by the Rev. Perry O. Hill, pastor.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, a Harrington native and owner of Collins Clothing Stores here and in Milton.

Maid of honor was Miss Maryann Collins, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Miss Donna Steel, of Millsboro, Mrs. James Jester, of Jessup, Md., and Miss Linda Wright, of Milton, sister of the bridegroom.

Flower girl was Miss Karen Lynn Wright, of Norfolk, Va., niece of the bridegroom. Ringbearer was Michael MacCoy, of Milford, cousin of the bride.

The bride's gown was silk mist taffeta, fashioned with a fitted bodice, having long-pointed sleeves and a scoop neckline, outlined with re-embroidered alençon lace. The tapered waist line was accented with a stand-up taffeta waistband with a front bow. The full skirt, styled with invested hip pleats, was accented with a split-side draped semi-back tunic, edged with the same open alençon lace that edged the neckline, and terminated into a full sweeping chapel train. Her veil of silk illusion fell from a cluster of orange blossoms with rhinestone leaves tied with a flat taffeta bow. She carried a Bible centered with a white orchid and feathered carnations.

The maid of honor wore a cocktail-length gown of paris rose silk organza, having a tight bodice with short-sleeved sleeves and bateau neckline. The beehive skirt was shirred all-around panels, highlighted with full-bloom organza roses. She wore matching wired crown edged in pearls, detailed with drop pearls, having an all-around veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of blue carnations with a white lighted candle in the center.

The bridesmaids wore like dresses and head pieces, as maid of honor only, in romance blue and carried cascade bouquets of coral pink and carnations with white lighted candle.

The flower girl wore white lace over romance blue and carried pink and blue carnations in a basket.

UNICEF Goblins Collect $151.06

The citizens of Harrington can be proud of the efforts of the UNICEF goblins to share their Halloween with the children of other lands. A total of $151.06, in pennies, nickels and dimes was collected to send to UNICEF to be converted into life-saving medicines and health-giving milk and vitamins. This money will go a long way toward improving the health and welfare of some of the world's 600 million underprivileged children.

The co-ordinating committee, headed by Mrs. Oscar Gillette and Mrs. Ellwood Gruwell, announced this week that 87 children participated in the drive held last Saturday afternoon from 1 to 3 p.m. Though this was one of the smallest groups to take part, the money collected was very close to being a record.

Felton Marchers Take Awards

Felton organizations marched off with two first prizes Monday night at Milford's Halloween parade.

The Felton High School and Fire Company took $75 awards in their divisions.

Other prize winners in the parade sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce include: Bands: second, William Jason School, Georgetown, $50; third, Milford High School Band, $25.

Fire Companies: second, Frederica, $50; third, Ellendale, $25.

Thompson Is NROTC Student

William Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Thompson, Raughley Hill Road, Harrington, is a NROTC (Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps) student at the University of Pennsylvania (Ivy League College). He is enrolled in Class of 1961 NROTC program but due to his Freshman year at the University of Delaware, he is considered an upper classman and makes his home in the Lippincott Hall Dormitory for upper classmen.

Thompson's class subjects consist of Calculus (Math 140), English II, French II, Naval Science; 101, Physics 140 and laboratory work. Physics and lab work are on schedule for every school day in the week. In addition selected drills and lectures are scheduled to provide the Midshipman training required by the Secretary of the Navy. Particular attention is concentrated on uniform appearance and naval etiquette by Thompson's instructors and naval officers.

A weekend at the naval base, Philadelphia, on a special damage control exercise was a very interesting and fact revealing on the job problem enjoyed by this Harrington's pride selectee. The next special will be the Yale-Penn (Continued on Page 8)

RIGHTS UNIT LAW URGED BY CARVEL

Gov. Elbert N. Carvel Tuesday publicly supported statutory creation of a State Human Relations Commission to consider problems of racial discrimination in Delaware.

However, the governor defended the legal right of Delaware restaurant owners to refuse service to Negroes under present law if they desire.

At a news conference Tuesday morning the governor also expressed "full confidence in the proper enforcement of the law in our state and the protection of its citizens—both on the part of the attorney general and the superintendent of state police."

Although the governor refused to elaborate on his statement, presumably it meant that the state police would arrest so-called freedom riders who "sit in" Delaware restaurants against the wishes of the proprietors.

He quoted section 1501, title 24, of the Delaware Code which reads:

"No keeper of an inn, tavern, hotel or restaurant or other place of public entertainment or refreshment of travelers, guests or customers shall be obliged by law to furnish entertainment or refreshment to persons whose reception or entertainment by him would be offensive to the major part of his customers, and would injure his business. As used in this section, 'customers' includes all who have occasion for entertainment or refreshment."

Governor Carvel told reporters that "the foregoing statute has neither been repealed nor held to be unconstitutional" and that "it is the law presently in force and effect in the State of Delaware."

"As governor, representing all the citizens of our state, it is my fond hope that enlightenment and increased understanding will result from the enactment of legislation creating a State Human Relations Commission in the near future."

The legislature should provide for an effective commission on a statutory basis with complete powers to fulfill properly its functions. Thus an administration bill will be prepared and presented for legislative consideration.

HARNESS MEET ENDS WITH RECORD ATTENDANCE & HANDLE

Kent and Sussex Raceway closed out its 31-day harness racing meet last Saturday night after setting all-time season records in pari-mutuel handle and attendance.

William W. Shaw, general manager of the Harrington track, reported that total handle amounted to $3,254,571, a 14.2% increase over last year. Total attendance for the meet was 94,141, a 10% increase over 1960.

He revealed that the State of Delaware's income from a combination of pari-mutuel and admission taxes would be $116,180.

Edgar Alexander of Townsend was the leading driver of the meet according to the Universal Drivers Rating system which is used throughout the country. He had 10 wins in 36 starts. Elton White of Ocean City, Md., was second, recording eight wins in 30 starts.

Winningest owner was J. M. Davis of Clayton whose entries won slightly over $6000.

Saturday night, Sept. 23, the season's records were set in a single night's attendance and pari-mutuel betting. 5,885 persons were in attendance and bet $157,866.

Former Custodian Accused Of Violating State Bid Law

Bottled Gas Business Sells To Propane

The sale of Cahall's Gas Service Company to Protane Corporation, Cleveland, O., was announced yesterday morning.

Robert Albrecht, manager of field operations of the corporation, and Fields Hash, regional manager, of Easton, Md., disclosed the purchase.

The new operation, known as Cahall's Protane Gas Service, will have its office and showroom at 30 Commerce St., or in the building formerly occupied by Collins Clothing Store before it moved to its present location nearby.

Local manager of the gas company will be Randall H. Knox, who has served for many years with Cahall's. The personnel, management, and policies of the new service will be unchanged, Albrecht said.

The telephone number will remain at EX 8-3263.

Albrecht added that, when Claude Cahall started the bottled gas service 30 years ago, he was a Protane dealer.

As a dealer, Knox said the service would continue to give the same service as in the past 30 years.

The Protane Corporation, added Albrecht, has 42 plants in 11 eastern states, and does extensive business in Venezuela and Puerto Rico. Concluding, he said his corporation was the oldest marketer of bottled gas, having been in the business 38 years.

Claude Cahall and his partner, William W. Shaw, will continue to sell furniture and appliances in their present location on Commerce Street.

Tot Injured When Hit by Car

Russell Lee Betts, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Layton Betts, Center Street, is in Milford Hospital with injuries suffered when he ran in front of a car Monday evening.

Injuries were severe cuts of the head and a fractured left thigh.

The accident took place about 8:50 p.m., Monday evening, on Smith Avenue in Harrington Manor. The child, following other children, ran from behind its mother's parked vehicle, and into the path of the car.

WOODSFIRE AT COLLISON'S
Harrington firemen answered an alarm at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Ray Collison farm west of town where a woodfire was in progress. It was out on arrival.

Auditors of the Permanent Budget Commission have accused the former state custodian of illegally awarding contracts without competitive bids.

The auditors also reported that since employer personnel records were not kept, they could not earnings.

The report, covering the 12-month period from July 1, 1960 to June 30, 1960, recommended that both conditions be corrected.

The report stated that during the period "competitive bids were not obtained for purchases totaling $500 or more as is required by law."

As examples, the audit report, signed by E. Hobson Davis, chief accountant of the commission, cited these purchases by the State Custodian's office:

Sept. 9, 1960, $868.50 paid the Atlee Products Company for two floor polishing machines.

Jan. 29, 1960, $537.90 paid the Ideal Lawn Mower Service for repairing mowers.

April 8, 1960, $1,929.60 paid Alfred S. Biggs & Son, Inc., for sewer installation.

May 5, 1960, $729.61 paid the Paul Scott Contracting Company for brickwork.

June 29, 1960, $645.45 to the Tri-State Laboratories for paper cups and towels.

The auditors said all these contracts violated section 6702 of Title 29, Delaware code, requiring competitive bids on all purchases of $500 or more.

The report also stated: "Payrolls were examined 100 per cent for total recordings but a testing analysis could not be made for individual earnings as employee personnel records were not maintained."

James H. Wood, the new State Custodian appointed by the Carvel Administration, has moved to correct the situations.

Edward S. Knight was the custodian during the period covered by the audit. Wood took over Feb. 14.

Methodist Lay Committee Names Members

Twelve new members have been appointed to the National Lay Committee on Evangelism to represent the Peninsula Conference of the Methodist Church.

These appointments are in accordance with the action of the General Board of Evangelism at its last annual meeting.

The National Lay Committee, affiliated with the General Board of Evangelism, is headed by Herbert Taylor, well-known Protestant leader and business man in the Chicago area. He is a former president of Rotary International.

The National Lay Committee will meet Nov. 2-4 at Purdue University in Memorial Union.

The program will emphasize the organization of one or more units of "The Twelve" in every local Methodist Church. "The Twelve" is every local Methodist Church. "The Twelve" is a small group program differing from the ordinary prayer study groups in that members are pledged to at least one evening a month for witnessing and visitation.

Speakers at the Purdue meeting include Dr. Lynn Radcliffe of Madison, N. J.; Dr. Truman Potter, Charleston, W. Va.; Mr. Walter Anderson, Raleigh, N. C.; Harry Deman, Ernest Thomas, and Harold Rogers of the General Board of Evangelism, Nashville, Tenn.

The newly appointed members of the National Lay Committee are:

Delaware Food Market Report

Turkeys are making news this week and will continue to do so in the weeks ahead. This year's crop is huge—26 per cent above last year's and the freezer holdings are overflowing. This year more than ever before, you can celebrate Thanksgiving and Christmas with traditional turkey and economize while doing so.

Pork will be in abundance, more than a year ago the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the American Meat Institute estimates. Pork chops and roasts are and will be attractively priced, but if you want to discover budget benefits as well as good eating, investigate the economy cuts. Butt steaks, fresh picnics, Boston butts, pork hocks, and sausage meat are always good buys.

Beef is and will be plentiful too. You will find a wide variety of cuts from which to choose. There are roasts and steaks being featured in one store or another every week or so. Here again investigate the less popular cuts.

If you are partial to lamb, this will be another good month in which to enjoy that extra special flavor. No need to save lamb for special occasions. Barbecued lamb riblets, lamb curry and stew made from economy cuts are a few of the menu surprises that will please your family.

It looks like November will be an ideal month to stock up on meat bargains if you have some extra space in your freezer.

Egg prices have been running considerably below those of a year ago. Just recently there was a spread of 16 cents between the price per dozen of large Grade A eggs and medium grade A eggs. This of course means medium eggs are the thrifty choice, on cost per pound basis.

You will find eastern potatoes particularly plentiful and reasonable in price. This is also true of cabbage. These are two foods on that plentiful foods list issued each month by the USDA. Other vegetables to shop for include Brussels sprouts, cauliflower, carrots, green and dry onions, celery and rutabagas.

The artichoke season is here; sizes are running large.

Apples continue to be abundant, quality is excellent, prices low. Florida grapefruit and oranges are arriving in larger shipments and quality is improving. The season for cantaloupes and honeydew melons wanes, but you may expect to find Spanish melons available. These are coming from Spain and have a dark green, hard exterior surrounding creamy meat.

Armed Forces Notes

Norman L. Minner, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman G. Minner, 100 Hanley St., Harrington, recently was promoted to specialist five in Darmstadt, Germany, where he is a member of the 18th Artillery.

Specialist Minner, who arrived overseas in March 1960, is a personnel specialist in the artillery's Service Battery. He entered the Army in October 1959 and completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C.

A 1954 graduate of Harrington High School and a 1955 graduate of the Goldey Beacom School of Business in Wilmington, Minner was employed at Memorial Hospital in Wilmington prior to entering the Army.

His wife, Rita, is with him in Germany.

Felton School Notes

Felton Awards Contracts

The Felton School Building Commission has awarded the contract for the 1961 building expansion program to J. Roland Dashiell and Sons of Salisbury, on a low bid of $251,716 including five alternates. The contract covers two science laboratories, seven classrooms, an industrial arts shop, conference and work room, and expanded locker rooms. The Commission accepted the low bid of Flowers School Equipment Company of Richmond, Va., in the amount of $17,998.99 to supply fixed laboratory furniture and equipment.

Other construction bidders were Field Construction Company of Wyoming ($252,900); Clute Brothers of Wyoming ($261,729); Leonard Pevar of Unionville, Pa. ($264,785); Reese W. Smith of Georgetown ($274,360); Helco Engineering and Construction Co. of Wilmington ($275,480); and Atlantic General Contractors of Salisbury ($283,200).

Four other firms submitted bids for laboratory equipment. Construction is scheduled to begin within a few days and to be completed for occupancy in September, 1962.

The Commission is considering construction of additional elementary classrooms, using funds already made available in the program approved by the district's voters and the state legislature. Such action would require approval of the State Board of Education and a local referendum and would not require an additional bond issue or any increase in tax rate.

Felton Adds Teachers and Sec.

The Felton Board of School Trustees has elected Mrs. Mary Lee Owen to replace Mrs. Jane N. Rider as teacher of business education in the high school. Mrs. Rider has resigned because of the pressure of duties at home.

Mrs. Eliza Givens has also been elected to teach an additional section of the first grade. Mrs. Patricia T. Bishop has been elected as an additional secretary in the school office.

The Felton School cafeteria will observe the week of November 5-11 as special school lunch week. The school lunch aim is to develop in each child the ability to choose the right kinds of food so that his body may function properly. The class in the elementary school purchasing the greatest number of type A platters during this week will receive an ice cream treat provided by the cafeteria.

Monday—Vienna sausage, baked beans, milk, bread and butter, peaches.

Tuesday—Submarine sandwich, cut green beans, milk, apple rice crisp.

Wednesday—Turkey salad, buttered peas and carrots, milk.

bread and butter, vanilla pudding.

Thursday—Hamburg on roll, succotash, milk, fruit or pie.

Friday—Creamed beef gravy, candied carrots, milk, bread and butter, ginger bread with lemon sauce.

Gala Weekend At H. H. S.

This weekend, Nov. 4, has been designated the Homecoming Day for Harrington High. There are many student activities planned, but Saturday just "begs" for Alumni.

There is not only excitement reigning the weekend. Miss Barbara Spicer has been selected Homecoming Queen of 1961. Her attendants are Misses Kenna Jo McKnatt and Jane Phillips.

The festivities will begin at one o'clock with a parade formed by the student body. Twelve floats, the Senior Band, and the royal party will travel the following route:

Leaving school the parade will go down Dorman Street turning onto Commerce Street. After traveling down the main street, the parade will return to school via Weiner Avenue.

After the parade our Lions will meet the Selbyville Rebels on the local gridiron in what promises to be a high-tension game. The football teams are about evenly matched in size, but just watch our Lions roar!

At half-time Miss Spicer will be officially crowned queen in a short ceremony. Harrington Senior Band will assist in the program and give us quite a show of their own.

The students are enthused and engrossed in the festivities. We hope you will be too!

Asbury Methodist Church Notes

We invite you to begin this Sabbath day by attending one of the many church school classes in our growing church school at Asbury. Classes for all ages begin at 10 a.m. Howard S. Wagner, superintendent, is in charge.

Morning worship service 11 a.m. conducted by our minister, the Rev. Olin J. Shockey Jr. Special anthems will be rendered both by the Crusader and the Cathedral choirs. The message will be given by our minister. A nursery for pre-school children will be available. Mrs. Mildred Wyatt in charge.

The Senior M.Y.F. will meet in the chapel of the church Sunday evening at 6:30 p.m.

Evening worship service 7:30 p.m. The fifty-voice teenage choir will sing the anthem, "The Light That Guides." The message, "God, The Spirit," will be delivered.

Altar flowers this week will be presented by Mrs. C. Fred Wilson in memory of husband, C. Fred Wilson.

The friendly greeters this week will be Mr. and Mrs. Enos Langrell.

Monday, Nov. 6, the Official Board will meet at 7:30. All members are urged to be present.

Monday, Nov. 6, the members of the W.S.C.S. are urged to attend the fall meeting session at Felton church 7:30 p.m. A 10% increase in membership as well as attendance recognition will be made at this session. Don't let your society down.

Tues., Nov. 7, the monthly W.S.C.S. meeting will be held in the Collins Building.

Ushers for the month of November will be: John Curtis, Edward Taylor, William Stokes and Douglas Mills.

Houston

Sunday School at 10 a.m. Robert H. Yerkes Sr., general supt., Alvin O. Brown, supt. of the Junior Department; Mrs. William Scott, supt. of the Cradle Roll, and Carl Prentice, supt. of Missions and this date being Missionary Sunday, there will be appropriate services.

Worship service begins at 11 a.m. with the organ prelude, Agnes T. Webb at the organ assisted by John Clark at the piano.

Call to worship by the pastor, the Rev. Ray W. Kirwan, who will read the scripture lesson and deliver the sermon. The Senior and Chancel choirs will sing special numbers, so why not attend and enjoy this hour of fellowship and worship.

The M.Y.F. will meet at its usual time 6:45 p.m.

The cottage prayer meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Marvel on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. All are welcome and we feel sure you will be glad you were present. The meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Coulbourne and Zack Johnson last Sunday afternoon. There were 10 in attendance.

Tuesday, Nov. 14, at 7:30 p.m. a District conference will be at Asbury Methodist Church, Smyrna.

The W.S.C.S. will hold its regular monthly meeting Thursday evening, Nov. 9 at 8 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall. Hostesses for this meeting will be Mrs. Wilbur Jump, Mrs. Ralph Jump Sr. and Mrs. Louis Buarque.

Friendly greeters and flower committee will be Mrs. Wilbur Jump and Mrs. Ralph Jump.

The service of prayer and self-denial meeting held last Sunday evening by the WSCS was most worthwhile, due to the absence of the minister, the Rev. Kirwan, Robert H. Yerkes Sr. was chosen as the speaker for the occasion and delivered a most interesting address on prayer and faith, which was very helpful to all who listened. The duet beautifully rendered by Mrs. Hazel Lemmon and Mrs. Ann Prentice was enjoyed by all.

Those of our community who are patients in Milford Memorial Hospital, are Mrs. James V. Harrington, whose condition is improving; also Leo Saksen seems to be on the mend and we do hope these nice people make a speedy recovery for they are badly needed.

William Blessing Sr. was quite ill last week, but a later report said he is better.

Nancy Sapp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Sapp, Jr., returned home from the hospital last Wednesday after undergoing an appendectomy and a couple other minor operations.

Mrs. Clinton Marvel is able to be out again after having the virus last week. Her son, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tee and children, Ricky, Vicki, and Roger, and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Poole and daughter, Ellen, of Wilson, N. C., spent last weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Marvel.

Mr. and Mrs. William Davis and her father, William Biggs, took a trip quite recently. They visited Williamsburg, went over the Skyline Drive, saw the Caverns and many interesting scenes and places.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Walter Wharton left Monday morning for Daytona Beach, Fla., where they will spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Emory Webb and Mrs. Pearl Webb of Milford spent the weekend in Norfolk, Va., with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Webb.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred McCreary and James McCreary of Claymont spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George B. Thistlewood and family.

Mrs. Edna Sapp spent Sunday in Magnolia as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Hart and attended devine worship with the Harts.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Simpson and son, Gary, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Simpson and daughter, Elizabeth Ann, in St. Albans, W. Va.

Francis Webb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Webb, joined a group of friends and went on a sightseeing tour through Virginia over the weekend.

Mrs. Eva Wilson returned home Sunday evening after spending several days in Wilmington with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bennett and children, Sandy and Rickie.

Harrington School Notes

Elementary

Mrs. Grant—Grade 1
 Tomorrow we are going to have a Hallow'een party. We are going to dress up and have fun. Terry Turcotte went to Washington yesterday.

Jack Parker went to Sugar Hill Farm.

Robin Hill visited in New Jersey.

Donna Wetherhold went to Philadelphia Zoo yesterday.

Leah Coady went to New London, Conn.

Mrs. Marvel
 We enjoyed looking at and listening to the many pretty sea shells which were brought by Sandra Irwin and Debbie Edwards. There were pictures of some of them in one of our science books.

Sandra Irwin brought pretty leaves which she had pressed between sheets of waxed paper. They look pretty on our bulletin board.

Bobby Ralph has been absent a few days and we miss him very much.

Everyone enjoyed our Hallow'een party. Thanks to the parents who sent refreshments.

We enjoyed our visit into Mrs. Parkers room to see the pretty Jack-o-lantern which one of her pupils had on display.

Last week Mrs. Farrow showed us two dental films. We learned many things about our teeth which we had not known.

Sophomore Postpone Bake
 The Sophomore bake will not be held Nov. 4, as previously planned because of the homecoming parade. Instead it will be held Dec. 2. It is hoped that everyone will come out and buy something.

Explorers Take Bike Hike
 Explorer Post 76 of Harrington left for a 100-mile bicycle hike at 7:30 a.m. from the Harrington Post Office Oct. 23.

The boys took all the back roads to Trap Pond. They averaged about 9 miles per hour and arrived at the pond at 2:30 p.m. They cooked their lunch along the way.

On arriving at the pond, they set up camp, gathered firewood, cooked supper, cleaned up, gathered more firewood and were in bed by 7:30.

The boys woke up at 5:30 a.m., cooked breakfast, broke camp, and were headed for home at 7:30.

They arrived in Harrington at 2:30 p.m.

The boys said that they had a good time.

Majorettes Organize
 Joanne Murphy, a sophomore at Harrington High School is the new head majorette of the Senior Band. There are four other majorettes of the Harrington Senior Band. June Thompson, Gale Umphlett, Irma

Needlecraft News
 by Nancy Baxter

It may not seem like Winter is on its way... sometimes in September, it's difficult to believe there's ice and snow piled-up around the corner. And that it will be out-and-at-us in another couple of months. By December, we'll have forgotten the feel of the sun, and the sounds of the beach. We'll be bundled in heavy coats, and galoshes, and gloves and knitted mufflers.

BUT UNDERNEATH the heavy coats and scarves, no woman wants to forget the feel of being feminine. It's fine to be warm-as-toast. But you also want to look soft-as-silk. For special evenings then—for the good velvet skirt—you need some winter topping that serves double-duty. And this week's design has it—in diamonds! The diamonds, if you look, are knitted right into the scoop-yoke of the sweater. And the yoke follows out into brief raglan sleeves that cover-up and show-off at the same time. Edges on sleeves, incidentally, can be curled-up for a decorative trim... and the easy rib stitch serves for sweater's bottom banding. We did the model in pink, though it would look as good in white—or even blazing orange. But be sure to use Coats & Clark's three-ly Super Fingering. We did the model in pink, though it would look as good in white—or even blazing orange. But be sure to use Coats & Clark's three-ly Super Fingering; size 16 takes seven. And you'll need 24-inch circular knitting needles, No. 1 and No. 2.

SO GET ON TOP of the Winter situation—and make yourself this lacey over-knit. To get the free directions just send a stamped and self-addressed envelope and ask for Leaflet No. PK-1654.

Rae Masten and Carole Hennings are the other majorettes. Biology Classes See Film

The 10th grade biology classes have been studying about worms. Last Tuesday and Wednesday the classes saw a film-strip about this subject. The students had a test on this film and book material.

Spanish Classes Learn Words

Miss Ball's 10th grade Spanish classes have been studying how to identify Spanish words without looking them up. Tuesday, the students had a test on this material. The students are reading the "Pleasant Journey" and studying about the conditional tense and conditional perfect tense of verbs.

Homecoming Queen

Homecoming Queen, Barbara Spicer, and her attendants, Janie Philips and Kenna Jo McNatt, will lead the parade on Saturday, Nov., preceding the football game against Selbyville. Floats representing the classes will follow the open cars carrying the queen and her attendants.

The Harrington High School Band will march in the parade also.

Before the game the Selbyville and Harrington Band will play "The Star-Spangled Banner" together.

At half time the band will march out onto the field. The queen will be crowned and the band will play "The United Nations."

Farmington

Ronnie Hatfield spent the weekend with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Kenton attended the farewell dinner given Monday evening at the Wonder R by Cahall Gas Company, Harrington.

Mrs. William P. Poole entertained Mrs. David S. Grant, Mrs. Thomas Biddle, Mrs. George Biddle, and Mrs. Bruce Alexander to dinner at the Tide Water Inn at Easton Tuesday.

Mrs. George W. Langford of Seaford visited her son, Emerson and wife.

Mrs. Joseph Lyons of Wilmington is spending some time with her mother, Mrs. John Fisher.

Mr. and Mrs. William Messick entertained Mr. and Mrs. James

Trinity Methodist Church Notes

The Asbury-Trinity Preaching Mission Services will continue through Fri., Nov. 3. Services are being held each evening at 7:30. A special pre-service session for children is being conducted by our guest preacher, the Rev. Willis P. Miller, each night. Special music is being featured at every service. Come out to the meetings; bring someone with you.

The Rev. Miller has a vital message for everyone.

Church Calendar for Sunday, Nov. 5:

9:45—The church at study, William R. Jester, general superintendent; Virginia Shultie, Primary superintendent.

Classes of interest and spiritual help for all ages; everyone is welcome. If you have no church home why not make Trinity your church?

11 o'clock—The church at worship—The Senior Choir will sing under the direction of Melvin Brobst.

The Intermediate Choir will sing under the direction of Mrs. Nancy Benjamin. The pastor will preach.

The flowers will be placed on the altar tables to the glory of God by Mrs. Ernest Raughley. The greeters at the door will be Mrs. Lewis Slaughter and Mrs. Ernest Raughley.

(A nursery is provided for pre-school children.)

7:30—Evening Vesper Service. Observance of the Woman's Society of Prayer and Self-Denial Quiet Day. The program is under the direction of Mrs. Nancy Benjamin, Spiritual Life Secretary.

The Rev. Benjamin will bring the message.

Church Announcements:

The Loyal Workers Class will meet with Mrs. Mary Williamson Monday evening at 7:30. Mrs. Williamson will be assisted by Mrs. Joseph B. Fleming, Mrs. Harley Waller and Mrs. Georgia Jacobs.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service will meet on Tuesday night at the church, 7:30. The members should remember to bring unwrapped Christmas gifts for the Deaconess Home.

The choirs will meet at their usual time on Wednesday and Thursday evening.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service will sponsor a fall bazaar on Friday, Nov. 10, afternoon and evening. The bazaar theme to be "Ye Olde Country Store." Ye Olde Store will feature such attractions as Grandma's kitchen, baked goods; Aunt Dinah's corner, needlework, attic treasures, bric-a-brac and novelties, aprons, candies, what-not variety; the cracker barrel, surprise packages for children; Katie's Krismas Kards, in conjunction with the bazaar a luncheon of turkey sandwiches, bean soup, pie, and coffee will be served at noon. An old-fashioned ice cream parlor will be the feature of the evening. Tickets for the luncheon will be available at the parsonage at 75 cents. The public is invited to attend.

Of Local Interest

Soybean Growers Urged to Watch Market Closely

A soybean marketing specialist from the Midwest predicts a bright future for soybean production on the Delmarva peninsula—if growers can improve the quality of their product and provide more on-farm storage.

Dr. T. A. Hieronymus of the University of Illinois told an audience of 125 soybean growers and processors, grain dealers and feed manufacturers at the University of Delaware agricultural substation in Georgetown on Thursday, Oct. 26, that Atlantic Coast soybeans generally are discounted because they contain more weed seeds and other foreign matter, have less uniform color and show more hull damage than soybeans produced in the Midwest.

He said area farmers also lose money by selling their beans at harvest rather than storing them. Historically, he said, soybeans have increased in price in the months following harvest and farmers who store beans for sale later, often realize 12 to 15 cents more per bushel.

Hieronymus, who is regarded by many agricultural economists as the country's leading authority on soybean marketing, addressed a special seminar sponsored by the University of Delaware to explore ways to improve soybean income on the Peninsula. Earlier, he accompanied U. of D. farm marketing specialists on a tour of Delaware soybean farms, grain elevators, processing plants and feed manufacturing companies.

Hieronymus cited two main markets for Delmarva soybeans—broilers and the export trade. "Soybean farmers in this area are extremely fortunate in having the broiler industry in their backyard," he said. "Broilers require large amount of high quality protein and soybean growers in this area should consider this their prime target market."

Traditionally, he explained, many local soybeans are exported to Europe and the broiler industry brings its soybean feed ingredients into this area from other areas. Large-scale soybean processing facilities recently constructed on the Peninsula provide a new market outlet for local growers, he said, enabling them to supply a share of the soybeans for broiler feed and oil. Opportunities for larger export sales through production of higher quality beans also were outlined by the economist. He said the foreign soybean market demands extremely high quality soybeans with a bright yellow color, uniform size, and free of foreign matter such as weed seeds, stubble and cracked hull. Better weed control, use of improved varieties, increased soil fertility and more care in harvesting, are ways he listed to improve soybean quality.

In a long-range forecast, Hieronymus was optimistic about the place of soybeans in the agricultural economy. He said that while broilers seem close to the point of receiving an optimum amount of protein in their rations, furnished primarily by soybean oil meal, many of the larger animals such as dairy cattle, beef, and hogs, could utilize greater amounts of soybean oil meal in their rations than they currently receive. The world population increase with resulting increased demand for protein and edible oils, and the relatively low level of production of these food items abroad, were pointed out as other factors what will maintain the demand for U. S. soybeans.

Following Hieronymus' talk, he joined a panel which answered questions from the audience. Other member of the panel were Carl W. Hitchie, branch manager of Cargill, Inc., Seaford; Hylon Smith, Sussex County office manager for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, and Dr. William E. McDaniell, chairman of the department of agricultural economics, University of Delaware.

Mr. Ritchie pointed out that local farmers are docked for weedy soybeans. Weed seeds usually contain more moisture than the beans. They sift down and collect in masses, heat up, and subsequently damage the beans through causing discoloration and cracks in the hulls and spoilage of the oil.

Dr. Hieronymus pointed out disadvantages in selling soybeans at harvest and using the money to buy soybean futures for later delivery. "Such a practice, which is done to avoid building storage facilities, usually costs more than the storage facility would in the first place," he said. "The reason is that soybean prices characteristically increase after harvest—the increase usually more than ought to pay for on-farm storage for that period," he said.

Mr. Smith reminded farmers that they can borrow money from the ASCS for up to 95 percent of the total cost, if the amount of the loan does not exceed a cost of 40 cents per bushel for storage capacity. Interest rate is 4 percent per year and farmers have 5 years to pay back the loan. Interest is payable only on the unpaid balance.

U. of D. agronomist Richard Cole reported that Delaware's average soybean production is about 24 bushels per acre. He said farmers could increase this to 30 bushels by planting recommended varieties such as Bethel, Hill and Hood, and by practicing weed control and improved soil fertility.

Agronomist William Mitchell announced that a seminar on quality soybean production will be held at the Capital Grange Hall in Dover, November 21 as part of the U. of D. annual crops short course.

Greenwood

The Willing Workers Class of Grace Methodist Church will hold a bake on Saturday, Nov. 11, in the Fire Hall, beginning at 10 a.m. Housewives, give yourselves an easy weekend. Buy your baked goods from the willing Workers!

Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mills entertained at a six o'clock dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Workman, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ocheltree and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Conaway.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Workman and Mr. and Mrs. Medford Calhoun were recent Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Baker in Vienna, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Butler of Andreville are the proud parents of twins, a boy and a girl, born Mon., Oct. 24. Their names are Karen Fay and Kevin Ray.

Thursday evening members of the Ever-Welcome Class of Grace Church got together and held a work session on the autograph quilt. This has been a long project for such a small class, but progress is being made, and the quilt should soon start to take shape.

Wednesday evening Linda Wilson entertained a number of her classmates and friends at a Halloween party in the V.F.W. home.

Mrs. Lena Barwick is ill at the home of her son in Newark.

Wednesday the Sussex County Home Demonstrations Clubs held their annual County Day, when women from all walks of life and all sections of the country gathered as usual in Georgetown for their one big day of the year together. The morning and afternoon meetings were held at Midland Grange Hall and the luncheon at Wesley Church's Jones Hall. The luncheon plates were especially attractive with fried chicken, peas, molded salad and hot rolls. The dessert was spiced cake with lemon sauce.

The County Council was headed by Mrs. Frank H. Tharp, who is also County prothonotary. Mrs. Clarence Ocheltree, Greenwood, president of the State H. D. Council asked, "Are we moulding for the future or just moulding?"

Memberships were presented to two clubs accepted during the year. Mrs. William J. Brumley, Georgetown, first president of the Georgetown H.D. Club, which is 34 year old, welcomed Mrs. Donald Lynch, president of the Selbyville Club and Mrs. R. Calvin Clendaniel, president of the Lincoln Club.

Big event of the afternoon was the fashion show, with the women who had studied tailoring exhibiting their creations on a runway. Coats had matching skirts and suits could be worn with different accessories to look like different outfits.

Miss Janet Reed, of the University of Delaware extension service, introduced the models, assisted by Miss Frances Shoffner, county home demonstration agent, who showed a suit she had made with matching hat.

In the morning, Dr. Elizabeth Phillips, Georgetown showed the color slides she had taken on her recent trip to Africa.

Miss Patricia Middleton, extension home management specialist, spoke on "Opportunities to Serve and to Save."

Mrs. E. John Dyer, Milford, sang a group of solos accompanied by Mrs. Roy La Fontaine on the piano.

Nov. 6-10 is school lunch week again. Last year we had over a hundred parents to visit and have lunch with us. We are hoping to have many more this year. You are welcome at anytime during the year, but make a special effort to come during this week. The menu is as follows: Nov. 6-10. Monday: spaghetti with meat sauce, tossed salad, buttered corn, bread and butter, applesauce, milk; Tuesday, roast turkey with dressing, buttered peas, buttered carrots, rolls and buter, jello, milk; Wednesday, meat loaf, mashed potatoes, coleslaw with pineapple, yeast rolls and buter, cherry and vanilla pudding, milk; Thursday, fried chicken, mashed potatoes and gravy, buttered stringbeans, bread and butter, fruit cup, milk; Friday, over fried haddock, candied sweet potatoes, buttered greens, corn bread and butter, chocolate pudding, milk.

Coast Guard Exams to Be Held In February

Governor Elbert N. Carvel this week called the attention of young male Delawareans, between the ages of seventeen and twenty-two, to their eligibility to compete for appointments to the U. S. Coast Guard Academy, examinations for which will be held throughout the nation Feb. 19-20, 1962.

In complying with the request of the U. S. Coast Guard that such information be made available to Delaware young men, Governor Carvel pointed out that satisfactory completion of a four-year course at the U. S. Coast Guard Academy leads to a Bachelor of Science degree and a commission as a career officer in America's oldest sea-going service.

The chief executive also advised that candidates for the Coast Guard Academy must be United States citizens, unmarried, of good moral character, between the ages of seventeen and twenty-two, in excellent physical condition, and high school graduates.

Interested Delawareans were urged to write for details and application to Coast Guard Headquarters, Washington 25, D.C.

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q—As an orphan of a deceased serviceman, is it necessary that I be 18 and have finished high school to become eligible for schooling under the War Orphans Educational Assistance Act?

A—Specialized vocational training in a below-college-level school may be taken if you have quit school, are above the compulsory school age, and the VA finds it would be to your advantage to begin your vocational education before reaching age 18.

Q—What is the patient turnover in all VA hospitals in one year?

A—During fiscal year 1961, which ended June 30, 1961, a total of 537,022 veterans were admitted to VA's 170 hospitals, and 540,068 were discharged during the same period.

Q—I would like to sell my GI-loan house. How do I get clear of liability for the loan?

A—If the purchaser takes over your loan, ask the VA regional office that has your loan records for a release from liability. If the purchaser refinances the loan and pays you, you would have to pay off the loan to be clear of liability.

Q—As a war veteran's widow I have been told that I may be eligible for a pension but not all widows are. How is eligibility determined?

A—For eligibility for a VA pension, a widow must have lived continuously with the veteran from the time of marriage until the veteran's death, except where was a separation due to the misconduct of, or procured by, the veteran without fault on the part of his wife.

Retarded Children Official to Speak

Dr. Richard Grunert, chairman of the Delaware Association for Retarded Children Research Committee, will speak at a meeting of the Mid-Del chapter of the Delaware Association for Retarded Children on Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Treadway Inn, Dover.

The public is invited. Dr. Grunert will discuss research on mental retardation.

Legion Eyes Dancing Lessons

The CKRT Post No. 7 of the American Legion in Harrington is sponsoring a complimentary lesson in social ballroom dancing for members and their friends on Tuesday, November 14 from 8 to 1 P.M. The lesson will be conducted by Mr. and Mrs. William P. Harris who were associated with the Arthur Murray School in New York for ten years and who have been teaching dancing on the Shore for the past five years.

You are under no obligation to continue; but if enough people are interested in brushing up on their dancing and learning some of the new dances, the cost of fifteen additional hours will be $25.00 per couple.

Please plan on attending the free class on November 14.

No Advantage for Stilbestrol In Dairy Herds

Research indicates that stilbestrol has no effect on either production or feed utilization in dairy cows.

George Vapaa, Kent County agent, points out that small amounts of stilbestrol - 10 to 15 milligrams per cow per day—can be fed with the grain mixture with no adverse effects on conception, gestation or estrus cycle.

However, feeding such low levels of the growth stimulant will not boost production or feed utilization efficiency. And cows fed higher levels of stilbestrol are subject to abortion.

The agent says Cornell University studies show that stilbestrol will stimulate weight gains in dry cows. But the reasearch also indicates that the practice is not profitable.

University of Colorado research shows that safe amounts of stilbestrol will not stimulate growth in dairy heifers. The Colorado researchers fed 10 milligrams of stilbestrol per day with no growth stimulating effects. Mr. Vapaa says higher levels of stilbestrol may cause breeding problems in open heifers.

Growers Must Improve Soybean Quality on Shore

Delaware soybean growers should follow the market like a Wall Street stockbroker in order to get the highest price for their beans.

This word of advise comes from George Vapaa, Kent County agricultural agent.

Because of the record crop this year the price to farmers during the heavy marketing season will probably be around the support price of $2.26 per bushel.

Hold beans off the market when supplies are plentiful and prices low, the agent advises. Move them gradually into market channels as prices rise.

"If enough beans are held off the market," Mr. Vapaa explains, "prices may rebound quickly from the harvest glut. If so, it may pay to sell beans early in the season rather than carry them through until next spring."

The decision to sell should be based on two primary things: cost of storage and expected price rise between now and next fall.

Soybean production in Delaware and the United States will set a record this year. Delaware production is expected to be 12 to 15 percent more than the record 1960 crop of 4.5 million bushels.

Miss Delmarva Pageant Director Bows Out

Earl S. Hawk of Greenwood, long-time director of the Miss Delmarva Beauty Pageant, says that someone else is going to have to take charge next year of this colorful and popular feature of the annual Delmarva Chicken Festival.

Pressure of business was the reason he gave for bowing out of the pageant which he had built into one of the Peninsula's most spectacular events. Employed by the O. A. Newton and Son Co., of Bridgeville, Hawk is a member of the board of directors of the Delmarva Poultry Industry, Inc., the association which sponsors the Chicken Festival and Miss Delmarva Pageant each year.

A farewell party in appreciation of Hawk's contribution to the poultry industry was held recently at the Seaford Golf and Country Club and was attended by poultry industry and Peninsula business leaders who knew of his decision to turn over the pageant reins to other hands. Hawk was presented with an appropriately engraved desk and calendar set by Bill Rodney of Laurel, general festival chairman in honor of his accomplishments in building the pageant and chicken festival to their present importance. A bound scrapbook of pageant history and pictures was also presented to the retiring pageant director.

In addition to his duties as pageant director, Hawk has been responsible for an annual movie of the Chicken Festival which has been seen by thousands of Delmarva residents each year. He was active in organizing and planning some 20 to 25 preliminary community beauty pageants throughout the Peninsula each year at which finalists for the Miss Delmarva pageant were chosen. A successor will be announced in a few days.

Annual Crops Show Planned

The Delaware Crop Improvement Association has announced plans to hold its 54th annual crops show. Dr. William H. Mitchell, University of Delaware agronomist and treasurer of the D. C.I.A. announced the show will be held November 20 and 21 in the Capital Grange Hall in Dover.

Over $400 in prize money will be offered in classes for grain, seed, hay and silage. Premium lists are available from county agents and vocational agriculture teachers.

Tentative plans for the two-day event call for judging of crops and a Farm-City Banquet on Monday. A Crop Awards Banquet will conclude activities on Tuesday night, according to Mitchell.

Grain classes being offered include corn, soybeans, wheat, oats, barley and rye. There will also be a class for red clover seed, silage and hay.

Of special interest to 4-H members there will be crop-judging competition on the first day's program. These youngsters will judge several classes of grain, hay and silage, Mitchell said, and will be competing for scholarships to next year's 4-H Short Course and 4-H Camp.

Featured speaker of the Farm-City Banquet will be James Symington, son of Missouri's popular senator. The younger Symington is Deputy Director of the Food for Peace Program with headquarters in Washington, D. C.

Keep Safety Shields in Place

In this busy fall season, it's smart to play it safe by putting safety shields in place. All power take-offs and other moving parts of farm machinery should be shielded.

The stakes are too high for you to gamble on machinery without guards, says George Vapaa, Kent County agent. If you lose, it's too late to be sorry.

Get standard power take-off hitches and shields from your farm equipment dealer. But even the best shield will not protect you if you don't put it on.

Some manufacturers are putting on nonmovable power take-off shields to help protect operators against negligence. You can open these shields for servicing or inspection.

Remember, it's hard to farm with just one hand.

Grazing Deadline Set for Wheat Farms

With few exceptions, acreage diverted from wheat production to conservation use under the 1962 wheat stabilization program may be grazed until May 1, 1962, according to Jacob W. Zimmerman, chairman of the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. An exception to this deadline date for grazing is where a producer wishes to benefit under the program's double-cropping provisions, in which case grazing will not be permitted on the farm after December 31, 1961.

The 1962 wheat stabilization program provides for the diversion of land from wheat production to conservation uses. By using the acreage diverted for approved conservation practices, producers earn payments. The diverted acreage on participating farms may not be grazed after May 1, 1962 if the farm is to remain eligible for wheat stabilization payments. In addition, the no-grazing requirement must be met if the wheat from the farm is to be eligible for price support. Winter wheat producers may apply for participation in the 1962 wheat stabilization program any time up to December 1, 1961, each farm on which the producer will take part in the program. Winter wheat stabilization payments will be made only to those who file application at the County ASCS Office by December 1.

Greenwood Meth. To Hold Home-Coming Service

A special homecoming service will be held at the Greenwood Methodist Church Sun., Nov. 12, at 2:30 p.m. This service will begin with an old-fashioned hymn sing followed by guest speaker the Rev. Everett C. Isaacs of St. Georges Methodist Charge, St. Georges.

The Rev. Isaacs is a former Greenwood resident. He will also render a solo. The music will be directed by Eugene Bowne, a former choir director of the Greenwood Church.

A luncheon will be served in the Educational Building adjoining the church immediately following the afternoon service.

There will be an evening service at 7:30 o'clock and the Rev. George H. Pigueron Jr., executive director of the Methodist Country Home, will speak. This service unites with the Grace and St. Johnstown churches in the opening of an evangelistic service for the charge. Bowne will again direct the choir; there will be special music with Mrs. Carole Schulze Matthes as soloist.

Both services are being planned by the Sunshine Class of Greenwood Methodist Church and will be conducted by the Rev. Muriel C. Smith, pastor.

GI Loans May Be Affected By Those Entering The Service

Owners of homes financed by GI mortgage loans who enter military service may be aided by the provisions of the Soldiers and Sailors' Civil Relief Act, Leon Fields, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Wilmington advised this week.

This act makes it possible for the courts, upon proper application, to prevent foreclosure of a loan if the property was acquired prior to entry or re-entry into active military service, and if the serviceman is unable to meet his payments on his loan due to a reduction in income because of military service, Mr. Fields said.

Here's the VA's advice to those entering service who may not be able to meet the entire amount of their home loan payments because of reduced income:

1. Upon receipt of notice to report for service, go or write to the holder of your mortgage (or the person to whom you make your payments), explain the situation, and make arrangements to pay as much as you can until you are released from service. A personal visit to the holder is desirable whenever possible.
2. The law does not give you the right to stop making payments while in military service; the portion of the payment which is postponed by agreement with the holder must be paid later, so arrange to pay all you can while in service.

3. The act is a "relief act." Don't expect the holder to agree to a reduction in your payments unless you are unable to make the full payments because of military service.
4. Keep the holder of your mortgage (or his agent) informed of changes in your military status affecting your ability to pay.

5. While in service, be sure to make any payments agreed to by you and your mortgage-holder, and see him immediately following discharge to make arrangements for making up the back payments.
6. It is not necessary that you see the VA about your loan (unless it is a direct home loan made to you by the VA). However, if you need assistance or advice, visit or write the loan guaranty officer at the VA Regional Office that processed your loan.

Give him your loan number, your full name and present mailing address, your rank and military service unit, the address of your property, and the name and address of your lender or its agent to whom you make your payments.

Stop Cannibalism In Pullet Flock

Pullet flocks frequently start to pick each other when first confined to the laying quarters, says Kent County agent George Vapaa. He explains that a change of quarters plus total confinement makes pullets restless. They may start picking just to have something to do. Eggs laid on the floor may also be pecked by the birds.

Mr. Vapaa suggests frequent trips through the pens when pullets are first housed. Feeding small amounts of feed at frequent intervals will keep the birds busy and help avoid picking. Disturbing birds that show indications of wanting to lay on the floor may help.

If cannibalism gets started, darkening the nests, removing or extending the next perches farther from the front of the nests may help. In some cases it is necessary to debark the birds or use anti-pick devices.

Washington College Booters Leading In Northern Division Of Mason-Dixon Conference

The Washington College soccer team has emerged as the leader of the Mason-Dixon Conference northern division, with a clean slate of three wins and no losses and three important games yet to play.

Earlier in the season the shoremen had practically been discounted as a threat in the northern division, with defense being Coach Ed Athey's critical problem.

Coach Athey made several moves to correct the weakness. Oswald Hodges, freshman and first string goalie from Kenwood High School, Baltimore, was moved to halfback to give more speed and ball control to that position, and Tom Osmanski, a junior from Dundalk High, Baltimore, moved over to goal.

Dorsey "Skip" Rudolph, a senior from Towson (Md.) High, returned from the injured list to bolster the defense as one of the fastest men on the squad.

Coach Athey said that probably the defense was strengthened the most when he shifted Bob Lord, two-year veteran at center forward, to center fullback. Lord is a senior and a graduate of Chestertown High.

"His play at his new center fullback spot has been outstanding," coach Athey said. "He seems to have inspired in the team the confidence to move. Our offense has become more confident and moves the ball with more regularity."

Co-captains and wings Roland Larrimore and John Coles have led the way for the line, sharing the 10 goals scored by the team. Larrimore is a senior, graduate of Rock Hall High. Coles, a sophomore, comes from Borden-town Military Academy in New Jersey.

have been sharing duties in the interior line and have improved rapidly.

In overall play to date the shoremen have won four times, tied once and lost twice. Remaining games, in the all Mason-Dixon Conference, are:

Nov. 1, Loyola, away; Nov. 4, Johns Hopkins, home; Nov. 6, American U., home.

If the shoremen manage to take the northern division title in Mason Dixon play, they will meet the southern division winner on the Chestertown field later in November for the Conference playoff.

Bill Wise, a local postal employee and part time skindiver, recently accompanied an expedition of divers and archaeologists in quest of a pre-revolutionary wreck in the Delaware Bay. The unidentified wreck located on "Joe-logger" shoal several miles east of Port Mahon, was discovered last year by watermen dredging oysters in that area. They recovered pieces of a sunken ship, coal and a more significant find, cannon balls and a pewter cup from their dredges.

The divers were hampered in their search by poor visibility and strong currents. Although, apparently near the wreck, the main part of it was not found. Coal and a portion of the ship were recovered by the divers which substantiated the nearness of the wreck. An effort to more precisely locate the wreck will be made in the near future to aid the divers in future explorations.

A Halloween party was given at the Asbury Methodist Church for the Beginners Department on Tuesday afternoon. There were approximately 50 boys and girls who attended.

H.H.S. Eleven Hits Peak In Loss To J. M. Clayton

By Keith S. Burgess

Coach Bill Santo's Harrington High football team lost to John M. Clayton at Dagsboro on Friday night by a score of 28-6.

The locals scored a moral victory as they played their finest football game of the season against the toughest opponent yet faced. The Bears were nosed out by unbeaten Rehoboth in their only loss of the campaign.

The Lions kicked off and the ball was run back to the local 40 yard line. Wayne Long, last year's Henlopen Conference scoring champion, went around end on the first play and scored. Long scored a second time on a 17 yard run before the end of the quarter.

With seconds to play before the end of the half the Bears failed on three long passes in a row but completed the fourth one on the H.H.S. 1-yard line. Ross Layton went over on the next play and the extra point for the third time was successfully rushed over.

Wayne Long started off the scoring in the third quarter as he tallied on a 7-yard run. This touchdown brought him within six points of the state scoring lead. He passed to Eddie Dutton for the extra point.

Harrington then began to gain through the beefy Bear forward wall. Bill Porter broke through tackle and raced 48 yards for his third touchdown of the season. John M. Clayton was unable to gain and H.H.S. started to march again. Porter, Bill Adams and Paul Rash made gains and Jeff Adams completed a pass to Tom Lord for a 20-yard advance and a first down on the Clayton 5-yard line. Two running plays carried to the 3 but John M. Clayton took over there by recovering a fumble.

The Lions incurred very few penalties during the game and local fumbles were extremely scarce. This is a big improvement over recent outings.

Selbyville's Rebels will furnish the opposition on the local field, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Rebels have not scored a victory this autumn. However, comparative scores indicate that a close game can be expected. If the Lions play as well as they did at Dagsboro they should tabulate their second triumph of the season.

Parade in Germany Honors State

According to word received this week by Gov. Elbert N. Carvel, the State of Delaware was signally honored at Grafenwohr, Germany, during special ceremonies staged there recently by the 4th Armored Division, U. S. Army.

In what is believed to have been the first mounted display overseas of the flags of all fifty states, the Flag of the State of Delaware was accorded No. 1 position, behind the Stars and Stripes, in recognition of Delaware's being the first state to ratify the Federal Constitution. The flags of other states were arranged in the order in which the states joined the Union. The flags were mounted on M48 A2 tanks in a parade that highlighted the ceremonies.

According to a letter to Gov. Carvel from Major General John K. Waters, commanding officer in Seaford, Fri., Nov. 10, at 8 p. m. All civic, church and other comes from a large family, too. For her sweater, today, is so obviously aimed at the sub-teen who wants to be like her "older" sister. And why shouldn't it please her? It's the fashionable bulky! And it's cut in the cardigan line that can be adapted to almost everything in her wardrobe. Further, it's got the dress-maker's collar (in a mid-y motif). Add to these good points the pebble-stitch banding on cuffs and sweater edge—you get a sophisticated sweater/jacket that makes any eleven-year-old look charmingly sophisticated.

HANDSOME TEXTURE OF THE SWEATER is achieved with Coats & Clark's Red Heart "Turbo-Glo," a two-ply knitting worsted that gives both firm body and a nubby surface. A size 8 takes nine skeins of "Turbo-Glo." And it's a standard stitch done with a pair of No. 10 wooden knitting pins. Directions are free. gratified to see a tangible reminder of their beloved home state so honored."

The Delaware Flag now occupies a place of honor at the 4th Armored Division Headquarters, according to General Waters.

The 4th Armored Division has a long and distinguished record and its membership represents a cross section of America with every state presently represented within its ranks.

Rehabilitation Services

A series of rallies throughout the state to urge better prisons and youth rehabilitation services will begin with a public meeting in Seaford, Fri., Nov. 10, at 8 p. m. groups in western Sussex County will be asked to send delegations to the rally, sponsored by the Three-S Citizens' Campaign. The three S's stand for: salvage people, save dollars, and shrink the crime rate.

Joseph Dellenger, executive director of the Maryland Prisoners Aid Association, will be the main speaker.

Kenneth Madden, superintendent of Seaford schools and vice president of the Three-S campaign, will preside. Others who will speak briefly on Delaware's correctional problems are: Karl Brown, of Seaford, chairman of the State Board of Corrections; Herbert Cobin, of Wilmington, chairman of the Governor's committee on corrections, and Mrs. Martin Klaver, of the state Youth Services Commission.

Each will explain his part in the current movement to revitalize the state's rehabilitation program. The Three-S Campaign began Monday with a kickoff luncheon in the Hotel duPont, Wilmington. Subsequent rallies will be held in Dover, Rehoboth Beach, and in Carrocroft, north of Wilmington. The Three-S drive is a year-long educational program to encourage improvements in the state's prisons, youth training schools, and probation and parole services. It is being timed to coincide with recommendations to be made by the governor's study committee after research in Delaware by the National Council on Crime and Delinquency is completed.
