

Town Fallout Shelters Proposed By Frederica

The specter and shadow of nuclear war and predicted heavily radioactive spring rains next year have moved town officials here to consider fallout shelters for the entire town.

While still in the discussion stage Councilman R. R. Johnston has requested specifications of cost and type of mass shelters from the Kent County Civil Defense office.

Briar Park, a subdivision south of Dover, has also requested such information from the CD authorities.

Movement for building the shelters began Nov. 1, at a Frederica council meeting. Johnston says the town is waiting on information from the CD authorities before going further.

Johnston thinks the town could build shelters without raising taxes which he says haven't increased in ten years. Cost of the shelters will determine the action, he says.

The town has operated on a surplus for five years. The present budget is also expected to show a surplus.

Frederica officials are primarily interested in what type of shelter to build for the population of the town. The town has about 1,000 people some of whom are Air Force personnel stationed at Dover Air Base.

Johnston says they are interested in the cost of shelters, their practicality and what other use they could be converted to.

If built they will be done in time for spring rains, which, Johnston says, are predicted to be "hot."

A piece of ground next to the fire house which belongs to the Frederica Parking Authority is one proposed site for shelter. Johnston said that he would provide seven acres of his land free to the city also.

"I can't picture anybody saying no to this municipality providing fallout shelters for them," he said. "We want to protect the

State Board of Education Appoints Supervisor

Mrs. Marian S. Miller was recently appointed State Supervisor of Group Testing Program in the Division of Child Development and Guidance by the State Board of Education. Mrs. Miller succeeds Dr. Russell Plumpton who resigned several weeks ago.

Mrs. Miller received the A. B. degree from Smith College, the M. A. from Teachers College, Columbia University, and is currently a candidate for the Ph. D. in the area of psychological foundations and services at Columbia University. At Columbia she has worked with Dr. Irving Lorge and Dr. Ruth Strang, contributing to Dr. Strang's recent book, "Helping Your Gifted Child."

Mrs. Miller's previous professional work experience includes an internship in the guidance clinic at Columbia University where she specialized in the area of the severely disturbed retarded readers. More recently she held the position of research assistant in the office of the dean of students at the University of Delaware. As research assistant Mrs. Miller was involved in a statewide testing program conducted in all public, private, and parochial schools in the state.

She has been with the State Department of Public Instruction since 1958 as psychological examiner and school psychologist. During the past two years she served as director of a research project sponsored cooperatively by the U. S. Office of Education and the Division of Child Development and Guidance. The results of this project have been published in a final report entitled, "Guidance and Elementary School Climate." She is at present also serving as a part-time instructor on the staff at Teachers College, Columbia University, where she is giving a course in "Foundations of Guidance."

The Millers lived in China for several years while Mr. Miller was stationed in Shanghai and Hong Kong for the DuPont Company. While living abroad, Mrs. Miller ran a weekly radio program in Hong Kong and edited a Chinese cookbook, "Noodles and Rice," which is now in its sixth edition.

Mrs. Miller makes her home in Odessa with her husband and four children, ranging from elementary grade school age through college. She has been a member of the Odessa Board of School Trustees for several years and is chairman of the Board this year.

Emory N. Lynch Jr., Kent County Civil Defense director, says he has given all available information to Briar Park and will provide the same for Frederica.

A man whom he couldn't identify requested information on a proposed 20 by 100-ft. shelter in Dover.

Briar Park people, constituting an unincorporated area, had a meeting on shelters Monday night, Lynch said.

Officials at Frederica consider their proximity to Dover Air Force Base a danger to the town. Johnston said that being 10 miles from the base, which is a prime target, would make it hot for Frederica in a nuclear war.

Lynch said the request from Frederica and Briar Park are the only ones he has had from communities considering protection for an entire populace.

Facts on Water Storage for Emergency Use

Tests over the past several years have demonstrated that water may be stored for indefinite periods of time without spoilage if simple precautions are taken.

Water storage for emergency use is extremely important because water is more essential than food in sustaining life during emergency periods. Here are the facts and instructions on the storage of safe water:

Containers: Jugs, bottle, jars, or other containers made of glass or polyethylene (heavy plastic) with tight-fitting caps or tops are the most suitable (metal containers, with the exception of proper canning, have the disadvantages of possible corrosion and tend to give water an unpleasant taste). Containers must be thoroughly clean.

Quantities: At least one-half gallon per day per person for a two week period, or a minimum of seven gallons per person, for drinking and food preparation. Sources: Preferably from the source normally used by the family for drinking purposes because the family members are accustomed to its taste and mineral quality.

If there is any doubt as to the bacterial safety of water for storage, it must be purified by boiling vigorously for 1 to 3 minutes or by adding laundry bleach in accordance with the instructions on the label of the bleach bottle. Generally, one-half teaspoon of bleach will purify 5 gallons of clear water, and one teaspoon will purify 5 gallons of cloudy water.

Supplemental Sources: Supplemental emergency water for drinking, washing, food preparation, and sanitation may be obtained from hot water tanks, toilet tanks, or other utility sources within the building. Some need for liquids for drinking also can be met by fruit or food, such as tomatoes.

Physical Education: Since the middle of October the boys from the seventh grade up are participating in a nationwide program in physical education. The program includes push-ups, sit-ups and "West Pointers." In these exercises the boys are timed to see how many they can do in ten seconds.

The 100-yard dash is another of the exercises. The boys have to run it while the coach, Mr. Santo, clocks them.

This week the boys are expected to run the 880. Again Mr. Santo will clock them.

This nationwide is repeated twice a year; fall and in the spring.

Ninth Grader Wins Contest: The students of 9G are proud of one of their number, Ann Hoffman, who won the 4-H State Cooking Contest at Dover last week.

Ann's entry, "Heavenly Bun," was made of beans, mustard, relish, combined on a hamburger bun, with a strip of bacon and cheese on top.

Gas Tax Drive Okayed By Democrats

A new drive to get the one-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax increase through the Senate was agreed on Tuesday by Democratic Party and legislative leaders at their meeting with Gov. Elbert N. Carvel.

Pending the result of that drive, the General Assembly is not being called back to Dover.

The motor fuel tax bill (HB 166) was maneuvered through the House of Representatives in September, but it failed by three votes in the Senate, where five Democrats and all six Republicans declined to vote for it.

At Tuesday's meetings, it was reported one of the five Democratic senators is ready to vote for the bill. Two more votes will be sought.

If those votes are obtained, the General Assembly will be reconvened. If not, there will be another meeting to consider what to do. The alternatives are to find some other revenue, or to get along without additional revenue.

The Governor is expected to review the situation early next week. He left Wednesday for Chicago to attend the Governors' Conference on Mental Health.

If the needed votes are rounded up by Monday, the Governor will be able to inform the legislative leaders at the meeting of the Fiscal Policy Committee, to be held in his office Monday afternoon.

In the event the party and legislative leaders are unsuccessful in the new move to crack a few more votes for the gasoline tax in the Senate, it is expected the Governor will boost his official estimate of the state's revenue position for the present fiscal year.

One step he has already indicated as a possibility is having the Budget Commission decline to authorize the use of a large portion of the contingency funds which are in the budget appropriation bill. This would cause that portion of the funds to revert. Meanwhile, a similar amount could be spent. One pressing obligation the Governor is anxious to meet is a bill for about $332,000 in social security payments owed the federal government.

Valuable Plant Food Going Up In Smoke

The practice of burning leaves in the fall is wasteful, according to George Vapaa, Kent County agent.

Leaves, lawn clippings, weeds and other plant remains are important sources of organic matter that should be added to compost piles, according to the agent. You should start a compost pile now if you don't have one already, he adds. Refuse from the fall garden and lawn cleanup makes excellent material.

The easiest way to make a compost pile is to dig a shallow pit six or eight inches deep and about four feet wide. Make it long enough to accommodate all of the leaves and grass collected. Mr. Vapaa suggest packing the material in six or eight inch layers. Sprinkle the layer with a few handfuls of commercial fertilizer and then add a layer of soil. Fertilizer adds plant food to the mixture and speeds up the rotting process. The soil will also reduce the time necessary for the leaves to rot and form humus.

Keep adding alternate layers of leaves, fertilizer and soil until the pile is four feet deep, the agent says. Animal manure may be used instead of dirt or in combination with it if available. It's a good idea to sprinkle each layer with water to insure plenty of moisture for the rotting process, he adds.

When the pile is completed add a layer of soil a few inches thick on top. Make this layer lower in the center so it will catch rainfall and keep the pile moist.

"Sounds like a lot of work, but you'll be delighted with the results after this compost has been applied to the garden next spring," Mr. Vapaa adds. Don't let valuable organic matter go up in smoke.

GEORGE SIMPSON CHOSEN AS HEAD OF K & S FAIR

Carvel Fills 7 Barber Chairs

Gov. Elbert N. Carvel Tuesday named the seven barbers who will administer the state's new law to regulate barbering throughout the state.

The first appointees to the new State Board of Examiners of Barbers are:

Leon Allen Carter, RD 2, Dover.

Raymond Maloney, 26 Elm Terrace, Dover.

Willard McKendrick, 6 1/2 Lorewood Ave., Wilmington 4.

Thomas Igundo, 1136 W. 2nd Street, Wilmington.

John Re Jr., 1612 Marsh Road, Wilmington 3.

Richard O'Neil Lewis, Ocean View.

Raymond W. O'Neal, Market Street, Laurel.

All were appointed, effective Tuesday, to three-year terms.

The new seven-member board succeeds the three-member board, called the Board of Examiners of Barbers, which had power to regulate barbering in Wilmington only. The terms of the three members expired July 1.

The new law, which got through the legislature in June after a long, involved struggle, gives the board power to prescribe sanitary requirements for barber shops, to examine applicants who wish to become barbers in Delaware, to issue annual certificates to barbers, and to approve plans for new barber shops.

The State Board of Health is empowered by the new law to inspect barber shops.

In another action Tuesday, the governor reappointed the three members of the State Board of Examiners in Optometry.

They are Dr. R. Wells Campbell, Smyrna; Dr. H. Martin Moss, Wilmington; and Dr. Elizabeth F. Phillips, Georgetown. Their old terms expired Tuesday, and their new terms are for two years.

The Governor also appointed Wilmer F. Loomis Jr. of Georgetown to the Board of Physical Therapists, to succeed Miss Eleanor J. Bader, Wilmington. The term expires July 1, 1962.

Earlier Tuesday, Gov. Carvel announced the appointment of Miss L. Virginia Hodgson R.N. to the Board of Examiners of Graduate Nurses. Miss Hodgson, who lives at 51 Kenmar Drive, Brookside, succeeds Mrs. Sara Gibson Reed on the board.

Increased Interest in Theatre Parties Seen For E52 Play

Increased theatre party interest is expected for the second major production of E 52 University Theatre, "Abe Lincoln in Illinois."

Dr. C. Robert Kase, director of the University of Delaware theatre troupe, said the play should be of particular interest to junior and senior high school groups because of its historical significance.

The Pulitzer Prize - winning play by Robert Sherwood will be presented in Mitchell Hall on December 7, 8, and 9. It was selected to commemorate both the Civil War Centennial and the Land-Grant College Centennial, in which the university is participating. The play concerns the life of Lincoln prior to his leaving Springfield to assume the duties of the Presidency in 1861.

Up to fifty per cent on the single admission prize can be saved through the purchase of theatre party tickets, according to Dr. Kase. Party-rate tickets must be purchased in one transaction but may spread over several performances. A complimentary ticket goes to each theatre party.

An E 52 record was set last year when 800 persons took advantage of the special party rates.

No Help From Fall Weed Spray

It just doesn't pay to spray annual weeds in the fall, says George Vapaa, Kent county agent. Whether in the field or garden it's too late to help much.

Frost will kill them anyway and they have probably already gone to seed. Annual weeds begin from seed each spring. As you plow a new crop is turned up, the agent says. These seeds lie dormant in the soil for several years and start to sprout as they are plowed up.

It is important to prevent weeds from going to seed in the first place. By following a rigorous program of weed control you can reduce the weed seed population in the soil and insure a more weed-free field or garden, according to Mr. Vapaa. The best way to prevent weeds from going to seed is by clipping or chemical treatment early in the season.

Many farmers and gardeners who have sprayed for annual weeds one year are disappointed when they begin to grow again next season. It is important to recognize that it takes an extensive year-in year-out program to free the soil of weed seeds.

Hackett, Garey, Smith, Rogers, Wix Pace Quad Win

By Keith S. Burgess

Harrington High had five men in the first seven to finish and easily won a quadrangular cross-country meet from Millsboro, Milton and Milford Thursday afternoon at Killen's Pond.

Clarence Hackett won his fifth race in five tries as he paced Coach Harold McDonald's Lions to their third victory. The locals' regular season winds up on the winning side with a 3-2 log. Only four defeats have been suffered in four years of action. On November 15th the Henlopen Conference Championships run will take place at Killen's Pond. November 21st the fourth annual Harrington Invitational will be contested at the same site. The latter test will feature between eight and twelve teams. Individual and team trophies will be awarded in both races.

In Thursday's race the Lions continued to show improvement, although the weather was not favorable. Ken Garey, who had his hands full beating Millsboro's Bob Fox last week, left the Blue Devils in the sand pit near the start this time and was never threatened as he finished 2nd in the field of 58 harriers. Freshman Bob Smith, who lost a month of training with a bad ankle, made his highest finish of the year and lowered his personal record by twelve seconds in finishing fourth. Another freshman, Dennis Rogers and a senior, Allen Wix, contributed to Harrington's exceedingly low quad point total by nabbing sixth and seventh places. Wayne Carson and Milt Szmjda, sophomores, were the last two locals to figure in the scoring. Both turned in seasonal best time with Szmjda running 14:35 after three times running 14:46. Frank Welch ran his second race 57 seconds faster than his debut effort last week. Coach McDonald wishes this boy had come out in early September. He brings to six the number of very good prospects uncovered this year by Coach McDonald. It's the same each autumn. A number of lads are asked to try out for cross-country. Many of them say in amazement "What? Me run 2.4 miles? Thanks, but not thanks." Some eventually try out and are amazed once more when they discover distance running can be fun, healthful and can give one a tremendous feeling of accomplishment. Each lad soon realizes that he is on his own and how far he progresses depends on his own efforts. A teammate cannot bail him out as in some other sports. With Harrington High each year defeating many much larger schools in the hill-and-dale sport, it makes one wonder how far this little school would go if a much larger percentage of the male student population would only give it a try. The Lions had the best dual meet squad in Delaware in 1960 and had the state individual king in Harry Knotts. This seems to be a pretty fair showing when one considers that only two of the twenty-five Diamond State cross country schools are smaller than Harrington.

Lions Rally To Tie Selbyville, 7-7

By Keith S. Burgess

Harrington High's Lions, playing without the services of several injured performers, rallied to tie the visiting Selbyville Rebels in a hard-played game on Saturday afternoon.

Terry Johnson and Ron Melvin, the two largest Lion linemen were on the sidelines and some of their teammates seemed reluctant to block Selbyville's Cliff Murray, who is a large and talented lad. Johnson's and Melvin's combined 400 pounds would have been a big help in containing the visiting fullback, who is the heart of the Sussex County team.

Selbyville received the kickoff and with Murray getting an average 10 yards per carry were soon on the Lion 22. Jeff Adams broke through the line and smeared a Rebel for a tidy loss. Charles Taylor intercepted a pass but H.H.S. was offside so the play was called back. Paul Rash recovered a fumble on the 10 yard line to avert the threat.

The Lions mounted a threat as Porter hit through the line for 12 and Jeff Adams racked up 18 yards on three tries. Porter and Taylor made gains to the Rebel 42. With fourth down coming up Adams passed from a spread formation to Porter in the flat for a first down on the 38. Shortly after the start of the second quarter Adams, who played a terrific game otherwise, made his one bad call. He passed out in the flat to Bill Adams. The ball passed behind the intended receiver and thus became a free ball. A Rebel scooped it up and went 67 yards to the H.H.S. 8 before Jeff Adams saved a certain score by downing the ball carrier from behind. Bill Parker stopped the immediate threat by scooping up a fumble but the Lions were in a hole from which they could not escape. Adams pitched out to Rash for 20 yards but a local was detected clipping and the ball ended up on the home 8-yard line. Porter kicked out to a Rebel who fumbled but when the ball was finally downed on the 8 once more, another Rebel was cuddled up to it.

Cliff Murray pulled his boner of the day at this point. After plunging to the 1 the big fullback attempted to stretch across the goal line and only succeeded in depositing the pigskin neatly in the arms of a defender. The enraged Murray then roughed the passer on the next play moving the ball out 15 yards. H. H. S. again could not move away from its own goal. This part of the game the Harrington quarterback could expect to look up and see Murray after getting the ball as the Rebel was rushing in from a linebacker post and was getting only token resistance. The visitors gained possession on the Lion 30 and with the aid of an offside penalty on fourth down sent Murray in to score both the touchdown and extra point.

Trailing 7-0 Jeff Adams returned the ensuing kickoff 33 yards to the Lion 43. Two Adams passes were dropped and the Lions were slowed by a 15 yard unnecessary roughness penalty. A Bill Porter run and an Adams pass to Tom Lord were good for a first down. Taylor, Porter, Rash and Porter gained 17 yards. J. Adams went for 10 to the enemy 38. Taylor went for the first down and J. Adams rolled out to the 17. The defense was fooled when J. Adams pitched out to W. Adams and the diminutive back fired a 19 yard pass to Wayne Collision on the 1. On the scoring play J. Adams faked to Porter heading into the line and with the Rebels keyed in on the fullback went around end untouched. Porter then hit center for the tie score.

In the second half the Lions halted a serious Rebel threat by recovering a fumble 3 yards short of pay dirt. A Lion drive then started only to be ended by another fumble after three or four first downs.

The two evenly matched squads played between the 20-yard lines for the rest of the contest.

Bill Porter and Jeff Adams played terrific games for the locals, while Tim Strohl was a bulwark of strength in the line. Strohl led in tackles made with 10. Joe Taylor and Bill Parker were linemen who made important fumble recoveries.

The remainder of the schedule sees the Lions at unbeaten Rehoboth tonight (Friday) and Delaware will be here Saturday afternoon, Nov. 18 in the final contest.

Clarence Hackett, junior member of the 'Hurrying Hacketts,' ran a terrific race at Rockford Park in Wilmington Tuesday afternoon as he finished 5th in a field of 112 runners. His brother, Dwight, is the No. 1 harrier on the West Chester State Teachers College freshman team and recently set a new course record at Lehigh University when he won a dual meet 2.7 mile run.

Clarence won an impressive engraved plaque for his fine effort. He was clocked in 11:27 just 30 seconds faster than his time in the state championship run in 1960.

The first five finishers broke the state meet record set by Harrington's Harry Knotts last fall. Hackett is the only harrier of this quintet who is not a senior. This indicates that he may be state x-country king in 1962. The same situation applied to Knotts, who was fourth behind three seniors in 1959 and won going away in 1960.

There is a huge fly in the ointment because Hackett is moving into the Wm. Penn High School district later this month and will be representing that school in the future. He is a fine lad and an excellent athlete and many people in Harrington will be sorry to see him go. From a cross-country point of view the move will be to his advantage as he will be able to compete regularly against stiffer upstate competition and will be thoroughly versed in the Rockford Park course by state meet time next year. Since downstate schools are running over unfamiliar terrain, the upstate schools have a concrete advantage as the latter are familiar with every nook and cranny after many trips around the area.

Fred Swanson and Joe Richmond of Mt. Pleasant High School were 1-2 in the race as they paced their team to the state title. Mt. Pleasant is the only x-country team on the Delmarva Peninsula, which has never yielded to Coach Harold McDonald's Lions. Both Swanson and Richmond have competed in the Kent and Sussex Fair three-miler and in other downstate three mile races. The writer is interested in improving physical fitness in this area and has persuaded organizations to sponsor eight distance runs over the past three summers. Hackett in fifth and Salesianum's Roper in eighth place also ran in these contests. So perhaps Harrington can take a little credit for the success of the winner and runner-up in Tuesday's test.

Coach McDonald's boys finished 8th in a field of 16 schools. While not as good as last year's 3rd in 17 teams it must be considered as a very fine showing when one realizes that two freshmen and a junior with less than a dozen workouts were manning the 2, 3 and 4 spots on the squad.

Ken Garey, the junior, was clocked in 12:37, a time which would have brought him in first in many of the dual meets held at Rockford this year. Several New Castle County schools stayed out of this year's race who would have finished lower than H.H.S.

Freshman Dennis Rogers, who recorded 15:40 in 1960, lopped off a phenomenal 2 minutes and 41 seconds as he came in in 12:59.

Bob Smith, a freshman and a first-year harrier, was timed in 13:10 as he beat out 51 rivals, who were mostly juniors and seniors.

Allen Wix and Jeff Adams ran 4 and 15 seconds respectively, better than their 1960 times. Wayne Carson, a sophomore and first-year runner, drew a bad pole position and at one point was running last or 112th. However, he poured it on and passed 37 rivals, a fine performance for a tyro.

In the jaycee race Lester Minner was the first local to finish as he chopped off 1 minute and 19 seconds from his last autumn's mark. Erwin Rogers was 1 1/2 minutes faster than in 1960.

Bill Sollars ignored a banged-up knee and moved up steadily throughout the race as he was nearer the leaders at each checkpoint.

Milt Szmajda was second Lion to finish. Milt is another good prospect who is moving out of the district.

Pint-sized eighth grader Larry Bonniwell continued to astonish fans and runners alike as he whipped quite a few older and larger boys. The writer standing near an upstate varsity harrier as Larry outsprinted a tall rival entering the finish chute, heard the runner say "That kid is going to be great when he grows up." Bonniwell was 1 minute 30 seconds faster than last year.

First year men Frank Welch and Dick Schreiber ran their best races of the year. Practically all of the 14 locals in both races were pleased with their performances.

With Garey, Rogers, Smith, Carson and Adams back next year, the Lions will probably move up a few notches.

Colts Tie Bears in Little League Football Opener

Little League football had its local debut Saturday night under the lights at the Moose Home. A large, enthusiastic crowd watched the tykes go at it "hammer and tongs" and battle to a 7-7 tie.

Coach Ken Schaper's Colts, resplendent in new, blue uniforms, scored first led by the swift and runs of Dennis Beene. Beene had two brothers who were sprinters on the Harrington High track team. It appears Dennis may one day do the same. The Colt's fiery quarterback, Rodney Fletcher of Felton, ran over the extra point.

Coach Cliff Chambers' Bears, arrayed in gold suits with black trim, threatened in the second quarter when speedy Roger Bullock ran right, then reversed his field and broke into the clear down the left sideline. He was pulling away until he stumbled on a rough part of the field and was caught from behind.

Mitchel Godwin of Felton led another Bear surge that was halted by the Colts in the area of the 15-yard line.

Yet another Bruin drive reached the Colt 12 before it fizzled out in the third quarter.

Tiny Mike Adams intercepted a Colt pass to give the Bears another opportunity in the final stanza. Adams had the crowd's sympathy because he is hardly big enough to hold up his uniform pants.

Godwin sent most of the fans home in a contented mood when he tied up the contest by scoring a touchdown and extra point for the Bears.

The audience seemed to enjoy themselves as the kids played with a ferocity belying their years. At this point in the program the defense is ahead of the offense. This is natural since defense is much easier to play.

Each team had almost as many cheerleaders as players. The misses were attired in sweaters and skirts that matched their team's uniforms.

Officials were Bill Santo, Mike Mock and Mill Kramedas, coaches at Harrington High and Alf Bowden of Seaford. Bowden was a college player at Penn State and is a registered gridiron official.

Many Felton fans were in attendance as players from our neighbor town are prominent on all three league squads.

Saturday night at 7:30 Coach Tom Mulcahy's Eagles will make their league debut. Either the Colts or Bears will furnish the opposition.

No admission is charged at these games and the public is invited. The hat will be passed to help pay for the uniforms and other expenses.

Delaware Food Market Report

When the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock, they found a thornless vine growing thick over most of the low, semi-swampy area, on the vines were red berries, unfamiliar and bitter to the palate. The colonists called these berries crane-berries, perhaps this name was given because these berries were a favorite food of cranes. Eventually the name was changed to cranberries. Today cranberry growing is one of the most intensive of the horticultural industries.

This is the season to enjoy this very American food. Fresh cranberries are now at the grocery counter and prices are low. Most of the cranberries sold now are in one-pound cardboard boxes with transparent film windows or in one-pound cellophane bags. In either you are able to determine the quality of the cranberries. When selecting them be sure to look for fresh cranberries that are plump and dry—to insure freshness and firm with high luster—to insure ripeness. Avoid berries that are soft and shriveled and have a dull appearance as they have passed their prime.

Here is a statement that is old but still holds good today. In 1526 a Spanish historian described avocados as "Pears which are unlike pears similar to butter and very good eating." How true this is. This fruit is like many others in as far as it must be softened off the tree. They are mature before picking, but not ready to eat. It takes from a few days to two or three weeks to soften an avocado depending on the variety. Firm fruit should be left at room temperature until soft. Firm avocados will not ripen in the refrigerator but when they are soft store in the refrigerator and use within a few days. Dress up your menu today, avocados are excellent in quality and lower in price.

This week there is an unusually large volume of vegetables to choose from for this time of year. Temperate fall weather has prolonged the season for the hardier vegetables. You will find good quality and reasonable prices for broccoli, cabbage, cauliflower, Eastern potatoes, carrots, Brussels sprouts, beets, egg plant, lettuce, cucumbers, green peppers, mushrooms and sweet potatoes.

All meats remain in good supply. Pork marketings, particularly, are increasing, seasonally and somewhat lower prices are in the offing.

MAC Title Test Saturday

Two fine squads—the Delaware Blue Hens and the Rutgers Scarlet Knights—will collide Saturday in the most important game of the '61 Middle Atlantic Conference season.

Both are undefeated in MAC competition and whoever wins the Rutgers Stadium game should emerge as conference champion. Delaware won the MAC crown in 1959, Rutgers took it in 1960.

The mighty Knights from New Brunswick, N. J., have swept all opposition aside this year as they drive toward their first unbeaten season. They've defeated Princeton, Connecticut, Bucknell, Lehigh, Pennsylvania, and are certain to be heavily favored over the twice-beaten Hens. Coach John Bateman's Double Winged-T has steamrollered every opponent, and the tenacious Delaware defense will be hard pressed to contain such stars as quarterbacks Sam Mudie and Bill Speranza, half-backs Bill Thompson and Pierce Fraunheim and fullback Steve Simms.

This is Rutgers last season in the MAC, as they've resigned from the conference because of scheduling problems. Consequently, a Rutgers victory Saturday would have great significance, and the Hens will be seeking to spoil their opponents' triumphant exit from the league. Delaware has topped the Knights three times in the last five meetings, although Rutgers blanked a sub-par Hen squad at Delaware Stadium last season, 22-0.

The series, begun in 1901, stands eleven for Rutgers, seven for Delaware, with three ties. This will be the second meeting between Bateman and Delaware coach Dave Nelson, two of the nation's most highly regarded mentors.

Both squads have flights of scoring threats. Delaware will counter the Rutgers galaxy with halfback Joe Slobojan, team rushing and scoring leader; quarterback Ted Kempksi, passing and total offense leader; ends Ollie Baker and Dick Broadbent, both All-E.C.A.C. picks this season, and speedy halfbacks Mike Brown and Johnny Wallace. The famed Nelson Winged-T has functioned beautifully again this season in wins over Lehigh, Buffalo, Lafayette and Temple. Despite the team losses to Hofstra and Ohio, Hen performances have been consistently good offensively and defensively. Delaware has averaged 21 points per game while holding opponents to an eight-point-per-game average. Lehigh has been the only MAC team to score on the Hens; conference opponents have averaged only two points per game.

Up front, the two lines will be big, aggressive and talented. The Knights of the forward wall are led by All-America candidate Alex Kroll, a 6-2, 228-pound center. Facing Kroll will be Hen centers Johnny Scholato, 6-1, 216 pounds, and Ray Otowski, 6-0, 213. Both are two-way standouts.

All signs point to one of the season's toughest tests for both clubs. Both, as usual, will be 'up' for this grimly-fought annual. A large crowd is expected in Rutgers' 23,000-seat stadium for the 1:30 p. m. kickoff.

Rutgers' probable starters: Dick Lawrence, 6-2, 199, and Marv Engle, 6-1, 185, end; Tony Simonelli, 6-3, 230, and Tom Tappen, 6-2, 212, tackle; Bob Harrison, 6-0, 175 and Brad Bradley, 6-0, 197, guard; Kroll, Center; Speranza, 6-0, 185, quarterback; Thompson, 5-10, 197, and Fraunheim, 5-10, 183, halfback; and Simms, 6-1, 209, fullback. All are lettermen.

Probable starters for Delaware: Ollie Baker, 6-0, 188, and Dick Broadbent, 6-3, 214, end; Dick Evers, 6-2, 240, and Paul Chesmore, 6-2, 202, tackle; Jim Quirk, 5-10, 193, and Earl Ritchie, 6-1, 210, guard; Scholato, center, Kempksi, 5-9, 174, quarterback; Karl Lorenz, 6-2 1/2, 195, and Slobojan, 5-7, 160, halfback; and Ron McCoy, 5-9, 176, fullback.

Only one other MAC team is still in the running for the conference title—Bucknell. If Rutgers wins Saturday, the Knights will clinch the crown. If Delaware wins, either the Hens or Lehigh must defeat Bucknell to drop the Bisons from contention.

Stanley S. Marty, 47, Camden, and Shirley E. Manning, 28, Dover.

Thanksgiving Means Turkey Time

Miss Janet L. Coblentz Nutrition Specialist, U. of D.

It's time to talk turkey. Whether it's a feast for 2 or 20 there's a turkey to fit your taste. Choose a big 20-pounder for full scale production; for the small family, a 4-8 pounder is best.

When buying a turkey, choose a plump, well-fleshed bird with wide breast, broad body, and comparatively short legs. The skin should be smooth to the touch, moist and pliable with few pin-feathers and no bruises or discoloration. A larger turkey will have more meat and less bone.

The size to buy is usually determined by the number of servings needed. A reliable estimate is 1/2-3/4 pound raw, ready-to-cook turkey per serving.

6-8	6-10
8-12	10-20
12-16	20-32
16-20	32-40
20-24	40-50

The actual number of servings depends on quality of the turkey, correct cooking and carving skill.

To defrost frozen turkeys, follow the package directions or use one of the following methods: leave the bird in its original wrapper. Place it on a shelf in the refrigerator for 2 to 4 days or place the bird, still in its original wrapper, under cold running water for 2 to 6 hours.

Prompt cooking after defrosting is preferable. A defrosted, ready-to-cook or a freshly killed turkey can be kept for two or three days in a refrigerator at 38° F. or less. If the bird is purchased live, it should be killed promptly and refrigerated. Wrap the bird loosely in aluminum foil or moisture-proof paper. Once defrosted, cook it exactly like fresh turkey. It is not advisable to refreeze poultry.

The turkey should be stuffed just prior to roasting. Combine ingredients immediately before stuffing the bird.

Moderate temperature is recommended to prevent shrinkage and loss of juice and is still preferred by most people. Correct roasting is slow cooking by dry heat on a rack in an open pan. It requires no water, basting, cover or searing. Low temperatures assure better flavor and appearance, less shrinkage and less loss of juices. A shallow, open pan allows the heat to circulate around the bird, roasting it evenly. A rack at least 1/2 inch high raises the bird off the bottom of the pan, keeping it out of the juices.

Turkey, like other poultry and meat, is an excellent source of complete, high quality protein. The liver and heart are high in nutritive value. Light meat has less fat and is lower in calories.

Harrington P.T.A. Notes

November 1 the Harrington P.T.A. was reorganized with Thomas Mulcahy elected president; Jack Redden, vice president; Mrs. William Walls, and Mrs. Norman Brown were re-elected secretary and treasurer. Mr. Mulcahy has only lived in our community since March but is already showing his interest in our children by coaching the Eagles Little League football team. Mr. Redden also helps with Little League football and baseball teams.

There is going to be a membership drive made soon. Every parent will be asked to join and attend these meetings. Each month an attendance banner will be given the room with the most attendance. At the end of the year, the class with the banner the most will be awarded an all expense paid trip by the P.T.A.

The next meeting will be Wed., Dec. 6. An interesting program is being planned. There will also be a question box into which anyone may write questions. If there is not enough time to answer these questions, they may be answered in paper the following week. Don't forget, circle the date, Dec. 6. See you at the school.

Attack on Swine Brucellosis Is Intensified

An intensified effort to eradicate swine brucellosis in Delaware is underway, according to Dr. John H. Shropshire, University of Delaware livestock specialist. This is part of a national program being carried out by the U. S. D. and the State Board of Agriculture in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Shropshire cites three reasons for the program: brucellosis costs the swine industry about 10 million dollars a year, it presents a threat of cross-infection to cattle, and probably most important, swine brucellosis is a serious threat to human health.

In the past, Shropshire explains, most cases of human brucellosis, or "undulant fever", were contracted from cattle infected with the bovine form of brucellosis. Now, the main source of human infection is diseased hogs. Last year, 65 per cent of all reported cases of human brucellosis were thought to be of swine origin. Three years ago this figure was only 40 per cent.

This points up the progress being made in eradicating brucellosis in cattle, according to Shropshire, but it also indicates the need for doing something more about brucellosis in swine.

The first stage of this intensified swine brucellosis program is based on the "validation" of individual swine herds as brucellosis-free. Validation is achieved by following procedures recommended by the USDA and cooperating states.

Herds are validated for one year after all adult animals pass two consecutive negative blood tests. When a herd qualifies, the owner is supplied with an appropriate sign bearing the symbol of validation—identifying his herd as a source of brucellosis-free hogs, he says. Eventual eradication of the disease in all swine herds is the goal of the program.

The 5th community is the center of the county, the same as the fifth and seventh representative districts combined.

Dedication of Shelter Over Mason-Dixon Stone To Be Held Tomorrow

The recently completed shelter over the Middle Stone and the Corner Stone in the Mason-Dixon Boundary Line will be dedicated on Saturday, November 11th, at two o'clock. The ceremony will take place at the site which is located on Maryland Route 467 approximately seven miles west of Delmar.

Governor Elbert N. Carvel of Delaware will attend and Governor J. Millard Tawes of Maryland will be represented by Senator Mary L. Nock of Salisbury. Also taking part in the ceremony will be officials from the Public Archives Commission and State Highway Department of Delaware and from the Board of Natural Resources and State Roads Commission of Maryland. These four commissions are jointly charged with the care and preservation of the boundary markers. Representatives will attend from the two state historical societies and the various local historical and patriotic societies on the Eastern Shore who have been responsible for the public interest in these stones.

The speaker of the occasion will be Dr. William H. Wroten, Jr., Professor of History at the State Teachers College of Salisbury and president of the Wilcomico County Historical Society. Dr. Wroten has made a study of the historical background of the Mason-Dixon Boundary and has an especial interest in the stones which are now being protected.

These two historical monuments are located on land owned on the Delaware side by Mr. Harvey C. Ellis and on the Maryland side by Mr. and Mrs. George E. Wright. These owners donated sufficient land for this shelter and for a suitable public park surrounding it. These monuments are enduring testimony of the peaceful settlement of the long dispute and bitter controversy between the Lords Baltimore and the family of Wm. Penn over the boundary lines between the colonies of Maryland and Pennsylvania. Delaware, then known as the three lower counties on the Delaware, was a part of Penn's colony.

In 1751 the Transpeninsular Line was run by colonial surveyors from the Atlantic Ocean to the Chesapeake Bay. This line was confirmed in 1760 by the Commissioners appointed by the English courts and the Middle Point marked by a white oak post. When satisfied with the accuracy of their observations, these commissioners set up a cut stone monument two feet and eight inches to the north of the post which marked the middle point. A similar stone was placed at the 30-mile point on the Transpeninsular Line since this point had not been marked in 1751, all being engraved with the arms of Penns facing Pennsylvania, and with the arms of the Calverts facing Maryland.

On November 15, 1760, two mathematicians arrived in Philadelphia to assist in running the lines. These two men, Charles Mason and Jeremiah Dixon verified the line run in 1751 and the true Middle Point. Here they placed in 1768 a Double Crownstone or corner stone which bears on the north and east sides the coat of arms of the Penn family and the coat of arms of the Calvert family on the south and west sides. This is the only Mason-Dixon Double Crownstone in existence since a similar one at the northwest corner of Maryland has been lost for more than a century. This corner stone under this new shelter is the monument which marks the southwest corner of Delaware, and also is the beginning of the north-south boundary line between Maryland and Delaware.

In the years preceding the war between the states the Boundary Line between Maryland and Pennsylvania achieved fame as the dividing line between the free and the slave states. This centennial year marking the opening of that conflict draws attention to this line which is undoubtedly the most famous state boundary line in the United States.

This work of historic preservation was brought about by the efforts of the Delaware State Society Daughters of the American Revolution. For many years the protection of these historic monuments has been the subject of such discussion. Societies devoted to the preservation of our historic shrines and also individuals have recognized the need to protect these stones. Erosion by exposure to all sorts of weather and accident have been a constant hazard. Popular opinion has been that something should be done. While there has been no difference of opinion regarding the need for such protection, nothing actually has been done until the Daughters of the American Revolution, who so many times have been the means of saving priceless parts of the American heritage went vigorously to work and translated words into action.

Cooperating in this project of preservation were the agencies responsible for the maintenance of the state's boundary markers; namely, the Public Archives Commission and the State Highway Department of Delaware. This being a bi-state project, the road work and landscaping will be done by agencies of the State of Maryland.

The Delaware State Society Daughters of the American Revolution, which is arranging the dedication, invites all interested persons to attend. Following the ceremony the society will entertain at tea the distinguished guests and all visitors in the Community Hall at Sneathen.

The Captain Jonathan Caldwell Chapter of Milford and Harrington is participating in this project and will be represented at the Dedication Ceremony.

Some cars have new names... this name will have a new car!

The name is familiar—the Ford Fairlane 500. The car itself is totally new—so new you'll see nothing else like it this year. It is one of Ford's milestone designs—and will be as influential in its way as the first mass-produced car (a Ford Model T), the first popular station wagon (a Ford Wagon), the first four-passenger luxury car (a Ford Thunderbird), the world's most successful compact (a Ford Falcon).

Right between Galaxie and Falcon in size and in price, the 1962 Ford Fairlane 500 is just the right car for just about everybody; you have never been able to buy anything so right before.

Big in room, ride and performance, it is still priced under most compacts. It nurses a nickel as though it never expected to see another. It moves like a rabbit on roller skates.

Twice-a-year maintenance Service is reduced to a minimum—30,000 miles on many items, twice a year on the rest. You go 30,000 miles between major lubrications, 6,000 miles between oil changes and minor lubrications. You don't have to touch the engine coolant-antifreeze for two years—or 30,000 miles—at a time. Brakes adjust themselves.

All-new economy Eight from world's V-8 leader

The hand that honed the Thunderbird—and sped the Falcon to all-time Economy Run honors—turned to a new problem here: the world's first economy V-8. Made possible by new Ford foundry methods, the new Challenger V-8 is as strong as iron—and a lot lighter than iron's ever been before. As lively as you'd like... thrifter than you'd expect a V-8 to be... it's a natural powerplant for America's first eat-your-cake-and-have-it-car.

For those who want even greater thrift, there's a new Fairlane Six. Its economy would be gratifying in a smaller car. In a car this size it's a downright delight.

Preview America's newest car now

As part of Preview Run U.S.A., new Fairlane 500's are riding the nation's highways and main streets right now. Watch for them. See what thousands have already seen—and raved about. Take a turn at the wheel—and perhaps do a little raving yourself.

We think you'll agree: this all-new Ford is just right for just about everybody. No matter how many new cars you've looked at, you haven't seen anything like this one. It will be at your Ford Dealer's next week. If you miss it now, be sure to see it then.

JUST RIGHT FOR JUST ABOUT EVERYBODY!

Homecoming Highlights

Harrington High students were very proud standing along the sides of the streets, watching their floats glide by in the homecoming parade last Saturday.

The homeroom of 7th through 12th grades were well represented by floats and cars of different and original themes.

The first prize winning float, Mrs. Dolby's eight grade represented the football spirit by a small band and two cheerleaders.

Second prize went to Mr. Krameda's ninth grade for a float which represented a roaring 20's theme with flappers and gangsters in a painted bar-room.

Third prize went to Mr. Curtis' tenth grade for a float decorated with paper roses and streamers. Norma Teed was the queen of Mr. Curtis' homeroom.

The homecoming parade was led by the Harrington Senior Band. Franklin Hendricks, dressed in a lion suit, accompanied the majorettes.

A banner stating "Queen of Homecoming," carried by Mike Adams and Steve O'Neal, followed the band.

Open cars carrying the queen, Barbara Spicer, and her attendants, Jane Phillips and Kenna Jo McKnatt, followed.

Floats from the underclassmen added to the parade.

The senior had a bit of hard luck during the homecoming parade. The small white fence, which was around the flat, collapsed before the judges' stand was reached. The float was pink and white and was tagged "The Class of Individuality." Connie Biddle, Diane Smith, and Bonita Porter were on the float.

The float entered in the homecoming parade by Mrs. Graden's division of the ninth grade represented a graveyard with the thought in mind that the Harrington Lions would, figuratively speaking, murder the Selbyville Rebels.

Members of the class met at the school Saturday morning to decorate the float.

The Harrington Lions Varsity Football team tied the Selbyville Rebels at the homecoming game Saturday. The Lions played a good game despite the fact that they fumbled the ball several times. The score at the end of the game was 7-7.

Before the game, the homecoming parade took place in which many homerooms took part.

During half-time Barbara Spicer, the homecoming queen was crowned by Bill Porter.

After we showed it to the other first grade children we took it to Mr. Horst for his Biology class.

Billy Taylor, Gene Gallo, Billy Winkler and Hal Blades brought different kinds of corn. Now we have pop corn, Indian corn and field corn in our display.

Another super show is listed for this Friday and Saturday, Nov. 10 and 11. Audie Murphy is the star of "To Hell and Back," the true life story of Audie Murphy, the holder of more congressional medals and citations than any living human. In Cinemascope and color, this is one of your 'must see' hits. The chiller-diller "Scream of Fear" with Susan Strasburg and Chris Dracula Lee completes this unusual action and thrilling program.

An unusual and happy program is listed for this Sunday and Monday, Nov. 12 and 13. Sandra Dee and John Gavin co-stars in Universal's new hit, "Romanoff & Juliet." Their romance will tenderly touch your heart—while it gleefully fractures your funnybone. Robert Ryan in the color hit, "The Canadians" is the co-feature. It's entertainment you will be glad to see.

Lieutenant Governor, Eugene Lammott was also present and complimented the club for installing the memorial.

MILKING PARLOR

that may be causing off-flavors in milk.

The split-level feature is achieved by having the milking parlor on a raised platform above the level of the adjacent milk house. The milkhouse area was excavated to provide a floor level well below the parlor platform, to facilitate gravity flow. A vacuum tank receives the milk.

Other features of the parlor are pushbutton controls for feeding and manure removal, epoxy-treated high gloss walls for rapid cleaning by water hose, in-place cleaning of pipelines and tank, and fans with heating elements which provide warmth in winter and cool breezes in summer. These add up to a high level of labor-saving efficiency.

Each cow is fed grain in the parlor according to production. An overhead auger system brings the grain automatically in from a bulk storage bin situated next to the parlor. The four milking stalls are of the single row tandem individual side-opening type, and with sawtooth curbs with grate covered drain holes. The stalls fit the University's large Holste or smaller Guernsey cows equally well. The milking machine is of the breaker-cup type with suspension and spring for the "tug-and-pull" action during milking. Individual quarters of a cow's udder can be milked out separately with this system very well. Filter pads are placed inside the breaker-cup.

When the system was first utilized, the cows finished milking before they finished eating their grain ration. The ration was then changed to pelleted grain to increase the speed of eating. Experience with pelleted grain indicates less waste around the feed box and considerably less trouble with bridging in the bulk bin. Milk production of each cow is recorded twice daily by milk-o-meters on each of the four stalls in the parlor.

Cleaning the parlor after milking is a smaller chore than keeping the old barn swept and bedded. The walls and ceiling of the parlor and milk house are coated with epoxy, a plastic-like compound, that seems to excel in durability. It has a high gloss and is easily kept clean by simply hosing it down. Work in the new parlor and milk house requires more technical skill and mechanical knowledge than in the University's old-fashioned stanchion barn where milk was carried in pails. But both the cows and the herdsmen quickly adjusted to the new, highly mechanized system.

Because the same number of milking machines are used in the new system there is no change in total milking time. The real saving is in manpower. One man can now milk and grain feed 70 cows in 1 1/2 hours without rushing while in the old barn three men were needed for the same length of time to milk the cows and carry the milk to the milk house.

The new parlor is a clean, pleasant place for both the cows and the dairyman. Its technical features make dairying easier and more efficient and therefore a more challenging and satisfying occupation. Even the dairyman's wife or daughter may milk easily in her best Sunday dress!
