

IMPROVEMENTS IN YULETIDE LIGHTING SUGGESTED BY C. OF C.

The Chamber of Commerce, at its December meeting Tuesday at The Wonder R, discussed Christmas lighting.

It was decided to erect the ornamental street lighting earlier next year and to study permanent fixtures which would facilitate the installation.

It was also motioned to ask the City to install a conduit for electric wiring for the Christmas lights on the water tower. The lighting was installed this year, as in previous years, by Fulton J. Downing. As an afterthought, it was suggested that a floodlight would be a good thing to have on the tower all the year around. The light would also illuminate the name of the City on the tower. George Graham, the City manager, was authorized to approach the City Council at its January meeting.

Walter Lang, newly appointed chairman of the Retail Merchants Committee, was all for having three community-wide sales a year, after commenting the community had none this year, in contrast to similar events staged in other communities. Failure to have the sales was ascribed to the lack of enough large advertisements to make the advertising worthwhile. However, the issue will be discussed at the January meeting. Charles L. Peck Jr., chairman of the committee on the Delmarva Chicken Festival, to be held here next year, told the Chamber plans had been made for the National Chicken Cooking Contest of the event. He said that only three entries would be accepted from each state and the first prize would be an all-electric kitchen donated by Westinghouse.

Lang mentioned that the state contest for the American Junior Miss Contest, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, would be held here at a date to be announced.

The regular meeting of the Harrington Board of Education was held in the school office Monday evening.

The first section of the meeting was devoted to the Building Commission at which time the plans for the high school, as presented by Don Risley and Norman Gerlach of Buchart Associates, were approved. It is expected that these plans will be presented to the committee of the State Department of Public Instruction Jan. 8, and the State Board of Education Jan. 18. If approved by these two groups, the bids for the construction of the building should be opened sometime early in February.

At the meeting, the Board approved Sections III and IV of the policy handbook dealing with policies on school organization and instruction.

The Board made note of a letter from the State Board of Health stating that a recent inspection had found the sanitary conditions in the cafeteria to be good.

The Board accepted an offer of Buchart Associates and requested that engineers from that company be sent to the school to study the present heating plant and the difficulties encountered in heating certain sections of the building and the field house and to make recommendations for necessary actions to correct these conditions.

It was announced that the Harrington School would close for Christmas vacation at noon Fri., Dec. 22. The cafeteria will not be in operation that day as most students will be home by 12:45 o'clock.

Aunt of State Auditor Dies In Felton Fire

Miss Mary A. Harris, 87, an aunt of State Auditor Ernest E. Killen, was killed Friday in a fire which destroyed her home near Felton.

Miss Harris lived in the two-story frame house near Killen Pond with her sister, Mrs. Sarah Killen, the state auditor's mother.

Miss Harris' body was found in the burning house by J. Barry Simpler, chief of the Felton Fire Co. Simpler said it was in the dining room, close to a door leading outside and near the telephone.

Miss Harris was alone in the house, Mrs. Killen having gone shopping at 1 p.m. The fire was discovered at 3 p.m.

Dr. Charles Allen, deputy medical examiner, pronounced Miss Harris dead of smoke poisoning and third-degree burns of the body. He was assisted in the investigation by Kent County Coroner William C. Torbert Jr.

The house was enveloped in flames by the time the Felton Fire Company arrived. It was assisted by firemen from Housaton, Frederica and Harrington. Chief Simpler said firemen were hampered for a brief period by a lack of water.

The cause of the fire is not known. State police said the damage in the dining room and kitchen near a heater set under the dining room floor indicated the heater may have been responsible.

Miss Harris' body was turned over to the Berry Funeral Home, Felton.

Musical Composition of Native Of Harrington Gets Recognition

A Harrington native, William T. Slaughter, director of bands for the Aiken (S.C.) schools for the past 17 years, revealed recently that his musical composition (tone poem "Indian Lullaby") has been chosen one of the 25 original compositions to be presented on the program at the annual convention of the American School Band Directors' Association, to be held in Cleveland, O., Dec. 27-30.

Slaughter was born near Harrington, the son of Harvey Slaughter and the late Mrs. Helen Slaughter. He is the grandson of the late Lewis Slaughter Sr., and the nephew of Mrs. Wallace Hanson. He attended Harrington schools and graduated from Middletown High School.

Slaughter's composition was written in 1952 and had its premiere the same year by the Aiken High School Band. He is a graduate of West Chester Teachers College, West Chester, Pa., where he received a degree of bachelor of music and education. He also has a master of music education degree from Florida State University.

$7,000 House Blast In Milford Blamed On Arsonists

State Fire Marshal William R. Favinger Wednesday blamed arsonists for the explosion in Milford which ripped apart a vacant dwelling on Dot Street Tuesday night.

Damage was estimated between $7,000 and $10,000. "There is no question," Favinger said, "that the building was set on fire intentionally."

Favinger said his investigation shows gasoline was poured along the baseboard of each of the structure's six rooms and that the fumes were ignited from a small fire started in the kitchen. A five-gallon can with some of the fluid still inside was found at the scene.

No one was injured in the blaze which was discovered by neighbors shortly after 10 p. m. Firemen from the Carlisle Volunteer Fire Co. battled the flames which were first thought to have been started in the frame building by a faulty space heater.

The home had not been occupied for nearly two months, according to Robert Hennessey, the owner. Hennessey, a retired Air Force officer employed by the Hayes Aircraft Corp., lives at Griffin Pond, west of Milford. The front wall of the house was completely blown from the building and the rest of the structure was twisted out of shape by the explosion. Favinger believes a small fire was started in the kitchen of the house and that the arsonist planned for this flame to "flash" to the gasoline fumes, igniting the entire building at once. Rumors that workmen had been in the home early Tuesday to repair flooring were dispelled by Favinger, who said he could find nothing to indicate construction was being done.

There were no furnishings in the house and all utilities had been disconnected two weeks ago, Favinger said. Oscar Maloney, chief engineer of the Carlisle Fire Co., said the flames damaged only one room and that firemen had them under control within a few minutes. Debris and rubble spread by the explosion was extensive and firemen spent over an hour sifting it to make sure no sparks were still burning in the wreckage.

Favinger said he has no suspects at present, but that he is continuing the investigation.

Senate Spurs Car License Use During Appeal Period

The Senate Wednesday night, voted against letting drivers keep their licenses while appealing a conviction for serious motor vehicle offenses.

Senators rejected, 7-5, with five not voting, a bill (SA 310 as amended) to allow drivers to retain their licenses after conviction in a lower court for a suspension or revocation offense until final appeal.

At present, if a driver is convicted of drunken driving, for instance, by a magistrate, his license is suspended until and unless he is cleared by a higher court.

The legislation, sponsored by Sen. Allen J. Cook, D-Kenton, would let a driver retain his license until he had carried his case to the highest possible appellate body.

A coalition of Democrats and Republicans defeated the bill, arguing that it would make it easier for a drunk driver to commit a second offense before the first case was ever finally decided.

Sen. Walton H. Simpson, R-Camden, led the fight against the bill. He said that, aside from other considerations, it would allow the man "who can afford to carry it all the way to the Supreme Court of the nation to keep driving, while the poor man would be stuck."

Cook, however, argued that in many cases drivers are the victims of "inexperienced special police in small towns, who do not have the training or equipment to accurately determine whether the offense was in fact committed."

Simpson asked Cook if he was saying that "small town police are a bunch of nitwits."

Sen. Calvin R. McCullough, D-Holloway Terrace, said everyone was missing the main point

Car, Wall Rammed, Felton Man Hurt

A Felton man was hurt Friday night when his car hit the rear of another car on U.S. 13 a half mile north of Felton and then crashed into a building.

John A. Forbes Sr., 32, was taken to the Kent General Hospital with abrasions of both knees and cuts of the forehead and left elbow.

State police said Forbes' car hit the rear of a vehicle operated by Eliga Collison, 32, of near Harrington, pushing it 530 feet. Forbes' car swerved into a building of the Ducat Poultry Co., damaging a wall, police said.

—"that everyone is innocent until proven guilty, and no man is finally guilty until he has exhausted his appeal rights."

Sen. Henry T. Price, R-Smyrna, said he reluctantly would oppose the bill "because I am so bitterly opposed to drinking while driving."

"This bill, it seems to me, will make it a little less painful to get caught," he said.

Sen. Reynolds du Pont, R-Greenville, wanted to know whether the legislation would create a special category for persons accused of serious driving offenses.

"If a man holds up a store, don't you take his gun away from him until his case is settled?" he asked.

However, it was pointed out that even a murderer has the right to make bail pending final determination and loses no privileges in the interim.

Before defeating the bill, the Senate adopted 11-1 an amendment by Sen. Allen J. Cook, D-Kenton, which would have extended the bill to cover certiorari cases. Certiorari differs from appeal in that the higher court considers only the lower court record before making its determination. In an appeal case, the defendant in effect gets a new trial.

In a certiorari case, for instance, a man who pleaded guilty before a magistrate and then changed his mind could only appeal to a higher court in hopes the magistrate made some error in the prescribed record. In an appeal case, the defendant is seeking a new trial by a higher tribunal.

In the final vote on the measure, five Democrats (Cook, Hoey, Mayhew, McCullough, and Watson) voted yes, four Republicans (Du Pont, Manning, Simpson, and Wilgus) and three Democrats (Price, Steen, and Tull) voted no, and the rest were absent.

Pre-Christmas Shopping For Farm Tax

A little income tax planning now can save a farmer a lot of money, according to George Vapaa, Kent County agent. Many farmers who report income on a cash basis often suffer because the amount of income in a given 12-month period varies greatly.

Mr. Vapaa asks that you take a look at your operating expenses for the remainder of the year.

If the total income is higher than normal, hold off selling anything. Stock up on feed, fertilizer and fence posts. If income is low, delay buying items till after January 1st. You can also make arrangements to carry purchased items "on account", payable after the new year begins, he adds. If the market is favorable, it may also be a good time to sell grain, livestock and other farm produce. You may be giving yourself a big Christmas present in tax savings, he adds.

As a help in solving the mystery of farm income taxes, Mr. Vapaa suggests you pick up a copy of the 1962 Tax Guide for Farmers from the Kent County Extension Office in the Dover postoffice building.

ASCS ADMINISTRATOR FAVORS NEW FARM PROGRAM

Lack of public understanding is our major farm problem, Horace Godfrey, administrator of the federal Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service and executive vice president of the Commodity Credit Corporation, told several hundred persons Tuesday evening at a dinner in Capital Grange Hall, Dover.

The meeting was presided over by Jacob Zimmerman, chairman of the state Agricultural Soil Conservation Committee.

Godfrey spoke on "What is our farm program?" and "What is our farm problem?"

Sherwin Moves Warehouse

George A. Sherwin Inc., manufacturer of men's shirts, has discontinued its warehouse in the building next to The Harrington Journal office and will store its stock in its Clark Street plant and at its cutting room on U.S. 13.

Previous to using the concrete-block building as a warehouse, the Sherwin Company manufactured its products there, and in an adjoining frame building, for many years.

House Okays Kent Sussex Court Shifts

Ten bills to increase the jurisdiction and work load of the Common Pleas Courts of Kent and Sussex Counties were passed Wednesday by the House of Representatives.

The two courts in the lower counties have full-time judges. The one in New Castle County, not affected by Wednesday's bills, has two part-time judges.

In piling more work on the full-time judges, the bills would unload some of the burden of the Superior Courts.

The four proposed constitutional amendments and six statutory changes would produce these results:

1—Jurisdiction of the Common Pleas Courts of Kent and Sussex in civil cases would be increased from the present limit of $1,000 damages involved to $2,500.

2—The courts would be given original jurisdiction in criminal cases involving misdemeanors.

3—Trials in the two courts would be conducted with juries and with court reporters.

4—Appeals from the Common Pleas Courts could go directly, on the record, to the State Supreme Court if the constitutional amendments are approved. Meanwhile they would continue to go to the Superior Courts.

5—Certain appeals from magistrates' courts would go to the Common Pleas instead of the Superior Courts.

6—Common Pleas Court judges could be assigned to sit temporarily in the Superior Courts, and Superior Court judges could be assigned to sit temporarily in the Common Pleas Court.

7—If a case within the jurisdiction of the Common Pleas Court is filed in the Superior Court, the latter could transfer it to the lower court.

The general effect of the changes is to make the Common Pleas Courts with full-time judges intermediate courts, between the magistrates and the Superior Courts.

The six statutory changes—three for the court in Kent and three for Sussex—would be effective when the governor signs the bills. The four constitutional changes require approval by the next General Assembly.

40 et 8 Locomotive To Appear Here Tomorrow

The locomotive-styled automobile of the 40 et 8, fun-loving branch of the American Legion, will be in town tomorrow at 1 p. m., to take the children for a ride.

This will be the second and final appearance of the car this year here. Its appearance is an annual feature of the Christmas program.

The following were winners in the first drawing of merchandise Saturday night: Hazel Johnson, Houston, and Marvin Smith, Nancy Blades, Edna Baker, W. S. McCabe, Candy Peck, Buddy Wyatt, Erwin Rogers, Elizabeth Ivins, Irene Vincent, and Kenna McKnatt, all of Harrington.

Another drawing for $100 in Merchandise will be held at 8:45 p. m., tomorrow at Quillen Shopping Center. The final drawing will be held at the same time at the Christmas tree, corner of Commerce and Clark Streets, Sat., Dec. 23, when the major prize, a stereo set, and $100 in other merchandise, will be awarded.

Getting to the causes of the program and the problem, he explained, "History of man has been the search for food, to satisfy the basic need of life itself. For the first time in history, in this country, we have an abundance. Our farm problems are created by an abundance. Are we smart enough to live with an abundance? We have the ability to produce more than we need."

Continuing, the native Carolinian, a Kennedy appointment, said that other segments of our economy, at times, also had over production and that they solved the issue by cutting production.

"On the farm, however," he said, "there is a little bit of a difference. We could afford a shortage of other items, but not of food. We can gauge production of other items but not of food. So we have to shoot for a little more (food) to be sure we have enough. If we will recognize these basic differences, I think we can discuss intelligently our farm problems."

"The situation is such that we must reach a solution because other segments (of our economy) are getting the wrong opinion," Godfrey pointed out.

After stating that some misconceptions must be eliminated and to get a more workable farm program, he showed slides, on various farm problems, with some explaining possible solutions.

The solutions were: to adjust farm output to actual requirements at fair prices and to reducing existing stocks to manageable levels. To secure these aims, he said, new legislation would be required.

Interpolating, or getting down to the fine points, the administrator mentioned the possibilities. They were: 1. To go back to the 1952-1960 program. 2. Adopt more realistic programs, stopping buildups (of farm surpluses), thus reducing cost to the taxpayer. 3. No program. The slides stated that adoption of the last-named would send farm prices down sharply, in the next four years, thus also affecting other industries.

"It is up to the people as to what program they want," Godfrey concluded.

H.H.S. Cagers To Scrimmage Three Teams

Harrington High's varsity basketball squad has practice tilts scheduled with Lewes on Wednesday night and with Smyrna and Caesar Rodney during the Christmas holidays. Seaford decided to forego a slated workout with Coach Jim Hawpe's Lions.

The locals are short on height and experience but long on speed hustle and desire. Some of the faults popping up in early practice sessions are occurring less frequently as the lads get into the swing of things. The trio of scrimmages against the larger schools should help the Lions to be in the best possible shape by opening night early in January.

A couple of prospects were sidetracked with academic difficulties. Two or three more were moved to the junior high unit in order to gain more immediate playing experience. For the time being Coach Hawpe will have to go with the following: Jeff Adams, one of last year's top scorers; Tom Milspaw, George Collins, who is very fast and can score from outside; Bill Porter, a husky rebounder; David Brobst, Wayne Collison, Randy Knox, Frank Cain and Allen Wix.

The general effect of the changes is to make the Common Pleas Courts with full-time judges intermediate courts, between the magistrates and the Superior Courts.

The six statutory changes—three for the court in Kent and three for Sussex—would be effective when the governor signs the bills. The four constitutional changes require approval by the next General Assembly.

Asbury Methodist Church Notes

We invite you to begin this Sabbath day by attending one of the many church school classes in our growing church school at Asbury.

Classes for all ages begin at 10 a.m. Howard S. Wagner, Superintendent, is in charge.

Morning worship service 11 a.m. conducted by the minister, the Rev. Olin J. Shockley, Jr.

Special anthems will be rendered both by the Crusader and Cathedral choirs.

The message, "Why Did Christ Come," will be given by the minister.

During this season of advent we urge all members of Asbury to make a special effort to worship and we invite all those without a church affiliation to worship with us.

The annual Sunday School Christmas Party will be held in the Collins Building at 5 p.m.

A film entitled "The Smallest Camel" will be shown and during the entertainment Santa will make his appearance to the youth of Asbury and present to each a gift.

The Senior M.Y.F. will officially open their live Nativity scene on the church lawn at 7 p.m.

The Nativity scene can be seen nightly from 7 to 9. There will be live animals and boys and girls portraying the rolls of the personalities involved in the birth of Christ.

The public is invited to make a special effort to view this Nativity scene.

The friendly greeters this week will be Mr. and Mrs. James D. Moore.

William Storey was discharged from the Kent General Hospital Monday. He had suffered injuries in an accident in which he was involved on Wednesday, including a broken nose and other minor injuries.

Mrs. Jennie Minner suffered a broken arm in a fall at her home the past week.

The annual children's Christmas program will be held in the church on Friday evening. The theme will be "Christmas Around the World."

Sunday evening at eight o'clock a Christmas Cantata will be given in the Magnolia church entitled "The Glory of His Coming." Mrs. Hazel Roe is directing this program and the music is in charge of Mrs. Fletcher Bryan.

Wednesday evening, Dec. 20, there will be a community sing around the tree at 7 o'clock.

Everyone is then invited to the Fire Hall for a Christmas party given by the organizations of the community.

Santa will be there for a personal interview with each of the children present.

Mr. and Mrs. Collins Davis, and children, Pat and Mike and Julie, spent the weekend with his mother, Mrs. Edna Davis and family.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kenton had the misfortune to lose their home by fire on Saturday evening. The home is located on the Magnolia-Canterbury road and the fire started while they were at the barn doing the evening chores and by the time it was discovered it was out of control and none of their possessions were saved.

Fire is disastrous at any time but at this season of the year it seems doubly disastrous.

Several members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship attended the District MYF meeting at Hartly Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Whitmore have returned home from a visit to Charles City, Iowa, where they joined other members of the Whitmore family to be with Mr. Whitmore's father, who is not too well.

It is nice to have Mrs. Della Russell back home again, and recovering from eye surgery.

Berlin Hurricanes Down Harrington Bandits 20-13

By Keith S. Burgess

A Pop Warner League football team with a colorful name, the Berlin Scarlet Hurricanes, came to town Sunday afternoon and defeated an all-star team from the Harrington Junior League by a score of 20-13.

The game was not as close as the final tally might seem to indicate. The visitors were much larger than the locals and obligingly inserted their second unit whenever the game threatened to get one-sided. Both Bandit touchdowns were made against the Hurricane reserves.

Berlin uses players from 10-13 while the Harrington Junior League age limits are 8-12. Both clubs were supposed to have a 110 pound weight limit but Guy Williams, the stormiest of the Hurricanes, must scale at least 125 pounds. The players are weighed only at the beginning of the season. Possibly Williams was only a 110 pounder three months ago.

The Bandits kicked off to the Berliners and snowed the ball carrier under after a very short return. Bill Garey charged into the Red backfield on the first play and knocked the ball carrier off his pins for an eight-yard loss. An end sweep went for a first down. Bill Dill trapped an enemy back for another loss. Bunting passed to Phillips in the clear but the ball was dropped. Phillips caught a pass, but the Bandits threw back a line plunge.

A Hurricane back was hit on the Harrington one-yard line and the ball squirted into the end zone where it was recovered by the defenders. The arbiters ruled a safety and two points for Berlin with the locals to kickoff from the 20. Actually it should have been a touchback with the Bandits putting the ball in play on the 20. Since the victors were to score immediately in four plays, it appears the officials' error cost the Harringtonians eight points. Nevertheless, it is doubtful that the call had any bearing on the final outcome of the contest. The Marylanders were too big and that extra year in age was also important.

The first Berlin six-pointer came on a pass from Bunting to Phillips after the same duo completed a long-gaining aerial two plays earlier.

Harrington came charging back down the field led by the hard-running Bill Dill, the writer's pick as the best player pound for pound in the fray. Dill hit the big Red forward wall twice for a first down. Rod Fletcher fooled the defenders as he got behind the safety man to fake a forward from Bob Dill. He was caught from behind before he could get rolling but another first down resulted. Two more Bill Dill plunges were good for a third first down but the drive was halted when a fourth down pass was intercepted.

With time running out in the first half the Hurricanes filled the air with passes but could not score after they reached the three and had only time enough for a futile sweep by Guy Williams.

Wasting no time in the second stanza Williams went around left end on the first Berlin play from scrimmage to run the count to 14-0.

A local drive led by the Dill brothers reached the Berlin 30 before it fizzled out.

Soon after Fletcher again eluded the defenders and caught a pass for a first down on the Hurricane 18. Bill Dill went to the 1 on the next play. Bob Dill sneaked across to put the locals back in the contest.

Berlin immediately retaliated on a draw play as Bunting went all the way to tally and put the game out of reach.

Bill Dill made a twisting run on which almost every Marylander had a shot at him and missed. He was caught and downed after he ran into a teammate. The play gained good yardage. Bob Dill faked a hand-off and went for several yards. After his brother moved the pigskin up close to pay dirt Bob again sneaked across. Bill raced around end to add the extra point.

The game was a good experience for the locals. The visitors were gracious foes and every Red suit was filthy by the end of the contest as no attempt was made to run up a huge score. The Bandits played a hard, heads up game and won the plaudits of the numerous Berlin fans who attended.

Standouts on the outweighed Harrington squad were Bill Garey, Tom Cook, Jack Redden, Clay Jester, Buddy Matthews, Jim Galloway, Jim Simpler, Roger Klapp, Mike Stayton, Wright Salsbury, Mitchell Godwin, Rod Fletcher, Bob and Bill Dill. The last five are from Felton and all are outstanding backs. Rumor has it that Felton High School will start football in the future. This quintet of Bandits may come back to haunt us, especially the last named, who is a 98 pound dynamo. Only twelve years old he could be quite a bit bigger by the time he is a high school freshman.

The first year of junior football was an outstanding success. Large crowds attended every game. The boys had a good time with not serious injuries sustained. Next year it is possible that a fourth team may be added.

Sulky Slants

By MRS. DAVE (PAT) SMITH

Here we go again, in and out the fairgrounds. After a long summer it really good to be back home again.

You meet friends which most of the time last just through the summer. For like being in winter quarters you part whenever the season ends.

As I've always said with each parting you never know if you will meet again. But as life goes on you come to accept such things.

Just as over a good cup of coffee in one of the restaurants downtown, I had a nice chat with Cararington, the editor of The Harrington Journal.

A hardy hand shake with his brother, Winnie, who has charge seeing to the task of getting this paper out on time. And I'm the world's worst getting this little get together in each week. Then there's Cararington's girl Friday, who always has a smile no matter how busy she is. How do you really do it?

Will ask about this and that nothing pertaining to the paper. How's your family, this or that. Now for little track news. Not too much yet just getting in. But still there's lot of new faces out here.

Was over to the office and so sorry to say. When I looked over where Britt's desk was I could only cry softly to myself and think how many times I would go in, to have him say, "Well Pat, what on your mind today?" "Do you want news or just a friendly hello?"

My deepest regrets to Virginia as I know how she feels.

Mrs. Earl Thomas and I chatted for about an hour. She was talking to her daughter up country and they were trying to decide on what and where they would spend Christmas.

Oh boy, what a phone bill. Maybe that was charged off to Christmas expense. I'll really love to visit with her talk over old times.

She told me I would like our new manager out here at the track. Didn't get to meet him yet, as he had gone deer hunting.

Now I'll get to ask him did you get any deer?

Lucy Quinn still has our track restaurant and Lucy what did you do this year looks so nice?

If you stay around long enough you'll meet about everyone here at the track.

Del Manges tells me he has 29 head in training. Ken McNutt his second trainer also with Del. What a pair. Two best coffee drinkers on the grounds.

Olin Davis also at Lucy's along with some of his help. Olin don't have much to say but he don't have to. Don't he and Ruth have good horses.

See Dostie (from Canada), has his stable here on grounds now. Last year he was at Clukeys Farm.

Johnnie Amato has 21 head here now. As for Tic Wilcutt heard he was leaving and (I quote this).

Les Hopkins has 4 in training. Certainly was surprised to learn of the passing of his father. We were friends for years.

Geo. Tatman our milkman still on the job out here at the track. Gosh he's an old timer too with us out here. Always on the job, rain, sleet or what have you.

Marion Lee Liska just an 18 year old of Harrington is training 3 head out here for her mother.

One yearling "Postively True, Mara Joe Lee, a two-year-old, and Merrie Angie, a 6-year-old with record of 2:08.

Marion Lee really gets a kick out of these horses, but to pin her down all she will do is just laugh. But nothing sissy about her dresses for the deal almost cowboy style. She dashes in over to Lucys for a cup hot coffee, sits and chats a little while, then back to work. More luck to you Marion Lee, and the best in your training.

Mr. Kephart, one of our blacksmiths over for cup coffee talking with the boys.

Genie Anderson with Kirby & Holloway Transportation with all jolly hello. But isn't Gene about nice.

Will go over to the Stokley's barn next week and others I've miss to see what makes them tick.

Now for Paul Vineyard's barn

I should know how many horses and their names. Do know he has plenty. Also some really good bred colts. How about Mighty Tide, Albert Gene, and Bower Bohemia, Jim Dillon. I'd say pretty good stock.

But ask Paul about these horses and wouldn't you know here's the answer I get.

Oh Pat they're OK I guess. You never hear him brag about any stock. Reminds you of Fred Egan or Tom Berry, Johnnie Simpson, they will tell you oh, they're just fair. That's Paul Vineyard.

Will get more on his stable later. But you can bet your boots he is there early in morning and late at night.

Will have to go over to see Mr. and Mrs. Ellison, who run the Club house. Say hello to them.

See where Pete Loose is with Cabbage Brown horses this year. Pete and his shadow his little dog.

Pat Hubbard also over to restaurant but I don't think Pat told me how many horses he had. I sure had a good Christmas dinner last year with them.

Ford Baker still busy. Thanks Ford for finding my little Peke, Gee Gee Kim. Talked with Austin Turcotte, yesterday said he was going to Virginia. Said he would try and locate a white Peke for me like one Dave and I had called Pancho.

Tom Medcaif, who used to have horses across from us here for years is now second trainer for Hugh Bell, down in Wilson, Va. Tom was at Yonkers and Roosevelt all year.

Say he misses Harrington. Stopped in to People's Filling Station to say hello to Mr. Paskey.

Mr. Harrington Sr. how do you keep so young?

Sam Short in First National Bank here was you collecting on your Christmas Club?

Same friendly hello at Jerreads Newsstand. Girls so nice in there.

Jack Pitlick never too busy to stop and chat. So sorry Jack to hear about the passing of your wife.

Guess this winds up our little get together for my first week. Next week who knows what it will bring.

Too early to say Merry Christmas, or is it?

H.H.S. Makes Wrestling Debut Saturday Evening

Coach Mike Mock's Harrington High wrestling Lions get their baptism under fire in the Milford Invitational eight-team tournament tomorrow (Saturday). Elimination matches will take place in the morning and afternoon. Semi-final and final matches will start at 6 p.m.

The team journeyed to the University of Delaware last Saturday and attended a wrestling clinic. Coach Mock is staging a series of matches in practice this week with a berth in the Milford tournament going to the best man in each weight class.

Lewis Starkey may be the best of the locals at this early date. Wrestling in the 165 lb. class he has good speed and great strength. Lack of experience will hurt him greatly this season but, since he is only a freshman, he has plenty of time to develop into a fine scholastic grappler.

Tim Strohl at 180 lbs, has a broken finger and won't wrestle at Milford, but has good potential and may surprise when the injured digit responds to treatment. Strohl and Paul Rash are co-captains of the team.

George Bonniwell, a wiry 119 pounder, has tremendous speed and will be very tough, as soon as he learns the many moves and counters.

Other tyros who have impressed are Nelson Reed, Dick Schrieber, Charlie Tribbitt, George Jerread, Charles Taylor, Paul Rash, Clyde Mullins and Ron Melvin.

Competition is held under each of the following weight limits: 95, 103, 112, 120, 127, 133, 132, 145, 154, 165, 180 and unlimited.

Weights of the varsity men are:

Harold Ellwanger 90, Jerry Trepasso, Don Draper, 103, Roger Brown, 104, Lamar Beene 109, Fred Greenly, 114, William Martin, 116, Nelson Reed, 117, Geo. Adios Butler "Harness Horse Of the Year"

It's official now. World champion Adios Butler is "Harness Horse of the Year," voted this honor for the second straight year by a panel of 113 sports-writers and sportscasters who took part in the nationwide poll announced Saturday by the U. S. Trotting Association.

Su Mac Lad, named best Aged Trotter of the Year in divisional balloting, followed Adios Butler in the voting with six first-place choices and a 353 point total.

Impish, fastest two-year-old trotter in the sport's history, earned five first-place votes and 223 points for third place. Air Record was fourth with 105 and Elaine Rodney, who had one supporter for top spot, was fifth with 102. The remainder of the top ten consisted of Duke Rodney, Harlan Dean, Henry T. He will stand at stud at Fair Chance Farm in Washington Court House, Ohio, where welcome home ceremonies were planned for him Sun., Dec. 10. He was trained by Paige H. West, young Snow Hill, Md., horseman and driven in most of his 1961 engagements by Eddie Cobb, co-owner of Fair Chance

Farm and a member, with West, of the Adios Butler syndicate of 18.

The Adios-Debby Hanover stallion almost rewrote the record book. He is world champion on both mile and half-mile tracks, setting a 1:55 3/5 mark this season on the Delaware, O., half-mile oval. In 1960 he was clocked in 1:54 3/5 on the mile racing strip at Lexington, Ky., erasing the 1:55 record set in 1938 by Billy Direct and equalled in 1955 by Adios Harry.

He has the mile and 1/16 record of 2:03 3/5 and the mile and 1/8 mark of 2:11 1/5. He has paced the mile in two-minutes or faster on 20 occasions. Only the immortal Dan Patch of a half century ago has surpassed this number.

Only one dissenter refused to name Adios Butler as top choice in voting for "Aged Pacer of the Year" divisional honors. A total of 112 picked him first while one vote was cast for Countess Adios.

Su Mac Lad, owned by I. W. Berkemeyer of New Milford, N. J., and trained by Stanley Dancer, easily won "Aged Trotter of the Year" laurels with 73 out of 112 votes cast while Air Record was second with 19 and Elaine Rodney third with 15. Merrie Duke and Silver Song were others named at least once. Su Mac Lad earned $245,750 in purse money this year, and all-time single year high.

The experts also balloted on divisional honors in the two and three-year-old classes. Impish was a top-heavy winner as best two-year-old trotter while Coffee Break took 2-year-old pacing laurels. Henry T. Adios, giving trainer Dancer two the divisional winners, was best 3-year-old pacers, and Hambletonian winner Harlan Dean edged Duke Rodney in the 3-year-old trotting class.

Farm and Home Week Feb. 6-7-8

The University of Delaware has announced dates for its annual Delaware Farm and Home Week—February 6, 7, and 8. The event will be held in Agricultural Hall on the campus in Newark.

The traditional winter event will offer attractions for both farm and city people. University agricultural scientists will report the results of their research aimed at more effective plant disease and insect control, increased efficiency in poultry production, improved crop, livestock and dairy production and better agricultural marketing practices.

Agricultural topics will include weed control, fertilizing, new cultural equipment, broiler marketing, and the production of fruit and vegetables, sheep, swine, beef and milk.

Homemakers will be interested in discussions and demonstrations on carpet selection, getting value in family nutrition, using foliage plants in interior decoration, cooking with herbs and spices, shopping tips, modern fabrics and new food, clothing and household products.

General-interest topics include advice on buying or selling a home, rose culture, fall-out shelters, planning in rural and urban areas, horse judging and horsemanship.

General chairman of the event is Dr. Morris S. Cover, associate dean of the School of Agriculture. Dr. William J. Benton of the department of animal and poultry science is program chairman.

WHAT'S THE 'X' IN CHRISTMAS?

A riddle, lords and ladies, to keep Christmas bright: What is the one thing Christmas can't do without? What is the secret 'X' ingredient in Christmas? Is it holly? Mistletoe? A twinkling tree? Plum pudding? Piles of presents? Carols in the street, or turkey in the oven?

No, none of these. No shop sells the indispensable ingredient of Christmas, yet anyone can have it without paying a penny. Of course, you've guessed it. The only indispensable ingredient of Christmas is a loving heart. Take away all the trimmings—the turkey and the tree, the glitter and the rustling of the gifts, the candle-light and cake. It would still be Christmas in the hearts of people gathered together out of good feeling for each other.

If you want the best Christmas of all this year, stretch the Christmas tree trimming to include someone who has no tree. Put two or three extra chairs around the Christmas dinner table for strangers who have none of their own. If there are no lonely ones in your neighborhood, try the hospitals, convalescent homes, children's shelters, veterans' organizations, or centers for the blind, crippled or otherwise handicapped.

This is the same spirit that invited the stranger and the wandering minstrel to the Christmas feast in medieval castles. Is it "the Christmas spirit."

THE THROTTLE AND THE BOTTLE DO NOT MIX

The office party with its flowing bowl can boost the Christmas traffic toll the Delaware Safety Council warned yesterday.

"Either dry it up or cut it out," the council urged business and industry.

Surveys made by the National Safety Council show that a sizeable percentage of Christmas traffic accidents occur in the early hours of the holiday period. Many of these can be traced back to the office party and its highball hilarity.

"This is no effort to dampen the traditional Christmas spirit," the council emphasized. "It is a practical attempt to eliminate a definite source of death and destruction on the highway at a time they hurt the most—the Christmas season.

"Good sense requires that if you drink, you should refrain from driving. If you must drive—don't drink. The throttle and the bottle don't mix," said J. James Ashton, manager.

The council is asking its business and industrial member concerns to take a new look at their office parties and either keep the cork in the bottle or eliminate the parties.

It is tragically ironic to celebrate a holiday dedicated to "Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men" and then send people out on the public highway in a condition to injure or destroy their fellow men.

Flavor of Venison Enhanced With Proper Care and Cooking

By Miss Janet L. Coblenz
You wouldn't butter a banana to make it taste like an ear of corn, so why change the taste of venison with a lot of heavy seasoning and fancy recipes?

Venison has a delightful flavor all its own. Don't disguise it, learn to appreciate this honest flavor as nature prepared it.

A lot of your success in preparing venison will depend on how the animal is handled in the woods. The first step is to dress the deer immediately after it is killed. If the animal does not bleed thoroughly as a result of the bullet wound, the large veins in the throat should be cut near the base of the neck. Then remove the entrails and other body organs immediately.

Hang the deer in a cool, dry place. The body cavity can be wiped clean with a dry cloth, and should be propped open so cool air can lower the body temperature rapidly.

It is very important to protect the carcass from flies, dirt and other sources of contamination (a cheese covering is excellent for this purpose) and from heat and exhaust fumes while transporting it.

Delaware Food Market Report

This is the most wonderful season of the year, when everyone is gay and in good spirits, when warmth and joy are part of our everyday greeting. True, it is a busy season full of entertaining, shopping and working to make the holiday a perfect one for all of those around us. This, of course, means lots of meals are planned and prepared but with the good supply of food now available at all of our local markets, it is much easier to perform meal making this week.

Seasonally big supplies of fresh pork are coming to market and pork roasts, chops and hams are on sale this week. Smoked pork is on specials, too, in a number of stores. Whole hams are a feature in a few markets. Sausage and bacon also are wearing lower price tags.

Beef is definitely available this week and those of you who like steaks can indulge since prices are much lower than the last 3 week's average price. Might not be a bad idea to put some extra steaks in the freezer to help build up that depleted stock.

Frying chickens continue to be good buys as prices are low while quality is high. Turkey is once again making its appearance and prices are very reasonable. Other meats to check are leg-of-lamb, shoulder roast of veal and rump roast of veal—a few stores are offering these meats at a saving.

Vegetable prices are seeing-sawing with many standbys that went up last week going down this week. Cabbage, celery, lettuce, green peppers, and turnips are cheaper this week. Up a penny or so in price are baking potatoes, rutabagas, snap beans and sweet potatoes. There are, however, a group of good buys (prices unchanged): carrots, eggplant, corn on the cob, Brussels sprouts, cauliflower and some broccoli.

Oranges are cheaper this week; grapefruit remains a good buy. Also good buys are apples, pears, and in a few stores, bananas. Cranberries are in good supply and so are avocados. Be sure to check fresh coconuts, pineapples and tangerines as all are available and prices are reasonable.

ing it. The carcass should be placed in cold storage, at a temperature just above freezing, for at least a week. This aging process will insure greater tenderness and quality.

Let the locker plant wrap and freeze your deer. This will insure better cuts, proper wrapping and quick freezing. Excess fat may be trimmed away to remove some of the sharp flavor which may be considered objectionable.

Proper Cooking Important
Venison steaks are cooked slower and longer than beef. Slow cooking tenderizes the muscular tissue and develops a better flavor. Butter is best for frying, but other fat will work.

A word of warning—rare venison steak is for cave men. A well-cooked steak is more acceptable unless the kill was a prime animal.

Camper's style venison is a favorite with hunters. It is easy to make, tasty, and can be the crowning touch to a successful hunt.

To prepare: dice stew meat into 1 1/2 inch cubes. Allow one-half pound per person. Dust with flour, salt and pepper; brown in melted butter or other fat over a hot fire, using a heavy frying pan. After meat is well-browned, add 2 cups of hot water, 1 small can of mushrooms, 1 sliced onion, 1 can of lima or butter beans and 3 medium sized carrots, diced.

Cover and simmer slowly for about two hours, or until meat is tender. If a thick gravy is desired, the stock may be blended with an equal amount of whole milk about 10 minutes before removing from the heat, and then a flour thickening added.

If you barbecue venison, allow five or six ribs for each portion. Meaty cuts such as steaks, should not be more than 1 1/2 inches thick. Use a brush or a cheese-cloth ball attached to a stick to apply barbecue sauce.

"The real hunter puts the meat on the table, not just on the ground; missing a taste treat through improper care and cooking can be just as bad as missing a shot."

Diabetes Station In Dover Today

The State Board of Health will conduct a diabetes detection station at the Acme Market, Edgell Shopping Center, Dover on Friday, Dec. 15 from 12 noon until 3 p.m. This free service is available to adults only. The tests take only a few minutes.

It is estimated that there are approximately a million unknown diabetics in this country. It is extremely important that these unknown cases be discovered and given proper medical management and care in order that the patient can live a normal, productive and happy life.

The technique for conducting this test involves drawing one or two drops of blood from the fingertip and testing for sugar content. A clerk will take a brief history and the results of the test will be forwarded at a later date.

Students of the ninth grade French class have been learning French outside of French class during a lab period which is a regularly scheduled study period.

One section of the 10th grade Geometry class is studying isosceles triangles, equilateral, scalene, obtuse, and acute triangles. The students prove the different angles equal by theorems and corollaries. This also includes exterior, alternate-interior angles, and perimeters. The class will use this informa-

Porky Pig to Pay His Way Again In '62

Don't look for a big increase in hog production and a sharp drop in prices during 1962.

It would be dangerous to predict that prices for 1962 will be as high as those for 1961, but all indications point to favorable and steady prices.

Unusually strong prices over the past 20 months have led a lot of folks to predict a big build-up in swine numbers. This may not happen for these reasons.

Many farmers have reduced their total corn production and are willing to sell what they do raise to the Government for $1.20 per bushel; a lot of producers have reached their capacity to raise hogs without making some drastic changes in their operation. Also it is well to note that the big increases in production in 1955 and 1959 came after prices were above the 20 dollar mark for several months.

Farmers across the country indicate they plan to market six per cent more hogs next spring than in the spring of 1961. The summer outlook is for a five per cent increase over last summer.

These are small increases compared with other years. A decrease in broiler production and increased consumer buying may largely offset this.

Don't count your "porkers" before they get to market, but it looks like another good year for swine producers.

Building Program Project
The east end exit from the high school building has been barricaded, and a fire escape from the second floor has been constructed to serve as an emergency exit while the east exit is closed. Footings for the rooms to be constructed at the east end are being poured. The east wing of the new construction will include two science laboratories on the first floor and five high school classrooms on the second floor.

The old industrial arts building is back in service in a new location. It has been equipped with a space heater and an overhead power line to serve as temporary facilities for the remainder of this school year. The new industrial arts shop should be ready for use next September.

The 6500 gallon fuel tank has been delivered to the school and will be installed below ground level as soon as it has been thoroughly renovated and covered with a protective coating of tar. The new tank will provide additional capacity for fuel oil and will replace the old tank which is buried in an area to be covered by new construction.

Flood Light
The Board of School Trustees has ordered a new flood light of the Mercury-Vapor type to be installed near the entrance to the parking area. This light will be turned on automatically every night and will provide better protection for school property and greater safety and convenience for school patrons.

Harry S. Smith Attending Meeting Of Insurance Ass'n

State Insurance Commissioner, Harry S. Smith, who is currently attending a meeting of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners in Dallas, Texas, was extensively recognized by national authorities in the insurance business Monday when he had the distinction of presiding over an opening meeting of the convention in his capacity as chairman of an active sub-committee of the National Laws and Legislation Committee designed to review and study State Insurance Laws of all the states.

The Delaware Commissioner's agenda consisted of the following subjects:

1. Reciprocity on non-resident

2. Reciprocity on countersigning insurance policies.
3. Review of the laws of all the states with anticipation of bringing them up to date.
4. To study legislation with a view of enactment of a model law for all the states to protect the responsible insured driver against the irresponsible un-insured motorist.

Since some of these were highly controversial subjects, the meeting was attended by a large segment of the 1500 people present at the convention. Commissioner Smith was highly complimented by insurance authorities from all over the nation for the manner in which he conducted this session.

In fact, he was singled out at the plenary session (the official opening of the convention as a whole) by the president of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners, when he appointed the Delaware Insurance Commissioner from the floor as chairman, nationally, of the Resolutions Committee for the full convention.

When the need is greatest...
X-Rays help your doctor and your hospital pinpoint your injury or ailment
Your doctor specifies the kind and type of x-ray he believes you need. Blue Cross and Blue Shield do not pay toward the cost of x-rays that are not indicated by the condition for which you were admitted. X-ray is a share-the-cost benefit in your contract. You share the cost of x-rays with the plan. This sharing helps control the use of x-ray and the cost of x-ray for each of us. We both save if you use x-ray conservatively. It helps keep Blue Cross and Blue Shield rates down, since dues for this non-profit organization reflect only the actual cost of payments to hospitals and physicians, less the amount necessary to administer the plan, and anticipate emergency needs through a reserve fund.

Fish & Game News

Waterfowl Populations High Waterfowl continued to frequent Delaware in numbers greater than have been recorded previously since monthly aerial censuses were begun by the Game and Fish Commission in 1950. According to the latest flight concluded on Nov. 30 by game manager Robert Beck, the State was playing host to approximately 89,000 ducks and 28,000 geese. The 10-year average for this time of year is 53,000 ducks and 12,000 geese.

These large numbers of waterfowl are thought to be the result of a combination of weather and game management factors. Federal, State and private areas have been constantly improved to accommodate ducks and geese. This has been done by the construction of a few large water impoundments and many small wildlife ponds, by special food plantings, and by the establishment of refuges in key locations. With the general absence of snow and ice, all of these areas have been available to waterfowl. If the weather becomes particularly severe, ducks may continue their migration to warmer areas to the south.

How to Contact a Warden If you need a warden in a hurry, here are some of the ways that he can be reached. During week-day office hours call the Delaware Game and Fish Commission at Dover (RE-4-7474), or phone the State switch-board in Legislative Hall, Dover (RE 5711), and ask for the Game and Fish Commission. In the evenings or on weekends and holidays contact a warden at his home.

If a warden is on the road he can be reached by the Commission's two-way radio system. Wardens names, district, addresses, and phone numbers are as follows:

James C. White, State Supervisor, R.D. 3, Seaford, telephone NA 9-7745.

Dawson N. Sapp, New Castle County, Dover (Bay Road), telephone RE 4-322.

J. Wesley Walls Sr., Kent County, Maryland, telephone 492-3337.

Norris W. Benson, western Sussex County, R.D. 1, Laurel, telephone TR 5-7656.

Clarence H. Reed, northeastern Sussex County to Lewes, Milton, telephone 684-4609.

William A. Truitt, southeastern Sussex County, Frankford, telephone 732-6522.

If your business with a warden is routine, either write or leave a message asking the warden to contact you. Wardens welcome information

Ninety Percent Still Prefer "Old Fashioned" Christmas Tree

Selecting the "right" Christmas tree is a big problem to a lot of families, says George Vapaa, Kent County agent. The market is flooded with trees of all sizes, shapes and materials.

In spite of a trend toward "fancy" trees, 90 per cent of the homes in Kent County will display a "cut tree," he adds. That is one that is grown on a tree farm, selected for certain characteristics, chopped down and shipped to a tree lot to be sold. A few families will tramp through the woods and select their own tree, the agent indicates.

Choosing the proper variety, size and shape is important with a cut tree. Unless the tree retailer has a very complete selection, you'll probably have a choice between Balsam fir and Norway spruce. Some dealers may have Scotch pine or Douglas fir.

Balsam fir has one inch flat, waxy needles in rows of two on the twigs, and holds its needles well, if freshly cut. Norway spruce has thick, short, sharp needles, one inch or less in length. Norway spruce holds its spirally arranged needles poorly. Mr. Vapaa suggests you consider the location where the tree is to be placed when making a selection. Pick a "perfect" tree for the picture window or center-of-the-room. But, if one side goes against a wall, or two sides will be hidden by a corner location, a less perfect one will do. Check the bottom whorl of branches on the tree. This whorl of branches may not be complete. It's best to make a fresh cut for water intake and any sawed off branches can be used as decorations. The tree may be improved in appearance if the fresh cut is made above the bottom whorl branches.

Mr. Vapaa says many tree growers advertise "choose yourself", which gives the whole family a chance to select a tree in a plantation as in days gone by.
