

WM. W. SHAW IS SOLE OWNER OF CAHALL & SHAW FURNITURE

William W. Shaw has purchased Cahall & Shaw Furniture from his partner, Claude N. Cahall, and is now the sole owner of firm which will continue with the same name.

The firm was formerly Cahall's Gas Service Company, which dealt in bottled gas and furniture. The name change came when the firm sold the bottled gas business last fall to the Protane Gas Corporation, of Cleveland, O. This portion of the business has another address on Commerce Street and is known as Cahall's Protane Gas Service.

Mr. Shaw has retained the following personnel: Wesley L. Butler is store manager, Robert L. Darling is service manager, and Mrs. Richard Pitlick is secretary.

The original partnership was formed in 1940 but the Cahall firm was founded in 1931 by Mr. Cahall and was the first in Delaware to handle bottled gas.

Mr. Shaw wishes to thank all the customers for their past patronage and still solicits their business.

He also states he will continue to handle a full line of gas and electric appliances, with a complete stock of home furnishings.

Cahall & Shaw Furniture will be open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., daily with the exception of Friday and Saturday when it will be open until 9 p. m. It will also be open any evening by appointment.

Miss Becky Moore Wins Junior Miss Pageant

Miss Becky Moore was crowned as Harrington's 1962 Junior Miss at the New Century Club last Saturday night. Runners up in the contest were Miss Bonita Porter and Miss Connie Biddle. As winner, Miss Moore received a gift of a hair dryer, and each of the runners up received a gift certificate from the Phy-Lynn Shop.

In this second annual pageant, sponsored by the Harrington Jaycees, the contestants were judged in three categories; poise and appearance in sports attire, poise and appearance in formal attire, and in talent. For talent, Miss Moore demonstrated how one basic dress outfit could easily be changed to suit several different occasions by using different accessories. Miss Porter sang by her own accompaniment on the piano. Miss Biddle sang a melody of songs. The judges for the occasion were: Mrs. Nell Clending, Mrs. Iva Banning, and Rev. Nelson Benjamin.

For entertainment during the intermission, Miss Sarah Moore and Miss Lois Larimore played a duet on the piano. Group singing was also included in the program. Bill Kramedas was master of ceremonies.

Leon Donovan, Jaycee Chairman of the project, reported that all three contestants will be eligible to enter the Delaware State Pageant to be held at the Harrington High School on February 17th. Other Jaycees participating in this project included Bob Taylor, David Jones, Donald Jarrell and Ed Webster.

Thatcher Sells Two Ponds

The controversial Millsboro and Red Mill Ponds have been by Sussex County's "Water King."

Control of John S. Thatcher's Cool Spring Power and Water Company of Harrington was acquired for approximately $50,000, according to H. Rodney Sharp III of the Plaza Apartments, Wilmington, new president of the company.

Though Thatcher is no longer associated with the company, his wife is one of its vice presidents, Sharp said.

Other officers of the new company, in addition to Sharp and Mrs. Thatcher, are Jesse Lovens of Odessa, a vice president, and Thomas E. Burrough of Odessa, secretary-treasurer.

Sharp said the two ponds owned by the firm cover about 300 acres. He also said the deal includes an option on Wagon's Pond near Milton.

"We are interested in the company from the point of view of water conservation for industry and private use in Sussex County," Sharp related. "Sussex has a great future."

Millsboro Pond is located near Millsboro and Red Mill Pond is near Nassau.

Millsboro Pond was in the news last July when Mayor Sanders P. Darden Jr. of Millsboro attacked a bill proposing the bed of the pond be sold to the state for $39,000. The bill (SB 219) was introduced by Sen. Walter J. Hoey, D-Milford. Hoey withdrew the bill July 10.

Darden said the town's attorneys believed the state already owned the pond bed.

Week Programs Farm and Home Available

Copies of the University of Delaware's Farm and Home Week program were mailed to 8,000 Delaware farmers during the past week, according to George Vapaa, Kent County agent. Mailing was handled by the county ACS offices in Middletown, Dover and Georgetown, he said.

Additional copies are available at the county extension office on the second floor of the Dover postoffice. You can stop and pick up a copy or give us a call and we'll mail you one, Mr. Vapaa adds.

Farm and Home Week will be held in Agricultural Hall at the University of Delaware in Newark, Feb. 6, 7, and 8. Researchers, agriculturalists and industrialists will discuss a variety of topics of special interest to farmers, according to the agent. General subjects include: poultry, agronomy, livestock, dairy, vegetables, fruit, home gardening and home economics.

There will be special sessions on buying a house, planning for Delaware's future, foreign affairs, roses and light horses.

Felton to Vote On Classrooms

ETA Voter at Felton are faced with a hard choice in a referendum tomorrow.

All they have to do is approve an expansion of the district's current building program with no increase in taxes.

Approval is being asked by the Board of Trustees to build four additional classrooms with the same money already allotted for construction of seven classrooms.

Howard E. Henry, supervising principal and clerk of the Board of Trustees, thinks there won't be any opposition.

Felton residents approved a $390,000 bond issue last May 1 for construction of seven classrooms at the Maude Reynolds Elementary School.

An unexpected low bid of $251,716 from J. Roland Dashiell and Sons, Salisbury, Md., allows construction of four more classrooms at the Reynolds School with the same money.

The added construction would allow all elementary grades to be housed at the Reynolds school. The present wing only has four grades.

The referendum is necessary because voters approved the bond issue only for the seven classrooms. They must again approve the additional rooms to be built with the same money.

Bands To Sponsor Magazine Campaign

The three bands of the Harrington High School District will again sponsor a magazine campaign beginning on Thursday, February 8 and closing Monday, February 26.

The purpose of this project will be to supplement the Band Fund toward the purchase of new uniforms for the Senior High School Band. It is hoped that these uniforms will be secured in time for the spring concert, to be followed by the Memorial Parade and the Chicken Festival Parade in June. All profit will go toward this new band uniform fund.

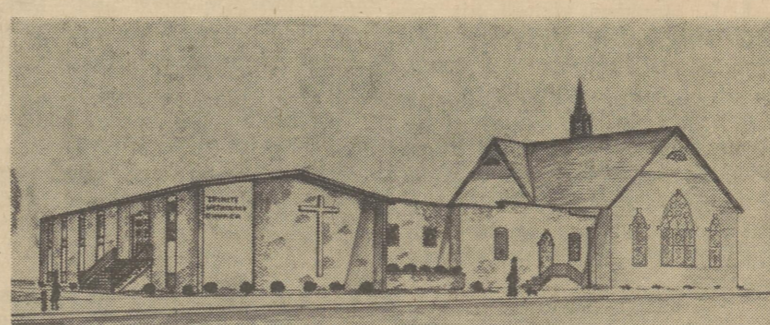

The magazine campaign will again be sponsored by the Curtis Circulation Company of Philadelphia, as represented by Mr. H. B. Wallis, of Dover. All magazines will be available for renewal or for new subscriptions. Students involved with the project will be eligible for the following awards depending upon their efforts: a chance for a valuable prize in a drawing, and ice cream treat, a certificate of merit, a statuette "Oscar" for outstanding salesmanship, and an opportunity to compete for ten valuable prizes.

During the past years prizes included motion picture cameras and projectors, ice skates, roller skates, watches, pen and pencil sets, jewelry boxes, fishing outfits, etc.

It is the hope that this campaign will again be as well received as it has in the past and again the goal set by the bands will be surpassed.

Delaware Travel Interests Represented in Washington

Delaware travel interests were represented in Washington last week when Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges made a progress report on the new United States Travel Agency's program to stimulate travel from other nations to the United States.

At a meeting sponsored by the National Association of Travel Organizations, Hodges pointed out that an imbalance of $1,000,000,000 in foreign trade exists because of foreign tourist travel alone. This means that much more money is spent overseas by American tourists than foreign tourists spend in the United States.

To correct this situation, Hodges called on the travel industry to provide bilingual material for foreign distribution; give greater care to the language difficulty of visitors to this country and plan more "package deals" that would attract foreign tourist trade.

Hodges reported that while seven U. S. Travel Agency offices have been opened overseas, government participation in the program is still on a limited basis. He called for concentrated action by the travel industry to encourage visitors "here to see that we have nothing to hide, or should any nation be afraid of this great American system of ours."

Delaware representatives at the luncheon meeting attended by more than 1,000 people were: Leon deValinger, Jr., State Archivist; David S. Hugg, Delaware Travel Council, and George Andrek, administrative aide to Mayor John E. Babiarz, Wilmington.

All day services Sun., Feb. 4, at Trinity Methodist Church will mark the 81st anniversary celebration and consecration services for the new Educational Building.

The new Church-School facilities will be consecrated during the regular 11 o'clock worship hour Sunday morning. The Rev. Dr. Walter Stone, Executive Secretary of the Peninsula Conference Board of Education, will lead the service and preach the consecration sermon. Special music will be by the three choirs of the church.

An open house will be held in the new building in the afternoon, 2-4 o'clock. The public is invited to come and be conducted through the new building which houses: an auditorium, kitchen, church lounge, church office, nine classrooms, a choir room, and rest rooms.

Refreshments will be served by the O.U.R. Class. At 7:30 in the evening the church anniversary celebration will be observed with the Rev. Dr. Thomas Mulligan, former Dover District Supt. preaching the anniversary sermon. Special music will be presented by the Intermediate Choir under the direction of Mrs. Nancy Benjamin. The Woman's Society of Christian Service will hold a coffee-hour following the anniversary service.

CHICKEN FESTIVAL ORGANIZES FOR ITS JUNE SHOWING HERE

Organization for the 15th annual Delmarva Chicken Festival, to be held here June 14-16, inclusive, got off to a good start Monday evening when it was revealed plans were already underway and that civic groups would co-operate.

At the meeting in The First National Bank Building, Charles L. Peck Jr., general chairman, said that, in the near future, he thought could assign some duties and details, and committees to go to work.

The gathering, open to civic groups and the general public, was well attended. Preparations for the festival are starting earlier than usual because Harrington was selected as the site last year. The event will be held at the fairgrounds, as it was the last time it was held here, in 1954. With ample facilities already available, and personnel who assisted in the previous festival also available, it is believed the festival can be held with a minimum of difficulty.

Present at the meeting were J. Frank Gordy, executive secretary of Delmarva Poultry Industry, Inc., sponsor of the pageant, William Rodney, DPI festival chairman, and Joseph Williams, Seaford mayor. Mayor and Mrs. Williams were codirectors of the pageant when it was held in Seaford last year. Williams is now director of the beauty pageant, taking the place of the late Earl Hawke, of Greenwood.

Getting back to the general chairman, Peck enumerated the committees needed, with emphasis on the National Chicken Cooking Contest, the main feature of the festival.

He mentioned the added attractions to include an antique auto show, an agri-fair and hobby show, and art show, educational and 4-H exhibits. He said the world's largest frying pan would return and that the civic group in its charge would give half the proceeds of the fried chicken to the festival. He added that concession stands must feature chicken.

Turning to the chicken-cooking contest, Rodney, the DPI festival chairman, said he liked the fairgrounds as the festival site and reiterated a suggestion of General Chairman Peck that all members of the community unite in pursuance of the project.

The cooking contest is really the highlight of the festival, he said. It is sponsored by the National Poultry and Egg Board and the DPI. Last year the first time the event had state committees to determine the state entrants. Last year, entrants from 26 states competed at Seaford, Rodney said.

This year no more than six contestants can compete from any state. "Our good hope," Rodney continued, "is to have at least two from each state."

Gordy, the DPI executive secretary, figures we would have 100 to 110 entrants here because only 40 to 50 stoves were normally available. Later in the meeting, however, it was said all entrants would be accommodated, somehow or other.

Besides the senior cooking contest, the main event, there is a junior event, and an outdoor contest.

It was recommended that entrants be given a dinner, as was given last year in Seaford for the first time, and that contestants be quartered in homes.

The beauty pageant, a feature of the festival, will see entrants selected in local contests. In Harrington, the contest is sponsored by the Rotary Club.

A parade is being considered. While the DPI furnishes part of the expenses, the rest has to be secured locally. However, Peck thought it might be arranged by economizing.

The DPI is allowing a budget of $9000 this year, less than usual because of the condition of the broiler market, but Peck thought the ready-made facilities of the fairgrounds might entail less expense. He said that Thomas E. Clending had been appointed budget control officer and that he had appointed an Executive Committee of the presidents of the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club, the Century Club, and the Lions Club.

Felton Avon Club Notes

The regular meeting of the Felton Avon Club was held January 24 with the president, Mrs. Leland Price, presiding.

Announcement was made that the art work of the group that studied under the guidance of Mrs. Carroll Stone, would be displayed at the regular art program. Mrs. Price expressed the appreciation of the club to Mrs. Stone for her time and talent and the money from this project, which was donated to the Scholarship Fund.

Mrs. Charles Bostick Sr., presented Mrs. Belle Everett, state Treasurer, as her speaker for her legislative program. Mrs. Everett gave a very interesting talk on her work and that of her office. A question and answer period followed.

A very pleasant social hour followed with Mrs. Charles Bostick, Mrs. Leland Price, Mrs. Lowder Harrington, Mrs. Walter Moore and Mrs. Richard Hardy as hostess.

There will not be a club meeting on February 7, as was scheduled.

be watched. Lettuce is up again—reports are that the crop in Texas was ruined. Dried onions are up a penny. Damage to the Texas crop and a short storage supply caused the increase.

Prices are about the same as they were last week on potatoes, beets, green beans, celery, cucumbers, and carrots. More squash is coming in and fresh green peas and lima beans are averaging 29 cents a pound. The first rhubarb arrived from the hot houses in Michigan and is selling from 42 to 49 cents a pound.

The fruit situation is continuing to look good with shipments of Florida citrus improving. Prices are steady to lower on oranges, lemons, limes and grapefruit. Chile is sending fresh plums, nectarines, peaches, and honeydew melons—of course all are luxury items. Avocados escaped most of the frost damage and some pretty ones are now on the market. Other fruits, such as bananas, red grapes and pears are a penny cheaper. Apple prices are unchanged so this side of the grocery store looks good.

Check beef for good buys. Such cuts as steak (T-bone, porterhouse and sirloin), stewing beef and roast are all especially priced this weekend. Fresh pork roast and chops share the spot light with beef as far as good buys are concerned. Hams and turkeys are also economical buys. For those of you who like Spring leg-of-lamb, a few stores are featuring this meat at attractive prices. As far as veal prices are concerned they are steady on most cuts however, an increase in rump roast price is seen.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—Is an insurance dividend now being paid by the VA to holders of Korea GI policies designated "RS"?

A—Yes, provided that the policies with the letters "RS" preceding the policy number are exchanged for permanent policies or lower-cost term policies bearing the letter "W" before the policy number. Policyholders have until September 13, 1963, to make this change and still qualify for the dividends. The nearest VA office can supply more details.

Q—Isn't the War Orphan Education program aimed at education at college level?

A—Not necessarily. While actual high school courses are not allowed, those eligible children of deceased veterans may take vocational subjects and other subjects of above high school standards that may help them in their vocational field.

Q—I have remarried and my present husband has adopted my daughter. Thus she is not an orphan. Since her father died from injuries sustained in World War II, is she entitled to training under the War Orphans Assistance program?

A—Yes. Her eligibility is based on the fact that her parent died from service-connected causes. Subsequent adoption does not affect this original eligibility.

Q—I am a veteran who was discharged for a service-connected disability. Because of that, am I entitled to a special deadline date for a GI home loan?

A—Yes. Veterans discharged for service-connected disabilities are eligible for home loans until the maximum deadline, regardless of the time they left the service. This date is July 25, 1967, for World War II veterans and January 31, 1975, for Korea veterans.

Veterans News

Leon Fields, manager of the Wilmington Administration Regional Office, said recently more than $240,000,000 is now being distributed to over 4.7 million GI Insurance Policyholders in 1962 annual dividend payments.

In Delaware, Mr. Fields said, 11,382 policyholders will receive $576,800.00 in dividends.

The dividend checks will be paid on the anniversary date of the policies this year as is the usual custom. The VA last year speeded up the payments in an effort to aid the national economy at the request of the President.

Mr. Fields explained that the anniversary date is the anniversary of the date each individual policy became effective. By consulting his policy, each veteran would be able to tell when to expect his dividend check.

Dividends will average $50.00 for World War II veterans and $70.00 for veterans of World War I.

The annual dividends are primarily a return to policyholders of part of the premiums they have paid since the death rate of veterans continues to be less than estimated in the mortality tables upon which the premium rates were set by law.

Armed Forces Notes

Army pvt. Frank G. Melvin, Jr., whose parents live at 201 Delaware Avenue, Harrington, completed eight weeks of military police training at the Provost Marshal General Center, Fort Gordon, Ga., Jan. 19. Melvin received instruction in self defense, traffic control and the basis procedure of civil and military law. The 20-year-old soldier entered the Army last August and completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C. He attended Harrington High School and was employed at the Reese Theatre before entering the Army.

Army PFC Charles E. Pearson, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. William N. Pearson, Harrington, is participating in the 3rd Armored Division's month-long winter training exercises in Grafewohr, Germany, which will end Feb. 7.

High point of the Spearhead division's annual training cycle, the training includes day and night tactical exercises emphasizing cold weather training, mobility and chemical, biological and radiological warfare. An essential part of the training is range firing of individual and team-served weapons including the Army's new M-60 machinegun and the 105 and 120 - millimeter tank guns.

The 3d, a major element of NAT forces in Europe, plays an essential role in maintaining world peace.

Pearson, a cannoneer in Battery C of the division's 73d Artillery in Hanau, entered the Army in June 1959, completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C., and arrived overseas the following November.

He is a 1956 graduate of Harrington High School.

Board of Health News

Mr. Harold L. Jacobs, Chairman of the Delaware Water Pollution Commission, recently announced that Dr. Joel Kaplovsky, Director of the Commission, has been invited to discuss a paper and present related research before the first International Conference on Water Pollution Research to be held in Westminster, London, England, September 3 thru 7th, 1962.

Dr. Kaplovsky has directed pollution control surveys since 1950 throughout the State and has conducted extensive research on the present and future quality of the Delaware River Estuary. The data accumulated as a result of the Delaware River study was invaluable in the preparation of the Delaware Intrastate Water Resources Survey to which Dr. Kaplovsky was a major contributor and co-editor. In turn the Delaware Intrastate Water Resources Survey has been accepted nationally as an authoritative document and is presently serving as a principal basis for planning for the conservation of water resources by the states of New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware.

Dr. Kaplovsky's presentation will be primarily on the subject of "Photosynthetic Oxygenation of Polluted Estuaries" and will be one of forty-eight papers presented by scientists from all over the world. Dr. Kaplovsky has also been invited to visit and inspect several water pollution research facilities in England and Western Europe.

At the time he announced Dr. Kaplovsky's invitation, Mr. Jacobs stated that members of the Commission were highly pleased that Dr. Kaplovsky had been honored by this new international group. He further commented that the magnitude of Dr. Kaplovsky's contributions to the future progress and welfare of the State would be impossible to assess.

Protect Pets From Fleas

It is fairly simple to protect cats and dogs from annoying fleas says George Vapaa, Kent County agent. Although cats are sensitive to certain compounds, there are a variety of materials available that give effective control.

Insecticides most often used for cats include: Rotenone, Sevin, and Malathion. Sevin is more effective than Rotenone, the agent reports and cats don't seem to like the odor of Malathion.

Any of these insecticides are effective in protecting dogs from fleas. Also Methoxychlor, Co-Ral and DDT compounds are effective.

Do not use compounds containing DDT or Co-Ral on cats, the agent warns. It is wise to read the label on the container carefully to insure that it is safe to use on cats.

All of these chemicals are available in specially prepared compounds for either dogs or cats, according to Mr. Vapaa. Some may be used on both. They are available as dusts, in shaker containers, as a powder to be used in bath, and in pressurized spray cans.

Mr. Vapaa cautions, when treating your pet, be sure to dust or spray the sleeping area. Many flea larvae may be found here. Remember fleas do not stay on the host animal all the time, he adds. They may actually live on furniture, rugs, bedding or carpets. When they are hungry, they seek out your dog or cat for a blood meal. If your pet is penned up in one room for a prolonged period of time, fleas in other rooms may get hungry and resort to people for their meal, he adds.

Next time you see old Rover scratching, don't throw him outside—you may be left with his fleas.

ANOTHER PANEGYRIC

The editorial, written in praise of the community last week, omitted the mention of some other worthwhile assets. We will elucidate on this matter but, first, we must hasten to declare other valuable features will not be mentioned, since, as any semanticist knows, it is impossible to state them all.

An important business is the community theatre. Its bright lights add life to the city after sundown and give the impression to visitors the community is still alive.

The theatre helps develop buying habits. Persons attending the theatre make purchases at other business establishments. They become acquainted with the community.

In addition to the theatre's regular fare, it has matinees sponsored by business interests. These attractions bring people into the community from far and near.

Another important interest, mention of which was neglected in last week's editorial, which we did not write, is the newspaper Freedom of the press is mentioned in the First Amendment to the Constitution. The press is the only business especially mentioned in the Constitution.

To the thinking people, it will not be necessary to mention the advantages of a newspaper to the community: to the nonthinking, it will not be worthwhile.

State's Crop Production Shows Decline

Crop production in Delaware last year was characterized by "ups" and "downs" notes the Delaware State Development Department in summarizing the state's farm yields for 1961.

Basing its observations upon statistics supplied by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the state information agency points out that while the total value of 1961 Delaware crops increased more than $500,000, the increased yields for some crops were offset, to some extent, by production declines in other crops.

Delaware production of corn for grain totaled 7,378,000 bushels in 1961, 21 percent below the previous year. This decline was apparently due to an equivalent decrease in acreage, as the average yield per acre, 62.0 bushels, was the same in 1960 and 1961. Other crops with lower production in 1961 were: wheat, off 17 per cent; barley, off 2 per cent; oats, off 24 per cent; alfalfa hay, off 7 per cent; lespedeza hay, off 12 per cent, and peaches, down 30 per cent.

Soybean production was up nearly 14 per cent above 1960 to 5,160,000 bushels—a new record high. With the average yield per acre—24 bushels, the same in both years, the increased production is attributed to a 14 per cent increase in harvested acreage. Production of Irish potatoes was an estimated 2,250,000 cwt. or 4 per cent above the 1960 yield. A slightly larger acreage combined with a higher yield per acre made possible this increase.

Hay production totaled 79,000 tons in 1961 compared with 75,000 tons for the previous year. Smaller crops of alfalfa, lespedeza and soybean hay were offset by a 31 per cent increase in tonnage of clover and clover mixtures for hay.

While 1961 apple production amounted to 300,000 bushels, an increase of 50,000 bushels over the 1960 crop, production of the once famed DelaWare Peach dropped an estimated 15,000 bushels last year.

Production of commercial vegetables and melons showed an increase from 100,000 tons in 1960 to 106,000 tons in 1961. While production of green lima beans was 6 per cent under the 1960 crop, the decline was more than offset by larger crops of sweet corn, green peas, and tomatoes. Despite declines in production of some crops, the total value of Delaware's principal crops reached $35,952,000 in 1961, which compares favorably with a $35,407,000 total for the previous year, concludes the Development Department.

High Levels Seen While Receipts Down

"While data on the volume of business done at the Baltimore Public Stockyards portrays a general downward trend in livestock receipts, there are indications of strength in certain aspects of the eriminal market situation," according to Dr. Harold Smith.

A study has just been completed for the Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station by Dr. Harold D. Smith and John N. Smith, associate professor and graduate assistant respectively in the Department of Agricultural Economics at the University of Maryland. This study indicates that total receipts of cattle and sheep, supported by the upward trend in transit shipments, should continue at high levels. Increasing production of beef cattle and market hogs, coupled with the large numbers of dairy herds, will require continued market outlets.

Information was collected on the facilities and services available for the marketing of livestock, the trend in receipts, including both slaughter and transit shipments and the number and location of consignors using yard facilities.

The study, according to Dr. Smith, describes in detail the stockyards company, the commission firms, the government inspection service, and market news.

The 43 page study describes the operations of the stockyards and potential for the future. Almost 8,400 individuals and firms are consignors to the terminal market, the largest facility on the East coast and the only one in Maryland.

The long history of the Baltimore Public Stockyard dates back to 1790 with the authorization for the purchase of ten acres of land for a livestock yard. The large drove yard was established in 1850 at Baltimore and Republican Streets. The Wilhelm Drove Yards opened at Pratt and Payson Streets in 1858. The Central Drove Yards opened directly on a railroad line in 1879. The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad established the Baltimore Stock Yards in Clarendon in 1881 while the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad built the Calverton Stock Yards at Calverton and Lexington Sts.

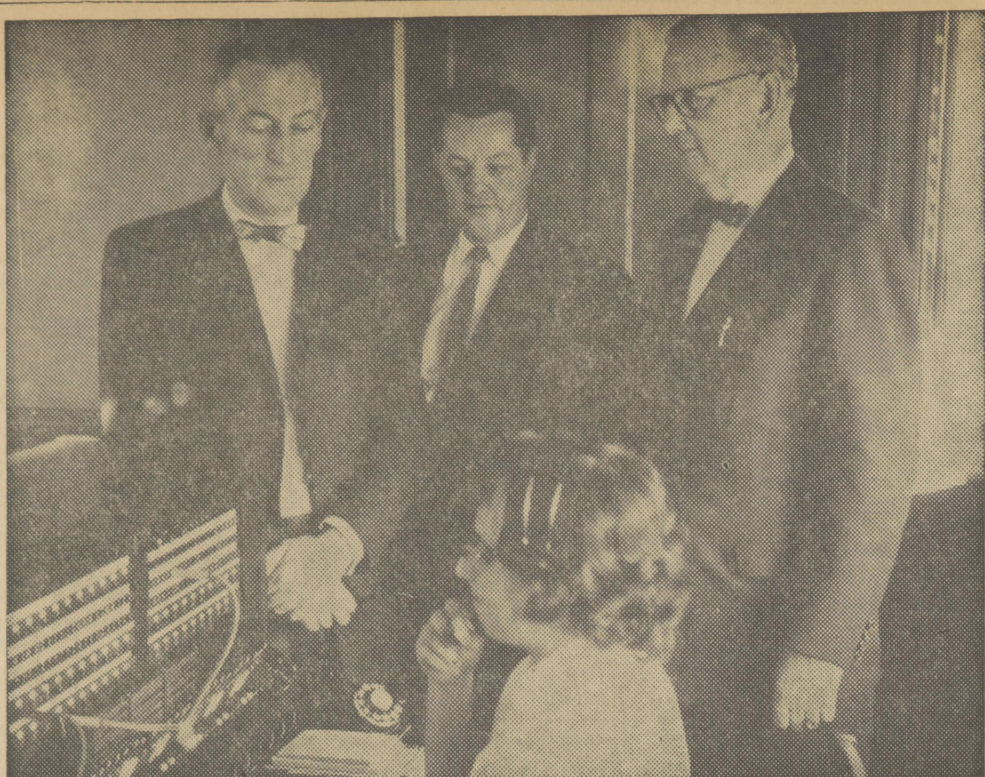

With expansions, incorporations and bitter competition, the major stock markets combined into the Union Stock Yards Company of Baltimore County in 1891. The market, served by the Baltimore and Ohio and the Pennsylvania Railroads, is located in southwest Baltimore, just off U. S. Highway Rt. 1 and near the terminus of the Baltimore-Washington Expressway. The Baltimore Beltway and the Harbor Tunnel also offer easy access to the yards.

The peak months for livestock marketings at this facility, the study shows, are August, September and October for cattle and calves. March, April and May for hogs, June, July and August for sheep and lambs. Although these peaks are earlier than the national peaks for cattle, calves and sheep, they are later than the national peak for hogs.

Tractors Need Care

Care and not repair sounds like a tricky slogan but to the 4-H tractor program members it means keeping their tractors running day after day without costly repair, says Mr. Guy Gienger, extension specialist, Agricultural Engineering Department, University of Maryland.

Mr. Gienger explains the tractor program, starting its 17th

Cause of Delayed Felton School Fabric Damage Hard to Determine

A hole that appears suddenly in the underarm of a shirt worn only a few times, white spots that show up on a colored dress during ironing, curtains that come back from the cleaner frayed—these are familiar examples of textile damage that many homemakers encounter and wonder what or who is responsible.

"Often there is no easy answer to responsibility of fabric damage," says Katie Thomas, Kent County home demonstration agent. Dry cleaners and laundries are having increasing difficulty with color damage caused by cold wave solutions. If the fabric is wool or rayon, the color usually disappears. If the fabric is acetate, a change in color is more likely. A dress or blouse that has been in contact with a cold wave solution may be delivered to the dry cleaner with no sign of fabric loss; then several months later, the change or loss of color is discovered. Permanent waving and neutralizing solutions act slowly, so they rarely affect colors when first spilled on a garment. When the garment is dry cleaned, however, the heat of pressing activates part of the chemicals so they bleach out some colors.

Holes under the arms of shirts, dresses and uniforms that come back from the laundry usually are not caused by the laundry but by liquid or "cream" deodorants that contain acid salts. Many anti-perspirants are not harmful to fabrics and acid damage usually can be avoided if you follow directions on the package.

Consumers need to know how to give fabrics proper care in wear and cleaning in order to avoid such damage. They also need to know more about selecting fabrics or garments wisely and then using them as intended.

Several distinguished visitors are expected, but no names are available at this time. Bring as many guests as you wish with you. Plenty room for all. Minimum price of articles to be auctioned, to be at owner's discretion. All articles will be sold on a 10% commission basis.

In the event of snow, the date will be advanced one week, to February 20, 1962. For further information contact Edward Brown K3OCE, Cheswold, Del.

May Thompson Keith Memorial Scholarship

A one-year $500 scholarship for graduate study at the University of Delaware will be offered for 1962-63 by the Wilmington branch, American Association of University Women.

It is the second award from the memorial fund established in memory of May Thompson Keith, an alumna of the university. The candidate must be a woman resident of Delaware pursuing a full-time program of study leading toward an advanced degree at the university.

She must be entering her first year of graduate study, and must hold or expect to receive in June a baccalaureate degree. There are no restrictions as to her field of study. The recipient of the award will be selected on the basis of her undergraduate scholastic record and a personal interview. The stipend may be used to supplement a graduate assistantship.

Applicants should file by March 1 at the school of graduate studies at the university. Mrs. Keith, who died in a California automobile accident a year ago, was former president of the University of Delaware Alumnae Association.

Caution Feeding Moldy Corn to Swine

Don't feed moldy corn to breeding sows warns, George Vapaa, Kent County agent. Certain molds in corn contain a hormone material which interferes with the normal reproductive processes of the sows. Mr. Vapaa says it is not unusual for sows fed moldy corn to abort their pigs or farrow weak or dead pigs.

Moldy corn can be fed growing and finishing hogs, the agent adds, if it is fed free choice and there is plenty of good corn available. If the pigs have a choice, they won't eat enough of the moldy corn to hurt them. This is not the case with bred sows or gilts, however. If permitted access to moldy corn, they will easily consume enough to cause damage.

Oak and Sweet Gum Tonic

Along with the winter ills come tonics of some sort but here are some recent findings which, when used early enough, can reduce the current loss of oaks and other hardwood trees in Maryland.

Dr. Jack Wilson, plant pathologist, University of Maryland, recently stated that observations and investigations from various sources show that the decline of the oak and hardwood trees may be due to a number of factors. Probably the number one cause is drought conditions. The correlation to drought is when the soil is at the wilting point. "However," states Dr. Wilson, "defoliation studies by Forest Service teams indicate that defoliating insects may be responsible for the decline." Insects or fungi will cause premature defoliation.

At present, the cause of sweet gum blight is unknown. Most of the affected oaks are noticeable by their slow death. The problem of oak wilt does not occur in the eastern areas of Maryland.

Precautions to combat the decline of these trees from the Maryland landscape are economical and effective. Using an effective, recommended fertilizer every two years, together with proper watering, are essential. Use an overnight soaker method of watering. Treat wounds caused by cankers to keep out insects and fungi. Prompt and proper spraying to control defoliating insects and foliage disease caused by fungi is also very essential.

Beware of European Red Clover—Not Adapted to Maryland—Delaware

With domestic red clover seed production down and prices strong, farmers are warned by Joe Newcomer, extension agronomist, University of Maryland, to beware of European seed which is not well adapted to Maryland conditions.

During the past 10 years the Agricultural Research Service at the U. S. Department of Agriculture, together with state experiment stations, have conducted tests to compare clover seed from domestic and foreign sources. As in previous studies, the European seed fell below domestic red clover in its yield and overall performance.

In 12 trials in eight states (some covering three years), differences in hay yields exceeded 30% in favor of American grown seed. At Beltsville, Md., seed of the U. S. origin averaged 2.57 tons per acre, while the six European varieties tested produced from 1.59 to 1.75 tons per acre.

The buyer of red clover seed is protected by the Federal Seed Act which requires that 10% of such seed be stained to identify its European origin. Mr. Newcomer said about 10% of the seed in a bag of imported seed will be stained red. Look for this stained seed. In addition to the stained seed, you should consult the seed tag as the State Seed Law requires that the origin be given on the tag. If it states European or English origin, avoid the purchase, no matter what the price differential.

"Sports Odds And Ends"

Coach Harold McDonald's girl's teams were successful last week. At Milton Friday night his charges were victorious 35-34 in a thriller.

Harrington led at halftime 22-17 but Milton caught up in the second half and neither team could open up a commanding lead thereafter.

Christy Coady netted her only foul shot of the game with 30 seconds left to give H.H.S. a one point lead. A local lassie then stole the oval and the three Harrington forwards froze the ball until the final buzzer. Miss Coady paced H.H.S. with 21 points.

The junior high girls' team remained unbeaten winning their game 19-10. Wednesday afternoon the juniors play at Greenwood.

Jack Dill represented our community at the Wilmington Sportswriters and Broadcasters banquet recently. He rubbed elbows with baseball's Robin Roberts, Joe Cronin and Ralph Houk, football's Jess Richardson and Dr. John Bateman, and last but certainly not least (in Harrington) harness racing's Stanley Dancer.

Milt Szmajda is leaving Harrington High School and will travel to the Philippines soon. His father is stationed there. Milt tried cross-country this fall and was an instant success. Clarence Hackett moved to New Castle in November. Thus two letter winners will be wearing other colors this fall. It is hoped the pendulum might swing the other way and bring in a couple of harrier prospects.

Dick Kleckner, a new Harrington resident, has an athletic background. He played basketball at Wm. Penn. High, New Castle, Del., the United States Naval Academy and West Virginia University. Dick is married to the former Linda Humes.

Dick Jeffers, who was a local high school coach for three years, is now basketball coach at De La Warr High in New Castle County. His squad recently knocked unbeaten Brandywine out of first place in the Blue Hen Conference by beating them 67-62. De La Warr, has Sherman Dillard, No. 2 scorer in the state and they possess a 4-2 league record. By a coincidence his teams at Harrington and De La Warr perform under the same nickname. Both are known as the Lions.

Wrestling on The Upgrade at H.H.S.

Coach Mike Mock's wrestling troops are showing vast improvement as the season nears the halfway mark. The last two outings saw the locals get closer to a team victory than in any previous start.

Milford jayvees downed the Lions in a meet that saw the Lions shorthanded without the services of stalwarts Bill Parker, Paul Rash and Charles Taylor. Caesar Rodney bested the locals 33-22 with Rash and Taylor still out.

Against Milford Ron Melvin, Tim Strohl and Lewis Starkey won the three heaviest classes events by pinning their foes. George Jerread won by referees' decision. George Bonniwell drew his matches against both Milford and C. R.

In the Caesar Rodney encounter Nelson Reed, Jerread, Starkey and Strohl won by falls.

C. R. Summaries: 95 lbs., Warren, C. R., decisioned Ellwanger.

103—Schutt, C. R., pinned Caloway.

112—Reed, H.H.S., pinned Moyer.

120—Bonniwell, H.H.S., drew with Reardon.

127—Barkins, C. R., pinned Rogers.

133—Donahue, C. R., pinned Schreiber.

138—Jerread, H.H.S., pinned Wall.

145—Felt, C.R. pinned Greenley.

154—Baugham, C. R., decisioned Parker.

165—Starkey, H.H.S., pinned Todd.

180—Strohl, H.H.S., pinned Wessell.

Unlimited—Earle, C. R. pinned Melvin.

The Lions will wrestle at Dover February 5th. The locals have a chance to win as Dover bowed to Caesar Rodney by almost the same margin as did Harrington.

Sulky Slants

By MRS. DAVE (PAT) SMITH

Another week has passed out here at the track and really surprised me the weather co-operated. I don't think one day was lost. Not when you hear on TV or radio how much snow has been all around us. Course you can't expect too much this time of year.

You don't hear too much about the colts now, most all have learned their manners and headed for bigger things.

I heard some of the boys over to Lucy's Restaurant counting how many weeks till race time. I've always said, you don't any more than get settled till its time to move on.

Reading The Journal this past week about the line up for this coming year for fair it sounds sensational. They have really booked some good talent.

Now this is where the fair officials, I have an idea, really wish for nice weather.

Our barns are getting a new look. Some already have taken on very attractive new roofs. Oh, if they would only paint our stable area all white again. It used to look so pretty from the highway.

Next Wednesday, Feb. 7, a meeting and banquet will be held out to the track restaurant for all horsemen, promptly at 6:30 p.m.

Everyone is invited. The cost of this dinner that will be served family style will be $3 per person.

Lizzie, who has been our cook out here at the restaurant for the past 10 years (same day this paper is out) Thursday; now she tells me she is ready to retire. Lucy how about that?

Shall we take up a collection for her? How about it Lucy? Really, Lizzie, this crowd would really miss you so, now just forget it.

Why, 10 years ago I can remember how we used to even sit on benches over at the old restaurant, don't you Lizzie? Farcy from the old days.

Was in the office to chat with Virginia and Mrs. Earl Thomas. Oh my gosh, look what Virginia comes up with. She asks me, "Pat do you know what I T & T means." Poor me, I said no.

"Well, here's what it means," Virginia said, "In Tuesday and out Thursday." That's what they went on strike for in New York City. Shorter hours. She said that's what she was going to do. I asked Mrs. Thomas why they didn't get a portable TV for the office. Now you know all work and no play makes gals very dull.

Mr. Simpson, don't you go along with this?

er a stable of horses to train up in Freehold, N. Y. Jack has 23 age horses and 3 colts. Jack will handle the horses in N. Y. Carl Hatchel, Maryland Circuit.

Had chat with Kenneth Walls, who is in business on Highway 13. Mr. Walls has Sweetheart Direct, 2:05, by Capt. Eddy-Pony Boy, also Harry Shadyboy by Adios Harry out Shadydale Muffin, a 2-yr-old. These two are in training at Luther Lyons' farm in Greenwood.

Gee, Gooden Callaway, Irene Adams and I really tried to put you on the spot at the Acme Market. We almost thought you would break down and pay for our things too.

Bob Freck, did you really mean the little car is a monster to work on?

Mr. and Mrs. Del Manges have purchased a very nice trailer not too large so the four Manges boys will have their own bedrooms. The children seem to be real excited about it.

Asked Mrs. Austin Turcotte if Austin had added anything new out to the farm in the way of animals. She laughed and said not yet Pat.

Why is it always so peaceable just to go out and sit at the ocean side just gazing into blue yonder. Maybe just to say a prayer all alone. I've always loved the water. Anyway I just sit and daydream.

H.H.S. Drops Hoop Tilt at Milton

Harrington High School's basketball Lions dropped a 55-32 decision at Milton High on Friday night. Jim Hawpe's Cagers could not cope with the Henlopen Conference's only unbeaten team and were outscored in each quarter.

The Warriors are a tall, talented squad with the best home court advantage in the loop due to the very small floor. Visitors charging the basket for a layup are conscious that the backboard and basket are flush against a wall. Would-be scorers are so busy putting on the brakes that they occasionally miss easy shots.

The Lions shooting percentage was low as several unguarded layups were missed. George Collins and Bill Porter lead the Harrington scorers with 10 and 9 points. Collins played a fine defensive game. Jeff Adams was out of the double-figure column for the first time in five games. The locals continued to be ineffective at the foul line.

Bill Adams returned to action after a layoff and showed that he is adept enough to give the Lions another capable reprieve.

Greenwood Bows To Millsboro

Carl Baker's Greenwood High Foresters made a valiant bid to reach the .500 mark but were foiled by the last-ditch heroics of Millsboro's Jeff Derrickson. Greenwood's zone defense had neutralized the Blue Devil ace's speed and had kept him fairly well in check. Late in the game, however, he sank four straight set shots to give his team the victory.

The Friday night contest played at Greenwood saw the home team lead at the quarter and at the half. Millsboro had pulled into a 29-29 tie at the end of three periods.

Henry, Finkbinder and Wright led Greenwood with 10 points each. Derrickson had 21 for Millsboro. The loss dropped Greenwood into a tie for first place in the Western Division of the Henlopen conference as of this writing.

Felton Breaks Into Win Column

Joe Kern's Felton High Green Devils notched their first win of the current cage campaign when they downed Lord Baltimore 50-42 at Felton Friday night. The winners had come close on two or three occasions so the victory does not rate in the upset category. Felton is not a tall team but has plenty of hustle.

Lord Baltimore stayed close through the first three quarters but the Green Devils kept the pressure on and pulled away in the last chapter.

Williams, Morris, and Wood paced the victors with 16, 11 and 7 points respectively.

Hgton. Junior Football League Holds 1st. Meeting

The monthly meeting of Harrington Jr. Football League was held Monday night, Jan. 15 with the president, Jack Swain, presiding. The members present discussed plans toward adding a fourth team next fall. Billy Morris and Dick Kleckner have shown much interest as possible coaches for the new team. A decision was made to keep the age limit nine through twelve.

A motion was also made and passed that anyone desiring membership to the League will pay a $2 membership fee and in return will receive a membership card. This will include all officers, coaches, directors, advisory board, cheerleader sponsors, and any other interested person in the community. A membership drive will be had to gain community membership.

A suggestion was made that each boy will pay a $2 registration fee in the fall of '62. This pending suggestion will be acted on at the February meeting.

The following is a statement of the financial standings of the League:

Income—Game, $253.24; donations, $333.46; dinner, $100.00; bake, $68.39—Total $755.09.

Expenses — Trotta Appliance, $650; Sec. of State, $21.00; Cockran Hill and Co., $38.35; Harrington School, $13.22; Hi-Grade Dairy, $7.92; Nancy Thompson, $18.56; Acme Markets, $5.76; Huber Baking Co., $5.00; Huber and Company, $100.16; Taylor Hardware, $516.80—Total $733.27.

Balance to be paid on uniforms

The Jr. Football meetings are held the third Monday night of each month in the field house at 7:30 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend these meetings.

Legion Junior Basketball News

The feature game of the American Legion Junior Basketball League card on Saturday saw Jim O'Neal's Eagles defeat Ted Layton's Hawks in a battle between unbeaten teams. The game was a close one with the Eagles finally prevailing 19-15.

The Hawks later knocked off the Falcons 22-6. Bill Minner's Warriors bested the Globetrotters 35-9 and moved into third place.

Bob Jester's Celtics narrowly missed victory the previous week when they dropped a decision by two points. This time out they were not to be denied as they broke into the win side of the ledger for the first time by taking the Falcons 26-9.

Is Your Dog Licensed? Dog owners are urged to license their pets. For the convenience of persons in Delaware, outside the city limits of Wilmington, most hardware and sporting goods stores and some Justices of Peace are licensing agents.

Owner of dogs north of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal must present a rabies inoculation certificate when purchasing their 1962 license. In former years there has been some confusion regarding the length of time for which the dog was immunized. Check the rabies certificate for the term of immunity for your animal. All dogs inoculated at clinics in the New Castle County area were given a three-year serum.

The following clinics have been scheduled by the New Castle County Health Unit.

Feb. 15, 2 to 4 p.m., Brandywine Fire Co., Bellefonte; Feb. 19, 10 a.m. to 12 noon, Delaware City Fire Co., Del. City; Feb. 19, 2 to 4 p.m., Newark Central Jr. High, Activities Room, Lovett Ave. Entrance, Newark; Feb. 22, 2 to 4 p.m., Holloway Terrace Fire Co., Holloway Terrace; Feb. 27, 2 to 4 p.m., Minquas Fire Co., Newport; March 5, 10 to 12 noon, Hockessin Fire Co., Hockessin; March 5, 2 to 4 p.m., Talleyville Fire Co., Talleyville. Licenses will be available at the clinics.

All dogs over four months of age must be licensed. The license fee is $1. Dog license tag must be attached to a collar and worn by the dog at all times.

Harrington School Notes

Mrs. Brobst—Grade 5
Andrea Walls got all A's for her first semester average. The following boys and girls got all A's and one B: John Swain, Pat Ryan, Barbara Callaway, and Judy Davis. Chuck Peck and Shelly Harris got all A's and 2 B's. These boys and girls got all A's and B's (no C's): Mike Adams, Gerald LeCates, Oscar Matthews, Mike Parsons, Randy Manges, Lynn Dean, Cherry Holloway, Jeanne Reese, and Patty Tucker.

Mrs. Marvel—Grade 1
Johnny Schreck and his family went to Wilmington last weekend where his father took a train to New York to attend a meeting of the Huber Bread Company.

Hal Blades showed us a cardboard fish pond which he pushed out of a book and taped together. It was very interesting to hear him tell about the different kinds of fish.

Sandra Irwin and Johnny Boone brought records for our rhythm period.

Beverly Short is home from the hospital but unable to attend school. We miss her very much.

Mrs. Grant—Grade 1
We have made some nice trains and have displayed them on the bulletin board in the corridor.

Terry Turcotte has a new dog named Echo. It is a bassett hound.

We are working on our numbers doing one to one hundred, five to one hundred, and two to one hundred.

Some of us have our new number books. We like to work in them.

Commercial Club Dance
The Commercial Club of Harrington High School will sponsor a dance Friday evening February 2 after the basketball game with Felton School. The students of Felton School will be invited.

Game with Felton Friday
The Harrington High School basketball team will play against Felton High School, Fri., Feb. 2. The game will start at 7 o'clock in the Harrington High School gymnasium.

Girls Down Milton
The girl's varsity basketball team had its third straight win over Milton, 35-34, Friday, Jan. 26.

The score was very close throughout the entire game, but in the last minute the Harrington girls froze the ball.

The scoring was done by Chris Coody with 21 points, Janie Phillips with 8 points, and Linda Smith with 6 points.

Class News
Students of Mr. McDonald's typing classes are starting the new semester by typing a booklet on manners—"The Right Thing to Do." This is a project on which the students will be graded. The work will require approximately a week and a half for completion.

One section of the 10th grade geometry class is studying parallel lines, corollaries, and theorems. The students prove the various triangles congruent by means of corollaries or by means of postulates. The class will use this information in the study of unequal angles in a later chapter.

Mr. Melvin Brobst, band and Glee Club director, made some changes in the music schedule for the second semester.

Glee Club which met twice each week last semester will meet only once this semester. The reason for this is that the band is now having three rehearsals instead of only two.

Franklin Hendricks, a Junior at Harrington High School, will be taking Becky Moore's place as drum major, as Becky will be graduating this year.

Mechanical Drawing Offered
A mechanical drawing class has been started this semester by Mr. Nasser. The boys who meet every day second period are sanding down their drawing boards.

This class will be a continuous one, that is, one which will begin for next year where it will leave off this semester.

The class will teach some basic concepts of architecture.

CARVEL GIVES DEMOCRATS FISCAL CREDIT

Gov. Elbert N. Carvel Tuesday gave his Democratic administration (including the General Assembly) all the credit for "putting the state on a sound financial basis."

He also credited the administration and Assembly for initiating progress in serving human needs.

He predicted that as a result of Delaware's current financial status, $7 million worth of state bonds will be sold soon at a very low interest rate.

"The financial community (in New York)," he said, "is impressed with the way the Democratic majority in the General Assembly has put the state on a sound financial basis for next year so that we can expand our programs of rehabilitation."

He also said the bond people are impressed with the way Delaware is eliminating its deficits.

The governor read from a prepared statement, which sounded like a preview of much of what he will say to the General Assembly when it convenes next week.

He declared that his administration (and at all times he included the Democratic majority of the General Assembly) had had to face a number of major emergencies left over from the Boggs Republican Administration.

"We not only met these emergencies, but we also made a start on rejuvenating our programs of serving human needs. Increased appropriations were provided for: mental health, education, corrections, youth services, increased police force, health, weights and measures enforcement, the planning office, the tax department and for an audit and accounting survey.

"It is quite obvious that the debt would not have been paid and these improvements in services for our citizens would never have been possible without increased revenue.

"Those who opposed the necessary revenue for human services must bear the full responsibility for opposing progress for our people. The Democratic majority in the General Assembly is solely responsible for the progress we were able to initiate.

Rehabilitation will be the local point of the administration program. Committees are already hard at work in this area: (1) State Council of Presidents and Executive Rehabilitation Committee, (2) the Mental Health Committee, (3) the Committee for a New Corrections System and (4) the Governor's Committee on Retraining for Employment.

"I will review the recommendation of these committees as they report, and have administration legislation prepared. For instance, the Committee on Retraining for Employment has already made five specific recommendations:

"1. Supplementary appropriation for vocational training and rehabilitation (H. B. 415). We supported this bill and it was passed.

"2. Prevailing wage rate on state construction (H. B. 29). We are supporting this bill and it has been passed by the House.

"3. Single registration for apprenticeship training, and elimination of jurisdictional differences between the Apprenticeship Councils and the Vocational Advisory Board. We are approaching this through executive leadership.

"4. Plan to allow unemployed to receive benefits while participating in a training program. The administration bill has been prepared.

"5. A State Apprenticeship Council under the new State Department of Labor and Industrial Relations."

Mrs. Archibald Lank

Mrs. Priscilla G. Lank, Frederica, died Friday in the Milford Memorial Hospital.

She was a member and past president of Blue Hen Auxiliary. She was a past department president of the State Department VFW Auxiliary.

Mrs. Lank also belonged to World War I Barracks No. 245, Rehoboth Beach.

Mrs. Lank retired five years ago after 42 years with Diamond State Telephone Co.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Charles Clark, Rochester, N. Y., Mrs. Arthur Stokesbury, Smyrna, and Mrs. Rowe Pleasanton, Jr., Salisbury, Md.; three grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Services were scheduled at 2 p. m., Monday from the Lofland Funeral Home, Milford, in charge of the Rev. George Bishop, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, of which she was a member.

ACP Program Includes Wildlife Practices

Available to farmers this year through the Agricultural Conservation Program is cost share assistance in developing wildlife habitat. Included in these practices is establishment of wildlife food plots and shallow waterfowl ponds.

Hunter Bag Survey

During the 1961-62 upland game season a voluntary bag check was conducted on the Little Creek Wildlife Area. On the available 300 acres of upland 353 hunters reported taking 301 rabbits, 66 quail and 38 pheasants.

Farm Game Program

In co-operation with farmers, your commission maintains a food and cover developing and maintenance program for wildlife. The object of this program is to provide improved living conditions for wild animals "on the land" so that the maximum recreational and economic values of wildlife will be enjoyed by our people.

Work on the land has become necessary to provide food and cover for wild animals at a time when many modern agricultural practices create conditions highly unfavorable to them.

The technical and material services provided by this program without cost to landowners include:

Examination and consultation with the owner on wildlife management plans.

Furnishing owners with special planting stock, such as shrub lespedeza and multiflora rose, to provide food and cover for wildlife.

Furnishing machinery and labor to assist in preparing and planting sites.

Assistance to owner in building wildlife ponds.

Council with individuals or groups interested in any phase of wildlife management.

For further information interested persons may contact the Delaware Game and Fish Commission, Dover, or any field employee of the commission.

Univ. To Host Third Language Summer Institute

The University of Delaware, cooperating with the language development program of the United States Office of Education, will offer its third Summer Language Institute from June 21 to August 10.

The institute is designed to provide secondary school teachers of German a practical opportunity to become more effective in their teaching, through intensive audio-lingual practice including use of the university's modern language laboratory, experience with latest methods and techniques of modern foreign language teaching, and civilization and culture study.

A total of 80 such summer institutes have been authorized under provisions of the National Defense Education Act. The university will also serve the states of Maryland, the District of Columbia, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida.

Governmental stipends for public school teachers and paid tuition fees for private school teachers are available upon application, which should be post-marked before March 1. Brochures covering the institute are available upon request. Teachers who participated in previous language institutes are not eligible to attend this summer. Courses offered during the seven-week program may be taken for graduate credit.

Participants will be housed together and will dine together in order to provide practice in hearing and speaking German outside of class. Native speakers will join the group to help keep the conversation going.

The university's regular summer program of athletics and cultural activities will be available to those attending. There will be weekly films in German.

The institute will be conducted by Dr. Max S. Kirch, associate professor of modern languages, assisted by Dr. Elizabeth E. Bohning. Courses will be conducted by members of the university staff and invited specialists. Applications or requests for information should be directed to Dr. Kirch.

Tips to Farmers

By Mortner M. Caplin Article 4 in a Series of 6 Farm Expenses

Do farm business expenses vary greatly from expenses of other types of businesses?

Not really. The normal and ordinary expenses of operating any business are deductible, and this holds true for farmers. Of course, there are certain deductions to which farmers are entitled that most other businessmen would not have, such as fertilizer, for example. However, most of the expenses are common to any business; such things as wages, machine hire, repairs and maintenance, interest, taxes, supplies, and freight are deductible.

What are some of the common errors made in claiming expenses?

A very common error is the claiming of expenses which are, either wholly or in part, personal expenses. For instance, the total real estate taxes on a farm, including a personal residence on the farm, is often deducted in full, as a business expense. Only the portion pertaining to the farm land and farm assets is deductible as a business expense. The taxes on the residence would be deductible as an itemized deduction if the standard deduction isn't claimed. We might go into that a little later.

Another rather common error is the claiming of capital expenditures, such as the cost of erecting a new barn, as an expense. The cost of such an item is not deductible but, normally, is subject to an allowance for depreciation.

Another error is the claiming of expenses of raising livestock and poultry consumed by the farmer and his family.

How does a farmer claim taxes on a farm when only one tax bill is received for both the farm and his residence?

The taxes must be prorated between the farm assets and the nonbusiness assets. One way to do this would be on the basis of the real estate assessed valuations.

You mentioned capital expenditures; are these only the purchase or the erection of new buildings?

No, the definition isn't that narrow. At the risk of being somewhat technical, it is an amount paid for or the incurrence of a debt for the acquisition, improvement, or restoration of an asset having a useful life of more than one year. For instance, the costs of purchasing a tractor, putting a new roof on a barn, purchasing livestock for dairy or breeding use, or drilling a well would all constitute capital expenditures. These costs would not be deductible as current business expenses.

Does the farmer ever get a tax deduction for these costs?

Yes, he gets a depreciation allowance which allows him to claim the costs less salvage value over the life of the asset. However, assets such as land, that do not have a limited useful life cannot be depreciated.

How is depreciation computed? The most common method of computing depreciation is by what is called the "straight line" method. The cost of an asset less its estimated value at the end of its useful life is deducted in equal annual amounts over the life of the asset. For example, a farmer might buy a tractor for $4,000 which should last him ten years and be worth approximately $600 at the end of that time. The allowable depreciation for each of the ten years would be $340, one-tenth of the cost less the estimated salvage value.

There are other methods which can be used, the most common of which are known as the "declining balance" method and the "sum of the years-digits" method. These methods give a larger depreciation deduction when the asset is first purchased, and a smaller deduction when the asset nears the end of its useful life.

There is also a provision for additional depreciation in the year of purchase for personal property purchased after 1957, having a useful life of six years or more. The additional allowance is 20 per cent of the cost without any reduction for salvage value. There is a maximum cost of assets on which the additional first year depreciation may be based. The maximum is $10,000 on a separate return, and $20,000 on a joint return; in other words, the additional first year depreciation cannot exceed $2,000 on a separate return and $4,000 on a joint return. The Farmer's Tax Guide has a more detailed explanation of the depreciation deduction and the methods of computing it.

Carlos H. Jewell

Carlos H. Jewell, 55, a farmer and lifelong resident of the Greenwood area, died Sunday in Kent General Hospital.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Jewell; by a sister, Mrs. Viola Smith, Greenwood, and by a foster sister, Mrs. Edna Donovan, Millsboro.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon from the Fleischer Funeral Home, Greenwood.

Bridgeville Wins From Harrington

Tuesday night at Bridgeville the Harrington High basketball Lions started with a rush but a letdown in the latter part of the first quarter and a portion of the second period eventually caused the locals to be done in 68-58 by the home Mustangs.

The Lions led by 16-2 early in the contest but a Bridgeville surge netted nine straight points and brought them within striking distance at 16-11 by the end of the period. The winners continued their hot shooting in the second chukker as they put the game on ice with a terrific 28 points.

As an illustration of the magnitude of this feat, no other Henlopen Conference school logged more than 18 points in one period in the five games contested Tuesday night.

In the second half Harrington tallied 26 points to the Mustangs 27 in a game effort to close the gap but only succeeded in keeping the score close.

The locals put on their best offensive show of the season. Jeff Adams regained his shooting eye and turned in his best performance thus far as he led Harrington with 19 points. George Collins aided with 12 markers. Bill Adams played well in his second game of the campaign.

Felton came here tonight (Friday). Comparative scores against common opponents indicate a close contest may be in the offing.

Greenwood Wins, Regains Top Spot

Greenwood's Foresters regained undisputed possession of first place in the Eastern Division of the Henlopen Conference as they cruised to a surprisingly easy conquest of Delmar.

Delmar had shared the top rung of the ladder with the Foresters after the Railroaders had knocked off a couple of the loop's best in their last two outings.

Greenwood led all the way as they posted commanding margins in every frame but the third which was virtually even.

Julian Woodall paced the victors with 20 points. Bruce Henry added 14 points as this duo outscored the entire Delmar squad. Woodall is another little guy, who is doing well in a game tailor-made for the big boys.

Gardener's Hints For February

Force Branches Now for Bloom

How about some colorful branches of flowering shrubs to brighten up your dining room table? It's easy to force flowering trees and shrubs for indoor bloom in February and March. Forsythia is one of the easiest. Saucer Magnolia are attractive even before the buds open. Pussy Willow, Cornelian Cherry, and similar shrubs will open in ten days to three weeks. Most shrub benefit by soaking in lukewarm water 24 hours before arranging in a container.

Order Strawberry Plants Early

Strawberries should be set out as soon as the pound can be worked in the spring. This usually means in March or early April. Order now to be sure of early delivery. Be sure to order virus-free plants for best results. Some of the best home garden varieties are: Fairfax, Pocahontas, Surecrop and Midway for a mid-season crop and Robinson Sparkle of Jerseybelle for late varieties.

Prune grapes early to avoid excessive bleeding. Fruit trees like apples, peaches, and ornamental fruit trees may be pruned as soon as the severe winter is over.

Re-pot house plants that are pot-bound. Use good garden loam plus plenty of humus like leaf mold or peat moss. If your soil is heavy, add sand or vermiculite.

Why not try some different vegetables this year? There are many new varieties of leaf lettuce that are delicious if planted early in the spring. Try Ruby, an All-American Winner. Salad Bowl and Oak Leaf are also popular leaf lettuce varieties. Endeavor, New Zealand Spinach, and Swiss Chard are all easily raised and are a welcome change of greens.

Chubby Checker's "Twist Around the Clock" At Reeds, Feb. 1-2-3

Whoopie! Yes, everybody's doing it! Of course, it's the dance that has taken the nation by storm. Yes, the "Twist" is Twisterific. Go get your dancing shoes in order and rotate with the family to The Reese Theatre, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, Feb. 1-2-3, and see Chubby Checker, the man who originated it in Columbia's "Twist Around the Clock" with Dion and a bevy of entertainers including the Marcells with the co-feature, "Valley of the Dragons," said to have a million thrills, it looks as if this is one of the most enjoyable all-family shows of the season.

A performance by public demand, might be called the presentation of Walt Disney's "The Parent Trap," with Haley Mills acknowledged by the entire motion picture field as it's great teen-age star, at Movie Center, Sunday and Monday, Feb. 4-5. Everything one might expect in entertainment one may find in "The Parent Trap". The ever thrilling, "Dragstrip Girl," adds to the excitement of this unusual entertainment.

Of interest to Mom and Dad is the fact that all children under 12 years of age are free if with parents.

Make Home Clean And Safe For Spring

Make spring housecleaning time also a time to promote the safety of your family. Joanne Reitz, extension home management specialist, University of Maryland, offers these tips on conducting a safe spring clean up around the home and garden. Use water and mild soap for cleaning; but if a stronger soap is desired, a jelly of it should be made before using.

Never leave buckets of hot water unguarded on the floor—even for a minute.

Do not use carbon tetrachloride, gasoline, benzene or kerosene for cleaning. If using turpentine, avoid using it near an open flame.

Never pour kerosene into a stove or furnace.

Do not place combustibles near range or furnace.

Snow Leaves Marks On Wallpaper

"No, it's not spring housecleaning time," says Joanne Reitz, extension home management specialist, University of Maryland, "but the snowy weather may have left its mark on your home."

"Why not get rid of finger marks and smudges that find their way on wallpaper before their removal becomes a real task?", she asks.

Test wallpaper to see if it is plastic treated. Rub a small, inconspicuous spot with a damp cloth dipped in cool sudsy water.

If it dries with a good appearance and colors do not run, you can assume the paper is washable.

To clean this type of wallpaper, dust with clean mop or vacuum cleaner attachment. Make a sudsy solution of detergent and cool water. Work from baseboard to ceiling, washing an area about two feet by two feet, without scrubbing or soaking. Continue this procedure, always overlapping the previously cleaned part.

Clean finger marks with an art gum eraser.

Grease or oil spots can be removed by 1. Making a thick paste of fuller's earth and a non-tetrachloride-type cleaning fluid, applying mixture to spot and after drying, brushing mixture off; or by 2. pressing a white blotter on the spot with a hot iron for one or two minutes.

863,000 Pounds Surplus Food Given to Needy

Nearly 863,000 pounds of surplus foods, having market value of approximately $300,000 were distributed to Delaware's needy during the last quarter of 1961 according to Alexis Tarumianz, director of the Delaware State Agency for Surplus Property.

In a letter to Governor Elbert N. Carvel, Mr. Tarumianz has reported that the Government Surplus Foods for Needy Families Program, administered in Delaware by his agency, provided 862,811 pounds of surplus foods to the state's needy during the period October 1 through December 31, 1961, at a total operating cost of but $9,650.

An average of 19,585 people per month participated in the program with 17,769 aided during October, 19,434 during November, and 21,552 during December. The December distribution was accomplished prior to the holiday season and resulted, according to Mr. Tarumianz, from a concerted effort on the part of state, county and private organizations.

While there was little variance in the number of New Castle County residents assisted during the quarter, 12,358 in October, 12,056 in November and 12,317 in December—gradual increases were noted in Kent and Sussex Counties according to Mr. Tarumianz's report. In December, 3,510 Kent County residents and 5,725 Sussex County residents participated in the program as compared to 1,682 for Kent and 3,729 for Sussex in October and 3,230 for Kent and 4,148 for Sussex during November.

Eleven surplus commodities—butter, rice, powdered milk, flour, corn meal, dried eggs, lard, beans, oats, peanut butter and canned meats—were distributed in Delaware during the three-month period.

Rural Family Purchases To Be Surveyed

A scientifically selected group of Maryland's rural families will be asked soon to report on the things they bought in 1961, it was announced today by Mr. C. N. Guellou, State Agricultural Statistician, at College Park, Md.

Questions about their purchases will be asked as part of a nation-wide survey of consumer expenditures, first of its kind in 20 years. Information about families on farms and in towns under 2500 population will be
