

City Tax Rate Undecided Until Revenue Is Estimated

The City Council, at a special meeting Monday evening, decided to withhold its establishment of the tax rate until after appeal night.

After raising the assessment from 35 per cent to 60 per cent recently, it had decided to lower the tax rate from $1.40 per hundred to a tentative 90c.

At its Monday night meeting, it was supposed to make further downward revisions, but withheld establishing the tax rate for the following reasons:

1. Monday night it declared several pieces of land, heretofore declared as farmland and, hence, not taxable, to nonfarm land and, hence, taxable, and moved it to be added to the tax list for reassessment. The land belonged to Leonard Harrington, Ralph Smith, and Baynard Smith.
2. It would wait for appeal night, still to be determined, since, if any appeals for downward revision in the assessment were granted, it would affect the tax rate.

By the City Charter, the tax rate can be no more than enough to pay routine expenses and interest on bonds, loans, etc.

The taxes usually provide some $40,000, for routine, or normal expenses, plus interest.

The tax list can be hung as late as March 15, but the Council decided on March 1. It was the opinion of City Attorney Herman C. Brown, who attended Monday night's meeting, that the tax rate could not be determined until appeal night.

The value of Harrington assessments was $4,379,833, under the 60 per cent assessment, according to Assessor Mrs. Keith Burgess, but did not include the properties put on the rolls Monday night.

The Council was scheduled to meet Wednesday night to accept the assessment.

In other business Monday night, it was brought out the City still wants a policeman since an accepted applicant had turned the job down.

A complaint was made that police were not on the job as watchmen at the crossings at the school during the opening and closing hours. The city manager, George S. Graham, said he would relay the complaint to Chief of Police Ernest Kohlend. He added that the Council had control over the police, though it could act on the advice of the Police Commission.

Free Hearing Test By Moose Lodge

The free hearing screening test which will be conducted by the Harrington Moose Lodge under the direction of chairman Earl L. Yoder will continue each evening next week from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., beginning the 5th of March and ending the evening of March 9. Ralph Wagner, nationally known hearing specialist in a communication to Oliver Reed, Governor of our State, advised that "of the fifteen million Americans who are hard of hearing, at least three million are children who are not now known to have a hearing loss. Early detection and prompt treatment can spare children the possibilities of a life-long handicap.

Each child or adult taking the test will be given a report card indicating their hearing capabilities. If a deficiency is detected, a report card is given to the subject and is then advised to see his or her personal physician for further examination. No opinions or medical advice is offered by the trained personnel in charge of the hearing program.

Harrington Heart Fund Drive Short Of Goal

Preliminary returns for the 1962 Heart Fund Campaign in Harrington and the surrounding rural community give every indication that the final figure will exceed that of last year although it will fall short of the $1000 goal.

The solicitors who participated by contributing many hours of volunteer work to this worthwhile cause are to be commended for their efforts.

Despite all the viruses, bacteria, airplane crashes, beserk madmen, stray bullets, slippery bathtubs, speeding cars, avalanches, shipwrecks, earthquakes, maddened lovers, windstorms and "people's democracies" heart and circulatory diseases are still the nation's No. 1 killer and account for 54% of the deaths.

For many years when a friend or relative died and their death was attributed to heart it was generally accepted that "that was that."

A group of physicians in 1924 rose up in protest against this status quo. They formed a small professional society and named it the American Heart Association. From that year until 1941 they struggled valiantly on a small budget and limited time to alter their professional hours to conquer but a minimum number of the multiple problems involved.

By 1941 they knew their resources were too limited and they would have to appeal to the public. That being the year of the great war interfered with their plans so it was not until 1946 that they could attempt to implement them.

The first problem, of course, was money. It looked as if they faced an indefinite postponement because it takes a big push to get a national foundation off the ground floor.

It was here that the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary came into the picture. They had long been looking for a victory over rheumatic fever, the biggest killer and crippler of children. A problem they had encountered in connection with their Child Welfare Program. They were also concerned with high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries and stroke victims in connection with their rehabilitation program.

Impressed with the potential good of a National Heart Association and its research program they each contributed $25,000 for a total of $50,000 and after two years the American Heart Association was reorganized as a volunteer organization.

In the short fifteen years since then your dollars have financed a program that has resulted in machines and techniques for open heart surgery; diagnostic principles heretofore undreamed of; diets to reduce the incidence of heart disease; drugs to overcome cardiac problems; plastic parts to replace actual parts of the heart and rehabilitative devices and exercises to make a stroke victim self sufficient relieving his family of constant care.

Your Delaware Heart Association goes steps further; it maintains clinics at Delaware, Memorial and Beebe Hospitals to which you physicians can refer you; hospital care is partially or totally provided for those unable to pay; surgery on the same ba-

U. of D. Adds Faculty Member

The appointment of Dr. John W. Shirley, dean of the faculty at North Carolina State College, as provost and vice president for academic affairs of the University of Delaware was announced by President John A. Perkins.

The provost at the university is the chief educational officer, second only to the president, and responsible to him in all his assigned duties.

Dr. Shirley, who will join the Delaware faculty not later than July 1, 1962, will succeed Dr. Carl J. Rees, who retires from the provost's position after 42 years of university service.

"Finding a man with the necessary qualifications for this important post has not been easy," President Perkins said. "We have been quietly searching for the right man for more than two years. Over that period the recommended for consideration, letters inviting interest in the position were sent to over twenty individuals and five candidates were brought to the campus.

"Dean Shirley has an excellent educational and administrative background which equips him admirably to carry on the diverse functions performed by his predecessor. Delaware is most fortunate in attracting a man of his competence and stature.

"Naturally, it would be impossible to find a new person with the store of knowledge about the university, an understanding of it and the devotion to it which Carl Rees possesses. In many respects, there can be no replacement for him."

Dean Shirley comes to the University of Delaware after having served for 13 years as dean of the school of general studies and dean of the faculty at North Carolina State College. He has been a visiting lecturer in history at California Institute of Technology and was the recipient of a Guggenheim Fellowship under which he studied in England for three years.

Dean Shirley is a graduate of the University of Iowa, where he also received his Ph. D. degree. He has taught at both Iowa and Michigan State, and has served as a consultant to the National Science Foundation. He is an officer and member of many professional organizations including the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the American Conference of Academic Deans, the American Council on Education, the American Society for Engineering Education, the Modern Language Association and the American Association of Land-Grant Colleges and State Universities.

He and his wife, the former Geraldine E. Lewis, have two daughters, Jean Ann and Linda Carol, both Merit Scholarship recipients.

Dr. Rees has spent virtually his entire professional career at the University of Delaware, joining the faculty as an assistant professor of mathematics in 1920. During his many years of service, he has played an important role in the development of the university, as teacher, department chairman, summer school director, divisional director, dean of the graduate school, acting dean of engineering, research advisor and provost.

A native of Millersville, Pa., Dr. Rees was graduated from Franklin and Marshall College in 1918, with an A.B. degree, and received his masters' degree from the University of Chicago in 1925. The University of Pennsylvania awarded his doctorate in 1940 and Franklin and Marshall College conferred upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Science in 1950.

During the first World War, Dr. Rees served in the Army, winning a commission as a second lieutenant. Shortly after the war he joined the faculty of the University of Delaware where he has remained except for a 14 month's leave during World War II to serve as operations analyst with the Air Force. Earlier in the war years, he was a consultant to the Navy Department for mathematics in the "V" programs. His numerous publications include a book of which he is editor and co-author, "Nautical Mathematics and Marine Navigation," published by MacMillan in 1945.

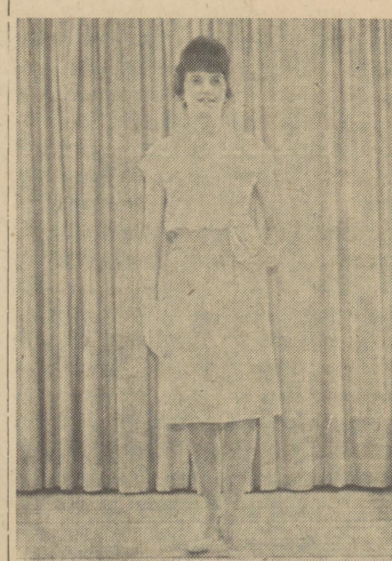

Dr. Rees also was a civilian advisor to the AAF in England and China in 1944 and 1945, during which he was responsible for studies and analysis of the varied problems of logistics, air warning nets, weapon selection and bombing analysis. He was awarded the Medal of Freedom for his distinguished contribution to the war effort.

Dr. Rees has been an active member of the American Legion,

Mrs. Albert Price and Miss Marilynn Jarrell Winners in Sewing Contest

The gray skies and rainy drizzle of Tuesday afternoon did not dampen the spirits of nearly 100 Kent County club women who were guests at the reciprocity meeting of the Harrington New Century Club.

Mrs. Charles L. Peck, Jr. welcomed the ladies and members of the host club. She introduced the presidents of the seven other Kent County clubs, asking them and their members to rise. Mrs. William W. Sharp gave five scripture readings pertaining to clothing.

Mrs. Peck then introduced Mrs. James Moore who was chairman for the program of the afternoon "Vogue Recipes." This is the annual sewing contest for club members sponsored by a pattern magazine.

The contest is divided into two parts, club member division and student division. With Mrs. Calvin Wells serving as narrator, the fashion show of contestants was begun. Miss Ann Hoffman, Miss Dawn Hopkins, Miss Marilynn Jarrell and Miss Sarah Moore modeled their costumes to the applause of the audience. In the club member division Mrs. H. Arthur Hoffman, Mrs. Joseph Konesey, Mrs. James D. Moore, Mrs. Samuel M. Williams, Mrs. Leonard Masten Sr. modeling the suit of Mrs. Norman Oliver, Mrs. Albert Price and Mrs. Francis Winkler, were the contestants.

As special entertainment Miss Becky Moore showed the versatility of an outfit that she had made, changing accessories to make the costume suitable for an entire day's activities. Mrs. Charles Marvel of Delmar also modeled an outfit that she had had made using $100 which she had won at the Federation Convention in Miami last summer.

Melvin Brobst and the Harrington High School Chorus also sang "By the Light of the Silvery Moon," "There Is a Balm in Gilead," and "I See the Moon." Mrs. Moore presented all of the contestants with small gifts before the judges announced the winners. The judges were Mrs. Katie Thomas, Kent County home demonstration agent and Mrs. Marion MacDonald, Kent County 4-H Agent.

Winner in the student division was Miss Marilynn Jarrell with Miss Sarah Moore receiving second place. Mrs. Albert Price was judged the winner in the club member division. Mrs. H. Arthur Hoffman was placed second. Miss Jarrell will receive $5 from the magazine company and Mrs. Price will be given a year's subscription to the magazine.

Air Guard to Get New Planes

The Delaware Air National Guard will receive the first of its new C-97 "Stratofreighter" transport planes next Tuesday. April 7, the Air Guard will be expanded from a single squadron to a group of three squadrons, and will officially convert from a tactical fighter outfit to heavy air transport, according to Major General Joseph J. Scannell, the adjutant general of Delaware.

The conversion will mean an increase in strength from the present 550 to about 850. It will have 203 officers and men on flying status, compared to the present 36.

General Scannell said the group will receive two more of the four-engine heavy transports in April, and another three in May. Eventual strength will be eight planes, with two complete crews for each.

The new group will be known as the 166th Air Transport Group (Heavy). Under it will be the Air Guard's present 142nd Squadron, redesignated the 142nd Air Transport Squadron. Other components of the group will be the 166th Air Base Squadron, the 166th Consolidated Aircraft Maintenance Squadron, the 166th U. S. Air Force Dispensary, and the 142nd Aeronautical Evacuation Flight. Delaware's 166th Air Transport Group will operate as part of the Georgia Air National Guard's 116th Air Transport Wing.

The Air Guard transport outfits will train under the supervision of the MATS (Military Air Transport Service) headquarters at Maguire Air Force Base, New Jersey. An important phase of their training will be flying operational missions for MATS, delivering MATS cargoes to bases in Europe.

The conversion from jet fighters to multi-engine transports was originally scheduled for last summer. Because of the Berlin crisis, it was postponed so it would not interfere with the squadron's capabilities as a fighter unit. The 142nd has consistently been rated as one of the top tactical fighter squadrons in the Air National Guard in terms of operation readiness.

During the intervening months, many of the squadron's members have gone off to various Air Force schools to learn their new jobs. An Air Force Mobile Training Detachment has been stationed at the Greater Wilmington Airport, conducting classes and training for other men of the Delaware Air Guard.

The Air Guard's new mission will shatter a three-century old tradition in the new organization will be 19 nurses—the first female members of the Delaware militia since the Swedish settlers first organized it in 1654. Three of the nurses will serve in the dispensary. The other 16, all of whom must be flight nurses, will be members of the aeromedical evacuation flight. They will care for patients on the transports when they are used to bring injured or wounded personnel from overseas hospitals to specialized treatment centers in the United States.

Iran's Army possesses nuclear weapons.

His group is opposed to inauguration of nationwide federal marketing orders and the administration's new farm proposals. Dr. A. William Jasper, head of the Poultry Commodity Department of the American Farm Bureau, told 250 members of the Kent County organization Tuesday night at a dinner in Felton Fire Hall.

Dr. Jasper vehemently declared the Department of Agriculture was "trying to get its foot in the door" with a proposed first nationwide federal market order, that for turkeys. This would be accomplished by a referendum of growers.

"If it gets this one in, others are likely to follow, including broilers, potatoes, and milk," explained the dapper Dr. Jasper, who attended Cornell, Vermont, and Ohio State Universities.

He justified his stand by declaring nationwide marketing orders cannot take into consideration regional differences, costs of production practices, and marketing practices.

Turning to the Farm Bureau's opposition to the administration's new farm proposals, Dr. Jasper said they called for strict production controls and quotas on a bushel or unit of production basis. These would affect feed grains, including corn and wheat, and also milk and turkeys.

"If producers vote against the proposals, surplus commodities will be dumped on the market, thus breaking the domestic market," he expounded. "It's either take your right arm or your left arm."

The Farm Bureau has an alternate program which would provide for a gradual return to the free market system, Dr. Jasper and James Baxter, president of the Delaware Farm Bureau, said. This would be accomplished by a voluntary cropland retirement program; in other words, a soil bank, the duo concluded.

Near the close of the meeting Hubert Cannon, vice president of the Kent County Farm Bureau, secured a motion of confidence in the stand taken by Dr. Jasper and Baxter.

Roland Garrison, president of the Kent County Farm Bureau, presided.

Freeman Cites Facts About Farmers

The consuming public owes farmers a debt of gratitude for lower food bills. Secretary of Agriculture, Orville L. Freeman, enumerated these facts, which he said have not received adequate attention:

The farmer is responsible for making food a bargain. The American consumer is better fed, and at lower real cost than ever before, here or anywhere else in the world. The average consumer spends 20% of his income on food, which is less than consumers pay in any other nation.

The farmers today received 12 per cent less for a typical market basket of farm-grown food than he did about 10 years ago. He gets only 39 cents out of every food dollar which the consumer spends today, or about 10 cents less than he got 10 years ago.

Farmer participation in agricultural programs, such as the

Miss Long—Fifth Grade

Miss Long's room has started learning about the subject and predicate of a sentence. Every-one quickly caught on to which part of the sentence is the subject and which is the predicate. You could tell that the people enjoyed learning about them.

In Social Studies we have been reading about the Louisiana Purchase. It tells how our nation had only thirteen states and grew quickly. It said that in 1803 it doubled in size because New Orleans and the land between the Mississippi River and the Rocky Mountains was bought from the French by the United States.

We are making all kinds of kites for our bulletin board. Some people are making box kites others are making the very pretty butterfly kites. The kites will be seen on our bulletin board as soon as the people are finished making them.

Mrs. Hynson—Grade 1:

Ricky Harvey has been absent several days and we miss him. We are enjoying reading in Day In and Day Out and our supplementary readers. Some of us have our Wishing Well Readers, too.

Mrs. Howard—Grade 1:

We have received two cards from Gary Wilkinson as he was on his way to the Philippine Island. One card was mailed from Travis Air Force Base, Calif., and the other from Aloha Tower, Honolulu. We now have 24 children in our class.

Six children are out sick. Some have chicken pox and virus. We will be happy when our classmates are well and back in school.

CLASS NEWS

Mrs. Graden's ninth grade English class is reading Sir Walter Scott's Ivanhoe. Each member of the class made a report on the living conditions and the dress and actions of the Middle Ages.

Mrs. Nassers' mechanical drawing class took a test recently concerning the three views of a figure. Invisible lines, which are represented by dotted lines, were also included in the test.

The class is now working on figures which have the dimensions given.

Mr. Nasser says that the boys must turn in 20 plates, or papers, each, by the end of the marking period.

"What's in that Fertilizer Bag" is being studied by the 9th and 10th grades in agriculture. The boys will learn the different elements in fertilizers and where they come from. They will learn to mix various kinds of fertilizers using different compounds.

Students of Ms. Webb's 7N Home Economics class are trying their hands at cooking. The girls have learned the use of the kitchen utensils and the use of the stove. They have also learned how to measure different quantities of foods.

History Class—Ninth Grade

Chivalry isn't dead! The students of one of Mr. Kramedas' 9th grade history classes have proved this. For two days the boys of 9G opened doors, pulled out chairs, and observed the saying "ladies before gentlemen." However, after two days things were back to normal. No chairs pulled, no doors opened, and no old sayings observed. It was nice while it lasted!

This was done in connection with the study of the Middle Ages by the 9th grade.

The biology class recently examined the body of a pig which had died of pneumonia. Mr. Horst explained the parts of the pig's body, the large and small intestines, the liver, and the heart. He will preserve the pig's skull for the class to examine later.

The boys of the FFA Club brought the pig in Wednesday after-noon after finding out the reason for its death.

For another project members of the class had to keep a record of all they ate over the weekend. This was so that they could count their calories.

New Guard Publication Out

Pennsylvania and Delaware National Guardsmen and Reservists can obtain a new publication just issued by the U.S. Department of Labor which explains their re-employment rights under the 1961 Amendments to the Universal Military Training and Service Act.

According to Van J. Meyl, Regional director of the U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Veterans' Reemployment Rights, single copies of the publication, "Field Letter No. 20," may be obtained free by writing his office at Wolf Avenue and Commerce St., Chambersburg, Pa.

The act, which gives members of the Armed Forces protection of their civilian job rights for up to 4 years of voluntary military service, was amended last October to protect the rights of guardsmen and reservists recalled to duty in the recent military buildup. Many had already served 4 years during the Korean crisis. However, under the amendment, those re-entering the military after August 1, 1961, will not have their prior service counted in the 4-year period.

Director Hugh W. Bradley of the Bureau of Veterans' Re-employment Rights said the pamphlet, "Field Letter No. 20," contains the full text of the re-employment section (sec. 9) of the UMT law and the amended language. It clarifies the 1961 changes in question and answer form.

Mr. Meyl reiterated there was no charge for single copies. Additional copies may be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C., at 15 cents each with a 25% discount for orders in hundred lots.

105 License Revocations During January

The January report on revocations of motorists licenses, issued by the Revocation Division of the Motor Vehicle Department reveals that 8 motorists had their licenses revoked during the month for failing to stop at the command of a police officer.

There were a total of 105 revocations during the month with 95 being for conviction for drunken driving and two for leaving the scene of a personal injury accident.

Of the revocations, 71 were for Delaware motorists convicted in this state and 22 were for motorists from other states while 12 Delaware motorists were convicted of drunken driving in other states. 102 were male and 3 were female. In addition 9 motorists had their period of revocation extended for driving without a license.

Kent & Sussex Counties had 31 of the revocations, with 12 being in Kent, including Milford, of which 5 were from the greater Dover area; and 19 were from Sussex. Two of the motorists having their period of revocation extended were from Sussex.

Of the convictions in this state for drunken driving, 75 were first offenders; 13 had second offense; there were 5 convicted for the third time; and two had fourth convictions.

The age groups from 26 to 45 years had more than half of the convictions; 30 being in the 26 to 36 age-group, and 28 in the bracket from 37 to 45 years. There were 19 in the 46 to 55 age-group; 11 in the 20 to 25 age-group with one in the 16 to 19 age-group; 4 in the 56 to 65 year group, and one in the group aged from 66 to 75 years.

The nation's farmers last year produced more milk than ever before, but consumption of milk and milk products declined by about three per cent. Dr. Roy F. Davenport, director of Sealtest Foods field service department, said in Milford Tuesday night.

Speaking in the Milford High School at the company's annual meeting for its local milk producers, the Sealtest official warned the dairy farmers and their families that this nationwide trend will demand greater efforts by farmers to produce high quality milk.

"We are faced with a serious drop in milk consumption," Dr. Davenport said. "Milk consumption in 1967 fell markedly below the three per cent gain in population. Last year, milk production also increased by about three per cent and the increase is expected to be even greater in 1962. Sealtest, with 65 fewer producers, is currently running about nine per cent ahead of last year in milk production."

"As a result of these developments, farmers who want to continue selling their milk supply will have to place better farm management and pay stricter attention to milk sanitation standards and regulations," he concluded.

In another part of the program, Harry Kaufmann, of the Philadelphia Dairy Council, gave a slide and movie film presentation on the Dairy Council's activities to increase dairy product sales.

The program also included a professional entertainer and refreshments.

Gardener's Hints For March

Seeds of many vegetables and annuals may be started in cold frames or if you have a suitable place in the house.

Now is the time to put ground limestone on the perennial garden. It is needed every 3 or 4 years to keep the soil from becoming too acid. Delphiniums especially appreciate extra lime.

Plant Roses Early—Roses produce more flowers the first year if planted early. Prepare the soil before planting. Use well rotted manure if available. Most soils need lime. Good drainage is essential for roses. Mound up the soil around the canes for the first few weeks.

As soon as the ground can be worked, cool season vegetables should be planted. These include peas, lettuce, onions, cabbage, spinach, radishes, and many others.

March is usually the best month for transplanting trees and shrubs. Why not spruce up your year with a small flowering tree like a Saucer Magnolia, Ornamental Crabapple, Dogwood, or similar small tree? Don't forget the most beautiful spring flowering shrubs. Ask us at the extension service on the second floor of the Dover Postoffice for information on transplanting trees and shrubs.

Many perennials produce more and large flowers if they are divided frequently. Chrysanthemums are a good example of this type. Divide early in the spring so that they will make good root growth before warm weather.

Control Household Pests Now

Few people care to admit they have bugs around the house. But winter is a good time to check around the house for insects, according to George Vapaa, Kent County agent.

His first advice is to read specially prepared bulletins available at his office, or from the extension entomologists at the University of Delaware, as a step in taking action against these pests.

Cockroaches and their eggs are sometimes hidden in open boxes and grocery bags. They may also enter the house through cracks around water pipes and electric wires. To prevent these creatures from entering, the agent suggests making these places as tight as possible.

Cockroaches are controlled best by spraying or dusting, says Mr. Vapaa. Use 2 per cent chlordane, 1/2 per cent diazinon, or 2 per cent malathion, as sprays. Recommended dusts include 5 per cent chlordane, 1 percent diazinon, or 1 per cent lindane. One word of caution he advises. These are poisons and should be handled carefully.

Carpet beetles and moths are not as hard to control as cockroaches, Mr. Vapaa says. Control measures for these include keeping clothing in a tight chest or bag. Naphthalene or Paradichlorobenzene placed in a container also provides protection. Rugs and carpets are sufficiently protected by spraying with DDT.

Janet L. Becker Engaged

Mrs. Thelma T. Becker, Hagerstown, Md., announces the engagement of her daughter, Janet Lee, to George Turner Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. David M. Smith, Salisbury, Md.

Miss Becker, a former local resident, was a June graduate of North Hagerstown High School and is presently a student at Salisbury State Teachers College. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Torbert, Felton, and the great-granddaughter of Fred W. Thomas.

Mr. Smith is a graduate of Wilcomico High School, Salisbury, has served in the U. S. Marine Corps, and is presently self-employed as an architectural draftsman.

An April wedding is planned.

School District To Receive $4558 From Government

The Harrington Special School District will soon receive federal financial assistance, it was revealed last week in a letter from U. S. Senator John J. Williams to The Harrington Journal.

Certified for immediate payment is $4558, according to a communication Sen. Williams received from the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. The report added the money would be received here in a week or two.

Pursuant to Public Law 874, financial assistance is provided to schools in federally affected areas to be used for current expenditures. This area is affected because of the attendance of children of personnel of the Dover Air Force Base.

L. O. O. M. News

During the month of February 83 pieces of clothing were given to needy families. Of this amount of clothing, 63 pieces were for children from 1 1/2 to 8 years of age. This clothing was given to our clothing bank during the months of January and February.

One family in the vicinity of Milford to whom we gave clothing and footwear asked if we had any sheets or blankets. We have none of these items in our clothing bank. Anyone who has used sheets or blankets which they do not intend to use, we would appreciate same for this family and others who may need it in the future.

Anyone who has used clothing, sheets, blankets or footwear that they have discarded, please call any of the following members of the civic affairs committee, giving your complete address and we will gladly call at your home to receive what you have to give.

Alexander Graham Bell, Born 115 Years Ago, Was Master-of-All Trades

Alexander Graham Bell, born 115 years ago this Saturday in Edinburgh, Scotland, came as close as modern man can come to being not a jack-of-all-trades, but a "master-of-all-trades."

If you tried to translate Alexander Graham Bell into Italian, it would probably come out something like Leonardo da Vinci.

Both Bell and Leonardo had tireless curiosity about every facet of life they saw or experienced. Their fields of action diverged but in some cases overlapped. Both men were deeply interested in airplanes. Leonardo once sketched a flying machine with rotating blades in which a man could travel through the air. Bell, who was experimenting with aircraft ten years before the Wright brothers' first successful flight, actually helped build the first Curtis biplane.

Moreover, Bell forecast the helicopter years before it was developed. He was an authority on hearing, acoustics, and speech. He planned the course of study for Helen Keller, a blind, deaf-mute. He once taught a dog to talk, or at least to say "Ow-ah-oo gamama," which was interpreted by the family as "How are you grandma?"

He invented the fastest speedboat of his day.

In the early 1890's he was flying helicopter rotors, though the helicopter itself was 40 years in the future. One of these models he made rotate by jet thrust!

And back up, Cape Canaveral. Bell in 1892 began experiments with rocket propulsion. His fuel was gunpowder mixed with various inert substances—sugar, sand, plaster, with shellac as a binder.

Bell studied botany and the stars and music. He was a co-founder of the National Geographic Society.

In 1909 he experimented with a simple device to save human beings endangered by thirst. He found that the human breath, if passes through a bottle submerged in sea water, caused moisture to condense on the inside of the bottle. Two hours breathing produced a moderate drink of water—fresh but not very tasty. Twelve years later Bell devised a solar still to make fresh water from sea water in an emergency.

When President Garfield was shot, Bell made an electric probe which he hoped would trace the bullet. This he later improved and it was used by surgeons until the discovery of X-ray photography.

Control Household Pests Now

Few people care to admit they have bugs around the house. But winter is a good time to check around the house for insects, according to George Vapaa, Kent County agent.

His first advice is to read specially prepared bulletins available at his office, or from the extension entomologists at the University of Delaware, as a step in taking action against these pests.

Cockroaches and their eggs are sometimes hidden in open boxes and grocery bags. They may also enter the house through cracks around water pipes and electric wires. To prevent these creatures from entering, the agent suggests making these places as tight as possible.

Cockroaches are controlled best by spraying or dusting, says Mr. Vapaa. Use 2 per cent chlordane, 1/2 per cent diazinon, or 2 per cent malathion, as sprays. Recommended dusts include 5 per cent chlordane, 1 percent diazinon, or 1 per cent lindane. One word of caution he advises. These are poisons and should be handled carefully.

Carpet beetles and moths are not as hard to control as cockroaches, Mr. Vapaa says. Control measures for these include keeping clothing in a tight chest or bag. Naphthalene or Paradichlorobenzene placed in a container also provides protection. Rugs and carpets are sufficiently protected by spraying with DDT.

School District To Receive $4558 From Government

The Harrington Special School District will soon receive federal financial assistance, it was revealed last week in a letter from U. S. Senator John J. Williams to The Harrington Journal.

Certified for immediate payment is $4558, according to a communication Sen. Williams received from the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. The report added the money would be received here in a week or two.

Pursuant to Public Law 874, financial assistance is provided to schools in federally affected areas to be used for current expenditures. This area is affected because of the attendance of children of personnel of the Dover Air Force Base.

Advance Payment Available Under Feed Grain Program

Producers who participate in the 1962 Feed Grain Program are entitled to payments for diverting acreage from production of corn and grain sorghum, according to R. Harry Wilson, chairman, Kent County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. Up to half of the estimated payment to be earned may be paid in advance to the producer who signs up under the program.

Chairman Wilson said this program provision would be of substantial benefit to growers who can use some extra ready cash during the spring planting season. Sign-up for the program runs from February 5th through March 30.

The program offers payments to producers for diversion of feed grain cropland to approved soil conserving uses. The program is voluntary, but farmers who co-operate must divert a minimum acreage in order to be eligible for price support on the normal production of their 1962 crop corn and grain sorghum acreage or barley acreage.

Payments under the program will be in the form of a cash advance if the producer so chooses. Each county will have two county average rates of payment per acre for corn, two for grain sorghum, and two for barley. One rate will be based on 50 per cent of the county normal yield per acre times $1.31, $1.93, or $1.04 cents—the county support rates respectively, for corn, grain

Sulky Slants

By MRS. DAVE (PAT) SMITH

This hasn't been much of a week for the trainers out here at the track. Such unpredictable weather. But most of the age horses are as far advanced as the southern tracks.

Some pretty fast miles are in progress now.

Right now you can hear where are you going to race? And when are you moving? It used to be not too long ago if you started racing in May that was considered early.

Now there's talk of indoor racing which would be the year around. Seems to me that would call for a second string of horses just as they have a second team stand-by in football.

Oh well, as they say, as the world turns, so does sports. Anything can happen.

There was a new addition in the Del Manges stable this week. Del's own mare had a beautiful colt. Out of his mare, "True Ann" by "Dean Hanover". Mother and son are doing very nicely.

To me this is really a thrill to see these little babies so dependable on their mothers. You'll find only one in a thousand that ever gets hurt in a stall with their mother. Nature is a wonderful thing.

I've seen these little fellows lying right in the middle of their stall, while the mother will walk all around never touching them.

There will be a dinner dance carried out in St. Patrick's Day colors Saturday night at 6:30, March 3. All horsemen are invited. Cost per plate will be $4. This includes everything.

Mrs. Lucy Quinn again will be in charge of the dinner at the track restaurant.

Lucy, is everyone supposed to be wearing of the green?

According to personnel of the office there were 800 invitations sent out. Oh boy, what a party. Everyone is looking forward to a gala time.

I understand Elizabeth, Lucy's cook, is already in the planning. And believe me it really takes a lot of work to put on a dinner for that many. But everything runs very smooth over there.

Mrs. Minner and Mrs. Cohee were guests of Mrs. Quinn this past week.

I happened to be sitting at their table with Lucy so I asked Mrs. Cohee was she coming to the Horsemen's Dinner Dance, and do the twist.

Well, what a cute answer I received.

"Well, Pat," she said, "if I'd do the twist, my husband probably would go out and get (blank)."

It's good to have a little fun and laughter.

Mr. Shaw, Mr. Harrington, from Felton, and Reese Harrington having lunch and chatting over at track restaurant.

Guess Olin Davis stayed glued to his TV last Monday, sure was really enthusiastic about Glen's orbit. What he thought was really cute about Caroline saying where is the monkey? I guess that will really go down in history.

Mr. Simpson, our general manager, here at the track, had as his guest for a luncheon: superintendents in Art Building for Delaware State Fair: Mrs. A. B. Parsons, Mrs. Ethel Raughley, and Mrs. Cora Bailey, culinary department; Mrs. Harold Schabinger, art department; Mrs. Eva Raughley, Mrs. Ruth Billings, and Mrs. Randall Hill, floral department; Mrs. Luster Rogers, needlework; Mrs. Earl Thomas and Virginia Holloway.

They were making their plans for the coming fair.

Ruth Davis and Mrs. Earl Thomas were discussing the place cards for the dinner.

Virginia and her sister, Francis Hatfield, were chatting over a cup of coffee in track restaurant. Really this office crew is wonderful with everything I ask them.

What would we do without Harold here at the track. You know that song, "Always on Sunday." Well, I had to hunt him up again for an outdoor light plug. He seems to have everything for our questions, do you have that, Harold, and on Sunday.

He's never too busy to say well I'll see, Pat.

Jack Quinn again spent the weekend at home.

Was in Peoples Bank this week and was so glad to visit with Mr. Rash. Haven't seen him for so long. He was always so nice to Dave and me, out here, and so very pleasant when I worked at the Peoples Service station.

It's so nice to have so many old-time friends.

Oh yes, will the lady who wrote me she would give a Siamese kitty please send her address? It came from Wilmington. It was on such a cute card.

I might as well add it to my collection.

I had one for a long time which I called B. W. Christopher. For why, I don't know. But Dave named that cat.

Think this is a cute ending for spring really brings this on with too many kittens.

Healthy kittens want good homes. Loyal, sober, steady, and will do light mouse-work.

Again if anyone has anything of importance you would like to add to this forlorn column, just send it to me, Box 163. If Mr. Burgess, our editor, passes it, it will appear in The Harrington Journal.

This is all folks, see you next week.

Delaware Food Market Report

The advent of spring again points up the increasing abundance of traditional foods of the Lenten season. March will find eggs once more taking the perennial limelight on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's plentiful foods list. Though numbers of layers on farms was down slightly this year, hens are laying eggs at an increased rate. These increases in the production per hen are attributed to improved breeding, nutrition, disease control and management. Retail egg prices have been lower than they were a year ago and they will probably remain so for a while. At the present time Grade A large eggs are the most economical buy.

Eggs suit Lenten meals especially well because they contain the same type of high quality protein as meat. Of course if you combine eggs with cheese you have a definitely protein-rich dish.

During the month of March many meat departments will feature special lamb promotions with emphasis on spring leg-of-lamb and shoulder roast. A mint-kissed lamb roast would be an appropriate welcome to spring's official beginning on March 20. March is another occasion for celebrating for in March comes Pancake Tuesday—so why not follow the American Meat Institute's suggestion of serving a meal of hotcakes and sausages. A platter of sausage patties, bacon and ham slices would add color and flavor to this simple meal.

Continue to expect good buys on beef. Chuck roasts, round steak, and rib roasts are good buys now and will be feature attractions at many meat counters during the month. And, of course, you can expect corned beef to receive undivided attention when St. Patrick's Day comes along, March 17. Current supplies make it a good time to stock your freezer with steaks in anticipation of upcoming cook-outs.

Other plentiful during March are potatoes, peanuts and peanut products, grapefruit, milk and dairy products, and dried beans.

For this weekend there is welcome news—the fresh vegetable supplies are nearly back to normal and prices are lower on a number of winter vegetables. Be sure to check the following: beets, broccoli, potatoes, spinach, kale, sweet potatoes, rutabagas, cabbage and many types of lettuce.

Fresh tropical fruits are fairly common on local markets and all are reasonably priced. The first shipment of Mexican watermelons arrived this week and they are selling at about 25 cents per pound. Strawberries remain plentiful and reasonable. Top selections in other domesticated produce include grapefruit, oranges, avocados, apples, lemons, and rhubarb.

"Sports Odds And Ends"

Harrington High School's cheerleading squad was surprised recently when the teacher in charge of a rival group complimented them on their performance at a recent basketball game. Barbara Spicer is the captain. She and Becky Moore are the only seniors. Others are Priscilla Nielsen, Sylvia Outten, Bonnie Tucker, Barbara Jones, Sharon Walls and Dawn Hopkins.

Bill Santo, football coach at H.H.S., goes to bat for his boys even after their usefulness to him has ended. Bill Porter, a husky senior fullback, could make a fine small college player and his coach is corresponding with several schools in an effort to help the lad further his education. Other Lion coaches and former coaches have done this in the past. Assistance of this type can mean the difference between going to college or missing the opportunity.

Roland Stayton, who carries the mail on R.F.D. 2, has a son Mike, who was a center on one of the Junior Football League squads last autumn. Mr. and Mrs. Stayton are the proud parents of a husky lad born on Washington's Birthday, Feb. 22. The newcomer tipped the scales at 8 pounds and 13 ounces. His father says that this one will be a fullback. However, he will not be named George Washington Stayton.

After watching a few scholastic heavyweight wrestlers in action this winter we have concluded that Cliff Murray of Selbyville High could have made a tremendous schoolboy grappler if the Rebels had a wrestling team. Murray is a giant of a lad, with speed, power and a live of body contact sports.

Bonnie Satterfield, Pat Jack, Geraldine Reed and Betty Lee Wix Lyons, former H.H.S. cagers, have just finished a season of play in the Dover Women's Basketball League. The quartet played for the second-place Consolidated Industries team. Pat and Gerry were guards while Betty Lee and Bonnie were forwards. Bonnie racked up 28 points to lead her team to a win in an important late-season contest. The League titlist was Latex with several Felton girls playing prominent role. These were Barbara Postles, Jean Reed Woters, Shirley Hurd Hammond and Carole Ann Wright Hammond. The last named once lived on Commerce Street in Harrington.

With spring just around the corner track buffs are eagerly awaiting the tinclad sport. A couple of amazing oldsters, who love to run and so all year round, are Mike O'Hara, 48, of New York City, and John A. "The Elder" Kelley, 54, of Boston.

Kelly is nicknamed to avoid confusion with America's premier marathoner, John T. Kelley, a striping of 32. "The Elder" recently finished up near the leaders in an 11 mile race and was just 60 seconds behind the 19-year-old winner. He has competed in 80 marathons.

O'Hara was 14th in a field of 44 in the Cherry Tree Marathon held in the Bronx. He has covered the full marathon distance of more than 26 miles an astounding 97 times.

Bob Creadick, a one time Felton athlete now residing here and Tom Peck stopped in to see De La Warr High clobber Wm. Penn recently in a Blue Hen Conference test. De La Warr is coached by former Harrington High mentor Richard Bradley "Don't call me Brad" Jeffers. His upstate Lions nosed Brandynville 65-64 Friday night and can clinch at least a tie for the BHC title by beating Dickinson and Newark, their two remaining foes.

Legion Junior Cage Loop Ends Saturday

The American Legion Junior basketball league season will end on Saturday at the Harrington High School fieldhouse. The pennant winning Eagles, coached by im O'Neal, will attempt to wind up unbeaten as they take on the cellar-dwelling Globetrotters. Ted Layton's Hawks are aiming to sew up second place as they oppose the Celtics. The other tilt on the card finds the Warriors doing battle with the Falcons. The Warriors could tie for the runnerup spot if they win and the Hawks lose.

On Feb. 17, the Eagles downed the Warriors 31-16 but had a tougher time than expected with Bob Haley's Falcons. The latter squad finally bowed 17-9. The Globetrotters were bested by the Celtics 13-4 and dropped a 22-10 decision to the Hawks.

Last Saturday the Eagles almost had their wings clipped in an aerial duel with their fine feathered frineds the Hawks. It was the closest call of the year for the Eagles as their first-half lead barely stood up against a later surge by the Hawks. The final rally was 21-19. Haley's Falcons, who should have been named Haley's Comets won a close one from the Celtics 25-21 and dropped a tight tilt with the Hawks by a score of 21-15. The Warriors won from the Globetrotters 20-10

H.H.S. Cagers Swamp Delmar

Jim Hawpe's Harrington High basketball Lions played a game Friday night of the type that every coach dreams about as they slaughtered a Delmar High Wildcat squad, that had edged the Lions in overtime earlier in the year.

The locals playing on the home floor started fast and never let up although reserves played most of the second half.

George Collins popped in 15 points in the first half and Jeff Adams tossed in four early baskets while picking up four early fouls. Neither of these lads played much thereafter as substitutes continued to pile up the score.

Harrington's twenty-four point second quarter was five points better than any other Henlopen Conference team could score in the same period of time on Friday night's five-game league card. The Lions' total was at least 10 points better than any previous 1961-62 effort and could have been even higher except that Coach Hawpe gave his reserves a chance to gain much-needed experience. Early in the contest Delmar went into a zone defense. The Lions demoralized the Wildcats by sinking set shots from outside the zone. Collins, shooting from the corner, was the chief offender as he tallied 19 points to lead the scoring. This was probably his best night ever, although he played less than three periods.

Bill Adams was second high game scorer with 12 points. He and Collins together outscored the whole Delmar team. This is a rare feat for two lads who barely top five feet in height. Allen Wix, who might call Collins or Adams "Stretch" because they are taller than he had his best varsity night with eight points.

The Lions now have a chance to escape the cellar in the Western Division of the Henlopen Conference. The locals have won three games and lost ten. Delmar is 3 and 9 and Felton has a 3-8 log.

Harrington ends the season tonight (Friday) at Greenwood. The Foresters lead the Western Division. An H.H.S. win would give the Lions a halfway decent season to quote Coach Hawpe. It is hoped that some of the momentum engendered in the Delmar victory will be left. No team in the entire league could have beaten H.H.S. Friday night. The Lions must play one of their better games if they are to down the Foresters who now boast a record of seven wins in thirteen starts.

Baseball Little League Meeting Tuesday

All interested persons are invited to attend a Little League organizational meeting to be held on the second floor of the First National Bank Tuesday night at 7 o'clock.

Pat Knight, of Dover, who is Delaware Little League representative, will explain the program and all of its ramifications. Chief of these is the fact that the local setup would join the nationally sanctioned program and would abandon the present outlay status.

If enough interest is shown efforts will be made to organize a four team league with all players coming from Harrington. For the past few years between 60 and 80 boys from here have been playing in two different leagues so it is apparent that there are enough lads in this 9-13 age group to easily form an official Little League if the grownups will get together and put it across. Some new blood is desperately needed in the adult sponsor line. Year after year in the various youth sports activities in this area the same names continually pop up. Ted Layton, Bill Minner, Jim O'Neal, Frank O'Neal, Bob Jester, Jack Dill, Jack Swain, Tom Peck, Charles Peck and two or three more sports fans do all the work. Help should come in large quantities from the parents of the youthful participants. Some of these parents are prevented from doing must by their hours of work or other valid reasons. But some others could help if they would. In some cases Mom and Dad only show at sports events if junior is a star.

To get back to some other aspects of the situation. The unofficial Little League with which Harrington teams have been affiliated in the past is slowly disintegrating. Georgetown dropped out a year ago even though Bill Henderson of that town did serve as league president for 1961. Bridgeville will not play in 1962 as they, too, are planning to get together with the official Little League people.

Towns smaller than Harrington now involved with the national group are Milton, Bridgeville, Camden-Wyoming and Middletown. Communities of comparable size with Harrington participating are Lewes, Smyrna and Laurel. If these towns can do it so can we. Then some day Harrington lads may participate in the Little League World Series in Williamsport, Pa. Teams from all over the world play in this horseshoe extravaganza.

Felton Upsets Greenwood Leaders 39-35

Felton High School's scrappy Green Devils took a 39-35 decision from the Western Division leading Greenwood Foresters in a basketball clash at Felton Tuesday night. The Foresters are now tied with Bridgeville for the lead. Only the fact that Bridgeville was surprised by Delmar kept the Greens from dropping to second. Greenwood has two games left and can clinch the division crown by winning both. A split would tie them with Bridgeville and necessitate a playoff game to decide which team would represent the west in the league championship game to be played later this month at John M. Clayton High in Dagsboro with the still undetermined Eastern Division champion.

Tuesday's game was a rough contest with field goals scarce and foul tries plentiful. The Foresters battled right down to the wire as neither side could open up any appreciable lead. Felton led at all the quarter posts and now stands a good chance to finish third in their section after a dismal beginning. The Green Devils are a young team and should be real tough in the next couple of years.

Bruce Henry was game high scorer with 20 points. Henry was the only Forester to get more than one field goal. He also had 12 points from the free throw line.

Dave Morris and Bill Green led the winner with 10 points each Bill Young aided with 8 markers.

In what amounted to a two-girl show Greenwood took the girl's contest 49-45. The host team took a 17-9 first period lead and remained in the van until the Greenwood team caught up and went in front at the start of the final period. Greenwood's Astfalk and Felton's McCloskey had sensational nights as they notched 36 and 34 points respectively. Both girls gained considerable ground in the Henlopen Conference individual scoring race as not other girl in the league made more than 21 tallies Tuesday night.

Felton Extends Bridgeville

Bridgeville's bid to overtake Greenwood for the lead in the Western Division of the Henlopen Conference, almost came a cropper Friday night as Felton's young squad displayed a balanced attack that came close to hobbling the Mustangs.

Bridgeville, playing at home, jumped off to a 15-12 first quarter lead. The Green Devils found the range in the second period and outshot the host squad to deadlock the score 29 all at halftime.

The Mustangs used their height and experience to creep away to a 56-49 win in the second half. The Green Devils were close enough to make the home fans breathe much easier when the final buzzer sounded.

Williams and Morris led Felton with 16 and 12 points respectively. Green, Young and Wood combined for 20 more.

Delmar Girls Best Weakened H.H.S. Cagers

Harrington High's girls' basketball team was minus it's leading scorer, Jane Phillips and its best guard, Jean Thomas, but still had enough power left to hold Delmar to a close 34-27 victory in a game played here Friday night. At full strength the Lionesses would probably have placed this one in the win column.

A 12-3 Wildcat bulge in the second quarter decided the issue as the local lassies outplayed the winners for the rest of the fray. Christy Coady and Linda Smith paced the locals in scoring with 13 and 9 points respectively. Smith, Walls and Nielsen put on a fine, ball-handling show but were unable to get off many shots as the visiting guards were so much taller.

Farmers have tripled their output per hour since 1940, but the increase in farm output has been accompanied by a steadily declining farm income. Increased efficiency either must be tied with a reasonable means of adjusting production or with a way to increase the food capacity of the human stomach.

"Something is very wrong," the Secretary declared, "when the farmer has to work nearly three times as long as most other Americans in order to be able to buy the same food, clothing, appliances and other products."
