

DOLLAR DAYS TO OFFER PATRONS EXCEPTIONAL BUYS MARCH 15-24

The Retail Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce is staging Dollars Days this weekend and next for the first time in more than a year.

In addition to advertising in The Harrington Journal, a number of circulars have been delivered in the community and mailed to the surrounding area.

The participating merchants have gone all-out in giving their customers the best buys in years. Demand for advertising space was exceptional and had to be increased to accommodate the demand.

For the first time in the history of the Chamber of Commerce, practically all leading merchants are taking part. They may be identified by large streamers installed in the windows.

Dollar Days, for the most part, are from March 15 to 24, inclusive.

Coal Slurry Bill Would Hurt PRR, Miller Tells C. of C.

A retired railroad official told the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday at its March meeting at The Wonder R, that he believed passage of the coal slurry bill would have hit the railroad so hard it wouldn't be here.

W. Cliff Miller, former superintendent of signals, said the Pennsylvania Railroad had paid out some $10,600,000 to state residents, in 1961.

The coal slurry bill passed the House of Representatives of the General Assembly, but has not gotten anywhere in the Senate.

The coal slurry bill would permit the transportation of a mixture of ground coal and water thru a pipeline from West Virginia to the users in this state, thus cutting out the transportation of coal. The Pennsylvania ships much coal to power plants in this area.

In other business, the Chamber motioned to leave the matter of the installation of an ice-venting machine, in front of Harold's Market on Commerce Street, to the Zoning Commission and the City Council. It had been asked to express an opinion.

President J. Edward Taylor thanked Thomas N. Clendening for supervising the solicitation of funds for the Heart Campaign in the business district.

Charles L. Peck Jr., wanted the Chamber of Commerce to handle the publication of a program for the Delmarva Chicken Festival to be held here June 14-16, inclusive. It is believed the chamber will handle the project.

College Students From This Area Are Doing Well

The Harrington High School Guidance Office has received the first semester reports on the Harrington students attending the University of Delaware and Madison College.

Of the 17 Harrington graduates attending the University of Delaware, two were on the dean's list, two received academic warnings, and one was dropped. The one dropped was not a recent graduate. The grades the Harrington youngsters received compare very favorably with the grades of students attending the University of Delaware. Our dropout is considerably below the general dropout rate at the university. The three students attending Madison College are in good academic standing.

The guidance director feels that the Harrington Special School District can be quite proud of the achievements that its graduates are attaining at the college level.

Bolling Speaker at Democratic Dinner

The Sussex County Democratic Executive Committee will hold a kick-off banquet Sat., April 14, at 6:30 p. m., in Seaford Municipal Hall.

Arrangements have been made by William Gordy, of Laurel, and banquet chairman to have as the speaker, Richard Bolling, congressman from Missouri.

Bolling received B. A. and M. A. degrees at the University of the South, Sewanee, Tenn. He pursued further graduate work at Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn.

Congressman Bolling enlisted as a private in the U. S. Army in 1941, and served five years, more than four of which were overseas in Australia, New Guinea, Philippines, and Japan. His last assignment was as assistant to General McArthur's Chief of Staff. He was awarded the legion of Merit and Bronze Star. He is presently a lieutenant Colonel in the active reserve.

Mr. Bolling has been a member of Congress since the 81st Congress. He is currently serving as a member of the Joint Economic Committee, and on the House Committee on Rules.

Mrs. Pearl Townsend, of Frankford has been named ticket chairman. Tickets are $5 and may be purchased from Mrs. Townsend or any local Democrat Club president.

U. of D. Adopts Application Deadlines

The University of Delaware has adopted deadlines for applications for admission beginning with the 1962 - 63 school year.

Applications for the fall term must be received by September 1, and for the spring term by January 5, or about three weeks prior to registration.

Dr. Edward Ott, director of admissions, explaining that Delaware is one of few major colleges without such a policy, said the deadlines will apply to all incoming freshmen, transfers and special students.

He termed the move an "administrative necessity caused by the increasing number of applications each year. It wasn't so bad when we were handling 700 new students a year, but the number has grown to over 1200."

The office in the past has processed applications up to registration day, according to Dr. Ott. The extra time will give his staff an opportunity to evaluate each application and confirm dormitory allocations, he said.

BIDS ARE OPENED FOR HIGH SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT

The Building Commission of the Harrington Special School District opened bids for the alterations and additions to the Harrington High School at 2 p. m. Monday.

Base bids received were as follows:

Chas. E. Brohawn of Cambridge, $743,000; John E. Healy, $777,777; J. Roland Dashiell, $761,370, and Hallock Construction, $770,500.

Later in the evening the Building Commission authorized its architect, Buchart Associates of Lancaster, Pa., to study the bids and if everything proved satisfactory, to draw a contract with Buchart Associates under the provisions of State Law accepting the base bid, relocating the present ag shop in a position in back of the field house and demolishing the existing 1912 Building. The base bid plus the two alternates for relocating the building and demolishing the existing building calls for an expenditure of $773,550. It is hoped work will start on this building program by the middle of April.

In the Commission meeting Mr. Adams and Mr. Bedford were also authorized to select and to advertise for bids for items of furniture and equipment for the new Pierre S. DuPont School which will open next September.

Following the Building Commission meeting, at the regular Board meeting it discussed contract renewals for members of the faculty, received the resignation of Mrs. Barbara Hill effective April 30, and discussed job qualifications for this position.

CORRECTION

On circulars, mailed out and distributed with Dollar Days, a mistake was made in the advertisement of W. W. Welch. Lard was priced incorrectly at 2 pounds for 53c. The quotation should have been "2 pounds for 35c." The Journal regrets the error. In the circular in the newspaper, the correction has been made.

School Board Head Files For Re-election

Keith S. Burgess, president of the Board of Education of the Harrington Special School District, has announced that he will be a candidate for re-election. Mr. Burgess is a native of Harrington and has lived here all his life except for five years in the Merchant Marine and the U. S. Army covering the World War II period. He is 39, is married to the former Jane Melvin and has one child, Mathew, age 4. The Burgesses attend Asbury Methodist Church.

Mr. Burgess was charter historian of the Harrington High Alumni Association and is known for his work on behalf of Harrington youth.

The candidate states that he is seeking another term for several reasons. Chief of these is the desire to be a part of a program to continually improve education in the community. Another is to see the present building program completed. New projects are underway in the district at the P.S. duPont School on Mispillion Street and at the present high school site on Dorman Street.

The candidate is a delegate to the National School Boards Convention in St. Louis, Mo., next month and hopes to be able to examine the new techniques in education and to study those which may help solve educational problems in our schools.

Distance Dialing At Phone Company

There's a $25,000 watch dog that can't bark, growl, or bite in Diamond State Telephone Company's Dover central office.

The watch dog is the telephone company's new master test frame which will go on 24-hour guard duty when Direct Distance Dialing is placed in service on April 15.

Starting on that date, direct distance dialing will be introduced for customers served by the following central offices: Avenue (284), Deerfield (335), Exeter (398), Garden (422), Myrtle (697), Olive (653), Redfield - 4 (734), Redfield-6 (736) and Hartly (492), explained Fred Wooten, district wire chief.

When these customers make a long distance call it will be routed through the switching equipment in the Dover office.

"The master test frame is part of the company's preventive maintenance program designed to insure customers trouble-free long distance service," Wooten said.

This program requires periodic equipment inspections by trained telephone men and also mechanical inspections by automatic testing devices, the wire chief stated.

Here's how it works. If a customer dialed long distance call runs into any difficulty as it is switched through the office, the test frame immediately determines the location of the trouble. Then it automatically records on a punch-card the central office equipment in use on the call when the trouble occurred. At the same time it rings a bell alerting central office switchmen.

The central office switchmen immediately determine from the punch-card the exact location of the trouble spot. Then they clear the source of trouble as promptly as possible.

The entire operation of testing, recording and alerting the telephone switchmen takes only a fraction of a second. Meanwhile, the call that encountered the difficulty has been automatically re-routed through other central office equipment and completed.

When Direct Distance Dialing starts Sun., April 15, the average Kent County customer won't be aware of the new $25,000 watch dog. But it will be there keeping its tireless mechanical eye on the thousands of long distance calls to insure fast, efficient service for Kent County customers making their own long distance calls.

Plant Azaleas Now

The blooms of azaleas and rhododendrons can be like jewels among your landscape plantings. And Kent County agricultural agent George Vapaa suggests adding a few to your plan.

Even though many azaleas and rhododendrons are sold while blooming in the spring, it is better to plant them while dormant. These plants grow best in climates that are fairly mild and humid. They need a well drained acid soil. Delaware has the right climate and in many areas, the right soil for their growth.

You can grow azaleas and rhododendrons successfully by following a few simple rules in planting and caring for them. Buy species or varieties that are two years old and adapted to your area. Plant them in a well drained acid soil high in organic matter. Set at the same depth as they grow in the nursery. Protect from drought damage with a mulch and be sure the plants get the equivalent of one inch of rainfall every 10 days. Protect the plants from insect and disease attacks by being alert for trouble signs.

Soil Needs Check-Up

Like machinery and people, your soil needs a periodic check-up. Each spring you repair machinery for the coming seasons' work. The same should be done for your soil suggests George Vapaa, Kent County agent. The best check-up for soils is to take a soil sample and have it analyzed. Soil samples should be taken in the fall for spring-planted crops and in the summer for fall-planted crops, says the agent.

Mr. Vapaa lists 10 basic steps to follow to insure that a good sample is taken.

1. Get a soil test report from your county agent.
2. Select proper sampling tools.
3. Sample unusual areas such as (Continued on Page 8)

THE REV. SYMONDS ACCEPTS CALL IN ARKANSAS

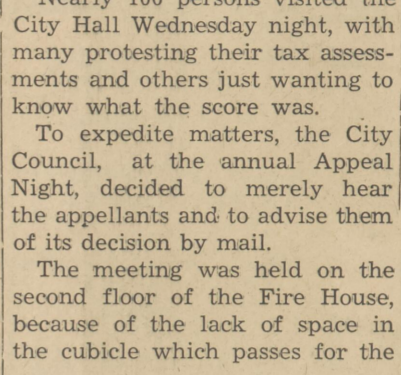

The Rev. John R. Symonds, Jr., vicar of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Harrington, has accepted the call to become the Vicar of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Blytheville, Arkansas. In this new job, Mr. Symonds will serve as pastor of the Blytheville Church, as civilian chaplain to the Blytheville Air Force Base and as the principal of St. Stephen's Day School. The work will be both urban and rural, centered in the city which has a population of about 25,000 and over the entire northeastern corner of Arkansas. With one other Episcopal clergyman, he will serve an area larger in size than the State of Delaware. Blytheville is four miles from the Missouri line, five miles from the Mississippi River, and about seventy miles from Memphis, Tennessee on an inter-continental expressway which links the two.

St. Stephen's, Blytheville, was founded in 1902 and is about 20 per cent larger than Mr. Symonds' Harrington Church. A new church, parish hall, and education wing are under construction and are scheduled for completion before Easter. A large beautiful rectory was completed two years ago.

In addition to the work already mentioned, future plans call for the construction of a home for the aged and another and larger church.

With his departure from Harrington, the Rev. Mr. Symonds leaves a church that has grown by slightly over 1,000 per cent in baptized membership, from a budget of a few hundred dollars a year to a budget of over $31,000 in 1961, and from a single 82-year-old Church building to a new church, parish hall, education wing, etc., situated on a beautiful ten-acre plot. The entire facility is valued at $245,000 of

Corn Silage As Supplement

Farmers who are concerned about a shortage of pasture next summer should investigate corn silage as a supplement, explains George Vapaa, Kent County agent. It can provide a succulent and nutritious feed to bolster sagging milk production of it can be used to supplement expensive hay.
Mr. Vapaa says the first consideration is the selection of a variety suited to your area and soil type. Other factors to consider include total yield, ratio of ears to stalks and maturity date.
A well-fertilized, hybrid variety selected for its silage qualities and properly ensiled, may contain 150 pounds or more of protein per ton of dry matter. On the other hand, poorly suited varieties that have been handled improperly, may be not better than fodder.
Silage quality is usually determined by the ratio of ears to stalks and leaves. Better silage is made from corn with a large number of ears, according to the agent.
He suggests that farmers look for a variety that will produce well when planted thick. A high plant population per acre is important in getting maximum tonage.

Delaware Food Market Report

March is National Egg Month. It is the time when eggs are plentiful, high in quality and low in price. With this bounty of eggs you can't help but perk up your Lenten menus by using them often. When buying eggs make sure they are fresh—buy the ones that are under refrigeration. Be sure too, that they do not warm up in the car—or in the kitchen—for eggs kept at warm temperatures, even for a short while, lose quality. For Lenten lunches, mix peas, green beans or asparagus in a good cream sauce with sliced, hard-cooked eggs. Poach eggs and nest them on buttered toast spread with deviled ham. At snacktime why not have a tangy deviled egg or a tasty pickled egg.

Eggs play vital but hidden roles in lightening souffles, enriching and binding cakes, cookies and meatloaf, or thickening custards and sauces. A famous chef once said, "The egg is the cement that holds the castles of cookery together." Truer words were never said, so make sure you buy an extra dozen of Grade A large eggs. They are your best buy.

Look for specials in pork this week. Such cuts as loin roast, chops and fresh hams are quite reasonable. Prices on whole hams are seasonally lowest during March and early April. Beef supplies this week are not quite as plentiful as they were, however,

HIZZONER NEVER HAD IT SO GOOD

Seaford Delaware's Mayor W. Joseph Williams gets a taste of his new duties as co-director of the Miss Delmarva Beauty Pageant.

At right, helping him to become accustomed to his new post, is blonde, 18-year-old Betsy Rickards of Selbyville, who was chosen Miss Delmarva The Fourteenth over 22 other 'Shore community beauty contest winners at the finals of the pageant, held in Seaford last June as part of the 14th Annual Delmarva Chicken Festival.

At left is Seaford's First Lady, Mrs. Kitty Williams. A petite brunette, Mrs. Williams teaches first grade at the Seaford Elementary School and looks after the two Williams' children, ages 4 and 7, in addition to her duties as the distaff half of the new team running the Beauty Pageant.

Part of the Williams' new duties are to give guidance to leaders of communities in conducting their local beauty contests on the 'Shore this winter and spring, leading up to the finals which will be held as a part of the 15th Annual Delmarva Chicken Festival in June.

Insurance Commission Advises on Storm Damage

State Insurance Commissioner, Harry S. Smith, issued a statement from his office in Dover this week with information that he felt the Delaware residents living in the coastal area who carry insurance should contact their insurance companies to discuss their damage relative to windstorm and water damage.

Commissioner Smith further cited another relief measure that Delaware stricken residents might take advantage of in next year's income tax report. He is very much concerned about the terrible loss that many owners of homes and business properties have suffered during the recent storm. Those who are among the unfortunate who do not have ample insurance coverage or who are not covered for the particular damage that they suffered can get possible tax relief benefits from casualty loss deductions.

Basically, the amount of the deductible loss allowable is the difference between the value of the property before and the value after the damage. However, the loss deductions cannot be larger than the cost of the property adjusted for tax depreciation where business property is involved. This deduction must be properly supported by a written appraisal of a qualified real estate expert who can testify to the drop in the property's value which would be one good source of proof. Photographs of the property showing its condition before and after the damage will assist and should be gotten together now and kept in a safe place. A short-cut method to estimate the value of the property before and after damage can be used by submitting the amount spent to repair the property from the casualty loss.

The Delaware Commissioner suggests that Delaware property owners who have suffered losses of this type contact a tax adviser in order to get the proper benefits due them. He also suggests that each property owner contact his insurance representative as soon as possible in an effort to give the agents and the companies the proper picture so they can arrange their agenda to make claim settlements without undue inconvenience and delay to all concerned.

Farmers Have Big Stake in Foreign Trade

The world market continues to be a highly important outlet and source of income for Delaware farmers, according to a state-by-state study just completed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Delaware farmers supplied the export market with products worth almost 10 million dollars in the 1960-61 fiscal year, the study indicates. Principal commodities exported were soybeans and poultry products.

U. S. agricultural exports are running at record levels according to the survey. Last year, five billion dollars worth of U. S. farm products were exported. Sixty million acres of U.S. cropland are producing for export. This is about 25 times the harvested acreage of Delaware.

The foreign market has become a major outlet for many farmers. In 1960-61, exports equaled half of the nation's production of cotton, wheat, rice, and dried peas; two-fifths of the output of soybeans and tallow; a third of the production of tobacco, hops, flaxseed, and nonfat dry milk; a fifth of the dried whole milk output; and a sixth of the feed grains sold off farms. Other important exports included fruits, poultry meat, and variety meats.

The USDA study, in appraising the stake of Delaware farmers in foreign trade, showed the State's equivalent share of the nation's agricultural exports was made up of soybeans and poultry products.

Delaware also plays a part in the imports of agricultural products. Many of these imports are non-competitive consumer items such as coffee, tea, cocoa, spices, bananas, etc. Although competing agricultural products also come from abroad, Delaware's agriculture is far ahead in the exchange since the State's share of agricultural exports is four times its share of competing imports.

Many agricultural commodity groups throughout the country are working closely with the USDA in efforts to build exports even further. In areas such as Western Europe, business is booming and customers have the money to buy more from U.S. farmers. The biggest problem in such countries is access to markets. Too often, trade barriers limit the amounts that American agriculture can sell. One of the big national objectives at this time is to arrive at an international trade program that gives U.S. agriculture better bargaining power so it can sell even more actively in foreign markets.

Senior Play Reviews

By 3rd and 4th Graders

* Spelling is as children wrote. The third and fourth grades of Harrington assembled Wednesday, March 7, in the school auditorium to see the senior play, "Off the Track." The following notes are a sampling of the responses.

"I liked the show very much. I liked best of all the lady that talked funny. I liked how they made pretend they were mad. It was nice for you to put the show on for us. I know all the 3 and 4 5 and 6 liked it to."

"We liked your play very much. I know one of the students. Her name is Carol Ann Moore. The play was the best I've seen. It was done pretty. Everybody knew there parts and it was said nicely. Thank you for inviting us."

"I enjoyed your play very much. I wished we could do something as well. We probably could if we practiced enough."

"The play was very good. I enjoyed it very much. The people that played in the play were very good. Tell the woman who lost the pearls that she had better not pull a trick like that again. I hope you invite us again."

"I am glad you invited me to the play. It was very nice. Your students acted as if they had did it before. I am glad you let us come."

"I enjoyed your play very much. I liked the way it started and ended. Now I can't help thinking that the morlie of the story was that we all make mistakes sometime. Thank you for inviting us."

"The play was very good. And the part I liked best was when the girl said she was not nosey a bit. And when the Italian girl sang. The play was very good."

C.K.R.T. News

Legionnaires of Callaway-Kemp-Raughley-Teo, Post No. 7 will participate in the nationwide observance of the Legion's 43rd birthday, March 15-17, Commander Frank C. O'Neal announced today.

Highlighting the gala anniversary observance in Harrington will be a birthday party on the night of March 24 at the Post Home, Commander O'Neal said. All details for the party are being handled by a special committee under the chairmanship of Tom Clendening.

The American Legion's 43rd birthday party in Harrington will be one of thousands of anniversary observances by some 17,000 posts from coast to coast in 28 territories and foreign countries.

The American Legion was founded March 15-17, 1919, at a caucus of delegates from the first AEF in Paris, France. It includes in its membership today veterans of World War I, World War II, and the Korean War.

"In its 43 years of existence, The American Legion has grown and registered successes far beyond the fondest dreams of its founders," Commander O'Neal declared. "Today, it is the largest veterans organization in all history. Its accomplishments in Americanism, child welfare, rehabilitation, national security, and countless acts of community service have earned for The American Legion the high esteem of the citizens of this nation."

All members of Post No. 7 and its Auxiliary and guests are invited to attend the birthday party. With the assistance of the ladies of the Auxiliary, Chairman Clendening assures everyone of plenty of food, games, dancing, and all-around enjoyable evening. Festivities will begin at 6:30 p. m. with a spaghetti supper, and the committee says there will be many surprises in store the rest of the evening.

Cottons Take Spotlight

The spring and summer fashion spotlight is on the completely new and different cotton knits. "Double" s the word heard most often, meaning that two layers of fabric are knitted together. Single knit fabrics are made from only one system of yarn, while two or more yarns of different sources are used in the construction of the new double knit cottons. This makes for a firmer, more stable fabric than the single knit. In addition, many double knits are chemically treated to help them maintain their stability, or to make them spot and stain resistant or water repellent.

Interesting texture is another term often associated with double knit cottons. Spring and summer weight suits, dresses, and ensembles are being made from such unusual textures as boucle, matelasse, firm mattress ticking stripe, bark-like diagonal weave, ottoman, and a honeycomb knit which resembles a giant birdseye pique, as well as jacquard fancies and lace-like effects.

The double knits adapt perfectly to casual sportswear, such as hip pants, overblouses, shorts, and jackets. They are equally adaptable, however, to the more sophisticated apparel—street and dressy dresses, jacket-dress ensembles, suits, and coat. Jacket-dress combinations and suits are ideal to wear all through spring and into summer. Double knits are especially good travelers since they are wrinkle free.

Not all of the double knit cotton fabrics are going into ready-to-wear. Some are available as piece goods, ranging in price from $3.98 to $5.98 a yard. When you consider the fact that knits come in 60 to 66 inch widths, the cost is virtually the same as for any good quality cotton.

Care of double knits should not be overlooked. If the garment is machine washable, do not subject it to high wash temperatures and harsh agitation. Overdrying and prolonged tumbling should be avoided. For garments which need to be hand laundered, use a mild detergent and squeeze the suds through the garment. Rinse thoroughly. Roll the garment in a terry bath towel to remove as much water as possible, then place it on a flat surface to dry.

Wanted—16 Million Additional Bushels Of Corn

"Yes, conservatively, the year 1962 will see a shortage of 16 million bushels of corn here on the Delmarva Peninsula," according to Ed Covell, Maryland's vice president of the Delmarva "With the Peninsula harvesting only about 20 million bushels of corn in 1961, this million predicted deficit for the current year indicates the great opportunity for grain farmers here on the Eastern Shore, and other nearby farming sections, to greatly increase their acreage in corn for feed grain" continued Mr. Covell.

Recent figures released show that the effect of the reduced acreage of corn in 1961 is rapidly "catching up" with Delmarva's multi-million dollar commercial broiler-fryer industry. Forty per cent more corn was shipped into this area during January alone of the current year than was true during the entire calendar year of 1960. This startling increase in shipments of corn from off the Peninsula emphasizes the serious need for more locally grown corn. "And best of all," said Mr. Covell, "local farmers receive a bonus for their corn in comparison to the average U. S. farm selling price of corn."

During the past two years, local corn farmers enjoyed a 25 cent per bushel premium over the average for the country. This 25 cent per bushel premium means that Delmarva grain growers received a bonus of five million dollars for their 1961 crop. "Why shouldn't our farmers take advantage of this above average corn market situation and help make up this 16 million bushel deficit?," concluded Mr. Covell.

Working out a landscaping plan for your home is an interesting way to spend a few leisure hours while you're waiting for the snow to melt, observes Kent County agent George Vapaa.

Your property can be divided roughly into three areas—approach or public area; service or work area; and outdoor living area.

Each of these areas is designed and planted according to the way it will be used. Leave the public area open to show off the house to best advantage, Mr. Vapaa advises. The service or utility area—for clothesline, incinerator, tool storage, refuse cans, and so forth — should be just large enough to provide for your need and should be separated or screened off from the rest of the property.

Your outdoor living area, also called the private area, usually is an extension of the dining room or kitchen. The outdoor living area is the most used area. Considerable time should be taken in planning it. The "outdoor living room" is the play area for children as well as for adult recreation such as gardening, outdoor cookery, dining, and relaxation.

The best starting point on your landscaping plan is a piece of graph paper and a plot plan of your lot, Mr. Vapaa says.

Draw the plan to scale, showing the house, driveways and walks. Note unsightly views that could be screened out. Note also where shade trees and windbreaks might be located to provide these benefits. Include in the plan the location of shrubs for base plantings as well as specimen plants for special effects.

Mr. Vapaa suggests that before planning the landscaping of your home, study available literature from your local library, the county Extension office, and local nurserymen. Nurserymen and the county agent can advise you best on which shrubs and trees are suited to your lot and its soil.

Plan boldly, Mr. Vapaa urges. The plan can be carried out in one year of stretched out over 5 to 10 years. The important thing is to plan. Don't just let your landscaping grow with time and with "bargain" sales of landscape material. Make a plan and follow it.

Develop Good Food Habits

Development of good food habits should start early, says Katie Thomas, Kent County home demonstration agent.

When a child is just beginning to eat solid foods is the ideal time to help him form good eating habits. Knowledge of the child's growing pattern will help parents understand why a one or two year old has a small appetite. Children eat eagerly and gain rapidly during the first year, then slow down in growth. Mrs. Thomas advice to mothers is "don't force your child to eat."

Food dislikes and feeding problems which can last a lifetime can be created at ages one and two. To help avoid this, make mealtimes pleasant and keep table talk happy. Eating is a social experience to which everyone should look forward with pleasure. It is also a good practice to serve meals at regular hours. If the child needs four meals a day, these should be served at regular times and nibbling between meals should be avoided.

Serve a variety of foods but always include some food which is well liked. This makes it easier to eat less liked foods. Your child will eat more if you serve him very small portions and let him have second helpings. This gives him a feeling of success. Allow him to eat the amount of food he wants. Praise him when he eats well. But pay as little attention as possible when he doesn't eat, yet as well. No healthy child will starve himself. But his appetite varies the same as yours. It will not harm him to miss a meal or two occasionally.

Be sure the food offered a child during this period are foods high in nutritive value. Quality instead of quantity should be considered. You will find that your child prefers foods which look pretty such as carrots, tomatoes and peas as well as foods which are crisp and chewy such as carrots again, apples, crisp bacon and toast. Simple foods simply prepared are preferred by the small fry. Children like to know what they are eating and combination foods confuse them.

Children imitate those they love and admire. They also imitate food likes and dislikes. Problems in eating may be caused by indulgent grandparents, aunts and uncles who interfere at mealtime, by over-anxious mothers who are sure the child is not eating enough, as well as by unwise fathers who express their own food dislikes in the presence of the child.

Summer School Faculty at U. of D.

A Yokohama-born Russian prince who is now a naturalized United States citizen will be one of several distinguished visiting faculty members of the University of Delaware summer school.

Andrej Lobanov-Rostovsky was born in Japan, educated in Russia and France and has been lecturing and teaching in the United States since 1930. He is professor emeritus of history at the University of Michigan, and is former teacher of Dr. Walter Kirchner and Dr. George Windell, both members of the university's regular history department faculty.

He will be joined by Dr. B. G. Gokhale, an expert in Indian affairs, and Dr. John F. Cady, authority in Far Eastern affairs, in teaching the specialized summer program in Asian studies.

Dr. Lobanov was born while his father was in the Imperial Diplomatic Service. He was educated in Parris, was an officer in the Imperial Russian Guards and in the French Army during World War I. After the armistice he fought in the Russian Civil War against the Reds.

In 1920 he emigrated to England where he was a foreign correspondent, journalist and lecturer at the University of London. He was naturalized a U.S. citizen in 1936 and has since taught history at universities in California, Minnesota, Wyoming and Michigan and has written several books and many articles on Russian, Asian and European history.

Dr. Lobanov is recipient of the ancient Russian orders of St. Anne, St. Stanislaus and St. Vladimir. He will teach a course in Russian history at Delaware this summer.

Chairman of the Asian Studies program will be Dr. Gokhale, who is director of a full-time similar program at Wake Forest College. He is a native of India and received his undergraduate and graduate degrees at the University of Bombay and taught there for 12 years before coming to the United States in 1954.

He was visiting professor of Indian history at Bowdoin and Oberlin Colleges until 1956. He returned to the University of Bombay as head of the department of history and teacher of graduate students. He came again to this country in 1959.

Dr. Gokhale will teach courses in South Asian government and Asian civilization at Delaware, and will offer a course in beginning Hindi, if there is sufficient demand. He has written six books and published numerous papers and articles on Indian history and culture.

Two courses in Far Eastern history will be taught by Dr. Cady, regular member of the Ohio University faculty. He has spent considerable time and study in Rangoon, Burma, as a member of the State Department's office of strategic services, Fulbright and Guggenheim scholar and member of the faculty at the University of Rangoon.

In 1952 Dr. Cady was visiting professor for a special program in Southeastern Asia Studies at Cornell University. The author of six books, he received the American Historical Association's annual award for 1953 of the Carnegie Revolving Fund for publications.

For three years he was editorial advisor of the Far Eastern Quarterly.

Other visiting faculty in history will include Dr. Larry Gara, of Grove City College, an authority on the famed Civil War underground railroad, who will teach courses in American history; Dr. Patrick Lipscomb, of Louisiana State University, who studied in Great Britain the last several years and will conduct courses in English and European history, and Dr. James Hooker, who recently returned from research project in Rhodesia, will teach a course in Modern Africa.

The eight-week summer session offering course work in all of the university's schools and departments, will begin June 18. Dr. Horace J. Sawin is director.

Dance Class Instruction Notes

We have just completed our first course in dance lessons taught by Peyton and Zeiger.

This course of ballroom dancing was taught every Thursday night for a period of eight weeks. We learned the Rhumba, Waltz, Jitterbug, and Fox Trot.

At the completion of the course a party was held for all students. Games were played and prizes were given. At this party the students took a vote to see which couple they thought had made the most progress; this title was won by Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Taylor of this town. Everyone seemed to enjoy themselves throughout the course.

We are planning to organize a dance club. Please watch for further news articles on the advancement of our club.

Consumer Is Winner In New Type Hog Show

While some people might blush at the thought, the consumer actually was the winner in a new type hog show held last week in Lewes.

Consumers long have voiced objection to too-fat pork—the objections registered at the meat counters of food stores where today's calorie-conscious shoppers choose leaner cuts.

At the same time, animal scientists have shown that it is possible to produce lean, meaty hogs which satisfy the consumer's demand and at the same time, return a profit to the producer. How to dramatize to swine producers the consumer appeal of meat-type hogs and the wastefulness of overly fat hogs, was the problem.

One approach to this, in the opinion of Professor John H. Shropshire, University of Delaware livestock specialist, is the hog carcass show, which places the emphasis on how a hog looks under its skin, rather than on the hoof. This provides an opportunity for the producer to see the effects of his breeding, feeding and management practices where it really counts dollarwise—in red meat.

So during the past two years, Shropshire has invited growers to enter hog carcass shows. Twenty-six producers took advantage of the opportunity last week to have their animals evaluated after slaughter. They took their hogs to the White Packing Plant in Lewes, Monday. The animals were processed Tuesday. Wednesday, students in Shropshire's advanced livestock class at the University, measured and weighed the parts.

The grand champion carcass in the unusual show had only 1.1 inches of backfat, compared with the three inches of fat that many hogs carry to market. The top carcass was 30 inches long and contained more than 4.05 square inches in the loin eye. More than 53 per cent of the carcass was in primal cuts—hams, loins, picnics, and shoulders. It was a Yorkshire-Poland China cross produced by Vernon Lane, a commercial swine producer of Federalsburg, Md.

Runner-up in the event was John Curtis of Harrington, who also placed first in the medium weight class. Lawrence Justice of Laurel, placed first in the heavy weight class.

But clearly, the consumer was the winner because the grand champion not only was the top hog, but also was first in the lightweight class—which could influence more producers to grow that type of animal. And that's exactly what Professor Shropshire hopes will happen.

Harrington School News

Elementary

Monday some boys brought old cars, and new cars for our unit in reading. Miss Long brought some pictures of old cars; then Tuesday Harold Coleman brought pictures, too.

In Social studies we are going to study about Daniel Boone. Daniel Boone is a famous frontiersman. He could find anything that was missing. Once he was an Indian, then he heard that the Indians were going to attack Boonesborough so he went back to warn them.

In spelling we are on unit 24. It is our review week. We have a spelling bee sometimes, but sometimes we don't, because we have a big test.

In our weekly reader we read about insects and our teacher said, that we should keep them for Science.

We are doing fractions in arithmetic. A lot of people in our class know how to do it. Often Miss Long says, practice spelling denominator and numerator.

Mrs. Hynson—Grade 1
We are sorry that Eugene Gallo and Beverly Short have the chicken pox. Carol Lekites is ill too. We hope they can be back to school soon.

Several of us told about our trips to the beach to see what damage was caused by the storm last week.

Debbie Edwards showed us her large walking doll which she got last weekend when she went to New York. She named it Carol.

Sandra Irwin showed us a set of Pennsylvania Dutch dolls which her cousin gave her.

Band to Play at Lions Show
The Harrington High School band under the direction of Melvin Brobst will play at the Flower Show sponsored by the Harrington Lions Club on Friday, March 16. The band will start playing at 4:45. The boys' team was composed of Tom Milsap, Tim Strohl, Warren Bader, Dickie Collins, Richard Black, Rusty Jack, Glenn Smith, Larry Garey, and

Local Guardsman Accidentally Wounded

A Delaware National Guardsman is in satisfactory condition at the Milford Memorial Hospital after being accidentally shot by a Cedar Beach resident early Friday.

Spec. 4 Albert H. Schweitzer of 3 Mispillion St., Harrington, was apparently mistaken for a looter when he was wounded in the hand and left leg by Earle Watson.

Guard headquarters said Schweitzer was with other guardsmen on picket duty, withdrawing in the face of an advancing wave when he thought he saw a prowler near the Watson home.

He went to the door and began knocking. A shot burst through the door from the inside and went through Schweitzer's left hand and lodged in his thigh.

Watson told investigators he thought Schweitzer was trying to break in and fired through the door. No charge was placed against Watson.

Schweitzer underwent an operation for removal of the bullet. He is with Battery B, 2nd Battalion of the 198th Artillery, a Harrington unit. He joined the Guard in 1956.

Schweitzer had been employed at the Dover Air Base as a painter. He is married and the father of a three-year-old girl. Guard records show.

The scene of the shooting is north of Ocean View on Route 35, state police said.

"TWIST" Contest at REESE, Mar. 18 & 19 $50 In Prizes Given Away!

It certainly looks as if Harrington is taking on new life, especially with the announcement of the new super attractions listed for early showing at the Reese Theatre. And now, it looks as if there will be plenty of action and fun at the theatre this Sunday and Monday, Mar. 18 and 19, with the TWIST contest on the stage with many Harrington merchants awarding prizes.

It is well known that the policy of the management to present "all family" shows on the weekend has paid off in enjoyment to mother, dad, and all the little folks. With the coming of Walt Disney's "Babes in Toyland" with Tommy Sands, Ray Bolger, Annette, and a bevy of other stars this Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Mar. 15-16-17, with Molly Mack and Buddy Baer in "The Bashful Elephant" as the co-feature, great entertainment in abundance is assured.

Never before have the two Twist hits played on one bill together. Chubby Checker in "Twist Around The Clock" and "Hey, Let's Twist" with Joey Dee and the Starlighters, are the twist attractions on the screen, Sun. and Mon., March 18 and 19, in conjunction with a giant twist contest on the stage. The following merchants will award prizes to those given by the theatre—Collins Clothiers, Taylor's Hardware, Cahall and Shaw, Wm. Shaw, Propane, Trotta TV, Harrington

Hardware, Wollaston's, Clendenig's Pharmacy, and many others to be announced. According to the management this will be the "Twisterine" of all Twist shows. The Milford and Dover runners are invited to join in the fun.

Charles E. Webb, 77, died unexpectedly Thurs., March 8, at his home near Greenwood. He was employed by the Sun Oil Company in Marcus Hook, Pa., for 21 years and retired to his farm 14 years ago.

"Sports Odds And Ends"

In the intramural championships at Harrington High held last week the sophomores and seniors were battling for the basketball crown. Bill Minner was chief referee. The second referee was Dick Collins of the Junior Class. Apparently he was chosen because he would be completely impartial. Frank Collins of the sophomores and George Collins of the seniors are his brothers.

Bob Smith, freshman mile prospect at H.S.S., has been training since Feb. 1. This is the kind of dedication that raised Harry Knotts, Clarence and Dwight Hackett to the top in scholastic distance running circles and made them the target for eastern, college coaches, who desired the locals to matriculate at their institutions of higher learning.

Gayle B. Smith, local automobile dealer, for years has been one of the top trapshooters in the state. At Minquadales recently he finished near the leaders in a Wilmington Trapshooting Association registered shoot when he broke 96 targets out of 100. 79 entrants competed. Glen Smith, a son, is an up-and-coming marksman although he is much younger than most of his rivals.

The Delaware State Fairgrounds will be the arena for two, three-mile footraces this year. The writer has been race director for three years at the fairgrounds for these endurance tests and served in the same capacity for the Delmarva Chicken Festival races at Selbyville in 1960 and Seaford in 1961. Since Harrington is host for the Chickens Festival this year, well-known amateur runners from all over the peninsula will perform here in both June and July. A 1 1/2 mile event for 15 and under may be included again in the Delaware State Fair program.

Vic Zwolak of Wilmington won the ICYA championship mile run held in Madison Square Garden, New York City, Saturday night. Wes Stack of Seaford was second to Zwolak in an afternoon trial heat and was clocked in 4:19 for the mile on an indoor board track. Lee McMaster of Wilmington won the 1000 yard run held Friday night.

Stack captured the three mile runs held at the fairgrounds here for the last three years. McMaster ran here last year and won a trophy for finishing near the front runners.

Baseball Practice Starts

Coach Jim Hawps has issued a call for battery candidates at Harrington High School for the upcoming baseball season. Both varsity and jayvee aspirants are working out in the fieldhouse.

Joe Taylor and Warren Bader are trying out behind the plate. Would-be moundsmen are Randy Knox, Dick Collins, Barry Fry, Rennie French, Don Rothermel, Chuck McNally, Walter Perdue and Jim Rash.

Rothermel, Collins, Fry and Knox are the most experienced of the group.

Seniors Win Intramural Cage Crown

A young, sophomore basketball team almost knocked the mighty seniors from their lofty perch last week but were finally beaten 31-28 in the intramural championship final played last week.

Lanky Bob Gillette was game high scorer with 11 points for the winners. Gillette is half a foot taller than any of the losing squad so naturally he was a rebounding town of strength.

Barry Fry and Wayne Collison had 19 points between them for the sophomores.

As often happens in these class games two or three lads demonstrated that they could have helped the varsity if they had come out for the team.

Milton Edges Greenwood For Henlopen Crown

Bob Edgerton, personable Milton coach has his Milton High School Warriors sitting atop the heap in the Henlopen Basketball Conference, as his charges won the championship clash, from Carl Baker's scrappy Greenwood High Foresters in a contest played at Dagsboro Friday night.

John M. Clayton High's spacious fieldhouse held 1200 fans for the battle between the Eastern and Western titlists. This was the first playoff held in Delaware since the early thirties. Every other state holds championship tournaments. Here, it is an event when two teams in the same league finally get permission to stage a title match. Are Delaware youngsters that much more sensitive than those from the other 49 states, that we alone can not have a state high school basketball champion?

The Foresters stayed right with the Warriors for three periods before yielding the title in the last quarter.

Milton had a 21-16 field goal edge to overcome a 6-4 Greenwood charity stripe bulge.

Bruce Henry of the losers and Gary Lawson of the winners were game high scorers with 15 points apiece. Claude Burnham and Chris Lank were in double figures for the Warriors with 11 and 10 markers respectively.

Bonniwell Places In State Mat Meet

George Bonniwell won his first match in the Delaware Inter-scholastic Wrestling Championship meet held at the University of Delaware over the weekend and in so doing enabled his team to enter the scoring column. Many first year teams fail to score their first trip to the U. of D. and sometimes fail to produce anyone good enough to qualify. Coach Mike Mock's Lions qualified five grapplers and three alternates. The Lions finished in front of Dover, Conrad and Millsboro and tied with Sanford Prep and A. I. duPont. Wm. Penn of New Castle took the team trophy.

Bonniwell and Carter of Claymont finished all even in regulation time and were forced to go into overtime to settle the issue. The local lad dominated the first extra period and won the match in the second period when he reversed his opponent to win by a score of 2-0.

Saturday afternoon Bonniwell wrestled Malcom MacDougall of Tower Hill and was decided by a score of 5-2 in a close battle. MacDougall was state champion last year in the 103 pound class and had filled out to 120 since then. The Tower Hill flash eventually grabbed second place in the tournament as he was decided by the new champion, the sensational Skipper Jones of Milford. Jones was 112 king in 1961 and has not dropped a match since 1960, at least.

While the Bonniwell-MacDougall match was in progress Jones was grappling with Jack Morning of Mt. Pleasant on an adjacent mat. The writer was forced to look sharp in order to watch both setos. At times three matches were being contested at the same time on the Carpenter Fieldhouse mats.

The local 120 pounder next met Phil Askey of Brandywine High, who is Blue Hen Conference champion. Askey had been undefeated this year and was seeded first in the tournament in this class. Askey was eliminated from championship contention by MacDougall in a tight 7-6 match. Bonniwell was nosed 2-0 by Askey in a match that was even all the way and to our untutored eyes appeared to be a draw.

Normal scholastic grappling procedure calls for two minute rounds. Because of the huge field of 144, a gross of grapplers, rounds were limited to 1 1/2 minutes. This hurt Bonniwell whose strong point is conditioning. The local lad was starting to come on strong in both his matches and was fresher at the end than either of his rivals.

Lewis Starkey, Lion 165

Lewis Starkey, 165 pounds, led the first H.H.S. wrestling team in the number of foes pinned.

point strongboy, was edged by Nichols of Delmar 2-0 and was through for the evening. Starkey might have added to the local point total except for the luck of the draw. Most of the locals wrestled at least twice.

George Jerread was decided 4-0 by Robertson of Mt. Pleasant and 4-1 by Williams of De La Warr.

Other Lions in action were Nelson Reed and Ron Melvin. The entire team will wrestle again next year except for Tim Strohl, the 180 pounder, who is moving to Chicago. With a year of combat all concerned should be much better in '63 although they don't have to apologize for this winter's work as a fine job was done by Coach Mock and most of his matmen.

Grades 10 and 12 Win At Basketball

The tenth and twelfth grade girls won the class basketball tournament against the ninth and eleventh grade girls, 16-10, Monday, March 12.

Sulky Slants

By MRS. DAVE (PAT) SMITH

Horses will be going this weekend to Roosevelt and Rockingham Park, some to Maywood, Ill.

The trainers I know of that are leaving here Saturday and Sunday are: Manie Robinson, Dusty Marcel, and Mr. Murphy.

Paul Myers shipped out this past Tuesday for Westbury.

Tom Wingate ships his stable from Roxana Saturday to Roosevelt.

I'll bet when the man says go, Paul Vinyard will have some of his good age horses ready. You know Paul, he never gets excited, come rain or high water. All you hear at Lucy's Restaurant is well it won't be long now. Even the grooms are getting the urge to travel.

There's Ronnie, Dennis, "Old Peanuts" Billy, Edwin, Jack, Howard, Paul Vinyard's help, all getting the spring fever to roam.

There were plenty visitors at the track this week. Looked good to see so many railbirds. And the time for the trainers was very good.

Some like to put in the last mile, some don't, so I won't put the actual time, so no hard feelings.

I think our trainers are as advanced as any track for this time of the year.

That little colt of the Griffiths sure is a spry little thing. He is really adorable.

Manges' colt also is coming along wonderful.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Hubbard have moved into their new home on Route 13. After all these years I know they must be real happy.

Jack Quinn spent the weekend at home. He too, shipped to Roosevelt Raceway.

Dot, is it true you and Paul will take a vacation out in Las Vegas this summer? Oh, boy, I was there once, even if you only look around, it's out of this world.

Mr. and Mrs. Reese Harrington chatting over a cup of coffee at Lucy's Restaurant.

Mrs. Winnie Burgess, dashing around town, really seemed busy. And Winnie, do you get all the coffee for the Harrington Journal crowd? Or was that a radio you were carrying in your hand?

Boys at Graham's filling station, so nice.

Bob, I'm about ready to have the other monster worked on.

Jack, how come you have such a nice staff at the Acme Market? Gee, they're a swell bunch.

And who gets all the cheese

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q — What educational benefits have been provided for peacetime veterans?
A — Although Congress has considered several types of educational benefits for peacetime veterans, none have passed into legislation as yet.

Q — Are peacetime disability compensation payments the same as those received by wartime veterans?
A — Peacetime disability compensation rates are paid at 80 percent of the corresponding wartime rates.

Q — As a World War I veteran with GI term insurance, can I convert part of my $10,000 term insurance to a permanent plan?
A — You may convert as little as $1,000 or more in multiples of $500 . . . such as $1,500 or $2,500 . . . at one time.

Q — I am the widow of a World War I veteran. In January 1960, I was told I was not eligible for VA pension because my husband did not have a compensable service-connected injury when he died. I have heard that requirements have been changed. Is that true?
A — Yes. Since July 1, 1960, you are eligible for pension if your husband had 90 days of active service in World War I, and was discharged under other than dishonorable conditions.

Mrs. Madelyn Jackson of Harrington and Mrs. Edward Smith of Ellendale contributed used clothing during the past week. We wish to express our thanks to them for the clothing they gave.

L. O. O. M. News

Our civic affairs chairman, Earl Yoder, reported at the regular meeting, Tuesday night that used clothing is urgently needed. During the past week clothing was asked for by five different families at a nearby disaster area, caused by the recent storm.

More calls for used clothing are expected. Blankets, sheets, clothing and footwear were asked for. Children wear for babies and children up to 15 years of age is needed.

5. Take soil samples from surface to plow depth from at least 15 spots for each sample.

6. When a spade is used, save the soil from the middle of the slice.

7. Mix soil well in a clean pail.

8. Fill out the information sheet accurately.

9. Number samples—keep your own records.

10. Always lime and fertilize according to soil test recommendations.

After the samples have been taken, send them to the county agent's office on the second floor of the Dover postoffice, or to the Soil Testing Laboratory, Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, Newark. There is no charge for this service, Mr. Vapa says.

You should get your samples in early so that you can get your lime and fertilizer ordered earlier and avoid the spring rush the agent warns.

Quick Meals

With little more than a snap of the fingers and a few quick tricks, the modern homemaker can prepare tasty, nutritious, economical meals in a minimum amount of time, says Katie Thomas, Kent County Home Demonstration Agent.

"Quick Meals for Busy Homemakers", a new pamphlet by Miss Janet Coblenz, extension nutritionist at the University of Delaware, is just off the press. It's filled with time-saving hints.

A meal planned is a meal partially prepared the publication points out. Much of this preparation can be done in advance by planning meals and your grocery shopping list at the same time. Shopping time can be further shortened by preparing your list according to store layout.

Select foods that require little cooking or preparation to lessen time spent in the kitchen, is another of the may time-saving ideas offered by Miss Coblenz. Convenience foods usually cost more but this may be offset by reduced preparation time and superior quality, she says.

The pamphlet "Quick Meals for Busy Homemakers" may be obtained without charge from the county extension office or by writing to the School of Agriculture at the University of Delaware.

BOLENS HUSKY 600 THE TRACTOR WITH THE HALF-MINUTE HITCH...

and a lot more!

Never before has so much engineering know-how been poured into a 6-hp tractor. Speed of attachment-change alone puts the Husky way out in front of its competition. BOLENS engineers call the Husky's 3-point hitch (with splined power take-off) "the half-minute hitch"... and they're being conservative.

Eleven Fast-Switch attachments mean year-round usefulness. Mow with the 32-inch rotary mower shown above. A 22-inch tiller attachment gives you easy, convenient tilling. The 32-inch Sno-Caster makes snow removal a pleasure... for light snow use the 42-inch grader blade. These and seven other attachments make the Husky 600 an all-season worker.

PLUS:

- All gear transmission with 6 speeds forward and 2 reverse
- One-pedal clutch-and-brake action • 6-position attachment lift • 6-hp Briggs & Stratton engine

Try out the HUSKY 600 for yourself. See us today.
