

Georgetown Family Takes Top Spots In State Chicken Recipe Contest

The Jones family did it again. The Charles Jones family of Georgetown, that is!

No less than four of them and an in-law qualified as winners in the Delaware state recipe contest to select finalists for the National Chicken Cooking Championships to be held here, during the 15th Annual Delaware Chicken Festival, June 14, 15, 16.

There were a total of 89 Delaware entrants in the three divisions of the state contest—senior, junior and outdoor.

The Jones' box score reads as follows:

Bobby Jones, age 12! He was among the top two boys and four girls from Delaware who qualified for the National finals, junior division, boys and girls under 18.

Bobby's older brother, William Charles, aged 15! He was tops among five men and boys from Delaware who qualified for the Outdoor Cooking Division at the National finals in Harrington. This is an open class with no age limit. Charles, incidentally, is a former national junior chicken cooking champion, winning his title at Dover in 1959 at the tender age of 12.

Mrs. Pat Marsico, Bobby's and Charles' older sister who now lives in Claymont! She was among the top five women and one man who qualified in the senior division for the national finals at Harrington.

Last year, Pat, then 21 and unmarried, placed third in the national finals held at Seaford. In 1953, she was the first member of the Jones clan to win in the national junior chicken cooking championship.

Pat's, Charles' and Bobby's aunt from Milford, Mrs. Pauline Sullivan! She, too, was among Delaware qualifiers in the senior division and will compete at Harrington in the National finals.

Pat's husband, Dr. Franklin Marsico, one of the Delaware qualifiers for the finals at Harrington in the outdoor cooking division!

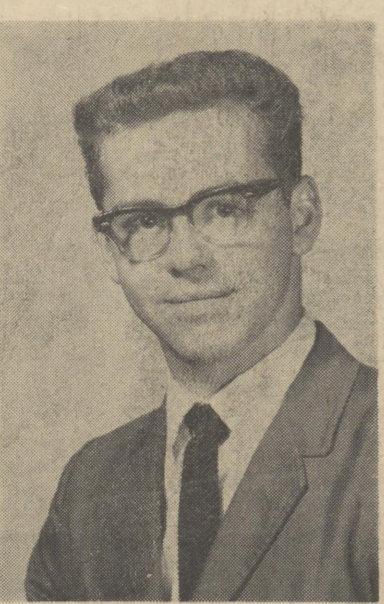

Other than the Jones family, the Delaware winners who qualify for the three divisions of the National finals at Harrington are:

Senior division — Mrs. Russell Layton, Bridgeville; Mrs. Forrest Webster, Rehoboth Beach; Mrs. Mabel Lambden, Georgetown; and James R. Blizzard, Sr., Millsboro.

Junior division—Deborah Sullivan, 11, and her brother Joseph 13, Milford, Judy Hitchens, 17, Seaford; Denise Bordley, 13, Wyoming; and Sharon Walls, 15, of Harrington.

Outdoor division — William Hudson, Georgetown; Charles Hirsch, Jr., Dover; and Christian Willey, Milford.

Judging was done by a panel of home economists and cooking contest experts appointed by the Delaware State Cooking Contest Committee of which Mrs. Edward H. Ralph, of Laurel, was chairman. Judging rules followed were those laid down by the Poultry and Egg National Board for the state preliminary.

Harry M. Sullivan, Jr.

Receives Playtex Scholarship

Harry M. Sullivan, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Milton Sullivan, of 417 Fisher Ave., Milford, was named recipient, last Tuesday, May 22, of the $1000 Playtex Scholarship at Wesley College.

Announcement of the grant was made last Tuesday at the Annual Awards Day exercises at the college, by Robert H. Parker, president of the college. The scholarship is awarded to a student at Wesley entering the second year of studies in the Division of Business Administration by the International Latex Corporation.

He is the grandson of Harry Sullivan, a former resident of the Harrington area now living in Ridley Park, Pa.

Local Teacher To Attend Language Institute

Morganna T. Ball, teacher of Spanish in the Harrington Special School, Harrington, has been admitted to the Foreign Language Institute at the University of New Hampshire, June 25 to August 10.

Forty teachers have been selected as participants from among 160 applicants. The forty represent states from New Hampshire to California.

The institute is one of 80 college institutes sponsored by the National Defense Education Act, to provide special training for teachers of modern languages so that they may improve their proficiency in a foreign language, increase their knowledge of a foreign country, and become familiar with modern methods and techniques of foreign language teaching.

Besides taking courses in foreign language and civilization, the participants will learn how to use efficiently modern electronic equipments in a new language laboratory.

Mrs. John Wagemaker Dies at Houston

Funeral services were held for Mrs. S. Letitia Wagemaker, 55, who died Saturday at her home, after a long illness.

Services were held Tuesday at the Berry Funeral Home, Milford, at 1:30 p. m. The Rev. Ray Kirwan, Houston Methodist Church, and the Rev. William Tull, of the Church of God, Milford, officiated.

Interment was in Hollywood Cemetery.

Mrs. Wagemaker is survived by her husband, John A. Wagemaker; a daughter, Mrs. Marie Lindale, Crisfield, Md., two sons, John F. Aftt, Harrington; and Harold A. Aftt, Houston; two brothers, Robert Sedgewick, Harrington; and Wilbur Sedgewick, Houston; and seven grandchildren.

Mrs. Wagemaker was employed at the Milford City Hall for five years.

She attended Harrington grammar school.

Clarence H. Jester

Clarence H. Jester, 49, operator of a paint store in Dover, died unexpectedly Thursday, May 24, at his home at Frederica.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. E. Viola Jester; a son, Robert H. Jester, in the Air Force; three daughters, Mrs. Kathleen Wilson, Philadelphia, Mrs. Claire Donophan and Mrs. Naomi Rentz, both of Frederica; seven grandchildren; and a sister, Mrs. Naomi Robinson, Centerville, Md.

Funeral services were Sunday at 2:30 p. m. from the Berry Funeral Home, Milford, with the Rev. George W. Bishop, Frederica Methodist Church, officiating.

Tractor Kills Man, 69, in Odd Mishap

A 69-year-old Farmington area man was killed Saturday evening when he was pinned under the rear axle of his tractor at his farm.

W. Norman Sullivan died at 9:10 p. m. Saturday at the Milford Memorial Hospital where he was taken after the accident.

State police said that Sullivan went down to his barn at 6 p. m. to get his tractor out. They said he stood in front of the tractor's right rear wheel and reached inside to turn on the switch.

The tractor was in low gear, however, police said, and when Sullivan touched the switch the vehicle lurched forward and knocked him down and the rear axle crushed his back.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the J. Milard Cooper Funeral Home, Harrington.

Interment was at Hollywood Cemetery.

He is survived by his widow, Alice, and by four sisters: Mrs. Clara Wilkinson, Chester, Pa.; Mrs. Manolia Mick, Harrington; Mrs. Delema Legates, Houston; and Mrs. Elsie M. Willey, Harrington.

Baccalaureate Services Sunday

The annual Baccalaureate services for the 1962 graduating class of the Harrington High School will be held this Sunday, June 3, in the Field House beginning at 7:30 p. m.

The Baccalaureate address will be given by the Rev. Harold R. Garland, minister of the First Baptist Church, Harrington, entitled "Life's Greatest Decision."

The Rev. William H. Miller, minister of the Pilgrim Holiness Church, Harrington, will also assist in the service.

Commencement exercises will take place the following Friday evening, June 8, beginning at 7:30 in the Field House.

The public is cordially invited to attend both of these closing exercises for the Class of 1962.

School Board Honors Dr. Henry

Members of the Felton Board of School Trustees and fellow administrators honored Dr. Howard E. Henry, supervising principal of Felton Schools, at a dinner last Friday evening.

Virgil J. Jarrell, chairman of the Board, paid tribute to Dr. Henry for the successful completion of his studies at the University of Pennsylvania.

Attending the dinner, which was held at a Glasgow restaurant were Mr. and Mrs. Jarrell, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Elias-on, Mr. and Mrs. William Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Courtland R. Dill, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Hoff, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Cline, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin C. Luff, and Dr. and Mrs. Henry.

A large cake, made especially for the occasion, was shared by the families of all the faculty at the annual faculty picnic held at Trap Pond State Park on Monday.

Turkey Is Space-Age Meat Treat

Although many people associate turkey with pioneer America and think of it only as a holiday meat, turkey is an ideal space-age food, according to Miss Janet Coblentz, nutrition specialist for the University of Delaware extension service.

Bred for an abundance of juicy, tender, lean meat, turkey adapts to the wide variety of cooking methods practiced by modern America's nutrition-conscious homemakers.

If your family prefers a roasted bird, today's turkey will be as delectable as any Grandmother ever roasted—and will require less time to prepare and serve. Or, if your family likes to cook food on a rotisserie or outdoor grill, turkey's just the thing.

Turkey left-overs will provide snacks later in the day too. Children can prepare their own turkey sandwiches for supper after the meat is sliced for them. Teen-age cooks can serve the family cold sliced turkey with deviled eggs and sliced tomatoes.

The daughter of the house can show off her culinary talents and give Mom a holiday by making turkey divan. Tender, juicy slices of white or dark meat are nestled between fresh, green broccoli spears and a rich Cheddar cheese sauce.

Buying a large bird for roasting assures many double-features.

Wheat Quota Penalty Set at $1.59 Bushel

The marketing quota penalty rate on 1962-crop "excess" wheat production has been set at $1.59 per bushel, Jacob Zimmerman, chairman Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee, has announced. This compares with a 1961-crop wheat penalty rate of $1.08 per bushel.

Under the 1962 wheat quota program, the marketing quota penalty on excess wheat is required by law to be set at 65 per cent of parity. This rate—of the crop year. In previous years, the penalty rate was 45 per cent of parity. This rate—$1.59 per bushel for 1962—times a farm's wheat excess—expressed in bushels—determines the actual amount of penalty.

For 1962, the chairman explained, the law also directs that the amount of wheat subject to penalty shall be figured at twice the farm's normal yield on all the excess acres unless the 1962 actual yield is proved to be less and the producer files a request.

John M. Short Named V.F.W.'s 'Commander of the Year'

John M. Short, of Harrington, who recently completed a highly successful term as commander of Milford's Blue Hen Post, is Delaware's "Commander-of-the-Year" according to announcement made this week by V.F.W. State Commander Allen J. Wentz.

In competition with the commanders of thirty other Delaware V.F.W. posts, Commander Short was high man in a year long contest that was based not only on the accomplishments of the post itself but also upon the candidate's attendance and participation in meetings and programs of district and department.

Under Commander Short, Blue Hen Post attained an all-time high in membership strength, and, in recognition of outstanding programs in the fields of Americanism, youth-activities, and relief and rehabilitation, was accorded first place in the annual statewide Community Service competition. Short also maintained an excellent record for attend-

William C. Jason Library As Depository For Government Publications

Carper W. Buckley, superintendent of Documents, has notified Alice A. Jackson, librarian at Delaware State College that the William C. Jason Library has qualified as an official depository for Government publications.

An announcement of the U. S. college library will be made public documents available in the near future. The librarian will select those publications that will be of value to its patrons.

The selection of Jason Library as a depository was obtained through the services of U. S. Senator J. Caleb Boggs and the land-grant status of the college.

School Exams Start June 4

Annual school exercises will begin this Sunday evening, June 3, at 7:30 o'clock in the field house when the baccalaureate program for the Class of 1962 will be presented. The message of the evening will be presented by the Rev. Harold R. Garland, pastor of the Baptist Church, assisted by the Rev. William Miller, pastor of the Pilgrim Holiness Church. Musical selections will be rendered by a high school choral group.

Examinations for all students other than seniors will be held June 4, 5, and 6. On these days school will be dismissed at 12:15. The cafeteria will not be open for regular lunches during these days.

There is no school Thurs., June 7, and this day is set aside for teachers to complete the necessary records.

The annual awards assembly will be held in the field house Friday morning, June 8, at 8:30 o'clock. Following the awards assembly, report cards will be issued and school will be dismissed for the year.

Commencement exercises will be held in the field house Friday evening, June 8, at 7:30. The program will consist of addresses by the five honor students of the Class of 1962. Valedictorian for this year's class is Miss Connie Biddle, daughter of Mrs. Rosalie Biddle. Second honor, or the salutatorian of the class, is Miss Jane Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Phillips. Third honor goes to Miss Diane Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Smith, fourth honor to Merritt Camper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Camper, and fifth honor to Miss Charlotte Rapp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Rapp. Music will be presented by the high school glee club. The class of 1962 will be presented by Albert W. Adams, superintendent, and the diplomas presented by Keith Burgess, president of the Board of Education. The Rev. Olin Shockley, pastor of Asbury Methodist Church, will give the invocation and benediction.

Members of the Senior Class finished their formal school work when they took their examinations last Monday and Tuesday. At the present time they are enjoying their annual senior trip to New York. They left by bus early Thursday morning and will return Friday evening. While in New York, they are staying at the Edison Hotel.

Construction work at both the high school and Pierre S. DuPont School is progressing rapidly. The Pierre S. DuPont School is scheduled for completion by September 1, 1962. The existing Pierre S. DuPont School building will be sold at public auction at 1 p. m., Sat., June 16.

Foundations have been laid for the western wing of the new high school and it is expected that curtain walls will rise rapidly after the close of school.

Chamberlain Gets Promotion As Sup. of Structures

Appointment of Herbert L. Chamberlain as supervisor of structures, Maryland District, with headquarters here, has been announced by Carl R. Bergman, regional engineer.

Mr. Chamberlain succeeds William H. Pahl, Jr., who has resigned.

Mr. Chamberlain was born in New Haven, Conn., Feb. 22, 1925. Following graduation from Tufts College in 1949, as civil engineer, he started his career with the Pennsylvania as a junior engineer at Erie, Pa.

He has advanced steadily in the Pennsy's engineering department at a number of locations. From January 1, 1956 to April 15, 1958, he had his headquarters at Harrington, and since that time has been located on the railroad's Southwestern Region at Indianapolis.

He is married and has two children.

1962-Crop Wheat Proclamations Are Postponed

Proclamations relating to marketing quotas and acreage allotments for the 1962 crop of wheat have been temporarily postponed, according to an announcement by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

The postponement was authorized by legislation recently enacted by Congress which permits the Secretary of Agriculture to defer until June 15, any proclamation as to marketing quotas and acreage allotments for the 1963 wheat crop which otherwise would be required to be made by May 15.

R. Harry Wilson, chairman of the Kent Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, reminds wheat growers that the Wheat Stabilization Program provided under legislation.

4-H Short Course June 17-20

Plans for the 41st annual Delaware Short Course have been announced by James O. Baker, State 4-H Club leader at the University of Delaware.

This state-wide event for older 4-H members will be held on the University of Delaware campus, June 17-20. "Learn, Live, and Serve" is the theme of the 4-day event. It is designed to help older 4-H members to become better citizens, according to Baker. "In the past, we have concentrated on project classes but this year we're trying to help 4-H members understand their role in society."

Sandra Tatman was awarded a scholarship Saturday evening at the sixth annual reunion of the Harrington High School Alumni Association.

The presentation of $200, made by Luther P. Hatfield '42, at a dinner in the school cafeteria, was witnessed by some 400 persons. A dance followed in the field house.

Miss Tatman, while she will be graduated this year, is also a freshman at the University of Delaware under a plan which permits exceptional students to enter the University of Delaware before graduation from high school. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Tatman.

The 1962-63 officers were presented as follows: President, Albert C. Price '43; vice president, John F. Abbott Jr., '35; recording secretary, Robert J. Shultie '51; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Adele Callaway Jones '58; treasurer, Mrs. Ruth Brown Melvin '42, and recording historian, Mrs. Zita Z. Hatfield '43.

Outgoing officers are as follows: President, Randall H. Knox Jr., '39; vice president, Price, '43; recording secretary, Mrs. Frances D. Hatfield, '35; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Thelma S. Rash, '49; recording historian, Mrs. Zita Z. Hatfield, and treasurer, George P. Tatman '26.

Attendance banners were awarded as follows: Most members present, 20, class of 1961, and largest percentage present, 100 per cent, Mrs. Florence Layton, Alumna, class of 1904.

Honored classes were those of 1912 and 1937, and of 13 living members of the former class, 10 were present at the banquet.

Harry K. Shaw, '05, alumnus, represented the oldest class present, and Mrs. Annie Lynch Cluney, '35, of Rumford, Me., came the longest distance.

Honored guests were as follows: Archie Feagan, high-school principal; Miss Loretta Paskey, principal of the elementary school; Wilbur H. Jump, principal from 1910 to 1915; Mrs. William W. Sharp, teacher from 1911 to 1915 and widow of a man who always attended the reunion until his death last year; Mrs. Lillie Smith, teacher from 1909 to 1911; Mrs. Frank Tharp, teacher from 1924 to 1927, and Alan B. Rutledge, advisor to the Senior Class which attended as guests of the alumni association.

Vocal selections were given by Alfred G. B. Mann, accompanied by Melvin L. Brobst who was praised by President Knox for his unstinting work for the community.

Miss Hazel Johnson and her staff served an excellent meal. Everything went well and even the amplifying system worked.

Kent County Growers Urged to File Certifications

Turkey producer-growers and contract - producers who have not already done so should contact the Kent ASCS County office in Dover, immediately to determine their eligibility to vote in the proposed national turkey marketing order and to certify the quantity of turkeys they marketed in 1961. R. Harry Wilson, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization & Conservation Committee, said recently.

Those eligible to vote in the referendum will include "producer-growers" who marketed more than 3,600 pounds (live-weight) of turkeys in 1961, and contract-producers who in 1961 had a risk-of-loss contract in turkeys produced by a producer-grower.

The Chairman explained that the general voting on the turkey marketing order will extend from June 18 through 22, at the ASCS County office where the producers' certifications are filed. However, co-operatives desiring to vote for their members and contract-producers must file certifications by June 8 with the State ASCS office for the State in which their principal place of business is located; or if they operate only in one county, they would file their certifications in that county.

Two meetings will be held in Delaware to explain the marketing order. One at the Georgetown Substation on June 4th, and one at Middletown High School on June 5th. Both meetings will start at 8:00 p. m. Kent County farmers interested in growing or handling turkeys are urged to attend at

School Band And Its New Uniforms

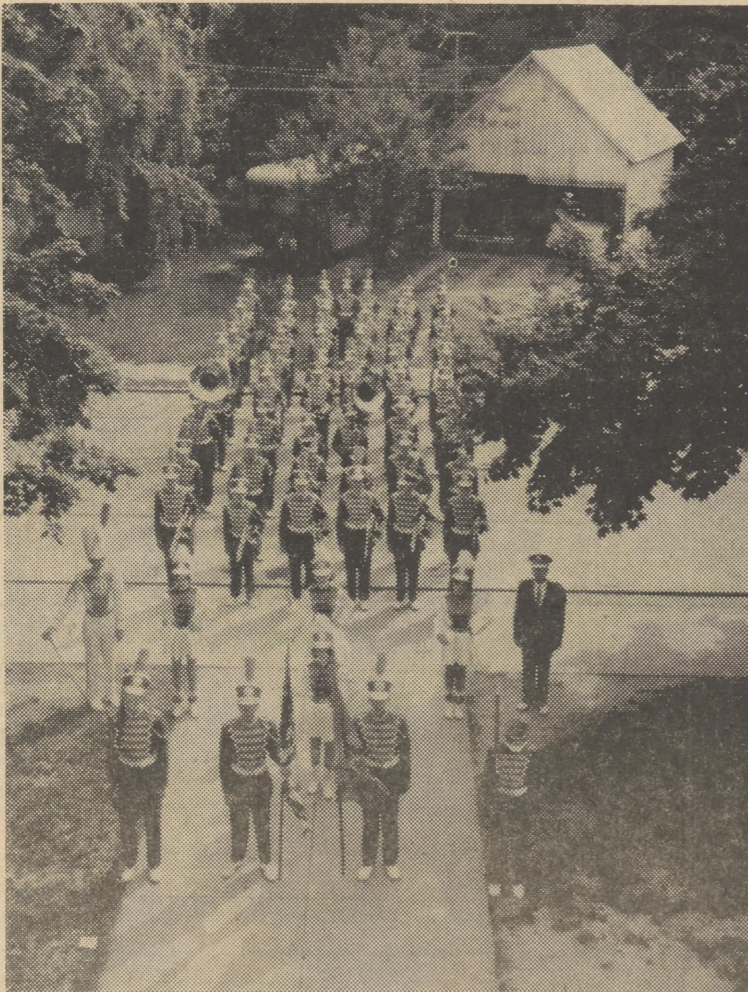

After a two-year pull, the Senior High School Band, shown above, appeared in its annual spring concert with the new uniforms obtained in time for the Chicken Festival Parade. This was its goal, and thanks to the community and all of its services, it has been achieved.

Activities, which contributed to it were derived from proceeds during the magazine campaign held each year by members of all bands, the selling of stock car racing tickets last summer, sales from birthday calendars, rummage sales, volunteering of mothers to serve at the Fair Banquet from which they donated their earnings, contributions from the May Mart held two weeks ago, and private donations.

The organizations which assisted the band with this tremendous project were the Harrington Fire Company, Loyal Order of Moose, Harrington Rotary Club, Harrington Lions' Club, New Century Club, the Band Boosters' Club, the Harrington Business and Professional Women, the Parent-Teachers' Association, and the Harrington School Board of Education.

The band uniform is an all-service one, and should serve the members for many years with adequate results. The old uniforms have been handed down to the Junior Band and continue to be of usefulness. Many thanks must go to the above organizations as well as to all persons who helped support this project.

Help your child think of reading as a source of information and pleasure.
1. Read stories to him.
2. When he asks a question, show him that the answers can often be found in books. "That's a good question. Let's see if we can find the answer in this book."
3. Read signs together as you go down the highway.
4. Look at ads in magazines or on cereal boxes and help identify words.
5. Show him how to find TV programs in the daily paper.

The purpose of the pre-school testing that has been done and that is being done in the Harrington school district is for the purpose of helping the parents to understand their children and to point out those things that can be done to help their youngsters be ready for first grade. Children will not read until they have matured to the point that they are ready. There is nothing we can do to speed this rate of maturity, time alone can take care of that.

The compulsory school law in Delaware states that a child must attend school between the ages of 7 and 16. You may send your child to school if he attains the age of six years by December 31 of the year he is to enter. Therefore, you may hold your child out of school one year if you so desire, the decision in every case rests with the parents. The school can make recommendations, but it is the parents who must make the decision.

Dr. J. G. Barringer Recipient of T. Swann Harding Award

Dr. James G. Barringer, head of the Department of Languages and Literature at Delaware State College has been named as the recipient of the T. Swann Harding Award for the 1961-62 school year. The award is made annually to "that teacher at the college who does most to excite the minds of his students." It carries with it a citation and a stipend of $100 to be used for the purchase of books outside the teacher's field of specialization.

The selection of the recipient is made by a group of "honorable, thoughtful, and academically outstanding students" at the college. The award is provided by Dr. T. Swann Harding, research chemist, of Rehoboth Beach.

Keep Cars Safe Urges Safety Council

"Don't gamble with your life, a safety official warned yesterday.
J. James Ashton, manager of the Delaware Safety Council, said: "Many a person who figuratively wouldn't be caught dead in a gambling casino has literally been caught dead in an unsafe car."
Many of the vehicles involved in fatal accidents were in need of mechanical repair at the time of the accident. The people who were killed in those accidents all gambled their lives—and lost!"
The only way you can be sure your car is in good mechanical condition, Ashton said, is by having it checked periodically by a competent mechanic, as a supplement to the annual state inspection.

He said this check should include the following 10 points:
1. Brakes should take hold evenly on all wheels. The hand brake should be able to hold the car on any hill. Brake fluid should be clean and at the proper level.
2. Headlights, driving and courtesy beam, should be at the proper level for maximum road illumination and minimum glare. Lenses should be clean and reflectors bright.
3. Rear and stop lights should operate properly. Directional signals should also be checked.
4. Tires should be checked for wear and proper inflation.
5. Wheel alignment should be checked.
6. Exhaust system should be completely checked by a qualified mechanic.
7. Windshield wipers should be operating, with blades checked to see if they wipe clean.
8. Glass should be clear, free of cracks or discoloration.

Control Crabgrass At Seedling Stage

Be on the alert for germinating crabgrass, is this week's lawn tip from Professor Claude Phillips, chairman of the agronomy department at the University of Delaware. Thousands of seedlings are appearing in many lawns. And crabgrass is easier to control in the seedling stage than as mature plants.
Phenyl mercuric acetate solution has been shown in University of Delaware tests to be the most effective post-emergence chemical for crabgrass control. Calcium propyl arsonate, ammonium methyl arsonate and disodium methyl arsonate also have shown up well in crabgrass control experiments. These materials are available under various commercial names.
Three repeated applications at the manufacturer's recommended rate should be applied at 10 to 14 day intervals for satisfactory control. The first application should be made when crabgrass has grown no larger than the two-to-four-leaf stage.
Apply the chemical only when the soil is moist. Application under very dry conditions may cause damage to desirable grasses. Do not use phenyl mercuric acetate on Merion bluegrass lawns, Phillips cautions.

Pre-School Testing And Reading At Harrington

It is impossible to set a definite time when a child will begin to read. The time varies according to the child, the school program, and the teacher.

At first, most of the reading will be memorized and if you pick out a word and point to it and ask your child what it is, he cannot always tell you. Don't expect him to, at this stage. He is not yet learning words. He is learning those funny marks that stand for experiences, things, persons, and ideas. The teacher knows that is what he is learning, and expects nothing beyond that at this point. Neither should you. Don't expect every child to begin to read at 6. Some children do not begin to walk or talk until after they are 14 months or more, but no one shames, ridicules, or punishes them. In the same way, your child will begin to read when he is ready. If he is frightened or shamed, the time when he will be ready may be postponed.

Many reading problems are caused by trying to make children read materials for which they are not ready. Children must be able to listen carefully and speak well before they are ready to read. Give your child a chance to talk (but don't do it for him!). Help him talk about everyday experiences, ask questions, encourage him to tell you "all about it." At first he may give only a one-word answer. Repeat this answer making a whole sentence and encourage him to repeat it, or to "tell more about it." Just telling the child to speak in sentences is not enough—he must be shown, over and over again, how to do it, and praised when he succeeds.

If he chatters on and on, but doesn't say anything, ask him about a movie or TV program he enjoys, and try to keep him to the point—answering just the questions "who," "what," "where," "why," "when." This is also a helpful procedure when you have to listen to an account of a fight or some other difficult in which he may have become involved.
Show pictures to your child, help him describe them, using several words, including action words, not just naming objects.

For example, instead of "cat," "tree," etc., help him say, "I see a cat. The cat is in the tree." This type of language helps prepare him for primer reading.
Hide a toy, have your child hunt it and then tell how he found it—in a sentence.
Play guessing games, see how well he can describe familiar objects—well enough for someone to know what they are.
Give your child a chance to listen:
1. Read to him.
2. Discuss things with him and with others, while he listens.
3. Expect directions you give to be followed. (Don't develop the habit of repeating something several times before he hears.)
4. See that there are times when it is quiet enough around the house so that he can hear and listen.
Give your child a chance to broaden his experiences and observations:
Excursions and trips—These do not have to be distant places: a walk up the street to count the number of houses and to notice what they are made of (brick, wood, concrete); a trip to the woods to bring back leaves, which can be identified by pictures in books, etc.
Taking care of a pet intelligently, carefully and consistently.
You can think of many more—Small trips, duties, and chores help children grow in self-reliance and also help mental growth because they require children to think and to remember—and even to reason.
Help your child learn to class-

fy things—to pick out those which are alike:
1. Cut out pictures of animals, vegetables, flowers, furniture, etc., and make a scrapbook of "pets," "things we eat," etc.
2. Play games such as "as many things as you can think of that are grown on the farm, are made in a factory, come from water, have wheels—" You get the idea—and can probably dream up many more.
Help your child learn to use his eyes well:
1. Mark different colors by name in their own colors on small boxes. Have him sort small colored beads or bits of colored paper into the proper box.
2. Make circles, squares, triangles, etc., and have him sort them by shape.
3. Make patterns with blocks and have him copy the pattern.
4. Line up four things on a table. Talk about them with your child. Ask him to turn around and then remove one of the things. Have him tell you which one is not there.
Help your child learn to use his ears well:
1. Use a small bell or ruler to tap out a simple signal. Have him repeat it. Gradually make them harder and more complicated.
2. Line up several things and ask him which one begins with a particular sound (as "sh" in shoe, etc.).
3. Be sure he hears exactly what is said. The little boy who sang, "While shepherds washed their socks by night" and "Bells on cocktails ring" in "Jingle Bells" is funny to us, but not to himself.

Two brothers, Howard and Lucius Webb, of Lincoln, walked off with top honors at the 1962 Jr. Broiler Contest held at the Harrington Fairgrounds, Thursday night, May 24.

Sam Gwinn, associate director of the extension service with the University of Delaware, presented Howard with the grand champion trophy and $25.

Lucius received $20 for his second place entry which weighed 32.5 pounds and scored 95.75.

Other winners were: third place, Kenneth Whaley, Laurel 4-H, $15; Woody Poore, Harrington FFA chapter, $10; fifth through tenth, all $7.50.

The average weight of all broilers entered in the contest was 3.95 pounds.

Over 100 4-H and FFA members participated in the contest. Each youngster was started on March 26 with 50 chicks.

Following the announcement of winners, almost 400 contestants, parents and friends gathered to enjoy over 600 pounds of barbecued Delmarvalous chicken.

Judges for the contest were: D. Ernest Matthews, Matthews Brothers, Inc., Salisbury; Richard Shockley, U. S. government poultry grader at the Burris Processing Plant, Milford; and Dr. Raymond Smith, University of Delaware economist.

WHEAT QUOTA

 for an adjustment.
 Mr. Zimmerman stressed the fact that some farms with 15 acres or less of wheat may be subject to quota penalties on their wheat production this year as a result of changes made in the law for 1962. Before this year, producers on farms harvesting less than 15 acres of wheat were not subject to penalties. Now, however, quotas apply to all farms on which the 1962 wheat acreage exceeds the smaller of (a) 15.5 acres or (b) the highest acreage in any of the three years 1959, 1960, or 1961.
 Producers who have excess wheat acreage still have time to reduce their acreage in order to avoid a marketing quota penalty. The Delaware deadline for adjusting wheat acreage in accordance with program regulations is May 31.
 When the penalty is satisfied, the remaining wheat may be marketed free of penalty. If the penalty is not satisfied, any wheat marketed has an automatic lien against it.

WHEAT QUOTA

 Method I would provide for allocating a nationwide "desirable quantity" of turkeys among individual producers and each producer's allotment would represent the total quantity of turkeys handlers could acquire from him in a marketing year or period. Because of the lateness of the season, this Method I could not be used in 1962.
 Method II, however, could be put into effect for 1962 if producers approve the turkey marketing order in the June referendum. This method places no limit on the quantity of turkeys a handler may receive, but it requires that quantities received in excess of the nationwide "desirable free quantity" established for a marketing year or period to be set aside for disposal by the administrative committee. Net proceeds from the sale of the set-aside pool would be distributed to producers after the set aside turkeys were sold.
 Whether or not supply-management provisions of the turkey marketing order were in operation, the order authorizes assessments to be levied against handlers on all processed turkeys handled to defray the expenses of the Advisory Board and the Administrative Committee. These funds also would be available for market research and development projects, but not for paid advertising.
 Mr. Zimmerman declared that, if the proposed turkey marketing order is approved by growers and made effective, the Secretary of Agriculture must call for another referendum of producers in October of 1964 to determine whether they favor termination of the order. A similar referendum for the same purpose must be held at 2-year intervals thereafter if the Administrative Board makes such a recommendation to the Secretary.

New Paints Have Higher Protective Value
 Linsed oil emulsion paints, a new family of paints, have higher protective values plus the convenience of water-based paints, says George Vapaa, Kent County agent. The new paints are a result of joint efforts of the USDA and the National Flaxseed Processors Association.
 The agent lists these characteristics of the new linsed emulsion paints: (1) quick drying, (2) blister resistant, (3) adhere to chalky surfaces, and (4) can be washed from brushes or rollers with water.
 The new paints dry so quickly that they may be recoated within 30 to 60 minutes after application.
 According to Vapaa, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported experimental, water-thinable, linsed oil emulsion paints more than a year ago. Chemists developed better emulsifiers, and found a better way to incorporate driers into the paints. A major company is now marketing linsed oil and water emulsions for making exterior paints.

Harrington School Notes

My Trip to Washington, D. C., by William Knox, grade 8

Each year the eighth grade class takes a trip to Washington. This is the story of my trip to Washington, D. C.

We met at 7:15 a. m. in front of the high school to board the buses which were going to take us to Washington. We boarded the buses and our trip began. It didn't take us long to reach the Chesapeake Bay Bridge.

Our first stop was to be the White House, home of the President. On our way to the White House we passed the Federal Triangle. The triangle is formed by twelve government office buildings. One of these buildings is the National Archives Building which we visited later.

While waiting to go in many of us took pictures or looked at the United States Treasury Building, which is located across the street.

Inside the White House, where we went next, we traveled down a long corridor where many famous statues and paintings were on display.

We then went into the Green Room, the Blue Room, the Red Room, and finally the State Dining Room. We left the White House by way of the north exit onto the north portico.

Next we went to the Arlington National Cemetery where many of the men and women who have been killed in service.

The Tomb of the Unknown Soldier is also there behind the Arlington Amphitheater. Back and forth, night and day, a lone sentry marches, guarding the tomb. We got there just in time to see the changing of the guard which was very impressive. Then we went inside the amphitheatre and saw the place where many special events are held. Before leaving the cemetery I read a mounted plaque telling how the Unknown Soldier was chosen and why he was chosen in that way.

The next place we saw was the statue of the flag raising at Iwo Jima. This statue is a memorial to all the Marines who fought in World War II and of their sufferings.

As we crossed the Arlington Memorial Bridge we looked back toward the Arlington National Cemetery and thought of the many men who have lost their lives fighting for our wonderful country. Also, standing majestically on the hill overlooking the cemetery and bridge was the Curtis Lee Mansion, the home of Robert E. Lee before the Civil War.

We went back into Washington and went to the Jefferson Memorial. This memorial was built to honor Thomas Jefferson, third president of the United States. This building is a beautiful round memorial built in the style that Jefferson loved. We were not able to stop here because of a special event being held that day.

We drove from the Jefferson Memorial around the Tidal Basin and saw hundreds of blossoming Japanese cherry trees. This was a beautiful sight.

We drove to a park nearby to eat lunch. While we were there it started to rain, and we had to eat on the bus. There was a souvenir shop a short distance away and many of the children braved the storm to buy souvenirs.

After lunch we visited the Lincoln Memorial. This was built to honor Abraham Lincoln. It is built in rectangular form with thirty - six columns surrounding the outside. The names of the forty-eight states are engraved above the columns.

Inside is the famous sitting statue of Lincoln. In the chamber, on each side of the statue the Gettysburg Address and other famous speeches by Lincoln. In front of and across the street from the memorial is a huge reflecting pool that reflects the Lincoln Memorial and the Washington Monument.

We left the Lincoln Memorial and passed the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. In this building the paper money for the United States is made. We then arrived at the National Archives Building which is next to the F. B. I. Building.

When we went inside we walked into a huge room where many famous documents are kept. Lining the walls on each side and the flags of the fifty states, seen first as one comes in are On the other walls, encircling the room, are the many famous documents. The Constitution, the Declaration of Independence, and the Bill of Rights are at the far side of the room, shielded from harmful light and sealed in helium. In a circular corridor surrounding this room is a display commemorating the Civil War.

On the far side of the corridor is a model showing how the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution, and the Bill of Rights are lowered into a huge vault at night.

As we walked out through the large pillars in front of the National Archives Building, we could see down the street the National Gallery of Art where many famous paintings are displayed.

We crossed the street and then went to the Smithsonian Institute. While we were walking down the street, the Capitol was in full view to everyone. We reached the Institute and went into the Industrial Building. Displayed in here were the Wright Brothers' airplane, the Spirit of St. Louis, a full size model of the Statue of Freedom, the First Ladies' Hall, and countless other displays and exhibits.

In the Air and Space Building we saw many interesting exhibits. There were old propellers used on many old planes. There were several different kinds of airplanes and missiles not even counting the capsule that carried Alan Shepard into space. There were many kinds of nose cones recovered from rockets, and there was even a model of the earliest airplane engines.

We then went to the Natural History Building, where displayed in the main room is the huge entrance hall where we gazed at many beautiful chandeliers. We then went into the Gem Room, the Blue Room, the Red Room, and finally the State Dining Room. We left the White House by way of the north exit onto the north portico.

Next we went to the Arlington National Cemetery where many of the men and women who have been killed in service.

We went into a large room with mosaics inlaid on the floors, walls, and ceilings. In the rooms in the back were displays such as rare music and the Gutenberg Bible, printed in Latin. We went upstairs and looked onto a court and in the buildings across the court we could see stacks of books through the windows. We were not able to go onto the balcony overlooking the reading room because it was being painted.

We left the Library, which faces the Capitol, and walked to some gift shops. We soon returned to the bus and left for home.

As you can see from my description of my class trip to Washington, D. C., it was thoroughly interesting and I enjoyed it very much.

Control Leaf Miners Early on Boxwood

Leaf miners are insects that "mine" the leaves of ornamentals for their food. They feed between the two layers of the leaf.

The "mining" or feeding results in dead areas, spoiling the appearance of the leaves. The insects can be readily controlled by timely application of DDT, according to county agent George Vapaa.

Apply the insecticide when the first adult flies are noticed. Spraying time for boxwood usually coincides with weigela's full bloom. Miners usually attack holly just a bit later than boxwood. A second spray should be applied about 10 days after the first application of DDT.

Exact time of spray application is important because the insects are hard to control after they get inside the leaves. But good control can be obtained if DDT is applied at the proper time, Vapaa says.

Magnolia

Mrs. Homer Wright is a patient at the Kent General Hospital where she has undergone major surgery. There is no report as to her condition at this time.

Mrs. John Farrow has been a patient at the Dover Hospital for several weeks but expected to be able to return to her home during this week.

The Magnolia eighth grade commencement exercises will be held in the Magnolia School auditorium on Friday evening. There are fourteen members of this class who will be completing their studies in the Magnolia school.

Mrs. Blanche Richards, Mrs. Elizabeth Schwartz, Mrs. Florence Kenton and Mrs. Helen Glanden attended the Fire Training Class at Caesar Rodney School on Sunday. They are members of the Magnolia Firemen's Association.

The Rev. and Mrs. Mac Hood, and son, Michael, will leave on Thursday for Texas for a two weeks vacation. Rev. Hood will be ordained in the Texas Conference during this time.

The Womens Society of Christian Service will hold their June meeting in the Fellowship Hall on Wednesday evening, June 6th. Since this will be their last meeting until September, the president will appreciate a good attendance.

New officers of the Methodist Youth Fellowship are: Bob Lane, President; Kenneth Orvis, vice-president; Linda Glanden, secretary; Jerry Frazier, treasurer; Charles Bryan, Fellowship Chairman; Wayne Paul, Faith Chairman; Jane Paul, Outreach Chairman; Bonnie Swecker, Publicity Chairman, Dorothy Rollison, Citizenship Chairman. They were installed during the morning worship service on Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Paul joined the membership of the Magnolia church on Sunday by letter of transfer from their home church in Missouri.

The Methodist Young Adult Fellowship held their monthly dinner-business meeting on Saturday evening in the Fellowship Hall of the church. This was to have been their election of officers; however, the nominating committee, Mildred Young, chairman; Isaac Orvis, Emma Catherine Sharp, and Gene Bell, have until September to line up officers for election.

Captain and Mrs. William Hinsley are spending several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Orvis and family. Miss Judy Dixon, of Kenton, was an overnight guest of the Marshall Hart family.

Veterans News

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS Q—Is it true that by saving cellophane strips from cigarette packs, metal strips from coffee cans or cellophane, that one can obtain a seeing-eye dog for a veteran?

A—These rumors receive wide distribution and hundreds of kindly people save such items. But they are not true. In all similar cases, it might be wise to check with your local Better Business Bureau.

Q—Must an eligible war orphan attend college to take advantage of VA's educational benefits? I would like to study typing and stenography to prepare for a business career.

A—Training that leads to a business career or similar vocational preparation is allowed. The only prohibition bars the study of high school level subjects.

Q—Are veterans of the so-called Haitian expedition of 30 years ago considered war veterans?

A—They are eligible for the special benefits provided for peacetime veterans but, unless they had other service, they are not considered "war veterans."

The First Vice President of the Fair

Editorial Note: We experienced considerable difficulty in securing a picture of Ora Sapp, the first vice president of the Kent & Sussex Fair Association, now the Delaware State Fair, Inc., as of 1962. Finally, Henry Bullock told of seeing one when he, with the late Bud Bullock, was visiting at Wyonet, Ill. "I saw him in a group picture, standing by a porch," Henry said. We wrote B. L. Hudson, Wyonet mortician, who once lived in Harrington. Mr. Hudson, then 83, got the picture from his cousin. Ora Sapp was a native of Wyonet and he lived there 25 years before moving to Harrington. He was the son of David Sapp, a Harrington native, and Mrs. Sara Dill, born at Hollandville. Mr. Hudson said the Ora Sapp he knew always wore a mustache. A large number of Harringtonians moved to Wyonet in the last part of the past century and in the early part of the present one. These included Smiths, Sapps, Harringtons, Hudsons. The Harrington Journal, in 1917, had many subscribers at Wyonet. The village, population about 500, is in Bureau County, near Princeton. Mr. Sapp, one of the founders of the fair, served as vice president from the founding of the fair in 1919, until his death, in 1923. The picture was taken in Harrington when the Wyonet group visited here. Mrs. Will Smith, who took the picture, said she probably took it at the home of Mrs. Reuben Sapp, near Mrs. Smith's home at 210 Weiner Ave. Those in the picture are as follows: Top Row (left to right) Ora Sapp, Harrington; Mrs. Wilbur Sapp, Wyonet; Will (Sheriff) Smith, Harrington, and Wilbur Sapp, Wyonet. Second row (left to right): Mrs. Reuben (Mary) Sapp, Harrington; Mrs. David Sapp (mother of Ora and Wilbur Sapp), Wyonet. Third row (left to right): Mrs. Joanna Satterfield, Felton, and Mrs. Ora Sapp, Harrington.

SPORTS

KEITH S. BURGESS — Sports Editor

"Sports Odds And Ends"

Wes Stack, of Seaford and the University of Delaware, was chosen as senior athlete of the year at the university, recently. Wes has won the three mile run at the Delaware State Fair here for the last three years. He also took races of the same length held at the Chicken Festival in Selbyville in 1960 and in Seaford in 1961. He may compete in the three miler to be held in connection with the Chicken Festival here on Friday night, June 15. Starting time is 7:30 in front of the grandstand at the Delaware State Fair.

Early entrants for this race are: Don Ladd, Lee McMaster, Fred Swanson and Charles Harrington, all of whom are from the Wilmington area and James Stafford, of Smyrna. Ladd, McMaster and Stafford are on the track or cross-country teams at the University of Delaware. Swanson and Harrington run for Mt. Pleasant High School. The former is Delaware State scholastic champion in cross-country and in the mile run. Several lads from Seaford and Harrington have indicated a desire to enter June 15th and their entries are expected to be filed soon.

The Ruritan Club of the Harrington Softball League could be nicknamed "Collins A. C." Robert Collins and five of his sons will see action this summer. These are Bobby, Ken "Snooky," Dicky, George and Frank.

Saturday at the high school state championship track and field meet held at the University of Delaware the winning toss in the 12 pound shot put was 47 feet 11 inches. Bill Porter, a senior at H.H.S., who was not on the Lion track team this year, threw the iron ball better than 47 feet while fooling around in gym class one day. Porter is the fourth local of state title caliber in track. Yet circumstances combined to keep the quartet out of the winners' circle at the U. of D. Some day we'll get a break in the big meet and a Lion will have the honor of winning a state title in track for his school.

Little League Play Opens With Doubleheader

Saturday's opening day action at the Moose Home saw Bill Miner's American Legion nine defeat Jack Redden's Lions 7-2. In the other contest Bob Haley's Moose squad won from Harold Brown's Rotarians by a score of 9-5.

Monday night the powerful Legion Club romped to a 22-1 victory over the Moose. The winners have a strong lineup and have served notice that they are the team to beat.

Felton Wins Finale At Milton

Felton High School's baseball team ended a banner year by belting Milton 1-3 Monday afternoon. The Green Devils are tied for second place in the Henlopen Conference with Selbyville. Lord Baltimore, the leader, can win the championship by defeating Rehoboth in the final game of the league season. If Rehoboth wins the game, a three-way tie for the pennant will result.

At Milton, Bill Green allowed only five hits while Felton was pounding out fourteen. Sam Ludlow had a triple and two singles while Will Dill had three bingles also. Checking in with two each were Green, Wood and Williams. A four run spurge in the fourth won it for Felton.

Bad news for the rest of the league is the fact that most of the Devils will be back for 1963 and 1964.

Lord Baltimore Beats H.H.S. 5-2

The Harrington High School baseball team was beaten at Ocean View, Monday afternoon in the final game of the year for the locals.

The Lions have been plagued this year by errors and walks but played a different brand of ball this time. They committed no errors and only one Eagle received a free tick to first base. Two long hits was the difference between the two teams.

Rennie French and Mike Walmsley, the battery from the Lions' undefeated junior high team were promoted to the varsity and did creditable jobs. French was touched for seven hits and had one of Harrington's three hits. Jeff Adams and Barry Fry also hit safely.

Next year's squad could be much improved as only the keystone combination of Allen Wix and George Collins will be lost by graduation. Collins, a fine all-around athlete, is one of the top hitters on the team. Wix was a capable leadoff man who was on base often.

In addition to French and Walmsley other junior high players should help next year's big team. Some of these are: Donnie Sam Knox, Walter Perdue, and Glen Smith. Perdue is a talented hurler and the trio are all good hitters.

Delaware Park News

One of the most interesting renewals of the $20,000 added Polly Drummond Stakes, first of five major events for 2-year-olds to be decided at Delaware Park, looms for that juvenile filly test which will have its 25th running this Saturday, June 2.

A larger-than-usual field is anticipated for this five furlong speed whirl, judging by a whopping list of nominations. And among the eligibles are two of the outstanding young fillies of the year to date - Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' Affectionately and Meadow Stable's Speedwell - both already 1962 stakes winners.

Affectionately, a daughter of the renowned Swaps, got away to a flying start toward championship honors in her division by winning her first four races. Her first stakes conquest came in her fourth outing May 16 at Aqueduct when she kept her record unblemished by capturing the Fashion at the same distance as the Polly Drummond.

Speedwell became the first stakes winner sired by mighty Bold Ruler when she accounted for the debutante on Kentucky Derby Day, May 5, at old Churchill Downs. Bold Ruler, 1957 Horse of the Year, has his initial crop of 2-year-olds racing this year.

Another highly regarded Bold Ruler filly eligible for the Polly Drummond is Bold Princess, who sports the Wheatley Stable silks of Mrs. Henry Carnegie Phipps, and is trained by the grand old man of the turf, Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons.

Among numerous other good ones named are Harold G. Benning's Chusinia, who equalled a Laurel track record in winning by six lengths, and got within a neck of the triumphant Tipopick in the Rancocas Stakes at Garden State May 23, and Frances A. Genter's very fast miss, Tipotee Tune.

Last season's Polly Drummond will always be remembered for the fact that the rarely-beaten champion, Cicada, went down to defeat by almost two lengths behind Ogden Phipps' Broadway. This year, the Phipps barn has a promising candidate named Fashion Verdict who may hook up with Cicada's stablemate, Speedwell.

Greenwood Closes With 3-Game Win Streak

Carl Baker's Greenwood Foresters won their third straight game by downing John M. Clayton by a score of 6-4 Thursday afternoon.

Southpaw Julian Woodall, the winners' one-man pitching staff, was on the hill as usual. He limited the Bears to five bingles while his mates touched Wayne and Don Long for the same number. Woodall is only a sophomore and pitched every inning for the Foresters except for two games in which he started but did not finish. Thus, his record for the season is identical with that of his team. The Foresters started the spring with seven straight losses and ended with three straight wins.

Three runs in the second frame and two more in the fifth sewed it up for Greenwood while John M. Clayton was pecking away for single runs in four separate innings.

Milt Shupe led the winners' attack with two hits, two runs scored and two runs batted in.

The Foresters may be pennant contenders in 1963 as they lose only Bruce Henry and Tennessee from the starting lineup.

Harrington League Softball News

Friday night play saw Bill's Barber Shop win from Stone's Hotel 18-12 and the Ruritan Club swamp the Jaycees 28-8.

Monday night Stone's entered the win column at the expense of the Jaycees as the Hotelmen prevailed by a score of 24-7.

Fish & Game News

The Delaware Game and Fish Commission took over the title to Blair's Pond last week, being the final chapter in negotiations begun in 1954 for the purchase of this lake.

Blair's Pond, lying five miles west of Milford on the Mispillion River, is being purchased with federal and state freshwater fisheries funds.

The pond and surrounding park will be developed in 1962-63 primarily for the freshwater fisherman with associated uses, which will not interfere with fishing, being given secondary consideration.

The major improvements will consist of a small boat launching ramp, paved parking area and a bridge over the emergency spillway. (At the present time there is no access for cars to the scenic pine grove on the south side of the lake.)

Routine beautification and landscaping around Blair's will be similar to the work done on the other lakes owned by the Game and Fish Commission.

The first parcel of land, consisting of 22 acres on which one of the water control structures was built, was purchased from P. E. Voshell in 1954. The second segment consisting of 22 acres of upland was purchased from the Della E. Wilson heirs in 1958.

The third and final segment is composed of 30 acres of freshwater and three acres of upland. The Delaware Game and Fish Commission is purchasing this tract from Sussex Poultry Company, David Pack, president, for $19,000.

The chain of lakes west of Milford on the Mispillion River are now in public ownership after eight years of negotiations. A review of how the four lakes on the Kent-Sussex boundary line have been added to the First State's heritage for freshwater fishermen poignantly reveals the interest of many individuals in the future of Delaware's fish and game resources.

The title to 34-acre Silver Lake was transferred to the Commission by the City of Milford in 1959. As in the two previous summers, weed control operations will be conducted again this year. Emergent pond weeds had taken over the pond. Fishing and allied activities on the lake had been seriously hampered by the heavy growth in the water. Now, however, it has been reported that six local fishermen have taken over 200 bass since May 1.

The dual highway currently under construction through Milford necessitated a new water control structure at Haven Lake. This 76-acre body of freshwater purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pearce in 1956 is furnishing excellent bass fishing this season.

The one-acre access and parking area at Haven Lake was given to the state by Thomas F. Bayard, III, in 1960.

Upstream from Haven is scenic Griffith Lake. Several local residents provided flooding easements to the Commission in 1954. The land for parking, access and dam site was given to the state by Mr. and Mrs. William L. Sparklin.

Bass, bluegill, crappie, and sun fish abound in these reclaimed lakes.

Pony Leaguers Win Twice

Ted Layton's Harrington team of the Kent-Sussex Pony League started off its season in fine style by beating Greenwood 15-2 last Thursday at Greenwood and by edging Felton 6-5 at Harrington on Monday.

At Greenwood Renny French was the winning pitcher. Richard Black led the attack with two home runs. Glen Smith had two hits and three runs to show for three at bats.

Against Felton, Black and French were playing with the high school nine so were not available until late in the Pony game. Felton had two high school players who were not available. Glen Smith, heretofore known as a shortstop, showed stylish form as a pitcher and for five innings allowed only one tainted run. In the sixth he weakened and was replaced by Black. French came in later in relief of Black as the losers' late surge missed by one run of tying the score. Felton out-hit the locals 9-7.

Henry Minner had two-for-three for Harrington. Betts led Felton with two hits in four tries. Steve Motter homered for Harrington but was called out for missing second base.

tion enacted last year applies only to the 1962 crop of wheat. Under that program, individual farm wheat allotments were reduced 10% below what they would have been under a minimum national acreage allotment of 55 million acres, and diversion payments were available to those producers who shifted wheat acreage to a conservation use. Wheat price support was available only to those wheat producers who participated in the Wheat Stabilization Program and who stayed within their farm allotments.

The chairman emphasized that the legislation governing the 1962 wheat program also increased the marketing quota penalty rate as well as the amount of wheat subject to penalty, and extended the quota program to many small farms which were previously exempt from quotas. The marketing quota penalty rate for 1962 "excess" wheat has recently been announced at $1.59 a bushel, compared with a 1961-crop penalty rate of $1.08 a bushel.

Mr. Wilson urged wheat growers who are not clear about the wheat quota provisions to check with the ASCS County Office for full information.

ciety and become better prepared to accept adult responsibilities," he said.

The event starts with a chicken barbecue on Sunday afternoon and encompasses a variety of activities including class work, group discussions, tour of the University campus, a public speaking contest, square dancing, swimming, and a style show. The State 4-H talent show will also be held during short course.

Dr. Howard Rowe, assistant superintendent of schools at Dover, is the lead-off speaker on Sunday evening. He will give the club members a look at "Russian culture." Other speakers include the Rev. E. C. Thomas, pastor of Queen Anne's Methodist Church, Queen Anne, Maryland; and Dr. Daniel Biebuyck, University of Delaware professor of anthropology, who will discuss "our international opportunity as it applies to the Belgium Congo." Other members of the University of Delaware staff will also be included on the program.

While on campus at the University, the 4-H'ers will visit the school of home economics and agriculture, in addition to side trips to the DuPont Company, the J. C. Penny Company and others. Baker says demonstrations will be conducted by many of the departments during the tours to acquaint the youngsters with the work of the University.

Any 4-H member over 14 years of age is eligible to attend the Short Course. Reservations may be made through the county 4-H agents in Newark, Dover and Georgetown.

Plan Now For Fall Flowers

People are growing more chrysanthemums than ever, says George Vapaa, Kent County agent. There are many reasons for this—new forms, new colors, longer lasting flowers and the fact that many chrysanthemums now bloom till frost. Good drainage, well prepared soil and full sun are the keys to growing healthy, attractive chrysanthemums.

Now is a good time to plant chrysanthemums, Vapaa says. Plants, divisions of old plants or cuttings may be set out. They should be planted at the same depth they grew before transplanting.

Chrysanthemums do best in a soil high in organic matter. Add well rooted manure, peat moss or leaf mold to the soil before planting. They are heavy feeders so it is wise to add 1/2 cup of a general garden fertilizer to each 10 square feet of the garden. A side dressing of 1/4 cup per plant added in August will be helpful. The soil should be slightly acid (pH 6.0 to 6.5). If the area hasn't been limed for several years, apply 1/2 pound per 10 square feet.

To get well branched, low-growing plants, pinch the growing tips two or three times each season. Do this by removing about 1/2 inch of the stem. As soon as the new branches are about 6 inches long, pinch again. Make no pinches after mid-July.

The taller types of chrysanthemums should be staked or supported during August to keep the flowers up off the ground.

Chrysanthemums are easy to grow, Vapaa says. Given proper care, they'll add much color to your late season garden year after year.

Make Six Cows Do Work of Seven

Are you keeping seven cows when six would do the same job? Take a look at your calving records. Are your cows calving at 14 or 16 month intervals? If so, then you may be keeping too many cows.

Maximum production depends upon regular 12 month calving intervals. Records show the average calving interval for all cows in Delaware is more than 14 months. Few cows maintain a profitable level of production for longer than 10 months following freshening. Additional time beyond the 12-month interval represents a loss of profitable production time.

On a 14-month schedule, it requires seven years for a cow to complete six lactations. By freshening every 12 months, you can produce more milk, more calves for herd replacement, return more net profit with less feed, less labor and less barn space.

A simple matter of mathematics will tell you if you're selling milk for $4.50 per hundred weight. The average daily production of a cow producing 10,000 pounds per year is worth $1.48.

If the cow lives 21 days in her calving interval, it represents a sizeable loss to you. Even though the cow is not dry during this lost time, her production level will probably be low. The net loss could amount to as much as $30 by managing one breeding period.

Management makes the difference. To freshen regularly each year, the cow must deliver her calf in a normal manner, return to breeding condition rapidly and conceive promptly when bred.

This is a big order. Here are some things the dairyman can do to help: 1) Pay careful attention to accurate heat detection; 2) allow at least 60 days rest after calving before rebreeding; 3) control diseases which interfere with normal reproduction such as Brucellosis, Vibriosis, and Leptospirosis; 4) feed cows and heifers adequately to maintain thrift and vigor; 5) follow a good calf and heifer raising program so that heifers are large enough to breed at 15 months of age; 6) keep accurate and complete breeding records including heat periods, services, sire used, calving dates and any difficulties noted; and 7) consult a competent veterinarian if there are any unusual conditions.

Attention to these details will avoid long, dry periods or periods of low production at the end of lactation. You can take full advantage of high milk prices by getting peak production when the demand for milk is greatest. You can also have more calves to select herd replacements from.
